

Flag Pole Damaged

By Jane Casselberry
The 25-foot long flag pole, installed by American Legion Memorial Post 256 of Casselberry in the Memorial Park, fell victim to a sudden windstorm last week and became so badly bent that it has had to be removed.

The storm came up suddenly before the large flag could be taken down and its added weight in the wind and rain proved too much for the pole.

Legionnaire Miller Evans, custodian of the Park, said today that part of the pole can be salvaged with the top part to be replaced with larger size pipe which will be riveted together in three sections.

The original pole was donated by Hibbard Casselberry while rigging for the flag was donated by Certified Signs, Inc.

Evans also said that work will begin soon on the three four-foot sidewalks leading to the circular base of the flag pole. The park is triangular in shape and future plans by the Legion Post call for further beautification and the addition of benches.

Successful Cooperation

The Greater Chuluota Community Club once again is sponsoring a program of recreation and playground activities for all youngsters in the community between the ages of five and 12 years.

Other clubs and organizations supporting the program through the donation of money and supplies include the Chuluota Community Church Sunday School, the Women's Christian Fellowship groups and the Chuluota Challenger.

Serving as directors are Mrs. Harold Martin and Mrs. Ken Rice. Assisting them are many mothers of the community who are donating their time and services to be on the premises with the youngsters and to work and play with them. Teenagers helping are Lily and Alice Fox, Diane Murphy, Debbie Pentz, Darlene Eulselser and James Wagner.

The program began on June 11 and will be open from Tuesday through Friday of each week from 9 a. m. until noon during the summer months.

Activities planned include sewing, art, square dancing and a course in first aid. Outdoor recreational equipment has been put in good repair and children are supervised in such sports as softball, horseshoes, croquet and basketball.

Chuluota is to be commended for organizing and conducting its own supervised program of summer recreation for the youngsters. We think it a fine example of successful cooperation and particularly wish to compliment the leaders for types of instructional subjects chosen. Recreation can be educational as well as entertaining.

Seminole 4-H'ers To Camp Next Week

Members of Seminole County's 4-H Boys and Girls will be boarding chartered buses bright and early Monday morning for Camp McQuarrie in the Ocala National Forest where they will be joined by boys and girls from Volusia County for their annual week at 4-H camp.

Assistant Seminole County Agent Ernie Lundberg will serve as camp chairman. Other agents attending will be Miss Myrtle Wilson, Seminole HD agent; Mrs. Edna Eby, Volusia HD agent; Miss Joan Stewart, assistant Volusia HD agent, and Larry Leadholt, assistant Volusia county agent.

Democratic Women Vote Same Slate

Democratic Women of Seminole County, seeking to comply with new by-law regulations drawn up by the state organization, setting a new fiscal year from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, voted Wednesday to retain the present slate of officers, with one exception, until the new election day in January.

Mrs. Kathleen Reynolds will continue as president of the local organization for the present, with Mrs. Garner Gier as vice president, and Mrs. Roy Tillis as treasurer. Mrs. Florence Gilmartin was elected to fill a vacancy in the office of secretary.

Mrs. Reynolds announced that the club would reconvene for the summer, except for the meeting of the executive board, and reconvene with a general meeting in September.

Mrs. Annette Baker, of Clearwater, state president, notified the club that the quarterly executive meeting will be held in West Palm Beach, in conjunction with a cruise to the Bahamas in the latter part of July.

Old Folk Rhyme Comes To Rescue

"Red on Yellow, Kills a Umer..." This old Umer's rhyme, stuck in the mind of young Douglas Jura of Osteen, proved once again to be of value when the youngster came across a snake while playing at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Clarence Snyder, last weekend.

Thanks to the jingle, Douglas quickly and correctly identified the 2 1/2 inch snake as the deadly coral and ran to Mrs. Snyder for help.

In his brief absence the snake slithered away but Mrs. Snyder, searching the immediate area for possible hiding places, poked a bamboo pole under an old oil drum and sure enough, discovered the menacing intruder which she quickly killed.

109 Register For Recreation In Casselberry

The summer recreation program in Casselberry got off to a good start and has just completed the second week. Coach Dave Miller reports that 50 boys and girls have registered in the grades 7-12 group and Coach Jim Clark and Mrs. Mary Trawick report that 59 are registered in the grades 1-6 group.

Teams from both groups are playing softball with teams from other playgrounds in the county at Longwood, Sanford, Oviedo and Lake Mary.

The location for swimming, which takes place each Thursday, has been changed from Sanlando Springs to the Land 'O Lakes Country Club pool at Casselberry. Charges remain at 35 cents per pupil.

The youngsters also enjoy skating at Skate City on Monday mornings.

Arts and Crafts are taught to the younger group on Wednesdays and Fridays by Bob Isell, arts and crafts instructor supplied by the county.

There will be a watermelon cutting at the Ball Park playground on Friday and those at the Overbrook Drive playground will enjoy a similar treat next Tuesday.

A different special event is planned for the younger boys and girls every Tuesday for the duration of the program.

Nineteen year old David McCoy of Casselberry, for the second year in a row, Saturday night was named winner of the Club Championship of the Land 'O Lakes Country Club at a dinner sponsored by the Men's Golf Assn. for the presentation of trophies for the Women's Assn. and the Men's Assn. championships.

Trophies for the men were presented by Cecil Asher substituting for Bob Cowles, men's tournament committee chairman.

Vivian Conklin was winner of the Women's championship with Mary Anderson as runner-up. Jean Hilchuk received the consolation trophy with Jane Dalrymple as runner-up. Trophies were presented by Rita Byler, tournament committee chairman for the Women's Assn.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Foursaker of Longwood shared their good luck with each taking a door prize and Mrs. Shirley Hinesley won the red and white carnation centerpiece also given as a door prize.

The clubhouse was gaily decorated with red and white streamers and balloons and each table had a red and white checked tablecloth and red row in a vase.

Bill Cass, chairman of the entertainment committee, acted as master of ceremonies. Serving on the committee to plan the annual affair were Cecil Asher, Connie Hilchuk and Jim Matthis.

Irma Bodel is president of the Women's Assn. and Al Vickers is president of the Men's Assn.

Village Council Changes Meeting Place

A change of location from the North Orlando Co. offices to the Community Building at the Recreation Area has been announced for the July meeting of the Village Council.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday with Mayor W. W. Anderson presiding.

Scheduled on the agenda are the adoption of an ordinance pertaining to the new state cigarette tax; reports on the SR 431 speed survey; discussion on preparation of an ordinance to regulate speeds, designate through and stop streets and for the posting of stop signs for municipal traffic control and approval for local participation in the national program for celebration of July 4.

Reports will be heard on the fire and police departments from Fire Chief Bill Hahn, Police Chief Andrew Ferrin and Councilman Bob Stephenson and on the village recreation program from Councilman Art Rhodes. Reports also will be heard on budget, franchise and legal matters from Councilman Irene Van Espoel and from Mrs. Mollie Salters, treasurer.

Anderson urges that citizens attend the meetings and reminds that seating arrangements will be better now that the location has been changed.

Casselberry Family Attends Graduation At West Point

By Jane Casselberry
Mr. and Mrs. Ben Evans of Sunset Dr. in Casselberry returned home last Thursday after an exciting visit to West Point, N. Y. where they stayed with their son-in-law and daughter, Lt. Col. and Mrs. W. G. Schuder.

Col. Schuder is senior engineering representative in the office of the military instruction branch of the tactical department at West Point.

The Evans enjoyed many of the June Week activities including parties and colorful military parades which were eliminated by the Graduation Ceremonies on June 5.

This year's Graduating Class included Thomas Malle Brendle of Altamonte Springs and Colin Kelley III, son of the famous World War II hero, Gen. Maxwell Taylor gave the Commencement Address.

While the Evans were here Col. Schuder spent a week in Germany setting up a class trip for cadets who will be next year's first classmen. They will spend one month in Germany this summer on tactical maneuvers.

The Evans left Casselberry on May 28, spending two nights in Philadelphia visiting friends on the way to West Point where they stayed until June 17.

Mrs. Schuder and daughter, Gwen and Mary Ann, returned home with them for a three week visit.

Their other daughter, Mrs. Paul Hult of Tucson, Ariz., and her children, David and Laurie, arrived on June 20 for a three week visit.

Celebration Schedules Announced

By Mona Grinstead
Time schedules and a program of events for North Orlando's third annual July 4th celebration were announced today by officials of the North Orlando Civic Assn., the sponsoring organization.

Impressive flag raising ceremonies to open the celebration will be conducted at 1 p.m. by the South Seminole CAP Squadron under the direction of Commander Jack O'Donnell and Bruce Dean, Captain of Cadets.

Immediately following there will begin a softball game between men of the village and the boys. At 1:30 p.m. a Pet Costume Parade will be held on the south end of the tennis court in the Village Recreation Area. Entries must be registered with Mrs. Sydney Bass and will be accepted on the patio of the Community Building.

