Cross County Site Brings $1 Million

The 75-acre tract on the north side of SR 436 at Palm Springs Road, just outside Altamonte Springs, on which a giant new shopping center is to be built, was sold for $1 million today by University Terrace, Inc. and Crane Roost, Inc. to Michael R. Sudakov.

With conveyance of the property, construction date for the Cross County Shopping Center, planned to be one of the largest in the southeast United States, is expected to be announced. It is planned to have the center with enclosed, air-conditioned mall containing approximately 75 stores ready for opening in the fall of 1971.

Major tenant of the facility, according to earlier announcement, will be Jordan Marsh along with two other major department stores. The Jordan Marsh store is planned for opening in the spring of 1972.

Stores in the center will include specialty shops, boutiques and apparel shops, gift shops, restaurants, a twin theater, banking institution and supermarket as well as automotive services and other service-type organizations.

It has been reported that firm leases are signed for some 40 of the 75 businesses to be in Cross County already.

Drummond Reprehends Hospital Board Demands Hospital Up Room Rates

By DONNA BERTES

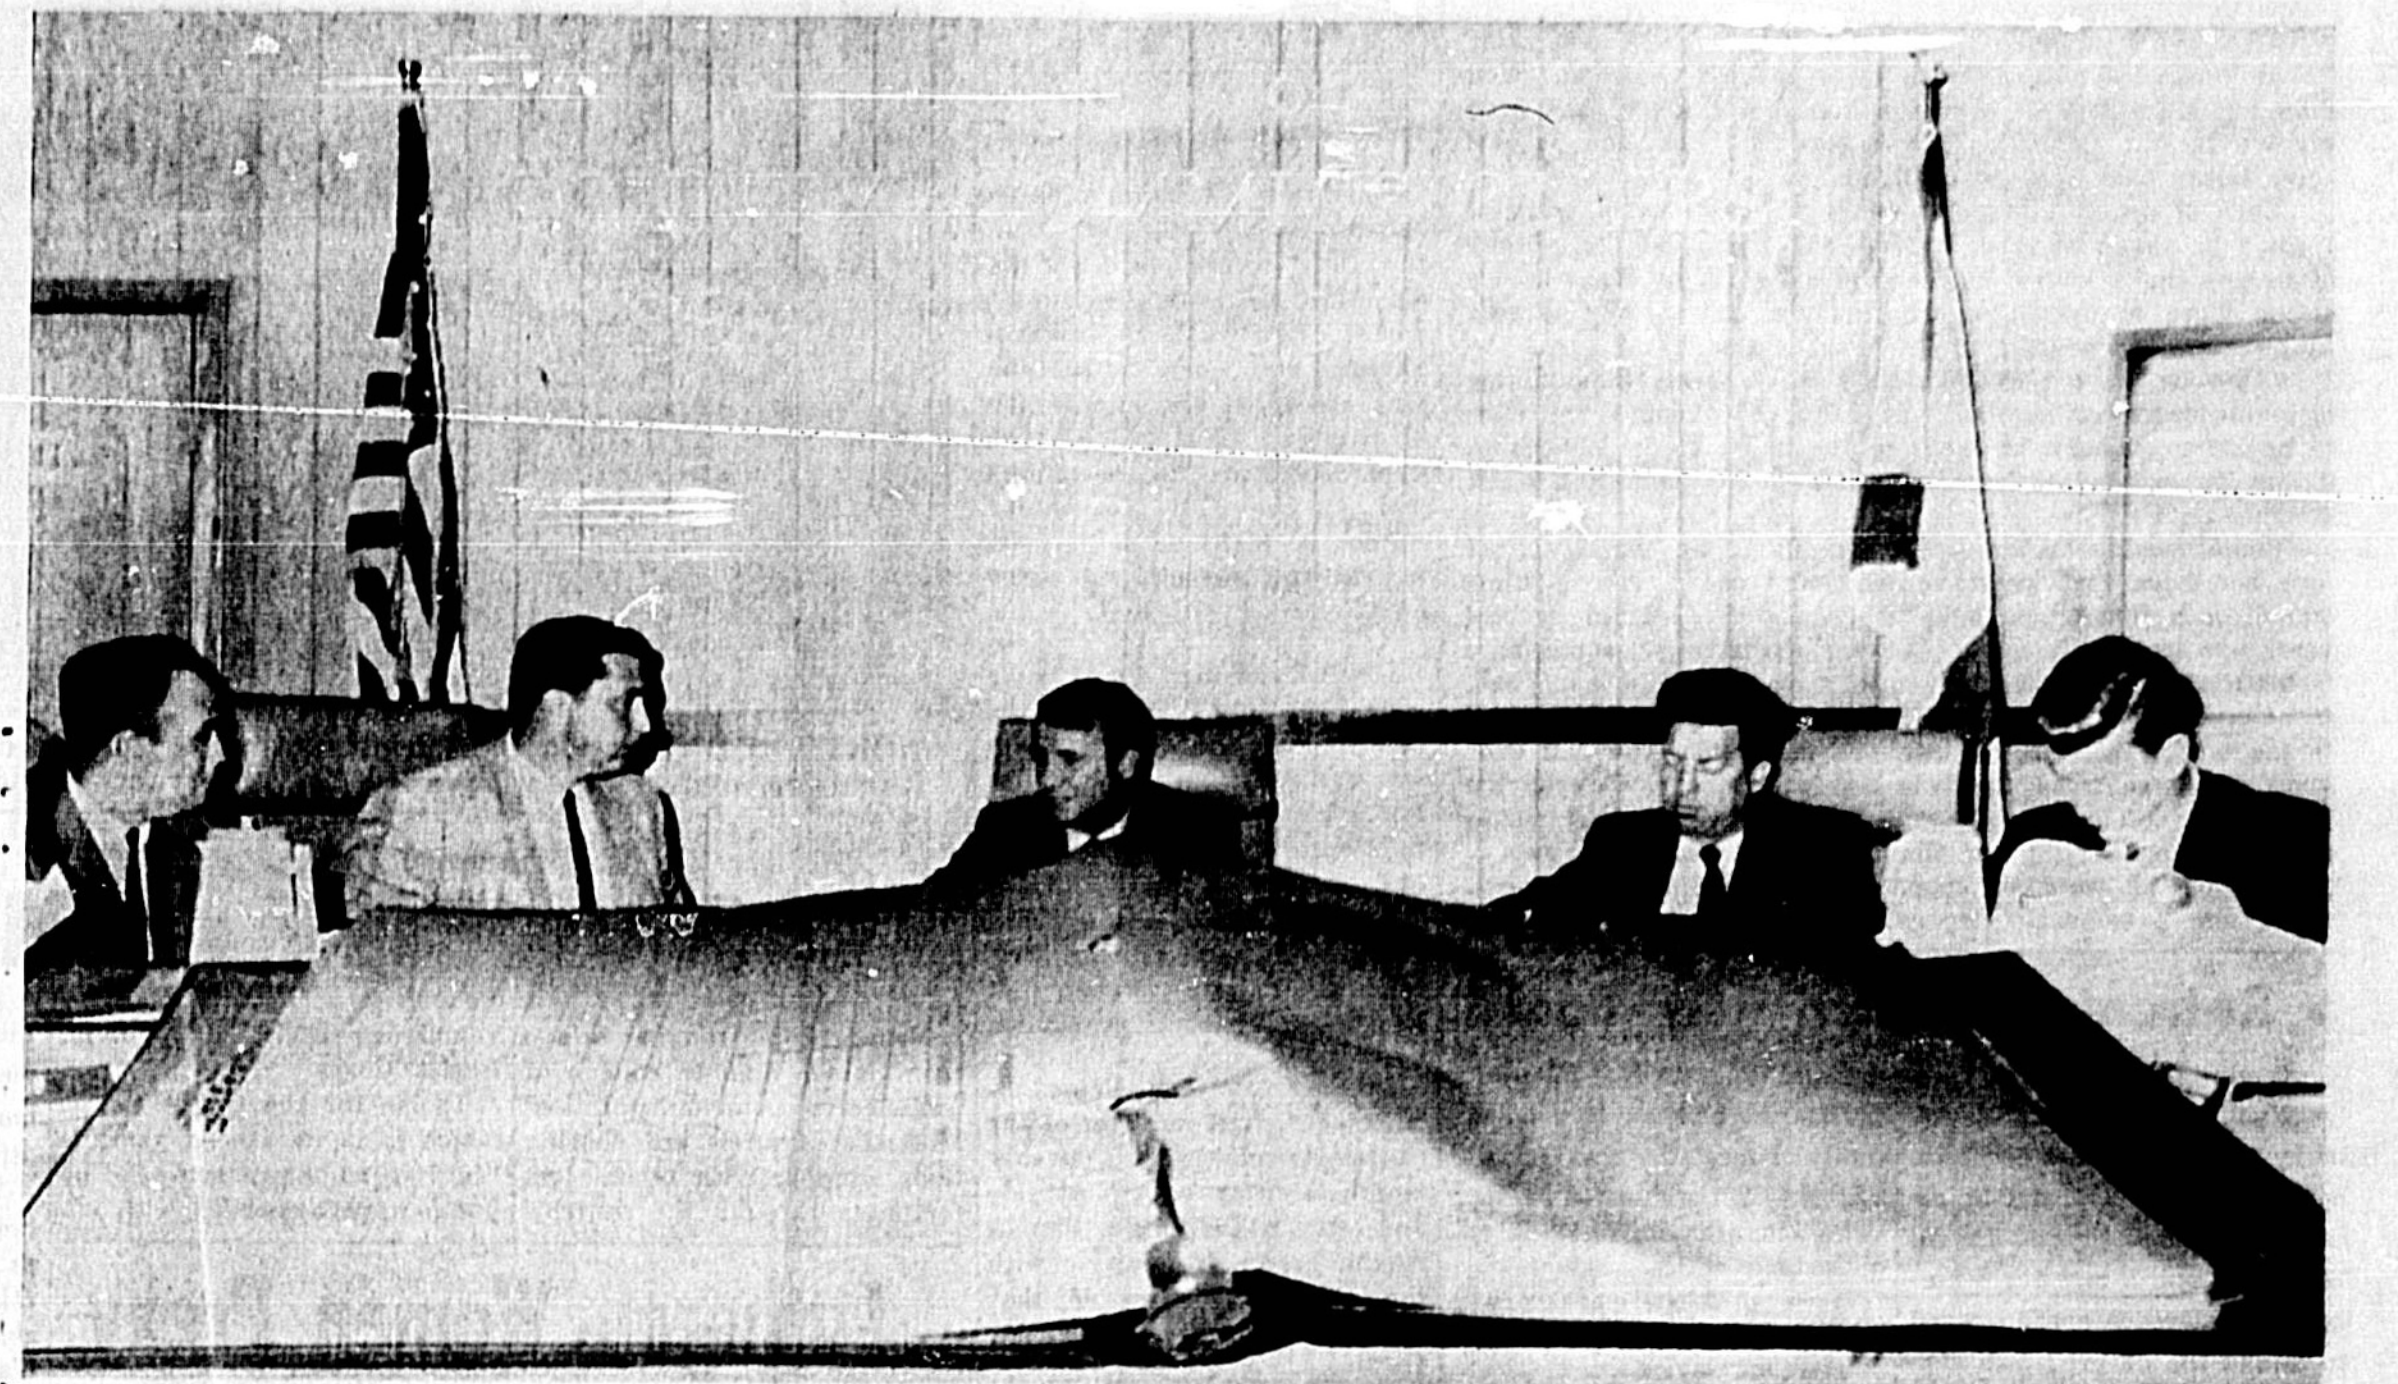

Administration of Seminole Memorial Hospital came under fire from County Commissioner Greg Drummond during yesterday afternoon budget hearings. Drummond, criticizing the need for some $100,000 in tax money during the next fiscal year, declared, "If their rates weren't one dollar cheaper than any other hospital in Central Florida they wouldn't operate at a deficit and wouldn't need so much tax money."

