Scoring Battle Continues

The battle between Crooms Vernell Ellry and Oviedo's Billy Mikler for county scoring honors is a little closer today.

Both teams have played one game since the latest statistics were compiled and Mikler has gained about two/tenths of a point. Friday Ellzy had a 21.9 average with 247 points in 11 games and Mikler had a 20.6 average on 392 points in 19 games. ,

But Ellsy was held to 14 sgainst Hungerford while Mikler was netting 21 against Ococe. Ellzy's average dipped to 21.7 while Mikler's remained at 20.6. The Herald is going to include tournament games in its statistics since averages, not totals, determine scoring, rebounding and foul shooting champions. The Herald's all-county basketball team will be announced in mid-March, after the state tournament in Gainesville. It should be a good one. The all-Orange County team released by another publication recently looked good on paper with all its height, but even with only one winning team in Seminole Coun-

Dark Is Making News

Dark has been getting his name in the news lately on a couple of issues that only indirectly concern base-

First comes the report that Willie Mays is still not talking to Dark because of the racial incidents that popped up with the Giants when Dark was manager a couple of years ago. Dark was quoted as saying that during the strech drive in 1964 that the Negro and Latin American players on the team were not as mentally alert as the other mem-ters of the Glants. This cost Alvin his job. bers of the Glants. This cost Alvin his job.,

As a boyhood idle of Mr. Dark, its hard to believe he would say such a thing and we still don't feel the issue Joe Triner said he would be "From this moment on, the was as big as the press made it. All we know is that Dark guided by Kerner's wishes newspaper writers will never was a great ballplayer whose character had never been whether to approve or disap- maneuver and trick me on any questioned. And we still consider him one of the game's most respected figures.

Dark has also made the news with his ability to knock the golf ball into a nole in fewer strokes than most. After shooting a 75 to take the lead in the annual baseball players tournament in Miami, Dark said he was disgusted that he was playing so poorly. And we only thought it was the Palmers that com-

GW Escapes Debunkers

"Treacherous in private friend-ship and a hypocrite in public life" vas the verdict of one eminent

Thomas Paine, pamphleteer and patriot was delivering what he prob-ably sincerely believed to be final judgment on George Washington. That the first chief executive was the target of scathing attack in his own time is a fact of American history largely forgotten by all but his-torians. But fact nonetheless. Politial hatchetmen of any time would be hard put to match the abuse heaped upon this least political of Washington himself, writing in the last year of his presidency to Thomas Jefferson, complained that the partisan press referred to him in "such exaggerated and indecent terms as could scarcely be applied to a Nero, a notorious defaulter, or eva Nero, a notorious defaulter, or ev-en a common pickpocket." Yet the Washington reputation not only survived, it has grown through the years. While the de-bunking school of historians has been industriously cutting down to size other greats of America's early years, recognition of Washington's indispensable contributions to the fledgling nation has become clearer, respect greater. Why? He certainly lacked the intellectual brilliance of Jefferson, the political and economic genius of Hamilton. He was not a great speaker or writer, not one to fire men with his words. He would be considered dull, unimaginative today. Why should this sober, even stuffy, country gentleman be revered as have few other presidents?

lapsed. Political confusion, economic chaos, even armed rebellion followed victory. Washington, who had been the indispensable general in winning in-dependence in war, was now to be the indispensable civilian in securing that independence in peace—both as a dependence in peace—both as a prime mover of the Constitutional Convention that established the framework of the new nation and as its first president.

Washington, the military hero enjoying the gratitude of his countrymen, knew he had far more to lose than to gain by entering the political arena. Yet no ideal moved him so deeply as national unity. And by accepting the challenge, with the calumny that inevitably followed, he, more than anyone else, maintained unity during the crucial early years, doing so by sheer force of person and

The service to the nation of the man who always thought of himself as president of all the people, who was president of the entire United States as none to follow could hope to be, cannot be debunked. Jefferson, not Paine, delivered the judgment that was to be history's. "He was, in every sense of the words, a wise, a good, and a great man.
