Demo Group May Name Bruce's Successor

BILL WACK
...Democratic
committeeman

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

It's likely that Gov. Bob Graham, a Democrat, will call on a four-member patronage committee in Seminole County for recommendations before appointing a new supervisor of elections in the county.

Camilla Bruce, a Democrat who has held the elected position for the past 31 years since her appointment in November 1951, submitted her resignation to the governor on Dec. 21. The resignation is effective March 1.

Although she did not submit the name of her preferred successor at the time, she has made no secret of the fact that she would like to see her office manager, Sandra Sue Goard, 38, named to the office.

Both Mrs. Bruce and Mrs. Goard were in Tallahassee Tuesday for Graham's inauguration. They were to return to the election supervisor's courthouse annex office later today.

Mrs. Goard has been employed by the county for the past nine years, first in the county commission office from Nov. 1, 1973, until Oct. 1, 1977. On that date she accepted a position with Mrs. Bruce and has since been named office manager of the elections office.

Mrs. Goard, during the past few years, has gradually taken over more and more of the office responsibilities. Mrs. Bruce, 68, said recently that Mrs. Goard now knows more about the election laws than she does.

Marvin Meltzer, chairman of the Seminole County Democratic Party, said it is likely the governor will seek recommendations from a committee composed of himself, Democratic State Committeeman Bill Wack, former state Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr. and John Squires, president of Com-Banks-Seminole County.

Wack and Cleveland jointly headed Graham's re-election committee in Seminole County in 1982 and Squires was the financial chairman of that committee.

Dick Burroughs, an aide in Graham's office, could not be reached for comment today on a possible replacement for Mrs. Bruce.

Meltzer said, however, that two men, one employed in Orange County and the other in Seminole, but neither currently involved in Mrs. Bruce's office, have called him, seeking information on possible appointments.

Mrs. Bruce assumed the office of elections supervisor in 1951, appointed by Gov. Fuller Warren, after the resignation of Lourine Messinger. The mother of three children, Mrs. Bruce had returned to Seminole County after working for a time for the FBI in Washington, D.C.

At first she set up an office in the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce building, keeping the elections office open only a few hours per week. Later she moved into the basement office at the old Seminole County courthouse.

When the new courthouse was constructed in the early 1970s, Mrs. Bruce and her staff were given a suite of offices. But as the courthouse became cramped for space, her operations were moved into the old county jail building behind the courthouse. Mrs. Bruce and her staff complained bitterly about the move.

During the years, elections records went through an evolutionary process from hand-written records through the use of an ancient addressograph to the ultra-modern punch card computer process.

Seminole County in 1978 changed to the punch card method with vote-counters attached to a computer to give almost instant results.

During the county's second primary election, Mrs. Bruce's office was the first in the state to speed election results to Secretary of State George Firestone's office.

She was opposed only four times in eight elections over the years. First in 1960 by a Democratic opponent and in 1968, 1972 and 1980 by Republicans.

Wack said today that he hasn't talked with the governor's office yet and hasn't really thought about a possible successor to Mrs. Bruce.

Harbor Dredging Delayed

A requested permit to excavate the sand bars plugging some areas of Lake Monroe Harbor is being held up in the state Department of Environmental Regulation office in Orlando.

Requested more than a month ago by Charles Volk of Monroe Harbour, Inc., DER environmental specialist Jim Morgan said there is no way to determine how long it will be before a state permit allowing the work will be issued or even if it will be issued.

While Morgan said there is no problem with the excavation of all sand bars from the harbor area, the proposed "spoils site" — the spot where Volk plans to hold the sand and silt removed — is not large enough to contain all the materials to be dredged from the lake.

Earlier, city officials said the "spoil" would be used to build up the beach area.

Morgan said Volk is proposing to use the parking area at the marina for the spoils and the site will take only half of the more than 10,000 cubic yards to be removed.

"Basically this is a maintenance type project," Morgan said, adding the biggest hold up in gaining state approval for the work will be getting clearance from the state Department of Natural Resources. "A project involving filling in or excavating a lake requires DNR approval," he said.

He could not estimate how long DNR will take to consider the request and whether or not the permit will be approved by that agency.

Morgan said while the field work has been done on the project, a field appraisal is yet to be completed.

With support from the city of Sanford, Volk applied for the permit to excavate 14,000 cubic yards of sand and silt to deepen the water level inside the harbor area.

The proposed dredging has become even more important since the Bay Queen dinner cruise ship has docked at the harbor for its daily excursions down the St. Johns River.

Because the water level was so low last weekend and a full complement of passengers were scheduled for the New Year's Eve cruises, the ship embarked from the port of Sanford, moving out of the harbor temporarily.

The dredging operation and the extension of the bulkhead some 300 feet north is estimated to cost Volk about $100,000.

Thought He Was Going For Gun

Woman Says She Shot Boyfriend

By MICHAEL BEHA
and VICTOR ASSERSON

Susie Mae Davis testified in court today she shot Byron Brooks at a Sanford construction site because she thought he was trying to get a gun from under the front seat of her car.

Miss Davis, 23, of 1410 Williams Ave. in Sanford is on trial in Seminole Circuit Court charged with murder in the shooting death of Brooks at 850 W. First St. in Sanford on Aug. 24.

She took the witness stand in her own defense today and told the jury in a slow deliberate voice, "I saw him reach for the gun. I took out mine and shot him."

Miss Davis said she drove to the Sanford Landings construction site, where Brooks was working, to talk over their relationship. The pair had been sharing a house with her three children until Brooks moved out the day before he was killed.

"I drove out there because I wanted to talk to Mr. Brooks to get things straightened out in an adult way," she testified. "I knew he wouldn't hit me on the job site."

She asked several workers where Brooks was and when she found him the two began to talk. The conversation was going pretty well until Brooks threatened to kill Miss Davis, she said.

"He said he was going to get even with me. He was going to kill me," she said.

While Brooks was talking, he leaned inside the car window. Miss Davis said he was inside the car from the waist up during the conversation.

"I saw him reach on the side of the car where the gun was," she said. Miss Davis testified that Brooks had placed a gun under the seat of the car previously and she believed he was reaching for the gun when she shot him.

To Public Defender James Figgatt's questioning, she said she thought she saw Brooks with the gun in his hand.

After the shooting, Miss Davis said she cannot remember chasing Brooks through the construction site and shooting him three more times, as construction workers at the site said they saw her do.

Miss Davis said she was scared and urinated on herself when a construction worker rammed her car and ordered her to get out of the car while holding a gun on her.

Miss Davis said she carried a .22-caliber revolver, which Brooks had given her for protection, to the construction site but did not plan to use the gun.

Charges Pending

Deputy Court Clerk Now Is Back On Job

By MICHAEL BEHA
Herald Staff Writer

Mary Ann Knight is back at work in the microfilm department of the Seminole County Clerk of Courts' office despite misdemeanor charges still pending against her.

Ms. Knight, 34, of 3644 Main St. in Sanford was reinstated Monday by Court Clerk Arthur Beckwith to her post as supervisor of the microfilm department.

Beckwith said he reinstated Ms. Knight at the advice of the county's labor attorney pending the resolution of the charges against her.

Ms. Knight had no comments today on her return to work or the charges pending against her. Ms. Knight was arrested Sept. 1 on charges of unauthorized practice of law, witness tampering and attempted evidence tampering. She was suspended on Aug. 24 by Beckwith when the state attorney's office began investigating the case.

The charges against Ms. Knight were filed after Beatrice Lee Baker of 2411 Granby St. in Midway told a Seminole Circuit judge that Ms. Knight had prepared her divorce case and was paid $180 for the work.

Mrs. Baker's daughter, Mary L. Daugherty, later told prosecutors that Ms. Knight had offered her $50 to destroy handwritten instructions and to disavow her claims. The money and other information were turned in to the state attorney's office.

On Nov. 29, Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor Jr. dismissed the felony charge of witness tampering against Ms. Knight but left the other charges, all misdemeanors, standing.

Assistant state Attorney Alan Robinson said he would appeal McGregor's decision to the 5th District Court of Appeal.

Clerk reinstated pending outcome of trial.

McGregor continued the trial on the other charges pending the result of Robinson's appeal.