"I think we are deviating from the intent whereby the hospital was created," Drummond insisted.

He also urged that the county go to the hospital board of trustees and in a "respectful manner" urge that the room rates be increased. "We should use all our energies to see that this is accomplished," the commissioner suggested.

"I, like... had some misgivings about the deficit operation at the hospital," Chairman John Alexander, John Alexander stated, as he reported on the attorney general's opinion received a year or so ago that the county could do nothing but levy the millage requested by the hospital. Alexander said, according to the opinion, the hospital is not a taxing entity but that the county must still levy the millage requested.

Changing the subject slightly, the chairman asked that information concerning the excellent Medicare will pick up indigent care be obtained.

HOW TO DIVIDE $2 INTO $1

THIS BIG BOOK (foreground) has been a headache for weeks for the Seminole County Commission. It contains the budget requests for all county departments and the Commission members have had to figure out to obtain $2 worth of service for every $1 of the taxpayers' money. Ed Yarborough, Greg Drummond, Chairman John Alexander, Robert Parker and Dan Pelham (from the left) were to solve the problem today.

May Lose $114,000 On Bonds Schools Hit By High Interest Rate

By BILL SCOTT

In order to sell the remaining $3.8 million in school construction bonds and because of the poor bond market, the Seminole County Board of Education yesterday voted to discount by three per cent and run the risk of losing $114,000 in interest if the bonds are sold.

The board's action must be forwarded to Tallahassee for state approval before the advertising can begin, according to Kirk Gunby, fiscal bonding agent.

Gunby spoke to the educators and advised them to "protect themselves" and provide a cushion since under the six per cent interest rate limit imposed by the state, it is not possible to sell the bonds.

At the same time, Walter Teague, finance officer, advised that a local banker had been working to put a par bid together but thus far had been unsuccessful.

Allan F. Keeth, board member, moved to prepare a resolution for presentation to the state education department asking for permission to discount the bonds.

Advertising for the sale will start after state approval and continue for a 30-day period before bids will be taken, Gunby said.

Expected $100,000 cost for furniture for second phase of Lakeview School and furniture for other schools under construction will have to wait until the bonds are sold, Teague said.

John Angel, county superintendent, said board needs $300,000 in additional money and hopes to get needed funds from a November millage election, borrow money from a bank or draw on the contingency fund.

The superintendent recommended to the board that machinery should be offered for a millage election to be held in the public in November.

Board is limited to ten mills by state law and must submit to a millage election or public approval for additional school building funds.

Board Split

Unless School Supt. John Angel can convince two board members to go along with his recommendations for spending $621,843 of the $20.3 million school budget for 1969-70, there may be a delay in the approval of the school budget.

Lamp Lighting

By REV. FRED R. CHANCE
First Baptist Church

One evening during the latter part of his life, John Ruskin sat at a window in his home watching a lamplighter, with torch in hand, ignite the street lights on a distant hill. Since it was dark the lamplighter himself could not be seen, but his progress up the hill could be observed as successive lamps were lit.

"After a few minutes Ruskin turned to a friend and said: 'That illustrates what I mean by a genuine Christian. You may not know him or ever see him, but his way has been marked by the light he leaves burning.' Let me suggest some lamps that need to be lit in our dark world.

Each of us, as Christians, can light the lamp of witness. It may be the witness of a good and consistent life. Many of us can make known the need of salvation by the ministry of the Word of God. We are reminded that, 'Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.'

Often we have the opportunity to do some lamp-lighting by some work or service. All kinds of avenues are open to us here. It may be in the name of the church or it may be service rendered anywhere in the name and spirit of Christ.

Sometimes we light a perpetual flame by the legacy of love and hope that we leave our loved ones. This is illustrated in a disastrous mine (aged) that occurred several years ago in West Virginia. A man in that mine, somewhere in his dark, damp prison, when all hope of release had gone, found a bit of ragged paper and on it he wrote his farewell to his wife. He said, 'I love you more than you can ever know. Take care of the kids and raise them to serve the Lord.' He left neither gold nor valuable property but something far more lasting and illuminating — Love and Faith.

Let us, as we have opportunity, light lamps of witness, work, and a wonderful legacy.

Retreat Planned By Board

An administrative board retreat will be held at the Casselberry Community United Methodist Church at 6 p. m., Saturday, in fellowship hall. All board members and their husbands or wives are encouraged to attend the covered dish supper and program that follows.

This will be their first opportunity to meet the new Orlando District Superintendent, Rev. Gene Zimmerman, who will explain their duties.

The inspirational speaker will be Dwight Magnus of Lakeland, outstanding layleader.

