County Eyes Billing Landfill Owner For Fire

By Micheal Beha Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County officials are pondering whether they can assess the owner of an unlicensed landfill about $6,500 for the county's costs in fighting a fire on the property on Oct. 4 and 5.

County firefighters worked two days to extinguish the blaze at a three-acre landfill just west of Sanford owned by Cyril Geiger, 49, of 517 Vihlen Road.

Public Safety Director Gary Kaiser said his department normally doesn't calculate the cost of fighting fires. But trying to assess the property owner for the county's expenses is a distinct possibility in this case. 'It's a possibility because there was so much involved.

It cost so much," he said. "And because it was at an illegal dump site we think we could assess the owner." He said Seminole County has assessed the Seaboard

Systems Railroad for expenses of fighting brush fires caused by their trains. Sparks from a train set grass along the tracks on fire, he said.

But that assessment was made, Kaiser said, through the state Department of Forestry. The county has no policy of its own on assessing property owners for the costs of fighting fires, Kaiser said. "But I'm sure county commissioners will want to discuss it.

Deputy County Attorney Bob McMillan said the question of whether the county can assess property owners for the expense of fighting fires has not been researched by county staff.

"I don't know that we've ever done it before," McMillan said. "But we'll see.

Kaiser said his department spent about $6,414.80 in regular and overtime pay, damage to equipment and other expenses in fighting the fire. Fire and rescue workers accumulated 325.7 hours of regular pay and eight hours of overtime. Communications workers

He said a 300-foot hose, valued at $2,709, and a portable radio, worth $1,122, were ruined in the blaze. Electricity to pump water from a well at Idyllwilde Elementary School cost $128.61.

The remaining $50.73 came from other departments involvement in the fire and its aftermath, Kalser said. The cost of road crews that barricaded adjacent streets was $22.86 and the cost of environmental services personnel who tested water samples from the dump site for hazardous materials came to $27.87.

Land Management Manager Herb Hardin is gathering evidence to present to the state attorney's office for prosecution as a violation of county zoning ordinances. Geiger's property is zoned for agricultural uses. A landfill is not a permitted agricultural use. No other

Art Group Sets Show Lakeside

The Sanford-Seminole Art Association will hold its 11th annual Fall for Art show in downtown Sanford on Oct. 29 and 30. This year it will have a different location around the Sanford City Hall and the Seminole County Courthouse and along the scente lakefront of Lake Monroe, Instead of along First Street as in the past.

Approximately 100 artists and craftsmen will be displaying their work and vying for some $3,500 in prize money.

Co-chairwomen for the event will be Altamonte Springs artist Jane Patterson and Jeanette Policastro of Longwood.

Hours for the show will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days. Entertainment will begin at 10 a.m. on Saturday with "Sugar and Spice," a local duo composed of David Goethe and Cindy Lee. They perform professionally at out-ofstate and local conventions and are currently performing at Walt Disney World. They will provide the sound system and emcee the shows throughout the day.

Other acts scheduled to perform are the "Dixteland Cloggers." "The Sun-Stations." the Central Florida Chorale, and the Lake Brantley High School singing and dancing

Its only a matter of time until the area has enough people to support the system. An additional 1,000 people are expected to move into the area by 1990, he said If a water system is available, that growth will probably accelerate.

The commissioners have asked Bowman to make a more in-depth survey of the area to determine the number of people who would connect to the water line. Connection would not be mandatory and would cost a little more than $500, according to Hooper.

Bowman said the county is printing postcards which will be sent to residents of the area to gauge interest in a county water system. Once the results are tallied, a meeting will be held to discuss the plan, Hooper said.

GM Recalls 479,700 Vehicles For Checking

DETROIT (UPI) - General Motors is asking motorists to return for repairs 479,700 cars and trucks in four safety and emissions-related recalls, including 350,000 1983 front-wheel drive autos that may have brake problems.

GM said Thursday it is recalling 350,000 subcompact, compact and mid-sized J, X and A front-wheel drive models to find 100,000 among them that have faulty brake system valves that can break and separate, causing a loss of brake fluid in part of the dual brake system. A GM spokesman said a driver still would have control of the car through the unaffected side of the brake system, but would have to press the brakes harder to stop the vehicle.

GM said it knew of five minor accidents and no injuries because of the problem.

The models involved are the Buick Century, Skylark and Skyhawk; Chevrolet Celebrity, Citation and Cavalier; Cadillac Cimarron; Oldsmobile Cutlass Ciera, Omega and Firenza; and Pontiac 600. Phoenix and 2000.

Ronald McDonald As Bartender: Big Mac, Fries, McChardonnay

LOS ANGELES (UPI) - A McDonald's restaurant wants to put booze beneath the Golden Arches but the nation's No. 1 fast-food giant insists beer and wine will be limited to the single mountain ski resort

Some of the residents of the Sierra resort community of Mammoth don't like the idea of booze on the breath of Ronald McDonald and may protest the matter

Steve Leroy, spokesman for Oak Brook, Ill.-based McDonald's, said Thursday the owner of the Mammoth store applied to the state earlier this month for a beer and wine license.

It would be the first of the chain's 6,000 U.S. restaurants to serve alcohol. "Basically, the application was made in Mammoth because of the unique demographics in the area," Leroy said. "It's an adult recreation location and a large number of tourists are in the area. It's our intention to take care of that area and the people who go through that restaurant."

Although state liquor authorities have not received any complaints about the proposal, Mono County Deputy Counsel John Gallagher said many residents are disillusioned by what they consider an uncharacteristic move by McDonald's. It's just that McDonald's has an image of being all-American, clean cut and wholesome," he said, adding that "comments have been made by (county supervisors) whether an alcoholic hamburger stand is in the county's best interests." Other residents are worried about teenagers who might be employed at the McDonald's restaurant just two blocks from Mammoth High School. "The main concern of the (school board) is that we will have 70 to 80 students working shifts there."

said Tom Henry, superintendent of the Mammoth

Unified School District. "Most of the employees are usually students from the high school." Henry said "chances are we will be filing a formal protest" with the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board office within a week. Gordon Kelly, assistant director for the ABC's southern division, said McDonald's applied for the beer and wine license Oct. 12 and no complaints have been received so far. "If they meet the food regulations," he said, there is little, if anything, we can do stop them from getting a license unless there are protests from residents or from nearby churches, schools or hospitals. As of today, we have not received any protests." Nell Janzon, the board's senior special investigator, said a formal protest could block a license.

There is no similar service in the McDonald's in the United States, but outside the U.S. we have served both beer and wine in our restaurants in Germany and France since we began operations in those countries," Leroy said.

"Young children (in European countries) grow up in an environment where they are just other drinks, as we drink milk, water and Coke here," he said. Ray Cassa, a spokesman for Burger King, said the chain would have no comment on the proposed addition to its competitor's menu in Mammoth. Officials of other fast-food chains were not available for comment.

Marcos Amends Decree On Aquino Commission

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) - President Ferdinand Marcos moved today to meet opposition demands that a commission charged with investigating the Aug. 21 assassination of Benigno Aquino be made up of private citizens to ensure its independence.

Truncheon-wielding riot police broke up a rally by 3,000 anti-government protesters who then marched through downtown Manila denouncing "the U.S.-Marcos dictatorship."

Marcos, who emerged from three days of seclusion to meet with legislative leaders, amended a decree on the formation of the assassination commission to remove a provision that at least two members of the National Assembly be seated on the panel.

The amendment ensures that all members of the new board come from the private sector.

Nakasone's Economic Plan

TOKYO (UPI) - Japanese Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone today announced an eco-nomic package designed to boost the domestic economy and reduce the country's $30 billion trade surplus with the rest of the world.

The move, aimed at reducing trade friction with the United States and Western Europe. included tariff reductions on 1,268 foreign products three years ahead of a deadline agreed on during the 1979 Tokyo round of the General Agreement on Trade and Tariffs.

"I strongly hope that governments of other countries ... will fully appreciate these positive efforts and will strive to rollback protectionism." Nakasone said in a statement after his Cabinet approved the six-point package.

12-Year-Old Plots, Kills Mother, Younger Brother

MIAMI (UPI) - A 12-year-old boy fatally shot his prominent mother and his 9-year-old brother in the fashionable home where the family "lived the American lifestyle dream," police say. Police said the boy admitted he had planned the killings while in class at Arvida Junior High School Wednesday.

June A. White, 41, a realtor, and her son Kevin, a Cub Scout, were killed with a revolver late Wednesday, a spokesman for Metro-Dade County police reported. Both were shot once in the head. Although police would not identify the boy, neighbors identified him as Kenneth White, a seventh-grade student.

