BOY CONFESSES SLAYING MAN, 65, IN RUM QUARREL

Charlie Alvarez, 19, Tells Officials He Killed Jack Jackson In Argument Over Paying for Some Whiskey

HAINES CITY, Oct. 31.—Charlie Alvarez, 19 year old Starke boy, admitted today that he killed Jack Johnson, 65 year old painter, with a wrench Wednesday night after a quarrel over paying for a bottle of liquor. Deputy Sheriff Frank Thompson, of Polk county, stated Friday night.

The youth has been placed in the Polk county jail on a charge of murder. According to his alleged confession, Alvarez, after the killing, went back to a dance he had left prior to the tragedy on Wednesday night. According to the deputy, the youth broke down under a grilling, admitting that he went with his brother, Paul Alvarez, and Jack Johnson to Loughman, where they bought a bottle of moonshine. They returned and went to a dance between Loughman and Davenport until 10 o'clock, and then took the younger Alvarez home. Returning to the dance, the other two became involved in a quarrel over payment for the liquor.

Johnson, according to the alleged confession, drew a pocket knife and slashed Alvarez's hand. Maintaining that he acted in self defense, Alvarez said he reached into the neck of the car for a stillson wrench and struck Johnson with it. He stopped the car and Johnson got out and attempted to cut him again, he says. Then, according to the alleged statement, Alvarez struck the painter several times, crushing the skull. "There wasn't anything to do then but throw him out alongside the road," Alvarez is said to have continued, "so I took him to a side road near Haines City and threw him and the french out. Then I went back to Davenport, got a girl to bind up my hand where he had cut it, and went back to the dance."

Alvarez and his were taken in a boy named McKee, who was taken to custody Thursday night by Deputy Thompson, on information supplied by Omar Glover, of Haines City, who had been working on the case. The two boys were released today after Charles Alvarez had exonerated them.

The name of the slain man was first given as Harmon Pollard, but this later was found to be incorrect. He formerly lived in Ocala, but had been in Davenport some time. He had recently done work in Haines City.

Man Wrenches Back While Moving Safe

J. D. Brown, of the realty firm of Baldwin and Brown with offices in the Reich building, was painfully injured about ten o'clock Friday morning, when he twisted his back while assisting in the removal of a large safe from an office on Park Avenue.

He was removed to the office of Dr. W. D. Gardner, where it was learned that he had displaced a spinal column. He was reported to be resting comfortably today at his home at 213 West Third Street.

MILLER FACES FRAUD CHARGE WITH 7 OTHERS

Former Alien Property Custodian Indicted In Connection With Release Of Assets of Metal Company

Swiss And Germans Named In Charges

Counsel for Miller Issues Paper Denying Allegations; Many Quizzed by Grand Jury

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Colonel Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, four German and Swiss citizens and three German and Swiss corporations were indicted Friday by a special grand jury on charges of conspiracy to defraud the United States government.

The indictments involve the release by the custodian about $7,000,000 and sequestered assets of the American Metal Company—representing the sale of a 49 per cent alleged enemy interest—to pretend Swiss owners.

In its report, the grand jury declared that Miller, John T. King, former Republican national committeeman from Connecticut and the late Jesse Smith, confidant of former Attorney General Daugherty, arranged the transfer with the foreign defendants in consideration of payment to them of $391,000 of the recovered assets.

King appeared before the jury and waived immunity, the statement said, and although named as a conspirator, he was not indicted.

Miller is expected to appear for arraignment before Federal Judge Francis A. Winslow, Wednesday. Although invited to appear before the grand jury during its deliberations, Miller declined, Hiram C. Todd, special assistant attorney general, prosecuting the case, said today.

Other defendants indicted were Richard Merton of Frankfurt-On-Maine, Germany, president of the Metallgesellschaft and former captain in the German army; Alfred Merton, of Frankfurt-On-Maine, president of the Metallbank; Leo Du Bois, of Basel, Switzerland, and president of the Swiss bank of Basel; Fritz-Zahn Geigy, of Basel, president of the Societe Suisse Pour Valeurs de Metreux, a Swiss corporation of Basel.

Counsel's Statement. The following statement was issued today by Colonel Miller's counsel, Robert S. Johnston:

"The charge against Colonel Miller is entirely without foundation. Colonel Miller, however, does not intend to try the case in the newspapers. The charge will be met and answered in open court and the facts will be brought out. "The records of the department of justice itself show that the action of the alien property custodian with reference to the return of the property turned over by the American Metals Company was entirely proper. The department of justice itself passed upon the claim and allowed it.

"Colonel Miller invites the most searching investigation of his administration of the office of alien property custodian. The investigation, however, should be conducted openly and publicly and by persons of the highest character."

Chamber Commerce Art Posters Arrive For Distribution

Attractive art posters, part of an order recently delivered to the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, have made their appearance this week in a number of business houses in the downtown section.

Five hundred of these posters have been delivered, according to R. W. Pearman, secretary of the local trade body, who states that they will be immediately distributed in railroad and steamship terminals, hotels, steamers, chambers of commerce and other points in numerous Northern cities.

The posters, about 24 by 36 inches, have been done in blue by Howard Henry, staff artist for Jacksonville advertising concern, to conform to Mr. Pearman's original ideas, expressed in a striking, completed effect is striking, with the varying shades of greens and blues predominating. Mr. Pearman has received the congratulations of a number of authoritative advertising men upon the beauty and simplicity of the posters, and local boosters have expressed keen satisfaction of the work conceived by the trade body official and the Jacksonville artist.

PROJECT PROBE UNDER WAY

Mountaineers In Kentucky Still Have Faith In Many Hallowe'en Superstitions

FRANKFORT, KY., Oct. 31.—(AP)—On this Hallowe'en there are few other places in the English speaking world where superstition concerning witches receive so much credence as in the Kentucky mountains.

Kentucky has been found to have 3,954 superstitions. Daniel Lindsay Thomas, late professor of English at Ole Centre and founder and president of the state branch of the American Folk Lore Society, today brought them out of record in the state library archives.

At least four of the numbers will share a nation-wide observance tonight. Amid traditional merry-making, playful ceremonial and charms to disclose future husbands and wives, the rules of looking into a mirror at mid night, walking in a graveyard by the person named.

