"Dictator" Long Says Louisiana Should Quit U.S.

(Continued From Page One) crats and all those other 'crats up there." By "up there," it was understood he meant in Washington. The senator said he had enough on his hands in Louisiana without stopping to analyze politics in other parts of the country. Asked about Upton Sinclair, in California, he responded: "The State of Louisiana is big enough for me to handle—I don't know anything about those other states. There's two million people here in Louisiana and I'm just on in two states."

Left alone, though, the "kingfish" promised to have 4,000,000 people in Louisiana "in five or six years." The senator heard of a dispute as to whether Minnesota or Alabama had the best team in the country to play in the Rose Bowl this year. Before 8 A. M. he was on the telephone to tell the world who had the best team. "Louisiana State University," he lauded into the mouthpiece. "I'll tell you what we'll do," he hurried on. "We'll play both teams at any place they pick in the same week." His enthusiasm mounting, he added quickly: "We'll play 'em both the same day." By this time his talk in L. S. U. had run on all over the world, and his enthusiasm went out of control: "We'll play 'em both at the same time—and if they're still afraid, we'll let 'em pick any 11 men they want out of our squad and we'll beat 'em with what's left, just provided they'll leave us four backs." "Now," roared the "kingfish," "let 'em come on and play us or shut up all this talk about who's got the best team in the country." ## Federal Officers Charge Tusconan With Robles Affair

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The Department of Justice today announced that its agents had taken into custody Oscar H. Robson, "Buster," upon authorization of the United States attorney of Phoenix, Ariz., as the kidnaper of six-year old June Robles. The department said that a federal complaint is being filed charging Robson with the sending of extortion letters through the United States mails. Robson, 31-year-old resident of Tucson, Ariz., was identified by system handwriting experts who declared that the handwriting in the extortion letters which called for the payment of $15,000 was his. For several years he has been connected with a dance hall at Tucson. The Robles child was kidnaped by an unidentified man Apr. 25 while she was going home from school. On the afternoon of May 14 she was found and returned alive to her home. Flowers will, however, do fairly well if the water is changed regularly and the stems cut daily. The chief suspect of Dubuque, French West Africa, is named.

DOUMERGUE IS OUSTED AS PREMIER

Flandin Agrees To Organize New French Government at Request of President

PARIS, Nov. 8.—(A.P.)—French politics tossed Premier Gaston Doumergue into discard today, and Doumergue's minister of Public Works, Etienne Flandin, agreed to form a new French government and serve as Premier.

He accepted this task at the request of President Lebrun who previously had offered the premiership to the chief neutral in French politics, Pierre Laval, the resigned foreign minister.

Laval, however, declined the task. The French public was fearful of a repetition of the riots which brought the Doumergue government into being and watched the rapid succession of events with nervousness.

Doumergue had based his rule on the idea of a "political truce" and Lebrun called upon Laval in an effort to salvage that type of government.

EXEMPTION ACT NOT EFFECTIVE UNTIL NEXT YEAR

Taxes For 1934, Prior Years Must Be Paid; Ad Campaign Urged

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Attorney General Cary D. Landis yesterday ruled the Homestead Tax Exemption Amendment, written into the Constitution by the Florida voters Monday, cannot apply to taxes levied and assessed for 1934 and prior years.

Its first effective year, he advised Comptroller J. M. Lee, will be 1935. State and county taxes for that year will become due Nov. 1, 1935.

Taxes for state and county purposes for 1934 became due and payable Nov. 1, six days before the amendment was ratified by an overwhelming majority in Tuesday's general election. A discount of 4 percent is allowed if taxes are paid during November. Levies for prior years now are delinquent.

Writing in response to an inquiry from Comptroller Lee, the attorney general said: "Under the adoption of the Homestead Tax Exemption Amendment... it is my opinion that the same is effective with respect to taxes levied and assessed thereafter. This in effect means that taxes for the year 1935 will not attach to homesteads up to the valuation of $5,000.