Police homicide Capt. Robert McCarthy said the boy's father, Richard White, who was a work at the time of the shootings, was "disbelieving and still in shock." "Imagine having your entire family wiped out like this - two dead, the other one going to jail." McCarthy said. "There was no indication that they were not the typical family. They lived the American lifestyle dream."

The boy was charged with two counts of first-degree murder and was held at a juvenile center, police said. Neighbors said Kenneth was polite and well-mannered, but his uncle. Richard Swartz, described him as incorrigible.

"He had everything in the world. He was just becoming more and more incorrigible. If they ever let him back out on the street, he'll kill somebody else," Swartz said.

Shielding Kids From Video Porn

Sexually explicit programs on cable television have stirred a troubling question: Can society shield children from such material without causing unacceptable harm to the principle of free expression?

Many people advocate legal restraints, and a number of communities already have imposed them. A measure passed by the U.S. Senate, but not yet approved by the House, would outlaw cable services found to be obscene.

That is a very worrisome approach. As efforts to censor printed material have shown, it is extremely difficult for lawmakers to define obscenity in a way that passes Constitutional muster. What is considered obscene in a certain time or place may be considered acceptable in another period or another community.

Since cable is a subscription service, voluntarily purchased by the consumer for private use in the home, it is difficult to argue that society has a right to regulate the content. Protecting adults from their own taste in entertainment, however sleazy, isn't really society's proper role.

Yet, there is a societal need to protect children. How can that be accomplished? It isn't enough just to say parents should forbid their children to watch dirty movies on cable. Some will keep close tab on their children's TV viewing. Others will be indifferent. In still other instances, questionable material might show up on the screen, without much warning, before the kids' bedtime.

We suggest that cable TV operators do some voluntary policing, so that pressure for harmful official censorship can be reduced. When the operators sell program packages, they should make sure that sexually explicit material is not included unless purchasers want it and understand what they are getting. The operators also should try to confine such programs to the later hours of the evening. Additionally, the operators should offer a "lockout box" at small cost. enabling parents to make sure children don't watch unsuitable programs.

Such steps, which many operators already are taking, would not solve the whole problem. Some parents still wouldn't bother to limit their children's choice of programs. And some unscrupulous cable operators might fudge, gradually including sexually explicit material in programs not so designated.

The Tanaka Affair

On the face of it, the conviction on bribery charges of former Japanese Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka should hardly matter much to Americans. After all, Tanaka resigned the prime ministership nine years ago, although he remains a powerful member of the Japanese parliament. His current disgrace for taking up to $2 million in bribes from the Lockheed Corp. a decade ago should not unseat Japan's ruling Liberal Democratic Party or discredit its support for a close partnership with the United States.

And yet, Tanaka's conviction is more than just the biggest political story of the year in Japan. It could be the cause of political turmoil that may well weaken the government of Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone, Nakasone, Japan's most overtly pro-American leader in more than 20 years, is almost a protege of Kakuel Tanaka. Whatever diminshes Tanaka's immense power in the Diet (Japan's parliament) diminishes as well his ability to support Nakasone.

That is important because Nakasone has taken some controversial positions in an effort to strengthen Tokyo's ties with Washington. Heeding Washington's appeals for higher defense spending and lower trade barriers are not especially popular moves in Japan. But Prime Minister Nakasone has pushed through such policies with the help of the largest single voting bloc in the Diet - the 119 Liberal Democratic Party members who follow Tanaka's lead.

After his conviction, Tanaka once again proclaimed his innocence and vowed to fight on in the courts until he wins. The appeal process could take years. In the meantime, Tanaka may be able to resist calls for his resignation from the Diet. He may also be successful in delaying imposition of the four-year jail sentence recently meted out to

But even if Tanaka manages all this, he still cannot hope to retain the power he wields today. And if he is forced to resign, or if he goes to jail, his bloc in the Diet will likely melt away. To Prime Minister Nakasone, and to American policymakers in Washington, the fall of Tanaka could have decidedly unpleasont repercussions.

"I remember the days when deploying missiles was a fun thing.

Mrs. McGregor, the wife of Circuit Judge Robert McGregor, was a trial clerk in Beckwith's office for some years and for the year prior to her retirement in July, 1983, she was assistant court coordinator. She worked for Beckwith for 14 years.

An exact count of the proceeds is not yet available of the Bobby Brantley fund-raiser for his re-election effort held at Shakespeare's on Orlando's Church Street. Brantley estimates that the affair will gross about $20,000 and net about $15,000 to become the most successful

Fritz Edging Glenn?

NEW YORK (NEA) - It began, almost unnoticed, here in New York State in late September. By early October, however, it had spread rapidly, first to Maine and then to Massachusetts, lowa. Florida and elsewhere.

Although that sounds like an epidemic of a dreaded contagious diseac, it's actually just a rhetorical battle between the two leading contenders for next year's Democratic presidential nomination.

The escalating verbal duel can be traced back to a question posed by New York Gov. Mario M. Cuomo, a Democrat, to former Vice President Walter F. Mondale at an obscure political forum in Rochester, N.Y., on Sept. 29.

When Cuomo asked how Mondale's positions on the issues differed from those embraced by Sen. John H. Glenn Jr., D-Ohio, Mondale broke the unofficial truce that all of the Democratic presidential aspirants had honored since the campaign began earlier this Mondale said he thought Glenn was wrong in his early support of President Reagan's economic program, his backing of the B-1 bomber program and his opposition to the SALT II arms control agreement.

Cuomo, who two weeks later endorsed Mondale, responded by praising Mondale for his willingness "to take on this aura of celebrity and celluloid images" - a comment which could only be interpreted as a thinly disguised swipe

Glenn didn't respond to that criticism, but Mondale continued to goad him. At a statewide Democratic conference in Augusta, Maine, on Oct. 1, only two days later, the former vice president proclaimed himself to be "a real Democrat" because "I never supported Reaganomics, I opposed it all the way."

By the time the two men met here in New York City for an Oct. 6 issues forum with the other five Democratic contenders, Glenn was seething with anger. "It was reported in the paper," he noted, "that I was somehow a celluloid candidate."

Summarizing his military service, his pioneering role in the federal government's space program and his subsequent career in the business world, Glenn added pointedly: "I don't limit my experience to inside the beltway of Washington."

The target of that barbed remark undoubtedly was Mondale, who has lived in Washington for almost two decades, serving as a member of the Senate from 1964 to 1976 and as vice president from 1977 to 1981.

The two men again addressed the same audience only two days later, at an Oct. 8 Democratic dinner in Des Moines, lowa - and Mondale again offered indirect, yet unmistakable criticism of Glenn's support for Reaganomics.

In mid-October, Glenn escalated his counter-attack during a camapgin appearance in Melbourne, Fla., and at another candidates' forum in Boston. On both occasions, he sought to revive memories of President Jimmy Carter's unpopular policies.

When Cancer Spreads

NEW YORK (NEA) - 1 wish I had a nickel for every time I have seen or heard a news story reporting that some group of people, exposed to some form of atomic radiation or carcinogenic substance years ago, is now coming down with cancer "at a rate 30 percent higher (or 50 or 60 percent - you name it) than would be normal for such a

Since around 25 percent of all Americans are afflicted by some sort of cancer sooner or later. It is not surprising that it has occurred to a lot of these people to blame the government or some large corporation for negligently exposing them to danger and then try to persuade a jury to award them a fat verdict for money damages.

Such a claim may, of course, be perfectly valid, but it may also be wholly unjustified. Everything depends, naturally, on satisfactory proof that there was a connection between the exposure and the cancer. The sort of statistical 'proof' cited above is a popular way of trying to demonstrate such a connection, but it can be extremely deceptive.

Take the 95,000 Vietnam veterans who are afraid they may have been exposed to Agent Orange, a chemical defoliant that contains dioxin, a suspected carcinogen (or cancer-producer). To use the jargon the media have popularized in such cases, a Veterans Administration study reveals that the number of lymphomas (a form of cancer) that have appeared in this group of veterans is 33 percent higher than would be normal - that is, statistically expected - in a similar group not exposed to Agent Orange.

Ahal Q.E.D. Let the stricken veterans line up for a little double-dipping at the federal Treasury, right?

Not quite yet, please. First, consider the actual figures rather than just the percentages. According to the VA study, precisely 20 lymphoma cases were discovered among those 85,000 men. And, also according to the VA, the statistically "normal" incidence of lymphoma among such a group would be 15. In other words, the whole case for compensation hinges on what can reasonably be inferred from the presence of those five "extra" lymphomas in a group of 85,000 men.

Put that way, the case for money damages doesn't sound quite so overwhelming, does it? What's more. the case is even leakier than that. Lymphoma is not the type of cancer most widely suspected of being caused by dioxin. That is soft tissue sarcoma and the odd fact is that, among the 85,000 Vietnam veterans, the number of such cancers is actually fewer than statistics would have predicted: 11 cases rather than 16 — a shortfall of "nearly 30 percent," as someone so minded might say.

