

Rural Common Sense
By Frank Johnson
Most Florida farmers, like those of other states, are not getting the most out of their savings in government bonds.

...length to spend it for things...
...which aren't really necessary.

However, A. P. Spencer, director of the State Cultural Extension Service, says the limit has not yet come for heavy buying. Rather, it is time to continue investing in government bonds, to wait for more settled conditions and more manufactured materials on the market.

While it is true that farmers have been able to save some money during the war, not all of it represents profits from farming operations, the director points out. In many cases soil resources have been drained by heavy production and, in nearly all cases farm machinery and equipment have gone—more—into value with long-continued use as replacements were not obtainable. Normal expenditures for maintenance and improvement have not been made.

The farmer who allows his savings to push him into waste and unwise purchases at this time is inviting trouble. Mr. Spencer declares: "A good part of his savings must go back into the farm to replace the heavy drain resource required to maintain it. Farmers entering the field of competitive buying now may waste their own savings and will encourage inflation. The real estate market is an asset not only to the individual but also to the nation, over five million dollars being in the hands of speculators. If exploited or drawn off by heavy or ill-considered spending, it will be lost forever to those who can use it for the best interests of rural people. And the time may come when it will be sorely needed."

Communist Forces Claim Capture Of Manchurian Capital

40,000 Chinese Reds Participate In Onslaught That Began As Russians Left

CHUNGKING, Apr. 19 (AP)—The Chinese communists today claimed that Communist forces have captured the Manchurian capital of Chang-chun. That news was expected by the Chinese government. In view of earlier dispatches that said the small national garrison in Chang-chun controlled only two battalions of the city and could not hold out beyond the morning.

The garrison was outnumbered ten to one—4,000 government troops against 40,000 Communist forces.

The Communist broadcast from Yenan said a delegation of self-styled "Great North Loyalists" representing every state in the union were in Chungking and were expected to meet in the city on Friday.

2,500 Persons Are Involved In Clash Between AF of L and CIO Electricians

Twenty-five hundred persons were involved in a clash today between AF of L and CIO union pickets in New York City in which one man was injured and three were arrested in the fight after rival pickets started swinging both fists and the heavy sticks on which they carried placards.

Washington, Secretary of Labor Scheuermann announced that he will make another attempt to bring about a settlement of the soft coal strike. The labor union leader said he will meet separately with the United Mine Workers' chief, John L. Lewis, and with the soft coal operators next week, possibly on Monday or Tuesday, or as soon as the negotiations are advanced to the point where a settlement can be reached.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

WE MUST GROW OLD IN years but we need not decay: Who satisfieth thy years with good things, so that thy youth is renewed like the eagle. —Psalm 103:16

Senator Vandenberg apparently is in favor of the proposed loan to Britain, but he believes all our foreign loans should be "geared to agreements." And one of those agreements might well be that the loans be repaid.

The coal strike is crippling the country's reconversion efforts. "Scores of plants are down because of lack of fuel," says Civilian Production Administrator Small.

When Representative Roy Harris was defeated for re-election up there in Georgia the other day, he blamed it on 250,000 Negroes who were instructed by an Atlanta Negro lawyer just how to vote," according to the Tampa Tribune.

It will be interesting to see whom the "CIO" communists support in the Democratic primaries. For if their candidate should win, his Republican opposition would have a big advantage in the November election.

We don't think much of Senator Bilbo of Mississippi, and we made it a practice never to believe anything we read in Washington Merry-Go-Round, but when the latter quotes the former as saying that if New York secedes from the union, there wouldn't be a shot fired against it, we just have to cheer for somebody.

The House of Representatives actually voted against extending its sympathy to the American people the other day, passing amendments to the OPA price control bill so fast they scarcely had time to waver at them as they went by. House members actually shouted approval of an amendment, "We sympathize with the American people," but when a roll call was demanded, they reverted to form and the amendment was defeated 142 to 52.

Miami freeholders voted 17 to 1 on Tuesday to issue $13,246,000 worth of bonds to lay 700 miles of sidewalks and construct sanitary sewers and a disposal system. Miami has been dumping its sewage into Biscayne Bay, sometimes called beautiful Biscayne Bay, despite the sewer practice, even as we dump our waste into Lake Monroe. It is estimated that the disposal system for Miami will cost $6,400,000. A similar system for Sanford probably would not cost more than $500,000.

One of the most sensible plans for any high school sport that we have seen in a long time comes from Pete Norton, former Herald sports editor, now working for the Tampa Tribune. "There was a time when swimming was one of the big sports in Florida," he writes. "Swimming in Florida, where we have more lakes and rivers than almost any other country in the world, should be a compulsory subject of physical education."

Norton further points out that the Navy many years ago had a swimming pool at the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md., and that it was one of the best in the world.

An Easter Meditation

Two main interests today are housing and religion. Both have been jockeyed into attention by discovery of atomic energy. Housing shortages blossomed overnight when the bomb ended the war precipitously. Long-accepted tenets of the church were re-scrutinized in the penetrating light of the bomb that wiped out a city, killed 100,000 civilians, brought peace and saved more lives than it exacted.

Was it morally justified? More than ever the new profound knowledge of atomic principles, only vaguely comprehended as yet, is becoming as revolutionary a challenge to church doctrines as ever were the ideas of earth's roundness or Darwinian theories of evolution. The church, it may be remembered, has survived these and other challenges, incorporated their ideas when they have proved sound, and gone on with its great work.

Current magazines, newspapers and books are spilling much ink on the subjects of housing and religion. Popular authors are moved to put their personal philosophies into books. Howard Spring in "And Another Thing" emerges with a theology that embraces the Beatitudes and the Sermon on the Mount. George Santayana in "The Idea of Christ in the Gospels" finds the Christian creed satisfying.

Articles and books leave veterans homeless and religious questions unanswered for many. But one thing is certain—people are thinking. The atomic bomb has awakened thought, disturbing thought, but thought nonetheless. The hope of clearing present confusions in practical issues like housing, and mystical matters like religion, is the thinking.

"Thought once awakened never slumbers." Religion sometimes seemingly crushed or abandoned, always arises, in its Great Exemplar, on the Third Day.

Newspaper Ads

Brigadier General Julius Ochs Adler, vice president and general manager of the New York Times, made some sound observations this week on the role of advertising in maintaining a free press. His remarks were delivered at a lecture course on "The Newspaper—Day by Day," being presented by The Times in cooperation with the New York Board of Education.

General Adler pointed out that, on the contrary, advertising guarantees instead of obstructs independence of the press. Publishing a paper, he observed, requires money. Therefore, only a newspaper without advertising invites a question as to where its money comes from.

No more do advertisers nowadays attempt to dictate the editorial policy of a newspaper than the publisher who carries their "ads" expects to determine the type of goods they shall sell or the price they may ask, he explains. Finally, General Adler gave the teachers attending the course a sound evaluation of the benefits of newspaper advertising to the paper, to the advertiser, and to the public.

It is actually true that the more advertising a paper carries, from the greatest number of sources, the more apt it is to be strictly unbiased in its editorial policy. The dangers to freedom of the press today do not come from that source.—Hartford Courant.

STATE NEWS BRIEFS

Citizens of Miami will not have to hold their noses much longer to keep out foul odors from the unhealthy septic tanks which serve two-thirds of the city, or from the 62 outfalls which eject raw sewage into the river and bay. At the polls Tuesday, 12,640 out of 26,378 registered property owners approved issuance of $9,490,000 bonds toward a $17,000,000 sewer project.

Howard Overlin, manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Company in Key West found out Monday morning at 2:15 o'clock that someone had borrowed his station wagon and driven it into a pole, crumpling the right fender and demolishing a wheel. Mr. Overlin was formerly Bell Telephone manager in Sanford.

Fort Pierce has been having labor troubles with its garbage collection employees, six of whom failed to show up for work this week and four of whom gave notice they would quit Saturday.

State Convention of P.E.O. To Be Held

The P.E.O. state convention will be held in Sanford on Apr. 25, 26, and 27 with Chapter "L" of Sanford and Chapter "L" of Ft. Cloud serving as hosts. It was announced today by H. H. McCallin, president of the Sanford chapter and convention chairman.

Reservations for 150 delegates and visitors have been made at the Mayfair Inn and all business sessions will be held at the Armory. Dr. Marjorie Mitchell, Nevada, will be the guest speaker and H. H. Coleman, president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, will welcome the convention at the opening session Thursday evening.

The Sanford chapter of P.E.O. was organized at the Mayfair Hotel on Mar. 28, 1934, with 12 charter members. The following is quoted from the P.E.O. Record, official publication of P.E.O. established in January, 1889:

"The P.E.O. Sisterhood has been described as a 'college society' that has gone afield. In a sense, it is just that. Organized in 1889 at Iowa Wesleyan college it was among the earliest societies for women formed in a college. There was something about P.E.O. that held its members after they had gone from the campus, so other 'societies' were formed far from a college."