The superstitious beliefs still retained by the old type of mountaineers are in general those brought to Kentucky by English and Scotch-Irish ancestors, said Dr. Thomas, although superstitions are not alone confined to mountaineers hereabouts. He said that a

HAMNER REALTY COMPANY MAKES TAMPA RECORD

Over Ten Thousand Parcels of Property Adjacent to Tampa Disposed In Past 9 Months; Newest Venture Announced

TAMPA, Fla., Oct. 31.—The remarkable record of syndicating and selling approximately 10,000 parcels of property adjacent to Tampa during the past nine months has given the B. L. Hamner Realty Corporation a unique place among Tampa real estate firms. The organization began business in Tampa Jan. 1, 1925, offering Manor Hills subdivision to the public. Only 21 days were required to syndicate this property. The records established since that time in syndicating other subdivisions have given the B. L. Hamner Realty Corporation the distinction of placing eight allotments on the market in nine months' time.

Two similar subdivisions known as Casa Loma and Bourlands were next syndicated. Temple Crest, Nebraska Avenue Heights, Riverbend Manor, Tampa Overlook and El Port followed.

Now another effort of the B. L. Hamner organization is underway. This will be known as Tampa's country club area. It is located in the rolling country just north of the new city limits to the west of Florida Avenue. Sales of this area are expected to surpass all past achievements, according to Mr. Hamner. The new country club area comprises a total of 2,000 acres.

The success of the B. L. Hamner organization in the real estate field may be attributed largely to its unique plan of syndicating and marketing subdivisions. Under this plan, choice tracts are purchased outright, the engineering done, roads laid out and retail prices established. The lots are sold at wholesale in units of two or more to syndicate buyers, and these make the retail profit.

To review the past performance of the B. L. Hamner Realty Corporation and the other companies which make up the B. L. Hamner organization is largely to tell the story of one man, in the opinion of Ira C. Humphreys, general manager of the realty corporation. "B. L. Hamner is a man with a desire to give—not get," Mr. Humphreys said. "He endeavors to give service rather than alone seek profit. And he has so imbued all his associates with these ideals that they have made part of a code for the guidance of our organization. To these ideals have cordially, ed two others: to radiate cordiality, and to reciprocate feeling; and, in our relationship with clients and each other, to treat all as we desire to be treated.

DIXIE MUSTERING FORCES TO REPEL WINTER INVASION

Cold Weather Aided by Snow Grips South While Efforts to Fight Enemy Continue; Rain Forecast for Florida

ATLANTA, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Dixie continued today to muster her forces to repel another invader from the North—King Winter—who brought up reinforcements during the night in the shape of snow, his deadliest ally so far as south is concerned.

The defenders, made up of every man, woman and child in usually the balmy region, were employing every weapon available to stand their ground against the enemy. Furnaces, overcoats, open fires, blankets, hot water bottles and red flannels were employed to offset rigors of the uneven warfare.

Southern Alabama, the Mississippi coast and extreme northwest Florida were at grips with common, honest-to-goodness, every-day, hard down cold weather while northerly gales and overcast weather were forecast for Atlantic coast as far south as Jacksonville.

Colonel J. Pluvius was to attack in Florida, Georgia, North and South Carolina, East Texas and Virginia today.

Cold wave warnings have been issued by the Washington weather bureau for southern Alabama, the Mississippi coast and extreme northwest Florida.

Northerly gales and overcast weather was the prediction along the Atlantic coast from Sandy Hook to Cape Hatteras.

Little Rock, Ark., and Memphis, Tenn., were the coldest spots in the South, up to 8 o'clock last night, according to the official weather report which gave the former a minimum temperature of thirty degrees and the latter a mark of twenty-four.

Probable rains were forecast today for Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and East Texas.

Park To Indicate Pre-Historic Spot Of California City

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 31.—(AP)—The saber-toothed tiger and the imperturbable elephant once named through a jungle just south of what now is Hollywood. A glimpse of southern California as it was then will be afforded when the prehistoric park planned by the Los Angeles Museum of History, Science and Art becomes a reality.

Years ago scientist found in some asphalt beds on the Rancho La Brea, fossil bones of animals of the pleistocene period. Exploration indicated that probably hundreds of thousands of years ago these jungle inhabitants had huddled into the sticky asphalt. Unable to extricate themselves they had died. Other victims followed them.

The bones of these animals were pressed into the clothing, pits until the passage of many centuries built up a veritable storehouse of fossil skeletons. Here the scientists have found the bones of many prehistoric jungle animals, skeletons of which may be seen at the museum.

Twenty-seven acres in which the pits were found were donated for a public park. The park plans call for the planting of trees and shrubbery as nearly as possible like those which existed at the time of the saber-toothed tiger and his contemporaries. Reproduction of the animals in stone will be mounted and placed in the reconstructed jungle.

Knight And MacNeill Report First Section Of Sanlanta Sold Out

The first section of the Sanlanta subdivision, located in the southern residential district, has been entirely sold out, according to an announcement made this week by Knight and MacNeill, developers of the property. It was also learned that the second section of the development has been placed on the market.

Progress of the improvement work now being done in this section of the city is reported as good. Grading and surfacing streets and the beautification of thoroughfares by the planting of trees and grass has been rushed to the extent that the property will be ready for the proposed building program within the next fortnight, officials say.

The first construction unit of this plan calls for completion of five bungalows by Feb. 1, 1926. Each house will be of Spanish architecture and will cost $10,000.

New automobile licenses will be issued on and after December 15, next for the year 1926.

Douglass, at Meeting, Explains Plans of Road Department For Project No. 3

Work Starts When Officials Get Land Hathaway Coming to Decide On Site At Southern Outskirts

Location of the proposed new highway, known as State Road Number Three, through Seminole county has been determined with the exception of a few hundred feet on the outskirts of Sanford.

This announcement was made at the weekly meeting of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce Friday noon, by E. A. Douglass, who stated that the State Road Department is prepared to commence construction of the highway as soon as the right of way has been secured by the Seminole County Commissioners.

