Tokyo Train Death Toll Climbs To 163

TOKYO (UPI) — The death toll in a collision involving three trains on a suburban Tokyo commuter line climbed to 163 today when rescue workers found more bodies in the twisted wreckage.

Officials said 385 persons were injured in the second worst railway accident in Japan's history Thursday night. The accident happened shortly before 10 p.m. after the engine of a freight train apparently ran through a red warning light, hitting an open switch and toppling onto a parallel track used by electric commuter trains of the Joban elevated line.

Before flares and warning lights could be put out, a speeding nine-car commuter train ploughed into the derailed engine.

Screaming, shouting and bleeding passengers began leaping through windows and doors. A few passersby had come to help remove the injured when the next train smashed into the first commuter train, sending bodies and wreckage flying through the air.

AUTOMOBILE DEALERS and related agencies enjoyed a dinner at the Capri Wednesday in celebration of the recent successful third annual auto show held in Sanford. Special guests were also invited. Standing are W. F. Hunt of Hunt Lincoln-Mercury; Jim Benton of Holler Motors; Ben Howland of Seminole County Motors, Bill

Hemphill of Bill Hemphill Motors and Gary Hudgins of Strickland-Morrison. Seated are Jim Doucette of the Florida State Bank Loan Dept.; Howard Hodges of Sanford Atlantic Bank; Mrs. Lois Housholder of the Sanford Atlantic Loan Dept.; Walter Gielow, Mrs. Gielow and Dale Coven of GFC in Orlando. Federal Agencies Hit By Scandal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Senate judiciary subcommittee said today that federal regulatory agencies have such a huge backlog of cases awaiting action that it "approaches a national scandal."

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. John A. Carroll, D-Colo., said that although significant advances have been in the procedures of the agencies, many still lag badly in handling their loads.

It cited as an example the Federal Power Commission, which last November had pending 97 natural gas rate cases involving $393.5 million.

Members of some agencies, the subcommittee found, are theoretically supposed to decide thousands of important cases every year. It said that "nothing can justify" such a procedure.

Carroll and Sen. Phillip A. Hart, D-Mich., have introduced a bill that would make hearing examiners' opinions final unless the agency members decide otherwise.

Other congressional news: Civil Rights—The southern bloc fighting the Senate bill to make sixth grade education proof of literacy for federal election voters were still confident they could fend off any effort to stop their talkation. But sources close to the southerners indicated they were much less sure of their ability to convince the administration to let the bill die.

Boats — Informed sources said President Kennedy's plan to tax pleasure boats to help finance expansion of outdoor recreation areas created such a volley of protest from boat owners that the administration has abandoned hope for its approval.

There's Just About Nothing Titov Can't Talk About

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gherman S. Titov can talk about almost anything.

He can speak of snacks in space and peace on earth, and muse with fear on the fate of man.

He can crack a joke and laugh at one and spout some philosophy.

But don't ask him what manner of machine launched him 17 times around the earth. It worked, and that's all you need to know.

The Soviet cosmonaut traded information of all sorts Thursday with his American counterpart, Col. John Glenn. They argued over disarmament. He refused to answer some questions by newsmen about his spaceship because they were, as far as he was concerned, mere unimportant scientific details.

Today, Titov planned to go to Baltimore to look at Bethlehem Steel's Sparrow Point plant, largest in the world. The cosmonaut was scheduled to return to Washington for a late afternoon reception at the Soviet Embassy.

Titov also told the International Committee on Space Research about his historic space flight Thursday, confining it largely to such details as how he chased his supper around the space cabin.

However, he said the rocket that hurled him into orbit was a six-engine liquid fuel vehicle that generated a total thrust of about 1.3 million pounds. America's Saturn rocket develops about 1.5 million pounds of thrust in a single stage.

He told the delegates very pointedly that the Vostok II, his spaceship, was a controllable apparatus and, like Glenn, he had manual control of his ship at various times. At their news conference, Titov was asked when Russia would release further data, like photographs and charts, on his flight.

He said it all depended on disarmament. He quoted Premier Nikita Khrushchev, saying that when the two nations disarm, Russia and the United States can share technical data that borders on military rocketry.

"The sooner we come to agreement on the question of disarmament, then the quicker we will visit each other and I will fly with Col. Glenn into space," he announced.

Rail Wage Boost To Come Under Fire

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A presidential board's recommendation of a 10.4-cent an hour wage increase for a half-million railroad employees appeared certain today to come under fire from both management and unions.

President Kennedy hailed the report, issued Thursday night, as gratifying, and called on both sides "to negotiate a responsible and non-inflationary settlement in their own and in the public interest."

But a spokesman for the 11 non-operating railroad unions quickly expressed distaste for the emergency board's proposals and the railroads, judging from past statements, seemed just as likely to oppose them.

Under the Railway Labor Act, the board's report automatically prevents a strike for 30 days. But the unions will be free to strike any time after June 2, as they have threatened to do.

Here are the board's recommendations compared to the position taken by the unions and the railroads:

Board — Recommended a four-cent an hour increase retroactive to last Feb. 1 plus a 2 1/2 per cent increase May 1. Government officials said this would amount to an average 10.4 cents an hour as of May 1.

Union — Demanded 25-cent an hour increase and contends such a boost would be well within the President's guidelines for noninflationary settlements because of rapid productivity gains.

Railroads — Proposed a 20 per cent pay reduction for 39 groups of middle and lower range employes, a flat $1.25 hourly rate for employes serving food or drinks.

Board—Recommended five working days advance notice for employes whose jobs would be abolished.

'Termed Far-Reaching'

Zoning Rules Amended

In a special session this morning the County Commission passed without objection what Commissioner James P. Avery termed, "the most far-reaching and important amendment we have ever voted upon in the area of the County Zoning Board and its activities."

lic interest as indicated by the absence of a gallery, "Gentlemen, this is apathy with a capital A—here we have just passed on this important matter and no one is present to object or consent. I don't understand it."

amending the zoning regulations in regard to the matter of setbacks on county and state roads.
The resolution called for establishing the front building lines on all roads in the county designated as interstate highways and primary and secondary state roads.
From now on, according to the Commission, the front building line on Interstate highways will be 175 feet from the centerline of the highway, or 25 feet from the established right-of-way boundary, whichever is greater.

