3 Persons Held After Hot Chase

By BILL SCOTT

Three persons, two men and a 12-year-old girl, are being held in Seminole County jail after an early Saturday morning chase from Seminole into Lake County.

Chief Deputy Duane Harrell said Clifford Redding, 21, 36 William Clark Court, and Eddie Hollis, 19, 1710 Alexander Avenue, both Sanford, were charged with contributing to the delinquency of a juvenile and several automobile violations after a chase, started when Deputy George Hughey spotted a car stolen earlier from Tropkeys Construction Company at Sanford, and ended in a wrecked vehicle on SR 42 at Clearwater Reservation in Lake County.

Harrell said the juvenile had a small caliber pistol in her possession, when arrested by Deputy George Myers.

She was charged with possession of a concealed weapon and accessory in an auto theft and turned over to juvenile authorities, Harrell added.

Hollis managed to escape minutes after the wreck, but was apprehended with the aid of bloodhounds by Lake County sheriff's officers and released to Seminole County authorities.

A three-car accident Friday night resulted in injuries to one driver, total loss of one car and estimated $500 damages to two others according to Sanford Patrolman Daley Smith, investigating officer.

The mishap occurred at 20th Street and French Avenue intersection and involved cars driven by Clio Holland Driver, Route 17, William F. Leyer, 207 Crystalview Avenue and Marion Lawson, 884 E. 20th Street, all of Sanford.

Mrs. Lawson was removed by ambulance to Seminole Memorial Hospital for injury treatment and Driver was charged by Smith with careless driving.

Funny what you hear over the phone . . . late on a Saturday night while you're trying our darndest to get a special edition out . . .

Like the report which came saying that there was an elephant on the loose in Winter Park. Honest . . .

And then some bright-eyes quipped, "So? That's a Republican town, isn't it?"

If you don't feel like watching the boob-tube tomorrow night (and here of late, their offerings have been meager) . . . why don't you do what I'm planning . . . enjoy the Christmas Caroling of the Sanford Male Chorus at 7:30 p.m. They'll be at the site of the former Valdes Hotel in downtown Sanford . . . and be more than happy to have you there and join in . . .

Just in case you didn't know . . . the Florida Berze canal, damned by conservationists and urged by shipping interests, has been in the works for 27 years and still is progressing, though far behind schedule, according to the AP.

Makes you appreciate fellahs like John Krider so much more . . . when he makes up his mind to tackle a job, well, need we say more?

Got any favorites to fill the upcoming vacancy on the City Commission? Pass the names on to the current city fathers. They might welcome the names of some other capable fellows.

In case you missed it . . . Atty. Gen. Earl Faircloth "unobtrusively" withdrew two suits against Miami Beach motels, allegedly joined with the Miami Clearwater and the Sahara Resort Motel and the Chateau Resort Motel, two of 21 firms initially charged in legal action. How's the saying go? First there were 21 . . . and now only 19 . . . and tomorrow?

It's That Time Of Hope

By MARION BETHA

Christmas is a time of hope, a season of the belief in the goodness of mankind and compassion for our fellowmen. Most of us, busy with shopping and a myriad of details often forget the real meaning of Christmas, but the poignant faith of Mrs. Bea Coffee, whose husband, Lt. Col. Gerald Coffee, is a prisoner of North Vietnam, gives real meaning to "peace on earth."

Mrs. Coffee has just returned from a visit with President and Mrs. Richard Nixon, where she heard the present policy of the government toward the prisoners of war discussed. The wives were selected from a cross section of the country and from representation of different branches of service. Some had loved ones who are among the 1,400 prisoners in North Vietnam, who are mostly air crewmen and pilots, and others are relatives of prisoners held in South Vietnam, who are helicopter and ground troops. Transportation and expenses were arranged by the government.

Upon arrival, the group of wives was honored with a dinner and reception at Bolling Air Force Base officers club attended by the Secretary of State, Secretary of Defense, Secretary of the Air Force, Army, and Navy, Chiefs of Staff of the Air Force and Army, Chief of Naval Operations, Commandant of the Marine Corps and the military aid to the President. Altogether there were 56 top military advisers on hand to meet the wives, and Mrs. Coffee and the other wives were "very impressed to see so many people of prominence to reassure them about the welfare of their loved ones."

The wives, who arrived in Washington on Dec. 11, were then invited to the White House on Dec. 12. They met in the library, and were first introduced to Mrs. Nixon, after which the president arrived and gave a 25-minute speech. He assured the women that it is the policy of the government to have the prisoners returned before total withdrawal of troops. The President elaborated that if troops were withdrawn, little or no bargaining power would remain for return of the prisoners.

He expressed concern for their welfare, with the realization that the longer they remain in a captive state, the less likely they would be to remain in "good shape" when returned to this country.

Mrs. Coffee strongly feels that the president is doing all he can as rapidly as possible and that the situation will not be a "forever affair."

President Nixon gave as the only two alternatives to the POW situation, total withdrawal, with the massacre of the South Vietnamese, or the present.

Sanford To Seek $ Grant

Sanford city commission will meet Monday at 8 p.m. for the last time this year, and under present organization, to hear four recommendations from the city's zoning and planning commission, one of which is a request that city seek a federal money grant for an urban renewal study.

This will be the last meeting for Commissioners Earl Higginbotham and A. L. Wilson, incumbents who lost in recent city election. Gordon Meyer will succeed Wilson at Jan. 8 organizational meeting and Mayor Les P. Moore, winner over Higginbotham for other position, will be presiding for the last time under present organization.

He will assume the mayor's office for three years in January and someone will be appointed by the commission to fill Moore's last year on his present three-year commission term.

Commission will face a long agenda dealing with complex subjects, including the urban renewal request from zoning board.

Voters approved the federal rebuilding program in Dec. 2 elections, and zoning board is moving at a fast pace to insure that city acts to receive a U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) grant to fund costs of surveying city's blight to determine what areas should first feel the bulldozers blade in an expected residential rebuilding program.

Other zoning requests for commission approval include:

- Amend ordinance to allow "new car" lots as a conditional use in a C-1 zone;
- Amend zoning ordinance to adopt Sanford Airport zoning regulations and map;
- Proceed with beautification plans and apply for federal matching funds for those plans presented by the Scenic Improvement Board.

A report from the State Attorney General regarding the Airport Authority Act by William C. Hutchinson, city attorney, is also on the agenda.

Other matters to receive commission attention include:

- First reading of ordinance prohibiting junk cars in commercial zones; annexation of five lots on French Avenue; annexation of two lots on West 18th Street and Peach Street; annexation of five lots on Onocela Drive in the Dreamwood Subdivision.

Preliminary Approval School's Modified Plan

By BILL SCOTT

Organizational Plan for 1970-71 school year, which would move all sixth grades from six South Seminole elementary schools into South Seminole and Milwee Junior High Schools and take the ninth grades from the two mentioned junior highs and putting them into Lyman High School.

The increase in enrollment at Lyman caused by the addition of the ninth grades will mean a ten-period, double session for most Lyman High students beginning next September.