Mr. Douglass, who was a member of the Chamber of Commerce committee which attended the recent conference between Foss A. Hathaway, head of the State Road Department, and the Seminole County Commissioners, when the matter of the road location was arranged, explained the controversy over the selection of the route in the outskirts of the city.

Following the shore of Lake Monroe, Mr. Douglass explained, the proposed highway will enter the city by way of the proposed extension of the Seminole Boulevard, and will run south through the residential section on Park Avenue. It is the selection by state engineers of a proposed extension of Park Avenue between Franklin and Geneva Avenues that has raised the objection, he said.

By this procedure, it is shown that the present curve at that point will be abandoned and a straight extension submitted, entailing condemnation of land said to be valued at $150,000, upon which a number of residences have been erected, to avoid this costly measure, the County Commissioners have arranged for Mr. Hathaway to come to this city with his technical advisors, and to personally investigate the condition, it is said.

From a point approximately one-quarter of a mile south of the intersection of Park and Geneva Avenues, however, the location is complete at the present time, the local representatives were assured.

From this point, according to Mr. Douglass, the highway runs in a southern direction through Maitland, passing Longwood and Altamonte Springs at a distance of approximately a mile in each instance thence into Orange county. While no announcement was made relative to the location of the road in Orange county, it is understood that the new site will pass to the west of Winter Park.

It is planned to cross the old Orlando road within a few hundred feet of the intersection of the present road with the old Geneva trail, and to cross the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad tracks at a point south of Maitland. A bridge spanning the tracks will be built as a safety measure, state authorities explain.

Preliminary Work Completed. The commissioners and the Chamber of Commerce committee were informed by Mr. Hathaway that all preliminary work connected with the project has been completed, and that construction will begin promptly as soon as the local authorities have secured title to the right-of-way.

A discussion of the congested condition of Florida freight carrying facilities at this time occupied the attention of the trade body members, following an introduction of the subject in a report of the transportation committee regarding the status of the newly organized Independent Line, using Sanford as a southern terminus for steamer traffic on the St. Johns River. The committee recommended that Thresher Bros of Orlando, operators of the line, be permitted to maintain their present facilities, located on city property, for a period of six months, or until the bulkhead, now under construction, is completed. At that time they will be able to proceed with contemplated improvements on their own property, it is declared.

Want Legion Offer Accepted. Following a report by Howard Hulick, of the recommendations of the recreation committee, named to continue the work of providing amusement and entertainment for tourists during the winter season, the members today adopted a resolution asking the city administration to accept the offer of the American Legion, for its home as a headquarters for recreational activity, and commending the movement inaugurated recently by the Kiwanis and Lions clubs, for provision of playground equipment

COL. MITCHELL IS UNABLE TO ESCAPE TRIAL

Court Refuses To Recognize Contention About Irregular Procedure Of The Case

Hearings May End This Week

Defense Puts Stress On Fact Hinds Did Not Ask For Trial

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Every move to escape trial by courtmartial on charges of conduct prejudicial to good order and military discipline resulted in failure Thursday for Col. William Mitchell and his counsel.

The prosecution proceedings, started Wednesday by a court convened by decision of President Coolidge and based on the colonel's charges in public statements relating to the army and navy air service administrations, swept forward rapidly with plain indications that the court would close for findings probably this week.

Numerous pleas entered in behalf of the air officer by Representative Frank R. Reid, of Illinois, his civilian legal adviser, availed nothing. The court left the chamber several times to vote in secret on contentions advanced by the defense counsel. The members remained seated behind the bench just as often, however, accepting the opinions of the court law officer, Col. Blanton Winship, without objection. Whether in or out of the court chamber, the deliberations ended always in quick decisions against the motions of the defense.

Plea Overruled

Colonel Mitchell's plea that he had committed no offense tryable by the court when he issued the statements at San Antonio, charging the war and navy departments with incompetency, criminal negligence and almost treasonable administration of the national defense, the act for which he is charged with violation of the ninety-sixth article of war, was overruled by the court almost at the beginning of today's sessions.

The decision on this point established the legal competency of the court to sit in judgment of the accused and a plea that he had been within constitutional right exercising only the privilege of free speech when he issued the statements, also was quickly rejected.

Successful pleas then were filed and voted down, one contending that all the charges and specifications against Colonel Mitchell should be vacated for the reason that they had not been prepared in accordance with court martial regulations. The court, however, rejected the plea and the trial judge advocates in charge of the prosecution.

The charge and each specification fail to state any offense of which the courtmartial has jurisdiction for the reason that they do not show that:

"1. The commanding officer of the accused investigated the charges or ordered them to be investigated.

"2. The commanding officer of the accused recommended a courtmartial.

"3. There was a preliminary investigation of the charges by the proper officers as provided by the courtmartial manual."

Defense's Stand

The defense placed special emphasis on the fact that Major General Ernest Hinds, commanding the Eighth corps area, on whose staff Colonel Mitchell was serving when he made his attack on the war and navy departments, had not recommended a courtmartial.

GREENBACKS AND PLAINSMEN WILL MEET SATURDAY

Two Undelected Elevens Are Primed for Clash at Montgomery; Tulane Team Has More Impressive Record

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Two football teams undefeated in the Southern conference met at Montgomery Saturday when Auburn tries conclusions with Tulane. Each has won two games that count in the final reckoning, Auburn disposing of Clemson and V. P. I., and Tulane defeating the Mississippi entries, "Ole Miss" and the Aggies.

Tulane enters the contest with the more impressive season's record. The Greenbacks have won all but one of their games, a 6 to 6 draw having been registered with Missouri, the victories including an 18 to 7 defeat administered to Northwestern. Auburn's one blot is a 33 to 0 reverse at the hands of the University of Texas.

Alabama rules a favorite over the Mississippi Aggies and Georgia should dispose of Tennessee. Close scores are indicated in the games between Maryland and North Carolina and South Carolina against V. P. I. Maryland defeated the Tar Heels last year and has been hard to score on this year.

Although the College Parkers have lost two conference games, the total scores against them in only nine points. South Carolina defeated the Citadel, 30 to 6 yesterday, giving the Gamecocks hardly time to relax before the tackling Gobblers.

