

Revamp Plan Gets Senate Group's Okey

Plan Will Become Effective In 60 Days Unless Rejected On Floor Of Senate

Funds Allotted For New Projects

$255,000,000 In Appropriated For Non-Military Activities

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(AP)—The Senate reorganization committee approved today President Roosevelt's government reorganization plan number two.

It would regroup a score of government agencies and would abolish the bituminous coal commission, lodging its functions in the Interior Department.

The Senate committee's action today came on a resolution by Chairman Byrnes, D., S. C., to disapprove the plan. The committee reported adversely.

Byrnes expects to obtain Senate rejection of the resolution this week. If it is rejected the reorganization plan will go into effect automatically at the end of sixty days.

After a bitter fight behind closed doors, a House appropriation of $255,000,000 was made today for non-military activities of the War Department, chiefly for river and harbor improvements and flood control.

It refused, however, to take fifty million dollars for that purpose from next year's relief funds.

President Roosevelt yesterday criticized the free spending policy of Congress and charged that its leaders have their hands on the money. He said that the $255,000,000 in farm parity payments voted last session. His ire was stirred by Senate action in adding $375,000,000 to the pending, record-breaking $1,211,877,000 in farm parity payments. The budget called for $842,182,051 and the House clipped $7,000,000 from this figure after first rejecting a farm parity grant of $255,000,000.

The Senate not only rushed the parity appropriation through but approved an additional $113,000,000 to finance disposal of surplus agricultural commodities. This fund would be tapped for cash to operate the proposed two cents a pound cotton export subsidy sponsored by Senator Bankhead, Democrat, Alabama, if approved by the Senate.

District Governor To Address Lions At Meet Tonight

Joe Tarantino, Florida district governor for Lions International, and Millard Conklin of Daytona Beach International director, will be guests at the regular meeting of the Lions Club in the Valdez Hotel tonight at 7:00 o'clock. Secretary J. L. Galloway said today he urged a full attendance of members.

Last night a delegation of approximately 30 from Sanford attended the chapter night ceremonies for the recently organized Deland club which was presented its charter with due ritual by Gov. Tarantino. Mr. Conklin presided at the meeting held at Deland Springs and both of the high ranking Lions officials gave addresses to the newly formed club.

Both are scheduled to speak at the meeting of the Sanford club tonight. Mr. Galloway said, adding that an invitation to join the local group is welcoming the visitors.

House Passes Bill To Pension Firemen

TALLAHASSEE, May 10.—(AP)—The House passed a firemen's pension bill today 40 to 24, sending it to the Senate for consideration of minor amendments.

The bill sets up retirement provisions for firemen in a class which includes all cities where firemen are not already provided for. Part of the plan, however, provides for a special pension plan for firemen who have been in the service for 25 years or more. It also provides for a special pension plan for firemen who have been in the service for 25 years or more. ## BRITISH ENVOY

Once labeled "pro-German" for his views on giving Germany "elementary justice," Lord Lothian, newly appointed British ambassador to the U. S., is pictured reading "Hitler's Mein Kampf." Since the seizure of Czechoslovakia, he has been an outstanding proponent of a grand anti-fascist alliance of peace-loving nations.

Eight Local Measures Get Okey Of House

City, County, Oviedo Bills Passed After Being Introduced By Representatives

Eight local bills which have been introduced by Representatives John G. Leonard and H. J. Lehman were given the approval of the House during a "local bill night" at the Florida capital last evening.

The measures passed included those which had been sought by the City of Sanford. One of the bills provides for the continuance of the powers of the City Commission as a delinquent tax adjustment board until May 1, 1940.

It provides for no change in the plan for adjustment of delinquent City taxes but also gives the City to extend the advantages of the adjustment program to those who were unable to make application before the adjustment process, granted by the 1937 Legislature, expired earlier in the year.

House Bill No. 1,000 amending the charter to allow further tax discounts as an additional incentive for early payment of City taxes was also given House approval. The bill provides that the City shall allow a 4 percent discount for payment in November, three percent in December, and two percent in January, and one percent in February. This bill also imposes a penalty of 12 percent interest for non-payment of personal property taxes.

The third City bill providing that a check charge shall be sufficient to notify a defendant in Municipal Court of the offense for which he is to be tried. This measure was sought by Chief of Police Roy G. Williams to eliminate certain red tape in connection with the procedure of the court.

A bill was also passed which would establish a wildlife sanctuary in the Bear Lake district. The bill provides for the protection of game birds and animals in the area and prohibits the discharge of firearms.

Two measures which were sought by the Town of Oviedo would waive all interest accrued and to accrue on $3,000 Oviedo bonds held by the County Commission; the other would authorize the Oviedo Town Council to act as a delinquent tax adjustment board.

The other two measures change the time for the opening of the County and Circuit Courts so as not to conflict with the meeting of the Board of County Commissioners which is held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in the month. The Court term will be unchanged but the opening day will be the second Tuesday after the first Monday instead of the first Tuesday as heretofore.

Two men, who sailed as captain and crew from Fort Lauderdale Apr. 12 to take the ketch in New York where they were delivering it to a charter customer for summer use, were last sighted about 120 miles off Block Island, N. Y., last Wednesday.

Previous to that they were reported drifting 200 miles east of Cape Henry, Va., on May 1. The ketch, "Caprice," was reported without a rudder, and in need of assistance," Mrs. Thompson said.

"They asked the Flor Spar's master to report their plight to the Coast Guard," Mrs. Thompson said.

