Suit may involve Nazi doctor

CHICAGO — Court documents in a medical malpractice suit have been sealed to protect the reputation of a surgeon who may have been a Nazi doctor, according to the plaintiff's attorneys.

Cook County Circuit Court Judge Thomas P. Quinn also issued a gag order, forbidding attorneys involved in the case from discussing it. Attorney Neil Quinn, not related to the judge, requested the case be sealed to protect the doctor's reputation.

Late Wednesday night, however, the plaintiff's attorneys said they were confident the gag order would be overturned after they made an emergency appeal to the Illinois Appellate Court.

Toddler suffers cocaine seizure

LOS ANGELES — A 2 1/2-year-old girl hospitalized after suffering an apparent seizure was placed in protective custody after doctors determined she had ingested cocaine, authorities said Thursday.

The girl, whose name was withheld by police, was in stable condition at Cedars-Sinai Medical Center, Sgt. Craig Crosby said.

Paramedics were called to a Wilshire area nursery school when the girl suffered the seizure about 10 a.m. Wednesday, Crosby said.

"It was later determined by doctors at Cedars-Sinai that she had ingested cocaine," Crosby said.

"She was taken into custody by this department and turned over to the Department of Social Services," Crosby said.

U.S. to talk with PLO

WASHINGTON — The decision to go on speaking terms with the Palestine Liberation Organization resulted from a PLO acceptance of conditions rather than a change of heart by America, Secretary of State George Shultz says.

Shultz, who earlier this month refused to let PLO leader Yasser Arafat into the country to address the United Nations, announced Wednesday the United States will open direct talks with the organization.

The announcement marked a dramatic shift in the Middle East equation and opened a split between the United States and its longtime ally Israel.

Heat ends losing skein

LOS ANGELES — After 17 losses and 5 1/2 weeks of the regular season gone, it can finally be said: The Miami Heat is hot.

Miami halted its record season-opening string of futility Wednesday night when Roy Sparrow hit a jumper with 89 seconds to play, then forced Norm Nixon to misfire with our second remaining in an 89-88 victory over the Los Angeles Clippers.

"Ah, it was easy," Miami's Ron Rothstein deadpanned after his first victory as an NBA coach.

"Our biggest problem this season has been lapses in concentration. You get that with young players. But tonight was our best job yet to wire in terms of concentration."

School vote delayed

Redistricting decision will wait until January

By CAROL J. RUMSEY
Herald staff writer

LONGWOOD — The Seminole County Middle School Redistricting Task Force failed to select a plan for the district's division last night, but did agree to ditch a proposal excluding current sixth graders from the rezoning — sixth graders able to provide transportation.

The proposal came from Jackson Heights Middle School Principal Bob Rainey.

"Middle school students are kids at risk," Rainey said. "Both emotionally and physically, it is a hard time for them, which is why we should move as few of these students as possible."

Fashioned after a similar consideration given seventh, tenth and eleventh grade students, the proposal has received support from parents at previous meetings as well as a few who applauded it last night.

Unlike high school students who may drive or carpool with friends, students in lower grades rely on parents and buses to get to and from school. The school district's transportation department already has said it has too few buses to do the job.

This left task force members unsure of how many would actually take advantage of the option if offered. It also left them too many students at Jackson Heights and too few at other schools. More students means more dollars for school programs, and it has proved a sensitive issue with all involved.

"There is no question in my mind that you're going to destroy a lot of good programs we've worked hard to build," Rainey said.

Even distribution of those programs is the problem. Schools with declining enrollments, such as Sanford's Lakeview Middle would like to see their share.

"We'd like to expand our gifted program," Rick Mossman, Lakeview principal said. "Right now we're just running one language arts program. Most schools have five or six gifted programs."

Sanford Middle School Principal Dan Pelham called it a question of fairness. "Those families that

Court may stand in way of voting changes

By BRAD CHURCH
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — City Attorney William Colbert soon will contact Sanford attorney Treva Kaye to see if her clients — whose lawsuit forced the city to change its voting districts — are opposed to proposed changes in the boundaries.

City commissioners have proposed redrawing the districts because District 4, in the southern part of the city, has grown in population faster than the others since 1984 when the lines were drawn. It now has about twice as many registered voters as any other single district.

Commissioners also want to move the District 4 voting place from Fire Station No. 2 on Orlando Drive to a more central location in the district.

They also want to move the date of the election from the first Tuesday in December to a date not so close to the general election in November and the Christmas holidays. In addition, they want to lengthen the time between the election and a runoff if one is needed from the current two weeks.

The city commission cannot make those changes unilaterally because the city is under a federal court order not to violate the federal Voting Rights Act, which included setting up the existing commission districts. Any changes in the boundaries or polling places must be approved by the court unless the two parties to the lawsuit can agree on them.

The suit was brought by Alfred G. DeLattibaudiere, F.N. Smith, Samuel Wright Jr., R. Fletcher

McGinn and Hannah Pinkney, and all others similarly situated. They charged that Sanford's election system, in which all commissioners were elected at large, violated the federal Voting Rights Act by not giving blacks equal opportunity to be represented on the commission. They were represented by Kaye and Judge David M. Lipman.

The court agreed, and in April 1984, accepted the present voting districts and polling places, in which each commissioner is elected by only the voters in his district.

Williams gets raise, Smith gets hearing

By BRAD CHURCH
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — The Sanford Housing Authority voted Wednesday night to grant Executive Director Elliott Smith a grievance hearing and to give interim executive director Linda Williams a raise.

The Authority's interim attorney, James Sweeting III, recommended at the group's previous meeting last Thursday that Williams be paid the same salary Smith was being paid when he was fired, or the board could be liable if she filed a sex discrimination suit against it.

The board voted 3-1 at a special meeting Wednesday night to pay Williams 80 percent of the difference between her current salary and the salary that was being paid to Smith. Authority Chairman Alexander Wynn III was absent from the meeting.

Smith was being paid $37,960 annually and Williams was being paid $26,572 as housing manager. Her salary will now be $35,672 and will be paid retroactively from the time she became interim director on Sept. 8.

Williams said she was satisfied with the raise.

Last Thursday, a motion by Authority member Teri Buratti to pay Williams the same salary as Smith was receiving failed on a tie vote with Commissioner Bob Ball Sr. absent.

Ball voted against the motion to raise Williams' salary Wednesday.

Lake Mary Blvd. plan completed

LAKE MARY — The Lake Mary Boulevard Study Committee last night put finishing touches on the final form of a draft ordinance which will set private development and improvement standards along a widened Lake Mary Boulevard.

It was the last time the committee, comprised of elected officials, planners, residents and developers, will meet before the ordinance goes to a public hearing on Jan. 4.

Total cost for the project is estimated at about $5 million including maintenance, engineering, design and landscaping. Costs are to be shared by Sanford, Lake Mary and Seminole County. The roadway is set to be widened from two lanes to four and six lanes.

Also discussed at the meeting is the interlocal agreement that Lake Mary, Sanford and Seminole County will abide by concerning responsibilities and

Network challenges high school

FORT LAUDERDALE — CBS Inc., the new owner of WCIX television in Miami, wants Fort Lauderdale Piper High School's progressive rock radio station shut down because it interferes with the station's audio transmissions.

CBS filed papers with the Federal Communications Commission Wednesday asking it to reject the high school station's application for a permanent license. The station has been operating under a construction permit since 1983 when it went on the air.

WCIX has complained ever since that the radio station has interfered with the television station's audio transmission. Officials and students at the high school said they see the dispute as a big guy coming down on a little guy.

"And the little guy, in this case, is providing education to kids, promoting the arts, promoting local groups," said Steve Salo, an adult night student in a radio class. "This is a real community radio station. But the conglomerate says, 'No, we're going to shut you down.'"

CBS announced its purchase of WCIX-Channel 6 in August and takes formal control Jan. 3.

Gasoline prices fall for the holidays

MIAMI — Gasoline prices have gone down for the fourth straight month in the state, and officials at the Florida AAA Auto Club say there will be good availability throughout the Christmas holidays.

The state-wide organization said Wednesday self-serve unleaded gasoline is averaging just over 93 cents a gallon around the state. Full-serve unleaded is going for about $1.27.

AAA said people who pump their own fuel save an average of 34 cents per gallon.

The report said about 80 percent of the service stations in the state plan to be open throughout the Christmas holidays.

Jacksonville coping with convict woes

JACKSONVILLE — The state Corrections Department has rejected a proposal to put another 163 inmates into the already overcrowded Montgomery Correctional Center, meaning more headaches for jail officials.

City Council president Terry Wood said Wednesday the state is essentially telling Jacksonville officials to let the prisoners go. He and other local officials have blamed Gov. Bob Martinez for the state's current prison overcrowding problems.

Sheriff Jim McMillan had hoped that putting 163 local prisoners at the state prison farm into Montgomery would relieve overcrowding until a new 300-bed local facility is opened in mid-January.

But state officials said there's only room for four more beds.

Cancer researcher, wife still missing

TAMPA — Friends of a missing University of South Florida researcher say he and his wife asked them to help abduct the couple's children last week but they refused.

Officials are still looking for William Stewart and his wife, who last week snatched their three-year-old daughter from a Tampa welfare facility and ran off with her.

The girl was at the home because of reported child abuse. Witnesses said Stewart sprayed four workers with Mace before tossing the toddler into his car and driving away.

Stewart is a widely known cancer researcher who recently had been having job-related trouble.

Friends said Wednesday the incident was part of a plan that called for the simultaneous abduction of his two stepchildren on the other side of the state. Charles and Virginia Lawhorn said Stewart asked them to help abduct the stepchildren from a relative's home in Volusia County, but they refused.

Officials said the Stewart home in Lutz has been cleaned out and they have no idea where the couple and their daughter has gone.

Hijacker returned to United States

MIAMI — The accused hijacker of a TWA jet remained in police custody in Miami Wednesday night, after federal officials returned him to the United States from Grand Turk in the Turks and Caicos Islands.

The Drug Enforcement Administration brought Felix Sanchez-Rodriguez, 26, back to the United States three days after he tried to hijack Miami-bound TWA Flight 469 from San Juan, Puerto Rico, to Cuba.

Sanchez was turned over to FBI agents in Miami, said FBI special agent William Perry in a statement. He was scheduled to appear before a U.S. Magistrate Thursday.

Sanchez was charged with two counts of air piracy. If convicted, he faces a minimum 20 years in jail.

Authorities said Sanchez threatened to detonate aboard TWA flight 469 Sunday if he was not flown to Havana, Cuba. There were 121 passengers and seven crewmen on board.

The pilot instead landed in Grand Turk, the largest island in the British archipelago with a population of about 8,000 people, about 250 miles east of Cuba.

NEWS FROM THE REGION AND ACROSS THE STATE

Land ranked for state purchase

By MICHAEL McCLELLAND
United Press International

TALLAHASSEE — The Land Acquisition Selection Committee named 115 sites Wednesday to the state's "wish list" of property to obtain and preserve as parks, wilderness preserves and other protected areas.

If Gov. Bob Martinez and the Cabinet approve the list when it comes before them next February, Department of Natural Resource officials will begin — or in some cases, continue — negotiations with the owners of those properties.

The state would buy as many properties as possible, according to their ranking on the purchase lists, until the money runs out.

The committee placed 84 sites on the Conservation and Recreational Lands program purchasing list and 31 properties on the Save Our Coast list.

In reality, however, only the top 30 CARL sites will be negotiated for, and, because the SOC program virtually is without funds, none of the sites on the SOC list are likely to be purchased.

The SOC program was originally funded with a $200 million bond issue, but after several years of land purchases, the SOC only has about $7 million left in its coffers.

CARL receives from $40 million to $50 million from the Legislature each year. Because the CARL project has better funding, committee members moved four of the top SOC projects to new spots on the CARL list.

Being on the CARL list does not necessarily mean a site will be purchased. Landowners are often uninterested in selling or want more than the state can legally pay.

Being on the CARL list does not necessarily mean a site will be purchased. Landowners are often uninterested in selling or want more than the state can legally pay.

If negotiators cannot agree on a property price, they move on to the next site on the priority list.

CARL negotiators can talk only to the owners of sites listed 30th or better on the priority list, unless they get special approval from Martinez and the Cabinet.

The governor and Cabinet will grant that special approval only in the case of a cooperative purchase — combining state and county revenues, for example — in which the state pays no more than 40 percent of the purchase price.

- The CARL priority list includes:
1. North Key Largo tract, Monroe County
  2. Seminole Springs, Lake County
  3. BMK tract, Lake County
  4. Appalachicola River and Bay tracts, Franklin County
  5. Carlton Ranch, Sumter County
  6. Fakahatchee tract, Collier County

  15. Emerson Point, Manatee County
  16. Chassahowitzka, Hernando County
  17. Topsail Hill, Walton County
  18. Ybor City, Hillsborough County
  19. Big Bend, Dixie and Taylor counties
  20. South Savannahs, St. Lucie and Martin counties

Tampa political leader convicted in fraud case

United Press International

TAMPA — Insurance man and former Hillsborough County political figure Nelson A. Italiano was convicted by a federal jury Wednesday of mail fraud.

The jury deliberated about 11 hours over three days before finding Italiano, 59, guilty in the bribery of a county commissioner in exchange for a favorable vote on a 1980 cable television franchise application.

Italiano was accused of being the conduit in arranging for a $30,000 check to be mailed by cable television company official Dennis McGuillicuddy, brother of Senator-elect Connie Mack, R-Fla., to a bagman for payment to bribed officials.

"I'm very tired, and I'm very disappointed," Italiano said glumly as he left the courthouse.

"We're very pleased," said Assistant U.S. Attorney Joseph Magri. "It's always a pleasure to see our system work, to see a verdict that speaks the truth returned no matter who the defendant is or no matter what the circumstances are surrounding the case."

Ironically, the application for the cable franchise was withdrawn before it was voted upon.

This was the second time Italiano has been convicted of the charge. He was convicted in January 1987 and was sentenced to two years in prison. He was released after serving 11 weeks and a new trial was ordered after the Supreme Court ruled the statute under which he had been charged was not applicable.

The government refilled the charges earlier this year.

U.S. District Judge Terrell Hodges scheduled sentencing for Jan. 26 and allowed Italiano to remain free on his own recognizance.

Retiree's lament: Santa's fenced out

United Press International

ST. PETERSBURG — A 4-foot-high privacy fence has taken the Christmas spirit out of a neighborhood Santa and ended visits to him by neighborhood children.

Steve Rzyako, a 61-year-old retiree who resembles Santa Claus with his snow white beard, twinkling blue eyes and round belly, is Christmas oriented the year round, but it is at this time of year that he goes all out as Santa.

Since retiring to St. Petersburg from Illinois in 1983, Rzyako has strung lights and decorations all around his apartment patio to attract attention, with an antique green-and-red sleigh as the centerpiece in Santa's nightly audience with neighbors and passers-by during the Christmas season. But this year, things are different.

The operators of his apartment complex installed a wooden privacy fence in front of first-floor apartment patios as part of a painting and refurbishing project.

But Rzyako doesn't want privacy. In fact, he said, he picked his apartment for the very reason it had an open view of a well-traveled street.

Now the fence hides that patio and its Christmas tableau from the very ones Rzyako wants to entertain.

"The kids will not be able to come up to the door for a treat," he said Tuesday.

His wife, Anita Rzyako, 50, said she and her husband don't blame the apartment complex operators.

Investigators seek source of cocaine

United Press International

TAMPA — An 8-month-old baby girl was in fair condition at University Community Hospital Wednesday as investigators sought to determine the source of cocaine she ingested.

Liquisa Tyler was taken to the hospital Monday night by her mother after the child had been vomiting for several hours.

Hospital officials said they did not know how much cocaine got into the child's system, nor how it got there.

Jack Espinosa, spokesman for the Hillsborough County Sheriff's Department, said emergency room doctors discovered cocaine in the child's system with a urine test and notified authorities.

Tony Edwards, spokesman for the state Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services, said Wednesday the agency had placed a hold order on the girl to prevent her being released from the hospital to anyone until an investigation is completed. He said doctors said the child's condition was not life-threatening.

"A baby with cocaine in her body is a form of child abuse," Edwards said.

