Jury Expects Verdict Today

A Seminole Circuit Court jury was expected today to decide suits asking $130,000 in damages as a result of an automobile collision in 1954.

Final arguments of attorneys were to be heard early this afternoon.

Mrs. Pauline Marshall, co-defendant in a $75,000 suit growing out of the collision, took the stand this morning as the last of 11 witnesses.

Strolling In Sanford

The Fifth Handley Tournament will be held at the Tourist and Shuffleboard Club Friday from 9 a. m. and will last all day. Mrs. Roberta Gatchel will serve lunches for a small fee in the club house. There will be about 300 people attending from all over this district.

In answer to many inquiries as to why "Old Glory" is waving in the warm Florida breeze today, Florida Statehood is being recognized. The Land of Sunshine state is celebrating its 110th year in the Union to which it was admitted in 1845.

Permit Value Has $125, 828 Increase Over First Month

Fewer building permits were issued during February than in January, but the value of authorized work showed a $125,828 increase. City Building Inspector John M. Gillon reported today.

Gillon said 80 permits were issued in February for construction and repairs valued at $243,081 compared to 42 permits and $117,190 the previous month.

February permits were for five residences, valued at $30,000; one school building, Goldsboro elementary, $100,233; one private garage, $100; one electric sign, $450; three commercial repairs, $450; and 18 home additions and repairs, $8,158.

Permits issued this month include one for an office building at 1801 2nd St., valued at $25,500, and one for a commercial repair shop, valued at $8,000.

The office building, located directly behind the new hospital, is being constructed by Dr. A. W. Kops and Dr. John Morgan. Of one-story masonry construction, it will have two office rooms and a lobby. Lowell E. Oiler is the contractor.

Prospects Taken On Tour Of Route

WEST PALM BEACH (AP) — Prospective buyers for Florida's turnpike bonds were taken on a bus tour of the upper end of the proposed pay-as-you-go route to let them inspect traffic on existing highways.

Thirty-seven representatives from large banking and insurance companies were inspecting the Miami - Fort Pierce area which would be linked by the toll road. The venture is to be financed with a 74 million dollar bond issue now awaiting validation before the State Supreme Court.

FITTONS BUY PROPERTY IN OAK PARK

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus P. Fitton recently purchased a house and garage apartment at 308 W. 16th St. from Mrs. Myrtle C. Henley for $80,000, according to a deed filed with the County Clerk.

The property is located in the Oak Park subdivision.

State Scholarship Tests To Be Given Here On March 22

Competitive examinations for state scholarships will be given in Seminole County at Seminole High School and Crook's Academy on March 22 beginning at 8:30 a. m.

College students who are away from home may take the test in the nearest examination center.

General scholarships for the preparation of teachers have a value of $400 a year and may be held for four years or until the holder receives the Bachelor's degree. A winner of general scholarship must promise to begin teaching in the public schools of Florida immediately following graduation from college and will be expected to teach consecutively for at least as many years as he received scholarship aid.

High school seniors, high school graduates, and college students are eligible if they are residents of Florida and are registered or intend to register in the school of education of an approved institution of higher learning in Florida to prepare for teaching in Florida's elementary or secondary schools.

Approved institutions are the Florida state-supported institutions of higher learning and the junior colleges and the following private institutions located in Florida: Barry College, Miami; Bethune-Cookman College, Daytona Beach; Florida Normal and Industrial Memorial College, St. Augustine; Florida Southern College, Lakeland; Jacksonville Junior College, Jacksonville; John B. Stetson University, DeLand; Rollins College, Winter Park; University of Miami, Coral Gables, and the University of Tampa, Tampa.

Any student may take the scholarship examination regardless of whether or not a vacancy exists in his county. Scholarship not used will be placed in a state pool and awarded to the highest scoring applicants from the state at large who do not receive a vacancy in their home counties due to an insufficiency of vacancies.

Foreign Secretary Asks Renunciation

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden appealed today for a renunciation of force by both sides as the first step toward solution of the Formosa crisis.

"We are trying to establish conditions in which a settlement can be obtained by conciliation and discussion," he told a news conference. "It would certainly help us in this task if some indication were given of a willingness to renounce the use of force."

The Florida Shorthorn Breeders Assn. named Austin Davis, Ocala, president; W. Y. Dwyer, Plant City, vice president; and re-elected Col. E. H. Wilberson, Eustis, secretary-treasurer.

Dulles Says Islands Won't Hit Bargains

Project Sites Topic Of Meeting Tonight

Possible sites for the Negro housing project proposed by Brailley Otham will be discussed at a meeting today in the City Commission Room at City Hall. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Convening jointly to debate the question will be the City Zoning and Planning Commission, the City Commission, and the County Commission, along with real estate brokers and building contractors.

Otham's bid to build the project on the vacant land across from the Memorial Stadium was rejected Feb. 18 by the Zoning Commission following angry protests against putting a "colored section" in the center of the white section of Sanford. At that time, tonight's meeting was set to solve the problem of a suitable site.

Several other possible sites were discussed at the February meeting. Including land belonging to the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, but City Manager Warren Knowles told the group that the A.C.L. is acquiring land and will not sell under any circumstances.

Regarded with most favor was a 30-acre tract belonging to the American Fruit Growers, located at the end of west 13th St., across from Crook's Academy in the Goldsboro district.

The clause proposed by the company reads as follows, "As the parties have agreed on procedures for handling employee complaints and grievances, they further agree that there will be no lockouts, slowdowns, or other work stoppages during the life of this Agreement/Contract."

The purpose of the clause is to assure uninterrupted service to the public, Rothermel said, and to end walkouts without warning which are called to bring pressure to bear on the company. There have been 103 such walkouts since mid-1951, he said. At the time present bargaining started they were occurring in Southern Bell at the rate of one every 10 days.

"In working with the Union to eliminate these quickie strikes," Rothermel continued, "The company has been patient and has exhausted every other approach. For several years we have tried to solve this problem short of adding a contract clause."

"This clause does not in any way affect the right of the Union to strike at the expiration of the contract," Rothermel went on. "What it does is to recognize that the public which is paying for uninterrupted telephone service has a right to insist that the company and its employees furnish it."

The public relies on uninterrupted telephone service now as never before, Rothermel stated, pointing out that in Sanford 31,650 local telephone calls are made a day, plus 1,845 daily long distance calls. "Many involve the public health and safety. In this day of such reliance on the telephone, the service is too vital to be at the mercy of Union Leaders who can ignore orderly methods of settling differences and call workers off the job."