And so it goes, one suspects, with a lot of these scare stories. A couple of years ago newsmen had a ball with a Colorado nuclear facility of some sort. As I recall, the punch line was that, among a population of 9,000 living downwind from the facility, the number of childhood leukemias was "50 percent higher than would normally be expected." This was supposed to appall people, and probably did. We weren't told the actual numbers, however. What do you suppose they were? Three cases of leukemia. Instead of two?

While a person whose cancer is convincingly linked to some sort of negligent exposure is certainly entitled to compensation, another problem presents itself in regard to groups: Which afflicted members of the group shall we compensate? Assuming Agent Orange caused five of those 20 lymphomas, precisely which five did it cause? And if 15 of the 20 victims contracted the disease independently, without Agent Orange having anything to do with it. why should the government pay them any damages at all?

In any case, there is absolutely no excuse for the nedia withholding the actual numbers and feeding us only misleading percentages in situations of this sort. We may be easy to fool, but there ought to be limits.

I remember, as a kid of 9 or so. sending some box tops or whatever to the Buck Rogers radio show to obtain a magical ring that, according to the announcer, was "made of simulated gold!" I had never owned a gold ring. and the fact that the gold was simulated just made it better, didn't it? Anyway, they told us kids the exact truth. If we were too dumb to understand it, whose

Jim Watt, Democrats, Minorities

The relationship between the Democratic Party and the "officially protected" post-1960s minorities - blacks, women, Hispanics, Indians — has a weird quality. And the whole thing (I am tempted to say the whole racket) has become protected by a set of iron taboos. Former Interior Secretary Watt violated those taboos and the extreme political price was exacted.

The relationship of the Democratic Party to those minorities marks a shift in the identities of the two major parties, indeed, in some respects a reversal of their identities. Consider a little history.

During the post-1932 era, the Democrats had been the gateway to the American mainstream for successive waves of immigrants: Irish, Italian, Jewish, East European. These groups, while remaining distinctive in many ways, were also invited through the Democratic Party to enter the American pluralistic mainstream, in which they participated not as group members but as individuals. The Democratic Party was a great engine of assimilation.

At the same time, the post-1932 Republican Party was just about ludicrously tribal, the exclusive preserve of white Anglo-Saxon Protestants who played golf and went down to the Trans-lux movie theater to hiss Roosevelt in the newsreels.

Under its exclusive WASP auspices, the Republican Party ossifled into a permanent and largely impotent minori-

But what do we see today? The present Democratic Party appears to be committed not to mainstream assimilation, but to a kind of permanent tribalism. The official "minorities" are to receive entitlements not as individuals but as groups. Thus, the policy of the Democrats tends to make these minorities permanent interest groups, and to freeze them by political means outside the American mainstream. The model is not the traditional "melting pot" but, perhaps, the Balkans.

Of course, the Democrats, having constituted themselves as the patrons of these official minorities, expect to be their political beneficiary.

But some strange things are happening. Whereas under the old "melting pot" model of assimilation, such things as race, religion, and gender were supposed to be incidental, and the actual personal qualities of the individual paramount, today Democrats and liberals are pushing the formerly incidental qualities into the foreground. They exhibit a kind of political obsessjon with race, gender, withered limbs, and so forth. This is bound to happen when you define people as members of a group rather than as

But while the Democrats have been in the process of solidifying and rendering permanent the official minorities. Republicans have also been transformed. It is the Republicans, now, who represent individual opportunity - not least through lower taxes - and it is in the Republican Party that upwardly mobile Irish, Italians, Jews and blacks are likely to be found.

Experts Wary Of U.S. In Sudan's War

WASHINGTON - Conscientious experts on U.S. global strategy have raised a burning question in the backrooms of Washington: Is the United States getting involved in a civil war in Africa, in part to protect the Chevron Oil Co.'s interests?

Even the Pentagon is concerned. A secret Defense Department cable emphasizes precautions that must be taken by an exploratory team of counterinsurgency experts in the Sudan, Africa's largest country. The concern may have been intended to calm fears at the State Department, which received a copy of the cable.

What particularly bothers congressional sources who learned about the secret mission is the Chevron connection. The American firm is involved in a major project in the southern Sudan. where oil has been discovered. It is also building a billion-dollar pipeline to the Chevron reportedly has been plagued by terrorist incidents involving its employees and is worried about threats to the facilities it is building in the southern Sudan. The secret cable seen by my associate Lucette Lagnado, makes clear that a principal purpose of the counterinsurgency team's mission is to study ways to protect Chevron's installations.

In fact, though neither Congress nor the American public were to be told of the secret mission. Chevron has been consulted closely. The cable notes that the team's tour will be "coordinated" with Chevron and an oil company representative will accompany the counterinsurgency experts on their rounds. The team members will wear civilian clothes and "there will be no public announcement of the team's mission." the cable states. The military at least shows a sensitivity to potential criticism that the counterinsurgency team - only four persons - could be just the modest start of a far more serious U.S. intervention in Sudan's internal troubles.

The team is torbidden to "make any commitment on behalf of the U.S. government, especially regarding availability of U.S. resources in any form," the cable says reassuringly. And the Americans must not "provide any kind of independent assessment or confirmation of the threat as perceived by Sudan."

The Sudanese government must not be given any grounds for expecting sophisticated or major military aid, or U.S. assistance "in construction of airfields, camps or other military facilities." Nor is the team to raise Khartoum's hopes of "accelerated deliveries for U.S. equipment" because of the guerrilla problem.

Although there is concern over the secrecy, the Chevron connection and the long-term implications, an even more fundamental criticism has been raised by knowledgeable insiders: The administration may be seriously misjudging the entire situation.

The proposed counterinsurgency mission is based on the assumption that the southern Sudanese rebels are being aided by external forces - Libya and Ethiopia. Administration officials argue that the United States has an obligation to protect the Sudan, which is regarded as a strong ally.

This is true enough. But some experts on the region believe it is essentially an internal conflict.

Footnote: A Chevron spokesman said the firm's installations in the Sudan had suffered only "minor incidents" of harasament in recent years.

Adequate Light Vital For Growing House Plants

The environment in our houses dictates which plants will grow well and which ones will suffer. No other factor is more important in growing good plants than adequate light.

Plants differ greatly in their light requirements. Those with brightly colored leaves such as coleus and croton, flowering plants and succulents grow best when placed in areas where they receive direct sunlight. Others, like ferns, philodendrons and many other foliage plants, grow well under indirect light.

In a room poorly lighted by the sun, artificial lighting can be used to supplement or replace natural light. The incandescent bulb most commonly used in homes can be used to heat which could damage plants if supplement natural light. Incandescent bulbs produce light primarily in the red and far-red regions of the visible light spectrum, but they are a poor source of blue light and therefore as a sole light source are not suitable for plant growth. Incandescent bulbs also produce a considerable amount of the light source is placed too close. Fluorescent lamps are several times more efficient than incandescent lamps in converting electrical energy to visible light and will last longer than incandescent lamps. Most plants grow well and are attractive in appearance when placed under a combination of cool white and warm white fluorescent lamps. The cool white lamp produces high amounts of blue-light energy and the warm white lamp supplies the red light needed for good plant growth.

There are a variety of fluorescent lamps available that were developed specifically for lighting plants. These "plant growth lamps" are fluorescent tubes with a special phosphorcoating inside that trans- obtained in tube lengths from 48 to mit light energy primarily in the blue and red-light energy regions of the visible spectrum. Plant growth lamps are ideal for plants. However, because they do not transmit green-yellow light, they jeopardize the appearance of home furnishings and human complexions. Cool white fluorescent lamps are superior to plant growth lamps in the amount of growth produced. This is attributed to the higher light intensity of cool white lamps over plant growth lamps.

Fluorescent lamps are available in various wattages, sizes and shapes. In addition to the standard lamp wattages (15, 20, 30 and 40 watts), higher wattage lamps may also be 96 inches. These higher wattage lamps are called high output (HO). very high output (VHO), power groove, power twist, and super high output lamps. Although the long tubular lamp is most popular with interior gardeners, circular, Ushaped and panel lamps are avail-

It is important to order fixtures for specific lamps to be used in them. Standard industrial fixtures with white enamel or white porcelain reflectors are widely used by hobbyists. Fixtures that accommodate two 48 inch long fluorescent lamps are the most commonly used and inexpensive to buy. Strip or channel fixtures may be used with reflectorized fluorescent lamps.

