

Church Approves Property Deed Transfer

By Jane Casselberry
Action taken at a called Quarterly Conference of the Casselberry Community Methodist Church directing the Board of Trustees to execute the necessary papers to transfer a small section of cemetery property held by the church since February, 1960, to the town of Casselberry, was affirmed by a unanimous vote of the congregation during the Sunday morning worship service.

The church has held the family burial plot since receiving a deed from Mr. and Mrs. Hibbard Casselberry four years ago in what was expected to be a temporary arrangement until Casselberry could meet the requirements of the state comptroller's office to operate a private cemetery or to find an organization which would assume the responsibilities of the cemetery.

Since the church was satisfied that the town of Casselberry would assume this responsibility and that the state has no jurisdiction over any cemetery owned by any city, it was decided to take the necessary steps to transfer the deed.

Stop Reading Word By Word

Too Many Eye Jerks

Written for NEA
Time your reading of this column and compare your speed with that indicated at the end. The expected speed assumes a daily five per cent improvement.

As you read this paragraph, place your fingers on your throat. Outside of the normal pulse, is there any other movement there as you read? If there is, you are a word-by-word reader, and your silent reading is no faster than reading aloud. The fellow who mouths his words really betrays himself.

Now read this paragraph. While you are reading it, count out loud till the end of the paragraph. If you are able to get full meaning from what we're saying here while you keep up the count, then you are on your way to phrase reading.

Throughout this series of articles we are going to keep that circle up there at the top. Through the hole you make in that circle, observe a friend's eyes as he reads, then have him count your eye fixations. If he takes 41 fixations for 41 words, he is reading word-by-word.

To cut the number of fixations to a bare minimum, we'll start by reading in phrases. In the following paragraph we'll use larger spaces to separate the phrases. It will help if you focus on the tiny dot above each phrase as you read.

So far—we have learned—the real need—of pre-reading—and questioning—for comprehension—in our reading.

Now we must—place the emphasis—on your eyes.—It is likely—that most of us—are word-by-worders. This paragraph—is just one way—to help become—phrase readers instead. Much practice—is required here,—so don't have—your reading friend—do all the work. Have him observe—your eyes move—from phrase to phrase. There are 31 phrases. There should—have been—only 31—eye fixations.

We don't have to tell you that you must practice. So, go back with your friend over the preceding paragraph and work for improvement. In the following paragraph, make the phrases yourself. Put diagonal lines between phrases, then read that paragraph in phrases, making use of that peephole.

Now try this. Focus on the third word of the next line. You saw also the second and the fourth words, right? So your eyes naturally take in more than a word at a time; so let them. Besides, phrase-reading is a more intelligent way to read since we don't think in partial ideas.

You marked off the preceding paragraph for phrases. This time let your friend observe your eye fixations. Count your phrases then your eye fixations. Keep an eye-jerk record.

As a final exercise, read the following columns, down the first, then down the second and third. One fixation to a phrase.

If I read word by word, my eyes need help for speed. So we work to improve visual span.

If I can read this short line with one fixation, I'm on my way to increasing speed (comprehension, too) to quick advantage and self-enrichment.

The very precise aim of this exercise is to eliminate as many eye fixations as I possibly can. This requires practice so that I may combine speed and comprehension. You should have completed this reading in 73 seconds. (NEXT: Slow is Not Thorough.)

Presbyterian Women Hold Election

The executive board and circles of the Presbyterian Church of the Covenant Women of the Church met recently for a covered dish supper in conjunction with the general session.

Following reports of the treasurer and various committees, an election of officers for the coming one and two year terms was held. The retiring president, Mrs. Paul Boggs, who is moving from this area, was presented with a copy of the New English Bible. She then presented the gavel to the new president, Mrs. Arthur DeYoung.

A motion was made and carried to hold the morning and evening circles as one group with a covered dish supper for the months of June, July and August.

Nineteen members enjoyed the evening which also marked the first anniversary of the group.

In Florida... at a picnic, beer is a natural

When you're relaxing at your favorite outdoor beauty spot with friends or family, and your thirst whetted by fresh air and exercise—that's the ideal time for a cool, refreshing glass of beer. In fact, you can name your recreation—swimming, hiking, or just watching TV—and chances are nothing in the world fits it quite as well as beer.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

City Commissioner Jimmy Crapps illustrated his point with a poignant illustration: "When we come to the greener pastures for which we were looking we are too old to climb the fence."

County has commenced clearing the land from the ILLI-donated strip for a new sidewalk along Onora Road between Sanford Avenue and Sanford Naval Air Station.

High school and junior high students interested in nursing careers are especially invited to attend the monthly meeting of District 3, Florida Nurses Association, at 8 p.m. Monday at the Seminole County Health Center. The South Seminole woman who has been endeavoring to inject the county-wide telephone question into the hospital tax levy issue was cut short by Chairman Jim Avery at the County Commission meeting. Jim pointed out the telephone question is a matter of private enterprise; the hospital is a public question. However, she did manage to get across her objections to having to pay telephone toll charges to call the school administration offices . . . for which apologies were extended for the shortsightedness of Sanford phone subscribers.

Another South Seminole woman asked: Why didn't the Southern Bell president do like the Winter Park Telephone Company? Don't ask—just plop a $1.50 extra monthly charge on the phone bill and go ahead and expand.

Big explosion was expected at the City Commission meeting Monday evening. Commission members had been apprised it was coming; Mayor was ready to take it on first and get it over with; chap on the receiving end was ready and waiting with his ammunition lined up to rebut. So, what happened? The one who said he was going to light the fuse failed to show up. His reason yesterday: "My people haven't figured out my strategy on how to proceed." Ah, well—election day will be a thing of history three weeks hence.

R. E. Porter continues to be intrigued with these figures: Little Pasco County has a population of 36,700 and voter registration of 22,052. Seminole County has a population of 72,000 but a voter registration of only 18,160. (That 72,000 figure is the latest estimate by Jim Avery, County Commission chairman.)

Morris Ruby, principal of English Estates Elementary; Frank Gore, principal of Allamonte Springs Elementary, and Mrs. J. C. Mitchell, principal of South Side Elementary, attended the 15th annual Southern Elementary Principals' Conference in Atlanta last weekend. Mrs. Mitchell reports that some 900 principals were registered and in her words, "It was the best I've ever attended." Mrs. Mitchell helped organize the conference 15 years ago as Florida's representative.

