

Founder Of Chase And Co. Came To Sanford When 18 During 1878

S. O. Chase, founder of Chase and Co., was only 18 years of age when he decided to come to Florida to grow oranges.

He arrived here from Philadelphia in December, 1878, hardly 14 months after the historic meeting that marked Sanford as an incorporated town.

His zeal and industry had much to do with the development of Sanford as a vegetable and citrus growing and shipping center.

During his early days here, he was employed by General Henry B. Sanford, as a clerk and bookkeeper, and while still quite young, decided in 1881 to go into business for himself as a shipper.

At the time, oranges and other citrus fruits were the principal commodity shipped from here. The business prospered and in 1884 Mr. Chase organized Chase and Company, which since that time has grown into one of the largest growing and shipping organizations in Florida.

All went well until the mid-'90s when the great freeze of Feb. 9, 1895, came, creating havoc in the citrus groves, and within three days the main occupation and source of revenue of three-fourths of the state had been swept away. Many people from nearby left Florida, and those who remained faced many hardships and privations.

Convinced that Sanford still had untapped resources by reason of its climate and soil, Mr. Chase and a few other pioneers, including the Whitners and Terwilligers, turned to vegetable raising, principally celery, which was found to flourish in the muck and sandlots of this level section of the St. Johns River Valley where sub-irrigation was found to be practical.

In order to become better acquainted with the best methods of raising vegetables in a semi-tropical climate, such as Florida's, Mr. Chase visited California in 1897, and obtained first hand knowledge of the subject that he later put to practical use here.

He later was able, however, to realize his original ambition to grow oranges and planted a five-acre grove, south-west of Sanford. Located east of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, the grove is now owned by the Niblack interests.

Mr. Chase once revealed that on his arrival here for the first time, Sanford had hardly more than 25 buildings.

These included two stores, two saloons, one hotel, one drug store and a wharf building.

The two stores, the Sanford Store and the DeForest Store, handled everything from drygoods to groceries and were located near the shore of Lake Monroe. The other buildings were located principally on First Street, east and south of Magnolia Avenue. Most of the residences were on higher ground.

There was no railroad into town and freight was shipped here from Jacksonville on the St. Johns River, or hauled from Sanford to Orlando by mule drays. Mail was received and dispatched by the same means. No telegraph communication system existed here at the time.

The hotel, the Sanford House, faced the lake and was located on the present vacant area north of the present Melsch Building.

Shortly after Mr. Chase's arrival here, the Doyle Store in Mellonville was moved into the building formerly known as the Monroe House. A second floor was added that first served as the Everglades Hotel, and later as an opera house.

The Church of the Holy Cross, the only church here at the time, was completely destroyed in the hurricane of Aug. 28, 1880.

Mr. Chase died on Mar. 31, 1911, about a year following the death of Mrs. Chase.

Two of the three sons, Randall Chase, a present city commissioner, and S. O. Chase, Jr., live here and are active in the business of Chase and Company. The other son, Frank Chase, is a director of the organization, and lives in Windermore where he has large citrus groves.

HOLLYWOOD — Madge Meredith says going to prison helped her as an actress because "I learned about women."

"My mother and three sisters were about the only women I really knew before," the brunette beauty told newsmen yesterday "Through this opportunity (prison) and I liked to consider it that rather than a tragedy—I am able to understand women more."

It was quite wonderful, but don't get me wrong I wouldn't want to do it over."

Miss Meredith met reporters at the studio where she has completed three "Fireside Theater" television films due for coast to coast airing over NBC this winter.

In one she plays the waitress girl friend of a confidence man who is reformed by farm life in another she is the bride of a British official in Africa. In the third she breaks away from a dominating mother.

The actress left the state women's prison a year ago last July after serving 26 months there and 11 months in the Los Angeles County Jail. She was convicted of conspiring to kidnap and beat up her former manager, Nicholas Gianacis and his bodyguard, Verne Davis.

Gov. Earl Warren commuted her 10-year sentence after the State Adult Authority and a state assembly subcommittee reported that she never would have been convicted if she had had a fair trial.

NEW YORK — You don't have to be unknown to be an unsuccessful song writer, although of course it is a great big help.

But the one million or more whose ditties "Tin Pan Alley" has turned a deaf ear can take some consolation. Their plight is shared by one of the most glamorous stars of the entertainment industry.

She is Irene Manning, Ohio's blond warbler. After singing thousands of other people's songs, some of which she made famous, Irene decided to scribble a few herself.

"I have written the music and lyrics for a dozen songs, and have a lot more I'm working on," she said.

The number she has had published add up to a fat round zero. But like any other amateur she eats the bread of hope.

"The song publishing is quite different today," she remarked. "The disk jockeys are the kings now. You have to get a record made and played before a publisher will even say hello to you."

But she is determined to popularize her songs even if she has to become a lady disk jockey herself. Her output ranges from children's chants to love ballads like "I want to Break Even With You," and a spiritual called "The

Long Road Home

"Some of them are corny," frankly admitted Irene, but pointed out that corn is a valuable product in any form.

Song composing is just another string in the bow of this talented gal who is at home in dramatic or comedy roles as well as in radio, stage or screen musicals.

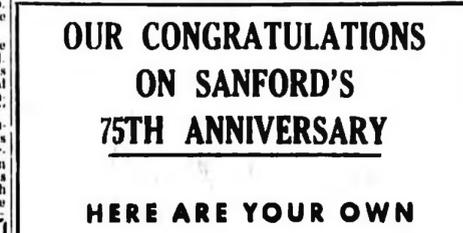

She returned recently from four years in London, where she had her own television show, and one of her goals now is a network show here.

Irene feels that America has overcome the early British lead in video technique, but says there is still an advantage in performing on TV over there.

"Since they don't have commercials, they aren't so tense about making a program end exactly on time. If it runs over a bit, nobody minds—and that gives everyone a more relaxed feeling." The thing that fascinates her British friends most about American television, she said, is the commercials. "They think they are wonderfully strange and amusing." Irene recently made a series of commercials for a U. S. soap company here, and is leading a one-woman crusade to lift the level of this newest American art. She dislikes the "scare" technique which tries to frighten the viewer into buying. "A product should be sold with the same warmth you sell a soap," she said. "High-pressure salesmanship is getting to be a thing of the past."

I don't know what TV screen she watches, but it certainly isn't mine. I keep four brands of cigarettes in my home, for fear of what the neighbors might think if I had the wrong kind. And I brush my teeth with three different kinds of toothpaste—two white and one green—because who wants his molars to feel insecure?

City Observes Birthday Of Incorporation

Early Days In Sanford Recounted By Ed Lane In Downtown Celebration

The 12,535 acres, comprising the site of Sanford was purchased by General Henry Shelton Sanford in 1870 for $18,200, or $1.45 cents per acre. Ed Lane, general chairman of the celebration of the 75th anniversary of the city, told a large audience at Magnolia Avenue and First Street yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Lane also revealed that Sanford once was nearly as large as Orlando, though never as large. In 1870, Sanford had a population of 3,870 while Orlando had 3,801 residents.

Appearing on the program with Mr. Lane, who was the principal speaker, were Mayor William H. Steiner, Brantly Gilman, the Seminole High School Band and majorettes, and eight residents of the city since its incorporation.

Mayor Steiner pointed out that founders of Sanford, in spite of hardships from the elements, transportation, and hostile Indians gave present day residents a noteworthy and illustrious past.

Mr. Gilman in introducing the pioneer residents brought out many interesting facts concerning conditions in the early days of the community.

People formed the half block area on Magnolia Avenue at First Street last night to attend the street dance which was part of the celebration. Round, square and modern dancing were included in the evening's activities.

Beneath threatening skies in the afternoon, the appearance of the 75-year residents, eliminated the principal portion of the observance. More than 500 years of residency were represented.

These sisters, Mrs. Augusta Fry, Mrs. Thomas Tyler and Mrs. Charlotte Turner, have since their births, chalked up a total of 237 years of residence. Respectively, they have lived here 81, 77 and 79 years. The youngest of the sisters, Mrs. Turner, a resident, remarked, "I thank the Lord for being here that many years."