Light reaching a plant will decrease with the square of the distance between the light source and the plant. That is, a plant two , feet away from a light source will receive only one-fourth as much light as a plant one foot away. A fixture with two 40 watt lamps should be piced 6 to 18 inches from the top of a plant. When high out-put lamps are used, this distance can be increased.

For best results plants should be illuminated for 10 to 18 hours a day. Low cost timers available at most hardware stores are a great help in keeping a consistent light schedule.

All Extension Programs are open to anyone regardless of race, color, sex or national origin.

Former Star Needs Light In Her Life

DEAR ABBY: I've read your column for years, but never thought I would ever write a "Dear Abby" letter. I have had more than my share of fame and fortune over the years, having enjoyed a very successful career on the stage and in films. I'm not young, but I'm still considered a very attractive woman. I've been married and divorced. I was a singer and dancer in my teens, worked hard, made a fortune and lived well. I still live reasonably well, but like everyone else who writes to you. I have a problem.

I'm lonely. I have a few good friends, but I would like to get around more. Men are afraid to call me because they assume I am too busy, too popular or I must be going with someone. I'm not. I sit home alone night after night, watching TV or reading. I would love to have a nice gentleman to spend time with.

Abby, please print this for lonely gentlemen, 50 and older: Do not assume that all women who were once rich and famous are too busy or too important to approach. They're not. I'm sure there are other women who were also big stars in the '50s who are as lonely as I am. Abby, if you printed my name, nobody would

DEAR DON'T: Ask a few of your "friends" to get the word out that you are (a) lonely and (b) available, and when the word gets out, you'll need police protection. Trust me.

DEAR ABBY: My son is 6, and ever since he was in day-care at the age of 3 he has been stealing.

He hasn't stolen from a store yet, only from children at school, but I'm worried. I have tried to explain that it's wrong to take things that belong to other people, but I don't seem to be getting through to him. I have punished him in different ways and even made him return the

No Homecooking On Tribe Menu For Greyhounds

By Sam Cook Herald Sports Editor Lyman football coach Bill Scott has always been fond of Especially after last year when his Greyhounds strung together three straight victories at home about this time to pave the way for the school's first Five Star Conference and District 4A titles homecooking.

But if Big Bill and the 'Hounds want to taste another twin championship, they're going to have to do it the hard way - on the road.

"The schedule is definitely a disadvantage," said Scott Thursday while assessing his team's chances. "We have three really tough teams (Seminole, Lake Howell and Apopka) to play at their place.

"With Apopka sitting up there undefeated [4-0], you can't lose two games and be there unless Apopka falls flat on its face."

Apopka hasn't tottered yet, but the Greyhounds aren't sitting too badly themselves going into tonight's 8 o'clock kickoff against the Tribe at Seminole High Stadium. Lyman is 3-0 in the Five Star and 3-2 overall. It has beaten Lake Brantley (17-6), Lake Mary (20-0) and Spruce Creek (16-7). Four-point losses came against Boone ar d Colonial.

Tonight's crucial clash Involving Lake Brantley and Apopka should shed more light on the situation. Still, Lyman will be able to decide its fate during the next two weeks against Lake Howell and Apopka. The 'Hounds then finish with Mainland and DeLand in Coach Jerry Posey's Fighting Seminoles, meanwhile, are in a bit of football limbo. The Tribe, 2-3, played well in a loss to Titusville Astronaut and victories over Southwest Miami and Lake Howell. They didn't play well while losing to Mainland and Apopka. Don't expect the Seminoles to be easy meat for the Greyhounds, though, when the county's oldest football rivalry gets underway tonight.

"Our biggest problem is mental," said Posey. "We convinced our kids they could win after last year (0-10 season), but we're still trying to convince them that they can win more than they think Psychology aside, Seminole's offense hasn't kept up with the defense. Quarterback has been a problem with senior Mike Futreil, then junior Mike Whelchel trying to get the job done. It's Whelchel's start tonight, but Posey said Futrell has had a two weeks of practice." Seminole and Lyman were both idle last

Running backs Cliff Campbell, Jo Jo McCloud and Dexter Jones haven't been able to break the long gainer on which Posey's Delaware Wing-T offense thrives. Campbell. who has 48.6 440-yard dash speed, has a long run of just 16 yards. He has been turther hobbled this week by a bruised leg.

Deron Thompson, another speedster, has been used at running back. Fullback Tim Lawrence has been the 'Noles most consistent runner. He has 272 yards in 50 attempts. Lawrence has gotten the Tribe the tough inside yards, too. Sanford's other weapon on offense is tight end William Wynn. Getting the ball to Wynn, though, has been a problem. The 6-2, 190-pound senior has just three catches for 58 yards. Defensively, the front four of ends Tracy Holloman and Fred Brinson along with tackles Bryan Debose and Anthony Hall is solid. The linebacking corps of Ed Rinkavage. Vince Williams and Mike Debose is just as good. But the secondary hasn't be satisfactory to Posey, and he and defensive coordinator Dave Mosure have shuffled in wholesale changes.

Thompson remains at safety, but the other three spots are different. Wynn has been moved from linebacker to safety while the versatile Campbell will occupy a cornerback spot along with

"The defensive backfield was one of our weakest areas," said Posey. "We felt it would be better to play some guys both ways to improve it." Three and maybe four will play both ways, although breathing time will be supplied in the offensive backfield.

"When you get right down to it. Campbell is our best defensive back. He reacts real quick and he hits hard," said Posey. "Lawrence isn't far behind and Wynn doesn't make mistakes and uses his size well. Against Apopka, two of our defenders where there (on pass plays), but (Apopka quarterback Rod) Brewer just laid the ball up over the defender for touchdowns."

Posey shouldn't be too concerned about the Lyman air attack. It's not that QB Greg Pilot, who also plays safety, can't throw the ball, it's just that he doesn't have to very often. The Greyhounds have relied on a strong ground attack led by Phil Germano (258 yards in four games). Ron Beasley, Mike Henley, Karl Simmons and Jody Foster to move into a position to challenge.

Still, Pilot and Germano bring out the Posey's worst fears. "Greg Pilot is one of the finest athletes in the conference," he said. "He just has that knack to make the big play, whether it be on offense on defense. When they break a big one or come up with a fumble or interception. Pilot will be involved some way."

Robey Runs Them Over In Classroom, On Field

By Sam Cook Herald Sports Editor

After you've talked with a few people about Lake Howell fullback Jay Robey, there is a tendency to put a 24-hour survelliance on him to see if he bites his finger nails or eats dinner with his elbows on the table.

From these informed sources, one would glean that this 17-year-old young man is too good to be true. Does he come to football games dressed in a Blue and Silver cape? Does he leap tall buildings with a single bound. Is Lois Lane really madly in love with him?

Well, you can cross off the last three. Jay Robey is quite human, but he also is a very talented young man. "Jay Robey is kind of young man you want in your football program," said Lake Howell coach Mike Bisceglia, who has had a front row seat to his development the past three years. "He's a quality person and a great player. He's meant quite a lot to this program since I've been here."

Robey, a 5-11, 190-pound senior, made his first big impression on first-year coach Bisceglia two years ago. As a sophomore, he was promoted to the varsity and started the seventh game of the season. He's been lining up with the big boys every game since.

"As a sophomore I was a little timid," remembered Robey who lists hunting, fishing and water skiing as his hobbies. "But as a senior, you See Robey, Page 8A.

Rams Battle Bucs For 'Homestaying'

Herald Sports Writer

Lake Mary coach Harry Nelson isn't overly impressed by statistics. And rightly so. Last week, against Lake Howell. the Rams rolled up 319 yards of total offense compared to 260 for the Silver Hawks. Lake Howell won the game, though,

"I'm getting sick and tired of winning the statistic battle but getting our ears beat off in the ballgame," Nelson said.

Tonight at 8 at Lake Mary High, the Rams, 2.3 overall and 1-3 in the Five Star Conference, go up against Daytona Beach Mainland's Buccancers, a team that hasn't won many statistic battles or ballgames. Tonight's game is homecoming (actually "homestaying") at Lake Mary

The Bucs stand at 1.5 overall and 1.4 in the conference. Mainland's only victory was a 7-0 blanking of Seminole. The Bucs dropped a 21-6 decision to Lake Brantley this past Satur-

"I watched Lake Brantley and Mainland play and Brantley looked like an ordinary ballclub," Nelson said. "Mainland fumbled two punts and gave Lake Brantley the game. If they don't make any mistakes against us, we're in for a tough game.'

Lake Mary's balanced offensive attack has rolled up a lot of yards in the last few weeks. However, while the Rams put up 29 points against Bishop More, they only managed six points against Lake Howell. In Lake Mary's three losses, the Rams have scored a total of 12 points while giving up 84.