On all primary State roads the new front building line will be 125 feet from the centerline of the highway or 25 feet from the right-of-way boundary, whichever is the greater.
The new requirement on secondary State roads is 25 feet from the right-of-way boundary or 75 feet from the centerline of the road, whichever ever is the greater.
The resolution was passed without a dissenting vote.

Adjustment Upheld

In a special meeting of the County Commission this morning, it was voted to uphold the decision of the Board of Adjustment denying the appeal of John Evans, Oviedo, concerning the location of the discharge point for effluent from a new treatment plant to be built by Joe Metz Builders, Inc., to service their new subdivision on Round Lake, Oviedo.

contamination of the drinking water for the homes located around Long Lake, which is some 30 feet lower than Round Lake.
After considerable waving of maps and charts, and some detailed technical discussion of the rock formations and reading the opinion of the Florida State Geological Survey that if the subsurface rock is impervious there would be no deleterious effects in drinking water, Lefler gave his opinion that the company ought to build a pipeline directly to the Econ-lockhatchee River, a mile and a quarter away.

Joe Metz, the developer and owner of Oviedo Utilities Co., Inc. declared that it would cost $77,000 to do so, said he couldn't spend that kind of money, and, if the board would permit it, would be "ticked" to build septic tanks for his 77 homes.
The board sustained the ruling of the Board of Adjustment and Metz will proceed with the treatment plant as planned and approved by the Zoning Board and the State Board of Health.

Next U. S. Man Flight 'Right On Schedule'

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—Preparations for hurling astronaut Scott Carpenter on a three-orbit trip around the earth are "right on schedule" for the May 15 target date set by the civilian space agency.

There had been fears that America's second manned orbital flight might be put off until early June while technicians modified a safety mechanism on the Navy Lieutenant Commander's Atlas booster rocket.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) had considered the delay after an Atlas-F missile—similar to the one used in man-in-orbit flights—blew up just after liftoff April 9.

If an astronaut had been aboard the rocket, there is a chance he would have perished, sources said.

But they added that NASA had decided the current safety mechanism was adequate, giving a go-ahead for a step-up in the tempo of flight preparations.

Last week Carpenter's space capsule was put on top of its Atlas 107D booster at Pad 14, launching point for astronaut John Glenn's history-making flight Feb. 20.

Carpenter and his backup pilot, Navy Comdr. Walter Schirra and the Project Mercury launch team ran through a full-scale practice mission last Friday, the last of its kind before the planned flight.

'Spaceman' Visits School

A Navy man, clad in a specially-built suit, fitted and tailored exactly to his measurements, visited with kindergarten children Friday and showed them just how he gets into the suit, books up his air-conditioning and is ready to fly to unlimited altitudes, fully protected by his own "weather."

Ralph Feeback of VAH-7 is shown here in the suit, with R. D. Thomas, who assists him in getting in and out of it. Thomas also maintains all pressure suits worn by Sanford flyers. The flyers revealed that the price of the suit, helmet, boots and gloves runs well over $4,000. Feeback once "shipped over" at 105,000 simulated feet in an experiment at Patuxent River Maryland. He has flown in the AJ, A3D and the A3J, for the past eight years.

The flyers were bombarded with questions by the preschool youngsters, who revealed quite a store of knowledge about space flights and vehicles, as well as the men who probe into outer space.

Teachers of the kindergarten class are Mrs. Michael Caolo and Mrs. Gerald Smith.

'Rights' Battle 'Heated' Up

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Both sides in the Senate's civil rights battle turned on the heat today in efforts to line up votes for an expected showdown Wednesday on curbing a Southern talkathon.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., planned to file today a cloture petition to curb debate. This would assure a vote Wednesday on the petition, which requires a two-thirds majority for approval.

Mansfield and Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., were working to roundup every available vote in both parties behind the pending administration bill on voting rights.

The measure would outlaw discriminatory state literacy tests and make a sixth grade education proof of literacy for voting in federal elections.

French Arrest High OAS Leader

PARIS (UPI)—French authorities hope the arrest of Andre (The Monocle) Canal, reputed Secret Army Organization chief in France, will lead them to other high OAS leaders, police sources said today.

Canal, 47, who wears a black monocle to cover a World War II eye injury, was seized Saturday in a Paris residential quarter by agents disguised as building workers.

They were acting on information received from two other OAS leaders arrested earlier this year, Jean-Marie Vincent and Edouard Tissanier, who had identified their leader as a man called "The Monocle." Authorities hope that the questioning of Canal will turn up other leads on extremists still operating in France.

Probe Slated On Plane Crash

VENTNOR, Isla of Wight, England (UPI)—Aeronautical investigators today were on their way to the site of the crash of a twin-engine Dakota passenger aircraft in which 10 persons were killed and seven injured.

The plane crashed on a hillside on a flight from the Jersey Islands to Southend, Essex, with 17 persons on board. When the plane crashed it scattered its cargo of flowers over the hillside. It was believed the pilot got lost in the fog.

In the last group of songs, Stanley Brunley will sing De

Blue Tail Fly and the chorus will offer Rigoleto from Verdi and I Wish I Wuz, Heart Of My Heart, The Bulldog and the Battle Hymn.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz has been offered $12,500 to meet either Battling Torres or Mauro Vasquez, both of Mexico, in a non-title bout at Olympic Auditorium by promoter Cal Eaton. According to Eaton, Ortiz indicated he was interested in a match in June.

Stockpile Charge Denied By Demo

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.), a member of a special subcommittee investigating the nation's stockpile of strategic materials, today denied a Republican charge that Democrats were playing politics with the inquiry.

Engle said he was surprised that such a charge was made by George M. Humphrey, Treasury secretary in the administration of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The California senator answered Humphrey as the subcommittee planned to resume public hearings today with special emphasis on policies followed in the stockpiling of copper, rubber, quartz crystals and industrial diamonds.

Humphrey recently accused the Democrats of seeking political vengeance against members of Eisenhower's Cabinet.

Engle said that Humphrey "ought to cite page and book if he wants to say that." He also said he believed the stockpile policies of the Truman administration would be scrutinized by the subcommittee and its chairman, Sen. Stuart Symington, (D-Mo.).

Civil Rights: Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield planned to take steps today that he hopes will lead to the end of a Southern talkathon. Mansfield said he would file a cloture petition to curb debate on the administration's literacy test bill. This would assure a vote Wednesday on the petition, which requires a two-thirds majority for approval. The measure being debated would outlaw discriminatory state literacy tests and make a sixth grade education proof of literacy for voting in federal elections.

