The Lady Fights Back At Ritz Tuesday

To capture the motion picture rights of a noted novelist's forthcoming novel before publication is a real feat. This accomplishment was achieved by Charles Deehan, Story Editor of the New Universal, in the case of "The Lady Fights Back." This picture, which stars Kent Taylor and Irene Hervey and which will play at the Ritz Theater on Tuesday, is founded on Arthur Stringer's novel which was just published the other day under the title "The Lady Fights Back."

However, the moving picture was actually completed long before Bobby Merrill brought out the novel.

Arthur Stringer has more than twenty novels to his credit. He specializes in the wide open spaces and the conflict of men with nature. In "The Lady Fights Back," it is a case of the lady endeavoring to preserve nature as God intended it to be and the man endeavoring to dam the flowing waters of a Canadian river. Arthur Stringer is right at home in such a situation and gives Melton Carnahan a splendid story, a suspenseful background, a sincere and believable conflict and a delightful love story.

In order to reproduce the outdoor features of "The Lady Fights Back," the entire company was taken to Lake Arrowhead, whose scenery cannot be surpassed in North America.

The expression "between the devil and the deep blue sea," originated in 1837 and described the plight of a Scottish regiment trapped between the ocean and Swedish artillery fire.

Casualties High In Try At Break In Folsom Prison

For several hours after the rioting, which began about 11:45 A. M., prison officials believed the dead convict was Ray Budway. Then it was learned that Stevens, convicted once of smuggling guns into San Quentin prison, was wearing the shirt and number of Budway, who officials said was not involved.

Shortly before the noon hour, Warden Larkin with Ryan and Kerns, was following his Sunday custom of interviewing prisoners in his office. The prisoners are allowed to ask questions and talk over parole applications.

About 40 men were in the line, officials stated, when without warning seven lunged forward, bearing real knives and a dummy pistol. The prisoners were named as Stevens, Albert Kessel, Wesley Rudy, Robert Cannon, Fred Barnes, Henry Kucharski and Ed Davis. All were long term prisoners in Folsom.

In a nearby office, the Warden's secretary, Jack Whalen, heard the sound of raised voices and fearing trouble he telephoned the warden's office. By chance, the receiver had been left off the hook and Whalen heard Davis' demands.

They'll probably bring Larkin and the guards out," he said. "As soon as they get in the clear, start shooting."

7 Foot Rattler Caught Near Lake Is Given To Zoo

In an effort to prevent his attack on putting him in the snake cage at the Zoo.

The snake was captured with a forked stick and numerous strands of wire were wound about his neck to prevent his escape. All his rattlers were knocked off in the struggle. Mr. Moughton asserted that he was one of the largest rattlers ever presented the Zoo and he hopes to be able to keep the snake alive by feeding it mice and rabbits.

This morning a large 9 banded Texas Armadillo arrived at the Municipal Zoo from Harvey Harrell of Boeville, Texas, brother-in-law of Frank Talbot of Orleto. Mr. Moughton said, adding that the creature was a most perfect specimen ever given the Zoo. He will be placed in a cage beside the rabbits.

Two other additions have also been presented to the Sanford Zoo lately, Frank Talbot, on his recent trip through Texas captured a number of horned toads and presented eight of them to the Zoo. Mr. Moughton stated.

A large marsh hen was also captured by E. W. Copeland of Sanford and presented the Zoo officials. The bird had sustained a wing injury but Mr. Moughton anticipates an early recovery.

Two of the kittens of the Florida Bob Cats at the Zoo, today were crated for shipment to W. I.

U. S. Embassy Staff Warned, Flees Nanking

The American Commander-in-Chief of the United States Asiatic Fleet, Admiral Harry Yarnall, likewise declared that the U. S. Navy's withdrawal of its gunboats from the Yangtze River was requested by the Japanese.

Japanese airplanes are expected to bomb Nanking after noon Tuesday "in a most serious way in order to compel hostilities as soon as possible through the destruction of China's chief war base." The navy's announcement said.