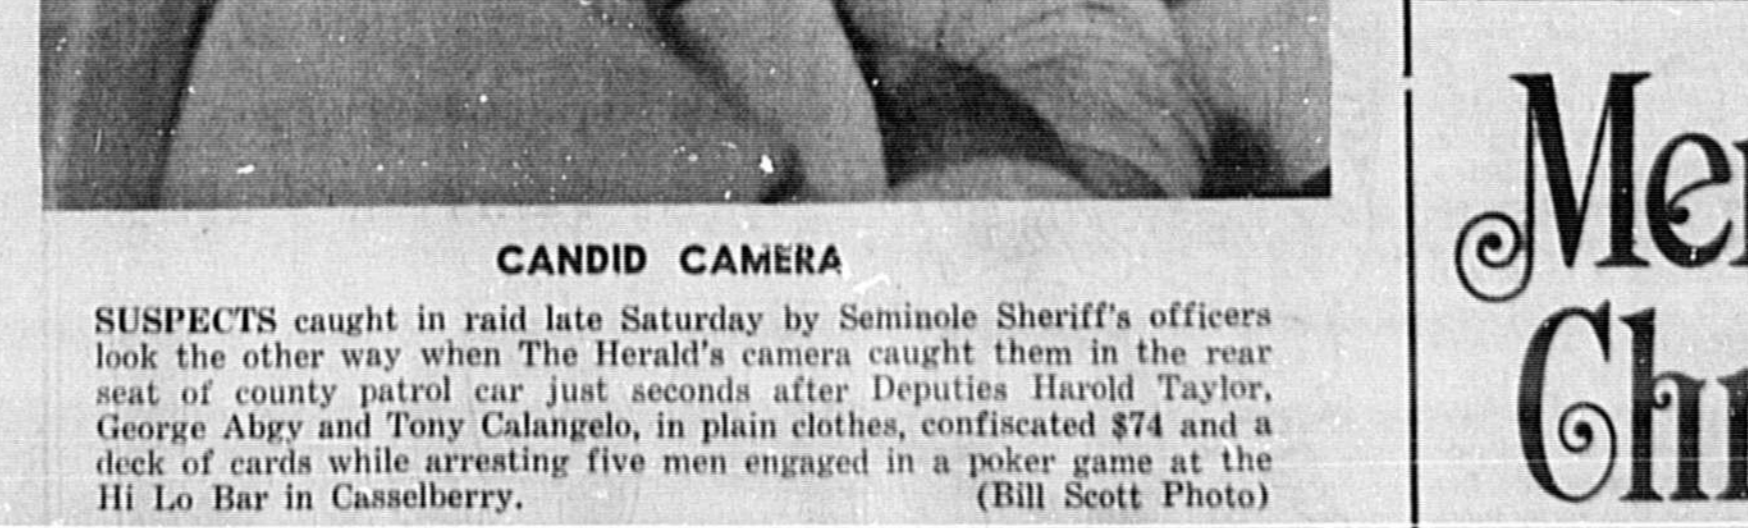

This was the recommendation of a study committee set up by the administrative office to pursue possible educational concept within county's schools.

Supt. John Angel included the possible adoption of the so-called Modified Organizational Plan in his three recommendations to the school board.

These included:

- Continous study of the Extended School Year;
- Continue Compass Committee study;
- Further study regarding

Ten Students Arrested

Ten Lyman High School students between the ages of 14 to 17 years were arrested shortly past noon Friday by Seminole County authorities, Casselberry police and agents from Florida Department of Law Enforcement after they played "hooky" from school to stage a "pill party" at a Fern Park apartment.

Duane Harrell, chief county deputy, reported a 16-year-old girl had narcotics in her hand bag and was charged with possession.

Nine others, including six boys and three girls, were charged with truancy by sub-

Sheriff's officers had received a "tip" on the party from Casselberry Police Chief Donald Brunley, who asked county help in raiding a swank Regency Apartment suite located off SR 436 in Fern Park, after hearing Lyman High School students had skipped school for a session with drugs.

Harrell said a bottle containing a number of the so-called "speed" pills, which act on the central nervous system, was found in the girl's purse by investigators.

The deputy said the apartment used was rented to parents of one of the youths.

Snow? Who Needs It In God's Country?

(Editor's Note: If you think you have retired in this area, you are missing out on the good old days of sleigh bells, snow, and hot toddies. . . . You may be in for a surprise!)

By ANN RILEY

Since retired persons make up a sizeable percentage of our population in Seminole County and elsewhere in the Sunshine State and the holiday season is a nostalgic time for all, especially our senior citizens, the question "What do you miss most about the holidays up north?" was posed by this Herald reporter with some surprising results.

When the question was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Chester Cogswell, former of Pennsylvania, N.J., and now of Casselberry, he replied emphatically, "High humidity, engineering shoveling, polluted air adding, 'You've got to be kidding' Mrs. Cogswell's response was enthusiastic about her new home state, "It's just great to be down here in 'God's Country'."

Although they do miss friends and relatives a bit, they feel the other blessings compensate for this.

The Cogswells visited many parts of our state before deciding on a permanent residence in Casselberry. Their beautiful lakefront home was built for them while they waited their affairs up north. As they only moved in last March, they are facing their first Christmas away from their home of many years, but they are completely happy with Seminole County and have found the warmth and hospitality is indeed beautiful.

A registered horologist, he works on clocks of all description. His hobbies consist of gardening, fishing, all painting, and naturally, antique time pieces. Mrs. Cogswell shares a common interest in gardening and fishing in addition to crocheting, knitting, and social and fraternal activities. She is a Past Worthy Master in her Eastern Star Chapter in New Jersey.

When Florence and William Brooling of Indian Hills, Casselberry, were queried as to what they missed most about the holidays up north, the answer given was, "We enjoy them more here because we don't get snowed in. Up north particularly fond of Australia and the other islands compensate for this."

The Broolings moved here from Chicago, where he retired from a National Engineering Company after 26 years. He held the position of chief erection superintendent, installing mechanical foundations around the world often accompanied by Mrs. Brooling.

Both Florence and Bill like Seminole County very much and feel no homesickness as they relate here. They are looking forward to a snowless Christmas in their lovely Indian Hills home. In addition to homemaker, Mrs. Brooling enjoys bridge and is an avid player. She loves to cook and to try out new recipes.

His hobby of gardening is evident from the time you pull into their driveway and view the well kept lawn, shrubbery and flowers. Another hobby is photography at which he is very apt. On a trip around the world, he photographed 22,000 feet of film. They are both particularly fond of Australia.

Nazzareno and Santola Caponi are winter visitors at the home of their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elise Caponi in the Glen Arden section of Altamonte Springs, Fla. Nazzareno, an engineering company after 26 years. He held the position of chief erection superintendent, installing mechanical foundations around the world often accompanied by Mrs. Brooling.

It is 75 per cent better. The weather is beautiful. I can work in the garden and be out in the fresh air.

"Nona" and "Nonno" Caponi, as they are affectionately known to all their relatives and friends, were born in Acquafredda, Italy, which is located in the mountain area 125 miles north of Rome.

After making several trips to this country, Mr. Caponi moved his family, consisting of himself, his wife, son and daughter, to Walpole, Mass.

Although he is an American citizen, he still draws a pension from the Italian government, since he served in the Italian Army during WW I.

His favorite hobby is gardening, which he can indulge freely in during the winter months in Florida.

Nona loves to cook and eat.

At making all kinds of pasta from scratch, pizza and cheesecakes.

The Caponis await with anticipation the celebration of Christ's birthday knowing that during part of the day they can relax in the sun and look at the palm trees that remind them of the land of the Christ Child's birth.

DeBary Artists Plan Yule Party Sunday

An old-fashioned Christmas party for the public, including music, a skit and refreshments, will be held at 2 1/2 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 21, at DeBary Hall under sponsorship of the Florida Federation of Art. Pianist will be Mrs. Edwin Pullen, of Deltona, who has studied piano and voice from an early age and was organist for seven years in Chicago, Ill. She was born in England and studied piano and voice at the Conservatory of Music in Ipswich, England. She teaches Spanish at Deltona Community Center and is president of the Camera Club. Mrs. Pullen will honor us with several solos.

