

Service Team Bows To All Stars By 5-0

American Leaguers

MUNICIPAL STADIUM, Cleveland, July 8, (AP)—The American League's mighty All-Stars refused to be awed by the army and navy last night and smothered the baseball stars of the two services 5 to 0 before a crowd of more than 60,000.

While this big assemblage was gathering hundreds of soldiers, sailors and marines provided a military show probably without precedent. It lasted for more than an hour as the bands played and the men marched and rode around the field in trucks and big tanks.

It was impressive, but the army and navy baseball team, directed by Lt. Command. Gordon (Mickey) Cochrane, was not so potent as the mechanized battalion that preceded it on the field. Cochrane's team absorbed a thrashing more thorough than the American Leaguers gave the National League Monday night in the annual major league All-Star contest at New York.

The major leaguers got four hits and three runs off Cleveland's own Bobby Feller in the first two innings and forced his removal before he could retire a man in the second.

Johnny Rigney, recently of the Chicago White Sox but now serving at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, succeeded in doubling the American Leaguers in the middle innings but this was doubly temporary.

In contrast three present major league hurlers held the service team to six hits, getting into the final just twice during the game.

The American League's first blast against Feller came with one out in the opening frame. Tom Henrich singled, Ted Williams waited out a walk and then a hit by Dimeglio, after receiving a mixed chorus of boos and cheers, checked a hot single on the ground into center to score Henrich and send Williams looping to third.

Two-run homer into the Polo Grounds right-field stands in the first inning Monday night, hit a great arching fly to Grace in deep right and Williams hurried home after the catch.

Feller, who looked gaunt and 10 pounds under his weight before he enlisted in the navy, squeezed out of the jam by getting Bobby Deere to pop foul to Adams.

But his reprieve was brief because Ken Keltner, another of his teammates when Bobby was with Cleveland, boomed the first pitch in the second inning over Feller's head in deep center for a triple and Warren (Buddy) Houser, the Yankee catcher, singled to left.

At this point Lt. Cochrane came out of the dugout to flip a new battery for the Service Team—Rigney going to the mound and Frank Pitek behind the bat. They quickly put out the fire with a double play—fanning Bagby and catching Roar off first on a snap throw by Pitek, who was with the Indians before going to the Red Sox.

After Bagby had stepped out of his three-inning chore, his place was taken by Ed Hudson of the Washington Senators, who worked four innings and allowed no hits until the seventh when Burt and Andre hit consecutive singles.

Sale Of Florida Limes Is Doubled

PRINCETON, July 8, (Special)—With the Florida lime season well into its six months annual period of peak production, the Florida Lime and Avocado Growers, Inc., reported today that it had increased its sales of limes by 100 percent through the use of modern merchandising methods in the past three years.

"The rise in the marketed volume of our limes meant a corresponding increase of $7,000 in the amount of money returned to our 110 grower members," Carl P. Ploewitz, general manager of the cooperative, said in making public the report.

Eighty-two thousand bushels of limes were sold by the organization during the period from April 1, 1941 to April 1, 1942. Ploewitz said, as against 10,000 bushels during the corresponding period of 1938-1939. The 11-1/2 percent increase in the production brought the lime growers association $150,000 compared to $80,000 for the earlier period, he added.

Florida limes were always handled as a luxury mainly by drug stores, restaurants and bars until a few years ago and were practically unknown to most household buyers. The need was to build consumer demand, and this was most effectively accomplished by preparing the limes for retailing in small attractive consumer packages at Marquette.

Part of the fruit in this pack by the large retail food chains literally created a great new market and was almost entirely responsible for the tremendous increase in sales in the past three years," he explained.

KEPT SECRET
MILWAUKEE, July 8, (AP)—Friends of John J. Bulla now know his full story. It was not until Bulla, who was born in Italy, had completed his four-year medical course at Marquette, began his internship and had been married, did they discover he had earned his way through school as a professional wrestler.

Using the name Bull Walker, he won the light heavyweight championship of Canada and wrestled extensively in the east before enrolling at Marquette where he became an honor student.

Niggeling Has Best Knuckler In Junior Loop

By DILLON-GRANHAM
Wide World Sports Editor
NEW YORK, July 8, (WV)—Ball players say John Niggeling of the Browns has the best knuckle ball in the American league.

The junior loop probably has more knucklers now than ever before. And many pitchers who don't use it regularly experiment occasionally.