The U. S. Embassy said that all foreigners, including all members of the diplomatic corps, were requested to leave Nanking at once. It was indicated that the Japanese air force intends literally to destroy Nanking from the air.

Embassador Johnson and his staff have remained here throughout the war. All women employees of the embassy, however, were evacuated a month ago. Some of them were sent to Hankow.

There are a number of United States gunboats in the Yangtze River patrol and the ambassador and his assistants sought refuge in one of those.

The Japanese warning followed two Japanese air raids on the capital Sunday during which the Japanese fliers reportedly took aerial photographs and mapped the entire Nanking area.

The note said that Japanese naval planes will carry out the bombing of the capital. It was assumed they will come from the Japanese base on Tsungming Island, off Shanghai, and from aircraft carriers in the mouth of the Yangtze River. The Japanese have about 100 planes available for the raid.

There was no immediate indication as to the attitude of the Chinese government. It completed plans weeks ago, however, for a flight to Changchun, capital of Hunan Province, about 450 miles southwest of here in the interior. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, his wife and nearly all other high officials of the government still were here early today.

Bradley, superintendent of parks in Jacksonville, Mr. Bradley was in Sanford a short time ago and made arrangements with Mr. Moughton for exchange of animals between Sanford and Jacksonville Zoos. Mr. Moughton stated that he did not know what he would receive in exchange of the tiny bob cats.

The Sanford Zoo continues to be the leading attraction in Sanford. Yesterday a large number of persons braved the afternoon drizzle to visit the zoo which is made possible, to a large extent, through the co-operation of the people of Seminole County through their donations and also through contributions of the merchants of Sanford. Mr. Moughton this morning expressed sincere gratitude to all those who have contributed in any respect in making the Sanford Municipal Zoo a success.

The proportion of persons over 70 in the total United States population more than doubled between 1860 and 1920.

Argentina recently has put immigration on a selective basis in places of the former "open door" policy.

Hull Explains World's Need For Changes

an eight-point formula for peace which he said avoided both the principles of extreme isolation and of aggression by force. He defined the "principles essential to peace" as:

National and international patience and self-restraint; avoidance of force in the pursuit of policy; non-interference in the internal affairs of other nations; the use of peaceful methods to adjust differences; the faithful observance of agreements, when essential by mutual understanding and orderly process; the reduction and limitation of overburdening military armaments; and co-operation and interchange in the economic field.

Those are the real terms of peace, Hull said, "and neither clever diplomacy nor immense armies can be an adequate substitute.

Hull condemned the "false notion" of peace "that man sometimes attempt to justify—that of peace through aggression and conquest; the imposed and temporary peace that might be enjoyed by those who for a time may have the mightier force to impose their will and ambitions upon others, and for the others the tragic fate of repression or destruction.

"When bombs are exploding and desperate armies are marching, it is difficult to talk peace and of the conditions upon which peace must rest," he said. "The rules and attitudes by which peace may be kept, may seem buried in the ground, ignored or destroyed by those who recognize or fear no other rule but force. In country after country, life seems to have no organized end except that of war preparation, and nations rear their children and spend and toil for the greater upbuilding of those armaments—which may prove to be the great destroying God."

C. O. Andrews Tells Rotary Of Big Issues

life. "The only way to get him off," Senator Andrews said, "is for him to resign, to die or to be impeached." The best way to maintain democratic principles in this country, he added, is to maintain the three separate and independent branches of the government so that they can keep an eye on each other.

Outlining some of the purely local projects which he favors, Senator Andrews mentioned particularly the improvement of the St. Johns River, and the construction of a canal from the St. Johns River to the Indian River. "Such a project," he said, "would not only vastly increase the river traffic at this point, but would also open up thousands of fertile acres in the upper St. Johns country for pasture lands."

Further discussing the wage and hour bill, Senator Andrews said that the first persons to suffer from a 40-cent an hour minimum wage would be the negroes and other under-privileged persons who could not earn 40 cents an hour. "They would simply be laid off," the Senator said, "and more competent labor would be hired in their place."