"All taxes for the year 1934 and prior years levied and assessed against homesteads prior to the effective date of said amendment, even though they have not yet been paid, in my opinion constitute a continuing tax charge against homesteads on which levied and assessed until paid."

With more than two-thirds of the state's precincts tabulated in the general election, the amendment held a victory margin of 87,184 to 31,586. The vote was from 861 precincts.

The amendment met stern opposition in Duval County, but emerged with a margin of 7798 to 6761 in its favor. Dade and Hillsborough counties, the other two centers of population, voted overwhelmingly for exemption.

A nation-wide advertising campaign to tell of the $5,000 Homestead Tax Exemption law in Florida was advocated in Orlando yesterday by Walter W. Ross, member of the State Senate from (Continued From Page Two)

New Deal Landslide Serves To Agitate Financial Markets; More Inflation Seen

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Financial markets, after manifesting apparent apathy to the New Deal landslide at the polls, finally surged upward in the late dealings yesterday.

The late upswing carried wheat above $1 a bushel for the first time in nearly a month, gave the stock market its best turnover in four weeks, and sent average prices of industrial shares to the highest levels since late August. Net gains of $1 to $4 a share were numerous.

In the morning trading, stocks and bonds, notably U. S. government issues, sagged a little in sluggish dealings, and commodities were hesitant.

Buying was believed in brokerage quarters to be largely speculative, but some quarters said important buying of American securities for foreign account was evident.

U. S. government bonds were off as much as 1-32 to 7-16 of a point in the Stock Exchange at their lowest levels, but they recovered part of their losses as stocks and staples rallied. Final prices were 1-32 of a point higher to 6-16 of a point lower—one point representing $1 per $100 par value.

Hamilton Fish Sees GOP Needing New Set of Policies

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Representative Hamilton Fish, a Republican survivor of the Roosevelt landslide, declared yesterday the "unmistakable mandate of the election is that the Republican party must humanize and liberalize its policies."

Fish, a vigorous opponent of the Roosevelt New Deal, was re-elected in the twenty-sixth district which includes the President's home county, Dutchess.

"The old guard reactionaries," Fish said, "were slaughtered by the voters all over the country. The Republican party must reaffirm its early principles enunciated by Abraham Lincoln that human rights are superior to property rights and that labor is prior to capital."

The leadership of the Republican party, he said, "and I do not refer to Henry Fletcher, head of the New York state committee, as they have just taken office, has been hopelessly Bourbon and in certain states dominated by wealth and special privileges. No amount of progressive lip service from reformed reactionaries out of sympathy with the rights and aims of the people will satisfy or deceive the voters."

Paola Men Find Remains Of Mastodon, Mammoth Which Lived Here 10,000 Year Ago

George Smith, I. M. Dyess and D. B. Denmark, all living in the Paola section of Seminole County, have announced the finding of the fairly complete skeletal remains of the American mastodon and also some mammoth material. This find was made in the Wekiva River about 11 miles west of Sanford about two weeks ago.

The major fossil material is as follows: a broken but complete lower jaw with four complete teeth; also a portion of the skull with three teeth in place, the upper part of the skull being represented by numerous fragments. A fourth upper tooth was also found.

The tusks are represented by one large piece and several small fragments, probably part of one tusk.

Among the skeletal remains are the following: four complete leg bones and two fragmentary leg bones; a number of foot and toe bones; several ribs and vertebrae; a portion of the pelvis of one animal, probably the mastodon.

In addition to the above, two complete teeth of the mammoth in a very good state of preservation were found. It is believed that some of the above mentioned skeletal material represents both of the animals.

LIQUOR SALES MUST WAIT ON LICENSE ISSUES

Several Days Delay In Prospect Before Officials Can Act

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 8.—(AP)—While prospective dealers and transportation companies fought ways of meeting the new Florida liquor regulations yesterday, Attorney General Cary D. Landis ruled that intoxicating liquors cannot be legally handled before licenses are issued.

Licenses, he said, cannot be issued until the State Canvassing Board officially declares the result of Tuesday's general election when state-wide prohibition was yanked out of the Constitution after a stay of 18 years.

