U.S.-Canadian Trade Treaty Is Questioned

Constitutionality Of Law May Be Tested In The Courts By Lumber Interests

Pact Was Made Public Sunday

Goa Into Effect On Jan. 1; Deep Slash Is Made In Tariffs

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. (AP)—Court action to test the constitutionality of the law under which the new Canadian-American trade treaty was negotiated was hinted today by representatives of the lumber industry.

The 60 percent slash which the treaty provides in duties on Canadian lumber was described by officials of the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association as "paralyzing to general economy of important parts of the country," and as a "threat of disaster to wage earners" in those sections. They declined to be quoted by name or to say positively whether a test of the reciprocal tariff acts validity would be instituted.

Treaty details were being studied by politicians as well as by business interests. Some talked privately of the possibility that the treaty might become an issue in next year's presidential campaign.

The American-Canadian trade agreement embracing sweeping mutual tariff slashes designed to promote "general economic recovery" in both nations was made public yesterday by President Roosevelt.

President expressed the belief the trade pact would result in a doubling of trade between the two countries in a year or two, with the consequent effect of reducing unemployment.

The state department said the Indian import charges will be lowered on products of which the United States shipped $115,000 worth in the year ended March, 1930—the last before the Dominion levied levies, it is estimated that this country's reductions would affect commodities which accounted for two-thirds of $60,000,000 of Canadian imports in 1929.

The new trade treaty was signed last Friday and is to go into effect on Jan. 1.

Supreme Tribunal Remands Futch Act To Lower Courts

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. (AP)—The lower court decision holding unconstitutional the Florida law known as the Futch Act, modified form of tax moratorium, was reversed today by the Supreme Court and the case was returned to the Southern Florida Federal District Court for further proceedings. The action was on technical grounds and the court did not pass on the merits of the case.

Under usual procedure a new decision will be given by the Federal District Judge of the Circuit Court of Appeals and then the controversy will be brought back to the high court.

The case at the bar involved the taxes of the St. Lucie Inlet Corp.

Coast Gets Improvements, Central Florida Gets None, Papworth Would Know Why

"Why do the coastal areas get federal grants for water transportation facilities, while Central Florida is left out?" is a question asked today by H. M. Papworth, pioneer citizen and large property owner in Seminole County, in commenting on the reported allocation of $1,000,000 for harbor improvements at Canaveral. He said that it seems to him that all the harbors and inlets on the Indian River "Florida needs those improvements at Canaveral about as much as my fox terrier needs two tails."

According to Mr. Papworth, every improvement on the St. Johns River of any importance for years past has been paid for by the people, but during that same period any improvement asked for by the people of the East Coast

Aviators Thrill County Tax Rolls Crowds At Field Completed Ahead Sunday Afternoon Of Many Counties

Drop "Bombs," Burst Balloons, Contest In Spot Landings Tax Totals $352,000 On Between 15,000 And 18,000 Items

Aviators of the St. Johns River Valley Airways Association thrilled crowds that spent Sunday afternoon at the Sanford Municipal Airport, and gave added thrills to those who were taken for rides in the two-seated planes. The planes began to go about 10:30 A. M., and one was down before the last one to its home port.

Several towns in the valley were represented at the air meet, but all the prizes went to Orlando aviators. Bill Mueller won the balloon bursting contest, the prize for bomb dropping went to Pilot Lott, and Pilot Knuth was awarded the trophy for making the best spot landing.

Goodyear Blimp Visits Sanford Friday, Nov. 22

The Goodyear Airship Reliance will be in Sanford on Nov. 22, according to announcement received today by E. S. Rockey, the proprietor of the Rockey Tire Shop.

The ship will spend part of the day on the lakefront and will be carrying passengers from the field during the day.

Captained by Frank Trotter, with John Ricker, Wm. Hudson, L. P. Furelow as co-pilots, the Reliance is one of the newest of the Goodyear blimps, having been built in 1931. It flew at Chicago during the World's Fair and has been operating in New York the past summer.

