Blows Up Seven Scattered Blows While Mates Get 8

Lookouts Maintain Slim Chance As Saints Lose And Drop Fourth Place Lead To Two Full Contacts

PALATKA, Aug. 24.—(AP)—George Medler, suspended pitcher for the Saints, kept the victory over the Azaleas yesterday by blowing up seven scattered blows but at the same time allowing his mates to get eight scattered blows.

Medler, in his first game since being suspended for a month because of a bad throw, was the first to get the ball in the first inning. He was followed by Tommie Davis, who was followed by Tommie Davis, who was followed by Tommie Davis.

The Saints' only serious threat came in the seventh when the Azaleas doubled and led two runs to nil. However, Medler disposed of the next batter by the strikeout and ended the inning.

Fralick Hurls Fine Ball In Limiting Saints To Five Hits

ST. AUGUSTINE, Aug. 24.—St. Augustine's string of five straight victories in the Florida State League, stretch drive was broken yesterday as Moore Fralick, out of their national doubles championship against 21 selected American and French teams here today.

The team and the Philadelphia, who first won the title because of their triumph a year ago by Don Hodge and Gene Nabo of California, Davis appears, will be the team to beat. They lost to All-Star and Van Ryn in the 1935 final through inexperience, but this year have beaten the champions 10 times in 16 meetings.

Seated behind these leaders in the American list are Frank Parker of Spring Lake, N. J., and Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J.; Robert L. Egan and Wayne Smith of California; J. Gilbert Hall of Orange, N. J.; and Bryan M. (Bitty) Grant of Atlanta, Ga.; Henry Colby and Joe Hunt of California; John McDermid of Princeton and Hal Burdick of Kansas City; and another California pair, Robert Underwood and William Seward.

After driving their way well into fourth place during the past week, the Saints found Fralick's hurling a stumbling block. Yesterday Moore fanned eight and allowed only one hit up until the seventh. McGowan's single, an infield hit by Fitzgerald and Davis' lead throw to first on the play ended McGowan's reach third in the ninth. Jack O'Neil backed McGowan up with a long fly to center and the Saint shortstop easily secured after the catch with St. Augustine's lone run.

Davis and Hosinski poked out two hits each to feature the Saint's attack, and Schneider and Butland who came to the mound in the ninth. Halvey McGowan gathered two of the Saints five hits.

The teams meet for the last time during the regular schedule at Daytona Beach today.

Three Floridians Are Entered In Tourney At Chestnut Hills

CHESTNUT HILLS, Penn., Aug. 24.—(AP)—Wimber Allison and John Van Ryn, young winners of American tennis, single opponents of their national doubles championship against 21 selected American and French teams here today.

Orlando Youth Takes Georgia Tennis Title

ATLANTA, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Frank Guernsey, young Orlando title grabber, defeated Atlanta's Russell Bobbitt yesterday to win the men's singles championship of the Georgia State tennis tournament and take the championship trophy to Florida for the second successive year.

Arthur Hendrix, of Lakeland, last year's champ, did not defend his title.

After Guernsey eliminated Bobbitt, 6-3, 6-4, the Atlanta whippersnapper finished in final of the junior singles division, 6-2, 6-3.

The top-seeded Guernsey already has to his credit championships in the Florida State, Alabama State, Tennessee State and Mid-Atlantic men's singles, and the Southern junior.

The young Floridian met Bobbitt with a steady steadiness and flashy covering of ground. He exhibited a talent for anticipating shots.

President Not To Speak Till October

HYDE PARK, Aug. 24.—(AP)—President Roosevelt has surveyed the reaction to his non-political-speeches-by-a-October statement, while a debate began along campaign observers here whether he could hold back that long while Governor Landon hammers away at the New Deal.

As his Republican opponent sped eastward to speak in Pennsylvania, the President told his press conference that the way things looked now he planned no political speeches before the month's pending election. His 12-day drought trip, beginning Tuesday night, will be free of politics, the President reiterated.

Loop All-Star Team Is Announced By President

Lookouts Fail To Place Single Man On Mythical Outfit, While Five Saints Are Named

DURHAM, N. C., Aug. 24.—Five St. Augustine Saints, three Gainesville G-Men, two Daytona Beach Islanders and two DeLand Reds made up the first annual all-star team of the Florida State League. The team was compiled by a vote of the circuit writers and managers, collected and tabulated by the National Association press bureau.

A team previously selected to play the leading Daytona Beach Islanders, nominarily alternate members of that club, but two of them are included on the team named by the more recent poll.

At first base, Jack Dooling of the DeLand Reds was the prime favorite, being the first choice of every voter. The only other first choice was Arnold Anderson of Daytona, but he was named second choice of those who favored him with a mention.

Shaw Dack of Gainesville was the second base assignment with very little difficulty, although Denny Hosinski of Daytona had a following that gave him more than passing notice.