Espinosa said the infant and at least three other children were in the care of her father, Claude

Tyler, 33, during the absence of the mother, Gloria Tyler, 29.

Tyler, who is disabled, told reporters the child never was out of the house, which has a bright red "Say No To Drugs" sticker on the door, and said he doesn't know how she got the drug.

"The baby was here with me all day long," he said. "She was just as happy as a lamb."

Tyler said two of the other children, ages 7 and 9, brought the baby to his bedroom from her crib about 7 p.m. Monday and said she had been throwing up.

He said he didn't do anything immediately because the baby had been sick about three weeks ago with the same symptoms. When the mother returned about 10 a.m. the child still was sick and was taken to the hospital.

Tyler said when the baby was sick last month, she was taken to the hospital and a drug was prescribed. He showed them a bottle which contained a solution identified on the label as Alupent syrup, the brand name of metaproterenol sulfate.

That drug is identified in the "1987 Physicians Desk Reference" as being used to treat bronchial asthma and which has been known to cause nausea and vomiting in some patients.

POLICE BRIEFS

Fleeing suspect captured

CASSELBERRY — A suspect in an Orlando armed burglary, who reportedly pointed a gun at a man who confronted him in an Orlando house at about 8:30 a.m. Wednesday, was captured by Seminole County sheriff's deputies about one hour later on U.S. Highway 17-92, Casselberry.

Darren William McGuire, 26, of Orlando, is charged with armed burglary with assault. He is held without bond in the Seminole County jail awaiting a move to the Orange County Jail.

Sheriff's deputies report that a resident of 2603 Juergenson St., Orlando, found McGuire in his utility room at 8:30 a.m. McGuire reportedly said he was looking for a warm place to sleep and the victim asked him to leave. As the intruder was leaving the victim questioned him about a screwdriver in his back pocket and deputies said the suspect ran. The victim chased him, but turned and ran from the burglar when the burglar stopped, pulled a gun from a leg brace he was wearing and threatened to shoot the victim. The suspect fled.

About one hour later Seminole County deputies who had heard a police description of the suspect stopped McGuire. The victim was brought to the scene and reportedly identified him as the intruder.

Roommate accused of battery

OVIDO — A man accused of hitting his roommate's head and body with an electrical cord during an argument at home has been jailed by Ovido, police on a charge of aggravated battery.

Chanden, 23, of 609 S. Central Ave., Ovido, was arrested at 8:07 p.m. at home after Danielle Bryant, 21, made allegations against him. Chanden's bond is $5,000.

Man and boy arrested for burglary

SANFORD — A janitor's tip to Sanford police has brought the arrest of a boy and an 18-year-old man who were reportedly seen burglarizing Seminole High School.

Police said the boy was arrested at the school shortly after the burglary and Neil Creston Phillips III, 18, of 4937 Woodruff Springs Road, Sanford, was arrested at 1:15 p.m. Wednesday after he surrendered to police. Both are charged with burglary. Bond for Phillips is $1,000.

Attempted purchase brings arrest

MIDWAY — A man who tried to pay for goods at Family Grocery, State Road 46, Midway, with a roll of stolen nickels marked with a burglary victim's bank account number, is charged with burglary and grand theft.

Donald Thomas, 25, address unknown, was arrested by Seminole County sheriff's deputies on Sipes Avenue, Midway, Wednesday.

Deputies report that on Dec. 8 a house at 2154 Beardall Ave., Midway, was burglarized and the nickels, jewelry and other items valued at over $300 were stolen.

On Dec. 9, deputies said, Thomas tried to pay for a purchase with the stolen coins. When a store clerk confronted him about the coins Thomas, deputies said, left behind a purse containing jewelry stolen from the burglarized house. The victim identified her stolen property and that led to the arrest of Thomas. His bond is $1,000.

Man arrested for battery-spouse abuse

SANFORD — A Sanford man who allegedly choked his wife to make her sign papers authorizing a loan is charged with battery-spouse abuse.

Denise Susan Overbee, of 732 Cherokee Circle, told police she was pulled and choked by her husband, when she related his request that she sign the papers at their house Wednesday.

She did sign the papers after the attack, police said. Phillip G. Overbee, 33, was arrested at home at 7:14 a.m. Wednesday. Bond is $500.

Longwood still grappling with barrels

By SANDRA BOUCHANINE
Herald staff writer

LONGWOOD — Officials remained unsure today when nine drums buried behind the Longwood public works department for nearly two months will be removed.

So far, the excavation project has been delayed three times.

Richard Tedder, section manager of the state Department of Environmental Regulation's hazardous waste section in Orlando, said he is awaiting confirmation that the Chemical Conservation Corporation in Orlando has subcontracted the O.H. Materials Company in Clermont, Fla., to remove the barrels.

According to Tedder, it has been difficult to find a disposal company with a grappling device needed to remove the drums safely.

On Dec. 2, after DER discussed drum-removal strategy with a subcontractor from O.H. Materials, removal was set for Dec. 12. Chemical Conservation Corporation was not present, according to Tedder.

"We met with the city and a subcontractor (from O.H. Materials). We talked to them about what kind of procedures to use and everything sounded pretty good," Tedder said yesterday. He said other dates set were Dec. 14 or today.

Barrels which may contain toxic waste were found months ago. These barrels have still not been removed.

However, Longwood Public Works Director Charles Hassler said today that the drums will not be removed today.

He said the reason for the first delay was because "the contractor had a conflict with another job they had."

He also said that the project has not started because of stringent DER standards. "I am going by DER's guidelines and time schedules. I'll put a call into Mr.

Tedder late today," Hassler said this morning.

Tedder said the project has to be handled cautiously although he said the situation was not urgent. "We're dealing with unknowns. We have to assume the worst and take maximum precautions," Tedder said.

The Department of Environmental Regulation (DER) issued on Nov. 9 a warning notice to the city for failure to conduct hazardous waste determinations on nine drums buried behind the public works department at 180 E. Warren Ave.

An anonymous caller on Oct. 26 lodged a complaint to DER about the barrels. An investigation by DER on Oct. 28 proved nine drums had been buried by a public works employee on a Sunday, Oct. 23, on Hassler's orders.

CCIB prostitution sting nets 13 arrests

By SUSAN LODEN
Herald staff writer

FERN PARK — A City County Investigative Bureau prostitution sting that ended early today in Fern Park netted 10 men accused of offering to pay a decoy for sexual favors.

Three more were arrested on other charges including one man who interfered with the sting by loudly protesting his arrest two months ago after he allegedly propositioned the same decoy at the same location.

That man, Tim Benson Jeffery, 30, of 1109 Quintuplet Drive, Casselberry, was charged with resisting arrest without violence at 12:15 a.m. today in the area of U.S. Highway 17-92 and South Street.

The decoy worked that area from about 6:30 p.m. Wednesday until about 1 a.m. today.

Agents report that Jeffery drove up to the woman and offered her a ride. She declined and agents said he began shouting that he knew who she was and she was doing wrong.

Agents moved in on Jeffery and he drove away, but was caught nearby and arrested. His bond is $500. Agents said Jeffery said he wanted to vent his feelings to the decoy about her involvement in his earlier arrest.

Charged with assignment to commit prostitution are:

• Louis Richard Bellavia, 43, of Orange City.

• Jeffrey Thomas Morgan, 25, of 302 Lochmond Drive, Fern Park.

• Regis C. Olnatale, 39, of 3601 Red Bug Lake Road, Casselberry.

• Billy Lee Bagley, 48, of 117 Lake Minnie Drive, Sanford.

• Richard Peyton Snodgrass, 27, of 731 Midget Drive, Winter Park.

• Roger Ted Burdshaw, 32, of 340 Hibiscus Road, Casselberry.

• Lee Manfredi, 27, of 965 Colbert Lane, Longwood.

• James Michael Shoemaker, 20, of 17 Fern Park Motel, U.S. Highway 17-92, Fern Park.

• Daniel Sacco, 50, of 124 Wisteria Drive, Longwood.

• Sandy M. Cohen, 36, 536 Orange Drive #11, Altamonte Springs.

Agents also reported the arrest of Steven Little, 33, of 605 North Lake Blvd. #58, Altamonte Springs, after they said he approached the decoy and offered to share crack cocaine with her.

Agents confronted him at the Econo Lodge and found a piece of crack cocaine in his pocket, according to Little's arrest report on a charge of possession of cocaine.

Brian Scott Lampley, 27, of 755 Holly Hill St., Casselberry, was charged with possession of cocaine in the parking lot of the Econo Lodge after an agent spotted a beer can used for smoking crack cocaine in his car, the arrest report said. The agent identified himself as a Seminole County sheriff's deputy and said Lampley tried to drive away. The agent shut off the ignition of Lampley's car and he was arrested after crack cocaine was found in his car. Bond is $2,000.

Bond for those jailed on the prostitution charge is $100 each.

Land purchase may be stalled

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — Although nearly 85 percent complete, Seminole County's Spring Hammock land purchases may be stalled next year because of policy changes disclosed by the state on Wednesday.

Spring Hammock is considered by state officials and local environmentalists as a sensitive wetlands area needing protection from development by placing it in state ownership. It is located between Lake Jesup and County Road 427.

The Florida Land Acquisition Selection Committee moved Spring Hammock from 57th to 36th on the state Conservation and Recreation Land (CARL) list. Although at a higher position, a policy change will mean further purchases will be stalled until its position is raised even higher or the state acquisition policy is changed.

Typically, money is available only for the top dozen or so projects, although negotiations will be pursued actively on the top 30 of the 60-item list, said Gary Knight, spokesman for the state Department of Natural Resources (DNR). Previously, purchase negotiations would continue on lower-ranked projects if they were more than 70 percent bought.

Seminole County Planning Director Tony Vanderworp attended the committee meeting in Tallahassee Wednesday but could not be reached later for comment.

Colleen Logan, county senior strategic planner, said the state and county have purchased or have options to buy more than a 1,000 acres of the project. Twenty parcels, amounting to 241 acres remain, Logan said. She said a dispute has arisen with several landowners over four surveys and two appraisals and they will have to be done over.

Another Seminole County project made it to the state list on the first try Wednesday and although it is at a lower position than Spring Hammock, Knight said it may have a better chance of getting money this year.

The committee ranked the 15,000-acre Lower Econlockhatchee River project in Seminole and Volusia Counties at number 44 on the list. But Knight said because the St. Johns River Water Management District is considering buying a portion of the land, negotiations can begin next year on the sensitive marsh and hammock in southeast Seminole County.

The entire site has a tax appraisal of $16.6 million, Knight said. The land contains several threatened and endangered plants and animals, he said.

Meeting at Howey-in-the-Hills Wednesday, water management board members approved two surveys to be done on 2,100 acres of the Lower Econ area owned by Jack Demetree, said district spokesman Ed Albanesi.

Priest fined for development which threatens rare fern

OVIDO — A Lakeland priest was fined $1,000 this week for damage to wetlands in a subdivision near Ovido last year, threatening one of only two known sites in the country where a rare fern grows.

Board members of the St. Johns River Water Management District voted to fine Father John Caufield for building a 50-foot driveway into his 40-acre subdivision in 1987 without a district permit. After inspecting the site in September 1987, district officials discovered cuplet ferns, known to grow in only one other place in North America.

Both known fern sites are in the Black Hammock area south of Lake Jesup in Seminole County.

Pat Frost, director of the Orlando district field office, said by the time district officials discovered the unpermitted work, Caufield had almost completed the 50-foot-wide path to the back two lots where the rare ferns grow, but had not disturbed the ferns. Several trees and a large amount of wetlands vegetation had been cleared though. Frost said.

Last December, Caufield sought a permit to complete the 50-foot road, but district officials refused, saying it was inappropriate for the area.

In addition to paying the fine but granting the permit, Frost said the board required Caufield to reduce the number of five-acre lots from eight to six and preserve the back two lots for the ferns. Frost said Caufield will also be required to restore the trees and vegetation cleared for the road, leaving only a 12-foot-wide unpaved road for homebuyers. Each homeowner will only be allowed to clear a half acre of their land for construction, Frost said.

Prisoner hospitalized after fight

By SUSAN LODEN

SANFORD — A federal prisoner at the Seminole County Jail is hospitalized with an injured neck following an incident at the jail at midnight last night.

James Otto Hingle, 23, is being treated at Central Florida Regional Hospital in Sanford. Seminole County sheriff's deputies report blood vessels in Hingle's neck apparently were injured when he was in an argument with another federal prisoner over bids in a poker game.

Hingle, according to the other inmate, Charles Wesley Oberry, 20, jumped up to fight Oberry over a bet. Hingle, Oberry said, became entangled in his chair.

Sweeting endorses police substations, drug programs

By BRAD CHURCH
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — City commission candidate James Sweeting III has proposed establishing two police substations in the city as a method to help combat the growing drug problem, and support of a local drug treatment and rehabilitation center.

Sweeting said Wednesday that the city must do all it can to combat the drug subculture and keep young people from getting involved.

He said Sanford has a professional police department and he supports their efforts to keep the city safe from crime. "I would like to encourage the department to explore the possibility of establishing two police substations, one on the east side and one on the west side to aid in enforcement of the laws, particularly anti-drug laws."

Sweeting said if such a program would entail spending more city money, he thinks it would be worthwhile.

Sweeting said adding more officers or making them more visible is not the total solution to better enforcement of drug laws. He cited the increase in expenditures for the police department in 1986, and the increase in drug problems since then. Sweeting said since the federal government no longer financially supports local drug treatment and rehabilitation programs, the city should take the lead. He said it should work with county and state officials to find money to support local drug treatment programs or to establish one in Sanford in conjunction with county or state health departments.

Sweeting also said the city should take an active part in reaching children and talking to them about drugs and self esteem.

"We have to demonstrate to them through mentors that they respect a sense of self-respect and pride. I know there is only so much a city commissioner can do, but primarily, he can set the initiative and get others to follow," he said.

Sweeting said the city's recreation department could sponsor seminars on drug abuse. "We have to talk straight to the young people," he said. "McGruff and 'Just say no' is not enough."

Sweeting is running for the District 1 city commission seat in a Dec. 20 runoff against Lon Howell. Howell was unavailable for comment.

Holiday checks may be on roads

The U.S. Supreme Court's decision to let stand a California ruling that roadside sobriety tests are constitutional makes twofold clear.

The drunk driving checkpoint is now a legitimate tool of law enforcement. And it will be used again, by police and highway patrol officers this holiday season.

Referred to as "DUI sweeps," law enforcement officials in Altamonte Springs will maintain constant pressure on those who choose to drink excessively, then drive. The Florida Highway Patrol has the matter under consideration as to checkpoints along the interstate system. The Seminole County Sheriff's officers will not conduct checkpoints but will maintain holiday vigilance.

The federal court upheld a ruling of the California Supreme Court that such checkpoints do not violate the constitutional rights of motorists. Opponents had argued that police could legally conduct such tests only in an emergency, or if there were reason to believe that a motorist was intoxicated.

However, the state attorney general held that it was reasonable to establish checkpoints, given the serious safety and social problems presented by drunk drivers, because the delay was momentary and the intrusion on privacy was minimal.

Contrary to general belief, not many arrests are made at these checkpoints. The time and general location of the checkpoints are unannounced days in advance, but the exact location is not released until about an hour before checking starts. Their main value lies in their ability to deter motorists from taking the "one last drink" that puts them over the legal blood alcohol limit of 0.1 percent.

Statistics compiled by the sheriff's department in the county originating the suit show that the deterrent works well. Compared with the same period in previous years, the number of drunk-driver-related accidents has been reduced.

A similar trend is noted in this week's report on teenage drinking by the National Commission on Drunk Driving. Between 1982 and 1987, the number of alcohol-related fatalities among people under 21, declined by 22 percent. Still, drinking and driving continues to be the number-one killer of teenagers.

Of course, no single approach, such as sobriety checkpoints, will cure the problem of drunken driving among teenagers or any other group. But this decision of the U.S. Supreme Court supports the consensus among Americans that drinking and driving is neither glamorous nor socially acceptable. In the long run, peer pressure will do as much as anything to discourage the habit.

Meanwhile, the checkpoints will serve to warn motorists of the serious risks they run of being fined or jailed for drinking and driving.

