Smoke smell lingers, hazy smoke blankets area

By David Frazier
 HERALD STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - Did you awake to the smell of smoke this morning?

Coming into Sanford via State Road 46, there is a rather thick fog of smoke that hangs around the tree line. Due to the recent rash of forest fires all over the state, officials say that smoke could be billowing through, thanks to blazes in Lake, Alachua and Brevard counties among others. Over 54,000 acres have been affected throughout the state since Memorial Day. There have been 25,000 acres damaged by the flames in the last two weeks.

Overall, there have been 94 fires in 25 counties since the latter part of May. It was reported that at least 20 fires were burning in Florida on Wednesday, June 17, alone. Some of the fires have been attributed to the dry conditions. However, many of the fires have been set intentionally. A 12-year old was arrested Wednesday for setting one of the blazes in Putnam County. The boy's name is being withheld due to his age. Bob Crawford, commissioner of the Florida Department of Agriculture & Consumer Service, is putting together a task force made up of law enforcement officers who work for Crawford's department. These officers are currently conducting numerous investigations and following leads where fires are burning in counties throughout the state.

Terry Schenck, the fire chief for Seminole County, said that "winds are coming out of the northwest which brings the clouds of smoke." About 3,000 acres have been burned in Seminole County so far.

Schenck said the Seminole County Fire Department was part of a multi-county task force. Please See Fire, Page 3A

Speed hump wars: Seminole County strives to find peace on Holliday Avenue

By Russ White
 HERALD STAFF WRITER

SEMINOLE COUNTY - Traffic engineer Bob Zaitooni believes he has helped solve one of the county's nastiest riddles - how to appease the Hofeldts and McCoy's who live on or near Holliday Avenue. It's time they end their mother of all road hump wars even if it may cost the county as much as $180,000.

For the past 4 months, Zaitooni and 9 others have been part of a Holliday Avenue Road Hump Task Force seeking a solution to the road hump dilemma.

Parents fear for the safety of their children and approve of the 10 humps that were requested by a petition of citizens in 1992. They were constructed in April 1994 at a cost of $10,302.

There have been requests since 1995, however, to have

IN BRIEF

Sinkhole update

CASSELBERRY - Work began today to fill in a sinkhole on Cinnamon Circle that had grown to about 35 feet wide and 12 feet deep since opening up on Tuesday.

Seminole County officials have monitored the sinkhole continuously since arriving on the scene Tuesday. Tests indicate the sinkhole has stabilized allowing Seminole County crews to remove debris in preparation for filling the hole with fill dirt.

Weavers Guild meets

ORLANDO - The Weavers of Orlando will meet at 10 a.m. on Saturday, July 11 at the Orange County Historical Museum, 811 E. Rollins Ave., Orlando. Berna Lowenstein will give a lecture demonstration on "Fabric: From Start to Finish".

Ms. Lowenstein is an award winning spinner and weaver who specializes in garment design. She will explain why two garments, made from the same pattern, can look, feel and cost differently. She will lead us back to the basic choices of fiber, how fiber was spun, how the yarn was finished, and which weave structure was used, and the impact each of these choices has on the finished garments. Her lecture will include samples that demonstrate each stage in the creation of the garment and suggestions for making better garment choices whether you create your own or buy ready to wear.

The Weavers of Orlando, founded in 1943, promote interest in, and knowledge of, the fiber arts spinning, weaving, dyeing, and basketry as well as related crafts such as felt and paper making, beading, and surface design. Members from 6 central Florida counties meet monthly, organize study groups and hold frequent workshops taught by nationally known artists. Meetings are free and open to the public. For more information about the guild contact Kay Lee at (407) 339-5457.

All you can eat

CHULUOTA - An All-You-Can-Eat Soup and Salad Dinner will be held in support of Auxiliary programs at the VFW Post 10139 and its Ladies Auxiliary.

Dinner will be served Saturday, June 27 from 5:30 until 8 p.m. Dinner will include soup and various salad selections. Desserts will be available for a donation. Adult dinners are $3.50 and children are $2. Take-out will be available.

VFW Post 10139 is located at Seventh and Avenue E in Chuluota. For more information call (407) 365-FLA0.