Contests scheduled for the children between 3 and 4 p.m. will include melon eating, tug-o-war, sack race, potato race, and apple bob. Serving on committees for this part of the program are Mr. and Mrs. Malvin Campbell, George Sommers, Leonard Stewart, Mrs. Chuck Rowell, Mrs. Sydney Bass, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nall and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Kreeck.

Contests to name Little Mr., Little Miss, Junior Miss and Miss North Orlando will be held at 4 p.m. under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Pat DeVillaggio.

Chicken barbecue dinners, prepared under supervision of Bill Ryan, will be available anytime between 5 and 8 p.m. and an auction, with Chuck Rowell in charge, will be held at 8 p.m. Both the dinner and auction are being sponsored by the Civic Assn.

Highlighting activities for the evening will be a Square Dance exhibition with audience participation by the Starlight Promoters, popular Square Dance Club of Sanford.

A big fireworks show at 9 p.m. will climax the program of planned entertainment, however all sales and games booths will be open for the remainder of the evening.

At any time during the afternoon those who wish may enjoy dancing, badminton, volleyball and horseshoes on the basketball courts and door prizes will be awarded throughout the afternoon and evening at least every hour on the hour.

During the week between the fourth, a Scavenger Hunt is planned for North Orlando youngsters. Lists of articles to be found will be delivered this Friday to every residence and at 4 p.m. on the afternoon of the celebration, collections will be checked by Mrs. Kreeck and prizes awarded.

General chairmen for the entire program are Mrs. Kreeck, activities; Arthur Rhodes refreshments and Bill Hahn and Roy Burke, construction.

All proceeds from the day's events will be turned over to the Civic Assn. for use and support of its numerous community projects.

Street Paving In Goldsboro Area Okayed

Agreement for the paving of streets adjacent to Goldsboro School was reached Thursday afternoon at a conference between members of the School Board and City Commission.

School Board requested the paving of 16th Street for about two blocks at the front of the school and of Mangosline Avenue between 13th and 16th Streets.

City Commissioners indicated they will grant the request, at its next regular session, accomplishing the work with city employees and materials.

School Board also began consideration of its budget for the 1963-64 school year and will accept or change it at the July 11 meeting, according to Supt. R. T. Milwee.

The new budget will not exceed this year's budget of $5,456,731, Milwee stated, because of a lesser amount of new construction planned.

Contract for placement of a new roof on the South Seminole Elementary School building was granted E. C. Goldman, Inc., of Winter Park, on its low bid of $8,458.

Purchase was completed for two houses and lots adjacent to Oviedo High School to be used as temporary classrooms.

Castro Begins 'Final Sweep' Against Rebels

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro declared Thursday night that his army is launching a "final sweep" against rebels in Cuba who he said have been "abandoned" by the United States.

"They who believed that imperialism, the United States, would arrive to impose its rule have been abandoned to their fate..." Castro said in a four-and-a-half-minute speech broadcast by radio Havana.

"The enemy has been reduced by 50 per cent..." The imperialist attempt... to infiltrate counter-revolutionaries and arms and to assassinate teachers, peasants and workers is approaching its last days...

"Not a single hand, not a single hand will remain." He did not mention last week's report of recent landings in Cuba by refugee "commandos" from Central America bringing in arms for anti-Castro guerrillas.

Castro dwelt for the most part on Cuba's sugar production problems. He said big sugar harvests are more important than ever now that Cuba's economy is tied to the communist world.

He called for a "big push" in 1964 to exceed this year's lagging crop, which he said was the poorest since he came to power in 1959.

Kennedy Hails Irish Independent Policy

DUBLIN (UPI)—President Kennedy, fresh from a tumultuous welcome in Cork where he was pushed down by a cheering, over-enthusiastic crowd, said today that Ireland "wisely rejects the role of go-between" in the cold war of communism and the free West.

The President, in the first address by a foreign dignitary to a joint session of both houses of the Irish Parliament, said that "Ireland pursues an independent course in its foreign policy—but it is not neutral between liberty and tyranny, and I know it never will be."

Kennedy, after paying tribute to Ireland's struggle for its own independence, said that at this time in the world "the central issue of freedom, however, is between those who believe in self-determination and those in the east who would impose on others a harsh and repressive Communist system. And here your nation wisely rejects the role of go-between."

The President addressed Parliament just a few hours after a quick helicopter trip to the fabled city of Cork, where he was made a freeman and mobbed by enthusiastic crowds.

As he was getting into his car to fly back to Dublin the crowd closed in on him.

Under pressure of a sudden surge of humanity, the President tumbled backward in the vehicle, landing in the back seat.

The measure, introduced in the last days of the 1963 session, was designed to take some of the sting out of a U. S. Supreme Court ruling outlawing mandatory Bible reading in the schools.

The measure would leave the state's requirement for Bible reading in force, but would add to it authority on a local option basis for school boards to install a secular program of education including but not limited to an objective study of the Bible and religion.

In other action, Bryant signed into law a bill creating a new board of highway secondary trust funds.

Red Bloc Leaders In Berlin With Nikita

BERLIN (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev flew to Berlin today in an attempt to match the personal success of President Kennedy's visit to the divided city. He complained that Kennedy's trip was "directed against the interests of the German people."

The Soviet leader came to attend celebrations Sunday of the 70th birthday of East German Communist boss Walter Ulbricht and perhaps to hold a Red bloc summit meeting.

In a welcoming speech, Ulbricht charged that Kennedy's visit to West Berlin was "directed against the interests of the German people."

With him Khrushchev brought his wife Nina. But Russia's communist twins—Lt. Col. Valery F. Bykovsky and Valentina V. Tereshkova—were not along. Earlier, it had been rumored that Khrushchev would bring them with him as part of the propaganda buildup to lure large East Berlin crowds.

Polish Communist party chief Wladyslaw Gomulka and Czech party leader Antonin Novotny have announced that they, too, will be going to Berlin.

Usually reliable sources in Moscow said that Romanian Communist leader Gheorghe Gheorghiu-Dej had left Bucharest for an undisclosed destination, believed to be Berlin.

The convergence of these satellite Communist party chiefs in Berlin led to the speculation of a possible Red bloc summit while Kennedy is here.

Canal Authority Records Cited

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—A state audit said today improvement was needed in the Florida Canal Authority's records of payment for entertainment expenses to members and employees.

The audit, for the past fiscal year, said changes needed to be made in the claim forms submitted to the authority.

"The close connection between the expenditures and the public purpose desired to be accomplished should be indicated on the form," the auditor said.

He said claims for entertainment expense repayments should not be mixed with travel reimbursements.

The Canal Authority was created in 1933 and empowered to own and operate a canal across the state of Florida. In recent days the proposed canal has come closer to reality. President Kennedy has asked Congress to appropriate $1 million to start construction on the east end of the canal across the north central portion of the state.

The auditor issued a generally good report for the cross Florida Canal Navigation District, which was created to buy right-of-way in Citrus, Clay, Duval, Levy, Marion and Putnam Counties for the canal.

Traffic Deaths

CHICAGO (UPI)—Traffic accidents took a record 5,190 lives during the last five months of this year—more than 100 each day.

May was the 17th in the last 19 months to show an increase in traffic deaths, the National Safety Council said today.

Bills Signed By Governor

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Farris Bryant signed a batch of tax bills into law today, virtually cleaning up the loose ends of the 1963 extended legislative session to raise new taxes.

Bryant placed his signature on bills increasing the state tax on whisky and other alcoholic beverages, broadening the three per cent sales tax to nearly all commodities except food and medicines, increasing motor vehicle license tag fees from $2.50 to $10 depending on vehicle weight, and placing a five per cent tax on sports equipment at the wholesale level.

Another measure signed by Bryant would set up a 75-75 plan for state-county support of the public schools. Under the proposal, which sparked hours of debate during the 1963 session, the state would pay 75 per cent of school costs and the counties would put up the remaining 25 per cent.

Meanwhile, State Revenue Commission Director J. Ed Straughn outlined tax changes made by the Legislature, which will go into effect July 1.

The changes, including an increased and broadened sales and use tax, were put into effect to raise an additional $184.3 million over the biennium to meet a record $997 million in spending.

Some of the main sources outlined by Straughn are:

A sales tax on admissions to include watching all types of amusements, sports or recreation, show, game or exhibition, including golfing green fees and dues paid to private clubs. This will not go into effect on high school, junior college or university events until Dec. 26, 1963.

A sales tax on admissions on racing events at horse and dog tracks and to jal al fronts.

A two per cent tax on sale of motor vehicles and three per cent on rental of motor vehicles.

A two per cent tax on self-propelled or power-driven farm equipment, with a three per cent tax on other machinery, equipment or tools.

A hike from 1,000 to 3,000 on the taxable limitation on industrial machines, equipment, parts and accessories on each single transaction.

A three per cent sales tax placed on gasoline and other fuels sold in the state for use by airplanes and railroads.

A sales tax on books used in junior colleges and universities.

A five per cent tax on sports equipment at the wholesale level. These funds are earmarked for use in the governor's giant land acquisition program for public recreation.

The old sections of the law dealing with taxes on apartments, hotels and like rental was changed to include duplex apartments, and the period of the tax coverage was extended from six months to one year.

