

Marie Antonette Termed Session's Best Production

Norma Shearer Turns Best Performance In $2,500,000 Film

By ROBBIN COON
HOLLYWOOD—I've been whelmed by bigness. I've been blinded by glitter. I haven't strained to sneer at approximately $2,500,000 worth of movie fun...

I doubt if anything bigger or longer has ever come out of Hollywood. Running 2 hours and 30 minutes, it isn't likely to bump into double feature trouble...

But to turn to the picture's subject: "Marie Antonette" is, on the whole, a brilliant chronicle of life, loves, and death of one of history's most tragic queens.

Dated with some fidelity on Stefan Zweig's sympathetic biography of the Austrian princess whose great misfortune it was to become Queen of France, the film affords Norma Shearer a gamut-running role for her return to acting after two years' absence from the screen.

The picture opens with Marie a giddy child, being informed by her mother, the Empress Maria Theresa, of her betrothal for reasons of state to the Dauphin of France. Arrived at the glittering French court, Marie runs helplessly into two major problems: the domination of her prospective husband, after the marriage—staged on the grand M-G-M scale like the whole production—she learns that stupidity is not her spouse's only shortcoming.

Eventually, egged on by DuBarry's taunts, by her loneliness, and by the urgings of the convincing Duc d'Orleans (Joseph Schildkraut), Marie begins that career of extravagance and wanderings which later, as queen, is to make her hated by the oppressed and hungry people.

At this time she meets her one true love, the Count Axel de Fersen of Sweden (Tyrone Power), a love forewarned when Louis XV (John Barrymore) dies and his son, Marie's husband, accedes simultaneously to the throne and to the power of fatherhood.

Although the queen now becomes a dutiful wife and mother, her road to the guillotine is already clearly marked. The fabulous incident of the necklace—Zweig and the movie acquit Marie of her blame—is made the firebrand of revolt.

"Marie Antonette" is as rich in incident as it is in physical trappings. Its costumes and its settings are lavish and the attention to technical accuracies is detailed. W. S. Van Dyke, noted for "speed" in direction, gives the picture as much pace as its biographical nature will permit. And happily, the latter stages gain acceleration.

Miss Shearer's "Marie" is her most ambitious performance, and she approaches it with admirable, often telling, sincerity. The shining star, however, is Robert Morley, English actor who plays the foolish Louis XVI with remarkable insight for a memorable characterization.

The excellent cast includes Gladys George, Anita Louise, Henry Stephenson, Cora Witherspoon, Henry Daniell, and Leonard Penn.

Plan To Aid Delinquents Given Okey

Commissioners Adopt Ordinance Permitting Taxpayers To Pay Installments

Nearly $2,000,000 Is Owed To City

Annual Payments Allowed To Pay Delinquent Assessments

To offer relief to tax-burdened property holders in Sanford, who are not able to pay in cash the delinquent taxes and tax certificates held by the City, the City Commission at a special meeting yesterday passed an ordinance permitting the City's claims to be paid in seven installments. City Clerk Frank Lamson said today.

The new set up is a plan of the Commission to convert delinquent taxes into cash for the City's coffers and give property holders an opportunity to redeem their property through gradual liquidation of the claims, thereby eliminating any undue hardship on the owners who have been through a period of adverse business conditions.

This plan supplements the adjustment of delinquent claims by the Commission which was authorized to act as a Delinquent Tax Adjustment Board by a special act of the last session of the Legislature. Under this law, the Commission is allowed to make adjustments on taxes and special assessments which were delinquent in 1933 or prior and according to the terms of the ordinance, the property owner may now pay this adjusted claim in seven installments over a period of seven years.

Property owners whose delinquencies do not date back to 1933, while not allowed an adjustment, (Continued on page six)

Interest Evincd In Holding Rate Hearing In City

The Chamber of Commerce received a letter yesterday from the Florida Railroad Commission evincing interest in an invitation to the commission to hold its next hearing in Sanford.

Thanks for the invitation were expressed and information on hotel facilities and rates were asked.