She said the Flor Spar docked at Norfolk, Va., that night and immediately reported the difficulty the "Caprice" was having to the Coast Guard.

"That's how we heard of their plight," she said. "But my husband and Captain Murdoch told the Flor Spar's crew they had 200 gallons of water aboard and an ample supply of food."

"The Coast Guard has been searching for the Caprice ever since but the hunt has been fruitless thus far," she said.

Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Murdoch said they were not worried.

"If the Coast Guard doesn't find them, they'll be picked up by a transatlantic liner because the raft is equipped with an auxiliary motor, which could keep the craft moving."

"When last sighted the Caprice had all sails set, indicating that both our husbands were in good luck," she said.

De Wolski Expects No War Despite European Tension

C Of C Continues Efforts For Road No. 44 Repairs Course To Be Charted At Joint Meet With Brevard Group

Plans for continuation of Joint Seminole-Brevard county efforts to secure the improvement of State Road No. 44 from Sanford to the east coast were discussed by officials of Seminole County Chamber of Commerce at the monthly meeting of the Board of Directors in the chamber building last night.

It was reported that arrangements are being made with the Brevard county Chamber of Commerce to hold another joint dinner at which a course of future action will be discussed and outlined.

Paving of a small stretch of the highway in one mile way on the eastern end near Mims and Chamber of Commerce officials announced that an effort will be made to secure additional funds for repaving the roadway to the St. Johns River bridge while the Brevard county Chamber of Commerce is in the area.

It was also reported that the Chamber of Commerce is in the process of securing a loan from the State for the purpose of repaving the roadway to the St. Johns River bridge while the Brevard county Chamber of Commerce is in the area.

While admitting the strength of the Nazi air fleet, the speaker discounted the power of the mechanized land forces, pointing out that in the bloodless occupation of Austria's four-tank regiments comprised of 30 tanks each which gave Germany of nearly 100 light tanks Vienna without breakdowns.

While Nazi propaganda would attempt to make one believe that Germany is without troubles at home, Capt. de Wolski declared that Hitler's expanding empire is born by international strife.

He told of recent news broadcast from Belgium and France which gave reports of military strikes in the Nazi, rich mining center and the Nazi leader's first conquest. The mines in this area demanded their work week reduced from 41 to 40 hours and that they be given better and cheaper food, he said.

Not only were the demands of these striking miners refused but 100 of them were mowed down by a strong squad, the speaker related.

Capt. de Wolski declared the present troubles in Europe could be traced directly to the Versailles treaty by which Britain and France sought to destroy Germany to come the German nation. Declaring that the treaty which ended the World War also paved the way for Hitler's meteoric rise, he said that the German people in rebuilding their nation in defiance of the treaty provisions.

After Hitler's power, he pointed out that the Fuehrer enlarged the boundaries of the German nation by annexing through blood the Polish and the Sudetenland and then the whole of Czechoslovakia.

Hitler continually declares more lands, he said, adding that it is his belief that Poland will finally resist current demands. From outside on it for a right of way across Poland's only outlet to the sea, Poland realized this would give Germany control of its exports and imports.

Declaring that to call a Pole a German is the lowest of insults, Capt. de Wolski said that this bitterness had its beginnings in the Polish and the Sudetenland and then the whole of Czechoslovakia.

Poland has a strong army, he disclosed, and the topography of the nation is such as to minimize the effectiveness of the Nazi mechanized forces. Poland also has an air force which was strengthened considerably by Hitler's conquest of Czechoslovakia.

Before Hitler marched into Czechoslovakia, pilots flew 1,500 of the Czech's most modern planes across the border into Poland, the speaker said, and along with them all specifications for the latest type armaments in the possession of the Czechs.

Declaring that Poland "will not be taken by Hitler," Capt. de Wolski said that the entire population of Poland is solidly behind the government's refusal to accept the demands of their neighbor dictator.

Declaring that the British is Poland's greatest hinderance, the speaker said that Chamberlain did not get enough at Munich but is ready to continue his appeasement policy. Poland also knows that Chamberlain is not a friend of Poland's, he said.

France, deeply related to Poland, on the other hand realizes the mistake of Munich and is determined to stand with Poland.

Chandler Hits Europe's Status Quo Depends On Soviet Decision

Lewis' Aim In Coal Dispute Kentucky Governor To Call Out Militia Unless Mines Are Re-Opened Monday

LEUKFORD, Ky., May 10.—(AP)—Gov. A. B. Chandler said today that unless the eastern Kentucky coal mines were operating by Monday he would send the National Guard troops into the area to give protection to men willing to work.

The governor said there was no dispute between mine owners and representatives of the National Union of Mine Workers and that the whole controversy was a fight on the AFL by John L. Lewis who is insisting on a demand for closed shops and the elimination of penalty clauses to prohibit illegal strikes.

"As governor of this commonwealth," said Chandler, "I have taken the position that any unemployed citizen of America has the opportunity to work at wage and hour conditions acceptable to high shall have the right to work without intimidation and free from molestation from any source."

In language which sounded much like a ultimatum, President Roosevelt announced yesterday that he had asked coal operators and union officials for a quick settlement of the bituminous coal deadlock.

The request was made at a conference in his office, attended by five leaders of the United Mine Workers, five mine operators and Secretary of Labor Perkins. Roosevelt advised newsmen later that he had told the disputants that the public good demands an immediate resumption of mining, and that by tomorrow night they should work out a method for respecting the mines.