McCloud Youth Gets 5-Years

Clinton R. McCloud, 17-year-old Miami youth charged with automobile theft, was sentenced today to from six months to five years in the Florida State Prison by Circuit Judge Vassar Carlton.

McCloud previously had served a two-year term as an "incorrigible" at Marianna Boys School. Judge Carlton informed the youth he would recommend to Harford that McCloud be transferred to Appalachian Institute at Chattahoochee.

Sufficient Evidence

Perhaps there has never been a pastor who has not had someone ask him if God really exists. It may not be put in just that language but the meaning is there.

Every Christian should seek to have an answer for such a question as to whether God exists. The answer should be one that can be given with great certitude as well as simplicity. It is true that the answer has to be made depending on the person asking, but one is guided in this matter.

It may be that one can best start by presenting some of the rationalistic propositions that philosophers have given for God's existence. There are many of them and one's pastor will be glad to help if there is a need for further understanding.

The Psalmist saw a proof of God in nature as he said, "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth His handywork, Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge." (Psalm 19:1, 2).

The philosopher would say that the more we think of the heavens, stars, outer space, and other matters of God's creation that we become convinced of the fact that there must be an Adequate Cause. As the intelligence, order, and purpose of creation is seen, this Adequate Cause can be described only as God. The philosopher is also quick to note that there is a sense of worship in the human heart that can be explained by his being in a peculiar relationship to God. Wherever one may go, even to the most remote places on earth, man is found to be worshipping in some way. The instinct of worship is there.

The rationalistic propositions can be used to point to the God who revealed Himself in a very definite and real way in Jesus Christ. What a marvelous and breath taking thing it is to realize that God of all of the universe was willing to enter history in the Person of Jesus Christ and reveal Himself so perfectly.

Man is hard to convince as the centuries have proven. For God to come in Christ and live with twelve men for three years was not enough to give them sufficient evidence of His Being. When he was hung to a cross that He might become the Sufficient Sacrifice for all who would accept, He was misunderstood. The misunderstanding came as the result of ignorance of man, not the inadequacy of God. Nevertheless, God was patient. The third day He arose from the tomb and not until then did the disbelieving disciples believe "all the way." Thomas was the typical doubter, but when he saw the Resurrected Christ he said, "My Lord and my God."

The fact of God's existence is so clearly seen in the Resurrection. If you believe the fact of the Resurrection all other Christian doctrines will fall into place for you. If you doubt the Resurrection look carefully at the effect it had on the apostles. Here were men, who before the Resurrection were afraid of their shadows, but afterwards they were willing to be human torches to light the gardens of Nero and face the hungry lions of the Roman arenas. They were now fully convinced! Men do not live and die like that for a lie!

If you doubt further, look at the witnesses to the Resurrection. Read 1 Corinthians 15: 4-8 to thrill to the witness of the Resurrected Christ. This Scripture records the eye witnesses who were the Apostles. Think of such men as Paul, Peter, James, John, and others giving witness to their seeing the Resurrected Lord. It is told that five hundred brethren saw Him at one time. When we turn to the Gospels we find other witnesses. All and all the testimony is very sufficient.

Yes, my friends, we do have sufficient evidence of God. We do not have reason to fall in our faith, love, and obedience to the God of all.

Longwood VBS Schedules Commencement

Commencement ceremonies will be held at the First Baptist Church of Longwood at 7:30 p.m. today for 285 youngsters who have attended Vacation Bible School at the church during the past two weeks.

The school has had an average daily attendance of 225 pupils.

During tonight's program each department will give a brief report on the work accomplished and a movie will be shown of one of the days in Bible School.

Following the program parents will be given the opportunity of seeing their youngsters' handiwork which will be on display in each department room.

Sanford WSCS To Meet Tuesday

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church of Sanford will hold its monthly business and program meeting in McKinley Hall of the church at 8:45 a.m. next Tuesday.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith, president of the Sanford Council of United Church Women, who will tell of the work and activities of the U.C.W. Methodist churches of the area, along with most Protestant churches are participating members.

The devotional will be in charge of Mrs. John T. Adams, secretary of the local group.

Preceding the program the executive board will meet at 9 a.m. in the Men's Bible Class Room.

Circle Y Elects New Officers

Elta Emanuel was elected president of the Circle Y of the Barnett Memorial Methodist Church of Enterprise at the last meeting of the group.

Other officers named were Sandy McBride, vice president; Linda Long, secretary; Patsy Long, treasurer, and Susan Ryan, program chairman.

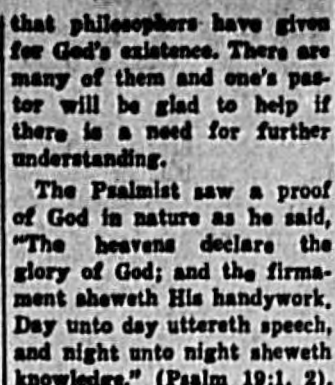

Members of the group, who have completed two projects, still are planning ways to defray expenses for delegates who will attend the MYF camp this summer.

Rev. Huff Has Ear Surgery

Rev. Ray W. Huff, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Geneva, has been absent from the pulpit for a number of weeks while undergoing surgical and post operative treatment for mastoiditis.

During his absence Rev. W. E. Timms of Sanford will continue to serve the church as supply minister.

The Huff's daughter, Mrs. Rachel Lattimore, a registered nurse from Los Angeles, Calif., has been assisting with music for the services by serving as soloist with the choir.

REV. C. N. OGG, new minister of DeBary Community Methodist Church, and his wife, Sarah, now are residing at the parsonage on Hibiscus Drive. They came to DeBary from Holly Hill and have with them their daughter, Paula, who will attend Daytona Beach Junior College next fall. (Cox Photo)

New Baptist Outdoor Chapel Has Many Unique Features

The first service in the Chapel By The Lake of the First Baptist Church, West Palm Beach, was held last Sunday evening with some 2,500 persons in attendance.

The Chapel, which overlooks the Intracoastal Waterway in the heart of downtown West Palm Beach, is the first of its type in America and has many features that set it apart from any other worship area.

There are no steps in the outdoor chapel and all aisles are six feet wide with 40 inches between each row of seats. Its Baptistry is reputed to be the world's largest and was designed with a dual purpose since, when not in use, it may be drained and used as a large orchestra pit for religious productions.

Rising out of the Baptistry is a New England Preaching Pulpit. Beautifully landscaped floral gardens and hedges surrounding the building are complemented by the Fountain of Living Waters and the Esplanade of States with reflection pool.

The 100-chair choir space can be enlarged to accommodate 200 members. Other features of the Chapel include a Pastor's Walk, mooring area for boats, the Prow Fountain, continuous music for daily meditation and ample parking facilities.

Offerings donated by the children during the Bible School will go to the support of two orphans for one year at a Methodist School at Hyderabad, India. A sum of $35 will care for a child for a period of one year.

Parents and friends are especially invited to attend the program to hear the Bible verses and songs learned in the school and to view the handiwork which will be on display in Weaver Hall.

The offering received Sunday night will be used to help defray costs of the Bible School.

Reception To Greet Artist

A reception will be held from 2 until 4:30 p.m. Sunday at the DeBary Mansion House in honor of Sarasota Artist Loran Wilford who will be summer art school instructor at the Mansion through July 12.

A one man show exhibiting paintings by the artist will be held in the Mansion Galleries during his stay there. In the American Water Color Society, Salmagundi Club, Who's Who in American Art, Florida Artists Group and the Florida Federation of Art.

He has taught in the Ringling School of Art and has received many honors during the past 20 years.

Christ Church Sets Change In Schedule

During the summer only the 8:30 a.m. service will be held on Sundays at Christ Church Episcopal in Longwood. Conducting this service will be Fr. Anastasi, canon of the Cathedral of St. Luke, Orlando.

The Economy Corner, sponsored by the Churchwomen of Christ Church, will be open on Mondays and Saturdays of each week from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m.

DeBary Woman To Attend Methodist Meet

Miss Mary Hubbard of DeBary, Florida Methodist rural community worker, will attend the Methodist Town and Country Conference to be held July 9-12 in Minneapolis, Minn.

Called by the Church's Council of Bishops to "explore the mission of the church in town and country life in view of changing cultural and population patterns," the meeting is due to be attended by more than 1,200 men and women.

Mass Marks Anniversary

The Catholic Women's Club of the Church of Nativity attended a Mass celebrated by Fr. William Trainor at 9 a.m. Monday in honor of the 10th anniversary of his ordination.

Following the Mass coffee and rolls were served in the social hall of the church. A Spiritual Bouquet from the parishioners was presented to Fr. Trainor at this time.

WCF Circle Holds Meeting In Chuluota

By Jean Hagin

The June meeting of the Priscilla Circle of the Chuluota Community Church Women's Christian Fellowship was held at the home of Mrs. Hilda Shupe.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Ann Artherton. Twelve members and two visitors, Mrs. Agnes Anderson and Mrs. Mary Abbott, were present.

New officers for the coming year were installed in ceremonies conducted by Mrs. K. Lawrence after which Mrs. M. Wright, new president, took over the gavel. In her acceptance speech, Mrs. Lawrence expressed the circle's appreciation to Mrs. Artherton for her work as president of the group during the past year.