"When the college women, following the pattern of men's groups, became a Greek letter institution and were confined to the campus, P.E.O. unwilling to change its English letters, and to abandon its city chapters became a city organization."

"True it is that for some 20 years there were P.E.O. chapters in college. By that time P.E.O. laws had become such as fitted city needs and finally in 1903 the members of the last college group were transferred to city chapters in their home towns."

Beginning with seven members in 1889 the membership now is approximately 45,000. There are about 2,500 chapters in the United States, Hawaii and Alaska.

Presbyterian Easter Program Announced

The public is cordially invited to attend the worship service at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock when the Easter service will be held with Dr. E. D. Brownlee conducting. The program will be opened with an organ prelude "An Easter Spring Song" by Garth Edmundson which will be followed by a call to worship with the music "St. Theodolph's Hymn" by Teaschner.

Mrs. F. S. Verray will conduct the choir and will also be the organist for the program. Those singing in the choir will include soprano, Mrs. Charles Wilke, Mrs. J. A. Bistline, Mrs. Rayburn Milwee, Mrs. C. C. Blane, Jr., and Mrs. W. A. Wright; alto, Mrs. A. C. Fort, Mrs. R. F. Mann and Mrs. H. M. Womack; tenors, C. C. Howard, J. A. Bistline and George Touhy; tenors, J. N. Walters and Dick Alken.

George Touhy and Dick Alken will have solo parts in the anthem "He is Risen" by Clara and Dick Alken will sing "In the End of the Sabbath" as a solo. Mrs. C. C. Blane, Jr., will sing "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" by Handel. The organ postlude will be "Hallelujah Chorus" from "The Messiah" by Handel.

At 6:00 p.m. Mrs. George Touhy assisted by Mrs. Charles Wilke and Dick Alken will present an hour of music. The public is cordially invited.

Mrs. Jack McDonald Has Garden Circle

The Dirt Gardeners Circle of the Sanford Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Jack McDonald recently with Mrs. Herndon as chairman, presiding. The rooms of the residence were beautifully decorated with Spring flowers. It was decided that Mrs. Harry Heeren will represent the circle as a delegate to the State Convention at Miami Beach next month.

Each member was requested to contribute two or more favorite recipes for the cook book which the Garden Club plans to publish. The funds derived from the sale of the book will be used for the building fund.

All members were asked to register and vote. An interesting quiz program on hennepin was conducted by Mrs. R. A. Williams. At the conclusion of the meeting members exchanged potted plants.

No charge is being made for this recital and no collection will be taken. The request has been made that the subscription be stated before 8:00 p.m.

Miss Quarterman To Wed M. M. Tindale

Miss Helen E. Quarterman, daughter of Lieut. and Mrs. N. H. Quarterman of Ovid, has completed plans for her marriage to Merrill M. Tindale, son of Mrs. A. L. Tindale of Inverness and A. L. Tindale of Sanford. The wedding will be solemnized Sunday afternoon at two o'clock at the Ovid Methodist Church with Rev. J. M. McLeod officiating at the ceremony.

The bride's parents are entertaining with an informal reception at the Ovid Woman's Club immediately following the wedding and all friends and relatives of the couple are cordially invited to attend the ceremony and reception.

Hibiscus Circle of Garden Club Formed

Indicative of interest in beautification is the formation of a new circle of the Sanford Garden Club which has been named the Hibiscus Circle. This brings the total of garden circles to six, the others being Azalea, Central, Dirt Gardeners, Magnolia and Rose with each having approximately 25 members.

The new circle was formed at the home of Mrs. H. H. McCallin on Magnolia Avenue Tuesday. The following officers were selected for the year: Mrs. Seth Woodruff, chairman; Mrs. S. F. Long, vice chairman; Mrs. Harry Woodruff, treasurer and Mrs. H. A. Moreland, secretary.

Mrs. W. A. Fitts sponsored the circle which will have its first meeting May 10 at the home of Mrs. Dick McLaughlin.

Sunday Evening Music Program Told

An all music hour of worship will be presented Sunday at 8:00 p.m., at the First Presbyterian Church, featuring Mrs. George Touhy in an organ recital and the popular organist, Mrs. Charles Wilke, the piano and Dick Alken, tenor. These musicians are well known for their artistry not only in Sanford but in nearby cities where they have appeared.

Mr. Aiken appeared recently as guest soloist at the Knowledge Memorial Chapel at Rollins, Fla. He has been studying voice in the school of music at Rollins. Mrs. Wilke has been especially well received in Sanford churches for her pleasing interpretation of sacred music and a large following of admirers has indicated their eagerness to hear her again.

The organist, Mrs. Touhy, also has given many programs among them being her recent recital on the Skinner organ of Rollins College's Knowledge Memorial Chapel. She has won many friends who praise the wide range of interpretation afforded by the organ.

The program for this Easter service will be as follows: Prayer, "Aloha-ma Tei," Palestrina-Dickinson; Largo from "Naxos" Handel-McKinley; In Summer, St. John's Episcopal, the Lutes, M. Charles Wilke; and "Mountain Sketches" Clokey; Wind in the Pines from "Mountain Sketches" Clokey; Fantasia in G-Minor Bach, Chorale, "Come Sweetest Rest," Handel-Virgil; Chorus, "Went Up Into the Hill," Dickson; "Innocence" Dance of the Candy Fairy from "Nutcracker Suite" Tchaikovsky; To a Will Rose MacDowell; La Bruere, The Mist, Galt.

BIBLE VERBS FOR TODAY

WE MUST GROW OLD IN years but we need not decay. Who satisfieth thy years with good things, so that thy youth is renewed like the eagle. —Psalm 103:5

Senator Vandenberg apparently is in favor of the proposed loan to Britain, but he believes all our foreign loans should be "geared to agreements". And one of those agreements might well be that the loans be repaid.

The coal strike is crippling the country's reconversion efforts. "Scores of plants are down because of lack of fuel," says Civilian Production Administrator Small. We wonder who it is that gets the most when shortages exist on account of strikes, the big rich or the little fellow?

When Representative Roy Harris was defeated for re-election in Georgia the other day, he blamed it on "50,000 Negroes" who were instructed by an Atlanta Negro lawyer just how to vote, according to the Tampa Tribune. We wonder just how many 50,000 Negroes they've got up there in Georgia.

It will be interesting to see when the CIO communists endorse in the Democratic Primaries. For if their candidate should win, his Republican opposition would have a big advantage in the November election. As between the Republicans and the communists, most Floridians would choose the Republicans.

We don't think much of Senator Bilbo of Mississippi, and we make it a practice never to believe anything we read in Washington Merry-Go-Round, but when the latter quotes the former as saying that if New York seceded from the union, there wouldn't be a shot fired against it, we just have to cheer for somebody.

The House of Representatives actually voted against extending its sympathy to the American people the other day. Passing amendments to the OPA price control bill so fast they scarcely had time to wave at them as they went by. House members actually shouted approval of an amendment, "We sympathize with the American people," but when a roll call was demanded, they reverted to form and the amendment was defeated 142 to 52.

Miami freeholders voted 17 to 1 on Tuesday to issue $13,246,000 worth of bonds to lay 700 miles of sidewalks and construct sanitary sewers and a disposal system. Miami has been dumping its sewage into Biscayne Bay, sometimes called "beautiful Biscayne Bay," despite the sewer stink, even as we dump our trash into Lake Monroe. It is estimated that the disposal system for Miami will cost $8,400,000. A similar system for Sanford probably would not cost more than $600,000.

One of the most sensible pleas for any high school sport that we have seen in a long time comes from Pete Norton, former Herald sports editor, now working for the Tampa Tribune. "There was a time when swimming was one of the big sports in Florida," he says. "Swimming in Florida, where we have more lakes and ponds than almost any other country in the world, should be the chief subject of physical education. Norton further points out that in the Navy many recruits are unable to swim and that the Navy should have a swimming pool at each of its bases."

An Easter Meditation

Two main interests today are housing and religion. Both have been jockeyed into attention by discovery of atomic energy. Housing shortages blossomed overnight when the bomb ended the war precipitously. Long-accepted tenets of the church were re-scrutinized in the penetrating light of the bomb that wiped out a city, killed 100,000 civilians, brought peace and saved more lives than it exacted.

Was it morally justified? More than ever the new profound knowledge of atomic principles, only vaguely comprehended as yet, is becoming as revolutionary a challenge to church doctrines as ever were the ideas of earth's roundness or Darwinian theories of evolution. The church, it may be remembered, has survived these and other challenges, incorporated their ideas when they have proved sound, and gone on with its great work.

Current magazines, newspapers and books are spilling much ink on the subjects of housing and religion. Popular authors are moved to put their personal philosophies into books. Howard Spring in "And Another Thing" emerges with a theology that embraces the Beatitudes and the Sermon on the Mount. George Santayana in "The Idea of Christ in the Gospels" finds the Christian creed satisfying.