It's Niggeling's best throw and he wasn't much of a pitcher until he perfected it. Follows with control and speed or a lot of stuff don't need to monkey with the knuckler but it has been a lifesaver for some.

Niggeling's pitch seems to do tricks as it flutters up to the plate. John is perhaps the only pitcher who uses just one knuckle ball inward as the ball is delivered. The Browns have another pitcher, George Cantor, who makes good use of this delivery.

Ted Lyons and Chicago White Sox veteran, has developed a really good knuckler. Lyons doesn't even grip the ball with the knuckles, but with the finger tips.

To be a successful knuckler, the pitcher must have a catcher who can handle the delivery. The ball must be thrown so that it will not spin. How it breaks depends on the air currents and whether the pitcher or catcher knows how it will go. It is most effective when thrown into the wind because then it is most certain to break.

Like all other pitches, it must be controlled to be effective. If a pitcher can't get the ball in, then it isn't much good. The knuckler has been suffered a free-fall, unlike most of the others, has such comparatively good control, but he will lose the knuckler the better.

Last year Dutch Leonard of the Senators was rated the best knuckler but he suffered a free-fall, unlike most of the others, has such comparatively good control, but he will lose the knuckler the better.

IT'S OFFICIAL
METRO CITY, Ariz., July 8, (AP)—Metro City, Population 1, says the sign beside U. S. Highway 58.

The figure checks exactly with the fact Jack Newman is the population. He always had a desire, he declared, to live in a city, so started his own. It's a desert service station and trading post between Flagstaff and Winslow on the transcontinental route across northern Arizona.

The state highway department made it official by putting up the sign.

HA! HA!
LAKELAND, July 8, (AP)—Delegate Snow Martin told it to Florida sheriffs at their convention here: A member of the Florida House of Representatives was awakened one night by his wife who screamed, "There's a robber in the house!" Shortly the legislator replied, "There may be a robber in the Senate, but not in the House."

HE FOUND IT
NEW YORK, July 8, (AP)—It'll be some time before Johnny Mize, Giants' first sacker, is embarrassed as much as he was in a recent series with Cincinnati. Johnny tried to work the antiquated hidden ball trick on Eddie Joost, Reds' infielder. Eddie suddenly reached around Mize, snatched the ball from his hand and with a grin tossed the ball out to the pitcher.

Chinese Admit Jap Capture Of Vital Railroad

Invaders Win First Leg On Project To Link Shanghai And Singapore By Land

(By Associated Press)
Reports on the developing United States air offensive against the Japanese in China today somewhat offset the gloom of the belated Chinese acknowledgment of the conquest of the Chekiang-Kiang railway on the first leg of a project to link Shanghai and Singapore overland.

The fight for China has gone into a new phase with fierce battles swirling around two rail lines southwest of Nanchang where the Japanese have struck toward Hunan province in an effort to cut the vital link of an overland railway system to Hsin Shanghai to Singapore, the high command disclosed last night.

A communiqué said invaders columns which drove to Fung-chang and Changsha, 80 and 65 miles southwest of the Kiangsi provincial capital, failed to capture Chinese positions and were engaged in a battle with heavy casualties for both sides.

A Central News dispatch said Japanese spearheads penetrated both towns but had been surrounded by the defenders.

The Japanese second launched upon a new effort to storm westward into Hunan, where they followed the main strike force in three drive toward Changsha from the north and other attacks across the Kiangsi border from the east.

A Chinese train, at least one of the province, would be needed to advance their plan to seize the rail line, the dispatch said.

Self-Maiming Of 13 Convicts Will Be Investigated

TALLAHASSEE, July 9. (AP)—Governor Holland Wednesday directed State Attorney Grady Burton of Tallahassee to investigate the self-maiming of 13 convicts in a road camp near Zephyrhills and the criminal prosecution "if the evidence justifies."

"We do not intend to jump to conclusions that might be unjust to anyone, but we will insist upon a full investigation and the holding responsible of any persons who may be culpable, regardless of who they are," the governor said.

Holland acted after a conference with Nathan Mayo, commissioner of agriculture, who is head of the prison system, and Charles Johnson, secretary of the state road department.

He had before him affidavits from 15 of the 13 prisoners that they had been beaten and tortured and that they had been subjected to cruel and unusual punishment.

The thirteenth prisoner, Harold Vernon Oatis, told his leg tendon Sunday after falling on a road camp June 2 that he planned to maim himself to get out of the road camp.