The meeting was closed by Mrs. M. Moon with an appropriate reading entitled "Priscilla."

Meetings of the circle, which will be suspended during the months of July and August, will continue in September with the first scheduled for Sept. 10. Location will be announced.

Bible School Sets Program In Casselberry

By Jane Casselberry

A closing program will be held at 7:30 p.m. this Sunday at the Casselberry Community Methodist Church for the Vacation Bible School which has been conducted for the past two weeks.

Mrs. John Berkeimer, director of the school, has announced that the average daily attendance was 125 pupils with a total enrollment of more than 150 children, 30 teachers and helpers.

Offerings donated by the children during the Bible School will go to the support of two orphans for one year at a Methodist School at Hyderabad, India. A sum of $35 will care for a child for a period of one year.

Parents and friends are especially invited to attend the program to hear the Bible verses and songs learned in the school and to view the handiwork which will be on display in Weaver Hall.

The offering received Sunday night will be used to help defray costs of the Bible School.

Exercises Held To Close Ascension VBS

By Jane Casselberry

Closing exercises held last Friday night at the Ascension Lutheran Church of Casselberry to mark the close of the Daily Vacation Bible School were attended by 135 parents and friends.

Rev. C. R. Zehnder, pastor, pronounced the school, the first attempt for the church, a big success. Total enrollment was 78 children and 14 faculty members.

Mrs. Zehnder, who served as registrar, reported 41 children with a perfect attendance.

Refreshments were served following Friday night's program and art work done by the children was on display.

Church Sets Family Supper

By Jane Casselberry

The Casselberry Community Methodist Church will hold the monthly Family Night Supper next Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. in Weaver Hall.

Those attending are asked to bring their own table service and a covered dish. Bible Study and Prayer Service will follow the supper with Rev. Delmas Copeland leading the study on the Book of Numbers.

C. P. Bennett To Be Installed Saturday

Sanford Fireman C. P. Bennett will be installed as president of the Florida State Firemen's Association Saturday when the annual installation and banquet is held at Mollie Ray School in Pine Hills with State Senator Mack Cleveland Jr. as installing officer.

Other officers to be installed are R. L. Seiner, of Eau Gallie, first vice president; Art Drumright, of Sarasota, second vice president; E. J. Langley, of Chattahoochee, secretary-treasurer and Chris Anderson, Miami and Dick Evans, Halifax, directors. Grover C. Long, of Melbourne, will become the immediate past president.

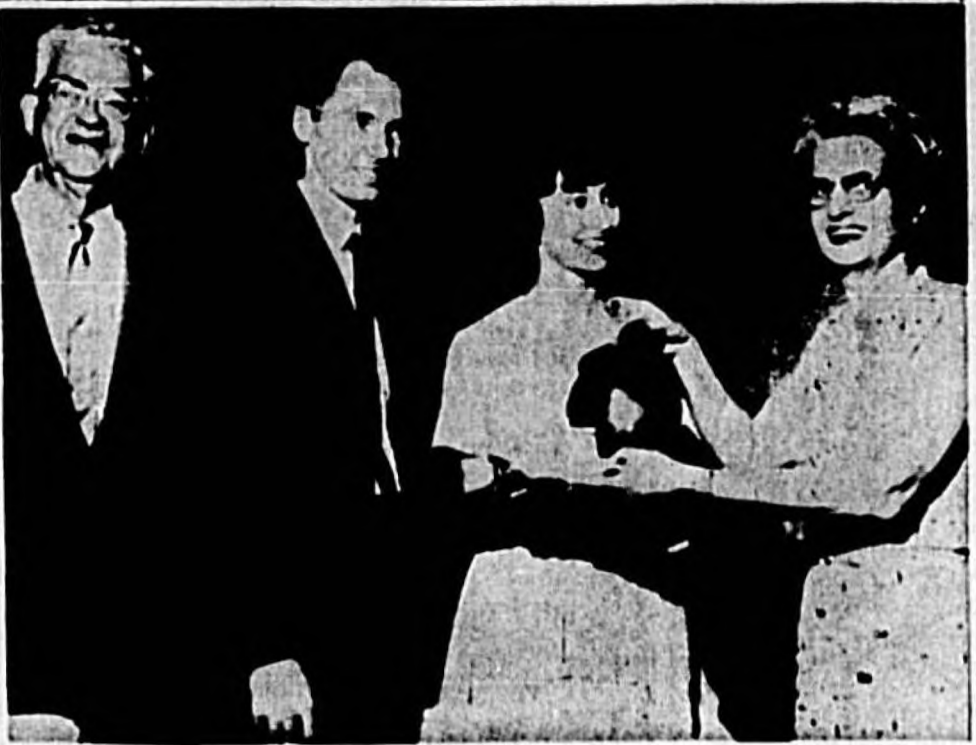

The installation is being held in conjunction with the annual two-day convention of district six which is comprised of Lake, Orange, Seminole and Volusia Counties.

The annual board of directors meeting will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday at the Pine Hills fire station. Registration for the general attendance will open at noon with business meetings for the men and women scheduled at 4 p. m.

Following the 6:30 p. m. banquet and installation, a program of entertainment will be presented beginning at 8:30 p. m.

The district vice president's conference will be held at 9 a. m. on Sunday.

Headquarters for the convention will be the Jamaica Inn Motel on Hwy. 50 west of Orlando. Reservations should be made with Pine Hills Fire Chief Bill Graves

Lt. Cdr. Clyde G. Hunt Relieved At NAS; Retires After 21 Years

One of Sanford Naval Air Station's most far-reaching commands was changed today as Lt. Cdr. Clyde G. Hunt was relieved as officer-in-charge of the Naval Air Maintenance Training Group (NAMTG) detachment.

Hunt, a 21-year veteran of the Navy, is retiring to civilian life. He was relieved by Lt. Cdr. Paul S. Polgar, who brings to Sanford nearly two years' experience in West Coast heavy attack aviation.

The local NAMTG facility is responsible for training all maintenance personnel who work with the A-5 Vigilante weapons system. Their curriculum also includes a basic maintenance familiarization course for pilots and air crewmen.

The NAMTG building at Sanford contains cutaways of each system in the Vigilante. Instead of working on the actual aircraft, students perform maintenance on their specialized section of the aircraft— isolated from the rest of the A-5 components.

Hunt has been stationed in Sanford for the past two years. As officer-in-charge of the Sanford facility he represents NAMTG headquarters in Memphis, Tenn.

Polgar recently completed a tour with Heavy Attack Squadron 10 (VAH-10) at NAS Whidbey Island, Wash., heavy attack headquarters for the Pacific Fleet.

Both Hunt and Polgar are veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict. Hunt is holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with two stars.

$108 Million State Welfare Budget Okayed

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — The State Welfare Board approved a $108,000,000 budget today for the 1963-64 fiscal year, of which $2.5 million will be used for medical assistance for the aged.

The medical assistance program (or MAA) is limited to citizens 65 years and over who have an income of not more than $1,200 a year or $2,400 for a married couple.

Each person may receive up to 30 days free hospital care per year for acute illness or injury, or may receive after hospital care for any reason, nursing visits for the first 30 days after being discharged.

Another restriction on participation in the MAA program is that persons must live in Florida, may own a homestead but may not own other personal property valued at more than $1,000 each—with the exception of $750,000 cash value life insurance.

Other major items included in the budget include $43.168 million for old age assistance; $23.329 million for aid to families with dependent children; $11.411 million for aid to the permanently and totally disabled, and $1.8 million aid to the blind.

In all, the welfare department expects to spend $29,055 for assistance during the coming year.

The remainder of the budget will be for other services and administration.

Young Mothers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American women tend to have had their last child by the time they are 28, the Population Reference Bureau reports.

By 34, with her youngest in school, the mother's full-time child-rearing chores are behind her. "After her intense activity with a lively brood of youngsters, she is likely to be bored and want something to do during most of the 40 remaining years of life she can expect," the Bureau noted.

Citrus Income At 41 Per Cent

LAKELAND (UPI) — Figures released by the Florida Department of Agriculture credited citrus Thursday as providing 41 per cent of the farm product income in Florida during 1961.

Homer E. Hooks, general manager of the Florida Citrus Commission, said the figures show the position of citrus as the state's leading agricultural crop.

He said income from citrus has risen while the trend for other farm products has been downward.

"Cash receipts for citrus in 1960 amounted to $272,616,000, compared with $352,010,000 in 1961—virtually a six per cent increase," he said.

Hooks cautioned, however, that citrus income may drop during the next several seasons as a result of the severe freeze last December.

Landmark Gone

For 88 years the New York Philharmonic Symphony has been broadcasting fine music nationwide. Its weekly radio airings have been great landmarks. But there will not be a 89th year.

With obvious reluctance, the Columbia Broadcasting System announces the end of this much-cherished effort. The trouble, says the network, is that the programs no longer are cherished enough.

For much of the Philharmonic's history on the air, the nation heard live broadcasts on Sunday afternoons. Millions got their first taste of serious music and learned to love it.