Bob Pitman of the G-Men was another unanimous choice, every voter going right down the line for him as the team's third baseman.

For the shortstop post, Russ Bevil of Gainesville and Bob Davis of Daytona put on something of an argument, but in the final tabulation the former held an edge that left no doubt as to the choice.

While quite a few outfielders came in for a scattering of support, the trio of gardeners that made the team appeared to be very well defined. J. D. Merion of Daytona was stationed in left field, George Andrews of St. Augustine, the league's leading batter, in center, and Manager Gerald Fitzgerald of the Saints in right. Bill Holdstock of DeLand was a very popular candidate, but he could not master sufficient votes to out any of the three named.

Andrews, until recently, was a member of the Palatka Azaleas, who failed to place a man on the mythical line.

One of the best fights for position was staged over the catcher's berth, with Furman Owens of St. Augustine, Joe Dietz of Sanford and Mill McGloin of Gainesville the leading actors. Two of the three split the vote considerably, but Owens got the job when he showed a slim margin of one first-choice vote over Dietz.

Frank Gornicki of Daytona polled seven first votes for the right-handed pitching chores, and Padgett of Gainesville was the only rival getting as many as two, making the Islander finger the No. 1 man without room for controversy.

Southpaw Johnny Schneider drew one less vote for the left-handed pitcher than Gornicki did for the righthander. Schneider had contended with opposition from Jim McGloin of DeLand and Lefty Sparkman of Palatka, but he overcame their threats to land the place.

The largest field of candidates for one spot was brought out in the fight for the utility post, which was won by J. P. McGowan of St. Augustine. The large array of entries divided the votes so widely that McGowan had a very slim margin to put him in.

Pat Patterson of DeLand also had a battle on his hand, before he was named manager. Don McShane of Gainesville fought him right down the line, but the final count showed Pat won one second choice vote. McGowan did not have, and that was the narrow margin of victory. Fred Francis, Arnold Andrews and "Ray Mead" Bill Rodgers also got some play for the skipper's cobb.

Honorable mention is accorded those who received votes but failed to place on the team, which lines up as follows:

Player	Position
Bolling	1b DeLand
Buch	2b Gainesville
Pitman	3b Gainesville
Bevil	ss Gainesville
Morton	LF Daytona Beach
Andrews	CF St. Augustine
Fitzgerald	RF St. Augustine

G-Men Pound Out 14 Hits In 9 To 7 Win Over DeLand

Reds Gain Cellular By Full Game As They Drop Four Straight

DELAND, Aug. 24.—The DeLand Reds, after taking an early lead over the Gainesville G-Men, booted away their advantage yesterday afternoon and lost, 9 to 7, for their fourth setback in three days.

The Reds fell upon Sweeney with a three-hit attack in the opening frame to take a two-run lead. The DeLand defense bogged down in the third as the G-Men reached Jim McGloin for three hits for three runs. Another Red error and two hits gave the circuit pacers a run in the fourth.

With uncertain support behind him, McGloin lost his effectiveness in the fifth, and the Gainesville batters rapped him for five hits and four more runs. Jake Bunch was sent in to relieve McGloin and succeeded in retiring the visitors. In the eighth, Bunch hit McGloin, who scored on Beryell's double for the only counter against the Red relief hurler.

Sweeney, after surviving the first inning attack of the DeLand club, held the locals in check until the eighth when the Reds bunched four hits with a Gainesville error to add three runs to their count. Consecutive home runs by Jack Bolling and Winfield Mosley in the ninth with two away made the tilt a less one-sided affair for the Reds.

Scorekeepers in the Northeast Arkansas league are having their troubles. There are four sets of brothers in the league.

Convict Slain When Prison Inmates Riot

Break From Georgia Institution Ends As Guards Wound Fifteen Insurgents Superintendent Hit With Bottle Jury Declares Death In Line Of Duty For Jail Sentinels

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Aug. 25.—(AP)—A riot at the state prison broke out last night and resulted in the death of one prisoner and wounding to 15 others before it was quelled.

Superintendent Roland Lawrence said the prisoner killed was W. E. McDaniel, 31, Atlanta, serving four years for robbery.

"The prisoner lost his life when guards fired after a bunch of men in the white dormitory rambled the doors repeatedly and tried to batter down a door with iron beds and furniture," Lawrence said.

A coroner's jury today returned a verdict that McDaniel was killed by guards acting in the line of duty.

The superintendent said about 50 prisoners started the riot. He said there were about 500 men in the dormitory where the riot took place.

Once during the uproar, of rioting convicts set fire to the dormitory but prisoners not joining in the disturbance extinguished the flames without damage resulting.

