City's Insurance Rating Revalued By Representative

A representative of the South-eastern Fire Underwriters visited Sanford recently to revalue the City of Sanford for insurance rating purposes.

While observing that the fire fighting potential of the City's Fire Department had not kept pace with the growth and expansion of the city, he commented on the record that the department had been able to maintain.

O. G. Carpenter particularly noted the changes and improvements that had taken place in the water distribution system under the recently completed water and sewer program.

While not committing himself on the results of his investigation, Carpenter did indicate that these water improvements would do much toward helping the City of Sanford maintain its present classification.

Carpenter expressed and showed a great deal of interest in some of the contemplated changes for the future at the water plant and the well field site.

The additions to the Fire Department, under the Capital Improvement program were discussed with Carpenter by city officials and he concurred on their need.

Among other points discussed with city officials, he pointed out that the recent policy to restrict the fire service to the city limits, except for a few cases, would help the residents of Sanford obtain a better report.

Carpenter requested that his office be notified when the changes and additions had been completed in the water and fire departments so that an engineer could come to Sanford to re-evaluate the city's facilities.

It is through such efforts that Sanford is able to assist its residents in regards to fire insurance premiums.

Carpenter maintains offices in Atlanta, Ga.

Officials To Review Bids For Dormitory

DeWitt, Furnell & Spicer, Inc., of St. Petersburg, was apparent low bidder yesterday on the construction of the New York Giants dormitory which will be located at the corner of Mellonville and Celery Aves.

The amounts of the bids were not released pending review of the five bids submitted and opened in the office of Sanford architect John Burton III.

Present for the opening of the bids yesterday afternoon was Carl Hubbell, director of the New York Giants Farm System. With Hubbell was City Commissioner John Krider.

More than a score of representatives of bidding contractors attended the opening of the bids.

Burton notified newsmen and construction of the New York Giants dormitory will not be awarded until the bids are reviewed and studied in New York by officials of the New York Giants.

It is expected, said Burton, that the contract will be awarded within the next week or ten days.

Other bids, in the order of their prices submitted were: J. C. Harper Construction Co., Orlando; Ken Smith Construction Co., Daytona Beach; H. J. High Construction Co., Orlando; and Carroll Daniel Construction Co., Sanford.

Contract times named in the bids, were 170 days for DeWitt, Furnell & Spicer, Inc., 230 days for J. C. Harper Construction Co.; 160 days for Ken Smith Construction Co.; 120 days for H. J. High Construction Co.; and 180 days for Carroll Daniel Construction Co.

Burton stated that bidders were bonded for 21 days to allow time for the bids to be reviewed and considered before being awarded.

Alternate bids were submitted by three of the bidders for a change of material in the interior partitions.

A two per cent variation in bids between the lowest and highest bidders brought differences of costs for construction to a minimum. However, bids were within the estimated cost of construction.

No Injuries Are Suffered As Auto Skids, Turns Over

An automobile, out of control, skidded more than a hundred yards and came to a stop on its top on a Longwood street last night just before midnight.

Joseph Charles Horn, driving a borrowed 1950 Chevrolet two-door sedan, lost control of the car as he rounded a curve meeting a car which he believed was on the wrong side of the street.

The 18-year-old Navy boy, attached to VAF-11 of the Sanford Naval Air Station, plowed along the shoulders of the paved street, and came to a standstill on the paved highway.

Neither the driver nor his companion, Robert G. Hugesbach also a Navy man, were injured. The car was owned by Robert Hoss.

The companion of the driver and the owner of the car were also attached to VAF-11 of the Sanford Navy Base.

The car was traveling east on the old Sanford-Longwood-Orlando road, toward Sanford.

Damage was estimated at $450. Florida Highway Patrolman, Carl Williams, investigated the accident. He said that the car was apparently being driven at a high rate of speed.

Town Marshal Claude Layo assisted Patrolman Williams at the scene.

Sanford To Get Car Rental Co.

Merle Warner, operator of Warner's Gulf Service Station, First St. at Sanford Ave., has signed and completed an exclusive franchise with the National Car Rental System, Inc., for Seminole County, and parts of Volusia and Orange Counties.

The new car rental company here will be known as Sanford National Car Rentals and will be located, temporarily, at Warner's Gulf Service Station.

Warner, in announcing the completion of the franchise, said "We will have 30 cars, pickups and moving vans for rental in the immediate future." He said, "all of these cars and motor trucks will be changed every year to provide the most up-to-date cars for our customers."

"A new location for Sanford National Car Rentals will be announced sometime in the near future," said Warner who explained that plans have not been completed at this time.

"At peak periods," Warner explained, "when cars come in from various sections of the state, we expect to have as many as 100 cars on hand for short periods of time."

"Sanford National Car Rentals will provide automobile service to any city in the State of Florida, either one way or roundtrip," he said.

"Our service also provides automobile service to winter visitors, the expected huge crowd attending the winter PGA tournament, visiting Navy personnel, industrialists, and family needs for a second car," said Warner.

Sanford National Car Rentals automobiles aren't marked or bannered so that their appearance will be that of a family, personal or business car, Warner explained, and they may be rented around the clock seven days a week. We will even have night phones for those who need cars in an emergency.

"Another feature of Sanford National Car Rentals will be that customers will be provided with courtesy passes, which they may use here or at any office in the system," Warner explained.

The National Car Rental System is represented in all principal cities of the country as well as Canada and principal foreign countries.

Plans for the official visit of District Governor Frank A. McDonald of Tampa on Aug. 27 will be formulated and all committee chairmen will be briefed as to the importance of having their reports ready for Gov. Frank's Club Assembly.

Applying Pupil Assignment Law To Be 'Tremendous Job'

WHERE DO I GO NOW? seems to ask the pup as he surveys the wreckage of his home in Longwood. The car on the left smashed into the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Elgin on Palmelle St. (Staff Photo)

Woman Plows Car Into Florida Room Of Longwood Home

The 38-year-old wife of an Air Force man, apparently suffering from shock, ran from the emergency room of the Florida Sanatorium last night shortly after 7 o'clock, when taken there following an accident in which she plowed her automobile into the Florida room of a Longwood home.

