

1970; Coffee, Tea With A Very Discernable Knee

By ANN HENCKEN
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Airline stewardesses, catered to by some of the nation's top designers, are turning thumbs down on the mid-line, promising at least one more year of coffee, tea and discernable knee.

Unlike most women, they had a choice.

Trans World Airlines, in a poll of 331 stewardesses, found the mid-line unpopular. TWA officials say they will be "running in the face of designers" when their new fashion line is revealed in mid-August.

A permanent addition to the line is expected to be pants ensembles, used on a trial basis last May and within a month officially raised the hem to right above the knee.

Beginning next October, United Airlines, in what amounted to a case of trial and error, introduced below-the-knee jumpers in its fashion line last May and within a month officially raised the hem to right above the knee.

Honesty Pays Off For A Young Boy

By CHARNER LEONE

This is a chapter in the story of a young boy. A young man really. It's the story of an honest young man. Just ask Charles Jenkins.

Jenkins, 625 Camellia Court in Sunland Estates, lost his wallet sometime on Saturday. He isn't sure where he lost it, but he was anxious to have it back. The black wallet held $81 and "a bunch of credit cards," said the youngster who found the wallet.

Matthew Stewart Palmer. This is his story.

Nine year old Matt, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer, 105 Brown Drive, Sunland had his Mom stop the car at the Sanford Garden Club, located at the entrance of Sunland on Highway 17-92.

Matt was collecting bottles near the Club to return to the nearby convenience store Monday afternoon when his sharp eyes spotted the wallet.

Matt's a nice looking kid, with neatly combed blond hair (and a cowlick), blue eyes, and a shiner on his forehead ("where I fell off my bike and hit a wall") and a shy smile that'll be a real hit with the girls in a few years.

He's one of eight children.

Matt will enter the fourth grade at Lake Mary later this month. He is a member of the First Baptist Church of Sanford.

"Boj, was Mr. Jenkins glad to get his wallet back?" exclaimed Matt. "He was out looking for it when I called him to tell him I had found it." Jenkins had no idea where he had lost his wallet, but says he was nowhere near the Garden Center that weekend, except to pass in the car.

"He gave me $10 for finding the wallet," said Matt shyly. "I put it in the bank for my college education."

WEATHER — Yesterday's high almost made it to the 'century mark', missing by one degree, and finished at 99 high and low early this morning at 71.

Early Tuesday through Wednesday with a chance of afternoon or evening thundershowers.

Remember that little squib we had earlier... about running a private school WITHIN OUR PUBLIC SCHOOL STRUCTURE... without having to pay a dime for the privilege?

Understand that there's a new policy which states the charge for utilizing these facilities.

And how 'cum certain people are permitted to take over the use of a school (like Lyman High for instance), and here again not have to pay a penny. Maybe they didn't have permission in the first place, eh?

Did you hear about the family who was "tight on the green stuff" (and doesn't that apply to all of us?), and the kids wanted to go over to the beach for a vacation.

Mama said, "Earn some money and then we'll go."

So, the entire family went out and picked aluminum cans (which pay 1/4¢ each when delivered flattened to Orlando), and made $69.14 serving two purposes... fun for the kids and cleaning the area as well.

Which brings us to those organizations looking for a means of raising their treasury... who not put on a drive to clear the roadways of these unsightly monsters.

And while you're at it, write your Congressman and ask him to "force" can manufacturers to place a sizeable deposit on their products... and then maybe we'll stop those litter-bugs, eh?

Let Tranquilly come to him who deals with objects of the senses, not loving and not hating, making them serve his free soul, which remains serenely lord.

County Desegregation Plan Okayed By Court

By BILL SCOTT

Orlando U.S. District Judge George Young yesterday issued a memorandum opinion that accepted Seminole County's school desegregation plan and ended the necessity of setting a hearing into the plan.

Judge Young's decision came after the U.S. Justice Department reviewed and accepted the plan chosen earlier by the school board and submitted in line with an order from U.S. District Judge Charles Scott of Jacksonville, after first turning down another proposal from a three-man educational team appointed by Judge Scott.

The Justice Department entered a consent decree to the county's plan after Douglas Stenstrom, school board attorney, journeyed to Washington for a meeting with Martin Burke, Justice attorney. Judge Young's decision to accept the decree, submitted jointly by the school board

County Reviews Parks For Future Acquisition

Acquisition of county parks was discussed at a meeting this morning of the County Commission by Fred Ganas, representing the Long Range Planning Committee. Ganas showed the commission maps and transparencies of proposed sites in the county.

Sites include the Wekiva-St. Johns area encompassing 600 acres; Island Pond-Buck Lake, 350 acres; Sand Lake (near the Orange County line) 80 acres; Lake Howell, 120 acres; Big Tree (to be used as a buffer between two parks) 900 acres; and Lake Monroe Park (to contain 30 separate parcels of land) 20 acres. Ganas told the commission, in answer to a query, that only two areas had been deleted from the original proposal of the planning committee; that of Crane's Root but features natural resources and historical attractions. Monroe Park has deleted camping, swimming, skiing, boating, horses but retains picnicking, trails, nature, natural resources, historical and as an added feature a tourist attraction.

Commission Chairman John Alexander suggested that the plans be reviewed by the County Planning and Zoning Board to ascertain a tie-in with the comprehensive land use program and continuity in long-range planning. Alexander also questioned County Attorney Harold Johnson as to the dead-line the county must meet in adopting a resolution for the purpose of placing the matter on the ballot in the Nov. 3 election.

The park will have its own shopping center with convenience stores. A 15 mile speed limit will be in effect and security guards will police the park. The development will be built in two phases; one section will be provided for adults, and the other for families.