Rothermel said the company has taken many steps in current bargaining to reach an agreement, such as:

1. Offered increases to employees ranging up to $4 a week. A wage increase was one of the Union objectives in the bargaining.

2. Streamlined the grievance procedures so settlements can be reached more quickly.

3. Reclassified certain titles and towns to higher wage schedules.

4. Shortened evening and work schedules.

"In a labor contract, the company guarantees the good working conditions and to pay the increased wages. It is certainly not too much to ask that the Union, in return, guarantee to respect the Contract and not engage in strikes while the contract is in force," Rothermel concluded.

Only former Sheriff Ralph Matthews and a jailer identified as Ben Clark were there all the time, however, Phillips told the jury.

The patrolman named several other persons as having been at the jail during the time in question.

Both the Communists and the Nationalists have declared there can be only one China. Both insist they represent the only legal government for all of China.

Observers felt Chiang would insist on active U. S. support in invading the mainland if he agreed to the evacuation of Quemoy and the Matsus.

He told how the paralysis of Communism had gripped Russia satellite nations. In Guatemala City, for instance, he said he was confronted by closed shops and deserted streets. On the walls of buildings were large posters of Uncle Sam with bloody hands.

Communism thrives on poverty, Henderson emphasized. He described the confusion over the world as a propaganda popularity contest between Communism and Democracy.

He said the Communists take young men and women out of communities, indoctrinate them to Communism in Russia, and then place them back in their communities.

"At the present time," Henderson declared, "we are losing the contest, but we can still overcome the lead held by the Communists."

Henderson received the "Outstanding Jaycee of the World" title at the organization's international conference in Mexico City recently.

He is visiting his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Brantley Henderson, who live on Ross Lake, seven miles west of Sanford. His father was present at the meeting today.

He once lived for about six months with his parents near here and later spent a year in Altamonte Springs, during which time he worked as a real estate salesman for Marie Williams in Orlando.

It was during that time that Henderson attended his first Jaycee meeting in Orlando when he returned to his native Williamsburg in 1947, he organized a Jaycee unit there and became its president.

He held various district and state offices in the Jaycees in Virginia and became national vice-president in 1950, international vice-president in 1953 and national president in 1954.

Sources Give Hint Of Release

Abandonment May Spell Peace

TAIPEI, Formosa, (AP) — U. S. Secretary of State Dulles told Chinese Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek today that Quemoy and the Matsus were not on the bargaining table for a cease-fire in the Chinese civil war.

But sources close to the secretary hinted the offshore islands might be abandoned to the Reds on two conditions:

1. That the abandonment would bring a guaranteed peace to Asia, and

2. That Nationalist China would agree to the move.

The Nationalists may not agree under any circumstances. The islands are the last important outposts they hold off the Red mainland.

Dulles reaffirmed U. S. determination to defend Formosa and the Pescadores, as pledged in the mutual defense pact ratified earlier today.

Dulles left for Washington late in the afternoon, winding up a whirlwind tour of Thailand, Burma, Laos, Cambodia, South Vietnam, the Philippines and Formosa.

Thirty-seven minutes after he arrived today he signed the documents that brought into force the mutual defense pact between the United States and Nationalist China. Nationalist Foreign Minister George Yeh signed for China.

The treaty itself was signed in Washington Dec. 2. It commits the United States to defend Formosa and the Pescadores, gives the United States the right to dispose land, air and sea forces in and about the area, and binds the two countries to act against an armed attack in the west Pacific.

In his airport statement, Dulles said the United States is committed to "closer and more effective cooperation for the defense of the treaty area."

He emphasized the lack of commitment to Quemoy and the Matsus in these words:

"It is not possible at this time to state explicitly how that defense will be conducted."

That leaves open the question of whether the United States actively would defend the offshore outposts if that becomes necessary to the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores.

Dulles did not go into the controversial question of the creation of "two Chinas" if an ultimate cease-fire is attained—Formosa and the mainland.

Young Generation Highlight Of Talk By H. Henderson

The young people of the world held the key to peace and understanding, Horace Henderson told the Junior Chamber of Commerce at its weekly luncheon meeting today at the Yacht Club.

"We are facing the most critical period in the history of mankind," he declared. "We know how to fight wars, but this time we are unprepared. We have no defense as yet. For this is a war of ideas, and we are fighting for the minds of men."

Henderson, recently named the "Outstanding Jaycee of the World," said the answer to the global problem is not guns or dollars. The people in Europe and Asia, he said, want friendship and cooperation, not a handout from America.

The only way the United States can win in the "cold war" is through "the enlightened leadership that must come from the young people of today," Henderson continued.

Henderson, of Williamsburg, Va., received a $25,000 American Heritage Foundation award as a result of his work in the Jaycees and used the grant to make a world tour in the interests of the organization. His talk today dealt with his experiences.

Chuckles echoed around the room as Henderson told how "some enterprising young man" had taken the punch out of Communist propaganda signs in Europe.

"The signs are all over Europe," he said. "They read: 'Americans Go Home.' Well, some enterprising young man added 'Via TWA' to the bottom of all the signs he came across."

He told how the paralysis of Communism had gripped Russia satellite nations. In Guatemala City, for instance, he said he was confronted by closed shops and deserted streets. On the walls of buildings were large posters of Uncle Sam with bloody hands.

Champ To Be Composite Figure In Bout Tonight At City Hall

You've seen it many times. You haven't forgotten it.

The young pug is up against the ropes, glassy-eyed, bleeding, breathing hard, and the champ is moving in for the kill.

Your cigarette hangs dead between your teeth and you edge forward in your seat, but the scrap is over in nothing flat. The battered fighter lies crumpled beneath the harsh ring lights. You look at him, and something makes you think of the old rag doll in the dusty box in your attic.

And then you realize something. He couldn't have won. He had risked his neck for an unattainable dream, and now the dream is gone and he is yesterday's boxing wonder. Tomorrow he will go home, maybe back to the folks on the farm, and he will hang up his gloves and look at his bruised face, and say ruefully: "If only..."

He couldn't have won. You know that as you size up the champ, confident, polished, unflinching, his gloves gleaming like cold steel. The kid had battled a robot, a fighting machine, and he had been whipped from the beginning.

Tonight, at City Hall, an important issue will be up against the ropes and another champion will be boring in for the kill.

Will the champ win by a knockout?

