

Citrus Meeting Wednesday To Open Season

LAKELAND — The Florida Citrus Commission moves to Miami Beach Wednesday for the regular September meeting which generally is regarded as the opening session of a new citrus season. The meeting is to be held in concurrence with the annual convention in Miami Beach of the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association, an event that will be attended by several Commissioners and Commission staff members.

A report by the Commission's Advertising and Publicity Committee is expected to be a highlight of the meeting, according to General Manager Homer E. Hooks. The committee is to meet at 10 a.m. Wednesday, followed by the Commission meeting at 2 p.m.

Hooks said the committee would be asked to consider a request for authority to use the letters "O.J." alone in some instances where the Commission symbol is used as display matter. In addition, support will be sought for the Florida Department of Agriculture's SUNFLAVOR program for the uniform identification of Florida fruits and vegetables. A report also is to be heard on progress made by the Cortes F. Enloe medical advertising agency regarding the investigation of nutritional values of Florida citrus.

Scheduled for Commission consideration will be such matters as exemption from citrus fruit dealer's agent registration for all individuals concerned with transactions involving processed citrus products, and a recommendation that the minimum requirement that minimum Brin for frozen concentrated orange juice be increased from 41.8 to 44 degrees effective December 1, 1964. Hooks said that he planned to report on the current status of Federal Standards of Identity for frozen concentrated orange juice. A report will also be made on the Commission's fight against "Awaka" labelling and advertising policies.

The Commission will be host again for the annual Citrus Breakfast scheduled for Thursday morning with Mayor Hayden Burns of Jacksonville as principal speaker.

NAB Gives 10 Southern Lawmakers 'Zero' On Voting

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Voting records of 10-South congressmen have been given "zero" ratings by the National Associated Businessmen, Inc. (NAB).

The NAB, which is dedicated to "getting the federal government out of competition with taxpaying businesses," rated all House members on the basis of their votes on 20 money measures which went before the 88th Congress.

Votes against such measures as accelerated public works and for such measures as a proposed reduction in foreign aid were credited as "economy votes."

Among the lawmakers who failed to cast an NAB "economy vote" were Reps. Ross Bass and Clifford Davis of Tennessee; Hale Boggs, James H. Morrison and T. A. Thompson of Louisiana; Carl Elliot and Albert Rains of Alabama; Claude Pepper of Florida; James W. Trimble of Arkansas; and Carl Vinson of Georgia.

All are Democrats as are 10 others with low ratings: Reps. John W. Davis (10 per cent) and Phil Landrum (10) of Georgia; Robert A. Everett (5.3), Joe L. Evins (5.8) and Richard Fulton (5.3) of Tennessee; Robert F. Jones Jr. (6.7) and Kenneth A. Roberts (7.7) of Alabama; Wilbur D. Mills (10.5) of Arkansas; Dan- le B. Fassel (5.3) of Florida and Gillis W. Long (5.3) Louisiana.

Special guests for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Keith Salter from Salter's Nursery who will speak on seasonal planting and lead a question and answer period.

Four Southerners who received perfect ratings of 100 were Republicans William C. Cramer of Florida, Richard H. Poff of Virginia and James H. Quillen and W. E. (Bill) Brock of Tennessee.

Others with high ratings included Reps. Joel T. Broyhill, (R-Va.) (95), Edward J. Gurney, (R-Fla.) (95), John O. March Jr., (D-Va.) (95), James T. Broyhill, (R-N.C.) (91.7),

Seminar Set Here On Merchandising

A merchandising seminar is planned for Oct. 13 at Florida State Bank and is designed for all retailing merchants in Sanford and Seminole County. Top speakers in merchandising will be present.

The program will start with a complimentary dinner with the bank as host at 5:30 p.m. and is scheduled to end at 9:45 p.m. The workshop session will cover advertising, merchandising and display of merchandise.

Among the speakers will be Henri Guertin, for many years an experienced merchandiser. He is a graduate of the Harvard School of Business and is now vice president and general manager of Jordan Marsh, Orlando.

His career includes management positions with Maas Brothers stores on the west coast as well as a number of years in New York with Lord & Taylor and Hallmark Cards.

Also speaking will be David Jacobs who has more than 15 years of retail merchandising experience and is considered a specialist in sales promotion and advertising. He is currently a sales promotion manager of Jordan Marsh, Orlando.

The third speaker will be Richard Hedenberg, a graduate of Parson's School of Design in New York. He has traveled extensively throughout Europe and other parts of the world studying design and decoration. Hedenberg is presently display manager of Jordan Marsh, Orlando.

Local Housewife Tied Up, Robbed

Mrs. Robert Besserer of 1305 Forest Dr., wife of the Seminole Memorial Hospital administrator, was robbed of personal valuables Monday afternoon in a brazen holdup at her home.

The robber used a gun to enter the home and then taped Mrs. Besserer's hands, according to Police Chief Roy G. Williams.

The chief said the thief "knew right where to go" in getting the valuables, consisting of personal papers, some $2 bills and other items from the bathroom.

He said the robber told Mrs. Besserer she would not be hurt if she did not scream. After taking the items, the thief left and police were notified.

Chief Williams said his department was given a "good description" of the robber and the investigation is continuing.

Passenger On Scooter Hurt

A motor scooter passenger, Mike McGuire of 2013 Grandview Ave., suffered a right leg injury yesterday when the scooter ran against the back of a pickup truck at 20th Street and French Avenue.

Police said McGuire was on the scooter operated by James Williams of 1203 Washington Dr. when it collided with the truck operated by John Holland of Route 2, Sanford.

Swanson To Be Coffee Club Host

The first fall meeting of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Coffee Club will be held at 10 o'clock Thursday morning when the group will be the guests of Capt. Chandler W. Swanson, commanding officer of SNAS.

The affair will be held at the station's Lake Golden recreation area.

Following a short coffee and doughnut period, the "kaffe klatchers" will be taken on a tour of the station during which they will see several new buildings, including the recently constructed barracks, enlisted men's pool and aviation building.

A motorcade (for which a few more cars are needed according to Charles Morrison) will assemble at the Chamber's building on First and Sanford at 9:30 to provide transportation for those planning to attend.

Johnson Wins Steelworkers' Endorsement

ATLANTIC CITY (UPI) — President Johnson said today his administration is planning to cut consumer excise taxes next year as the first step in a six-point program to preserve record-high prosperity.

Excise taxes, first imposed in wartime to deter buying of so-called luxury goods, are now collected on cosmetics, luggage, perfume, jewelry and other items.

Johnson outlined his proposals to head off recessions and spread the benefits of prosperity in a speech prepared for the convention of the United Steelworkers Union.

The 3,000 delegates to the Steelworkers' convention unanimously endorsed Johnson for election shortly before he arrived at the hall. The resolution declared that the President and the Democratic vice presidential contender, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, were obvious choices.

"We believe that the election of Lyndon B. Johnson and Hubert H. Humphrey is vital to the protection of the labor movement, all of the people of the United States and the cause of peace and freedom throughout the world," the endorsement said. It was adopted on a standing vote.

The President said: "I did request the County Commission to consider this problem. However, the chairman took issue with me and stated that the water from Lake Mobile runs east into Geo Creek."

"He also stated that water from Crane's Roost runs into Lake Orienta which, of course, is not true. He said water from the southeast section of Altamonte Springs drains into Lake Seminary which, of course, also is not true."

"The chairman of the Board simply does not understand the law of gravity," Swofford pointed out.

"He is using the age old technique of smoke screens to hide, cover up and camouflage his own mistakes. We in Altamonte and most of the people in Seminole County have known for four years that Mr. Avery was going backward but we didn't know that he would ask the water to follow him."

Swofford also said, "I do want to say one thing in favor of Avery: He has treated Altamonte Springs better than he has Lake Mary, Longwood and Bear Lake. Although he did not do anything for Altamonte Springs in four years, he didn't do anything to hurt us."

"That miserable redistricting plan he supported inconvenienced the people of Longwood and Lake Mary to the extent that they would not go to the polls and vote."

