First, he says that to be a believer is to be in possession of or have access to divine wisdom. Someone has said that wisdom is knowledge plus understanding. By faith in God access to this divine resource, the power to apply knowledge to life properly. James said, "If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him." (James 1:5)

The apostle Paul also said that to be a believer is to be in possession of what he calls righteousness. In his writings we learn of a dual concept concerning righteousness. He hought about imputed rightcourness, or the righteousness of Ohrist imputed to the account of believers. "For he hath made him to be sin for us, ... that we might be made the chteousness of God in him." (II Cor. 5:21) There was also in his teaching the concept of imparted righteousness. Through faith in Christ one receives moral energy to do right. 1st Corinthians 10:13 speaks of this power in relation to temptation. In this statement of faith in 1st Corinthians there is also an officer's commission? Some do. Many don't. enlistments, particularly those with technical skills, and ment bonus, for those abov the first or second grades. The standard reenlistment program provides a bonus equal to one month of pay for each previously served year of enistment, with a top of $2,000 In addition, the services have omething called the "variable reenlistment bonus," aimed at providing inducement for tech nicians (those with "critics military skills") to stay in service. To qualify for this bonus one must have two years of active duty, not counting active duty for training purposes, be grade E-3 or above and have a military occupation specialty (MOS). The definition of critical skills change as new equipment or weapons come into use.

The combination of the standard and variable bonuses run into tidy sums as reenlistments are repeated. You have seen photographs of an old time sergeant or navy chief trundling a wheelbarrow full of money. While reenlistment bonuses may be hundreds or even thousands of dollars, wheelbarrow loads are rare and usually the product of some publicity officer caper. SEVERAL POSSIBILITIES

Military pay goes up steadily with promotion in rank and length of service. A master serreant or senior chief petty off cer, who entered service about 16 years ago at a starting pay of less than $90 a month draws a base pay of more than $400

Or, in the commissioned officer ranks, take a lieutenan colonel or navy commander a an example: He started out as a second lieutenant or ensign 16 years ago, with a base pay of less than $300. His base pay now is about $700.

Military pay isn't big, meas ured against jobs of similar nature in civilian life. That lieutenant colonel commander is an example. As suming he is in an Air Force Navy or Marine pilot drawing about $700 per month, with other benefits, he could get start-off pay of about $1,000 as an airline pilot and, with senior ity accumulating, climb fa above that income level.

There are several possible paths to becoming a commin sioned officer in the service including appointment to th three major academies, through the Reserve Officers Training Corps programs of the services through Officer Candidate Schools or, in limited instances by direct commissions from civilian life.

The four service academies - the Army's West Point, the Navy's Annapolis (which also provides officers for the Ms rine Corps), the Air Force's Colorado Springs and the Coas Guard's New London, academy all have four-year programs The entrance age bracket for each is the same-17 to 22 They are the military counter parts of a civilian college o university. The student body o each, with some exceptions, are men with no prior military service. Entrance is almost entirely by congressional appoint ment, with rigid academic and physical requirements, except for the Coast Guard academ where entrance is by nationwide competitive examination. COMPETITION OPEN Enlisted men in the regula or reserve forces may compete for a comparatively limited number of presidential nominations to West Point, Annapolis or Colorado Springs.

Graduates of the four acade mies are commissioned as secand lieutenants or ensigns. Like those of the service academies, students in the Reserve Officer Training Corps programs at schools, colleges and universities are no-prior service men. The idea is that along with your civilian schooling you receive enough military training and military subjects to qualify you for an officer's commission, either in the regular establishment or as a reserve officer.

Two of the services, the Army and Air Force, set ages for entrance into ROTC type units low enough to include youngsters entering high school. The age brackets for these programs of both services are 14-24. The naval ROTC age bracket is 17 to 21. The Coast Guard does not of Montreal club, and Burt Shotten, Dodger scout. How times have changed. Dressen, who died Tuesday, was later manager o Dodgers, Washington Senators and Detroit Tigers; Rickey, who also died this past year, was considered baseball's greatest front office genius; and Shotton, too, went on to manage the Dodgers, replacing Dressen, who quit because he couldn't get a two-year contract. And the ball park's gone too, replaced by the nice, modern Memorial Stadium which still stands just a half-block away. But, alas, the city has outlawed baseball there now. THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and all over her face! It takes no little to alight a child and me manatim wish that we could be satisfied as easily.

As we grow older, we acquire exsensive new possessions but tire of them. We try costly new entertainments until they bore us. Even though our lives are full of small pleasures ... the fragrance of fresh-cut grass. the soothing sound of rain, the milent beauty of stars . . . we somehow aren't really aware of them any longer. Even life itself, the greatest gift we have. can seem bleak and fruitless. What can restore our awareness of the joy and privilege of being alive?

Jesus knew about this problem, and He had the answer for all who need it. He has promised life ... more abundant life . . . to those who will follow Him. And He will help. every step of the way.