The President spoke with unusual vigor and emphasis as he informed the reporters of the conversation, his voice rising to an indignant pitch when he scolded the two parties who had agreed on every point at issue except one, and were agreed in principle on that. They had, he said, only to settle the details of that one point to reopen the mines.

On that point, he added, they agreed that there should be a vertical, or industrial, union in the mines and that for purposes of control, organizing the United Mine Workers should be recognized as that union. They had not, he said, been able to work out the details for carrying that into effect, which he thought a very interesting fact.

Europe's Status Quo Depends On Soviet Decision

Britain Watches Russia Hopefully As Negotiations For Alliance Continue

Italian Premier Mussolini Attempts To Draw His Neighbor Closer To Axis

London diplomats expressed a confidence that Soviet dissatisfaction over British security proposals could be overcome even though the official Soviet news agency, Tass, yesterday termed the proposals one-sided.

Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons in a cabinet approved statement that Britain sought Soviet Russia's promise of military aid in eastern Europe only after Britain and France themselves had taken the field.

Speaking a silence on the governments security alliance proposals, Chamberlain said the proposals "include a plan it was not a part of their (the British) intention that the Soviet government should commit themselves to intervene irrespective of whether the Great Britain and France had already, in discharge of their obligation, done so."

Since negotiations are still in progress, Chamberlain said, he could not give the full details of the plan. He said that the Soviet government had already, in discharge of their obligation, done so.

Ketch "Caprice" With Two Aboard Is Adrift At Sea

Sea Captain Who Was Visitor Here Is In Command Of Boat

Capt. Robert Murdoch, owner of the ketch "Caprice" which was moored for some time at the Municipal Pier last Fall, and his companion, Jack Thompson, both of Matland, have been adrift in the Atlantic Ocean in the 58-foot vessel for nine days, according to information received today.

They are adrift in the Gulf Stream without a rudder," Mrs. Thompson said, "and unless picked up soon will be carried far out to sea by the current."

The two men, who sailed as captain and crew from Fort Lauderdale Apr. 12 to take the ketch in New York where they were delivering it to a charter customer for summer use, were last sighted about 120 miles off Block Island, N. Y., last Wednesday.

Revels Go On Trial For Murder Of Clerk

TAVARES, May 10.—The Revels boys will go on trial for their lives today.

Indicted for first degree murder, J. W. and Gordon Revels face death in the electric chair if they are convicted.

J. W. Revels is 24, and his brother, Gordon, is 22. They were arrested in Polk County two days after the slaying of a clerk in the store, died of his wounds. Last week, when the Lake County grand jury met, they indicted the Revels boys, whose father is a preacher.

Truman G. Pugh of Leesburg, former State Senator from Lake County, was appointed by the court to defend the Revels. What his defense will be, he would not say, but it was presumed one of his main pleas will be based on the fact that actually the Revels boys did no shooting.

First Aid Course To Be Held For Men

A 20-hour first aid class for men over 18 will be started next week at an announcement made today by American Red Cross officials, who stated that Fireman Gerry Denney, for several years holder of a Red Cross first aid instructor's certificate, will have charge of the class. It will be held in the county health center adjoining the fire station.

Arrangements were indicated that the course will be held in the evening of a 20-hour first aid course from the Red Cross. Many others are expected to enroll before the start of the course.

Business Men To Hold Supper Meet

Approximately 90 tickets have been sold to members of the Business and Professional Men's Association for the club supper to be held at the Mayfield Hotel at 7:00 o'clock this evening. A special feature of the program follows the supper will be the showing of a film "Seminole" which has been supplied by the Gas-Coke Company.

Morrison Holds "Musical Quiz" At Kiwanis Lunch

Lawton Invites Club To Inspect Hospital During "Open House"

A "Musical Quiz" program, with C. S. Morrison acting as the interrogator, was held at the luncheon Monday at the Valdez Hotel today. Mr. Morrison was assisted in the money work by Mrs. Arthur Brown who accompanied the instructor.

W. Lawton, chairman of the board of directors of the Florida Southern Hospital, gave a short talk on the background of National Hospital Week, and extended from the hospital staff, a cordial invitation to attend the "open house" planned by the staff. He emphasized the fact that the staff has planned this celebration Friday as a "get acquainted" day and not as a part of a donation drive, although any preferred donations would be accepted.

In the "Musical Quiz" program which followed, Mr. Morrison devoted the first part of the class period to oral questions and answers concerning the lives and works of famous American and European composers.

The one "stumper" asked by the examiner, proved to be "Who was the composer of 'Dixie' and what was the name of the first first introduced?" No member of the club identified Dan Emmet as the composer, or remembered the song was first sung in a musical comedy in New York.

The last half of the examination was given in the form of musical memory work. Mrs. Brown played old songs which the members were asked to identify. The luncheon group joined in singing "God Bless America."

Orange Figures Are Corrected By Mayo

TALLAHASSEE, May 10.—(AP)—Commissioner of Agriculture Mayo said yesterday he had been informed by the United States department of agriculture that 2,750,000 boxes of Florida oranges of all varieties remained to be shipped May 3.

Mayo said this figure should be used in the place of one erroneously announced by the state citrus inspection bureau at Winter Haven recently.

"It was most unfortunate," Mayo said, "that such figures as the department compiled for departmental purposes receive publicity as all informed parties agree that they were vastly in excess of actual facts."