An area will be set aside for parking of boats, and there will be no air drying of clothing except in a designated area.

N. Orlando Approves Trailer Zoning Rules

By MARION BETHA

NORTH ORLANDO — Village Council last night adopted upon third and final reading by title only an ordinance which provides a new zoning classification for a trailer park district. This paved the way for a rezoning request by Gertrude Construction Company from T-1 to R-1. The request was approved by the council.

Al Land, Land Engineering Company, representing the construction company, presented sketches of the rental trailer park which the council proposes to erect on Hays and Moss Roads south of SR 44. Land stated that 12 acres of the park will be dedicated to a recreation area, encompassing a club house, swimming pool, shuffleboard court and tennis court.

Minimum size set for the trailers is 10 by 36 feet, and the trailers must not be over five years old and in presentable condition adding to the esthetics of the park. Council on T-1 to R-1. The request was approved by the council.

Dope Problems Continue

Narcotics were involved in the arrest of one youth and the attempted suicide of another in the past 24 hours.

In two separate incidents, county police records reveal that Philip Edward Wolf, 17-year-old, U.S. Air Force recruit, stationed at Grand Parks Air Force Base, North Dakota, was arrested Monday afternoon by Constable Chester Boyd of Oviedo after he is alleged to have approached three teenage girls near a Chulouta grocery store, and offered the marijuana.

Boyd charged Wolf, who was visiting at Mattland with friends, with possession of marijuana and placed him in the county jail in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Earlier Monday, a Lake Mary youth tried to kill himself with glass from a beverage bottle while under the influence of drugs—possibly LSD.

The youth was removed to Florida Sanitarium and Hospital after first receiving treatment at Seminole Memorial Hospital for cuts and lacerations he inflicted on himself while in the grip of the drug.

In a Sunday burglary last night, a quantity of tools, radio and ball point pens were removed from the Teatosa bulk oil plant of McCracken Road. A strip of tin siding was pried off the building to allow entry.

The burglars were unsuccessful in opening the company safe although a hole was bored into the side of the steel box.

Mistrial Information Filed In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Defense attorneys in the Sharon Tate murder trial say they will ask again for a mistrial today because President Nixon's defendant Charles M. Manson is "guilty, directly or indirectly, of eight murders without reason."

Cambodian Bloodbath

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — The Cambodian army has driven Communist troops from Kompong Thom in one of its bloodiest battles yet, military spokesmen said today. U.S. planes were reported flying in support of another Communist Cambodian garrison at Skoun. Spokesmen said at least 32 Cambodians were killed and 74 wounded in driving the guerrilla force from Kompong Thom, an important communication center 80 miles north of Phnom Penh. The town was encircled and under attack for three days.

Communist losses were listed as at least 11 killed, with an undetermined number of dead and wounded carried off the battlefield. The Cambodian casualty figure was among the heaviest officially confirmed since Cambodian troops began fighting the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese following the March 18 ouster of Prince Norodom Sihanouk. Fighting in South Vietnam overnight centered at the Mekong Delta. South Vietnamese troops reported killing 44 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese Monday near Cai Lay district town, 42 miles south of Saigon. Military sources said the government units lost six men killed and 29 wounded.

The city council has approved a plan to build with the first phase of the park. Some contention arose when Village Attorney Thomas Erenson queried the 10 percent which was to be donated to a recreation area. Freeman said that with 28 trailers per acre, this would be as packing 70 trailers in like conditions, which necessitated a large recreation area. Land counters that there were 34 homes per lot in North Orlando, and the 15 lots per acre in the park compared favorably with 20 featured in Garden Apartments. Also under discussion was the fact that an area had not been provided for baseball park. Land said that the developers wished to keep the naturally beautiful setting along the park. A ball park would be a ball park, Mayor Clifford Jordan stated that he had wanted the length of the creek, which was to be a ball park, to be "the most naturally beautiful spot in Seminole County."

Off The Cuff Comment Nixon Calls Manson A Guilty Man

By FRANK COHRNER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has backed away from an off-the-cuff comment that Charles Manson, the California hippie cult leader, was guilty, directly or indirectly, of eight murders without reason.
Fellow lawyer Mitchell, however, made no move to suggest that Nixon amend his impromptu remark.
Shortly afterward, press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler stated, after extended questioning by newsmen, that Nixon "talked to me the word 'alleged,' in referring to Manson's case."
The defense was free to renew the motion under that ruling, which it said it would do today. If such a motion were approved, a new start would be required in the trial of Manson and other defendants in the celebrated Sharon Tate murder case.
Stopping in Denver en route back to the White House from a working holiday in San Clemente, Calif., Nixon went before newsmen prior to conferring in the Colorado capital with state law enforcement officials and said of Manson:
"There is a man, yet, who, as far as the (news media) cover to be rather a glamorous figure of the past."
Shattered palm trees were snapped and jammed into road tops. Streets, farm fields and shops and homes—those still left standing—were flooded.
"We can't get no lights, no water, no power—nothing but trouble," said Corpus Christi Police Cmdr. C. C. Hagan.
Police said 4 Civil Defense reported four persons dead and hundreds injured.
Celia was still alive today. She kicked 80-mile-an-hour gales through Del Rio, a Texas town on the Mexican border 250 miles northwest of where the storm swirled ashore 12 hours before at Corpus Christi.
The search for the dead began at daybreak. Hagan said one of the victims was a baby crushed when his home caved in around him.
"I'm just afraid we're liable to find more . . .," he said.
Daybreak showed an unbelievable mess in lower after town. Many were completely sealed off because communications were knocked out. There was little food or water.
"We have a bad situation everywhere," said Corpus Christi Mayor Jack Blackmon.
"We anticipate many injuries. We just don't know about all of them yet. The primary job at the moment is determining the nature and extent of casualties and getting water and other essential services back on."