The felony charge was dismissed when McGregor agreed with Ms. Knight's lawyer, James Golden, that Ms. Knight did not know Mrs. Daugherty would be a witness in the trial when she allegedly offered her the $50 to destroy the notes.

Ms. Knight could face a $1,000 fine and one year in jail on each of the misdemeanor counts. The felony charge carries a five-year jail sentence and a $5,000 fine.

Beckwith said he reinstated Ms. Knight pending the outcome of the trial against her. If she is convicted on the misdemeanor charges it could be sufficient for her dismissal. A departmental investigation will be conducted following the trial's conclusion.

Good And Bad Results In 1982

Storm Made Impression

By JANE CASSELBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

April 8, 1982.

A day that will not soon be forgotten in Seminole County. That was the day tornadoes ripped through Sanford and other parts of the county causing more than $10 million damage from wind, rain and golf-sized hailstones. Governor Bob Graham declared Seminole a disaster area.

It is doubtless still fresh in the minds of Waynette Dunivan who was nearly drowned when she accidentally stepped into an eight-foot ditch filled with rain water during the storms and was nearly sucked down into a drainage pipe.

Nor will Reed Eden and Johnny Moore, both of Sanford, who risked their lives to rescue the 46-year-old legal secretary who was on her way home from work when she was forced to abandon her car. She got a ride part of the way home and was wading the rest of the way on foot when she slipped into the ditch.

After damaging many parts of west Volusia County, the first storm came in from the northwest at about 3:15 p.m. dumping 4.3 inches of rain on Sanford. The second storm struck from the northeast about two hours later before residents had a chance to recover from the shock of the first onslaught. The storms were so intense that they shattered the city rainfall gauge at the Poplar Avenue sewer plant. A total of 10.82 inches of rain fell between Thursday afternoon and Sunday at the Port of Sanford.

Gary Kaiser, county director of public safety, estimated storm damage in excess of $10 million; including $3.5 million in crop damage, and $5.5 million to businesses and other major buildings in the county. However, that figure did not include damage to major buildings and personal property.

County Extension Agent Frank Jaas said some 150 Seminole farms suffered storm damage. Of these, 100 were considered to have sustained major damage.

IN BRIEF

Blacks Want Resignation Of Miami Police Chief

MIAMI (UPI)—Black leaders are calling for the resignation of Police Chief Kenneth Harms, saying he displayed a "cowboy" mentality during last week's rioting and has allowed racism to become institutionalized in the police department.

Two men died, 26 people were hurt and a dozen businesses looted or damaged during last week's violence in the Overtown ghetto. The riot began after police fatally shot a young black in a video game arcade.

Mayor Maurice Ferre, in response to criticisms of the Police Department, Monday established a blue-ribbon committee to investigate the police department's handling of minorities.

School Exemption Limited

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The Department of Revenue says newcomers to the state don't get a $25,000 homestead exemption on school property taxes, just on city and government taxes.

The department says its interpretation of a Dec. 16 Supreme Court ruling throwing out the residency requirement on the $25,000 homestead exemption is that the decision didn't apply to taxes levied by the 67 school boards.

It is instructing property appraisers to limit people who haven't lived in the state five years to a $5,000 exemption on school taxes, while granting them the full $25,000 exemption on city and county taxes.

Launch May Be Delayed

United Press International

A puzzling leak of flammable hydrogen in the engine compartment of the second space shuttle threatens to delay its first launch later this month.

"We still don't understand where the hydrogen leak is coming from," Mission Commander Paul J. Weitz said Tuesday at the crews' final pre-launch news conference.

The launch of the shuttle Challenger is tentatively scheduled for Jan. 28 at Cape Canaveral, but National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials said they will not approve the launch until the leak is found and fixed.

The officials said such a leak could be dangerous during flight.

Blacks Boycott Busch

PENSACOLA (UPI)—A national civil rights group is "escalating" a boycott against Anheuser Busch beers in an attempt to spur the national brewer to hire more blacks, the Rev. Jesse Jackson said.

Jackson announced the escalation Tuesday at a protest where about 30 supporters smashed two cases of Budweiser beer into twisted cans dripping foam. They staged the demonstration when an Anheuser Busch distributor declined to meet with the leader of People United to Save Humanity.

... Storm Had A Silver Lining — Business

"It was a good lesson in disaster emergency and insight into assessing damage," Kaiser said. "We learned just what data the state and federal agencies required to determine eligibility aid.

"It could have been a lot worse," Kaiser added. "Fortunately, there was no loss of life and only a few injuries."

Glass blew into patients' rooms at Seminole Memorial Hospital when high winds smashed windows. Injured during the storm was Ralph Kelly, a 58-year-old patient from DeBary, who had to have three fingers amputated after his hand was crushed in a door while trying to get out of his wind-damaged room. Another victim was 14-year-old Peter Jackson of Altamonte Springs who suffered head cuts and an eye injury from hail stones.

There was scarcely a building or vehicle in the area that did not sustain damage from the storm. Store windows were shattered, cars were dented by falling hail, roofs were torn off, and trees and shrubs were shredded.

Flagship Bank was the only bank in Seminole County to be certified by the Small Business Association and had funds to lend to local merchants and residents in a matter of days.

But Flagship President Dennis Courson said there were no takers, pointing to the quick response of the insurance adjusters and the fair way in which they paid off claims. Evidently, he said, most businesses and residences were adequately insured to take care of the damage.

Insurance companies in the Sanford area handled an enormous volume of claims stemming from the two storms. "I've been a Sanford resident all of my life," said independent insurance agent Tony Russi, "and I guarantee you one thing—nothing that's come through here equaled the hail damage and damage from the tornado."

Russi's agency alone handled $2,800,000 in claims. "There's not a house in Sanford wasn't damaged to some extent," he said.

The old maxim of "It is an ill wind that blows no good" held true in this case as the storm proved to be a financial bonanza for area roofing and glass contractors and suppliers.

"Actually, the storm was almost a God-sent blessing," Courson said. "It was economically healthy for the community and got a lot of money circulating. Once the damage was taken care of many of the people took care of extra work they had been putting off."

"The insurance companies paid off and most were better off than they were before," Courson said.

Not so fortunate were the citrus growers and farmers whose uninsured crops were destroyed.

The hail made cole slaw of the spring cabbage crop in the fields and it was too late to replant. Cucumbers and miscellaneous crops were also damaged from flooding and hail. There was also damage to farm buildings and greenhouses.

Emergency loans at 8 percent interest were made available by the Department of Agriculture through the Farmers Home Administration's Seminole County office. To date, only two loans have been granted — one for $83,000 to a nursery farmer and the other for $41,000 to a vegetable farmer, according to Marie Ferrell, FHA county office assistant.

To be eligible, applicants must be unable to get financing anywhere else. There were a total of 20 inquiries and each was sent an application, however, only five applications were actually submitted, she said. Three loans are still pending.

The deadline for applying for loans for physical loss, such as a damaged greenhouse or barn, is May. However, deadline for production loans (loss of crop) was Sept. 30, said Ms. Ferrell.

Those with uninsured homes, property, businesses and farm or ranching operations who experienced losses due to the storm may be eligible for a tax break and should file losses on their 1982 tax return. For assistance, call the district director of Internal Revenue Service, Jacksonville office, at 904-791-2945, or the chief of Taxpayer Services Division IRS, Jacksonville, 904-791-2511.

Auto, home, and boat repairmen all over Seminole County worked overtime for months following last spring's storms which injured few, but did millions of dollars in damage, such as these boats at Lake Monroe.

Ninety-five applications for emergency assistance and 38 requests for additional assistance were received by Red Cross workers. Emergency assistance was given in the form of food, clothing and shelter immediately following the storm. The homeless were put up in a local motel, broken windows were boarded up, damaged roofs were temporarily covered, emergency clothing and food were provided to those who lost theirs in the storm.

It's Better Behind Bars

JACKSON, Mich. (UPI) — A man serving time for armed robbery who fled a minimum security prison last September knocked at the facility's front gate after deciding life on the outside wasn't so great after all.

Officials said Larry Fox returned to the Southern Michigan Prison near Grass Lake Monday morning, knocked on the front door, and turned himself in.

Fox told officers he was tired of running. A prison spokesman said his return could be related to the depressed economy in Michigan, since Fox probably was unable to find a job on the outside.