The Red Cross Drive in Enterprise has been completed. Collected in a house-to-house canvass was $68.12 which does not include the contributions of the Florida Power Corporation, the Ox Fibre Brush Company and the Florida Power and Light Company. VFW Auxiliary Elects Officers

By Jane Casselberry

The Ladies Auxiliary of VFW Post 10060 of Casselberry held an election of officers at its regular meeting last Thursday night in the town hall.

Officers elected for the coming year are Mrs. Mary Webb, president; Mrs. Vera Chanel, senior vice president; Mrs. Lola Howard, junior vice president; Mrs. Mildred Johnson, treasurer; Mrs. Lila Wilson, conductress; Mrs. Helen Pearson, guard and Mrs. Patricia Pucranak, three year trustee.

The auxiliary will install jointly with the post at a later date.

The unit is making a collection among its members to contribute to the Alaskan Disaster Relief Fund.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, April 23, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. George Howard, 605 Queen's Mirror Circle.

Entitled "Are You a Citizen or a Sucker?", the address stressed the importance to the nation's future of those with trained minds accepting duties of responsible leadership. It pointed out dangers of leaving decisions, thinking and planning to the press, radio and television and to the politicians. He challenged the audience to demand valid reasons for accepting what they are told as true and right and to have a sense of responsibility for the way they vote.

Hague cited statistics from World War II stating that two and one half million men, one in five, were rejected as mentally unqualified for the demands of military service since they were judged to be no good as team members and would fall under pressure. Too many of these same people, he said, cannot cope with complications of modern civilian living and are the victims of those offering political panaceas in return for votes.

He commemorated Gen. Douglas MacArthur as one of America's truly great men who could recognize the solution to a problem and stated that "Asia's loss of faith in America dates from MacArthur's recall."

In business of the meeting it was reported by the membership chairman, Spencer Kroneberger, that 88 new members so far this year bring the total roster up to 186.

Mrs. Marge Ulrich, president, announced that the next Chapter meeting will be held at 7 p.m., May 8, at DeBary Manor with the former state senator, Douglas Stanstrom of Sanford, speaking on "Planning Wills and Estate Management." The public is invited to attend this meeting.

The appointment of Mrs. John Ebtch as chairman of the AARP Service Committee, which will provide transportation to members in emergencies, was also announced.

Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada, was founded as the proposed capital of a temperance colony.

Barry Polls 65 Percent Of Illinois Primary Vote

Smith Second With Wallace Writein Heavy

CHICAGO (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater had his first presidential primary victory today, but because of a lady from Maine he may have to wait and see how much the vote from Illinois will pay off in the White House sweepstakes.

Goldwater took Illinois' GOP primary by close to 65 per cent Tuesday over Maine's Sen. Margaret Chase Smith in an election where Chicago industrialist Charles H. Percy scored a solid victory over all-out Goldwater backer William J. Scott in a bitter battle for the Republican nomination for governor.

Camporee Attended By 639 Scouters

By Jane Casselberry

Even the weatherman cooperated last weekend contributing to the success of the Wekiwa District Spring Camporee held in Casselberry and attended by 639 boy scouts, explorers, and their leaders, not counting scores of visitors.

Chief Tomahawk Verlin Duffield of Lockhart, who was in charge of planning and executing this camporee, and other scout officials expressed their pleasure with the Casselberry location and pronounced the outing the best yet with 21 out of the 28 troops in the district participating. Four explorer posts took part and gave demonstrations.

The 225 who hiked the 20-mile chowhound trail on Saturday to Ovidio and back, covered a combined total of 4,500 miles to earn the coveted Chowhound Trail patch. Many of those completing the rugged trek took advantage of a dip in Dew Drop Pool to cool off after returning to camp.

Slow Does Not Mean Thorough Reading

Written for NEA

Time your reading of this column and compare your speed with that indicated at the end. The expected speed assumes a daily five per cent improvement.

You're not having any trouble with your studies, so why bother with techniques for faster reading? Well, don't bother—if you don't care about wasting time, if you prefer the laborious way to read.

But try reading in phrases. Or read this column on really widening your eye span. You'll find ideas popping into your head faster than ever before. You'll find mental muscles you never knew you had. You'll also be reading with deeper absorption and keener understanding.

We've practiced drills for phrasing-reading. We'll start off here by reading the three columns that follow, but the phrases won't have any logical connection. You've made a hole through that circle above, so have your friend count your eye fixations.

Now try this simple experiment. Take a card and hide the lower half of any line on this page. Read just the top half of the type. With practice you can really do without the bottom half. The up-and-down eye span doesn't require you to focus on the whole word any more than the left-to-right eye span required you to focus on the words to the left or right of the word your eyes were fixed on. So read only the very top of each line of print; better still, focus just above the word you're fixing on.

These techniques have one purpose: to increase your eye span. Now turn to the news stories in this paper. Pick any news column; they're generally two inches wide. Draw a pencil line down the middle. Focus on that line you've drawn and let your eyes take in with one fixation, the words to the left and right. If you fear you missed something, don't go back. Keep going at a comfortable speed. (A good help here is to place a card over the lines and let it reveal one line at a time in a regular rhythm.) Now go back and see how much you learned by one fixation per line. Practice will take care of the little you miss.

Now draw a line through another news story. This time practice two steps. To increase left-to-right eye span and up-and-down eye span, focus on that center line but also focus just above the line of type as you draw your pacing card down the column. (NEXT: The Wheat, the Chaff and the Difference.)

A spiral-bound book of this read-and-study series is available. The 20 articles in the series plus 11 exercises designed to increase your reading speed and comprehension are featured in the book. SHS Moves Up In League; Oviedo Wins

Tribe Swats Bishop Moore Hornets 6-1

After spending almost the entire season to date in the Metro Conference standings in seventh place, the Sanford Seminoles made their move Tuesday afternoon into the circuit's fifth spot with a 6 to 1 decision over the Bishop Moore Hornets in a contest at the SHS athletic field.

Captain Jim McCoy used three pitchers, Dave Golleher, Eddie Fitzgerald and Marvin Sheffield in holding down the Hornets in what was described as a "must" contest if the Seminoles were to make their move. Golleher got credit for the win although Fitzgerald came on in the fourth and Sheffield in the seventh.

The Seminoles grabbed a commanding lead in the very first frame when the Tribe jumped on Gary Professor for four runs. In the third the Seminoles added another. The Hornets posted their only run in the fourth but the Tribe added an insurance marker in the sixth to ice the affair.

