Canning Of Fruit In Florida Falls Below '37 Season

 The industry received no direct benefits from the three cents per case assessment paid to the Commission.
 Commenting on the proposed enactment of the wages and hours bill, Mr. Eckerson declared that the passage of this act would definitely end the citrus industry in this state. Increased production costs would raise the retail price of the commodity to such a point that consumption would be drastically reduced, he said.
 The local tanning plant is still in operation on a small scale and will continue juicing operations in the present status for another week, he said.
 Mr. Eckerson reported that at the present time the company has over 200,000 cases of canned citrus products stored in Sanford. The average retail price per case is $1.75.
 There were 30,000 cattle in the American colonies in 1699.

Anglo-French Arm Credit Is Given Chinese

China's League Delegate Said To Have Obtained Assurance Of Arms Deliveries

Henlein Invited To Visit London

British To Seek Amicable Settlement With Czech Leader

Chinese sources said today that China had obtained from League powers, particularly Britain and France, an agreement for credits for the purchase of arms and also the assurance of getting the arms into China.

Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, China's suave delegate to the League of Nations Council, was said to have obtained the agreement in behind-the-scenes negotiations.

Arrangements for delivery of the arms to China were said to be under way.

The British French model of realistic diplomacy, meanwhile, was given another test in a visit to London by Konrad Henlein, leader of Czechoslovakia's restless German minority.

Henlein was reported to have been invited to visit London to receive the British view that any peaceful settlement of his quarrel with the Czechoslovakian government is requisite to European appeasement.

In China, Japanese bombs paved the way for a dozen columns boring steadily toward the vital Lunghai Railway, backbone of China's tremendous east-west front.

Barcelona was heavily bombed in the Spanish civil war, the second attack in 19 hours. The death toll was believed to be 30.

Insurgents reported the capture of Foranez, key point in the government's line from Teruel to the Mediterranean.

THEY DON'T THROW THEIR MONEY AWAY

No better tribute could be paid to the value of advertising in the home town daily than the words of adv'ce given insurance supervisors by the head of a large agency in New York yesterday as carried by the Associated Press.

"Newspaper advertising when done on a national scale enables the life insurance agent to make more money than is possible through magazine advertising."

"By advertising in newspapers, the life insurance companies can fit their copy to the specific locality and to the pocketbooks of the prospects living in those communities."

"We believe that the life insurance companies have already convinced the American people (in magazine advertisements) that life insurance is a good thing to own. They need to be told in their daily newspapers just how much life insurance will produce various amounts of income for life. Start doing a selling job now on your directores, they have plowed the fields long enough with magazine copy—it's time to plant the seed in newspapers."

A FOREST HYMN

The groves were God's first temple To him the shaft, and lay the architrave
And spread the roof above them —ere he framed
The lofty vault, to gather and roll back
The sound of anthem; in the darkling wood Amid the cool and silence, he knelt down,
And offered to the Mightiest sol emn thanks
And supplication For his simple heart, Might not resist the sacred in fluence Which, from the stilly twilight of the place,
And from the gray old trunks that high in heaven Mingled their mossy boughs, and from the sound Of the invisible breath that swayed at once All their green tops, stole over him, and bowed A spirit with the thought of boundless power And inaccessible majesty. Ah, why should we, in the world's ripe years, neglect God's ancient sanctuaries, and adore Only among the crowd, and under roofs
That our frail hands have raised?
Let me, at least,
Here, in the shadow of this aged wood, Offer one hymn—thrice happy, if it find Acceptance in His ear.
—William Cullen Bryant

Converts For The Townsend Plan

The suggestion in Congressman Joe Hendricks' column, published last night in The Sanford Herald, that com plaints against the burdensome taxes of the Social Security Act are becoming so intense that sentiment in Congress is increasing for drastic revision, makes one wonder if the Social Security Act itself is not actually making many new converts for the Townsend Plan.

It is a well known fact that the payroll taxes levied under the Social Security Act constitute what is in many instances the most severe levy ever made by the federal government. Based not on an ability-to-pay basis but levied even on a business which is already losing money, and coming at a time when business conditions to say the least are not good, these payroll taxes have been a vital factor in increasing unemployment and retarding sales.

For the year of 1938 every business and industry in the country employing eight or more, is assessed four per cent of its payrolls in addition to all the other taxes it has been paying, and besides has to deduct one percent from the employees' pay and turn that over to the government in addition. That makes five percent of practically every payroll in the country represented in this new tax. In the aggregate it amounts to over a billion dollars.