Well-Founded Doubt

Many doubts have been expressed about Russia's ability to render much assistance to the democracies of Western Europe in the event another great war breaks out between the two forces representing the opposite ideologies of government which are currently striving to gain the upper hand.

It is recognized by military experts that modern war has become increasingly dependent upon machines and that the measure of a nation's worth in war time can be gauged in no small manner by its capacity for the production and operation of machinery.

In this connection, it has recently been disclosed that in the matter of automotive transportation Russia is shockingly behind the times. In comparison with the United States, for instance, which, with a population of 180 million persons, has 30 million automobiles in operation, Russia, with a population of 175 million, has only about 600,000 motor cars.

This in itself is sufficient to cause serious doubts about Russia's motorized transportation adequacy, but further facts show that it is not only in lack of equipment that the Soviet Union is weak, but more glaringly in facilities for effecting repairs and in a general low order of intelligence of the people as regards things mechanical.

It is pointed out that the cost of repairs on an ordinary passenger automobile in Russia amounts to three times the value of the car per year. Something of the loss this amounts to can be obtained by the contemplation of an expenditure of $3100.00 by a United States citizen for repairs on a car that cost $700.00.

Not only this, in Russia there is an unbelievable scarcity of repair shops. Frequently cars have to be hauled hundreds of miles to the nearest repair station to have done what in this country would take only a few minutes' stop at a service station.

Thus it can be seen that in the most rudimentary mechanical matters, the Soviet Union is still in its infancy, and in a war would consequently suffer to the extent that modern fighting is dependent on mechanics.

The King's Voyage

Pointing out that the first visit of reigning British sovereigns to America might have been undertaken under happier auspices, the New York Herald-Tribune declares "King George and Queen Elizabeth are coming in a liner because the battle cruiser elaborately prepared for them had to be detained at the last moment for possible war service. Through the parsimony of the departure and the thunder of the salutes rolling down Southampton Water there was a sense of tension, an emotional moment, almost of alarm, that the King and Queen should go; and in Washington's spectacular preparations for their reception there is a certain grimness of precaution mixed in with the pomp and display.

"The times are serious ones for royal visitings, and the somewhat ill-timed message broadcast Monday afternoon by the Duke of Windsor, with its completely ill-conceived suppression by the British broadcasting monopoly, falls oddly in the midst of his brother's progress. That far voice, uncertain amid the static, could not repeat the tremendous impact of the Duke's previous broadcast when he was stepping from his throne, and its unexpected sentiments were of a sort which have little meaning except when they come from men in positions of influence or responsibility such as the Duke of Windsor no longer holds. One could not help wondering, first, why the appeal was made, and second, why the British are still so nervous about their former prince. But the speech itself was beyond criticism; it was studiously correct, and it might even assist, conceivably, in improving the international atmosphere.

"It could not, in any event, lessen the welcome which the United States stands ready to extend to George VI and his Queen. Americans will be happy to receive with all cordiality the symbolic heads of the great commonwealth of nations whose ideals and interests so closely parallel their own, and will only hope that the international skies—a little lighter already, perhaps—will smile more happily upon the end of the voyage than they have done upon its beginning."

GET ACQUAINTED—The tragedy of many fathers in relation to their sons is that they miss the opportunity held out by those formative years from 8 to 18. Such fathers realize on some bitter day that the young man in long trousers who sits at the table where a friendly, worshipping little boy once sat is a stranger. One basic reason is that this lad has seen his father only as a harassed and irritable man, the boss at all times. The father who has taken forethought has built up a different conception in his son's mind. He is a citizen of the world outside the home, a splendid and understanding friend, worthy of confidences. From such a father a son never really wanders far.—Howard Stephenson in the Rotarian Magazine.

DISPELLING THE FOG

BY CHARLES MICHELOAN, Democratic National Committee

Rifts, ructions and feuds in the Democratic party are causing great excitement among the Republicans and their spokesmen. If you believe one-tenth of what you read in the intra-party press, the intra-party ventriloquist of the majority party have about reached the stage when everybody of importance must go about with a bodyguard to protect him from the violence of everybody else.

Typical of these amusing scenes of war in Democratic higher circles was the comment last week by Mr. Frank Kent, dean of the corps of anti-administration columnists. He swung into his stride with a column bristling with riffs and ructions between the President and Vice President, that said that when the two men met "Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Garner appear the same jolly friends as of old. They exchange jokes, laugh heartily and seem to exude cordiality."

But this variation of cordiality cannot last long. His source of information apparently is "men very close to Mr. Garner." A while back his White House disclosures, including misreading in the case of the President, were given on the authority of a "White House intimate." The idea that these with whom the President had confidences of thought immediately rushed off to detail these private conversations to the President's most constant critic became an obviously ridiculous statement that the writer hasn't quoted the mysterious informant for a long while but apparently he has heard from the White House in the Vice President's office in the Capitol. We are informed that the Vice President has assumed practical leadership of the anti-New Deal Democrats. It has been the general impression that the Vice President had gone along with the almost unanimous opinion of the President's program. To be sure, the battle commentators have insisted that he was not concerned in the New Deal measure because he felt that the President as his party leader had to be supported. The logic of the situation is a simple one: the Vice President is a member of the anti-administration group and goes along with the Administration's program. Let me repeat that.

From now on in the 1940 Convention you will read all sorts of stories, buttressed with quotations from unnamed individuals, saying that the President's opponents favor this or that candidate. There will be little more than dreams of the writers, suggested by their environment of confusion. It is not possible to discern the subject with the President. He sees them all frequently, either in the company of others or alone, but all hands are too laxial to bring up his particular topic at this particular time.