In other Metro loop tilts, Boone's Braves pushed over a single run in the eighth inning to nose out the Eagles of Edgewater, 2 to 1. Meanwhile, Colonials turned six hits and a single Winter Park error into five runs for a 5 to 0 whitewash of the Parkers. Evans encountered little difficulty in downing Oak Ridge 12 to 2.

Isabel Goshorn In 203 Game

Isabel Goshorn rolled a 203 game for the high game of the week in the Holler Motors Navy Wives league. Isabel had a 444 series. Pat Tournay had a 191 game and Helen Bauer had the high series with a 482 and a 160.

Jo Cleveland tied the series with a 174 game. Mary Field had a 170 for a 170 while Charlotte Bassett had a 170 for a 426 series. Kianmar Clemens rolled a 177 for a 468. Durna Belancourt had a 160 for a 407. Sherry Kee rolled a 168 while Sissy Reno had a 162. Shirley Owens had a 160 for a 443.

The turnkeys fell for Marilyn Deas, Betty Hoogerwold, Eleanor Clemens, Marge Field and Isabel Goshorn.

Gen Thompson converted the 3-7-10. Jo Watson got the 3-7-7. Helen Moraini and Ruby Crain picked up the 8-10. Barbara Rohrer and Sissy Reno got the 4-3. Ann Snyder converted the opposite side of the 5-6. Isabel Goshorn got the 3-10.

VAHS "E" Wives and VAHS "O" Wives go into the last week tied for first place with 78-28. Mixed Miles are in the second place slot with 78-44. The Ten Pinners are in third with 68-48.

For many of us bowling in leagues, now's the time for fun and festivities with the advent of the season's ending. I mean, if you're lucky enough to have some good bowlers carrying you and you're on one of those teams near the top of the ladder, then you can look forward to a rewarding banquet at which time you'll not only get handsome trophies, but cash prizes as well.

Such was the case for the trophies, anyway, in the Farm/Youngster League. We had the banquet at the Capri Restaurant with the kids' really living it up. All trophies were made just to the youngsters with the proud parents standing in the wings, just brimming with parental pride.

For those interested in joining us for a summer league, why don't you get your name onto the growing list. We bowl on Monday's at 7 p. m. and can guarantee you a good time.

Talking about growing lists, look at that of the Sandspur League! There are over twelve names of new bowlers not ever having bowled in this league wanting to join in. It looks like we'll have almost as large a summer league as we had for the fall.

The two M's led the Seminole County Businessmen's League this week. Talking about Murphy and Morrison, Billy Murphy shot a 223 high single while Dick Morrison handled the series department with a 146 set.

Mighty Mike Floyd Martin blasted a 302/377 winning combo for the "lops" in the Ball & Chain League on Wednesday eve. Not too many pins

The Baby Seminoles will open the season Sept. 24, with a contest against the Little Wildcats of Winter Park High. On Oct. 1, the Jayvees will travel to Boone to tackle the little Braves, on Oct. 8, they will host Colonial's little Grenadiers at home, they will entertain the Baby Pioneers of Oak Ridge Oct. 15, meet the Baby Trojans of Evans here on Oct. 22, and travel to Orlando on Oct. 29 for a tilt with the little Eagles of Edgewater.

Bear Lake 9 Wins 9-4

Lions Defeat Titusville For 8th Straight

The Oviedo Lions, paced by Jimmy Courier on the mound as well as at the plate, posted their eighth consecutive victory of the current diamond season by taking a 5 to 4 decision from the high powered Titusville Terriers in the coastal town Tuesday afternoon.

Paul Mikler's nine went right to work on the Terriers with three runs in the opening stanza. Titusville bounced back with a single tally but Oviedo pushed over their fourth run in the second. Again the Terriers came back—this time with a pair of runs and the Lions led 4 to 3 going into the fifth.

Billy Mikler walked in the fifth, stole second and later third, and came home on Danny Gammage's sacrifice fly to center with what proved to be the winning marker.

Titusville threatened in their half of the sixth but was unable to gather in but one run and the Lions took the 5 to 4 decision.

Courier whiffed 12 Terriers in gaining the mound victory and issued no passes. Meanwhile, the Lions got to Titusville hurler Ed Edwards for four hits before Taylor came on during the fifth. Taylor was touched for only one hit in the two innings plus he was on the hill. Edwards fanned five but walked three Lions. Taylor was credited with one strikeout and two walks.

Courier led the Lions at the plate with a pair of hits, both singles. Bob Compante, Titusville's second baseman, posted a single and a double.

Friday the Lions will be at home to entertain the Ocoee Cardinals. Next week the Lions will host the Sub-Group tournament in Oviedo. The tourney's initial contest will pit the Lions against Montverde.

State Bankers Win Slugfest

The Florida State Bankers and the USO's got together Tuesday night at Fort Mellon Park for a good, old fashioned slugfest and the Bankers nosed out the USO outfit in a wild contest by the narrow margin of 21 to 20 in a Men's Six-Pitch Softball League affair.

The Bankers spotted the USO 11 runs in the first frame and three more in the second. But the USO's came back with nine runs of their own in the third, five more in the fourth and another trio in the fifth. By that time the Bankers were leading 18 to 17.

In the seventh inning, USO pushed over three runs to take a 20 to 18 lead. But the Bankers bounced right back with three of their own to grab the decision.

Eighteen miscues afield marred the contest which saw the USO get 17 hits to 14 for the Bankers.

Jim Westlund, Ben Sapp, Mike Woodruff, Mike McCarty and Johnny Clark led the hitting parade for the Bankers—all coming up with homers. USO's only circuit smash was collected by Tony Kaudas.

The line score:

The Auburn Mets of the New York-Pennsylvania League will tangle with the Williamsport Mets of the Eastern League Sunday afternoon in an exhibition game being sponsored by the Sanford Shrine Club.

Club president, Sanford's Police Chief Roy Williams, said this morning that proceeds from the benefit affair will go to the Shrine's Crippled Children's Hospital in Greenville, S. C.

Williams reported that tickets are now available and quite a number have already been sold.

Clyde McCullough, manager of the Class "A" Auburn club, and Ernie White, manager of the Class "AA" Williamsport nine, said that the more than 60 ball players now at the Mets' camp here have not yet been assigned. However, it is anticipated that assignments will be made prior to Sunday afternoon's contest.

It was learned this morning that the Williamsport club will break camp Monday and head for Reading, Pa., where they are slated to open the Eastern League season on Tuesday, April 21st. The Auburn outfit will open the New York-Pennsylvania season at Dinghampton, N.Y., April 27.