Sanford Faces Big Deficit

By BILL SCOTT
Sanford's Commission estimates indicated by last night's first budget chopping session have a large and somewhat tedious task facing them.
They must either find a elusive $425,970 to balance expected expenditures of $2,318,970, while the projected revenue is anticipated to be $1,896,000.
From the first efforts last night, it is evident just in making budget cuts, the commission sometimes find themselves in agreement with the recommendations as outlined by City Manager W. E. Knowles in the prepared document, and hesitant to slash away at items and services needed by Sanford.
The first victim to the paring knife was an administrative aide at a projected $8,000 salary.
After discussion, the commission indicated it would be better to hire a city engineer at projected $12,000 salary rather than the aide. Reasoning by the commission for deletion hinged on the employment of an engineer to help knowledgic himself of one of the many municipal duties assigned him.
The city manager agreed that an engineer was more beneficial to the city and could also be used in conjunction with the airport operation.
Other tentative deletions from the city manager's budget included a request to curtail two of three rooms. Commission indicated willingness to curtail one room of the manager's office at this time.
Commissioner W. Vincent Roberts indicated he was for cutting down on city subscriptions to publications and periodicals and city paying employee expenses for travel outside of state to various meetings in line with the prepared document.
Roberts said he could go along with state meetings, but wanted to cut back on paid employees going outside the state.
Commissioner Gordon Meyer questioned the need for city providing a car to Henry Tamm, finance director, and the employment of an additional secretary for the finance office may also be deleted before the paring is completed.
The police department with a request for six new men escaped untouched in a recommendation for $70,230 for fiscal 1974. It was brought out by Knowles that police maintain a special informer's fund of $1,500 to pay for information in the city's fight against drugs.

Alexander continued that the county must have the legal description of the properties involved as well as a survey, and that the estimated acquisition cost must be determined. The chairman continued that the property owners could be contacted for a sale price or the county could first deal with the appraisal aspect.
Johnson advised that, in placing the general obligation bond issue on the ballot, the cost of acquisition must be stated, the legal description delineated, the period of time for the issue and the interest rate. Johnson continued that the general obligation bond issue requires "more than a nebulous wanting to acquire land." He went on to say that park condemnation is more complicated than roads, and must tie into a planned program.
There are necessary laws and statutes to effect condemnation, Johnson said, but public necessity must be substantiated to condemn for park purposes.
In answer to Alexander's question of the deadline for the county to adopt a resolution to place the general obligation bond issue on the ballot, Johnson said a public notice of referendum must be published no later than 30 days prior to the election, and that he would need two weeks to prepare the advertisement. Therefore, it was asserted that the deadline would be Sept. 8. Alexander requested that Planning and Zoning meet prior to next Tuesday to determine if the proposal aligns with future public needs and park acquisition and report to the commission at its meeting on Aug. 21.
Johnson proposed to commission all six year areas in one package, and requested authority to talk with the bonding attorney relative to the bond issue. It was also discussed as to procuring information as to federal matching funding for the parks.

Influence Peddling Reviewed

By LAWRENCE L. KNUXTON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate appears near a showdown vote on whether to revoke a congressman's cherished prerogative to announce defense contracts awarded to firms in his district.
When a congressman makes such an announcement, argues Sen. John J. Williams, R-De., it leaves the impression of influence peddling.
Williams' amendment, attached to the $13.2 billion military procurement bill, would require all defense contract awards to be announced first by the Pentagon.
Under present practice, the Defense Department gives advance notice to the representative or senator who makes the announcement—whether or not he had anything to do with the contract.
Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania disagreed with Williams. He said he considers himself an ambassador to Washington and intends to continue telling his constituents what's going on.
Williams said that because it is a crime to accept a contract on the basis of political pressure or influence, the practice of congressmen appearing to take credit for a contract award is doubly misleading.
With its vote on the Williams amendment taking first priority, the Senate has not yet begun serious consideration of an amendment likely to prove the first major obstacle to passage of the military bill, a move to limit expansion of the Safeguard antiballistic missile system.
That amendment, sponsored by Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., would cut from the bill plans to expand the ABM system a second phase at two new sites.
It would retain $1.27 billion to continue development of the first ABM phase.

Heart Of Texas Devastated By Celia

By DARELL MACK
CORPUS CHRISTI, TEX. (UPI) — Hurricane Celia, which battered the coast with 161-mile-an-hour winds Monday, knocked out power, spread floods and fire and devastated scores of towns today on a 250-mile path up the heart of Texas.
Shattered palm trees were snapped and jammed into road tops. Streets, farm fields and shops and homes—those still left standing—were flooded.

DEMOLISHED is the word for this vehicle shortly after it struck the Econ River Bridge, on SR 419 east of Oviedo. Driven by Stuart Olan Fox, 18, Oviedo, the car slammed into the bridge with an impact that threw the motor out of the car. Fox was treated for minor injuries at Winter Park Memorial Hospital and released. He was charged with reckless driving by Florida Highway Patrol Trooper Walt Glass.