Mrs. Diane Maria Norton, whose home address was given as Route 1, Box 84, Longwood, is said to have "blacked out", sideswiped a power pole, smashed into a fire hydrant, and then crashed into the Florida room of a home on Palmelle Ave. in Longwood, as she drove east on the city street.

Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Elgin were away from their home at the time of the accident. The car, a 1953 Pontiac Coach, tore out the entire front of the house and smashed a sofa where the Elgins usually lounged. Jalousied windows, overhead beams, concrete block, and siding were torn away as the car came to a stop across the front room of the home.

Florida Highway Patrol Trooper T. Mark Mack and Patrolman Carl Williams estimated the damage to the home and furnishings at $1,500. Damage to the car, they said, would estimate about $500.

Mrs. Norton's husband is reported to be stationed at the Air Force's Homebased base near Miami.

Hospital Reserve Generator Is Used 1st Time Tuesday

The Seminole Memorial Hospital used its emergency generator for the first time since the hospital has been opened last Tuesday night during a temporary power failure.

Hospital Administrator Harry Weir said that the emergency generator used during the 30 minutes or more that commercial power was not available enabled the hospital to continue its services.

The operating room, nursery, oxygen systems, nursery incubators and many of the necessary facilities of the hospital are dependent upon continuous electric power for their operation.

Weir said, "This is the first time we've had to use the emergency generator, but it has proved its necessity and value to the hospital during the temporary power failure."

White Man Is Charged With Molesting Child

A 64-year-old white man was released this morning under $5,000 bond by Justice of the Peace W. Hugh Duncan after being charged with the molesting of a four-year-old child.

J. A. "Jim" Lloyd of Lake Mary was taken into custody shortly after midnight this morning and lodged in the Seminole County Jail following the issuance of a warrant in Justice of the Peace court by the mother of the small child.

The elderly man was held in the county jail for 11 hours before being released under bond following the preliminary hearing.

Lloyd is being held under bond for the Grand Jury which meets in November and for the Fall term of the Circuit Court.

The 64-year-old man was taken into custody by Deputy Sheriff Morgan McClelland in Lake Mary at his home.

His only statements, according to the office of Seminole County Sheriff Luther Hobby were "I am not guilty of the charge." It is also reported that Lloyd stated "I think there is a misunderstanding."

He was released from the Seminole County Jail shortly after 11 o'clock this morning.

Lloyd pleaded "not guilty" this morning when arraigned before Justice of the Peace W. Hugh Duncan.

ACTRESS MAY ENTER GOVERNOR'S RACE

HOLLYWOOD, Mo.—Actress Cleo Moore, 27, says she is thinking of running for governor of her native Louisiana in 1960 and becoming "a political Florence Nightingale."

"Any great politician has to be a great actor," she said. If she's elected, she said she will seek more rights for women. "But all my right-hand men will be men," she added.

Boards Must Be Ready

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — State School Supt. Thomas D. Bailey says county school boards are faced with a "tremendous job" of administering Florida's new pupil assignment law.

With the fall school term opening next month, he said county boards must be prepared to implement the new law immediately.

The law was the key measure in the program enacted by the special legislative session to head off integration in the public schools.

Bailey offered the assistance of the Department of Education in working out administrative problems.

He plans to send each of the 67 county boards a copy of the new law and a letter outlining responsibilities of the school boards under its provisions. He also plans to call a meeting of county school superintendents to discuss the legislation.

The 2,000-word measure sets up criteria for assignment of pupils to schools for which they are best suited.

It provides that in determining where a pupil shall be assigned the county boards may conduct "uniform tests" to classify pupils according to "intellectual ability and scholastic proficiency."

Bailey said that as he interprets it, school boards will have to apply the provisions to every child seeking to enroll in a school he had not previously attended. This would include new first graders.

"Under the law, in applying to first grades some Negro children will be showing up in the white schools there," Bailey said.

The law also instructs county school boards in preparing tests and classifying pupils for assignment to various schools to take into account "such sociological, psychological and like intangible social scientific factors as will prevent, as nearly as practicable, any condition of socio-economic class consciousness among the pupils attending any given school."

Bailey said county boards undoubtedly would need assistance in developing these intangible factors and "it is obvious some pattern must be set up."

The school superintendent said that he was consulted only once by a member of the Fabianski Committee which recommended the legislation before the law was drafted and "apparently no one gave much thought to the administration of the law."

"It is certain that pupils no longer can be assigned to a particular school solely on racial grounds," he said.

"The county boards must have sound reasons other than race when they assign any pupil to a specific school. Otherwise, the whole program will fall at the first test of the courts."

Game Forfeited To Burpee Team

The Hunt-McRoberts team in the city-wide softball league, now playing its championship games, last night forfeited a game by assigning a pitcher for the game that had been disqualified because of the fact that he had pitched for one of the losing teams of the league, according to Howard Gordie, director of the softball league phase of the city-wide recreation program.

According to Gordie, City Manager Warren E. Knowles also declared that the game would be forfeited if a pitcher from one of the losing teams was assigned to last night's game.

The game was forfeited to the W. Atee Burpee team which is playing in the five game championship playoffs.

The forfeited game brought the playoff standings to a tie, two games won by each team.

Don Merritt, the pitcher in question, who had pitched for the Robinson Sporting Goods team during league play, was notified by Umpire Harold Meckbach after the first pitched ball that the game was forfeited.

However, play continued under protest from Captain-Manager of the Hunt-McRoberts team, Eugene Pennington.

WEAPONLESS BULLFIGHT

SAN DIEGO, Calif., AP—A judge has refused to stop a weaponless bullfight, saying the definition of what would worry a bull was a "264,000 question."

Superior Judge William A. Glen has been asked by the Humane Society to stop the event scheduled for Aug. 18 in municipal Balboa Stadium on the ground that just worrying a bull for exhibition was against state law.

The event has been billed by promoters as a "bloodless" exhibition, with fighters and bulls coming from Mexico.

Dependency Is No Longer Bar For Reenlistment

Dependency is no longer a bar for reenlistment in the Marine Corps for former Corporals and PFC's.