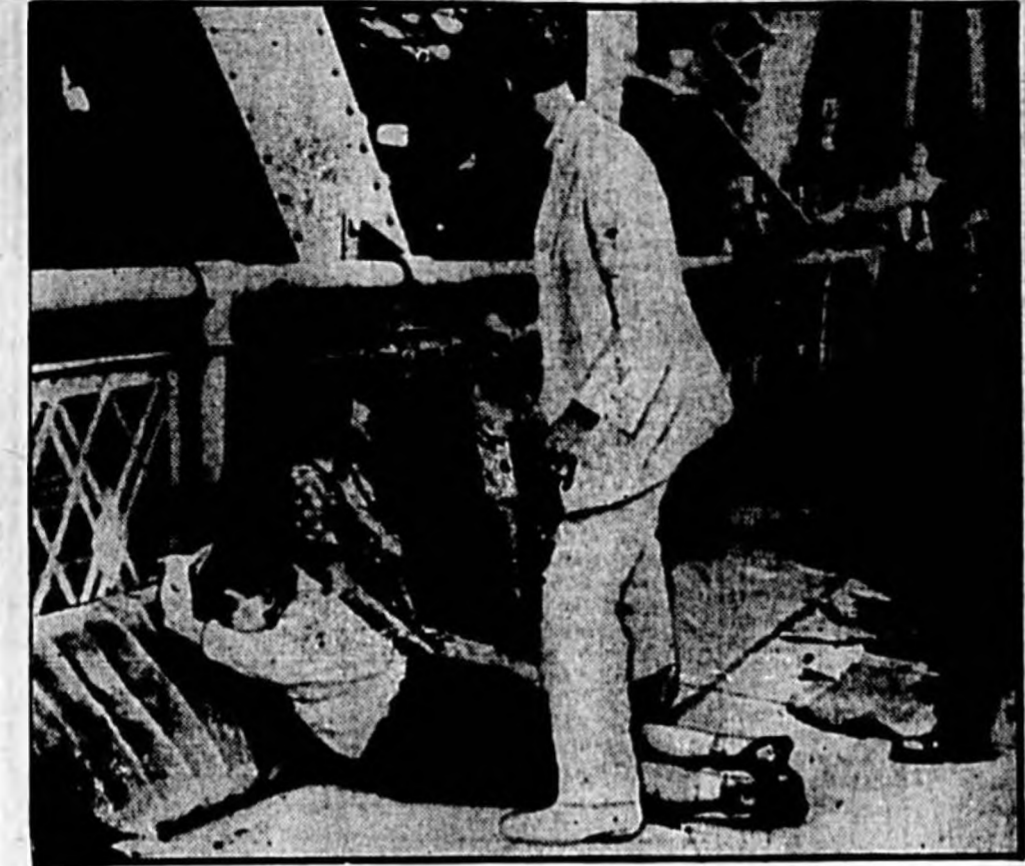

Lawrence said the riot was quiet for a few minutes but broke out again when he called upon Marine police to clear the riot.

None of the 15 wounded prisoners was seriously hurt as guards used bird shot.

Lawrence said the ringleaders were put in stocks for about 40 minutes. He said all the prisoners were out picking cotton today.

The superintendent received a blow on the head from a bottle thrown by a prisoner. None of the guards was hurt.

City May Slash 'Truck-Selling' License Costs

$500 Allocated To Bolster Baseball Team's Treasury

A recommendation that municipal "selling-from-trucks" license be reduced from $25 to $15 was made to the City Commission last night by Roy Williams, chief of police.

The officer said the slash would enable the law enforcement department of the city to collect the peddlers' fees with greater ease and probably would induce delinquents to make prompt payments.

In a report of collection success this year, the chief said approximately $10,000 had been added to the local treasury from this source of revenue.

In response to pleas by Henry Watson and Jimmie Wright, the Commission allocated $500 to assist the Sanford Baseball Association in finishing the season financially sound.

The two baseball enthusiasts explained, at length, the benefits of a baseball club to the city, emphasizing the constant publicity received in large cities that own "farms" in the Florida State League.

A petition was received from citizens in the neighborhood of Myrtle Avenue at Fifth and Fourth Streets protesting the existence of a junk yard on the west side of the street.

Elections Hold Nation's Eye In Three Sections

(By The Associated Press)

Primary, in three states commanded national attention today.

In Mississippi, the veteran Senator Pat Harrison, after a campaign in which he stood on record as a New Deal supporter, contested with former Governor Sennett Connor for the Democratic senatorial nomination, equivalent to election.

In South Carolina, there was a clear cut fight between Senator James F. Byrnes, Administration stalwart, and two New Deal critics, Thomas P. Stoney, former mayor of Charleston, and Col. William C. Harler, retired marine, for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

Six representatives are to be nominated.

In California Townsend endorsed candidates sought nominations in 20 congressional districts.

Wilcox To Talk Before Kiwanis Club Wednesday

Civic Organization To Have Joint Meeting With River Group

Congressman J. Mark Wilcox will arrive here tomorrow to address a joint session of the Sanford Kiwanis Club and the St. Johns River Improvement Association.