Then change came. Participating local stations began dropping out. Audiences diminished. Low-priced long-playing records helped them build musical collections and do their own programming.

The network shifted the broadcasts to Saturday evening. Many stations taped them and offered them at differing times. Suddenly there seemed no public interest left.

It is sad that this great enterprise must end. But let CBS and the Philharmonic have the nation's highest praise for this superb contribution stretching across a third of a century.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Any idea that American race relations can be solved now — immediately — is considered an impossibility. President Kennedy's speech to the Congress of Mayors in Honolulu, telling them it was primarily their job, won't do it. The President's 15-minute cocktail-hour chat to the nation won't do it. The President's message to Congress and whatever legislation may be passed as a result won't do it, by itself.

Although the United States has had this problem for over a century, it may still take several generations of painful, patient work before racial intolerance — the root of the trouble — can be eradicated.

What is therefore considered a principal need is for someone to come up with a long-range plan.

It might set forth what should and can be done now, what should and can be done at the end of 5, 10, 20 years, or longer.

For it is recognized that — overnight — 20 million people can't be educated and trained for better jobs so that they can pay for better housing and enjoy a higher standard of living. This will take one generation at least. Overcoming age-old prejudices, intolerance, racial, religious and cultural tensions will take a couple of generations more. For this is a major problem in human relations education for everyone.

There aren't many experts in this field. One who qualifies as an authority is Dr. Alfred J. Marrow, 1958-59 Chairman of New York's Commission on Intergroup Relations, COIR. He has just been given the 1959 Brotherhood Award of the National Conference of Christians and Jews at the American Bookellers convention in Washington for his big, new book, "Changing Patterns in Prejudice." Changing prejudices, he says, is a long-time job.

How to go about it? Marrow thinks there are some things that can be done by law now. When former President Truman ordered complete integration of the United States armed services, that was done overnight because it could be enforced by military courts martial. Ending segregation on Pullman cars in railroad, bus and air terminals could be done in a relatively short time under the Constitution's interstate commerce clause.

Similarly Americans of any race or color might, by law, be given the right to attend any public institution, be given equal service in places of public accommodation, be assured the right of access to decent housing, and guaranteed the right to vote in federal elections.

Negro citizens might not use all these rights if they were granted them by better laws, Marrow believes. That has been the experience in New York and other cities that have taken the lead in trying to break down racial barriers.

The mere fact people know they have these rights and can exercise them makes them better citizens, Marrow has found. People still prefer to live among their own kind, if they can live there in self-respect.

Marrow suggests creation of a Federal Bureau of Intergroup Relations — not to try to impose integration, but to conduct research on its problems and to provide a place where local communities can go for help if they need it.

He puts more reliance on community action by local leaders as the most satisfactory method for handling inter-racial and inter-religious tensions.

"If a number of neighbors can pool their energies and talents," he has found, "their influence is most salutary. Neighborhoods can set up block committees that can assemble information no official inquiry could ever gather."

"Such self-directed social action is apt to lead formerly separate groups into meaningful contact with one another from the start. The more diverse the people who are drawn in — 'discenters' and 'special interest groups' particularly — the sooner old, rigid modes of thinking will be replaced with fresh ideas. The participants will be discovering their world as it is, instead of as they imagined it to be."

Q's and A's

Q—What Christian meaning is attached to the custom of Easter egg rolling?

A—The rolling of the eggs down a slope supposedly symbolized the rolling away of the stone from the Savior's tomb.

Phil Newsom Says . . .

Yemen Thorny Problem

When, last December, the United States recognized the revolutionary regime of Yemen, it did so with both short and long-range objectives.

Immediately, it hoped to give Yemen's President Abdullah-Al-Sallal the prestige needed for him to remain in power, and to give both Egypt and Saudi Arabia a reason to cease their outside aid to the opposing sides in Yemen's civil war.

When this failed to have the desired results, the United States took two more steps. It prodded the United Nations into entering the dispute in the role of mediator. And it sent one of its most successful negotiators, Ellsworth Bunker, to the Middle East for on-the-ground talks with President Abdel Gamal Nasser and with Prince Faisal, premier of Saudi Arabia.

Out of this came Egyptian agreement to withdraw its troops from Yemen and Saudi Arabia and Jordan agreement to cease their aid to Yemen's deposed imam.

It also led to a U.N. decision to send a peace-keeping team under Swedish General

Von Horn to Yemen to make sure the agreements were carried out.

In the long-range, the United States also sought to cut off what rapidly was becoming an all-out test of strength between Egypt and Saudi Arabia.

Direct conflict between these two held out almost limitless possibilities, and in direct notice of its own interest in the conflict, the U. S. warned Egypt that any attack on Saudi Arabia would set it on collision course with the United States.

Since there is reason to believe that the Egyptians not only were flying Russian planes in Yemen but that some of them were flown by Russian pilots, there then came the possibility of another U. S. confrontation with the Soviet Union.

The situation roughly stands today.

The trouble with the overall strategy seems to be that it reckoned without the determination of the deposed young imam now fighting to regain his throne.

Nasser is believed anxious to get out of Yemen where costs are running around a reported $1 million per day and Egyptian troops have suffered heavy casualties. But he dare not pull out until he believes Sallal's position is secure.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

"Dr. Crane," he said as he drove me to the airport following my address before his medical convention in Cleveland, "a keen memory for names and faces is a priceless asset of every professional man."

"So when you get home, why not write a column on the basic psychological laws for improving one's memory?"

Forty years ago a memory expert named Roth used to run advertisements in the leading magazines with this heading:

"Why Have a Memory Like a Leaky Pail?"

And the illustration in that ad showed a farmer trying to carry a bucket of water from the outdoor well into his kitchen.

But the water was meanwhile spouting from maybe 100 nail holes punched in the sides of the pail.

Actually, the power to retain an impression that has once been clearly etched in your nervous system remains about the same all throughout your life!

So you actually don't improve your basic RETENTION but simply the strategy or technique used in etching ideas more clearly at the outset.

Rhythm thus aids memory, so try to harness ideas into a limerick or rhyming bit of verse, as in "30 days hath September, April, June and November, etc."

Or use similar rhymes, as "I before E except after C, etc." Overlearning also improves memory. For example, if 10 repetitions of a poem will then let you recite it perfectly, you can make it stay in mind much longer if you "overlearn."

And by "overlearning" we mean reciting it several times beyond your first perfect rendition.

Furthermore, the more sense organs that are involved in learning, the easier it is to remember.

"Glad to meet you," is the usual person's reply to an introduction.

But he thus fails to use the new name at once, so it is much better to say, "Glad to meet you, Mr. Wright."

For thus you make your throat muscles function in uttering the new name. This adds what we call a kinesthetic (muscle and tendon) sensation to your auditory (ear) sensation.

Go further and visualize the name "Wright" so your eyes are involved.

And write it down, so your hand muscles will also come into play.

Then make other associations as with the Wright Brothers, or secretly compose a secret rhyme like "Wright looks a fright."

The Gestalt theory involves linking Mr. Wright with the "spatters" of things or people surrounding you at the moment of your first introduction.

For further rules, send for my booklet "How to Improve Memory and Study More Efficiently," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

If you are going to college next fall, be sure to take it with you!

Fume Fatigue

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — If you find yourself getting drowsy while driving in slow, heavy traffic, you're probably afflicted with more than just boredom.

You are probably getting an overdose of exhaust fumes, according to the National Automobile Club. Tests have shown that a driver following another car closely in heavy traffic can inhale enough carbon monoxide from the car ahead to become distinctly drowsy, the club said.

Master simple techniques before attempting tricks. Most of them are not dangerous if properly performed—and they are thrilling to watch and do.

There are a few things definitely not recommended except for the most skilled. For instance, it is fairly easy to put the low bar around the neck and ski "no hands." This trick is frequently done by only fair-to-middling skiers. They probably don't realize their necks could be seriously injured should the tremendous towing power get out of control.

The standard grip for trick shots finds the hands grasping the handle from different sides. If you hold the bar perpendicularly, you will find you grasp it that way naturally. Since the bar is held perpendicularly in many tricks, the advantage of this grasp can be seen.

It gives better control in any form of skiing.

An English commercial firm made the first sale of Christmas cards in 1862.

HANDS grasping from different sides is recommended.

Two Days Of Drag Races Set

Cash prizes of $1,200 will be awarded to contestants in the drag races Saturday and Sunday nights at the Osceola Drag Strip, according to an announcement by the Seminole Timing Assn., which will sponsor the contests under NHRA rules and regulations.

In the Big Stock Eliminator the prize money has been spread out so that second and third places will get $200 and $100. First place money has been cut from $500 to $300.

The gates open Saturday at 6 p.m. Classification will be held from 6:30 to 9 p.m. and eliminations will begin at 10 p.m.

Sunday the gates open at 10 a.m., with classification from 11 to 2:30 p.m. and eliminations at 3 p.m.

Admission is $1.50.

Bear Lake To Meet Casselberry

The Bear Lake Pirates will play Casselberry's Little League Team at 4 p.m. Saturday at Bear Lake.