Former Marine Corporals and Privates First Class with dependents may now be reenlisted if certain conditions are met. Heretofore, dependency was a bar to reenlistment for men in those ranks.

Morning Worship 11 a.m.
Evening Evangelistic Service 7:45 p.m.
Weekly Services:
Tuesday and Thursday 7:45 p.m.
Regular: Saturday Morning Broadcast over WTRR 10:35 a.m.

According to an announcement by Marine Corps officials, reenlistment of men in this category will be acceptable providing their marital status or the existence of dependents will not cause a hardship or interfere with their overall value to the Corps.

This action has been taken by the Corps in order to obtain the services of desirable married ex-Marines who were above average in the performance of their duties but would otherwise be ineligible for reenlistment because of dependency.

Corporals and PFC's with dependents must have been recommended for reenlistment by their commanding officer at time of discharge.

For more detailed information about this new policy, former Marines are advised to visit their local Marine Corps recruiting office.

Miracle Is Needed To Head Off Record High Traffic Toll

CHICAGO (AP) - The National Safety Council said today it will take "almost a miracle" to head off a record high national traffic toll in 1954.

Ned H. Dearborn, council president, made the prediction on the basis of statistics showing that 18,120 persons have been killed in traffic accidents in the first six months of this year.

It set a new all-time high for the period, overshadowing the previous mark of 17,300 for the first half of 1953. The traffic death toll for the first six months of 1954 represented a 10 per cent increase over a similar period last year.

The June traffic toll was 3,400, the largest number for a June month in history and 14 per cent higher than June a year ago. The previous June mark of 3,113 was set in 1952.

Dearborn said at the present rate the record traffic toll of 30,000, set in 1941, will be exceeded by some 2,000.

"It will take almost a miracle to head off a record high toll," Dearborn said.

"But this miracle can happen if the American public is sufficiently sheeped by what is going on to stop doing the things that are causing these accidents.

"Courtesy, common sense and care will do the trick."

Of 47 states reporting traffic figures for the six-month period, 34 showed increases, 11 decreases and two no change. Rhode Island led with a 60 per cent decrease followed by New Hampshire 34 per cent; Minnesota 17; Connecticut 14; South Dakota 13, and Nevada 12.

For the six-month period, in cities with more than 200,000 population, Dallas, Tex., led the way with a 87 per cent decrease in

During the six-month period, 188 cities reported no traffic deaths. The three leaders, in order of size, were Reading, Pa., 100,300; Utic, N.Y., 101,000, and Pawcatuck, R.I., 81,400.

WASHINGTON (AP) - The United States is developing various types of atomic and hydrogen weapons based on "new principles" and is expanding its plants to be ready to turn them out in quantity.

This was disclosed by the Atomic Energy Commission in its semi-annual report to Congress covering the six months ended June 30. During this period, the AEC said, there was progress in every principal aspect of the nation's atomic energy program.

The AEC disclosed also that this nation has now become "the world's leading producer of uranium ore" - having taken the production lead from another country during the last six months. The AEC declined to say which country, but presumably it was Canada or the Belgian Congo.

As for weapons research laboratories - one at Los Alamos, N.M., and the other at Livermore, Calif. - were "working on new principles" and that, as a result, "the United States' family of weapons in various stages of research, development, and production engineering, is increasing rapidly."

Sanford One Of Choice Locations For Business, Industry To Operate

It seems as if there is a perennial permit for grumbling.

And without a doubt the favorite subject—in the grumbling and complaining category—is high taxes.

Tax and tax structures are the most attractive features in drawing business, industry, and enterprise to any community. For that reason, Sanford stands in a position to attract whatever it might wish in the way of added payrolls.

Sanford's tax millage, at the present time, is among the five lowest in the State of Florida and is comparable to practically every city of its size.

But there is another advantage—several of them in fact—along with a tax structure that is attractive to businessmen, industrialists, builders, investors, and enterprise of every category Sanford has the natural advantages—good climate, transportation by rail, truck, air and possibly water.

To put them all together, business people in Sanford have much to brag about—more than businessmen in cities of comparable size and even larger.

Sanford needs, and in some way must secure, a promotion program that will advertise its advantages in areas where prospective new business people are located.

Let's look at the economic features sound thinking people are looking for: a new improved sewer system, a water system second to none, one of the finest hospitals in the country, improved highways, recreational facilities that other cities look at with envy, and a friendly population in which it is easy to get acquainted.

Sanford is fortunate indeed to have a progressive thinking Board of Commissioners which will work hard to maintain an even economy—to watch closely the spending in operation—than it will to accomplish personal endeavor. Businessmen should be aware that their Board of Commissioners look out for the interests of all—investors and citizens alike.

There is no doubt that Sanford is one of the choice locations in the State of Florida where industry and business can operate on a sound footing—with the assurance that the tax structure is to their benefit and not one that will gouge and demand.

If it is the tax structure—the millage that must be paid—then Sanford should be in the top place to be selected by prospective investors in the community.

Legal Motto For Nation

There has been no legal motto for the nation designated by the Congress. But a Florida Representative will correct this oversight—thanks to Charles E. Bennett of Jacksonville, now serving in the Congress of the United States.

Awaiting President Eisenhower's signature is the measure which Representative Bennett sponsored to make "In God We Trust" the legal motto of our great country. The bill will soon become law as when the President affixes his signature and there is no doubt that he will.

Our minted coins, at least most of them, already have the motto "In God We Trust" on them. However, the same is not true of our paper money, although it is expected that the situation will undoubtedly be remedied in the future.

It is entirely fitting that our nation should have such a motto legally. Our forefathers put their trust in God when they came to this new land; they continued to trust in Him when they battled for their independence and as they bound together a great nation.

Now, as a leader among the nations of the world we must continue that trust in God in order that our leadership shall be of the highest calibre; of the soundest stock.

Our motto "In God We Trust" should be not only a simple legal term, but should be one which we follow in the deepest sincerity throughout our lives; as individuals and as a nation.

Installment Buying

Installment buying, a highly useful procedure by which countless families have obtained everything from the new air conditioner to the sewing machine, also can have hidden hazards.