Officials said Fox had served five years of a 10-to-25-year term for armed robbery in Kent County and will be charged with escape.

Big Hopes For Orphan Drugs

United Press International

The celebrations were small — a little party in Los Angeles, a couple of popped corks in New York — but the hopes of those who may be helped by new drugs are very, very large.

With a wish that his signature could ease heartache and pain, President Reagan signed legislation Tuesday that provides a tax break to drug companies to encourage them to develop medicines for some 2,000 rare and debilitating diseases that afflict about 20 million Americans.

Although pharmaceutical companies know of drugs that could help to control some of the 2,000 such diseases, they have not gone through the expensive process of winning approval from the Food and Drug Administration because not enough Americans suffer from each of the conditions to repay their costs.

Fireman's Injury Sparks Clothing Policy Change

Sanford firefighters have been ordered to wear full firefighting gear after a fireman was burned while fighting a fire.

Fireman Herb Rogers suffered a burned left leg while fighting a mattress fire at 1007 W. 6th Street, Sanford, at 1 p.m. Monday which caused about $1,000 damage to the house.

It has been the practice in the past for firemen to wear only their short firefighting coats over standard issue polyester pants rather than their full fire fighting gear which includes a longer coat, boots, and over trousers.

Rogers was treated for second degree burns to his knee and has returned to work. The mattress fire is thought to have been caused by a cigarette, investigators said.

Following Rogers' injury, Fire Chief W.C. Gailey ordered his men to wear their full firefighting uniform when battling any blaze.

"For the safety of my men and the fire department we think it better for them to do that," Gailey said.

CLASSROOM DAMAGED

Cook Of The Week

Lyman Senior To Exhibit At 'The Fair' For Fifth Year

By LOU CHILDERS
Herald Correspondent

Heather MacLeod of Oviedo chooses to believe her Mom's favorite saying, "The way to a man's heart is through his stomach." She has been cooking "since I've been tall enough to reach the stove."

Heather is a senior at Lyman High School and actively involved in a Future Farmers of America project — raising three steers. This will be her fifth year of showing steers with her expertise increasing annually, she says.

Heather will participate in the West Palm Beach Fair Jan. 20, the Florida State Fair in Tampa Feb. 5, and the Central Florida Fair in Orlando Feb. 23.

"The first calf I raised was one born on my mom and dad's farm." When Heather sold this steer, she used the proceeds to feed the second calf, also one born on her parents' farm. The third year, she used the profit from her second sale to purchase a calf from a cattle ranch. This time Heather hit the jackpot because the steer she raised turned out to be the Blue Ribbon winner in his class.

"Last year," Heather continues, "I purchased a steer from a Lake City cattle ranch that went on to take the Blue Ribbon in the 1000 Pound class at the Central Florida Fair."

Heather has big plans for the money she will earn from selling the three steers she has raised this year — "wheels." The only decision remaining is whether her wheels will come on a car or a truck.

When it comes to cooking, Heather says she only had one semester of home economics in school, and everything she has learned has been "from my mom."

Heather's parents, Robert and Patsy MacLeod, and her younger sisters, Christy, 14, and Carrie, 8, all agree with Heather that one of their favorite meals is Venison Spaghetti.

She says, "When Dad returns from a successful deer hunting trip, we grind the meat and make spaghetti sauce using our favorite ingredients, but substituting the ground venison for ground beef."

Heather made another family speciality, Lane Cake, for the New Year's celebration. This rich dessert has a unique frosting that requires bourbon soaked raisins.

LANE CAKE

5 cups flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
8 egg whites
¼ teaspoon salt
2 cups sugar
1 cup butter, softened
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup milk
Sift together flour and baking powder. Beat egg whites and salt until peaks form; gradually beat in ½ cup sugar until peaks become stiff. In another bowl, cream butter and the remaining ½ cups sugar and vanilla. Add milk and flour mixture alternately until smooth. Fold in egg whites gently. Pour into 3 greased and floured 9-inch cake pans and bake in a 350 degree oven 20-25 minutes. Cool 5 minutes and invert on racks, turning layers top side up. Chill cake.

Lane Frosting:

Pour ½ cup bourbon over 1½ cups raisins and allow to sit in a covered container overnight in the refrigerator.

12 egg yolks
1¼ cups sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup butter
1½ cups each chopped pecans, coconut & candied cherries
Stir egg yolks, sugar, salt and butter in double boiler for 15-20 minutes until thick. Stir in drained raisins, pecans, coconut and candied cherries. Blend well. Cool. Cover and refrigerate overnight. Frost cooled cake.

STEAK WITH PEPPERS AND ONIONS

4 cube steaks, cut in ¾-inch strips
2 large onions, cut in rings
1 green pepper, cut in ½-inch strips
2 stalks celery, cut
2 tablespoons cooking oil
1 package dry onion soup mix
Place oil in heavy skillet. Over medium heat stir in steak strips, onion rings, green pepper strips, cut celery and stir in onion soup mix. Saute all ingredients and cover with a tight fitting lid. Allow to simmer 10-20 minutes until steak is tender. Yield 4-5 servings.

CRISPY BAKED CHICKEN

1 large fryer, whole (3 pounds or over)
salt and pepper to taste
2 tablespoons Lawry's Seasoning Salt
Lightly sprinkle fryer with salt and pepper and completely cover outside skin of chicken with seasoning salt. Place on a flat baking pan on rack and bake in a 375 degree oven 60-75 minutes until done. Outside will be crispy, poultry juicy.

ZUCCHINI BREAD

3 eggs (beaten until foamy)
1 cup oil
2 cups sugar
2 cups fresh zucchini, grated with peel
3 teaspoons vanilla
3 cups flour
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
½ cup nuts
Cream oil and sugar; add eggs and vanilla. Stir in remaining ingredients and pour batter into 2 loaf pans, greased and floured. Bake at 375 degrees for 1 hour.

FESTIVAL FRIED RICE

(8 servings)
1 tablespoon vegetable oil
2 eggs, lightly beaten
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
1 cup diced cooked pork

2 cup diced cooked shrimp
1 cup diced cooked chicken
1 can (14 oz.) bean sprouts, rinsed and drained
¼ cup diced celery
2 green onions, chopped
3 cups hot cooked rice
¼ cup soy sauce
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
1 cup shredded lettuce
Heat 2 tablespoons oil in large frying pan or wok placed over medium low heat; add eggs and scramble lightly. Remove from pan; set aside.
Increase heat to medium high; add remaining 2 tablespoons oil and stir in pork, shrimp, chicken, bean sprouts, green onions and celery; cook and stir 2 minutes. Add rice, soy sauce and pepper, mixing thoroughly; continue to cook and stir until heated through. Stir in reserved eggs and lettuce, place in serving dish. Serve immediately.

NEW ARRIVAL

Family Or Not, Lovesick In-Law Needs Exposing

Mr. and Mrs. Leon (Gloria) Gray of Maitland, announce the arrival of a daughter, Elizabeth Ann, on Dec. 7, 1982, at Florida Hospital, Orlando. She weighed 9 lbs. 6½ ozs, and joins a brother, Edward, 4½, the Central Florida Heart Ambassador for 1982.

Mrs. Gray has been employed as a microbiology supervisor at Seminole Memorial Hospital, now Central Florida Regional Hospital, since 1971.

Maternal grandparents are Mrs. Astrid Cavanaugh and the late Mr. Charles Edward Cavanaugh. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Gray.

DEAR ABBY: My sister's husband has always liked me. That's the problem. He likes me more than I want him to. He has propositioned me in the past, but I've always been able to put him in his place without making a scene. (I'm separated from my husband.) Thanksgiving night at my mother's he cornered me in the kitchen, and I had to threaten him with a butcher knife to keep him from forcing himself on me. He smeared my lipstick and tore my dress. (I said I was chilly and put on my coat so nobody would notice.)

On another family occasion, he followed me into the bedroom, locked the door and tried to rape me! He keeps telling me he "loves" me. I can't stand the sight of that man, but we are thrown together constantly because he's family.

I can't tell my sister because they have three children and she loves him. Besides, I don't want to hurt her. It's a terrible strain to keep out of his way. He's even called me at work and tried to talk me into seeing him.