The issue is location of a suitable site for the Negro housing project which Bralley Odham proposes to build.

In this bout, the champion will be a composite figure, made up of the City Zoning and Planning Commission, the City Commission, the County Commission, real estate brokers and building contractors.

The Zoning Commission last month turned down Mr. Odham's bid to build the project on the vacant land across from the Memorial Stadium. The action followed angry protests against putting a "colored section" in the middle of the white section of Sanford.

Location of the project on the site would have extended the east end of the Negro section of Georgetown. Some of the most expensive homes in Sanford are in the white Mayfair district six blocks away.

Several other possible sites were discussed, including land belonging to the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, but City Manager Warren Knowles said that the A. C. L. is acquiring land and will not sell under any circumstances.

Regarded with most favor was a 90-acre tract belonging to the American Fruit Growers, located at the end of west 13th St., across from Crooms Academy in the Goldsboro district. This site will be further discussed tonight and may prove to be the answer to the situation.

The need is undoubtedly great for a Negro subdivision meeting the requirements of F. H. A. financing. As Mr. Odham has pointed out: "There are many Negro citizens of Sanford who are financially able to own a home on V. A. or F. H. A. terms, but they are unable to find land acceptable to these agencies except in a few rare instances."

Good housing is a principal sign of a community's well-being. Visitors view it as a token of what the city has to offer and, in some cases, base their decisions to settle here entirely on this one factor. Sanford is growing rapidly and its housing facilities must grow at an equal pace.

The Negro housing issue is being considered none too soon. Perhaps, as some maintain, it should have been taken up ten years ago. But the point to note is that action is at last near on what is apparently one of the city's dominant needs.

Evidence Points To U. S. Hopes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any time in recent years this country probably could have crushed Russia in a preventive war intended to destroy the Communists before they were strong enough to attack the United States.

That the war wasn't made, while this country had atomic superiority, was evidence the United States intended to try to avert it out with the Russians in the hope war might never be necessary.

This may have been a fatal policy and in the end prove the undoing of the United States. No one can be sure the Russians, once they're sufficiently armed, won't make a sudden overpowering attack on this country.

Sir Winston Churchill yesterday, while saying the United States holds vast superiority over Russia in hydrogen bombs right now, predicted Russia may have enough of them in two to four years to try an attack on North America.

The sweating-it-out policy is therefore one of the obvious incalculables of history. So were some recent major decisions whose outcome couldn't be predicted either: defense of Korea, Berlin airlift, aid to Greece and Turkey.

There are alternative hopes to set beside the dismal prospect the Russians may spring on the United States when they are able:

1. That the Russian leadership may be civilized enough not to make war or force one.

2. That the two giants, once they're fairly equal in their ability to annihilate each other—perhaps both at the same time—and most of mankind too, will then be content not to fight but live side by side.

Churchill expressed some belief in hope No. 2, but not too vigorously, when he said: "A curious paradox has emerged. After a certain point has been passed it may be said that the worse things get, the better."

Churchill did say he didn't think the Russians could win a hydrogen war if they started one—but he didn't predict any winner in such a struggle—since the West, because of its head start on bombs, could retaliate from bases around the world.

Rush Developing For Commodities

NEW YORK (AP)—A rush to buy something most industries haven't seen for several months—is developing today in a number of industrial commodities.

Users of copper were among the first to put on the pressure. Now steel makers report a rush for some of their products. So do the synthetic rubber plants, still government owned. And the prospect for another big spurt in home building this spring is bringing orders for lumber mills and for makers of home appliances.

Except perhaps for copper, there is no real shortage as in the early postwar years. The urge to order, which apparently struck a number of purchasing agents at once, appears to stem in part from fears that prices may go higher or that labor troubles may mean work stoppages late in the spring.

But producers also cite another reason: Hand-to-mouth buying policies, common from mid-1953 on, brought down inventories, as planned. The result was that the first show of demand—as when the auto industry started ordering metal for its big production race two months ahead of normal—stretched the time between ordering and receiving delivery. Companies which had been operating happily on a raw material supply sufficient for 30 or 45 days' production, suddenly found this leeway too small for comfort.

This seems to be especially true in the case of most metals. Price rises in iron ore and steel scrap, and upcoming labor negotiations, also are interpreted by some steel users as meaning higher prices ahead.

A rush to stock up on synthetic rubber is reported by government agencies preparing to close the sale of the plants to private industry—barring congressional disapproval.

Some of the rush is believed based on fears that prices may rise under the new ownerships, or that the companies buying the plants might absorb most of the output for themselves.

The home-building boom—the vigor of which has surprised many observers—seems set for still another spurt with the coming of open weather. Easy financing is the foundation.

MUMM FROM THE GRAVE KNOXVILLE, TENN. (AP)—John DeMarcus was sent by the Knoxville Utilities Board to the New Grev cemetery to find a water leak. Placing his sensitive amplifier among the tombstones, he picked up not the gurgle of escaping water but music, music, music.

Ghostly hepcats? No, said DeMarcus just a freak of radio reception. But he added:

"I'll tell you this. If the front of one of those tombstones had lighted up with a television picture, I'd have been long gone."

PITCHING MACHINE FOR PHILLIES

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Phillies will face a pitching machine this spring during training at Clearwater Fla. Mayo Smith, new Phillies manager, believes the machines are a big help especially in teaching bunts. "They save the arms of our regular pitchers, too," claims Smith.

Big Fortune Lies In Competition

NEW YORK (AP)—Anybody can make money today who can show men a way to compete successfully with women.

At least partly because of this fact, Arthur O. Bregstein is reaping a fortune. He is doing it by operating on the theory that, while a wife may be at home on her range, there is no reason why a husband can't be a king in the family kitchen, too—if cooking is made so simple even his feeble masculine mind can learn how to do it.

Bregstein found the answer in the new roller-type electric broilers which in just a few years have created a culinary revolution in America.

In 1930 Bregstein, who had begun his career as a representative for concert artists, was operating a small electrical firm that made sockets and switches in a one-floor Manhattan loft. One night, while watching chickens turning on a gas-fired rotisserie in a French restaurant he mused:

"If a woman could do that at home, wouldn't it be wonderful?" He investigated and found home rotisseries had been sold in this country at least since 1880, but had never caught on widely. For one thing, they were too complicated.

Bregstein put some engineers to work on the project. Two years later he had developed a simplified, portable electric broiler that cooked with infrared rays and had automatic controls and timing devices.