The Better Business Bureau and other groups which give good advice to trusting buyers have been issuing warnings again, warnings chiefly just to know what you're doing when you sign a contract to pay on time.

The rules are simple for being sure that the deal is honest and sound, with a reasonable amount of interest being charged for the slow payment. First, read what you're signing, every word, and be sure you're willing to act accordingly. Second, add up the total amount to be paid—and be sure the item is worth it. Third, be on the alert for extra complications and extra charges.

Time purchasing can be a great convenience with a fair business arrangement, or it can be a sink hole in which the customer can get submerged before he realizes what is happening. If he uses his common sense at the start he usually can avoid trouble later.

Business Pickup Seen For Fall

BY SAM BAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen may find the hunting happy this fall because consumers seem likely to have more money to spend.

Payroll totals have been rising this year and many individual pay checks are set to rise again. This is far from universal but there'll be enough more money around to make a difference to the merchants.

Farmers should have more cash on hand—from soil bank payments and other governmental supports as well as from higher prices on some of their products.

If you're among the fortunate with more income, from whatever source—paycheck, dividends, interest, rents—you will have a wider choice of things to spend this additional money for. And some of the goods and services will carry slightly higher price tags.

What worries the merchants and those in the service industries today is how you'll handle the new cash: how much will go for goods and conveniences, how much will go into savings, into stocks and other investments, and how much will be just disappearing down the drain of paying up old contracted debts.

On the eve of the steel strike, the Dept. of Commerce reports, personal income totals had risen to a record annual rate of $34 billion dollars. This was 18 million dollars higher than in June, 1955. The gain was particularly strong in non-manufacturing industries. Dividend and interest payments in the first half of this year topped 1955 by three billion dollars.

Much of the increased spending money went right into retail trade which has been comfortably above last year's level. Some of the increased personal income never reached the spendable stage, since the tax collector was there to take a chunk of it.

More of what was left over has been going into savings, of late. Most forms of savings show a good gain.

Billions have been put into repayments of money borrowed last year in the big buying-on-time spree.

Much has gone into buying of stocks and into other investments. The right of service personnel to $10,000 in free life insurance. And it provides that after that date discharged personnel will no longer be allowed to buy low-cost government life insurance, unless they are disabled.

The total of corporate securities floated in the first half of this year is around four billion dollars, although only part of this found a final resting place in individual hands.

Many observers look for a pickup in business to start after the Labor Day holiday, with more spending all around—by individuals, by business.

Presley May Be National Blessing

BY HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

There is a saying that times of great ordeal create great heroes. If this is true, Elvis Presley may be the unrecognized hero of America's greatest present need—someone to restore sex to its proper perspective.

Presley, the Caruso of the teenage crowd, is a young former truckdriver, known by both his admirers and detractors as "Elvis the Pelvis." Many music critics say Presley's lusty caterwauling is away below par.

Elvis is perhaps even more renowned for his hip wiggles than his vocal arias, and these have brought him denunciations from ministers and parents, who say his wiggles are too "suggestive."

But Presley's charm, whatever they are, have brought him four Cadillac and an annual income greater than that of the president of the United States, who, of course, can't even play a guitar.

Personally, I can't see this honest but rich young Tennessee minstrel as a national calamity. He may, indeed, turn out to be a national blessing.

And for a very simple reason. Elvis undoubtedly will give rise to a crop of imitators. And anybody who imitates his inspired writhings is bound to make sex

Party Conventions To Do Deciding

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Presidents Eisenhower and Roosevelt both patted their vice presidents on the head and said they'd be glad to have them aboard for a second term. Then both added a chilling footnote.

They said the party conventions would do the deciding. That footnote, leaving the door open for political maneuvering, was fatal in the case of Harry Wallace, Franklin D. Roosevelt's vice president. He had his throat cut in the 1944 Democratic convention. Roosevelt helped in the job.

At the moment Eisenhower's vice president, Richard Nixon, seems to have a clear track for renomination. So maybe he'll get it.

But Eisenhower has just given Harold Stassen, his aide on disarmament, a month's leave of absence so he can try to stir up Republican feeling against Nixon. Stassen asked for the leave.

You're wrong if you get the impression—from what Eisenhower has been saying lately—that he means the Republican convention this month is fully free to pick anyone it wants as his running mate.

In 1955 Eisenhower said a convention's presidential nominee should refuse to run if the convention picks a vice presidential candidate unacceptable to him.

Roosevelt was the first president, who really used his vice president—his third-term vice president, Wallace—as something other than a figurehead. He sent him on foreign missions, used him in the government. Eisenhower has done the same with Nixon.

In 1944, near Democratic convention time, Wallace told Roosevelt he wanted to run again. Roosevelt wrote a note which was published before the convention. Praising Wallace highly for his work in government, Roosevelt said of him:

"... I like him and respect him and he is my personal friend. For these reasons I personally would vote for his renomination if I were a delegate to the convention. At the same time, I do not wish to appear in any way as dictating... Obviously the convention must do the deciding. But Roosevelt agreed with the political leaders on the choice of Harry S. Truman and dumped

Wallace. Wallace didn't seem to know what hit him at the time. Eisenhower, in speaking of Nixon repeatedly at news conferences has used some of the identical words Roosevelt used about Wallace, although he may never have seen the Roosevelt note.

Railroad To Cancel Unloading Charges

LAKELAND (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission, after 2 years of hearings and discussions, has notified the Growers and Shippers League of Florida that it is ordering railroads to cancel unloading charges applying to fresh fruits and vegetables arriving in New York City and Philadelphia. The order, according to the ICC, will become effective no later than Aug. 16.

Long term negotiations have been underway by the Growers and Shippers League to have charges for railroad convenience-unloading canceled. The charges, made in New York and Philadelphia only, have been made by the railroads for unloading cars at the pier in New York or at auction warehouses in Philadelphia.

The League, retained by the Florida Citrus Commission to handle transportation matters for the citrus industry, had been successful during its long fight in unloading charges. In spite of reductions, however, it had steadfastly insisted that these specific loads were for the convenience of the railroads, and should not be paid by the shipper. The ICC announcement apparently indicates the elimination of all charges of this type after Aug. 16.