Articles and books leave veterans homeless and religious questions unanswered for many. But one thing is certain—people are thinking. The atomic bomb has awakened thought, disturbing thought, but thought nonetheless. The hope of clearing present confusions in practical issues like housing, and mystical matters like religion, is the thinking. "Thought once awakened never slumbers." Religion sometimes seemingly crushed or abandoned, always arises, like its Great Exemplar, on the Third Day.

Newspaper Ads

Brigadier General Julius Ochs Adler, vice president and general manager of the New York Times, made some sound observations this week on the role of advertising in maintaining a free press. His remarks were delivered at a lecture course on "The Newspaper—Day by Day," being presented by The Times in cooperation with the New York Board of Education. He answered effectively the charges, so often and irresponsibly made, that the editorial policy of newspapers is controlled, or at least unduly influenced, by its advertisers.

General Adler pointed out that, on the contrary, advertising guarantees instead of obstructs independence of the press. Publishing a paper, he observed, requires money. Therefore, only a newspaper without advertising invites a question as to where its money comes from. For the alternative to advertising revenue is a subsidy from some person or persons ready to pay for the expression of a particular point of view. With the average newspaper, however, the very number and diversity of its advertisers would prevent any one of them from unduly influencing its editors. For example, General Adler cited statistics showing that no single advertiser in The Times contributed as much as two per cent of the paper's total revenue.

No more do advertisers nowadays attempt to dictate the editorial policy of a newspaper than the publisher who carries their "ads" expects to determine the type of goods they shall sell or the price they may ask, he explains. Finally, General Adler gave the teachers attending the course a sound evaluation of the benefits of newspaper advertising to the paper, to the advertiser, and to the public. Such advertising, he said, stimulates mass production, thereby lowering costs; gives the consumer the benefit of free competition; and by creating the brand identities, standardizes the quality of the goods purchased.

It is actually true that the more advertising a paper carries, from the greatest number of sources, the more apt it is to be strictly unbiased in its editorial policy. The dangers to freedom of the press today do not come from that source.—Hartford Courant.

STATE NEWS BRIEFS

MIAMI Citizens of Miami will not have to hold their noses much longer to keep out foul odors from the unhealthy septic tanks which serve two thirds of the city, or from the 62 outfalls which eject raw sewage into the river and bay. At the polls Tuesday, 19,668 out of 26,373 registered property owners approved issuance of $8,400,000 bonds toward a $17,000,000 sewer project, including a disposal system. In addition they approved bonds of $6,846,000 for sidewalk construction along its 70 miles of streets left without them in a period of rapid growth.

It is expected to change to Daylight Saving Time. If the Legislature has to decide it, by the time they get through arguing, as they did about re-apportionment, it will be too late in the year for the new time.

Howard Overlin, manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Company in Key West found out Monday morning at 2:15 o'clock that someone had borrowed his station wagon and driven it into a pole, crumpling the right fender and demolishing a wheel. Mr. Overlin was formerly Bell Telephone manager in Sanford.

Fort Pierce has been having labor troubles with its garbage collection employees, six of whom failed to show up for work this week and four of whom gave notice they would quit Saturday. With the city jail averaging only one or two prisoners, no help can be expected from that direction. Employees on the city's garbage trucks are paid an average of $30 a week for a 41 hour work.

Hibiscus Circle Of Garden Club Formed

Indicative of interest in beautification is the formation of the new circle of the Sanford Garden Club which has been named the Hibiscus Circle. This brings the total of garden circles to six, the others being Azalea, Central, Dirt Gardeners, Magnolia and Rose with each having approximately 25 members.

The new circle was formed at the home of Mrs. H. H. McCaslin on Magnolia Avenue Tuesday. The following officers were selected for the year: Mrs. Seth Woodruff, chairman; Mrs. S. F. Long, vice chairman; Mrs. Harry Woodruff, treasurer and Mrs. H. A. Moreland, secretary.

Mrs. W. A. Fitts sponsored the circle which will have its first meeting May 19 at the home of Mrs. Dick McLain.

Sunday Evening Music Program Told

An all music hour of worship will be presented Sunday at 8:00 p. m., at the First Presbyterian Church, featuring Mrs. George Touhy in an organ recital and the popular soloist, Mrs. Charles Wilke, soprano and Dick Aiken, tenor. These musicians are well known for their artistry not only in Sanford for in nearby cities where they have appeared.

Mr. Aiken appeared recently as guest soloist at the Knowles Memorial Chapel at Rollins College. He has been studying voice in the school of music at Rollins. Mrs. Wilke has been especially well received in Sanford churches for her pleasing interpretation of sacred music and a large following of admirers have indicated their eagerness to hear her again.

The organist, Mrs. Touhy, also has been giving her recent recital on the Skinner organ of Rollins College's Knowles Memorial Chapel. She has won many friends who enjoy the wide range of interpretation afforded by the organ.

The program for this Easter service will be as follows: Prayer, "Aldramus Te" Palestrina-Dickinson; Largo from "Verde" Handel-McKinley; In Summer, St. Hubert's; Consider the Lilies, Mrs. Charles Wilke; solo, "Cantata Walls from "Mountain Sketches"; Clokey; Wind in the Pines from "Mountain Sketches"; Clokey; Fantasia in G-Minor Bach; Chorale, "Come Sweetest Rest," Bach; Virgil Fox; Christ Went Up Into The Hills, Dick Aiken; Hageman; Dance of the sands Fairy from "Nutcracker Suite" Techninsky; To A Wild Rose MacDowell; La Brume, The Mist Gaud.

No charge is being made for this recital and no collection will be taken. The request has been made that the congregation be seated before 8:00 p. m.

Mrs. Jack McDonald Has Garden Circle

The Dirt Gardeners Circle of the Sanford Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Jack McDonald recently with her husband, Bernard Wilke, chairman, presiding. The rooms of the residence were beautifully decorated with Spring flowers. It was decided that Mrs. Harry Heeren will represent the circle as a delegate to the State Flower Convention at Miami Beach next month.

Each member was requested to contribute two or more favorite recipes for the cook book which the Garden Club plans to publish. The funds derived from the sale of the book will be used for the building fund.

All members were asked to register and vote. An interesting quiz program on home-calls was conducted by Mrs. R. A. Williams. At the conclusion of the meeting members exchanged potted plants.

Miss Quarterman To Wed M. M. Tindale

Miss Helen E. Quarterman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Quarterman of Ocala has completed plans for her wedding to Merrill M. Tindale, son of Mrs. A. L. Tindale of Inverness and A. L. Tindale of Sanford. The wedding will be solemnized Sunday afternoon at two o'clock at the Orlando Methodist Church with Rev. J. M. McLeod officiating at the ceremony.

The bride's parents are entertaining with an informal reception at the Orlando-Women's Club immediately following the wedding and all friends and relatives of the couple are cordially invited to attend the ceremony and reception.

and about 35 chapters in Canada. There are 32 states, Province and District chapters. "There are individual P.E.O.'s living all around the world. "P.E.O. has more than two million dollars invested in the education of women, through the loan fund of more than 100,000 and a Junior College for girls, Cotley College, at Nevada, Mo.

The loan fund has aided more than 9,000 women to college and professional training, with the purpose of self support. "Membership in P.E.O. comes by invitation, thus the membership is a selected one."

State Convention Of P.E.O. To Be Held

The P.E.O. state convention will be held in Sanford on Apr. 25, 26, and 27 with Chapter "V" of Sanford and Chapter "L" of St. Cloud serving as hosts. It was announced today by Mrs. H. H. McCaslin, president of the Sanford chapter and convention chairman.

Reservations for 150 delegates and visitors have been made at the Mayfair Inn and all business sessions will be held at the Armory. Dr. Marjorie Mitchell, Nevada, will be the guest speaker and J. H. Coleman, president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, will welcome the convention at the opening session Thursday evening.

The Sanford chapter of P.E.O. was organized at the Mayfair Hotel on Mar. 25, 1938 with 18 charter members. The following is quoted from the P.E.O. Record, official publication of P.E.O. established in January, 1899:

"The P.E.O. Sisterhood has been described as a college sorority that has gone afield. In a sense, it is just that. Organized in 1899 at Iowa Wesleyan college it was among the earliest societies for women formed in a college. There is something about P.E.O. that held its members after they had gone from the campus, so other 'societies' were formed far from a college.

"When the college women, following the pattern of men's groups, became a Greek letter institution and were confined to the campus, P.E.O. unwilling to change its English letters, and to abandon its city chapters became a city organization.

"True it is that for some 20 years there were P.E.O. chapters in colleges. By that time P.E.O. laws had become such as fitted city needs and finally in 1903 the members of the last college group were transferred to city chapters in their home towns.

Beginning with seven members in 1899 the membership now is approximately 85,000. There are about 2,500 chapters in the United States, Hawaii and Alaska

Public Invited To Hear Singers Tonight

The public is invited to hear the voices from churches of the city sing "The Crucifixion" this evening at 8:00 p. m., at the Holy Cross Episcopal Church with Mrs. A. M. Phillips directing. An all musical program will be presented which will include several selections by Bach, Rev. Mark F. Carpenter will be assisted by Rev. J. E. McKinley with prayer and scripture reading.