Because a business has to pay out thousands of dol lars in additional taxation, it is not able to raise the wages of its employees, and they in turn do not have this addi tional pay to spend among local merchants. Because a business has to find thousands of dollars for new taxes, it cannot make necessary improvements to its buildings and plant equipment, or take on much needed additional help, all of which would tend to reduce unemployment and put money into circulation.

This is a problem which nearly every business in the country is facing. Because these payroll taxes increase year after year until they reach a total of 9 percent, and because already many merchants and business men are finding it extremely difficult to meet them, many are won dering if perhaps the Townsend Plan does not afford the best way out of an impossible situation. Many of them are convinced that whatever might result it would be an im provement on the Social Security Act.

Townsendites tell us that their plan would levy only a two percent tax. As between a two percent transaction tax and a nine percent payroll tax, not many will have much difficulty in choosing. They also tell us that they no longer contemplate $200 a month pensions, but only a division among the indigent aged of whatever proceeds the 2 percent tax raises.

And so, many practical business men are beginning to wonder if there isn't something to what Dr. Townsend says after all.

Childhood Accidents

In spite of the fact that high school students are naturally more alert, and physically better qualified than their elders to drive automobiles, they are involved in ten times as many accidents; per miles driven, as those between the ages of 45 and 50.

This information comes to us by way of the American Magazine which says that in the last 11 years there has been an increase of 130 percent in traffic deaths for those between the ages of 15 and 19 insulating that this is about the age when most children begin to drive.

The fact that there are more automobile accidents among high school students than among any other age group probably results from carelessness. Most high school students are good drivers, most of them can drive better than their elders, but their youth encourages them to take chances which an older person would avoid.

Among younger children the accident rate is decreasing and this is probably due to the fact that parents and teachers are at greater pains in teaching their children to look out for cars and avoid playing in streets. Here are some good rules for avoiding accidents in general from the Florida Safety Council which every small child should be taught:

- 1. Teach your children never to run into the street, always to look both ways and wait until the way is safe before stepping off the curb.
2. Teach them to play in yards or enclosed public play places, never to play in the street.
3. Caution them never to let a scooter carry them into the street, never to coast where traffic passes, and never to hitch bicycles or wagons to automobiles or other vehicles.
4. Do not give children air rifles, toy pistols, sharp knives or other dangerous playthings.
5. Explain to children the danger in using wire as cord for kites.
6. Talk about the causes of accidents at home and chil dren will grow safety conscious.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS—By JOHN HIX

THE FIRST NOVEL... Earliest known story in novel form, as we know it today, was written about 920 years ago by a Japanese author—Murasaki Shikibu—of "Lady Violet"—and has never been duplicated for length.

Her work was known as "Genji Monogatari" (Tale of Genji) and dealt with the numerous and amorous affairs of the Japanese Don Juan of that name, Lady Violet devoted a number of years to writing the novel. It eventually covered 1, 234 pages and filled 54 books, or chapters.

Murasaki—her true name is not known—finished the novel about 1004 A. D. The exact date is disputed. Murasaki, a lady of the Imperial court, returned to private life after the death of her husband, according to historians.
She was said to have been a member of the famous Fujiwara family which produced a number of great mikados, statesmen and poets.

This amazing work is valued as a mirror of the time it was written. Its length has never since been equalled—neither "Anthony Adverse" nor "Gone With the Wind." Longest novels of this decade, comparing with it.

Longest of the common novel one hour is thirty. Yet, strange as it seems, the thunder clap has never been heard, unmistakably more than 20 miles away.

Continual cannon fire, on the other hand, has been heard definitely 100 miles distant, and on less reliable authority from dis tances as great as 300 miles.

Nature's greatest noise—a vol canic explosion—can outdo any sound man is capable of making.
Some have been identified from 3,000 miles away. Greatest man made noise on record was a blast set off on the Arctic island of Nova Zembla in December, 1936.
It was detected more than 2,000 miles distant at Herby.

Strange as it seems, the sound of thunder, of cannon-fire and of a pin dropping travel at exactly the same speed, as the source or volume of sound has no bearing on its speed.

THE POWER OF THE PURSE

By ARTHUR KROOK
In New York Times

The result of the Democratic Senator primary in Florida this week, with its immediate effect of reviving the Labor Standards Bill in the House, should make things clear to two groups in this country. One group is made up of the Democratic members of Con gress; the other of persons who are honestly alarmed over the electoral power of government spending.