"In Bear Lake," Swofford concluded, "at taxpayers' expense and under his direction they created a problem from Little Bear to Cub and had the gall to ask the Civil Defense for $5,000 to correct it."

Swofford: Avery Claims Untrue

By Julian Stenstrom, Associate Editor

Lawrence Swofford, mayor of Altamonte Springs, last night took another verbal poke at Seminole County Commission Chairman James P. Avery prior to the beginning of a town council meeting.

Last week several Altamonte Springs residents questioned Avery's familiarity with drainage problems in that community. One resident stated that he had lived in Altamonte for 30 years and had never known excess waters to drain eastwardly as Avery had indicated.

Swofford said he had lived there 30 years, too, and he had never heard of it, either.

Last Friday Avery declared, "If I had been living in a town for 30 years and was

Concessions Won From Khanh, Saigon Workers Halt Strike

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — Workers today called off a general strike that had paralyzed most of Saigon's business for two days.

The peaceful solution to the industrial problem came as Premier Nguyen Khanh endeavored to solve other issues provoked by defiant students and rebellious mountain tribesmen.

At the same time, he was endeavoring to fight the anti-Communist civil war, which was not going well for the government. Communist Viet Cong rebels last week captured 521 American-made weapons, a near-record.

Latest figures released by the Defense Ministry today, however, gave a more optimistic picture. Government forces captured 45 rebel weapons and a cache of ammunition when they crushed a Communist guerrilla force in Quang Tri Province Sunday.

The government lost only four wounded, while the Reds suffered an estimated more than 90 casualties. Fifty-five Communist bodies were counted on the battlefield.

The local federation of trade unions, meanwhile, agreed to go back to work after winning concessions from the government.

Khanh's regime agreed to respect their right to strike and to order the reinstatement of 800 workers allegedly fired arbitrarily from a local textile company.

The agreement was reached at a meeting between the federation and government leaders headed by First Deputy Prime Minister Nguyen Xuan Oanh.

Burns 'Deliberately Deceitful' - Holley

Republican gubernatorial candidate Charles Holley of St. Petersburg paid an afternoon hand-shaking visit to Sanford Monday when he went to DeBarry where he leveled another blast at his opponent, Democrat Hayden Burns.

Accompanying Holley here yesterday was Guy Allen, Republican candidate for tax assessor in Seminole County. Heavy rain during much of the afternoon curtailed the activities of Holley.

In DeBarry where he addressed the Republican Club, Holley accused Burns of deliberate deceit. At one time, Holley said, Burns claimed to have "a political philosophy similar to Sen. Barry Goldwater."

"Shortly thereafter, he took over the Johnson-Humphrey campaign in Florida and is now working to defeat Goldwater and kill the conservative movement."

"Trying to destroy what he said he believes in is one of many examples of deliberate deceit by a political opportunist . . ." Holley charged.

Gladys Moving Closer To Coast

CAPE HATTERAS, N. C. (UPI) — Hurricane Gladys moved its 100-mile-an-hour winds closer to the U. S. mainland today and sent heavy seas against a 1,000-mile stretch of the eastern seaboard.

At 8 a. m. EST Gladys was centered near latitude 34.5 north, longitude 71.8 west, or about 225 miles east-southeast of Cape Hatteras.

Winds of 100 miles an hour extended out 50 miles mainly to the north of the hurricane's center. Gale warnings were in effect from the north and 250 miles to the south.

Wind gusts of 65 m.p.h. were reported at Manteo, N. C., during the morning.

The Washington Weather Bureau warned that residents of islands and low-lying coastal areas along the North Carolina coast north of Cape Hatteras should move to higher ground before tides flooded escape routes.

Gale warnings flew from Wilmington, N. C., to Provincetown, Mass., and on the Delaware and Chesapeake bays. A hurricane watch was in effect from Cape Hatteras to Cape May, N. J.

New Lincoln Continues Setting Pace

Fulfilling its role as the industry's pacesetter in design and craftsmanship, the Lincoln Continental for 1965 will show progressive refinements to its classic styling when it is introduced to the public at Hunt Lincoln - Mercury dealerships today.

A host of improvements in engine, chassis and body details for the 1965 Lincoln Continental new standards in roadability, reliability and passenger comfort. Front wheel disc brakes are standard equipment.

"Each year the Lincoln Continental is strengthening its reputation as America's prestige car — recognition earned only through character and quality," said Paul E. Lorenz, vice president of Ford Motor Company and general manager of Lincoln - Mercury Division. Mr. Lorenz pointed out that Lincoln Continental sales this year increased 20 per cent.

A new hood with slightly raised center panel emphasizes the long, classic front line of the Lincoln Continental. Flush-mounted parking light and turn signals in the leading edges of the blade-like front fenders set off the fresh new front end appearance. The grille is recessed slightly, with the center portion thrusting forward in theme with the crisp hood. The diecast grille is composed of continuous horizontal bars separated vertically by open black-and-bright rectangles.

The tailamps are superimposed with horizontal grille-work over the license, repeating the styling theme of the parking lights. The Continental emblem is centered on the broad rear deck.

Custom decorator interiors offer a combination of luxury and good taste. Trim materials include a new large cloth and a knitted moiré fabric, in addition to wool broadcloth and new low intake leathers and vinyls.

Lincoln Continental again offers a four-door sedan and the only four-door convertible built in this country. For additional formality and the limousine look, a vinyl covered sedan roof is offered in three new colors — brown, blue and ivory gold — in addition to black and white.

Many engineering refinements are incorporated into Lincoln Continental's 430-cu.-inch displacement engine for greater durability and smoother performance. These include improved radiator cooling, a new oil filter cap with two-stage filter and oil mist separator, and a new six blade variable speed aluminum fan for air conditioned cars. A 42-amp alternator is standard, with 55 amps standard with air conditioning.

More stainless steel is used in the mufflers, offering greater resistance to corrosion. New universal joint seals are among improvements made to the driveshaft for greater durability.

Transistorized ignition is optional for 1965. It increases the reliability and durability of the ignition system by lengthening the life of the distributor breaker points and the spark plugs.

Another refinement is a new integral steering gear. The steering wheel itself has an improved feel. Riding comfort is improved through use of new front suspension strut bushings which reduce harshness.

Lincoln Continental offers many conveniences and luxury features as standard equipment that are extra cost options on other cars. Standard on the Lincoln Continental are automatic transmission, power steering and power brakes, 6-way power seat, power windows and power vent windows with bypass control for both, seat belts and retractors, trip odometer and whitewall tires. AM radio with fully retracting power antenna and rear seal speaker also is standard. An AM-FM radio with reversible selector buttons, new band switch and more mellow tone is optional.

Lincoln Continental continues its 24,000-mile or two-year warranty, which it pioneered, and its extended-life service features.

HUNT LINCOLN-MERCURY is featuring this eye-catching Lincoln as one of its products offered to the buying and viewing public of Sanford and Seminole County area. The sleek new car displays a number of striking new innovations. (Herald Photo)

Non-Farm Building Declines In July

GAINESVILLE — Nonfarm building construction in Florida was slightly lower in July than it was at the same time last year, a report just released by the Bureau of Economic and Business Research at the University of Florida.

But the total value of construction authorized in the first seven months of 1964 was 10 per cent higher than for the same period last year, it was reported in the Florida Construction Review.

Privately owned construction was up three per cent in July. This rise is accounted for by the 30 per cent increase in the value of new residential construction. For housekeeping units the increase was 18.3 per cent while for non-housekeeping units the increase leaped to 708.6 per cent.

Educational buildings were up 14.33 per cent but total value of publicly owned construction was down 27.3 per cent, the report states.

The West Palm Beach-Fort Lauderdale area showed the greatest increase in nonfarm building construction with an 80 per cent jump over July, 1963.

The Fort Myers - Key West district gained over 37 per cent in its nonfarm building construction over July of last year and a 33 per cent increase was seen in the Daytona Beach-Leesburg-Brooksville area.

