

Radical Party Head Edouard Herriot, Is New Premier

(Continued from page 1.) Paris under military escort. While en route President Doumergue and his escort were forced to take the side of the road to allow several moving vans containing the furniture of former President Millerand to pass. The vans with their loads had come from the Elysee palace and were bound for the Millerand chateau in Versailles.

Long Public Career

M. Doumergue, senator from the Gard department and head of the senate, who Friday was elected to be the thirteenth president of France, to succeed Alexandre Millerand, has had a long career in public life, during which he has been premier and has held a number of portfolios in various ministries.

Born at Aigues-Vives August 1, 1853, he began the practice of law at Nimes in 1885 and several years later became a magistrate in Cochinchina, in 1893 becoming a special justice of the peace in Algeria, only to yield that position when he became a deputy from Nimes during the same year.

M. Doumergue became minister for the colonies in 1902 and held that post until 1905, when for a year he was vice-president of the chamber. Successively he was minister of commerce, minister of public instruction, senator in 1910, premier from 1913 to 1914, foreign minister the latter year, colonial minister again from 1914 until 1917, and finally president of the senate in 1923.

Before the caucus of the parties of the left Friday, Mr. Doumergue announced that he was not a candidate before the caucus but would stand for election before the national assembly Friday. When the caucus designated M. Painleve as the candidate of the left parties and when leaders of the left, fearful of a break in their plans, asked both M. Painleve and M. Doumergue to retire in favor of a third candidate, the president of the senate refused, declaring he had never advised his own candidacy and that he refused to ask his friends to refrain from voting for him.

Cordell Hull Gives Out Statement on G. O. P. Convention

"From the gentle, not to say sympathetic, manner in which the Republican convention dealt with them and their intransigent conduct, an uninformed person might easily conclude that Newberry, Fall, Daugherty, Forbes and their associates were persons of the highest probity and that Senator Walsh and others who exposed wholesale crimes were the real criminals. The old guard, special interest element of the Republican party cannot purge or reform itself. It today constitutes the chief menace to honest and representative government and should be destroyed."

"The Republican platform, like that of 1920 facing in many directions, and notable for its hypocrisy and false pretense, is only intended to last until the November election. After all the noise, paid propaganda, and horse play of the last six months about the Mellon tax proposals, the Republican platform dared not even mention Mellon's name, much less his tax proposals. This repudiation was in effect an endorsement of the Democratic tax reduction measure. "The nation, sick and disgusted at the Republican incompetence, failure and corruption during the past three years, will now welcome a typical Democratic administration of honesty, efficiency and constructive achievement."

Worshippers Prayer Land Are Arrested

DUBLIN, June 14.—Ulster still has its curfew regulations, and they appear to be strictly and impartially applied. The police patrol recently found a religious service under way in a private house at Ballintaggart at 3 a. m. and prosecuted those present in the court at Fortadown. The members of the congregation said they were praying to the Lord and that it was customary for them to pray all night at week ends. They were told they could not have these night prayers without a permit, and were let off on payment of the cost of the prosecution.

Rev. King To Speak On Philosophy Which Led Youths To Kill

The Big Berean Brotherhood is getting into their summer program in good shape. A young man who was formerly a traveling salesman was present last Sunday morning, and after the close of the class session, said to one of the men, "When I was a traveling man, I made it my business to attend Sunday school in the city where I was registered for Sunday, and, I confess, I never saw a bunch of young men go after things like those fellows do." But that is just the spirit which has made the class.

Just now the men are making some studies in the Gospel of John. For tomorrow morning every man of the class is expected to read the first chapter. Tomorrow morning the teacher, Mr. King, will discuss with the men as a prelude to the teaching period, "The Philosophy Which Led Loeb and Leopold To Murder Young Franks." The subject of the Bible address will be, "God Planning a Young Man's Life."

A very cordial invitation is extended to young men who do not attend other classes to be present and enjoy the fellowship of the class, and the inspiration of the hour.

R. C. Maxwell has moved his office from the Chamber of Commerce offices to the office occupied by the H. B. Lewis Real Estate Company.

The citizen stated at the meeting that a member of the commission had stated to him that the matter of acquiring the other plants would not be taken up until later in the year, possibly in November.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY: LOVE MASTERS FEAR: There is no love in fear.—1. John 4:18.

JUNE: What do you bring to us, June? What is hidden in your hands? In the shadow of your sun...

Will the blooms which daily fall Have their match in human flood? Will your rose springing up Find their red in human blood?

Sanford is glad to welcome members of the American Legion to the city today.

The carpenters' union of Sanford have announced an increase in the wage scale effective August 11.