Mrs. Mary L. Hiron, stated, "My mother was born in 1877. I don't remember anything about it." Herbert O. Crispin, the lone man in the group, said he came to Sanford in 1874 from Athens, Ga., when he was four years old, remarking about the needs of the city today, he stated, "I think it would be a splendid thing to have a good hospital here."

Each of the old-timers were presented a gift from the Chamber of Commerce.

The 81st band, under the direction of E. H. Currey, was the program. Their performance was accompanied by a sparkling presentation by drum majorettes, Mrs. Jones, Catherine Zimmerman, Freida Colvin, Judy Witt, Jane Galesby and Janette Ratliff, head majorette.

The pretty, petite performers, dressed in white, white muffs and after being sold the program received a hearty applause from the crowd following their performance.

Army Unveils Huge Atomic Artillery Gun

55-Ton Weapon Moves Nimbly Over Fields To Fire Super-Explosive Barrages

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army has unveiled a new 55-ton atomic gun and shown that it can roll nimbly across fields into position to fire super-explosive barrages within 30 minutes.

It is the world's first atomic artillery piece.

The gun, which the Army calls "the super-atomic," was rolled through its paces at a special preview for photographers at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds yesterday.

Ordinance experts have been trying for months to bring the gun into production at the giant testing grounds, but standard ammunition was used rather than atomic rounds.

The Army indicated that the weapon can fire either atomic or standard rounds merely by changing the type of missile.

It did not say, however, whether atomic rounds would be used in the gun. The indication was that they had not.

The gun has a caliber of 280 millimeters (11 inches) and weighs 55 tons. This is itself impressive, however, the Atomic Energy Commission scientists now are able to add atomic rounds which are 10 times as heavy as the standard rounds.

The gun is a little more than 100 feet long and is mounted on a trailer. It is towed by a combination motor, just like a standard gun.

The unveiling at 10 a. m. was continued by the Army.

The unveiling of the gun is a part of the atomic artillery program. The program is a part of the atomic artillery program. The program is a part of the atomic artillery program.

President Says Ike Endangered US By Giving Poor Advice

More Pressure In Korea Seen As UN Possibility

By The Associated Press
President Truman said today that Dwight D. Eisenhower while commending general Ike's courage endangered the country by giving advice about Russia's intentions. He called the advice grave.

Truman chose a whistle stop speech at Hayes, Mont. to launch the latest of his increasingly bitter attacks on the Republican presidential candidate.

The president said Eisenhower's committal committee in November 1952, that Russian policy was guided by a desire to keep friendship with the United States.

He said he saw no reason why Russia and the United States would not remain friendly. He said that Eisenhower's advice was not nearly as good as his insight.

Primary Slated For Oct. 14 For Supreme Court

Justice E. H. Drew Opposed By Vincent Giblin For Position

A special Democratic primary, called by Governor Fuller Warren, will be held on Oct. 14 to select a nominee for the post of justice of the Florida Supreme Court, to be filled in the Nov. 4 general election.

A sample ballot similar to those which County Clerk G. P. Herndon has prepared for the primary, appears in tomorrow's issue of The Herald.

The names of two candidates, Justice E. Harris Drew, and Circuit Court Judge Vincent G. Giblin, appear on the ballot.

Judge Giblin, yesterday visited here in behalf of his candidacy, and was accompanied by Frank Wright, his publicity man and campaign manager.

He expressed opposition recently to the proposed constitutional amendment to increase the Supreme Court of Florida from seven to 10, contending that what is needed is more and better work and not more judges.

Judge Giblin, 51, was born in Mobile, Ala., and received his law degree at Notre Dame in 1918, and was admitted to the bar in Florida during the same year and afterward practiced law in a number of Florida cities. From 1927 to 1929 he was circuit judge at Fort Lauderdale, and in 1931 became circuit judge of Dade county. In the interval between appointments as judge he practiced law in Miami.

Justice Drew graduated from Stetson University in 1923 and received his law degree at the same time at Stetson University. He is a past president of the Florida Bar Association, and for a number of years served as city attorney for West Palm Beach.

Herman Jacobson Will Open New Store, Ro-Jay's, Here Thursday

Ro-Jay's, an unusually modern store featuring women's apparel and feminine merchandise, will open its doors Thursday in the Merch Building, Herman E. Jacobson, owner, announced today.

This store will be the first of its kind in Sanford in its "modern design" and provides a suitable atmosphere for the "highly styled" feminine merchandise, he said.

The visual front type windows have an attractive aluminum trim known as Zarite, and a name plate of red in the aluminum letter "Ro-Jay's." Windows afford a clear view into the interior.

Streamlining in store designing is evident in a unique treatment of curving and slanting walls, and unusual color combinations are seen not only in the painted and papered surfaces, but are repeated in varying color tones of the wood finishes of the equipment and fixtures.

The shoe salon is in front, where chairs are upholstered in coral, and the bright colors of the shoe and hat display unit roofed with mirrored walls of ash, the surface of which is accented with recessed peach colored shadow boxes and a decorative door done in a soft shade of green.

Opposite the shoe department the wall slants inward and is covered with chartreuse paper. Here, recessed wall cases are tinted pale green with contrasting or child interiors.

Pale beige wall to wall carpeting provides a neutral setting for the var-colored floor equipment.

Streamline fluorescent fixtures assume a modern look, and the colors of current fashion are their true shades. The store is owned and operated by Herman E. Jacobson, R. I., who has been in the Sanford area since 1925 with his brother, Walter Jacobson, now of Winter Haven. Herman Jacobson, his first business experience was in the Sanford area where he operated the Merch Building in which his store is located.

The Jacobsons have two children, Sarah, 11, who is president of the Sanford High School, and Samuel, 10, who is the secretary of the school. Herman Jacobson is assisted by Mrs. W. S. Ryland and Mrs. Kathryn A. Byrd.

W. L. Holcombe, was general contractor for the construction. Windows were installed by the Stenmark Glass and Paint Co. Wiring and lighting fixtures were installed by The Sanford Electric Co. L. L. Talbot painted the interior. Air conditioning is by Carrier.

Mourne H. Smith Dies In Macon, Ga.

Mourne H. Smith, who served as superintendent of the County Home for 10 years, died today in Macon, Ga., after a long illness.

Mr. Smith was born in Sanford, Fla., and had lived in Macon, Ga., for the past few years. He was a member of the Sanford Lions Club and was well known in the community.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mourne H. Smith, and several children. The funeral will be held in Sanford, Fla., on Wednesday, October 22, at 10 a. m.

Amplification Of Smith's Testimony Given Truman, Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Walter D. Byrd today said that he has amplified both Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gov. W. M. Stevenson with an amplification of his testimony that Communists probably have penetrated the central intelligence agency and every other government agency.

The disclosure of the highly secret intelligence agency is testified by Byrd, a former member of the staff of the late Sen. James M. McCreary of Kentucky.

Byrd said that he had given a statement to the Senate on the "Communist" question, but that he had not actually known of any Communist in his agency. Today's statement to the presidential candidates, which Smith and Byrd had been told to give, says that the same line as the amplification last night.

The whole matter already had become a hot political issue. Communist infiltration of the central intelligence agency was a major campaign issue in the presidential election. Smith's testimony was a major campaign issue in the presidential election. Smith's testimony was a major campaign issue in the presidential election.

Construction Begins On Auction Facility

Construction began on the barbecue pit at the Sanford Farmers Auction south of Sanford on the Orlando Highway this morning. J. Williams, Lela Mae, started laying the concrete blocks at 8:00 a. m., according to C. R. Dawson, secretary-treasurer of Sanford Farmers Auction, Inc.

The barbecue pit will be sold for $30 for the pit. The bricks sold were auctioned off for five cents each. The auctioneer, Mr. Dawson, turned them back to Mr. Dawson for use in building the pit.

After the auction it was discovered that $30 worth were sold—the exact amount Mr. Dawson paid for them. Thus the bricks in the barbecue pit will not cost a penny.

Last Friday night's overflowing crowd at the auction must have set some kind of a record, Mr. Dawson said.