The letter which Secretary Ralph F. Bagwell previously wrote to the commission said: "We have just learned of the hearing which the Commission will hold with regard to the proposed increase in freight rates on fertilizer and fertilizer materials; and, on behalf of the City of Sanford and all of Seminole County, we would like to extend you a most cordial invitation to hold this hearing in Sanford."

"It would be a distinct honor to have the Commission meet with us in this central city of Central Florida. Too, Sanford has not had the pleasure of entertaining members of the Commission for quite a while."

New Record Of 345.49 MPH Is Set By Eyston

Speedster Roars Over Salt Flats To Far Exceed Old Mark, Cobb Runs Monday

BONNEVILLE, SALT FLATS, Utah, Aug. 27. (AP) — George E. Eyston smashed the world's automobile speed record to shreds here today, boosting his own mark to 345.49 miles per hour. Roaring through the measured mile in two directions within one hour, the retired British army captain far exceeded his own world land speed record of 311.42 chalked up here last November.

Eyston's mighty "Thunderbolt" painted black to overcome the glaring sun which robbed him of a new record last Wednesday, hit 347.49 miles per hour on the outward trip and 343.51 on the return.

Among the first to congratulate him was John Cobb, London fur broker, who expects to go after the record Monday.

Asked if he would run against any record that Cobb might make, Eyston replied: "I'll be around for a few days. The Thunderbolt was by no means at full throttle on either run," he said.

Britain Asks Less Tension In Czech State

Statement Regarded Evidence Government Greatly Fears Events At Prague

Loyalist Destroyer Loses Battle With 4 Rebel Warships

Great Britain appealed to "all great powers" today to lessen tension in Czechoslovakia as the world, with deadly strife in Spain, China and Palestine, anxiously watched the deepening rivalries in Central Europe.

The British statement was regarded generally as evidence that Britain was becoming increasingly worried over events at Prague. It was issued shortly before the London summit conference of the cabinet, served notice that Great Britain might have to fight if Germany started war in Central Europe.

In an unmistakable plea to Adolf Hitler, he compared the beginning of the conflict to the beginning of fire in a high wind. The British government made what is called the "Prague speech" to its cabinet, German minority, behind whose demands for autonomy Germany stands as the self-styled "protector."

Spain's German leadership, undecided what attitude to take over the new arbitration procedure, looks to Berlin for a possible helping hand.

The Spanish government destroyer, Libanor, on Jose Luis Diaz, fought a dramatic, losing battle with four foreign warships in the Strait of Gibraltar. Twenty-six of the destroyer's crew were killed and 14 wounded. The battered destroyer labored into Gibraltar in danger of sinking.

Spanish government advisers said its forces were holding their own on the Ebro River front in Southern Catalonia and were pushing an attack on the Estremadura front aimed at eradicating the insurgent threat against the rich Almaden mercury mines.

Chinese and Japanese artillery pounded each other in a terrific Yangtze valley battle.

Foreign observers said Japanese aircraft, warships and infantry combined forces in the biggest offensive since the war.

Eleven Arabs were killed and scores of others wounded in a night battle with British troops in Palestine and two British planes were forced down.

Daniel says he has lost 65 relatives at the hands of the Turks, including three brothers. He claims that out of a one-time population of 500,000 Assyrians only 40,000 have survived the persecution inflicted upon the race because it would not surrender Christ and become Moslems.

Daniel has spoken in many churches in the South and his message is said to be not only informative but spiritual, showing the faith of a people in Christ. The Rev. Brooks stated that he is highly recommended by Dr. Spright Dowell, president of Mercer University.

Ex-Convict Is Nailed To Cross By Former Pals

Collins Is Crucified After Insisting Upon Going Straight

RENO, Nev., Aug. 27. (AP) — Ed. Collins, 27, ex-convict, was stripped, nailed to a cross and left to die with his clothes burning at his feet because, he told officers today, "I know too much."

Rescued, he told officers before going to sleep this morning under the influence of an anesthetic, that he was nailed to a cross last night by two former "pals" involved in a San Diego, Calif., payroll holdup for which he was sent to San Quentin prison.

When he refused to join them in a robbery and insisted upon going straight, Collins said they told him "all right, if you want to be a little Jesus Christ, we'll make one out of you."