Tax collections have been made on the Seminole County books is $352,000.00, but because of a change made in the law by the last state legislature, which nulls state tax delinquent properties, Mr. Doudney said that it is impossible to make a complete record with the assessment of last year.

Tax collections have been made by Mr. Jinkins since Nov. 1, even though the roll was not complete in every respect. Those paying taxes during the current month earn a discount of 4 percent off the toll, a 3 percent discount will be made in December, a discount of 2 percent in January, and a discount of 1 percent will be made to those paying their taxes in February. Property owners waiting until March will have to pay the full assessment. Taxes will become delinquent on April 1.

The roll as prepared by Mr. Doudney sets forth taxes for the following purposes: state, county, special school districts, school and road bonds, black land, mock drainage and poll taxes.

Satisfactory Prices Quoted On State Mart

18 Different Kinds Of Vegetables And Fruits On Farmers' Wholesale Market

First quotations on produce handled at the Sanford State Farmers' Wholesale Market, established today, are stated to be satisfactory. Cabbage tops the price range, from $40 to $50 per ear being quoted on that vegetable. Snap beans are bringing a price of from $1.25 to $1.50, peppers up to $1.75, No. 1 potatoes $2 and $2.25, squash $2.75, tomatoes $3.

Eighteen different fruits and vegetables are listed on the market today by J. G. Michael, manager. These are avocados, beets, cabbage, carrots, collards, cucumbers, eggplant, grapefruit, lettuce, oranges, peppers, pineapples, potatoes, squash, turnips, tomatoes, and turnips. According to Mr. Michael, this is a long list for this early in the season. Celery, the big crop in this section, will not be on the market for several weeks.

The report of sales of fruits and vegetables at the State Market to grocers, florist, assemblers and other dealers for the 24-hour period ending at 6 A. ## German Peasants Named To Form A New Aristocracy

GOSLAR, Germany, Nov. 18. (AP)—More than 600,000 half-banded peasants have joined the "new aristocracy" the Nazis are establishing on Germany's farms.

Work has temporarily halted on the freezing point. Maximum wind velocities ranged from 48 miles an hour at Boston to 60 at Atlantic City. Velocity at New York was 45 miles an hour, with the wind coming in erratic gusts. The barometer at New York, after dropping most of the day, leaped off at 30.02 at 4 P. M.

Tax deeds for city properties sold under the Adair foreclosure will not be issued until the latter part of this week in the foreclosed lots, Sheriff J. F. McClelland said today.

As pleasing to farm leaders as the large number of these settlers is the fact that an increase of 200,000 has been recorded among hereditary farmers since Jan. 1, and that the number of applications for such farms may soon bring the total number to more than 100,000.

Heads of the Reich's estate of agriculture found in these figures much cause for satisfaction as they conducted meetings Sunday of their third Nazi farmers'眷属.

The idea of hereditary farms is the specific flowering of ideas discussed in convention addresses under titles like "civilization based on blood," and "peasant work as compared to Jewish economic ways."

Before hundreds of farmers, many of them in their colorful native costumes, leaders of German agriculture, racial theories, and politics extolled the peasant firmly rooted in his own soil, as the very backbone of the Reich.

An explanation of the proposed Townsend Act was offered by E. F. Householder at a meeting of the local Townsend Club last Friday night. Officials of the organization said it was such a clear explanation of the proposed law that 40 persons joined the club.

H. C. Swaggerty, a resident of the Lake Monroe section where he was engaged in farming for the last 18 years, died at 9:45 o'clock this morning in the Vernalis Laughon Hospital. Funeral services will be held from the Erickson Funeral Home at 8 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Swaggerty was born in Kingsville, Tenn., on Dec. 21, 1870, and spent his young manhood there, coming to Florida in 1917. The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ruth Swaggerty, four daughters, five sons, a sister and two brothers. The sons and daughters all reside in Lake Monroe. They are E. R. W. B. C. R. Frank, Ruby, Miss Bowles and Mrs. Ruth Swaggerty. Mrs. O. J. Sykes and Mrs. R. D. Bassett. The sister, Mrs. J. T. Bohannon, and the brothers, Sam and John Swaggerty, live in Knoxville, Tenn.