The highway patrolmen came to me and asked if I couldn't get off the car, parked on the highway. This is the first time this has happened since we opened. The auction barn was built far enough away from the highway to permit adequate parking, but the Friday night's crowd filled in the lot spilling over on Route 17-92.

More Pupils Needed In Education Classes

More pupils are needed for the adult education classes, sponsored by Stetson University, starting tonight at 7:00 o'clock at Seminole High School, Miss Rebecca Stevens, coordinator, announced today.

The three classes are art for pleasure, public speaking and sewing.

A course in personality development is scheduled to start Thursday night, and will be conducted one night a week for six weeks. The course will cost $6.50, she said.

Efforts are being made to start a class in modern and current literature, and this class will start Thursday night if enough persons enroll, said Miss Stevens. Persons desiring to enter the course are requested to see her at the High School.

BIBLE VERSE TODAY

Non one can be accepted of God who ignores God's defenseless ones. The fatherless and widows are particularly in the mind and heart of God. No one can with impunity do them injury. Ye devour widows' houses. —Mark 12:10.

If President Truman will just keep on talking for Stevenson, General Eisenhower won't have anything to worry about.

Another good thing about a 75th anniversary. It gives some of the newcomers a chance to learn something about the city in which they live.

We see where Governor Stevenson made public his tax return for the past ten years. If all the people who would not like to do that should vote for his opponent, the Democrats wouldn't have a chance.

"Will Ike Take the Place Among the South's Heroes?" asks the Orlando Sentinel, quoting from Douglas Southall Freeman, Richmond editor, and author of "Lee's Lieutenants." Why not? He's from Texas, isn't he?

Judge Millard Smith, a lifelong Democrat by the way, is making it clear where he stands in the presidential race. He has an Eisenhower sticker on his car and he told a Sentinel reporter the other day, "I am in favor of a change and I don't care who knows it." Congratulations to Judge Smith.

Bradley Odham hasn't any idea of appointing Harry Swann (let's see now, who is he) for governor, despite Republican intimations that he is. "I definitely intend to vote for Dan McCarty," says the former Sanford candidate, "and to urge all my friends to do so too because I think he is the better qualified." That's the spirit.

November 4 is going to be a big day in Sanford's history. Not only is there a general election on that date, when the choice must be made between Truman and General Eisenhower, but there are also a number of important constitutional amendments to be voted on, including one providing a method of financing new school building construction, not to mention a County zoning referendum and a County hospital bond issue.

Florida is facing a fight to hold its tourist trade, says Governor Fuller Warren, following his return from a barnstorming tour in which he used his best talents to sell Florida. More and more other states are recognizing the value of the tourist dollar and are doing those things which attract tourists. Fortunately, few of them can compete with Florida when it comes to climate. But Florida needs better roads, better traffic control, more schools, more medical clinics and hospitals, better recreational facilities, if it wants to hold what it has, because these are things which other states are getting in their effort to attract tourists.

The strongest argument for the centralization of government in Washington and for the gigantic sprawling bureaucracy which is slowly strangling this country to death is the failure of local communities to do their duty. We thought of this the other day while the County Commissioners were wrangling over the petition from the people for a hospital bond election. We think of it every time we hear anything about our overcrowded schools and our over-loaded school buses. And we think of it again when we see how our city streets are deteriorating to the point where it will be virtually impossible to travel over them at all in a few years. Yet about all these things, which are so vitally necessary to the health and welfare of our community, so many of us are apparently disposed to do nothing. If we do not, and if there are many other communities like us, how can we expect the people who turn to the federal government for relief?

The Hospital Election

Now that the County Commission has finally acted upon the petition for a hospital bond election submitted some 15 months ago, and the people are going to be given a chance to vote on this question in November, those of us who appreciate the appalling need for better hospital facilities here should get busy at once and see to it that the election is carried.

It is so difficult for some of us to see why there should be any opposition to it at all that we are prone to believe that of course the bonds will be voted and to take it so as a matter of course that the election will carry that we see no necessity either for special efforts to get out the vote or to convince people of the necessity for approving the bond issue.

And yet the statements of some of the county commissioners themselves, who are sure to have their ears pretty close to the ground in their respective districts, should be ample proof that there is here and there considerable opposition, opposition which is based, we believe, on a lack of complete information on all the facts involved, but opposition nevertheless which could defeat the proposal unless the information is supplied.

Chairman Dodd stated there is considerable opposition in his section because the farmers would have to pay a disproportionate share of the tax as compared with the average home owner who enjoys homestead exemption. And Mr. McClelland said the bond issue might not pass because many people believe the Fish estate is going to build us a hospital. Mr. Kibbe seemed to believe that the Fish estate is going to build a hospital here in the very near future, that they are certain to build one here before they do in New Smyrna, and that had as we need one hospital we certainly don't need two. He also expressed the belief that if the bond issue carries, the construction of a County hospital would be inevitable, and in this belief he was supported by County Attorney Boyle.

These are only a few of the questions which the people favorable to the County bond issue will have to answer if they expect to win the support of the freeholders whom these gentlemen on the County Commission represent. And since under the law if 50 percent of the freeholders fail to vote, the bond issue is defeated even if a majority of those voting favor it, it is essential to get out the vote.

Farmers who oppose the bond issue on the grounds they would have to pay a disproportionate share of the tax should have it pointed out to them that taxation in accordance with one's ability to pay is an established practice under our system, and that farmers get the benefits of homestead exemption the same as anyone else while many a home owner who is not a farmer will pay part of the tax for the hospital through the assessments on his business or personal property.

It should also be explained that the real purpose of the bond issue is not to interfere with the construction of the Fish hospital but to facilitate it. It may be several years before the Fish estate is sufficiently liquidated to build and in that case it might be possible for the County to build the hospital transferring it to the Fish trustees at a later date whenever the estate is in a position to pay off the bonds. Certainly there is no disposition on the part of anyone to build a hospital in competition with the Fish estate.

As for the construction of a County hospital being inevitable if the bond issue is carried, we have only to refer to the record to dispute that. The history of hospital bond issues in this county would suggest the inevitability of the hospital not being constructed even if the bond issue is voted, not the contrary. We have been voting hospital bond issues ever since we can remember and construction has never been inevitable yet.

No doubt there will be other and similar objections raised before the Nov. 4 election. They should all be answered fully and fairly. If they are we have no doubt whatever as to the outcome of the election.

Changing A Bad Name

A generation afterward, Cicero, Ill., has discovered that tolerance of crime does not pay. A suburb of Chicago, Cicero is far better known as the former home of Al Capone and other racketeers. Now the town board is debating whether to submit a change of name to the voters. The residents tolerated Capone's presence and rule in his lifetime, but now are sensitive about the fears they get when they go elsewhere and mention their home town.

Harlan County in Kentucky received almost as black a name for the civil war in the mine fields which it endured some years ago, yet has made no move to disguise its identity by a new name. Harlan County is probably wiser than the Cicero citizens who hope thus to escape the consequences of their one-time civic apathy.

Truman Lashes Ike

Asa was falling bit by bit to the enemy?" He asked in his Chicago talk.

Eisenhower also chose the Communist issue today for an attack on administration. And he received unexpected new ammunition from Washington.

Before a plane takeoff for Columbia, S. C., and an address there, Eisenhower worked into the prepared text statements by Gen. Walter Bedell Smith that the Reds have penetrated every U. S. security agency.

Smith, an old comrade in arms of the general's, said in Washington yesterday that he believes even the super-secret Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) which has been under two years of infiltration by Communists.

The Republicans immediately picked up this statement and went on from there.

Arthur Summerfield, GOP national chairman, said Smith's "shocking revelation" demonstrated that the "national security has been endangered" by what he called the "looseness" in federal security measures.

Eisenhower made no secret that he plans to develop his Washington speech in his Columbia speech later today. And tonight, the Republicans will continue the attack. Former Congresswoman Claire Boothe Luce of Connecticut will talk on the issue of communism in government over a network of 65 TV and 100 radio stations. Eisenhower flies from New York to Columbia late in the evening. He will deliver the day with a speech at presidential ceremonies at the Big Thunder Dam today.

Sen. J. Lee Rankin, R-Miss., has a nomination for the GOP nomination for governor in Tennessee. He has a speech set for this afternoon at 7:30 p. m. in Nashville.