Gordon Steadman, vice president of the Growers and Shippers League, reported to the Florida Citrus Commission that the cancellation of unloading charges would result in a saving to Florida citrus shippers of approximately $300,000 annually.

Stedman told the Commission that complete details of the ICC decision have not been received in Florida, but that official confirmation of the ICC cancellation order has been made.

My grace is sufficient for thee.—2 Cor. 12:9.

Vets May Reinstate Lost Policies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration said Thursday that thousands of veterans who have lost their five-year term GI insurance since July 23, 1955 may now be reinstated.

The Survivors Benefit Act that President Eisenhower signed Wednesday contains a retroactive provision giving such an opportunity to veterans of World War II and of the Korean War who lost their insurance because of failure to pay the last one or two monthly payments of their five-year policies. Term policies are renewed at a higher rate at the end of each five-year period.

The VA said only those veterans who failed to pay their 50th and 60th monthly premiums are affected.

Starting Jan. 1 all servicemen will come under the Social Security system and benefits will be increased for many survivors of war.

The bill also ends, as of Dec. 31, the right of service personnel to $10,000 in free life insurance.

And it provides that after that date discharged personnel will no longer be allowed to buy low-cost government life insurance, unless they are disabled.

One Extra Pound of Milk Per Day Pays for Purina
In terms of milk, it takes only about 1 lb. of extra milk a day or 300 lbs. per lactation to pay for Purina, compared to poorer, low-cost rations.

Thousands of dairymen who have switched to Purina have upped production per cow as much as 2,000 lbs. of milk in one lactation. This leaves a healthy profit margin of 1,700 lbs. of extra milk to sell. In the long run it's actually cheaper to feed a top-line ration than to skimp cows on poor feeds.

Purina Milking Chows hold body condition, help cows win line their roughage better and supply the milk-making properties needed for high production. Are you interested in bigger profits?

Pasture Feeding Important
Good pasture is a great asset to many dairymen because it makes the cheapest milk. It is serious handicap to others because cows lose condition on it. This causes production slumps in summer and fall.

Also feed hay on pasture. It helps them hold body weight. If out of hay, feed Bulky-Las. Just pour 1/2 gallon per head on the usual grain ration night and morning. It's economical 5 bushels is every 100 lbs.

People Of Oviedo Bid 'Goodby' As Stewart Gatchel Receives Promotion

By MARIAN JONES

OVIEDO — As time for school approaches, we are faced with the fact that we are losing our old principal, Stewart Gatchel. Of course, we do not begrudge Mr. Gatchel his promotion to supervising principal of Seminole County, but his gain is our loss.

Mr. Gatchel, who is from Seminole County—coming here from Sanford—was a well known figure in the county before accepting the position in Oviedo. He had also spoken on "Life At West Point" before the P-T.A.

He and his pretty wife, Dorothy, and two adorable children, Gail and Bobby, have certainly been an asset to Oviedo. They plan to remain until their home, which is on the market to sell, is sold. We have even been so mean as to wish that they would be a long time in selling same.

The children have been crazy about him, the teachers like him and so do the parents.

Even though they had two tiny children when they came here three years ago, they never missed a ball game, no matter how great the distance, carrying the children, too, unless it fell, as it does once or twice a year, on a P-T.A. night. That, of course, forced Gatchel to remain.

One of the members of the girls team once told him: "Nobody cares anything about the girls but Mr. and Mrs. Gatchel and Mr. and Mrs. Jones." That was following a tournament game the girls participated in when they were the only spectators in addition to the boys team.

He is a good sport, too. This past year following the loss of the game at Gainesville, he and Mrs. Gatchel started home with their car laden with cheer leaders. (The children had remained with their grandmother on this occasion to make room for the girls).

Enroute home something happened to the car, and it made such a noise they had to stop to be heard. There were no facilities available at that time of night to fix it.

Fearful of being stopped by police and detained, making the girls' mothers anxious as to their safety, it became a game to skirt the edges of the towns approached and try to coast through in order not to attract attention.

Mrs. Gatchel said to climax the tale that all of the neighborhood dogs became alarmed when they drove into their yard and they could envision everyone up to see what was wrong.

Into the garage the car went and out came the old jalopy they had prior to the purchase of the new one, to finish the final lap of the journey—the trip to Chuluota to take one of the cheer leaders home.

A hilarious time was had by all in spite of the near-breaking down of the game!

As news circulated about "Wild ride through the night" a great deal of fun was had by all, even teasing him to the effect that an investigation was in progress as all towns had reported the noisy car and were on the lookout for it.

The Lions Roar, the little school paper just begun this past year by the Junior Class of the Oviedo High School, wrote it all up.

Mr. and Mrs. Gatchel were certainly both good sports and enjoyed the fun as much, if not more than anyone.

Good luck to the Gatchels, for we know they will succeed where or they go. We will welcome our new principal, W. H. DeShazo, in another article and know he will carry on from where Gatchel left off.

We will add that while our friends the Gatchels were having such a time that night that they said we passed them, unknowingly, riding in style in an air conditioned Cadillac — not ours, mind you—but belonging to a good friend who had invited us to go with them to Gainesville.

In order to keep up our good spirit to counteract the disappointment over the loss of the game, we were also having our good time. We had some cheer leaders with us, too, and we were all teasing two of the ladies who had just set up and leave the next morning by 6 a. m. to go to Ocala with their husbands—it was 3 a. m. when we got home.

They said they made it to Ocala—but didn't say how much they slept enroute. In fact, all the adults were up and on the job. The cheer leaders—home asleep in the bed. Who was the youngest?

Try This One

Did you know you can make beaten biscuit at home a simple way? Instead of beating the dough a half an hour or so you simply put it through the food chopper eight times. The puffy hollow biscuits are delicious with a ham filling. Serve them as a first course at lunch or supper with a pitcher of tomato juice cocktail, or as a snack in the afternoon or evening with coffee or tea.

But if beaten biscuit doesn't lure you, make up a batch of our rich little cocktail biscuits. They're good, too, with the ham filling.