Immediately following the game, John Brewer, manager of Bear Lake's senior team, will entertain the players at a wiener roast at the field.

Teammates of the Pirates seniors recently named Steve Winfield, Ronnie Keith and Bobby Smith to represent them at the All-Star game to be played later this season.

Sunland 'Backs Into' Title

Unknown Shares Lead With Bo, Gary In Open

CLEVELAND—An unknown and two veterans slashed five strokes off par Thursday, scoring 66 to lead the field of 150 golfers in the $10,000 Cleveland Open Tournament.

Leading the field across the 6,618-yard, par 71 course of the Beachmont Country Club were the South African, Gary Player; the big game hunter, Bo Wininger of Oklahoma City, and a 30-year-old Nevada from Henderson, Bill Eggers.

With good weather in contrast to the windy problems of the National Open almost one third of the starters were able to break par in opening play.

Arnold Palmer, the favorite, lost four strokes on three consecutive holes on the back nine and needed a birdie on the 18th hole to reach par. In a big bracket at 69 was Julius Boros, winner of the National Open.

In the middle of the fight was Jack Nicklaus with a 68. One stroke off pace were Lionel Hebert, former PGA champ; Moon Mullens of the Los Angeles, Calif., ex-Marine golfer, and the ex-caddy, 26-year-old Dave Hill.

Player with seven birdies and two bogies, bridled five of the first seven holes and declared he could have had a 62, but for three puts on the ninth hole. This, he said, hurt his confidence.

(Ed Note: The following article on the selection of Sunland as Seminole Little League champion was written for The Herald by Art Day to explain the confusion in naming the "champs.")

Sunland "backed in" to the Seminole Little League baseball championship despite the fact that its won-and-lost record, 18-5, was second to Lake Mary's 17-4.

Usually championships in sports are won and lost on the playing fields but this one was decided in a jam-packed room in Casselberry at a meeting called by league president Bill Livingston. Present were the eight managers, a large crowd of supporters of the teams involved, and Lamar Cottrell, Little League district supervisor.

The necessity for having such a meeting was caused by the fact that there was no clear cut winner at the end of the regular season. It was agreed before the season started to play three rounds of seven games each, with the winners playing it off for the championship.

Sunland won the first round, Lake Mary, Altamonte and Casselberry all had claims on the second, and Lake Mary and Sunland tied for the third.

Reins prevented a playoff between Lake Mary and Sunland, and since the district playoffs were scheduled to start Thursday in Winter Park, time had run out.

Cottrell addressed the meeting and said that whenever such mixups occurred, his office recommended that the team with the best won-and-lost record—in this case Lake Mary—be named champions.

President Livingston, however, refused to accept this recommendation and called for a vote by the eight managers.

The result of this vote made Sunland the winner and Seminole Little League's representative in the state tournament.

Joyce Working To Go Back Up

By United Press International

Mike Joyce is striving hard for another chance to pitch with the Chicago White Sox.

Joyce, who appeared in five games with the Sox earlier this season before being farmed out to the Indianapolis Indians, gained his eighth victory in 10 decisions last night by beating Jacksonville, 5-2.

The young right hander was pitching with only two days' rest. He beat Atlanta, 5-4, Monday night.

The Indians scored all their runs off Sunny Siebert in the first two innings. Joyce took over from that point, scattering nine hits.

Syracuse kept its two game lead in the northern division of the International League by beating the Richmond Virginians, 1-0, behind the five-hit pitching of Alan Koch, who ran his season record to 8-0.

The Columbus Jets handed the Arkansas Travelers a 7-5 setback and the Rochester Red Wings edged Toronto, 3-2, in the league's only other games.

Pepitone Extends Yankees Italian Line Of Succession

Red Sox and Washington. Well, with Solomoni around, he has to play left field for Richmond.

Pepitone has been described by more than one old-timer as the New York Club's slickest fielding first baseman since Hal Chase and is equally at home in the outfield.

Players of Italian descent through the years have played a tremendous part in the Bombers' unprecedented number of American League pennants and world championships. No other outfit has enjoyed such sustained success with an ethnic group.

And the dynasty is being extended not only with Pepitone, but also another rawboned Brooklyn 22-year-old, Ron Solomoni, who swatted the long ball for Amarillo of the Texas League last season and is now doing the same thing, hitting .250 for Richmond of the International.

"Looks like Ralph Houk will have to take a good look at Solomoni next spring," said Bill Skiff, chief of scouts, in his office in the catacombs of Yankee Stadium.

"Solomoni, a college guy out of New York University, is not only an authentic thumper, but chased Tom Umphlett out of center field. You remember how good an outfielder Umphlett was with the

Mrs. Gertrude Dingfelder Entertains House Guest

The Grandview Avenue home of Mrs. Gertrude Dingfelder was the scene of an afternoon party, Wednesday, when she entertained in honor of her houseguest, Mrs. Olive Flanders of Daytona Beach.

Mrs. Flanders will spend several days here before proceeding to Washington, D. C. for a visit. The tea table, covered with an exquisite pink organdy cloth embossed with pink satin appliques, held a center arrangement of flowers ranging from shades of palest pink to deepest fuchsia. The centerpiece was flanked by fuchsia tapers in silver candelabra.

A conversation piece was the frozen ice miniature boat that floated in the punchbowl and reminded guests that Mrs. Dingfelder and Mrs. Flanders will be traveling companions to Europe in the near future.

Mrs. F. E. Roumillat greeted guests at the door and Mrs. Arthur Corey of Orlando, William Jones, Mrs. Volle Williams, Jr. and Mrs. John Morgan served punch during the afternoon and were assisted by Mrs. W. J. Toll, Mrs. Edwin Epstein and Mrs. Irving Froy.

Around 100 guests called between the hours of 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock.

South America Destination For Miss Robinson

SHIRLEY ROBINSON

son will further her language study before final assignment to Bolivia, South America as a teacher under the Methodist Board of Missions, South American division.

Miss Robinson is a graduate of New York University at Oswego, N. Y. and for the past six years she has been a teacher at Norwood Elementary School in St. Petersburg.

Recently, she was honored by Christ Methodist Church in St. Petersburg as the first member of that church to go into the Mission Field. She expects to teach music and English.

Lake Mary Woman's Club Makes Big "Splash" At Capri Luncheon Meet

The Lake Mary Woman's Club made a big "splash" for water safety yesterday when they met for their monthly luncheon and meeting at the Capri Restaurant. The program was in observance of "National Water Safety Month."

Martha (Mrs. Alvin) Kilpatrick, secretary of the water safety committee for Seminole County Red Cross, showed the proper use of equipment such as life vests and preservers and gave a demonstration using the resuscitation doll, Annie, that was given to Sanford by local insurance agencies and who has been shown to over 7,000 people in the county.

Assisting Mrs. Kilpatrick in her demonstrations were two "live" dolls, Ann Mahan, "Miss Florida" to the United States Twirling Assn. beauty contest, and Miss Candor, "Miss Seminole County."

In contrast to the bathing suits worn by Ann and Candi were bathing suits of 1890 and 1930 circa worn by club members that added a light, entertaining touch to the enjoyable and educational afternoon.

Among "beauties" in suits were Beth (Mrs. J. O.) Gregory, Jackie (Mrs. Robert) Caruthers, Libby (Mrs. Joe) Mathers, Mildred (Mrs. Harry) Sandusky, William (Mrs. Terry) Shattuck, Jane (Mrs. Richard) Davidson, Estelle (Mrs. Frank) Leone, Ruth (Mrs. Olan) Boutwell and Jerry (Mrs. A. L.) Keeth.

The table centerpiece, an arrangement of Shasta Daisies, was won by Mrs. Shattuck.

Rainbow Girls Making Plans For All Week Beach Party

A group of pretty, young Sanford girls have been sitting around in huddles this week dreaming up fund-raising projects. The girls, identified by their new, blue cotton sweaters with "Rainbow Girls" across the front have almost decided on a Bake Sale in town this weekend providing the proper place for the sale can be arranged.

The success of the sale and any other project is important as it will help defray expenses when, in a group headed by mother advisor, Kathleen Reynolds, they spend an eagerly-awaited vacation together at New Smyrna Beach. A beach house has been

Several Guests Join Members At Indoor Picnic

The June meeting of the Pilot Club of Sanford was an "indoor" picnic held Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. George Stine with Mrs. Richard Elam as co-hostess.

Delicious boxed chicken dinners were served to members and guests who were two representatives of the Anchor Club, Geri Dietrich, president, and Dianne Lipsey, treasurer, and three members of the Orlando Pilot Club organization, Mrs. Margaret Stannah, Elizabeth Wintle and Helen Keyes.

During a short business meeting, the newly formed safety committee presented plans of work and projects for the coming year. Preliminary plans for a fashion show and afternoon of cards were discussed and a committee named.

"Commercial slogans or by-lines" was the fun program presented by Felice Swanson.