Meanwhile, a steady flow of applications from prospective liquor dealers was reported from various sections which he in counties that are wet through local option, either through a local referendum Monday, or by hold-over from prohibition days.

The canvassing board is required to meet within 35 days after a general election, or sooner than that if official returns from the counties are received. Usually the state board meets about 10 (Continued on Page Two)

Oscar DePriest Out; Another Negro In

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—(AP)—A scholarly negro lawyer from the old South has unseated Rep. Oscar DePriest to be the first of his race on the Democratic side of Congress.

By a margin of 3,000 votes, Arthur W. Mitchell, 37, one-time office boy to Booker T. Washington at Tuskegee Institute, was declared elected by the first Illinois district that since 1928 has been represented by the only negro congressman, DePriest.

"I've run my campaign on an educational basis and have tried to teach the people in this district that it is not a bad thing to be a Democrat," Mitchell said. He added he felt the race issue should not be the dominant idea of a negro in Congress.

Road Department Is To Call For Bids For Completing Lakefront Boulevard

A request, by resolution, that the State Road Department act at once in calling for bids to complete the lakefront boulevard was ordered sent to Department officials by members of the Board of County Commissioners when they met in regular session at the Court House yesterday.

By resolution, the Commissioners also endorsed efforts now being made to induce the War Department to establish an airplane base and training field at Arcadia.

After referring the usual number of requests for roads or repairs on roads to Engineer Tony Pritchard, the Board covered routine matters within a short time.

The Board approved a deputy sheriff held sought by Harvey D. Pugh of Lake Mary, and a firearm bond for Tom A. Wilson.

Engineer Pritchard was authorized to supervise the widening of Park Avenue in front of the Court House.

The Board also accepted the responsibility of maintenance of a road in West Palm Beach.

ELECTION OUTCOME DISTURBING

Experts Ask If Trend Now Will Swing To Left As Result Of Apparent Mandate

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Of the major questions thrust forward by Tuesday's Democratic election sweep, two stand out above all others:

Will the forces of liberalism which massed at the ballot box push the pendulum of Administration policy still further to the left, producing a new cycle of spending, new advances in social legislation, and new projects for the control of business?

Which way will the Republican party go now, and when and how will the struggle for mastery of that party in 1936 begin?

Neither of these questions is easy to answer. On both sides, and especially among Republicans, there is apparent a certain bewilderment over the magnitude of the Democratic victory. Until that phase passes, to predict specific policies would be merely to guess. Elements of uncertainty are many.

In one sense, it is possible to regard the election results as a reorganized above of the pendulum to the left. By and large, those who were defeated were right-wingers. They condemned the spending program, complained of government restrictions on business, asked for an end to uncertainty at Washington, and large those who won defended the spending, agreed with the restrictions (continued on page two)

Seminole High To Play Tigers In Orlando Friday

Seminole High School's football team will meet the Orlando Tigers, Big Ten, material in their annual game at Tucker Field in Orlando tomorrow night, starting at 8:00 o'clock.

The Tigers are favored despite their 38 to 0 defeat at the hands of Andrew Jackson of Jacksonville last week. Orlando sports commentators expect their Tigers to win by two touchdowns.

However, Seminole, with one of the strongest defensive teams, started clicking in Ocala last Friday night, winning by 13 to 0, and giving local fans reason to believe that victory over Orlando is not all impossible.

Starting line-ups for Seminole High had not been announced at noon today but the starters probably will be: Charles Bellin and Jack Pearson at ends; Ralph Pearson and Sam Dighton at tackles; Ted Williams and Bill Williams at guards; Elwyn Squires at center; Jack Hughes at quarter; Oliver Miller and Bill Brown at halves; and George McClelland at fullback.

Mrs. O'Day Among Few Women Given Office

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Just five women last night were sure of seats in the House—the three feminine old timers on Capitol Hill and two warm friends of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

One of the latter was Mrs. Caroline O'Day, Democrat, chosen New York's representative at large, for whom Mrs. Roosevelt actively campaigned, breaking precedent to do so.