Highway Leads To Special Plant

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The government spent nearly $40 million to build a special superhighway as a favor for a steel plant in rural Illinois, investigators have told Congress.
The 11-mile spur on the interstate highway system was criticized as unjustified in the report Monday by the General Accounting Office (GAO).
The Interstate 180 link, which was opened last fall, runs to the entrance of the new Jones & Laughlin steel plant at Hennepin, Ill., which has a population of 391, is a village on the Illinois River about 100 miles southwest of Chicago.
The report criticized the Federal Highway Administration for turning down other requests for spurs in larger metropolitan areas like Tucson, Ariz., and Tacoma, Wash., while approving the superhighway link dipping from Interstate 80, a major cross-country route running west from Chicago, and ends in a cloverleaf at the entrance to the steel plant.
It includes a new bridge built over the Illinois River just west of the plant.
The GAO report said the steel firm's officials had demanded construction of the I-180 spur so that trucks would have an easy access to the main I-80 route to Chicago.
"No other interstate spur route has been constructed primarily to serve a private manufacturing company, and no other interstate spur route serves an area with such a small population," the GAO said.
Illinois officials, who made the commitment to Jones & Laughlin when the plant site was announced in 1965, originally suggested that Interstate 55 be moved to run past Hennepin, a costly change that would have added an extra 24 miles to the route.
Federal highway officials in Washington refused to do that and proposed the special spur for the steel plant as a compromise at a meeting Jan. 13, 1967, the report said.
At one point, the GAO said, the interchange at the end of the route was redesigned especially at the request of the steel firm.

Letters To The Editor Officials Back Academy

Sensationalism
July 28, 1970
Sanford Herald
Sanford, Florida
ATTN: EDITOR
Dear Sir:
Does it really take Sensationalism to sell papers these days? If that is true, this country is in a sad state of affairs.
We urgently request that you take action to locate the State Police Academy in Sanford. Modern air conditioned facilities ideally suited for the academy are immediately available. Establishment of the Academy in Sanford will give Florida's first class centrally located Police Academy now, at very low cost to the taxpayers.
In addition to the above telegram, we have disseminated this matter in detail with the Governor's office and with other members of the Senate/Florida legislative delegation. Please continue your efforts in support of locating the Academy in Sanford. It will be a great asset to our community and to the State of Florida.
Sincerely,
Lewis S. Earle,
State Representative

Poseidon Launch Draws Russian Spy Trawler

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Navy officials say they prevented a Soviet spy ship from obtaining vital information about the first submarine fitting of a Poseidon missile, even though the Russian vessel made a daring dash that almost resulted in collision at sea.
"We don't know for sure what they were after but they sure didn't get much," a Navy spokesman said.
The incident occurred Monday when the nuclear sub James Madison launched the Poseidon missile submerged in the Atlantic 30 miles east of Cape Kennedy. The Soviet trawler, Laptev, was under way on a mission to intercept the missile. The ship stopped dead as the Laptev stopped in collision at sea.

Don't Panic! Put Out The Fire

By CHARNER LEONE

The phone rings. Absentmindedly you walk away from the dinner you have just started. An acquaintance has an amusing story to tell and the minutes tick by.

The empty pan you left on the stove ignites. The flames leap up. Fire! The phone is left ringing. Your heart pounds as you seek the best remedy for the fire.

Water? No. If your stove is electric you could receive a shock. Besides, the water won't stop a grease fire. But save the water for the cabinets—it will put out the wood fire.

A powder, like baking soda? That's better, but if the cabinets have caught you'll still need the water to douse it.

The panic mounts as the flames dance over the pan and smoke spirals upward to mar the cabinets above. The cabinets will cost more to replace than the stove. Maybe you should extinguish that fire first? Or should you call the fire department and wait for their arrival and waste precious moments as they rush to you? Or you could reach for the ABC Class fire extinguisher you

Photographic Studio Now Open

PHOTOGRAPHY IS A FAMILY AFFAIR for the Ronnie Catlin family! Daughter Jo is a favorite model, of course, for Dad, as he angles the lens to best capture his pixie offspring, and Mom, Judy, poses the subject. (Charner Leone Photo)

A moment, a mood, an emotion that reveals the real you. The smile that lingers in memory. You are a very special person. And the quality of that person should be recorded. A portrait is more than just a picture. It is the sum of many intangibles. A portrait is a creation, a work of art.

One who takes a portrait is, then, an artist—an artist with a camera and the gift of memory. You are a very special person. And the quality of that person should be recorded. A portrait is more than just a picture. It is the sum of many intangibles. A portrait is a creation, a work of art.

Ronnie, a free lance photographer, and Judy, who had worked in a color laboratory, answered an ad in a newspaper, investigated the area, and decided that Seminole County was the ideal spot for them.

Catlin Studio is the only photographic studio in Sanford. It's teamwork all the way for the Catlins, and the results are great! Chances are that you'll be welcomed into their lovely new studio by pretty little Jo Catlin, their five year old daughter. Judy "mans" the desk, actually poses subjects, and after hours, helps husband Ronnie in the darkroom.

Catlin Studio specializes in portraits. The portraits can be tinted or painted in oil. The colors are beautiful. Or they will take the picture, offering you a wide selection of proofs to select from, and have Mrs. Judy Malone, a well known artist in the area, copy the portrait in oil, pastel, or any other medium you prefer. The tedious, tiring time you save by not having to "sit" for the artist is invaluable.

Catlin Studio will take all types of pictures: weddings, parties, banquets, passports, and so forth. They do all of their own processing, except for the weddings, which are in color and are sent to color laboratories.

"Someday we hope to have our own color lab," said the talented photographer. For other photos Ronnie Catlin prefers to take them in black and white and tint them, by hand, later. "The color is much truer that way," he explained. He pointed to the beautiful portraits hanging in the waiting room of the studio. "They're seven years old, and just look at that color!" The colors were as vivid and true as they were the day they were applied.