In determining his vote in all matters which come before the Senate, Senator Andrews said he intended in every instance to give the Administration the benefit of the doubt, and to vote for all Administration measures wherever he possibly could. But whenever he has conscientious objections to an Administration measure, he added, he intended to vote against it.

In closing his address, Senator Andrews said he was in the city for a special session of Congress, and hoped that one would not be called, so that he would not have time to cool much of the bitterness he felt before the regular session convened in January.

Among the visitors at today's luncheon were M. H. Lane, and "Perk" Perkins of DeLand; also, Laverne Hurt and J. C. Patterson of Sanford.

Senator Andrews was introduced by George Rollins, who had charge of the program. H. F. Pope presided in the absence of President H. H. Coleman.

Seminole Gridders Begin Last Week Of Drills Before Season Starts

Line Will Undergo Blocking Drills This Afternoon While Tough Scrap Is Scheduled

Watts, Howell, Young, Ganas, Harkey, Jones and Colbert Make Up Line For 1937 Seminole Edition

Head Coach Leonard McLucas and his Seminole High School Coleridge will begin their initial practice session of the first week before the beginning of the season this afternoon on the high school practice field before meeting the Orange Bulls on Friday night.

A line and tough scrimmage session is scheduled to climax the week's work by 30 of McLucas' boys while many other points will be stressed to the experienced line and reserves as well as the greatest backfield that Coach McLucas has ever coached.

The boys will have a hard three days of practice for the Coleridge team must give them everything in these three days or go to Jacksonville unprepared.

The coach and his two assistants, Coach Woody Riser and Coach Russ McCracken, will take full charge of the line and attempt to find some solution to the hindrance that is holding them back.

The backs will undergo their usual session while the line takes the spotlight for the next three days.

The main weakness of the squad is that there is no reserve power and McLucas has no substitutions to make if injuries should be sustained by one of the men on the regular lineup.

Line Coach Woody Riser stated yesterday that his blocking drill to which the assignment finished on the entire squad would be able to test the strength on the scrimmage sessions.

The Feds will drill this afternoon, Tuesday and Wednesday. Thursday the squad will have a light workout and then to Jacksonville on Friday.

Jack McDowell Of Tars Calls Initial Session

Two Sessions Daily Scheduled For The Rollins Gridders

WINTER PARK, Sept. 25.—The opening practice session for the 1937 Rollins Tars football squad, under the tutelage of the genial Jack McDowell, started this morning at ten o'clock. McDowell, who is coaching the Rollins gridgers, was expected to report for light drills, based on conditioning exercises and work on formations.

Coach McDowell, this year assisted by Alex Watts, now line coach from Duke University, has called for two daily practice sessions until the opening of school on Oct. 2. The work during these weeks will consist in conditioning, practice of offense and light scrimmages.

Equipment will be issued to the varsity candidates before the first practice scheduled to be held at 9 o'clock. Afternoon drills will be held at 4 o'clock. The college season begins when the single daily sessions will begin at 3 o'clock.

The new scheduling of classes, which has, in its inception this year, will allow more time for Coach McDowell and his squad in the afternoon, and should prove of great value to this year's team.

Hard work is the order from Coach McDowell and Watts as the Rollins grid forces prepare for one of the stiffest campaigns in many years. Faced with the task of preparing for the opening game with South Georgia State on Oct. 9, only three weeks away, the Tar mentors have scheduled extensive workouts for their grid candidates.

The squad began arriving Saturday afternoon, but most of the gridgers, hailing from near-by towns, did not make appearance until yesterday. All, however, seemed in good condition after a summer's layoff from athletics. Most of the boys did manual labor, while a few played semiprofessional baseball. Those playing baseball were Rich Gillespie, Joe Justice, George Kettle, Thurm McPherson and "Snooks" McInnis.

Initial Tilt Of G-Men Series With Cordele Is Called

Next Teams May Play One Game Of Series In Albany, Georgia

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 25.—The first game of the Gainesville Cordele series scheduled here for yesterday afternoon was postponed because of rain.