Collins screams and the fire which seared his feet attracted Earl Dabney, negro, who summoned police.

Collins was spread-eagled on the rude cross, with ten-penny nails driven through his hands and feet.

J. W. Hall Reports Optimism On His Return From Trip

W. Hall, local manager of the Sanford Gas Co., was impressed with optimistic signs during his two weeks vacation in eleven states, he declared Saturday morning following his return Friday.

Mr. Hall, who was accompanied by his wife and their three children, Durla, John, Jr., and Harold, visited with friends in West Virginia, Ohio, Illinois, and Kentucky. Wherever he inquired he heard nothing of pessimism and he noted a first quality of crops and much building along the route of his travels. "In almost every town," he said, "was some sort of construction under way."

During Mr. Hall's absence, the gas company's office was under the direction of H. C. Hunter of Orlando, who answered an emergency call when W. D. Sedwick, regular cashier and office manager, was taken ill shortly after Mr. Hall had departed on his vacation. Mr. Sedwick is still confined to his bed at his home at 918 Park Ave.

4,500 Children In County To Start To School Soon

Just a few more days vacation will be ended for approximately 4,500 children in Seminole County and the daily trek to the school will begin in an other week.

Sanford schools and some of the rural districts will begin classes on Sept. 12 but the opening date for a number of the rural districts has been set for Sept. 6, just two weeks away, according to Superintendent J. P. Public Instruction J. W. Lawton.

Mr. Lawton stated that he expected little or no increase in enrollment for the County this year. On the basis approximately 2,600 white children and 2,000 negro children will attend the county's school system. Negro schools, Mr. Lawton pointed out will open on the same date as the white schools in the various districts.

In schools opening on Sept. 6, the teachers will be at their posts on Sept. 1 while in the schools opening on Sept. 12 teachers will begin their duties on Sept. 8, Mr. Lawton said.

Schools that will open on Sept. 12 are as follows: Seminole High School, Vocational School, Junior High School, Grammar School, Sanford Primary Schools, Kindergarten, Geneva School, Occola School, Lake Monroe School, and Wilson School.

Schools which will begin their 1938-39 session on Sept. 6 are: Lyman School, Lake Mary School, Ovidio School and the Chulavita School.

Although the substitutes or teachers which faculty members will teach this year have not yet definitely decided upon, Mr. Lawton stated that the following had been selected by the School Board to date:

Road Department Will Begin Work On Bridge Soon

L. K. Cannon Replies To Query By Secretary Of Trade Body

L. K. Cannon of the State Road Department informed Seminole County Chamber of Commerce officials yesterday by telegram that arrangements have been completed for repair work on the bridge across the Escondido creek.

The telegram was in answer to a query from Secretary Ralph F. Bagwell asking when the repair work would be begun.

Several months ago Superintendent of Public Instruction J. W. Lawton informed the State Road Department that the bridge would have to be repaired before the county schools opened their 1938-39 terms as, in the condition it was in, a menace to the lives of children who would have to be transported across the bridge in schoolbuses.

The department replied, saying that work would begin immediately, however, no action was taken and Mr. Lawton again sent word to the department requesting immediate action upon the matter.

The Chamber of Commerce has followed Mr. Lawton's efforts to get the bridge repaired and, on several occasions has communicated with the department on behalf of the project.

Mr. Lawton has frequently pointed out that the school children who ride the buses must be given every protection possible. As a result of this interest, Seminole County possesses many fine schoolbuses and drivers who come highly recommended. Consequently, there have been no serious bus accidents.

Pepper Advanced As Vice-President Timber

LAKE WORTH, Aug. 27. (AP) — Senator Claude Pepper was advanced as vice-presidential timber by A. Pat Cannon, fourth district Congressional nominee, in an address to Townsend Club members here.

Cannon predicted the next president would be elected on a Townsend plan platform and that "Claude Pepper will be his running mate."

He termed Pepper "the greatest Democrat of his time" and said "his power in government affairs is greater than any other five senators."

Negro Fugitive Gives Law Officers 20-Mile Chase Before Apprehended

Deputy Sheriff Jack Hickson today returned Henry Lane, escaped Seminole County negro convict, from Orlando where he had fled after breaking from a road camp yesterday afternoon.