The meeting is scheduled to get under way at 12:15 P. M. in the dining room of the Mayfair Hotel.

All persons interested in attending the affair should make reservations before noon Wednesday with O. P. Herndon, chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Among the notables invited, other than Mr. Wilcox, are Senators Scott M. Luffin and William Hill, Judge C. O. Andrews, Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate, "Little Joe" Hendricks, Democratic nominee for Congress from the new Fifth District.

The presiding officer will be George W. Gilson of Jacksonville, president of the St. Johns River Improvement Association.

The principal address of the day will be delivered by Congressman Wilcox who is expected to discuss inland waterway improvements and proposals.

The fourth district representative has repeatedly expressed himself in favor of the suggested St. Johns River-Indian River canal, a project which is of vital interest to Seminole County.

Congressman Wilcox is well known in Sanford. Among his outstanding achievements in the lower United States House was the passage of the municipal bankruptcy act. He plans to introduce an Everglades reclamation act in the next session of Congress.

Police Begin Campaign On Auto Speeders

Commission Okehs Use Of Nocturnal Motor Officer To Cover Park Avenue

By PAT PATTERSON

A move was under way here today to institute a night motor traffic patrol designed to enforce speed laws on Park Avenue.

At the instigation of the City Commission last night, Police Chief Roy Williams said he could arrange the hours of Charles Shaffer, motorcycle officer, for nightly patrol duty.

Mayor Rhinholzer offered the suggestion of after-dark enforcement of the speed regulations after describing several outstanding violations which he personally witnessed. Commissioners Whitehurst, Dupree and Lodge concurred. Commissioner Laffer was absent.

It had been proposed that amber traffic lights be installed at strategic points along the Avenue. However, it was later termed more economical and effective to use a night motorcycle officer.

Costs of each light would have been $137.50. City Clerk Frank M. Lamson told the Commission.

Further steps toward progress in solving the city's traffic problems were taken when the municipal governing body approved the purchase of warning signs to be placed at intervals along Park Avenue.

The necessity of these was pointed out along with the announcement that the thoroughfare had become a veritable speedway since it had been widened.

The Commission also touched lightly on the proposition of employing another motorcycle officer, although action was delayed until adoption of the 1936 budget. There were indications that another patrolman will be added to the force.

Meanwhile, a constant drive is under way to create better traffic conditions here. New parking regulations have been put into force on Park Avenue. A plan is being formulated to print and distribute to all citizens copies of traffic laws. Chief Williams is working toward the adoption of a uniform system of traffic ordinances approved in Washington by a safety organization who says that all United States municipalities employ the suggested statutes.

German Reich Votes To Double Compulsory Army Duties

(By The Associated Press)

Diplomatic proposals designed to check the brutality of Spain's fierce civil war were authoritatively reported to be the subject of communications today between France and Great Britain.

There have been widespread reports of mistreatment of prisoners and civilians by both the Socialist government and Fascist Rebels. It is these violations of international rules of war which the proposals are designed to check, not the war itself.

The general European atmosphere suddenly was made more breathless by the Nazi-ordered expansion of Germany's army. Hitler's doubling of the universal military term in the Reich served to throw the whole international conflict between right and left elements into sharp relief.

Hitler's decree of two years of compulsory service under arms was aimed directly at what the Nazis called aggressive Soviet Russian militarism.

Leftist France reported that in 1937 Germany's fighting man would total 1,200,000 or nearly twice the French strength of 600,000.

German authorities estimated the new order would bring the army up to between 700,000 and 800,000 men.

Russia, to which France is bound by treaty ties of mutual assistance, has a fighting force of 1,200,000, the largest army in the world.

In Spain fighting between the Government and Rebels continued.

Sanford Armory To Be Completed In 3 Weeks, Earle Says

Approximately three weeks of work remain to be done on the National Guard Armory under construction here, it was estimated today by W. S. Earle, district work director for the WPA in three counties.

He said workmen are now engaged in placing the finishing touches on the inside, while brick facing operations on the outside are nearing completion.

The Armory project originally was allocated about $29,000, Mr. Earle said, but later an additional allotment $1,500 was approved to change the outside from a weatherboard surface to a brick face.

Mac Cluser entertained with a series of selections on his harmonica and guitar. And Berger Wester played the violin accompanied by Harry Wester at the piano.

W. N. (Nick) Carter was introduced to the club as a new member.

Billy Parrish, balladist, last night was voted the winner of a series of six amateur contests staged at the Ritz Theater. He and five other weekly victors competed in final competition in a WDBO broadcast.

Radio audience votes were used in determining the triumphant entertainer. Mr. Parrish stood out a slim winning margin of seven votes over Miss Eloise Winn who gave impersonations of celebrities.

The amateur night program was staged weekly here by Joe Maravello, manager of the Ritz playhouse.