The tenor soloist, Ernest Walker, of Rollins College is a veteran of the Army Air Forces and a native of Durham, N. C. He is a vocal student of Miss Mabel Rich of the conservatory of music at Rollins. Earnest M. Armitage, bass, and Martin Stuechly, baritone, of this city will also sing solo parts.

"The Crucifixion" is based on the seven last words of Christ which are: "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do"; "Today shall I be with me in paradise"; "Woman, behold thy son"; "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me"; "Thirst"; "It is finished"; "Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit."

At the beginning of "The Crucifixion" the 11 candles in two seven branched candelabra will be lighted and as each of the seven sentences are sung the acolytes, Kenneth Leffer and Glenn Lingler, Jr., will extinguish the lights.

TERRACE TALK

Have you seen CAROLINE and JIMMY CRAPPS new Impregator? It's a beautiful blue Ford V8. MR. and MRS. GEORGE WIRTTON are sporting a green Dodge speed. A press agent at Miami Beach has been knocking his brain out trying to make northern newspaper editors understand that Miami and Miami Beach are separate cities. And today the press agent came up with this jingle: . . . A raspberry isn't a peach . . . Miami isn't Miami Beach . . . Literaria is not Miami! MRS. W. E. KIRCHHOFF will entertain Tuesday for BBAN KIBBLEY with a bridge luncheon at 12:30 P. M. at the Mayfair Inn. KEENE IVEY was wearing an eye catching light green suit with matching hat at VERNE SMITH'S party for DORIS yesterday. . . She made them!!! When the tourists remark about the attractive women in town . . . that is something . . . MRS. B. N. SAYER was a picture in pink and grey at the bridge party. . . MRS. GEORGE HARDEN wore a black suit with a dream hat which was soooo becoming. . . MRS. HENRY WATSON wore a black suit with a black straw hat that revealed her center hair-part. . . MRS. W. C. HILL wore a perky white straw trimmed with black. . . MRS. ROY WILLIAMS wore a black suit. . . MRS. LUGI WIELCHEL was dressed in a lovely grey wool suit with black accessories which included a black straw hat adorned with a large pale pink flower. . . DORIS was no slotted over her shoulders the just coobin and neebin. . . One of radio's most popular dramatic programs is to be made into a movie. Kettles Hurls Feds To 8 To 3 Victory Over Deland

Bryant, Bride, Lake, Langston Each Explode Pair Of Safeties

Sanford Right Hander Scatters 10 Red Hat Blows While Mates Bunch 10 Hits For Three Big Innings

By JULIAN STENSTROM

Although he was nipped for a total of 10 hits, Goose Kettles scattered them well enough to limit the Deland Red Hat to three runs while his mates, the Sanford Celery Feds, were bunching ten safeties and taking advantage of five bases on balls and four Red Hat errors to capture a 10 to 3 win over the same club that trounced the locals 22 to 1 in the season's opener last Tuesday night in Deland.

The Celery Feds, as they did in Wednesday night's win over St. Augustine, bunched their blows and scored their eight runs in three innings.

They came from behind in the third inning with two counters, tallied four in the fifth and put on the finishing touches in the eighth with a final pair.

Bill Bryant, Dave Bride, Buddy Lake and Mayo Langston accounted for two safeties each during the affair while Joe Justice and Byron Sharp obtained the other two. Two of the three hits were doubles, one by Bride in the third with one on and the other by Sharp in the eighth.

Deland broke the scoring ice in the third when Shalatta beat out an infield roller towards second. Rosa walked but was forced at second when Fuchs grounded to short. However, Bride's throw was wide, permitting Shalatta to cross the plate.

The Feds wanted no time in gaining the lead when two men out, Bryant was caught by one of Leslie's tosses and scored when Bride doubled to left. Bride took third when Leslie balked and scored when Lake singled to center.

In the fourth, Deland knotted the count with a single tally. Byra beat out a roller just in front of the plate. He gained second when Britt grounded out, Bride to Silverman. Beaman beat out an infield roller towards second, Byra taking third and scored when Bryant was being thrown out at second on Pavulich's grounder to Bryant.

The Fed's big inning came in the fifth. Sharp was hit by Leslie and immediately was sent to third by Bryant's single to center. Bryant took second on the throw in to third. However, third baseman Nash let the throw get away from him and Sharp scored. Bryant winding up at third, Bride then smashed a single into left, Bryant scored on the play and Bride went up to second when left fielder Britt miscued the ball. Lake fled out to center but Langston singled to left to score Bride, Langston gaining second on the throw in. Justice beat out an infield hit which allowed Langston to advance to third and the Red right fielder scored when Zaspel flied out to Fuchs in center.

The final Sanford runs were scored in the eighth. Sharp doubled down the right field line and scored when Bryant singled to left. Bryant advanced to second when an attempt was made to nab Sharp at the plate. Lake singled to center to score Bryant and wind up the scoring hostilities.

Tonight the locals travel to Deland for another tilt with the Red Hats and move on to St. Augustine for a contest with Bill Steinecke's Saints tomorrow evening. Sunday, Sanford's State League entry returns for an afternoon tilt with the Red Hats.

More Athletes Probably Will Go To Mexico

Latest Reports Say Pasquels Have Few Pesos Yet To Toss

By FRANK ECK

AP Newsfeatures Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Apr. 10, (AP)—Latest reports are that the five Pasquel brothers, backers of the Mexican League, still have a few odd pesos with which they plan to lure more major league baseball players south of the border.

By the end of March the Pasquels had made overtures to some 40 major leaguers, 17 of whom crossed the Rio Grande for better pay and shorter hours. (Each team plays three games a week.)

The valuation of these players, who they to be placed on the American diamond market, would run between $100,000 and $500,000.

But what the Pasquels have already laid out is not even a drop in the bucket since their banking, ranching and export fortune is in the neighborhood of $60,000,000. And this, says Frank Eck, does not include $6-million dollars put up by the directors of eight Mexican clubs.

Many more major leaguers probably will jump to Mexico before the season is many weeks old. However, it is doubted by every sound American baseball magnate that the Mexicans will ever be able to put a crimp in the caliber of United States baseball. The fact remains that the majors are overvalued this season and they can stand losing some players even if one or two clubs own a star.

The war years showed the American magnates that it was possible to get along with minor league rosters. Now they have a headache trying to make room for service returnees and in many cases the Mexican League is doing them a favor.

again and Monday night they'll entertain the Daytona beach Dodgers.

Florida State League Flashes Back To Opening Day Schedule Tonight

SILVER SPRING, Apr. 10, (AP)—The Florida State League flashes back tonight to the same schedule that started league play last Tuesday night. The Orlando Senators, after three straight victories, will return to their home field to meet Leesburg again. The Senators have registered two victories over the Packers to date and one over Manager Bill Fuchs' Deland Red Hats.

The Saints and the Red Hats will be hosts to the Sanford Celery Feds. Manager Ed Levy-Whitner's club will be out to get further revenge for the 22 to 1 defeat handed them in the season's opener. Thus far, the Feds accounted for a win over Manager Bill Steinecke's St. Augustine Saints and last night took an 8 to 3 affair over the Red Hats in Sanford.

In Deland, the Red Hats will return to their home field tonight to entertain the Palatka Azaleas. Myril Hoag's Azaleas dropped a 4 to 2 contest last night in Palatka, and St. Augustine came up with their first win of the season.

Daytona Beach's Dodgers will invade Gainesville tonight, after beating the G-Men 11 to 3 in the Dodger home park last night.

Games Saturday: Sanford at St. Augustine; Palatka at Daytona Beach; Leesburg at Gainesville; Orlando at Deland.

Games Sunday: Deland at Sanford; Orlando at Leesburg; St. Augustine at Palatka; Gainesville at Daytona Beach.

Squad Contest Nets War Hero $29,360

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Apr. 10, (AP)—Capt. Charles Howell, a member of the 1937 '38 and '39 Alabama football teams, will always remember the spring of 1940. Even though he couldn't see what was going on he heard the cheers of 25,000 fans who paid $1 each when Alabama clinched its spring drills with an intrasquad game for Boswell's benefit.

Boswell lost his sight as a result of a German shell fired during the Battle of the Bulge, December, 1941.

Fans Now Await 1946 Pitching Supremacy Test

Newhouser, Feller To Face Best Hitters in American League

By FRANK ECK

NEW YORK, Apr. 10, (AP)—Major league baseball on the threshold of what appears to be its greatest season, is going to answer countless questions, questions that have been on the minds of the fans ever since the Nazis tossed in the towel.

For one thing, Gus Fels has not been able to compare such pitching stars as Bob Feller of Cleveland and Hal Newhouser of Detroit.