Another soloist will be Mrs. Joseph Mathieux, of Geneva, president and founder of the Sanford-Seminole Art Association. She studied voice with Mrs. Walter Johnson, of Rollins College, and Dr. Lyman Prior, in Jacksonville. She is a guest soloist in many of the neighboring churches as well as at Knowles Chapel, Rollins College. Members from some of the Church choirs will join to help put the Christmas spirit back into this season of the year.

The reception will be sponsored by Mrs. Martha Hadcock, chairman of activities with her committee members. The hostesses who will greet the guests in 1800s costume. They are from the Sanford-Seminole Art Association.

Heading the Christmas skit is Mrs. Ruth Moore, of DeBary, member of the DeBary Players. The skit will conform to the Christmas theme.

A Christmas arrangement will be assembled on the upper veranda of DeBary Hall and will be spotlighted so that all may see it far down Mansion Boulevard.

Christmas Is A Time Of Hope, Wife Finds

sent obligation to the United States, which carries with it a moral obligation to the free world. Wives were also apprised of the return from Paris of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and the statement that the State Department felt that the ambassador had spent enough time accomplishing nothing. Lodge continuously attended meetings at which he was insulted and made no progress. Mrs. Coffee's husband was shot down on a mission in February, 1966. Since that time she has received a total of 30 letters, mostly six lines with little information. She also has had two or three movies and a few soap operas, which were used primarily for propaganda purposes by the North Vietnamese. Her husband, however, appears to be in a good state of mind and receiving humane treatment by Hanoi. His right arm was broken upon landing from his aircraft, and Mrs. Coffee states that it would appear to be healed. Mrs. Coffee's last letter from her husband was in August of this year.

While in Washington, the service wives were given a tour of the White House with its magnificent holiday decorations. All of the wives were encouraged by the visit and completely support the stand of the President. In Mrs. Coffee's words, "We wives of the prisoners are probably the most frustrated of individuals in the country today but our husbands fought for a moral belief and we support the government in this belief."

The Coffee household numbers four children, Kimberly, 21; Steven, 20; David, 17; and Jerry, three and a half. They are all excited over Christmas and are going to have a "happy one." The children have accepted the fact that their father is at war.

46,000 Children Added To Welfare Rolls

Illegitimate Births Costly To Fla.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Illegitimate births, especially among teen-agers have added 46,000 children to Florida's welfare rolls at a yearly cost of $14 million, according to a report prepared for the House Public Health and Welfare Committee.

Uncounted millions of dollars more must be spent for other services provided by state and local governments for illegitimate children.

The Bureau of Maternal and Child Health in the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services estimates it would cost about $7 million to reach the 223,000 women and children who have most of the illegitimate children with effective family planning programs.

Legitimacy and its economic implications have been given top priority during the 1970 session by the Legislature's welfare committee chairman, Rep. Richard Hodes and Sen. Louis de la Parte, both Tampa Democrats.

The illegitimacy report, which shows Florida ranks sixth in the nation in children born to unwed mothers, was prepared by Judy Varner, a graduate student intern from the Florida State University School of Social Work.

"My own feeling after having researched this problem for about five months is we need a real intensive action program for family planning in Florida," she said.

Varner's report into legislation "It appears to be fairly evident that we're probably going to suggest a package of legislation more in the education area, the family planning type of thing," Fleece said.

"We'll have to explain to some of them how they get pregnant," he added.

His comment is not as far off as it sounds. Alex M. Bromer, a high school principal at Miami, pushed for sex education courses at his school after a 14-year-old pregnant girl told him, "I didn't know that's the way you get pregnant."

Mrs. Varner's report shows that last year 6,029 illegitimate children, 41.5 per cent of the total illegitimate births, were born to mothers 18 years of age and younger. There were 1,299 illegitimate births to mothers 11 to 15 years old.

Lights Play A Stellar Role In Holiday Drama

If ever there was a time when Sanford-Seminole shines out with all the brilliance of outward light and inward brilliance and confidence this holiday season of 1969 surely is a candidate for top honors.

There are new bursts of brilliance and color all along the major traffic avenues. When trips are ventured along the southern tier there is almost no way to describe what has happened along S-436 where the orange groves have given way to new apartments, homes and businesses.

Lighting contests are being conducted throughout the county. Here in Sanford — north of Big Tree Park, there is the annual lighting contest which is sponsored by the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees.

Where multi-colored lights outline the structure, or gay bulbs illuminate the outside trees and the festive indoor Christmas tree with lights, ornaments and snow glimpsed through a window that portrays the holiday spirit of Sanford-Seminole.

Goodnight, Chet

World-weary Chet Huntley has looked for some years as though he were ready to lay down his script and contemplate man's folly.

His tone and inflection struck the words together for the effect of historic perspective.

He seemed about the safest thing on television, for he never wavered. He tried to smile or chuckle now and then with David Brinkley.

All Of A Sudden

In the old days, before smart men had reduced travel and communications to a system, the Sunday New York Times, which is printed on Saturday night, used to reach us dependably by Monday afternoon.

Then the efficiency experts began to move in, and the Sunday Times, which used to arrive on Monday, began to come dependably on Tuesday but occasionally on Wednesday.

Interpretive Report:

Moratorium On Probing Now!

By RICHARD WILSON WASHINGTON, D. C. — A member of the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence has made a recommendation which is bound to find favor in the Nixon administration.

Dr. Crane, an engineering professor at the University of Michigan, proposed a national moratorium on any additional temporary study commission that might be set up to probe the causes of racism, or poverty, or crime, or the urban crisis.

Dr. Crane's recommendation is to suspend all national commissions for a period of 180 days.

The present mood of the Nixon administration is not receptive to the rationale for civil disobedience as either a first or last resort even if subscribed to by such outstanding persons as Dr. Milton Eisenhower and Terence Cardinal Cooke of New York. It is to be doubted if the 7-6 division of opinion among the commissioners is any other time.

There are all sorts of goodies in the store for the future. The Kennedy Commission called for sweeping reforms, none of which have been implemented or are likely to be implemented.

Now the Eisenhower Commission on Violence has made a series of recommendations which are not likely to be implemented either involving as they do the expenditure of $50 billion for the end of the Vietnam War.

That was not an abstraction but the reporting of a purported fact which must have influenced the majority on the Eisenhower Commission in expressing their misgivings about social protest.

The minority on the Eisenhower Commission wished the lives in a world of abstractions to London reports, the Egyptians to the Rabat conference.

On a third front, a U. S. disclosure that it already was beginning to close down its big Wheelus Air Base in Libya in advance of its contract date seemed further designed to extract some of the anti-U. S. venom from the Rabat conference.

Peaceful efforts to reach a political settlement in the Middle East had failed because of U. S. material assistance to Israel.

On the diplomatic front there were faint signs the United States and the Soviets were moving closer to agreement on some aspects of a Middle East peace, both on the question of timing for Israeli withdrawal from occupied Arab lands and on some specifics, such as the future of the Gaza Strip.

Disclosure of the American peace plan, which had been submitted to the Soviets in late October, disturbed the Israelis who felt they were being subjected to U. S. pressures, that their bargaining position was being eroded and feared they were losing the propaganda war.

'Sights And Sounds Of Christmas'

By DAVID L. LANGFORD MIAMI (UPI) — The sights and sounds of Christmas for Barbara Jane Mackle may forever be the turn of screws locking her in a wooden tomb and the scrape of shovels hitting her from the outside world.