Williams said a brief ceremony will be staged just prior to the game in which several local dignitaries will participate. It will be geared toward thanking the Mets for coming to Sanford this Spring and to wish the clubs well in their respective league's this summer.

Hounds Eliminated From Tournament

The Lyman High School Greyhounds were bounced right out of the Orange Belt Conference baseball tournament Tuesday night when the Leesburg Yellow Jackets halted a Greyhound rally in the top of the seventh to take a 4 to 3 decision.

The victory moved the Yellow Jackets into the semifinals of the OBC tournament. Lyman grabbed an early lead when the 'Hounds pushed over a pair of runs in the first inning. However, Leesburg came back to go ahead by one run with a trio of markers in the third inning. The Jackets added a fourth in the fifth inning. In the final frame, Lyman was able to muster but one run and fell short of knotting the count.

Johnny Wolfe paced the Yellow Jackets at the plate with two doubles while John Mason turned in a fine hitting performance in limiting the 'Hounds to three hits. Leesburg got eight safeties off Donnie Smith and Steve Simpkins.

First Federal, Perfection Win

First Federal crossed the plate nine times in the opening stanza of Tuesday night's Little National League contest with Chase and Company and went on to gather in three more runs to post a 12 to 10 victory over the Packers.

Meanwhile, in the Little American League Perfection Dairy pulled away in the late innings to take a 10 to 4 verdict from the Florida State Bankers.

The Savingsmen, grabbing their second win of the year against a single loss, held on for dear life as Chase nibbled away the nine run lead with two runs in their half of the first, another in the third and six big ones in the fourth to knot the count at 9-all. First Federal went ahead in the sixth by one run but the Packers tied it up again.

First Federal went ahead in the seventh with two markers and held Chase in the final half to take the decision. Al Grooms led the hitters with four safeties and also came up with 12 strikeouts during his six-inning stint on the hill. Ed Grooms, who relieved Al, got credit for the win.

Perfection ran his record to three consecutive wins and the Little American loop lead when Tommy Gracey John Fakes, Mark Cookman and Skipper Dalton turned into fine performances to pace the Dairyemen. Gracey's work on the mound was good enough for the win, although he was nicked for eight hits.

Shriners Beat COP's 4-2

Paul Pivec, the Shrine Junior Boys League entry's most valuable asset, turned in another top-notch pitching performance Tuesday night as the Shriners went into extra innings to defeat the CPO's 4 to 2.

Pivec fanned eight and walked only two in collecting his second win of the season. The little ace scattered six hits in going the distance of eight frames. Meanwhile, the Shriners were held hitless by Danny Lee until the sixth inning. Lee allowed only two hits but began to tire in the fifth, giving away to wildness.

Timmy Sald and Mike Yentech got the only Shrine safeties while Larry Williams and Mike Stubbins got a pair of hits each and Billy Colbert and Don Ethel both contributed singles in a losing CPO cause.

Business Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lowe, owners of the A. J. Lossing Transfer and Storage, Agents for Allied Van Lines, believe in Sanford.

This local firm, established in 1916, and occupying the same location since that time, has moved into their new office building, built in keeping with their growth.

The firm's warehouse space has been increased several times during this period, and now occupies 19,500 square feet.

Lossing's new office was built adjacent to the warehouse at 207 S. Pine in Sanford by the Shoemaker Construction Co. The new quarters consist of a modern reception room, general offices, two private offices and a powder room, all fully air-conditioned and electrically heated, with ample space to expand with future growth. A. J. Lossing Transfer and Storage has been owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lowe since 1946. For the past six years Phil Roche has assisted the Lowes in the management of the business.

Registration For Fall Set

Registration for prospective first grade pupils planning to enter South Side Elementary School next September will be held Friday at the school, according to Mrs. J. C. Mitchell, principal.

Mrs. Mitchell urges parents to attend. She said that two school nurses will outline pre-school health requirements and that parents should bring their children's birth certificates.

Children who are eligible to enter school next Fall must be six years of age on or before Jan. 1, 1965. Children to be enrolled are also invited to attend with their parents, Mrs. Mitchell said. They will be permitted to visit first grade classes and will be served refreshments.

San Francisco? There's No Other Place Like It On Earth

If you're confused by the title of this piece, don't be. It means exactly what it says. Here's why. San Francisco is the most unique city in America. You can visit or do business in St. Louis or Seattle, New Orleans or New York, Detroit or Milwaukee, Atlanta or Salt Lake, and each of these cities, you will find, are noted for some particular reason. But essentially they're alike. They're big cities.

But San Francisco, well — it's in a class by itself. There is no city in the United States, probably the entire world, with which you can compare San Francisco. If you've ever been there you know what we mean. If not, it's impossible to adequately describe the place for you. As you enter San Francisco from Marin County and cross the famed Golden Gate, or if you enter from the south on the maze of freeways, or if you go into the City — as it is known to most everyone in northern California — from the East Bay via the monstrous Bay Bridge, you'll see a sign that will surprise you. It reads: "San Francisco, Population 777,000." "Is that all?" you ask yourself. Most people have an idea that San Francisco is populated by at least a couple of million. It is, during business hours, we suppose. During the morning rush hour the freeways are jammed. It's the same way in the late afternoon. However, if San Franciscans had their way they'd chuck the freeways into the Pacific. Why? It ruins the atmosphere of the city. Downtown you can stand on the corner of Fifth and Market for an hour and be amazed at what you see. You watch the gentlemen. No Panama hats! Why? Built in air-conditioning. In the summer the temperature will vary perhaps from a low of 68 to a high of 62. You watch the ladies on their shopping trips — window or otherwise. They're touring Macy's, the White House, or even the giant Emporium. Shorts? The girls wouldn't be caught dead in a pair. No, sir! In San Francisco the ladies are dressed as if they had just stepped out of a fashion magazine, coats, hats and gloves.

Without them one would look as conspicuous as a red rose in the midst of a white bouquet. Now, the fashion magazine they stepped out of may have been dated 17 years ago, but they're dressed. You'd better believe it. As you stand there you watch the cable cars and you think of the old Toomerville Trolley. As the little cars ease up at the foot of Montgomery Street it seems that 500 passengers at least leap off the foot rails. There are no doors or windows, no sides, either. When you're in San Francisco don't ever refer to the City as "Frisco." Even if you were six-foot, four inches tall and built like Sonny Liston, somebody's sure to call you down if you even mention the word, "Frisco." You'll be told promptly and emphatically that the name of the city is San Francisco nothing more, and absolutely nothing less.