"We had to set up a factory to make our own slow-burning, fractional-horsepower motor," he recalled. "But the most serious problem was how to seed the market."

This is sales (argued for creating a customer demand. One of his ideas was to hire a home economics expert to write a cookbook giving hundreds of menus. The book now is in its second million printing.

The electric broiler industry had about nine million dollars in retail sales volume in 1953. Last year it was approximately 125 million, and Bregstein predicts it will reach one billion in 1955. He estimates the total sales of the Rotisserie Corp., of which he is president, at about $10 million a year.

"We set out to create a market in America and we have an electric broiler," he said enthusiastically.

and the real market still lies ahead. The industry is growing as rapidly as television or air conditioning.

Bregstein himself was amazed at first to learn from surveys that the broilers had won as much favor with husbands as with wives. "But it is easy to see why," he said. "Men hate to bend down. That's one reason they don't like stoves. Also they want a foolproof system of cooking."

"But they do like to cook, if it isn't too much trouble and they don't have a mess to clean up afterward. It makes them feel like a big shot."

"A man likes anything he can be successful at. There are so many automatic controls in the new electric broilers that the average husband can't make a mistake in cooking a steak or chicken. He brags he can cook as well as his wife. Actually, of course, he can't. His wife knows the credit should go to the machine, but she isn't going to point that out. After all, she's got him doing half the cooking."

Bachelors who have found they can use the broilers to cook their breakfast at bedside, have turned out to be another surprise market.

"A bachelor now doesn't have to depend on his etchings—he can invite his girl to come up and see his shish kebab," said Bregstein smiling. "He can broil her a meal in the living room while sitting on the sofa holding her hands—that is, if he can keep his mind on it. After all, the way to a girl's heart is through her stomach."

His engineers now are tackling the problem of designing new type infrared broilers suitable for restaurants, house trailers and commercial airlines.

NEW CULINARY CUTTER

BYRON CENTER, MICH. (AP)—The Lubber Brothers—Garrett, Jay and Bernard—got tired of the tedious job of cutting celery, and invented what they claim is the first machine-operated celery picker. They used to harvest three-quarters of an acre a day from their 70 acres of celery. Now, Jay says, they can cover 1½ acres daily.

The Garrett machine shears the celery plants with two hydraulically operated V-shaped cutting blades. The forward motion of the machine forces the celery up into a chute. Conveyors carry the plants to workers who trim excess foliage. The celery then is thrown to another belt which loads it on wagons.

The Garrett say they built their machine for $5,000.

Miss Cameron Tells Of Plans

Miss Jacqueline Cameron today revealed the final plans for her wedding to take place at the All Saints Catholic Church Saturday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. Father Richard Lyons will perform the ceremony which will unite in marriage of William John Sullivan Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sullivan of Decatur, Ga., to the bride-elect, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McLean Cameron.

Miss Martha Ann Cameron, sister of the bride, will be her only attendant. The groom's father will serve as best man, while Robert McEllen, and Edwin Class of Atlanta and Kirby Fite Jr., of Sanford will act as ushers. Mrs. P. E. Roumillat, soloist and organist, will render the traditional music.

Following the wedding a reception will be held at the Woman's Club. All friends of the couple are cordially invited.

Mrs. Harper Talks On Church Mission Affairs In India

Sunday the Lake Mary Presbyterian Church was the scene of one of the World Affairs Assemblies, arranged by the Synod of Florida. The speaker at the morning service was Mrs. Arthur E. Harper, who, with her husband, spent 40 years in India. She began her remarks with the statement that a new day has come in the mission of the church, describing the new worldwide fellowship of the church, which is combating the tensions and anxieties of the world situation.

World Prayer Day Observed By Group At Lake Mary

The World Day of Prayer was observed at the Presbyterian Church in Lake Mary, Friday evening, with the women of the three churches taking part.

The program, prepared by the United Church Women was used. The theme "Abide in Me" was divided into sections dealing with "Adoration," "Meditation," "Penitence," "Thanksgiving" and "Intercession," with a reader for each portion, who led the congregation in the responsive service. Readers were Mrs. Eugene Seaman, Mrs. Frank Evans, Mrs. H. M. Cochran, Mrs. Robert Gelfer, Mrs. Dempsey Hamilton, Mrs. F. L. Mason, Mrs. William Class, Mrs. Glenn Cochran, and Mrs. R. W. Keogh. Making individual prayers were Mrs. Walter I. Piper, Mrs. L. A. Peterson and Mrs. George R. Patterson and Mrs. Ted Brooklyn sang a solo.

Mrs. L. E. Lewis was the guest speaker. She described graphically the world struggle of Christianity versus Communism and declared that "the truth, which shall make all peoples free, is the weapon we must use against all opposition. She showed how the old idea of Missions must be broadened. The people who do not know God must be taught, spiritually, mentally and physically. They must be taught to read in their own language and then they must be furnished literature that contains the truth. The final step will be their spiritual training in other words, Christian education is the answer."

Instead of pessimism, Mrs. Lewis urged all to remember that it is God's task and "all of us are God's tools, each, one of a great army. With God's help, we cannot fail. As indication of this world awakening, she spoke of the Billy Graham Revival in London, of the World Council of Churches and of the example our own President Eisenhower is setting by opening his "Cabinet Meetings with prayer." She urged us "to rededicate our lives to Christianity, to bear in mind that prayer is our communication with God, our Christian Outreach, our Being One with Him." In conclusion, Mrs. Lewis summed up her remarks into three phases: rededication of ourselves, rededication of our prayers and rededication of our sharing with others. In accepting the offering, which was taken up by Mrs. Ralph Williams and Mrs. Marshall Smith, Mrs. Lewis led the congregation in a pledge of dedication.

The singing of "Now the Day is Over" and the benediction concluded the service.

Baseball Vets Seek Fountain Of Youth

Players Trying To Get Kinks Out Of Aging Muscles

By FRANK ECK
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—If the Fountain of Youth, as it is called, actually existed, it wouldn't have so many baseball players worrying.

It's the same every spring. The veteran players feel that maybe they can get the kinks out of aging muscles and give the majors one last fling.

The Baltimore Orioles—now there's a spring bird—have a number of players who might make good two-platoon men in Manager Paul Richards' setup.

Three 35-year-olds are here hoping to play some part of third base. They are Johnny Pesky, Billy Cox and Vern Stephens. Pesky, who broke in with Boston in 1934, played in 36 games in 1954. Cox was in 77 and Stephens hit .206 in 101 games.