Along with the ham-filled tidbits, serve squares of bread smothered with a snappy cheese mixture and browned under the broiler.

NEW BEATEN BISCUIT
Ingredients: 2 cups sifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup shortening, 1/2 cup cold water.
Method: Sift flour and salt together. Cut in shortening until the mixture resembles coarse meal. Stir in water. Knead dough 4-5 minutes. Put dough through a food chopper 8 times, using the medium blade. Roll dough 1/4-inch thick. Fold in half. Roll again to 1/4-inch thickness. Shape with a 1/2-inch round biscuit cutter. Bake 25 to 30 minutes or until lightly browned in a pre-heated moderate (350 degrees) oven. These biscuits will puff and the centers will be hollow due to the fact that they are not puffed over the top. Split, when cold, and fill with Smithfield Ham Filling. Serve at canapés with vegetable juice. Makes 30 biscuits.

Rich Englishman, Bride Are Wed On Excursion Boat

A wealthy Englishman and his bride were off to a secret honeymoon site yesterday after a Mississippi River sand bar wedding party that ran for part last night.

Christopher Bailey, 25, of Mouthshire, son of a shipbuilder, was married to Sarah McMaster of London Wednesday on the main deck of a river excursion boat. A bale of cotton served as the altar.

The brief, simple ceremony was the only solemn moment in the carnival event. The bash didn't last long. The fashionably dressed crowd of about 150 on the Memphis Queen II pitched in to celebrate.

At the request of the groom, hot dogs were the main entree at the wedding supper. Huge bonfires flared for the roasting.

The marriage was a double one—the first by a Tennessee justice of the peace, Frank Norfleet, a Memphis cottonman; the second by R. E. L. Wilson of Wilson, Ark., a plantation owner and also a justice of the peace.

Two ceremonies made it absolutely legal, since a Memphis Queen was gliding along the middle of the broad, brown river, right on the Tennessee-Arkansas state line.

The groom, clad in a crisp suit of white, a black stovepipe hat and an auburn wig, arrived at the wedding in an ancient London taxi, accompanied by bachelors and the best man, Sidney West Jr. of Memphis.

The bride's arrival was more sedate. Daughter of an athletic goods manufacturer, she wore a waist-length gown of seafaring green designed by her uncle Victor Stibbel, a London couturier. With her was her fiancée's sister Elaine.

The novel wedding was planned by Bailey's friends here when, during a brief visit, he "fell in love" with the mile-wide river and its free-lined banks.

As Bailey himself summed it up, "It was a good show."

BIBLE SCHOOL
Vacation Bible School will be held at the Upala Community Presbyterian Church beginning Monday, Aug. 6, at 9 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. for boys and girls of all ages. Saturday, Aug. 4, at 9:30 a. m. a parade will start at Little Venice with all children joining. It will pass through Loch Arbor to Vinewood Road then to 20th Street then to the church for registration and a social time.

L. Nielsen Doing Better This Trip

HOLLYWOOD — His friends in Canada will be happy to know Leslie Nielsen is doing much better this trip.

He didn't have it so good the first time. That was in 1925, when he was a stripling of 19 just out of the Royal Canadian Air Force. Leslie labored as a bus boy in L. V. Blue Room, a now defunct bistro on the Sunset Strip. He even worked his way up to being pantry man there. He also parked cars in a lot on Western Avenue. More intellectually, he helped a friend translate a scientific tom from French to English. His net return from the chore? O.

Leslie went back to Canada. He was born in Regina and reared in Edmonton, the son of a Mountie. Did his father always get his name? "Nearly always." But the regimented life of the Northwest fountined Police didn't appeal to the boy. When he returned to Canada, he tried to break into radio in Saskatchewan.

Wary of working for $14 a week as an announcer and disc jockey, he applied at a radio school in Ontario. There he won a scholarship to New York's noted drama school, the Neighborhood Playhouse. When he graduated, his career started to take off.

Now he's MGM's brightest new prospect for stardom. He's now starring in "Capital Offense," having just been loaned to Universal-International for "ammy" with Debbie Reynolds.

Leslie is tall, powerfully built with blonde hair and a strong, expressive face. He is one of that new breed of TV-trained actors.

"I've done some summer stock and one play on Broadway which lasted eight performances," he said. "Otherwise everything I've learned after leaving the playhouse has been from television. I have done between 125 and 150 shows, including all the top dramatic programs in New York. It's the greatest experience you can get."

Like most actors from New York, Leslie had some misgivings about signing an exclusive deal with MGM.

"But my agent said if you're going to get into pictures, you might as well get in all the way," he said. "He told me a two-picture-a-year deal wasn't worth anything unless you have a name."

The GOLDEN WITCH

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN

IN THE DAYS that followed, Meg decided the Larkins "reduction" case came along at just the right time to whet the curious side of people's minds. Christmas was over; the gold rush was stalled until spring; folks were weary of the threat of war, the local grifters such as the street-vending rumpus. They were used to holdups and confidence games and swindles and Deadline shootings. A reduction case in their own back yard was fresh meat.

Not only did a reduction case titillate the imagination but the "reducer" was known to cautious parents who had reluctantly paid him to install the rudiments of music into the souls—or at least the fingers—of their reluctant offspring. Meg smiled at the comments.

"Why, it might have been literal," My Wilbur took lessons for two months. He never liked David Larkins. Perhaps children sense things. I know, intuitively, that's what it was. My Hank always said there was something unnatural about a man who made his living twanging at the piano!

Meg waited impatiently for Michael to say something but he said nothing. The Larkins girls after the Larkins parade through town in their carriages?

He watched Jason think it through. The madams periodically displayed their girls in Seattle's famous Lurline fur robes against the seat made a snortful backdrop for willow plumes and light satin gowns.

Jason returned Michael's grin. "You think they aim to hang out David Larkins' hide with their washings?"

Michael winced. "Yes, yes, I think they're out to crucify him." Jason took a fresh cigar from his pocket, clipped it, lit it, and in a long breath of smoke, "Go tell for him, Michael. I'll stand the gas."

"Holy smoke!" Michael knew a rare moment of complete astonishment. "Why?"