For Better Regulation

Stop 10 citizens on the street and ask them to name the three members of the State Railroad and Public Utilities Commission and the odds are that not more than one of the 10 could do so.

Yet this commission is the most powerful of all state agencies. It regulates rates and services of electric, telephone and gas companies; issues permits for truck and bus routes, and fixes rates (inside the state) for railroad, truck and bus lines.

There are some things wrong with the commission, in the opinion of this newspaper. The salaries are too low. The system of electing the three commissioners is itself bad. To force a man to make a statewide campaign every four years for a $12,500 job is to create the risk that he will, of necessity, turn for support to the very interest he is called upon to regulate. It would be better to have the commissioners appointed on recommendation of a non-partisan body. Then, not enough money is allowed the commission for hiring experts to study the fairness of utility rates and the adequacy of service; this places the commission at a disadvantage in dealing with large corporations and their well-paid staffs.

Another thing wrong with the commission is the continued presence of Member Jerry Carter. Mr. Carter, who will be 75 in August, has been on the commission 28 years. He is an oldtime politician, a professional country-boy comedian, whose antics have hurt the dignity of the commission. His description of himself as "a cheap politician" at the 1958 Washington investigation into the granting of television licenses (in which a former fellow member of the Utilities Commission was involved) embarrassed Florida. More recently, he engaged in a scuffle with a political foe at the $100-a-plate dinner honoring Senator Smathers and President Kennedy at Miami. He has shown intense political partisanship, ill becoming a person holding a quasi-judicial position.

Mr. Carter may mean well but he has overstayed his time in public office. Under state law he can retire on a pension of nearly $800 a month; in our judgment the voters should help him reach the decision to do so.

To succeed Mr. Carter we recommend Jim Blanton of St. Augustine, who four years ago came within 19,000 votes of winning Carter's seat on the commission.

Mr. Blanton, 42, is a native Floridian, a combat veteran of World War II, and a community leader at St. Augustine, where for 16 years he has been engaged in operating a sightseeing service and a local bus line (not under state regulation).

Mr. Blanton has made an exhaustive study of the operation of the commission and has, we think, some sound ideas for improvement. He would, to begin with, change the present awkward name to "Public Service Commission," a more apt designation. He would hire more qualified specialists to check applications for utility rate increases. And—this is an important plank—he would put more stress on quality of utility service in fixing rates.

We believe Mr. Blanton would contribute fresh ideas and energy, combined with proper dignity, to the work of the commission.

Chairman Wilbur C. King also is a candidate for reelection to the commission, on which he has served for 16 years.

We have disagreed with some of Mr. King's decisions as chairman, but we think he has attempted to be fair to both the public and the utility companies. Recently he has shown an encouraging awareness of the need for a more adequate staff of experts to help the commission deal with its complex rate-making decisions.

Certainly, he is far better qualified than either of his opponents. For these reasons, we recommend his reelection.

In this fast-growing state, utility and transportation services and rates are of such importance that they demand the attention of a top-rank regulatory body and professional staff. They haven't had that kind of attention, largely because of public failure to demand anything better.

We do not contend that the 1962 election can right all that's wrong with the Utility Commission. Legislation will be required to repair some deficiencies. But the people can make a start on an improvement program by voting May 8 for Jim Blanton and Wilbur King. Let's do it.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

CASE M-418: Susie Q, aged 20, is a very attractive girl. "Dr. Crane," her mother began, "when Susie was about 15, she was very ill. "One of her friends then gave her a black, woolly Scotch dog. "Susie prized this toy and held it in her arms when she fell asleep. "Now we have it stored away in a clothes closet. But when Susie is nervous or disturbed at bedtime, she'll still ask me where she can find that Scotch dog.

"It is bedraggled and badly frayed, for the other children have played with it, but Susie seems to grow relaxed and sleep more soundly whenever she has her Scotch in her arms at bedtime. Why?"

Babies also get used to a relaxed, happy mood when they nurse on a full bottle of warm milk.

Mothers usually wrap the bottle in a flannel diaper or wooly blanket to keep it from sliding off the baby's chest.

So the baby thus grows accustomed to the flannel or wool cloth against its cheek.

In later years, long after it has been weaned from the bottle, it may still want to hold a piece of soft cloth against its cheek as a prelude to relaxation and sound slumber.

Susie uses this toy wool dog for that same purpose. It is a phychic trigger that releases tension and thus acts as a pre-sleep ritual.

Millions of people, now mature adults, still resort to similar childhood triggers to gain proper relaxation at bedtime.

Some say their prayers to obtain a release from the tension of the workaday world. This is an ideal pre-sleep ritual that everybody might well imitate.

Alas, a lot of neurotic folks attempt to dope themselves up with tranquilizers. They swallow sleeping potions of a chemical sort to drift off into slumber.

But such chemicals impose an extra load upon your kidneys, liver and generally your heart, for they must be destroyed and eliminated from your blood.

So it is far better to cultivate psychic triggers for sound sleep, since they don't tax your liver or kidneys or heart. If you now have insomnia, just realize that it doesn't kill anybody. So stop fighting it, for the more you grow agitated by your own sleeplessness, the faster your heart beats. Thus, your heart must work harder.

The main purpose of sleep is to get you into a horizontal plane, for that lowers your blood pressure and also slows down your pulse rate, thereby resting your heart.

And your heart gains almost as much benefit, even if you are still awake, as long as you lie in the horizontal plane! So quit fighting insomnia. Shrug it off. Take some hot milk toast to draw blood from the brain to the stomach.

Thomas Jefferson, secretary of state, was director of the first U. S. census in 1790.

Letters

To The Editor

Dear Editor: Now, if someone should ask you: "Have you ever seen a drunk man?" . . . how would you answer?

Perhaps something like this: "If a doctor said he was drunk or if he was tested by some dang-fanged machine, guess I'd say I had seen a drunk man."

"But if some well-experienced law-enforcement officer said the man was drunk, I just wouldn't believe it!"

Incidentally, "DWI" they say doesn't constitute the charge against drunken drivers; the charge is: "Driving while under the influence of intoxicants, to such an extent that one's 'Normal capacities' are impaired . . .!"

Ever hear a hot "DWI" case? How does the officer know a man's "Normal faculties" whom he has never seen before the arrest? How does the officer know the man's eyes are not bloodshot all the time? WHAT PERCENT OF "DWI" cases that are jury-tried result in convictions? Is a person who is against driving while drinking allowed to serve on the jury, or just those who believe a man can drive while drinking and yet not be intoxicated to such an extent that his normal capacities are impaired?