There are still a few small newspapers in Florida which steal editorials bodily and run them as their own, without giving credit to the publication from which these editorials are clipped.

Sanford is to have a Junior Chamber of Commerce. Forty-eight of the younger business men of the city have agreed to organize a club of this kind and do their part to build Sanford into a greater city.

Sanford is having a busy summer. Those residents who go away on vacations can keep posted on what is happening back home by ordering The Sanford Herald sent to them every day.

It is interesting to note the number of pedestrians who cross the street at corners and the number who cross wherever they please.

The three richest men in America were content with the daily newspaper accounts of the Republican National Convention and did not tune in with their radio sets to find out what was going on.

Many Florida cities are reporting housing problems. If the large tourist resorts, where an active building campaign is continually carried out, are worrying for fear of accommodations what will be the problem confronting Sanford this winter?

On Tuesday night at eight o'clock there will be a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce for those interested in forming a yacht club in Sanford.

Sanford of all cities, should have a yacht club. Lake Monroe offers wonderful opportunities for sailing and yachting and a good yacht club would play an important part in building the city.

Pay Up!

How do you stand at the bank? There are some people in Sanford who haven't the necessary amount of cash on hand to pay up all their bills.

The banks are in business to make money. Their earnings come from loaning money and receiving interest.

Nothing can stop the person who really desires to pay-up. He will do so. If he hasn't the money he'll get it from some bank.

Make "Pay-Up Week" should be free from worthless check writing. Don't take any man's time by issuing a wooden check for as a rule they make things unpleasant for all concerned.

For Better Schools

An important election is to be held tomorrow. Dependent largely on the outcome of this election is the future growth of the schools of Sanford and Seminole county.

Coming on the heels of the exciting primary, this special election has not been emphasized as much as it should have.

It has been pointed out by Superintendent of Public Instruction T. W. Lawton, that the money secured by this special tax will be all spent in the district in which it is levied.

When this increased millage is authorized it is the purpose to add another month to the high school term, making it a standard nine months' term.

There are numerous reasons why this election should be carried. All qualified voters who pay personal or real estate taxes can vote tomorrow.

Our Three Kinds of Friends

There are three kinds of friends: the friends we have, the friends we should like to have, and the friends we boast of.

Our best friends we seldom appreciate. Their friendship is like strawberries in season. When strawberries are plentiful we long for figs and grapes, and gladly pay much more for them than their real value.

Usually the three best and truest friends of a man are his parents in early life and, if he marries, his wife. But how little they are appreciated at the time!

Our imagined friends, the friends we boast of, the ones that pat us on the back and laugh at us when we have passed—would not give their hand to help us out of a hole if there were any danger of their slipping in also.

Those of us who long for friends—friends tried and true, how much we desire them and ought to have them. And when we do they usually are not losers by the bargain.

KEEP THE TELEPHONE of your mind forever transmitting thoughts of Love, Purity, Joy and Health; then, when disease, sorrow, lust or hate will try to call you up, they will always get the busy signal.

THANK GOD EVERY morning when you get up that you have something to do which must be done whether you like it or not.

PLAY

"Life is real, life is earnest" sang the poet, but those who get most out of life suspend their earnestness now and again for a little play.

It has been said that the best work of the world is done by men who labor desperately to get through their tasks in order to go out and play, and some homely philosopher has declared that "a little nonsense now and then is relished by the wisest men."

Here is the true story of a man, worthy, capable—everything the copy-book maxims would adjure a man to be—whose life's ambition was wrecked because he never learned to play.

As Brisbane Sees It

Well, it's Coolidge. And the Platform Is Done. It Won't Frighten You.

MR. COOLIDGE is nominated to succeed himself. The convention cheered for twenty minutes, a long cheer. The band helped as usual.

THE REPUBLICAN platform, only six columns long, will be read through by ten millions of a hundred million people, PERHAPS.

THE REPUBLICANS lead their race, reminding voters that in 1921, when Republicans followed Democrats unemployed in the United States.

UNDER "FOREIGN relations," unnecessary words are used to say that the Republicans propose to mix this country in the world court.

UNDER "LABOR," the platform says nothing, in a few hundred words, under "World War Veterans," you read nice platitudes.

UNDER "CONSERVATION," the Republicans say they believe in "effective, efficient, conservation, whether of oil, timber, coal or water power."

UNDER "COAL," the Republicans say nothing in the modern Republican way. They don't repeat what Roosevelt said: "If the mines don't supply you with coal I'll take them, and do it."