THE WORLD TODAY
 By ARTHUR EDSON
 (For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON — Today is Bible Day.

The first complete revision of the King James Version of the Bible in 51 years will be published. Thirty-two scholars have worked on it for 15 years.

A new Roman Catholic translation of the first eight books of the Old Testament, also coming out today, is the 10-year work of 40 scholars.

The Library of Congress celebrates the 500th anniversary of the first book printed from movable metal type, the Gutenberg Bible, with a special ceremony and an exhibit of rare Bibles.

And the Postoffice is issuing a special Gutenberg stamp.

No other book has come close to approaching the popularity of the Bible.

Many an author would feel he had hit the big time if his book sold 25,000 copies. It has been estimated that a billion Bibles have been sold.

Yet the demand remains undiminished. The new revised edition has an advance sale of a million copies.

With its hold on Western civilization, it isn't surprising that the first book printed was the Bible. But it may surprise you to learn that this first book also was a top-flight printing job.

Johann Gutenberg and his associates turned out 200 Bibles. Forty-six of these still are in existence.

The famous Gutenberg Bible belonging to the library is printed on vellum, a fine variety of animal skin. The text is Latin, following St. Jerome's fourth-century version. The headings are red, making it the first color print job of all time.

on God's side.

All of which makes us wonder once more how much thought was given in either convention as to just what might be God's choice. Was God given much of a chance to reach the hearts and minds of those gathered there expressly to serve the welfare of the nation?

Oh, yes, God was given his moment. Some man of the cloth is permitted to invoke the Creator's blessing, a standard formality. During this invocation, little thought or consideration is given to what is said. If you watched the convention on television you probably noted more or less confusion, a dull mulling, whispering and inattention on the part of those in attendance.

The men of the cloth may or may not have been sincere in his effort. Maybe he felt in his heart the things he said, but his audience apparently was busy with other thoughts. . . . Has anybody ever I remember from Italy? . . . Could the South stay in line? . . . Could the Taft roller be stopped? . . . What about the labor crowd? . . . The point is that God might know the answers and would make the dedications if given the opportunity seem to enter anybody's mind.

Commenting on the Christian Century editorial, the Florida Baptist Witness suggests that perhaps we would do well, even now, without reference to any party, any group or any individual, to enter some such plan of prayer for Divine guidance in the selection of the next President of the United States as was proposed some time ago by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, who said:

"Our prayer plan simply asks each citizen to pray once each day a prayer of which the following is a suggestion:

"Almighty God, I humbly ask guidance that I, as a responsible citizen of the United States, may see and do my part in helping to choose the right man as our President. Help us to select the man who will follow Thy Will in this crisis of our history. Amen."

Good Way To Build Schools
 Tampa Tribune

Floridians who go to the polls Nov. 4 will do more than vote for Adlai Stevenson and select other candidates on the national, state and county tickets. They will also pass on 11 proposed changes in Florida's antiquated constitution.

The Tribune now, as it has in the past, intends to discuss the principal amendments. We will offer an analysis and recommendation as an aid to the voter. We feel that every change in the constitution should have the careful attention of the largest number of citizens.

No. 1 on the November ballot, and one of the most important, is the proposal to add a section to the state's basic law which would provide an immediate method of financing and constructing needed school facilities — without involving a greater state expenditure than is at present set under the Minimum School Foundation Program.

This change would make it possible to pledge a portion of the state motor vehicle license tag money — about one-third of the total produced by this tax — to guarantee the payment of revenue certificates issued for school construction purposes.

Obviously, with the revenue certificates being redeemed by state money already in the Minimum Foundation Program, these certificates would be more attractive to potential investors. The securities would have maximum salability and undoubtedly carry a lower interest rate than the average county school bond.

This method of financing securities of local Florida governmental agencies is not new. It is in line with the Holland-Storey program of 1911, under which the proceeds of two cents of the state gasoline tax were pledged for the retirement of county road bonds. That program has reduced interest rates considerably.

The school building amendment, however, would not force any county to borrow funds to expedite capital outlay improvements. A county whose school needs are being met on a pay-as-you-go basis by the annual state allocation of funds would continue to receive them on the same terms. But any county far behind on school construction and improvement could get what is needed without unduly burdening taxpayers for them.

Neither would the proposed amendment tie up all the state school building money in revenue certificates, thus allowing the county nothing for future needs. A county may obligate itself in certificates only up to 75 percent of the state building funds due. This provision thus assures that 25 percent will be left for the current year's needs due to increased school enrollment. As enrollment increases in a county, its allotment increases to meet new classroom needs.

Those Floridians who have given thought and study to the situation contend that Amendment No. 1 is the most feasible solution in Florida's overcrowded classrooms and antiquated school facilities. School officials who have first-hand knowledge estimate the state now needs $100,000,000 in school construction and repair.

The plain facts are that Florida is one of the fastest growing states in the nation and its children cannot wait. They continue to enter a host of new, ever-increasing numbers. Many counties are trying to step up their building program, but present methods of obtaining money are proving inadequate.

How in Hillsborough, thanks to the diligent planning and careful execution by school officials, plus the willingness of taxpayers, to shoulder a heavy burden, we have tried to fill about building needs on a pay-as-you-go basis. But though we have spent $4,000,000 in the last two years, we're barely keeping our heads above water. Indeed, if the enrollment in the next few years follows the pattern of this year's unusually heavy increase, we will be in a serious predicament. There is one other compelling reason for support of this amendment.

Some citizens are aware that the federal courts in recent years have been making it clear that Florida and other Southern states must do one of two things: Provide separate but equal school facilities for Negroes or end segregation.

In many Florida counties the overcrowding in white schools is bad enough. But in most of the same counties conditions and facilities for Negro children are a disgrace to the state.

The handwriting is on the wall unless Florida can demonstrate by action — which will be forthcoming if voters approve the school building amendment — that it is making a real and honest effort to provide separate but equal facilities for Negroes, it will only by a matter of time before the U. S. Supreme Court orders the abolition of segregation in the public schools of the state.

We have given thorough study to Amendment No. 1. It is a well-considered proposal. It contains adequate checks and balances and does not fundamentally change local control of schools.

It has been endorsed by Gov. error-nominee Dan McCarty, the Florida League of Women Voters and many other forward-looking civic, social and educational agencies and groups. It will provide better school facilities for children in every county, without additional financial savings in interest and administrative costs.

Our recommendation is that voters answer "yes" to Amendment No. 1.

Sanford Forum

Editor, Sanford Herald
 Dear Sir:

For the past year, newspapers throughout the country have contributed outstandingly to the Armed Forces Blood Program, and the national campaign is due in no small measure to their generous support. The 3,000,000 pints of blood which they helped to collect for the Armed Forces have saved the lives of many of our fighting men.

Confronted with the growing blood needs of the country, the President recently recognized blood as a national resource by placing responsibility for the coordination of all blood activities in the Office of Defense Mobilization. The National Blood Program is charged with meeting the entire blood needs of the nation.

The total blood needs are great: blood is needed for current use by the Armed Forces; it is needed to fill the immediate requirements of civilians; and above and beyond these daily needs, there must be blood for a national plasma reserve ready for use in any emergency, civilian or military, which might arise. To fill all of these important and continuing needs, the National Blood Program must have your support in persuading the American people to become regular blood donors.

Sincerely,
 Paul Gaynor
 Coordinator

Feminine Florida

By DORIS DANIEL

Here's a question that you've heard time and time again recently. But bears repeating especially if you answer is No. Have you registered to vote in November?

It certainly is amazing to talk to women today and realize how little interested they are in politics, government and community affairs. There are exceptions, but the average housewife has taken over responsible offices and played a tremendous part in voicing their sentiments toward government. But the average housewife and mother takes a back seat when it comes to the political affairs of her community and country. You don't have to be a member of a political group, run for office or campaign for your candidate to contribute to today's better government. All you have to do for the time being is go down and take advantage of one of our greatest privileges.

THE RIGHT TO VOTE

Women fought a bitter battle to gain the right to vote. This vote was obtained not only for the politically active women in a community but more importantly for the woman in the home, who wants a better America for her husband.