Wilson Is Preparing Lease On Warehouse

City Attorney Fred R. Wilson today was making final arrangements for the execution of a lease under which the Winn-Lovett Company will occupy its present warehouse for another ten years.

Terms of the contract call for an annual payment of $300 plus the payment of taxes that would be levied if the property were privately owned instead of being in possession of the city.

The lease provides for an optional five year occupancy at the termination of the first ten years.

Cuban Island Comfortable And Pest-Free In Summer

James Robson Spends Vacation Period In Havana; Talks Of Old Model Autos, Burial Tracts

James Robson, well known local business man, who has just returned from a 10-day trip to Cuba, described that island today as being the height of comfort during the hot summer months.

Not only are the breezes cool and the atmosphere fresh, but there are no flies or mosquitoes to molest the traveler or tourist, Mr. Robson said.

He pointed out that none of the homes or business establishments are screened, and that during his stay on the island he saw only one of the insects. That, if nothing else, is enough to attract the average tourist, Mr. Robson believes.

Hotel owners on the former Spanish Isle stated that this summer had seen the best American tourist season for some time, but general business conditions were very slack with a large percentage of unemployment.

What surprised Mr. Robson most was said by him to be the fact that there were no modern filling stations on the island, even in Havana, and that gasoline was served in cart from two-gallon cans, instead of from the usual automatic pump. Installation of a few pumps was underway during his stay there. The price of the fuel ranged from 27 to 33 cents per gallon with American oil companies supplying practically all of it.

What probably attracted Mr. Robson's interest most, was the fact that the people in Cuba are the best dressed people he has ever seen. Coats are in vogue even for men walking the streets, and one not wearing a coat at all times is not thought to be a gentleman.

Mr. Robson was impressed with (Continued on page three)

Sleek Lions Use New Shower Bath To Better Looks

Despite their abhorrence of water, lions' coats improve when bathed, City Superintendent James Moughton said today.

Mr. Moughton was commenting on the surprising results obtained recently through the installation of a shower bath in the jungle king's cage at Municipal Zoo.

The superintendent asserted that a marked improvement had been effected in the appearance of the lions since the innovation of the shower because it enables the animals to rid their bodies of dead hair and induce them to rub themselves against a "rubbing post" placed for their convenience and amusement.

While the shower does not produce a spray like a bathroom shower, it creates a fine mist, barely visible, of which the lions are not afraid, Mr. Moughton said.

Of the average retail price of 31.8 cents per dozen for oranges in 1936, 27 percent, or 8.7 cents, went to the producer, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Seminole County Gets $9,780.50 In Farm Allocations

Seminole County farmers have received $9,780.50 in loans and grants from the resettlement administration to date, according to a press dispatch originating yesterday in the office of Walter Hawkins, state director of the national emergency relief council.

Distressed growers throughout the entire state have received $1,066,897.50 in loans and $31,677.80 in grants, the statistics revealed.

In this county there were 42 who applied for loans totaling $12,611.19 of which $8,192 were approved. Forty-two persons obtained outright grants amounting to $1,698.50.

Mr. Hawkins' figures showed that 373 loans were made in the entire state, while grants totalled 4353.

CITY COMMISSION FACES PERIOD OF BUDGETARY STUDIES

An intense period of activity today lay before the City Commission which is beginning to make a preliminary study of proposed expenditures for the 1937 fiscal year.

First on the governing body's program is the adjustment and setting of property valuations. That will be followed by a compilation of the budget.

Tentative figures already have been prepared by City Clerk Frank M. Lamson and submitted to Commissioners for guidance and study in setting the cost of city government for another 12 months.

Indications have been apparent that the municipality may end the current fiscal year with an expenditure of some $5,000 less than was estimated.

The Commission is planning a series of budget study meetings, although no definite date has been set. Because of Commissioner W. A. Laffer's absence, the board is deferring action, since a full commission is desired before budgetary work is undertaken with a view toward finality.

WOMEN THREE FOR TODAY
JOHN AND URGENT: Better
in the year that walks in his high-heeled shoes, than he is in his work shoes, though he be rich—Franklin D. Roosevelt.

President Roosevelt's "good neighbor" policy is all right so long as the neighbors are not the following kind.

We see where the quintuplets are being raised in a particular kind of soap.
But that it should be worth a big part of the newspapers, but we are glad to know they're being properly looked.

Do you know which is the richest city in the United States?
Neither do we, but within the city limits of Miami more automobiles are owned in proportion to population than in any other city of the country. That must mean something.

Patrons are being circulated in Howard county taking the county commissioners to substantiate the question of slot machines to the voters in the coming general election. We doubt if there will be many places in the state where the one-armed bandit can legally operate after November.

Not all the rich men are supporting G. O. P. Landon. There's Jim Cousins, for instance, the Michigan senator, who used to be a partner of Henry Ford, but sold out for a million dollars and talked it all away in government bonds. He's just made public his support of Roosevelt.