These things are: (1) Unless Congress puts itself on new grants of relief money (which amount to grants of power), the Administration will continue to have superior influence in nomi nating and re-electing its favor ites and in punishing its oppo nents. (2) It is going to require long, arduous, intelligent and non partisan effort to discourage the exchange of votes for local Fed eral benefits.

"You can't beat a government that has four billion dollars to spend at its pleasure," says the Vice President Garner. He has often since Congress voted that amount to the President in a lump sum. And he has also expressed doubt that it will be possible in the near future to cure the American people of their new-found habit of looking to the largesse of Washington. The overwhelming renomination of Senator Pepper by the Democrats of Florida, while some of the size of his vote is traceable to the repeal of the Townsend plan in a State popu lar with clerly expatriates, at tests the wisdom of Mr. Garner's epigram.

Mr. Pepper is a 100 per cent New Dealer who took a constitu ent's he was willing to follow the President "to the death." He voted for everything the Administration proposed; he questioned nothing.
His chief opponent, Representa tive Wilcox, opposed the New Deal on many major items. The issue the campaign was made, and on that issue the Senator got a majority over his several rivals, Cross-Section Electors.

Florida is but one small State, and Southern at that. But Flor ida's Southern aspect is more a matter of geography and less of history and race than in other Commonwealths below the Mason Dixon line. For many years peo ple from the other sections of the country have streamed into Flor ida and made their permanent residence there. Miami is a huge cosmopolitan city the year around.
No longer do cracker, hill-billies and the old Confederate families of the North Florida region com prise a majority of the people of the State. It is more of a na tional cross-section than any other Southern Commonwealth.

Florida's generally expect ed Southern Democratic response to the same influences as those which affected the Democrats of Florida, though this is said with out denial of the fact that Mr.
Barkley has enough personal ap peal to make a strong race on his own.

Should this primary repeat the story of Florida, the last doubter must then be convinced that Fed eral spending has a significance beyond the budget and beyond in flation. It must then be fully recognized that through unre stricted grants of relief and pump-priming money an admini stration may be able to perpetuate itself and choose its own succe sors for a dangerously long time.
This is what Mr. Garner and a few others have long foreseen as a possibility. This is the vivid peril suggested by the Florida primary, a peril more real than some of those fancied by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at "Getting."

A member of the Congressional party which recently made a hol iday trip to Charleston returned unhappy in mind over the growth of the new formula for keeping in office. He reports the prevailing thought among most of those in the party was "How much can I get for the district from the Pres ident?" On the train most of the talk he heard was of this. And during the festivities at Charle ston Representative McMillan was outraged because, like Christopher Wren, his monuments were visible all around him—in Federal work.

Dr. McMillan referred to the navy yard as "my right eye ball."

He says the unofficial observer "And at the picnic near Somerville he House Democratic leader, Mr.
Rayburn, made a speech about Mr. McMillan's "getting" record and expressed the belief that no other man could provide so well for his constituents."

(While lump sums are voted, this estimate will, of course, be true only so long as the Repre sentative maintains his standing with the Administration.)

Forcing Labor Measure Such is the national problem illuminated by the easy victory of Senator Pepper in Florida. It is not posed as a reflection on the personal worth or ability of Mr.
Pepper, Mr. Barkley or any other Administration leader. It calls for the devoted attention and labor of patriots, and for the mediation of every Democrat in Congress—however much a spend er—who wants to preserve a mea sure of independence.

Pelham Hurls Locals To 5 to 4 Win Over Orlando Senators

New Lookout Pitcher Gives Up 9 Well Scattered Hits

Sid Hudson And Les Carlock Lead Local Hitters With A Pair Each In Four Appearances At The Platter

By JULIAN STENSTROM
Herald Sports Editor

TINKER FIELD, ORLANDO.—The Lookouts last night won their second consecutive triumph over Orlando and brought their string of victories to five by defeating the Senators 5 to 4.

Pudgy Pelham, new addition to the Lookout hurling corps, was on the mound for the Sanford aggregation and was nipped for a total of nine hits, one more than his mates collected off a pair of Orlando pitchers. However, Pelham kept his hits scattered and only once did the Senators collect more than two blows in the same frame.

Pelham, hurling his second game this season, fanned three of the Senators and issued four free passes to the initial sack.

Bill Montsinger started on the hill for the losers and pitched one and two-thirds innings before he left the box in favor of Bill Kafka, who hurled the remainder of the tilt. Kafka allowed the Lookouts four hits and three runs while Montsinger allowed the visitors four hits and two runs.

Bob Overstreet, Orlando first baseman, led the Senators' hitting department last night with three singles in five attempts at the plate. Following closely behind was Bill Kafka who singled twice in three trips to the plate.