Newhouser, though a proven product, rose to stardom during wartime, winning 29 games in 1941 and 25 last season to win the American League's coveted most valuable player award both times.

In four previous seasons, Newhouser never could rack up more than nine decisions. Of course, it may be that he needs experience for he'll be only 25 on May 20.

Feller, who reached 27 last Nov. 3, never won the valuable player award but certainly set a group of crack power hitters back on its collective ear, winning 24 games in 1939, then 27 the following campaign and 25 in 1941 before he went into the Navy.

And he did it against hitters like Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox and Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees.

Incidentally, if you wonder why most baseball experts pick the Yankees as a shoo-in this season just take a look at three of their stars, namely, DiMaggio, Joe Judge and Pitcher Spud Chandler. Prior to Newhouser's brilliant southpawing, these three Yanks were most valuable players in the junior circuit, 1941 through 1943, respectively.

For a crisis, the Red Sox rookie sensation who won 21 games last season after only one year of organized ball—Greene, N. C., Piedmont League, 1942—is another wartime star who may have the algebras sending his horsehide whistling past his ears.

Chandler of the Yanks is another who enjoyed his best year while the hitters were in the service.

But the big pitching question narrows to Feller and Newhouser, not only in the matter of victories but also in strikeouts. Newhouser topped the league in whiffs the last two years while Feller held sway in that department during those three seasons he piled up 76 triumphs.

World Series Of Gentlemen Riders Resumes With Maryland Hunt

By JOHN F. CHANDLER

AP Newsfeatures

GLYNDON, Md., Apr. 10, (AP)—Not only the buds, the birds and the spring breezes are stirring in the Free State's fox hunting country—these days society's amateur horsefolk are getting ready for a resumption of point-to-point racing after three years' illness enforced by war.

Drawing the cream of the nation's timber toppers, the four-mile Maryland Hunt, tomorrow, with its 22 hazardous jumpers, already has major interest. A record crowd surpassing the 25,000 of some previous years may be a reality.

The Maryland Hunt, run over a winding course on the J. W. Y. Martin estate in Worthington Valley about 18 miles from Baltimore, will be little changed from 1942 when Stuart S. Janney, Jody's Winton to victory over Paul Mellon's Rustic Romance.

A corncob has eliminated the No. 3 fence—known as the "Union Memorial" for the many riders who wound up in the hospital by that name after failing to negotiate the steep jump.

Janney, who saw Pacific action as a Marine captain and was awarded the Purple Heart for wounds on Saipan, will try for another leg on the challenge cup.

Winton now is 12 years old but in pretty good shape, says Janney. The horse won all of Maryland's "Big Three" in 1942, and may try it again this spring.

Also reported readying for this 50th running of the Hunt-Cup is Chris M. Greer, Jr.'s, Houseman, 10-year-old veteran of the 1942 Maryland Hunt. That only a "youngster" of six in a field of nine, Houseman went down at the 19th fence.

Grantham, Dyess And Cullum Lead Attack At Plate

Feds Held Scoreless After Getting 12 Runs In First Frame

The Seminole High School Celery Feds captured their fourth victory in five starts this season when they downed the New Smyrna Beach Barracudas by a score of 12 to 8 yesterday afternoon at the Municipal Park.

The Feds had their big inning during the first frame when they pushed across 12 runs. However, the Feds recorded on three hit during the stanza, a double by the Fed first sacker, Clark, and singles by Kilpatrick and Singletary.

Dumas, the New Smyrna hurler, was worked for nine free passes during the innings. He hit base batsman and his mates recorded three errors before the fire was put out. Sixteen Feds paraded to the plate.

Following the first stanza, issues only one walk while his mates committed only two errors, which—were—not costly and the locals were held scoreless for the remainder of the contest.

The Barracudas tallied twice in their half of the first inning when D. McCray singled to center and D. McCray beat out an infield grounder to second base. White singled to left to score D. McCray and D. McCray crossed the plate on C. McCray's single to deep short.

In the sixth, Hunsell gained first by virtue of a fielders choice, stole second and came home on an error by Lingle at third.

The Barracudas threatened with a five run rally in the half of the seventh. The runs came as a result of two errors, three hits.

Good Singletary went the route for Seminoles and gave up 11 hits. He fanned eight. New Smyrna batsman and issued only a pair of free passes.

Cullum, Grantham and Dyess led the Seminole attack at the plate with two hits each during the afternoon. First baseman D. McCray slammed out a triple and beat out an infield roller for two safeties.

General Van Fleet To Get Honorary Degree At Florida

GAINESVILLE, Apr. 19, (Special)— Maj. General James A. Van Fleet, hero of five European campaigns in World War II, will receive an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws here next Friday morning when the University of Florida honors him at "Van Fleet Day."

Features of the day's program will be a formal review of the University's ROTC battalion at 10:15 in the morning, the conferring of the honorary degree at 11 in the Auditorium, where Gen. Van Fleet will address faculty, student body and the public, and luncheon at noon where President John J. Tigert will be host. President Tigert will confer the degree.

An "adopted alumnus" of the University, Gen. Van Fleet attended Bartow Military Academy which was later incorporated into the University of Florida. He served as Professor of Military Science and Tactics here in 1923 and devoted part time to coaching the University of Florida Gator football eleven. In 1924 he became head coach where he served for two years. He returned to the University in 1928 when he served as end coach under Coach Charles Bachman.

His military career in World War II has acclaimed him as one of the great fighting Generals of five major European campaigns. He went into France on "D-Day" and served through the battle for Germany, part of the time with the late Gen. George S. Patton, Jr.

While in Gainesville Gen. Van Fleet will also be guest of the City of Gainesville. A committee headed by Col. E. M. Edmonson, PMS&T, is in charge of arrangements for the day's program.

C.P.A. Snarled Up In Problem About Length Of Skirts

WASHINGTON, D. C., Apr. 19, (AP)—The Civilian Production Administration in Washington is not exactly hiding behind a woman's skirts. But they're all started up in the problem of whether the skirts should be longer this year.

You see, for four years now, women's skirts have stayed about the same length. Not because designers designed them that way, nor because the women demanded them that length. But chiefly because of a little CPA ruling known technically as L-85. Among other things, L-85 decrees the length of women's dresses in view of wartime shortages. It says, for instance, that a size 16 dress shall measure 43 and one-half inches from the back of the neck to the hemline.

The other day, CPA advisers gave L-85 the postwar once-over. And nobody designed them that way, nor because the women demanded them that length. But chiefly because of a little CPA ruling known technically as L-85. Among other things, L-85 decrees the length of women's dresses in view of wartime shortages. It says, for instance, that a size 16 dress shall measure 43 and one-half inches from the back of the neck to the hemline.

An extra inch on the hem of all the women's dresses manufactured in the near future would mean a lot of extra cloth. Multiply that one inch by 53 million American women, and see for yourself. And there's one other question in the air—what if the women's skirts get shorter, the country is prosperous, and when they are longer, we hit depression? It's quite a problem the CPA has before them. They give the women an inch—and the stock market may fall.

Real Smoke Puffs From New Electric Locomotive Toys

NEW YORK—Scrub off your blackboards and get a fresh piece of chalk, kids—and get ready for some notes for your letter to Santa.

Even though it seems a bit early to be thinking about Christmas, there are so many wonderful new kinds of toys you half-pints never have seen that you'll need at least until December to make up your minds.

A preview of what you're going to find under the tree was held recently at the toy fair in New York—and it's a shame you weren't there yourselves to see the fairland of more than 100,000 playthings. If you're pretty big, you may remember the plentiful and cheap days when toys were made of rubber and metal. If you're a little shaver, you have some wonderful surprises ahead.

Rubber and metal toys are back again. That means doll carriages and cook stoves for sister, fire engines, pogo sticks, electric trains and wagons for brother. There are rubber animals and rubber balls and shiny new streamlined sleds.

Toyland this year has many items that really work just like the bigger ones in your house. Sister's cookstove, for example, really heats up by electricity, and is made so she can't burn the house down while serving tea to the dolls.

Brother will like a steam engine that really produces steam, and a locomotive that chugs and puffs. He can have a flop-flop four wheeled like, or a fire engine, automobile or any other sort of conveyance pedaled by foot.

Dolls are slowly but surely coming into their own. This year they have movable eyes, and some of them are the wetting dolls you've heard so much about. The doll furniture is beautiful—especially a bed with a slide-down side that works just like the one on your crib.

You'll both like the two-way telephone set that really works and is much better than the tin can and string outfit you rigged up yourself. And if you're really inclined, keep an eye out for the new musical toys—particularly a piano on which you can learn your do-re-mi's.

The list could go on practically all night until Christmas. There are metal sand boxes, large sand cranes you can sit in, a truck that collapses when you run it up against a wall, all-in-one metal desks and chairs sets at which to play school or do your homework, and shooflys in the form of ducks—with eyelashes.

But that's probably enough to build your Christmas list. Meanwhile, you might ask mother to get you one of the metal penny banks that look just like the U. S. mail boxes, Santa probably will be able to use a little help when it comes to paying for all this.