The rearranged schedule of the series now calls for games here tonight and Tuesday night. Wednesday will be an off day, and Thursday and Friday will witness games in Cordele.

Saturday is an off day with the fifth game to be played in Albany next Sunday.

If necessary, the sixth and seventh games will be played here the following Tuesday and Wednesday.

An all-Leasburg battery was to have faced Cordele for Gainesville yesterday afternoon—John Bush and Dace Davis. As it is, the two will be ready again for tonight's inaugural tilt.

With Bob Pittman hot for the rest of the season because of his coaching duties at Barrow, Lou Englin will take over third base during the series.

Hens In Egg Contest Reach High Marks As Year Nears Close

CHIPLEY, Sept. 25.—Laying an average of 14.8 eggs each in August, birds in the Florida National Egg-Laying Contest attained the highest production for that month in the past five years, according to E. F. Stanton, contest supervisor. The rate of production was 47.2 percent.

Light breed birds, laying more than 15 eggs each, led the heavy breed pullets, which laid an average of 12 eggs each. Mr. Stanton said. The pen of Brown Leghorns, with a production average of 65.8 percent, led the contest during the month, with a pen of Anconas coming second with an average of 56.1 percent.

Average production of all breeds for the 11 months ending Sept. 1 was 13.5 eggs worth 124 cents per dozen. The White Leghorns led the contest on that date with a record of 234 eggs and 200 points each. The Rhode Island Reds were second with 194 eggs and 196 points each.

The entry from the St. Paul, Minn., hatchery was still holding the lead in the contest on Sept. 1 with a record of 2,850 eggs and 2,707 points.

A bird from the Pinebrook Farm, of Callahan, was leading all individuals in the contest, having laid a total of 297 eggs and having accumulated a total of 311 points.

The present contest ends on Sept. 22, and the 12th one begins on Oct. 1.

Elmer Layden Of Notre Dame Is Combing Squad For A Pair Of Sparkplugs To Fill Holes

Drake And Illinois To Furnish Opposition To Fighting Irish In First Two Games Of The Present 1937 Season

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 25.—It's up to the Irish at Notre Dame.

After 30 days of practice, Elmer Layden, the head football man of Notre Dame, is still combing his big squad for a fellow with that certain thing—the spark that may make the difference between a good team and very possibly a great one. And a pair of young Irishmen, Jack McCarthy of Chicago and Nevin McCormick of Livermore, Calif., look like the candidates.

Layden, who is always glad to say a cheerful word about the prospects of any team but his own, won't admit that the Fighting Irish of 1937 will be more than a good team. But, he doesn't appear much worried over the line Joe Bohan is preparing, and leaves the impression that a versatile back with that spark would solve everything.

McCarthy, a senior, who can run and pass, has the edge at left half. McCormick, who showed a live spark against Ohio State last year during the Irish's winning touchdown raids, runs and catches passes, and heads the candidates for the other half. Neither has one much kicking, but Andy Pupple, who became Notre Dame's regular quarterback late last season, is being worked into the position.

Layden's picture of the situation may not look as promising, but a man at a time, it major letter returning, at least one for every position. In addition, there are 30 more who saw action last year.

Without gaining monograms. A typically stiff Notre Dame schedule and the loss of 14 regulars from last year's team, which won six games, lost two and tied one, are Layden's reasons for looking at the glam side.

"We have 18 monogram men back," he said, "but look at that schedule, nine tough ones in a row. There is no real cause for optimism, because we lack too many things to be ready for the schedule. We need a couple of games to fool around in, but we can't fool around against Drake and Illinois, our first two opponents."

The Irish will start off with Drake at Notre Dame Oct. 2, and face in order without a break: Illinois at Champaign, Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh, Navy at Notre Dame, Minnesota at Minneapolis, Pittsburgh at Notre Dame Army at New York, Northwestern at Evanston, and Southern at Notre Dame.

Father of Wilbur White, sophomore guard, University of Florida, once played third base for the Chicago White Sox.