It was a year ago last Wednesday that the pretty daughter of rich Miami land developer Robert Mackle was placed in a box under 18 inches of north Georgia clay while her captors negotiated for a half million dollars ransom.

"It was cold and it leaked," recalls the late Emory University coed who turned 21 on Oct. 19. "It kept dripping from above. You don't know what time it is in the dark. I remember eating an apple and some candy. That's all."

Today Barbara is collaborating with Pulitzer Prize-winning reporter Gene Miller to document in a book the Poe-like horror of being buried alive for 82 hours.

"It's mostly a first-person account," said Miller, who covered the story for the Miami Herald from the time Barbara was abducted from a motel near Emory on Dec. 17 until Gary Steven Krist and his girlfriend, Ruth Eisenmann-Schier, went to prison. "It should be out next year. The working title is 'Buried Alive'."

Returned to the Atlanta school last summer to make up for the time she lost during her ordeal, the made straight A's. Krist, a marine biologist who materalized the coffin kidnap in Georgia State Prison at Marietta under a life sentence. Miss Eisenmann-Schier, 27, year-old daughter of a woman dentist in Catacamas, Honduras, and a deceased Austrian poet and writer, is in the Georgia Women's Prison at Milledgeville. She was sentenced to seven years after pleading guilty. She confessed she fell in love with the married Krist while the two were on a research cruise to Bermuda. At the time both were employed at the University of Miami Institute of Marine Science.

Three days after FBI agents heard Miss Mackle tapping on her vented underground coffin in a wooded area 20 miles north of Atlanta, Krist was captured in a mangrove swamp on Florida's west coast. A suitcase containing most of the $500,000 ransom money was recovered.

Telephone Greetings Early "Make your long distance Christmas a telephone call early," advises Bob Shadden, Southern Bell Group Manager, "so that your calls will have the best chance of being completed."

Historically, people make more calls at Christmas than at any other time. It is a time for people to want to get in touch with friends and relatives once again.

Just about all our telephone operators will be on duty during the Christmas holidays, Shadden said. "We do everything we can to provide the best possible service on Christmas but callers can help to make sure that their calls get through by following these suggestions: (1) Call early during the holiday season. If you call on Christmas Day, remember that our lowest rates apply all day long. (2) If, when placing your call, you are informed that all circuits are busy, try again. (3) To avoid possible delays, obtain your numbers prior to Christmas Day. (4) Call the numbers yourself. To reach long distance directory assistance (information), dial '1' and then the area code for the place you want and then 555-1212. For numbers in your area, dial '1' and then 555-1212."

When Christmas Day falls on a Thursday instead of on a weekend, as it does this year, calls occur over a short period of time. Shadden explained that because of the large volume of calls during peak periods some delays may be encountered. He stated that the greatest concentration of calls is from 8:00 — 11:00 p.m. on Christmas Eve and 10:00 a.m. — noon and 6:00 p.m. — midnight on Christmas Day. People calling during these periods will stand the greatest chance of delay in reaching their party, he said.

Anti-Senility Air

By DON OAKLEY, NEA Writer It's not the growing old that's so sad; it's the growing dim. Medical scientists have long believed that an impaired oxygen supply to the brain, caused by hardening of the cerebral arteries, is largely responsible for the progressive decline in mental alertness in elderly people suffering from senility.

Global Comment:

Arab Leaders Zeroing In!

By PHIL NEWSOM UPI Foreign News Analyst The United States has been moving on at least three fronts to pull its dramatic forces to the Arab summit conference at Rabat, Morocco.

On a third front, a U. S. disclosure that it already was beginning to close down its big Wheelus Air Base in Libya in advance of its contract date seemed further designed to extract some of the anti-U. S. venom from the Rabat conference.

Peaceful efforts to reach a political settlement in the Middle East had failed because of U. S. material assistance to Israel.

BERRY'S WORLD

We have friendly ties with Arab and Israeli. Our policy is to encourage the Arabs to accept a permanent peace based on a binding agreement and to urge the Israeli to withdraw from occupied territory when their territorial integrity is assured.

LeGals Discuss 'Bosses' At Christmas Dinner Party

Seniolo County Legal Secretaries Association held their annual Christmas dinner party on Dec. 16, at Club Lull.

Members were pleasantly surprised on their arrival with a beautiful centerpiece of white and red decorations presented to them by an unknown admirer. All the girls are sure that it was from a member of the Seniolo County Bar Association and are busy expressing their thanks to every attorney they see in order to properly thank the right one.

At the end of the evening the centerpiece was presented to Mrs. Cathi Flannery, whose name was drawn out of the hat. The main event of the evening was the selection of the recipient of "Boss of the Year" award presented annually by the association. Prior to the meeting, members had written descriptions of their bosses and the reasons why they thought their boss should be elected.

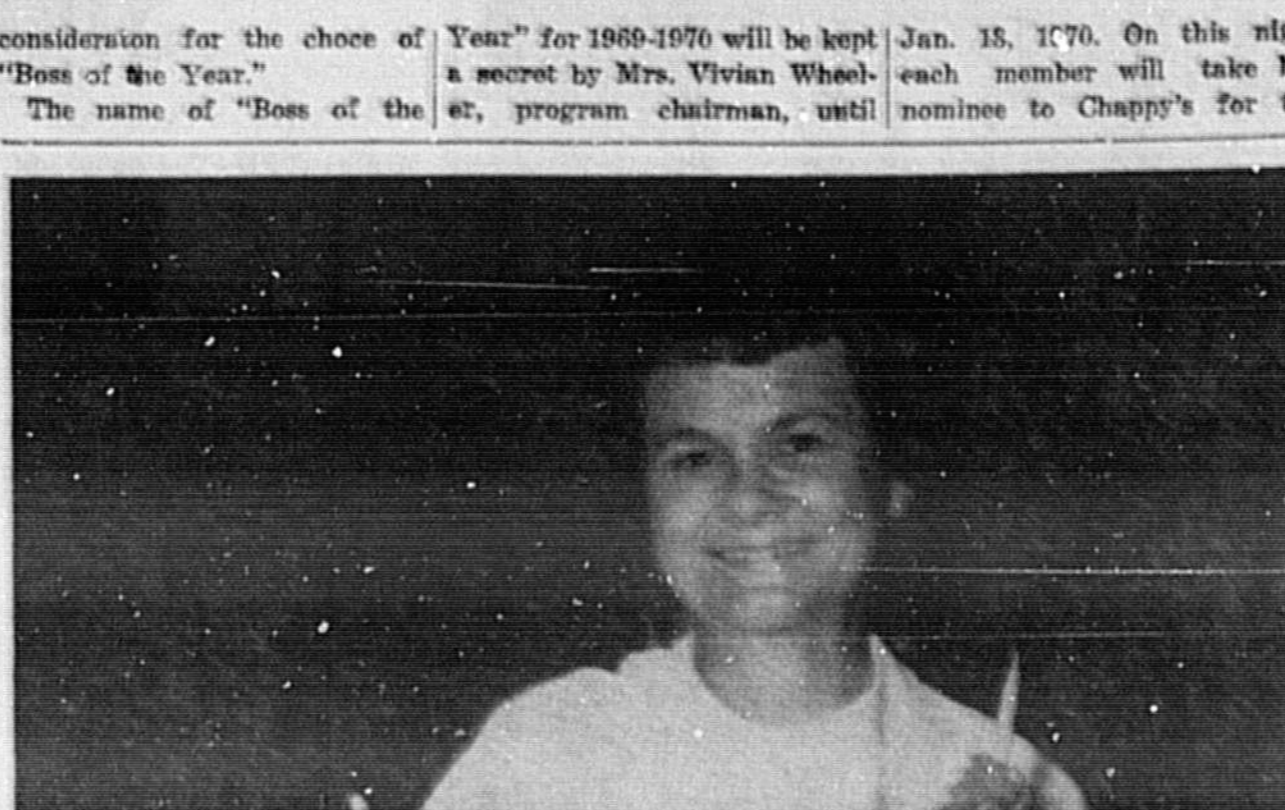

This will be the fourth "Boss of the Year" elected by this association. Andrew Spier was the first to be given the honor in 1966 followed by C. Howard McNulty in 1967 and C. Vernon Mize as last year's "Boss." These men have been directly instrumental in the welfare and growth of the association and this is one of the main qualifications taken into consideration for the choice of "Boss of the Year."