Marijane Eubanks Marries T. H. Wise

The Community Presbyterian Church of Lake Mary was the setting Friday at 8:30 p.m. of the candlelight ceremony, uniting in marriage Miss Marijane Eubanks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Eubanks, of Lake Mary, and Thomas H. Wise, son of Mrs. W. E. Wise and the late Mr. Wise of Lockhart.

The double ring service was performed by the Rev. L. W. Scott and appropriate music was presented by Stanley Brunley, soloist and Mrs. J. M. Thompson organist.

Vows were spoken before the ceremony which had a background of fern and flowering papers in branched candelabra. Placed at either side were palms, and four bouquets of pink and white gladioli, white pompano, chrysanthemums, and lavender mums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin, fashioned with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, and cap sleeves. The full skirt terminated in a cathedral train. Her double waist length veil of imported Belgium lace covered her face from a Juliet cap of matching lace. She carried a white satin Bible topped with a white ribbon, topped with white flowers.

Mrs. Kenneth Hickson, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a blue and white fitted bodice and taffeta, styled with fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline. The full skirt featured a matching net full length train. Her headpiece was a band of matching net with seed pearl applique. She carried a white Bible topped with white flowers.

Mrs. Richard Keogh and Mr. John O. Keogh Jr. were bridesmaids. Mrs. Grace Wise, sister of the groom, and Miss Peggy Howell. They all wore lavender gowns and head dresses styled identically to the matron of honor, and carried white Bibles topped with yellow flowers.

The attendants' Bibles were white. The bride's flowers were pink and white, and she carried a white basket of rose petals.

Ring bearer, Hutch Johnson, carried the bride's ring in a heart shaped pillow of white satin outlined with lace applique.

Robert Kelly of Lockhart served the groom's best man duties. The groom, William Wise, brother of the groom, Richard Keogh, John O. Keogh and E. Pence.

Mrs. Eubanks wore for her daughter's wedding a street length dress of aqua with black accessories, and a pink sweetheart neckline. Mother of the bride, Mrs. Wise, wore a dress of aqua with white accessories and a carriage of pink sweetheart roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Eubanks entertained the wedding reception in a relation ship.

Quakers came over on Florida ship.

This party had a fun game of parties with each person given a few seconds to find a guest. The lively if he did not, he had to find like a spelling bee. The first guest standing was the first to be eliminated. The last guest standing was the last to be eliminated.

If you want to get the game of parties, you can get it at the store.

How did you get the game of parties?

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Stalling and the Misses Marie, Bobbie, Pat, C. S. and Anita, Anna, and Jackie Rowland.

For her wedding, the bride wore a grey suit with black accessories.

Grammar School

The Adventure Club of Room 8 of the Sanford Grammar School met on Friday and elected the following officers for the year: Chairman, Miller, president; Somy, Poles, vice president; Lynette, Higgins, secretary; and Harry, Slay, treasurer.

It was reported that the club had just two boxes to sell, that included in their territory, a new red and white number for "Best Weat". The rest of the contents of the boxes were dresses, coats and shoes that members of the club had brought in. They were modeled by Deborah Miller and Judy Smith. Boxes were bought by Randall, Poles, Sally Chase, Judy Smith, and the members of the club. In charge of making them and Deborah Smith and Charles Koke saw to the making of them.

TEEN TALK

By AVIAN BROWN

AP-Newsfeatures

Young people are always in the mood for new games. And a brand new one called "Teen Talk" is all the rage in Connecticut, according to correspondent George Mackie of New Haven. Mackie is a self-proclaimed "teen talk" fan, and he says that the game will become as popular as the moon game of the mid-1940s. But he confesses that he is not a "teen talk" fan. He says that the game will become as popular as the moon game of the mid-1940s. But he confesses that he is not a "teen talk" fan.

Robert, Ernie Morris Entertain SHS Band

Robert and Ernie Morris entertained members of the Sanford High School Band and their dates and Bandmaster Ernest Cowley at their home on Friday evening immediately following the Sanford-Enrico football game, at their home at 1728 Locust Avenue. Robert serves as drum major and plays trombone while Ernie is a trumpet player with the band.

Flourishes were focused on the outside of the Morris home and in the background were large plaques which read "Welcome SHS Band 1952". The rooms of the Morris' home were opened up and decorated throughout with beautiful roses and bouquets of fresh fruit giving a festive Autumn atmosphere. Adding to the gaiety of the occasion was the fact that Sanford had been victorious over Enrico in its first football game of the season, and that the half time festivities in which the band had participated were well received.

The band members and their dates were served punch and cake in the "Roundup" room. The huge cake, baked by Mrs. M. J. Moore, bore the inscription "Success SHS Marching Band 1952" and was decorated with musical notes and black notes around the edges. Mrs. Cowley served the cake, and small novelty orange and black band hat filled with salted nuts were given to the guests as favors. Mrs. M. J. Moore originated the favor.

City Observes City Observes

The white dresses contrasted sharply with the uniforms of the band and the red, white, orange and black.
At the outset of his speech, Mr. Lane related that this portion of Florida was in Mosquito county in 1824, a part of Orange county in 1845 and became Seminole county in 1913.

Speaking of the incorporation of the city, he said notices were sent out on Aug. 30, 1877, to voters that a meeting would be held Sept. 29, 1877 to organize and incorporate the town. Forty-nine of the 50 voters attending the session approved the action.

"The city limits, as we Florida crackers used to know it, were Pump Branch on the east, Tenth Street on the south, Mill Creek, which came down by the Seminole Laundry, on the west, and Lake Monroe on the north," Mr. Lane said.

The first mayor of the town was T. Pearson, elected at the organizational meeting. Aldermen elected were A. C. Martin, A. Nilsson, E. B. White, R. B. Richard and C. Groves, while the first city clerk was elected George C. Grant, Jr. marshal.

General Sanford, Mr. Lane continued, who was born June 15, 1823 at Woodbury, Conn., was appointed minister to Belgium in 1861, where he served eight years. He purchased the site upon which Sanford was built, part of the Level Grant, from General J. J. Finney. The city was laid out by J. A. McDonald, a Major Marks and E. R. Trafford.

Mr. Lane related that fountains in the street at Park Avenue and First Street and at Palmetto Avenue and First Street were removed when street cars were introduced into the community.

He brought back the lots of gas lamps, which were lighted nightly by a man riding a pony. The first baseball park, he said, was on First Street. Following locations were at Magnolia Avenue and Eighth Street, Park Avenue and Ninth Street, on French Avenue, Celery and Melonville Avenues, and finally at the new Stadium on Melonville Avenue.

General U. S. Grant, he said, came here in 1870 to show the first dirt for the South Florida Railroad, first line in this area. Mr. Lane related the line was extended to Longwood in June of 1880 and again in October of that year. Later it went to Tampa.

Later railroads were the J. T. K. W. broad gauge line in 1887, the Plant system in 1897 and the Atlantic Coast Line about 1900. Next Mr. Lane told of many of the old residences here.

The Sanford House was the initial hotel, Mr. Lane said. Grover Cleveland and General U. S. Grant were among guests who stayed in the hotel. Other old-time hotels included the Everzette Hotel, the Sims House, the Robins Nest and the San Leon. They were followed by the Wilton Hotel, called the Hye Lo at one time and now the Montezuma, the Florida Hotel, Valdez and the Mayfair.

The old opera house was on the site of the Ritz and kept building. Pictures were shown here at the Star, the Past Time, the Imperial and the Lyric, during early years. Among the first churches, the Presbyterian and Methodist, were built in 1870 on Melonville Avenue. The Methodist Church was moved to Third Street and Oak Avenue.

The Episcopal Church first was built at Magnolia Avenue and Fourth Street in 1870, but was blown down. Rebuilt at Park Avenue and Fourth Street, it burned in 1923 and again was rebuilt. The Catholic Church was built in the early '80s, burned and then was rebuilt. The Baptist Church was built on its present site.

The first school, he said, was built at Sixth Street and Palmetto Avenue. A grammar school, built in 1902 at Sixth Street and Myrtle Avenue, became the high school. Five boys and three girls were graduated in 1909.