Members present were the Meses. Raymond Ball, Joel Field, B. E. Chapman, Gordon Swain, J. T. Collins, Morris Ferguson, S. P. Fowler, David Gatchel, John Hodge, Jerry Jernigan, John Lambertson, Ralph Ray, George Stine, H. A. Swanson, Marvin Williams, Esther Rive, Shirley Secord, Sue Stevenson, Richard Elam and the Meses Elsie Farley, Doris Hyming, Janet Smith and Bonnie Stoffer.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I'm sick of all this talk about helping people to "come back". What about those of us who have always been okay? Who helps us? I was married to an alcoholic for 15 years and finally divorced him. Now another alcoholic is ruining my life. She came to work here three months ago. I was nice to her. She confided that she was an alcoholic and a member of A.A. I told the others in the office because I thought they had a right to know. You should see how they reacted! You'd think she was a saint or something. She started dating an important man in the office. (Divorced.) One day in the lounge a girl said to her, "You don't look like you've ever had a drink in your life." It was more than I could stand, so I told her the truth. I said, "You look hard and you've earned it." She ran out crying, and hasn't been to work since. Now no one in the office speaks to me. I was taught to be truthful, Abby. What has happened to the world, anyway? I'm for honesty. Am I wrong?
HONEST AND ALONE

DEAR ABBY: I am a 14-year-old boy with $1,455.50 in the bank. I suppose you think that makes me rich. Well, as far as I'm concerned, I am poor. I got $1,000 from my grandfather for my Mitzvah and the rest I got for birthdays, holidays and making the honor roll. It all goes right in the bank and I am not allowed to touch any of it. So what kind of a present is that? I would rather have a bird in the hand than two in the bush.
FOURTEEN AND BROKE

DEAR FOURTEEN: You may be 14, but you're far from broke. Don't compare a bird with a buck. A buck in the bank could be worth two in the hand. And it's not so apt to fly away.

DEAR ABBY: My wife claims she was MISS AMERICA of 1935. I would like to know if she really was. Can you tell me?
CURIOS

DEAR HONEST: Your story suggests that you are harder than your friend looks. (How does that kind of "honesty" appeal to you?) Better a kind lie than a cruel truth. Or better still, an eloquent silence.

DEAR CURIOS: If your wife was Henrietta Leaver of Pittsburgh, "The Million Dollar Baby from the Five-and-Ten Cent Store," she was indeed Miss America of 1935. Otherwise, she hasn't a beautiful leg to stand on.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

The hand that really cries for the Blackwood convention is one that has first or second round control of all suits so that the Blackwood bidder is really interested in the number of aces his partner holds. Conversely, when a player holds a worthless doubleton in an unbid suit or a suit bid by the opposition he should find some other way of approaching a slam.

Opening lead—♥ 4

South has enough strength for a slam after his partner gives him a jump raise in spades, but he has a poor hand for the Blackwood bid. Suppose his partner shows him two aces, there may still be two losers in hearts. South decides to bid four wood but North feels that his three-spade jump has shown just about all his strength. North merely goes to four spades. At this point South is still interested in a slam but still does not want to use Blackwood. Fortunately, he has an unmistakable way to invite the slam. South bids five spades. This gives North a complete picture. South has taken time to show the ace of diamonds and has gone past game in spades. He doesn't have the ace of spades or king of diamonds so he surely has the king of clubs. He must be worried about hearts, but North isn't worried and North goes to the laydown slam.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Although all men aren't alike, the qualities that attract one man to a girl usually attract all men. And that's why two girls, equally pretty, may find that one has many dates, the other few.

One of them has a low and pleasant voice and the other talks continuously in a voice pitched to drown out any interruption.

One clicks with men and the other doesn't.

It's easy to figure out which one will appeal to men:

One of them seems to shine with cleanliness from her glistening hair to her well-manicured hands and the other overlooks small grooming details.

One of them is easy to get along with and the other never seems to be having a very good time.

One sets out to show a man how intelligent she is and the other one sets out to show a man how intelligent HE is.

One of them is self-conscious and ill at ease, and the other is so much at ease herself she can put the man at ease, too.

One of them laughs often and easily at the man's attempts at humor and the other tries to show him how clever she is.

One of them talks about herself all the time and the other encourages the man to do most of the talking, but so subtly that he doesn't realize he's doing it.

Those are just a few of the reasons why two girls can share beauty honors and yet

one clicks with men and the other doesn't.

Movieland Will Feature 'Dr. No'

The much-publicized fiction hero, James Bond, otherwise known as Secret Agent 007 and starring Sean Connery, has come to the screen in "Dr. No" and is the top feature Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre.

Co-featured will be "Man from the Diner's Club," starring Danny Kaye, in its first Sanford showing.

Wednesday and Thursday fare at Movieland includes "Jack the Giant Killer," in color, starring Kerwin Mathews, and "Comancheros," in color, starring John Wayne.

A triple feature is slated for Friday and Saturday, July 5-6. These will be "The Court-

Miami-Bimini Race Begins

MIAMI (UPI)—A small, select field of 15 to 20 sharply-tuned power boats were scheduled to barrel out of the harbor here today on the first leg of the annual Miami-Bimini race.

The boats raced across the choppy Gulf Stream, kicked up to three and four-foot waves by brisk winds all week, and were to end the first half of the race 50 miles away on the island of Bimini.

Among the favorites to cop overall honors are Johnny Bakos, St. Cloud, who won this year's Miami-Nassau marathon race.

The skippers will have about 48 hours to repair boats before starting back to Miami on the last leg of the race at 10 a.m., Sunday.

Well, here I am back again after a short stay in the hospital. It's good to be here, although my substitute, Jean Warnke, did such a good job last week. I'll have to admit the air conditioning up there felt pretty good. But there are air conditioned places I'd much rather be . . . for instance:

Out at the Capri where they really had a show yesterday . . . The Lake Mary Woman's Club met for lunch dressed in old fashioned bathing suits to emphasize water safety month which is this month . . . the Capri is a popular spot for Navy parties too . . . VAH-11 had a "humdinger," last Saturday night, in the words of Manager Joy. The Lions banquet was there this week too and they had a fine night out. The Capri has some of the best facilities in town for these affairs.

Yesterday was also Flo's first day back at the Caribe from her vacation . . . had a wonderful time traveling throughout the state so she'll probably have some interesting tales to tell. She says there's a new sign on the wall . . . says that the Hideaways, Peg, Bill and Russ, are featured at the lounge on Friday nights . . . Why not stop in there and see them after doing your Friday night shopping . . . or before for that matter. You can also eat until 8 p.m. The Caribe is right down town and you can spend your whole evening here without wasting any time.

Club Diamond has a complete menu now, from hamburgers to steaks and seafoods . . . all cooked by your hostess Dottie Palmer, who puts in her time in the hot kitchen to keep the customers happy . . . fish fry every night . . . all you can eat, and spaghetti dinners on Friday and Saturday evenings. Ray Palmer, well known ex-Yankee chief and bartender about town, is your host and the Palmers are looking forward to seeing some of their old friends at the Club—open on Sundays, remember.

Council Of 100 Backs Bond Issue

ST. PETERSBURG (UPI)—The executive committee of the Florida Council of 100 has gone on record supporting the governor's bond issue for higher education and a space age seminar in Central Florida that would attract top brains from across the nation.

After adopting the resolution, the committee discussed sending an industrial task force into northern states to attract more industry for Florida.

Court Rejects Suit By Burns

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—Judge Albert Grassie has ruled that Mayor Haydon Burns' libel suit against a political opponent did not meet the necessary requirements.

But he left the door open for an amended suit and gave Burns 10 days to change his $750,000 action against former City Councilman John Lanahan.

The suit was filed after Lanahan bought newspaper ads during the race for the mayor's seat, which Burns won. He charged that the ads were libelous.

Time Bombs

DALLAS, Tex. (NEA)—Eddie LeBaron is going to help coach the receivers as well as throw to them when the Dallas Cowboys open training camp in July.

After studying the pass catches in game movies, LeBaron says: "The thing I've noticed about different receivers in the league is rather than breaking at, say 12 yards downfield each time, they might break at 11 one time and 18 the next.

"My main hope is that we can get our timing set."

Open On TV

CLEVELAND (UPI)—The highlights of the final two rounds of the $10,000 Cleveland Open this weekend will be televised by Sports Network, Inc., to approximately 150 stations across the nation. Air time for Saturday's third round telecast is 5 to 6 p.m. EDT. Sunday's telecast will run from 5 to 6:30 p.m. EDT.

'Hud' Featured At Ritz

"Hud," opening Sunday at the Ritz Theatre and running through Wednesday, stars Paul Newman in the title role and gives a valuable insight into the people and traditions of the Southwest. In addition to being the story of Hud, a very unusual and brutal individual, it also shows rather powerfully the motivations behind the men who forged great cattle empires out of desolate prairie land.

The Southwest was settled by strong men who accepted hardship as a condition of life. Their rugged, forbidding land posed a challenge to them. They liked the feeling of space, freedom, and harmony with their land, crops and animals. The cattlemen was, and still is, the most independent of Americans. He chafed at restrictions, laughed at hardship, and built the mightiest cattle empire in the world. He is today the only producer of a major agricultural commodity who has never asked for government help and has rejected it when offered.