The Rams' leading ground gainer is junior Charlie Lucarelli who has picked up 316 yards on 73 carries in five games and is county in rushing. Scott Underwood is fifth in the county with 279 yards on 59 carries and Neal Wellon is ninth in the county with 238 yards on 45

Football

Quarterback Ray Hartsfield has had two games in a row with over 100 yards passing. Hartsfield ranks second among county QB's as he has completed 29 of 49 passes for 486 yards and four touchdowns. Wide receiver Donald Grayson has had a pair of spectacular games. He caught five passes for 125 yards and two touchdowns against Bishop Moore and five passes for 132 vards against Lake Howell. Grayson has taken over the lead among county receivers with 16 receptions for 367 yareds, an average of 23 yards per catch.

Defensively, linebacker Bill Caughell had the best individual game of the season last week with a reported 25 solo tackles and nine assists. A check of the game films at Lake Howell, though, credited Caughell with 14 tackles and five assists. according to a Lake Howell coach. Caugheli leads the county with 78 (63?) tackles, 51 (40 ?) solos and 27 (23?) assists. Defensive back Tim Curtin is next in line with 41 tackles, 28 solo and 13 assists. Defensive end David Hornyak has 36 tackles (16 solo and 20 assists) while end Don Meyer has 33 (24 solos and nine assists) and linebacker Jeff Hopkins also has 33 (21 solo and 12 assists). Meyer leads the team and is tied for the lead in the county in quarterback sacks with six. Mainland's offensive leaders include Eric Childs who was switched from quarterback to running back, fullback Robbie Dunlop and quarterback Mike Rinaldi. The Bucs stick to the ground most of the time behind an offensive line that averages 190 pounds. Place kicker John Fussell is one of the best in the conference, but he hasn't got much of a chance to show what he can do this season. Defensively, linebackers George Clark and LeRoy Gainous lead

Bryant Quits SCC

Citing an acute case of "Basketball Burnout," former Seminole High cager Calvin "Kiki" Bryant has guit the Seminole Community College cage team, coach Bill Payne said Wednesday.

Bryant, a freshman, told Payne he was "tired of basketball and tired of school," then decided to give up both.

The 6-1 sharpshooter was recruited by Payne to help against zone defenses which consistently bothered the Raiders last year. Bryant was one of the best "pure shooters" to come through Sanford, according to Payne.

SCC opens its season on Nov. 10.

Schmit, Goslee Lead Rams; Patriots, Beams Close In On Unbeaten Season

Mike Schmit threw for one touchdown and ran in another Thursday night and Mike Goslee had an outstanding defensive game with 16 solo tackles and one assist to lead Lake Mary's Junior varsity to a 21-6 victory over Oviedo's JV Lions at Oviedo High.

Schmit, who threw for 124 yards in the game, hooked up with Brent Moran on a 71-yard touchdown pass in the first quarter. The two point run failed, but the Rams held on to a 6-0 lead at halftime.

Lake Mary, 2-3, took a 13-0 lead in the third quarter as Brett Molle scored from two yards out and Danny Bridges added the conversion kick. Schmit scored the Rams' third TD on a 32-yard run after a broken pass play. Schmit hooked up with Moran on the two point conversion to make it 21-0.

Oviedo scored its only touchdown in the fourth quarter as Steve Turner rambled in from 12 yards out. Oviedo now stands at 3.3 for the season.

Lake Brantley will try for its first undefeated junior varsity season next Thursday when it hosts Seminole. The game will also be for the JV county championship.

Lake Brantley did all of its scoring in the first quarter. Beains capped off the first scoring drive with a 14-yard TD run and Dave Delfiacco added the extra point for a 7-0 lead. The touchdown was set up by a pair of passes. The first from quarterback John Gowan went for 28 yards to Aaron Kindall and the second went from Gowan to Joel Miller for 14 yards.

The Patriots scored on their next possession as Beams rambled 19 yards for the TD. A 23-yard pass from Gowan to Miller and a 19-yard completion from Gowan to Kindall set up the TD. Lake Brantley came back to make it 19-0 on its next possession as Gowan rolled out and found Kindall in the open for a 41-yard touchdown pass.

Beams' 144-yard night gives him 989 yards on the season. He has also scored 10 touchdowns. Gowan had another good game as he completed 6 of 13 passes for 140 yards. Kindali caught three passes for 88 yards.

Matt Wilson led the defense with 13 solo tackles and three assists and he also recovered a fumble. Mark Bosquet added nine solos and one assist while John Polak had eight solos and an assist. -

Lake Brantley Defense Tries To Slow Down Brewer, Apopka

"Good morning. Apopka High School," said the receptionist. "Beat Lake Brantley." "Yes," says Apopka football coach Chip Gierke, "we have strong support from everyone around here.'

He also has a pretty good football team, which the Blue Darters' 5-0 record and sixth-place ranking in the 4A Prep Football Poll attests. Apopka is 4-0 in the Five Star Conference and District 4A-9, a conference and district it has never won.

The Darters have been close, though. They lost as part of a three-way playoff with Lake Howell and Spruce Creek three years ago. Last year, they tied with Lyman with 6-1 records, but the Greyhounds trimmed them in head-to-head competition to earn

This year, however, Gierke may have his best shot ever. Apopka has mauled most of its opposition, averaging 32 points an outing. The Blue Darters have disposed of Edgewater (29-20), Mainland (35-8), Spruce Creek (42-21). Seminole (34-12) and DeLand (35-19) Tonight at Apopka at 8, the Blue Darter will go after their sixth straight against a tough Lake Brantley outfit, which has won three straight itself.

5 Star Opens Today At Lyman

Although Lyman, Lake Howell and Lake Mary figure to set the pace as the Five Star Conference Meet opens with diving today (4 p.m.) at Longwood Lyman. Seminole has three threats to take individual titles when the swimming begins Saturday at 9 a.m.

A trio of talented juniors - Chuck Burgess, Dana Ray and Stacey Jlunto will be vying for individual titles. Burgess' specialties are the 100 back and the 200 free. Ray will be in the 50 free and the 100 back while Juinto competes in the 200 and 500 free.

Seminole's medley relay of Ray, Alison McCall, Shawns Cole and Kristy Keeling also has a chance as well as the 400 free relay of Tracy Reed, Lisa Cooper, Suste Porter and Juinto, according to coach Donalyn Knight.

Prep Swimming

Thursday, Seminole's girls overwhelmed Apopka, 91-58, while the boys lost a tough one, 71-65, in a dual meet at the Sanford Bath & Tennis Club.

Cole picked up two wins in the 200 IM and the 100 fly, Juinto won the 200 free and the 500 free, Ray took a pair in the 50 free and 100 back while McCall won the 100 breast. The medley relay team of Ray, McCail, Keeling and Cole also won.

For the boys, Tim Dycus won the 100 breast, Mike Horner took the 100 fly. Brian Sparrow captured the diving and the 200 medley relay team of Mike Butt. Dycus, Sparrow and Horner also came in

County Battles Spice Rams' Invitationa By Chris Fister

Herald Sports Writer

The battle between Lake Mary and Lyman's boys teams and two of the state's top 10 girls teams, Lake Howell and Lake Brantley, for the top spot in the county continues Saturday at Lake Mary High in the Lake Mary Cress Country Invitational.

The event starts off with the girls lunior varsity at 10 a.m. followed by the girls 1A, 2A and 3A varsity race at 10:30, the girls 4A at 11, the boys JV at 11:30, the boys IA:2A and 3A race at 12 noon and the boys 4A-at 12:30 p.m. Seminole's boys and Lake Brantley's girls are the defending team champions while the individual champions a year ago were Lake Mary's Derek Tangeman and Lake Brantley's Kathryn Hayward. There will be nine teams in the boys 4A varsity race and 11 in the girls 4A race.

Lake Mary's boys team turned in an excellent performance in winning the county championship a week ago at Lyman High. Rams' coach Mark McGee said the key for his team is for the team's top five runners all to finish among the top 20 in the race. They did It last week, and that was the difference in the

"It'll be between us and Lyman Saturday and in the conference meet," McGee said. "Regionals will be the big meet, there will be five teams fighting for four spots (the top four go to state)."

Tangeman, who won with a time of 15:24 last year, and Mark Blythe, both seniors, have been the most consistent performers for the Rams all season long. Behind Blythe and Tangeman, Dominic Rundle, Matt Palumbo and Ken Rohr have been trading off the third, fourth and fifth spots. Rundle was third for Lake Mary in the county championships while Palumbo was fourth and Rohr was fifth. Sixth man John Amrhein was the key to Lake Mary's victory at the Circus World meet and you can bet he'll be there when the Rams need him most.