Thirty-one women ran, and the result is only one campaign remained in doubt, Rep. Virginia Jencks, Democrat, trailing former Representative Purnell, Republican, in a close Indiana contest. Twenty-five were defeated.

Alabama Judge Orders Probe Of Election

FORT PAYNE, Ala., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Crowds, keyed to a high pitch over the closeness of election results in DeKalb county, yesterday afternoon thronged the streets and courthouses here as Judge A. E. Hawkins charged a hurriedly summoned grand jury to investigate alleged widespread violation of election laws.

Both Democrats and Republicans claimed the victory in Tuesday's election, the result of which may hinge on uncounted absentee ballots. The county administration now is largely Republican, but Democrats claim at least a 75 vote majority for their ticket when the absentee ballots are counted.

DEMOCRATIC VICTORY MOUNTING

Roosevelt Silent But Happy Over Outcome Of Most Amazing Sweep In 132 Years

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(A.P.)—President Roosevelt, returning today to exercise his tremendous new power in carrying out the New Deal, says his party's victory grows more emphatic in the cleanup returns.

The late counts for congressmen gave the Democrats eight more seats in the House and the astonishing lineup reads as follows:

Democrats, 320.
Republicans, 7.
Farmer-Laborites, 3.

In doubt, three.

Almost complete returns for the Senate showed the Democrats had 69 seats; the Republicans, 26; the Progressive, 1; and the Farmer-Laborites, 1.

This Senate line-up was based upon the assumption that the Democrats and Republicans would split the two seats in New Mexico as the latest returns indicated they would.

Late returns showed this roster of governors:

Democrats, 38.
Republicans, 3.
Progressives, 1.
Farmer-Laborites, 1.

President Roosevelt was silent but happy over the most overwhelming "off year" victory since the Federalists were ground to pieces by the Republicans 132 years ago.

He had a luncheon engagement today with Senator "Young Bob" LaFollette who won on the new Progressive ticket in Wisconsin while his brother, Philip, was capturing the governorship.

Home Owners League Thanks A. I. DuPont For Aid In Campaign

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 8.—The Home Owners' League of Florida, through John E. Cecil, executive secretary, announced that the tremendous majority given at the polls Tuesday, in behalf of the Homestead Exemption Amendment, was made possible through the generosity of Alfred I. DuPont and members of his state-wide organization who came to the rescue of the League when it was facing a financial crisis.

Mr. DuPont, who is president of Alcoa Securities and chairman of the boards of the Florida National Bank of Jacksonville and Miami, yesterday lauded the following statement on the overwhelming victory given the Homestead Exemption Amendment by the voters of Florida:

"I am much gratified that the electorate of Florida, by an overwhelming majority, has ratified the amendment to exempt small homes from all taxation.

"The primary benefit, of course, is to the small home owner and gives an added security to his family of great value. But, I am sure that every class of business enterprise in the state will benefit.

"I predict that the adoption of this amendment will mark the beginning of a revival in real estate, in that wide variety of business enterprises connected with the building industry and home furnishings and supplies. It will be a great contributing factor to the relief of unemployment in Florida. Unemployment has been most severe in the building trades, which will experience a marked revival.

"The advertising value alone of this advanced step in equitable taxation will draw many permanent residents and winter tourists to the state. The voters of Florida by this sound and intelligent movement, in the face of great opposition, started Florida on a new era of permanent and sound prosperity. The adoption of the Homestead Exemption Amendment will have far-reaching effects on taxation throughout the United States within the next few years."

ELECTION OUTCOME DISTURBING

(Continued From Page One) and excused the uncertainty. The natural thing would be to suppose that the decisive results of the election would forecast more spending, more restrictions, and no move to end uncertainty and build up "confidence."

Should the President now turn definitely toward an expanded program unpalatable to business, what becomes of the recent predictions, in almost every important administration utterance, that the Administration wants business to be free, to prosper, and to earn a profit?