Church Marks Event

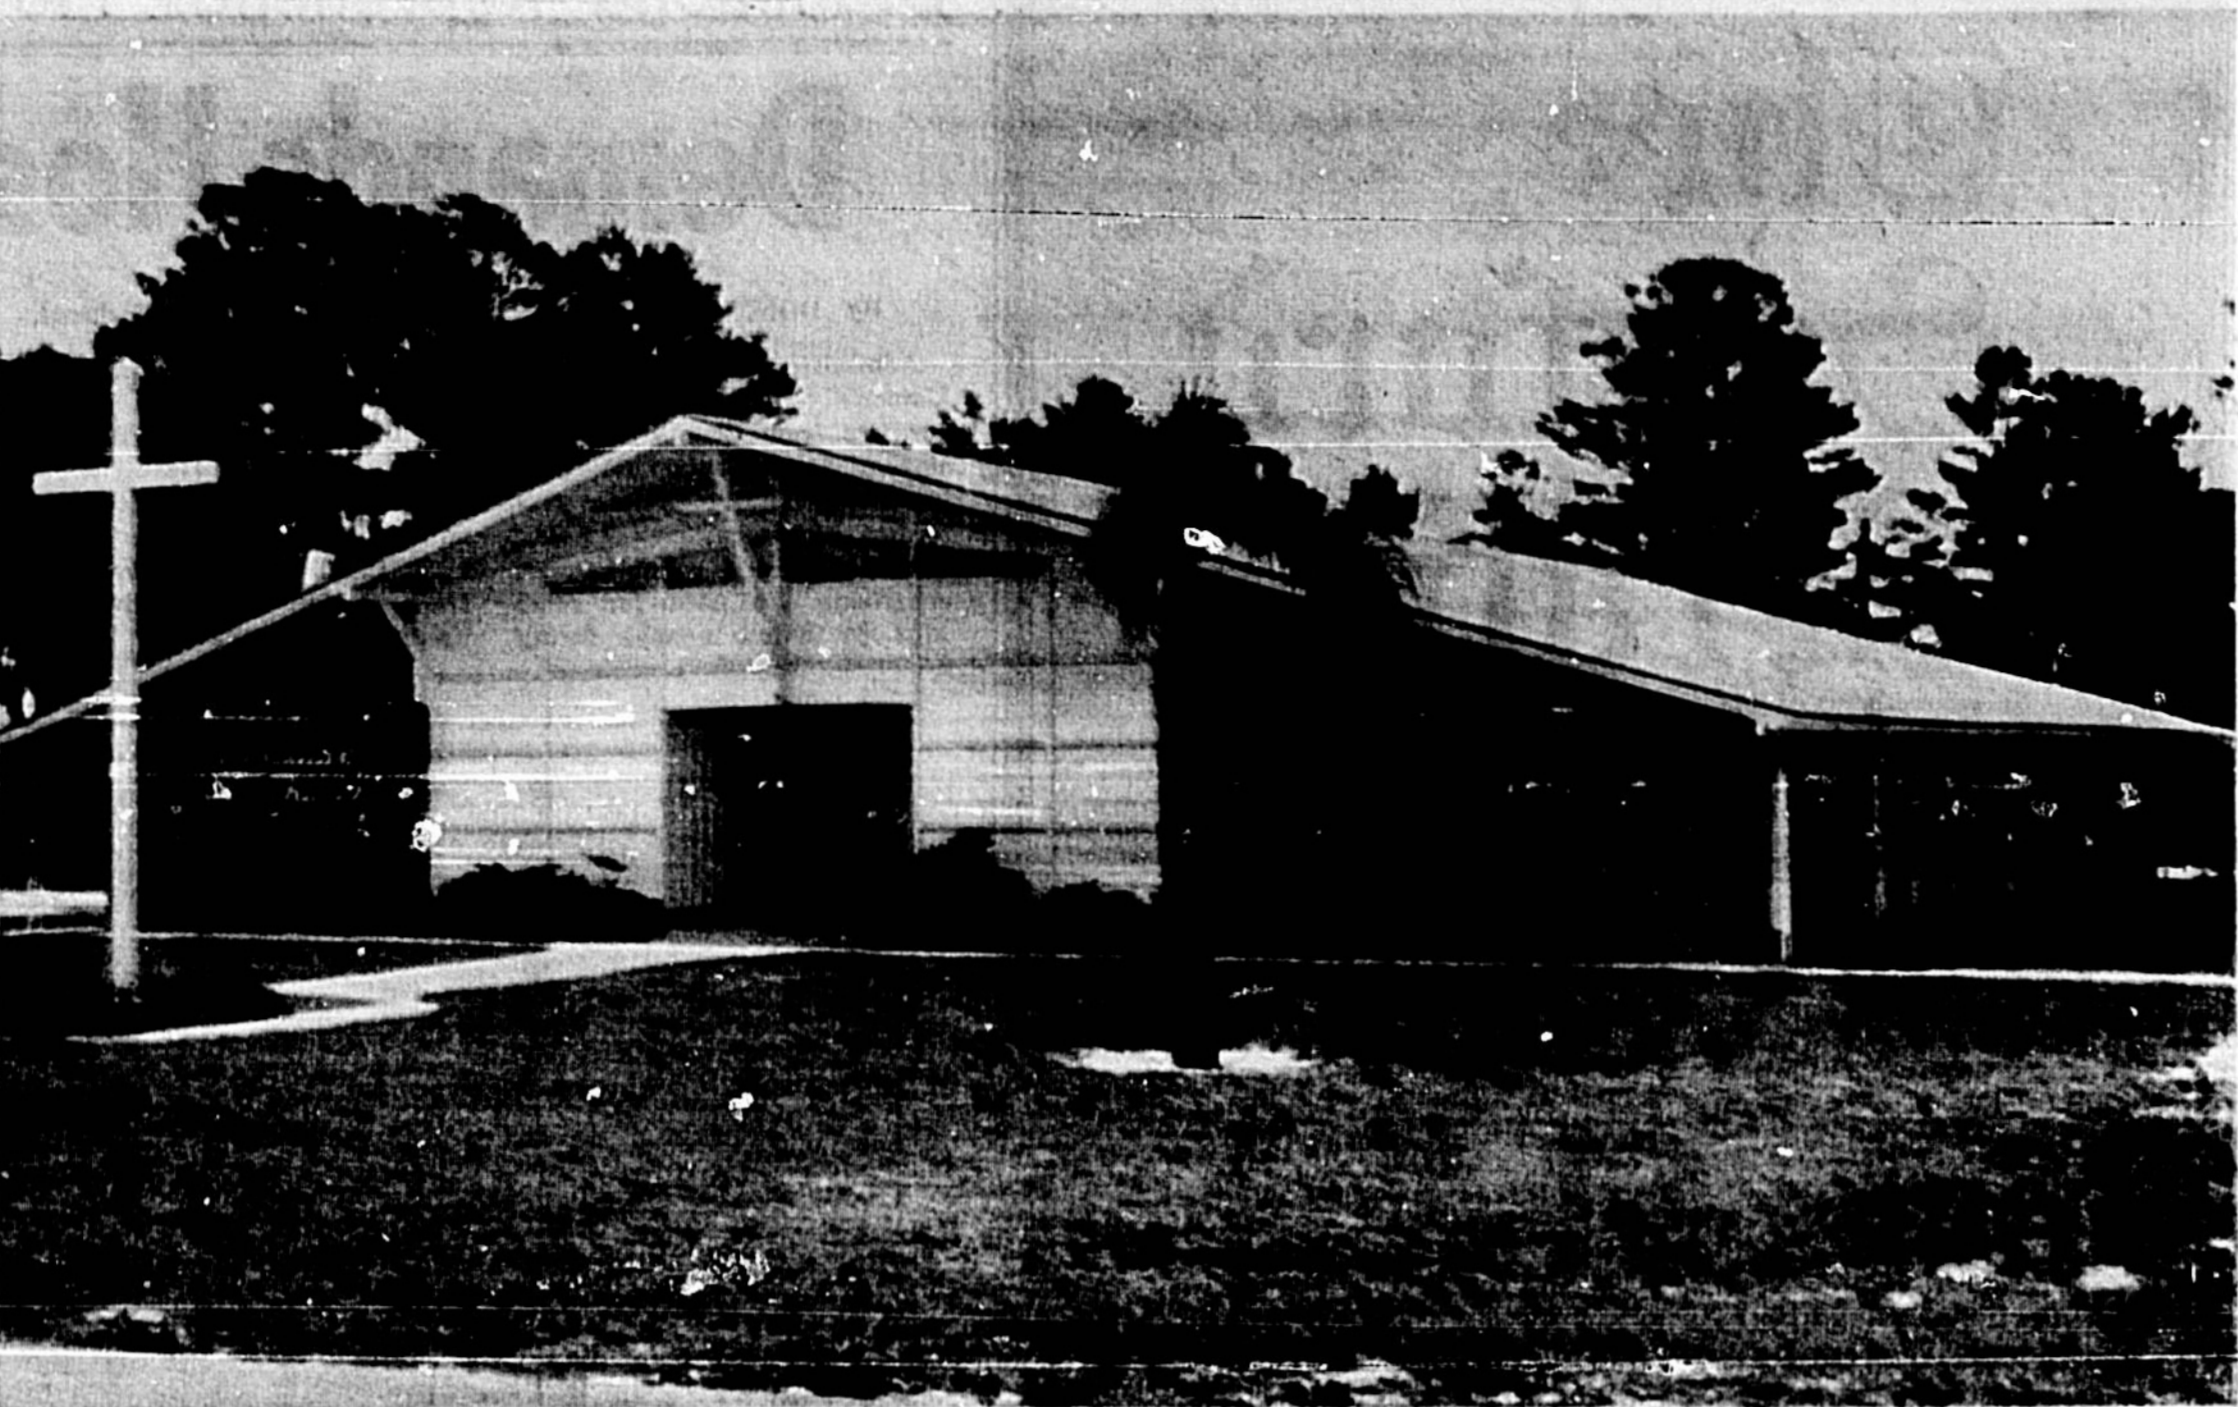

By PHYLLIS BRANSON

Northside Christian Church, Altamonte Springs, celebrated its ninth anniversary Thursday and will have a celebration in the fellowship hall, Sunday, with a basket dinner at 12 noon and a program to follow in the sanctuary. This service will honor the teachers for their faithful service.

Northside Christian Church began on July 17, 1960, with the first service held in the old Glass Fountain Restaurant where Winter Park Federal Savings and Loan Association now stands at the intersection of Highway 192 and SH 426. From April of '61 the church met in the Hill Elementary School in Maitland until moving to the present sanctuary on November 26, 1961.

Groundbreaking services were held July 2, 1964, on the present site after the property was secured from Mrs. Mayne Roosevelt and bonds were sold to secure funds for the building. Dedication Day, January 7, 1962, began a week of evangelistic services with Brother L. Palmer Young of Kingsport, Tenn., as evangelist.

In February, Rev. Robert H. Alexander, first minister of the church, terminated his twenty-month ministry with Northside and left for California. Van B. Hanna began as minister with the church in May of this year, terminated in December, 1965.

NORTHSIDE Christian Church of Altamonte Springs celebrates its ninth anniversary with a special observance Sunday with basket dinner and program.

Casselberry Youth Serve Christ Corps

Young people ranging in age from junior high to college are participating in a volunteer service program, Christ Corps.

Theme for the Christ Corps, "In His name we serve." The youth have responded with enthusiasm to the need for volunteers with Head Start in Altamonte Springs and Migrant Ministry in Apopka.

Various churches in the Orlando area have undertaken to provide a program of recreation and education for the children of migrants, both black and white, in the poverty-stricken areas of Zellwood and Apopka. The Casselberry group has resumed the responsibility of conducting the program on Tuesday of each week.

Lutheran Women Prexy To Attend Convention

The Lutheran Women's Mission League, an auxiliary organization of the Lutheran Church, Missouri-Synod, will hold its 12th biennial convention in Houston, Texas, on July 26-27.

For the first time in the 40-year history of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Sanford, a member of the LWML unit here holds the office as Orlando zone president and is a credential holding voting delegate to the international convention.

Mrs. Alfred W. Kirschstein is looking forward to her flight to Houston and the challenges, which will face the more than 2,000 women assembling from all over the United States and Canada.

Some of the international projects for the past biennium were grants for Church extension in Venezuela, a multi-purpose building for the Lutheran Church of the Holy Spirit, Chittown, San Francisco, Cannon Ministry for Deaf, Washington, D.C., a chapel in Hano, Japan.

The delegates will set the 1969-1971 financial plan and select new mission projects from a list of 12 on the ballot. The LWML from the Florida-Georgia district has submitted "The Nassau Project, building worship facility and class rooms in the Bahamas, as their international mission proposal to the convention. Three new international officers are to be elected and Bible studies will be led by well known church leaders and LCMS President, Dr. Oliver Harms, will address the delegates.

Having the privilege to attend this convention as a delegate, Mrs. Kirschstein says, will help much to prepare her for the two-year office she holds and to fulfill the LWML motto: "Serve the Lord with gladness."

Space Travel 'Gateway To God's Sovereignty'

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—A key man behind America's manned space program says that man's new physical frontier, but also the gateway to deeper spiritual awareness of God's sovereignty in the universe. It signals the start of the "cosmic age," he says, a second phase in mankind's long development, an era in which the earth will be seen in truer perspective as a "planet among planets," and in which the magnificence of divine creation and power will become increasingly evident.

A technical genius and also a philosopher of vision, the German-born Von Braun heads the team that developed the giant Saturn rocket engines which serve the powerful first stage on the Apollo moon flights.

"Through a closer look at creation, we ought to gain a better knowledge of the Creator, and a greater sense of man's responsibility to God who will come into being," he says.

Von Braun, 57, director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala., discusses his religious views in an interview in Christian Life, a youth monthly published in Wheaton, Ill.

"We must learn to consider God as Creator of the universe and master of everything," he says.

"We need a greater Lord than we have had in the past. One religion, our environment and our outlook have been earthbound.

"Astronomy and space exploration are teaching us that the good Lord is a much greater Lord, and master of a greater kingdom."

Dean To Preach At Covenant

DEAN SCHREIBER

Robert A. Schreiber, dean of Seminole Junior College, will be guest speaker at the Presbyterian Church of the Covenant, Highway 17-92 South, Sanford, on Sunday at 8 a. m. service.

Dean Schreiber is an ordained minister of the Church of the Brethren and as dean of students his successful counseling makes him loved by all who have come to know him.

The Sunday evening recreation and games program under the direction of Coach Gray Boyles and Fred Burleson is off to a good start. A variety of fun games for the entire family has been arranged starting at 6 p. m. with the club-2 vesper service at 8 p. m. each Sunday. All families living in the area are invited to attend and enjoy the fellowship provided for by these two Christian athletes.

Pews Are SS Class Project

The Truth Seekers Sunday School Class of the Ravenna Park Baptist Church held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. John McCallan on Villon Road.

Mrs. Joe Andrews presided and it was decided to continue the class project of securing lists for the sanctuary.

A list of prospects was read and class visitation was discussed. Refreshments were served following the meeting by the hostesses. Others attending were Mrs. Michael Justice, Mrs. William Griffith, Mrs. Charles Rabin and Mrs. J. E. Andrews, class teacher.

Club To Meet

The Seminole Welcome Wagon Club will meet Thursday, July 24, at the Seanda House in Winter Park at 11:30 a. m. for buffet lunch and cards. Any woman new to the area will be welcome to make their reservation with Mrs. L. V. Leipert of Fern Park.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship will continue to meet at 6:30 p. m. and the evening worship will be at 7:30 p. m. The evening service is less formal and includes an old-fashioned hymn sing, altar prayer time, and a time for questions and sharing by the congregation.

Rev. Byers will be on vacation the Sundays of Aug. 10 and 17.

Deltona Lutherans Set VBS

Rev. Herbert V. Goerss, Lutheran Church of Providence, Deltona, has announced that the church will have a Vacation Bible School for a ten-day period beginning July 28 until Aug. 8. The theme of the program will be "Living God's Way."

All children in the area, regardless of church affiliation, are cordially invited to enjoy this vacation school. Ages range from 4-14.

Pre-enrollment days will be Friday, July 25, and Saturday, July 26. The pastor would like to have the parents come to the church during the hours of 9:30 to 11 a. m. to call the church office. The church is located on Providence Blvd., just past the shopping center.

Grangers Honored At Reception

The Music Committee of Friendship Baptist Church, assisted by their husbands and wives, gave a going away reception for the Grangers at the church on Sunday evening, following church services for the Robert Granger family, who are now residing in Stovington, Ga.

The declaration denounced "revolution" and "radical changes" in setting forth a course of neutrality "toward the political controversies of the world."

The new educational building and fellowship hall of the First Congregational Church of Sanford, which has been under construction since last April, will be dedicated in early October. A tentative date for the dedication has been set for Oct. 12.

The occasion will include a guest preacher, visiting ministers and laymen from the Southern Area of Congregational Christian Churches, and a banquet during the week for members and friends.