Sheriff C. M. Hand said the convict would be transferred back to the road camp immediately and put under close guard.

Lane, led officers on a marathon chase over a distance of nearly 20 miles in two counties late last night before the fugitive was captured inside the Orlando city limits on the north shore of Lake Highland.

Sergeant W. S. Thrasher and Officer Eugene Hammond, both of the Orlando police department, saw Lane in earth and returned him to the city jail.

In the course of the chase, he fired out a set of bloodhounds which were put on his trail in Sanford; he eluded Seminole County officers; he gave the slip to authorities in Winter Park; and he outran Hammond the first time the officer picked up his trail.

In his spare moments Lane found occasion to break into the residence of W. E. Peters on Rollins Avenue and steal some clothes to replace the conspicuous striped pair of trousers he wore. Somewhere in his line of flight, he had discarded the upper part of the conventional convict uniform.

After the long chase, the negro apparently was tired and had attempted to hide near Lake Highland. He was lying flat on the ground when Sergeant Thrasher and Officer Hammond discovered him.

The lion cubs at the zoo are now on public display. Superintendent of Parks James Moughton said the cubs were now strong enough so that they could be displayed publicly.

Since early morning when the partition was finished, crowds have gathered around eager to see the young lions gamboling and playing.

The Celery Market Agreement

There is considerable anxiety among local farmers, not to say some speculation among everyone else, as to why the results of the referendum on the celery marketing pact have not yet been announced. The election was held on July 22 and 23, and the ballots were sent to the Secretary of Agriculture on July 26, more than a month ago, but when The Herald wired the assistant chief of the General Crop Section yesterday the only reply was that the analysis was not yet complete.

As the time has already arrived in Seminole County when the farmers are beginning to set out their seed beds and make preparations for the coming winter season, it is of the greatest importance to them to know at once whether there is to be control or no. The kind and variety of crops they will plant, the extent of their celery acreage and numerous other factors depend to a great extent on this question of celery control.

There is a widespread belief here that a majority of the farmers voted against an extension of the marketing pact, or at least that such a large number voted adversely in the referendum as to cast a cloud over the whole system of federal regulation in this section. The inescapable fact is evident to everyone that last season the celery marketing agreement was in full force with practically 100 percent co-operation from everyone, and most of the farmers had the worst year in their experience.

What people are wondering now is whether the results of the referendum are being held up because of the embarrassment they may cause to the Department of Agriculture, or whether the Secretary intends to take advantage of a provision in last year's agreement providing that it shall be terminated only if notice is given on or before July 31. In this case it might be extended for another year whether the farmers voted for it or not.

New Construction

Florida residents are well aware that there has been considerable construction of homes in Florida during the past few years. What they may not be so well informed about is that the population of Florida has been increasing at an even more rapid rate and that comparatively Florida has fewer houses now than it had several years ago.

According to the Bureau of Industrial Service, Inc., which recently conducted a survey in Florida's four cities, during the seven years ending in 1937 new homes were erected for 38,912 persons in Tampa, Miami, Jacksonville and St. Petersburg, while the population in those cities during the same period of time increased 47,323.

While no figures are available for other Florida cities, it is a reasonable assumption that the population has increased on the same ratio to construction as in the four cities mentioned. There may not have been as big a population increase in Florida as a whole, but neither has there been as much construction of new homes.

The point is that new home construction in Florida is far from reaching the saturation point. There has been considerable building, but there is a greater need for more of it now than ever before. Florida is growing. New people are coming into the state. They are not merely winter visitors, but people who intend to make their year-round homes here. They have been coming in faster during the past seven years than new homes have been built for them.

The figures of the Bureau of Industrial Service, Inc., certainly tend to show that there is no immediate danger of this state's being overbuilt.

QUOTED AS AN AUTHORITY on various alcoholic beverages, Irvin S. Cobb, a Paducah, Ky. boy who made good in the big city, gave the following description of corn liquor in testimony before the Distillers Code Authority, back in NRA days, according to the New York Times:

"It smells like gangrene starting in a mildewed shoe; it tastes like the wrath of come, and when you absorb a deep swig of it you have all the sensations of having swallowed a lighted kerosene lamp. A sudden violent jolt of it has been known to stop the victim's watch, snap both his suspenders and crack his glass eye right across—all in the same motion."