Radio Liberty safeguards glasnost

The questions were triggered by Mikhail Gorbachev's announcement at the United Nations that the Soviet Union would reduce its troop strength by 10 percent. Will that do it? Will that end the 40-year struggle?

Don't hold your breath: great powers don't often give up great armies. And the Soviets have made troop cuts before.

But something else happened at about the same time that will have a greater chance of calling the whole thing off. With no fanfare the Soviets ended the jamming of the U.S.-backed Radio Liberty. After 35 consecutive years, the harsh, crackling static beamed out by more than 2,000 jamming devices was gone.

The Soviets don't like Radio Liberty. Most international radio stations broadcast news of the world and news of their country of origin. (Thus: Much of the programming of the Voice of America is about the United States.)

But Radio Liberty broadcasts about life in the Soviet Union, and it does so in 15 languages. It's not programming in the American style. Here we have a plethora of stations. With a push of a button we can hear rock 'n' roll, all-news or classical.

But in a closed society such as the Soviet Union's, a different menu has been necessary. For decades Radio Liberty served as news broadcast, editorial page, literary review, town meeting, church, history classroom and language teacher — across a country covering 11 time zones and composed of over 100 nationalities.

For decades the Soviets attacked Radio Liberty. They said it was a bellicose, confrontational, argumentative tool of the imperialist Cold War.

But what the Soviets were hearing was the unfamiliar sound of freedom. Free speech and unfettered thinking are not always pleasant to either the receiver or the sender. I have served on the Board of Directors of Radio Liberty for almost seven years. I have witnessed some monumental arguments among RL broadcasters with different points of view and different backgrounds: nationalist and democrat, gentile and Jew, Russian and non-Russian, hawk and dove.

What the Soviets were hearing was the unfamiliar sound of freedom.

Sometimes it was as raucous, or even worse, than the tension one can observe on a major American newspaper or television network. Such is the sound and fury of free speech.

Even with the jamming, an estimated 20 million people per week in the Soviet Union tuned to RL to hear what was going on in their own country. At times they listened even when doing so might mean going to jail.

And the Soviet leaders complained. Regularly and bitterly. Stop it, the Soviets said. To our credit, we didn't. Instead, the Soviets stopped the jamming.

They did it, I think, for several reasons. They are authentically pursuing glasnost. And the vast web of modern communications (including the advent of the VCR) has made it very difficult to keep the news of the world bottled up. News is now everywhere.

Well, with glasnost, is there still a need for Radio Liberty? Now more than ever. Glasnost has only begun; the Soviet Union is a long way from an open society. (They have just announced that they will still not allow publication of the works of Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn.)

Will glasnost proceed? The unjammed existence of Radio Liberty makes it much more likely.

Gorbachev relies on West

WASHINGTON — Mikhail Gorbachev, venture capitalist and chairperson of the Liberal Party of the Soviet Union, is offering the capitalist West an opportunity to participate in a leveraged buyout. The undertaking would buy the Soviet Union out of totalitarianism and associated expansionism.

He is, he intimates, weary of hearing that although the United States has a military-industrial complex, the Soviet Union is a military-industrial complex. He aims, he says, to change that, with a little help from his friends: the bankers and taxpayers of the West.

By combining Soviet economic decline with Western anxiety about his supposed vulnerability, Gorbachev has produced a new source of Soviet strength. The decline is patent. The Soviet Union is the first industrial nation to suffer a peacetime decline in life expectancy; living standards are sinking toward a level like Burma's. Gorbachev's vulnerability may be only in Western eyes, but his leverage is Western hopefulness.

The hope is that he is launching the Soviet Union into a different kind of Glorious Transition Period. That phrase once described the passage into communism. The hope is that it now describes an internal transformation that will mean pacific external relations. But there is little evidence of a transition to pluralism. And pluralism may be a prerequisite for both internal vitality and international comity.

Given the record of seven decades of the Soviet regime, and given the socialization that produces the pool of people from which the politburo is drawn, it is prudent to suspect that there is circularity in the logic of Gorbachev's "liberalism." It does seem that perestroika is whatever the Communist Party says it is and glasnost is freedom to criticize the critics of perestroika.

Gorbachev is attempting the Soviet Union's third "revolution from above." The first was Lenin's, in which a tiny cadre imposed a revolutionary regime on a nation spanning 11 time zones. (As late as the late 1940s some inattentive Mongolians first learned that in 1917 they had been ushered into a workers' paradise.) The second revolution from above was Stalin's forced-draft industrialization, and the collectivization of agriculture irrigated with the blood of 20 million victims. Now Gorbachev wants trickle-down reform, but it can hardly trickle through the top crust of Soviet society—the party.

In his U.N. address, Gorbachev said that the party is "the vanguard force of perestroika" and is "restructuring itself." That formulation affirms the traditional tenet of Soviet totalitarianism: The party is the vanguard, meaning tutor and leader, of the masses because it has a monopoly on insight. Gorbachev governs a Third World nation possessing First World armed forces, he senses that modernity means, in the West, a permanent process of modernization. But there cannot be modernization without markets that allow price mechanisms to reward enterprise and allocate resources rationally.

There is a stark incompatibility between markets and the party. The party's raison d'être today is to serve as a command apparatus, transmitting commands that are socialism's substitute for market impulses. The party is a neurological system too crude for anything but a primitive and stagnant society. But will the Soviet elite liquidate itself, forfeiting its perquisites for altruistic reasons—for the good of the masses. No elite ever has. And Gorbachev is not really asking it to.

A market mechanism means consumer sovereignty, and such sovereignty must have vast political reverberations. Markets mean the democratization, through broad dispersal, of choices that cumulatively determine society's shape. Markets mean the emancipation of choice from any "vanguard." Gorbachev's reforms are radically contrary to this.

Solzhenitsyn's writings remain proscribed because, according to Vadim Medvedev, Gorbachev's chosen ideologist, the writings do the impermissible: They criticize Lenin. Gorbachev's reforms refine by intensifying the Leninist principle of "democratic centralism," control of society by a party organized from above the run from the political center (Moscow).

Gorbachev is not trying to produce "Weimar Russia," meaning a flowing of diversity. Andrei Sakharov stresses that Gorbachev's draft constitution "never so much as mentions even the possibility of pluralism and has no constitutional provision for a multi-party system." Thus Gorbachev's biggest political consequence may occur in the United States under the governance of Gramm-Rudman-Gorbachev.

Gorbachev governs a Third World nation possessing First World armed forces.

FBI may watch what you read

WASHINGTON — The FBI has gone too far in its search for card-carrying members of the KGB — library cards, that is. U.S. agents swagger into libraries, flash their badges and ask librarians to keep an eye peeled for patrons with foreign-sounding names and suspicious reading habits.

Under heavy pressure from Congress, the FBI recently agreed to narrow the scope of its library surveillance program, but not to cancel it altogether. The mystery remains why the FBI stings to any trace of this bizarre "counterintelligence" mission.

The premise is that Soviet agents set up spy networks in American libraries and sift through the stacks for U.S. secrets. Apparently the FBI wants us to believe that a Soviet spy could check out a CIA personnel roster at a library, or find the secrets of "Star Wars" between the covers of a college computer text book.

For the past three years, the FBI has asked librarians to report the reading habits of people with Russian or Eastern European names and to keep an eye out for shifty behavior.

The benefits appear negligible and the program stomps all over privacy laws in 38 states, not to mention the right of people in this country to read books without being spied on. That doesn't stop the FBI, nor does the fact that spies from the Soviet Union or anywhere else can sit in their own countries and read the same material that is available in American libraries.

Those are some of the concerns raised by Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., the chairman of the House Judiciary subcommittee on civil and constitutional rights. And Edwards is not just another congressman taking swipes at the FBI. He is a former FBI agent.

There are simpler ways for Soviet spies to get information than searching a library. In 1985, then-Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige wrote a memo to the Cabinet saying that Soviets had easy access to the unclassified information directly from the federal government. "It appears that several U.S. government agencies are tolerating a massive give-away program that permits the Soviets to acquire tens of thousands of scientific studies as well as other strategic information," Baldrige wrote. The Commerce Department's National Technical Information Service collects unclassified government data and makes it available for the asking.

FBI officials say they still need the library information because it helps them pinpoint what the Soviets are looking at.

Agents have denied that they tried to train librarians for spy work. But many librarians described unpleasant run-ins with FBI agents who wanted to enlist their help.

FBI Director William Sessions wrote Edwards a letter in late September saying his agents had been instructed not to ask for reports on suspicious library patrons or to look at the records of the books that patrons check out. Sessions' letter was heralded as a sign that the FBI would cut back on its controversial program. But when we asked an FBI spokesman if the decision meant any change in the program, he said, "It's not a cutback at all." He said the letter to Edwards was intended simply to "dispel the myths about the program."

Top secret FBI documents obtained by our associate Jim Lynch reveal that the FBI was initially leery of what it calls the Library Awareness Program when it was introduced in 1973.

Stocks open Slightly lower

United Press International

NEW YORK — Prices opened slightly lower Thursday in moderate trading of New York Stock Exchange issues, extending a decline from the previous session amid worries that the Federal Reserve may push interest rates higher.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which fell 9.24 Wednesday, was off 0.88 to 2133.36 shortly after the market opened.

Declines led advances 381-235 among the 1,104 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape. Early turnover amounted to about 6,803,000 shares.

Trading opened Thursday amid news that the West German Bundesbank has raised one of its key interest rates, the Lombard rate, by half a percentage point to 5.5 percent. The Belgian, Dutch and French central banks took similar action, raising fears on Wall Street that the Federal Reserve may follow suit in the United States.

Stock prices ended a dull session with a nearly 10-point drop Wednesday as investors signaled their unease over a variety of key economic reports, including one on the closely watched merchandise trade deficit.

Dollar mixed amid interest rate worries

United Press International

The dollar was mixed in moderate trading Thursday on major foreign currency markets following moves by several central banks of Europe to raise interest rates.

Gold and silver prices were mostly higher in lackluster trading.

Shortly after the European markets opened, the West German Bundesbank said it was raising its key Lombard rate to 5.5 percent from 5 percent, effective Friday.

The Lombard rate is the rate charged in commercial banks for short-term emergency loans collateralized against securities.

The rate rise follows increases in key interest rates by the central banks of France and Belgium.

The Bundesbank last raised the Lombard rate on July 28, to 5 percent from 4.5 percent.

In the Netherlands, the Dutch Central Bank raised its key discount rate 0.5 percent to 4.5 percent, following the West German rate increase.

Late Wednesday, French monetary authorities hiked key interest rates in a surprise move to bolster the French franc.

The Bank of France said its money market intervention rate was raised 0.50 percent to 7.75 percent and its 5-to-10-day securities repurchase rate was raised 0.75 point to 8.5 percent.

The Bank of France uses the two rates to set floor and ceiling guidelines for short-term money market interest rates.

GM chief asserts confidence

United Press International

DETROIT — General Motors' expectations for its Saturn Corp. lineup have not dimmed, despite concern among Wall Street analysts over the threat the new franchise faces from U.S.-made Japanese cars, chairman Roger Smith said Thursday.

Smith said the Saturn models are equal, if not better, to the Japanese competition, including the Mitsubishi Eclipse, Honda Accord, Toyota Camry and Ford Probe, which are assembled in the United States from mostly foreign parts.

Smith also said that despite GM's market share decline to 36 percent this year from about 45 percent earlier this decade, the automaker has no plans to close more assembly plants unless the economy takes a severe turn for the worse.

Yeutter chosen as agriculture secretary

United Press International

WASHINGTON — President-elect George Bush, relying again on familiar rather than fresh faces, chose free trade warrior Clayton Yeutter as agriculture secretary Wednesday and promised not to balance the federal budget on the backs of American farmers.

Yeutter, 58, has served as the U.S. trade representative since 1985 and won high marks for his efforts to persuade foreign countries to cut heavy trade subsidies and open their markets to U.S. products. He held other high-level trade and agriculture posts under Republican Presidents Richard Nixon and Gerald Ford.

Bush called Yeutter "quite simply the best man for this very important job" and suggested that with Yeutter running the massive Agriculture Department, free trade and expanded exports on behalf of American farmers "will have no greater spokesman, no greater advocate."

Yeutter, a Nebraska lawyer and rancher, faces a potentially tough job, especially considering the competing interests of farm subsidy programs and the huge federal budget deficit.

Bush noted Wednesday that Yeutter, who will have to be confirmed by the Senate, "knows how to take a sharp knife to a lot of budgetary things, but he also knows what agriculture needs."

Asked specifically about cutting farm programs, Bush said he would not be proposing "substantial cuts," but suggested "we can do better on individual programs."

"I don't believe that we are going to balance this budget eventually on the backs of the farms. That simply cannot be done," Bush said. However, he suggested more market forces could lead to "lower supports and lower subsidies."

The vice president hopes to complete his cabinet selections by the holidays, has thus far named people to fill six of 14 Cabinet-level jobs and has made several other top staff appointments.

According to Thursday's editions of The Washington Post, Bush is considering two black candidates as leading choices to head the Health and Human Services and Veterans Affairs departments.

The newspaper, quoting transition sources, said Bush is considering Louis Sullivan, the president of Morehouse College School of Medicine in Atlanta, for the HSS job. Julius Bertron Jr., a retired three-star Army general who now heads the Federal Emergency Management Agency, is the leading candidate for the Veterans Affairs post.

Despite his promise to bring many new faces to government, almost all of the jobs have gone to people who have either served President Reagan or in other administrations. However, most of the selections also have won considerable praise.

Asked about the trend, Bush joked that Yeutter's face was familiar, but his job would be much different.

Road

financial obligations to make the aesthetic corridor concept reality.

Lake Mary Boulevard is a county roadway which runs through the three jurisdictions. The improvements will be made along an approximately seven-mile stretch of roadway between Markham Woods Road to Sanford Avenue, extending 250 feet on either side of the right-of-way. Building heights along this roadway are to be 35 feet, according to the ordinance.

The committee, formed barely one year ago, has worked cooperatively under a tight schedule. In March, the county engineering department will begin to draft its complete engineering and roadway recommendations.

"We set the schedule that will put this proposal before all three jurisdictions no later than February," Chairman Randall Morris said this morning. Although, the residents will get the chance at the public hearing to air their suggestions or criticisms about the road plan, committee members acted last night on suggestions made by several property owners.

The committee accommodated the landowners by executing a setback exception in the ordinance. This exception will apply to five odd-sized lots from 9th to 4th streets on the north side of Lake Mary Boulevard. Landowners of these small lots will be allowed 40-foot building setbacks from the road's right-of-way without needing a variance to the 60-foot setback requirement.

Other requirements defined in the ordinance set standards for signs, parking areas, buffers and sound barriers and concrete pavers at all intersections with traffic signals.

Signs can be no higher than 15 feet, three feet higher than current Lake Mary codes, according to Morris. The county has agreed to pay for a seven-foot high brick wall that will serve as a sound buffer in two places where Lake Mary comes close to the road, east of the railroad tracks. Cost for the wall is $256,000.

Landscaping is another strong feature of the model gateway plan. Live oaks will be planted along the roadway and crape myrtles at the medians.

"I think it's progressing very nicely. Hopefully, we can give a great Christmas present to the three jurisdictions. I think the residents will be elated. To date, there has been no opposition to this," Morris said.

Three staff planners, from each of the jurisdictions, will receive from the roadway committee, plaques and certificates of merit for their contribution to the roadway plan. They are Lake Mary planner, Matt West, Seminole County Planner Dick Boyer and Sanford City Planner Jay Marder.

Court

In the first election held after the redistricting, Bob Thomas Jr. became the first black elected to the city commission. He was re-elected on Dec. 6.

The court noted that in conformance with one-person, one-vote requirements, the district boundaries would have to be changed from time to time to insure equal population among the districts, and said the first change could be made after the 1985 census. However, the district boundaries were not changed at that time and remains as originally approved by the court.

District 4, which encompasses all of the city south of 25th Street as well as areas just north of W. 25th Street, is by far the largest district geographically. In 1984, however, it had about the same number of residents as the other three districts.

Since then, however, that part of the city has grown more than the rest of the city. Voter registration figures show that there are 4,463 registered voters in District 4, 2,242 in District 3, 1,721 in District 2, and 1,972 in District 1.