County attorneys rate the judges

By Vicki Belluscia
 HERALD STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - No one knows a judge better than a lawyer.

Appearing before the bench on a daily basis, the attorneys have the chance to watch the judge's actions and see how he treats those who appear in his courtroom.

The members of the Seminole County Bar Association have the opportunity each year to rate the judges on a 5-point scale, looking at their demeanor and efficiency, their integrity, their impartiality, their service to the community and their knowledge of the law.

Circuit court and county court judges as well as the special master are judged by the attorneys.

According to Bobbi Bullington of the bar association, the assessments give the judges a chance to see how they are viewed by the attorneys and to see how the assessment changes from year to year and nothing more.

"We don't do anything with those numbers," Bullington said. "It's just another assessment tool."

This year's polling, for example, showed the attorneys' rating of Judge Seymour Benson on the Circuit Court, dropped .70 points from the 1997 ratings, from a 4.15. Please See Judges, Page 2A good fishery.

Gone fishin': State restricts size on crappie

"This excellent habitat, combined with the new 12 inch minimum size limit and the statewide 25 bag limit for crappie, could turn Lake Monroe into the quality crappie fishing lake it has the potential of becoming," said Jenkins.

Though it has just been put into effect, most of the anglers along the Sanford shore of Lake Monroe knew all about the new rule.

"The word is out," said Jane Keene. "We know to just throw back speck (crappie), because there ain't no 12-inch ones in Lake Monroe."

The Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission studied the fishing patterns in Lake Monroe and found that approximately 70 percent of the crappie kept last year by anglers on the lake were less than 12 inches long.

The study also showed that 34 percent of the speckled trout collected by biologists with electro fishing techniques were above the foot-long limit.

"I don't think there are crappie out there more than 12 inches," said Darrell Shad. "I haven't seen any big crappie out there and I've been fishing this lake since I was a little boy."

The electro fishing of the lake also showed that there are "lots" of crappie between 10

The way we were: The beach

Seminole County residents have always loved "The Beach", and when we speak of the beach, we usually mean either Daytona or New Smyrna. We have spent countless summers at one or the other and have fond memories of parties, weekends, day trips, driving and parking on the beach, Celery Fed and other reunions, house parties, summer romances, relaxing, fishing, crabbing the inlet, Red Shell, and souvenir shops.

We also remember Norwoods, Aunt Catfish's, Tony and Jays, The Spray, the Casino, J. High's Drugstore, beach towels, swimming, surfing, riding the waves, floats, deep sea fishing, beach houses, apartments, condos, hotels, lifeguards, Peabody Auditorium events, concession stands, endangered turtles, suntan lotion, tanning and sunburns, sand crabs, periwinkle soup, picnics, sand, shuffleboard, and carpet golf.

I'm sure you have your own list of beach memories and on that list is bound to be the Daytona Boardwalk and Bandshell. A trip to Daytona almost invariably included a visit to the amusement park on the Boardwalk through the 1960's.

What brought these memories on is an article I found in the Halifax Historical Society Newsletter. Once a month this society gathers for "Crackers and Coffee" to reminisce and gather information on a certain aspect of that area. One of these sessions was on the Daytona Beach Boardwalk, so I thought you would enjoy knowing some of its history. I have edited the following from the account given in that newsletter.

Is it Boardwalk or Broadwalk? Citizens of Daytona Beach have been arguing over that since 1929. It isn't made of boards and never has been and the original plaque was inscribed "The Ocean Promenade".

The opening event of the concrete Broadwalk was the 1929 Oleander Festival. At that time, the first phase of the Broadwalk stretched from Main Street to Auditorium Road. A smaller bandshell was built on Auditorium Boulevard facing the Halifax River; Ray Eberling and his band performed there 3 nights a week.

During the height of the Depression, Mayor Ed Armstrong was instrumental in obtaining funding for the Bandshell and the remainder of the Boardwalk as a WPA project. The cost was $300,000 and the workers were paid 40 cents per hour. The bandshell was built of coquina rock and had a 4,850 seat amphitheater, the largest structure of its kind in the country at the time.