Sir William Leeds, British ambassador, in any event a formal note outlining Moscow's displeasure would be communicated to London through diplomatic channels. The Tass communique, denying the accuracy of reports recently published in London, said authoritative Soviet circles pointed out that Britain and France have asked for Soviet assistance in case of hostilities arising from the Anglo-French pledges to Poland and Rumania, but have not proposed assistance to the USSR in case she should become involved in conflict over obligations assumed by Eastern Europe.

Others viewed it as an indication of Moscow's attitude toward the French-British bloc was rapidly cooling. These observers saw in the communique a logical sequel to the elimination of Maxim Litvinov as foreign commissar last Wednesday.

The British government announced plans to put the country on a semi-mobilization basis with the explanation that "hostilities now are undertaken without notice."

There was no announcement of the number of men involved, but all of at least 100,000 members of anti-aircraft units of the territorial (reserve) army will serve one month each at war stations.

As the war secretary emphasized that "the nation must sleep on its bayonets," Britain was said to be encouraged over prospects in the negotiations to draw Soviet Russia into the British-French security pact.

Wide-spread interest also was taken in efforts of the Vatican to prevent Europe's hedgerows from developing into war by appeals to heads of state through diplomatic channels. It was disclosed that Monsignor Godfrey Applegate, delegate in London, and conferred with Foreign Secretary Halifax during the weekend.

WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

By JOE HENDRICKS

ST. AUGUSTINE COIN BILL—After running the gamut of the Interior Department and the Treasury Department to get my bill authorizing a memorial coin for the Historical Restoration of the City of St. Augustine, then the Bureau of the Budget gives its disapproval with the simple statement: "It is not in accordance with the President's fiscal policy" (such ignorance) This bill would not cost the United States Government a single penny and what they mean by "it is not in accordance with the President's fiscal policy" is more than I am able to understand. At least their position must be a theoretical one. I hope that St. Augustine who's take this as bad news as the fight is not nearly over, have another bill in mind that will over the unfavorable decision of the Bureau of the Budget because I am convinced that the reports of the Interior Department and Treasury Department are favorable.

ANTI-AIRCRAFT BASE BILL—After discussing my bill authorizing the War Department to purchase land in the State of Florida for an anti-aircraft base and target range with the War Department and the Military Affairs Committee, I have agreed to have another bill introduced in which the Military Affairs Committee has reported favorably giving the War Department the authority to accomplish the purpose of my bill. Of course the bill which the Committee reported does not designate Florida as the territory in which the base would be located but they are authorized to purchase the land there and from inside sources it is my belief that such an area will be purchased.

BROADCAST TOWNSENDITES—Some time ago I was in the usual discussion on old age pensions broadcast on the W. O. L. and W. O. R. by a coast-to-coast network on the Mutual Broadcasting Company. This broadcast of the American Forum of the Air was recorded. I have had many comments on the broadcast but owing to the fact that my constituents were not able to go to this broadcast I have asked the stations in Orlando, Daytona Beach and Ft. Pierce to re-broadcast this record and in accordance with my request they have agreed to broadcast the record on the following schedule: W. O. L. O., Orlando—8:30 P. M. Tuesday, May 9, 1939. W. M. F. J., Daytona Beach—7:30 P. M. Wednesday, May 10, 1939. W. F. O. Y., St. Augustine—7:30 P. M. Friday, May 11, 1939.

INNOVATION—In the past few years at least, Members of Congress and the United States Chamber of Commerce have been at odds as I suppose the general public has noticed. This past week the United States Chamber of Commerce, meeting in Washington made a gesture towards peace. Various States in the Union were divided up into geographical groups and the Mutual assistant commissar of Soviet Russia's foreign affairs, was believed to herald an improvement of Soviet-Poland relations, perhaps smoothing the way to a British-French-Soviet alliance by facilitating Russian aid to Poland.

It was reported, though not confirmed, that Potemkin, fresh from the official talks in Rumania, Bulgaria and Turkey would confer with Beck on Polish-Soviet relations today. Observers considered Poland's position delicate as regards any possibility of mediation between Germany and Poland by the Vatican. It was pointed out that Poland is strongly Catholic but is adverse to anything other than direct negotiations to settle foreign problems.

There was a deepening impression in informed circles that out of the anticipated betterment of Polish-Russian relations, there might appear some Polish reply to the new German-Italian military alliance and some evidence of Soviet concern over a possible extension of German influence farther along the Baltic coast.

Sanford-Orlando Lookouts Journey To Palatka Game Is Called Because Of Rain

DeLand, Gainesville And Palatka Take Other Loop Frays

While the Sanford-Orlando loop battle was cancelled on account of a shower which set in at game time, other games in the Florida State loop saw the DeLand Reds come to within half a game of second place by shutting out the Daytona Beach Islanders 5 to 0.

The St. Augustine Saints were handed a defeat by the Gainesville G-Men by a score of 2 to 1 while the Palatka Azaleas ended a long losing streak by turning back the Leesburg Anglers 3 to 2.

Heavier showers throughout the day had had their effect on the field in the Orange county city and with the game time grower adding to the dampness, managers Alexander and Gansel decided upon cancellation of the Sanford-Orlando game which will be made up, a double header, the next time the two teams clash.