Colbert told the city commission that the court would not be interested in the number of registered voters in each district, but in the total population of each district since elected commissioners represent all the residents in their districts, not just those registered to vote.

He said the latest population figures from the U.S. Bureau of the Census would have to be used to determine the population of each district before new boundaries can be drawn to equalize the population of the districts.

Redistricting the city would probably be easier after the federal 1990 census figures are available. However, Colbert said the city commission decided not to wait until then because of the present disparity between the population of the districts.

In the court's 1984 ruling, the city was cautioned that "Any alteration of boundaries shall insure that the changes do not lead to a retrogression in the position of minorities with respect to their effective exercise of the electoral process, or be inconsistent and/or in violation of...the Voting Rights Act."

can afford it whether in time or money will take the option," Pelham said. "I think this is unfair to other families, and it puts a burden on parents." Sanford Middle School is the only school to be unaffected in the rezoning.

The vote is rescheduled for 7 p.m., Jan. 12, at Tusawilla Middle School. Task force members added two new proposals to the pot last night, bringing eight plans for rezoning under consideration. Most of these plans differ only slightly in options offered. Heiser said one plan, and possibly two alternatives will be chosen for recommendation to the superintendent of schools. The superintendent may adopt, alter or do away with any recommendation.

NATIONAL BRIEFS

Suspect has second rape charge added

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. — Authorities investigating the deaths of six women filed a second rape charge Wednesday against a man who allegedly abducted his rape victims from a red-light district linked to at least three of the slain women.

Investigators, without elaborating, said there are similarities between the two rape cases and the six slayings. But Bristol County District Attorney Ronald Pina refused to link the rape suspect to the deaths.

Police in Dartmouth filed charges of rape and assault with intent to rape against Neal Anderson, 35, of New Bedford, who earlier in the day pleaded innocent to the kidnapping and rape of a separate woman, authorities said.

Anderson was held on $20,000 bail by Bristol County officials on the first rape charge, and may be arraigned on the second rape charge on Thursday in New Bedford District Court.

During a news conference, Pina blamed the media for creating speculation that Anderson was a murder suspect. Three of the victims have been identified, and officials said they were on the verge of releasing the identity of a fourth woman.

Burris to leave DNC, report says

CHICAGO — Illinois Comptroller Roland Burris has decided against seeking re-election early next year to his post as vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee, it was reported Thursday.

Burris, 51, told associates he was giving up his party post to forward his expected bid for governor in 1990, the Chicago Sun-Times said.

His departure comes in advance of next month's session of the DNC, where Jesse Jackson was expected to seek Burris's ouster from the party's No. 2 post.

The dispute with Jackson, for whom Burris once worked at Operation PUSH, the civil rights group founded by Jackson, stems from Burris's ousting of Richard Hatcher from the DNC vice chairmanship in 1985. Hatcher had served as national chairman of Jackson's failed 1988 presidential bid.

Ron Brown, a former Jackson lieutenant, is viewed as a likely replacement for Burris if Brown loses his bid for the chairmanship of the DNC.

Probe: Company didn't comply with law

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — A subcontractor at a Kansas City construction site where six firefighters were killed in an explosion last month failed to comply with state law governing hazardous substances, the Missouri Department of Natural Resources said Wednesday.

Mountain Plains Construction Co. was a subcontractor conducting blasting at the south Kansas City site where two trailers of ammonium nitrate exploded Nov. 29. The six firefighters killed in the blast were battling an arson fire at one of the trailers, unaware of its contents.

The Department of Natural Resources said it has turned over its findings regarding Mountain Plains Construction to the Missouri Attorney General's Office, which has the authority to file legal action against the firm, a department spokesman said.

State law requires each employer to provide information regarding hazardous substances that it stores, uses or produces to the local fire protection service, Department of Natural Resources and the local committee designated to plan for chemical emergencies.

The department's investigation found that Mountain Plains Construction of Kansas City, Kan., failed to report such information with any of the three groups, a spokesman said.

Major AIDS study approved

BETHESDA, Md. — The government announced Thursday it is funding a major study aimed at developing more effective ways to reduce the spread of the AIDS virus among homosexuals who do not use intravenous drugs.

Dr. Anthony Fauci, director of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases, said although only 4 percent of all adults diagnosed with acquired immune deficiency syndrome got the disease through heterosexual contact, that mode of transmission accounts for 30 percent of all AIDS cases in women.

The new survey will involve about 2,000 heterosexual men and women in Newark, N.J., and Brooklyn, N.Y. Inner-city areas were chosen partly because they have many drug users who are infected with the AIDS virus and who pose an infection risk for their non-drug using sex partners, Fauci said.

The study will be conducted by researchers from New Jersey Medical School in Newark and State University of New York Health Science Center at Brooklyn. The data will be analyzed at University of Michigan School of Public Health in Ann Arbor. Funding for the first year of the five-year study will total about $4 million.

Officials order Walden project review

CONCORD, Mass. — Massachusetts officials Wednesday ordered a full environmental review of traffic and congestion problems posed by a controversial office park planned near the shores of historic Walden Pond.

Environmental Affairs Secretary John DeVillars said the historic nature of the area made famous by author Henry David Thoreau required a detailed look at the impact of increased traffic.

"We are Walden Pond's caretakers," DeVillars said. "And in fulfilling that responsibility, we must protect the pond and surrounding areas from any increased traffic and congestion that might threaten the beauty and serenity of this special part of the commonwealth."

Thoreau, a Concord native, wrote "Walden" based on his experiences in the area. He often roamed the area in which the development is planned and referred to it in his writings.

The land was cleared 25 years ago and is now zoned for commercial development.

Boston Properties is the developer for a proposed 148,000 square foot building and 518-car parking lot planned for construction less than 700 yards from the pond.

URI suspends fraternity for hazing

PROVIDENCE, R.I. — The University of Rhode Island decided Wednesday to suspend a fraternity until September 1990 as punishment for forcing pledges to guzzle beer and sit naked on blocks of ice.

Assistant Vice President for Student Life Thomas Dougan said he took the action because of the "seriousness of the offense." The student Intrafraternity Council had recommended the organization be closed for only one semester.

All 42 students living in the fraternity must move out by the last day of final exams Dec. 20, university spokeswoman Linda Acclardo said. There are 60 members of the fraternity, she added.

Fraternity members refused to comment Wednesday on the university's decision.

The Intrafraternity Council found the fraternity guilty of hazing its new pledges. Police said the Psi Kappa Phi's senior members forced new members to guzzle beer through funnels, pelted them with eggs and shaved the sides of their heads during a 12-hour initiation.

The pledges were naked during most of the ceremony and were forced to sit on blocks of ice, police said.

Hugh Durham, a sophomore from Wallingford, Conn., said he vomited and passed out during the hazing.

Gunman shoots three at post office

Upset over separation, postal employee shoots three, takes two hostage in New Orleans

United Press International

NEW ORLEANS — A postal employee, apparently distraught because his wife left him, wounded three people with shotgun blasts in the main post office downtown Wednesday and holed up in the two-story building with at least two hostages, federal officials said.

Hostage negotiators were in telephone contact with the gunman, identified as Warren Murphy, said FBI spokesman Volne Hayes. A cousin also talked to him on the phone link.

"Things are upset. It seems like they are making pretty good progress," said postal inspector Don Durken.

"We heard one girl talk," he said. "The other one, we haven't heard her say anything."

Durken said there was no indication the hostages were hurt. One woman was heard screaming when FBI agents first located Murphy and he fired shots at the agents.

"He was concerned about how he would get out and what would happen to him, and what arrangements he could make where he could get out without being shot," Durken said.

Witnesses said Murphy walked into the building about 8:30 p.m. and began shooting, wounding three people and sending scores of postal employees dashing outside for safety. Dozens of others were trapped in the building for about two hours until tactical police and FBI agents escorted them out and began a search for the gunman.

"I just walked into the ladies room and I heard a guy say, 'Everybody out,' said a temporary employee hired to help with the Christmas rush. She did not want to be identified.

"And I heard a shot. And I opened the door and I saw a guy with his back to me. He had a gun. And a guy ran past me. He had been shot in the face. He was bleeding. He ran out and I ran out behind him. And that was it."

"When I got outside, somebody grabbed me and they pulled me over here, 'cause I froze."

Charity Hospital officials said an unidentified shooting victim underwent surgery for a wound to the eye and was in stable condition.

Two other victims, one shot in the arm and the other in the thigh, were in stable condition with minor wounds at Tulane Medical Center, a hospital spokesman said.

Police and FBI agents entered the building about two hours after the shootings and began a room-to-room search for the gunman. He fired shots at FBI agents who located him in a first-floor stairwell next to the main mail room about 1 a.m.

"He fired two rounds at the FBI," said Lt. Lol Cano, a police SWAT team commander. "We know he has one female hostage. We heard the woman scream. He may have more, we don't know." About an hour earlier, officers and agents escorted dozens of employees from the building.

"The gentleman is Warren Murphy, an employee of the U.S. Post Office for about six years," said Post Office spokesman Cesta Ayers. "He apparently came here after his wife left him and took the children and left the city, and he was upset about that."

Murphy apparently was armed only with a shotgun, he said.

Ayers described Murphy as "a good employee" and said he had been a vehicle driver but recently was reassigned.

About 500 people were on the shift at work when the attack took place, Ayers said. Mail trucks waiting to be loaded were backed up for a block.

LaRouche mail, tax fraud case to go to jury

United Press International

ALEXANDRIA, Va. — Jurors are being asked to decide whether political extremist Lyndon LaRouche and six associates were bad businessmen or schemers who bilked lenders of $30 million in loans they knew would never be repaid.

The federal government's mail fraud and tax fraud case against the fringe political leader and his aides was to go to the jury Thursday following a four week trial in U.S. District Court.

In closing arguments Wednesday, LaRouche's attorney, Odin Anderson, said LaRouche was targeted for prosecution because of his extremist views and should not be held responsible if his fundraisers acted improperly, just as President Reagan would not be held liable if Iran-Contra figure Oliver North broke any laws.

The notion that LaRouche would defraud the people who were the lifeblood of his organization — outside financial supporters — was "ridiculous," Anderson said.

The defendants, always acting in good faith, continued to seek loans even when financial problems arose because they believed they could be overcome, Anderson said.

"They were fighting for survival," he said.

Prosecutor John Markham told jurors the defendant engaged in a pattern of lies and schemes to obtain loans knowing they would not be repaid. At the same time lenders were pleading to be repaid, LaRouche was spending hundreds of thousands of dollars on improvements at his Leesburg, Va., farm, Markham said.

Despite mounting debt, he said, fundraisers continued to press lenders for more money, giving them false assurances their money was safe and would be repaid.

Defense attorney Brian Get-

Lyndon LaRouche

tings said the defendants continued to take loans because they believed they could turn things around.

"They were saying we can do it, we can do it," said Gettings, who represents chief fundraiser William Wertz. "They were the little train that could."

"They weren't very business-like, but they weren't reckless. They just got in over their heads," he said.

Gettings attacked the credibility of the government's key witnesses, two former LaRouche aides, saying they were "vehemently" hostile toward their former boss and also said the defendants can not be guilty of fraud because there was no greed involvement.

If the intent was to scam lenders, Gettings said, the defendants would have packed up their tents instead of trying to rectify the problem.

On the tax charge against LaRouche, the prosecution accuses the four-time presidential candidate of hiding money from the Internal Revenue Service.

Americans in Hanoi to receive 38 MIA remains

United Press International

BANGKOK, Thailand — A U.S. military cargo plane flew Thursday to Hanoi to pick up 38 flag-draped caskets in the largest repatriation yet of the suspected remains of Americans missing in action from the Vietnam War.

A U.S. Embassy official said the American jet left Bangkok for Hanoi at 9 a.m. (9 p.m. EST Wednesday) and would transport the remains directly to the United States.

The official, who requested anonymity, said a second plane flew to Hanoi to pick up 13 U.S. experts who spent 10 days searching for evidence of 1,751 other American MIAs from the Vietnam War.

He said that plane was due back in Bangkok about 5 p.m. (5 a.m. EST).

The 38 sets of remains, which were gathered by Vietnamese officials, were placed in U.S. military caskets and covered with a folded American flag. They were to be put on an Air Force C-141 jet transport and flown to the Army Central Identification Laboratory in Hawaii.

Lt. Col Thomas J. Boyd, spokesman for the U.S. Pacific Command, said it was the largest single repatriation of suspected American remains since the end of the Vietnam War in 1975. Twenty-seven sets of remains were returned in April.

Thursday's repatriation was the fifth this year and brought to 115 the number of servicemen whose remains were returned since Vietnam renewed cooperation on missing Americans in August last year.

At that time, retired Gen. John Vessey, President Reagan's personal envoy, visited Hanoi and indicated that Washington would allow private U.S. organizations to give humanitarian aid to Vietnam.

Vietnam has expressed hopes a solution to the MIA issue will bring improved relations with the United States and an end to a U.S. embargo on aid and trade with the communist regime. Washington, however, has made the withdrawal of Vietnamese troops from Cambodia a precondition to better relations.

A total of 2,387 Americans are listed as missing in action in Indochina, including 1,751 in Vietnam and 547 in Laos, 13 years after the war ended.

Nine killed when plane runs out of gas

CAIRO, Egypt — A Nigerian cargo plane prevented by bad weather from landing at the Cairo airport ran out of gas and crashed into a small village Wednesday, killing all eight crew members and a woman on the ground, police said.

Police said the Boeing 707 carrying flowers en route to Brussels, Belgium, from the Tanzanian capital of Dar Es Salaam crashed into the village of Karam Omram, near the city of Luxor and 440 miles south of Cairo.

All eight crew members on the plane were killed, along with a 51-year-old woman who lived in the village, police said. A second woman and her four children, who were asleep in their home when the plane came down, suffered serious injuries. The newspaper Al Ahram said one of the children later died in the hospital.

Six small homes and three classrooms in the village school were destroyed in the crash, police said. Experts said the lack of gasoline in the plane's tanks prevented it from exploding on impact and causing more damage.

They said the jet plane was low on fuel and could not land in Cairo because of low visibility. The aircraft then diverted to Luxor but failed to reach the city's airport.

An investigation was ordered to determine the exact cause of the crash.

Four officers stand trial for torture

SEOUL, South Korea — An appellate court Thursday ordered four police officers to stand trial on charges they tortured a dissident with electric shocks after arresting him for alleged anti-government activity.

The three-judge Seoul Appeals Court ruled that police Inspector Kim Soo-hyon, 55, and three other officers must face trial for alleged atrocities committed during the interrogation of Kim Keun-tae, 42, a recipient of the Robert F. Kennedy human rights award.

The court handed down the ruling after studying a complaint filed by Kim Keun-tae and his lawyer last Feb. 23. The complaint was filed after prosecutors declined to take action against the police officers.

Kim was brought to a police station for questioning Sept. 4, 1985 on suspicion of helping organize violent anti-government demonstrations.

In ordering the trial of the four police officers, the appeals court panel said there was reason to believe Kim was subjected to torture during his interrogation by police.

The court said the investigators allegedly forced Kim to drink large amounts of water and then touched his wet body with electric wires. They also beat him, the court said.

If convicted, the four police officials could face up to 15 years imprisonment.

Official resigns over NATO flight dispute

BONN, West Germany — A Defense Ministry official who banned low-level military flights after a U.S. Air Force jet crashed last week in a West German city resigned Wednesday because his superior opposed the order.

Parliamentary State Secretary Peter Kurt Wuerzbach, the third-ranking Defense Ministry official, told reporters that Defense Minister Rupert Scholz's opposition to the ban made it impossible for him to continue his work under Scholz.

Commenting on the resignation, Scholz said Wuerzbach had no authority to ban flights.

The ban, however, will remain in effect until Jan. 2. There were no plans to lift it before then.

Wuerzbach imposed a ban on West German military flights below 11,000 feet after a U.S. Air Force A-10 jet crashed Dec. 8 into a residential district of Remscheid, 40 miles north of Bonn.

The crash, the 21st by a North Atlantic Treaty Organization plane this year, killed the pilot and five Germans when it plowed through a row of houses.