Also hoping to help the Birds in relief pitching is Alpha Brazie, the former Cardinal star who was released by Eddie Stanky. Brazie, 40, had a 5-4 record for 84 innings. Preacher Roe at 39 wants to stick with Baltimore.

However, these Orioles are not the only ones facing the end of a long playing career. Out in Phoenix pitcher Larry Jansen is trying for a spot with the Giants. A winner of 23 games in 1951, Coach Jansen will be 35 in July.

At Vero Beach, Joe Black, Brooklyn's 1953 relief hero with a 15-4 record and many games saved, is back at 31 from a sojourn with Montreal where he had a 12-30 record and four shutouts.

Tommy Byrne, with a 20-10 record at Seattle, is back with the Yankees with whom he won 15 games both in 1949 and '50. He's 35. Bruce Edwards, 31, could make it as a part time catcher with Washington if his throwing arm comes back. Charley Dressen added the on-Dodger and Cub to his roster and Bruce's .288 batting with Los Angeles.

George Kell is not so spry as he was during the eight straight years he hit above .300. In 50 games last year he hit .266, first time he had been that low since 1946 with the Athletics. Kell is among such veterans as Will Marshall and Phil Cavarretta with the White Sox in Tampa.

March 10, he hit only .264 in 47 games in 1954. Cavarretta will be 35 in July but he still carries a useful bat. He hit .318 in 71 games. He hopes to manage or coach someday.

Another on-catcher who would like to stick in the game is Andy Semick. Record books say he's 31. Andy, who hit .266 in 66 games in 1954, will always be remembered as having played out the season with a broken ankle bone for the pennant winning Phillies in 1950.

He's trying to stave off the young catchers on the Cincinnati roster. Dave Kosma was brought back by Milwaukee last year and at 35 is giving it another whirl despite a 1-1 record and only 17 innings of work with the Braves.

Out in Tucson, Eddie Joost and Wally Worsbakke faced numbered days as utility players. Joost, 39 in June, got in only 10 games while managing the Inept Athletics.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—It is a strange situation which confronts Leo Durocher as the manager of the New York Giants begins cranking up for another National League campaign out at Phoenix.

The record says Leo has the best ball club in the game, a team which is "set" at every position. He says he intends to play the same lineup that put the boots to Cleveland in the World Series. So what's Leo got? Nothing but problems.

He has no other choice than to go again with a club which did an amazing job of falling on its face at the plate last year—except for two regulars and one pinch hitter. The champs badly need some platoon at the dish, but none is in sight.

Outfielder Monte Irvin's average fell off from .288 in 1953 to .262 last season. First baseman Willie Lockman plunged from .288 to .261; second baseman Davey Williams from .287 to .252; third baseman Hank Thompson from .288 to .263; shortstop Alvin Dark from .288 to .253; catcher Wes Westrum from .284 to an appalling .187.

W. Willie Mays had not returned from the Army to blast his great .346, and Dusty Rhodes had not driven across 30 runs, mainly as a pinch batter, one can only surmise the Giants would have wound up about sixth.

In Philadelphia last year but he hit .268 Westlake batted only .263 in 65 games with Cleveland. He's 34.

There's no telling how much longer Knos Slaughter, Ed Gordon and Jim Konstanty will be around. Knos will be 39 in April and his .346 mark for 60 games didn't help the Yankees. Gordon hit .266 in 121 games for Pittsburgh but at 35 he isn't getting any faster. And Konstanty, star of the '50 Phils, is with the Yankees and 35. He had a 2-4 mark last year for 60 innings.

Melby Owen, who came back with Boston last year to hit .288 in 38 games, no longer is playing but coaching the Red Sox. Alvin Karpis hit .288 because of a bad back and Joe Garagiola has turned in his pitcher's card to broadcast St. Louis games.

Mederos Scores Knockout Victory Over LaSzarza

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Julio Mederos, an unheralded Cuban Negro who had flunked his two previous tests against American "name" fighters, moved strongly into the heavy-weight picture today after a smashing knockout victory over Roland LaSzarza.

The powerful Mederos gave LaSzarza the worst beating of his career before knocking the New Yorker unconscious with a booming right to the jaw in the fifth round of a scheduled 10-rounder Wednesday night at Miami Stadium.

It was a sensational victory for Mederos, a 4-1 underdog who had been outpointed by Bob Satterfield of Chicago and Harold Johnson of Philadelphia in his only two earlier fights with well-known opponents. Otherwise, he was campaigned mostly in Cuba.

LaSzarza, once a top-ranking title contender who twice fought Rocky Marciano, took a savage beating before a looping right to the jaw from Mederos knocked him unconscious at 1:37 of the fifth. He took the 10 count flat on his back.

It was the third straight defeat for the Bronx batter since Marciano stopped him in the 11th round of a heavyweight championship fight in New York in 1953. In two other fights since then, he was outpointed by Don Cockell and Charley Norkus.

Mederos dropped LaSzarza to one knee with a right to the jaw as the bell sounded ending the first round.

Early in the third, another smashing right by Mederos dumped LaSzarza on the seat of his pants. He got up quickly but after he had taken the mandatory eight count, Mederos went after him furiously.

As LaSzarza reeled aimlessly away from him, the Cuban drove home 16 rights to the head. The game New Yorker took them all and the end of the round saw him still on his feet and Mederos arm weary from throwing his punches.

LaSzarza rallied beautifully to hold his own in the fourth but in the fifth Mederos nailed him with five consecutive rights, the last one dropping him for the count.

Mederos weighed 184½, LaSzarza 189.

Lofters Take Inter-Squadron Bowling Crown

Photographic Squadron 62's inter-squadron bowling league closed their 1954-55 season last week at the Sanford Bowling Alleys after a 60 game meet.

The Lofters from VJ-62's Operations Department finished eight games ahead of the pack with a 44-16 win-loss record to grab the loop crown. The Lofters clinched the title three weeks ago on February 10th. PhotoRon 62's Maintenance Department koglers, the Raiders, were the closest team to the champions with a 36-24 season record.

The rest of the field finished as follows: Kodakers in third place, 33-25; Alley Cats fourth, 34-26; Pencil Pushers fifth, 18-42 and Avants in the cellar with a 12-48 record.

B. J. Gil of the Kodakers finished the season with the highest average of 153. High in individual game honors went to S. M. Stevens of the Lofters for his 283 effort and The Raiders'.