P. J. Parramore was chief of the fire department in 1870, Mr. Lane recalled. The station was at Third Street and Sanford Avenue, the location also of the city hall.

The first celery was planted here by J. N. Whitner, while J. F. Pace, known as the Celery King for many years, was the largest celery grower in the state.

George H. Fernald gave the present hospital, which was opened in 1920.
"We are hoping to have another hospital real soon," Mr. Lane remarked, "as we really need it. I saw everyone in their best in helping to get this hospital."
The first "white way" was started in 1919, he related, and The Sanford Herald had the first white way post.
Mayor Stempier was introduced by the general chairman.

Faith Declaration Is Only Result Of Secret Demo Meet

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A secret campaign conference of Democrats from six Southern states here yesterday produced for public consumption only a ringing declaration of faith in the solidarity of the Solid South.

Democratic leaders from Arkansas, Texas, Tennessee, Kentucky, Louisiana and Mississippi, met with National Democratic Chairman Stephen Mitchell in closed session. Mitchell himself barred reporters from the meeting, and told newsmen that they could expect similar treatment at another party in Atlanta Wednesday.

But the party chairman issued a statement following the morning session in which he said he was "confident" that the Democratic national ticket will carry the South despite certain difficulties. "I didn't elaborate on the 'certain difficulties,'" he said.

Optimistic pronouncements by Sen. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.), who heads the party's speakers bureau and attended the conference as a personal representative of House Speaker Sam Rayburn, backed up Mitchell's statement.

Monroney brushed aside possible Republican inroads into traditionally Democratic Dixie as "top fringe stuff and not at all basic." He predicted the party would not lose a single Southern state despite the personal support of three governors—James Byrnes of South Carolina, Robert Kennon of Louisiana and Allan Shivers of Texas—along with the GOP presidential candidate, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Warren Volunteers To Assist Stevenson

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Gov. Fuller Warren today volunteered to take the stump behalf of the Democratic national ticket.

Warren appeared at the weekly cabinet meeting sporting a king-sized cigar and a "Sparkman" button on his lapel. His first words were to congratulate Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin on his recent appointment as chairman of the Florida Speakers Bureau by the Democratic State Executive Committee.

"I want to volunteer my services," Warren said.
"I probably could do more good in the rural areas," Warren added, with a smile, "but I'm ready to do whatever you want, I hoped to enlist you, and now you've volunteered," Ervin replied.

EMBARGO MAY BE EASED

MIAMI (AP)—The embargo against pork shipments into Florida may soon be eased or ended, Dr. C. Paul Vickers, state veterinarian, said here Monday that 24 states in which the hog disease vesicular exanthema has been prevalent have stamped it out and 10 others had made progress in that direction.

Of Commerce committee in preparing the celebration. "The greatest monument we can give our illustrious founders is our pledge to keep it and keep building."
He told of the response from neighboring cities to the celebration and read a telegram of congratulations from H. Stuart Johnston, manager of the Greater Orlando Chamber of Commerce.

Mayor Stempier advocated further accomplishments in the city through cooperative effort. Earlier activities in the celebration included an open house at the Sanford Museum, Woman's club and an historic market tour.

Mrs. F. E. Roumillat, assisted by Mrs. Edmund Meisch and Mrs. E. M. Galloway, had charge of the tour, while Mrs. L. F. Hagan and Mrs. Fred Williams of the daughters of President Lincoln were hostesses at the Woman's Club.

Snake Bite Victim, Ross Allen Recovers For Norman F. Gould

OCALA (AP)—More than three weeks after being bitten by a rattlesnake, Ross Allen has been discharged from a hospital here for a prolonged rest at home.

The 44-year-old herpetologist was taken to his home at Silver Springs today after his physician announced he was out of danger. Allen was bitten on the right leg by an eastern diamond back rattlesnake on Sept. 7, while milk ing venom from Indian cobras at the Ross Allen Reptile Institute.

He was in grave condition upon arrival at the hospital a few minutes after the accident. His condition remained critical until a few days ago.
Effects of the bite—his 10th—were said to be the worst in his more than 25 years of handling poisonous snakes.

Gambling Kingpin Of Orange Tied To Operations In Polk

TAMPA (AP)—Harlan Blackburn, reputed gambling kingpin in Orange County, was tied to Polk and Hillsborough County bolita operations by a statement read into the records of Peace Justice Court here Monday.

The statement was attributed to Lawrence Wall, Lakeland, one of 18 persons arrested in three county raids Sept. 20.
Wall, a Negro, and Sam Cagnina, Tampa, were bound to Criminal Court by Peace Justice J. G. Spicola on charges of possession of lottery tickets.

Neither defendant testified but Ralph Mills, director of the Hillsborough Crime Commission, read into the record a statement he said Wall swore to but wouldn't sign.

The statement said Wall was a pickup man for Frank Dustin, former Winter Park evangelist nabbed in the same series of raids. The alleged statement continued: "Dustin told me he was working under Harlan Blackburn in Orlando, which led me to believe I was working for Blackburn, although I didn't know Blackburn."

Since the raids Blackburn has been sought throughout the state on a charge of conspiring to conduct lottery operations.
The statement continued that Wall picked up tickets and money from about 25 peddlers in the Lakeland area, had them checked by Dustin, and turned them over to Cagnina. It said Wall got $5 a week and the peddlers received 15 cents of every dollar they took.

Deputy Constable Jimmy Hackney testified he saw Wall pass a package of bolita tickets to Cagnina at a Tampa service station and then arrested the pair.

Viscount Astor Dies After Long Illness

CLIVEDEN, England (AP)—Viscount Astor, prominent British publisher and sportsman and husband of Virginia-born Lady Nancy Astor, died today. He was 73.
Lord Astor, who was born in New York City, long had been a leader in British social and political life, along with his wife.

His death followed a long illness. Unable, because of his title, to hold a seat in the House of Commons, Lord Astor sponsored his wife's political career and helped her to become the first woman ever elected to the lower parliamentary chamber.

He was the chairman for many years of the influential Sunday newspaper The Observer.

Left Wingers Gain Added Strength In British Socialism

MORECAMBE, England (AP)—Aneurin Bevan's left wingers won new power in British socialism today.

They gained two more seats on the Labor party's key National Executive Committee and ousted the party's No. 2 old guard leader, former Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison, from the group.

Results announced today from secret balloting gave the Bevan forces six of the seven seats allotted on the 27-member Executive to local LA or party units. One-time Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Dalton was the other Aneurin man unseated in the test of strength between the Bevanites and the party's moderates.

The Aneurin forces still counted on the backing of most of the rest of the committee, but the vote for the local, or constituency, seats was considered an accurate reflection of the feeling among socialism's rank and file members and a clear indication of the fiery Welshman's growing strength in his fight to wrest the party leadership from Aneurin and Morrison.

D. W. Cogburn, 37, Died Early Today

D. W. Cogburn, 37, died at Orange Memorial Hospital at 1:50 a. m. today following a brief illness.

Born Dec. 11, 1914 in Coffee county, Ala., he was a member of the Central Baptist Church. He had been a resident of Sanford for the past 10 years and a carpenter by trade.

Surviving are two children, Dorothy Jean and James; his widow; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Cogburn of Sanford; four brothers, Shellee and Dewey of Sanford; John C. Cogburn with the U. S. Army in Ft. Jackson, S. C.; and Noah W. Cogburn with the Air Force in Korea; four sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Spears, Mildred Cogburn, Mrs. Myrtle Bullard and Mrs. Foye Mae Russell, all of Sanford.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow at Brascon Funeral Home with Rev. S. L. Whaley officiating. The remains will be sent to Opp, Ala. for burial.

Mayfair Inn Signs Former Wimbledon Tennis Champion

Giant French Star Yvon Petra Will Open Net Classes Here In December

By KENT CHETLAIN
Yvon Petra, internationally famous French tennis star, who won the men's singles at Wimbledon in 1946, has signed to give the Mayfair Inn tennis pro for this winter. It was announced today by Hotel Manager Charles G. Martin.

The giant 6-foot-8 net star is expected to arrive in Sanford in December. He is 36 years old and is married, having a boy and girl. The 15-year-old boy returns to France this winter but the 8-year-old girl will stay with her parents in Sanford.