Anna Miller Circle Installs Officers In Impressive Rites

The Anna Miller Circle installed its incoming officers Saturday night, April 11, with impressive candlelight ceremonies at the Elk's Club. Mrs. Christine Blankenship, past president, was the installing officer.

Mrs. Harry Adair, outgoing president, reviewed the Circle's accomplishments during the past year.

Again this year the Circle sponsored a girl to Girl's State and sent a crippled child to Camp Challenge. A donation was made to The Little Red Schoolhouse, and for the fifth year, a float was entered in the Jaycee's Christmas parade, with the Circle winning first prize for its efforts.

The Harry Anna Crippled Children's Hospital has always been the principal project of the Circle. This year the cubicle curtains were replaced at the hospital, and a subscription for a $50 bond was executed. At Easter the ladies sponsored an annual Easter party for the crippled children and presented them with an abundance of gifts and goodies.

Mrs. Layman Goodman, incoming president, graciously received the gavel from Mrs. Adair and addressed members and guests with a brief acceptance speech. She emphasized the good work accomplished by the Circle, and stressed she would strive to maintain the existing harmony between the Circle and the Elk's.

Following the installation ceremonies, Mrs. Goodman invited everyone to enjoy the fellowship in a pleasant social hour in the club rooms at the Elk's Lodge.

A variation of the ducking play is the lead of a low card from a high card combination. It is an underlead, but brings the same results as a duck. North loses all interest in a slam contract the moment South rebids a mere one trump and North simply raises his partner to a no-trump game...

Vigilante Crews Begin Landing Qualifications

The Navy's first RA-5C Vigilante pilots began landing qualifications aboard the attack carrier USS Saratoga Tuesday, paving the way for extended ship-based deployment of the new Mach II reconnaissance bomber this summer.

The airmen belong to two squadrons home-ported at Sanford Naval Air Station, which has been selected as the master base for staging the twin-jet Vigilante to aircraft carriers in both the Atlantic and Pacific.

Landing aboard the 1000-foot Saratoga were pilots from Heavy Attack Squadron 5 (VAH-5), slated to be the first unit to deploy with the sleek dual-mission aircraft, and VAH-3, which trains flight crews assigned to duty in Sanford's five other squadrons.

Although the carrier qualifications are taking place on the Saratoga, which sails from Mayport, for duty in the Atlantic and Mediterranean, they will serve as a "final exam" for VAH-5's forthcoming deployment to the Western Pacific aboard the USS Ranger. The Ranger is a Forrestal class supercarrier similar to the Saratoga, but home-ported in Alameda, Calif.

Pilots must complete "Car-Quals" to be eligible for lengthy periods of sea operations. To qualify, each must make 10 daytime arrested landings and six at night. Shipboard credentials must be renewed in this manner before each major cruise.

During a typical seven-month deployment, many pilots will make more than 100 landings into the sturdy arresting cables stretched across the ship's short "runway."

The RA-5C, built by North American Aviation's Columbus division, is considered the most complex airborne reconnaissance system ever designed.

The plane also possesses all-weather capabilities for delivering the Navy's largest nuclear weapons.

An earlier version of the needle-nosed Vigilante, the A-5A, has already seen extended carrier use. Sanford's Heavy Attack Squadron 7 is currently serving on its third Sixth Fleet deployment with the A-5A aboard the USS Enterprise in the Mediterranean. Another Sanford-based unit, VAH-1, recently returned from its first.

A. P. BRILL, (center) a DeLand peach grower, demonstrates for Harold Kastner (left) and W. A. After final inspection and cooling the fruit is moved without further handling. Brill says he has applied for a patent. The new packer, manufactured in DeLand, is the only packing method that can enhance the growing of the soft Florida peaches.

His attitude is good and he is aware of his responsibilities and accepts them for what they are. This boy has quite a lot of athletic ability. I am sure that he works hard to improve because it could pay off in the near future. However, he should strive to obtain a college degree. Remember George, your skills in athletics will not remain with you as long as the education you will receive while earning your degree.

To the Gray Ladies who lend their services to the clinic at Crooms High School helping the sick: Congratulations.

TAC's Role In Putting Out 'Brushfire Wars' Explained To Rotarians

The role Tactical Air Command (TAC) plays in the nation's defense setup and its future performance and capabilities were explained to Sanford Rotarians Monday noon at the Civic Center.

Offering the explanation was Maj. Kenneth Carson, executive officer of 4304th Missile Training Wing at Orlando Air Force Base. Major Carson used colored slides and charts to review the past role of TAC in quelling "brushfire wars" throughout the world. He also outlined the potential of the command both in nuclear and non-nuclear conflicts. The speaker noted there have been 25 "brushfire" wars since the end of World War II and that these are checked carefully under orders of the late President John F. Kennedy who declared them a major threat to the outbreak of a general war.

"We can expect the Communists to continue these brushfire war tactics," Rotarians were told. The major told of the air-to-air refueling process, the TAC weapons system, manned and unmanned aircraft and asserted that TAC's power lies in its high mobility and fast reaction anywhere in the world.

His wing's mission, he said, is to train personnel and test aboard inconspicuous moving vans capable of firing the missile almost instantly while patrolling American highways. The speaker was introduced by Myron Reck, program chairman. The session was conducted by Bill Hemphill, club president.

Asa Gray's "Manual of Botany" is the handbook of American botanists even today.

Casselberry Cub Pack Has Mardi Gras

By Jane Casselberry
Weaver Hall of the Casselberry Community Methodist Church took on a carnival air Friday night as Cub Scout Pack 540 held a pack meeting on the Mardi Gras theme. The cubs and some of their guests dressed up in a wide variety of costumes for the occasion and enjoyed playing the games of skill which had been made by the cubs themselves.

Winners of the costume judging were John Cherwa of Den 2 for his "white hunter" outfit, complete with boa constrictor, and Vernon Carlson of Den 6 who was chosen fittest. Receiving special recognition were the "7 Dwarfs" of Den 8 who made their large head masks from paper mache. One of the "dwarfs" was unable to come because of the measles.

Achievement awards were presented by Cubmaster Wally Krohne. Steven Miller of Den 1 earned the wolf badge and David Miller of Den 5 received a silver arrow.