Catlin will restore the precious irreplaceable pictures you have saved from another, earlier time. They'll retouch the old photos, and even copy them so that you can share them

Air Pollution Is Too Near And Too Threatening

Floridians who have basked in the concept of "it can't happen here" must just as well live it away and forget it!

But of all such developments there is one which the Sunshine State has always shied away from and with very sound reasons. It is as Sam Goldwyn would have put it in two words: "Im Possible."

habitation and use as Florida today. Yet each has just experienced some days when the very life of man was threatened with air pollution poisoning those who had to breathe the metropolitan air a world apart.

ly in the traditionally agricultural sections of central Florida, may seem to be small enough to ignore. The next time, however, when you are caught in a traffic jam—and you will be—notice the amount of smoking, foul-smelling exhausts which surround you, even without a bus nearby. These can and should be remedied.

Nerve Gas, Nery Subject

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Defending its plan to dump 13,540 concrete-encased nerve gas rockets in the Atlantic, the Army has told Congress the rockets are virtually harmless and—in the same breath—increasingly dangerous.

“We can not see an accident that would set the rockets off,” Gen. William W. Stone told a House oceanography subcommittee Monday.

He said the Army had tested mock-ups of the rockets’ 418 steel-jacketed coffins by setting off a 36-pound dynamite charge under one and firing armor-piercing bullets into another.
Neither set off any test rockets, which contained five explosive but one of the deadly, odorless gas, Stone said.

By contrast, however, Army
Undersecretary Theodore R.
Beal said the Army did not want to delay getting rid of the rockets because they were becoming more dangerous.

He was asked to delay the Aug. 10 date for shipping the rockets from Anniston, Ala., and Lexington, Ky., to Sunny Point, N.C., where the Army plans to load them aboard a barge to be scuttled 200 miles off Florida in 14,000 feet of water.

“We do not wish to take the responsibility of doing that,” Beal replied. “Our plan is to proceed.”

He said a committee of civil ian specialists headed by Dr.
Paul Gross of Duke University had recommended the deca-dated rockets be jettisoned “without delay” because their explosive and propellant might be getting dangerously unstable with age.

“Time is of the essence,” Beal said. He said the Gross committee’s first proposal—vacating the rockets in an underground nuclear blast—was rejected because the Atomic Energy Commission said it would take 15 months.

Rep. Paul Rogers, D-Fla., said unless the Army delayed the shipment he would ask the governor of Florida to seek a court order against it.

Later in Miami Rep. William
C. Cramer, R-Fla., said Army Secretary Stanley Resor had given him “absolute assurance” the rockets would not be shipped until the subcommittee hearing ended.

Beal said the Army planned to take maximum precautions in shipping the rockets. He said the trains would creep along at 35 miles an hour, following pilot trains that would scout the tracks for dangers. Aerial observers would keep watch over the train by day and search lights would probe the night, he said.

Beal said any damage to marine life would be minimal and preferable to endangering human life. “The maximum adverse environmental impact would be temporary contamination of approximately one cubic mile of water,” he said.

The obsolete M-35 rockets were encased in concrete 18 months ago when they showed signs of leaking. Public outcry prevented dumping them at sea, as had been done with other such obsolete gas weapons.

The Army has found other ways to get rid of similar weapons, but is stuck with the 418 steel-and-concrete coffins because it says it cannot safely dispose of them in any way but dumping.

Angel, Bracken Speak To Chuluota Parents

By LIZA BAKER
County School Supt. John Angel and Andrew Bracken, administrative assistant, attended a meeting of concerned parents Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert C. Martin, president of the Chuluota Civic Association, and answered questions concerning the present school situation.

Asked why the “freedom of choice” was taken away, Angel answered, “Frankly, I do not know. However, the subject dates back to 1954 and we were fortunate to have prevented any social problems up to this point.”

The biggest concern about the Chuluota children attending the Jackson Heights school were the dogs roving in and out of the classrooms and school grounds. Angel assured the parents this matter would be taken care of.

Chuck Anderson and Gale
Dennis presided at the meeting which was held in the community hall following a meeting of the board of directors of the Chuluota Civic Association.
Thomas Mickett, president of the civic association, appointed Norman Wells as chairman of outside activities and Helen Patrick chairman of local activities. Charles Anderson and Gale Dennis were appointed to investigate and report their findings for the betterment of the children of Chuluota.

Initial dues for joining the association are nominal per family.

A telephone has been installed at the civic hall and starting Monday, Aug. 2, calls for information will be received between the hours of 10 a.m.

Clean-Air Legislation Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Environmental Action, the group that organized last April's “Earth Day” demonstrations, proposed today a package of clean-air legislation and said it would soon be introduced in Congress by Sen. Charles E.
Goodell, R-N.Y.

Sen. Guyford Nelson, D-Wis., proposed a part of the package in an internal combustion engines or at least reduce emissions of air-polluting automobile exhaust emissions.

Dennis Hayes, national coordinator of Environmental Action, told a news conference the clean air proposals were supported by a coalition of nine other organizations including such conservation veterans as the Sierra Club, National Audubon Society and the Wilderness Society.

The Goodell legislation, Hayes said, would call for establishment of national standards for air-polluting automobile exhaust emissions from stationary sources, with heavy fines and criminal sanctions against violators.

The legislative proposal, Hayes added, would also give citizens standing to sue either as individuals or as a class for clean air.

Bridal Parties Honor Jenni Olliff

Mrs. Mary Joyce Bateman and Mrs. Esther Williams (in absentia on a trip to Europe) were hostesses at the Williams home to the traditional bridesmaids luncheon, honoring Miss Jennifer (Jenni) Olliff and her bridal attendants, on July 30.