The Orlando metropolitan area slipped way down in construction activity with less than 50 per cent of its July 1963 total. The Tallahassee-North Florida area showed a 35 per cent decrease in construction activity and the Tampa - St. Petersburg metropolitan area showed a 39 per cent decrease from last year's figure.

Broward county reported construction employment as 11.1 per cent of total area employment, the largest proportion reported in the state, according to a special supplement included in the Construction Review.

The county also enjoyed the highest increase in contract construction employment with a 33 per cent gain in this type employment in June, 1964 over June a year ago.

New nonfarm dwelling units authorized in Florida districts showed the greatest gain in the Daytona Beach-Leesburg-Brooksville area with over 100 per cent increase over last July.

Second was the Tampa - St. Petersburg area which registered an increase of 56 per

Public Health Nurses To Hear Talk, See Film

Dr. M. A. NeSmith, a Sanford physician, will show a film and discuss tuberculosis at Wednesday night's meeting of the Public Health Nursing Service which will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the Seminole County Health Department, corner of French and Ninth in Sanford.

"The purpose of the Public Health Nursing Service," said Dr. Frank Leone, county health department director, "relates to health goals such as the promotion of health, prevention of disease and providing nursing services to the sick at home."

"The Home Nursing Service," he continued, "functions with currently approved medical society through a public health medical advisory committee."

"Our nurses are qualified in the services they render," said Dr. Leone. "Written orders from the physician are followed explicitly in a bedside program which is expanding with the population increase and as the public becomes better informed as to the economy of home nursing services."

"There is a gradual increase in the aged segment of our population and associated with this is an increase in the acute problem of long term illness. The best health service available is the visiting nurse — medically supervised home nursing care."

"This program attempts to furnish nursing and rehabilitative services to patients in their homes and bridges a gap in community health services for those patients too ill to visit a physician's office or a clinic, yet do not need hospital care," Dr. Leone concluded.

Home Nursing Services are available by contacting the Seminole County Health Department, 322-2724.

Sight-Saving Month

September is "Sight-Saving Month" throughout the United States. During this month, the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness seeks to remind every man, woman and child in America of the constant threat that disease, accidents and neglect pose for their one and only set of eyes.

President Lyndon Johnson has said of the "Sight-Saving Month" campaign:

"It calls attention to the fact that the precious gift of sight could have been saved for no fewer than 200,000 Americans — half of those who are now blind. This tragic loss can and must be reduced through additional research and continuing public education."

Half of all blindness is indeed preventable. While research may be the key to preventing blindness for future millions, there is much that each of us can do right now for himself and his family. Learn the facts of good eye health and safety. Schedule eye examinations for yourself and your family, particularly the child about to enter school. Support community preventive programs of the National Society.

The Society reminds you: "Your eyes are windows on the world." Keep them clear and bright.

Meters Must Go

When baseball officials want to know something about a ball player they look at the percentages.

When city officials in St. Petersburg wanted to know if the banishment of parking meters — which they did about a year ago — had improved business in the downtown shopping area they, too, looked at the percentages.

What they found not only was interesting but it substantiated their original belief that parking meters in that city had served their purpose.

First of all, it was learned that in St. Petersburg the city had posted a 15 per cent boost in the utilization of its on-street parking facilities and that, according to the merchants, cash registers were busier than ever.

The figures showed that just after the parking meters were removed the average number of daily parkers in the downtown area increased from 19,082 to 21,483. To downtown businesses, that meant at least 2,401 more potential shoppers — and probably more than that — were frequenting the downtown shopping area.

Under the meter system, each downtown parking space accommodated daily 10.2 cars. After the meters vanished the average went up to 11.9. These figures represent usage during the 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. business period.

St. Petersburg's city fathers instituted a system of two-hour free parking periods. At first the business houses expected this to cut down the number of cars using the spaces. They were surprised, however, to find out — by using figures and percentages — their fears were unfounded. All day parkers were chased off the streets by strict enforcement of the two-hour limit.

Many other cities in Florida have followed the plan.

Why should citizens pay for the privilege of shopping in the downtown business area when glittering shopping centers provide free parking for unlimited periods?

The time has come for Sanford's city officials and merchants in the central business area to stop thinking about it and start doing something toward eliminating parking meters in the downtown section.

One candidate for the city commission, E. C. Harper Jr., has openly expressed his opinion that meters are as outdated as the Model "T" Ford. St. Petersburg merchants have described the parking meter ban a "business bonanza." The average merchant there, according to a spot survey, indicated that sales were up 10 to 15 per cent.

An increase in sales of 10 to 15 per cent for Sanford merchants would be a "business bonanza" for them, too.

This is rather odd because forecasting deficits has become a major governmental occupation.

The skill that some of the more clairvoyant forecasters bring to their trade can readily be seen in a volume of testimony just released by a House appropriations subcommittee.

It concerns the newest new House office building, officially known as the Rayburn Building and unofficially known by

So Who Gets Custody of the Kids?

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Anita thinks her problem is unusual, but 99% of wives will probably say "Amen" to her criticism of her mate. And they have a legitimate point, but read the opposing argument of the husband mentioned below. Then read for that sex booklet preview!

CASE T-490: Anita G., aged 29, offers a typical wifely criticism.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "my problem is my husband!"

"After 10 years of marriage and two children, I find myself hardly ever in the mood for physical affection and it is tormenting me."

"And it is chiefly because my husband looks on such things as just a routine chore, like brushing his teeth! I could scream!"

"I'm naturally a very affectionate person."

"And I take perfumed baths, wear sheer negligees and try to create a romantic mood for him."

"But he does NOTHING to build up a corresponding mood in me!"

He turns on his ardent at a moment's notice and expects me to match it without any romantic prelude whatsoever.

"He never even sends me flowers any more nor does he indulge in any preliminary petting!"

"So why don't you wake up some of these stodgy husbands by telling your readers my problem?"

Anita offers a universal complaint of wives.

We medics hear this story constantly. For the usual male limiting a man to only one legal wife.

Obviously, a husband should be gallant to public and remember his wife with flowers or gifts on special occasions.

But a typical hungry man usually wants his steak in a hurry and his erotic satisfaction, without piddling gmelinary sauces, relishes and appetizers!

So send for my booklet "Sex Differences Between Men and Women," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c.

It contains the frank views of college wives, as well as husbands, and helps both sexes understand each other better.

Editor, The Herald:

As Sanford approaches another crisis of flood water damage (the river is still 23 inches under the 1963 crest) the matter of opening up the bottleneck at Monroe Bridge becomes of prime importance.

For no matter how much it is swept under the rug of silence, it is still an indisputable fact that the St. Johns-Indian River Canal will bring higher water to Sanford due to a faster runoff.

Editor, Herald:

During the election time when we read so much of patriotism and how we are all so concerned with the welfare of our country and fellow man, is a good time to bring up the following.

On Lake Mary Blvd. between 20th and Lake Mary seems to be gaining in popularity as a dumping ground for trash. I see much of this along and off the highway and last Sunday saw a large fresh pile of several bags of trash, upon seeing it I became disgusted at the person who would do such a thing. I stopped and looked at it and beheld several medicine bottles and other labels told me who this gallant person was.

It was one of our better families of Lake Mary. I have seen many names in these trash piles and would like to ask those thoughtless people to stop this practice while they are still ahead. The regular county dump is less than a half mile from this spot and perhaps the Herald should run a map of the dump to show citizens where it is. Glass bottles when the sun shines through them at an angle will start a fire in dry weeds.

In the interest of conservation our resources and in the good looks of our county I ask all citizens to stop throwing trash on the highways. A needless waste of tax dollars is spent in cleaning up the roads and if you must throw trash around confine it to your own yards please.

for itself." It sure does. Let's take something else close to home. Did you read the letters from the young man who was killed in Viet Nam, telling of the obsolete equipment being sent them? They were published in Life magazine, Human Events and widely quoted. And were you as I, thinking of Captain Terry? Did it make you sick in the stomach? Were you probably thanking Heaven that your children weren't over there trying to fight when equipment that MacNamara says is good but the troops say is not? And Johnson backs MacNamara? Personally I don't see how ANYONE in Sanford could vote for Johnson.