The Rev. W. P. Brooks, Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church will officiate at the funeral service and the pall bearers will be Charlie Bates, Albert Hawkins, Guy Stanford, Jr., R. Mann, Ed. Clegg and Jack Mann.

No Cause Tonight For Having Ennui

There's plenty of "what's going on" in Sanford tonight. Persons with a religious bent should not find the annual meeting of the Episcopal Church boring. Those attending the Junior Chamber of Commerce dinner dance ought to lose any semblance of insipidity. There will probably be little interest at the Boy Scout Camp of Honor. People who are agriculturally inclined will not find the meeting of the advisory committee of the Farmers' Market weary some. The American Legion dinner is guaranteed to relieve any languor. World War veterans might have the club promise to banish tediousness for those who enjoy that game. Boys putting on a boxing program are sure there will be no lassitude at the Arena. And "Broadway Melodrama" are certain not to bore patrons of the theater.

Autonomy For North China 'Ex' From Vet Is Agreed To Organizations

National Government

Japan To Advise

Japanese To Control
Operation Of New

By The Associated Press
Chinese officials at Peiping said today they had agreed to autonomy of North China because of fear of the Japanese army. Five provinces making up the area will receive financial and economic independence from the republic, although still acknowledging nominal sovereignty of the national government.

Chinese sources said that Major General Kengtui Dohara of the Japanese army had presented an ultimatum to China demanding action on the autonomy plan by noon tomorrow. From Tokyo came word that the new state will operate under Japanese control, with Japanese communists, both civil and military "advising" the new government.

The new state will be governed by the "autonomous council" of the Republic of China, Hsiao Chang-Ying, governor of Charhar, said today.

General Sung Chao-Yuan, commander of the Peiping-Tientsin military area, may be chairman of the council. He formerly was Governor of Charhar but was ousted under Japanese pressure when he became commander of the garrison here he made friends with the Japanese and since then has been one of the most important pro-Japanese leaders in the north.

The new regime will be completely independent in civil, military and financial affairs. Chinese officials now in office probably will be retained for the time being.

A majority of Chinese appeared reconciled to the movement and many of them vociferously were in favor of it because of their opposition to ranking financial policy and the tax situation.

City Commission To Adjourn Session For Dinner For Lehmann

Regular bi-weekly session of the Sanford City Commission will be adjourned next Monday evening because of the testimonial dinner to be given that evening at the Mayfair Hotel to Karl Lehmann, former secretary of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. Mayor T. L. Duran today authorized Secretary Ralph E. Bagwell of the Chamber of Commerce to make the announcement, the latter adding the information that nearly all the city officials have made reservations for the banquet.

Advance reservations for the function must be made, Mr. Bagwell said, and he urged those who intend going to the banquet to let that fact be known as only about 200 persons can be accommodated.

The City Commission session will be adjourned from Monday evening to Tuesday evening of next week.

Former Service Men
Told They Are Yet
In Front Rank, To Fight Communism

Veterans of this nation's wars are not "old" service men, neither are they "former" service men, but they are in service now, in the front rank to lead the fight against communism, a hundred men gathered in the American Legion Hall and were told by three speakers last night. The speakers were a Legion official, a Veterans of Foreign Wars leader, and a civilian who was in close contact with the war in Spain a generation ago. All spoke spontaneously, but all seemed to have the same thought.

The main speaker was Ira L. Hopper, state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, but the duty of the veterans in leading the fight on communism was assumed by O. Raymond Ellers, adjutant of the Legion post in Orlando. He declared that in the struggle to preserve America against communism, the American Legion must take the lead, and in doing that we will be doing a real piece of constructive work."