He's making a nervous wreck of me. What should I do?

FEELS TRAPPED

DEAR FEELS: Tell your sister. Her husband needs help. Attempted rape is nothing to sweep under the carpet. If he's tried it with you, he's probably tried it with others — and maybe succeeded. Family or not, he should be exposed for what he is.

DEAR ABBY: Is it ever O.K. for a man to wear his hat in a restaurant? I'm dating a Texan who always keeps his cowboy hat on while we're eating out. We go to nice places, and sometimes people look at him funny. By the way, he's not really a cowboy, but he always wears a cowboy hat. Thanks.
BETTY IN GREENWICH, CONN.

DEAR BETTY: Unless your Texan is an Orthodox Jew, he should remove his hat while dining.

DEAR ABBY: In a recent column you asked if there was a city known as "The Pits." Well, there is. And I am sending you a T-shirt bearing the message, "HIBBING, MINNESOTA — IT'S THE PITS!"

Dear Abby

Hibbing is the home of the largest open-pit iron ore mine in the world. In the summer, when most of America is sweltering, come enjoy the naturally air-conditioned city of Hibbing, Minn.

BILL WIRTANEN, PRESIDENT, HIBBING C. OF C. AMBASSADORS CLUB

DEAR BILL: Thanks for the neat T-shirt. (P.S. It fits.)
DEAR ABBY: Please tell that lamebrained idiot who is forcing his left-handed child to use her right hand that I am a v-victim of th-th-that ka-ka-kind of st-stupidity.

FA-FA-FA-RANK

P.S. I could write a book on the damage caused by such ignorance, but for now, I think the above sentence says it all.

You're never too old (or too young) to learn how to make friends and be popular. For Abby's booklet on Popularity, send $1, plus a long, self-addressed, stamped (37 cents) envelope to Abby, Popularity, P.O. Box 38323, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.

Chicken Rated Among 'Five Top Taste Trends' In Magazine Survey

Chicken has been rated among the "five top taste trends" by both foodservice customers and operators responding to a survey by Restaurants and Institutions magazine.

The second annual survey also found that 22 percent of the people ate more chicken in 1981 than in the past and 63.4 percent of the foodservice operators rated chicken as one of the top "good sellers" last year.

The National Broiler Council notes that in addition to chicken, the other top taste trends all reflect the current consumer interest in lighter foods — salads, seafood, fresh vegetables and fresh fruit also made the "Top Five." While chicken is considered a bargain meat in this period of economic uncertainty, it is also widely recognized as a nutritional giant — high in protein and low in fat content and calories.

Of the $284.5 billion Americans spent on food last year, about a third (31.9 percent) went for food eaten away from home. Approximately 20 percent of the entire broiler-fryer production (12 billion pounds this year on a ready-to-cook basis) goes to fast foods and many restaurants are also increasing the number and variety of chicken entrees on their menus.

Per capita food consumption in the United States in 1981 was 1,395 pounds — down from the 1,401 pounds per person Americans consumed annually in 1971. During the same 10-year period, chicken consumption rose from an average of 36.7 pounds per person in 1971 to 48.8 pounds last year. It is expected that by 1990 the annual per capita consumption of chicken will be well over 60 pounds.

The average broiler produced in 1981 weighed 3.99 pounds and was grown in just over 52 days. It takes only 1.9 pounds of feed to produce a pound of meat, making chickens the most efficient converters of feed into food.

The trend toward lighter foods need not rule out pasta from the diet. In fact, when combined with other low-calorie foods such as chicken and vegetables, pasta dishes can be satisfying meals, quite in keeping with today's interest in good nutrition. One such dish is "Light Chicken and Noodles" (below), developed by the National Broiler Council.

LIGHT CHICKEN AND NOODLES

- 1 broiler-fryer chicken, cooked, boned and cut in bite-size pieces
- 3 cups chicken broth
- 1 package (5 ounces) fine egg noodles
- 2 cups carrots, thinly sliced
- 2 tablespoons green onion, white and green parts included
- 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
- 1 teaspoon celery salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

In large frypan, place chicken broth and bring to a boil over high temperature. Stir in noodles, carrots, onion, Worcestershire sauce, celery salt and pepper. Reduce heat to low, cover and simmer about 15 minutes or until most of liquid is absorbed. Stir in chicken and continue cooking, covered, about 10 minutes more. Serve hot garnished with parsley. Makes 6 servings.

To cook chicken: In deep saucepan, place chicken. Add 2 cups water, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. (For additional flavor, 1 small onion, sliced, and the leaves from 3 ribs of celery may also be added.) Cover and simmer about 45 minutes or until fork can be inserted in chicken with ease. Remove chicken from pan and cool; reserve broth for use in recipe (adding water to measure 3 cups, if necessary). Separate meat from bones; discard bones and skin. Cut chicken into bite-size pieces.

NOTE: This dish is excellent when re-heated and served a second time. Or make it ahead, store in the refrigerator and heat in the microwave at serving time.

CHICKEN VERMOUTH WITH RICE

- 1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut in parts
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 3 medium carrots, sliced
- 2 ribs celery, sliced thin

- 1 medium onion, sliced thin
- 6 cloves garlic, peeled
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley

- 1-3 cup dry white vermouth
- 1/4 cup sour cream

- Sprinkle chicken with salt and pepper. Place chicken,

- skin side up, in single layer in large covered casserole. Add carrots, celery, onion, garlic, parsley, and vermouth. Cover

- tightly and bake in 375 degree F. oven about 1 1/2 hours or until fork can be inserted in chicken with ease. Add sour cream to liquid in baking pan; stir to warm. Serve over hot rice. Makes 4 servings.

- CHERRY CHICKEN
- 1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut in parts
- 1 1/4 teaspoons salt, divided
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

- 1/4 teaspoon paprika
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 1 tablespoon flour
- See TOP, Page 3B

- 1 large onion, chopped (1 cup)
- 1/2 cup chopped carrot
- 1 clove garlic, chopped
- 2 cans (about 16 ounces each) kidney beans, drained
- 1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, undrained

- 1 bay leaf
- 1 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce
- 1/2 teaspoon ground coriander
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- oil for frying
- 12 corn tortillas
- 1 cup dry curd cottage cheese
- thinly sliced onion
- chopped raw vegetables (lettuce, cucumber or zucchini)
- 10-medium saucepan, heat oil; saute onion, carrot and garlic

- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1/8 teaspoon ground allspice
- 1/8 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1 can (16 oz.) pitted red sour cherries, drained, juice reserved
- 1 can (8 oz.) crushed pineapple
- 1 chicken-flavor bouillon cube, crushed
- 1/4 teaspoon red food coloring
- Sprinkle chicken with 1 teaspoon of the salt, pepper, and paprika. In large frypan place butter and melt over medium heat. Add chicken and cook, turning, about 10 minutes or until brown on all sides. Remove chicken from frypan and set aside. In same frypan place flour, sugar, remaining 1/4 teaspoon salt, allspice, and cinnamon; stir to mix with pan drippings. Gradually pour in reserved cherry juice; stir to mix. Add pineapple, bouillon cube, and food coloring; mix until blended. Return chicken to frypan. Cover and simmer for 40 minutes or until fork can be inserted in chicken with ease. Add cherries during last 5 minutes of cooking time. To serve, place chicken on serving platter and pour sauce over chicken. Makes 4 servings.

CHICKEN IN A POT

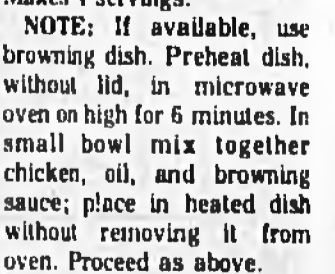

- 1 whole broiler-fryer chicken
- 1 apple, quartered
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 teaspoons onion salt
- 1/2 teaspoon rosemary leaves
- 1/4 teaspoon instant minced garlic
- Place apple in cavity of chicken. Fold wings across back with tops touching. Place chicken, breast side up, in Dutch oven. Brush with lemon juice; sprinkle with onion salt, rosemary, and garlic. Cover and roast in 375 degrees F. oven about 1 1/2 hours or until leg moves freely when lifted or twisted. Makes 4 servings.