He talks about the prosperity of the country but demands a poverty bill. He has millions he can spend where it will do the most good for a vote. Not any of his own millions, though. Why does he sidestep the Baker and Estes affairs?

Labor Backs LBJ As Never Before With Fund Raising Push

Barry Bears Down On Viet Nam Crisis

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — GOP presidential nominee Barry M. Goldwater charged today that the Johnson administration has "hundreds of lives and hundreds of lies" to answer for in the Viet Nam conflict.

Carrying his campaign into Johnson territory in the Southwest, the Arizona senator said the administration is keeping information from the American people despite "crisis-of-the-day" developments in beleaguered South Viet Nam.

"The situation in Viet Nam seems to have deteriorated from confusion to chaos in the past 24 hours," Goldwater said in a speech prepared for delivery at a rally in Tulsa's Civic Auditorium.

"Reports of collapse and crisis along the fighting front, in the government, in the cities, and in the villages have poured in."

"After a weekend marked by a shooting incident in international waters that took more than a day even partially to explain, the new crash of events remains unrelieved by a full report from our government."

"The day of reckoning for Viet Nam must not be delayed. This administration has hundreds of lives and hundreds of lies to answer for in connection with the fighting there," he said.

Goldwater was speaking later today at Amarillo, Tex., Albuquerque, N. M. and Ocala, Fla. He began this week's stump tour Monday night with a quick visit to Charlotte, N. C., where he challenged President Johnson to debate the issues of 1964 with him.

BERNRD WERTH interviews Mrs. Gisela Greaney of Deltona for a series on the community to be published in "Neue Ruhr Zeitung," fifth largest newspaper in Western Germany. Werth was chosen for the assignment for past writing experience in covering building businesses in Spain, The Netherlands and Italy. Once his articles have appeared in the newspaper he will free lance them to various magazines in West Germany.

Union Leaders' Fear Of Barry Adds To Zest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Organized labor is doing more than ever this year to raise money and get out the vote for President Johnson's election campaign.

The union effort is both a tribute to the political skills of the Texan in the White House and a protest against the candidacy of Republican Sen. Barry M. Goldwater of Arizona.

"I have never seen our local leadership so aroused," said one labor veteran from a union without a tradition of deep involvement in politics.

The sentiment is repeated time and again by officials of the AFL-CIO and unaffiliated unions who have thrown manpower and funds into the drive to keep Johnson in office.

They claim that union leadership and the rank-and-file are convinced that Goldwater's election would mean destruction of the labor movement and perhaps an economic disaster.

Other labor spokesmen insist that Johnson—while not winning the hearts of union members the way the late President John F. Kennedy did—has made a reputation as a "can-do" Chief Executive by his legislative record.

Goldwater was a pet labor villain even before he won the GOP nomination because of his stand against the union shop and a proposal for restrictions on industry-wide bargaining. His voting record is listed as "100 per cent wrong" by the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE).

Johnson, while voting against labor's recommendations about 15 to 20 per cent of the time while in the Senate, is now viewed as a true friend by George Meany, AFL-CIO president, and other top union leaders.

They consider his achievements in getting his program through Congress this year a little short of a miracle. It contained many bills that the AFL-CIO had been trying in vain to push through the House and Senate in the Kennedy administration.

In addition, Johnson has invited the AFL-CIO high command to the White House on at least a half dozen occasions. Once he had 50 top labor leaders and their wives. He dined with every one of the wives—starting with Mrs. Meany.

This combination of practical results and personal wooing has paid off for the President. Meany is now making a circuit of union conventions to urge an all-out push for a Johnson victory.

RONNIE G. Alexander, Aviation Electronics Technician (Navigation) Third Class, U.S. Navy, has re-enlisted for six years under the Navy's STARS (Selective Training and Retention). WW Hostess Ends Course Of Training

By Mrs. Frank White

Mrs. Sophie E. Haines, 202 Delospine Dr. DeBary, is one of Welcome Wagon's approximately 5,000 Hostesses who are making annual calls on families in cities and towns, in the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico, Trinidad and England. Mrs. Haines has returned from Winter Park where she completed a course of training preparing her for the position of Welcome Wagon Hostess in the community.

Mrs. Haines as Hostess will call on new comers as they move into town, when a new baby arrives, special birthdays, Golden Wedding Anniversaries and other special family events.

Thomas W. Briggs, founder and President of Welcome Wagon, which is now in its 35 year, often referred to it as a service which is "in the business of building friendships." Welcome Wagon's basic policy includes cooperation with all Religious Faiths, with worthwhile Civic and Social Service Groups; also participation in those activities which keep communities good places in which to live. It is significant that Welcome Wagon has been cited for its volunteer service and achievement in community and nation by such organizations as the American Red Cross, The National Foundation, American Heart Association, American Heritage Foundation, United States Treasury Department and many other such groups.

Welcome Wagon service is one not only of public relations but, more important it meets the present day needs in the field of human relations.

Mrs. Haines, on behalf of her sponsors here in DeBary and Orange City and the surrounding area, will take Religious and Civic information to the families on whom she calls with her basket of gifts. Mrs. Haines will extend for those sponsors, to the people of the communities, the old fashioned hospitality for which Welcome Wagon is so well known. She knows this community, and is interested in its welfare and progress, including the well being of its citizens.

COCOA BEACH—Sen. Spessard L. Holland (D-Fla.) will be the feature speaker at a Democratic fund-raising dinner Saturday, Oct. 3, here in Cocoa Beach, home town of Tom Kenney, candidate for Congress from the 11th Congressional District.

The senior Florida senator and former governor of the Sunshine State is well known as a fiery speaker and his presence at a rousing Democratic rally ensures that his political rivals will probably come off second best.

Kenney will speak prior to Senator Holland.

The dinner will be held at the Ramada Inn in Cocoa Beach. The affair will start with a social affair at 6:30 p. m., dinner at 7:30 p. m. and brief introductions of Democratic candidates.

SNAS Inspected By Adm. Heinz

Rear Adm. Luther C. Heinz, Commanding Officer of the Atlantic Fleet's Cruiser-Destroyer Flotilla 12, inspected Naval Aviation's newest global operation Monday as he toured the Sanford Naval Air Station and conferred with local officers.

The high-ranking surface force officer was here to learn about the RA-3C Vigilante re-connaissance bomber and its ground support facilities.

Arriving from Norfolk, Va., shortly before 10 a. m., he was briefed by Capt. James O. Mayo, Commander Reconnaissance Attack Wing One and guided through the Integrated Operational Intelligence Center (IOIC). This is the high-speed data-processing center for intelligence collected by the RA-3C.

Later in the afternoon he toured training facilities for RA-3C flight crews and maintenance personnel and inspected one of the sleek new Vigilantes on the station's flight line.

Adm. Heinz's background includes experience in nuclear submarines and command of destroyers. Though not steeped in aviation, he currently commands a group of surface combat ships which operate as an integral part of the aircraft carrier striking force.

Admiral Heinz and seven other officers accompanying him departed from NAS Sanford at 4:30 p. m.

Political Parties Numerous In U. S.

NEW YORK (UPI)—What have the Barnburners, Coddies, Locofocos, Hunkers, Copperheads and Blue Light Federalists in common?

They're the names of political parties that have existed in the United States. And, according to Encyclopedia International, they're only a smattering, because the nation has had more than 30 political parties.

The Barnburners was a nickname given to the progressive faction of the Democratic Party in New York from about 1844 to 1852. Among other things, the Barnburners were influential in the fight against extending slavery into the country's territories.

The Hunkers were a conservative group generally opposed to legislation forbidding extension of slavery into the territories.

The Blue Light Federalists and the Coddies owed their existence to the War of 1812, an event the Federalists opposed and the Coddies supported.

According to Encyclopedia International, in 1813 Stephen Decatur made several attempts on dark nights to escape from the blockaded port of New London, Conn. He could not do so, however, because of signals of flashing blue lights which were transmitted from shore to warn the British blockaders. The people flashing the blue lights were anti-war, and they received the name, Blue Light Federalists.