OFFERS SELF AT AUCTION

SEATTLE, Wash., June 16.—George N. Hansen, unable to find a buyer and pressed by the need of money for his wife and child, recently placed himself on the auction block.

"I am both slave and auctioneer," Hansen said in his announcement. "I will be knocked down to the highest bidder. I must provide for my wife and child, and welcome any reasonable offer."

Hansen said he was a public accountant.

FORGET-ME-NOT HONORED
CORDOVA, Alaska, June 16.—The Grand Inlet of the Pioneer of Alaska in a resolution has requested the territorial legislature to make the forget-me-not the official emblem of Alaska. The resolution declares that this flower grows in every hill and in every valley throughout Alaska's more than one million square miles.

AT THE CHURCHES

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.
Notwithstanding the warm weather and the fact that many members of the congregation are away from the city, there was a good attendance at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning. Dr. Brownlee spoke from 1 Timothy 4:8.

"For bodily exercise is profitable for a little; but godliness is profitable for all things, having promise of the life which now is, and of that which is to come."

The subject of this sermon might well have been called "The Futility of a Worldly Ideal." Dr. Brownlee related the experiences of many of the chief civilizations of the world since the dawn of history, beginning with the Babylonian empire, with their national thirst for wealth and worldly goods, their love of luxury, the Spartans who, disdainful money and goods, centered their efforts on the development of physical perfection and the creation of mighty warriors—even beginning the training of boys at the age of seven years in order that every advantage might be gained in this development—and we have record of the heroic achievement of many of these people to show that they attained marvellous results; the Athenians, who, while admitting that wealth and physical perfection were all right, and desirable in a way, still denied that either was a sufficiently worthy national ideal, and bent their energies toward the development of the mind, producing the result that we know now was the best.

A Great Year for Coral Gables

This is a great year for Coral Gables, the most important in scope of added beautifying improvement, the most significant in large construction, of any year since the inception of Miami's Master Suburb. That this may seem no empty boast, we note a few of the big features of the magnificent program laid out for this year.

The big apartment house in the Douglas section being erected by Wade & Son, Miami promoters, is being pushed for completion in the early fall, and sixty three houses are under construction, and besides all this, there is the important and strenuous work of road building, sidewalk laying, grading, planting—all on a greater scale than ever before.

It's a great year for Coral Gables. It is also a great year for investors at Coral Gables. The rarest of opportunities for making money are opened up on every side by the addition of new buildings of the kind named above. For every house that is built, every business and institutional building completed, adds more and more to the value of the land here as well as to the beauty and matured aspect of the entire suburb.

The new bank and postoffice are well on towards completion. The telephone exchange building is well underway. The fine new Congregational Church is just being started, and the Young Women's College will be started within two weeks. The handsome new clubhouse for the large 18-hole course will be the next to be started, and the magnificent hotel, the building of which will be the crowning feature of the year, will be begun next month.

Make your reservations at once for the trip to Coral Gables on our de luxe bus—the finest free sightseeing trip ever offered to you.

American Olympic Team To Set Sail for Europe Today

NEW YORK, June 16.—A modern argosy of the golden fleece of international athletic triumph, will set sail today when the main body of American Olympic team departs for Paris and the 1924 world's championships.

Headed by a track and field array of 105 stars, a total aggregation of 253 men and women athletes who will carry the Yankee shield in eight different branches of competition will embark from Hoboken on the specially chartered steamer, America. The departure is scheduled to take place at noon, eastern standard time, to the accompaniment of a fitting patriotic farewell demonstration.

In addition to the track team, the expedition will include, according to official announcements Sunday night, 11 gymnasts, 26 boxers, 17 wrestlers, 36 men and 24 women swimmers, seven cyclists, 17 fencers and 10 equestrians.

The Yale varsity eight, which won the right to represent the United States in the Olympics by a record victory in the final trials at Philadelphia Saturday is scheduled to leave on the Homeric next Saturday, the day after the Blue boat, attempting one of the most unusual campaigns in aquatic annals, row its annual four-mile race with Harvard at New London, Conn.

Seldom in the nearly 30 years of Olympic history has the United States assembled so formidable a collection of athletic stars in defense of the laurels this country has carried off consistently since the first games at Athens in 1896. Particularly is this true of the track and field squad which, in spite of the fact that it faces probably the stiffest competition of all time, will sail with high hopes of triumph as a result of the spectacular showing made in the final tryouts at the Harvard stadium.

STAY NEAR GRAVES

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, June 16.—The Indians of Knik, an old settlement at the head of Cook Inlet, are in dire distress because of the ancient custom of remaining where their fathers and grandfathers died. The advent of the railroad and the increase of white men's ranches have ruined trapping in the vicinity, the Indians' means of livelihood.