The only other game in which conference teams meet in matches is Vanderbilt and "Ole Miss" with the dope favoring the Commodores.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Oct. 30.—(AP)—L. E. Holmes, alias H. P. Clay, serving a 2-year sentence at the state road camp, Number 27, near Greenville, found his term of imprisonment ended in Florida, but only just begun in New York when he was discharged a few days ago.

Holmes, or Clay, who was sent up from Pinellas county, for theft of an automobile, quit the confinement of the road camp, but fell into the hands of officers from Brooklyn, N. Y., where he is said to be wanted for breaking and entering.

The requisition papers, authorizing the transfer of Holmes back to New York, were honored by Governor Martin. Holmes, the state prison bureau announced, is also wanted in Pennsylvania.

The decision of the band and finance committees to abide by the $8,000 appropriation named in the Chamber of Commerce budget for 1926, was announced at the meeting. The band body had requested that the sum be increased to provide for an enlarged program for the ensuing year, but the schedule was cut down to conform to the allowance. Concerts during the coming winter will begin early in December, and continue until May, it was explained.

W. H. Felton, of Macon, Ga., and S. O. Monk, of Marshallville, Ga., were guests at the meeting.

HAMBURG, Oct. 30.—(AP)—When the horse cab left Hamburg, most of the former drivers of which have procured licenses as taxi chauffeurs, staged an impressive farewell parade, in which every type of cab in existence was represented.

A herald on horseback at the head of the parade was dressed in an old-fashioned jerkin trimmed with fur and carried the banner of the coaches' guild. Each of the vehicles was decorated and the drivers, gray or black topped, on a large hay wagon carried a miniature "pub" to symbolize the cab-drivers' proverbial thirst.

"The Passing of James"

Has no political import. It's simply a fading away of profits. A disregard for actual costs, a determination to "Clear Out" every piece of merchandise in the store, if not at one price, then at another.

We have cut again deep, very deep into the prices, and while our stocks are somewhat broken in selection, we have still a wealth of variety to choose from, and bear this in mind, James' goods are GOOD GOODS, the best to be had, and selected with most discriminating care.

James' reputation was built on these lines and the "passing of James" will mean a pleasing memory to the women who sought the "Choice of the Choicest" in Silks, Dress Fabrics, and Accessories.

HALLOWE'EN SPIRIT PREDOMINATES WHILE MANY PARTIES ARE GIVEN

Many Hallowe'en parties were given in different parts of the city last night. The streets were alive with witches, goblins, and specters curiously resembling Knights of Ku Klux Klan. It seemed as if half the population were in costume and the other half were busy making preparations to receive them.

Many little kiddies had their Jack o'Lantern parties early in the evening and were delighted by the assumed frightened poses of the party goers whom the little ones met on the street and scared with their Jack o'Lanterns and Boogey Men.

The numerous decorations about town were hardly taken down when they were supplanted by yellow and black pictures, banners, streamers and posters of witches and goblins, black cats and broomsticks.

Many of the homes throughout the city were gaily decorated and lighted in a spooky, but fascinating manner. The churches, too, were active in the celebration of the feast and several parties were given at parsonages and church clubrooms.

One of the most enjoyable dancing parties of the year was given at the City Hall last night by the St. Agnes Guild of the Episcopal Church. The hall was fittingly decorated and there were many innovations through the evening pertaining to the celebration of Hallowe'en. The orchestra was in costume as were many of the dancers and the many different hues made a colorful spectacle.

The October hostesses of the Daughters of Wesley's Class entertained with a lawn party at the home of Mrs. E. N. Scott on Union Avenue. The beautiful lawn of the Scott home was hung with Hallowe'en lanterns and a Witch's Pot with a flaming fire and enormous Jack o'Lanterns occupied prominent places.

The Senior Epworth League of the Methodist Church entertained with a novel party at the parsonage. Many interesting stunts and novelties were introduced.

The Ladies' Union of the Congregational Church observed the full party at a delightful party at the Parsonage. Everyone present entered into the spirit of the occasion and enjoyed a delightful evening.

OBITUARY

Merrie Ball Brown

In the early morning of Wednesday, Oct. 28th, the tiny spirit of Merrie Ball Brown, aged 11 months, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Brown, winged its flight to the great Beyond, leaving desolate, the heart-broken father and mother and devoted relatives.

A few hours before her passing, Merrie was dedicated to the Heavenly Kingdom in a beautiful Baptismal service, conducted by Rev. T. J. Nixon.

Everything that human hearts could dictate and loving hands could do was done to keep the beautiful baby, but of no avail, and she went to join the angels, leaving a void that can not be filled, and a wound that can not be healed, except by time and heavenly grace.

All that was mortal of Merrie Ball Brown was tenderly laid to rest in Lake View Cemetery amidst a profusion of beautiful flowers, that were placed with loving hands on the little grave.

The heartfelt sympathy of a host of friends has gone to the bereaved family in the loss of their little one.

"This lovely bud, so young and fair
 Called hence by early doom,
 Just came to show how sweet a flower,
 In Paradise could bloom.
 Ere sin could harm or sorrow fade,
 Death came with friendly care,
 The opening bud to heaven conveyed,
 And bade it blossom there."
 A Friend.

The Up-to-date Toddler Wears Snug Warm Clothes Outside and Lighter Clothes Beneath.

Little children like their parents are wearing far lighter underclothes than used to be the case. Once apparently there were mothers who felt that if you kept a child warm enough underclothes in winter he couldn't possibly catch cold. If he did—well, it certainly wasn't your fault. Goodness knows you had provided all-wool underthings and he'd worn them from the first frost and was going to wear them till May.

And doctors and trained baby nurses are still pleading with mothers who seem to feel that while they can go without any wool at all in winter their children, whose bodily heat is of course greater than that of adults, ought to go about swathed in heavy wool underthings. The point is of course that we Americans, most of us, spend most of our winters in a summer atmosphere. Our steam-heated apartments are kept at summer heat. And you do find numerous children in the city who are allowed to wear underclothes in winter only a little heavier than those worn in summer.

But light-weight underthings always cry loudly for warm, cozy outdoor apparel. If you excuse your little toddler from wearing woolen stockings and do not insist on long-legged drawers, then you simply must provide long, wooly leggings for chilly days. Of course these are a trouble but really they are very charming to behold.