The hostesses presented white carnation corsages to the brides-elect, her mother, Mrs. Marcelle Olliff, and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Robert C. Martin of Lake Mary. Miss Olliff also received a beautiful electric clock from the hostesses.

The dining room table, overlaid with an Italian cut cloth, was centered with an arrangement of pink and red roses. Silver and white place cards identified the guests' places.

The luncheon menu included tomatoes stuffed with shrimp sauce on lettuce, cucumber slices in pastry shells, fruit salad, hot rolls and peanut butter pie.

Miss Olliff presented her attendants with sterling necklaces of unusual design.

Other invited guests were Mrs. Samuel J. Rudland, Gainesville, Mrs. Marie Martin, Cleveland, Ohio, Mrs. Andrew Hanzhan, Mrs. Bertie Brough and petite Amy Brough.

Also the Misses Doris Bach, Julie Williams, Esta Leonard and Wendy Martin.

Other parties honoring Jenni included a luncheon shower given by Mrs. Howard Harrison and Mrs. Jean Jacoby in June. The bride's colors of yellow and white were used in decorating the cake and the floral decorations were yellow and white daisies. Highlight of the event was when the experienced cooks, mostly teacher friends of the bride's mother, presented Jenni with copies of their favorite recipes.

Relatives of the groom, Mrs. Mary Hanahan and Mrs. Marie Martin, arrived from New Jersey and Ohio just in time to attend a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. James Rowe several days before the wedding.

Although there were many experienced cooks in the assemblage, Wendy Martin, sister of the groom, won the prize for identifying helpful kitchen gadgets by sense of touch only.

Mary Joyce Bateman presented the punch bowl as guests enjoyed light refreshments. Miss Julie Williams, assisted Mrs. Rowe in decorating for the lovey event.

Miss Cindy Fowler's thinking she was going to a demonstration party with her mother at the John Mayhew home, she was pleasantly surprised to see her many friends, all there in her honor, for a bridal shower.

Hostess for the party included the Mrses. Pat Carlson, Jean Duke, Betty Bower, Dottie Cole, Jane Hayhew, Ruth Jolly, Anna Dawson and Miss Kimmern.

Since Lavender is one of the bride-elects favorite colors, the table held many lavender and purple favorites, including the punch cups, the floral arrangement under a clear umbrella, trimmed in purple, and the cake, decorated in purple and green on white frosting.

The water is so hot that the fish have gone to the bottom to escape the August heat, and the fishermen have kinds taken to the shade to cool off.

Bass fishing in the local area has been kinds slow with some bass catches and some of them nice in size. The most bass to be caught are in the Wakulla River because of the cool water.

There have been some nice size bass caught in the river on top water plugs and live minnows while fishing around the railroad trestle and north of the Highway 46 bridge along the shore line.

Bill Jim Crowe has finally done it. He's closed down for good. There is no more Crowe's Camp. It's all closed up and closed down. Jim said yesterday that he was through for good. Of course, he will voice his opinion when he has the chance, but for the fishing camp, it's all over.

TALLAHASSEE — The striped bass population in Lake Talquin is alive and doing well. In fact, the youngsters are beginning to break records for their rate of growth according to the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

The first striped bass were stocked in the 8,850-acre Lake Talquin in June, 1963. The young fish, now two years old, have weighed in at three and one-half pounds and measure 18 inches in length.

Mr. F. G. Banks, Assistant Chief of the Commission's Fisheries Division said, "Average growth rate for striped bass on the eastern coast is 13 ounces for two year old fish. The Talquin fish exceeds the average weight by more than two pounds and the average size by more than six inches."

According to Banks, the initial stocking of Lake Talquin consisted of 50,000 fingerlings approximately two inches long. A more recent stocking, this month, included an additional 45,000 fingerlings for a total of 95,000 striped bass. No fish were stocked in 1969.

The survival rate of the Lake Talquin striped bass was particularly attributed to the cooperation of fishermen who returned their catch to the water during the early days of the program. Fishermen are now reporting catches of striped bass and the stocking program appears to be well established.

Striped bass have also been stocked in Lake Underhill north, Hunter and Parker in Polk County and Lake Underhill in Orange County.

"Generally the program will probably be a 'put and take' type of fisheries operation, however, Lake Talquin may be an exception and one of the few lakes in Florida where natural reproduction may occur," Banks said.

The striped bass program, while two years old, is still classified as a research study by the Commission. Banks said, "It is our desire to provide the fishermen with the best possible fishing for his license dollar, and striped bass could prove to be one approach to improved fishing in Florida."

In addition, "Before we launch an extensive stocking operation we want to know all of the advantages and disadvantages of striped bass in Florida's inland waters. Until all questions have been answered and the results are satisfactory, the striped bass program will probably be limited to the research lakes."

"If the results of the research is satisfactory," Banks said, "the striped bass stocking program will be extended to other waters. Results of the two year study are being prepared and will be released in the near future. A favorable report is expected and will probably indicate the future of striped bass fishing in Florida."

FLY RODS ARE FUN FOR KIDS — Teaching children how to fish has always been associated with game pools and worms. This is a good way to interest the very young in fishing, but for kids approaching their teens some pole angling is too slow. Youngsters nine to 12 years old need action, and plenty of it.

One way to provide the kind of fishing excitement active kids want is to teach them to use a fly rod. On lakes and ponds everywhere, panfish, as well as large game fish, will respond to popping bugs tossed their way by a youngster with a light-action fly rod. And the fun kids have with fly fishing will create a life-long interest in angling.

To develop interest in outdoor activities such as fishing and boating is important, and the fishing department at Mercury outdoors offers the following tips for parents who want to teach their children to enjoy fly fishing.