New Bobcats were James Birkheimer and Jay Krall of Den 1; John Cherwa, Billy Ray Cole, Tommy Iddings, and Gary Miller, Den 2; Brooke Brown, Brian Howlett, Danny Ransour, Nicholas West and Tom and Phillip Love, Den 8.

Thirty-one boys received service stars for being in Cub Scouts for at least one year.

Cubmaster Krohne announced that April is re-charter month for Pack 540 which is sponsored by the Methodist Men's Club. He has submitted his resignation as cubmaster to devote more time to his job as head of adult leadership training for Scouters in the Wekiwa District.

Each child present received a surprise package from the pockets of a life sized stuffed "mammy". The gifts were made by the dens.

Cancer Deaths Increase

During the year of 1963, a total of 554 deaths were recorded for all of Seminole county. Of this total, more than 16 percent, or 91 persons died from cancer.

The provisional information was obtained from the 1963 Vital Statistical Report of the Florida State Board of Health and the compilation of cancer fatalities was issued this week in a special report made by the state office of the Florida Division of the American Cancer Society in Tampa.

This special report also disclosed that the death rate from cancer is still on the increase, from 7719 deaths in 1960 to a provisional total of 9470 deaths in 1963. Total deaths recorded for Florida, state-wide, during 1963 was 55,543.

According to a Society spokesman, an estimated 17,000 new cases of cancer will develop in the state during the coming twelve months. Based on past estimates, most prevalent new cases will possibly occur as follows: cancer of the colon and rectum, 2200 new cases; lung, 1800; breast 1700; uterus 1400; prostate 1100; stomach 750; leukemia 600.

It is not our intention to alarm citizens with these somber statistics, the spokesman said, but we do feel strongly that the general public should be made aware of the serious threat of the disease. All of us should face the facts. We should know about cancer's seven danger signals. We should realize that regular health checkups may detect cancer early enough so that prompt, proper treatment can be made and help save lives.

During the American Cancer Society's 1964 educational and fund-raising crusades, much can be learned about cancer and what to do about it. It is our hope that all citizens will obtain cancer education literature which is available without cost and that they will contribute to the fund-raising crusade so that the society's cancer control programs can be expanded and intensified in the year ahead.

Dollars March On

One of the things that gives government fiscal planners gray hairs is the snowball effect of long-term programs.

The spending congressmen do lives after them; their budget slashes oft lie interred with their re-election hopes.

Congress could adjourn indefinitely and billions would still flow from the Treasury for such continuing programs as agricultural subsidies, highways, aid to dependent children, urban renewal and so on and on.

This kind of snowball is a-builing in the Defense Department, despite President Johnson's cost-cutting program. Insider's Newsletter points out that retired servicemen currently number 400,000 and draw $1.2 billion a year in pensions—more than the combined budgets of the Departments of Labor, Justice and State.

By 1970, due mostly to the superannuation of men who joined up during World War II, the totals will be 700,000 men and $2 billion a year.

When old soldiers die their widows may continue to draw pensions for years more. Amazingly, pensions are still being paid to a handful of survivors of Civil War veterans.

The price of freedom is indeed eternal.

Thought For Today

But if any nation will not listen, then I will utterly pluck it up and destroy it, says the Lord. — Jeremiah 17:27.

The greatest destroyer of democracy in the world is war itself. — Harry Emerson Fosdick.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

CASE 5-439: Delores B., aged 32, is the girl who had been engaged for over a year to a bachelor, aged 37.

"Dr. Crane," she continued, "tell me more about that 'minor decision' strategy."

"For I never had any experience in the sales field, so it is new to me."

In selling, it is usually best to ease gracefully into the crucial "dotted line" stage.

After a smooth sales presentation, therefore, a star salesman doesn't rudely shatter the semi-hypnotic trance by baldly demanding:

"Well, take it or leave it! Do you want it or don't you?"

No, indeed, for that would arouse caution and subconscious warnings that are negative.

"Maybe I better sleep over this decision," would then be a typical reaction of the prospect.

So the professional salesman gently commits the prospect by casually asking him questions with two answers.

Thus, instead of asking "Do you want it or don't you?" the salesman inquires:

"Would you rather have shipment by express or by freight?"

Note that his answer to that question doesn't actually commit the prospect at all. But it starts him into the habit of saying "Yes."

"Would you prefer to pay by the month or give us a check on delivery?" is another query that illustrates the "minor decision."

Before long, the prospect is so far along the "Yesing trail" that he can't back up.

Then the smart salesman will smile, offer his pen, and suggest:

"Now if you'll just O.K. this down here, we'll have delivery on the date you wished."

Please observe that the salesman even then uses the milder term "O.K.," instead of "Sign."

For that word "Sign" has vague nuance that suggests "Legal contract" and thus may start subconscious negative thoughts.

Well, you girls should all take a good course in salesmanship, for winning a wedding ring is a real sales job.

In fact, I used a stack score of coeds at Northwestern and George Washington Universities into my big classes on the "Psychology of Sales and Advertising."

For the coeds then learned not only how to employ that deft "minor decision," but they also were surrounded by an excess of men!

For the men outnumbered the coeds probably 2 to 1. Girls, it is smart strategy to enroll in courses primarily aimed toward men for in that way you enhance your chances of a wedding ring!

Indeed, you can then lean upon an attractive male classmate for help in solving the homework problems, since you can profess to know little about such masculine topics.

"I feel so helpless in this course," a coed can sweetly smile as she disarms her male classmate, "but you are a brain so I wonder if I might ask you for some advice?"

Send for my booklet "Modern Sales and Advertising Strategy," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c. Girls, it helps win wedding rings!

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — At the very time the Alaska earthquake struck, there was a confidential proposal in government hands for a co-ordinated government-university research attack aimed at producing some of the basic facts necessary to build an earthquake warning network.

It has not yet been approved.

Recent break-throughs in instruments and methods have opened the door to a whole new world of earthquake research possibilities which scientists say could end the frustrations of the past 30 years.

Geophysicists interviewed here say we now have the tools to do the research needed to develop a crude earthquake-prediction system for major communities—probably within 10 years, certainly within 20.

It would, of course, only predict quakes likely to cause important damage to people and property. The system would likely skip predictions of quakes occurring in the wilderness and in deserts unless they'd produce nasty effects at a distance.

Such warnings would not be correct every time any more than weather predictions are. Scientists would be right one time out of three.

The predictors would probably err on the side of caution, predict more quakes than would actually occur. They'd hope not to miss any important earthquakes near population centers.