Attend Meet

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Davidson of First Presbyterian Church of Sanford are attending the annual conference of the Women of the Church this week at Montreat, N. C.

SS Class Gathers

The Friendship Class of the First Baptist Church of Lake Mary met recently at the home of Mrs. Mae Chambers, with Mrs. Betty Chambers as co-hostess.

Mrs. Chambers, vice-president of the class, presided over the business session which was opened with a prayer by Mrs. Edna Stephens. A devotional was given by Mrs. C. N. North using the book of Jonah as the Scripture. Mrs. Chambers led the group in prayer.

Senior Citizens

Dr. Byron Jones of 27th and Elm Avenue will honor Senior Citizens in the Sunday Service at 9:30 a. m. and 7 p. m. Dr. Byron A. Jones will be guest speaker.

Dr. Jones has served as president of Emmanuel College, Franklin Springs, Ga. He served as pastor in Portsmouth, Va. for over 20 years.

He served as superintendent of the Florida Conference for 19 years. He has traveled abroad and recently returned from Jerusalem, where he lectured in various areas of the middle east.

Rev. James H. Cain, pastor, extends an invitation to everyone to attend these special services. Any senior citizen needing transportation can call the parsonage.

Rev. Julius C. Byers of First United Methodist Church of Sanford has announced a change in the Sunday morning schedule beginning Sunday and continuing through August. The church will have on Sunday morning worship service at 10 a. m. instead of the two worship services at 8:30 and 10:55 a. m. Sunday School will be at 9 a. m.

Military Spread The Gospel

The Women's Missionary Society of the Ravenna Park Baptist Church met recently at the home of the director Mrs. Charles Rabin on Villon Lane for the July meeting.

An interesting program was presented by Mrs. William Griffith, who used as her topic, "Disciples Unto the Uttermost," and discussed how American military men are contributing to mission work at home and overseas. These military families have the opportunity of helping to spread the gospel to the "uttermost parts of the world" by serving in churches and organizing Sunday Schools and study groups if they are stationed where there are none.

DUFFING WITH DON

By: Don Forrester

LET IT ALL HANG OUT

Well it's there all right, all 745 yards. It is the 17th hole at the Black Mountain Golf Course in Black Mountain, N.C. It is the only par 6 hole I have ever played or even heard about. We drove 20 miles to get a chance at it and the drive was worth the time.

You have to walk back into the woods about 50 yards and your drive has to come out of a chute of local pine. It needs to be long and straight and the downhill topography helps even the shot. The hole is a little over 700 yards long. It is a little further in the mountains and we managed to hit a pretty good drive with just a little draw down the left-hand side of the valley. My ball carried about 240 yards so we had about 465 yards left to negotiate. Most people don't carry a two wood but since my nickname is Alice I happen to have one in my bag. I had a good lie and my drive had let me have a nice opening if I could hit another hole in the green. Well it's mighty close to Ridgeway up there and the hole is a little over 100 yards up the hill. I would have liked the ball to have been a little more to the left but it was in the fairway and I had covered 450 yards with just about 200 left to navigate. I pulled a green and walked about 100 yards up the hill to get a look at the green. There was a chance I could have hit the green in three, but as it dug sharply back to the right I would have had to hit a deep rough to have had a chance. I decided the safe way was the best and I still had a chance at a bird or a par. With this in mind I took my 4th wood and hit a nice high cut shot that came to rest about 60 yards down from the plateau-like green. I hit a wedge about 12 feet to the right, rimmed the cup and had to settle for a par, but that was a thrill in itself so we will leave the birds for next year.

The rest of the course is like almost all of the courses we have seen in the Mountains, nice. The fairways were lush and the bentgrass greens so true that it throws us out Bermuda types. You talk about hole, if you hit a high shot into a green many times the ball will only take one bounce before coming to rest. The only thing we can find wrong with Black Mountain is that they neglect their traps some thing awful. We were most happy to cover the 6,087 yards in 72 holes, especially since we hit one ball in the water on a very short par three and also had several three putts.

If you are ever in the Blue Ridge Mountains, Black Mountain is about 20 miles east of Asheville on Interstate 40. The best way to me to tell you how to get to the course is to get to the town and then ask, that's how we made it and may have to do the same next year. If you do go to I assure you it will be a pleasure if you love the game of golf and a beautiful layout.

Reen's Big Step

Everything Is Go...

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Staff

Everything is GO for John Reen, a graduate of Seminole Junior College, now catching for the West Palm Beach Expos. Reen, who signed with Montreal for $5,000 and two years of college, is now rated the top catcher in the Montreal farm system, according to Ray Ottel, General Manager of the West Palm Beach Expos. Reen has a been rated overall, as the fourth best catcher in the Expos' organization, behind only the big league team.

Reen, batting .268, has played in 30 ball games since signing with Montreal. Last Thursday Reen had a thrill as he hit his first professional home run.

Twins Closing Gap

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winter Haven and Miami closed the gap on the Orlando Twins with a 5-4 decision over the Lakeland Tigers. Key West blasted Miami 10-0, while Fort Lauderdale Yankees trimmed Cocoa, 1-1, to threaten the Marlins.

In the only other game, Pompano Beach bested West Palm Beach, 5-3, in the first of a scheduled doubleheader. The second game was postponed because of rain. The Winter Haven at St. Petersburg and Daytona Beach at Tampa games also were rained out.

Reen, not considered a long ball hitter, is only the second West Palm batter to put one over the fence this season. Reen, in playing so far this season, has not committed an error. Reen, although, he does not have an exceptionally strong play at first, and has enabled our pitchers to pick-off seven runners in 10 tries.

Ottel called Reen, "A take charge man. He runs the infield. He calls for the pick-off play at first, and has enabled our pitchers to pick-off seven runners in 10 tries. Reen commented, "It's Big League, and I really enjoy it. They have a good field and great guys and I'm happy I signed. I've learned more in the little time that I've been here than I did in my entire two years at Seminole Junior College, but wouldn't be here if it weren't for Coach Bergman at Seminole. Bergman taught me to hustle and to have the right attitude toward the game, and that is one reason I have come this far."

West Palm Beach, currently in fifth place in the Florida State League South Division is on the move up. They were won 7 of their last 8 games, winning their last 4 straight. Reen will finish his college education at Florida Tech. Then he'll be back up here, for Reen who has all the possibilities needed to go to the top.

Race Track Owners Start Safety Check

By FRED COXON
Herald Sports Staff

When we hear of someone being killed in a race in some other state, we don't give it much thought. But Sunday, July 6, we witnessed a death here on one of our own tracks and were stunned. One of our most talented young drivers on the Florida Stock Car scene, 19-year-old Marion Edwards Jr. of Hialeah, Florida, had died of burns suffered in the flaming wreckage of his 1964 Chevrolet at the New Smyrna Raceway. Marion's tragic death has brought to our minds these questions: How did this happen? How can we prevent this from happening again?

To answer these questions, the local racing organizations here to take a good hard look at themselves. First we must look at the accident itself. While running in the feature race, Marion came out of the second turn in the outside groove, riding close to the wall. He passed several slower cars, and cut to the inside groove going into the third turn. It is here that Marion lost control of his car and shot across the track in front of Jacksonville driver Rod Eulenfeld.