The name Coddies came about because of one of the leaders of the pro-war faction, Gullan C. Verplanck. To satirize him, Verplanck's political opponents made up a fictitious character — Abimelach Coodie.

The Copperhead Party which existed in the North during the Civil War, and which was opposed to the war, was so-called, one line of historical thinking goes, because a copperhead is a snake that habitually strikes without warning.

The Locofocos entered the political arena in 1835. They got their name when a radical branch of the Democratic Party was meeting in New York and the members and chairman tried to adjourn the session by turning down the lights. Whereupon opponents produced locofoco matches, a then comparatively recent invention, used them to light up candles, and continued the meeting.

The Hunktails, a group active in New York in the early 1800's, took their name from the bucks' tails they wore in their hats as badges.

Six Games Appear On County's Grid Menu This Week

About Sports

Thinking Out Loud

By Julius Shotton

Editor's note — Today's column is "reprinted" by George Tuckey who was on hand for the Gator victory over SMU Saturday in Gainesville. Tuckey, a sports writer years ago, unobtrusively introduced to share some of the insights on the Florida win.

Florida University Gator fans came away from Gainesville after the SMU Mustangs had been ridden to a 24-0 defeat with a feeling of satisfaction that their favorite team was on the winning end. But in the stands the supporters with some griddon savvy also had the idea that the coaches of the home team had been doing some rather extensive experimenting — research, they call it now.

Up to now the press has told the story of Larry Dwyer's capabilities that make him an All-American candidate. In fact, the program of the day devoted a page to this outstanding protege of practical pigskin peckin'. Then, there was almost a full page spread in the Florida Alligator of Saturday's details on this Gator fullback. So, what happens? Larry, spend a relatively small portion of his time in the game. (It was he, through, that gave the final block to cut away a Mustang harrier on Jack Harper's TD gallop).

And remember all the words extolling Tom Shannon as a quarterback? Does Tom take over the team command post? Nope, only in spurts in the southwest elinger annoying the SMU fellows. It's Steve Spurrier who bustled the squad just a lot of the time.

That fullback that looked so good many times on the Gator offense, now what's his name? Oh yes, John Felber. Letterman? No, sophomore, it says in the program.

Well, so it went. The vaunted strength of the Ray Graves' legions seemed to be following the pre-game public address announcer's "testing; testing."

Don't get the idea that everyone thought the Gators were just peachy. When they didn't punch over that TD from the one yard line and took a couple of cracks at it, some of the alumni were upset almost enough to tear out the splinter-covered wooden seats and start a fire for a "burning-at-the-stake" party. But the seats for upcoming opponents who watched the proceedings must be even more confused in what reports they can make when they return home. Just how strong — or just how weak — is the 1964 edition of Fighting Gators? There is just a lot of conjecturing going on, because if all the power that seemed to be kept under wraps Saturday was thrown into a game at one time, just how shockingly good could the team be?

The tussle at Jackson next week against Mississippi State and the Oct. 8 fracas against the L.S.U. Tigers in their lair will help answer some of the present speculation, won't they?

The pass interference call that gave the visiting Texans the ball on the Gator nine yard line, first and 10, was MOST unpopular with the homestowners, as you can imagine. But an official was within 10 feet of the play — and had his eyes right on the play.

A fine display of "second effort" was Bob Oyster's run-down of Jack Harper after the Gator back had taken in Steve Spurrier's pass and was on his way to TD-land. The huge guard had had his lungs in the line of scrimmage, but got up and took out after the fleeing Harper. Of course, the Gator trotter was being impeded somewhat, shall we say, by SMU objectors to his advance. While he was dodging around, Bob was not after him — and pulled him on the seven yard line.

Colonial-Tribe Meet Friday In Metro Tilt Here

By Julius Shotton
Herald Sports Editor

No less than a half-dozen grid contests will be played by Seminole football teams this week.

The action will get underway Thursday afternoon at Winter Park when Head Coach Ralph Shump and his Seminole High Jayvees travel to Ward Field for a 4 o'clock contest with the Baby Wildcats.

The SMU Jayvees will be putting a string of 26 games without a loss right on the line.

Thursday night at Lyman High Field the Sanford Junior High Braves, under the leadership of Head Coach Jim Pelham, will open its season with a tilt against Head Coach Jim Clark's South Seminole Junior High Hurricanes.

The Braves took both games the two clubs played last season and this opener for each club should attract a capacity crowd.

All four of the county's high schools will see action this week.

Seminole High's Tribemen will raise the curtain on its home schedule by hosting the Colonial High Crusaders in a Metro affair at Sanford's Memorial Stadium.

It will be the first loop tilt for both clubs. In openers last Friday night, Colonial whitewashed Ocala 15 to 0 and Sanford tied with Titusville, 13 to 13.

Lyman High will see action for the first time this season — running into a formidable Cardinal eleven at Ocoee. The Cards knocked off the Apopka Blue Darters in their opener last week, 14 to 12. Head Coach Dick Copeland, in his second season at Lyman, will be taking an inexperienced club into the Orange Belt Conference for the first time this season. This affair, however, is not a loop tilt.

Meanwhile at Oviedo the Lions will meet Crescent City Friday night. It will be the second outing for Coach Arthur Scott's charges who caged the Bulldogs of Zephyrhills 23 to 7 last week. Crescent City last Friday night dropped a 41 to 6 decision to Bunnell.

Looking toward this week, with a victory over Ocala under their belts, will be Crooms High's Panthers. The Cats travel to Gainesville to meet Lincoln High. This will be a Florida Big Nine North Conference contest for Head Coach Willie Holt and his explosive Panthers. Crooms upset Ocala 22 to 6 last Friday night at Sanford's Memorial Stadium.

HIGH-POWERED
NEW YORK (NEA) — The 1964 edition of the Los Angeles Rams was one of the most offensive-minded in National Football League history. The Rams scored the most points for a single season (648) and had the most touchdowns in one year (84).

ROYALS SIGN TWO
CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — Oscar Robertson and Tom Thacker signed contracts Monday with the Cincinnati Royals for the 1964-65 National Basketball Association season, leaving only Jerry Lucas, last year's NBA rookie of the year, a holdout.

THREE-D DILLY
BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (UPI) — Broadcasters working the University of Indiana games may have a tough time with the Hoosiers' 3-D backfield. That would be Don Dilly at wingback, Mel Dilling at halfback and Russ Diller at fullback.

CRAWFORD GONE
BOSTON (UPI) — Jim Crawford, Boston Patriot halfback, will be lost for the rest of the season. Crawford tore the ligaments in his left knee against Oakland last Sunday in an American Football League game.

Red Swipes Plate To Cut Phil's National Loop Lead To 5 1/2 Games

By Martin Loder
UPI Sports Writer

The high and mighty Philadelphia Phillies are in danger of having the National League pennant stolen from under them.

Chico Ruiz was the latest villain, stealing home in the sixth inning Monday night with the run that gave the Cincinnati Reds a 1-0 victory over the Phillies.

It was the second time in three days that Philadelphia has been beaten on a steal of home. Willie Davis of the Dodgers executed a similar swipe in the 16th inning of Saturday night's game to give Los Angeles a 4-3 decision.

The Phils still hold a 3 1/2-game lead over the second-place Reds with just 11 games to play. But four of those contests will be against Cincinnati, which has come on strong in the last week while Philadelphia was slumping.

Philadelphia has dropped three of its last four games and four of its last six while the Reds have taken five of their last six for a net pickup of three games.

Ruiz' steal of home came as a complete surprise to the Phils and to pitcher Art Mahaffey in particular. There were two outs at the time and slugger Frank Robinson was at bat when Ruiz, who had stolen 279 bases during his minor-league career, broke for the plate. Mahaffey was so startled that he threw the ball past catcher Clay Dalrymple to the grandstand screen.

