Nation's Banks Re-Capture Their Role As Lenders To Business Firms

By WILLIAM D. HORGAN
NEW YORK, Dec. '29, (A')—
The nation's banks this year recaptured their traditional role as lenders to business, industry and finance.

And they played their part with such enthusiasm that at the year end they were under attack by government critics on the grounds that commercial credit was expanding at too rapid a rate.

Lending activity in the first half of 1947 was slowed by such factors as a slight skip in the pulse of business, talk of a recession and spasmodic concern strikes in key industries, and a pause in the upward flight of

At the end of December the total, as reported by member banks of the Federal Reserve System in leading cities, had skyrocketed to a record high of about $14,500,-000,000. This topped the total outstanding at the end of 1946 by the tidy sum of $3,000,000,- for the sky, with the year end total far above previous records. Coincident with this trend in lending, and in line with the postwar policy of the money man-agers in Washington, some $3,-500,000,000 in government bonds was lopped from the banks' investment portfolios. Despite this decline banks still had roughly $37,600,000,000 invested in federal Fundamentally there appeared to be a rising tendency in the long-term interest rate although the government, which virtually dictates the rate, vowed and reavowed that 2½ per cent interest for long-term money would not be altered. money.

This was reflected in higher rates for all types of loans -from bankers', acceptances to prime commercial paper.

Loss of income to banks by virtue of reduced holdings of U. B. governments securities was thus offset to a degree by expansion in revenues through a larger charge on loans. Most bankers believed the offset would not be enough to prevent a de-larger charge on loans. Most bankers believed the offset would not be enough to prevent a decline in net profits.

The big question in the banking industry at the end of the year was: What will the banks do -- or what will be done to the banks -- to curb the inflationary implications of rapidly expanding business and personal bank credit?

President Truman gave top place in his ten-point Anti-Inflation Program to legislation "to restore consumer credit controls and to restrain the creation of inflationary bank credit."

Restoration of controls on consumer credit appeared a likely development despite banking opposition. What to do about regulating commercial bank credit, if anything, was hotly debated.

Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, proposed secondary reserve requirements in the form of cash or short-term government securities, in addition to those now required. Eccles' theorized that such a move would prevent banks from selling short-term governments and using the proceeds to expand loans.

Secretary of the Treasury Eny-

Secretary of the Treasury Sny-der indicated disagreement with the Eccles' proposal and indicated that retirement of bankheld gov-ernment securities, plus intensi-fied savings bonds sales, and use of existing credit controls, would effectively compets with a racing inflation.

President Signs Bill That Is Facsimile Of Original Which Has Been Mislaid

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30 (4P) President Truman has signed he Republican cost-of-living bill, although he already had condenimed it as hardly worth the paper on which it was written.

And the paper which the President signed wasn't even a carbon copy of the original. You've heard, of course, how the original of the bill passed by Congress disappeared in some still unexplained fashion-from the White House sometime between Sunday night and Monday morning Secret service agents the place, day and night. But naiv a sign of the bill not even a "whereas" or asplit infinitive. That just couldn't be. The President aircidy had announced that much as he disliked it, he would sign it. And if he didn't sign it Wednesday night, the bill-would die in pecket veto. So the President's staff rushed through a reasonable facelinite, and with the shrill of signs and the roar of Senator Arthur Vandenberg and Speaker Joe Martin were ob-tained for the copy. We're not kidding about the rour of mirplane motors. A special emis-sary had to fly the bill to Dedham, Massachusetta, late last night to get Martin's signature. At exactly 9:15, this morning, President Truman signed the bill, with a sign to doubt echoed by

Bank Backs Farm Youth

With the idea of keeping the best of the farm youth on the farm, and at the same time building for future business, a bank in Phoenix, Ariz., has gone far in financing farm young people, Co-operating with the Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club leaders, this bank has lent $20%,-000 in over 500 loans to boys and girls.

The young borrowers have bought livestock and feed, generally, and so far have met all their banking obligations.

More often than not the applicant at first has no assets or security beyond the stock he buys. The young people are guided in paying back their loans, building up working "enemy" nations to maintain guided in paying back their loans, building up working trade with each other when the capital and expanding their ventures.

tailback from Toledo, who this year tossed and ran his way to within 20 of the 1,039 yard Western Conference record he set himself in 1946, tore a thigh muscle here midway in yesterday's practice at Brookside Park. Whateyer the result, Crisler, whose Western Conference champs are rated a slightly better than two-touchdown tavorite over the USC Trojans, is well beeleds in the Tailback department.

In the event Chappuis is side-lined for the New Year's Day classic, Crisler said his duties will be assumed by Gene Derricotte, the 175 pound negro that from Defiance, Ohio, and Walt Teninga, a 188 pound utility back fielder from Chicago.

While the outcome of Chap-puis's injury was awaited, Cris-ler scheduled the final two prac-tices for his 44-man squad in the Rose Bowl itself.

Today and tomorrow the Wolverines will hold tight-drills in the famous 89,000-capacity bowl, while Jeff Cravath's Trojans will

The State Department yesterday refused to issue a passport to the first player who applied until approval had been given by the U. S. Olympic Committee which has ruled the AAU instead of the AHA should select the American sextet.

Before a record-breaking opening night throng, Black Blizzard, a stout-hearted greyhound flash, captured the 14th annual Innaugural Handican last night at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club. The initial card launched the 90-day greyhound racing meet at the Central Florida track.

Up with the leaders all the way, Black Blizzard blazed down the homestretch to stave off a vigorous challenge by Hush Puppie who also closed with a rush only to miss by a head. Overslooked by, the holiday throng Blizzard returned mutuels of $22, $10 and $5.60. The favorite, Harryrot, finished fourth as Half Label saved the show position.

Tonight's card will include 10 top events with post-time for the first contest slated for 8 P. M.

Anderson Says That Investors In Commodities Are Hurt

WASHINGTON Dec. 31 (丹) Secretary of Agriculture Anderso said today he will recommend other commodity traders.

Anderson told this to reporters at the White House after a call All Stolen Property on President Truman.

Mr. Truman at a news conference earlier had said he does not think Brig. General Wallace H. Graham, his personal physician, did anything wrong when his broker speculated in wheat.

Anderson said he would recommend an end to publishing the names because of the "heartaches" being caused many innocent commodity holders by pub

Farm Areas Are About $1,000,000

Al' Special Wankington Bervice

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31 (17-Soil conservation payments to opisiana and Mississippi farmers under the 1947 farm program will total nearly $10,000,000, not far below the total planned for the two states before Congress trimmed agricultural appropriations last summer. Figures from the Agriculture Department today show that the present estimate of payments to Louisiana farmers is $3,602,000 and to Mississippi farmers $6,219,000.

These totals, Agriculture Department officials said, probably will be somewhat under the total credits farmers in the two states earned under the 1947 Soil.