One reason for this scientific optimism: There's been greater-than-expected success in predicting the eruption of volcanoes in a pilot project. Working in the Hawaiian Islands, scientists in this experimental project are able to foretell volcanic eruptions with an accuracy of 50 per cent.

That is, half the eruptions they predict actually occur. The other potential eruptions are underground lava flows pushing upward which die away without surfacing.

The U.S. Geological Survey is continuing to improve its techniques.

One of the most promising leads for the prediction of earthquakes is by measuring the strain rocks are undergoing in the major fault line areas. This can be done in part with strain gauges, which measure the actual change in shape or length of rock formations. The other technique is to measure the speed at which sound waves move through the rocks. (The speed varies according to the strain which the rock is undergoing.)

If the earthquake specialists can determine how much strain different types of rock formation and fault lines endure before slipping, what strains cause what size slips and something about how long it takes for a particular overstrain to result in a slip, then they'll be on the way toward making crude predictions.

As a preliminary, this involves a major co-ordinated study of an important earthquake fault. One proposal favors the great San Andreas fault in California. By seismic, geologic, magnetic, gravimetric, and geologic measurements they'd attempt to determine the elastic properties of the rock formation in the area, the vertical extent of the fault line, how much strain has so far been accumulated over the region of the fault line and carefully map the lines of stress through the region.

All this earthquake work will have a major by-product. The more U. S. scientists find out about earthquakes, the better they will be able to detect and pinpoint Russian underground nuclear explosions. The big problem now is that it's impossible to distinguish between some earthquakes and some types of camouflaged underground nuclear explosions.

Letters

To The Editor

The Herald welcomes letters from its readers on public affairs. The writer may use a pen name provided the letter also carries the writer's true name and address. Letters of fewer than 250 words will be given preference. Letters addressed to others are acceptable provided they do not deal in personalities. Poetry is not published by The Herald.

Editor, Herald:

I must congratulate Mr. John Krider for openly admitting in his letter of April 7th that he and the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce failed in their campaign to remove the county-wide telephone barrier. For the Chamber to shoulder the blame takes intestinal fortitude. Especially for the reasons stated in his letter. Because these reasons show a lack of understanding of the basic human motivations.

People spend their money to acquire recognizable benefits, including prestige. Conversely, they don't voluntarily spend to sustain an objective, however much to be desired, just to increase the welfare of—or to save money for—a community which they consider outside their interests.

It is the same with us south Seminoles. We feel that the increase in mills for Sanford's hospital does nothing for us. Instead of a "political football" as John Krider called it, we say this is just cricket.

Krider's attempt to parallel Mrs. Hope Bennet's detachment from the Seminole Hospital with the jail, county home, schools, etc., is a far-fetched effort to confuse the point. When the judge sends the prisoner to jail, convicts matters not. When our doctor sends us to a hospital, we go where he chooses—to a hospital in Orange County. When South Seminole children attend school, they don't go up to Sanford if the grades required are in the South end. Furthermore, the Orange County hospitals are not built and maintained by a direct tax on property owners.

County unity is something we all want, but let's have it work both ways!

I think that Mr. Krider should become acquainted with the admission list of the Seminole Memorial Hospital. To an old baseball man as he is; percentages should be most convincing. On these two issues, I would say that he has struck out!

Very truly yours,
Kathleen M. Low

Repair Work To Close Runway

The roar of jet engines will be a less frequent occurrence here during the next two weeks as the Sanford Naval Air Station closes its east-west runway for repairs and installation of new emergency arresting gear.

Meanwhile, the shorter 6,000-foot north-south runway will remain open for light traffic and limited carrier landing practice.

The bulk of the station's twin-jet A-3 Vigilantes and A-3B Skywarriors will operate from Cecil Field Naval Air Station, near Jacksonville, while the runway is closed.

Others will be engaged in ship-based operations in the Atlantic and Mediterranean while still others will remain at Sanford for light operations from the north-south runway.

Closure of the main runway was necessary to make certain improvements including installation of a new brake-type arresting gear. The new gear, costing approximately $60,000, will allow aircraft to make emergency landings from either direction without any elaborate preparations.

Prime contractor for the project is Peter R. Brown, Inc., of Clearwater.

Diplomats Glad Nikita Is Alive

MOSCOW (UPI) — Most diplomats here expressed relief today that the report of Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's death was untrue.

Tass, the Soviet news agency published denials of the false report shortly after midnight and then reported that Khrushchev met again this morning with visiting Polish Communist leaders. The Soviet press ignored the death rumors.

The report, by the West German news agency (DPA), was out only five minutes Monday night before it was ordered held up for checking by the agency's editors and then withdrawn.

But during that time, it flashed around the world, causing hundreds of telephone calls to newspapers and broadcast stations and a rush of diplomatic activity.

Most of the callers expressed relief when told that the report was untrue. That also was the reaction of the majority of diplomats here.

Morse Plans Law For FEC

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said Monday he would propose a law to settle the Florida East Coast Railway strike and it would be "my answer" to a railroad official critical of Morse.

Morse told newsmen if Congress is required to pass any law to settle the threat of a nationwide rail walkout, he will add a rider to also settle the lengthy FEC strike. He did not elaborate.

But he said FEC Vice President W. L. Thornton had "been writing a lot of nasty letters about me to congressmen. This is my answer to Mr. Thornton."

Cracker Days Begin In Sanford Friday

BETTY TURNER, in hill billy attire and carrying the proverbial "corn juice" jug, symbolizes "Cracker Days," to be staged Friday and Saturday by the Sanford Merchants Association. Betty is a junior at Seminole High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Turner.

Monday Deadline On Rail Talks

SEN. JOHN MATHEWS' campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor was pushed at a street rally here Wednesday evening by, from the left, Dr. W. Vincent Roberts, Seminole co-chairman; Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr. and the speaker, Sen. John McCarty, Fort Pierce.

Sen. McCarty Speaks Here For Mathews

Termining his candidate the "champion of good government," State Sen. John McCarty, of Fort Pierce, espoused the cause of Democratic governor candidate John E. Mathews in an old-fashioned street corner rally Wednesday evening at First Street and Magnolia Avenue.

McCarty drew a bigger turnout of listeners at 8 p.m. Wednesday than have any of the gubernatorial candidates, themselves, during afternoon appearances here these last few weeks.

McCarty said that the Jacksonville senator "stands on his record" in his campaign for the Democratic nomination in the May 5 primary.

Mathews' outstanding contributions to good government and his effective statesmanship," said McCarty, "have marked his legislative career and won for him many honors."