Oldest School

Much of St. Augustine's history is intimately linked with the oldest wooden school house in the United States. Built during the first Spanish period, and at one time used as a lodging for the City Gates Guard, it later became the location of a school years of the second Spanish period, the little red cedar school house was the only co-educational institution in Saint Augustine. "One horse shay" transportation is favored by teachers and other Ancient City visitors.

Voss Challenges Rep. Hendricks To Series Of Debates

ORLANDO, Apr. 19, (Special)—Tom Voss, candidate for Congress from the Fifth Congressional District, has issued a challenge to Representative Joe Hendricks to engage in a series of public debates on campaign issues, it was announced yesterday by Robert L. Hodges, chairman of the Voss campaign committee.

The challenge, according to Hodges, was presented in the form of a telegram sent to Hendricks during a visit in Orlando. The complete wire follows:

"Your political advertisements of recent weeks have made reference to 'The Enemy is organizing.' There being only two candidates in the race for Congress, namely you and Col. Voss, I presume you are referring to Col. Voss in particular and all the good citizens of the Fifth Congressional District who are not supporting you.

"In order that the voters of this district may have an opportunity to hear all issues of this campaign discussed, I am authorized by Col. Voss to challenge you to meet him in public debates.

"It is suggested these debates be held in the county seats of the 12 counties in this district, as well as the cities of St. Cloud, Melbourne, New Smyrna Beach, Daytona Beach, and Leesburg, on consecutive dates, excluding Sundays, beginning April 15. I am awaiting your immediate reply, either, accepting or rejecting this offer.

Hodges said yesterday that no reply had yet been received.

PRO GRID BROTHERS

CHICAGO, Apr. 19, (AP)—That old football rivalry between the Chicago Bears and the Chicago Cardinals will have a family flavor this fall. Alvin Karpis, brother and former Temple University star, will be on opposite teams when the intracity rivals get together. Al will be at fullback for the Cardinals and Chuck at guard for the Bears.

Wooden matches are made at a rate of 1,125,000 an hour on modern machines.

California is the second largest state in the union with a total area of 156,800 square miles.

Only about 815,000 acres in Arizona are under cultivation and 50,000 of them are irrigated.

The South American country of Colombia was once called "New Grenada."

Colorado's principal irrigated crops are sugar beets, alfalfa, potatoes, truck crops and fruits.

Phoenix, Arizona, has an elevation of 1,108 feet and an average January temperature of 51.8 degrees.

11 Persons Receive Unemployment Pay

Florida Industrial Commission Chairman Carl B. Smith has reported that unemployment compensation payments totaling $125.0 were made to 11 colored workers, in Seminole County during the week of Mar. 30 to Apr. 5, throughout Florida. $79,312 was paid out in compensation to 4,963 unemployed Floridians, 3,744 males and 1,219 females. There has been a sharp decline in compensation payments since the week ending February 22, the date of our last report, when the amount of compensation was $187,471 and the number of claimants receiving compensation 7,896.

PRODUCTION JUMPS

WASHINGTON, April 19, (AP)—The civilian production administration says that automobile production in March jumped to a post-war peak of more than 90,000 cars. That was nearly double the February total, and more than the total number of cars turned out during the entire year 1945.

British Women Cling To War Jobs Instead Of Becoming Housewives

By BARBARA A. WACE

LONDON—English women aren't flocking back to cradle and kitchen quite as fast as was expected. But the reason the British girl is clinging to her job is not purely a desire for a career. More often than not it's a case of "I would, if I could, but I can't" become a housewife again.

Last available Ministry of Labor reports admitted that the November estimate of 170,000 expected to go back to home life now was shrunk by 100,000. The exodus of married women from their jobs definitely is slackening. More than six million women hold jobs in Britain today—over a million above the prewar figure.

"I've had a job for six years now. Can't afford to stop work, duckie." Legs apart, hands on hips, the stocky little railway porter at Charing Cross terminus grinned ruefully. "The old man don't make enough, not with those two youngsters of mine wearing out their boots the way they do. Besides—I've got used to it now. Like the life, you know. Like all the people and all." And off she trundled a mountainous truck full of baggage. "I'll stop work just as soon as my husband comes home," declared the slim, pretty, dark-haired London bus clipper, juggling her ticket puncher and a handful of pennies as she spoke, and breaking off repeatedly to call, "Pass down the car please, or 'Plenty of room upstairs, dear."

"We've been married five years. Since I was eighteen. But we've never had a home yet. I'll stay on until he's been demobbed. It's good to have the money, and living in one room what else is there to do? But once he's back—it's home and a baby for me."

But the immaculately dressed, highly efficient members of England's titled landed gentry, mother of an eight-year-old daughter and holder of a responsible political job since 1939, was as emphatic on the other side.

"I've tasted blood now," she declared firmly. "I've known what it's like to hold down a paid job during the war. I'll never go back to doing nothing at home."

The worn looking, gentle faced countrywoman from the Women's Voluntary Services smoothed her neat bottle green uniform lovingly, as she talked.

"I'm terribly tired. There's the family, and the rationing, and the evacuees—only just gone home, and all the WVS work. And then, of course, the garden. I feel now I want three months' rest. But now I'll want to do something after that. Perhaps not full-time, with my husband home again. But something useful; part-time perhaps."

Selfridge's was crowded with shoppers, but between a sale of rather drab looking utility stockings, the blonde, glamorous shop assistant leaned on the counter, her face showing tired lines around the heavily made-up, enormous eyes.

Electronic Machine To Test Oysters Perfected In Louisiana

BARBARA JACKSON

NEW ORLEANS—An electronic machine which says "Phew!" if spoiled oysters has been perfected in Louisiana.

The scientists who worked on the development of this supersensitive detecting process on the development of this supersensitive detecting process have outstripped nature by developing tests more sensitive than the nose for ferreting out unfit seafood.

Dr. James Nelson Gowanloch, chemist of the fish and game division of the department of wild life and fisheries; W. H. King, chief chemist, and F. F. Flynn, chemist of the division of laboratories of the State Health Department, undertook the work because of litigation resulting from contested seizures of alleged decomposed canned oysters involving federal and state food regulatory agencies and certain seafood packers. Formerly all judgment regarding unfitness of canned oysters has been based on the organoleptic or "sniff" test.

Nose Is Not Reliable After a bad oyster is steamed open, washed and soaked and processed in the can, the testers report it is difficult to detect by odor. Furthermore, it was contended that the residual odor of oyster reef mud gave a false impression of unfitness of canned oysters. It therefore became necessary for the benefit of consumers, as well as the canner, to develop a scientific test for quality of oysters.

The combined efforts of the chemists and biologists resulted in a procedure which they say will detect and accurately measure as little as two billionths of a pound of indole—a chemical product of decomposition of animal matter. The research disclosed that fresh oysters contain none of this material whereas oysters allowed to die and spoil in the shell always contain measurable quantities.

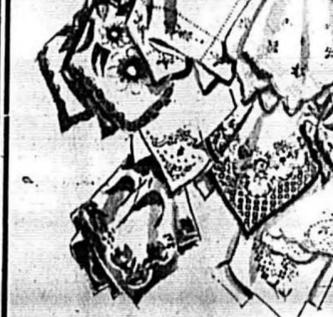

Indole Is Isolated The new method involves isolation of the indole by steam distillation of the oysters, followed by extraction with immiscible solvents and development of a red color with Ehrlich's aldehyde. The intensity of the red color is measured in an electro-spectrophotometer, using monochromatic light having a wavelength of 560 millimicrons. The intensity is then correlated with the intensity of the same color developed from pure indole.

Electronic Machine To Test Oysters Perfected In Louisiana

amount shows the extent of decomposition. Although the scientists say the basic idea is not new, they add that all previous efforts by others to apply similar procedures to food products had invariably failed because of flaws in the analytical procedures.

Experiments Turned Trick Careful experimentation by Dr. Gowanloch, Mr. King and Mr. Flynn eliminated these flaws and led to the development of the present method. Subsequent experimental work shows that the method can be applied to oysters but also to shrimp and crabs and other seafood. Later, they say, it will undoubtedly be used in the determination of decomposition in many other food products.

Leatherneck Roy E. Wilkinson And Wartime Buddy, Kapitan, Meet Again

By JOHN KAMES

AP Newsfeatures. HUTTIE, Mont. — Sandra and Robert Bishop were a shrewd wife and her dog, Kapitan, when suddenly the large Doberman pinscher "froze" in his tracks and his ears snapped to attention as he peered intently at the salwar kameez form of an approaching Marine.

Then, with a resounding "Woof!" the dog bounded forward, covered a half-block in practically nothing flat, reared on his hind legs, slapped two dirty paws against a nutty uniform and snuggled with rumbly growls against the Marine.

"Good old Kappy, zoom and boy," said the misty-eyed Marine, stroking and scratching the animal's sleek head.