The name of "Boss of the Year" for 1969-1970 will be kept a secret by Mrs. Vivian Wheeler, program chairman, until Jan. 15, 1970. On this night, the secretary will take her choice of "Boss of the Year" and the secretary will take her choice of "Boss of the Year" and the secretary will take her choice of "Boss of the Year."

That will not be the only exciting event of the evening though. The newly elected "Boss" will draw the number of the person who is to receive the $25 Savings Bond. The bond and the selling of stationery art, Sanford, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Marlowe of Kings Mountain, N.C. The officiating clergyman was the double ring, candlelight ceremony.

The church was adorned with floral arrangements of white mums and pom poms. Musical music was played by Mrs. Beatrice Book, organist, including "The Rejoicing," "Aria Pastorella," and "Now Thank We All our God."

Acceptance was Gordon Bradley Jr. and Phil Stanley Jr. Given in marriage by her father, the radiant bride chose for her vows, a formal gown, elegantly designed of candle-fitted at the bodice, featured a sweetheart neckline, from which fell a panel of lace and lace-embroidered by pearls and sequins. The long tapered sleeves terminated in Calla points and the flowing pleated train was of bridal satin. A crown of flowers secured her elbow length veil of silk illusion and she carried a French bouquet of pink ranunculus roses and stephanotis.

Evening Wear Runs Gamut

Evening wear is as wide open as it will ever be this season. Choose from adaptable at-home wear, slinky tube-type backless dresses with halter necks ("I dreamt I was Carol Lombard, etc."), gypsy blouses tucked into puffy pants, held together by a sash; Gibson-Giri dresses; Grecian basics; glittering shimmering dresses; beaded gowns. You can create your own evening look—which makes every woman the belle of the ball because she's wearing what does the most for her.

Farewell Reception Honors Minister

A delightful farewell coffee was given on Dec. 14 at Fellowship Hall by the Ethel Root Church of Congregational Christian Church honoring Dr. Harold Harris who left the following day to assume his new pastorate in Rosemont, Christian Church, Norfolk, Va. Dr. Harris has been pastor of the local church since May, 1967.

The hall was decorated with the traditional Christmas tree and holiday decorations were placed at vantage points. The refreshment table overlaid with a beige linen cloth with scalloped edge, was centered with garlands of holly flanked by burning red tapers in golden holders. A white sheet cake decorated with yellow tassels and "Good Luck" was served by Mrs. Leroy Taylor. Coffee was served from an exquisite silver service by Mrs. Helen Remusat. Assisting in serving was Mrs. Bonner Carter.

Approximately 100 members and friends were present to bid Dr. Harris adieu.

Humorist Applies Witty Approach To Homemaking

By ARLEEN ABRAHAM
Associated Press Writer
Asking most women to admit they're not tops in the homemaking department is like asking them to admit they've had a face lift. They may tell their very best friends, but few women are likely to come right out and make a public statement to the effect that their cooking and cleaning leave much to be desired.

Peg Bracken did, witness the title of her best-seller, "The I Hate to Cook Book." "I try to behave myself," Peg Bracken's Etiquette Book and "Peg Bracken's Appendix to The I Hate to Cook Book." Furthermore, she feels that admitting what many other women would love to admit but couldn't about such previously reverently treated topics as cooking is responsible for her success as a humorist.

"Humor is almost always serious. What makes the situation funny is that it's so true," says the attractive middle-age wife, mother and humorist-writer. "For example," explains Miss Bracken, "given a half hour's notice that company is coming is the average woman going to be able to turn out one of those deluxe dishes displayed in the ladies' magazines—suppose that take three women three days to prepare and photograph? No, so why not do what I do? Open a can of corn beef hash, poach an egg and slice some tomatoes. For dessert, there's always a box of chocolates in the house. This meal is okay with me and with my guests and I suspect it's okay with the home ec ladies, too, but they're not about to admit it."

Or take the well-known decorating hangup. "It's an established fact that many women get all jittery because they aren't sure that their taste is first-class, but they're afraid to say so. I admit that my only real talent is wallpapering but I never pick the right paper—fact I never discover until the project is finished," says Miss Bracken with a smile. There's not an decorating critic is at her home in Bolinas, Calif., where she lives with her husband, painter-illustrator Parker Edwards and children, 12, her daughter by a previous marriage. It was only natural for her to call in a decorator right at the start.

"Otherwise I'd never have decided on anything," I'm too democratic... I like everything from French provincial to Early Man," she quips. The decorator, "who knew me for a long time and knew what I'd like," helped ease her mind and left her more time to devote to her writing. One of the results, her latest book, "I Didn't Come Here to Argue," permits her "to sound off on all those topics I wanted to sound off on before but wasn't able to." In it she tackles every subject from sex and the supermarket to the joys of not being young to her opinions on the feminine mystique.

"I don't go along with ideas for contemporary equalization of the sexes, except in terms of equal pay for equal work," says the Antioch College graduate. "In fact, I wish women would stop rocking the boat. There's hardly any job we can't get today—though we may be paid less than a man would—and we still have the privilege of being treated with courtesy and gallantry. I know my back muscles are not as strong as my husband's and that makes me kind of special. We women never have had it so good."

Does Miss Bracken have any pet peeves in addition to the 108 (from the 108 sins of husbands) she itemizes in her latest book? "Yes—two," she says with fire in her eyes. "One is spreading the bathroom over the living room. Have you ever had guests