Mathews was chosen by his fellow legislators as the most promising freshman and a member of the most effective delegation in 1957, most effective in committee in 1959, second most valuable in the legislature and most effective in debate in 1961 and most valuable member of the legislature, most outstanding first-timer in the Senate and member of the most effective delegation in 1963.

He was selected by the Florida press as one of the 10 top legislators in 1957 and 1959, most outstanding member of the House of Representatives in 1961 and most outstanding member of the Senate in 1963.

McCarty pointed out that Senator Mathews voted against the present apportionment plan, in which 45 percent of the voters elect a majority of the Senate; wrote, co-sponsored and led to passage the capital bond outlay amendment for higher education, approved by Florida voters; led to passage a bill to improve and enlarge Florida schools for retarded children; led to passage a plan, hailed by educators, for a board of regents for non-political administration of state colleges, and fought in passage the bill creating a land installment sales board to safeguard against fraudulent practices in mail-order land sales.

Senator McCarty was introduced by Dr. W. Vincent Roberts, Seminole County chairman of Senator Mathews' campaign.

LBJ Asks Some Progress Be Reported

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rail union and management negotiators, under presidential pressure to reach a settlement by Monday, were called to new joint talks today by government mediators.

Both sides were given the morning off to review their positions in the tangled dispute over changes in working procedures, sought by the railroads since 1959.

President Johnson reported Wednesday there had been narrowing of differences on some of the issues. He called for more intensive bargaining in the days ahead and, in effect, set a Monday deadline for substantial progress.

He indicated he was hoping to know by then whether an agreement was possible to avert a nationwide rail strike that could occur April 25.

Informed sources said the mediation efforts, largely exploratory in the first five days of the Johnson round in the dispute, would be stepped up over the weekend in a major drive for settlement.

Ceremony Set At Stadium

Police Chief Roy Williams, president of the Sanford Shrine Club, said today that illustrious Polemic Harold Kastner and Sanford Mayor A. L. Clyde McCullough, former catcher for the Chicago Cubs and the Pittsburgh Pirates, will manage Auburn and Ernie White, former St. Louis Cardinal hurler, will pilot Williamsport.

John Kader, Seminole chairman of the Scott Kelly for Governor campaign committee, said his candidate will be present at the rally. Other state candidates have not indicated whether they will be present.

Other rallies will be held April 23 at Oviedo high school gym and April 30 at Sanford City Center.

Southern Bloc Gains Hope In Rights Battle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Southern senators expressed confidence today that they are making progress against the "veil of emotional hysteria" surrounding the civil rights bill in the Senate.

They voiced doubt after a caucus that there will be any voting within the next week on possible changes in the House-passed bill.

Sen. Richard Russell, (D-Ga.), leader of the Senate Dixie Democratic bloc, said after the caucus: "I think we are making slow but sure progress in piercing the veil of emotional hysteria which the proponents have thrown up around this bill."

There has been speculation that there might be votes on amendments within the next week, but Russell said he doubted it.

Judas Kiss From Peking?

TOKYO (UPI) — Red Chinese leaders sent a cable of greetings today to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on his 70th birthday, calling him "dear comrade" despite the bitter battle between Peking and Moscow for leadership of the Communist world.

Only Wednesday Khrushchev angrily denounced Mao Tse-tung and Chou En-lai by name in a bitter speech in which he said Peking's policies had brought the world Communist movement to "the verge of a split."

But the Communist Chinese leaders paid only passing attention to the differences with Moscow.

12 Jailed In Train Robbery

AYLESBURG, England — (UPI) — Twelve men were sentenced to prison terms ranging from three to 30 years today for the $7.3 million "great train robbery," the biggest cash haul in the history of crime.

Seven received 30-year sentences. Two got 25 years each, one 21, another 20 and the 12th three years. All were convicted of taking part in the robbery and conspiring to commit the crime.

Holley Cites Unkept Democratic Promises

By Jane Casselberry — Wednesday when Rep. Charles R. Holley, of St. Petersburg, spoke for the Sanford Republican Woman's Club and greeted potential voters at Seminole Plaza in Casselberry, a native Floridian and practicing attorney, Holley served in the State House of Representatives since 1960 and has been minority leader since 1962.

In a play on words, Holley is using a sprig of holly, usually associated with the Christmas season, as a symbol for his campaign. This does not reflect his political philosophy, however. As an outspoken conservative he is against give-away programs and waste in government.

In a pre-primary swing at the Democratic opposition, Holley charged "every governor elected in Florida in the past 16 years has been elected on the pretense of being a conservative and in office proved the contrary from Fuller Warren to Farris Bryant."

"Warren promised he would veto the sales tax, which he didn't, and Bryant promised to hold the tax line and taxes are increased 20 per cent on the state level since he came into office."

"All the Democratic candidates are again offering the state another batch of broken promises."

Holley is pledged to veto any raise in the sales tax rate as well as the extension of the tax to include groceries and medicine. He is in favor of abolishing the retail price fixing power of the milk commission and is for establishing the office of lieutenant governor in the state.

Mrs. Kynes Visits City For Husband

Campaigning in her husband's behalf, Mrs. James Kynes, of Tallahassee and Ocala, was escorted through the Sanford area today by former Mayor Tom McDonald.

Kynes, serving under appointment by Gov. Farris Bryant, is seeking the Democratic nomination for his first full term as attorney general.

Mrs. Kynes said her husband is "using area supporters to 'think ahead' in capitalizing on the establishment of the new state university near Oviedo."

She stated he would "recommend to local authorities consideration of development of a large industrial research park in the immediate vicinity of the proposed East Central Florida University," similar to McClure Park near Purdue University, at Lafayette, Ind.

Speaking of McClure Park, Mrs. Kynes said "this spawning ground for industrial research ideas comprises nearly 1,000 acres. Industries in the park are welcome to take advantage of university scientific and engineering personnel, libraries, computers and other facilities. It is not too early for local leaders here to plan for a 'McClure Park' for our new state university."

City Commission is considering an offer of purchase for a lot in the city-owned Lake Monroe Industrial Park (formerly Sanford Industrial Park) by a wholesale concern.

The offer was made Wednesday in a called session of the Commission and is for an L-shaped lot facing French Avenue and Fulton Street.

City Manager W. E. Knowles estimated it will cost $37,000 to install utilities. Commission took the bid under advisement pending determination of the market value of the property.

The offer was presented by Robert Crumley, chairman of the city's industrial committee.