W. F. (Bill) Shelley, who presented the post with an M-1 Springfield rifle as a relic of the Spanish-American War, asserted that "communism is eating out the vital chords of the American people, trying to drag down the flag, and it is up to you boys to stop them." Commander Hopper said that "communism is nothing more than bolshevism dressed up in long breeches," but that its principles will be put to rout if the veterans organizations fight together.

Commander L. P. Boyle, commander of the local Legion post, presided at the "Millingen" dinner served the veterans and also introduced Commander Wm. T. Conner, Jr., and Past Commander V. Ray Rogers of the Orlando Legion post, both of whom complimented the Sanford unit on its remarkable growth in membership and thanked the veterans for their co-operation in the

German Arrested In England Under Its Secrets Act

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Dr. Herman Goetz, German, has been arrested at Harwich, authorities announced today, charged under the Official Secrets Act. Goetz was remanded, officials said, and will appear in the courts in a normal way.

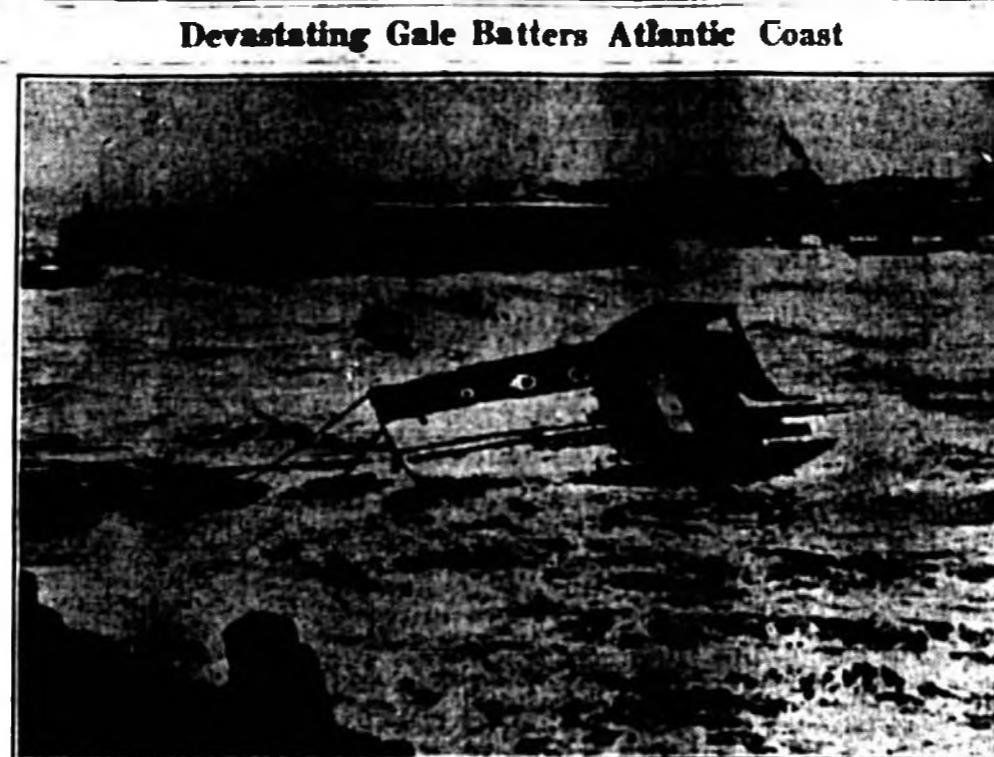

The Daily Sketch called the arrest a sensational development, arising from reports circulating for some time in a number of naval ports and air stations in South and West England. The Sketch said Goetz was a war time member of the German air force and a frequent visitor to England before and after the war.

No announcement was made of the nature of the secrets involved.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Mounting Republican opposition to the New Deal's reciprocal trade treaty with Canada crystallized today in a challenge to let voters pass upon it in the 1936 elections.

Chase Elected To Head Historical Society Of State

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Joshua C. Chase, distinguished Florida pioneer of Winter Park and Sanford, friend and associate of such great developers of the state as Flagler, Plant and General Sanford, was elected president of the Florida Historical Society at the annual meeting held here today. Mr. Chase, who is one of the leading citizens and shippers of the state, has always been a key student of Florida's history and gave a notable historical survey of the state's development at the semi-centennial of Rollins College last April.