SPICED CHICKEN

- MICROWAVE
- 2 whole broiler-fryer chicken breasts, halved, boned, skinned, and cut in bite-size pieces
- 1/2 cup cooking oil
- 1 teaspoon bottled browning sauce
- 1/4 cup flour
- 1 cup water
- 1/4 cup diced onion
- 2 teaspoons parsley flakes
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon minced garlic
- 1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
- 1/8 teaspoon ground red pepper
- In large shallow glass baking dish. See NOTE, below. Mix together chicken, oil, and browning sauce, taking care chicken is well coated. Cover with wax paper. Microwave on high for 1 1/2 minutes, stir, continue to microwave 2 1/2 minutes longer. Set aside, covered. In small bowl place flour. Gradually add water, stirring until smooth. Add onion, parsley, salt, cinnamon, garlic, cloves, and red pepper; stir to mix well. Pour over chicken; mix. Microwave, stirring every 2 minutes, for 6 minutes. Remove from oven; let stand, covered, about 5 minutes. Return to oven for additional cooking if fork cannot be inserted in chicken with ease when testing for doneness. Serve on hot fluffy rice. Makes 4 servings.

NOTE: If available, use browning dish. Preheat dish, without lid, in microwave oven on high for 6 minutes. In small bowl mix together chicken, oil, and browning sauce; place in heated dish without removing it from oven. Proceed as above.

The shortest lived U.S. coin was the twenty-cent piece, issued regularly only in 1875 and 1876. They were too easily confused with quarters.

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Thursday, January 6, 1983

YOUR BIRTHDAY
January 6, 1983
It behooves you this coming year to raise your sights and set loftier goals for yourself than you have previously. What you envision and believe you can attain, you will.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Your chances for success will be greatly enhanced today if you try to include others in what you hope to accomplish. Think in terms of "We." Order now: the NEW Astro-Graph Matchmaker wheel and booklet which reveals romantic combinations, compatibilities for all signs, tells how to get along with others, finds rising signs, hidden qualities, plus more. Mail $2 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Send an additional $1 for your Capricorn Astro-Graph predictions for 1983. Be sure to specify birth date.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You have the ability today to buoy the spirits of friends who may need a boost. Lay it on with gusto if a pal does something warranting a compliment.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Out-of-the-ordinary circumstances or sudden shifts in conditions tend to work for your benefit today. Be alert for unusual signals.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Others will find you a very desirable companion today. You'll know how to make all whom you encounter feel important. You'll bring out the best in them.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Co-workers may coast a bit today, but your efforts will be on fulfilling your ambitions. They'll gain nothing of consequence; you could reap substantial rewards.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your skills as a promoter or entrepreneur will be evident today. You should have no trouble in gaining support for projects about which you're enthusiastic.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Do not be apprehensive about the outcome of events, especially those of a commercial nature. Hold positive thoughts. Time will prove you lucky.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your decisions today should work out well for all concerned. Your judgments won't be based on what's good for you alone, but on what's good for others, too.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Your material prospects look extremely encouraging today. There should be several avenues open for personal gain. Tap each one.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your peers may talk about doing nice things for others today, but you are likely to be the person who says little, yet gets the deeds done. Good going!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You're a force to be reckoned with today if you operate behind the scenes without making your moves too evident. Help in quiet ways.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) The impression you make today will be both favorable and lasting. Too bad you won't be present to hear all the nice things being said about you.

Problems Caused By Iron Deficiency

DEAR DR. LAMB — I went to see my doctor because I have had some indigestion. I belch a lot and am nauseated. My doctor said I have an iron deficiency anemia and put me on iron pills.

I always thought that a lack of iron made you tired. I am tired but are those other problems also from not enough iron? My fingernails are brittle and have ridges and he says that can be caused from not enough iron, too.

I'm only 35 and try to eat a well-balanced diet. Where did I go wrong? How can a lack of iron cause indigestion?

DEAR READER — Like most symptoms there are many different medical problems that can cause them. Your fingernail problem is a good example. Such problems can be caused from a lack of iron but they can also occur from lack of moisture, not enough calcium, not enough protein and the use of harsh nail polish remover.

Iron deficiency can cause indigestion. It can also cause changes in the tongue and mouth, causing a glossy appearance.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I would like your discussion of heart murmurs. I'm 83 years old, in care of my doctor says I have a slight murmur. What causes it and what can one do to care for it? Do I have to improve my living habits to eliminate it? Is it dangerous? Can one drive a car?

DEAR READER — Think of the murmuring brook. A murmur is sound and in reference to the heart and circulation it means a sound caused by the moving blood.

In an older person the large arteries may become rigid and the blood flowing through them may cause sounds. Damage to the heart valves may cause murmurs. So can an active heart in a young person. The key is what kind of murmur you have and what is causing it.

The description of a "slight murmur" suggests that your doctor didn't discuss it further with you because he didn't think it was important in your case. If he is not worried about it, you should not have to worry about it either. Consider it as normal for you and don't let it affect your life style.

WIN AT BRIDGE

He commented that he first resisted the impulse to bid two hearts and then resisted the impulse to lead anything except the queen of diamonds. Then he showed us the rest of the hand.

"Judging by the expression on your face the queen must have held the first trick and declarer wound up making his contract plus an overtrick. What was the third impulse you rejected?" I asked.

He answered, "My partner congratulated me on the opening lead of that singleton queen and continued that if I had only held a second diamond we would have made a nice profit instead of losing the rubber. Even then I resisted the impulse to get up, walk around the table and strangle him."

If any of you have wanted to strangle a partner you will admit that East's play was horrible. He could have beaten declarer by the simple expedient of putting his king on his partner's queen at trick one. Then he compounded his partner's annoyance by his fatuous remarks. So, we would like to give our friend some credit, but if he also managed to maintain total silence we are really proud of him.

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

By Oswald Jacoby and James Jacoby

"I resisted temptation three times with the West hand," complained the unlucky expert. "and it did me no good."

Then he showed us the West hand and the bidding.

'Super NOWs' Available Today

United Press International

Consumers with checking accounts join savers today in being eligible for floating interest-rate accounts designed to make banks and savings and loans even more competitive with Wall Street money-market funds.

The so-called "Super NOW" checking accounts are the second step in new laws aimed at assisting depressed financial institutions. Earlier, banks and savings and loans were allowed to offer the generally higher, money-market interest rates on savings accounts. And unlike the Wall Street money-market accounts, the new accounts are federally insured.

The Super NOW rules follow by one day a prediction by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. that mutual savings banks will return to profitability in March if a trend to lower interest rates continue.

"If rates stay down at current levels we expect the industry as a whole to turn profitable about March," FDIC spokesman Alan Whitney said Tuesday, but he said the weakest individual institutions may still not survive.

The general trend toward lower interest rates means that for the first time in a long time, mutual savings banks and savings and loan associations are beginning to earn more than they spend.

A high-interest savings account was introduced Dec. 14 across the country, followed today by the high-interest checking account.

The new accounts mean savers can look to the neighborhood bank, savings and loans or mutual savings banks to earn the same interest previously offered mainly by Wall Street's money-market mutual funds.

Early indications are that not as many banks will be offering the Super NOW account as did the original money-market account. The Super NOW will be subject to federal reserve requirements which are costly to a bank. In addition, the unlimited checking and transfer privileges will make the cost of processing the Super NOW higher. Industry officials expect money-market account rates to average at least one percentage point higher than the Super NOW.

But the new savings accounts appear to falling short in accomplishing one of the main goals of the federal regulators. Most of the money going into the accounts may come from within the banking and thrift industries, not from Wall Street's fund, or elsewhere.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board reported only about 15 percent of the first week's $21.5 billion in thrift industry deposits in the new money market deposit account came from outside sources.

In Congress, legislation intended to solve the constitutional crisis in the bankruptcy courts by making the 227 bankruptcy judges full-fledged federal judges has been introduced by the chairman of the House Judiciary Committee.

The bankruptcy courts have operated under an interim rule since Congress failed to meet the Dec. 24 deadline raised by a June Supreme Court ruling that declared the bankruptcy court system unconstitutional.

On Wall Street, the stock market staged a powerful rally that drove prices sharply higher. The Dow Jones industrial average, which plunged 19.50 points Monday, rebounded 19.04 to 1,046.08 in heavy trading and nearly erased Wall Street's record opening-day loss.