First, understand that fly fishing is not difficult. Anyone can learn to use a fly rod. The degree of skill depends on the user's willingness to practice.

Check book stores for instruction books about fly fishing. Several are published that can be readily understood by youngsters.

Seminole All-Stars Dominate Georgia, 6-4

Johnny Tompkins burlied his way to 16 strikeouts last night in the first round of Southeastern Regional Colt League action, but his Rome, Ga. team lost all the marbles in the second inning when the Seminole County all-stars sent 10 batters to the plate and scored five runs. The final score saw Seminole County come out on top 6-4. In other first-round action, Tampa's South Palmetto all-stars defeated Gadsden, Alabama 8-3.

In the Seminole tilt, the local tournament hosts capitalized on four hits and three base-on-balls to score their five runs in the second inning. Darryl Payne led off with a walk and went all the way around to score on a pair of passed balls and a wild pitch. The next two batters faced, but Ricky NeSmith started a two-out rally as he drew a walk.

Jim Keene then slammed a two-run double and pitcher Larry Chamet drew another walk. Larry Brown, Kevin Stephenson and Dan Radovic hit back-to-back singles to account for the scoring.

Chamet blanked the Rome nine until the bottom of the fourth inning when they put a single tally on the scoreboard. They did it on a home hit; a leadoff single.

Seminole scored an insurance run in the fifth as Chamet walked Larry Brown. Kevin Stephenson and Dan Radovic hit back-to-back singles to account for the scoring.

'If Hank Can Do It, Then King Can Do It'

By GARY TAYLOR Herald Sports Writer (Second of a Series)

ATLANTA — It was a smiling Hal King who greeted this writer in the Braves dressing room after Wednesday's encounter with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Aaron departed the cage and King stepped in to swing six over the fence. During the barrage, Aaron turned to King and shouted, "Hey King, what the heck are you doing?" King glanced over his shoulder and replied, "If you can do it, I can do it."

It was during the recently completed home stand that King is presently batting .285 on the season. This year he has collected two or more home runs in 27 of the 56 games he has played in.

King has also done a respectable job behind the plate and has had four home runs in 18 games. He has also driven 20 base-on-balls. King has also contributed the game-winning run in two games.

"Well, I want to be a most successful wife and hold my husband's devotion as long as I live."

"So what can I do to cultivate should 'fetters' that attract a man to a woman?"

In modern times the word "charisma" has become popular. It indicates physical magnetism and personality plus. But charisma can be cultivated. An analysis of the mind to analyze male psychology and there use that knowledge to win and hold your husband's undying devotion. Fetters are thus made.

Polly's Pointers

By Polly Kramer

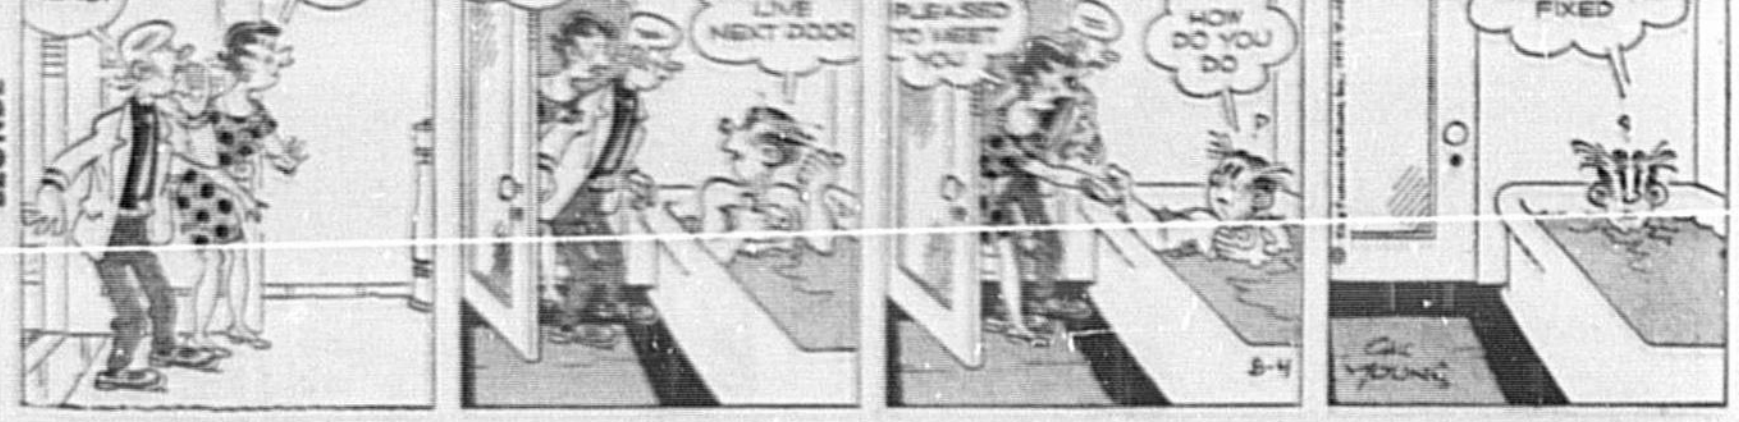

DEAR POLLY — I have just come into possession of some long-stemmed crystal champagne glasses that were wedding gifts to my grandmother or over 70 years ago. I do not want to discard them. Several glasses have tiny nickles in the bottom of them. I hope some readers can tell me how to eliminate these spots. —DOREEN

Well-convicted the strokes are psychosomatic.