In DeLand Bob Hayes chatted up his fourth consecutive victory of the season when he set the Islanders down with four safeties. The Red Hats took an early lead by shoving across two runs in the first inning on a walk, a double and two infield outs. The DeLand nine also took advantage of a balk, a sacrifice and a wild pitch to score another run in the sixth inning.

In Gainesville, the G-Men took advantage of a single, a double and another single in the second inning to score their only two runs while the Saints also scored their only tally in the earlier half of the frame. The G-Men pounded Abercrombie for a total of 10 hits while Heintz limited the Saints to five hits.

In Palatka, the Azaleas pushed across a run in the seventh inning to break a 2-0 tie and win their first contest in the last 11 starts. The Palatka nine outdid the Anglers 5 to 4.

Tonight Sid Hudson, master hurler for the Lookouts, will wave his magic flipper for the benefit of the Azaleas when the Lookouts jump to Palatka for a game with the collar club. Acting as supervisor of the evening's activities in the proper cultivation of the Azaleas, Hudson has gone on record as stating that since he is in charge of operations for the evening he believes a good trimming and pruning would do the posies world's best of good for the team which is now in last place with an arid, dust bowl rate of production that adds up to five wins and 17 losses.

Last night, however, the Azaleas suddenly blossomed forth with an unexpected 3-2 win over the fifth place Leesburg Anglers to break a 10-game losing streak.

Others expected to help with the cultivation of the botanical gardens for the evening include the members of the squad who are known here as ball-players, but who will doff that role tonight for the more prosaic one of "Tenders of the Azaleas," including Alexander, Langston, Skeen, Barnett and others.

Kipped Herrings Part Of Air Cargo

LONDON, May 10.—(AP)—Among the many strange cargoes carried in the modern long-distance planes are "kipped herrings."

A rich Indian potentate who came to London for the coronation first ate these at his West End hotel. He was so keen on them that he has since ordered six boxes to be sent out to India regularly each week for his guests.

Senate Group Rejects Dry Cleaners' Bill

House-Approved Measure To End Laundry Board Defeated Unanimously

New Law Would Discourage Suits

No More Contesting Of Tax Revenue Distribution Is Aim

TALLAHASSEE, May 11.—(AP)—A Senate committee unanimously rejected today a bill already approved by the House to abolish the State Dry Cleaning and Laundry Board.

The action did not necessarily kill the bill, although action on it will be placed on the calendar for consideration.

Governor Cone signed today a legislative act intended to discourage suits contesting the legality of distributing tax revenues among the counties.

The House Labor Committee today introduced a resolution which proposed the adjournment of the Legislature on May 27 and would have it reconvene for tax revision recommendations of a special committee would be considered.

A bill which would have required poultry dealers to pay an annual state license and post at least $1,000 bond was killed, 48 to 23, in the House.

Representatives Collins and McCarty introduced a resolution which proposed the adjournment of the Legislature on May 27 and would have it reconvene for tax revision recommendations of a special committee would be considered.

ON JOB AGAIN

Galloway Named Head Of Lions Club At Election

Fernald-Laughton Is To Be Given New Ward Beds By Club

Plaintly showing effects of his recent illness, Secretary of Commerce Harry Hopkins is pictured for the first time in Washington desk after comeback.

The election was followed by an address of District Governor Joe Tarantino of Tampa in which he outlined the accomplishments and objectives of Lions International and told of the program for the annual Florida district convention to be held in St. Petersburg next September.

Millard Conklin of Daytona Beach, international director, was also present at the meeting, which was presided over by President John Meisch, Jr., and gave a short address.

In his address, Mr. Tarantino declared that one of the greatest accomplishments of Florida Lions during the last year was the provision of scholarships to 16 youths who are now attending an agriculture college at the University of Florida.

It was also announced at the meeting that the Sanford club had assumed the responsibility for furnishing new beds for the women's ward at the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital.

Officers elected at last night's meeting will be installed at the regular session of the group next Wednesday night.

Others selected for duty during the ensuing year are as follows: F. D. Beatty, first vice president; H. G. Lingo, third vice president; C. B. Adams, secretary; E. E. Laney, treasurer; Max Stewart, chairman; E. J. Alornally and J. M. Gonzalez, new members of the board of directors.

Visitors were present at the meeting from clubs in Kissimmee, Daytona Beach and Tampa. J. L. Lingle and C. B. Morrison of this city were also guests.

NANCY, France, May 11.—(AP)—A court martial yesterday sentenced a 19-year-old French soldier, Henry Proust, to life and a German businessman, Oskar Arnsperger, to twenty years in prison for espionage.

Fernald-Laughton Officials To Hold Open House Tomorrow Afternoon

Final plans for the entertainment of the expected crowd of visitors to the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital have been completed, Miss Lucille Pagan, nursing supervisor of the institution, announced today.

The hospital will be open for inspection tomorrow from 1:30 o'clock to 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon and 7:00 o'clock in the evening, with the exception of the members of the board of directors meeting at the time the institution is open to the public.

The board of directors will meet at 10 o'clock in the morning, with the public invited to attend. The meeting will be held in the hospital building, which is located on the corner of Broadway and Washington streets.

The hospital is located on the corner of Broadway and Washington streets, and is a modern institution with the latest equipment and the best medical staff.

The hospital is a non-profit institution, and its funds are derived from the contributions of the community and the State of Florida.

Union Leaders Told To Sign New Contracts

Shortage Of Coal Expected To Be Relieved As Outlying Mines Open

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—John L. Lewis today dispatched a series of instructions to union leaders in outlying districts in the soft coal mining region to sign new contracts with operators and, when that is accomplished, to arrange for the timely operation of the mines.