"Maybe I feel sorry for the poor devil. His idiot wife's still holed up at Matilda's, isn't she?"

"Yes. It was, Michael knew, a serious count against David that Anna hadn't visited him in jail. If his own wife believes it, people said, it's true, isn't it?"

"I want you to be his lawyer, Michael. I'll pay the bill."

"See here, Jason," Michael hedged. "I don't say I won't but David hasn't asked for me. The man has money. Rumor is he's deposited a fortune in Linden's bank. His recent inheritance. His father apparently arranged that certain large sums be immediately available to him. Maybe David already has a lawyer."

"No, I inquired. And if we wait until he hires one, he may take the first shyster who turns up. I want you to take it."

"Why, Jason?"

Jason bit down on his cigar; he gave Michael a quick upward glance. "You won't take his case until you see my angle?"

Michael hadn't intended to be so arbitrary but he was not one to pass up opportunity. He nodded.

"All right, blast it. I had a sister once. She went through a snook-wedding stunt with a drummer. He showed off before the baby came. He glared at Michael, defying him to mention this was the only occasion Jason had given evidence he existed before his arrival in Seattle. "Country curiosity's knee," Michael said. "I wanted to take her away but she couldn't be moved until the baby was born. They both died." He hesitated a moment, then went on. "I buried them at daybreak with the undertaker and I the only one at the grave." His voice was black-sharp, venom-bitter. "None of the harpies who killed her with gossip got a chance at coffin charity."

Michael wondered what had happened to the drummer. As if he had spoken, Jason supplied the information.

"The drummer died before I caught up with him. He was rascally. Darcy Fenner took her for him."

Michael said nothing. A trick of physical resemblance had enlisted Jason on David's side. Life was a bigger gamble than any of Tim O'Brien's poker games. He was silent so long that Jason sensed forward, his expression hard.

"Afraid, Michael? Scared the Dark popularity will toboggan if you take the case?"

Michael stood up. "Confound you, Jason," he said without heat. "I shall charge you extra for that. I'll see David at once."

"Good."

Jason scooped up the insurance papers and left. Michael looked after him. Jason was no fool. The man who took David's case would come in for plenty of criticism. Michael knew suddenly he would not relish sacrificing the good opinion of the town. He thought less of himself for the admission.

Speleologists, Archaeologists Studying Drawings

BY PRESTON GROVER

PARIS (AP)—The speleologists and the archaeologists of France are in a tizzy over some drawings in a cave, and the Paris papers are poking delighted fun at them all.

Speleology is the scientific study of caves. Archaeology is the scientific study of the material remains of past human life—the older the better.

A fortnight ago three archaeologists of excellent reputation announced with great gravity the discovery of drawings on the wall of a cave near Perigueux, in southwestern France. They said the pictures were made at least 30,000 years ago by cave-men.

There were paintings of mammoths and other prehistoric animals, including big two-horned rhinoceroses. "A great discovery," the Paris papers said.

Then the speleologists put in a word.

William Martin, former president of the Spele Club of Perigueux, said he spent three years exploring that particular cave 8 to 10 years ago—and that there were no paintings on the walls there.

Some drawings, Martin asserted, were made by a small boy who tagged along behind his party of explorers a decade ago. He used a carbide lamp as a crayon.

The present president of the Perigueux Cave Club, Bernard Pierret, backed up Martin.

The archaeologists refuse to back down.

Louis Nougier, professor of prehistoric studies at Toulouse University, and a colleague, Romain Robert, issued a joint statement reaffirming their belief in the authenticity of the drawings.

Some people may have visited the cave "without noticing paintings or engravings," they said, "or they may have seen them without recognizing their value, either from ignorance or incompetence, or even from negligence."

Small Business Administration Rep In Orlando

The government's Small Business Administration will have a representative in Orlando next Wednesday, all day, for the purpose of talking with "anyone who has a matter to bring to the attention of the government's Small Business Administration."

The representative will be at the Orlando Chamber of Commerce Building where appointments must be made for interviews and talks relative to the matters to be brought up.

The announcement was made today by Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Manager Forrest Breckenridge who said that appointments will be made for businessmen who will call him or any member of the Chamber of Commerce staff.

Breckenridge said that the announcement was made that the visit of the representative with Central Florida Businessmen is an attempt to bring the Small Business Administration closer to the people.

"If sufficient interest is aroused," said Breckenridge, "the Small Business Administration will attempt to hold these meetings on alternate Wednesdays."

Sec. Dulles Hopes Proposed Meet Will Solve Suez Crisis

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles, back from London, said today he hopes the proposed 24-nation conference will produce a solution for the Suez crisis and avert "the danger of violence."

Dulles said he would report promptly and fully to President Eisenhower on his emergency talks in London with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, Prime Minister Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau.

Asked to go into some detail about the nature of the discussion, the Prime Minister told newsmen:

"Certainly not. I am a dead believer in having private conversations."

The Prime Minister said he was "delighted to find" Eisenhower in "such good form and so vigorous" for the first time to London Tuesday for the primary purpose of persuading British and French leaders to try diplomacy instead of force as a first step toward solving the problems created by Egypt's seizure of the canal a week ago.

Officials here felt that the agreement he obtained for the 24-nation conference to be called in London Aug. 16 had reduced by no means eliminated the danger of a Middle East war over the control of the canal.

Instructed in the "survival course."

Peeples said the other day, as he generously taught youngsters how to float, swim, and complete intricate turns in the water, "give me this little lady for another week and she'll be swimming the quarter-mile." He was teaching Judy Bales at the time.

The swimming instructor who has many Sanford grownups on his list of graduates from his swimming course says that it takes "three and a half years to teach 14-year-olds the complete course and two years for three-year-olds."

Swimming instruction under Fleetwood Peeples includes swimming 110 yards fully clothed and then swimming 110 yards after disrobing.

Parents watching the instructor put his pupils through their paces say "This instruction makes possible water survival under most any condition whether just swimming or in a boat or in an accident."

Accompanying their children to Rollins College are Mrs. Don Bales and Mrs. Orville Barks who spend from two to three hours several afternoons and mornings a week watching the swimming instructor guide children — from tiny tots to grownups — through swimming techniques.