In the only other game played in the major leagues Monday, the Houston Colts further dampened San Francisco's slim pennant hopes by whipping the Giants 3-1. The loss kept the fourth-place Giants seven games behind Philadelphia.

Ken Johnson held the Giants to four hits, including Jim Herr's 29th homer, to boost his record to 11-16. Rusty Staub drove in two runs for the Colts with a homer and a sacrifice fly and John Balemans drove in the other with a double.

It was the third straight victory for Houston since Lum Harris replaced Harry Craft as manager.

Restauranters Stay Tied For Bowling Lead

By Jim Boehman

Last week found the Roco and Wilks Restaurant and Lake Monroe Inn teams both tied for first place. A very close roll-off saw Roco and Wilks come out on top with a three-point win.

Lake Monroe was the first game by eight pins, and Roco and Wilks took the second and third by 23 pins and 39 pins, plus total pins. George Swann was high for Roco and Wilks with his 192, 219 and 216 for a 617 total. On the opposing team, Big John Uhr was high for Lake Monroe Inn with games of 205, 186 and 213 for a 604 total.

In other league action, Jet Lanes with a clean four point sweep from the Wisdom 50d Service team moved into a tie for first with Roco and Wilks. However, Roco and Wilks held first by a 260 pin margin.

Richard Murphy was the big gun for Jet Lanes with his consistent rolling of 191, 208 and 191 games for a 590 total and Roy Sterman was high for Wisdom's with a 513 series.

Cook's Corner team salvaged all four points from Fryor's State Farm Insurance to move into a tie for fourth place with Lake Monroe Inn. Big Jim Altman was high for Cook's with his 200/545 total while Vergil Anderson was high for Fryor's with a 506 series.

Harry's Bar and Package won another three points to move into third place. Their victims this week were Sanford Manufacturing. Jesse Cook was high for Harry's with his 211/525 and Fred Hollen was high for Sanford Manufacturing with his 512 set.

Those bowlers rolling games of 200 or higher this week were led by Harold Herbat's 236, followed by Swann's 216 and 210; Garry Fox's 214, John Uhr's 205 and 213, Redmond's 212, George Paulk and Jesse Cook tied with games of 211, Richard Murphy's 208, Neal Maxwell's 206, John Kneeland's 202 and Jim Altman's even 200.

Ken Johnson held the Giants to four hits, including Jim Herr's 29th homer, to boost his record to 11-16. Rusty Staub drove in two runs for the Colts with a homer and a sacrifice fly and John Balemans drove in the other with a double.

It was the third straight victory for Houston since Lum Harris replaced Harry Craft as manager.

'Canes Set For Braves

By Jim Boehman

It's only a matter of hours now before the South Seminole Junior High Hurricanes meet their arch rival, the Braves of Sanford Junior High.

It will be the curtain lifter for both clubs. Each of these two clubs has been working for a month in preparation for this extremely important contest.

The initial contest is extremely important to Head Coach Jim Clark and his South Wind youngsters. The Braves beat the 'Canes twice last season — smashing them in an early season meeting 27 to 6 and then edging them by a 12-6 margin in the Peanut Bowl.

Moreover, the contest will be played before a home crowd at Lyman High's field. "Unfortunately," says Clark, "injuries have hurt us bad," and side Dave Miller concurs. Linebacker Matt Hickok has been sidelined due to a chest wound. Halfback Bob Middeck is nursing a sore neck. Guard Jeff MacLeod has sustained a chest injury and will be inactive for a few weeks. Line man Mike Rickett is also sidelined. Fullback Richard Rubright has been reduced to part-time duty because of a foot injury.

The Hurricanes are doing their best to make up for their

Hundreds Enter Herald's Grid Winner Contest

By Jim Boehman

III back, Ronnie Shoop has been alternating with Rubright at the fullback post. Quarterback Jim Lucas has been playing a little at halfback while Mike Hargis has subbed for him as field general. Johnny McDermott has also been used at Middeck's vacated position. However, the Casselberry boys are still undermanned.

Unlike everything else, the Hurricane line, anchored by veteran Bruce Stuart, has looked quite good. Stuart has been switched to an end and will pass as a possible receiving threat. The other members of the South Seminole front line are Allen Richey, Greg Danko, David Drueding, Danny Peterson, Bob Mobley, and Larry Garner.

Hundreds and hundreds of area football fans participated in the first week's running of The Herald's sixth annual pick-the-winner football contest.

This week's contest, details of which appear in today's edition of The Herald, will probably attract even a greater number of entries.

Winners of last week's initial event appear listed in today's contest layout.

The biggest upset last week which threw most area fans into a tizzy were North Carolina State's unexpected win over North Carolina and the Boston College victory over Syracuse.

Of course, no entrant last week picked the Duke-South Carolina tie.

Four participants picked eight of the 10 games correctly, therefore the winners were selected on the basis of the "most points" figure at the bottom of the entry blank.

It was apparent, nevertheless, that many contest entrants are ahead prognosticators. The Herald invites all fans to try again this week-end.

BLUE MONDAY

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI) — The Buffalo Bills of the American Football League didn't get the traditional Monday off after whipping Denver 30-13 the previous day. Coach Lou Saban explained he ordered a light drill Monday because this Saturday's game with the San Diego Chargers will give the team less than a week to practice.

LOT OF POINTS

NEW YORK (NEA) — Jim Brown of the Cleveland Browns before this season held the National Football League record for most lifetime touchdowns (82), but Jim Taylor of the Green Bay Packers holds the mark for the most touchdowns in one season (19) in 1962.

IN THE FAMILY

CLEMSON, S. C. (NEA) — Football at Clemson seems to be a family affair.

Nearly half of the freshman team is composed of players whose families have performed for Clemson or another school.

Two freshman guards — Whit Boykin and Tom Bell — each had grandfathers and fathers play at Clemson.

Hoople Selects Air Force Over Michigan Wolverines

By Major Amos R. Hoople
Upset Specialist

One of the ancient truisms of football, my friends, is that the ball bounces funny, egad!

I am reminded of this once more by the exhaustive study of wind currents just completed by my colleague, Dr. Cleve Zlobotny, the famed authority on aerodynamics.

Dr. Zlobotny has detected an unusual amount of ethereal activity over the Central Plains. (Ed. Note: Maybe some of the Major's hot air is circulating over the area). These strange wind currents will spread over most of the nation by Saturday.

With unpredictable up-sweeps and downdrafts carrying well-aimed passes and field goal attempts wide of their targets, close scores and upsets will be the order of the day, and the Hoopie System has pegged a trio of startling upsets for you—hak-hak!!!

The Air Force, getting better and bolder every year, will shoot down Michigan's Wolverines by a 26-21 count in Ann Arbor. Meanwhile, the Kentucky Wildcats will claw their way past mighty

Lyman's Greyhounds Get Ready For Cardinal Opener At Ocoee

Friday night at Ocoee 26 young men dressed in the blue and gold of Lyman High School will open the 1964 Greyhound gridiron campaign against the Ocoee Cardinals.

According to most authorities, this is destined to be one of Lyman's roughest seasons.

They are playing for the first time as a member of the tough Orange Belt Conference, having relinquished their former independent status. They will take on some of the better schools in the Central Florida area. Also on their schedule for the first time in many a year are the Seminoles of Sanford.

The Hounds will meet the Tribe Nov. 6 at Lyman Field.

The boys who have earned the right to represent Lyman's varsity in this, a "turning point" autumn for the school, have been chosen by Head Coach Dick Copeland.

They are as follows: Quarterbacks—Jack Blanton, senior, 150 and Eddie Long, senior, 165.

Fullbacks—Austin Saville, senior, 173; Terry Toole, senior, 170 and Jim Faulkingham, senior, 180.

Miss Foster, W. J. Ozier Wed

Miss Sharon Deane Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Archer Foster of Jacksonville, and Willis John Ozier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Ozier of Sanford, were united in holy matrimony on Sunday, September 13, 1964 at 4 p.m. at the First Christian Church of Jacksonville with Dr. George C. Stuart as the officiating clergyman.

headpieces were matching roses with circular net veils, and they carried pinnacles

of Sanford and Richmond, Va. served the groom as best man. Ushers were Michael Stratton, Richard Smith, Michael Dorso and John Cory. Following the wedding, a reception was held at the church with Miss Mary Stratton and Miss Edith Smith, cousins of the bride, in charge of the bride's book.