Let's give the people that plead "Guilty" credit for being honest, even if they are too "Bricks" to pay an attorney to defend them in court on a "Not Guilty" plea — in hopes they may win, — as is usually the case, even though such trials are expensive to the people who stay sober and pay taxes!

You have permission to print the above if you wish and I have signed it, though it is not my correct name.

— I. C. Well

P. S. It would be nice to get the drunks under the wheel so we could all live . . . Innocent children and grown ups. However, the law is not wanted—unpopular. That's the reason it is written and worded as it is—so it can be fairly easily beaten and "Won" in court on a "Not Guilty" plea.

Dear Editor: A very special note of thanks to you and the SANFORD HERALD is appropriate at this time. I am sure that I speak for the Florida Heart Association and the Seminole-DeBary Heart Council when I say that we feel that your tremendous help in publishing the activities of the Council and the recent Heart Fund Drive is one of the finest community service activities in our experience.

The citizens of your area and the many readers of the Sanford Herald certainly must be more alert to the heart disease problem since you have called attention to its very serious nature. We particularly appreciate the wonderful cooperation from you, Mrs. Dorothy Higginbotham and Larry Versahl.

Please accept our thanks for your help in raising funds to help find the answers to the heart disease. Our thanks, also, to the citizens of Seminole County and DeBary for their generous contributions.

Sincerely,
Douglas M. DeNeen
Field Director

Dear Sir: Hail! Hail! To Judge Vernon Mize, of the Seminole County court! He warned, he cautioned, and he promised action against all these convicted of driving an automobile while intoxicated. He has kept that promise, and declares that anyone, big or small, shall receive the same treatment without partiality. I believe the man has a true sense of justice burning in his soul. When a man mocks the law, then the law will eventually mock him. (The Bible in Proverbs 20:1 says "Wine is a mocker, strong drink is deceiving, and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise.")

Yes, a new age of martyrs has come to Seminole County, with Judge Mize heading the list. He is guilty of saving lives. He is guilty of saving property from destruction. He is guilty of making the streets safe and free from the blood of innocent people. He is guilty and those who find him so, say he must die. Let me speak! When Judge Mize is drenched and crucified (not likely), he will not be friendless, for hundreds of voices will say, "Hail! We salute thee! Soldier of Justice!"

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — The regular spring meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization foreign and defense ministers May 6-8—which will be attended by Secretaries Dean Rusk and Robert S. McNamara for the United States—is expected to produce no great new decisions and few, if any, fireworks. But even a routine NATO meeting in Athens has some significance for the West.

Last August, Russian chairman Nikita Khrushchev delivered one of his periodic bully-boy speeches against the small nations of the Mediterranean in NATO. Specifically, he threatened to destroy the Acropolis.

The reply from Greek Prime Minister Constantinos Karamanlis was that Khrushchev could never destroy the ideal of the sacred rock—the freedom and independence of the Greek people.

At the other end of the 4,000-mile NATO line in Europe similar threats from Khrushchev were answered by Norway with statements that this little country joined NATO to contribute to the peace of Europe as well as its own stability, and was staying in.

From 12 to 15 years ago the No. 1 worry in Europe was what month war might break out. Today the question is no longer asked, in the last 10 years there has been an economic explosion in Europe and the saying is that money never built anything that had no expectation of being enjoyed.

That is something for the Warsaw Pact countries to contemplate as they look at their own run-down economies.

NATO still has its problems in the Berlin situation, and in the question of whether the alliance should have its own nuclear striking force and if so, how it shall be organized and controlled.

There is general NATO acceptance and trust in Secretary of State Dean Rusk's conferences on the Berlin question with Russian Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin in Washington.

The Russians have built their wall around East Berlin, not as a line of defense but to further enslave the East German people. Russian fighter planes buzz Western supply planes flying the corridors to West Berlin. In spite of this, the number of Western flights and the tonnage delivered to West Berlin have increased steadily.

There has been no mass emigration of West Berliners in panic. On the contrary, there is a drive to build up the industrial capacity of West Berlin and make it stronger.

NATO does not have some of the problems it had a year or even six months ago.

—The Congo crisis has been reduced from civil war to relative peace though difficult negotiation.

—The Algerian crisis has been reduced from a seven-year national war to localized violence which in due time should be completely eliminated. When the French secret army is finally liquidated, French forces will be released for duty in Europe and NATO's strength will be materially increased.

—By the end of this year NATO's supreme commander, Gen. Lauris Norstad, expects to have 30 D-day-ready, full-strength divisions in place of the 21 skeleton divisions—really only 15 divisions—which he had a year ago.

The question of NATO's nuclear capability, about which there is considerable misunderstanding, will probably be the most important item on the Athens agenda, but no solution is expected.

It is not a military problem, for NATO already has ample nuclear striking power available from the United States. The power is centered here by American atomic law which places responsibility for its use in the hands of the President.

There is no question of date-gating this power to NATO or to individual countries like Germany or France or Italy, the British already having their own nuclear capability. The United States has no blueprint for a new nuclear alliance.

The creation of such an alliance is something that the Europeans themselves must work out and agree on. So far they have had conflicting views. Until they are resolved, there can be no NATO nuclear force.

The United States is urging that European governments build up their defensive forces by purchase of American arms. The real purpose here is to improve the U. S. balance of payments position by recovering some of the money spent to maintain 350,000 American troops in Europe.

But the United States is not selling to Europe any materials that would lead to a build-up of nuclear capability by NATO or any European country.

The U. S. government began sale of postal cards in 1873. Price was a penny apiece until 1952.

Between 50 and 60 million railroad passengers pass through New York's Grand Central terminal annually.

29 Wage Hot Battle In SHS Elections

The hotly-contested Seminole High School election campaign waged by 29 candidates for positions as class and student body officers has all results now in except in one contest where a field of three is now narrowed to two with another run-off slated today.

Steve Wilson and Linda A. Williams are still in the fight for senior class vice president, and students will cast their third ballots today.

Other officers who won out over their opponents with posters, banners, loudspeakers, cards, pictures, speeches and many ingenious gimmicks in one of the most exciting and hotly waged school elections ever seen are:

STUDENT BODY OFFICERS: President, Johnny Phillips; vice president, Steve Sewell; secretary, Linda Mills; treasurer, Louise Higginbotham; class representatives, Judi Taylor and Richard Mayer.