What because of the picture of him presented to the recent bankers convention by his friends, who portrayed him as tired of experimentation, anxious to subordinate the bank trust, ready to taper off his program of expenditures...

These Republicans who object to the New Deal on a fundamental ground, show no signs of having changed their opinion. They are, if anything, more bitter against Roosevelt than before...

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Resumption of the Nye committee's investigation of the munitions industry is billed as the headline on Capitol Hill prior to the opening of the main show on Jan. 3...

That will be in general the ways and means committee of the House and the finance committee of the Senate tackle the problem of tax legislation for the next Congress.

There will be little of the spectacular about the Hill-Harrison show in all probability. It will be held behind closed doors and little known of until the show is over.

There will be, however, probably as much speculation and as much "lame duck" talk as about anything going on in Washington during the next two months.

It has saved them the worry and bother of trying to take care of political appointments made by "lame duck" senators and representatives.

In former years a defeated member of the House or Senate held office until the following March. A short session of Congress intervened in which "lame ducks" participated.

The Norris constitutional amendment has eliminated this. Now a member of Congress defeated for re-election, although he continues in office until the next regular session, has no opportunity to exercise his vote on proposed legislation (unless the President calls a special session).

At that, however, "lame ducks" are loath to admit they are through. There's the case of a southern member of Congress who is defeated for re-election early in the summer, who is making postmaster appointments in his district without consulting the congressman-elect.

His contention is that he still is the district's representative and will be until Jan. 3, 1935, and as such is merely exercising the prerogatives of his office.

An importer at Los Angeles is exchanging trombones with a German firm for Rhine wine. He has written the Department of Commerce that the arrangement is perfect.

T. D. Pearce, pioneer resident of Durant, Okla., celebrated his eightieth birthday by attending his first motion picture show.

Miss Agnes Manthey, of Milwaukee, was selected Wisconsin's most beautiful waitress at a beauty contest of waitresses.

But it is warmly disputed how widely this view really is representative of the Republican rank and file. Millions of the votes cast against the Democratic cause Tuesday were cast in support of Republican nominees who only mildly, if at all, condemned the New Deal; nominees who were plainly out of sympathy with the policies and methods of the Republican high command.

In the ordinary course, it would seem, the only answer to this enigma, if the Republican party is to present anything like a united front in 1936, is compromise. And that prospect is Vandenberg of Michigan, almost the only Republican of national reputation who has recaptured a Republican state in this year of 1934 from its 1932 Democratic conquerors.

Vandenberg won, in what he called "the most important election since the Civil War," with tactics not unlike those of Roosevelt himself in their flexibility.

Some of Vandenberg's colleagues were talking about him, even before the election, as possible presidential timber for 1936.

(Continued From Page One) elections, accepting it as a mandate for government spending. Some quarters in Wall Street expressed the opinion the Administration had come through the midterm test at the polls with such flying colors it might well take a firmer attitude in quashing inflationary drives in Congress...

While concentrating its attention upon the election result, Wall Street found time to watch the French cabinet crisis closely, and the beginnings of the largest flow of gold from Paris to New York since April gave rise to fresh speculation over ability of the gold bloc to hold its solid form.

Stocks of companies doing business in California, and shares of liquor manufacturers, encountered more profit taking than fresh buying, on the defeat of Upton Sinclair and the movement of more states into the "wet" column.

The turnover of 1,111,090 shares was the largest since Oct. 11, and a large portion of it was traded in the last hour. For the first time in weeks, the ticker fell momentarily in arrears.

Wheat in the Chicago pit closed at the day's best levels, up 2 1/2 to 4 1/8 cents a bushel. Corn was up 1 1/8 to 1 7/8 cents a bushel. In the New York Cotton Exchange, final prices were 80 cents to $1.10 a bale higher.

Paola MenDiscover Remains Of Animal 10,000 Years Old

(Continued From Page One) Gut of Sanford was notified, and inspected the find pronouncing the remains as from the mastodon and the mammoth and are probably 10,000 years old.