Farmer Vows To Fight

SPRINGFIELD, Colo. — A founder of the militant American Agriculture Movement vowed to stay on his farm despite a foreclosure auction that turned into a violent protest by 300 farmers claiming federal policies have bankrupted them.

Meanwhile, the AAM denied a proper auction was conducted and threatened legal action.

"This wasn't an auction," spokesman Derral Schroder said Tuesday from AAM's headquarters in Springfield. "We're going to contest it on several different grounds. Our constitutional rights are being denied us."

The violence broke out Tuesday during the public auction at the southeastern Colorado Baca County Courthouse of farm land owned by Jerry Wright, who helped found the AAM in 1977. A crowd of about 300 protesters rushed the courthouse and police had to use tear gas to disperse it.

Arrested were Jim and Doug Goodpaster of rural Baca County, and Kinan Burk, a former Springfield-area farmer said to have moved recently to New Mexico. Burk escaped soon after the arrest by bursting through a window with his handcuffs still on.

Blood streaming down his face, he told reporters outside he had been beaten by deputies in the courthouse. Wright appeared before the crowd with a bullhorn.

"I'm not leaving the land," he shouted. "I'm not giving it up!"

Three law enforcement officers suffered minor injuries and one reporter who fell during the melee was taken to a hospital.

Wright was two years behind in paying off an $85,000 loan secured by the farm. The Federal Land Bank in Lamar, which made the loan and purchased the farm at the auction, went to court last month to force the sale.

Wright contended the sale violated his constitutional rights because he had no control over government policies, such as the Soviet grain embargo he said kept him from making a profit.

The protest drew farmers from as far away as Missouri and North Dakota.

Colombia Fights Cocaine Industry

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — A Colombian minister ordered a ban on imports of chemicals used to manufacture cocaine in a government crackdown against $29 billion worth of the drug smuggled into the United States each year.

Minister of Economic Development Roberto Gerlin said Tuesday the import ban on ether, acetone, hydrochloride and other chemicals used to purify cocaine paste would be the first step to curb cocaine smuggling.

"I think this is a good first step," Gerlin said. "I recognize the bondage of this drug."

The request for the import ban was made by the Directive Council of Foreign Commerce, which also indicated it would ask Colombian President Betancur to start a national crackdown of cocaine production and exportation.

Gerlin, as an ex-facto member of the council, can ban the chemical imports without presidential or parliamentary sanction.

An estimated 44 tons of pure cocaine valued at $29 billion makes its way into the United States each year, according to the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency.

A majority of the cocaine entering American ports is manufactured in Medellin, Colombia's second largest city.

But national police officials recently reported hundreds of smaller cocaine laboratories have sprouted in the northeast section of the country.

Doctors Trace AIDS To Blood Transfusions

ATLANTA (UPI) — Doctors say the transmission of Acquired Immune Deficiency syndrome has been traced to blood transfusions and gay activists charge a move is under way to bar homosexuals from donating blood.

Blood and blood plasma in transfusions were identified Tuesday at a meeting at the national Centers for Disease Control as one of the probable transmission routes of AIDS, an often-fatal disease previously traced to the sexual practices of homosexual males.

Also at high risk, doctors say, are intravenous drug users, hemophiliacs and Haitian refugees.

Dr. Jeffrey P. Kaplan, a CDC investigator of the AIDS outbreak, said at the conclusion of the meeting, cases of the syndrome were spreading through several segments of the population.

He said this spread "should not generate hysteria, but should generate concern. Steps have to be taken to protect the public health."

Kaplan said one of these steps should be closer screening of people who donate blood to eliminate carriers of the disease, improving the technological refinement of blood and plasma supplies to remove or deactivate viruses.

The meeting was attended by public health administrators, representatives of a hemophiliacs organization, a homosexual group and members of the blood and blood plasma industry.

Two representatives of the National Gay Task Force, Dr. Bruce Voeller of Los Angeles and Dr. Roger Enloe of New York, charged a move was under way by the blood products industry to exclude homosexuals from donating blood because they are at high risk of having the disease.

"I agree this is a major public health problem," said Enloe. "And there is evidence that there may be hazards relative to blood products."

But he said homosexuals should not be singled out as contributing to the problem. "I just don't see the need for creating another 'bad blood' category," said Enloe, charging blacks also carried that stigma.

Medical researchers say an as-yet-undefined virus may be responsible for the newly recognized disease. There have been more than 800 cases of AIDS and 300 deaths in the past year and a half.

The issue of safe blood products for transfusions were of particular concern to the nation's estimated 12,000 to 19,000 hemophiliacs, some of whom require frequent transfusions of blood plasma. A study reported by Dr. Bruce Evatt of the CDC revealed AIDS rose from seventh to second place as the cause of death of hemophiliacs in a recent five-year period.

AIDS is a disorder in which the body's ability to ward off infections is reduced, clearing the way for invasion of certain cancers and other lethal infections.

Orders Of Goods Up In November

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government figures show new orders for manufactured goods increased by just 0.7 percent in November, a rise one official called "a little drop in the bucket," and not enough to pave the way for recovery.

The Commerce Department reported that new orders for manufactured goods in November increased by $1.1 billion over October's level, the year's low point, to reach $150.8 billion.

The November figures were the second-lowest of 1982. By contrast, the average monthly level of orders was $153.2 billion from November 1980 to November 1981.

New orders are important because they set the pace for factory production and employment in the months ahead. The rates have been watched closely by both economists and politicians hoping for recovery.

But the Commerce Department's chief economist, Robert Ortner, said the report was not yet a clear sign of recovery for factories.

"We are by no means out of the woods," he said. "In the overall scheme of things, that's a little drop in the bucket. We need a lot more drops."

Michael Evans, a private economist who heads a forecasting subsidiary in Washington for McManhan, Braffman, Morgan and Co., said the report did not rule out a recovery but, "We probably have two or three more months to go downhill."

"Recoveries occur in general when interest rates go down and stay down and the inventory liquidation is over," he said.

Interest rates did show a small drop as reflected by Treasury bill yields. Yields for three-month bills moved Monday to 7.896 percent, down from 7.975 percent the week before.

The government also sold $5.8 billion worth of six-month bills at an average discount of 7.946 percent, down from last week's 8.051 percent.

Utility Starts New Bill

The familiar green and white Florida Power Corporation bill has been around for decades. But energy is controversial and complicated. And there isn't enough information on the old bill. Beginning this month, customers will notice a new bill. It is longer and packed with information. Gone will be the confusing codes and difficult-to-understand numbers. This bill speaks in everyday English.

The new bill will be a more personalized account of customers' records. They will be able to see clearly just how much of the bill goes for taxes, franchise fees, non-fuel expenses and the cost of fuel. The reverse side contains a number of easily-understood definitions and clarifications. The bill will often contain special messages pertaining to energy conservation or energy-related issues.

Customers will know their electrical use habits. They will see how much of the bill goes to pay for fuel. And they'll be more able to conserve and control electrical usage through an awareness of use patterns.

JUDE — Oh Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need to you I have recourse from the depths of my heart and humbly beg to whom God has given such great power to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition, in return I promise to make your name known and cause you to be invoked. Say Three Our Fathers, Three Hail Marys and Gloria. Publication must be promised. St. Jude pray for us and all who invoke your aid. Amen. This Novena has never been known to fail. Thank you St. Jude for favors received.

'You might say that I have the best of both worlds,' award-winning singer Anne Murray, left, says. 'I'm a concerned parent and that concern carries over to what my children are eating.' Mama's Delicious Deep-Dish Pizza, right, is a family favorite.

Murray: Singer Steps From Stage Into Kitchen

Once the concert is over and Anne Murray steps off the stage and away from the footlights, she is ready to resume her life as a Nova Scotia wife and mother. "You might say," says the award-winning singer, "that I have the best of both worlds." Although it sounds enviable, balancing the "best of both worlds" can be a delicate act. "I've made a real effort to keep things in perspective for myself and my family," Murray explains. "I'm a concerned parent and that concern carries over to what my children are eating and — if I'm not there — who's preparing their supper."