Dinah Shore's Series Needs A Shake-Down

NEW YORK (UPI) — The prime time programs have the glamor and draw the publicity but the daytime shows make the money and that, briefly, explains the case of a genuine star, Dinah Shore, in a Monday-Friday daytime series.

"Dinah's Place" premiered Monday on NBC-TV in the mid-morning spot when viewers theoretically should be ready after the first stage of household chores, to take a coffee break along with half an hour of Miss Shore's chatter, songs, domestic hints and guests.

The formula, unfolded by Miss Shore, who looks younger than whatever her age is and very little older than her last regular singing series seven years ago, is simply something for everyone. She promised her viewers they would get tips on sewing, needlepoint, cooking, dieting, hairdressing, fashions and even playing tennis.

One of those that Dinah doesn't know herself—and she happens to be a versatile person in real life—she will extract from a helpful corps of experts. And along with the experts will come singly and in pairs a parade of celebrities led by Frank Sinatra, with whom she broke in on radio in what was obviously a very good year for talent.

Jack Benny, Bill Cosby, Carol Burnett and Bert Brachar are others from show business due to adorn the lavish set, cogged from Miss Shore's own home. On her absence from TV in recent years, Miss Shore said she was quite happy with tennis and an occasional TV special. The contract she had when she broke in on radio in what was obviously a very good year for talent.

Weren't you Dinah Shore, said by Frank Sinatra, with whom she broke in on radio in what was obviously a very good year for talent.

Candidate Challenges Judges

Jurist Obscenity Ruling Slashed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A U.S. Senate candidate told a federal judge Monday he was elected by the voters and would not have the judge impeached for his part in a ruling on Florida's obscenity law.

Balmer told the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals judge he wanted reversed a three-judge ruling that three of the five sections of the obscenity law are unconstitutional.

"You had better be a candidate for the House, where they initiate impeachment proceedings," Simpson told the man who went to his office to protest his action.

12 Floridians Drown in Undertow

Deadly undertows and rough waters spawned by Hurricane Coia sucked 12 swimmers to their deaths along Florida's Gulf Coast, authorities said Monday night.

Three persons drowned Monday in the Fort Walton Beach area, one died in waters off of Panama City, and another died in waters off of Panama City.

The hurricane's winds, up to 145-mph on land, forced up to 15-ft waves, and in some areas, the waves were 20 ft high.

The deaths occurred in the Fort Walton Beach area, Panama City, and Panama City.

'Arrive Alive' Publicity Awarded On Lowest Bid

By WILLIAM COTTELL
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI)—William H. Manning, director of Gov. Claude Kirk's highway safety campaign, has denied fully that a $124,000 contract to produce a "big girl" make-up ad was awarded on the basis of lowest bid.

Manning said Monday that he had submitted the lowest of two estimates on the promotional effort featuring bumper strips and other gimmicks. "I said the other estimate was in excess of $200,000 but declined to say who submitted it," he said.

Drury earlier received about $100,000 on a controversial contract for public relations work involving the old Florida 20 development Commission and the new state department of commerce. He also handled Kirk's personal public relations in his successful 1966 gubernatorial campaign.

QUICKEST way for an unmarried man to make the acquaintance of a new girlfriend is to enroll in an upholstery class at a trade school, it's said.

OUR LOVE AND WAR MAN disapproves of that fellow who calls his wife "the ball and chain," "the better half" or "the little lady."

GRAHAM KERR, that bouncing skillet slinger — you've seen him on T. have you not? He jumps around so much on the set, it's reported, the network had to employ a special crew of ice bucket cameramen to keep him in focus.

NOTE IT STATED all British sailors wear uniforms with blue buttons once it was believed they could not eat without spilling their food, the rascals. That's not right. They wear blue to cover up their hairy chests. The sight of some during a review long ago embarrassed Queen Victoria. Terribly. She could hardly bring herself to look.

NO SKIN DRIVER ever got the bends. I'm told. A CHECK OF the photo-finish camera records shows about 200 horse races each year end in dead heats.

CURIOUS HOW boys and girls differ in the way they carry books. A boy will almost always cup the books in his hand at the front of her with both arms.

Classified Advertising Managers Note: Because we are seeing real estate copy which appears to be questionable as regards compliance with the federal Truth in Lending Act, we offer the following, which has been prepared by the Federal Trade Commission as a guideline for real estate advertisers.

TRUTH IN LENDING AND THE ADVERTISING OF REAL ESTATE CREDIT

I. GENERAL RULES

The advertising provisions of Regulation Z (228.10) apply to any advertisement that is intended to promote an extension of consumer credit (that is, credit offered to a natural person in which the money, property or service is primarily for personal, family, household or agricultural purposes and which involves a finance charge or fee, by agreement, payable in more than four installments).

II. ADVERTISING OF REAL ESTATE CREDIT

Advertisements of assumptions generally involve the use of the annual percentage rate that does not trigger the full disclosure required in 228.10 (d) (2) — the rate of finance charge. In order to comply, the advertiser may state the rate and nothing else, but it must be expressed as an "Annual Percentage Rate" using that term.

III. ADVERTISING OF REAL ESTATE CREDIT

Liability for compliance with the advertising provisions of Regulation Z extends beyond that of the advertiser or manager of consumer credit. Once it is determined that an advertisement is consumer credit transaction the provisions of 228.10 apply to any advertiser, regardless of his role in the transaction.

What parts of the advertising provisions of Regulation Z apply to the real estate industry? Generally only Sections 228.10 (a) and (d) will apply to real estate transactions. 228.10 (a) sets forth the overriding principle that an advertisement should contain terms that are not usually and customarily associated with the credit to which this section is designed to make "full" advertising of credit terms expressly in violation of Federal Law.