The Redeemer Lutheran Church will host Tuesday and Wednesday to the Florida-Georgia Conference of Lutheran ministers.

Dr. John Klots, head of the Science Dept. of Concordia Theological College at Fort Wayne, Indiana will be the main speaker of the two day event. About 95 ministers are expected to attend.

Dr. Klots will speak on the subjects of Science and Religion; the latest in evolution, and moral problems created by the advance of space science.

Pastoral conferences will also take place at the Church of the Redeemer at 108 W. 25th Place from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Tuesday and from 8:30 a. m. to 3 p. m. Wednesday.

There will be a special pastoral conference service at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday with Rev. A. G. Gerhardt of Jacksonville Beach officiating.

Dr. Klots has also been invited to speak at the luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club on Wednesday.

Rev. Herbert Goerz is pastor of the Redeemer Lutheran Church.

Wins Race

LANGHORNE, Pa. (UPI)—Bill Chesbourg of Tucson, Ariz., was declared the winner of a scheduled 180-mile stock car race Sunday when the event was stopped after 95 laps because of rain. Chesbourg drove a 1962 Ford.

Bradford Takes Low Gross Mark

By Ronnie Broadway
Herald Sports Editor

The Fourth Annual Navy-Civilian Golf Tournament and Party was held Sunday at the Mayfair Country Club and ended up with "The Civilians" coming out on top for the second year in a row by a 94 1/2-79 1/2 score.

This year was the greatest turnout ever for the tournament with 119 golfers participating in the play and plenty of spectators.

Low gross for the tournament was won by E. D. Bradford who had a score of 78 for the best in the tournament.

Longest putt was won by Sonny Powell with a 32 footer on the ninth hole.

Dr. Harold Ring won the longest drive of the day with a 285 yard slam.

Closest to the pin was won by Jim Livingston on the 16th pin as he came within 16 inches of the flag. This was quite an honor for Livingston as he is not a regular golfer.

John Cox won the most 6's as he had a total of twelve 6's for the day. George Harden won the most 6's with a total of nine. Lt. Cdr. Tom Covill won the most 7's with a total of 11. Lt. Don Ethell won the most 8's with a total of six.

Highest score for the Navy golfers was taken by O. H. Silva with a score of 126. Highest civilian score was won by Cliff McKibbin with a 121 total.

Rough Weather Scuttles Record Hopes In Marathon

Alderman, Brady Pace Annual Water Show

Rough weather scuttled any hopes of a speed record and sank part of the field in Sunday's St. Johns River Out-board Marathon, but Ralph Alderman of Orlando and Jim Brady of Melbourne rode out the gusts to become the big winners.

Alderman, who drove the boat expected to be piloted by Paul Sanborn of Orlando, won the unlimited class with a time of five hours, 27 minutes. He took over the lead before the turn around at Jacksonville and finished far ahead of the rest of the field.

Sanborn, winner in 1960 and record holder for the 300-mile run, was hospitalized Friday with appendicitis.

Brady, who jockeyed his single engine craft home with an injured eye and two badly torn knees, won both the overall single engine and second place unlimited prizes.

The Melbourne driver hurt his eye when he plunged through a series of high waves at Lake George on the way to Jacksonville and was treated at Seminole Memorial Hospital after the race. The punellling he took in the rough water tore off his goggles and bruised the eyeball.

Jim Hanna of Palatka won the 60 horsepower class and Joe Goodall of St. Petersburg was first in the 74 h.p. group. Crandall Sizemore of Daytona Beach was second in the 78 h.p. and the entry of Hollis Turner of Winter Park was third in this class.

Marshall Bailey and Bill Sewell, two tough Palatka competitors, combined to drive their boat to a win the 100 h.p. class.

Bob Terry of Jacksonville, winner of the first marathon run in 1958, finished third in the unlimited class.

The judges and drivers selected Joseph Murphy of West Palm Beach as the winner of the Kikkhafer Corp. Sportsmanship Trophy.

Murphy fought the river all the way to Jacksonville and back to Lake Monroe, where he broke down just two miles from the finish line.

The bad weather and the failure of a group of Miami and West Palm Beach drivers to show up for the race resulted in a small field of only 36 boats in this year's marathon.

Two of those who started didn't get to the Lake Monroe Bridge and half a dozen others were beaten by the elements between Sanford and Palatka.

Twelve made the turn at Jacksonville and 10 of them made it all the way.

Two favorites of the crowd of spectators who watched the warmup runs, Tom Moore of Starke, and Bill Malone of Ft. Lauderdale, fell by the wayside near Palatka.

Moore, the 15 year old sensation from upstate, had trouble between Welaka and Palatka and Malone, winner of the West Palm Beach unlimited class a week ago, was forced out at Shell Harbor.

The drivers and their crews and other guests were recognized at a banquet at the Shrine Club after the race. Trophies and cash prizes were distributed and a free boat hook from York Manufacturing Co. was given each driver by Sam Levy.

A special vote of thanks was given by the marathon association president, Gene Meadows, to the Coast Guard Auxiliary and the ham radio operators who worked during the race.

The Coast Guard unit members kept a close patrol all along the river and the drivers said their efforts were of great assistance, especially in the hazardous water areas.

The amateur radiomen, coordinated by Al Case of Lake Mary, kept radio contact from Sanford to Jacksonville and gave frequent reports on the progress of the drivers.

'The Man' Has Himself Quite A Day

By United Press International

When Stan (The Man) Musial finally decides to call it quits, National League pitchers should be happy to chip in and throw him a lavish "Auld Lang Syne" party.

Come to think of it, Musial would like to make that a Cardinals World Series blow-out in St. Louis next October.

The man, starting his 21st major league season at the age of 41, says this probably is his last. Manager Johnny Keane of the Cards says, "Don't you believe it." And in the meantime, the harassed hurler around the league will have to endure his booming bat.

Musial hit a three-run homer in the ninth inning Sunday to give the Cards a 3-0 victory over the Cincinnati Reds in the second game of a double-header. The Reds won the opening game, 5-4, but only after Musial had driven rally in a run during a three-run inning that momentarily tied the score.

Not only that, but he also broke Honus Wagner's National League "endurance" record by playing in the 2,760th and 2,761st games of his career. His present batting average is a lousy .278 and he leads the Cards in runs batted in with 18.