The prisoners said in their affidavits that they knew cutting the leg tendon probably would cripple them for life, but that they had been beaten and tortured and that they had been subjected to cruel and unusual punishment.

700,000 Jews Are Said Massacred

LONDON, July 9. (AP)—Arthur Gellhorn, British House of Commons member, declared yesterday that the Nazis had "massacred 700,000 Jews in Poland."

Their "massacred blood cries to heaven for vengeance. The Lord will repay in his own good time."

Increasing In Railroad Valuation Proposed

TALLAHASSEE, July 9. (AP)—The Senate today passed a bill to increase the valuation of three major railroads in Florida by proposed legislation by Attorney General Nathan Mayo.

The bill, which would increase the valuation of the Atlantic Coast Line, the Seaboard Air Line and the Gulf, Florida and Northern Railway, would increase the valuation of the three railroads by a total of $3,000,000.

Nelson Protests to Committee

(By Associated Press)
Donald Nelson tonight, W. P. B. head, protested against a proposed program to produce synthetic rubber from grain.

He said the program would require the use of critical materials, especially wheat, and would be a waste of effort.

Listening to Nelson at the U. S. Senate Agriculture Committee, Senator Guy M. Gillette, and Paul F. Harbo, chairman of the committee.

He said the program would require the use of critical materials, especially wheat, and would be a waste of effort.

When it voted its 11 to 3 approval of the program, the committee had before it a report by J. R. Parton, director of transportation in the Petroleum Administration, estimating that the program would require the use of 1,429,000 barrels of oil with completion by Dec. 31, of more than a dozen pipeline construction and readjustment projects.

Parton said this was $2,000,000 in excess of average needs for this year but added that in increased demands were likely because of the accelerated war production program.

The bill, sponsored by the committee, carried two pipeline projects designed to hasten transportation of petroleum and its products into the gasoline and oil fields in the Eastern States, in addition to the $4,000,000 high-level lock barge canal across Florida which would take about three years to complete.

One of these pipelines, to be built from the vicinity of Port St. Joe, Fla., and other Gulf Coast points to the St. John River, would cost about $10,000,000.

Also authorized was enlargement of the Gulf Intracoastal waterway from Apalachee Bay to Corpus Christi, Texas.

Sen. Pepper, sponsor of the measure, and Sen. Vandenberg, its chief opponent, agreed to a bill in debate in the Senate July 15.

Sub Menace Will Be Checked, Solon Says

WASHINGTON, July 9. (AP)—Early completion of tanker oil deliveries to Atlantic Coast ports was predicted today by Chairman Bailey (D-MO) of the Senate Commerce Committee.

He said the committee would take action on a bill to increase the valuation of the three major railroads in Florida by proposed legislation by Attorney General Nathan Mayo.

The bill, which would increase the valuation of the Atlantic Coast Line, the Seaboard Air Line and the Gulf, Florida and Northern Railway, would increase the valuation of the three railroads by a total of $3,000,000.

Drum, commander of the First Army. Gen. Shih-fu, speaking at a luncheon, said that his nation, at war with the Japs for five years "is facing the gravest moment in her long history." He added that supplies from the U. S. and other United Nations "are merely trickling in."

Keep the Flag Flying!

Never before in all our glorious history was our flag in such dire peril as it is today. July 1, 1942, is a day when the stars and stripes flow so proudly over so many battle fronts in all the far corners of the world.

It is a symbol to millions of people in all lands that tremble under the tread of the oppressor's heel that freedom is still worth fighting for, and that the worth of a nation is measured by the willingness to pay for it.

For all of us cannot take up a sword and defend the freedom for which we stand, but we can all rally around the flag and help to buy the guns, tanks and planes our fighting men must have to win. We can all buy War Bonds and stamps to the limit of our powers.

Remember that every dollar invested in War Bonds for freedom is a dollar that will be worth paying for.

Debutantes Are Said To Be On Way 'Out'

By AMY PORTER
NEW YORK, July 9. (AP)—Maybe its farewell, farewell, to debutantes (one of their very own), the social, the glamorous Lucy Aldrich, daughter of Banker Winthrop D. Aldrich, said Wednesday.

"The debutante just isn't anymore. None of the girls I know can bear to be called by that name."

Scornfully Miss Aldrich, who is a youth forms hostess of the fashion group at the Hotel Astor, described the debutante that was.