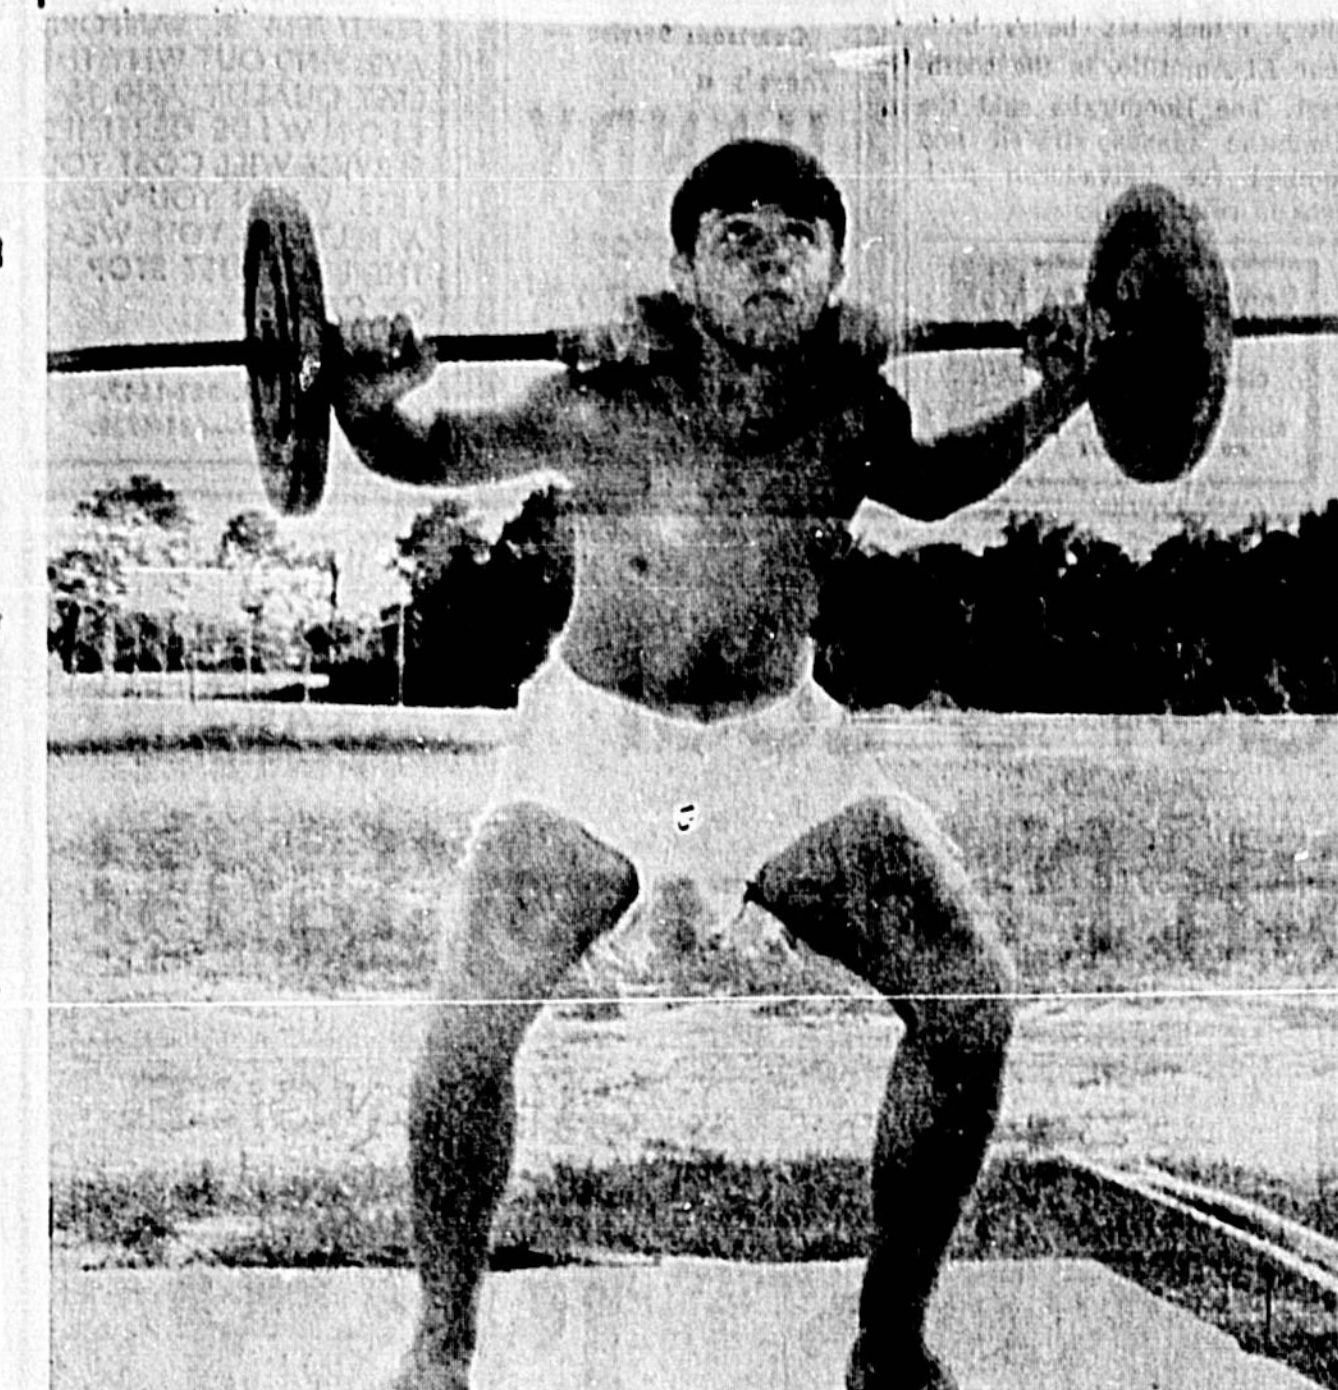

The two cars slammed into the outside retaining wall and Marion's racer burst into flames. Before the other racers came to a stop, Eulenfeld was out of his car and trying to get Marion, but the intense heat from the flames foiled his attempt. Butch Hurst, who was leading the race at the time of the crash, was the next person on the scene and also tried in vain to get Marion as did several others.

What caused the car to burst into flames? This is the question going through the minds of the officials and the car builders. The U.D.R.A. members will bring to this area some of the quickest super stock cars in the Nation. NHRA Super Stock Eliminator will also run that night with $300 going to the winner, and $150 to the runner-up.

Wednesday Street Drags are getting better each week as they now have the moon-light and more and more cars are beginning to show up. The dragway will offer on the same program but in separate program an NHRA Super Stock elimination event for Florida and other South-eastern states which will run on a national record handicapped system.

The Saturday program will be tried in Art Pollard's STY PLYMOUTH-powered car at the 200 mile USAC championship race at Indianapolis Raceway Park, July 27.

Niekro Wins 15th NL West Race Tightens

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Rico Carty, Clete Boyer and Bob Didier striking three straight Cardinals hitted Philadelphia 11-3 with a 11th inning homer, as St. Louis' Mike Mosier pitched a shutout. The Dodgers' Bob Gibson pitched a 14-inning shutout against the Chicago White Sox 8-5; Baltimore edged Cleveland 3-2; Detroit snuffed Washington 4-3 and Oakland beat Seattle 8-2. The Boston New York Yankees game was rained out.

Niekro, 15-7, scattered eight Cincinnati hits and contributed two himself to the Braves' 4-1 victory over the Dodgers. Willie McCovey at first base during a six-run Los Angeles burst in the top of the seventh that sent the Dodgers ahead 11-11, rocked reliever Jim Brewer for the winning homer in the bottom half after singles by Jim Davenport and Ken Henderson. Bobby Bonds drove in five early San Francisco runs with a single and his 19th and 20th homers. Little Maury Wills had four RBIs for the Dodgers on two triples and a homer.

Torres delivered three St. Louis runs with a double, a single and his 13th homer and Javier posed his sixth homer after drilling a pair of singles.

The Cards, who have won four in a row and 12 of their last 14, struck a 2-0 first inning lead, staking for four runs in the second and three more in the third, strking right-hander Mike Torrez to a 9-0 lead.

Torrez, 10-11, had a record at 4-4, with relief help from Ray Washburn, after being tagged for homers by Rick Joseph and Johnny Briggs.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Except for a catcher and one outfielder, Manager Red Schoendienst selected to play today as the selected 11 players to round out the 28-man National League squad for the annual major league All-Star Game.

The game will be played in Washington on July 25. The selection of catcher Chris Cannizzaro of the expansion San Diego Padres and outfielder Rusty Staub of the Montreal Expos filled the requirement that each club in the league must be represented by one player.

Extra catchers chosen by Schoendienst will be Randy Hundley of Chicago and Candy Amodeo of Cincinnati. Cincinnati will be the starter under the vote by players, coaches and manager.

Perhaps depth will be the deciding factor. The Russian men have three Olympic champions and the British Commonwealth wealth, thanks to Australia, hold the advantage in the distance runs.

Sanford Seniors Hit Again By Melbourne

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Staff

The Sanford Senior League All-Stars lost a heart-breaker last night as they were eight runs behind Melbourne in the Melbourne All-Stars 2-1. It was a real pitcher's duel, but an unlearned run in the sixth inning kept Melbourne in the ball game, and another unlearned run in the eighth gave them the victory.

Sanford went onto the score board first in the fourth inning as Randy Boyd walked, stole second, went to third on a ground out and then raced home on a perfectly executed squeeze play with Gordon Bradley at the bat.

Melbourne tied the score in the fifth when Paul Hornung singled and went to third on an error by the pitcher. Dave Trew singled, and Hornung raced home when the ball got past the left fielder. Billy Hope, on the mound for Sanford allowed only one hit until the two hits in the sixth.

Melbourne sent the winning run across the plate in the eighth when Al Grooms led-off with a single, stole second, went to third on a ground out, and then raced home on a perfectly executed squeeze play with Gordon Bradley at the bat.

Drag Program Set At CFD Saturday

The United Drag Racing Association's 1968 Grand American Super Stock Nationals are set for Central Florida Dragway on Saturday, July 26. It will be a midwest-based circuit of professional drag racers. The factory-sponsored, high performance machines will be running in Florida for the first time.

In recent years, most Super Stock racing has been run on a handicap basis, but UDRRA runs head-up (side by side) off the starting line. The dragway will offer on the same program but in separate program an NHRA Super Stock elimination event for Florida and other South-eastern states which will run on a national record handicapped system.

The Saturday program will be tried in Art Pollard's STY PLYMOUTH-powered car at the 200 mile USAC championship race at Indianapolis Raceway Park, July 27.

LETTY VANN, Coach of the Little League team in Deltona, was overwhelmed when the players on his team, in full uniform, marched into the dining room of the Deltona Inn and took their places at Letty's table. Members of the Lion's Club had arranged for this testimonial appearance of the team as a surprise for Letty. The Deltona Little League is the Champion of the 1968-69 season just passed for the Southwest Virginia Little League.

Namath Might Talk, But When?

By SHEILA MORAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Joe Namath affair might be settled today, but don't count on it.

The reluctant quarterback slipped into the Jets' Long Island training camp Wednesday night to talk to his teammates, and Johnny Sample, Namath's voice to the outside world, said, "Namath's been talking with Commissioner Pete Rozelle and they hope to have a thing resolved by Friday or Saturday. They've been meeting every day for three or four days."

Warring Latin Neighbors To Cease Fire Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 The Salvadoran army today has agreed to a 24-hour truce with the Honduran army, ending a 10-day period of sporadic fighting in Latin America's first war in 40 years, and today the prospects for a halt in the fighting looked better.

The Salvadoran Foreign Minister Francisco Jose Guerrero said the ceasefire organized by the Organization of American States would go into effect today. He said this week had been sent to the command posts at the three front lines in the Salvadoran army.

The ceasefire was announced by the Salvadoran government, but the Honduran government had not yet agreed to a permanent ceasefire. The Organization of American States had agreed to a temporary ceasefire Wednesday night, but the ceasefire was not to be permanent. The OAS negotiated without delay in the capital of the two countries.

The OAS Secretary-General, Juan Pizarro, announced in Washington that the Salvadoran and Honduran governments had agreed to a 24-hour truce. The ceasefire was expected to be in effect today.

The OAS Secretary-General said the truce was a "positive step" toward a permanent settlement. He said the OAS would continue to work for a permanent settlement.

The OAS Secretary-General said the truce was a "positive step" toward a permanent settlement. He said the OAS would continue to work for a permanent settlement.

There was no official word on the truce until Thursday. It was said that the Salvadoran forces launched an artillery attack on Honduran forces near El Amalillo, in the southwest. The Honduran government said the Salvadoran forces had bombed the Salvadoran position in retaliation.

Spacecraft commander Neil A. Armstrong, Air Force Col. Edwin E. "Buzz" Aldrin Jr. and Air Force Lt. Col. Michael Collins planned a relatively quiet day today, resting for a historic weekend exploration.

They are to fire themselves into moon orbit Saturday afternoon and a day later Armstrong and Aldrin were to land on the moon's surface. There was speculation that today of Saturday it might detach a capsule which would land, collect soil samples and take off to rejoin the mother ship for the trip back to earth.

American experts said such a maneuver would be a great technical feat. They feel the Soviet purpose in this maneuver would be to demonstrate to the world that the United States is not the only nation capable of sending a man to the moon.

Dr. Elbert King, curator of the laboratory in Houston where the Apollo 11 moon samples will be studied, said the rumored Luna 15 plan would be like "grabbing in the blind." He noted Armstrong and Aldrin are well trained to pick up meaningful rocks and to leave those of little scientific value.

Although Luna 15 orbited close to the planned 60-mile high Apollo 11 path, officials said the chances of collision are almost nil.

Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins reported no problems with Columbia.

"It's a beautiful machine," Armstrong reported.

A minor problem that had plagued the Apollo 11 mission or if it had been resolved Thursday when ground experts traced it to a sensor giving a faulty reading on an oxygen flow indicator. "It must have got a job during the launching," an official said. "It's like driving your car over a bump and having the gas gauge or temperature indicator knocked over by the side and getting stuck there."

Three Brave Americans Ready For Weekend Moon Rendezvous

By HOWARD BENEDICT
 AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The good ship Columbia hurtled deeper into space today, carrying three brave men unerringly toward a Saturday rendezvous with the moon and destiny.

Their target, a shimmering silver crescent, loomed larger and larger as their home planet shrank in the distance.

Spacecraft commander Neil A. Armstrong, Air Force Col. Edwin E. "Buzz" Aldrin Jr. and Air Force Lt. Col. Michael Collins planned a relatively quiet day today, resting for a historic weekend exploration.

They are to fire themselves into moon orbit Saturday afternoon and a day later Armstrong and Aldrin were to land on the moon's surface. There was speculation that today of Saturday it might detach a capsule which would land, collect soil samples and take off to rejoin the mother ship for the trip back to earth.

American experts said such a maneuver would be a great technical feat. They feel the Soviet purpose in this maneuver would be to demonstrate to the world that the United States is not the only nation capable of sending a man to the moon.