Rosin production in Florida last year amounted to 435,000 barrels, valued at about $6,500,000, says the Florida State Chamber of Commerce.

Losing Gamblers Get Into Double Trouble

GRAND HAVEN, Mich., Sept. 25.—(AP)—"Double trouble" was the lot of three Grand Haven men who complained to Sheriff Van Etta that they had lost money at a gambling concession at a country fair near Grand Haven.

The sheriff listened sympathetically to their complaints, then charged them with violating the state gambling law by patronizing a gambling device.

The men paid fines of $100, $50 and $25 each. They said they had lost $135 on the gambling wheel.

This picture shows what happened to Times Square when the doughboys of 1918 started shoving, marching, pushing in and out of traffic, ridding the ir necks under taxi wheels and "painting the town red." Note one Legionnaire who sat down on the street car tracks, tying up traffic.

Rev. Root Advises Students Succeed If They Try Hard

Success is the reward of those who attend to details and always strive to do their best. The Rev. J. B. Root, pastor of the Congregational Church here, told the students of the Sanford Junior High School in their opening assembly program in the school auditorium this morning.

To bring out his point the Rev. Root told the story of the English explorer sent into the wilds of Africa in search of David Livingstone, and how he crossed the African continent only through attending to even the smallest details and always doing his best.

He told the students that they too might reach success in their explorations of the fields of knowledge if they always followed the example set forth by this explorer.

T. W. Lawton, county superintendent, spoke on a similar subject at the opening exercises and told the boys and girls that "some boys who don't have a cent were worth a million and some who had millions weren't worth a cent."

He pointed out that their value was not a matter of dollars and cents but what they could accomplish and in order to accomplish it they must be successful in doing a thing just right and not just about right, adding that if they expected a successful school year the students must do their work just right and not about right.

Mr. J. L. Ingley, president of the Parent Teachers Association, addressed the assembly and urged parents to co-operate with the PTA during the coming year.

W. L. Morgan, secretary of the school trustees gave a short talk to the students who thanked him for the recently completed school which was built by the Sanford Electric Company of Sanford, Fla.

Three Brothers Charged With Denhardt's Murder

SHELBYVILLE, Ky., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Three brothers of comely Mrs. Verna Garr Taylor were charged today with the murder of Brigadier-General Henry H. Denhardt after venetian bullets had taken forever from the jury the question of whether the portly 61-year-old veteran of three wars had killed his 40-year-old fiancée.

The bald former Kentucky lieutenant governor and adjutant general was to have gone on trial for the second time today at nearby New Castle, charged with her slaying. His first trial last April ended with the jury's report that it was deadlocked at seven to five for acquittal.

With the case wiped off the court's records, Kentucky law that brought the General to justice moved against the pretty LaGrange, Ky., widow's brothers, Roy, Jack and Dr. E. S. Garr, who awaited the progress of law quietly in the Shelby county jail here on charges they killed the General last night.

Denhardt fell before a fusillade of shots fired by three assailants. Dr. A. C. Weakley said Denhardt was struck seven times. At least one of the shots pierced his heart, others struck him in the head.

Myers recognized the assailants and pleaded with them not to shoot, the Sheriff's office reported.

Denhardt was carried to the front steps of the Armstrong Hotel where he died immediately.

Myers said the general attempted to escape his assailants. "We started diagonally across the street," Myers said, "when we saw them coming from an auto parked just across the intersection to our left."

"The shots were fired almost as soon as we saw them. The general started to run toward the hotel and I ran to the right to try to get behind a parked auto.

The dryer consists of a cylinder already in place.

Construction is well underway on the packinghouse at the Florida State Farmers Market, according to J. G. Michael, manager of the market.

The foundation and floor of the 55,922 foot building have been laid and workmen yesterday began erection of the studding. Contractor Fred A. Dyson, in charge of the work, stated that the building would be ready for occupancy within the next two weeks.

H. E. Tooke, formerly of Clearwater, will operate the plant this year and looks forward to a successful season. In his new quarters, all transactions at the packinghouse will be made on a cash basis, Mr. Tooke indicated.