The A-10 was flying at 3,300 feet.

Moiseyev new Soviet armed forces chief

MOSCOW — The Soviet Union has appointed 50-year-old Col. Gen. Mikhail Moiseyev as armed forces chief, an army newspaper said Thursday, in a move that marks the rise of a new generation to the top ranks of the Soviet military.

Moiseyev was widely reported in the West to be Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev's choice to replace Marshal Sergei Akhromeyev, who was relieved of the post and now serves as a military adviser to Gorbachev, the Red Star newspaper said.

The appointment represented a stunning promotion for Moiseyev, who was elevated over far more senior officers to become the second most powerful military man after Defense Minister Dmitri Yazov. The post has traditionally been held by World War II veterans.

The news of Akhromeyev's departure first leaked when Gorbachev went to the United Nations on Dec. 7 and announced the Soviet Union would cut its armed forces by 500,000 men and 10,500 tanks.

Swede arrested in Palme assassination

STOCKHOLM, Sweden — Authorities arrested a 41-year-old Swede as a suspect Wednesday in the assassination of Prime Minister Olof Palme, who was gunned down on a snowy Stockholm street in February 1986.

The suspect was not identified, but local news reports quoting police sources described him as an unemployed alcoholic, drug addict and a violence-prone "thug" working for organized crime collecting debts.

"A 41-year-old man — a Swedish citizen — has during the day been interrogated, suspected of the murder of Prime Minister Olof Palme," said a statement read by deputy prosecutor Axel Morath at police headquarters.

U.S. to begin talks with PLO

Shultz says PLO's acceptance of key issues opened door to talks

United Press International

WASHINGTON — The decision to go on speaking terms with the Palestine Liberation Organization resulted from a PLO acceptance of conditions rather than a change of heart by America, Secretary of State George Shultz says.

Shultz, who earlier this month refused to let PLO leader Yasser Arafat into the country to address the United Nations, announced Wednesday the United States will open direct talks with the organization.

The announcement marked a dramatic shift in the Middle East equation and opened a split between the United States and its longtime ally Israel.

Shultz, revealing the decision by President Reagan, said statements made by Arafat in Geneva earlier in the day had met longstanding U.S. demands for opening a "substantive dialogue."

At a news briefing, Shultz denied he had changed his position on the PLO.

"I didn't change my mind. They made their statement clear so that it doesn't have the ambiguities that earlier statements had, which tended to allow various people to give them their own interpretations," Shultz said.

He said Arafat's declaration made it clear the Palestinian group "accepts U.N. Resolutions 242 and 338, the recognition of Israel's right to exist in peace and security and to renounce terrorism. As a result, the United States is prepared for a substantive dialogue with the PLO."

The U.S. ambassador to Tunisia, Robert Pelletreau — a career Foreign Service official and longtime participant in the Middle East negotiations — is "the only authorized channel" for the dialogue and has been told to make himself available for talks with the PLO, Shultz said.

A prepared statement from Reagan read: "The objective of the United States remains, as always, a comprehensive peace in the Middle East. In that light, we view this development as one more step toward the beginning of direct negotiations between the parties, which alone can lead to such a peace."

In repeating the United States' "special commitment to Israel's security and well-being is unshakable," Reagan said, "Indeed, a major reason for our entry into this dialogue is to help Israel achieve the recognition and security it deserves."

And Reagan warned, "The PLO, in particular, must live up to its statement. It must demonstrate its commitment to renunciation of terrorism is permanent and pervasive."

Immediate Israeli reaction was negative. The Israeli Embassy in Washington, after hearing an advance version of Shultz's statement, said, "We regret the decision of the U.S. government to enter into direct contact with the PLO. We do not consider this will advance the peace process in the Middle East."

But Reagan said he sees the forthcoming dialogue, reversing a U.S. policy established in 1975 as "an important step in the peace process" — the more so because it represents the "serious evolution of Palestinian thinking toward a realistic and pragmatic position on the key issues."

No date had been set for the talks to begin, said White House spokesman Martin Fitzwater.

Diplomatic officials said the United States gave the exact language it wanted to hear from Arafat to Swedish Foreign Minister Sten Andersson, who relayed it to Arafat.

Andersson has served as the go-between for the United States and the PLO for several days, officials said, adding that Sweden was the only channel used to communicate with the PLO.

The dramatic U.S. announcement followed a speech Tuesday and follow-up news conference Wednesday by Arafat in Geneva, where he addressed a United Nations General Assembly meeting because Shultz had refused him a visa to visit New York on grounds Arafat is a terrorist.

At Wednesday's meeting with reporters, Arafat cleared up what

George Shultz

U.S. officials had called "ambiguous and fuzzy" declarations in his speech.

It was not clear precisely which declaration by Arafat upset the balance of the Washington decision-making process, but he did appear to be scripted. He read some remarks from a piece of paper and repeated himself several times urging reporters to quote him directly.

At one point, bearing on Israel's right to exist, he said, "Self-determination means survival for the Palestinians and our survival does not destroy the survival of the Israelis as their leaders claim."

At another, he said, "I declare before you, and I ask you to kindly quote me, that we want peace. We want peace. We are committed to peace. We are committed to peace. We want to live in our Palestinian state and let live."

Shultz emphasized that the opening of U.S.-PLO talks "should not be taken as recognition of an independent Palestinian state. The position of the United States is the status of the West Bank and Gaza territories occupied by Israel in the 1967 Six-Day War cannot be determined by unilateral action either side."

Israel criticizes U.S. 'reversal'

United Press International

JERUSALEM — Israel expressed regret Thursday at the U.S. decision to open talks with the PLO, saying the Palestinian group was still a "terrorist organization" and not a suitable partner for peace negotiations.

"The Arabs didn't beat us," Foreign Minister Shimon Peres told Army Radio. "They learned the language and the proclamation of peace goes over well."

Peres vowed to find an alternative to direct talks with the Palestine Liberation Organization and said Israelis would not "nod our heads so that others can decide things in our place, on our account and against us."

The foreign minister said Israel was not "obligated to be a partner" in the opinions of the United States, and the Jewish state must not wait on the sidelines.

"As the U.S. advises us, we should advise the United States," he said. "What is the PLO? The PLO is a terrorist organization."

Avi Pazner, a spokesman for Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir, said Israel would continue its policy of refusing to negotiate with the PLO. He said Israel instead would seek direct talks with its Arab neighbors and Palestinians in the occupied territories who are not PLO members.

"We regret very much the U.S. decision, which will not advance the cause for peace in the Middle East," Pazner said. "We believe that the United States will discover very soon the true face of the PLO and will realize that it cannot be partners for negotiations and peace."

In a dramatic shift in U.S. policy, U.S. Secretary of State George Wednesday said the

Canadians gear up for French ruling

United Press International

OTTAWA — The Supreme Court of Canada is set to rule Thursday on the validity of a restrictive Quebec language bill that many residents of the province believe is the last bastion of their French identity.

Canada's highest court will decide whether Quebec's language bill 101, which requires most commercial signs to be in French only, violates freedom of expression guarantees in the Charter of Rights and Freedoms.

Bill 101 was implemented by the former separatist Parti Quebecois in 1977 and bans the use of languages other than French on commercial signs in Quebec.

The case before the Supreme Court involved a prosecution by the Quebec government of several Montreal merchants who displayed signs in French and English.

In December 1986 the Quebec Court of Appeal ruled the language law was unconstitutional and the province could not forbid the use of a language in public signs. The Quebec government appealed the ruling to the Supreme Court.

Soviets to improve disaster teams

United Press International

MOSCOW — The Soviet Union, stung by criticism it was ill-prepared to respond to last week's Armenian earthquake, announced it is establishing mobile hospitals to speed up relief efforts in future disasters.

Health Minister Yevgeny Chazov, after touring the devastated region, said Wednesday that special rapid-deployment hospital teams would be established throughout the country and equipped with aircraft to fly to disaster areas at short notice.

Earthquake survivors and Western disaster relief officials have cited a breakdown of Soviet bureaucracy in the aftermath of last Wednesday's massive quake, which killed at least 55,000 people and left more than half a million homeless in the three southern republics.

Soviet Premier Nikolai Ryzhkov, who is in charge of the Soviet relief operation, recently defended the relief efforts of individuals but added, "As for organization, we would like to see better."

Chazov, speaking at a news conference, gave a description of the devastation he witnessed during a weeklong tour of quake-ravaged northern

"I have been a doctor for 30 years. I have not seen such conditions of suffering since World War II."

— Soviet Health Minister Yevgeny Chazov

Armenia, including the worst-hit cities of Leninakan, Kirovakan and Spitak.

"I have been a doctor for 30 years," Chazov said. "I have not seen such conditions of suffering since World War II."

Chazov said the first-aid assistance available had not been enough. He said authorities now planned to set up special rapid-deployment hospital teams with aircraft in the European, Siberian and central Asian regions that could respond immediately to future disasters.

The health minister said some victims were so seriously injured when pulled from under tons of debris that they could not be moved to hospitals, and that 3,500 major operations, including amputations and brain surgery, had to be carried out in field units.

"In a disaster of this scope, doctors have to take terrible decisions, such as when you see a three-year-old girl suffering terribly and you have to decide instantly whether to amputate her arm," Chazov said.

Government spokesman Gennady Gerasimov said Tuesday that many of the injured had to be sent to hospitals as far away as Moscow, but treatment was being hampered by a lack of kidney dialysis machines. The machines are essential for treating people suffering "crush syndrome" — the effects of being pinned for hours or days under heavy rubble.

The International Physicians for the Prevention of Nuclear War, which was awarded the 1985 Nobel Peace Prize, said Wednesday that Chazov had accepted its offer to transport 450,000 pounds of hemodialysis equipment plus personnel to help earthquake victims.

A mechanic, identified as A. Egunian, told the Tass news agency, "It just breaks your heart, especially at first. You'd hear moans, praying, but the machinery our volunteer team had was too weak for those slabs of concrete."

"Now stronger machines have arrived ... but I have just run out of gasoline. Every minute counts. We have to hurry."

"My machines are standing idle. I'll have to go to headquarters to see the deputy minister. We still can save them, we have to," the mechanic said.

The Communist Party daily Pravda paid tribute to the relief work and experts flown in from 50 nations, saying, "The epicenter of the earthquake has turned into an epicenter of humanitarianism."

But authorities said they clamped midnight-to-dawn curfews in several stricken cities and villages to halt the looting of homes and stores and to prevent a resurgence of ethnic violence that has plagued Armenia all year.

In Leninakan, authorities imposed a curfew because of looting, and soldiers with rifles were posted to guard mounds of rubble that were once stores.

"In one instance," a Soviet source said, "soldiers opened fire when three men were caught looting. One of them ran into a crowd of quake survivors for safety and got really badly beaten up."

"We are also having to step up security around relief supply stations," he said.

Former Rep. Jones vying for DNC chairmanship

United Press International

WASHINGTON — Former Rep. James Jones of Oklahoma jumped into the race to head the Democratic National Committee Wednesday, presenting himself as a "centrist" likely to appeal to some party regulars hoping to stop Jesse Jackson's followers from taking control of the hierarchy.

Jones, 49, a former chairman of the House Budget Committee and chief of staff to President Lyndon Johnson, said his main goal would be to rebuild the party, in part through a three-year national advertising campaign, into an organization capable of winning the White House.

He denied the battle to succeed Paul Kirk, who resigned Dec. 5 as party chairman, would become a "bloodbath" between competing ideological factions.

While Jones said he does not believe the party needs to move hard to the right to attract majorities in presidential elections, he did stress that Democrats must be more competitive in the mostly moderate-to-conservative West and South.

To do that, he said, the next DNC chairman must present "a message that is viewed as centrist and clearly represents the broad value system of this country."

He also suggested a review of new party rules that give the liberal Jackson forces more power in the selection of convention delegates who will choose the party's next presidential nominee.

The Jackson support on the DNC is lining up behind Washington lawyer Ron Brown, a former top aide to the civil rights leader who got a boost earlier this week with an endorsement by former Arizona Gov. Bruce Babbitt, a presidential candidate this year.

Other contenders include Rick Wiener, the outgoing Democratic chairman of Michigan, and former Rep. Michael Barnes of Maryland.

Brown has claimed that he already has about 120 votes on the national committee, which will choose Kirk's successor in February, and Jones said Wednesday he believed

Continental flight attendants okay temporary work stoppage

United Press International

HOUSTON — A union representing Continental Airlines' flight attendants said Wednesday its members have voted for a temporary work stoppage, but labor officials said they would delay a strike until after the Christmas holidays.

"Continental flight attendants have been voting on a strike ballot to call a work stoppage in response to the fact that the company has not provided them with a contract in five years," said Carla Winkler, president of the Union of Flight Attendants.

But union officials, as a show of good faith that they are willing to continue bargaining, decided against a stoppage during the holiday travel season, she said.

"We will be doing everything we possibly can to work out our differences with Continental," she said.

Winkler said the union was encouraged Continental negotiators Tuesday asked for more time to work out a new contract, noting the recent appointment of Joseph Corr as Continental's new chief executive officer. He replaced Frank Lorenzo, who disbanded Continental's unions when he took over the airline in 1983 and has a reputation as a union buster.

Continental spokesman Ned Walker said the company was pleased with the word of the delay.

"Clearly, the union recognizes that the public is not sympathetic to any type of job action that would impact public travel, especially during the holiday season," he said. "We're pleased to see that there will be no effort at all to try to disrupt travel plans. Had there been, we were prepared to operate every single flight."

Walker said the company will implement its planned wage and benefits package Jan. 1, which includes immediate pay increases of $1.02 or $4.25 per hour depending on job experience.

The union issued ballots to all 5,600 Continental flight attendants and received back 79 percent. Eighty percent of the returned ballots favored a work stoppage while 20 percent were against it.

Of the 5,600 flight attendants, 60 to 70 percent are union members.

She said the union would give Continental "the next few weeks" to pursue further talks.

The union has proposed a wage increase of 5 percent spread over three years for its lowest paid employees and about 35 percent over the same period for senior flight attendants. The pay increase is weighted to the longer working employees because they currently receive no pay raises after five years with Continental.

The top salary for Continental flight attendants now ranges from $11,000 to $15,000 a year, Winkler said. She said those figures were 35 to 40 percent below flight attendant wages at other airlines.

"We work twice as many hours as everyone else to make half the pay," she said.

"I think the threat of a work stoppage has induced them to think whether it wouldn't be more advantageous to sit down and work this out, rather than have a work stoppage," Winkler said.

"We're confident if we call a work stoppage, it would cause a disruption."

The union has been doing informational picketing in some areas of the country.

Health workers subject to drug tests

United Press International

WASHINGTON — Health Secretary Otis Bowen, stressing the need for his department to "take the initiative to deter illegal drug use," said Wednesday his successor and 8,600 employees will be subject to random drug tests.

"The decision to go forward with random testing was made only after months of careful review and consideration of privacy concerns of our employees," said Bowen in a memorandum to the 118,000 employees of the Health and Human Services Department.

Bowen's "Drug Free Workplace Plan" names 80 job categories subject to random testing, affecting about 8,600 people or about 7 percent of the workforce.

The secretary said the majority of the positions subject to random testing are in health care and medical research, including those providing direct patient care or handling hazardous or sensitive materials. Jobs in security and in operating potentially hazardous equipment also are included.

Because of the sensitivity of his own job, Bowen said the secretary, undersecretary and senior staff members also are subject to random testing.

Random testing may begin 60 days after Wednesday's notice, although final preparations are expected to require additional time — thus Bowen himself will not be subject to the testing since he has said he will leave office with the Reagan administration Jan. 20.

This department as the nation's leader in drug abuse prevention, education, research and treatment, should take the initiative to deter illegal drug use and to assist in the rehabilitation of drug-using employees," said Bowen in the memorandum.

"Our intent is to offer assistance to those who need it while sending a clear message that illegal drug use is incompatible with employment" at the department, he said.

Under the plan, a notice specifically advising of the random urinalysis for marijuana and cocaine use must be provided to a subject employee at least 30 days beforehand. The department initially will carry out annual testing of at least 10 percent of all the designated positions.

Bowen said drug tests also will be administered to persons applying for designated positions or who are under suspicion of drug use.