The Canadian songstress stars in a Kraft-sponsored TV Special, Anne Murray's Caribbean Cruise, which will be broadcast January 19 at 8 PM (ET) on CBS. She recently left the tropical splendor of the Caribbean to be reunited with her husband and two children, William, 6, and Dawn, 2, in Nova Scotia.

"I sing, and then I get on with the business of living," says the winner of three Grammy Awards and 16 Junos, the Canadian equivalent to a Grammy. Her most recent album, "Hottest Night of the Year," is already rising on the charts and most probably will follow the meteor trail set by almost every recording since her first release, "Snowbird."

Anne, the only daughter among six children, traces her domestic drive to the example set by her mother in Springhill, Nova Scotia. She vividly remembers her mother constantly preparing meals for her five physically active brothers and herself. Murray very quickly learned how to master the art of planning and producing a dinner that was nutritious, delicious and, most important, hearty enough to withstand the chill of wintery Canada.

Like her mother, Anne Murray looks at cooking as an outlet to stimulate her creativity. "I really enjoy experimenting with basic recipes," explains Murray. "There's nothing more rewarding than your own special stamp on a meal, even if it's adding a secret spice to hamburger!"

Anne Murray shares "Mama's Delicious Deep-Dish Pizza," a family favorite recipe. "Garden Rarebit" is a perfect complement for the pizza dish.

"People occasionally marvel at my having a successful singing career. But to me, being a good companion and mother is all that matters," says Murray. "It's wonderful to be recognized for your talent, whether it's singing a ballad or preparing a well-balanced meal that wins approval from the ones you love."

MAMA'S DELICIOUS DEEP-DISH PIZZA

- 1 pkg. active dry yeast
- ¾ cup warm water
- 2 cups flour
- ¼ cup oil
- 1 teaspoon salt
- grated parmesan cheese
- 1 lb. Italian sausage
- ¼ cup chopped onion
- 1 16-oz. can tomatoes
- 1 6-oz. can tomato paste
- 2 teaspoons oregano leaves
- 2 6-oz. pkgs. natural low moisture part-skim mozzarella cheese slices
- grated parmesan cheese

Dissolve yeast in warm water. Add flour, oil and salt; mix well. On lightly floured surface, knead dough until smooth. Sprinkle parmesan cheese on bottom of greased 12-inch deep-dish pan. Press dough onto bottom and 1-inch up sides of pan.

Remove sausage from casing. Brown sausage; drain. Add onion; cook until tender. Stir in tomatoes, tomato paste and oregano; simmer 15 minutes. Cover dough with half of mozzarella cheese and meat sauce; repeat with remaining mozzarella cheese and meat sauce. Sprinkle with parmesan cheese. Bake at 425 degrees, 30 minutes. Let stand 10 minutes before serving. Makes 8 servings.

Variations: Substitute 1 lb. ground beef for sausage. Substitute greased 13 x 9-inch baking pan for pizza pan. Bake at 425 degrees, 20 minutes. Substitute greased 14-inch deep-dish pizza pan for 12-inch pizza pan.

GARDEN RAREBIT

- 1 lb. brussels sprouts
- 1 head cauliflower, separated into cauliflowerets
- 1 lb. carrots, peeled, cut into 1-inch pieces
- ½ lb. asparagus spears, cut into 2-inch pieces
- Kale or cabbage leaves
- ½ cup beer or ale
- ½ teaspoon dry mustard
- ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- ¼ teaspoon paprika
- dash of ground red pepper

4 cups (16 ozs.) shredded sharp natural cheddar cheese. Blanch vegetables separately in boiling water; drain. Arrange vegetables in serving bowl lined with kale or cabbage leaves. In saucepan, combine beer and seasonings; heat. Add cheese; stir over medium heat until melted. Dip blanched vegetables into rarebit. Keep rarebit warm while serving.

Ethnic Twist To Stuffed Vegetables

Stuffed vegetables are a highlight of both Middle and Far Eastern cuisine, with their cooks having a special flair at stuffing just about anything deliciously. Cooks the world round, in fact, appreciate the stuffed vegetable as a thrifty way to provide varied textures and flavors in a neat package. And, as the weather grows cooler, it also satisfies your family's hunger for a substantial dinner or hearty side dish.

Dolma, which most of us define as stuffed grape leaves, actually means stuffing in Turkish. The Turks frequently use eggplant as a dolma vegetable since it is a good-tasting example of good stuff to stuff. Middle Eastern chefs, in fact, claim more than 120 methods of cooking the succulent vegetable.

In Baked Eggplant with Pork Stuffing, the flavors of the zesty filling meld with the goodness of the eggplant. A touch of orange, a common Middle Eastern accent to thin the richness of pork, joins the taste of tomato, garlic, cumin and Tabasco pepper sauce. Check out this feature at your local Publix store that will most definitely provide a Middle Eastern dining experience. Subtly heighten flavor by using a few dashes of Tabasco sauce in the boiling water for the eggplant as well.

Curry Stuffed Onions brings a Far Eastern tang to the stuffed vegetable side dish. The judicious use of fruit — tart apples and raisins — provides a piquant counterpoint to the full-bodied curry and mustard.

Medium-sized onions serve as the basis for the dish which is perfect for a meat platter garnish. The onions are easy to prepare for stuffing, an added bonus for a busy cook. The preparation of the shells can be done ahead of time — another boon — and the stuffing mixture is easy to prepare in advance, too.

You'll find that Baked Eggplant with Pork Stuffing and Curry Stuffed Onions will put the very best stuff that the East has to offer on your table.

BAKED EGGPLANT WITH PORK STUFFING

- 1 large eggplant
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 3/4 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce, divided
 - 2 tablespoons olive oil
 - 1 pound pork shoulder, cut into 1/2-inch cubes
 - 1 medium onion, chopped (1/2 cup)
 - 1 clove garlic, mashed
 - 1/2 cup chopped celery
 - 1 teaspoon ground cumin
 - 1 can (6-ounces) tomato paste
 - 1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind
 - 1-3rd cup orange juice
 - 1 egg, slightly beaten
 - 1-3rd cup toasted, sliced almonds
 - Grated Parmesan cheese
- Quarter eggplant lengthwise. In a large saucepan bring 2 inches salted water to a boil. Add 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco sauce. Add eggplant; cover, steam 20 minutes. Remove eggplant from pan; drain on wire racks. Scoop out pulp from each quarter, leaving 1/4 inch of the skin and pulp to form a shell. Chop pulp; reserve. In medium skillet, heat oil; brown pork over medium heat. Add onion; saute 2 minutes. Stir in garlic, celery and cumin; 3 minutes longer. Stir in tomato paste; orange rind and orange juice. Remove from heat; stir in egg, almonds and remaining 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco sauce. Mound filling on each eggplant shell. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Place in baking dish. Bake in a 350 degree F. oven 30 minutes or until cheese is lightly browned and filling is heated through. Serve with additional Tabasco sauce, if desired. Yield: 4 servings.

CURRY STUFFED ONIONS

- 4 medium onions (about 1 1/2 pounds)
 - 3 tablespoons butter
 - 1/2 cup chopped celery
 - 1 cup shredded carrot
 - 1 1/2 tablespoons Dijon-style mustard
 - 3/4 teaspoon curry powder
 - 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce
 - 1-3rd cup chopped, tart apple
 - 1/4 cup raisins
- Peel onions. Cut off one quarter of each onion from the top. Trim the root end leaving it intact. Using a large melon-ball scoop, remove centers of onions leaving 1/4-inch thick shells. Stand onion shells in a saucepan with 1 inch boiling water; cover; steam 15 minutes. Remove onion shells from saucepan; invert on a wire rack; cool and drain. Finely chop onion centers. (You should have 1/2 cup chopped.) In a medium skillet, melt 3 tablespoons butter; saute chopped onion 3 minutes. Add celery, cook 1 minute. Stir in carrot, mustard, curry and Tabasco sauce. Remove from heat. Stir in apple and raisins. Spoon stuffing into onion shells. Arrange in small baking dish; pour hot water into baking dish to a depth of 1 inch. Bake in a 325 degree F. oven 15 minutes, or until onions are heated through. Yield: 4 servings.