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS—By JOHN HIX

PIGEON BUSTER... "Bang! Bang! Bang!" Not Redskins, but three more pigeons "bit the dust" for Fred Soisson, Hastings, Pennsylvania, sharpshooter, who was standing on his head at the time.

Masters of any trick shot you can think up, Soisson's upside-down pigeon-baiting with a shotgun is one of the most amazing feats of his repertoire.

Last year Soisson, standing right side up, broke 111 clay pigeons in succession and established the highest score ever made in the Allegheny Street League. It was the third time he had ever tried his hand at the sport.

Soisson shoots just as consistently sitting or lying down as he does standing. Catch him flat on his back, and he can break five pigeons through into the air at once.

Throw a block of wood into the air and Soisson will keep it bounding by shooting at it with a pistol—as long as the bullets hold out. Paste a piece of adhesive plaster over the hole in an iron washer, then throw it into the air. Soisson will shoot a rifle bullet through its center.

Most difficult feat in Soisson's own opinion is to throw three clay pigeons over his shoulder, whirl around, and hit all three before they touch the ground.

Soisson trains like an athlete to keep his faculties sharp; he attributes much of his skill to an ability to "snap focus" on eyes from a near object to a distant one, or vice versa.

Roosevelt Show Disapproval Of New Pension Plan

Chief Executive Describes Move As Shortcut To Utopia

SAN FRANCISCO—President Roosevelt expressed disapproval of a fast-growing 1300-week pension movement which has crossed the path of his favorite California Democratic Senatorial candidate, embattled Senator William G. McAdoo.

The chief executive laid down a road map at Hyde Park, N. Y., the California plan to give $30 weekly to all persons over 60 could be described as a short-cut to Utopia.

Mr. Roosevelt said the plan would levy a tax that would fall particularly heavily upon the poor.

A memorandum given the President by the office of the Comptroller of the Currency indicated the $30 weekly payments in California would require the issuance of about $1,000,000,000 a year in state warrants, which would have to be redeemed thru a stamp tax amounting to 2 percent weekly, or 104 percent annually.

Opponents of McAdoo said the President's statement represented more White House aid for the 74-year-old Senator, in view of the fact that the pension plan had been endorsed by Sheridan Downey, generally regarded as McAdoo's most formidable opponent.

Herbert Smith, Downey campaign manager, said the President could not have evolved in his own mind in a few short hours any statement fully evaluating the pension plan. The statement must have come from a panicky feeling in the McAdoo camp.

There was no immediate comment from Senator McAdoo or his campaign leaders.

The potential voting strength of the plan's supporters was reflected in the petition by which they sought to put it on the State ballot next November. On July 18 the petition had 400,000 signatures, and the number reportedly has grown to about 1,000,000 to date.

There are 2,454,966 registered voters in the State.

Twice previously the President came to McAdoo's aid. Last May he wrote the Senator a letter expressing the wish that he be a candidate for re-election. Two months later, at the end of his cross-country tour in behalf of New Deal candidates, the President in a speech added the remark that he hoped McAdoo would be re-elected.

The approach of the primary election date, next Tuesday, finds several powerful Democratic factions opposing McAdoo. Downey, a New Deal supporter, has the backing of several former McAdoo supporters who publicly announced they were out to "rid the State of McAdooism."

John W. Preston, seeking the Democratic Senatorial Nomination as a New Dealer with reac-

...and lost a rubber stamp, turned McAdoo a "carpetbagger in California politics."

The anti-New Deal Democratic Senatorial candidate, James W. McAdoo, accused McAdoo forces of "shaking down" Federal jobholders for 5 percent of their annual salaries for the Senator's campaign fund. McAdoo denied it and asked a Senatorial investigation, which is pending.

Because of the numerous accidents to bicycles, The British Transport Advisory Council recommends that cycle tracks be provided on both sides of the main roads in the country.