Have you heard about the quick-witted youth, asks Lucius Beene, upon whose amorous passes at dumbly else's wife a friend indifferently blundered? "Go away, go away," he hissed, without ceasing operations; "can't you see I'm doomed? I don't know what I'm doing!"

In March of 1935 the government had a total of 5,463,000
"cases" on relief, representing 20-per cent of the population. A year later, March of this year, the number of persons on relief was 2,100,000.
Prosperity isn't here yet with a speed like that to point to—Melburn Times. No, but it is just around the corner.

The French government may be neutral toward the Spanish Belligerents, but the French Federation of Labor denounces the non-intervention pact as "dupery" and calls upon 4,000,000 French springlings to insist that France continue sending guns and munitions to the Madrid government. The people of Europe may not want another war, but sometimes they have a queer way of showing it.

The British are smart for all their meddling. They have remained sharply neutral in this Spanish conflict, but they got just hardly smart enough with the Madrid government to make the ruble approach English friendship. The British have been deemed to depart from the start, and the British are early in getting in good with the rebels, who will be the new Spanish government, so that London will have almost, if not quite, as much influence there as Paris.

While taxpayers all over the state are calling for tax reduction,
the Taxpayers Association brings out the information that there will be several large items requiring additional taxation in the next session of the Legislature. Among them are $4,000,000 for old age assurance, $100,000 for the care of dependent children, $500,000
for aid to the blind, and $200,000 for the administration of these new laws. That just about covers everything, except the minimum tax for bonded employ-

Hitting AN ANKle

Workmen removed from payrolls during the depression because of reduced production may have had more than their share of hardships during the trying times of the past few years, but American business in general, which for six years has been confronted with the problem of meeting the payrolls for those who were still employed has also had its difficulties.

In spite of salary and wage cuts, and in spite of the millions of workmen who lost their jobs as business men sought to cut expenses in an effort to keep out of the red, the income of business and industry declined in much the same manner as the incomes of workmen, farmers, and other private individuals. Instead of making money during the depression, most businesses have had to pay for the privilege of remaining in business during these hard years.

A report from the U. S. Department of Commerce declares that American business actually paid out $8 billion dollars more than it took in between 1929 and 1935. In other words there were no profits at all for American business as a whole, and instead of making money on their business enterprises, business men had to dig down into their own pockets, or borrow money at the banks, or elsewhere, in order to meet pay rolls and other expenses.

This report of the Department of Commerce is summarized as follows:

1. From 1930 through 1935, corporate business losses added to $22,781,000,000; losses by unincorporated businesses were $238,000,000 more. Hence, out of reserves American business spent $27,000,000,000 more than it took in.
 2. Though national income in 1935 was only 65 per cent of what it was in 1929, wage earners in 1935 received a greater share of the income than ever before. In 1929, the previous peak year, 66.5 cents out of every dollar went to wages; in 1935, wages amounted to 67 cents of every dollar.
 3. The total income of private business in 1935 was 40 per cent below 1929, but in the same seven year period the income of government, through taxes, increased 27 per cent.
 4. The portion of national income represented by government expenditures nearly doubled.
It rose from 8.3 per cent in 1929 to 16.1 per cent
in 1935.
 5. Per capita wages—the amount of wages paid to each individual—advanced from an average of $1,097 in 1933 to $1,201 in 1934 (1935 figures are not yet available). The 1934 figure is $65 under the 1929 peak.
 6. Just before the depression, business was putting about 3 per cent of its income into reserves. In 1932, business paid out, of those reserves, 21 per cent more than it took in.
- It should be clear from these figures, if they are accepted at their face value (and they are government statistics), that no particular group has been benefitted more than any other group from the depression and that everyone has suffered more or less alike. It may be true that certain particular businesses have managed to make money, just as certain farmers have made money right through the depression, and certain workmen have had pay increases while most of them were being cut.
But business as a group has lost money, just as the farmers, as a group, have lost, and workmen in general have had their pay reduced, or have lost their jobs. Similarly, it must be true that if business has been losing money, stockholders have failed to receive their accustomed dividends, and the incomes of that class which lives on invested capital have been reduced.
- A widespread depression, such as we have just been through, is no respecter of persons. It hits all, and all,
more or less, alike.

The Woman's Vote

Eleanor Patterson, famous newspaper editor, forecasts in the current issue of Good Housekeeping that a record-breaking woman's vote will be cast in the next presidential election. She estimates this vote at from 20,000,000 to 25,000,000. "Women's votes defeated Hoover in 1932," she states, "because their men were out of work and the family pocketbooks were becoming leaner." Women, if they choose, she declares, can take Franklin D. Roosevelt out of the White House. She thinks that in 1936 women as a whole "will vote for the man best fitted to gut—or keep—money in their pocketbooks."
"Women have learned that the decisions in Washington can change the very tenor of their lives, the very taste of the things they eat, the texture of the things they wear. Washington and the lawmakers immured there have shown a knack of manufacturing measures felt by every human being in the land, and those measures will bring tens of thousands of formerly indolent women out of their shells."