Cincinnati won the opener by scoring twice in the eighth off Don Ferrarese. Frank Robinson's double, an intentional walk to Wally Poni, John Edwards' single and a wild pitch by Ferrarese produced the runs. The Cards scored once in their half of the eighth but with the bases loaded and one out, Dave Siler ratted the next two hitters and gained the win. Bob Gibson pitched a five-hitter for the Cards in the nightcap.

Wally Poni, who is 10 years younger than Musial and just as much of a menace to pitchers, celebrated his 31st birthday with a two-run homer, double and single that led the league-leading San Francisco Giants to a 7-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

In other NL games, the New York Mets edged the Philadelphia Phils, 7-4, in 12 innings and Roman Mejias hit three homers as the Houston Colts split a doubleheader with the Milwaukee Braves. Houston won the nightcap, 2-1, after losing the opener, 3-2. The Los Angeles at Pittsburgh game was rained out and the second game of the Mets-Philis twin bill was postponed because of the Pennsylvania curfew law.

Mickey Mantle was the American League's big blaster as he hit three homers while the New York Yankees divided a doubleheader with the Washington Senators, losing the opener, 4-2, then winning the nightcap, 2-0.

The Los Angeles Angels, who won Saturday night on Bo Belinsky's no-hit, no-run pitching, beat the Baltimore Orioles again, 12-7; the Minnesota Twins defeated the Detroit Tigers, 10-7; the Cleveland Indians topped the Kansas City Athletics, 5-1, and the Chicago White Sox gained a split of a twin bill with the Boston Red Sox, winning the second game, 5-3, after losing the opener, 3-2.

Lefty Billy O'Dell of the Giants held the Cubs to seven hits for his fourth victory without a defeat. Harvey Kuenn also hit a homer as the Giants made it 11 wins in their last 12 games.

Gil Hodges' two-run base-loaded single in the 12th inning against the Phils earned the Mets their fourth victory of the season. Craig Anderson, fourth Mets pitcher, received credit for the victory in the rain-interrupted game and Jack Baldschun was the loser, although Hodges' hit was made off Art Mahaffey.

Dick Farrell pitched a four-hitter and Mejias drove in five runs with two of his homers in the nightcap. Del Crandall's homer provided Warren Spahn with his winning margin in the nightcap. It was Spahn's 312th win.

In the AL, Mantle's two homers helped rookie Jim Bouton win his first major league start with a seven-hitter. Roger Maris also hit a New York homer. Washington rookie Dave Stenhouse, also making his first major league start, was credited with the opening-game victory. Gene Woodling's pinch homer tied the score and an error by rookie first baseman Joe Peplonski of the Yankees helped the Senators score the winning run.

Lee Thomas collected five hits and drove in five runs for the Angels against Baltimore. Los Angeles made 19 hits and planned the defeat on Billy Hoedt. Jack Spring scored his season's first win in relief. Brooks Robinson hit a grand slam homer for Baltimore.

Bernie Allen's three-run homer off Hank Aguirre in the ninth inning enabled Minnesota to sweep a three-game series with Detroit. Ray Moore was the winner in relief. Zollo Versalles also homered for the Twins and Bill Bruton connected for Detroit.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant of the Indians, pitching on a weekend pass from the Army, held Kansas City to six hits for his first win of the year. Willie Kirkland helped him by hitting a three-run homer.

Reliever Turk Lown struck out three Boston batters with two on base in the ninth inning to save the White Sox' nightcap victory for rookie Joel Horlen. In the opening game, Jim Paglaroni's double followed by Gary Geiger's single in the seventh produced the winning run for Boston. Camillo Carreon hit a Chicago homer. Gene Conley scattered 10 hits in gaining the victory.

Cardinals Pick-Up Bobby Shantz; Other Swaps Set

By United Press International

You couldn't exactly blame little Bobby Shantz for wondering where the next bounce will take him along the major league trail.

Shantz, still a class pitcher after 13 major league seasons, was picked up by the St. Louis Cardinals on Sunday in a swap which sent pitcher John Anderson and outfielder Carl Warwick to the Houston Colts.

Only two years ago Shantz was a member of the American League champion New York Yankees. In the special AL draft to stock the new Washington and Los Angeles clubs, Bobby was drafted by the Senators. He never even pitched one ball for them before being traded to the Pirates, for whom he won six games and lost three last year.

Then came the special draft to fill the rosters of the new Houston and New York NL clubs, and the 30-year-old Shantz, the smallest pitcher in the majors at 5 feet, 6 inches, was drafted by the Colts.

In Anderson and Warwick the Colts picked up two younger players. Warwick immediately was named the Colts' regular center-fielder by general manager Paul Richards.

The New York Mets also moved to strengthen their club—especially their pitching staff—when they acquired Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell from the Pittsburgh Pirates and Bob Miller from the Cincinnati Reds.

To get the 31-year-old Mizell, the Mets gave Pittsburgh spare first baseman

Jim Marshall. It was an even swap.

Miller, the second pitcher on the New York staff with the same name, was purchased outright from the Reds. In still another deal with the Reds, the Mets swapped third baseman Don Zimmerman for rookie third baseman Cliff Cook. To make room for the new players, the Mets sent pitcher Herb Moford back to Rochester.

In other player changes around the majors—with the 28-player limit only three days away—the Chicago White Sox sent infielder J. C. Martin to Savannah of the Sally League on option; the Kansas City Athletics shipped pitcher Bill Kunkel to Portland of the Pacific Coast League on option and placed ailing outfielder Gene Stephens on the disabled list, and the Pirates swapped catchers with their Columbus affiliate in the International League sending down Orlando McFarlane and bringing up Cal Neeman. They also sent infielder Cool Veal to Columbus outright.

New Political Face Job Set For Texas

DALLAS (UPI) — Texas politics will get a face-lifting in January in the wake of a primary election that saw Gov. Price Daniel fall in a bid for an unprecedented fourth term.

A New Frontiersman, Don Yarborough, and John B. Connally—who was appointed Navy secretary by President Kennedy, later resigned, and has since criticized Kennedy's administration—will meet in a June 2 runoff Democratic primary election for governor.

The winner in the runoff is virtually certain to be the next governor of Texas. Texas hasn't had a Republican governor since Reconstruction days.

Texas also will have a new lieutenant-governor, attorney general and at least 10 new state senators.