'QUICK-WATSON, it's love' would have been the late Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's deduction for this scene. The bride-

Observers Report Huge Increase In Ducks At Canadian Nesting Places

Observers report a huge increase in ducks at Canadian nesting places. The increase is attributed to a combination of factors, including a warm winter and a long growing season.

The increase in ducks is particularly noticeable in the Great Lakes region, where nesting places are abundant. The increase is also being reported in other parts of Canada.

The increase in ducks is a cause for concern among conservationists, as it may indicate a decline in the number of nesting places available to ducks.

Conservationists are working to protect nesting places and to ensure that ducks have a safe and healthy environment in which to raise their young.

Sanford Theater News for the Coming Week

Song Hits Feature Shirley Temple's Grandest Musical

Shirley Temple always turns in a fine performance—as millions of fans will attest—but this time she gives you the time of your life!

She's a Shirley of surprises simply surrounded by singing, dancing, romancing, fun-making show people. And if you're thrill-able, "Little Miss Broadway," which opens tomorrow at the Ritz Theatre is the musical thing to thrill to.

The grand group of troupers which aids and abets Miss Temple is headed by that scintillating stepper, George Murphy; the irrepressible Jimmy Durante; gorgeous blonde Phyllis Brooks and Edna Mae Oliver, the popular, prim and praiseworthy grande dame of filmdom.

To make this the go-happy musical thrill hit of the year, six new Bullock and Spina melodies radiated from the romance and the big selections can choose from "Be Optimistic," "We Should Be Together," "If All the World Were Paper," "Swing Me an Old-Fashioned Song," "How Can I Thank You," and "Little Miss Broadway," the title song.

It's all about little miss who lives in a vaudeville hotel with her foster family, Edward Ellis and Phyllis Brooks. When Jimmy Durante's jazz band gets too loud in its rehearsals, the wealthy neighbor, Edna Mae Oliver complains and threatens to close the hotel. George Murphy, her nephew intercedes—and while he wins nothing but smelly from his prim aunt, at least he wins the favor of fair Phyllis.

Led by the as-anything, amazing and brilliant Shirley, everything ends as it should—especially after Shirley convinces an austeric judge that he should permit the actors to stage their show in the courtroom.

George Barber, Edward Ellis, Jane Darwell, El Brendel, Donald Meek, Patricia (Honey) Child, Wilder and Claude Gillingwater, Sr. have an active part. "Little Miss Broadway," under the personal supervision of Darryl F. Zanuck, was directed by Irving Cummings.

Scarlet Pimpernel Returns To Screen With New Exploits

That reckless adventurer, The Scarlet Pimpernel, will receive a hearty welcome when he returns to the Ritz Theatre Tuesday of Wednesday night to take up his exciting exploits where he had left off three years ago.

London Film's thrilling sequel to the famous Baronesa Orcy romance is called "The Return of the Scarlet Pimpernel" and presents Barry Barnes, a handsome and exciting newcomer, in the title role played by Leslie Howard in the earlier film. The role of the Pimpernel's beautiful wife, Marguerite, is taken by lovely Sophie Stewart, and both stars give a brilliant account of themselves.

Almost everyone is familiar with the character of Sir Percy Blakeney, the English dandy who, as The Scarlet Pimpernel, devoted himself to the suicidal mission of rescuing innocent victims from the guillotine during the French Revolution.

The present picture takes up the story at the point where the identity of the Scarlet Pimpernel has become known to the tyrant, Robespierre and his chief of police, Chauvelin.

In an effort to trap the Pimpernel, Chauvelin kidnaps the lovely Marguerite and has her imprisoned in Paris. The Pimpernel follows her and effects a daring rescue, only to be snared by the wily Chauvelin.

With his wife recaptured and facing execution within a few days, the Pimpernel engineers a coup which results in the downfall of the regime of tyranny, the capture of Chauvelin and, most important, the rescue of his adored Marguerite.

Margaretta Scott, Francis Lister and Anthony Doherty also score in the excellent supporting cast of the film, which has been spiritedly directed by Hans Schwartz for release through United Artists.

Here's a thrilling film fare—a sequel that is worthy of its predecessor—and the new "The Scarlet Pimpernel" you know that's no small praise!