Dedication of the new complex on New Year's Day 1937 was a big affair. Many dignitaries were invited including President Roosevelt and WPA Administrator, Harvey Hopkins.

The bandshell quickly became a drawing card for entertainers. A 30 piece band was formed by Dr. Alan Moses, formerly a member of John Philip Sousa's Band, and they performed 4 times a week.

After World War II, the Boardwalk became the site of a new event on the Fourth of July - the Dixie Frolics. This soon became a 3-day affair with parades, concerts and the famous Miss Dixie Beauty Pageant.

In 1946, Jim Forest bought an amusement concession, brought it to the boardwalk, improved and expanded it and named it Forest's Amusement Park. During the 1940's through the 1960's it was the place to go for residents and tourists alike. We all will remember the Ferris wheel, carpet golf, bumper cars and the various booths where one could win prizes for games of skill.

By the 1970's the area had deteriorated. Since then, efforts have been under way to restore the Boardwalk and Bandshell to their former glory. Friends of the Bandshell sponsor free concerts on summer Sunday evenings and a $250,000 grant has been promised from the state for restoration.

The old clock tower and the bridge across Main Street to the Pier still stand as part of the original project, but Forest's Amusement Park has disappeared. I'm sure that we all wish them well in restoring a great piece of history.

My parents and I spent a month at New Smyrna Beach almost every summer while I was growing up and trips to the boardwalk with them and various friends were always on the agenda.

I remember playing with the Seminole High School Band in the Daytona Bandshell one May evening each year during the early 1950's. We would go over in the early afternoon and enjoy the beach and boardwalk, eat supper downtown and play that evening. And it became a tradition for the next year's band officers to be announced there in the Bandshell after the concert.

During our senior class picnic on Daytona Beach in 1964 we also enjoyed the Boardwalk. I have pictures of some of us playing carpet golf and in front of the Ferris wheel. My most vivid memory of that day though, is of getting the worst sunburn of my life. We were out in the sun all day with no shade, and the next day we were miserable in our caps and gowns for Class Day.

year to a 3.45 this year.

While Bullington called that drop "significant" she declined to speculate about why the lawyers saw him in a more negative light this year.

"We don't get into that," Bullington said. "They (the judges) have the opportunity to look at the statistics and see how they are perceived by the attorneys."

Judge Benson, like several of his colleagues, was attending a judge's conference and was unavailable for comment.

Judge Newman Brock also showed a "significant" drop of .09 points over last year: from 3.45 to 2.76.

He too was unavailable to discuss the ratings.

Judge Nancy F. Alley raised her score by .06 points from last year. In 1997, she had a 4.02 score and this year, the number went to 4.08. She was happy with the results.

"I am very pleased," she said. "My score went up, but there is still more need to improve."

Most of the scores changed by less than .10 points from last year. The high score was Judge Kenneth Lester with a 4.39. The lowest score was Brock's.

Bullington said that meant that the judges were doing a consistent job and that most were doing a "good to excellent" job.

sent to help extinguish the fires in the town of Waldo near Gainesville. Seminole sent 2 strike team leaders, one engine and a plans chief. The fire department is still trying to answer calls for minor hot spots going on in the Seminole Woods area and also at the Seminole County landfill.

Crawford classified the wildfires as the worst he has seen in any season. Rain is the only solution for the massive amount of blazes, and there is no significant rain forecasted for the next few days. "The state is a tinderbox, and everybody needs to do all that they can to protect their property," Crawford said.

the road humps removed. Humps on nearby Balmly Beach Drive were removed but the ones on Holliday Avenue remained. So did the complaints, mostly from those inconvenienced or angry that the humps were damaging their vehicles. They fear, too, emergency vehicles are delayed by the humps.

Bob Webster, a Holliday Avenue resident and task force member, has led the revolt to get rid of the humps. He's not satisfied, however, at the direction being taken by the Task Force. He has insisted from the start that he lacks confidence in traffic engineer Zaltooni.

"The only good thing about all this is that they're getting rid of the humps," Webster said today. "The rest is a farce. This is all Zaltooni's work. He stacked the task force with county staffers. He keeps insisting Holliday is a residential street but it's a county thoroughfare. The county has no business messing with it."