Bowen and other key health officials drafted the drug testing procedures for President Reagan's Sept. 15, 1986, executive order that requires all federal agencies to have drug testing plans that meet stringent technical requirements to guard against cheating — including restroom monitors, blue dye in toilet water and prompt urine-temperature checks.

The department's own plan provides for review of any positive test result to determine whether the result is caused by factors other than illegal drug use, such as prescription drugs

Teen cleaning magnate Minkow convicted of fraud, conspiracy

United Press International

LOS ANGELES — Harry Minkow, who became a national celebrity as a teenage carpet-cleaning magnate, was convicted Wednesday of masterminding a complex securities fraud that bilked banks and investors out of at least $26 million.

A federal court jury found Minkow, 22, guilty of all 57 counts of conspiracy and fraud for constructing a convincing lie that ZZZZ Best, the company he founded at age 16 in his parents' garage, made millions performing insurance restoration work on damaged offices.

The jury reached its verdict after four days of deliberations and 3 1/2 months of trial.

Minkow, clad in gray trousers and a gray and white sweater, showed no emotion as the verdict was read. U.S. marshals later took him away in handcuffs and would not permit him to speak with reporters.

He faces up to 403 years in prison and $14 million in fines when he is sentenced by U.S. District Judge Dickran Tevzorian on Feb. 21.

A source close to the case said Minkow, over the objections of his lawyer, wanted to plead guilty during the jury's deliberations because he said a "spiritual counselor" told him God would never forgive him if he did not plead guilty. But the jury returned a verdict before plea negotiations could be completed.

Minkow used his bogus restoration work to obtain at least $26 million in loans and public stock offerings. Minkow, whose firm collapsed in bankruptcy in July 1987 amid allegations of massive deceit, said he carried out the scheme because competing Mafia members and associates beat him and threatened his life.

Prosecutors said the scheme was the biggest white collar fraud committed on the West Coast in the last decade. They said Minkow, who once boasted on the "Oprah Winfrey Show" that he could "sell frozen yogurt in a blizzard," was a consummate con man who used smooth talk and tremendous confidence to lure people into his schemes.

Ten other men have pleaded guilty in the ZZZZ Best case. On trial with Minkow was accountant Norman Rothberg, 52, of Marina del Rey, who is charged with taking a $25,000 bribe to recant after he revealed to investigators that the restoration jobs were phony. Jurors were still deliberating on those charges.

Minkow's lawyer, David Kenner, said he would appeal because the judge's rulings excluding key parts of Minkow's "duress" defense clearly hurt his case. The only proof he was allowed to present that Minkow was threatened and beaten by loan sharks and mobsters was Minkow's 11 days of testimony, he said.

Assistant U.S. Attorney James Asperger said he could not comment at length because the jury was still deliberating against Rothberg. But he said he and co-prosecutor Gordon Greenberg were "very pleased" with the verdict.

Minkow described himself as the "trained puppy" of mobsters, saying he began a life of crime while still in high school to avoid beatings and to keep up payments on extortionate loans that made ZZZZ Best look like a whopping success.

IN BRIEF

HOCKEY

Jets outlast Sabres, 4-3

One second. One more stolen pass or deflected shot. One more tick of the clock. But the Buffalo Sabres failed to come up with the extra move Wednesday night and fell to defeat.

Andrew McBain tucked a shot between the legs of Buffalo goaltender Jacques Cloutier with one second left, lifting the Winnipeg Jets to a 4-3 victory over the Sabres.

"That's a tough one to lose. One tick away and we get a break like that," Buffalo Coach Ted Sator said. "It seems that if we didn't have bad luck, we wouldn't have any luck. We played well, more than well enough to win, but that doesn't translate into any points."

McBain's game-winner came during a scramble in the corner, where Dale Hawerchuk won control and fired the puck out of the pack.

FOOTBALL

Dooley resigns at Georgia

ATHENS, Ga. — Vince Dooley resigned Wednesday as head football coach at the University of Georgia after 25 years and 200 victories, citing a desire to pursue other interests but declining to be specific although it is believed he plans to run for governor in 1990.

Dooley said he will step down as coach Jan. 2, the day after the Bulldogs play Michigan State in the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla., but will remain in his co-post of athletics director until a replacement is found, possibly until Feb. 8.

University President Charles Knapp said he accepted Dooley's resignation "with deep regret." He announced an eight-member committee to find a new coach and said as soon as that post is filled, another committee would be seek a new athletics director.

"There is a sense of urgency in filling the coaching position," Knapp said. "But it is more important to make the right choice."

FSU outlasts South Alabama

TALLAHASSEE — George McCloud scored 30 points Wednesday night and No. 12 Florida State relied on a late 10-1 run to down South Alabama 87-82.

South Alabama, 3-3, took its first lead of the game, 50-49, on Junie Lewis' 6-footer with 14:54 to play. Neil Smith converted a layup with 4:17 left to give the Jaguars their biggest edge, 75-71.

The Seminoles, 5-0, responded with their 10-1 run, completed by two free throws by McCloud with 1:37 to go. That provided Florida State an 81-76 advantage.

McCloud was 5 of 7 from 3-point range and sank all 7 of his free throws. Tony Dawson contributed 25 points for the Seminoles.

Jeff Hodge scored 21 points for South Alabama and Lewis had 20. Gabriel Estaba and John Jimmerson chipped in 14 points each.

Clippers feel the Heat, 89-88

United Press International

LOS ANGELES — After 17 losses and 5 1/2 weeks of the regular season gone, it can finally be said: The Miami Heat is hot.

Miami halted its record season-opening string of futility Wednesday night when Rory Sparrow hit a jumper with 89 seconds to play, then forced Norm Nixon to misfire with one second remaining in an 89-88 victory over the Los Angeles Clippers.

"Ah, it was easy," Miami's Ron Rothstein deadpanned after his first victory as an NBA coach.

"Our biggest problem this season has been lapses in concentration. You get that with young players. But tonight was our best job wire to wire in terms of concentration."

Sparrow's jumper from the foul line produced an 89-86 lead, and Miami survived to improve to 1-17.

SHS tops Deltona, 69-60

Strong first half carries 'Noles

By MARK BLYTHE
Herald sports writer

SANFORD — Seminole High's boys basketball team came up with a solid first half effort and held off a strong comeback by Deltona to claim a 69-60 victory Wednesday night before 301 fans at Seminole's Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnasium.

Seminole improved to 2-5 and will return to action at home against Lake Howell on Friday in its opening game in the Seminole Athletic Conference. Deltona dropped to 0-6 on the season.

"We played good defense in the first quarter but kept throwing the ball away," Seminole coach Greg Robinson said. "We could have been up 20-5 but we couldn't convert. Then we started to play as individuals in the second half and we eased up on defense. Deltona did a good job of coming back and had a chance to make things very interesting at one point."

The 'Noles scored the first six points of the game as they came out and dominated the boards. Robert Moore opened the game with a rebound and a stick back followed by two Bernard Eady hoops that gave Seminole a 6-0 lead with 3:27 to play in the quarter.

Mike Navarra put the Wolves on the scoreboard when he connected on a free throw. Earl Williams followed with a layup before Deltona reeled off four straight points to trim the lead to 8-5. The teams then traded hoops as Seminole claimed a 12-7 lead at the end of the first eight minutes.

Seminole broke the game open in the second quarter when it outscored the Wolves 24-12 in the second quarter to build a 36-19 halftime advantage. The Tribe opened the quarter with a five point run to take a 17-7 lead before Deltona's Brian Newcome, who scored a game-high 25 points, then hit a layup followed by four Seminole points that increased the lead to 21-9 with 6:00 minutes in the half.

The 'Noles continued to overpower the smaller and slower Deltona team and took command with a 15 point bulge at the intermission.

Seminole placed four players in double digits led by Brandon Cash's 14. Bernard Eady netted 13 with Moore and Von Eric Small contributing 10 as Williams and Kerry Wiggins chipped in eight each. Behind Newcome for the Wolves was sophomore sensation Darrington Overstreet who scored 18, 16 in the second half, with Kris Travers chipping in seven.

Lady Rams upend Howell

By CHRIS FISTER
Herald sports editor

LAKE MARY — With the loss of several defensive starters to graduation, Lake Mary coach Bill Eiselle was singing the blues prior to the 1988-89 season. Nine victories and seven shutouts later, however, he can only sing in praise when speaking of the Lady Rams' defensive unit.

With Tammy Scott playing a tremendous game in goal, the defense held a very talented Lake Howell team scoreless Wednesday night and Crissie Snow's first half goal gave Lake Mary a 1-0 Seminole Athletic Conference victory before 121 fans at Don T. Reynolds Stadium.

"I can't say enough about the defensive performance," Eiselle said. "Defense was the one area we needed to shore up this year and the girls have done an outstanding job so far."

Lake Mary, ranked third in the state in Class 4A, remains the only unbeaten team left in the SAC as the Lady Rams are 9-0 overall and 4-0 in the league. Lake Howell, No. 9 in the state, now stands at 7-1 overall and 3-1 in the SAC.

It was an well-played, even match almost from the outset on Wednesday with both defenses playing well, both goalkeepers making some brilliant saves and both offenses creating some dangerous chances.

The only opportunity that was converted into a goal came 18 minutes into the match. Lake Mary had an indirect free kick from the top of the box and Michelle Mattingly touched the ball to Donna Rohr who blasted a shot around the Lake Howell wall an off the crossbar. The ball bounced in front of the goal where Snow was waiting and she knocked in the rebound for a 1-0 Lake Mary lead.

It was all up to the Lake Mary defense from that moment on and it came through with flying colors. Scott came up with four saves off Lake Howell's eight shots on the night, with three being of the spectacular variety. Also coming through with excellent defensive efforts were Amy Paschoal, Sandy Powell, Jamie Dombchik and Rohr at stopper back.

"I thought Tammy (Scott) had her best match of the season," Eiselle said. "She made 2 or 3 really key saves. She really got tested tonight and she came through for us."

Lake Howell keeper Heather Brann also made several superb saves and she finished with six saves out of Lake Mary's 10 shots. Jessica Cardarelli also turned in a tremendous defensive performance for the Lady Silver Hawks who proved without a doubt Wednesday that they are deserving of a top-ten ranking.

Lake Mary returns to action tonight at home against DeLand while Lake Howell hosts Seminole Friday night. Both teams are gearing up for the Burger King Classic which begins Monday.

SHS wins SAC bowling title

From staff reports

SANFORD — Seminole High needed to put up some big numbers Wednesday if it was to vault into the Seminole Athletic Conference bowling championship. And the 'Noles got what they were looking for as both Chris Bumgarner and David Adams crashed the 600 barrier to give SHS the title.

Bumgarner rolled games of 204, 248 and 211 for a 663 series and Adams delivered games of 225, 246 and 180 to give Seminole a 12-3 victory over Lake Brantley in action at BowlAmerica.

The victory enabled Seminole to finish the season with 100½ points, just edging out Lake Howell (98½) for the title. DeLand finished third at 94½ followed by Lyman (92), Lake Brantley (84½), Lake Mary (84) and Oviedo (76).

While Bumgarner and Adams came through for the 'Noles, Luke Ingerman led the way for Brantley as he had a high game of 211 and a 536 series.

Lake Howell claimed a 10-5 victory over Oviedo with Brian Patterson's 239 game and 590 series leading the way. Lucas Vickers had a 199 game and 536 series for Oviedo.

Rob Craig (221-562) led Lyman to an 8-7 victory over Lake Mary. The Rams were led by Jon Sowle (193-539).

In the nonconference matchup, Deltona downed DeLand. 8-7. Jeff Castell had a 205 game for DeLand while Jeff Wilson (213-594) led Deltona.

In girls action, Oviedo had already wrapped up the SAC title but the Lady Lions went out in style by defeating Lake Howell, 13-2. Tisha Llopiz led Oviedo with a 175 game and 499 series while Ally Nicholson had a 149 game and Tammy Chase a 368 series for Lake Howell.

Oviedo finished the season with 122½ points with Seminole second at 101½ followed by DeLand (96½), Lake Mary (95), Lyman (91½), Lake Brantley (79) and Lake Howell (44½).

Seminole had the high series of the day as Adel Lopez totaled a 563 including a 200 game. Lake Brantley's Staci Fox had the day's high game with a nice 216 and she finished with a 502 series.

Lyman closed the season with a 10-5 win over Lake Mary led by Kim Mackey's 191 game and 529 series. Becky Levine (185-444) led Lake Mary.

In the nonconference match, it was DeLand winning over Deltona, 8-7. Jill Graves (207-513) led DeLand while Tammy Burt (158-430) paced Deltona.

Free-lining good for landing bass

"Free-lining" wild shiners is a very rewarding, but difficult, method of catching huge bass. Free-lining wild shiners requires a great deal of attention because there is no cork to indicate where your shiner is at or to signal a strike. You must rely entirely on your sense of feel to tell you what is happening with your bait.

Shiners can be effectively free-lined in open water or under floating vegetation. Free-lining in open water is deadly when you want your shiner to cover territory and find bass for you. Simply hook a shiner in the back and gently lob cast it in the general direction you wish to fish. Free spool your reel and allow the shiner to pull line directly off the reel as it swims away. You can follow the path of your shiner by simply applying tension to your line, which will bring the bait to the surface. Most strikes will be on the top as bass will usually chase the bait around before actually taking it.

I prefer to use a #1 or a #2 treble hook when free-lining shiners in open water. Strikes can be few and far between, and I want a good shot at the bass when I finally do get a strike.

Free-lining wild shiners under floating is one of the most rewarding, but at the same time the most difficult, method of fishing wild shiners. It can be very frustrating trying to "make" a shiner swim under floating cover—especially when they sense danger.

FISHING
JIM SHUPE

In order to fish floating cover effectively, the angler must anchor 8-12 feet away and gently pitch the shiner head-first to the edge of the vegetation. As soon as the shiner hits the water, free spool line and allow it to swim under the cover. I usually let the shiner swim as far as it wants to go, which is usually 15-20 feet.

This type of fishing requires a great deal of concentration and a keen sense of feel. You can usually detect the presence of a bass near your shiner because the bait will become nervous and swim erratically. The strike will usually be a sharp "tap," followed by the line taking off at a steady clip.

When free-lining shiners under floating vegetation, I prefer to hook the baits above the anal fin. Shiners have a habit of swimming up into the vegetation, and a back-hooked shiner will often become fouled in the cover. I like to use a 4/0 to 8/0 Kahle hook for this type of fishing and match the size of the hook to the size of the shiner.

Astle

for an out of state school. I just wanted to get out of the big city (Orlando)."

At the start of the high school season, every major school in the country thought they had a chance at Astle, but at the end, Astle narrowed his choices to Alabama, Georgia and Penn State. Astle then made the decision to play for the Nittany Lions after traveling to College Park, Pa. over the weekend.

Astle was given the red carpet treatment as he had the opportunity to see the campus, as well as the football team, and came away impressed. Astle also had dinner with Penn State head coach Joe Paterno, and Paterno told of the school's outstanding record of producing linebackers (Jack Ham, Shane Conlan, etc.), as well as providing a top education. When Astle flew back home Sunday night, he made the decision to play for "Linebacker U."

Gordon Astle, Greg's father said, "The decision for Greg to play was his own, we didn't (the family) put any pressure on him. We're very happy that he is going to one of the finest football programs in the country in Penn State, and I know that my son will do well for coach Paterno. He's a great coach, and he's coming down to the Central Florida area during the Christmas Holidays, so we're going to have the opportunity to meet him for the first time. It's going to be a great honor."

Astle also said that he would be given an opportunity for a starting linebacker spot for the Lions, who suffered through a 5-6 record this season (1988) the first in Paterno's 23 years as a head coach there.

Lake Howell head coach Mike Bisceglia said of Astle, "When you mention the word Greg Astle, it's quality. Quality person, leader, player, as well as impact player of the highest order. He isn't the best, or smartest player I've ever coached in my 22 years, but he's close to the top of my list. Most of all, Greg's a winner."

Hornets sink free throws, Brantley

By TONY DeBORMIER
Herald sports writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Just when it seemed everything was going to come apart at the seams, Longwood's John Guemple pulled it all together.