Winn, Lovett Co. Celebrates 36th Year In Business

H. L. AVERY
Vice-President in Charge
Jacksonville Division,
Winn & Lovett Grocery Co.

Lovett's, one of the 10 largest retail food service organizations in the country, began celebration of its 36th year in business yesterday.

The event is celebrated by special sale in the 73 super-markets in more than 30 cities in Florida and Georgia and was introduced with newspaper advertising announcing the occasion.

The present company was founded 36 years ago, according to H. L. Avery, vice president in charge of the Jacksonville division. It was formed from the Tyler Grocery Company by W. R. Lovett, who headed the company until 1940.

In that year it was taken over by the four Davis Brothers of Tampa and Miami. A. D. Davis, Jacksonville, is president; James E. Davis, Jacksonville, is vice president and chairman of the board; M. Austin Davis, Miami, is executive vice president and T. W. Davis, also vice president, lives in Louisville and heads operations of the Winn & Lovett Grocery Company in the Louisville, Ky., and Montgomery, Ala. areas.

Lovett's was among the first to sense the trend to super food markets, offering complete service, opening the first store of this type in 1931 at Eighth and Main streets in Jacksonville. The store was more than double the size of the traditional grocery store at that time and its success started the trend to the departmentalized super market of the modern era, according to Avery.

All of the stores in the chain are ready for the biggest anniversary celebration in the company's history and officials and sales personnel of the stores join in extending to the public an invitation to participate in the event.

TV HURTS WRITING?

DETROIT (AP) — Teacher of creative writing considers television a barrier to good writing, says Thomas Cauley head of the Denby High School English Department.

"What we stress in writing is simplicity, and you don't learn anything about simplicity from television," he says.

"TV programs, he said, are complex and involved."

"We tell the students to write about their own experiences," Cauley said. "But very few of them think they have anything interesting to write about. So many are used to the tangled plots of television, the constant action on the screen and the frequent bursts of callous brutality. They fail to understand there is beauty in writing about a quiet day in the country."

Fond Memories Of Old Days Leave Oldtimers Misty Eyed

KANSAS CITY (AP)—They play it sweet and they play it cute, but it's seldom now that they play the really hot note in this town of the "Twelfth Street Rag" — the one-time hotbed of swing.

Some of the cats who used to sit the hottest licks are delivering milk now or laying bricks just about all of them can get misty-eyed thinking about the old days.

"This city used to be the jumpiest," says Chet Stamps, an artist's agent who has been around a long time.

"Today you have to read between the lines of fine print to find a job that's selling jazz on a commercial basis."

He shook his head. "And yet, we really had it Benny Moten, The Great Count Basie, Hot Lips Page, Andy Kirk. That fine sax man Ben Webster."

"Webster, by the way, came back to Kansas City a while ago and almost starved to death looking for a job. All he could find here was some two-bit engagements."

Naturally, he beat it." Herb Six, a professor at the Kansas City Conservatory and himself an accomplished jazz pianist, was as gloomy as Stamps.

"There's plenty of potential jazz material left in Kansas City," Six said, "but it doesn't find any outlet here. So the young musicians either lose interest and originality or move elsewhere."

Historians of local jazz generally date its decline from the downfall of the late Tom Pendergast, the colorful political boss who kept Kansas City wide open until the late 1930s.

Some deduce that political reform however, desirable in major respects, has proved no unmitigated blessing for jazz. "Things get too quiet, things get square," one musician said.

Others contend that jazz and jazzmen have long since outgrown their gaudy origins.

The bookers put a major share of the blame on the 20 per cent entertainment tax and the early closing hours — 2 a.m. week nights and 12 midnight on Saturday.

"During the Pendergast days," said John Tamino, partner in Stamps' booking agency, "the joints stayed open all night. Oh, the midnight closing law's been on the books since 1933, but nobody used to enforce it. Club owners could afford more live entertainment. Where an operator used to hire a large band, he now uses a small combo, or maybe a single guy with a piano."

Similar thoughts came from Dave and Tom Reiser, a brother piano and guitar team featured at one of Kansas City's swankier establishments.

"There's the obvious economic angle," Dave said. "The operators don't make the profits they did in the old days and they don't like to take chances with new things. Add to this a general lack of showmanship. You've got to have some idea of presentation, to put your stuff across. That seems almost a lost art hereabouts."

"Maybe audiences don't really care much for individual expression any more. They want to see funny faces, they want the guy blowing the horn to do handstands besides."

But some of the cats who had taken to masonry and letter carrying couldn't keep from their instruments indefinitely.

Three veterans — George Salisbury, piano; J. Jackson, tenor sax; bandleader and bassist Roy Johnson — plus Bob Hopkins, a young drummer, recently formed a band because, as Johnson explained, "we just couldn't stand not playing any more. We'd rather play than eat." They set up shop in a place called the Trocadero.

Johnson proclaimed his jazzman's cred for dark times. "Man, things may be dragging, but it only takes a little spark to set you going," he said. "And ain't nobody can say where the next spark will come from."

Associated Press Leased Wire

No. 134

Weather

Clear to partly cloudy and continued warm through Saturday, highest this afternoon 75-85, lowest tonight 60-70.

VOLUME XLVI

Established 1908

Location Cited For Project

The general area adjacent to the Goldsboro section, outside the City limits, was cited last night as the most suitable location for a Negro housing development.

In recommending the area, the City Zoning and Planning Commission also recommended that the City assist any builder to the limit of its financial ability in bringing water and sewer facilities to such a development.

Girl Scout Week Will Be Opened At Vesper Service

A vesper service opening the county observance of Girl Scout Week will be held from 4 to 5 p. m. Sunday at Southside primary school. All Girl Scout troops in the county have been invited, along with parents and persons interested in the Girl Scout movement.

The program for the service was announced today by Mrs. F. E. Scott, chairman for special events for the Girl Scout leaders' organization of Seminole County. Miss Frances Cobb is president of the organization.

A number of songs, including "America," "The Hymn of Scout Song," "The Golden Sun," and "When the Campfire's Flame Ascends," will highlight the event.

Mrs. J. B. St. John will be the speaker.

The invocation will be given by the Rev. Lucian Scott and the benediction by the Rev. David S. Carnell. The candlelight service will be conducted by Miss Cobb.

The color guard will be active in the ceremony.

Girl Scout Week will be observed March 6-12.