Asked why they do not move to more prolific grounds, the Indians say: "Grandfather, him die here; father, him die here; me, I die here."

CHICAGO, June 16.—Although Babe Ruth of the New York Americans and Jacques Fournier of the Brooklyn Nationals retained the home run leadership in their respective leagues, George Kelly of the New York Giants, furnished the fireworks for the week, getting three circuit clouts in one game. The trio of homers came Saturday when the National champions were playing Cincinnati.

In the younger league, Ruth added one to his home run list, making his total 15.

Ken Williams, St. Louis, who counted three homers in the week, for a total of 11, follows Ruth, and Hauer of Philadelphia, with a total of nine, follows Williams, Jacobson, St. Louis, garnered two during the week and is now in fourth place with six.

Fournier was able to add but one homer to his string and now has 13 for the National League leader. Following Fournier are Hartnett, Chicago, with eight, and Cy Williams, Philadelphia, with seven. Kelly boosted himself into a tie for fourth place with Grantham, Chicago, and Wheat, Brooklyn, each having six. Home run leaders:

'Pay Up' Campaign in Sanford Opened With 'Bang' Today

That Sanford can put over campaigns in big fashion is the assertion of Mr. Ball.

Arthur Yowell, head of Yowell & Company stating that the response has been most gratifying, declaring that several back accounts have been paid up which had been lagging. Belief was expressed by him that the campaign will be a huge success and that interest in it will continue to grow more and more each day.

George A. Speer & Son stated that early this morning he was approached by patrons wishing to pay up their bills. "I believe it is a good thing and will mean a lot to Sanford in the 'squaring' of accounts," Mr. Speer continued.

He further declared that he was well pleased with the manner in which the campaign had opened. Much interest is being shown, he assured a newspaperman.

S. M. Lloyd of the Lloyd Shoe Company stated that the campaign has started off with a "boom" and that there is evidence that it will continue. "I am surprised and gratified with the response to the urgent appeal to pay up accounts," he further stated.

Other merchants are reported as having received good responses to the campaign. Hundreds of dollars were paid on accounts on the first day of the campaign, it has been estimated by those who have the drive in charge.

SUSPECT SAID TO HAVE BEEN TRAIN ROBBER

(Continued from page 1) $20,000 or any other amount has been recovered and identified as part of the stolen money, he replied that he had nothing to say on that point.

Mahoney Ex-Political Leader. The identity of James Mahoney, who was arrested when found under a bed in the flat where Wayne was found, was revealed tonight as that of the former West Side political leader. He is said to have turned from politics with the advent of prohibition and to have made a small fortune in beer-running.

The police took extraordinary steps to learn Mahoney's true name when efforts were made Saturday to have him released on a writ of habeas corpus. The attempt to gain release for Mahoney through a state court were failed when he was ordered held on a federal warrant.

Five other men are being sought in the robbery.

Wainwright Has No Recollection of His Conduct

(Continued from page 1) ods, succeeded in getting the latter's consent to see him for a few minutes. The prisoner is said to have asked for a drink of whiskey and Wynn procured it for him. A drug was also mixed with the liquor.

As soon as Wainwright drank the liquor and began to lapse into unconsciousness, Captain Wynn grabbed his gun and the officers arrested him and removed him to the jail.

After several attempts had been made to interview the wife of Wainwright, who was not at home each time, a representative of The Herald succeeded in seeing her shortly after noon today. Mrs. Wainwright declared that she had no statement to make for the press but declared that she "just wanted him to leave me alone and I will not bother him."

Mrs. Wainwright, who was seen at her home on Laurel Avenue, declared that her husband had always been kind to her and that they had been happy together up until last January when, after he had been on several drunken spells, she left him after he had made life unbearable for her at home.

Later she went to work in a store at Lake Monroe, she said, and her husband persuaded her to return to him which she did. They lived together up until three weeks ago. At that time he went on a drunken "spree", she stated, and they parted again.

Asked what she thought was the motive that prompted her husband to wish to kill her, Mrs. Wainwright stated that she believed that it was because she would not return to him. She declared that she had previously made up her mind that if they were separated one more time that she would never make up with him again. Persistence in keeping to this promise infuriated the man, according to Mrs. Wainwright, and this was what caused him to make threats upon her life.

Williams is said to have been an unusually mean negro having gotten into trouble frequently with other employees on the places where he worked. He has worked on a number of farms in this vicinity, it is said, and is declared to have been run away from each of them because of the continuous trouble which he has caused at each place where he has lived.