A tabulation of the latest returns showed that Connally had 281,250 votes to Yarborough's 287,368, in Saturday's primary.

Jack Cox, a Breckenridge, Tex., oil driller, won the Republican primary without trouble. He tallied 87,911 votes to 14,184 for Roy Whittemburg, a Borger, Tex., publisher-rancher.

Success in a Texas Democratic primary has traditionally meant election in the November general election. The Republican party has claimed a resurgence, mainly on the strength of Sen. John G. Tower's election a year ago.

Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, 52, a John Birch Society member, finished last in the field of six Democratic candidates. He vowed to continue his fight against communism.

The other candidates were Atty. Gen. Will Wilson and Marshall Formby, a Plainview, Tex., lawyer.

Yarborough, 36, an avowed liberal, is a Houston lawyer.

He is no relation to Texas' other U. S. senator, Ralph Yarborough.

Connally, 45, is from Fort Worth. He has repudiated much of the Kennedy New Frontier, particularly the administration plan for medical care for the aged.

Tiger Tales

By Lt. Dick Cleveland

Today was our first day of flight operations since we departed Norfolk and the "Den" was really jumpin' this morning. The plane captains, radiomen, mechanics, metal-smiths, and all the rest of our Maintenance Department worked half the night to insure our mighty A3D "sky-warriors" were clean, fueled and ready for this morning's launch. "Pilots, man your planes" is heard over the squawk box in Ready Four and its a scramble for topside.

Looking around this tremendous flight deck you can see the "Heavies" head and shoulders over the smaller attack aircraft. The A3D jet engines lift it from this mobile, floating airfield and carry the crew and, if necessary, the nuclear punch that would knock out any aggressor who dares attack the free world.

"Launch 'Em" says the Air Boss over the "Bull Horn" and that familiar, deafening roar of the "Tigers" of Heavy ONE, the cornerstone of Carrier Air Group SEVEN, is heard as the first A3D goes hurdling down the catapult and on to its mission.

"Land Ho" off in the distance you can see the mountains along the rugged coasts of Spain and Africa between which lie the "Gateway to the Mediterranean" the Straits of Gibraltar. The ship also launched a plane for the "Beach," to deliver our mail and pick up those long awaited letters from you! The "Tigers" will sleep well tonight.

While the "Big I" is launching its air group, she steamed past a freighter and an ocean liner of a recognized foreign nation. They immediately dipped their flags as we passed in salute to this great fighting lady. We dipped ours in return to the compliment.

You can't help but wonder how impressive this sight must be to some of our foreign friends who have never seen a jet attack carrier, much less one in action!

It's 2000 and all's well, our "Skywarriors" are back on deck safe and sound and then that joyous word is passed "Mail Call"; you've never seen a happier bunch of "Tigers." We love it, keep 'em coming!

Yesterday the "Big I" made history. She became the first attack carrier to anchor in mid-ocean. The occasion took place on top of a 18,500 foot sea mountain (underwater that is). The Captain dropped 228 feet of chain before the huge anchor caught the very top of the mountain peak. A terrific feat of navigation and seamanship. Legend has it that this mountain is in the area of the lost city of "Atlantis."

Some of our first tour "Tigers" got the opportunity to observe a captured "Sea Bat." Lt. (jg) Alex Malkoff is now considered an expert on Sea Bat Lore.

It's into the Mediterranean now, and we are looking forward to seeing our sister squadron the "Hootie Owls" of Heavy NINE. We're sure they're looking forward to seeing us.

CDR. EDGAR J. BOUDINOT, Commanding Officer of Heavy Attack Squadron One, assists Lieutenant Marion R. Edwards putting on his new shoulder boards. Lt. ELECTION FEVER . . .

Confusion reigns at the polling places this morning . . . as of 9:15, six people were turned away from the polls because they failed to send in their vote registration cards. . . Very, very early returns show that at Precinct 23, W. Pitt Varnes is leading in the District 4 county commission race 2-0.

How do I know . . . Mrs. Varnes called and said she and her husband voted 2 as soon as the precinct poll opened. . .

AND SOME MORE . . .

people coming into registrar's office saying "Where do I vote? Where do I vote?" . . . plenty of confusion on the change in voting places. . . Why didn't they check their pink cards. . . ?

A CONVERSATION WITH W. E. KNOWLES.

Reporter: That accident on 23th St. last night was really something. Why can't we get an overpass by 23th St.

Knowles: Any idea how much that would cost?

Reporter: You mean in human lives?

Knowles: About $150,000 for an overpass.

Reporter: What are we going to do about eliminating this suicide on the road.

Knowles: Only one thing . . . more cautious driving.

City tax sale set May 29 on delinquent property . . . about 300 parcels to be sold on the steps of city hall, says City Clerk Henry Tamm Jr.

The city will consider a new pension plan for its general employes (not counting police and fire) at its meeting Monday night. Employes will kick-in three percent and the city another three.

At the end of last night's column, we said "Vote, Vote, Vote." Just for the record, we didn't mean for anyone to vote three times. (Oops).

Bill Lefler and W. E. Knowles told us the other day they were never contacted to work with the "opponents" of the franchise directive to help draw up a new list of recommendations. . . Lefler, Knowles, and Bill Kratsert helped draw up the revitalized directive.

We asked Lefler and Knowles what they thought about the new recommendations which were submitted to the County Commission last week. Said one: "No Comment." Said the other: "Don't put me on the spot."

I wonder who it was that painted "Class of '62" on the city water tower by Mellonville?

Come to think of it . . . I wonder who sprayed the windows at Seminole High School this past weekend?

Vernon Dunn said when he stormed out of the County Commission meeting last week he didn't murmur politics, politics, politics. . . Vernon told us what he did say but since it's not very dainty we'll stick with politics, politics.

Lyman begins another tradition today when the first "Autograph Dance" ever to be held at the school gets underway at 7:30 p. m. in the gym. The dance is being staged to give students a chance to get teachers and classmates to sign the school year book after it is dedicated during the opening ceremonies.

2,000 Vote During Morning

Less than 2,000 persons have voted during the first six hours the polls were opened, a survey by the Herald revealed this afternoon.

Light voting was anticipated throughout the rest of the afternoon with a better turnout expected after 5 p. m.

The heaviest voting places at 1 p. m. were the Home Demonstration Building on E. 25th St. and the National Guard Armory.

At precinct 3 on 25th St. some 200 persons voted at noon while at the Armory slightly over 200 voted.