County Commissioner Dick Van Der Weide, who represents the district of the controversy, said today he has not made up his mind on the decision. "This isn't something the district commissioner asked for," he said. "My biggest concern isn't whether the humps should stay or go but what it means to our safety department. If there's a safety problem getting our emergency vehicles over the humps, they'll have to go. This should be our No. 1 concern."

Commissioner Win Adams agreed the safety vehicle issue was the key. His concern is that if an emergency vehicle was carrying a heart attack victim through a neighborhood of children how fast should it be traveling. And wouldn't it also have to slow down for median chokers as it would for speed humps.

"Some people swear by speed humps, others swear at them," Adams said.

To help the county make the right call, Zaltooni recruited 4 of the Holliday Avenue residents for the task force. They were joined by public safety, sheriff's office and county attorney's office officials. "We worked well together for the most part," Zaltooni said. "Nine of the 10 agree on what should be done."

On Tuesday, the task force's recommendations will be presented to the Board of Seminole County Commissioners. The plan is to remove the 10 humps and replace them with 6-foot wide medians to create a diversion in the straight section of the road, causing a reduction in traffic. These median chokers will cost $35,000 to $45,000.

There are plans, also, to reconstruct the intersection of Holliday Avenue with Bear Lake Road to include a northbound left turn lane and realign Holliday Avenue approach closer to 90 degrees. This is intended to encourage drivers turning left from Bear Lake Road onto Holliday to reduce their speeds.

"The reconstruction of the intersection will be placed on the list of fiscal year 1998/99 safety projects," Zaltooni said. "The removal of the humps (at $800 a piece) will begin this year and be completed by September." The intersection improvement will cost $75,000 and a concrete sidewalk will be included on the 1998/99 schedule at a cost of $60,000. The complete package would be $180,000.

Holliday Avenue is classified as a residential street by Seminole County Land Development Code. It extends in the east-west direction from Bear Lake Road to Balmly Beach Drive in southeast Seminole County.

The Road Hump task force reviewed information on the latest techniques to combat speeding. It also reviewed the techniques implemented by the City of Orlando and the City of Maitland. There are a number of traffic calming measures which encourage drivers to reduce their traveling speeds.

Median chokers have proven to cause a reasonable reduction in traveling speeds, however, they are not as restrictive as road humps. Test runs on median chokers by the City of Orlando and Seminole County Public Safety indicated no restriction on the safe movement of emergency vehicles. Road humps do slow down these vehicles.

Flashing yellow lights have exhibited limited success in some applications as a warning device.

The Task Force eventually came to a 3-option choice.

- A do-nothing alternative.
- Speed enforcement alternative.
- Replacement of the humps with a series of other effective traffic calming techniques.

No one supported the do-nothing alternative, and few favored the speed enforcement method because it had not proven successful. This technique relies heavily on continuous and consistent presence of law enforcement to strictly enforce the posted limits.

Zaltooni said that all improvements can be scheduled and implemented upon approval by the Board of Commissioners and completion of the final design phase. He emphasized that the intersection improvements and sidewalks would be placed on the fiscal year 1998/99 budget. The other improvements would begin as soon as possible and be completed by September.

and 12 inches that will easily grow to the legal size by the fall if they are returned to the water and given a chance to grow.

"What all of this tells us is that limiting the harvest of crappie to fish under 12 inches long should allow more of them to grow to 12 inches or longer, which will ultimately create a better fishing experience for anglers," Jenkins said.

Louise Ford said she would throw back any undersized fish "for now," but if the restrictions are not lifted in the fall, she's going to let a few smaller ones slip into her cooler.

"I'm going to let the ones they say will grow get bigger, but when I start catching them, they're mine," Ford said.

Tournaments give Sanford chance to put on best face

SANFORD - It used to be quite a event, this time of year in Sanford. When it came time for the area youth baseball tournaments, crowds used to flock to Roy Holler Junior Field in Fort Mellon Park where, hundreds strong, it seemed like all of Sanford came out to watch the 10- to 12-year-olds that used to make Sanford recreational baseball the biggest and best game to watch.