The former French national singles champion is the summer time pro at Chicago's Rialto and Cycle Club. Charles Hare, Wilson Sporting Goods representative and former Davis Cup star for England, suggested the stay for Petra.

After careful consideration and screening of all the numerous professional applicants, including John Seminoff, Martin picked Petra because of his outstanding record and notoriety.

"We are well pleased at getting Petra for our hotel this year," commented Martin after Petra sent his acceptance wire.

The giant Frenchman has had a long and colorful career stretching its zenith when he won the men's single title in 1946 from the famous two-handed Australian ace, Geoff Brown, in what was described as the most thrilling five set matches in the history of Wimbledon.

The Wimbledon triumph was the first for a Frenchman since Henri Cochet annexed the title in 1925. Petra, who ranks the No. 1 player on the French tennis team and of course the Wimbledon single's title holder in 1946.

Petra opened a bar "most of our sporting stars open bars," he said. "Myself, I drink very little, but I like to smoke and most of all I like to eat."

When he is not eating before a game, Petra is sleeping. He goes to bed at 10:00 each night stays there until 9:00 the next morning. Yvon believes it is the only way to keep fit.

On the court his devastating service looks vicious, but according to his best friend in England, Petra is the "most gentleman I know."

DELAND (AP)—The Stetson Hatters returned home late Monday from Monroe, La., where they trimmed Northeast Louisiana, 40-0, and began two weeks of practice for the home opener against Furman.

"We defeated a good team in beating Eastern," said Coach Jay Falter. "However, we will have to do a lot of hard work in the next two weeks if we expect to handle Furman."

Herb Werner, who scored Stetson's only touchdown against Florida on a pass interception, made two more passes against Northeast Louisiana and got two others on offense.

1952 World Series Will Begin Tomorrow Afternoon In Brooklyn

Yankees Hold Edge Over Dodgers In Pitching; Champs Seek 4th In Row

NEW YORK (AP)—It pitching means anything in a World Series, and it usually does, the New York Yankees are off to a head start in their quest for a fourth consecutive world's championship.

Headed by their big chief Alvin Karpis, the American League's earned run leader, Casey Stengel's mound staff, it strong is a well rested crew as they prepare for the first game against the Brooklyn Dodgers tomorrow in Ebbets Field.

Reynolds, who became a 20-game winner for the first time this season, together with Vic Raschi (16-4) and Eddie Lopat (10-5), the other probable series starters, and Johnny Sain (11-8), Bob Kuzava (8-4), Tom Gorman (6-2) and Ray Scarborough (6-3) are being counted on for heavy duty.

The Dodgers pitching corps is well rested, too, but there the resemblance ends. Joe Black, their phenomenal rookie, threw the opening game assignment Monday. Reynolds largely on the strength of his excellent record in relief, but the fastballing Negro hurler, who posted a 15-1 record during the late campaign, made only two starts among his 56 appearances and completed one game.

Giving the distance has been one of the things the members of the Brooklyn staff have been unable to do frequently. Only Carl Erskine (14-8) has hurled a complete game in the late campaign, and only two starts among his 11 victories and only two defeats, went all the way on eight occasions and young Luce (11-4) came up with seven complete jobs.

Yankee pitchers, on the other hand, have shown much better route game progress. Reynolds with 21 complete games was tops with Raschi, 13, Lopat, 10, and Sain, eight, also well up there.

Hurricanes Prep For 'Bama Clash This Friday Night

CORAL GABLES (Special)—This is the "Epic of Life" week for the traffic freshmen and sophomores who rolled over V.M.I. 45-0 in their football opener last Friday to give the University of Miami one of its most brilliant starts in any regular season.

This week, the young Hurricanes meet the University of Alabama eleven which is far more experienced, bigger, more talented and deeper than the Flying Keydets.

Miami's starters broke the V.M.I. resistance and Andy Gustafson using 56 plays, had 13 offensive touchdowns in the game, every one of whom came out of the contest with average gains of two yards or up to 30.

All of Miami's scoring was done by athletes who had never billed for the Hurricanes before: freshmen accounted for 33 of the Miami touchdowns.

Alabama's big and heavy line will not be bowled over by the Miami blockers as easily as was the case in the V.M.I. game; Miami's offensive will be able to roam around in the Alabama backfield this week, seeking out unhappy ball carriers as they did against V.M.I.

This will be the week when the Hurricanes will face one of the hardest hitting clubs they will meet all season. If the Miami kids come through this one without too much lacerating physically and on the score board, the Hurricanes will be tough to handle much earlier than had been expected.

For the Alabama game, Coach Gustafson can expect to have his one returning backfield regular, Harry Mullins ready to go and on the V.M.I. contest, that should give Miami three complete offensive backfields with more hitting power in each than the Hurricanes have been able to muster on their entire season in recent years.

Such talented freshmen as Wally Piper, Dick Albrecht, Frank Grady, Bert Grossman, Sid Greenpan, Lou D'Addio and Jim Praelnicki eluded in a hurry against V.M.I. and every one fills a spot which had previously been a source of worry.

Alabama's crashing Crimson Tide will determine how many of these kids are ready for varsity football now; how many need more seasoning.

A crowd approaching the 61,000 turnout for the Florida game of 1951 is expected for the Friday night tussle under the lights.

Herb Werner Is Picked As Best Back Last Week

LaPradd Is Chosen As Best Lineman By Sportswriters

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—Stetson's Herb Werner and Florida's Charles LaPradd have won the Florida State Sports Writers Association honors as most valuable back and lineman on Florida college eleven last week.

Joe Livingston, sports editor of the Jacksonville Journal and president of the association, made the announcement today after tabulations of votes wired and mailed to him.

Werner's four touchdowns scored against Northeast Louisiana State made the Stetson star top back in the inaugural selection. Florida writers vote each Monday during the football season for a back and lineman.

LaPradd, by Georgia Tech head coach Bobby Dodd's own admission, "was never blocked out of there."

Atlanta newsmen who witnessed Tech's 17-14 victory over Florida were virtually unanimous in describing the St. Augustine boy as All-American.

Werner plunged three yards for six touchdowns, stole everything for eleven yards for a second and ran back pass interceptions 88 and 91 yards for his third and fourth touchdowns. Stetson won 40-20.

Yvon Petra, internationally famous French tennis player who won the men's singles at Wimbledon in 1946, was signed by the Mayfair Inn as the net pro for the coming season. Petra is one of the giants of tennis standing 6-foot-8. He is expected to arrive here only in December.

49-Year World Series Thrills Rank Second To None In Sports

By FRANK ECK

AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—The World Series is almost as old as the hills. Yet there's nothing on the American sports scene that matches it for thrills.

Since its inception 49 years ago the World Series has brought out many heroes. Creaking veterans, substitutes, and even rookies, have supplied much drama over the years.

Who will be the hero or heroes of the current World Series? Your guess is as good as the next fellow's.

As a refresher here are some of the things that have made World Series history:

Possibly the most unusually incident happened in the 1947 Series between the Yankees and the Dodgers. It was on a Friday afternoon in Brooklyn's Ebbets Field. Ninth inning, last game with Floyd (Bill) Revere pitching a no-hitter for the Yankees, although he had issued 10 bases no balls.

Manager Burt Shotton put up the aging Cookie Lavagetto, now a Dodger coach, to pitch him for a tired Eddie Stanky. Lavagetto not only broke up Havana's no-hitter with a double that rattled off the right field wall but he won the game, 3-2, for the late Hugh Casey, Casey, who was to appear in six of the seven games, was the winning pitcher. He had made only one pitch, a double play ball to Tommy Henrich.

It was not the only year that Series history was written in Ebbets Field. In 1941, with Henrich missing a third strike, Catcher Mickey Owen missed Casey's pitch; Henrich checked out and the Yankees eventually won the game and the Series.

Possibly the greatest bit of Series pitching occurred back in 1905 when Christy Mathewson, a 21-game winner that year, shut out the Athletics in three games.