French Fondue From The Alps

Natives of the French Alps have their own version of a cheese fondue using fine mountain cheeses and French wines. These add a different flavor to fondue because of the cheese selection. If there are dieters around, you may select a Cantal, which is high in protein and has a low fat content.

Too high heat when cooking can cause the cheese to become stringy. If this happens, add a tablespoon of boiling water to the pot and stir until smooth.

Serve with a chilled white wine but avoid ice water, since it causes the cheese to congeal, making it difficult to digest.

LA FONDUE AUX ALPES

- 8 ounces Comte, Cantal or French Gruyere cheese, grated
 - 1 1/2 tablespoons flour
 - 1/2 garlic clove
 - 1 cup French dry white wine
 - 1 1/2 tablespoons Armagnac salt and pepper
 - bite-size pieces French baguette
- In a bowl, mix cheese and flour. Rub an earthenware or glass Pyrex pot with garlic. Pour wine into pot and heat until wine just starts to bubble. Add cheese mixture one handful at a time, stirring well after each addition until fondue is smooth. Stir in Armagnac, salt and pepper to taste. Place pot over warmer and spear pieces of bread on forks and dip into fondue. Serve with chilled (not icy) French white wine from Alsace, such as Riesling or Gewurtztraminer, or from the Jura region. Avoid ice water or highly iced drinks while eating cheese fondue. This kitchen-tested recipe serves two.
- 3 pounds Comte, Cantal or French Gruyere cheese, grated
 - 2-3 cup flour
 - 1/2 garlic clove
 - 6 cups French dry white wine
 - 2-3 cup Armagnac salt and pepper
 - bite-size pieces French baguette
- Prepare as above. This kitchen-tested recipe serves 12.

Savory eggplant filled with a piquant pork stuffing will be a highlight of your winter menu.

Potato Skins Gussied Up For Tempting Appetizers

New and tempting hors d'oeuvres ideas highlight the Idaho potato, considered the world's best because of its unique flavor and texture. Two trendy finger foods sure to delight guests this winter are Idaho Potato Skins with Parmesan Topping and Lacy Potato Fritters.

Potato skins have grown enormously in popularity as more and more restaurants offer them. As easy in preparation as are on the budget, Idaho Potato Skins can be made a day ahead and refrigerated until broiling time. The potato pulp, which isn't needed for the appetizer, can be mashed for the main course. Gussy up the mashed potatoes with chopped black olives, pimiento and parsley for a glamorous side dish or mix with cooked mashed turnips or carrots for a stylish, stand-out vegetable.

Paring down is the key to simple, yet elegant entertaining. Guests don't have to be surrounded by half a dozen hors d'oeuvres before dinner. A single appetizer served informally, yet imaginatively, such as Lacy Potato Fritters, sets the tone for an enjoyable evening for all.

A basket of these crispy fritters makes a marvelous centerpiece for pre-dinner nibbling. They are quick to make, a boon for the busy hostess, and are easy to serve as a finger food.

Another way to keep entertaining fun and painless is to be well-organized. When deciding on a menu, preferably a week before your party, look for dishes that can be prepared ahead of time, at least in part. If your main dish and dessert are tucked in the freezer a few days before your guests arrive, you'll reap the psychological dividend of being prepared. And since a calm hostess is as important an element in successful entertaining as the food or the guest list, an agenda plotted out in advance will set the tone for a pleasant evening.

Look for an oval-shaped potato, with a net-textured skin and russet brown in color. Eyes should be few and shallow. Consider your use when buying potatoes. Smaller ones — up to nine ounces — are excellent for baking while the larger potatoes — ranging to a pound — make marvelous French fries or deep fried potato skins.

Once you've brought your potatoes home, store them in a cool, dark and dry place with good ventilation; not the refrigerator. Chilling will convert the starch to sugar, creating an unnatural sweet taste. Light is an enemy too because it causes the potatoes to turn green and bitter. Excess heat is also a no-no. It will shrink the skin. At 45 degrees, at which temperature you'll find many cellars or garages, potatoes will keep for several weeks. Room temperature will maintain them at their peak for approximately one week.

A baked potato produces one of life's supreme eating pleasures. Wash and scrub the potato. Pierce the skin with a fork to prevent steam from building up and bursting the potato and place it on a baking sheet. Bake an average-size potato about 7 to 9 ounces, for 55 to 65 minutes at 425 degrees F. Adjust time according to size. The potato is done if it feels soft or if a knife slides in without resistance.

Microwave oven users should place the potatoes on paper toweling leaving about an inch between potatoes for maximum penetration. Turn the potatoes about halfway through cooking time. Two potatoes will take from 6 to 8 minutes while four potatoes would bake for 10 to 12 minutes. Six potatoes take from 14 to 16 microwave minutes.

IDAHO POTATO SKINS WITH PARMESAN TOPPING

- 4 Idaho potatoes
 - 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
 - $\frac{1}{2}$ cup mayonnaise
 - 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
 - 2 teaspoons grated onion
- Wash potatoes, dry and prick with a fork. Bake in a 425 degrees F. oven 50 to 60 minutes, until soft. Cool potatoes slightly; cut into wedge-shaped quarters; scrape out pulp. Place skins, skin-side-down, on baking sheet. Brush lightly with melted butter. Return to oven. Bake 10 minutes longer or until crispy. In small bowl combine mayonnaise, cheese and onion; mix well. Spread topping on potato skins. Place under broiler, 4-inches from heat. Broil 2 to 3 minutes until topping is golden. Serve hot. Yield 16 wedges.

LACY POTATO FRITTERS

- 2 eggs
 - 1 clove garlic, minced
 - 1 tablespoon soy sauce
 - 1 tablespoon sesame seeds
 - 1 tablespoon flour
 - 1 tablespoon baking powder
 - 3 Idaho potatoes, peeled
 - vegetable oil for frying
- In large mixing bowl beat eggs, stir in garlic, soy sauce, sesame seeds, flour and baking powder. Grate potatoes coarsely using the large holes of a hand grater or food processor. Squeeze out as much liquid as possible from potatoes; stir into egg batter. Heat about 2-inches oil to 325 degrees F. in an electric frypan or deep fryer. Drop a forkful of potato mixture into hot oil. Mixture should spread to make a lacy effect. Brown quickly on one side; turn with fork and brown other side. Drain on paper towels. Repeat with remaining potato mixture. Yield about 3 dozen fritters.

IDAHO POTATOES WITH SPICED CHICKEN TOPPING

- 4 Idaho potatoes
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup olive oil
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup slivered almonds
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 2 cloves garlic, chopped
- 1 pound boned and skinned chicken breasts or thighs, cut in strips
- 2 tablespoons flour
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cups chicken broth
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon ground cumin
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon hot pepper sauce
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup raisins

Scrub potatoes, dry and prick with a fork. Bake in a 425 degree F. oven 55 to 65 minutes, until soft. In large skillet heat oil, saute almonds until golden brown. Add onion and garlic; saute until tender. Add chicken; cook, stirring, until chicken turns white. Sprinkle with flour; mix well. Combine broth, lemon juice, cinnamon, paprika, salt and hot pepper sauce. Gradually add to chicken mixture, stirring constantly, until mixture boils and thickens. Stir in raisins. Simmer 3 minutes. Spoon evenly over blossomed potatoes. 4 servings.

HORSERADISH STUFFED IDAHO POTATOES

- 4 Idaho potatoes
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 cup chopped celery
- $\frac{3}{4}$ cup heavy cream
- 3 tablespoons prepared white horseradish
- 1 tablespoon wine vinegar
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt

Scrub potatoes, dry and prick with a fork. Bake in a 425 degree F. oven 55 to 65 minutes, until soft. Meanwhile, melt butter in a small skillet; saute celery until tender. When potatoes are baked, cut slice from top of each potato; carefully scoop out pulp without breaking skin. Set skins aside. In large bowl, combine potato, heavy cream, horseradish, vinegar and salt; beat until light and fluffy. Stir in sauteed celery. Spoon potato mixture into shells. Bake in a 350 degree F. oven 20 to 25 minutes, until heated through and slightly browned on top. 4 servings.

The phrase "crocodile tears" derives from an ancient Greek legend — The giant lizard was believed to attract its victims by loud moaning and then shed tears while it devoured them.

Potato skins make enticing hors d'oeuvres.