Tournament time is here

Sanford All-Star teams go hunting for victories as Bambino play begins

By Jeff Berlinicks ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

The Sanford Recreation Department A All-Stars (top) and Bambino Baseball Bambino Division Area Tournament running in conjunction with the A All-Stars (bottom) will take part in the Bambino play.

SANFORD - It's up to a bunch of kids, some more than 12, to change something that's been playing out in Sanford for years. Tonight, the Sanford All-Stars will take the field against Tavaras at Roy Holler Junior Field at 7:30 p.m. in Sanford in the first round of the Bambino Baseball Bambino Division Area Tournament.

Another Cub, Neil Hensel is the catcher, and he knows the pitchers well. "I'm pretty confident that they can show it by evening," Hensel said.

Johnson and first baseman Sean Jackson are the leading hitters on the team and Johnson can chase down anything in center field.

Blake's Boyz back in Chase lead

From Staff Reports

SANFORD - Blake's Boyz took care of business in impressive fashion, then used some help from Mother Nature to take over into leadership of the Sanford area youth baseball tournament.

Blake's Boyz scored at least two runs in each inning and the defense held Sunland Corporation to three runs and only allowed two runners to reach second base as they won 18-0.

Orlando's Surge quiet Rollin' Thunder

By Blake E. Collins HERALD CORRESPONDENT

LONGWOOD - It wasn't pretty. In fact, it was down right ugly as the Orlando Surge pounded the Tampa Bay Rollin' Thunder, 30-0, before 400 fans Wednesday night at Longwood's InLine Soccer Center.

The Surge had Rollin' Thunder quiet. The Surge had Rollin' Thunder quiet. The Surge had Rollin' Thunder quiet.

In fact, Sanford has gone years without even winning an all-star game of any kind against anyone.

Things could change this year, though. The Sanford team has a great one-two pitching punch led by Freddie Howard whose dad was a start back in the days when Sanford packed the field on First Street.

Erik Brum is another great pitcher and slugger Sean Jackson and Dontae Johnson can send it out of the park.

Win or lose, Sanford needs to get the enthusiasm back to where it was in the 70s. The kids deserve a packed house at Fort Mellon Park tonight. The kids obviously aren't complaining about their trillion dollar contracts, none have been arrested this week for drugs and certainly, none has attacked their coach threatening to kill him.

The kids deserve the kind of reception their dads talk about when they reminisce about their days playing baseball in Sanford.

Head on out and support them.

Last Second Shot: Predictions aren't the main specialty in this column, but look out for Tom Watson this week-

Security deposits protect landlords

PEOPLE'S LAW
MANNY ACEVEDO

Almost everywhere you go to rent an apartment or a house there is some sort of security deposit required. Landlords usually require these deposits to protect themselves in case a tenant breaches the lease either by nonpayment of rent and/or waste of the premises. But what is a landlord required to do with and concerning the security deposit while the tenant is occupying the premises, paying rent on time, and causing ordinary wear on the premises, and what are the consequences of the landlord not doing so?

Florida law requires that a landlord who receives a security deposit from a tenant either: (1) Hold the money in a separate non-interest-bearing account for the benefit of the tenant; (2) Hold the money in a separate interest-bearing account for the benefit of the tenant, in which case the tenant shall collect interest in an amount of at least 75 percent of the annualized average interest rate payable on such account or interest at the rate of 5 percent per year, whichever the landlord selects; or (3) Post a surety bond with the clerk of the circuit court in the county in which the apartment or home is located in the total amount of the security deposits he or she holds on behalf of all tenants or $50,000, whichever is less, and in addition to posting a surety bond, the landlord shall pay to the tenant interest at the rate of 5 percent per year, simple interest.