SHE'S GOT "SEA LEGS" Gam-glamorous Martha Raye doesn't even have to set foot aboard ship to get the greatest pair of sea legs the navy's ever seen in her new comedy, "Give Me a Sailor," which comes Thursday and Friday to the Ritz Theatre, she will be seen as the favorite of the fleet in general and of two officers, Bob Hope and Jack Whiting, in particular. Betty Grable is also cast.

Joe E. Brown Cuts Outlandish Capers In Football Picture, "The Gladiator"

Besides being the funniest proper portions of pathos and show in town, Joe E. Brown's "The Gladiator" coming to the Ritz Theatre boasts the most unusual comedy idea that ever survived a Hollywood story conference. It deserves to be called nothing less than terrific. But what is more important, the picture's premise has been so adroitly paced and timed in its development by Director Edward Sedgwick and so superbly delineated by Brown & Co. that "The Gladiator" may unblushingly be called the most entertaining film of the season.

What will confront us on the Ritz Theatre screen Tuesday and Wednesday is Joe E. Brown, Hino Saplans, 1938 model, supported by a mysterious serum in a Superman. Joe's at college when the transformation takes place. He becomes a gridiron sensation, a flash on the track and a weight and discus thrower who would make the gods of Olympia scratch their marble heads in wonderment.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The Democratic senatorial primaries in South Carolina and California will bring a double test of Administration strength tomorrow for President Roosevelt has indicated favorites in both contests.

Sen. or William G. McAdoo of California received Roosevelt's endorsement last month. The President made it clear last night that he preferred the nomination of Gov. Otto D. Johnson of South Carolina to a sixth term for Senator Ellison S. Smith who fought some New Deal measures. Edgar A. Brown withdrew from the South Carolina senatorial race Saturday night.

In California McAdoo is opposed to John W. Preston who says he is "an rubber stamp." Sheridan Downey, advocate of the Townsend pension program, and James W. Mellon, avowed anti-New Dealer.

The President also disclosed he would speak in Maryland on Labor Day, presumably to support Rep. David J. Lewis who is trying to unseat Senator Millard Tydings.

Lawton Urges Principals To Attend Parley

Superintendent Says 2-Weeks Law To Be Enforced This Year

Facing all principals of white schools in Seminole County to attend a meeting at his office on Friday or Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock, Superintendent of Public Instruction T. W. Lawton said Monday morning the purpose of the session would be to discuss plans for the coming school year.

He pointed out that a general discussion was necessary prior to the beginning of school in order to enable the principals to learn some of the changes that have taken place since reorganization of the last term.

For instance, he declared, there are new forms for registration that have to be studied and explained.

Referring to the State law requiring all school teachers and students to be in the state at least two weeks before the opening day of the new term, he asserted the law would be enforced, and suggested that teachers and students cooperate with school authorities.

There is a provision in the law which states that any student or teacher who is not in the state the required two weeks can present a certificate to a doctor saying that the subject possesses a communicable disease and that the community from which he returned had no case of any communicable disease and no case of infantile paralysis.

Mr. Lawton announced that W. R. McTracken is attending a conference in Gainesville called

Work To Be Resumed On French Avenue Project

Completion of the French Avenue WPA paving project is expected in about 10 days, it was announced Monday morning.

The project has been in progress since May 29 but due to the fact that rock was not available in sufficient quantities the work was suspended here or four months ago.

The cost of the project will be $5,000 when it is finished on this sum, the sponsor, the City of Sanford, has received $4,111 and the federal government $534.

Mr. Williams said approval of the rock material will probably be back in the city of Sanford and that work on the road would begin immediately. Seven curbs and a sidewalk will be needed to finish the job.

It was estimated that paving the base will take about 10 days to complete. A road will be opened to traffic for about 30 days, in order to enable the engineers to determine any weak points in the road that might be brought to light.

The final surface of street will be laid on Seneca Boulevard and will then be laid.

A truck which has been placed at the intersection of French Avenue and Seneca Boulevard and a road will be used to haul the rock material.

This will enable the trucks to get the heavy traffic of the north-west section and Park Avenue.