Mrs. Patterson does not look for a woman's vote concentrated on one candidate. "Women have too many axes to grind this year to lay out similar standards and march to a common goal," she writes. "The hopeless muddle of the agricultural situation is an example of the shifting wind that is making the election weather vane veer crazily."

The women voters in this country could turn the tide
the way they choose, she points out, but they have to be aroused as a body to do so. Get them mad enough they might elect a woman president.

"This is impossible in 1936 and highly improbable in 1940," she goes on, "but the impetus given the cause of women in politics by Frances Perkins, Josephine Riche, Mary Nourse Rogers and others make it a mathematical certainty that sometime women all over the country will produce simultaneously a great 'mad,' and an outstanding national female figure will be powerful enough to get into the back rooms where the bosses write down the names of the party standard bearers and place her own name on the ballot."

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"
BY RUSSELL RAY

CLEVELAND: The other evening I attended an International Jubilee in the "Streets of the World" at the Great Lakes Exposition. It was indeed a gay and colorful event.

Gathered in the brilliantly illuminated plaza were hundreds of participants, garbed in the characteristic costumes of their native land; Spanish señoritas and their slender clad escorts; plump Czechoslovakian matrons in gorgeous head dress and tidy dress and lace aprons; Dutch lassies in blue and white, with their wooden shoes clanking on the pavement; Italians in peasant attire, a Little German Band; Alpine climbers with feathered cap and knee breeches;
alluring girls from the French Casino; a band of colorful gypsies;
ghostly garbed Arabs and Syrians; Russians in their brilliant smocks; South Sea Islanders, Japs and Chinese. A poster of a red, color and nationally blended in a fascinating "pageant" of singing, dancing and laughing together as one people!

French girls and dashing Spaniards gaily whirl to the music of an Italian orchestra. Irish colleens join hands with Yugoslavians youths and caper about to the tuneful "umppah" of the German band. Laughter rang out incessantly. Many sang as they danced. All were happy, smiling, carefree.

Packed about the plaza were thousands of delighted spectators, while the sidewalk cafes were jammed with a gay, happy throng
of fun seekers, drinking and waiting. Waiters in waitresses in carrying huge steins of beer, tasty dishes—spaghetti, goulash, schnitzel, tamales, chili, chop suey, and French pastry.

Searchlights sweeping the night sky caught the silver gleam of the blimps overhead; riding lights of planes could be seen, while the drone of their motors blended harmoniously with the noise from below. From barges on the lake, rockets, star shells and aerial bombs added to the festive occasion. What a scene! What an evening!

Then, pushing their way through the crowd, came the news boys, their shrill cry rising above the general din. I bought a copy and

"Spendthrift" Stars Fonda At The Ritz

Henry Fonda, who was widespread acclaim for his role in the full-color Paramount picture, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," and his co-starred part with Margaret Sullivan in "The Moon's Our Home," is the leading character of Walter Wagner's "Spendthrift," scheduled to open Wednesday at the Ritz Theater.

Fonda is a young millionaire gone broke in "Spendthrift." Owner of a string of polo "mad" race horses, he is believed by his society neighbors to have $25,000,000. Actually, he is without cash.

With the aid of his trainer and the trainer's daughter, Pat Peterson, he manages to stall off bill collectors until after the Kentucky Derby, promising that his horse will win. His last cent goes toward reaching Kentucky and then the horse falls.

At the Derby, however, he meets and falls in love with Mary Brian, Southern belle who later is revealed as a fortune hunter and gold digger. They marry and she gets him further in debt.

Only after the Fonda fortune is gone entirely and after the ex-millionaire gets a job does he learn where real romance lies. Pat has stuck to him through thick and thin.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—(AP)—The Times said today that President Roosevelt is giving serious consideration to inviting the heads of several nations to confer as a means of insuring world peace if he is re-elected.

If the proposal is carried out, the Times said, Roosevelt would ask King Edward, the Eighth, Joseph Stalin, Mussolini, Hitler, President Lbrun of France, Representative of Japan, Chiang and a few others to meet with him at a conference site.

PARIS, Aug. 26.—(AP)—French parliamentarians today were waiting about for ways and means to meet the challenge of the expanded war machine of Nazi Germany.

Convinced, they indicated, that Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler was preparing to go to war over the wheat fields of the Russian Ukraine, government officials here are working their previous efforts to reduce France's military service period.

Hitler, they said, was going to make war on them "under the guise of a crusade against the Jew."

Uniform Traffic Law Advocated To Curb Accidents

The adoption of the uniform traffic ordinance proposed by the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety in Washington would greatly assist in reducing motor and pedestrian accidents, Police Chief Roy Williams said today.