A senior co-captain for Bishop Moore, Guemple was perfect on his eight free throws and made his one field goal attempt, scoring 10 points in the fourth quarter of the Hornets' 49-47 win over Lake Brantley Wednesday night.

The win boosted Bishop Moore to 4-2 while the Lake Brantley Patriots saw their record evened at 3-3. In the junior varsity preliminary game, Lake Brantley posted a 59-31 win.

"He's our leader," said Bishop Moore coach Vern Hair. "He leads and we win."

Guemple ended up leading all scorers with 18 points. Owen Busch, with 17 points, was the only other Hornet in double figures. Bo Pamplin had 13 points and Trey White added 11 for Lake Brantley.

Despite shooting just 30 percent from the field, the Patriots had a 12-7 lead after one quarter and an 18-16 advantage at the half. Lake Brantley stretched it to four points at 5:14 of the third quarter on a pair of free throws by Pamplin, but Bishop Moore went on a 12-4 run to take a 30-26 lead going into the final period.

Then it was time for Guemple to take over.

He built the Hornets' lead to eight points by scoring the first four points of the fourth quarter. Lake Brantley cut it to three, but Guemple and Dave Zimmerman, who is also from Longwood, each hit a pair of free throws to extend Bishop Moore's advantage to seven.

That's the way it went, right down to the wire. The Hornets would build a lead, then the Patriots would work their way back. With 29 seconds to play, Busch hit a pair of free throws to put Bishop Moore back up by eight, but Lake Brantley managed one last rally.

First, Matt Tunney hit a free throw to make the score 49-42 with :24 to play. White's three-pointer at :19 made it 49-45. Tunney threw in a field goal with six seconds left, making the score 49-47, but the Hornets rebounded the ball to Guemple and he held the ball until time expired.

"We find ways to keep them in the ball game," said Hair. "But we're young. It wasn't until the second half that we finally started moving and playing like we're capable of."

"If we can keep improving on this, then we'll be all right. Let me tell you, this is a good win for us. Lake Brantley is a heck of a team."

Abandoned by their shooting touch, what the Patriots did exhibit was a lot of heart against the bigger and deeper Hornets. Pamplin, the Patriot center, pulled down a game-high 10 rebounds and blocked four shots despite being outnumbered by Bishop Moore's big men.

But when the shots wouldn't fall, the tough effort was all but wasted.

"They played hard, but when you shoot 30 percent from the field for the game, you can't win games," said Frank Gooch, the Lake Brantley assistant coach.

"It was another close game. We played them at their place the last time and it went into overtime. Tonight, they hit the free throws and we didn't."

According to Hair, it was something for which the Hornets were prepared.

"That's one thing we work on," said Hair. "Every day, they have to shoot 100 free throws before they leave the gym. I'm a big believer that free throws win games and we work at it. They know it and they do a heck of a job at it."

The work paid off on Wednesday night. In the final eight minutes, the Hornets were 14-for-19 (78 percent) after making just 3 of 9 in the first three quarters. By comparison, Lake Brantley was 4-for-11 for the whole game.

"That means you can play a controlled ball game and that you should win," said Hair.

Crafty Fox leads Lady Pats over SHS

By CHRIS FISTER
Herald sports editor

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Staci Fox has been on a roll in more ways than one in 1988.

The talented Lake Brantley High sophomore is knocking down pins and racking up goals at an impressive pace. Wednesday afternoon, Fox rolled a high game of 216 in Seminole Athletic Conference bowling action, and she then shifted to the soccer field and knocked in three goals in the Lady Patriots' 4-1 SAC victory over Seminole High.

Lake Brantley, ranked eighth in the state in Class 4A, improved to 8-2-1 overall and 3-1 in conference play. Seminole now stands at 4-5 overall and 1-4 in the SAC.

With the hat trick, Fox ran her season total to 16 goals, tops among Seminole County performers. And the Lady Patriots needed all of Fox's fury Wednesday as they were without three injured defensive starters while Seminole, as always, played its heart out until the end.

"Seminole plays the beat they can at all times," Lake Brantley coach Wolfgang Halbig said. "They never stop trying. I wish we could do that all the time. We were pretty flat tonight."

Fox broke up a scoreless tie 11 minutes into the match when she scored on an assist from Beth Schaefer. Seminole then put a scare into the Patriots as it got a beautiful goal from Melissa Shuckman on a 30-yard shot to tie the score at 1-1.

Lake Brantley would regain the lead with 12 minutes left in the half when Fox scored her second goal off an assist from Karen Kopp. Brantley then added a pair of insurance goals in the second half, one from Schaefer off Jennifer McMaster's assist and Fox completed her hat trick to make the final 4-1.

"We made a couple of mistakes on the first two goals," Seminole coach Suzy Reno said. "We weren't looking for her (Fox) and you have to keep your eye on her because she's a very good player. But I can't be disappointed with the way we played. We really gave them a scare there for a while."

Seminole was led on defense by goalkeeper Bobbie Osborne who came up with 18 saves while Amy Williams, Mary Vezina, Julia Robert, Shannon Sundvall and Heather Brown all played well for the Lady Noles.

Creek downs Lyman

From staff reports

LONGWOOD — Lyman's Lady Greyhounds stayed right with Spruce Creek's Lady Hawks for most of the game, but the Lady Hawks went on a late scoring surge and pulled out a 62-49 victory Wednesday night at Lyman High.

Lyman, 1-7 on the season, looks to get on the winning track Friday when it hosts Oviedo's Lady Lions.

"We were in the ballgame the whole way but made some crucial mistakes near the end," Lyman coach Lisa Carlson said. "We had some good performances but it hurt us to be without our point guard (injured Sage Morris-Webster)."

The main reason Lyman kept the game close was center Dana Garrett who poured in a career-high 20 points, pulled down eight rebounds and made four steals. Jennifer Kruger also played well for Lyman as she contributed 13 points.

Lisa Hughes ended up being the difference for Spruce Creek as she scored almost at will in the fourth quarter and wound up with a game-high 20 points.

The Creek had a 26-22 lead at the half and led by only five, 41-36, going into the fourth quarter. Lyman kept it close until the last few minutes when Spruce Creek pulled away.

SPRUCE CREEK (62) — Peterson 15, Barnes 5, Hughes 20, Carrino 5, King 4, Hagan 11. Totals: 27 18 28 62.

LYMAN (49) — Kruger 15, Clarke 5, Colley 4, Garrett 20, Williams 1, Maxwell 4. Totals: 28 18 48 49.

Halftime — Spruce Creek 26, Lyman 22. Fouls — Spruce Creek 14, Lyman 17. Fouled out — Barnes, Clarke, Colley. Three-point goals — None.

Oviedo sticks Seminole — Greyhounds triumph

By CHUCK BURGESS
Herald correspondent

OVIDEO — The Seminole grapplers traveled to Oviedo Wednesday night and found that their dreams of a victory turned into a nightmare as the Lions pounded out five straight pins to start the match and pulled out a 45-31 win over the visiting 'Noles at the Lion's Den in front of 201 fans.

With the hard fought victory, the Lions improved their season record to 3-1 and host Edgewater on Friday while the Tribe dropped to 3-2 on the year.

"It was like looking into a nightmare out there tonight," a disgruntled Seminole coach Glen Maiolini said. "Some of our kids made some real big mistakes tonight. Our young kids killed us early, but we wrestled like a bunch of beginners tonight. We didn't wrestle anything like we did last night (against Lake Howell)."

Nathan Prior took the initiative in the first match as he completely dominated Seminole's Dan Misuraca. Prior had a flurry of takedowns and backpins in the first two-minute period to build a 10-2 lead after one. Then after another takedown in the early part of the second period, Prior got Misuraca on his back and pinned him at the 3:14 mark.

"Nathan Prior did an outstanding job for us tonight," Oviedo mentor Mark Geary said. "He set the tone for the whole match. That was his first win and his first pin of the season, so it was a big win for us all."

George Cook kept the pin streak going at 1:12 as he took Darin Cramlet for a loop and a quick pin at 1:40. Before the pin, Cramlet was leading in the match 2-1, but was caught in the middle of a move before succumbing to a cradle.

At 1:19, Kevin Newton came back from a 5-4 first period deficit to pin Corey Bennett in 3:14 and the Lions' Matt Price came back from being down 6-1 after two periods to pin Ryan Valerino in 4:31. Ken Schrupp ended the pinning barrage at 1:30 with a pin of Tom Brendle at 2:59, giving the Lions an insurmountable 30-0 lead.

"The whole team wrestled aggressive tonight," Geary said. "Of course it doesn't hurt being up 30-0 after five matches. I thought Seminole was a tough team, but I thought they would be a little tougher after manhandling Lake Howell last night. There was a couple of matches that could have gone either way and that could have turned things right around."

Seminole's Larry Nathan stopped the Oviedo romp with a major decision over Jim Vela, 18-2, but Paul Isaacson of Oviedo came right back with a pin over Trent Schake in 2:49. However, the meat of the Seminole lineup was due up and they came through to put the 'Noles back in the match.

DEHELPS GREYHOUNDS

CASSELLBERRY — The Lyman Greyhounds (3-1), helped by a key disqualification in the 230 pound class, defeated the Lake Howell Silver Hawks (1-4), 38-28 Wednesday night in a Seminole Athletic Conference wrestling match before 71 fans of the Lake Howell gym.

"It was a fine win for us tonight," said Lyman coach Jeff Hays. "After we played last this past weekend in the Lyman Christmas Tournament, we needed a good solid effort, and we got it tonight. It was a hard fought match that could have gone either way, and we had a little luck tonight."

In the 103 class, Lyman's Paul Ailly and Larry White of Lake Howell started the match in fine fashion with a 1:11 draw in which both had their chances for a pin. That set the tempo of the entire match, as neither would yield until the other team away, and going into the 171 weight class, the 'Hounds were leading by just two points, 20-24.

Then the match really began to heat up with Lyman's Steve Calligari pinning Lake Howell's Robert Tertoff at 1:22 with a quick counter move that enabled Calligari to tie him up nicely by the pin. At 1:09, Howell's Ken Times pinned Ken Moore in only 53 seconds and that gave the Silver Hawks a 30-30 lead.

Then came the match with Lake Howell's Jason Rosenblatt and Lyman's Chris Morrison at the 238 class. And both wrestlers went all out in the early seconds of the match, with Rosenblatt taking a 3-1 lead on a reversal of the 44 second mark.

"This was by far our best performance and we learned a lot tonight," Deltona coach Jesse Grove said. "If we keep our heads up we'll be fine, we've played a tough schedule so far but I think if our attitudes are good we'll turn things around later in the year."

The two teams played step for step in the third quarter with Deltona scoring layups off the Seminole press or being fouled and connecting from the line. Seminole's inside game continued to dominate with Moore and Small each scoring six points in the quarter.

Every time Seminole went up by 15 or more points Darrington and Newcome would bring the Wolves to within striking distance. Seminole, though, went on a run late in the quarter, led by a Moore bucket and a Cash layup with John Hendricks adding two free throws to up the lead to 52-34 after three periods.

The Tribe took its biggest lead of the night, 54-34, with 7:37 to play when Cash came up with a steal and a layup. Deltona, though, scored nine consecutive points to force Seminole to call a time out. Darrington opened the run with an acrobatic layup around Moore followed by two Newcome free throws. Tony Niemesh then connected on a short jumper before Darrington connected on a three point play to trim the lead to 54-43 with 5:49 to play.

Seminole then came up with a strong offensive possession as it pulled down to offensive rebounds before Moore put down a layup. Williams then came up with a steal and fed Cash for a slam with 5:15 to play to up the lead to 58-43.

"When the kid dunked the ball the rest of the team thought the game was over," Robinson said. "They thought Deltona would quit because we got a dunk, but they kept coming at us. We really played poorly in the second half."

The teams then traded hoops before Trovero picked up an offensive rebound for the Wolves and connected on a layup. Dee Boucy then came up with a steal and was fouled and hit one of two free throws to narrow the lead to 60-48 with 3:33 to play.

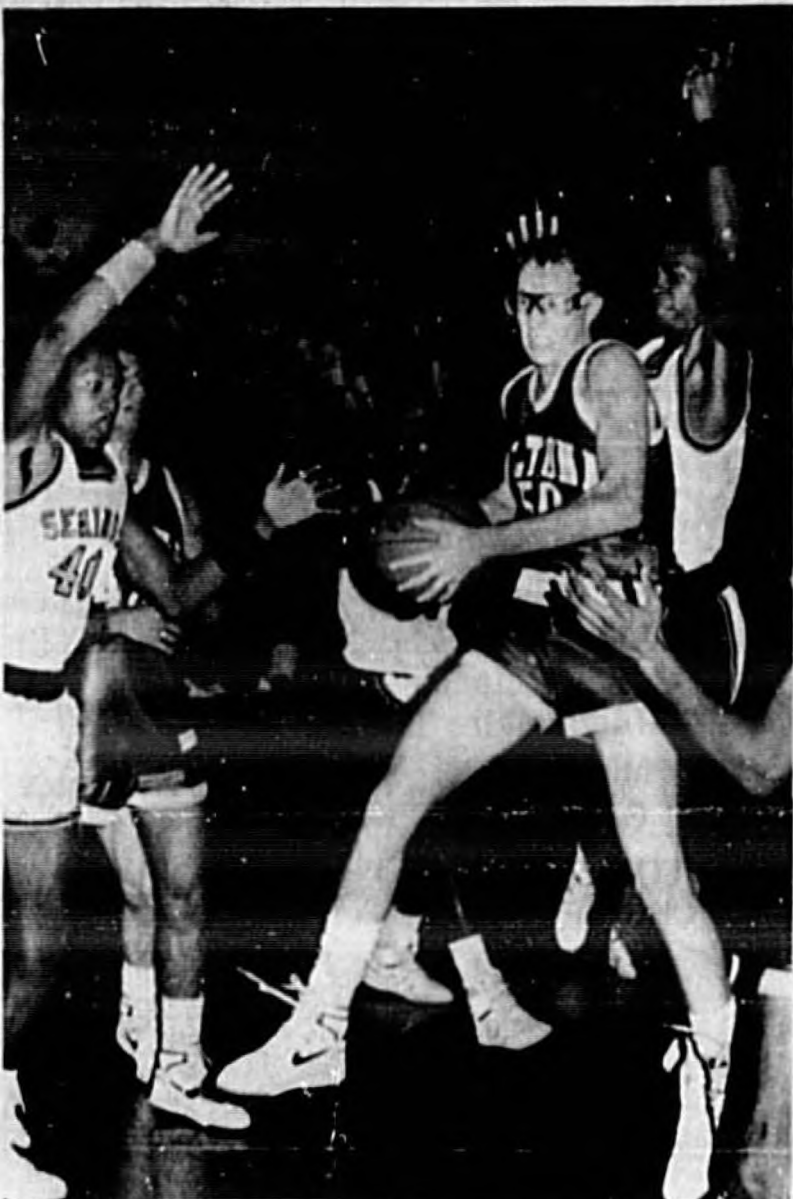

After a Seminole free throw Deltona came up with a bucket and free throw to pull within 10, 61-51, with 2:55 to play. Cash then drilled a jumper before Deltona's Trovero hit a jumper followed by three Darrington free throws that trimmed the lead to 63-56 with 1:35 to play.

Williams then hit a pair of big free throws to extend the lead to 65-57 with 1:13 to play followed by one free throw by Eady. Seminole then traded free throws for field goals by Deltona with Williams hitting the final point of the night with one second to play.

DELTONA (61) — Boucy 1, Trovero 7, Niemesh 6, Navarra 3, Newcome 25, Overstreet 18, Torres 8, Bull 8. Totals: 21 17 29 61.

SEMINOLE (49) — Williams 8, Eady 12, Moore 10, Small 10, Cash 14, Wiggins 8, Hendricks 2, Roberts 4, Technoff 0. Totals: 29 11 17 49.

Halftime — Seminole 26, Deltona 19. Fouls — Deltona 15, Seminole 24. Technicals — none. Fouled out — none. 3-point field goals — Deltona 1 (Newcome). Records — Deltona 0-0; Seminole 2-5.