Dr. Elbert King, curator of the laboratory in Houston where the Apollo 11 moon samples will be studied, said the rumored Luna 15 plan would be like "grabbing in the blind." He noted Armstrong and Aldrin are well trained to pick up meaningful rocks and to leave those of little scientific value.

Although Luna 15 orbited close to the planned 60-mile high Apollo 11 path, officials said the chances of collision are almost nil.

Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins reported no problems with Columbia.

"It's a beautiful machine," Armstrong reported.

A minor problem that had plagued the Apollo 11 mission or if it had been resolved Thursday when ground experts traced it to a sensor giving a faulty reading on an oxygen flow indicator. "It must have got a job during the launching," an official said. "It's like driving your car over a bump and having the gas gauge or temperature indicator knocked over by the side and getting stuck there."

Moonday Holiday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Essential trades, from the aerospace industry to a diaper service, will work as usual Monday, but many public employees and some private workers will have a holiday to mark the scheduled moon landing.

The possibility of moving up man's first walk on the moon from early Monday to Sunday night, mentioned by flight director Clifford Charlesworth, would have no effect on the holiday.

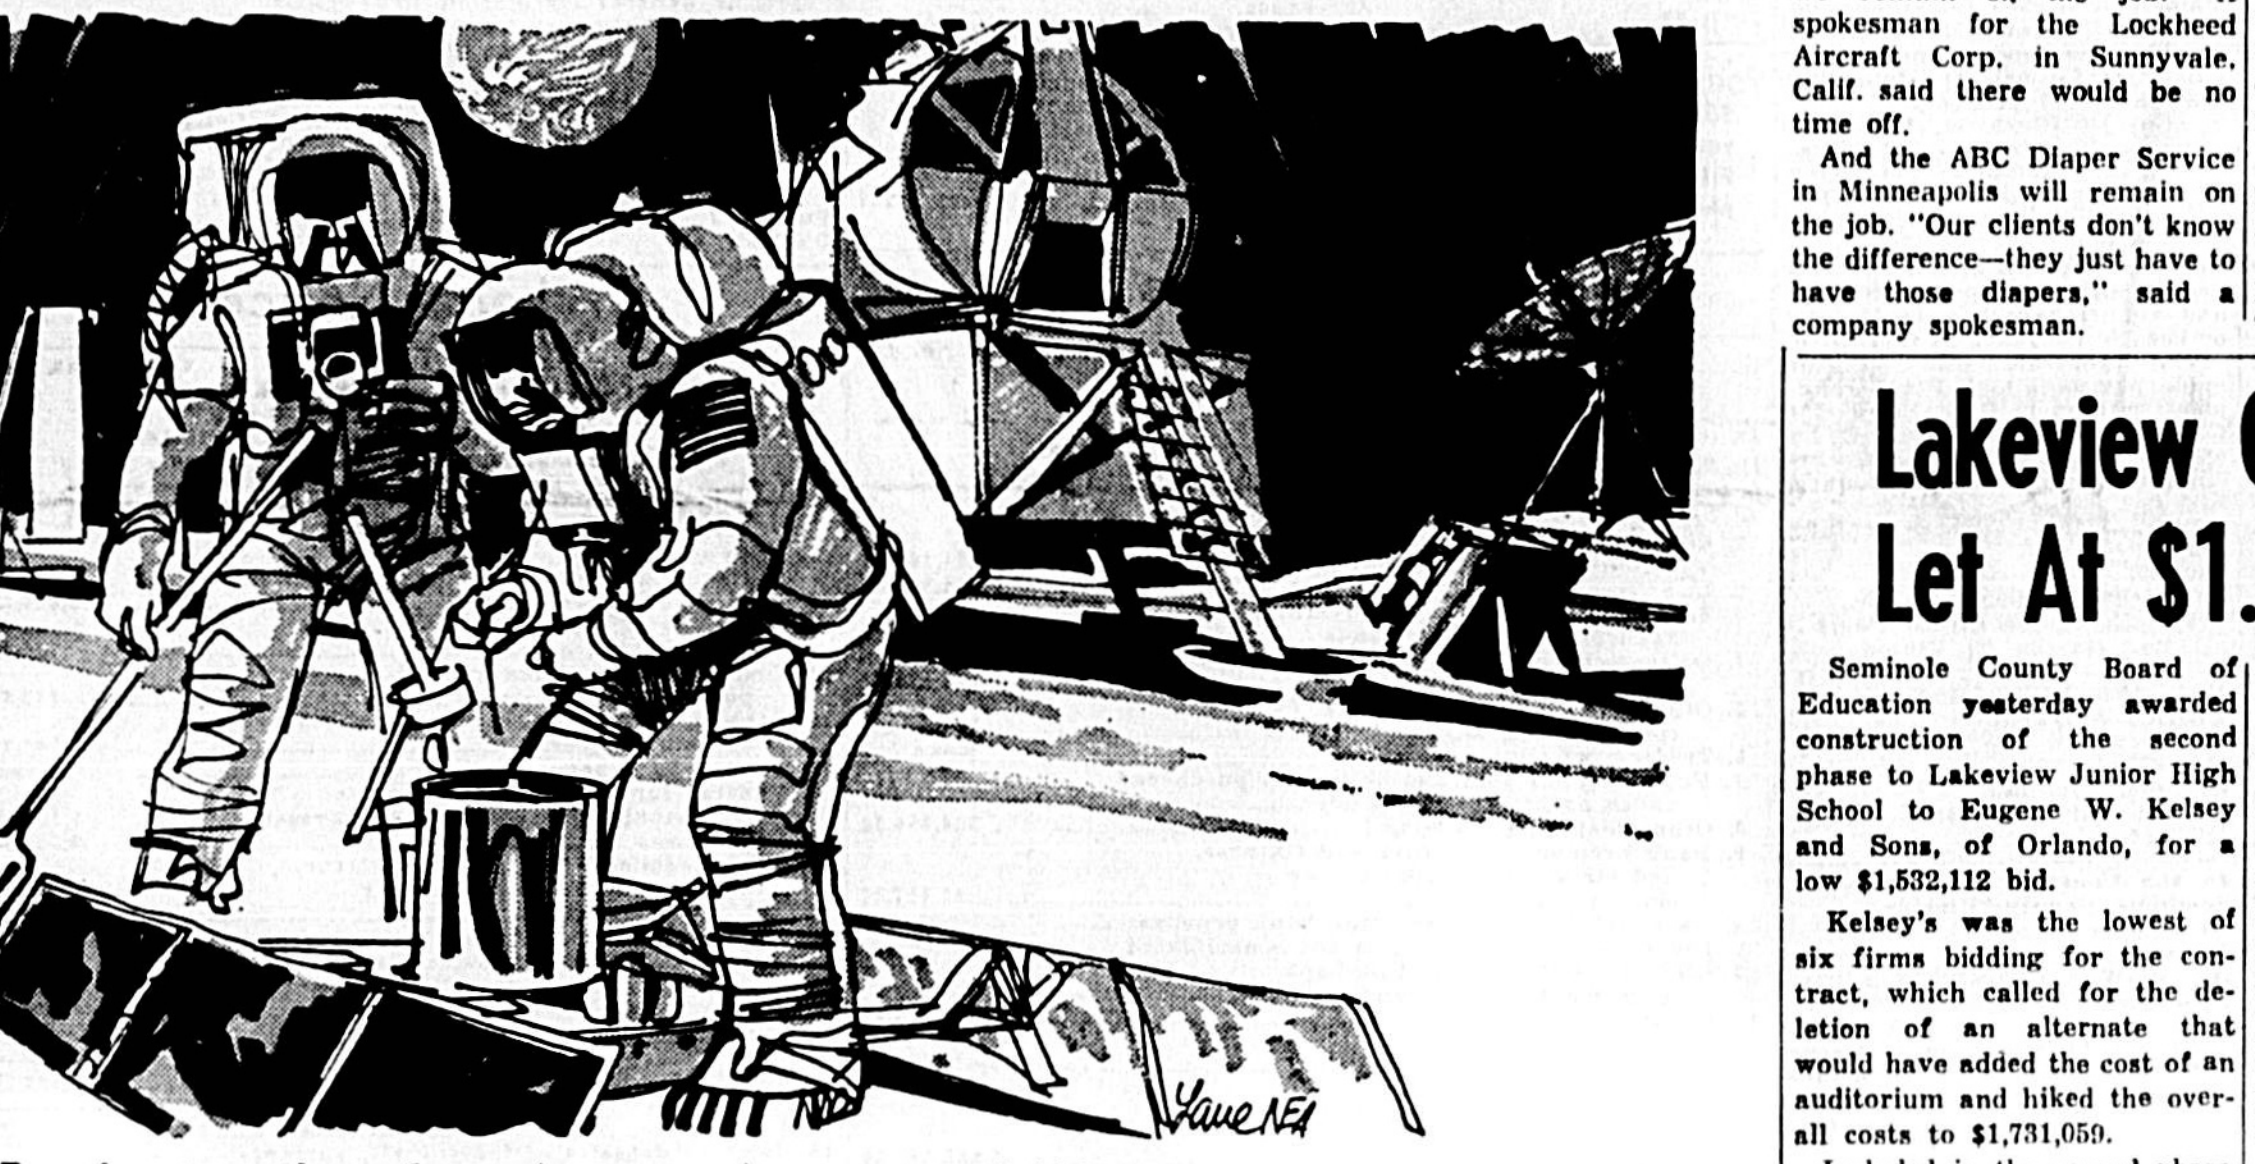

President Nixon declared Monday a national day of participation hours after watching the Apollo 11 liftoff.

The New York and American Stock Exchanges will be closed.

But the Boeing Co., which built a booster rocket for the Apollo 11 mission, said, "Our other commitments are so pressing that it is essential that we remain on the job." A spokesman for the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. in Sunnyvale, Calif. said there would be no time off.

The ABC Diaper Service in Minneapolis will remain on the job. "Our clients don't know the difference—they just have to have those diapers," said a company spokesman.

Most federal employees will be off, except those in emergency services. Many states and cities have given their employees a holiday.

Oil Tax Loopholes Eyed By Congress

By EDMOND LEBREYON
 Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee has begun drafting legislation for the oil industry, symbol to many of the special advantages embedded in the present Internal Revenue Code.

One of the currently legal procedures is a method of increasing a company's income in a single year so it can take full advantage of the 27% depletion allowance, which is limited to one-half of income.

To do this, a company "carves out" a portion of its future production and sells this currently.

A different, so-called ABC transaction involves the sale of assets of one company to another organization or a dummy corporation.

production payments. These, in turn, are sold to a third party, which can be a tax exempt organization or a dummy corporation.

Astronomers Mystified Purpose Of Luna 15?

By ANDREW TORCHIA
 Associated Press Writer

JODRELL BANK, England (AP) — Jodrell Bank astronomers said today they are mystified by the performance of the unmanned Soviet Luna 15 orbiter that went into Thursday and was transmitting bursts of radio data.

The continuing orbit was puzzling scientists here, the West's chief listening post on Soviet space shots. Along with unofficial Moscow sources, they had expected Luna 15 to land on the moon in an attempt to bring back a lunar soil sample before Apollo could do so.