Lyman's top man is Doug McBroom who has won numerous races this season. The Greyhounds have been without three of their top five most of the year and have suffered the consequences. Brian Hunter, Carl Schmalmaack and Wayne Straw have all been sidelined with various ailments, causing ceach David Huggins to dip into the junior varsity. Wade Jacobson, a freshman who started the year on JV, has come through well for Lyman after being moved up to varsity. Marc Overbay and Steve Grundorf have also performed well in '83.

Seminole is not counting on defending its title, but coach Ted Tombros' Tribe is looking to finish in the top three or four and to keep improving with the conference and district meets coming up. Billy Penick should be at 100 percent for the Lake Mary Invitational after a bout with the flu slowed him down last veek. Kent froutman, the fribe's second runner, was also out with the flu for a while but he came back strong in the county meet. Kelly Faint and Larry Cospy will be key performers for the Seminoles. Both finished In the top 20 in the county meet to help Seminole to third place.

runner and he expects another battle with McBroom for the invitational title. Sentor Brad Dykes is Lake Howell's second runner, he finished fifth in the county meet. Mike Garriques may move up and challenge for the individual title, the Lake Brantley senior has been consistently improving all season long. Chris Ross is the Patriots second top runner. Other teams in the boys 4A varsity race include Daytona Beach Mainland, Orlando

Oviedo's Marty Phillips is a good bet to finish near the top in the 1A. 2A. 3A race. Other teams in that race include, Orlando Jones, Mount Dora Bible, Bishop Moore, Palm Bay, Daytona Beach Seabreeze, Orlando Luther, Orlando Lake Highland and Fort

In the girls 4A race, the "Marshall Plan," is starting to take shape while Lake Howell's pack continues to improve. The "Marshall Plan." that of Lake Brantley coach Jim Marshall, is to stay close to Lake Howell during the regular season, continue to improve and then go all out in the final big meets of the season. The question is, can Marshall hold his girls back until the conference and district meets?

Lake Brantley is ranked sixth.

Kathryn Hayward will try to win the individual title for the second year in a row. She won with a time of 12:08 a year ago. Lake Mary's Sue Kingsbury and Colonial's Lara Wick will also be vying for the top spot.

Behind Kathryn Hayward, Lake Brantley

has Joanne Hayward, Tract Rowland, Barbara Holmes and Kim Lubenow. Those four runners will try to stay with Lake Howell's pack which consists of Angle Smith, Lisa Samocki, Mary Fonseca, Martha Fonseca and Lyn Lucas.

Colonial will battle for third place.

While Kingsbury has been impressive all season. Tracy Blakely had her finest meet a week ago as she finished fourth in the county championship with a time of 12:36. Fran Gordon, Liz Stone and Andrea Beardslee, the third, fourth and fifth runners for the Lady Rams, will be looking to move up some in Saturday's race.

The Seminole girls have had an up and down season as they have went from fourth to fifth in the county after a fifth place finish in the county meet. Although the team has sec-sawed a bit, sophomore Debbte Coleman continues to improve. Coleman finished 17th at the county meet with a time of 13:08.

Lyman had a team score for the first time this season last week and wound up edging Seminole for fourth place. Senior Cindy Gaskell leads the way for the Lady Greyhounds followed by freshman Julie Greenburg.

Other teams in the girls 4A race include Mainland, Evans, Colonial, Apopka, Edgewater and Oak Ridge.

Oviedo's top girls runner is Jenny Barrows. who finished 16th in the county meet at 13:07. Other teams in the girls 1A, 2A, 3A meet Include Mount Dora Bible, Bishop Moore, Palm Bay, Seabreeze, Luther, Lake Highland and Fort Myers.

AWARD WINNERS - Lake Mary's Tracy Blakely, and Oviedo's Marty Phillips were last week's Athletic Attic-Seminole County Track Officials' runners of the week.

Lady Hawks Turn Back Seminoles; Lyman Serves Frustrate Lake Mary

Herald Sports Writer

After dropping the first game to a fired-up Seminole team, Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks came on strong in the second and third games en route to a 14-16, 15-6. 15-5 victory over the Lady Seminoles in prep volleybali action Thursday night at Lake Howell High.

"Seminole came to play and they did well in the first game," Lake Howell coach Jo Luciano said. "We made a lot of mistakes and Seminole capitalized on them. We got our composure back in the second game and we were in control the whole way in third game."

Lake Howell improved to 14-2 overall and still stands at 7-1 in the Five Star Conference. Seminole is 8-6 overall and 5-3 in the conference. Both teams have one game left in the conference and they are important games. Seminole goes up against Delland and Apopka in a tri-match Tuesday at Seminole High. The DeLand match counts in the conference. Seminole could clinch the third seed in the district tourney and knock DeLand out of first place with a victory. Lake Howell goes up against Lake Brantley in its final conference match. Thursday at Lake Howell.

In the first game Thursday night, Seminole snapped a 8-8 tied with three straight points on the serve of Genene Stallworth, Lake Howell took a 12-11 lead on Beth Saunders' serve but Seminole got the serve back on a nice spike by Katy Barbour

Dee Goblebecker served three points for a 14-12 Seminole lead, all three points came on missed spikes by the Lady Hawks. Lake Howell got the serve back on a Seminole missed spike and tied the game at 14-14 on Kathy Barma's serve.

Beth Nelson came up with a key spike to give the serve back to the Seminoles. Barbour the served and the Lady Tribe took a 15-14 lead on an illegal set by Lake Howell. On the next point, Lake Howell's Christy Scott went un for a spike, but she hit the ball right into the outstretched hands of Genene Stallworth who blocked It into the floor to give Seminole the first game, 16-14.

Prep Volleyball

Seminole got out to an early 6-3 lead in the second game, but Lake Howell made its move at that point. Lake Howell tied it at 6.6 and then took a 11.6 lead on Barma's serve with a spike and a dink by Scott leading Seminole couldn't do anything when it got the ball back and a missed spike gave it back to the Lady Hawks. Caryn Krumwelde took over the serve and she served four straight points to ice the second game, 15-6.

The Lady Hawks kept on rolling into the third game and cruised to a 15-5 victory. Beth Saunders served the last three points for the Hawks with the final point coming on a nice spike by Cathy Saunders.

In other action Thursday night, Lyman's Lady Greyhounds came from behind twice and pulled out a 15-12, 15-12 victory over Lake Mary at Lyman High.

Lyman came back from a 12-7 deficit to win the first game and rebounded from a 4-0 deficit to win the second. Kim Vocks served eight straight points in the first game and Kim Reis served the last four points. Reis came back with five straight service points in the second game and Dawn Boyeson added four straight.

"Our serving was excellent and Kim Forsyth did a good job blocking and spiking." Lyman coach Annelle Griffin said. "The Glass twins (Laura and Peggy) did a good job for Lake Mary, but Shella Mandy and Regan Stump picked up quite a few of their spikes in the back Lyman, 6-10 overall and 3-6 in the conference, travels to Melbourne this weekend to compete in the Palm Bay High tournament. Lyman ends the regular season on Monday as it goes up against Oviedo at Oviedo. Lake Mary, 7-9 overall and 5-4 in the conference, ends

the regular season next Thursday as it hosts Bishop hit because he has such good

One thousand yards was also a goal this fall, although he is lagging just a bit behind as the Hawks enjoy a week off after six games. Robey has been over 100 yards four times. His total for the year is 561 or about 93 per game. "I've got to pick it up a little if I want to make 1,000 again," said Robey, "But with the offensive line I have, I can do it.'

Robey is a mature senior. He realizes the importance of his offensive line, just as he realizes the importance of the classroom. "That's sort of mandatory around this family," laughed Robey. "My mother and father (Sancy and David Robey) have always stressed the books. You need to have a little help (at home) and be pushed."

While the parents aren't afraid to give a little shove at home. Robey doesn't need a nudge when he gets on the football field. "I've always wanted to carry the ball," he said. "I started playing in the sixth grade with the SYSA. It helped me a lot, especially when I played with the Juntor Bantams in eighth grade."

The help came by playing against players older than himself "When I became a freshman, I finally played with kids my own age," he said. Then, I realized I may be able to get a scholarship."

With the excellent academic record and the good offensive stats, Robey, who plans a career in business administration, would be a prize catch for any college.

"Several teams in the lvy League are interested," said Bisceglia. "Just about everybody that sees him is interested. He's heard from Vanderbilt, Syracuse, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh and Alabama."

Bisceglia said he feels Robey can add an inch and 20 more pounds to his frame. "I think he can play major college ball," Bisceglia said. "He's a slashing type runner with tremendous acceleration. If he gets a crack, he's in the secondary."

Miaolini also points to his blocking. "He'll hit you," Maiolini said, "Jay's a good lead blocker and he does an excellent job on pass blocking. He's definitely college-bound."