Borah Friends Plan To Place Name On Ballot

Duel Between Idaho Solon And Hoover For Nomination By G. O. P. Is Forecast

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Word reached the capital today that friends of Senator William E. Borah will enter his name in a number of next year's presidential primaries unless they get a "positive" nod" from the Idaho Republican party.

Coming from reliable political sources, the word served to emphasize the possibility of a spectacular duel between Borah and former President Hoover either earlier or later in the Republican nomination or the summer, the party shall take. Whether or not Borah and Hoover become nominees, and other developments have indicated they are rapidly moving into leadership of two opposing factions within the party.

Gossips about prospective Republican presidential candidates cover a very wide range, but in the last analysis the contestants most likely to mount strong candidacies are the two men.

This does not mean that the nomination lies between them. Indeed, the most prominent question of all is whether either of them will be a candidate at all.

It does mean, however, that no discussion of the outcome can go far without someone saying either that we only know what Hoover means to do or that there would be much easier for Borah to mount an campaign.

This does not mean that the political prophets may pretend to be when they speak for publication, it can be set down with certainty that they will remain disturbed and doubtful in their own minds, and that their own indecision and indecisiveness will be reflected in their policies.

The reasons for this are apparent. The two are regarded by many voters as persons of the two Republican schools of thought. Each possesses a potent influence not claimed by the other.

Outstanding among the questions as to what they should do to help provide the right environment for young people are the construction of new tennis courts, a swimming pool, and the development of an adequate football field.

Responding to this talk, Mr. O. Shimboller, to whom the community is trying to do to help the young people get the right start in life and particularly emphasized the work of the Rotary Club since his time. He cited certain instances in which older citizens of the town had assisted in finding jobs for young men and in aiding them to plan their lives well.

The program was under the direction of J. E. Ingle, chairman of the Community Service Committee. Leonard Melone, High School coach, introduced Mr. Zachry.

Ethiopian Fire Hits Plane Being Flown By Count Ciano In Battle Near Makale

Selassie Leaves His Capital City

Takes Airplane, But Ultimate Destination Is Not Known

By The Associated Press
Emperor Haile Selassie left Addis Ababa today by airplane for an unannounced destination. He travelled in a twin-motor plane, the empress and two princesses seeing him off.

The application of sanctions against Italy by 51 nations of the world in accordance with the League of Nations' action was the signal for an Italian naval attack on Ethiopian forces on the northern front which Ciano said resulted in 2000 deaths among native warriors.

A squadron of 20 planes, led by Count Ciano's son-in-law, Count Galeazzo Ciano, engaged in a pitched battle with the army of Emperor Selassie south of Makale. The Ethiopians turned their anti-aircraft fire on the machine gun and bomb attack from above and succeeded in bringing down the plane of Count Ciano who escaped unharmed. Before landing his disabled plane Count directed a double attack which Italian authorities said led to the dispersal of 15,000 Ethiopian troops and gave the Ethiopians one of their most important victories of the conflict.

This was the first request received by the high tribunal from a state seeking to start original action in the Supreme Court against New Deal legislation. Usually cases are started in lower courts and brought here on appeal.

The high court already had agreed to review a case brought by Lee Moon, a Texas planter, which affected the Bankhead Act. But some attorneys contend it should be decided without regard to the validity of the act itself.

More sought to compel the federal to inspect cotton which had been withheld to show he had complied with the act. His position was dismissed by lower court. Arguments will be heard here on December 1st with government attorneys participating.

Thalmadge contended the legislation was "unconstitutional" as it was rendering the state's cotton industry virtually worthless. It operates two prison farms on which cotton is grown.

Conrad's position, which asked that the act be declared unconstitutional and that Secretary Moon be enjoined from collecting the tax imposed on cotton produced in excess of a fixed quota, had been opposed by Stanley Reed, the solicitor general.