The Sanford delegation was headed by Sid Hudson and Les Carlock. Hudson pounded out a pair of long triples in his first two times at the plate. However, he went hitless during the final two attempts. Carlock recorded a single and a double in four tries to take second honors.

PLAY BY PLAY

The Lookouts started the scoring in their half of the initial frame when Ruggiero led off with a single to center field. Clark fanned and Brown fanned, however, Ruggiero stole second on the third strike to Brown. With the count two and one on Mihalic, Montsinger was credited with a wild pitch, allowing Ruggiero to score.

The Lookouts scored another pair in their half of the second chapter when, with one out, Carlock singled to center field and scored when Hudson tripped to right field. The Lookouts pulled

"Raw Meat" Rodgers Will Be At Helm Of Local Outfit

The Lookouts will meet the Gainesville G-Men here tonight in a battle at the Municipal Athletic Field which will find Bill "Raw Meat" Rodgers back at the helm of the local aggregation.

Rodgers arrived late last night and was unable to make the trip to Orlando to see the club in action at least once before he takes up his duties but will hold a light workout at the ball park late this afternoon.

Rodgers will probably send Charlie Atwater to the mound to carry the local banners throughout the evening while Manager Don McShane has not announced his starting mound man since he was forced to use three hurlers in last night's battle against the Daytona Beach Islanders.

Junior Golfers Tourney Will Be Held In Lakeland

Plans For Local Alumni Chapter

LAKELAND, May 31.—(P)—The sixth annual State Junior Golf Tournament will be held at the Cleveland Heights course here June 28 and 29.

There will be 36 holes of medal play each day. Bona Fide residents of Florida who have not reached their 19th birthday will be eligible.

A new champion will be crowned since Tom Perry of Tampa, last year's winner, is one of four players on the 1937 list who have passed the age limit.

The others are Arthur Owen, Fred Mann and Louis Broward of Jacksonville.

The Cleveland Heights Club and the Junior Chamber of Commerce here are co-hosts to the Tournament entries. The contest is under the auspices of the Florida State Golf Association.

day night and to present the charter.

He told of the benefits of the new plan to the alumni clubs, explaining that it should bring the members closer to the problems of the University, and that while rendering a service to the university they would not be called upon for repeated donations or anything of the sort.

Instead, he emphasized, a $5.00 fee is all that it will cost a member, and for that he added a member gets in return a free ticket to the homecoming football game, a free ticket to the alumni barbecue at the homecoming, and subscription to the Alligator, University newspaper with a section reserved for alumni news every week.

A committee was nominated from the floor to contact all prospective members before next Friday and urge them to become charter members. The five-man committee is as follows: L. L. McCluskey, John Courier, W. Riser, R. E. Kipp and Houston Perkins.

Mr. Wright showed two reels of motion pictures of everyday life at the University. One part of particular interest to those present was scenes of the recent fire in Gainesville which destroyed an entire block in the business section directly west of the Court House.

A picture of an aerial view of the Florida campus was presented.

New Third Party To Make Bids For Liberal Voters

LaFollette Says Progressives Are Not Given Square Deal

By MORGAN M. BEATTY
WASHINGTON — Ask young Bob LaFollette what this new National Progressive party is all about, and he tells you it is primarily a personal invitation to Mr. Liberal Voter who doesn't feel at home with the Democrats and Republicans. No disgruntled Socialists or Communists need apply.

Senator Bob LaFollette and his brother, Governor Phil, co-founders of the party, are practical politicians; they know the radical stamp is no good for all around vote getting anywhere in the United States.

Then ask Young Bob why the baby party was launched at this particular time, and you'll get a lot of interesting reasons that haven't yet appeared on the record.

"Fact is," explains Young Bob seriously, "a real American liberal is not getting a square deal from either of the major political parties right now. The conservative wings of both the Democratic and Republican parties are playing hob with President Roosevelt's progressive 1936 platform. The Democratic party in particular is divided, and the program the party pledged itself to carry out is in danger."

Young Bob tells you he thinks a majority of voters in this country approved the Roosevelt 1936 platform when they re-elected the New Deal President. He believes the conservatives are sabotaging that program—the same conservatives who pledged themselves to carry it out.

"We are assuming," he goes on, "that the majority still wants a liberal, progressive program and they want it as soon as they can get it. We simply are offering them the opportunity to get the job done."

"Only the broadest outline of a platform has been presented. Details, candidates—all of that comes later, depending on the support we get. Principles we have stated. The program itself must come to us from the people who want this party."