Re-opening of the mines in the 14 districts outside of the Appalachian would relieve the fuel shortage brought on by the closing of the Appalachian mines in a contract dispute.

The terms of the formula which was being debated about the conference table in New York were not disclosed, but it was understood simply to propose the resumption of operations under a tentative agreement which might later be modified or rewritten.

Men in touch with both the operators and the union—the United Mine Workers (U. M. W.)—said guardedly but emphatically that not even such a tentative understanding was in prospect.

President Roosevelt's endeavor to reach a settlement, made yesterday in a White House conference with the disputants, put last night as the deadline, and Dr. John R. Steinhilber, head of the U. S. Labor Department's conciliation service said it could be interpreted that the President specifically had meant midnight.

In contrast to the patient pessimism of the conferees themselves, Dr. Steinhilber reiterated his expressed belief that an agreement would be reached.

With James F. Downey, Federal mediator who has been on hand almost since the start of the negotiations March 14, Dr. Steinhilber sat in on a two-hour meeting at which both operators and miners were present and then, as the conferees parted for separate workings, walked back and forth.

Seminole Has 57 Enrollees In CCC Camps

JACKSONVILLE, May 11.—(AP)—According to figures made available today by the State Welfare Board, Florida's selection agency for the Civilian Conservation Corps, there were 57 Seminole County boys who were members of the CCC on April 15, of this year.

Each CCC member is paid $30 monthly for his work, and of this amount at least $22 monthly is returned to his needy family at home. On the basis of the State Welfare Board's figures Seminole County boys are earning $1,710 monthly for work in the CCC. The Welfare Board's report indicated that Seminole County has an annual cash income of $20,520 from CCC allotments on the basis of the present strength of the Corps.

The report pointed out that the selection agency has just completed quarterly CCC enrollment, during which 1,547 additional Florida young men became members of the organization. This enrollment brought the state's membership in the Corps to 498,323.

On the basis of monthly cash earnings, Florida's annual income from this source is approximately one and three-quarter million dollars.

In addition to cash compensation, the enrollees are given food, clothing, shelter, medical care and job training which should enable them to return to their homes better prepared to meet the responsibilities of citizenship.

Orlando Sanatorium To Get More Money

TALLAHASSEE, May 11.—(AP)—Governor Cone allowed to become law without his signature an act increasing the annual appropriation for the tuberculosis sanatorium at Orlando from $250,000 to $300,000.

The bill was introduced in the House by Hodges and Leedy of Orange.

The increase was designed to pay for the addition of 80 beds to the facilities of the hospital, a State institution.

Blaze Levels Huge Granary At Chicago

CHICAGO, May 11.—(AP)—An explosion and fire leveled the mammoth outside grain elevator today in which flames roared eight men were killed.

The flames then spread to four neighboring elevators and enveloped a quarter square mile in burning grain.

Five city firemen and four other men were seriously hurt, were taken to hospital. Preliminary estimates placed damage above $1,000,000.

Problems Of Merchants Aired At Meet

Advertising In Urged As Best Means Of Increasing Local Volume Of Business

Problems facing Sanford merchants and methods of improving service to their customers were the principal topics of discussion at the supper meeting of the Business and Professional Men's Association in the Mayfair Hotel last night. Approximately 100 members of the association were present.

In an informal discussion of problems, Eloy Delgado, representing Forest Gatech, suggested increased newspaper advertising as a means of increasing interest of local residents in Sanford businesses.

Pointing out that there is no other means by which merchants can tell their story to a greater number of people than by advertising in a local newspaper, Mr. Delgado declared that advertising is essential to the success of a business and urged greater support of the local newspaper "so that it can better support the community."

Mr. Delgado also stated that more optimism should prevail among the merchants themselves. He said that on his arrival here several months ago he was told that Sanford should be given back to the Indians during a discussion of business conditions.

Declaring that "Sanford will develop only as the people of Sanford develop," Benjamin F. Heiner, president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, declared that there is nothing wrong with Sanford or its business and urged greater cooperation among the business men themselves as well as the residents for the benefit of all.

Ferry Mero of the Tusoda Feed Store, declared that serious losses are being made in Sanford's retail business by wholesalers who sell directly to the customers and urged that merchants attempt to stop this practice.

Henry McLaughlin, Jr. said that attempts are being made for the enactment of a City ordinance to prevent sales to customers by wholesalers and he urged Vice-President Walter M. Haynes who presided over the meeting, to appoint a larger and more representative committee to discuss the matter with the City Commission.

Mr. Haynes advised that the matter will be taken care of at the next meeting of the board of directors of the association.

Following a discussion of the amount of business which would be lost to Sanford unless a short detour for State Road No. 44 traffic is provided during the reconstruction of the new bridge across the Wekiva River, those present were asked to write letters to their representatives in the Legislature demanding action.

Reviewing replies which Sanford residents made to invitations for constructive criticism sent out by the association, H. B. Pope said that a majority of the criticisms were not of the merchant class or the prices in Sanford.

Joe Emerick of the Emerick Hardware Company was elected by acclamation as a new director for the association to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of President C. E. McKee. Mr. Emerick was selected by a nominating committee composed of H. H. Coleman, M. L. Robinson, and E. B. Rafferty.

The film, "Salesmanship," for which arrangements had been made, did not arrive in time to be shown.