"She was a girl who had enormous coming out party. She stayed up late, she slept all day, she was photographed with a friend at a restaurant, she went to another party at night. She got so tired her parents had to send her away to rest."

"She was just a face, a lot of expensive clothes and nothing else. She never had a good time, never did anything interesting."

Along with the "debutante" title, Miss Aldrich nominated oblivion the debutante's alter ego. The glamour girl, who she said "was a had imitation of a movie star without any talent."

More cheerfully, Miss Aldrich told of the new wartime credit now guiding her and her friends. "The girls refuse to be debutantes in 1942."

All of her crowd are training themselves for constructive work she said. She herself is studying stenography, two friends are training to be nurses' aides, another girl is studying chemistry.

ALEX. R. JOHNSON

There have been a large number of inquiries for information regarding the openings in the Defense School.

At present there are openings in the Airplane Engine Service class. This training fits a person to become an airplane mechanic and trainees are rapidly being absorbed at the different air fields. The rate of pay is $125 per month for the first three months with 18 hours per week overtime at 20 per month for the next three months with the same amount of overtime, then the worker reaches base pay of $2200 per year plus overtime. This is a trade that has a future to it. A young man who has dependents and cannot enter the armed forces would do well to investigate this and start the training at once. There should be openings at the local field after the Navy takes it over for a number of trainees.

Policies Of OPA Are Explained By Dr. Redford

By EARL KIPP

Tuesday morning, it was my privilege to attend a conference of the Education Relations Branch of the Consumer Division of the Office of Price Administration held at Stetson University in DeLand. Dr. Edward H. Redford of Stetson University, DeLand, Florida, led the forum discussion on the policies of this organization to prevent disastrous changes in the financial structure of the country.

Dr. Redford revealed that in 1942, the people of the United States would have about 17 billion dollars to spend on consumer goods for which such goods could not be obtained because they are not being manufactured.

The fact remains that they cannot be manufactured without disrupting the war effort. Experience in World War I pointed to the fact that the retailers of this country lost about 11 billion dollars after the war in prices being marked down. The general level of prices during that war had advanced 100 percent and at the present time the general level of prices has advanced 25 percent.

To prevent a repetition and loss after the war, the Office of Price Administration proposes seven methods that will help matters. The first is by higher taxes. This will certainly siphon off some of the 17 billion dollars of excess money. This, however, works a hardship on salaried workers as their salaries have probably not advanced as rapidly as hourly wages. The second method is by rationing.

The third method is by the regulation of wages.

The fourth by rationing scarce articles so that all consumers can share them and the law of supply and demand does not act to run the price beyond control. The fifth method is in price ceiling on manufactured articles. It is here that the office feels that most good can be accomplished. The sixth method is the campaign to pay debts and limit credits. It is interesting to note that England has advanced a method of future purchases by installment buying which will furnish a backlog of orders for industry after the war. The seventh plan is to stabilize farm products which will be done as soon as prices on these products reach the index number 110.

The Office of Price Administration is starting an educational campaign to acquaint the American people with the benefits which will come from protecting the financial structure of the country at this time. They hope every community will organize forum meetings and that the discussions from these meetings will be forwarded to Washington so that the office in turn can carry this message to other centers. This is certainly the democratic way and the American people once they understand the importance of the work will support the efforts of the Office of Price Administration to the utmost.

Allies Must Make Grave Decision On Second Front

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Wide World War Analyst
An ominous German advance beyond the Don in Russia is obviously forcing a grave decision on Washington and London if second front help is to be afforded soon to avert what could be a Red army disaster.

Within little more than a week, Nazi forces have stabbed eastward from the Kursk impasse off 180 miles to cross the Don and take Voronezh, by Berlin account. At that point they appear poised to strike again in any of three directions, each of critical importance. Second front help is not yet clear, but a Nazi-sponsored report from Paris says they have already moved due eastward from the Volga, 300 miles away, as their ultimate goal.

It does not seem probable, while the Voronezh penetration defines the depth of the Nazi drive from Russia, it does not disclose the width of the wedge. Russian reports of battle still raging southward of St. Oboi, however, indicate it is as yet dangerously narrow for its depth.

As the front turns southward down the Don, coupled with intensified fighting in the Belgorod, Voronezh and Kopyansk regions to the gap in Russian lines in the Don, some more probable front Marshal Tukhachevsky.

Osaka like some 75 miles south of Voronezh on the Don is the focus of the Voronezh railroad along the German drive to take the Don. If it is still in German hands, the German drive is 150 miles deep into Russian territory.