Young Bob takes off his horn-rimmed glasses. He looks for all the world like a business man discussing a sales campaign—not at all like a spell-binder trying to work up the emotions of voters.

"The demand for this party is right here," he says, waving his hand toward the Senate. "It has been growing for a long time. Why, in my 13 years on Capitol Hill, I have seen one single strictly party vote. Ask any Congressman what his politics is, he won't tell you he's a Democrat or a Republican, he'll tell you what kind of a Democrat or Republican he is. When parties get that way, they are no longer hanging together."

"But you can't expect a new political party to grow like Toppsy. Somebody has to write a general outline. We have only made a beginning. We have no specific campaigns in mind. We don't have our eyes glued on 1938, 1940 or even '41. We are not hooked up to any time schedule. We hope and believe that a majority of the voters want to express themselves, want to feel that their vote will count."

So, says Senator Bob, the progressives who supported Roosevelt in 1936 are still for Roosevelt. They merely are against the Democratic party. They think it is killing the Roosevelt program.

You feel the new Progressive party would like to run Roosevelt for President in 1940 if he wants to take the chance. But Young Bob won't talk names and dates. He is opposing to a host land of votes and he does not want to give any liberal a reason not to look into the new party plans.

This movement really is the third appearance of a progressive party that began stirring the soil back in 1919, when such Republicans as old Fighting Bob LaFollette, George Steiwer, William E. Borah and Hiram Johnson were throwing political monkey wrenches into their own party's machinery.

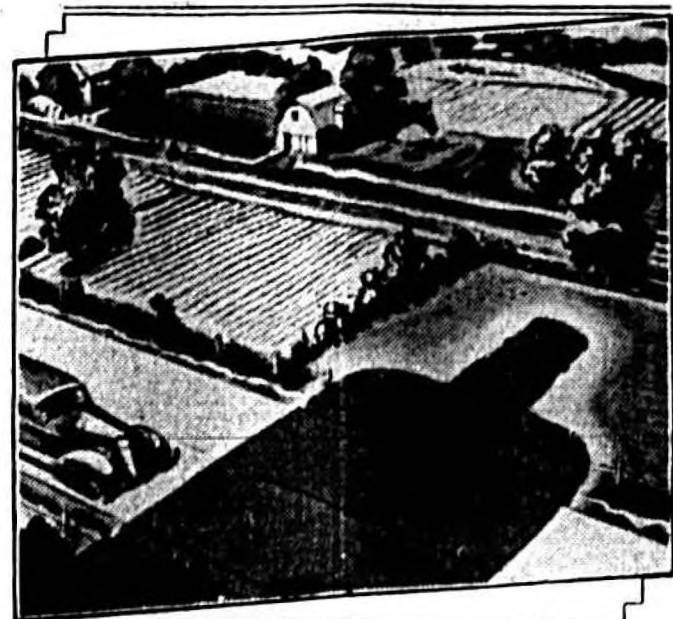

In those days, Theodore Roosevelt, for one, and Woodrow Wilson, for another, saw the ideals of these men making an impression on a broad section of the nation's voters.

Roosevelt warned the Republicans, and Wilson warned the Democrats. Roosevelt was willing to lead the Republicans into progressive channels, and Wilson was a candidate for President under the banner of the "new freedom."

The Democrats heeded Wilson but the Republicans rejected Roosevelt, so he ran as the head of the Progressive party ticket. Wilson won, and the combined vote of the two "progressive" candidates Wilson and Roosevelt was more than 7,000,000 ahead of the regular Republican Taft.

Then came the war and its aftermath of confusing economic ups and downs. It was not until 1921 that the genuine progressive

Investment Behind Average Job

BEHIND EVERY WORKER IN MANUFACTURING THERE IS AN AVERAGE INVESTMENT OF $7,400

Prepared by the National Association of Manufacturers AN INVESTMENT OF $7,600 stands behind the average American industrial worker at his job. Representing, in large measure, land, plants, machinery and tools, the size of this investment explains in part why the average worker in manufacturing industry is able to produce more and earn more than foreign workers.

movement put in its second appearance. This time, old Fighting Bob scorned the two major parties, and carried the banner alone. He polled 5,000,000 votes—a mere drop in the bucket.

In 1938 political confusion comes again. The American Labor party has real strength in New York state. Straw polls indicate Roosevelt popularity falling off slightly in the Far West and South. And here comes that same old progressive movement jockeying its head above the surface, headed by the sons of old fighting Bob.

It looks as though the progressive movement is a perennial on a hardy perennial at that.