Papworth Asserts Fight To Continue For Medfly Losses

Survey Board Reports Growers Suffered $7,184,000 Damages

Despite opposition to the reimbursement of Florida fruit and vegetable growers for losses suffered during 1938 Mediterranean fly campaign, "we will continue our fight," H. M. Papworth, local leader in the reimbursement fight, said today.

"Florida growers suffered heavy losses during the campaign," he said, "and the board which made the survey for the federal government had admitted that, and we think we are entitled to some part of our losses," Mr. Papworth said.

The survey board held in Washington yesterday Florida growers a federal property loss of $7,184,000 as a result of the 1938 Mediterranean fly campaign against the Mediterranean fruit fly.

This was the opinion of a four-member majority of the group which Secretary Wallace appointed last summer to take charge of the survey. It was the fifth member, Donald Connor of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, placed the losses at $5,131,000.

The majority and minority reports were made public yesterday by Secretary Wallace, who made no comment.

The board and Secretary Wallace said there had been actual infestation of the fly. This had been denied by some persons.

The majority report said infestations were found on 1,002 properties.

Broadly, the items of loss were: 1. Destruction of trees and other crops, estimated at $7,184,000 in the majority report and $5,200,000 in the minority report.

2. Costs of damage from surgical operations, such as spraying and pruning, and miscellaneous losses, $327,228 by the majority.

3. Price losses on citrus, estimated at $2,152,000 by the majority, completely disallowed by the minority.

Wallace said the government's policy had been not to identify infestation of the fly. This had been the second and third classes.

His letter said individual farmers cooperated with eradication efforts and in most cases advocated the program.

"It seems readily apparent," he wrote, "that the responsibility for any activities incident to the program as well as the benefits (Continued on Page Three)

House Is Given Bill To Enlarge Corporate Limits

A bill requested by the City Commission which would enlarge the corporate boundaries of the city has been introduced into the House by Representatives H. J. Lehman and John H. Leonard, according to information received from the capital today.

The bill would enlarge, define and delineate the corporate boundaries and preserve the form of the city upon and personal property for unpaid taxes and general assessments heretofore levied and assessed.

The eight bills which were given the approval of the House of Representatives in a "floor bill" night Tuesday night were also given the approval of the Senate in a local bill session for the Senate.

The following bills were passed:

A bill to establish a wild life sanctuary in the Boca Lake district.

A bill extending the discounts offered for early payment of city taxes.

A bill extending the powers of the City Commission as a delinquent tax collection board.

A bill extending the procedure for the Municipal Court.

Bills fixing the dates for the circuit and county courts.

A bill authorizing the County Commission to waive all interests accrued and to serve upon certain bonds of the Town of Orléans.

Also a bill authorizing the Orléans Town Council to set an independent tax adjustment board.

Men Feared Lost To Reach Harbor

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—A story of 10 days at sea in a rudderless 55-foot ketch was told last night by Robert Murdock of Mattituck, who with Jack Thompson, also of Mattituck, sailed into Sheepshead Bay, under its own power earlier in the day.

"We lost our rudder during a squall east of Norfolk on May 1," said Murdock, the 35-year-old owner of the ketch Caprice. "We rigged up a plank to serve and slowly worked up the coast to New York."

He said he did not know that the Coast Guard had searched a 6000-square-mile area by plane and cutter, after receiving a report of the boat's disability.

"I reported the accident to the Coast Guard but did not ask for assistance," Murdock said. "We knew we were in no immediate danger, after we improvised a rudder."

The two men, who sailed from Fort Lauderdale, Apr. 18, plan to stay here about two months.

Prime Minister Expresses Hope Nazi-Polish Dispute May Be Ended Amicably

Lebrun Explains French Alliance

Soviets Counter With Offer Of Four Power Military Pact

Prime Minister Chamberlain said today that any attempt "to change the (Danzig) situation by force" so as to "threaten Polish independence would inevitably start a general war in which Britain would be involved.

Expressing a hope that Germany and Poland would reach an amicable settlement of the Reich's claims against Poland, Chamberlain warned against the use of force.

In Paris, President Lebrun told the Chamber of Deputies that France "in accord with all other states which wish to live honorably" had concluded specific military alliances to prevent "violence and threats from leading Europe into a catastrophe."

Meanwhile the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia declared Britain's security proposals were unreasonable and offered instead a four-power alliance as observers in London looked to the Geneva meeting next Monday as an opportunity for face-to-face efforts to erase misunderstanding between Britain and Russia.

The Izvestia editorial attacked the British proposals as offering no security to the Soviet Union.

Diplomats in London held hope that the League of Nations council meeting in Geneva might provide an occasion to bring to seven weeks old negotiations to head by bringing diplomats of Britain, Russia and France together.

The French air ministry investigated the crash of a German warplane last night 400 miles within the French border.

Published reports of alleged mistreatment of Germans in Poland provoked although Germany last night as the Nazi leader planned the next move in his campaign to regain Danzig.

But no indication of the next Nazi move in the dispute with Poland came from either the foreign office or Adolf Hitler's chancel on Thursday, in the Bavarian Alps, where the Führer remained in seclusion.

Nazi propaganda resumed attack against Poland with renewed vigor, charging Polish mobs with destruction of German property and the boycotting of German goods.

Meanwhile German diplomatic circles viewed as an indication of the weakness of Britain's position Prime Minister Chamberlain's statement before the House of Commons today on what Britain wants from Soviet Russia in negotiations for a British-French security front.