Christmas Cheese Tree Spreads Holiday Cheer

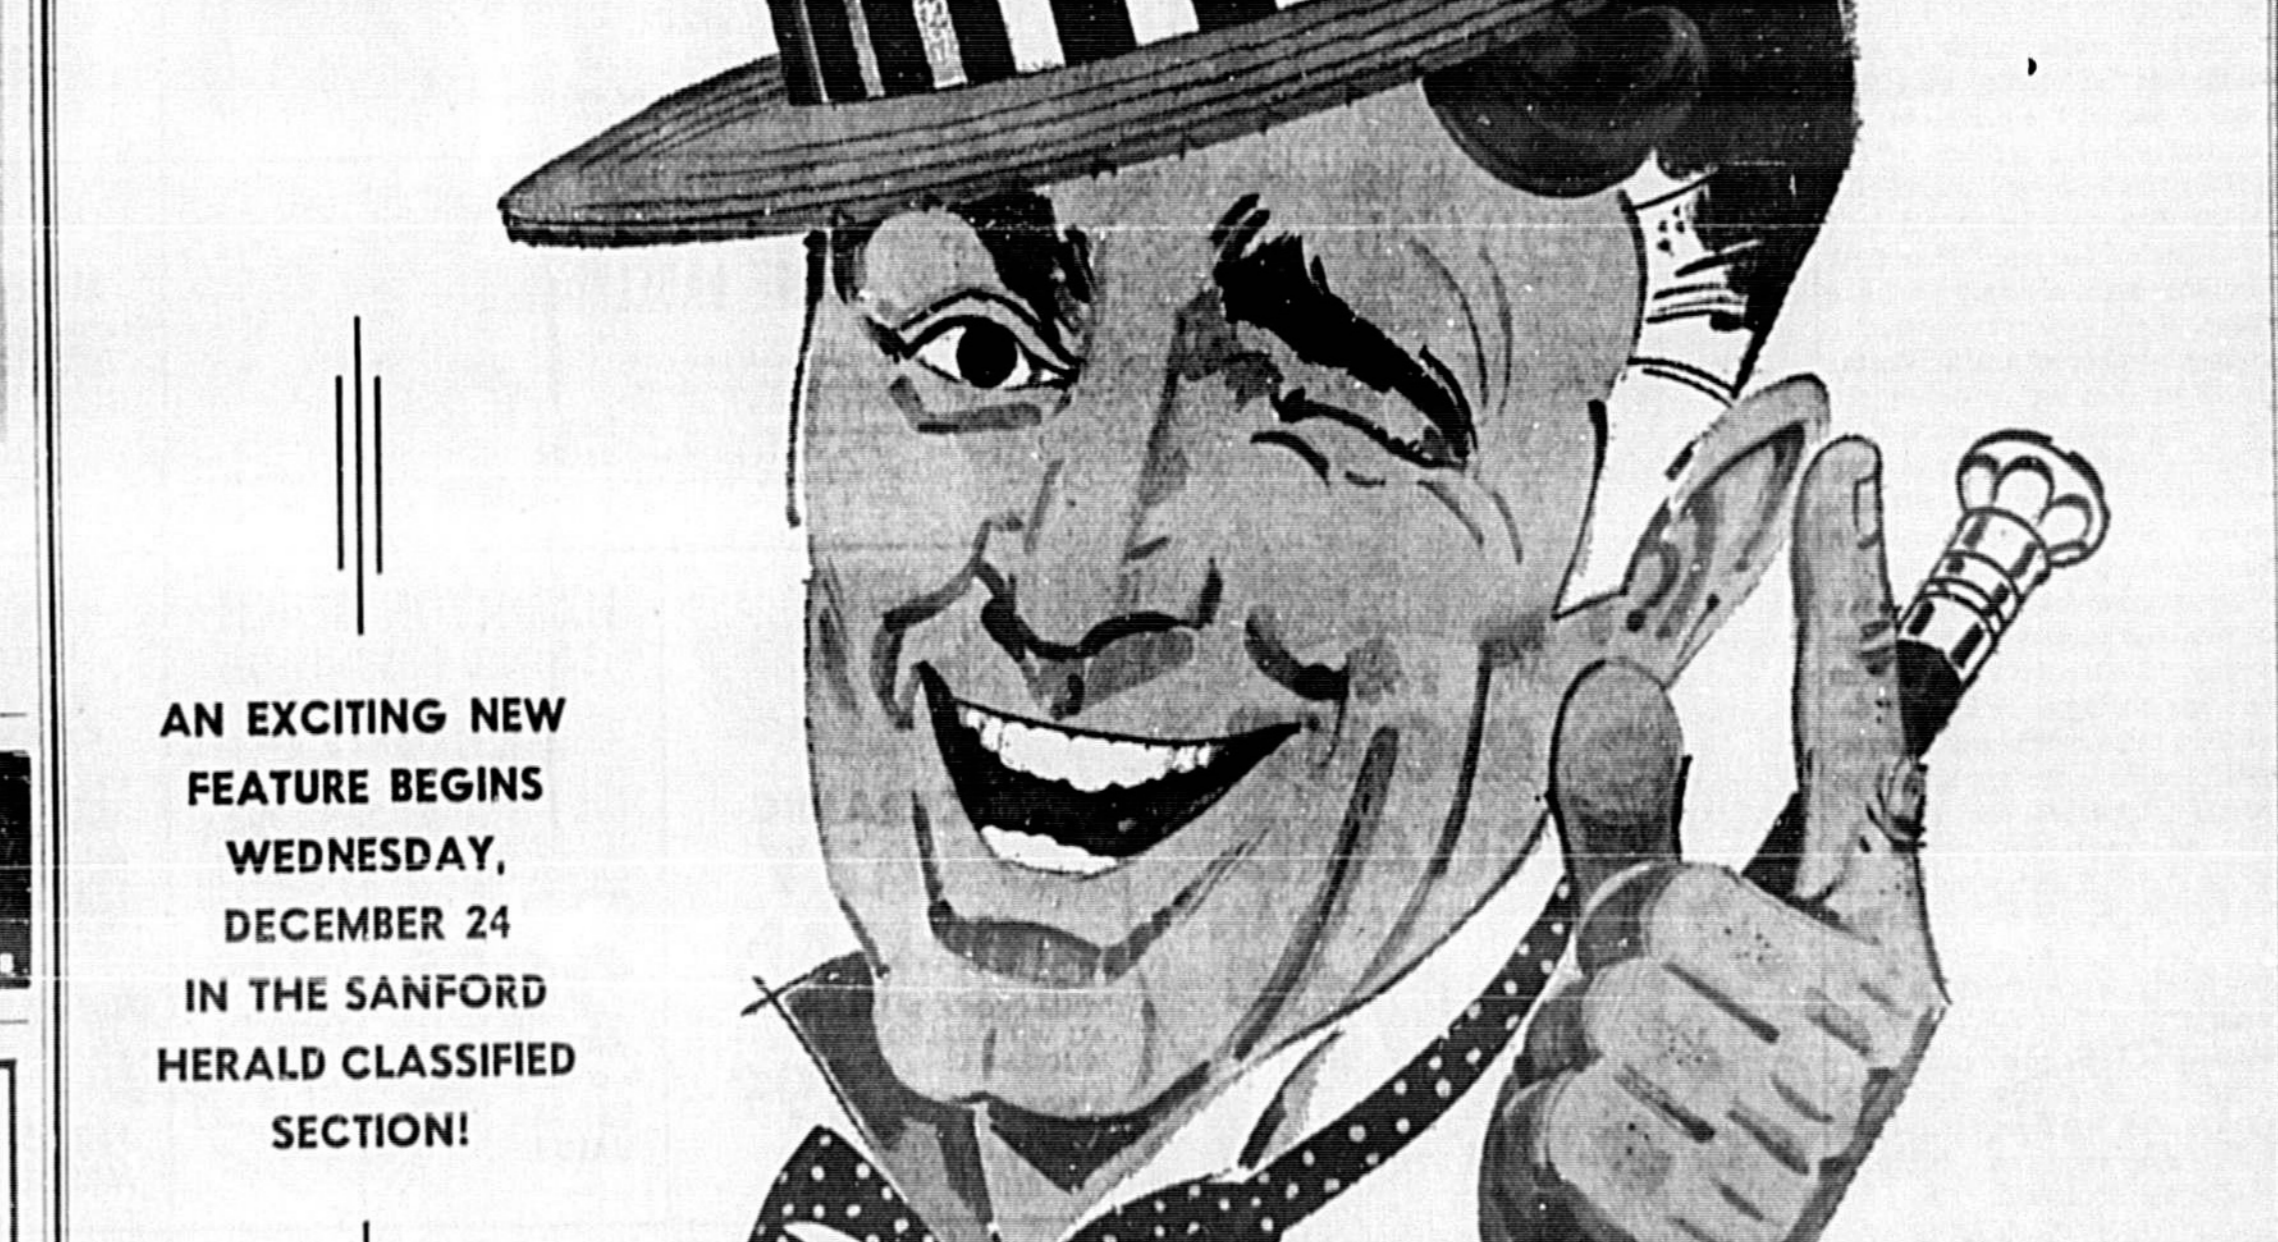

Here's a suggestion for one of your parties during the holidays. Make a Christmas tree by starting with an 8 or 9-inch styrofoam cone, cover it with foil, and dab on cheese spread. Decorate with stuffed olives and cranberry on top. Pass with toasted thin (baked) melba toast that looks like miniature slices of bread and one of the new flavors of "Goldfish" crackers—sesame garlic or Parmesan cheese.