Mr. Gut in turn notified Herman Gunter, Florida State Geologist and Mr. Gunter yesterday spent the entire afternoon inspecting and measuring the fossil material which he confirms as belonging to the mastodon and mammoth.

Further work will be continued in salvaging the bones. The work will be reported on to Mr. Gunter by Mr. Gut.

Mr. Gunter states that finds of this kind are important both from the layman's point of view and especially to the scientist. Mr. Gunter was especially complimentary to the men making this discovery for the care they exhibited in recovering the material and in notifying him through Mr. Gut.

Mr. Gunter states that the Museum of the Florida Geological Survey now has on exhibition an almost complete mounted specimen of the mastodon which was taken from Wakulla Springs, and also the museum has a great deal of other fossil material that has been recovered from different sections of the state.

In an interview with Mr. Gut this morning, it was learned that many sections of Florida are rich in remains of this type, with Seminole County no exception.

During the past few years, he said, parts of the following fossil animals of Florida have been found within the city limits, particularly along the lakefront during the time its bulkhead was being filled in by dredges sucking earth from the floor of Lake Monroe.

Mr. Gut stated that other important fossil animals once known to Florida include the sabre-toothed tiger and rhinoceros.

He also indicated that he is preparing a paper on his various finds, and he expressed the hope that persons finding skeletal remains which are of unusual size or age would communicate with him.

Comedy-Drama Shows At Milane 2 Days

"Death on the Diamond," mingling comedy and tense mystery, is the attraction creating alternate laughs and thrills at the Milane Theater tonight and Friday. Filmed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer with the cooperation of the St. Louis Cardinals, which team is seen in action in the gripping photoplay, it tells the amazing story of weird killings in a ball team during a pennant series. Through deft handling, the mystery episodes are alternated with hilarious comedy, in a type of entertainment actually new to the screen.

Robert Young and Madge Evans are teamed as the lovers, a baseball player and the daughter of the team manager, and menace is supplied by C. Henry Gordon as the arch gambler.

Paul Kelly plays the alert reporter who helps solve the mystery, and David Landau is compelling as Pop Clark, manager of the Cardinals.

Comedy is in the expert hands of Nat Pendleton, Edward Brophy, ed Healy, Mickey Room-

GARDEN NOTES

By Mrs. W. D. GARDNER

Ed. Note: This is the first installment of an article on Potted Plants written by Mrs. Gardner and read at a recent meeting of the Dirt Gardeners Circle of the Garden Club.

Almost every home has a house plant, but obviously, every house plant has not a good home. Yet success with house plants is really a rather simple matter. Failures usually occur because: 1. Principles of plant welfare are over-looked. 2. Attention to the plants is erratic, and 3. Varieties unsuited to house facilities have been selected.

To grow attractive house plants the first consideration is soil.

Good soil, good plants—poor soil, poor plants, is much more true of pot or box grown specimens than those in the open. Roots in the open ground can spread out and take in such food as may be within reach while those of potted plants are confined within a space both shallow and narrow. A satisfactory soil should contain vegetable matter—this may be secured from leaf or woods mold, muck, or peat moss. A supply of some of these should always be on hand. By using one-third leaf mold, one-third sand, and one-third garden loam, and to a wheelbarrow load of this mixture add a bowl (six inches) of bone meal, soil for most plants can be mixed. The sand provides drainage and prevents packing of the soil. Leaf mold and fertilizer (sheep manure, cotton seed meal or bone meal) add nourishment and provide a consistency that gives a water-holding capacity. For fast growing plants use pulverized sheep manure as a fertilizer, and for slow-growing use bone meal. Use cotton seed for azaleas and acid-loving plants. In some sections, garden loam of good quality is hard to secure. An excellent substitute is sod three or four inches thick from a pasture of flat woods or cut-over pine bed where the ground is covered with a growth of native grass. The sod should be stacked up in small piles and rotted down. The entire soil mixture is best mixed three or four months before using and kept in a dry place and turned over two or three times.