They said it appeared at present to pose no danger to the Apollo 11 mission.

Prof. John G. Davies said Luna 15's two-hour orbit took it "hundreds of miles, maybe a thousand miles" from the Apollo landing site.

Sir Bernard Lovell, observatory director, said Luna 15 remained in the close orbit 62.75 miles above the lunar surface, that it went into Thursday and was transmitting bursts of radio data.

Sheriff Polk Disclaims Ties Of A Politician

By DONNA ESTES

Sheriff John Polk disclaiming himself as a "professional law enforcement officer and not a politician," told the County Commission yesterday, "I'll be the first to say raise the millage if it is necessary to provide adequate law for enforcement for Seminole."

Polk made the statement as he reviewed the news of his department next year. He left no doubt that each and every item in the $411,401.11 budget is necessary to "protect Seminole's people and prepare for the rapid growth expected with advent of Walt Disney World."

"Gentlemen," the sheriff declared, "law enforcement in Seminole County is five years behind. If we wait till Disney World opens we'll fall behind another five years."

Polk cited the need for better patrolling in the Oviedo-Chuluota-Goldenrod area which would require purchase of a new car. "This is the area with the most complaints."

Commission Chairman John Alexander insisted the same degree of protection cannot be provided in rural areas as in urban ones. "Those people pay taxes too," Polk quipped in answer.

He noted the "tree episode" in which the county is currently being threatened with a lawsuit because the sheriff did not have a man available to post as warning that a tree was knocked down across a road near Oviedo several months ago.

Angel was against the increase, "If we raise salaries in one area, we need to consider raising salaries in other areas."

Mrs. Bryant, mentioning the impact of Disneyworld, commented, "It's better to raise a man and keep him than train a new man."

School Board Split

Indicating approval was Chairman John Evans, who, seeing the two members were not going to second Keith's motion, said the next meeting on the budget would be held Thursday at 3 p.m.

This is the time when the public hearing on the proposed budget is scheduled, before the budget is forwarded to the State Education Department.

Unless the disagreement can be resolved before then, it is possible that the vote may be split again at the Thursday meeting at Bay Shore High School.

Dr. Frank Leone from $17,808 to $19,830 which would have made him the highest paid director head on the county payroll. Finally approved tentatively for Leone was a $782 annual increase to $18,660.

The Commission refused to place the director, nursing director and chief sanitarian in the bracket called for in the state merit plan, but raised their salaries in the current bracket however.

All personnel at the department received salary increases. Eliminated were the requests for an additional public health nurse and a sanitarian.

percent less than their Orange County counterparts.

This was compared to the reported five per cent less Seminole teachers receive as compared with Orange County, Mrs. Bryant said.

Objections to raising maintenance and transportation salaries were heard from Carolyn Henley, Lyman High principal and president of the Seminole Education Association.

Henley said teachers would expect pay raises if other departments received them.

Herbert Muse, transportation board member, is not expected to attend the session.

Slaton was not on hand for yesterday's meeting and is reportedly out of town and not expected back in time for the July 24 meeting.

Mrs. Bryant said, "We lost three mechanics from the transportation department last month to Orange County because of low salaries as compared to what is being paid in neighboring counties."

The same problem is evident in the school maintenance department and, according to Richard Zartman, maintenance supervisor, the Seminole County workers are making 45

'Someone Else Is Watching'

By DOUGLAS R. CORNELL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — After a super long distance call to tell America's men on the moon "how proud we all are," President Nixon phoned Mamie Eisenhower and former President Lyndon B. Johnson to share his jubilation with them.

"This certainly has to be the most historic telephone call ever made from the White House," Nixon told astronauts Neil Armstrong and Edwin E. "Buzz" Aldrin Jr.

"For one priceless moment in the whole history of man all of the people on this earth are truly one," Nixon said during his brief message congratulating the astronauts.

After talking with the astronauts, Nixon called Mrs. Eisenhower at the nearby White House mansion where she is visiting. He disclosed that the widow of the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower had commented earlier that "somebody up there is looking at them too" — referring to the late Gen. Eisenhower.

Nixon telephoned Johnson at his Texas home.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler told reporters the President informed Johnson that "I thought we ought to share this great moment."

Johnson told Nixon, Ziegler said, he had been following the Apollo 11 activities all day and appreciated Nixon's call at the historic moment.

Fly Me To The Moon Let Me Play Among The Stars, See What Spring's About On Jupiter And On Mars . . .

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Two Americans, who strode the moon's surface for the first time and raised their nation's banner above it, hold the world in suspense again today with a perilous blastoff for the long journey home.

A successful liftoff and rendezvous with their orbiting command ship would climax an epic expedition in which Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. fulfilled a centuries-old dream of men everywhere.

There is only one liftoff engine on the landing craft they call Eagle. It must work, or the astronauts would be stranded with only 15 hours of oxygen left and no hope of rescue.

They are confident it will perform flawlessly as have millions of other parts of Apollo 11 hardware during the incredible journey that carried man's quest for the unknown to his first landing on another celestial body.

The launching from the moon was scheduled for 1:55 p.m. EDT.

A successful liftoff would shoot them into lunar orbit to chase down Michael Collins, orbiting some 65 miles overhead in the Apollo 11 command ship.

Once linked up, the plan to fire themselves back toward earth early Tuesday, ending a space odyssey in which they etched their names beside those of history's great explorers, Columbus, Balboa, Magellan, da Gama and Byrd.

Through the magic of television, an estimated 500 million people around the world had a ringside seat to man's greatest adventure.

It was unforgettable. A man's foot clinched through the LM hatch and started bucking down a nine-rung ladder. On the second rung from the bottom, he opened a compartment, exposing a television camera.

The picture was black and white and somewhat jerky, but it recorded history.