Lyman rallies for tie

LONGWOOD — After missing 40 consecutive shots against DeLand on Friday and being held scoreless for 70 minutes on Wednesday, Lyman's Lady Greyhounds needed someone to jump start their struggling offense. So coach Laura Rountree had sweeper back Julia Callarman push forward and she gave Lyman just the spark it was looking for.

Callarman scored one goal and assisted on another as Lyman rallied from a 2-0 deficit and came away with a 2-2 tie against Winter Park's Lady Wildcats in nonconference action at Lyman High.

Lyman, 2-3-2 overall, returns to Seminole Athletic Conference action Friday at Oviedo, then goes to Orlando Dr. Phillips on Saturday. Winter Park now stands at 6-1-1.

Winter Park took a 1-0

halftime lead Wednesday when Kathy Anderson scored off an assist from Handy Blanton. Blanton's second assist, on a goal by Erin Gray, gave the Lady Wildcats a 2-0 lead early in the second half.

Lyman finally broke out of its offensive slump with 10 minutes left to play when Callarman headed in a corner kick from Tracy Sher. Then, with five minutes remaining, Christina Musante took a throw in and passed to Callarman who slipped the ball to freshman Anne Brewer and she put in the first goal of her career to tie the score.

The Lady Greyhounds took 17 shots on goal compared to 13 for Winter Park. Lyman goalkeeper Becky Carr made seven saves and the Lady Greyhounds also received a superb performance from midfielder Kerry Musante. Winter Park goalkeeper Michelle Brown had a nice night with nine saves.

RAM FRESHMEN WIN

Lake Mary's freshman remained undefeated Wednesday night when it defeated DeLand 70-51 in a Seminole Athletic Conference matchup at Lake Mary.

Sean Washington led all scorers with 21 points with teammate Alonzo Brundidge adding 20 as Brian Grayb chipped in seven. Jamie Ross led DeLand with 20 points as Russell Steed netted 12.

Unique gift ideas abound in the area

By GLORIA BUCCO
Herald correspondent

SANFORD — Is the hustle and bustle of holiday shopping getting you down? Can't decide what to buy hubby, Uncle Calvin, or Granny? Wish it were Dec. 26?

Here are several gift ideas for that last-minute buying spree. They range in price from an $8,400 wedding ring to a $1.28 rice bowl. All can be bought in Sanford and have been specially selected for the person on your list who has everything.

Your sweetheart has been hunting for several months for something sparkling and small. Something that perhaps might fit on her finger. Friedman's Jewelers in Wal-Mart Plaza has a ring that will delight her. It is a round one-carat diamond solitaire surrounded by 18 smaller diamonds and nine baguette diamonds. The center stone is of investment quality and comes with appraisal papers, said Todd Sunderland, store manager.

"This is one of the most elegant pieces we have," Sunderland said. The diamond is set in 14-karat gold and retails for $8,400.

Want to get married but you're not sure of the ramifications? According to Clint Rhodes, owner of Freeland and Co. Book Shop on First Street in downtown Sanford, Louis Grizzard's latest book, "Don't Hend Over the Potato Patch Granny. Them Taters Have Eyes" is this season's runaway best seller. The book concerns Grizzard's courtships and marriages.

"He calls it his sex book," Rhodes said as a caution.

Smart ideas for gifts include, from top left clockwise, the table-topping totem "Christmas in America," hand-painted porcelain vases, and a circular, soft Papasan chair.

These graduates give free gardening info

SANFORD — On Dec. 7, the Seminole County Cooperative Extension Service (IFAS) graduated 14 Master Gardeners who are now ready to help Urban Horticulturist Celeste White answer homeowners' questions regarding lawns, vegetables, flowers, houseplants, trees, shrubs, fruits, citrus, and just about anything that creates a problem in the home landscape.

Master Gardeners receive approximately 50 hours of basic horticultural training covering most areas of home horticulture. They, in turn, volunteer the 50 hours back by answering phone calls, helping with diagnostics at plant clinics, performing soil tests, helping with garden club and civic group presentations and projects, and work with 4-H and youth.

On Mondays and Thursdays from 9 a.m. until noon, Master Gardeners perform soil tests at $1 for each of the two recommended tests. Soil for testing may be brought to the Agricultural Center on Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

A plant clinic—a free service in which Master Gardeners will diagnose unhealthy or dying plants or grass—is offered every Monday morning from 9 a.m. until noon.

Master Gardeners are available for phone questions on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday mornings and Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons.

The fall 1988 Master Gardeners graduates are: Richard Sansone, Jorge Usera, Ann Brisson, Joan Norton, and Elizabeth Derr, all of Sanford; Sylvia Johns of Geneva; Benton Ellis of Orlando; Tom Chitty of Chuluota; Donna Teague and Janet Zanni, both of Casselberry; Sarah Hill of Longwood; and Mary Ann Tolen, Joan Bristol and Oliver Burkhalter, all of Winter Springs.

For more information about the Master Gardener program or for an application for the fall 1989 training session, one may call Celeste White at 323-2500, ext. 181, or drop by the Agricultural Center at 250 W. County Home Road, across from Flea World off U.S. Highway 17-92.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

When East doubled one heart, he was saying to his partner, "I have four spades and probably four clubs, and I think we can make a part-score someplace, but I want you to decide." Those partnerships that use the negative double at low levels don't give up the ability to punish the opponents for foolish overcalls. When you open the bidding and your partner passes an opponent's overcall, you are usually expected to reopen the bidding with a takeout double. Partner can convert that to a penalty double if he wishes to do so.

This time, although East announced a holding of four spades, North and South managed to get into a part-score contract in that suit. The hand is rather dull, but there is one very valid point. Declarer might try to maximize the total of his tricks via a crossruff. If that is the case, the best defense is to cut down on the number of ruffing tricks by leading a trump. Sure enough, an opening trump lead holds declarer to his contract. Without a trump lead, South would simply cash his two red aces and then crossruff, taking four trump tricks in each hand for 10 tricks. Even if the North hand contains only three spades and South has a five-card suit, it's certain that North will be short in either diamonds or clubs, and an opening trump lead will cut down on ruffing tricks in dummy.

James Jacoby's books "Jacoby on Bridge" and "Jacoby on Card Games" (written with his father, the late Oswald Jacoby) are now available at bookstores. (C)1988, NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

Therapy, drugs can relieve scaly scalp

DEAR DR. GOTT: I am one of those seniors plagued with psoriasis. It's mainly in my scalp and seems to build up overnight. Can you suggest any relief?

DEAR READER: Psoriasis is a chronic skin disease of unknown cause, characterized by scaling patches of various sizes. Lubricants, cortisone cream and shampoo have been used for years to treat psoriasis, with inconsistent results.

Recently, three new treatments show promise. Methotrexate, a drug that interferes with the rapid proliferation of skin cells, aids some patients. It is taken orally. The medicine is dangerous and can cause liver damage.

Psoralens and ultraviolet A light, or PUVA, therapy is generally successful. A psoralen drug called methoxsalen is given orally; this is followed by exposure of the affected skin to ultraviolet light. The doses of the drug and the light must be carefully adjusted to the individual. Remissions may last several months. However, a very serious drawback is that some people are apt to develop skin cancer from the UV light exposure.

Isotretinoin (Accutane) given orally is often highly effective in treating psoriasis. However, the substance is extremely toxic to unborn children; pregnant women must not use it.

Because treatment methods vary, all patients with psoriasis should be under the care of dermatologists. You can obtain appropriate care from such a skin specialist.

For more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Eczema and Psoriasis." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

MEDICINE

PETER GOTT, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Our young daughter has been having problems at home and school, bizarre behavior and inappropriate remarks. Could she have Tourette's syndrome?

DEAR READER: Tourette's syndrome is a poorly understood genetic disease that begins in childhood. It is marked by random tics (muscular movements), compulsive utterances (often "foul words") and behavioral abnormalities. Your daughter could have this disease. She might also have other conditions.

For example, many forms of emotional ailments are characterized by bizarre behavior and inappropriate remarks.

Also, certain seizure disorders can produce these symptoms.

I urge you to have your daughter examined by a physician. Once a diagnosis has been established, she can begin treatment.

For more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Tourette's Syndrome." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Resolve to give blood before 1989

ORLANDO — The Central Florida Blood Bank is asking for the gift of good health at Flea World's New Year's weekend community blood drive.

Everyone who rolls up their sleeves to donate blood will receive a free Flea World T-shirt or free admission to Flea World Zoo.

A Central Florida Blood Bank mobile unit will be at Flea World, located on U.S. Highway 17-92 in Sanford, on Friday, Dec. 30, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. and Saturday, Dec. 31, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

"New Year's weekend is particularly bad for increased accidents and emergencies," said Lori Van Senoy, communications manager at Central Florida Blood Bank. "In addition, immediately after the holiday, there is an increase in previously postponed elective surgery."

For more information on donating blood, call 849-6100.

Contract keeps parents' young driver accountable

DEAR ABBY: Being the parents of a 16-year-old who has just passed his driver's license examination, we feel that other parents, such as we, are apprehensive about our child's newly found freedom, and perhaps would like to ease some of the anxiety by drawing up a contract as we did, as a reminder of the seriousness of this new responsibility. It has worked wonders for us.

DRIVING CONTRACT

I, _____, on this day, do agree to the stipulations stated below rendering me the privilege of driving my parents' car. If, at any time, I violate said agreement, the driving privilege will be forfeited to the extent and degree of violation.

1. Should I get a traffic violation ticket, I agree to pay for the ticket as well as the difference in the insurance premium for as long as the premium is in effect.

2. I agree to pay for damages that I incur not covered by insurance.

3. At NO TIME will I ever drink alcoholic beverages and drive at the same time, nor will there be any liquor or beer in the car at any time.

4. I will never transport more passengers than there are seat belts, and will not drive the car until all passengers have buckled up.

5. I will keep the car that I drive clean, inside and out, and be aware of its needs for gas, oil, etc., plus wax the car once a month.

I have read the above agreement and do sign this in accordance with the rules.

PROUD PARENTS

DEAR ABBY: I would like to comment on a very rude practice that is all too common. It's "breaking" into a line in order to join someone who is farther up in position.

What especially irritate me is for someone to get out of a car near a cafeteria entrance, secure a place in line, then be joined by others after many have gotten in line behind them.

Many times, I have worked all day and want to eat quickly (the reason for patronizing a cafeteria)—only to be pushed back as the "linebreakers" squeeze by.

Recently, someone squeezed in ahead of me in the front of a long line and said, "Excuse

Ironically, most linebreaking occurs after church services on Sunday.

HUNGRY AND IRRITATED IN GEORGIA

DEAR HUNGRY: Your retort to "Excuse me, I'm joining friends" would be hard to top.

HOROSCOPE

By Berace Bede Osoi
YOUR BIRTHDAY
December 16, 1988

Past experiences and involvements will play a big hand in shaping your destiny in the year ahead. Conditions that previously bogged you down will be alleviated and workable approaches will be found.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your overall financial position should be rather strong in this period, yet there will be days when your extravagance will weaken the limb on which you're perched. This could be one of those days. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences which are governing you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today by mailing $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If your attitude is negative today, it will have a depressing effect upon your entire family. Subdue grumbling and look for things to laugh about.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)

Problems in communication are possible today. People with whom you usually get along well might misunderstand you or you might misunderstand them.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) A discussion with a friend may be required today to iron out a matter where you either loaned or borrowed something. Don't let it continue unresolved.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) In career involvements today, be careful not to behave in a manner contrary to what others expect from you. Pledges you make must be fulfilled or it could tarnish your reputation.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Guard against tendencies today to turn trifling issues into something more volatile. If you overreact, others will as well, and the results could be unpleasant.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Try to keep everything on a high level when dealing with friends today, especially if money is involved in some manner. Serious misunderstandings could develop if anyone gets petty.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) It won't be easy to win associates over to your point of view today if they think you are pushing too hard. Ease off and allow everyone freedom of choice.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) This may not be one of your better days for trying to do work that is purely of a mental nature. Mistakes you would normally spot at a glance might slip past you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) The results aren't apt to be favorable today if you demand things of others that you would be reluctant to do yourself. If you're not respectful of your peers, don't expect them to respect you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) It's not so important how many things you start today, what really counts is how many you finish. Don't make more demands on yourself than you can handle.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You'll be an industrious perfectionist today, but this might not be true of people with whom you'll be working. In fact, their involvement could detract from your efforts.

Study: Mice found unreliable for tests

United Press International

LOS ANGELES — Chemical testing of laboratory mice to determine if substances cause cancer in people is time-consuming, expensive and produces unreliable results, a nationwide team of scientists said Wednesday.

"Some substances have been indicted while others have been exonerated based on lifetime rodent bioassays," Lester Lave of Carnegie-Mellon University in Pittsburgh said of experiments in which mice and rats are subjected to high doses of chemicals.

People use about 60,000 chemical compounds worldwide but only 26 listed by the International Agency for Research on Cancer in Lyon, France, show definite evidence of carcinogenicity in humans, the environmental scientist said.

Lave noted that over the years scientists have tested many compounds ranging from detergents and toilet bowl cleaners to underarm deodorant and house paints.

These substances comprise just a fraction of the registered chemical compounds, some of which are harmful, but 800 of those tested on rodents show 65 percent are potentially carcinogenic to people.

Lave and his colleagues at the University of Washington, Seattle, and Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland believe this number is implausibly high, saying the tests do not account for differences between rodent and human physiology.

"Few scientists believe that 65 percent of chemicals in widespread use are carcinogens. Given the high rate of misclassification the direct costs of (the rodent tests) seem unjustified," he said, estimating that it costs about $1 million for a single chemical to be tested in rodents.

"We estimate that no more than 10 percent of chemicals are carcinogenic to humans," he said.

The "lifetime bioassay" is the test that government and industry scientists conduct to see if chemicals used by people cause cancer in animals.

Lave said rodents are subjected to high doses of substances — sometimes before birth — until they are "sacrificed" some two years later and their tissues examined to determine the chemical effects.

This type of experimental framework was used to test the potential carcinogenicity of saccharin in the late 1960s and also was the method employed two years ago by scientists at the University of California who fed colonies of rodents hundreds of pounds of fried hamburger, he said.

The hamburger study suggested consumption of "fast food" hamburgers, like consumption of saccharin, might cause cancer in humans based on the rodent results.

Lave and his colleagues suggest little attention has been paid to species differences between humans and rodents and that substances that cause cancer in rodents may not do so in people.

He reported that his examination of the "information value" of rodent tests in the current issue of the British journal Nature and noted in a telephone interview that scientists sometimes do not know which species of rodent is the best to test.

Salinas announces measures to fight smog

United Press International

MEXICO CITY — President Carlos Salinas de Gortari has announced sweeping measures to combat Mexico City's legendary smog: a thick brown soup rated by ecologists as the world's worst and potentially the most deadly.

Air quality is so poor in the world's most populous city that mere breathing has become a hazardous activity — roughly the equivalent of smoking two packs of cigarettes a day.

In response to warnings by ecologists that many Mexico City residents may die of smog-related ailments this winter, Salinas Wednesday announced restrictions on driving, an extension of school vacations, bans on certain types of incineration and other measures aimed at alleviating the problem.

"There will be people who are opposed to these measures, but this is about protecting the health and well-being of the residents of the Valley of Mexico," Mexico City Mayor Manuel Camacho Solis said following the announcement. "If we just sit back and crossed our arms, we would be committing the worst mistake of all."

Political parties of all stripes have promised to put aside their differences to tackle the problem before the crisis worsens.

On Tuesday, Jose Angel Conchello, a delegate for the conservative National Action Party in the House of Representatives, voiced the desperation felt by many of the city's 20 million residents, saying "Mexico City is a time bomb, and if urgent measures are not introduced this bomb will explode."

In his inauguration speech on Dec. 1, Salinas pledged an all-out war on pollution, saying it was one of the city's worst problems.

"The people's health is in a state of crisis," Salinas said.

The measures announced Wednesday include extending school vacations from Dec. 15 until the beginning of February, restricting the use of private vehicles on days when pollution is particularly bad, and prohibiting the burning of tires and certain chemicals during the winter months.

Other steps include pushing back the beginning of the school day from 8 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. to limit children's exposure to pollution, and full implementation of an auto-emissions testing program announced in August.