Casselberry Man Awarded $22,500 In Damage Suit

After deliberating slightly more than two hours, a Seminole County court jury last night awarded $22,500 to Carl Pynn, 32, Casselberry salesman, for injuries received in an automobile collision last year.

The verdict followed three days of trial.

Pynn claimed 50 per cent disability in bringing a $75,000 suit against Mrs. Pauline B. Marshall and Robert William Walker, both of Orlando.

Mrs. Marshall was the driver and Walker the owner of the car that collided with Pynn's at the intersection of State Roads 436 and 454 at Forest City on Feb. 8, 1954.

The defendants lost counter-claims against Pynn. Mrs. Marshall was suing for $50,000 and Walker for $5,000.

The law firm of Maguire, Voorhis and Wells, Orlando, represented Pynn. Parker McDonald, Orlando, and Volle Williams Jr., Sanford, were counsel for Mrs. Marshall and Walker.

Library, Museum Come Up Tonight

The proposed General Sanford Library and Museum will come up for further discussion at an adjourned meeting of the City Commission tonight. The meeting will begin at 7:30.

Present will be members of the committee seeking construction of the memorial, which would house the library and effects of the late Gen. H. S. Sanford for whom the city was named.

A site in Ft. Mellon Park has been designated for the museum.

Missing Scientist At News Meeting

Large Turnout Sees Shuffleboard Play

Excitement ran high as 52 shuffleboard teams began the Handley Silver Cup Tournament under a blazing Florida sun this morning at the Sanford Tourist and Shuffleboard Courts.

Joseph Murray, official and director of the tourney, stated that the event would probably run up until late evening with the winner to be crowned.

Uof Candidates For College Head Narrowed To Three

ORLANDO (U)—The Board of Control seeking a president of the University of Florida has cut the field of candidates to three men—the heads of the universities of Arizona, Mississippi and Wyoming.

Dr. Ralph L. Miller, Orlando member of the board, confirmed this last night and added:

"A telephone vote was taken and a majority favored one man and that man has been contacted."

He declined to identify the man but acknowledged that the choice lies between Dr. R. A. Harvill of Arizona, Dr. George D. Humphrey of Wyoming and Dr. J. D. Williams of Mississippi.

Miller made the disclosure when asked for comment on a Jacksonville Journal story that Harvill was the choice of the seven-man board but that a minority favored Humphrey and Williams.

The Journal said "the proxy was that the board would not be able to reach a unanimous decision."

Other members of the board which will make its nomination to the Cabinet Board of Education, refused to say who was being considered or whether a decision had been made.

Couple Asks Court For Child's Custody

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Armed with trust in God and support from their neighbors, a blind and deaf couple tried Monday to convince a juvenile court judge that, in spite of their handicap, they should be allowed to rear their normal 11-day-old son.

"What is best for the baby is our only concern," said the head of the Summit County Welfare Department, which left a note for Harold Hathaway, 53, and his wife, Georgia, 32, suggesting their baby, Clarence, be placed in a foster home.

"They can't take my baby away from me," said Mrs. Hathaway. "Clarence is the only thing I ever had of my own in my whole life."

A tiny woman of only 3 feet 2, Mrs. Hathaway was born in South Dakota and grew up as an orphan. She became acquainted with her husband through a Braille correspondence.

TO REACH AGREEMENT
TOKYO (U)—Private Japanese interests and Red China will reach a basic fishing agreement about March 15, it was predicted here today. Talks have been under way in Peking since Jan. 14.

Florida Symphony Brought To Sanford By Local Sponsors

A concert by the renowned Florida Symphony of Orlando, was given in the Seminole High School auditorium this afternoon for the high school students of the county who warmly welcomed the excellently played program presented under the baton of Frank Miller.

Program notes for the special educational concert were given by the manager of the orchestra, Hub Craig, and added much to the enjoyment and appreciation of the offerings.

For a majority of the audience it was an introduction to Mr. Miller who has had the capable musical group in charge this year and who has delighted many audiences in addition to the one this afternoon with his effective and well-known hour of harmony.

The exceptional and privileged opportunity for the high school group to hear the orchestra was made possible by H. T. Milwe, Supr. of Public Instruction, and several sponsors listed as the Sanford Atlantic National Bank, First Federal Savings and Loan Assn., Florida State Bank, Citizens Bank of Oviedo, Lee Brothers, Inc., Hill Hardware Co., Randall Chase, Mrs. Louise Touhy and the Seminole County Board of Public Instruction.

The program was overture to "The Flying Dutchman" (Wagner), "Blue Danube Waltz" (Strauss), "The Funeral March of a Marionette" (Gounod), and "Circumstance March, No. 1" (Elgar) and "Spanish Caprice" (Rimsky-Korsakoff).

Pontecorvo remarks were translated from Italian into English, but he interrupted on occasion to correct the translator.

Today it is impossible to stand aside from life," he said, "the reactionary yellow press in capitalist countries tries to dampen the brain of the common people, but there are things which are clear even to children."

For instance, how is it possible to believe that the Soviet Union threatens the United States while American bases are situated near the Soviet Union?

Danger Point Has Not Been Hit In Stock Market, Head Testifies

WASHINGTON (U)—Edward T. McCormick president of the American Stock Exchange, testified today that in spite of record-high and still rising stock prices "we have not reached a danger point in the stock market."

McCormick said in his prepared statement he sees no indication of "excessive or unsound use of credit" in the market today.

And he said the fact that market price indices "have risen above the peaks which they attained in September of 1929 should not in itself be accorded too much significance."

"Whereas the stock market average shows an increase from 1929 of 13 per cent," McCormick said, "cost of living is up 36 per cent, term income 133 per cent, insurance premium collections 190 per cent, hourly wages 228 per cent, bank deposits 22 per cent, personal income 224 per cent, gross national product 342 per cent, and mortgage debt 254 per cent."

Chairman Fulbright (D-Ark.) of the banking committee quizzed yesterday's witness closely about a campaign by the New York exchange and its members to bring many more investors into the stock market.

Soviets Surprise Outsiders

Pontecorvo Has Center Of Stage

MOSCOW (U)—Prof. Bruno Pontecorvo held the center of the stage for an hour and 40 minutes at a news conference today. He disclosed little except that he has been a Soviet citizen since 1952. He declared he is working only on peaceful atomic projects.

The scientist was born in Italy but fled the West in 1950. His whereabouts had been a mystery, but Pravda last weekend revealed his presence in the Soviet Union. What prompted Soviet officials to arrange today's news conference—a rare thing in this country—was not exactly clear.