The great Walter Johnson had to wait until the twilight of his career to win a Series game. And he did it in relief in 1924 after having lost two starts. In 1936 old Grover Cleveland Alexander became a hero by fanning Tony Lazzeri with the bases loaded.

And in 1929, Connie Mack aroused the second gaspers by slugging Howard Ehmke in the opening game despite the fact that Ehmke had completed only two games all season. Ehmke won, 2-1, and fanned 13 batters. He never won another game in the majors. That City leads best-of-seven series, 3-1 (Detroit 2, Cleveland 1).

Memphis Ties Dixie Series In 2nd Game

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The Dixie Series shifted to Shreveport, La., today with the Sports of the Texas League and the Memphis Chickens of the Southern Association checked out one game each.

Memphis, snarling under its fumbling 8-3 loss in the opener, flashed a show of power in another Shreveport 14-3 here last night.

The Chickens did break three pitchers for 14 hits, wrapping up the game with four runs in the seventh and seven in the big eighth.

Dixie Howell, who relieved Frank Hisean, sparked the two-inning up roar with a lead-off homer in the seventh that broke a 3-0 tie.

Jim Willis, who started for Shreveport, was charged with the loss.

Ageless Sam Baugh Still Hurls Passes

CHICAGO (AP)—The Washington Redskins' 32-year-old player-coach, Sammy Baugh, was tossed out of the game last night but not before he had completed 11 consecutive passes to inspire his team to a 27-7 National Football League victory over the Chicago Cardinals.

The upset win, before 17,000 fans in Comiskey Park, opened league play for both teams and marked Washington's first triumph after five exhibition defeats.

Baugh and Don Joyce, a 250-pound second-year tackle from Tulane, exchanged blows after a pile up in the fourth period. Both were ejected by referee Bill Dowson.

It was the first time in the pro career of the usually calm Baugh—starting his 16th season with the Redskins—that he had been banished from a game.

Baugh tried 11 passes and completed all of them in the first half. Two of them went for touchdowns—two yards. Harry Dowda and 10 to Hugh Taylor.

The string of passes gave Baugh a total of 1,700 completions for his pro career, plus 187 touchdowns.

Billy Hitchcock of the Athletics has a Bachelor of Arts Degree from Auburn (Ala.) College.

Michigan State Captures First In AP Grid Poll

Georgia Tech Ranks 6th, Florida And Miami Mentioned

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK (AP)—Resourceful Michigan State was a solid choice as the No. 1 college football team in the country today in The Associated Press' first weekly poll.

Sports writers and broadcasters, who in a pre-season sampling of opinion named the Spartans as the best bet to win the national championship, apparently were further convinced by State's 27-12 come-back victory over Michigan last Saturday.

They gave the Spartans 52 of the 41 first place votes cast and an impressive total of 152 points, nearly twice that of the No. 2 team, Illinois.

Point totals are arrived at by awarding 10 for a first place vote, nine for second, etc.

No other team got more than seven No. 1 votes, this number going to Maryland's Sugar Bowl champions, who gained third place on close-squeak triumphs over Missouri and Auburn.

California was named fourth, without a single first-place vote but with strong runner-up support.

Point totals are arrived at by awarding 10 for a first place vote, nine for second, etc.

Completing the top 10, in order, were Georgia Tech, Southern California, Wisconsin, Kansas and Duke.

It is interesting that, in addition to Michigan State on top of the pile, five other teams picked in the pre-season poll pulled down places on the first weekly show of strength. These were Maryland, Georgia Tech, Illinois, Wisconsin and California.

The top 10 in The Associated Press' first football poll (points based on 10 for first, nine for second, etc.) with first place votes in parentheses:

- | | |
|----------------------------|-----|
| 1. Michigan State (52) | 152 |
| 2. Illinois (4) | 43 |
| 3. Maryland (7) | 38 |

| 7. Southern California (5) | 28 |
| 8. Wisconsin (1) | 20 |
| 9. Kansas (1) | 15 |
| 10. Duke (1) | 13 |
- The second 10:
- | | |
|-------------------|-----|
| 11. Tennessee (2) | 118 |
| 12. Villanova (1) | 109 |
| 13. Princeton (1) | 97 |

| 15. Ohio State | 74 |
| 16. Virginia (2) | 68 |
| 17. Rice | 47 |
| 18. Mississippi | 37 |
| 19. Notre Dame | 36 |
| 20. Oklahoma | 3 |
- Others getting votes: Arizona State at Tempe, Colorado, Holy Cross, Tulane (1), Pennsylvania, Penn State, Stanford, TCU, Army, Miami (Fla.), Holy Cross, Navy, Michigan, Pittsburg, Florida, Georgia, Colgate, Baylor, Alabama, Nebraska, Washington.

Woodruff Eases Up On His U-F Eleven

GAINESVILLE (AP)—Coach Bob Woodruff let his University of Florida varsity football squad take it easy Monday in a short workout without pads.

The coach felt his men needed a little extra rest to let cuts and bruises heal after the grueling contest with tough Georgia Tech Saturday.

Woodruff said he naturally was pleased with the play against Tech but was "disappointed we did not win after we had them on the ropes."

He expects his offensive fullback situation to improve now that trainer Sam Langford has allowed Billy Bass and Bob Muehl to return to practice. Against Tech, quarterback Rick Casares was dropped to fullback at times to spell Fred Quinn, who was not in top physical shape, and Ken Sumner.

Woodruff was particularly happy with the play of defensive guard Art Wright whom he said "whipped Irl Miller all afternoon."

Killer, co-captain and offensive tackle for the Engineers and at 235 pounds the heaviest man on the Tech squad, is rated by Coach Bobby Dodd as one of the finest blockers he ever coached.

Another returnee to the workout Monday was halfback Dick Watson who was injured in the Stetson game.

Tennessee May Not Have Atkins For Big Duke Game On Saturday

By The Associated Press
Tennessee has a considerable cause to be blue in facing the Blue Devils of Duke Saturday night. Bob Neyland's warriors in the battle at Durham.

The gigantic defensive right tackle dislocated his right thumb in the game with Mississippi State and Trainer Mickey O'Brien says he will be out indefinitely.

Georgia Tech faces S. M. U. this week-end with a pulling problem. Coach Bobby Dodd wasn't impressed with Dave Davis' 34-2 yard average for punts against Florida, and so he's scouting around for somebody to take Davis' place.

At the moment, Dodd is eyeing senior halfback Chappell (who for punting chores).

Zeke Brankowski's stellar performance against Tulane gave rise to glowing confidence yesterday as Coach Wally Butts' Georgia squad practiced for the week-end tussle with North Carolina at Athens.

Brankowski hit 64.7 per cent of his passes for 181 yards in Georgia's 21-16 victory over Tulane.

Vanderbilt's Coach Bill Edwards is concentrating on building strong offensive and defensive teams for use Saturday against North western.

Coach Ralph Jordan of Auburn said his side came through the battle with Maryland in good shape except for End Jim Loftin who bruised a leg.

Mississippi's regulars were given long but light drill yesterday.

but Coach Johnny Vought has a tougher problem in store for the boys later in the week.

Spirits were pretty high among Mississippi State college players. All came through the battle with Tennessee without injury.

The feeling at Tulane also was pretty good since none of the 15 players suffered any serious injuries in their 21-16 defeat by Georgia.

L. S. U. faces the loss of defensive back George Bramato in the game with Rice Saturday. George twisted a knee in battling Alabama and was on the sidelines yesterday.

Kentucky's first stringers are getting into hard work in preparation for Saturday night's engagement with Texas A. and M. Alabama may be without the services of 220-pound tackle Billy Shupp and No. 1 offensive center D. E. Phillips in Friday night's game with Miami Shipp hurt his knee in practice last week and Phillips suffered another injury to a bad knee in the tilt with T. S. U.

Florida expects to have Dick Watson, Billy Bass and Bob Muehl in the lineup against The Citadel. They missed the Georgia Tech game because of injuries.

Woodruff Eases Up On His U-F Eleven

GAINESVILLE (AP)—Coach Bob Woodruff let his University of Florida varsity football squad take it easy Monday in a short workout without pads.

The coach felt his men needed a little extra rest to let cuts and bruises heal after the grueling contest with tough Georgia Tech