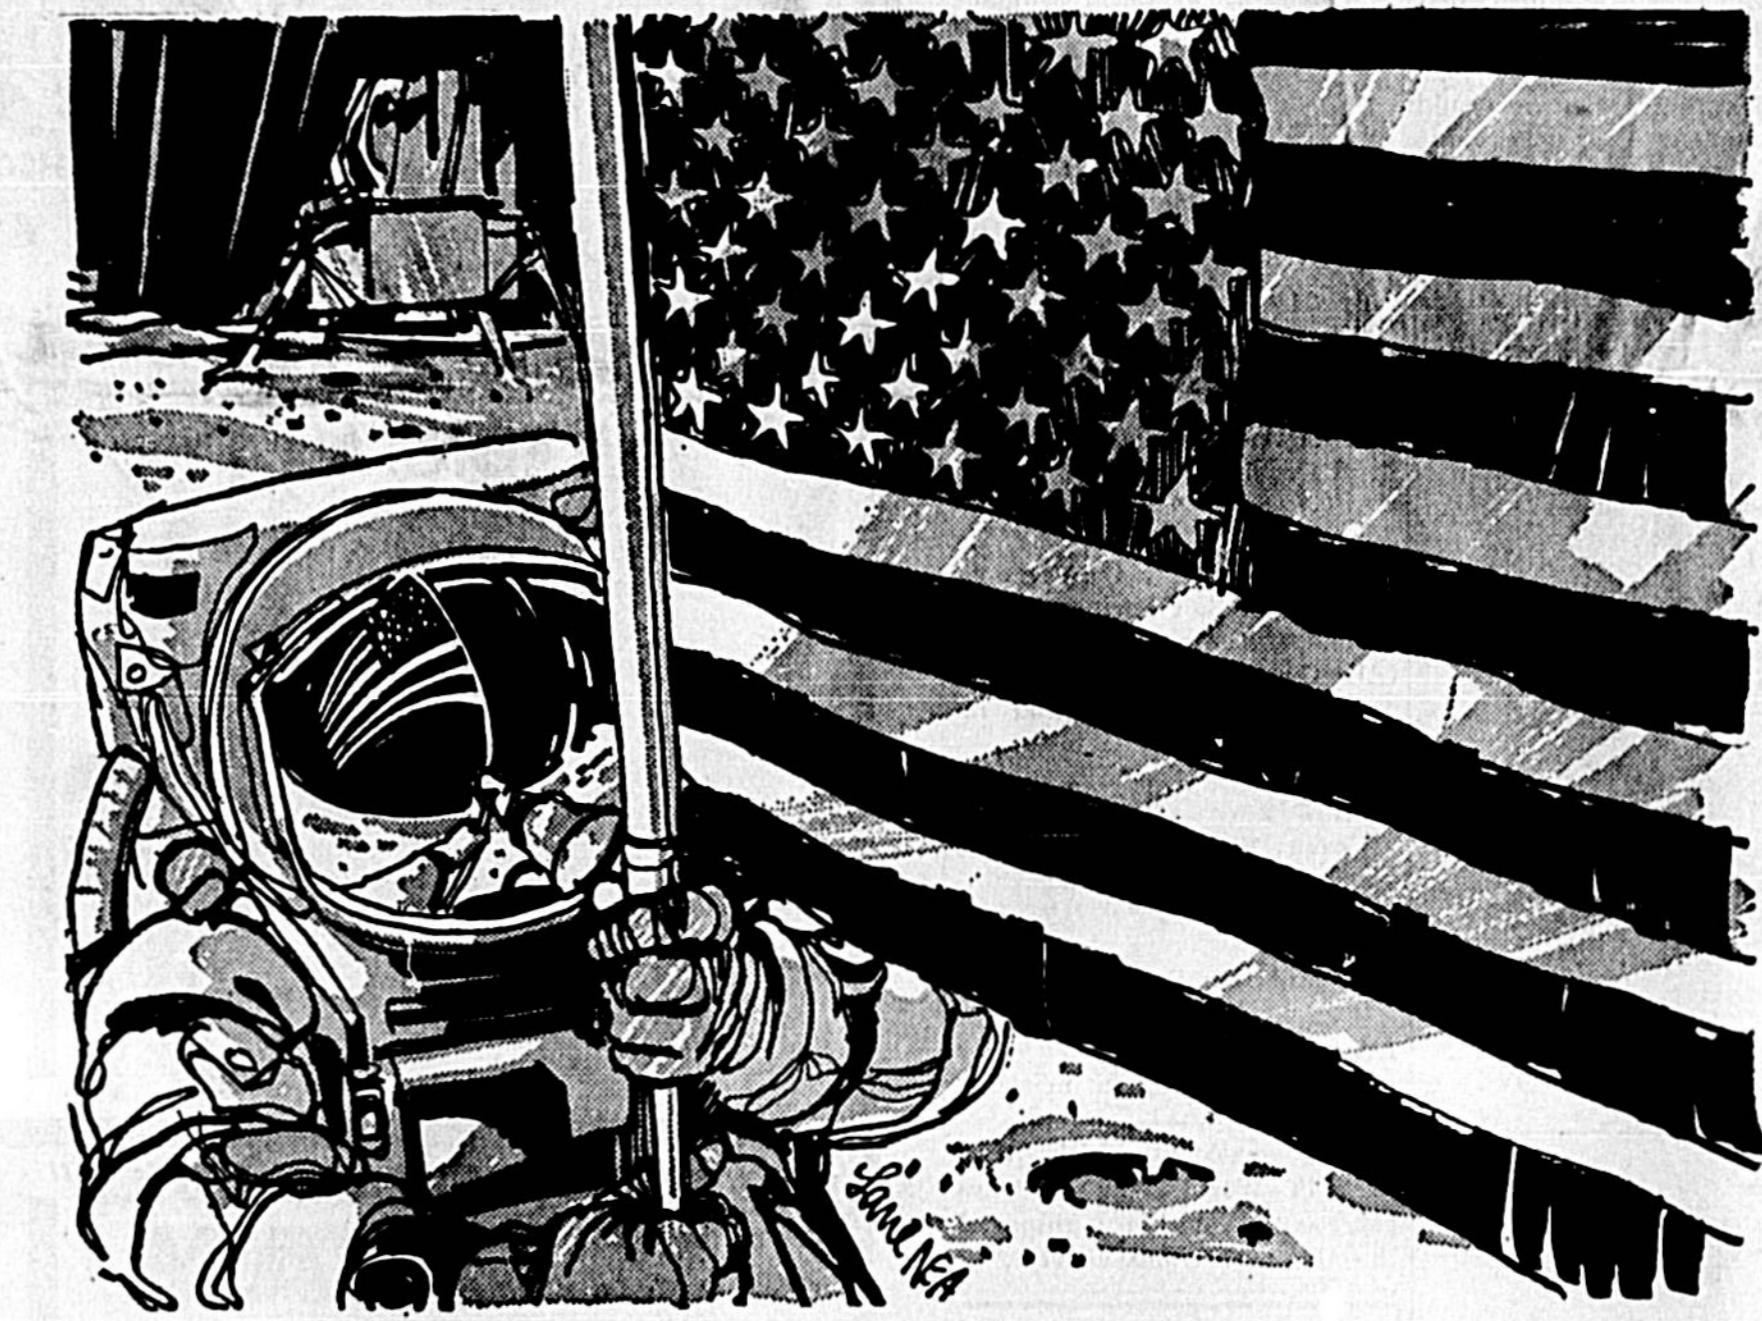

Among scientists, there was elation that the crew had landed in an area with a variety of rocks, a treasure that held at least the hope of a rich payoff in the search to learn more about moon and earth.

As Armstrong planted his size 9½ left boot on the powdery surface at 10:56 p.m. Sunday, he spoke words that will be remembered for all time: "That's one small step for man, a giant leap for mankind."

The camera trained on Aldrin as he stepped on the far shore 20 minutes late and exclaimed: "Beautiful! Beautiful! Magnificent desolation."

Engine Means Life Or Death

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Their bold exploration of the moon completed, astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. now depend upon one engine to lift them to the safety of their mother ship for the voyage home.

For at least six critical minutes, this engine must fire to boost them to the ship circling overhead with Michael Collins.

There's no way to pretest on the moon, whether this ascent engine will work as it's supposed to.

The 3,500-pound thrust engine, which cost $230,000, must carry the two men straight up for 14 seconds, then tip over to an angle of 52 degrees to place them in an egg-shaped orbit ranging from 11 to 52 miles above the moon.

It is programmed to fire for 7 minutes, 18 seconds.

If it failed after six minutes, the astronauts could use small thruster rockets to push on up into their orbit.

But if it failed before six minutes elapsed, the little rockets couldn't finish the task. The astronauts would go into a trajectory like a ballistic missile and crash on the moon.

The ascent engine is at the base of the lunar craft's cabin section—the upper part of the LM or lunar module. The bottom section of the LM is composed of the braking rocket and landing legs. To depart the moon, Armstrong and Aldrin will separate the upper and lower stages by detonating explosive bolts and use the lower stage as a launching pad.

Luna 15 Lands

By ANDREW TORCHIA
JODRELL BANK, England (AP) — Russia landed Luna 15 on the moon's surface today, 500 miles from where America's Apollo astronauts were preparing to take off on their journey back to earth, Jodrell Bank Observatory reported.

Signals picked up at the giant radio-telescope here indicated this after four days of moon orbit the unmanned probe landed on the moon's Sea of Crises.

Jodrell Observatory, headed by 55-year-old Sir Bernard Lovell, stood by for any sign that Luna itself might be preparing to return to earth.

Prof. John G. Davies, Lovell's aide, said at 12:05 p.m. EDT: "Luna has landed."

The last signals received from Luna were "appropriate to a soft landing," he added.

Unofficial sources in Moscow had predicted when Luna 15 took off July 13 that it would attempt a remote-controlled lunar landing to retrieve a sample of moon soil—a task already performed by the American astronauts.

But in the absence of signals, there was no immediate indication that Luna 15 was operating "live" on the moon's surface.

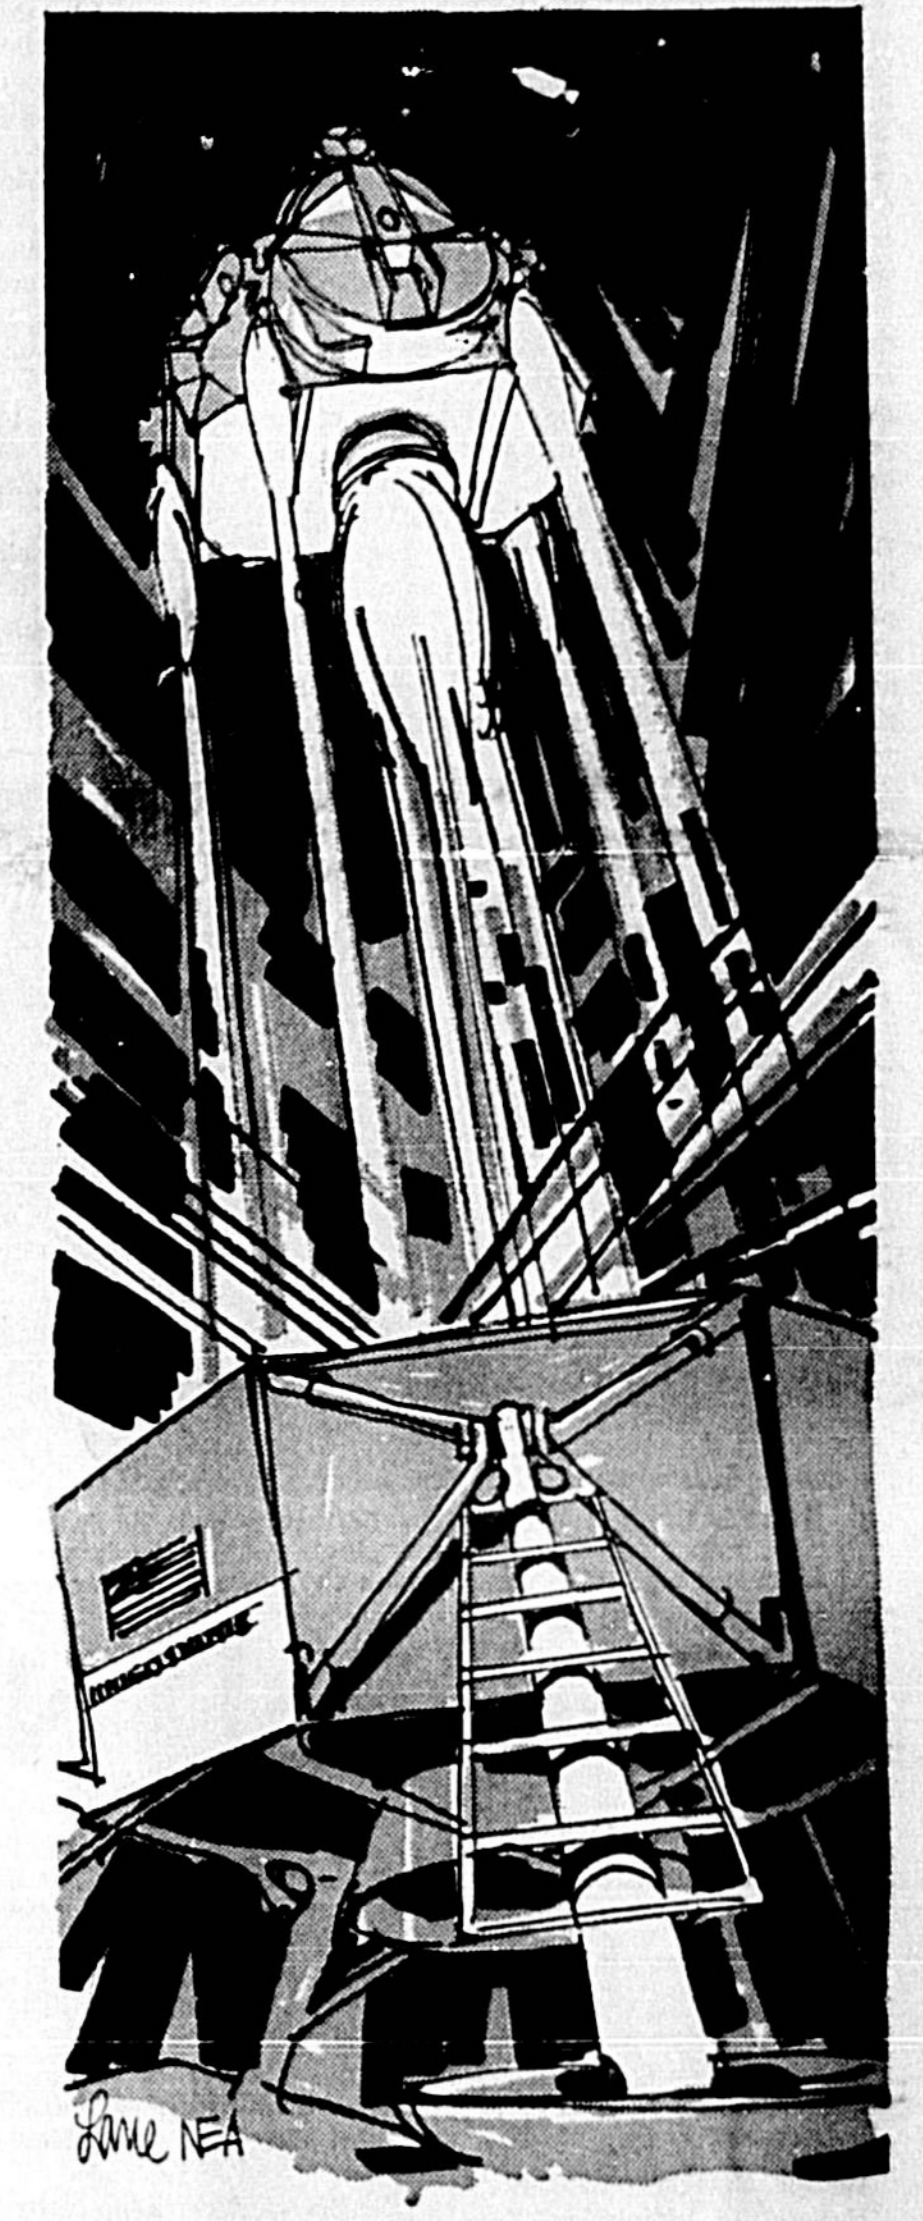

Asked about the possibility that the probe could still lift off with a lunar sample for a round trip to earth ahead of Apollo 11, Davies said: "It is now possible that the Russian probe will be back faster than the Americans. There may be savings in time with an unmanned craft with no docking procedures."