Asked by a Western correspondent if he would change over to atomic military work in case of a direct threat to the Soviet Union, Pontecorvo answered:

"I am a Soviet citizen and together with all Soviet people I am ready to serve the people to the best of my ability."

This seemed to be an elaborate way of saying yes.

His voice broke and words came slowly as he sent greetings to the physicists with whom he had worked in England.

"I must say I have feelings of great friendship and respect for them, especially the director of the laboratory where I worked, Prof. Sir John D. Cockcroft."

Pontecorvo said that many of these physicists are "honest, capable people who are blinded by the yellow press. Only thus can I explain their opinion about the Soviet Union."

Pontecorvo, who was given British citizenship for his work in World War II, disappeared in 1950 while working at England's top secret Harwell Atomic Research Station. He is now about 45 years old.

The dark-haired scientist answered questions of 75 reporters from both the Communist and non-Communist world at the conference, arranged by the U. S. S. R. Academy of Science in its white marble hall on the outskirts of Moscow.

He proclaimed firmly his belief that "Soviet science and Soviet physics hold the first place in the world."

He cited as proof the creation in the Soviet Union of what he called the world's first atomic powered electric station. But he added he was not connected with work on the station, which Russia said was established for industrial purposes.

Pontecorvo, speaking in Italian, said he had been in Russia four years.

"Today it is impossible to stand aside from life," he said, "the reactionary yellow press in capitalist countries tries to dampen the brain of the common people, but there are things which are clear even to children."

For instance, how is it possible to believe that the Soviet Union threatens the United States while American bases are situated near the Soviet Union?

Pontecorvo remarks were translated from Italian into English, but he interrupted on occasion to correct the translator.

Dress Revue Plans Discussed Today

Plans for the annual Dress Revue and Achievement Day program were discussed this morning at a meeting of the executive board of the county Home Demonstration Council.

Miss Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent, said the Dress Revue will be held April 21 at Lake Monroe School.

Achievement Day will be held May 6, in observance of Home Demonstration Week, at the Canine Kitchen on 25th St. Each club will furnish an exhibit of handiwork. The event will be open to the public and will run from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

POLICE CHARGE MAN
ROCHESTER, N.Y. (U)—Police today held a man who they said struck a 14-year-old cripple over the head with a hammer, robbed him of $30 and then stole his crutches to pawn them.

Herbert Dorsey, bleeding from head wounds, crawled two blocks from his apartment to a restaurant for help. He was reported in poor condition at General Hospital.

Florida Road Board Adopts '55 Schedule

Final Budget Approved By Group
Adds $1,587,000 To Tentative Plan

Strolling In Sanford

The room above Touchton's will be the scene of the meeting tonight at 8 o'clock with the Sanford Tourist and Shuffleboard Club. The session is scheduled to discuss the club's plans for the coming year.

County Judge Ernest Housholder, County Prosecutor Karlisle Housholder, and Sheriff J. L. Hobby are attending Florida's first Traffic Court Conference at the University of Florida, Gainesville. The conference will continue through Saturday. Judge Housholder will participate in a panel discussion on traffic court procedure in the county courts.

The Seminole County Vocational School is showing the film, "Filing Procedures in Business," by the Globe-Wernicke Company. The film will be shown on Monday at 8 p. m. and on Wednesday at 10 a. m. Anyone interested in seeing this film is cordially invited to see it at the school at either date. Office workers may be especially interested in the film.

A demonstration on "Safety in the Home" was given at 2:30 p. m. today at a meeting of the 7th Grade G.H. Club at Sanford Junior High School. Janet Goss is president of the club. Miss Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent, will conduct the demonstration.

ALIBI FAILS
AFTER GREETING
TRINIDAD, Colo. (AP)—The man told Peace Justice Tony Barron yesterday he was sorry but Police charges launched by Barron a stop sign, had been called out of town to tend an ailing relative.

He was a "good friend" of the defendant, the man said, and couldn't the case be continued.

STOWAWAYS FOUND
GENOA, Italy (U)—Nine stowaways were aboard the Argentine ship Corrientes when it docked yesterday. They all said they boarded the ship at Rio de Janeiro.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (U)—The U.N. Security Council turned today to Egyptian charges and Israeli counter-charges launched by Monday night's bloody border fighting near Gaza.

The explosive tension resulting from the clashes—in which 30 Egyptians and eight Israelis were reported killed—was heightened by militant statements from the Egyptian and Israeli premiers and Egyptian progress toward a new Arab military lineup against Israel.

There was some expectation the council would postpone its discussion of the rival charges until after a report from the Egypt-Israel-U.N. Mixed Armistice Commission in Palestine. The commission, which supervises the 1948 truce along the Egypt-Israel border, is expected to meet Sunday on the Gaza fighting.

Egypt Wednesday charged Israeli forces with "violent and premeditated aggression" in the 20-mile-long Gaza coastal strip occupied by Egyptian forces.

Egypt charged Israeli troops with attacking a military camp near the ancient city of Gaza, two miles inside the territory, and with ambushing a truckload of reinforcements. Egypt termed this the "most brutal act of aggression" since the 1948 armistice.

Israel's counterclaim, filed yesterday, made no mention of the Gaza battle but accused Egypt of "continuous violations" of the armistice agreement and council resolutions. It charged:

(1) armed attacks on Israeli troops, (2) raids on Israeli citizens, (3) Egyptian failure to prevent such acts, (4) assertion of a state of war and execution of active belligerency against Israel, including a blockade, (5) "warlike propaganda and threats," and (6) refusal to negotiate a peace treaty to end the armistice.

Informal sources said all other Arab actions would be invited to join the new alliance, which is designed to replace the nonfunctioning Arab League collective defense treaty.

The complaint was in line with Israel's usual strategy of trying to shift such council debates from particular incidents to the general Arab-Israeli situation and the need for an over, long-term solution.

Earlier Israeli statements in Jerusalem on the Gaza fighting charged the Egyptians attacked first inside Israel and were chased back into Egypt.

In Damascus yesterday, Egypt and Syria announced they had signed a new defense pact which Syrian Prime Minister Sabri Bishara said resulted from the need for "practical and decisive measures to safeguard the Arab countries from repeated Israeli aggression."

Informal sources said all other Arab actions would be invited to join the new alliance, which is designed to replace the nonfunctioning Arab League collective defense treaty.