Add success-bound to that last one, too - whether it be on the football field or in the business world.

A film clip of Germano against Lake Mary told Posey all he wanted to know about Germano. "I don't know if I've ever seen a kid (Scott Sperrazza) run over like that." said Posey. "Germano must have knocked that kid five yards back. He is one tough runner."

Although Lyman's offense has shown flashes of brilliance, the defense has been awesome. It has given up just 43 points in five games for an average of 8.6

points per outing. "They're a hustling little group," said Scott about coach Dan Johnson and Jack Bloomingdale's 11. "They don't have a lot of talent or size, but they really get after One of the biggest getters is junior linebacker Henley. He ranks third in the county with 58 combined tackles. Teammate and linebacker Mike Crespo is right behind with 48. Paul Ellis is another hard hitter. Upfront, Tyrone Simpson (41 tackles) and Bubba Jones provide the muscle while Kevin Keikes in a hard-nesed defensive end. In the secondary, Mike Battle. Pilot and Tyler Hughes are all deadly tacklers.

'Lyman had more big play people last year out Posey. "And they were bigger and stronger. This is a pretty young team. They rely on running more than throwing. "But it is the most important game on our schedule We've shown that we can win. It's not a matter of who you are playing. We might have already played the best teams in the conference. It's time for us to start winning again."

FSU Rips Louisville

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) - Florida State, best known for its passing attack, is turning more to a ground game and now has two straight victories thanks largely to a pair of alternating tailbacks.

Greg Allen and Roosevelt Snipes, alternating with each series, rushed for 148 and 109 yards respectively Thursday night as the Seminoles crushed Lousiville 51-7 in a game moved up two days for a national cable television broadcast.

It was the second time in less than a week that Allen and Snipes rushed for more than 100 yards each. They garnered 125 and 121 yards respectively in FSU's 43-17 win over Cincinnati Saturday.

But Seminoles Coach Bobby Bowden, now the most successful coach in his school's history with a 63-25-0 records over eight season, had more to say about his defense than his Allen-Snipes duo.

The FSU defense, largely blamed for the losses in Florida State's 4-3 record this season, held the Cardinals scoreless until 1:02 was remaining in the game when Lamar Cumings scored on a 6-yard dash against Bowden's subs.

"Our defense is just getting better and better every weck." Bowden said. "Tiley are playing 60 minutes with some intensity."

The Cardinals, 3-5, lost starting quarterback Dean May to a separated shoulder on a Carreker tackle in the second quarter.

"We lost any chance we had when Dean went down." said Louisville Coach Bob Weber. "You don't like to have your team go flat because one guy goes down but it happened. We just couldn't move the football and that was the end of it.

The Cardinal team doctor estimated May could be ready to play in 2-3 weeks.

Florida State fans, pleased with what they saw, gave their defensers a standing ovation virtually every time they left the field.

Leading the Seminole defense was tackle Alphonso Carreker who had one blocked field goal, two blocked passes and eight tackles.

McCumber Holds Disney Lead

LAKE BUENA VISTA (UPI) - Mark McCumber has been suffering from sinus headaches recently, but he found the right medicine in the first round of the $400,000 Walt Disney World Classic - an 8-under-par

"It's the best pain-killer there is." McCumber joked Thursday after his sizzling play gave him a two-stroke lead heading into today's second round.

Tied at 66 were Lanny Wadkins, Doug Tewell, Morris

In all, 80 of the 132 players shot par or better on the three Par 72 courses laid out across Disney World just west of Orlando.

McCumber, a six-year veteran of the tour, said he's been bothered by sinus headaches in recent days. The latest one disappeared just before he teed off Thursday on his healthy round of 64.

HONEY, IT'S TIME

A dermatologist explained that my skin surface lacked a natural sloughing-off ability, that it was not a cleanliness problem. He prescribed Retin-A.

This ointment left my skin dry and red. It also alarmed me when I read of the potential of skin cancer when the medicated skin is exposed to the sun's rays.

Is this the only choice if I don't want to live with these unsightly blackheads any more? What else can I do?

DEAR READER - A peeling agent is often beneficial in patients with blackhead problems or other manifestations of acne. And Retin-A is a good peeling agent. It is irritating to the skin, more so in some patients than others. The amount of strength of the preparation must be built up slowly for the face area. And the gel is preferable for the face. The creams containing Retin-A are probably not useful because of the greasiness and may actually make matters worse. You may think things are getting worse when you first start using Retin-A but after the initial two weeks of increased irritation and reaction things get better, but it may take more than six weeks to see definite benefits.

It does not cause cancer. Like antibiotics, many cosmetics and even some soaps, it will increase the sensitivity of your skin to the sun and the sun's damaging effects, including sun rays that can cause skin cancer. You can help minimize this problem by using Retin-A in the late afternoon or evening after you are out of the sun and using a sun screening agent in the mornings for daytime sun exposure. There are other peeling agents. Antibiotics are very helpful in many

The methods outlined in that issue should be tried before resorting to treatment with Accutane. which is a new medicine for severe cases that do not respond to the more conventional therapy.

DEAR DR. LAMB - 1 have been using a powdered, artificial creamer in my coffee rather than regular coffee cream. Would you please compare the cholesterol level of the powdered creamer with that of regular coffee cream? I like to use two large teaspoons of the powdered creamer with each cup of coffee.

DEAR READER - The coffee whitener you mentioned contains lots of coconut oil. Over 80 percent of the fat in coconut oil is saturated fat. Only about 50 percent of the fat in butter fat and cream is saturated fat. It is believed by many heart specialists and other scientists that saturated fat stimulates your body to produce cholesterol. There is no cholesterol in coffee whiteners made from vegetable sources, including coconut oil. And if you used half-and-half cream there would be about 20 mg. for each teaspoon.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby and James Jacoby

Opening lead: ♦K

South took dummy's ace of diamonds and played out his ace and king of trumps with lightning speed. He came to a brief stop when East showed out, since he saw that he know how to make your needed to establish a heart winner before drawing the rest of the trumps.

Then he led a heart to dummy's king and East's ace. East saw little hope in playing a diamond. One diamond trick would not beat the contract. Then East noted that West might well be short in clubs. He led a club and West ruffed for the second defensive trick, cashed a high diamond and got a heart later.

South complained bitterly about bad luck. suggested pointedly that with honors in every suit North should have raised to three no-trump, which was a cinch, and so on.

North finally got a chance to reply. He agreed that South would have made three no-trump. North's exact words were, "Even an idiot like you could take nine top tricks.' Then he pointed out that South should have made four spades by winning the second trump in dummy and leading the heart toward his own queen. This was a simple safety play designed to guard against the club ruff. East had played the spade nine on the first spade lead. Obviously West was the only oppo-nent who could ruff a club.

Annual High School Band Festival Oct. 29

By Jane Casselberry Herald Staff Writer

A "Star-Spangled" extravaganza with an unforgettable patriotic finale combining music by seven area high school bands and a labulous fireworks display — that's what you will find at the ninth annual Seminole High School Band Festival.

Co-sponsored by the Optimist Club of Sanford and the Evening Herald, the musical event attracts thousands of persons each year to enjoy the participants' youthful exuberance, talent, and showmanship while benefitting the participating bands financially.

This year's show will be held beginning at 8 p.m. on Oct. 29 at the Lake Brantley High School stadium on Sand Lake Road, Forest City. Greg Martin, bandmaster of Lake Howell High School, will be the host director for the festival and the Lake Howell Silver Regiment Marching Band will be the host Martin has been at Lake Howell since 1981, during which time the band program has grown from 132 members to 160. In addition to his work in Seminole County, he is also an assistant instructor for the Suncoast Sound Drum and Bugle Corps.

Other participating bands and directors will be Bishop Moore, Joe Derrico; Lake Brantley, Jack Herron; Lake Mary, Ms. Terry Pattishali; Lyman, Don Schmaus; Oviedo, Dick Feinberg; and Seminole, Bob Maguire.

The Optimist Club prints and distributes to the bands 2,600 adult tickets and 1,600 children's tickets; the tickets are sold by band members with each band keeping whatever it has raised for uniforms, music, and instruments. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for children. They can be purchased from band members or at the Evening Herald, 300 N. French Ave., Sanford.

Jack Horner, president of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, will be master of ceremonies again this year.

Between 800 and 1,000 talented young musicians, drum majors, majorettes, and members of the various flag, rifle and dance corps, will take part. They will form one massed band for the opening and closing numbers and in between the spotlight fall on the individual bands as they perform.

Pyrotechnics expert "Vic" Vickers of Orlando will light up the sky with a spectacular fireworks display. The Optimists pick up the tab for the Seminole County Schools Fine Arts Coordinator John Blair is chairman of the festival and Ernie Butler is co-chairman. Each band will receive a participation trophy.