Good company, good cheer, the cheese tree... and the success of your party is practically guaranteed. The tree may be made ahead and refrigerated. Bring it to room temperature before serving.

CHRISTMAS CHEESE TREE
8 ounces blue cheese
1/4 cup cognac or other liquid
8 ounces Cheddar cheese spread
1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Green vegetable coloring optional
1/2 cup sliced almonds
Blend blue cheese and cognac until combined. Add cheese spread and seasonings and stir until blended. If desired, stir in green coloring. Cover cone with aluminum foil and dab on cheese with a spatula. Tree may be "rimmed" with stuffed olive slices, capers, pimiento stars or other edible baubles. Serve Toasted Thin as dips.

THE MIRROR is a useful tool for the speech therapist at Spring Lake Elementary School. It is used in aiding a child to learn how to make sounds correctly. Mrs. Anita Richards, the therapist, enjoys working at the new school as she has a special room for just this purpose. Pupil is Paul Likios. (Maryann Miles Photo)

Children Enjoy Speech Therapy

The new Spring Lake School in Seminole County is equipped with a special room for the speech therapist, Mrs. Anita Richards, to use in her work with children who are learning to pronounce more correctly the sounds of speech.

"The children enjoy their speech sessions, working with a mirror to see how sounds look on the face as well as to hear them. Daily work sheets are collected in notebooks which will be taken home by the children after the sounds can be produced voluntarily.

The sounds in the worksheet drills are difficult for the child to say correctly. They are as hard for the average person to say rapidly. Therefore, the child should not be expected to pronounce these correctly unless he or she is almost ready to be discharged from speech class.

It has been proved that most children make their best progress when praised. It has been pointed out that if the child does not produce his sound correctly, repeat it clearly for him or her, and praise their effort.

Mrs. Richards also points out that if a child gets upset or discouraged by working on his or her speech at home, then stop home help and consult her.

Ranger Leaves 'Hardship Post'

NEW YORK (AP) — His fellow forest rangers may consider it a hardship assignment but the Progress Crawford liked his New York stay just fine. For one thing, he had a six-room house for $5 a month on the island with the Statue of Liberty.

For more than two years, Crawford, 33, his wife, Judy, and their two children lived in the two-story brick house while he worked as a second in command on Liberty Island for the National Park Service.

It was, said Crawford, country living with all the "bright lights, bustle and convenience of the city only a short boat ride away. Noise, pollution and crime were something in the newspapers or on television, he said.

"In the 2½ years we lived here, we never even locked our door," Crawford said Thursday as moving men loaded his household furnishings in a van for the trip to Macon, Ga., and his next assignment.

Enjoying once more the view of the Manhattan skyline across Upper New York Bay, Crawford chuckled. "Even the television reception on this island is beautiful."

Run An Opera

NEW YORK (AP) — Christopher Keene, 22, has won the first Julius Rubel Award. The award was set up by Laurence H. Deutch and Lloyd Rigler of Los Angeles. The winner will join the New York City Opera for the company's 16-performance season in Los Angeles in November and then return to New York to join the company to begin apprenticeship.

Keene, who is from Palo Alto, Calif., is a conductor who is meant to learn from Rubel "artistic and administrative know-how" required in the running of an opera company.

Unique Present

MONEY GIBLAD, N.C. (AP) — The State of North Carolina gave Carol Burton, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Burton of Mount Gilead, an early Christmas present. It was a driver's license.

For a girl without arms, it was a unique present.

A spokesman for the state Department of Motor Vehicles said Carol became the first female congenital amputee in the state to receive a license to drive.

The attractive junior at West Montgomery High School, who was born without arms, obtained her learner's permit on Oct. 15. At that time she was examined by the state's assistant chief license examiner, the state's senior examiner and a former local examiner.

She obtained her regular driving permit this month after taking the assistant chief license examiner for a ride.

'69 Is The Year That Florida Was 'Saved'

By JOHN VAN GIESON
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — From out of a sunset dimmed by phosphate haze, past waters reeking of sewage, Florida's "Year of the Environment" came galloping in 1969 to the rescue of their plundered environment.

That picture, inspired by gubernatorial aide Nat Reed, is supported by the comments of top conservationists, who feel that '69 could be remembered as the year Florida was saved.

"I think the state was saved in the nick of time," said Reed. "The people finally woke up. I'm fairly convinced that that people power is the strongest of all powers, and it's going to win out in this case."

All of which should not suggest that Florida's conservation and pollution problems have evaporated overnight, they most certainly have not. But more has been accomplished in the past year to protect and preserve the state's environment than ever before.

An aroused public has made it impossible to continue dismissing conservationists as "those birdwatchers." Powerful conservation coalitions formed on fronts from water conservation to the 1970 Legislature leading the way.

Conservation 70s—the title describes the organization's purpose—includes legislators, powerful conservationists like Reed, and many other important Florida citizens.

"We are most optimistic that 1969 was the prelude for bigger and better things in the area of conservation and an improved environment," said Loring Lovell, the organization's director.

Conservation 70s will meet in January to develop an environmental package for the 1970 Legislature, where the leaders of both houses have pledged cooperation.

The Legislature passed no significant group of conservation bills during the 1969 session, but it did reorganize state government, which will probably prove more important in the long run.

Reorganization created the State Air and Water Pollution Control Department, with citation powers to use against offenders.

"The extent of the citation power the department has not had a full staff and because it allows polluters until Jan. 1, 1971 to make corrections."

As of November, 151 citations had been issued, 76 to sewage treatment facilities, 76 to industries and the rest to other sources.

The department is moving toward a permit system that will regulate each individual polluter, by standards appropriate to the immediate environment.

Reed said industries have cooperated in pollution control and should be complimented.

"The finger was pointed more and more at municipalities, at order of the federal government, but the other, the Cross-Florida Barge Canal, continued."

Devilish Holiday Followup

What with all the angels flapping about during the holiday season, it might be nice to be a bit devilish in follow-up. Post holiday menus suffering from the left-over blaha can be brightened by just a touch of Devil 'N' Snow Cake, made easily with the new fresh frozen, completely baked devil's food cake.

The top layer is a frozen golden cake and fresh strawberries, sweetened, well-drained 1 1/2 cups whipping cream 2 tablespoons sugar 1 completely baked, fresh frozen golden cake 2 tablespoons chocolate curls or shavings.

(Note: For best results work with cakes while still in frozen state.) Place frozen devil's food cake on serving plate. Arrange strawberries evenly on top. Whip cream. Gradually add sugar until peaks form. Spread 1/4 cup of whipped cream over strawberries, top with golden cake, icing side down, and cover entire cake with remaining whipped cream. Sprinkle top of cake with chocolate curls or shavings.

BUTTERED CABBAGE
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons water
1 teaspoon lemon juice (1/4 of a lemon)
1 teaspoon salt
1 quart white pepper
2 quarts (about) tightly packed cabbage shredded green cabbage 1/2 to 1 1/2 inch wide "strands"
Into a large saucepot (four or five quart) turn the butter, wash cabbage, add salt and pepper; add the cabbage. Cover tightly and cook over moderate heat about five minutes. With a long-handled fork, turn over cabbage so wilted strands are now on top. Cover tightly again and cook until all the cabbage is wilted but still tender-crisp—about five minutes. To evaporate any liquid in pan, cook rapidly without the cover. Makes four servings.