Osaka is a small town of 10,000 people, but it is a strategic point. The capture of Osaka would mean the capture of the Don and the loss of the Voronezh railroad.

WASHINGTON

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON, July 9, (WW)—On most of the workroom walls in the Office of Censorship, there is this caution:

"A censor needs the eye of a hawk; the memory of an elephant; the nose of a bloodhound; the heart of a lion; the vigilance of an owl; the voice of a dove; the sagacity of Solomon; the patience of Job; and the imperturbability of the sphinx."

In spite of the fact that that description is a masterpiece of conglomerate genius, I think the author should have added: "A jovian sense of humor."

Director of Censorship Byron Price has had to do a lot of grinning over the fact that some one wrote a song and dedicated it to him, entitled: "They May Censor All My Letters, Dear, But Read Between the Lines."

Without humor, Solomon would have been hard put to figure out what to do in the case of the young lady from Florida who complained that she had received a letter, "Opened by Censorship which enclosed only an oblique memo, on which was written: 'Dear young lady: Your soldier still loves you, but he talks too much.'"

The eye of the hawk was working all right (in this case) when the telephone censor twice broke a long distance call from southern California to Mexico because the California lady insisted on discussing the "arrival of the bombers." But it was a sense of humor that kept the censor's face from being red, red, when the lady's native son followed: "What's the matter with you? I'm talking about our pro football team, the San Diego Bombers."

"Patience, please, an awful lot of us have to read out all these letters directed to 'The Bureau of Censorship' before they can be sent to the person to whom they are addressed. Please be patient, please be patient, please be patient."

The censor's sense of humor was working all right when the lady from Florida complained that she had received a letter, "Opened by Censorship which enclosed only an oblique memo, on which was written: 'Dear young lady: Your soldier still loves you, but he talks too much.'"

I were transmitted by numerals and initials (that's why the overseas boys and their at-home girls can't use XXX's for kisses any more) but what are you going to do about the soldier in the South Pacific who wrote: "Those initials on the back of the letter that the censor cut out were: P.P.R.H., which meant: Postman, Run, Bike, Hall, and B.O.Y.L.T.O.P., which meant: Better On Your Lips Than On Paper." The old bloodhound's nose gets a twitching at the wrong time every once in a while, also. For instance, all letters addressed to Axis officials and dignitaries are very suspect and come in for a bit of special investigation. Once in a while there's one like that addressed to "Admiral Yamamoto." The censor unfolded a large sheet to be greeted by the printed smugly: "Hello, Nosey."

All in all, though, I don't think the censors ever were quite so abashed as when they opened the letter from the private in Hawaii to his parents. "Dear Mom and Pop: (It said) I can't tell you anything about life in the army. That's because these letters are opened by censors and some of the censors may be spies."

ADAMS AND NEWS

Shrewd Business Sense Is Shown By Sonja Henie

HOLLYWOOD, July 9, (WW)—There appears to be a lot more to this girl Sonja Henie than winsome smile and a pair of skates.

She's got a shrewd business head on her firm but dainty shoulders, and she knows how to go after that good old American dollar.

This 27-year-old Oslo-born blonde may have gained most of her renown on the ice, but she also has so many business ironies in the fire that a notion picture career with her is almost a sideline.

She not only has supervised a Broadway show and her annual skating tour, which has grossed over $200,000, but she also has financial connections with doll manufacturers and other concessions.

Now, with her wealthy husband, Dan Topping, looking forward to a hitch in the Navy, Sonja plans to leave shortly for New York to keep an eye on his vast business.

Interests, which include ownership of the Brooklyn Dodgers professional football team.

As might have been expected, when Sonja started making pictures six years ago some film colonists said she was just a flash in the pan.

They said this pretty Norwegian, who learned to skate at an early age, then went on to become 10 times world figure skating champion and three times Olympic titleholder, was good for one or perhaps two pictures—then people would get tired of seeing skating on the screen.

Now Sonja has started making her eighth picture. Entitled "Ice-land," it's a story of the landings of American soldiers on those far northern shores. She plays the daughter of a native innkeeper. She does some fancy didoes on the ice, of course, but she also does more straight acting than in any other picture.

But the financial success of this daughter of a Norwegian fur merchant doesn't depend solely on her skating.

The Canadian National is the only railway in North America which operates a ship building yard.