Additionally, Florida law requires that the landlord notify the tenant, within 30 days and in writing, of the manner in which the landlord is holding the security deposit and the rate of interest, if any, which the tenant is to receive. This written notice must: (1) Be given in person or by mail to the tenant; (2) State the name and address of the depository where the security deposit is being held, whether the security deposit is commingled with other funds of the landlord, and, if commingled, whether such funds are deposited in an interest-bearing account; and (3) Include a copy of the provisions of the Florida Statutes which delineate the procedures the landlord has to follow to retain the security deposit or part of it and the procedures the tenant has to follow to ensure return of the deposit or part of it and the procedures the tenant has to follow to ensure return of the deposit as well as the prevailing party's entitlement to costs and attorney fees. Furthermore, after giving such notice, if the landlord changes the manner or location in which he or she is holding the security deposit, he or she shall notify the tenant within 30 days of the change. The landlord must fulfill all these statutory requirements or the landlord's requirement of the security deposit may have been fruitless. This is because a landlord's failure to give the required notice penalizes a landlord by forfeiting his or her access to the security deposit in an independent action for damages. So, although a landlord may later pursue a cause of action against a tenant and succeed, if the tenant is "judgment proof" the landlord will essentially be left without recourse.

Next week we will discuss the procedures a landlord must follow in order to impose a claim on the security deposit as well as what a tenant must do to avoid such a claim.

Doctor: Chronic fatigue not all in sufferers' heads

DEAR ABBY: Dr. Eugene Schoenfeld recently said in your column that most psychiatrists deny that chronic fatigue is a "real disease." I write to offer a different opinion, shared by a growing number of physicians who have studied the scientific literature on chronic fatigue syndrome - which now numbers several thousand research articles.

There is no evidence of any psychiatric disorder in a sizable number of patients with this illness. However, in laboratory tests, there is evidence of abnormalities in the brain and immune system of many of these patients. The immune system abnormalities, fortunately, do not seem to make patients vulnerable to infections. I highlight those studies in an article published in the Journal of the American Medical Association in October 1987.

We still do not understand the cause of chronic fatigue syndrome, but studies around the world show that the illness involves real changes in the bodies of many patients. It is not, as Dr. Schoenfeld seems to believe, "all in their heads."

ANTHONY L. KOMAROFF, M.D.,
PROFESSOR OF MEDICINE,
HARVARD MEDICAL SCHOOL

DEAR DR. KOMAROFF: Thank you for sharing your professional opinion with me, and for offering other physicians a reliable source of information about chronic fatigue and immune dysfunction syndrome. I am pleased that advances in understanding this disease have been made. I know my readers will be also.

ADVICE
ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am responding to "Feeling Worthless in New Hampshire," who wrote that her husband didn't value her because he brings in the money while she stays home managing the household and caring for the children.

As a child and as a teen-ager, I watched my mother care for my siblings and me and didn't think anything of it. Now the tide has turned. Because of an injury, I remain at home while my wife works. I had never realized how exhausting it can be to handle everything at home. I have a newfound respect for all women who remain at home while the "man of the house" works, not to mention those women who work and manage their homes, too. Even though my wife is tired after a day at the office, she pitches in around the house far more than I did when I was working on the outside. I wonder how many men come home and consider giving their wives a break by helping out.

"Worthless" should be proud that she manages one of the most important "corporations" in the world - the family. My hat is off to all stay-at-home mothers. I now have more respect for them and for what I took for granted all those years.

STAY-AT-HOME DAD

DEAR DAD: My hat is also off to them, and to you as well, for saying so!

DEAR ABBY: There are a few words in our wonderful language that irritate me, and I would think your many readers have their pet peeve words as well. Why don't you take a reader survey on the subject? Maybe I'm not the only one whose blood pressure goes up from certain words.

For starters, here's a short, homemade poem:

There are words in English that irk us all.

From me you'll get no quibbling.

And the one that drives me up a wall

Is when a kid is called a "sibling."

Can hiatal hernia be treated?

DEAR DR. GOTT: I suffer from a hiatal hernia, associated with severe gastro-esophageal reflux that causes me to have unremitting heartburn, chest pain and gas. Intensive medical therapy has been useless. What can I do for relief?

DR. GOTT
PETER GOTT, M.D.

DEAR READER: Reflux refers to the backwash of irritating stomach acid into the esophagus, leading to the very symptoms you mentioned. The condition is frequently — but not always — a consequence of hiatal hernia, which is a relaxation of the ring of muscle that normally prevents reflux.

This condition can be serious if it causes Barrett's esophagus — pre-malignant changes in the cells lining the esophagus.