Already the shops are showing lovely little wooly sets for the up-to-date child. Some of these sets include sweater, cap and leggings while there are also gloves in some of the sets. Some of the sweaters are made with the new turtle neck and others button up the front with a close, high collar that is also quite smart. The sketch shows a lovely set with fair isle pattern shown in the sweater and repeated on the cap.

Even the toddler wears his fair-isle sweater, which is here part of set, including leggings, cap and knitted gloves.

ILLITERATE MAYORS FOUND

PARIS, Oct. 31.—(AP)—At government offices in Paris which have to deal with local administrative affairs, it is not unusual to find official documents on which space for the mayor's signature is filled by a cross with the regulation phrase: "States he cannot write."

These illiterate mayors belong mostly to small and remote villages where it is difficult to find anyone to assume the duties of local government at small pay.

OGLETHORPE RAT TEAM DEFEATED BY BABY GATORS

Florida Freshmen Nose Out Georgia Opponents by Margin of One Point; Stanley Plays Brilliantly for Florida

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 31.—The Florida freshman football team slipped over a one-point victory on the Oglethorpe first year men Friday afternoon in the Fairfield Stadium, the score just about indicating the comparative strength of the two contestants.

Both elevens played football of near varsity calibre, and the disappointingly small group of fans that witnessed the affair saw one of the most exciting contests of the season.

Taliaferro, star Oglethorpe halfback, provided the biggest thrill of the afternoon, when he tore sixty-four yards through a broken field for a touchdown on the opening play of the game. He also made the Georgians' second counter in an off-tackle drive to five yards in the last period.

It would be impossible to name all the men who contributed outstanding feats to the pastime, but Stanley, Florida end, could be picked out time after time as the Oglethorpe backs for losses. This boy, who was captain of the Hillsboro high school team last year, also snagged passes in a competent fashion, and, all in all, could be considered the most valuable player in the game.

After Stanley, of the Baby Gators, had kicked off to start the game and Oglethorpe had returned five yards, Taliaferro broke loose for the first of his runs that kept the Floridians gnawing their nails. He ambled two-thirds the length of the field and planted the oval gently but firmly on the right side of the final chalk line. Bell, in the try for point, took a bad pass and attempted to run around right end, but failed.

Florida received the next kick-off, failed to gain and punted. Soon afterwards, Bell, of Oglethorpe, started around right end cut back and was finally thrown after a 35-yard gain. Florida eventually took the ball on downs. Florida punter and Massey was tackled so hard that he fumbled, Stanley dropping on the pigskin for the Juvenile Gators. Florida could do little with the Oglethorpe line and the latter regained possession on downs as the quarter ended.

In the first play of the next period, Masby, who turned in some excellent plays during the contest, and Taliaferro were hurt. The Oglethorpe captain stayed in the game, but the star half was given a rest until later in the game.

Some stellar line plunging by Capt. Bowyer of Florida carried the ball near the Georgians' goal, the march ending with a final lunge for five yards and a touchdown. Bowyer's place-kick for point hit the cross-bar, but rolled over for what proved to be the deciding point.

Some short dashes by Bell and a broken field run by Truby, featured the remainder of the first half which closed with Florida holding their one point lead.

Owens, Florida sub-back, made some good gains, shortly after the start of the second half, but Florida was forced to punt. Taliaferro ran twenty yards, but fumbled and Martin recovered for the Baby Gators. Owens added another dash this time for twenty yards, and a forward pass, Truby to Townsend, scored six more points for Florida. Stanley's kick for point was good, but Florida was off-side and the score did not count.

Many substitutions were made necessary by both teams by the hard, fast play. With Vaughn hitting through Florida's line, Oglethorpe started a march to the goal that ended with Taliaferro going over. The visitors tried a pass for the extra point, but Taliaferro dropped the ball while standing on the goal line with nobody near him. It was a tough break for the star Oglethorpe freshie.

The Florida Indians had just finished about one hundred years of fighting with European invaders and evidently were glad to make common cause with which they might profit rather than become enemies from which no good could come.

The Florida State Marketing Bureau was established by an act of the legislature in 1917. The initial annual appropriation was $15,000.

FLORIDA FACTS

A federal law prohibits the killing of the Florida wood duck. This law has been in effect about five years. According to Commissioner J. B. Royall, of the Florida state game and fish department, there has been no indication that the federal law prohibiting the killing of the Florida wood duck will be lifted.

In Leon county are located the state capital, Tallahassee; the home and grave of Prince Murat, nephew of Napoleon the Great; Estate of Marquis de Lafayette; Natural bridge; state park and monument on battlefield; Meridian stone from which all surveys are reckoned; the Florida State College for Women; and the Florida State Agricultural College for Negroes.

The only overbearing orange trees in the world are located in Highlands county Florida.

The only camphor tree grove in America is located near Palatka Florida.

According to a bulletin issued by the state department of agriculture the federal government has established reservations at Dry Tortugas, Pine Island, Key West, Pelican Island, Island Bay, Mosquito Inlet, Passage Key, Matlacha Pass, Palma Sola Key, Indian Bird Key, Caloosahatchee, and an Audubon reservation at Orange Lake.

There are seven herring hauls along the St. Johns river that recently been so designated by Commissioner T. R. Hodges of the Florida state shell fish department.

Lake Okeechobee is the source of a great Florida fish industry. About eighteen million pounds of cat fish annually are taken from the lake. Most of them are shipped to western and northern markets. Lake Okeechobee is said to be the second largest fresh water lake in the United States lying entirely within the state.

More than five million acres of the section of the state were originally under shallow water. These shallow water lands constitute the Everglades. Many acres of the Everglades have been drained and turned into rich and productive agricultural lands including ranches, field crops and truck farms.

In 1750 dissension arose in the Creek Confederacy which then occupied those parts of Alabama and Georgia that now lie immediately to the north of the Florida boundary. As a result of these dissensions, Chief Scoffee separated from the parent tribe and settled in what is now Alachua county.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Is Senator Burton K. Wheeler being persecuted?