He has obtained several copies of the model traffic regulation system and has proposed that the City Commission vote adoption.

The ordinance itself suggests that local civic clubs also give their approval to the project in an effort to spread the system throughout the nation.

Chief Williams said the ordinance would provide for a standard method of traffic regulations, although local conditions in each city would, of course, be the source of small variations.

Rebels Stage Bloody Drive On Bay City

France, Great Britain Push Onward To Force 'Hands Off Spain' Policy

(By The Associated Press) France and Great Britain pushed on today to make Europe's "hands off Spain" idea a real one while the Spanish Rebels, in a most furious northern offensive, smashed closer to the Bay of Biscay city of Iron.

France proposed an international committee to co-ordinate neutrality measures. London pressed Portugal for a concrete non-intervention action.

Because of its position on the Western edge of the Iberian Peninsula, Portugal is the logical point of entry for Spanish arms shipments. Because of the authoritarian nature of its government, Portugal would be inclined to sympathize with the Fascist Rebels.

On the battlefield the Rebels drove on Iron with tanks, armored cars and bombing planes but government defenders held to the most important defenses outside the city and checked a vicious attack after an 800-yard insurgent advance.

Socialist Madrid, through a confiscated letter, linked former King Alfonso to the Fascist revolt.

The "Alfonso letter" seized in a Madrid house, was quoted as informing Rebels "victory is ours. You can count on me for any assistance you may need."

It is no secret that the former king, in exile for the past five years, favors the Rebels and hates the Socialist Communist anarchist bloc which seized power in Spain last February.

Local Area Awarded Second Place For Vegetable Growing

The local area was second high in vegetable volume production, the dispatch quoted the Florida Grower as saying.

Wilcox Re-Affirms St. Johns River Canal Approval

Wilcox Plans To Introduce 'Glade Reclamation B. II'

Representative Sees Farmers' Domain In South Florida

Congressman J. Mark Wilcox, fourth Florida district representative who visited Sanford today, plans to introduce an Everglades reclamation bill in the next session of Congress.

Mr. Wilcox said the object of the act is to make usable the four and one-half millions acres of the world's most fertile land lying between the southern end of Lake Okechobee and Cape Sable.

A vast and new agriculture domain lies dormant in the "glades" waters, the representative believes. Reclamation will bring these valuable acres into production.

The congressman asserted recently that one acre of Everglades land is ten times as productive as the areas in the mid-west where the drought has played havoc with crops.

Just what methods the reclamation project will take is yet uncertain, although the first of a committee of six in the Glades today making preliminary studies.

The full committee is scheduled to begin intensive work on Oct. 12 and will make a complete map of the South Florida region.

Representative Wilcox said that no definite long-term method of improvement ever has been undertaken in the Everglades. Further, he declared that with the solving of each small project another problem was created.

Present plans call for a project extended over a period of many years. Efforts also will be made to predict any difficulties that may arise through the completion of any parts of the reclamation venture.

Among the activities which probably will be included in the project will be road building, canal digging and the establishment of water locks.

The federal government is expected to provide most of the funds for the endeavor, according to Mr. Wilcox's plans, with the state co-operating as much as possible.

Congressman Asserts Waterway One Of Important Projects Being Considered

Division Engineer Studies Proposal

Representative Discusses Success Of Democratic Regime

Declaring that the St. Johns River canal is one of the greatest projects now under consideration, J. Mark Wilcox, representative for the fourth district, in an address before a joint meeting of the Kiwanis Club and the St. Johns River Improvement Association, today reaffirmed his endorsement of the undertaking and added that "no project see fit to send me to Washington I shall continue to represent all the 18 counties of my old district."

The luncheon held at the Mayfair Hotel today was the regular weekly meeting of the Sanford Kiwanis Club. The St. Johns River Improvement Association which does not meet except upon special occasions was invited to hold its semi-annual session jointly with the Kiwanians.

Congressman Wilcox told in detail his previous interest and activity in connection with the proposed canal. He said that in 1932 one of his first official visits since his election was to Sanford when a group of citizens here secured him over the proposed route from Lake Harney to the Indian River. He said that the group drove in one, walked and even flew by airplane over the territory.

Describing the intricate details and governmental red tape in connection with the advancement of a project such as the canal, the representative outlined the steps which must be taken before the final authorization of the project. First, he said, government surveys must determine whether or not the project is economically feasible and practically sound.

Next the district surveyor must report favorably to the divisional surveyor who in turn reports to the chief engineer. The chief engineer makes his report to the board of engineers. If the board approves the project it is again referred to the chief engineer for a final okay.

After all this procedure, Mr. Wilcox explained, the measure is turned over to the Committee on Rivers and Harbors. Afterwards it goes to Congress as a bill.

Four men executed the robbery. Police Chief Roy Williams said he recalls but one instance in police annals where a higher reward has been offered for the apprehension of criminals.