They Fought Together That was a reunion of two close buddies, veterans of the war against the Japanese.

Marine Pfc. Roy E. Wilkinson traveled 2,000 miles from his home at Rutland, Vt., to Huttie because he "just had to see how Kappy was getting along."

The reunion was almost exactly one year after the pair crowded school on bloody Iwo Jima. It came as a result of correspondence between Wilkinson and the Bishop. The Marine, home on re-enlistment furlough, had written to ask the Bishop's family if Kapitan was "doing all right" and the family invited him to visit Huttie.

Kapitan Saved Lives The two Jims the two were sent forward to spot Japanese strongholds. They worked so well together that they were awarded the dog's keen eyes resulted in detection and subsequent liquidation of Japanese several times, say official letters of commendation which credit him with saving the lives of many Marines.

Kapitan was promoted to corporal just before he was demobilized and returned to Huttie early last February.

"He outranks me but he still home at Rutland, Vt., to Huttie obeys my orders," grinned the Marine, looking fondly at his tail-wagging friend.

Hollywood's Latest News And Viewpoints

HOLLYWOOD—What is Hollywood going to do about the short hair craze? The film colony, always first with the latest, is in a quandary.

Perhaps because of the regimented wear of women in war work and the armed forces for the first time, the present period has brought total reversion from masculine style toward the ultra-feminine figure exemplified by the Jane Russell and the Lana Turners. Since the rescinding of wartime restrictions, fashions are showing a still more decided feminine trend with longer, fuller skirts, drapes, drop shoulders, tiny waists and padded hips. Just what, then, is the place of the short bob in this scene?

Studio hair stylists are almost of one mind, Hazel Rogers, RKO hair stylist says emphatically: "In a practical way Hollywood actresses can't wear short bobs. The short bob does not admit of the variety in styling necessary for an actress's roles. Wigs are hot and uncomfortable and do not film well. We are making many period pictures now and we have to have hair to work with."

Another stylist, Helen Hunt, of Columbia, says: "All women look alike in a short bob; it isn't possible to tell the full beauty of a woman's hair unless it's long."

Sidney Guillaroff at Metro-hairdo for Lana Turner for a recent picture but already Lana is letting it grow because it isn't adaptable.

"It simply isn't practical for picture stars," says Guillaroff, "and as a matter of fact, it is becoming to very few women."

Ray Driscoll, International Pictures clothes designer, declares: "Short hair does nothing for a woman's looks. Hair should make a lovely frame for the face and the short bob does nothing for it."

Most of the individual stars are against short hair. Academy Award winner Joan Crawford, who has set hair and clothes styles for years, says: "The most important influence in clothes today is the Victorian influence, and certainly a short bob doesn't fit into that picture."

Bette Davis and Ann Sheridan both protest that they will not wear a short bob, as that would require wearing wigs under the hot lights. When a photographer attempted to make a layout on short bobs at Warner Brothers recently, a model had to be hired because no Warner star has bobbed hair.

Jeanne Crain was asked recently to do a short-hair role and she refused to cut even one inch.

Maureen O'Hara's long red hair is the color camera's delight. She wouldn't dream of cutting it, she says.

Gene Tierney says she thinks long hair is more womanly and elegant. Recently she consented to a slightly shorter bob for a film role, which she wore fluffed out about her face. Linda Darnell says that hair worn long and down provides a greater display than either a short bob cut or an updo. Rita Hayworth's beautiful long hair is part of her stock in trade and she has no intention of cutting it. Loretta Young says that a woman can't feel beautiful in short hair.

There are three standouts in the film colony who have worn their hair short all through the upsweep and chignon rage. They are Claudette Colbert, Marsha Hunt and Laraine Day. The feather cut and bangs of Claudette and Laraine are particularly becoming to these girls. After all, the entertainment business is one in which individuality is at a premium and it's a wise girl who knows her type and sticks with it.

to careful scraping of dishes, pans and containers of fat. A rubber-tipped wash scraper of the type now selling again at kitchen supply counters is a great help in doing up your oil and fat. It is used to scrape out the fat from the dish water and other fat in the pan. Fat that gets in or on the pan is scraped out and put in a tin can. Remnants of cooking fat in cans should be melted down and poured out for use before the can is thrown away, and the last drops of oil extracted from bottles. Pan drippings left from cooking meat should be scraped out, and the part that has "browned on" loosened by heating with a little water and then saved for gravy, soup, or sauces. Too often these flavorful drippings go into the dish pan rather than the gravy bowl.

Much fat is wasted by careless cooking. Once fat has been scorched, overheated, or allowed to become rancid, it is good for nothing but soap-making. In frying, heat should always be carefully watched to prevent wasteful scorching. To keep fat from turning rancid or becoming moldy, keep it dry, cold, and covered in a dark place—in the refrigerator, if possible.

Careless measurements, hit-or-miss methods, and unreliable recipes all may contribute to fat waste. A carelessly made cake that turns out an unappetizing failure, for example, is a waste not only of fat but of precious flour and sugar.

Approximately 15,000 lost their lives in "home-made" falls last year.

Hints To Housewives

Little drops of oil, little scraps of fat, if saved in every kitchen, can make a mighty total. The housewife can make an important contribution to food conservation by preventing small wastes—the oil that runs over the side of the can or is left in the salad bowl; the cooking fat not scraped out carefully when the container is discarded, left in the frying pan, or spoiled by careless cooking or improper storage.

Jap Premier, Cabinet Quits Government

Shidehara, Ministers Resign En Masse in Effort to Stabilize Political Situation

TOKYO, April 22 (AP)—The Shidehara government in Japan has fallen. The 74-year-old Baron Kijuro Shidehara and all his ministers have resigned en masse in what is described officially as an effort to "stabilize the political situation" in Japan.

Shidehara submitted his resignation and those of his ministers during a one-hour audience with Emperor Hirohito at the Imperial Palace. The Emperor accepted the resignations but, in accord with tradition, asked Shidehara to remain on until a successor could be appointed.

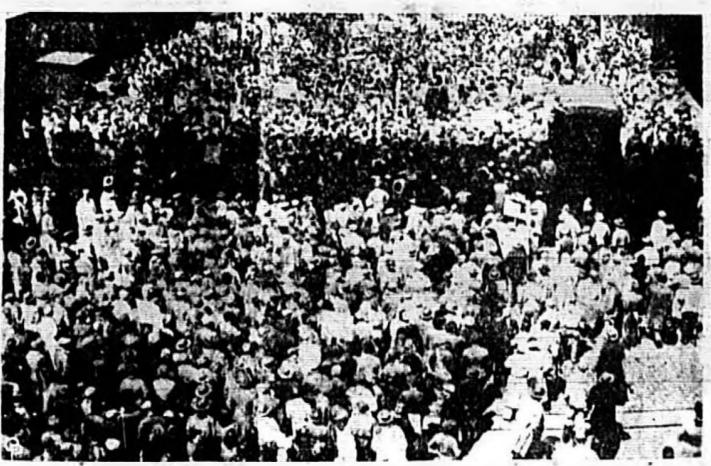

The Shidehara government had been in office since shortly after the surrender of Japan.

The fall of the Japanese government follows a series of political maneuvers so complex they defied the ordinary Japanese and left the makeup of the next government obscure.

The Shidehara cabinet had been under almost constant fire for the last four months for its failure to solve the food crisis and other difficulties connected with living in conquered and occupied Japan.

General MacArthur's headquarters was informed in advance of the cabinet's decision to quit. Foreign Minister Shigeru Yoshida contacted one of MacArthur's staff officers to inform him of the decision.

Chicago Meat Workers Protest Layoffs

A MASS DEMONSTRATION by more than 15,000 union members against the laying off of 5,000 packhouse employees takes place outside the offices of Swift & Co., Chicago, Ill. Union leaders present at the meeting, left shortly after Washington to confer with the director of the seized packing plants, and Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, to protest the layoffs. Higgins Describes Status of River At Rotary Meeting

High School Seniors Ask Rotary For Aid In Cancer Program

A hearing on the proposed St. Johns-river canal will be held in Titusville next week, Ed Higgins, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, revealed at a meeting of the Rotary Club at the Mayfair Inn today.

The purpose of the canal, he said, is three fold: navigation, control and water conservation.

Walter Shalton and George Cox, Seminole High School seniors, appeared before the club in behalf of the Cancer Drive, which is sponsored by the senior class of the high school. The goal is $2,000. Mr. Cox explained, adding that 60 percent of the money raised here will be spent in Florida where 2,000 die from cancer every year. 1,500 of whom might have been saved with proper treatment received soon enough.

Mr. Higgins explained the status of the two St. Johns river channel projects, pointing out that the proposed 10-foot channel for which application was submitted in 1938 has been approved and funds recently appropriated by Congress, while the proposed 12-foot channel has been approved by Congress but the funds are not expected to be appropriated for it until next year.