Heavy voting was also noted at Seminole High School.

A spot check of the other precincts show very light voting during the morning hours. There are 12,885 registered Democrats and indications are that only about 6,000 will vote before the polls close at 7 p. m.

In 13 separate attacks this morning, European terrorists murdered nine Moslems and wounded 10 others. Several of the attacks were in the city, but the majority were in suburban areas.

The terrorists apparently were pressing their attacks in the hope that Moslems have reached the breaking point in the war of nerves.

Legislators Challenge Court On Districting

MIAMI (UPI)—Leaders of the Florida Legislature, in a petition filed in Federal Court Monday, challenged the right of federal courts to step into the issue of state legislative reapportionment.

House Speaker William V. Chappell Jr. and Senate President W. Randolph Hodges filed the petition asking whether the Legislature is affected by a suit to force reapportionment filed by Miami attorney Peter Sobel.

State Rep. Mack Cleveland Jr. in a statement to the Herald today, said he shared both Chappell's and Hodges' views but, "by the same token I am not completely satisfied with the reapportionment move however, it may be the only thing we can get."

Sobel based his suit for reapportionment on a U. S. Supreme Court decision which said federal courts can step in where states fail to realign legislative districts according to population shifts. Chappell and Hodges said in their petition that only the states may deal with the reapportionment question.

Monday night a meeting was held at the home of Homer Sewell Jr., in Altamonte Springs, to discuss ways of disciplining the minister.

According to one member at Monday's meeting the minister had offered to resign shortly after his arrest, but reneged later and decided to stand his ground. Those who desired to see the congregation take disciplinary action were sent letters "amounting to dismissal" which were based on a by-law adopted by the church in a special meeting on May 2.

The group at Monday night's meeting decided to send letters and enclose copies of the by-law in question to the Wekiva Baptist Association, the Florida Baptist Convention and the Southern Baptist Convention, in an effort to clarify their stand and seek guidance on how to proceed in effecting disciplinary action against Haines.

Suit Filed Against Church In Altamonte

A suit filed April 30 in the Circuit Court of Seminole County by Mrs. Grace Bradford, wife of Robert Bradford, Altamonte Springs, to recover $1,000 due on a note from the Altamonte Springs Baptist Church, was the opening gun of a determined move by a number of church members to effect the ouster of the pastor, Lewis D. Haines.

Mrs. Bradford's suit is the outgrowth of the arrest of Haines last February on a morals charge by the Altamonte Police Department. Haines forfeited his bond rather than appear at the trial which was scheduled for last March 7 in the Maitland Municipal Court.

Monday night a meeting was held at the home of Homer Sewell Jr., in Altamonte Springs, to discuss ways of disciplining the minister.

According to one member at Monday's meeting the minister had offered to resign shortly after his arrest, but reneged later and decided to stand his ground. Heavy State Vote Looms

MIAMI (UPI)—Floridians flocked to the polls today to vote on a variety of local issues in an off-year primary that could be a sounding board for Kennedy administration policies.

More than one million voters were expected at the polls to beat the primary record of 937,000 set in 1960. The weather was ideal, with temperatures ranging through the middle and high 80's, and no rain in sight.

By late morning, election officials in the big counties reported a steady flow of citizens to the polling places.

In Dade County, the state's biggest population center, the voter registration office reported that as of 10 a. m. EST an estimated 50,000 persons had voted, compared to about 45,000 in the 1960 primary.

Laos Battalions Trapped By Reds

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Two Royal Laotian Army battalions may have been trapped when Communist rebel forces overran the provincial capital town of Nam Tha, a senior American military adviser said today.

The American identified the battalions as the 28th and 30th.

Shattered elements of the Laotian forces attempted to regroup about 40 miles southwest of Nam Tha.

Pilots flying reconnaissance missions and supply drops over the Nam Tha area Monday reported that only 1,000 to 3,000 members of the 5,000-man government garrison there had been regrouped to the south.

FRANCIS ROUMILLAT . . . Good News

F. E. Roumillat Jr., chairman of the Chamber of Commerce post office site committee, on hearing the news commented: "This is wonderful and culminates a two year effort by the special committee appointed by the chamber. The new modern post office, centrally located, will stabilize the downtown business section."

Officials of the construction firm told the Herald this morning that work on the facility, located between Sanford and Palmetto Aves. west of the Civic Center, will start "immediately."

Two weeks ago, the Herald reported that the post office department was negotiating with the Nebraska firm with the cooperation of the low bidder Brown, Mason and McHugh of Jacksonville.

The Jacksonville firm had been awarded the contract last year and had "blundered around for some five months to get the contracts off their backs" according to one post office official.

The new postal facility is expected to be at least twice the size of the present one on First St. The city has agreed to lease the present building for a future library site.

When the present post office will be turned over to the city has not been determined as yet.

GOP Charges Whitewash
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republicans stepped up their demands for an investigation of the Billie Sol Estes case today with charges the Agriculture Department is trying to whitewash it.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., made public a letter Monday from Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson to Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman. The letter said that Estes, under indictment in Texas for fraud, maintained a "close relationship" with Agriculture Department officials.

Youthful Killer Allowed Appeal

TALLAHASSEE, (UPI)—Teen-ager Dennis M. Whitney, confessed slayer of seven persons, will get a chance to prove that he was pronounced leniently in return for not contesting facts charged in one of the murders.

The State Supreme Court, which previously upheld the conviction and death sentence for Whitney, who was just 17 in 1959 when the cross country murders were committed, Monday granted Whitney's motion for a writ of habeas corpus to permit testimony to be taken on his claim.

Gangland Slaying In Chicago

CHICAGO (UPI)—The body of Chicago's second gang-style assassination victim in 24 hours was found today huddled in the front seat of a parked car.

The dead man had been shot in the back of the head in the almost identical execution technique as Monday's gun victim, taxi driver Leslie Kirk.

The FBI has entered the investigation of Kirk's slaying to determine whether it is linked to an organizing war between the Teamsters Union and a maverick taxi cab driver union. A federal judge last month called on the FBI to protect Chicago cab drivers from gangster violence springing from the labor struggle. Today's victim was not immediately identified. The license of the car in which he was found was traced to a Raymond Martin while the city sticker on the car had been issued to a Michael Venna. Police said the address listed for Venna was a building still under construction.

Police Lt. Walter Weingart said the man had apparently been shot in the car. The killer then drove the car behind the building and left it there, Weingart said.