During the past two years, Lake Howell's 114-member Silver Regiment has competed throughout the state and nation, amassing a total of 44 trophies and plaques. This includes seven first place awards and three grand championships. The Silver Regiment Drumline under the instruction of Dave Anders and John Campese has only lost one "best drumline" award in the past four years. The band has competed nationally at the Marching Bands of America "Grand National Championship" and received seventh place in Class AA.

Rick Baker is drum major, John Ledford is field commander, and P.L. Harkins is president.

Lake Brantley's Royal Blue Brigade has been in existence for five years and has won trophies and superior ratings at the Greater Atlanta Open, Northeast Florida Festival, Pride of Kathleen Festival and the Florida Bandmasters Association Marching Contest.

Drum major and president is Don Deaver; Lori Ann Neeley is head majorette.

The 1983 Lake Mary Marching Rams are 200 strong. Now in its third year and with its first senior class, the band hopes to extend its list of outstanding performances and superior ratings. They have received an invitation to represent the state in the 1984 Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade in New York City. Drum majors are Philip Halle, Sandra Flatow, and Gina Caputo. Suzanne Watson is band president. The Lake Marionettes and the flag team will also participate in the show.

Seminole High School Band drum majors are band president Tom Stiffey, senior; Melanic Wilchar, Junior; and Charlotte Holding, sophomore. The band plays for numerous functions in the community as well as marching and concert festivals.

The Lyman High School Marching Greyhounds will have as its field director for the festival senior drum major Don Campbell. The instrumental music department totals 149 members and from its ranks forms two concert bands, a stage band and an orchestra. The band has received numerous superior ratings over the years and has performed at many band festivals, contests, and parades in and out of the state. Gail Whitehouse is band president.

The Bishop Moore band will take the field with the music of Spain, featuring the trumpets of Denis Quintana and Carlos Coto and a trombone solo by

here In The World Did Chevy 'Vacation'?

DEAR DICK: My best friend and I went to see National Lampoon's Vacation with Chery Chase. In it there were scenes from a place called Wally World. Is there such a place? If not, where were those scenes taken from? M.P., Kalamazoo, Mich.

There are lots of places like Wally World. But, no. there is no amusement park called Wally World. The overall view of the park is totally phony - the bottom half is the Santa Anita race track and the top half is animation. But the actual scenes of the family in the park were made at Six Flags Magic Mountain, an amusement park in the Los Angeles area.

DEAR DICK: I watch the old Westerns on Saturday. Tell me, if you can, was Humphrey Bogart ever Lash LaRue? He looks and sounds so much like Bogart. - M.K., Stuart, Fla.

No. and LaRue was never Bogart. They were two entirely different and entirely separate entities.

DEAR DICK: Please help settle a bet. Are Dwayne Hickman and Robert Blake brothers? - C.L., Warren, Mich.

No. Dwayne does have a brother - actor Darryl Hickman - but they are not related to Blake.

DEAR DICK: We saw a rerun of the movie Peyton Place recently, and are trying to decide the sequence. In what order did the TV series, the book and the movie come? - J.H.H., Cumberland, Md.

Grace Metalious' book started it all in 1956. The movie followed the next year and the TV series ran from '64 to '69.

DEAR DICK: I watched My Bodyguard on TV recently. Did Jennifer Beals of Flashdance play in that movie? There was a someone who looked just like her. - B. R., Covington, Ohio,

No. Jennifer wasn't in My Bodyguard. Flashdance was her first movie — and probably not her last.

DEAR DICK: I say Maureen McGovern of The Brady Bunch also was in the movie The Poseidon Adventure. My sister says she wasn't. We need your help. - R.S., Warsaw, Ind.

You are wrong - twice. It wasn't Maureen McGovern who was in The Brady Bunch, it was Maureen McCormick. And neither of them was in The Poseidon Adventure. You may be thinking of Pamela Sue Martin, something of a look-alike for Miss McCormick, who was in the 1972 movie.

DEAR DICK: Who's the beautiful lady who played Ann in Bud and Lou? I've seen her on a lot of things. I think her name is something Lee or Lee something. Why isn't she in more things? — D.B.G., Kalamazoo, Mich.

That's the lovely Michele Lee, and she's a regular on CBS' Thursday evening series Knots Landing.

CHURCH REVIVAL

Johnny McDaniel, State Youth Director of the Churches of God of Prophecy in the State of Florida, will be conducting a series of revival services at the local church at 2509 Elm Avenue from Wednesday through Sunday (October 19-23) at 7:30 p.m. He will be speaking at the 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. worship services on Sunday. The Reverend Mr. McDaniel was graduated from Lee College, Cleveland, Tennessee, and Tomlinson College, Cleveland, Tennessee. If you need deliverance for the soul, mind, or body, come and hear this dynamic young speaker. You will find the answer for the needs of your life. We cordially invite you to come and share with us in this time of spiritual renewal.

If you have questions, please call the Reverend E.J. Lewis at 322-4015.

Sinatra In Line

NEW YORK - Frank Sinatra slapped a lawsuit against his would-be biographer Kitty Kelley, author of the best-selfing vivisection of Elizabeth Taylor. He's going to have to get in line, however. Miss Kelley, who's about as timid as a Dallas Cowboys linebacker, has other lawsuits ahead of his... Expectant mother Lorna Luft is going into the infants wear business. She'll be involved in the manufacture of a novel, medium-priced line, for which she will be spokesmom. Lorna's first collection, like her first baby, comes into the world next spring.

Those old "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In" shows are going into syndication. Dan Rowan and Dick Martin are

British Women Do Bitchiness Best'

By Vernon Scott UPI Hollywood Reporter

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) - Whatever happened to the well-bred, genteel Englishwomen who glided through Hollywood movies like tine porcelain with fluted Mayfair accent and impeccable manners?

Greer Garson epitomized the elegant breed, as did Deborah Kerr, Kay Kendall, Audrey Hepburn and Julie Andrews.

Alas, this ladylike band of gentlewomen has been replaced in American television by a pair of tarty, catty babes from blighty in the persons of Joan Collins and Sarah Douglas.

Unlike their slightly haughty, rarely noughty English predecessors, Joan and Sarah play a couple of trouble-making trollops in Dynasty and Falcon Crest respectively.

The British press is delighted with the empire's latest export to the colonies, the unmitigated English hoyden.

One newspaper headlined: "British Bitches Are

Miss Douglas is as happy as the London tabloids about the change in fortunes of British actresses in Hollywood productions.

"American prime time TV series have invented an entirely new category of roles for British actresses." Sarah said. "And I must give credit to Joan for her marvelously malevolent part in Dynasty.

"I play more of an outright villainess than bitch as Pamela Lynch in Falcon Crest. Pamela is a throroughly bad woman and a delight to play."

"British women do bitchiness best."

Aggie's Can Be Fun, But They Take Their Food Preparation Seriously

Dig out those funny glasses or come as you are to one of the liveliest places in town... Aggie's, that restaurant at 2520 S. French Avenue in Sanford.

Aggie's may be a fun place to go for entertainment, such as their upcoming Halloween party Saturday, Oct. 29, but it is also a place that takes dining seriously.

If you're interested in enjoying fine food at reasonable prices, prices that haven't changed in reduced drink prices and free hors d'ouevres are more than a year, try this delightful restaurant. It's away from the bustle of crowds and the management aims to please.

A prime rib for the hearty appetite, the Diamond Jim Brady, is offered for a mere $11.95. A more modest version, dubbed the Lillian Russell, carries at $9.50 tab. And these dinners are among the highest priced on the menu.

The people at Aggle's take pride in their dry-aged prime rib preparing it in special ovens where low temperatures turn out an elegant dish.

Also for beef lovers, there are five steaks and a shish kebob from which to choose, or steak oregano. strips of beef prepared with garlic and seasonings, a Hellenic touch. Along this line of fare are roast leg of lamb for $6.95, chicken Athenian, broiled and basted with lemon and butter, and the combination plate of Greek delicacies with mousaka and dolmades, all from family recipes.

From the sea come 10 fish dishes, shrimp scampi. scallops, lobster tails and flounder stuffed with crabmeat, among them. Prices start in this tempting category at $7.95.

If you dare, consumate the feast with a luscious homemade dessert, perhaps an Aggie's Surprise, a mystery concoction.

Early bird specials are offered from 4:30 until 7 seven nights a week with prices starting at $5.95. Luncheon specials are offered each noon and provided during the attitude adjustment hours from 5 until 7.

Reservations are now being accepted for holiday parties with private banquet facilities for the affairs.

Mike Evans is currently entertaining Wednesday. Friday and Saturday nights. Frankie and Johnny are booked for the New Year's Eve gala.