Mr. and Mrs. Ozier will reside in Hampton, Virginia after a wedding trip through the Blue Ridge Mountains.

MRS. WILLIS JOHN OZIER

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a formal gown of candle-light peas de sole, featuring a scoop neckline with elbow length sleeves, slightly draped with a tiny self rose. The fitted bodice and voluminous skirt were lavishly embroidered with aloncon lace in a flower motif with seed pearls and crystal beading. The sweeping chapel train was secured at the waist with two large roses of peas de sole. Her imported veil of illusion was attached to a full open rose of the matching candle-light peas de sole, and she carried a pinnacle of white roses and stephanotis with sprays of seed pearls.

Mrs. Michael Dorso of Gainesville attended the bride of matron of honor and Miss Roberta Young of New Smyrna Beach was bridesmaid. They were gowned identically in full length gowns of willow green sate peas with elbow length sleeves, scoop neckline and an open fabric rose at the back waist. Their Miss Carol Parker, bride-elect of Roy Wainwright, was guest of honor at the home of Mrs. Charles Lee on Lake Charm with Mrs. Tivy King serving as co-hostess.

On the serving table there was a lovely floral centerpiece of pink roses and other pink flowers, there were also pink candles on either side of the arrangement.

Cake floats with decorated cup cakes and decorated minis were served.

On the gift table there was a lavender centerpiece and the focal point of interest was a miniature bride and groom. A lovely Cattleya Orchid corsage was presented to the guest of honor by the hostesses. She also received from the hostesses a beautiful champagne beige piece of lingerie. Mrs. George Meana kept the guest book. There were 20 guests invited to this delightful shower.

Light Shed On Hair Coloring

There comes a time in every woman's life when she feels her hair is at an awkward age. And, since she no longer is considered a hard-ridan for boosting her ego, she probably takes her "head" to the beauty salon for a hair coloring job.

In the '20s and '30s, the woman who dyed or bleached her hair was considered "fast." According to Arthur Kaplan, director of marketing for a major beauty products firm, the end results of hair coloring then contributed to a hard look which helped gossipa no end. Kaplan points out that early hair coloring "didn't lift the hair, but left it with a paint-brush look."

Fortunately for those who have discovered their first gray hair, coloring has come a long way. Now the products used do give lift to hair and add color. But more important, he says, they maintain the color variation in hair that makes it so attractive and natural looking.

Is there a female pattern concerning hair coloring? Yes, Kaplan says. Up to age 30, a gal is interested in striking color change. From 30 to 50, she is concerned with blending or covering the gray in her hair. After 50, she may highlight the gray or white or try to regain her hair's former coloring. At one dangerous stage — her 40s — some women kick up their heels for a last fling and become blondes.

Currently popular in this area are the light blondes, silvers and platinum — shades of Jean Harlow! And it seems more women want to be blondes this year than last year. Kaplan says the firm's figures show the shift to blondes is now 25 per cent, up from 10 per cent.

As a bit of advice Kaplan suggests a woman be realistic about selecting her new hair color.

"Hair," he explains, "tends to grow darker as we grow older and a woman needs a lighter shade to go with her complexion. She also should look for colors closer to her gray shade rather than trying to regain her hair color of brown or black."

"Talk it over with your beautician," he recommends, "and don't be afraid to try something. If you come out a blonde and don't like it — or your husband doesn't — just put on a scarf for a day, go back to the salon and have it recolored."

Favorable acceptance of hair coloring has grown in the last 20 years, especially in communities of 25,000 and over. Here are some terms to help you understand what your beautician is discussing:

STRIPPING — In stripping, all the pigment is bleached out of the hair, which is then almost snow white and ready to be toned.

TONE — To apply a pastel shade of hair coloring to hair that is prebleached.

RINSE — A temporary coloring for the hair that does not penetrate the hair shaft, but only coats it.

DRABBING COLORS — Colors used to tone down reds in hair that is tinted.

INTENSIFIERS — Colors used to accentuate red in tinted hair.

PORUS — A condition of the hair in which it absorbs water and permanent waving chemicals easily. Hair that is color-treated is usually quite porous.

RESISTANT — A condition in which the hair has a hard outer surface which repels moisture and chemicals.

DAMAGED HAIR — Hair that is extremely porous, brittle or that has tiny split ends.

Damaged hair is often dry, lifeless and tangles easily. The condition can be caused by too much sun, incorrect diet, or through misuse of color.

COATED — A condition in which each hair is covered with an invisible film which retards a permanent's chemical action. This usually is due to previous hair coloring or other treatment of hair.

ELASTIC — Hair that holds a curl and springs back into a curled shape after being combed through.

TINT OR BLEACH your own hair? Women who do will find a cream peroxide with hair conditioner most effective and less damaging to the hair.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My name is Dickie and I am ten years old. I went to Montana to visit my aunt and uncle for two weeks this summer and I had a very good time. They own a ranch and they let me ride a horse. They don't have any kids of their own and they let me do just about anything I wanted to do. When I got home, my mother said to write them a broad-and-butter letter. This is a letter saying thanks for the good time. Well, I started about 100 of these broad-and-butter letters and they all ended up sounding so stupid I tore them up and called them long distance on the telephone and told them thanks again for the next time. The call came to $8.70. I didn't think it would cost that much but that is what it came to on the telephone bill. I want to draw $6.70 out of my savings account but my mother won't let me. She says that was a broad-and-butter letter and I have to write one anyway. Do you think this is fair?

DICKIE: Your mother is trying to teach you something that everyone should know. It is necessary to write a broad-and-butter letter after you've been a guest. Your short-cut showed disrespect (if extravagant) ingratitude, but it did not do the job of a "broad and butter" letter. Mind your mother, Dickie.

DEAR ABBY: My husband came home from a convention with LIPSTICK on his cigar holder! How about that?

JEALOUS: You have nothing to worry about. A chronic Casanova would have removed the evidence.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I just had the biggest fight of the year. We have two children, one and two, and I am expecting again. My husband wants to move to the country to a two-room house. It isn't a modern house and you have to carry water a full block. The closest neighbor is 15 miles away and the store is 35 miles away. There is no phone in the house and he says he isn't putting one in. (What if one of the children needs a doctor?) He says we will have no TV and not even a radio as I will have plenty to keep me busy. He says I'll have to make a vegetable garden so we can have fresh vegetables. His reason for all this is that I have too many friends. Abby, I have only one friend and she lives in my block. I visit her maybe an hour three times a week as she is an invalid. And I always take both children with me. My husband lets me go to the store only once a week and as soon as I get home he asks me who I talked to, what they looked like and what we said. His mother says I am his wife and it is my duty to live where he wants me to. Can you help me?

DEAR TRAPPED: If your explanation of your husband's reasons for a move to the country is accurate, your hubby is a candidate for the couch. YOU don't need help—HE does! So help me.

Problems? Write to AB-By, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., for Abby's booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Highlights

TV Time Previews

TV Time critic preview coming television shows by attending rehearsals, watching screenings, analyzing scripts in New York and Hollywood. Here are their previews for today:

7:30-8:30 p.m. ABC. Combat. "Vendetta." It's Telly Savalas' show and the fine character actor gives a bravura performance as a colonel in charge of a Greek detachment which storms to the rescue of an embattled American unit. The hour is taken up with heroics and just a bit of intrigue on the battlefield.

7:30-8:30 p.m. NBC. Mr. Novak. "Moonlighting." (Season premiere) As long as "Peyton Place" is being seen after dark, there's no reason to be annoyed by the faint aroma of soap that comes from this episode. Clean-cut Mr. Novak finds himself in deep financial water and takes a menial job to cover his father's medical expenses. Maybe the situation does occur in real life, but his choice of outside occupation stacks the deck a bit heavily, giving the episode too pat an opportunity to moralize on the sad state of teaching salaries and on the responsibilities of the profession. However, fans of the series aren't going to mind a little emotionalism and they'll welcome back series star James Franciscus and Dean Jagger hungrily.