Such a man is Homer Bannon, played brilliantly by Melvyn Douglas. Homer Bannon is in his eighties, falling in mind and body. In his youth he was known as "Wild-Eyed Bannon" an epithet which indicates he was as lusty and virile as a cowboy.

His son Hud is not such a man. Hud, played with great force and virtuosity by Paul Newman, has the attitudes of a slick city dweller—not a cattleman. The heritage of the Texas Panhandle means absolutely nothing to him. He prefers a Cadillac to a horse, oil wells to cattle, and women to everything else. Laws mean nothing to Hud—all he is concerned with is his own self-gratification.

Theft Of Royal Kiss Thwarted

LONDON (UPI)—An unidentified man, described as small, white-haired and dressed in tuxedo and black hat, tried to steal a kiss from Princess Margaret at the entrance to the Sandler's Wells Ballet Theatre Wednesday night.

He was pushed aside by a theater official.

Without a word, the man stepped into the crowd outside the theater, waved his hat once, smiled and walked off into the night.

Chiefs Take Third

The Chiefs downed the Rebels 13-0 in the Pewee League to take their third straight win. Tolly Frank was the winning pitcher. The box score: Chiefs 1 2 1 2 7 13
Rebels 6 1 1 1 0 9

Drive Set

Bear Lake Pirates, dressed out in full uniform, will make house-to-house calls Saturday morning in their annual drive for funds to supply equipment for the three Bear Lake Little League teams.

Willie Likes It

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Newly crowned light heavyweight champion Willie Pastrano intends to hold onto his title as long as possible. Angelo Dundee, Pastrano's manager, said a few non-title fights before he risks his crown.

Two To Lead

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Yvonne de Carlo and Dale Robertson, of the defunct "Wells Fargo" television series, will play the romantic leads in "Invitation to a Hanging."

Gemini Ship May Be Space-Age Dirigible

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The U. S. Space Agency already is calling its new Gemini orbital ship the "Space-Age DC-3." A more somber suspicion is that it may turn out to be a space-age dirigible.

By way of familiarization, a quickie lesson in aviation history is in order. The DC-3 is an airplane popularly referred to as the "Gooney-bird." Its illustrious life is perhaps best summed up by the ex-pilot who called the DC-3 simply "the best damned plane ever built."

The dirigible, for those too young to recall, was an exotic but highly unconventional form of air travel that was in vogue in the 1920s. Essentially, it was a balloon hoisted by lighter-than-air gas. Its career was shortened by its own dead-end weaknesses and by the winged airplane.

A DC-3-versus-dirigible comparison of the two-man Gemini space capsule would seem a bit premature, inasmuch as it has not even gotten off the ground and will not for another year or so. But Space Agency administrator James E. Webb made the C-3 remark, so it bears discussion.

Project Gemini is America's next step in manned conquest of space. Its initial task will be to lift two-man teams of astronauts into earth orbits for periods of up to two weeks, to try out techniques that will be important in later flights to the moon.

But the long-range future of the Gemini capsule is a bit murky. Until the decision was made to close out project Mercury, the Space Agency had said little about Gemini. In fact, until Webb's DC-3 remark, the new program had been almost devoid of that organization's Madison Avenue penchant for the glowing descriptive.

Now, it seems, the Space Agency has started hitching Gemini to another long-neglected program, an earth-orbiting manned space station. There is a vision of Gemini capsules shuttling men to and from a giant space laboratory on a regular schedule—thus, the space-going DC-3.

The hitch is that, unless some drastic improvements are made, the goings and comings of Gemini capsules at the earth level will require upwards of 20,000 men per shot. The problem is one of recovering the astronauts.

There were many on the technical and engineering level who criticized the Mercury capsule, particularly for its bell-shaped construction that required a return by parachute—a comparatively inaccurate method of landing. And these were disappoint-

Firm Gives Lesson In Government Cost

SPINDALE, N. C. (UPI)—Employees of Spindale Mills today received plastic bags of silver dollars with their weekly salaries in a management experiment to show how much of their wages goes to the federal government.

Charles H. Reynolds, vice president of the textile firm, said the additional money equaled the amount of federal taxes withheld each week.

Reynolds said the "pay-opener" advance will be repaid to the firm over the next three weeks.

"We are using this means to dramatize to our fellow employees the amount of money they, and all American wage earners, must pay regularly to support the federal government with its millions of employees, its foreign giveaways, its layer upon layer of bureaus, and its annual interest on an astronomical public debt," Reynolds said.

He noted that withholding for the firm's 600 employees amounted to $320,503.24 last year, or an average of 96,163.52 per week.

Reynolds suggested that the federal government could return "billions of dollars each year" to the wage earner by eliminating government agencies such as "electric power generation, insurance, warehouses, welfare programs, transportation, etc."

"When the people become concerned enough and so advise their representatives in Washington," Reynolds added, "government extravagance and expenditures will be reduced. A reduction will never be made until the people speak."

Escaped Convict Has Novel Plea

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—Fred Wilson, 33, arrested in Raymond, Minn., on a warrant charging he fled from a Florida road gang, contended it would be unconstitutional to send him back to a segregated prison.

He told a U. S. commissioner here he will fight any extradition by Florida on these grounds.

Wilson is a white man, born in Georgia, who had been serving a 18-year term on the road gang for robbery.

He admitted to authorities he escaped from the gang as they worked on a road near Copeland, Fla., April 2.

Discrimination

WESTPORT, Conn. (UPI)—Overheard at the beach: "It's not fair; it's not fair. Brownies aren't allowed to sell Girl Scout cookies."

The pint-sized spokesman for the angry young women clustered about a sand castle continued: "Just because they're big they can sell big things. And just because we're little, we have to sell little things. It's not fair!"

Dental Adjustment

CHICAGO (UPI)—The loss of a person's natural teeth and the prospect of wearing dentures may have psychological repercussions, according to Dr. Earl Pound, of the University of Southern California Dental School.

He told a meeting of the American Dental Association that these worries, permitted to linger, can create a mental trauma that may be difficult to overcome. He said the wearing of partial dentures during the transition to full dentures helps some patients to a less fearful adjustment.

WEEK END TOUR of HOMES in the Sanford - Seminole Area

The Sanford Herald Page 12 - June 25, '58

Shop Around And Browse For A Home

While you are out driving, this week-end, take this page with you. The map above will assist you in locating some of Sanford and Seminole County's outstanding real estate. Take a circle tour and see them all, you may find just what you are looking for in the way of a home.

Occasionally you still see signs in stores which say, "Please don't handle the merchandise." You won't see one like that at the new homes that Seminole County builders and developers have open for you to see each weekend. Of course, you could hardly "handle" a house, but what these folks want you to do is take a look at them. They say "come on in, take a look around, you can't really know what it's like until you see it for yourself." Maybe you don't quite know what you want... shop around... browse. Add to that great American pastime of the Sunday afternoon drive with a pleasant visit to some of the fine new homes advertised on this page. Start with the old adage, "Go west, young man."

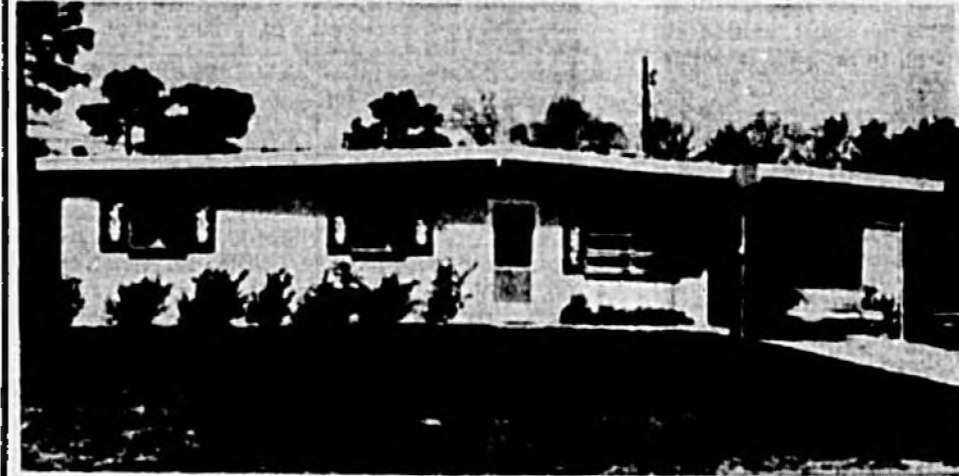

Drive out west of town. There you find the entrancing "customerized" homes of Shoemaker Construction Company's Ravenna Park and Idyll-wilde of Loch Arbor; L.M.N. Builders' Tee 'n Green Estates and a little farther on, the fabulous new Greenbriar of Loch Arbor. If you drive south on Hwy. 17-92 and turn west on Seminole Boulevard you come to L.M.N. Builders' Lake Wayman Heights. Also south of Sanford, near Five Points or south on the Lake Mary-Longwood Road is the new development of Country Club Heights homes whose builders are featuring special bonuses for early qualifiers. And if you can't make it out to one of these new areas during the week-end, don't worry, they are open all week and there'll always be someone available to show you around.