The proposed canal to the Indian River was turned down, Mr. Higgins submitted as a navigation project and there was not enough navigation at that time to justify it. However, since then it has been amended to include flood control and water conservation and with these additional factors taken into consideration, it is more likely to receive favorable action, Mr. Higgins stated.

The proposed canal would run from Sanford to Puzos Lake through Leughman and into the Indian River a little north of Titusville. At mean low water, he said, the head of the St. Johns is exactly the same as the head of the Indian River, both being at sea level, and the same time there is only a one foot fall from Puzos Lake to the mouth of the river at Mayport. However, from Puzos Lake up the river there is a 15 foot rise.

George A. Speer also spoke on the importance of flood control with regard to the protection of wild life. Whenever the river is flooded, he pointed out, thousands of acres of feeding grounds are covered with water, and when the waters recede many fish are trapped in sloughs and marshes. He expressed the view that locks should be placed in the St. Johns River to hold the waters back at certain times.

Dr. Orville Larus was welcomed into the club by G. W. Spencer and Roy Holler who presided in the absence of President Leo Lecher. Mr. Spencer also announced that the annual boat ride will be held on May 8 and that no meeting of the club will be held on the Monday preceding. No meeting will be held next Monday on account of the inter-city meeting at New Smyrna on Tuesday night.

Communists And Socialists Merge Into Single Party

BERLIN, April 22 (AP)—The long-heralded merger of Communist and Socialists in Germany was an accomplished fact today as a united front group of the Social Democratic Party have joined forces in an organization called the Socialist Unity Party.

The merger was announced official at a rally in Berlin last night, amid thunderous applause of delegates from both factions.

The demonstration reached its climax when the German Communist leader, Wilhelm Pieck, and the Socialist leader, Otto Grotewohl met on the stage of the Berlin Opera House and shook hands.

Grotewohl said: "This is the hour that Germany's workers have been hoping and praying for over a long period of time." The Communist leader, Pieck said he hoped Allied authorities would endorse the merger.

Six Auto Wrecks Occur In County During Weekend

William Coursey Received Broken Arm As Car Overturns

Six automobile accidents occurred during the weekend on Seminole county highways, the most serious of which involved William Coursey, war veteran, and Morris Benton of Sanford, when the 1931 Nash Sedan that Coursey was driving east of Road 11 near a house, late last night, overturned, killing both occupants. Both were taken to Fernald-Loughman Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Orville Larus who attended Mr. Coursey, said that his left arm had been fractured, a shoulder blade was broken and that he had been sent to Key West Hospital at St. Petersburg. He added that Mr. Benton was in danger and that a report of his condition would be given at a later date.

Another major smashup occurred at 11:25 Sunday evening on the A-1, Railroad when a 1939 Plymouth sedan, driven by George Handley, Orlando Negro, and carrying five Negro passengers ran into a south bound 61 passenger train, hitting between the 14th and 15th car from the east end. The automobile was wrecked but due to its estimated speed of 20 miles an hour no one was killed, but the occupants were injured and hospitalized.

Saturday evening at 7:15, Clifford Lee Hall of Sanford, driving a 1936 Chevrolet in "Death Valley" on the Orlando highway near the Big Tree road, and carrying a 1931 Chevrolet driven by William D. Winter Park, causing minor damage, and according to Patrolman Bender, speeded right on without stopping. A quarter of a mile further down the road, the car tore down three roadside concrete posts and

Soviet Fighters Fire At American Transport Plane

Vienna, April 22 (AP)—A United States Army transport plane was shot at by Soviet fighters today as it flew into the airport just outside Vienna.

The four Soviet planes made runs at the big American transport and fired a few shots off the pilot's wing. They followed the transport right to the field and left only after it had landed.

Airmen at the field said the fighters were O-39's which were furnished to Russia by the United States under lend lease. The pilot, Capt. James C. Baxter, expressed indignation over the incident. He said he saw two shots fired and believed there were others.

Four other members of the crew corroborated the pilot's assertions. Baxter said he was within the ten-mile area around the field prescribed by the Russians when the Soviet fighters put in their appearance. The field is inside the Russian occupation zone and the Russians have prescribed strict regulations for the operation of American aircraft. Capt. Baxter insists he was observing the regulations scrupulously.

Hendricks Attends Townsend Meeting

Representative Joe Hendricks was a guest speaker yesterday afternoon at the Fifth Congressional District meeting of the Townsend Recovery Plan Club.

The meeting was held in the Court House and over 100 representatives of clubs in Union Park, Orlando, Orló Vista, St. Cloud, Sanford, Casselago, Port Orange and Daytona Beach were present.

Other speakers during the meeting were Judge Rour of Port Orange and Mr. A. B. Woodcock of St. Cloud.

Badminton Club To Open Play Tonight

Officials of the Sanford Badminton Club announced today that members will be permitted to play tonight for the first time since the reorganization of the club several weeks ago.

Glenn Lingle, Jr. Is Commended By Lions Club During Recent Meeting

Following an appeal by George Cox, who with Glenn Lingle, Jr. appeared in behalf of the Senior Class of Seminole High School at the meeting Friday of the Lions Club with a request for a contribution to be used in combating cancer in the State King Igo Clyde Ramsey assured the visitors that the matter would be taken up at the next meeting of the club.

Mr. Ramsey and Porter Lansing commended Glenn Lingle for the "well deserved honor" of being selected as vice president of Key Club International, a Kiwanis sponsored organization.

Glenn replied that he felt very honored with the appointment, and had been very surprised to learn of it on Saturday.

He explained that the appointment was due to the fact that last year, on account of transportation limitations there had been no Key Club convention, and the president, Roger J. Keller of Ft. Lauderdale, had stayed in office a second year, but had needed officers with the convention coming on. Clubs were requested to send in names, pictures and records of those considered qualified as officers. In

Assassination Plan Frustrated In Korea

SEOUL, Korea, April 22 (AP)—Authorities in the Korean capital have disclosed that police frustrated a plot by a Korean group to assassinate a ranking political leader, Dr. Byungman Han. The authorities say the same group also failed in a plot to establish a politically sponsored Korean army.

American officials and the Korean Police Bureau say that two of seven Koreans arrested last week have admitted the plot to assassinate Rhee during a speaking engagement.

Battle Of Words Breaks Out At Senate O.P.A. Hearing

A. P. Explains Why It Will Not Furnish Service

Heads Assert State Department Broadcasts Propaganda

NEW YORK, April 22 (AP)—The board of directors of the Associated Press has further explained its decision to end AP service to the State Department for overseas broadcasts.

In a report to the annual meeting of AP members at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York, the directors underscored two major considerations. One dominating the other in their presentation for which the AP drives, and the possible effects which use of AP news by the State Department might have on this policy. The other factor concerned former contacts with the government. In each instance, the directors made it clear that they wished to correct what they described as erroneous statements which have been made about the AP.

The directors stated that they had been soundly and repeatedly rebuffed by the State Department in its attempt to put out propaganda through the Associated Press. Perhaps there is a misconception as to what propaganda is. We hold that any broadcast designed to promote the economic, social and political interests of the United States government is propaganda. It is not propaganda if it is a disquisition on what is going on in the world. It is not propaganda if it is a report on the present one or another of the nations of the world. It is not propaganda if it is a report on the activities of the government. It is not propaganda if it is a report on the activities of the government. It is not propaganda if it is a report on the activities of the government.

Wool Manufacturers Chief Says Agency Supporters Guilty Of 'Hokum'

WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP)—A hard battle of words broke out today at the Senate Banking Committee's hearing on the extension of OPA. The head of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, Arthur Besse, touched it off when he declared that supporters of OPA were guilty of "hokum of the highest order."

Republican Senator Charles McNary of New Hampshire shouted to the witness to stop clear of opinion. Democratic Senator Albert Barkley of Kentucky asked of Besse meant that anyone who favored extension of OPA is guilty of hokum, and when Besse said: "Then I'm guilty of hokum."

Indiana Republican Senator Homer Crambhart put on that the wool manufacturers was within its rights, because OPA leaders had asked for a grant of money.

As a result of this opposition to the extension of OPA, the chief of the wool manufacturers has put OPA in jeopardy by its own actions. He has done this by making it clear that he will not support OPA if it is extended for more than six months. He has also made it clear that he will not support OPA if it is extended for more than six months.

SENTENCED TO DEATH

SOOCHOW, April 22 (AP)—A Chinese court has sentenced to death Chu-Min-Yi, the puppet foreign minister of the former Japanese-dominated government at Nanking. Chu was found guilty of treason. He had asked for the death sentence, rather than imprisonment, if the court should find him guilty. Madame Wang Ching-Wei, the wife of the puppet governor of Nanking, has received a life term for treason.

JAPS RELEASED

TOKYO, April 22 (AP)—Twenty Japanese have won their freedom today after several months of imprisonment. Eighteen of the group—jailed last November and December—were released for lack of evidence. One was acquitted by a military commission, and another—a former prison guard—was found to be a case of mistaken identity. The prisoners had been suspected of mistreating allied prisoners of war.