8:30 p.m. CBS. World War II. "Summer of Sarajevo." (Premiere) Television isn't exactly clamoring for another series, fictional or documentary, on the subject of war, but if we must have them, we can at least be grateful for the well-headed documentary approach taken here. This opening segment, appropriately begins at the beginning; detailing through actual films of the period and John Sharnik's well-written commentary, narrated by Robert Ryan, the events leading to the commencement of hostilities. You'll even see the actual assassination of Archduke Ferdinand of Austria-Hungary, which triggered the conflict.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

When should you double a freely bid game on suspicion? Not often, unless the signs are right. West thought the signs were most favorable. He only had 12 high-card points, but they appear to be available ones. Surely his clubs were well placed. Probably the king of diamonds would show up in the slot, and his jack of hearts looked like a nice comfortable opening lead.

What about the singleton trump? If ever a player was marked with four trumps it was East and maybe the double would confuse declarer. Could South make the hand on sheer power? Possibly, but West had detected an overbid tone in South's call of three spades. He was right! South should Everything worked out to West's satisfaction. South won the heart lead in dummy and promptly led a low spade to his ace. The next play was the jack of spades. West discarded the queen of diamonds. "Nice double," said South in a voice that dripped acid. "I better salvage what I can from the wreckage." Then he roars with dummy's king of trumps and lost a club fiasco. West led the ten of hearts. South won in dummy, led a club to his ace, ruffed a club, and ruffed his last club with dummy's ten of spades. East overruled and led the nine of diamonds whereupon South had to lose three diamond tricks for a 500-point loss.

South had to lose three diamond tricks for a 500-point loss.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

They have been married three years and as a couple they haven't made any friends at all. The wife who feels lonely and left out blamed her husband for their lack of friends.

She writes: "He meets men at work. And it seems to me it is his responsibility to get on friendly enough terms with some of them so that we are invited to their homes. But we haven't been invited anywhere, though we have lived in the same suburb for the three years we have been married. What can a wife do about a husband who won't even try to make friends?"

First of all, stop blaming your husband for not shouldering a responsibility that is actually your own. That's the first and most important thing you can do.

The social life of a husband and wife is the wife's responsibility. No couple is likely to have many friends if the wife just sits around waiting for her husband to provide ready-made friendships.

Instead of sitting around like an outsider, get busy making some friends in your own neighborhood. You can make friends through church work. You can make friends through taking on volunteer work in your community. You can make friends through enrolling in some class in which you are interested—whether you are interested in art lessons, bridge lessons, French lessons—or whatever.

The one way you won't make friends is sitting around home expecting your husband to provide you with all the friends you need.

As for that home of yours start using it for dispensing a little hospitality yourself instead of wishing others would invite you to their houses. But get busy right away. The longer you live in a place without making friends, the harder it is to break the ice.

A perfectly delightful book has just been published, "Contemporary Quotations" compiled by James B. Simpson. This is a book which can be of great help to you who plan speeches for club programs, for civic programs, for teaching and educational forums and just for your own personal enjoyment. James Simpson says, "... Our era boasts eloquent spokesmen from every level of society, and I believe their words should not be buried in the formidable and sometimes inaccessible files of newspapers and magazines.

"Most of the quotations in this book gained attention the moment they were written or spoken. More than a few are bright threads in the fabric of modern history. Some will become more important in the perspective of time. A goodly number already echo back and forth across the seas and across the years."

President Of Federation Addresses Club

By Mrs. Frank White
Guest speaker for the first Fall meeting of the DeBary Woman's Club, held Friday at the Community Center, was Mrs. Albert Hurth of St. Petersburg, first vice president of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, who was introduced by the program chairman, Mrs. Arthur Wagner.

Mrs. Hurth spoke on the topic, "Federation Frosting," and gave a fascinating account of visiting women's clubs in many foreign countries with other officers. In Japan they were treated to a Tea Ceremony. They visited the American Embassy in each country they entered during the trip.

Spending eight days in India, they purchased material in Calcutta to make themselves a sari. Mrs. Hurth demonstrated how to wear the garment draping herself in her buttercup yellow trimmed in gold sari, which cost her about $20. The more gold thread used the more expensive the sari and most of the ladies brought one or two home with them. In Bombay they were given a buffet luncheon by the American Woman's Club and a tea by the Indi an Women's Club. Mrs. Charles Ulrich, president presided at the meeting and welcomed the guests and members. Mrs. R. Fisher gave the invocation and Mrs. Pierson Little led in the Salute to the Flag.

Reports were heard from the secretary, the treasurer, and committee chairman. Mrs. Robert McGee advised all members to go to the polls and vote in November. Mrs. Chester Roarick presented two new members, Mrs. J. R. Ankow and Mrs. Newell Hawkins. Mrs. Earl Merrill, hospital chairman, announced that 92 members were present and seven guests. Mrs. Arthur Wagner, program chairman, welcomed the charter members and past presidents each of whom was presented with a special badge. Refreshments of cookies and punch were served from a buffet table overlaid with lace tablecloths and decorated with a centerpiece of a basket of purple lilacs, flanked by crystal candlesticks and frosted white candles. Laura Platt Brown was chairman of the hostess committee and she was assisted by Mrs. W. Cole, Mrs. John Dalk, Mrs. C. Cransy, Mrs. Alta Clark and Mrs. Harold Willis. Each wore a colorful purple headpiece made by Mrs. Cole. Door greeters were Mrs. Edmund Lovanna and Mrs. Lottie Beck.

Engineers Warn Longwood Water Pollution Is Near

Longwood must act now to preserve its present safe water supply from contamination and to prepare for a 100 per cent population increase within the next 15 years.

That was the gist of a public meeting held by the Longwood Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening, designed as an informative session leading to the construction of a sewage disposal plant but which nearly resulted in a hostile over "something" in city water now being pumped into Longwood homes.

Prediction that Longwood's population would increase from the present 3,000 to an estimated 6,000 in 1980 was made by Dr. Jess C. Dietz, of the Sanford engineering firm of Leffler, Clark and Dietz.

Longwood's water, supplied from wells, is threatened with contamination from effluent flowing from septic tanks, Dietz said, adding that "this country-wide problem has been brought out vividly through the use of detergents; housewives are finding foam and suds in the water coming from their taps."

The engineer told the some 50 persons present that FHA and VA will not finance new homes unless public water is safeguarded, such as the potential hazard of pollution of wells from septic tanks.

William Leffler, of the same engineering firm, said that effluent from a Longwood sewage disposal plant could flow generally in one of three directions, to Soldier Creek, to Goe Creek or to Myrtle Lake.

Dietz advised the Longwood residents to safeguard their natural resources, adding that the present water supply is safe and should be protected. He suggested the city apply for an IHFA planning loan for preliminary engineering studies. Final action would be determined by a referendum.

Gordon Folke, of Orlando, regional sanitary engineer for the State Board of Health, stated that septic tanks were not designed for mass housing, such as subdivisions, and, therefore, result in the effluent working itself to the surface.

He recommended a sewage disposal program for the Longwood area, pointing out that 25 per cent of the cost could be financed with a federal grant through the State Board of Health.

Although advised before the meeting that she "would be out of order," Mrs. H. P. Griffith Jr., of 458 Heider Avenue, questioned a substance in the present water supply, displaying a piece of cloth she said became discolored in her home laundry.

Folke stated field tests had been made and he believed the cause was by crud, or rust scales, from present iron water pipes.

City councilmen present said they were endeavoring to learn the cause and would correct it.

Mrs. Griffith said she had been advised by health authorities at Orlando AFB that urinary troubles in children could be traced to water and advised her to complain to the commanding officer at Sanford Naval Air Station, since her family is Navy personnel.

Folke told the press after the meeting state chemists will be in Longwood Thursday morning to test the Longwood water supply.