A good many of his brother senators are going to make up their minds affirmatively unless the government makes out a stronger case against him at his coming trial here than it made out against him in Montana, one of the charges having acted as "fixer" at the Interior Department for Gordon Campbell, the oil man. At least that's the consensus of gossip around the capitol now.

ing attacked. What weakens or overthrows one king threatens the whole kingly system. Plenty of senators disliked Senator Wheeler's investigation of the Justice department. When he was indicted some of them may have hoped the government had adequate grounds for it. But if it was a "frameup," then each senator's attitude is "The same thing may happen to me, when a party I don't belong to is in control, and I start something it wants to stop." So nearly all "frame" Senator Wheeler—recently personally.

Conservatives Lead In Canadian Contest

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 30.—(P)—A decided conservative swing marks the available returns in the general elections. The defeat of two Liberal ministers is conceded, James Murdock, Labor and Herbert Miller, minister without portfolio. Incomplete returns indicate that two other members of the McKenzie-King government are in difficulties, G. N. Gordon, minister of immigration, and Walter Foster, secretary of state. The prime minister's office gives the Quebec and Ontario standing as follows: Ontario—Liberals 9; Conservatives 89; Progressives 2 (82 seats). Quebec—Liberals 40; Conservatives 3 (65 seats).

Missionaries Run Big Risk In China

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—(P)—Methodist missionaries to China to preach the teachings of Christ and must take any physical or legal consequences. Board of foreign missions has ruled that missionaries in foreign lands, especially in China, should not request protection of court and powers other than those of China nor ask extra-territorial exemption because they are American citizens.

THE buying public, particularly home folks, who know values and the cause of values, chose MIAMI SHORES —because all MIAMI SHORES either overlooks Biscayne Bay or is immediately adjacent to it. —because the four great arteries of travel into Miami traverse MIAMI SHORES. —because Shoreland Company has guaranteed a definite program of city improvements. —because of a tremendous $35,000,000 improvement and building program announced for the coming 12 months. —because such institutions as the Majestic Homes Corporation, after a careful appraisal of the entire Greater Miami district, have chosen MIAMI SHORES as the place for home building on a gigantic scale. —because eMiami Shores prices are right. —and, for these reasons, we repeat, the fact that MIAMI SHORES is becoming rapidly sold out, is not strange at all.

THE buying public has created new records heretofore unknown in the annals of real estate, for whereas we expected it would take five years to sell out MIAMI SHORES, it looks now as if the first anniversary will see that accomplished. And the Miami Shores Island —that great 600-acre, final section of MIAMI SHORES to be offered to the buying public—has an appeal all its own to the thinking investors. It is to be connected with the mainland of MIAMI SHORES by a beautiful 100-foot causeway, which will be continued down through Venetian Isles, over the Drive of Campanili, connecting up the Venetian Isles, Venetian Way and Miami. LONDON LETTER

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Viewing with patriotic alarm disclosures that the ancient, honorable and weighty Christmas puddings of old England are not British at all, but composed of about 85 per cent of American and Near Eastern fruits and spices, the Australian fruit growers have opened a campaign to give the English housewife a real British product this Yuletide.

It appears that about the only thing the British can point to with pride as an empire product when the traditional Christmas dessert is served is the delicate blue alcoholic flame of burning brandy but the Australians wish to go much further toward making the national delicacy an all-British affair.

They have girded their loins for an advertising battle against California and Mediterranean products and in full page layouts in the newspapers are singing the praises of imperial raisins, spices and other ingredients, printing recipes telling how to prepare and serve rich, tasty confection that will please the most patriotic palates.

The Australian dried fruit board believes the Australian fruit can compete successfully with California and the Levant in price, quality and quantity of its products.

Grandmothers with boyish bows, cigarettes and girlie skirts are among the women rushing to a new physical culture club in which middle-aged and older ladies are promised better figures, health and the grace of ancient Greece.

With a lecturer from the school of medicine or women to supervise the old ladies in their exercises and keep them from over-training, it is maintained they can escape from shriveling or swelling of the figure, stiffness and the lack of alertness which in the olden days was accepted as inevitable accompaniment of old age.

The classes and exercises have been made joyous affairs, with the beginners busy drilling and the advanced pupils engaged in the rhythmic dancing and fencing. Later, bedminton, swimming and hockey will be added to the curriculum.

Mrs. Catherine Elephant appeared in a London divorce court recently and told Mr. Justice Batson that she had never liked the name of Elephant and that at the time of her marriage she had asked her husband to take the name of Elephant. He agreed to this, she said, and for several years they lived together happily. Eventually, however, the disposition of Mr. Elephant toward his spouse underwent a change, the petitioner continued, and one day her husband tore all the papers bearing the name of Elephant, and announced that thereafter they were Mr. and Mrs. Elephant. Thereupon she went to court to seek a separation, which the court granted.

Baroness Burton, wife of Colonel J. F. B. Balfour of Dieffour, and member of an old Highland family, has come forward to take exception of the jibs recently cast by Mr. Lloyd George upon rich strangers who hire large tracts of land in Scotland for pleasure instead of tilling the land and who, Mr. Lloyd George said, couldn't stand wearing kilts in December without central heating. The former premier made these remarks in the course of a recent speech in the Highlands in support of his new liberal land project.

Baroness Burton asserts that a very large proportion of the heads of the real old Highland clans still remain on the lands of their forefathers. "Owing to the legislation of Mr. Lloyd George," she continued, "the only time of the year they can afford to live in their homes is in the winter. Some unfortunate highland chiefs, owing to the excessive taxation, introduced by Mr. Lloyd George, have been unable to retain their homes."

"We Highlanders do not a Welshman to come and teach us about our fellow countrymen."

The criminals of the Victorian age, with their swiftness designed to attract men, were just as bad as the short, tight skirts of today, Miss Emily M. Faithful, for many principal of the Cheltenham college for women, told the church congress at Eastbourne recently. Miss Faithful made the point that what the church needed was some sort of a crusade to make people realize the anti-social character of selfishness in dress and various other indulgences.

PARIS LETTER

PARIS, Oct. 31.—(AP)—The creation of a French expeditionary force, distinct from the home army, is the feature of an army reform scheme which ultimately will involve a reduction of the period of military service, which Premier Painleve is preparing.

The war in Morocco has shown the desirability of having such an expeditionary force to go abroad on short notice. It would be composed of professional soldiers and North African troops in view of the fact that it is more particularly intended for colonial service.