In most instances, reflux can be controlled with antacids and medicines such as Prilosec that reduce the formation of gastric acid. Nonetheless, if medical treatment is ineffective, the situation may have to be corrected with surgery.

Fortunately, the procedure is relatively easy and carries about a 98 percent success rate. Called "laparoscopic fundoplication," the operation is performed through a tube, so scarring is minimal.

To reconstruct a suitable barrier between the stomach and the esophagus, the surgeon wraps the upper portion of the stomach around the lower esophagus and sutures (or staples) it in place. This creates a "flutter valve." As the stomach distends during a meal, it compresses the esophagus, thereby preventing reflux.

The operation usually takes less than an hour and is surprisingly free of side effects. Unlike standard abdominal surgery, laparoscopic fundoplication requires only a 24-hour hospital stay and limitation of activity for less than a week. (Major abdominal surgery usually results in up to eight weeks of recovery time.) While fundoplication is not widely performed in the United States, it shows great promise and might be just the solution for which you are searching.

To give you more information on your condition, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Hiatal Hernia." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I take calcium supplements to ward off osteoporosis. Will this calcium build up in my arteries and cause blockage?

DEAR READER: No, it won't. Arterial calcium deposits naturally accompany the aging process and are not influenced by the use of calcium supplements. In fact, most authorities urge senior citizens to take extra calcium to help deter osteoporosis.

WIN AT BRIDGE

A try for game

By Phillip Alder

An action not well understood by many players is the trial bid. One of a major (by opener or responder) is raised to two. With a minimum hand, you pass. With a maximum hand, you jump to game. But what do you do with an intermediate hand that is too good to pass yet not good enough to jump straight to game? Enter the trial bid (or game-try, as it is called in some quarters).

You mention a new suit, usually one that is weak, at least three cards in length, and containing two or three losers. Traditional holdings are A-x-x, K-x-x, Q-x-x, x-x-x, etc. (If there are two possible suits in which to make a trial bid, normally choose the weaker.)

How does partner react? He is being asked for help in that suit: cards (or shortage) that will stop your side's losing two or three tricks in the trial suit. Great holdings are a void, a singleton, K-x, K-Q-x, A-K-x, etc. Undesirable holdings are J-x-x, Q-x-x, x-x-x, x-x-x, etc.

More about this tomorrow. Now, a deal featuring a trial bid.

Despite his minimum count, North should bid game with the good club holding and four trumps.

West cashes the spade king before the ace to show a doubleton. Then he switches to the diamond king.

South wins with the diamond ace, draws one round of trumps from hand, plays a club to dummy's king, returns the club 10 to his ace, ruffs a club with the heart eight, crosses back to hand with a trump, ruffs the last club with the heart king, ruffs a spade high, draws West's last trump, and claims 10 tricks — whew! (Slight variations on this line are possible.)

HOROSCOPE

Friday, June 19, 1998

In the year ahead, you might be subjected to changes you initially resent. As they become more comfortable, however, you'll view them as advantages.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You may not make good decisions under pressure today, so stall for time if someone starts to lean on you for a commitment.

mode of behavior will disenchant your allies.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Weigh your words with considerable care today, or you might blurt out something difficult to retract.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Unfortunately, your luck may not extend to speculative situations today, even though you might feel it will. Don't gamble on something foolish.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Extreme tolerance will be required in your relationships today. Hold your temper in check, even if someone deserves its sting.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your attention span is poor today, and could cause a mistake at work. Be especially attentive when using hazardous tools.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Pursuits that cost a pretty penny could give you the least amount of fun today. Seek pastimes you won't have to put on a credit card.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Enjoy where you are and whom you're with today, instead of wishing you were elsewhere with someone different.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Think for yourself instead of letting others impose their ideas on you today. You know what's good for you and what isn't. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences that'll govern you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions by mailing $2 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) A risky-yet-endearing friend may catch you off guard today by asking to borrow something you'd rather not lend.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) First thoughts might not be your best ones today, even if you think they're clever. Don't endow them with more credit than they deserve.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) This is one of those days when friends could do things that press your patience to the limit. Keep your temper in check and don't react in a manner you might regret.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) There could be a price to pay today if you're insistent on having everything your way. This