Cranberry Coffee Cake Welcome

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Hot-roll mix is one of the best of today's convenient mixes. Knowing cooks welcome a new and delicious way to use it.

And that's just what we have for you today. A new recipe, using hot-roll mix, that produces two coffee cakes with a fine-voice cranberry filling. One coffee cake to serve to your family, one to pack into a pretty tin box for a good neighbor or friend. These coffee cakes are just as good to look at as they are to eat.

CRANBERRY COFFEE CAKE
1 package (13 ounces) hot roll mix
1/2 cup warm water
1 large egg
1/4 cup butter or margarine
Cranberry Filling, see below
Confectioner's Sugar, icing, see recipe below

Soften yeast from roll mix in warm water according to package directions, using only 1/2 cup water.

Beat eggs until thickened and lemon color. Add softened yeast, butter and roll mix. With wooden spoon, beat and blend well. Cover, let rise in warm, draft-free place until doubled—30 to 60 minutes.

Punch down dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board or pastry cloth. Knead until dough is soft and pliable. Divide in half.

Roll out each portion to a 14-by-8-inch rectangle about 1/4 inch thick. Spread each rectangle with half the Cranberry Filling. Starting with 14-inch side, roll up; seal edges.

Place seam side down on greased baking sheet, curving pastry cloth toward until dough is soft and pliable. Divide in half.

Roll out each portion to a 14-by-8-inch rectangle about 1/4 inch thick. Spread each rectangle with half the Cranberry Filling. Starting with 14-inch side, roll up; seal edges.

Place seam side down on greased baking sheet, curving pastry cloth toward until dough is soft and pliable. Divide in half.

Roll out each portion to a 14-by-8-inch rectangle about 1/4 inch thick. Spread each rectangle with half the Cranberry Filling. Starting with 14-inch side, roll up; seal edges.

11 Youths Arrested At Drinking Spree

Eleven teenagers, including several females, were arrested by Seminole County authorities late Saturday night and charged with possession of alcohol as a minor, after three cars were found parked in a field off SR 434 behind Mobile Manor trailer village.

Deputy Harold Smith reported beer was found in an ice chest in one of the cars and several empty beer cans were found in the area.

Smith listed two of the teenagers as being nude and, according to arrest dockets, the group came from Winter Park, Maitland, Apopka and Bear Lake.

Records reveal all posted $100 bonds on the charges and were released to parents.

Other weekend county activity included the arrest Saturday night of the Sanford owner of 11 Lo Bar, Highway 11-82, Fern Park, and a female bar employee on charges stemming from five arrests made earlier at the establishment.

Keith C. Putt, 42, bar operator, and Marjorie Draper, 28, Orlando, were released from county jail after posting bonds of $2,500 and $2,000 on charges that Putt maintained a gaming table and permitted gambling and Mrs. Draper acted as agent or servant in the operation of a gambling house.

Arrested earlier on gambling charges and released on $100 bonds each were William John Carroll, 40, Patrick W. Riley, 39, Tony Lary, 25, Joseph McDonald, 26, and Michael Rafferty, 24, all of Orlando.

The five men were apprehended by undercover deputies, who confiscated $14 and a deck of playing cards in the fray against a backroom poker game.

CITY COMMISSION OF Sanford will conduct a public hearing on Jan. 12 on proposed public housing for the elderly in the vicinity of Fifth Street and Locust Avenue in Georgetown. The project will be financed 90 per cent by the federal government and 10 per cent by the city, with income to repay the federal government.

'Not Interested' As Commissioner Realty Broker Rejects City Post

By BILL SCOTT

W. Garret White, member of the city commission, said he is "not interested" in being appointed as the city's first public housing commissioner. White, who will decide the fifth man to serve out Mayor Lee P. Moore's one year left of a three-year term.

Moore was elected mayor in the Dec. 16 election and will take office for three years at the appointment.

White later said he would not change his mind, if he is approached by the four commissioners, who will decide the fifth man to serve out Mayor Lee P. Moore's one year left of a three-year term.

'Action' Council Meeting Is Slated

By TOM ALEXANDER

The city of Casselberry tonight holds its first official public council session since that Mayor Curtis Blow would not reappoint present Police Chief Donald L. Brumley for another year's term.

The council, with the exception of assemblyman Richard Wirz, has been almost totally silent on reacting to an announcement that Blow did not intend rehiring Brumley. Many of Casselberry's citizens have expressed their discontent over the situation through numerous telephone calls to council members and petitions since the mayor's decision came to light.

Wirz verbally denounced the Mayor's intended decision and termed it "disgusting" while pledging to fight for Brumley's retention.

Three other councilmen, Louis Kirby, Thomas Napier and William Grier, have indicated they will defend the present chief in hopes that Blow will reappoint the former Sanford police sergeant.

Remaining completely silent on the issue has been council chairman Dr. Edith Deerr, who indicated she may comment on the situation when she has been officially informed that the Mayor will not reappoint Brumley.

Several other city heads are also expected to be reappointed by Blow, according to an informed council source.

The new city municipal hall complex is expected to be packed this evening with citizens, some bearing petitions asking that Blow be recalled. The meeting will be overshadowed by an unofficial announcement last week that five police department personnel plan resigning if Brumley is not rehired for another year.

Parole Violator Sentenced

Shadrick A. Martin Jr., found innocent of a crime against nature by a Circuit Court jury last week, has been sentenced to 10 years in prison for parole violations.

Martin had been placed on probation for seven years when found guilty by a jury of shooting into a house in March 1968. Circuit Court Judge Roger Dyles, after hearing the testimony of witnesses, found Martin guilty of violating his parole.

It is alleged that he aided another prisoner to escape from the Seminole County Jail on April 11, 1969; that he committed an assault upon Howard T. Bolden with a razor blade on July 8; and that he committed a sexual assault upon Norman Edward Sprunt on July 10 of the same year.

These additional charges are independent of each other, said a Circuit Court source today. Each of these issues could be brought to trial individually at some future date. The sexual assault against Norman Sprunt will be heard in early spring.

Beware Of 'Santa Wolf'

By CHARNER LEONE

Christmas is an expensive time for the Santa Claus role to play, parties to attend and give, extra food to buy to assure the festive mood, and it's a good time to play up and fix up so that your friends see you and your home at its best.

Yes, there are lots of ways to spend that long green days. Spending it is one thing, but having it taken from you by fraud or deception is a different matter. And the wolf often masquerades in Santa's clothes.

Telephone calls pour in, offering the housewife a lovely gift for merely answering a question correctly. "My, but you're lucky!" The mails bring offers that are just too reasonable to miss. "Just sign your name, we'll do the work."

The Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce gets many complaints from local residents who feel that they have not been fairly treated. They receive about 50 or more written complaints each year that they can act upon, and many, many more complaints over the telephone that they cannot act upon officially.

"We try to see both sides," when there is a complaint, said John Krider, executive manager of the Chamber. The merchant or businessman usually has just as valid a complaint on his side as the customer.

"The local merchants, who are members of the Chamber, seldom fail to compromise or replace merchandise to fully satisfy the customer," Krider pointed out. They need the repeat business, he added.

The local Chamber of Commerce is opposed to telephone solicitation of any kind. Unusually, they are offering something for nothing, and "There is no such thing," said Krider. And most often the companies that are most often complained about are operating "just barely within the letter of the law."