The home army would be a conscript force, composed exclusively of French white troops, and would not be required to serve overseas except under the most unusual circumstances.

While the New York flapper defies the autumn frost in rolled stockings and skirts that fail to cover the knees, the smart Parisienne is letting down her skirts, centimeter by centimeter as the winds become more chilly. Skirt hems do not yet cover calves on the boulevards, but the models now on display in the smart dressmaking establishments that set women's fashions for the world now display slightly longer skirts than they did in August.

The "little season" models, which means those on display now, are forecasts of what may be expected in the mode of next summer. Swarms of New York buyers are in Paris choosing clothes for the winter resort trade in America, and nearly all the models they are buying have longer skirts than those now being worn in the United States.

The well-dressed Parisienne today wears her skirts from four to six inches below the knee, depending on her height. When she is seated there is a short drapery of skirt over the knees, and when she walks the pleats and godets make her knees a mere surmise.

If skirts continued their downward trend—and one leading designer prophesies that eventually they will cover the feet—knees may again become the vague rumors they were in Victorian days.

A donkey whose owner christened him "Herriot," is the central figure of a trial at Blois, where the owner has been summoned before a local court on the charge of defamation.

The peasant owner pleads that he meant no harm, that his donkey is a good beast and a willing worker, and that he and his four-legged friend have the greatest respect for the former premier and present president of the chamber of deputies. But the Blois authorities, loyal radical-socialists for the most part, see in this christening a facetious dig at the leader of their party.

All the excitement over the case naturally is causing great glee in conservative camps. One mean critic has even gone so far as to express the opinion that "giving the name of the negotiator of the London agreements of 1921 to an offensive quadruped certainly entitles the donkey to sue his master for libel."

A jazzless paradise for lovers who prefer to whisper their endearments over a cup of coffee or a glass of wine without the accompaniment of crashing drums or blaring horns has been tried out by one suburban cafe proprietor with great success.

Good business came as soon as he posted a sign which represented a couple being served by the proprietor himself and declared that those tired of jazz would find warm welcome and welcome quiet there.

The "good old-fashioned" songs and dances of a generation ago seem to appeal to the patrons of this cafe, most of all.

Roasting-ears stewed in wine, and stewed with their husks and silks intact, was the amazing dish served in a high class Parisian restaurant recently to American patrons who asked for corn on the cob. The Americans calmly stripped off the husks and silk and ate the corn without a word. They are still wondering whether the French cook played a practical joke on them or whether he was himself the victim of some waggish American patron who had devised this recipe for cooking corn.

BERLIN LETTER

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—(AP)—The opening of the fall hunting season found von Hindenburg at his hunting lodge at Werbellin, in the province of Brandenburg, 40 miles north of Berlin, which was first placed at the disposal of the chief executive during the Ebert regime. The president is an excellent shot, and always brings down at least one deer a week.

His next-door neighbor is the socialist premier of Prussia, Otto Braun, who occupies a hunting lodge owned by the Prussian state.

Berlin was facetiously claim that the foreign office always sends a diplomatic note by courier to the deer in advance of President von Hindenburg's and Premier Brauns departure for Werbellin, so that the heads of the nation and the largest federated states may not be kept waiting for the deer to appear within range of their guns.

German women, craving to be as slender as the fashionable American woman, are trying every conceivable method, including some dangerous remedies, to get thin and stay thin, says Dr. Hermann Kerscheneister, professor of internal medicine at the University of Munich.

While deploring the inroad made by American movies and magazines on German "kultur," Dr. Kerscheneister says that the fashion of being slender is one of the greatest blessings that has come to Germany from the United States since the war. "Physicians are being besought by corpulent women who desire to get thin," he says, "also by normal women who desire to get thinner and by other women who have endangered their health by quack or harmful reducing remedies."

The resumption of pre-war habits of eating and drinking, following the long years of the war, he said, have led to unhealthful corpulence among Germans and physicians are warning women to diet to be stylish. The spread of American fashions and customs in Germany, Dr. Kerscheneister asserts, is proof that the United States will be the real victor in the war and that France is losing ground.

Astronomy is a subject of holding the attention of even the most hardened convict, Countess von Holnau, chairwoman of the society of star lovers, has found. Whenever she lectures in prisons the halls are crowded with convicts who listen with profound attention and in perfect quiet, whereas lectures on other subjects frequently are interrupted by "howls" and other derisive ejaculations from audiences which only half fill the halls. "There is something wonderful after all about the stars," Countess von Holnau observed.

He's Versatile With Brushes

Andy Nagy, San Francisco artist-barber, slithers some lather across the jaw of the city's mayor, James Rolph. Then he has a sudden inspiration and splashes some more paint on the nearby canvas. Rolph, being an art connoisseur himself, waits patiently for the shaving to be resumed.

"Even jailbirds fall under their spell."

A second season on plays in the English language has been started in Berlin, encouraged by the success of last year's experiments, the "English theater," an aggregation composed mostly of German actors who know English, has started the Autumn season with Alfred Suro's comedy, "The Laughing Lady," under the stage direction of Dr. Philip Manning.

The audiences at these performances is made up largely of members of the English and American colonies in Berlin, of students of the English seminary or the University of Berlin and of men and women interested in foreign affairs and trade.

On the whole, the Berlin press receives the "English theater's" productions with warm praise. The critic of the Berliner Zeitung, for instance, asks, "In what other city of Europe could native actors and actresses perform a foreign play with such perfect retention of the foreign peculiarities?"

Johanna Kudski, for 23 years a prima donna at the Metropolitan Opera in New York, starring principally in Wagnerian roles, has returned to the concert stage this Autumn in Berlin, the scene of her first triumphs. She has not appeared in public since the world war.

Critics found that her voice retains much of the brilliance which she was famous during her Metropolitan engagements. Her first evening consisted of an exclusively Wagnerian program in the course of which she sang "Elsa's dream" from "Lohengrin," "Die Teufelshalle" from "Tannhauser" and

BILIOUS ATTACKS

From Which Kentucky Man Suffered Two or Three Times a Month, Relieved by Black-Draught.

Lawrenceburg, Ky.—Mr. J. P. Nevins, a local coal dealer and farmer, about two years ago learned of the value of Thedford's Black-Draught Liver medicine, and now he says:

"Until then I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month. I would get nauseated. I would have dizziness and couldn't work. I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief. After taking the pills my bowels would act a couple or three times, then I would be very constipated."

"A neighbor told me of Black-Draught and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything."

"It seemed to cleanse my whole system and make me feel like new. I would take a few doses—get rid of the bile and have my usual clear head, feel full of 'pep' and could do twice the work."

"Tramp Printer" Gone, But "Boomer" Still Here, Says Typographical Head

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The "tramp printer," that colorful character of great wanderlust, has not disappeared, in the opinion of James M. Lynch, president of the International Typographical Union, and he offers records to prove it.

"The type has changed but the 'boomer' is still with us," said Mr. Lynch. "The difference is that the traveling type who once rode the brake-rods and the blind baggage now spins blithely along in his own automobile and is seldom embarrassed."

In the World of Sport

GRIDIRON TILTS IN EAST TODAY FOUGHT IN MUD

Melting Snow Will Slow Up Stars as Eastern Comets Meet Powerful Opposition in Major Mid-Season Games

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Mid-season football battles, several of them destined to create new chapters in the history of the gridiron sport, will be fought out in all likelihood on wet grounds in the east today.

Snow, of mud-forming variety, covered the surface Friday over a wide area. This was centered particularly in the intersectional game between Red Grange's Illinois eleven and Pennsylvania, outstanding eastern championship contenders at Franklin Field.

Pennsylvania conquered Chicago in the mud last week and with similar conditions likely to prevail today the speedy Quaker forward line, one of the best defensive arrays in the east, would hold an advantage over Red Grange, who would find it correspondingly difficult to get under way on a slippery surface. But Pennsylvania will be handicapped by the absence of two star backs, Krueze and Fields, to offset this.

The Pennsylvania-Illinois fray will share the intersectional interest with the Navy-Michigan battle at Ann Arbor, but from the viewpoint of their effect on eastern championship aspirations, the most important struggles are those between the Army and Yale at New Haven; Cornell and Columbia at the Polo Grounds; Dartmouth and Brown at Providence, and Syracuse and Penn State at Syracuse.

Army, Dartmouth, Cornell and Syracuse all are undefeated, to date, and are in the forefront of the title contenders. All are favorites in today's tilts but Cornell and Army, at least, have stiff fights on their hands.

Harvard and Princeton are expected to face little difficulty in William and Mary and Swarthmore respectively.

Among other prominent eastern arrays, unbeaten outfits will clash when New York University meets Fordham at the Yankee Stadium while Holy Cross entertains Bucknell at Worcester. Colgate, also unbeaten but tied once, goes West in search of intersectional conquest at the expense of the Michigan Aggies, while Georgetown also meets an intersectional foe in Kings College. Washington and Lee and West Virginia meet in their annual classic with a close fight predicted.

Rollins Rooters To Back Tars at Florida

WINTER PARK, Oct. 31.—(AP)—That the Tars of Rollins College will have plenty of backing on the sidelines at Gainesville today when the annual game between the Florida Gators and the Blue and Gold is played is evidenced by plans made here.

A large motored of students and alumni and other supporters of the college will leave this and other cities along the route for Gainesville early next Saturday morning. Among those in the motored from this city will be Dr. Hamilton Holt, president of Rollins College and his daughter, Miss Lella Holt.

YELLOW JACKETS AND NOTRE DAME TO CLASH TODAY

South's Most Attractive Grid Game of Day Is at Atlanta; Wycoff, Star Back of Yellow Jackets, May Not Play

ATLANTA, Ga., 31.—Two of the most spectacular and best drawing cards of America football, Georgia Tech and Notre Dame leading exponents of the shifting game, are to clash in Tech's big stadium here this afternoon. A crowd of between 25,000 and 30,000 is expected to watch the South's biggest intersectional game.

Tech, badly off form in the game with Alabama and hampered by an early injury to Wycoff, its greatest offensive weapon, hopes to retrieve some of its lost prestige by winning today's tilt. This is a rather forelorn hope, however, for it is extremely doubtful if Captain Wycoff will be allowed to play and it is certain that "Six" Carpenter, a veteran tackle, will watch the game from the sidelines.

Ticks on the back of their legs disabled both Wycoff and Carpenter in the Alabama game. Carpenter is out for the season while Wycoff, if the game is exceptionally close, may be shot into the fray this afternoon as a last resort to win.

Tech has taken it easy this week, even though Notre Dame undoubtedly has one of the greatest teams in the country. The Tornado has gone stale, and a semi-rest has been ordered in the hope the team will return to the sparkling form displayed in defeating both Florida and Penn State. Four rigorous early season games took much out of the Jackets, and unless they can return to top for the Vandy, Georgia and Auburn games, another Southern tilt may be dropped.

Tech will shoot the works against Notre Dame. The Jackets realize that their victory over Penn State has placed them in the very front rank of American football, and that a victory over Notre Dame, giving them two intersectional victories, would be an achievement no Southern team has ever been able to boast.

Alabama's one touchdown victory of last Saturday has not caused Tech's spirit to drop. Instead, the team is going about preparing for the remaining games on the schedule with a decided vim and vigor.

If Tech should be chance win the remaining four games of the schedule there will be one who can say there is a better Southern team, for Tech will have faced the most difficult opposition any team in the conference has ever been called upon to meet, and will have won eight of nine games.

Notre Dame has a very brilliant team and Knute Rockne is always a dangerous person to meet on the gridiron. In his seven or eight years as head coach he has lost only five games. No greater testimony to his greatness could be asked. Tech scouts who watched the victory over Minnesota declared the team was five touchdowns better than the one which was defeated by the Army. Flannagan and Pariesenne are two of the finest backs in the country this year. Their line is reputed to be even stronger than the famed one of a year ago.

If Wycoff is unable to start, Dick Wright will play his halfback. Either Fair or Hearn, both six-footers, will play in Carpenter's place.

PROTECT LAST OF GRIZZLIES

Members of the organization have offered to pay for any depredations which the bear may inflict on livestock, believing that it is the only grizzly left in the California mountains.