"It's remarkable how Fleetwood (as he is called by young and old alike) can teach them so quickly and have them swimming a quarter-mile across the lake," was the most general remark heard from mothers with their children.

Washington College in Maryland is the only one to hold that name with the consent of George Washington.

2 Fish After Same Bait Meet Head-On

This is an unusual fish story.

Roy Reel said this morning that last Wednesday afternoon, when fishing on the Wekiva River, he noticed a school of bass and had drawn his boat closer.

Noticing the fins of several fish, he found two bass wedged together, one practically swallowing the other.

The two bass, weighing about 2 1/2 pounds each, had gone after the same bait, which had escaped. In the rush for the bait each fish, mouths wide open, had run head-on into one another.

"When pulled apart," said Roy Reel, "one fish had practically swallowed the head of the other and were wedged tightly together."

"Fishing for years on the Wekiva, it is the first time I've seen anything like it," Reel said.

Defective Wiring Causes Car Fire

The Sanford Fire Department answered a call at 1220 E. Randolph St., Saturday. A car, owned by J. Harold Rader, caught on fire but was put out by the department.

Six Accidents Are Reported Sunday

A 1954 Oldsmobile, trying to pass another car, flipped on the shoulder of the road two miles north of Sanford on highway 17-92 9:13 Sunday morning and landed on its top.

The car driven by Herbert J. Green, Miami Beach, was traveling south and came behind a car which was traveling at a slower speed. Attempting to pass Green met another car as he started around and hit his brakes flipping the car on its top. Damage was reported at $600 and charges were brought against him. Plim, Carl Williams was assisted at scene of the accident by the Seminole County Sheriff's department. Neither Green nor his wife, Lillian, suffered any serious injury.

Patrolman Williams also was called to Oviedo last night at 7:10 when John F. Russ, 50-year-old colored man, clipped a Negro boy on a bicycle.

Russ, driving a 1941 Ford truck was driving at a normal rate of speed when he "barely" touched the bicycle of the boy who was riding on the shoulder of the road. He was taken to the Seminole Memorial Hospital but no serious injury was found. Russ was charged with a violation of driver's license as he only had a restricted license.

Patrolman T. Mark Mack investigated four accidents yesterday in which there were no serious injuries.

The first one occurred at 8:05 Sunday morning when a 1950 Ford Coach turned over on Seminole Blvd. The driver was carried to Orlando and his name was not available at this time. Approximately $200 damage was reported to the car.

At 7:30 a. m. a 1955 Chevrolet turned over in Longwood between the town and highway 17-92. Driver was Robert Rosser, 25-year-old man from Orlando. The top and side of the car were damaged approximately $500. He was charged with speeding.

A 32-year-old Orlando man, Edward Borsdorf, was charged with reckless driving when he smashed into the side of a car driven by Michel Kilman, VAH-9, Sanford Naval Air Station.

Borsdorf was driving on the Lake Front, at about 6:25 p. m. yesterday afternoon about five miles this side of the bridge, when Kilman, 18 years old, started to pass him. As the 1953 Chevrolet convertible owned by Kilman pulled around the 1940 Chevy coupe driven by Borsdorf it was rammed by Borsdorf who had also started to pass the car in front of him. Total damage was estimated at $150.

At 7:05 p. m. in Lake Monroe, Desale King, driver of a 1950 Ford sedan was hit by Ruston Busby as he pulled out of the road to his home onto Goose St., a backroad of Lake Monroe.

Mrs. King was driving north on Goose Street when the 1950 Plymouth Station wagon driven by Busby pulled out of the side road. Due to the heavy underbrush on the ditch bank he didn't see her car and hit the side of the Ford doing approximately $100 dollars damage to it. Busby was charged with violating the right of way. There were no injuries.

The Volusia County Highway patrol reports an accident late yesterday afternoon on State Road 45, seven miles north of Osteen when a 1955 Chevrolet driven by Mrs. Margaret K. Scott failed to make a curve and skidded 285 feet down the shoulder of the road and turned over.

Mrs. Scott's address is Rt. 2 Box 404 Sanford. She was reported traveling at a high rate of speed when her car turned over. She was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital and suffered abrasions and lacerations of the arms, legs and forehead. She also was said to have a back injury. The car was demolished.

Smathers To Address Convention

Senator George Smathers, (D-Fla.) has accepted an invitation extended by Paul Butler, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, to address the 22nd Democratic National Convention at Chicago on its opening day, Monday, August 13.

Smathers will speak as Chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee before the Convention. This honor is attributed to the increased activities of the Committee and Smathers' personal leadership in the United States Senate and national affairs.

The Florida Senator, often mentioned as a vice-presidential possibility, will outline the issues in the forthcoming Senatorial campaign and will introduce several Senatorial candidates to the Convention and nationwide television and radio audiences.

As 'quarterback' of the Democratic Senators who seek re-election, as well as those who are opposing GOP incumbents, Smathers will coordinate fund raising and campaign activities throughout the country.

In addressing the Convention, Smathers will stress heavily the record of accomplishment of the 8th Congress under the able and outstanding leadership of two great Democrats, Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, Majority Leader of the Senate, and the Honorable Sam Rayburn, Speaker of the House.

Senator Smathers, just recently appointed Chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, succeeds the late and beloved Senator and former Vice-President Allen Barkley.

Other members of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee are Vice-Chairman Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, Senator Henry Jackson of Washington, Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri, Senator Richard Neuberger of Oregon and Senator John Sparkman of Alabama.

Burpee Seedmen Win Championship

The city-wide softball championship was won by W. Atlee Burpee in the final game of the season Friday night on the Fort Mellon Park diamond.

It is the second year the seed company team has won the trophy in the Recreation Department sponsored league which is under the direction of Howard Gordie.

W. Atlee Burpee scored nine runs off 11 hits with pitcher Glen Elland collecting eight strikeouts. Gene Nichols was behind the plate as catcher.

Hunt-McRoberts, runnerup in the championship games scored seven runs off 9 hits, making four of the runs in the first inning. Pitcher J. E. Watson had seven strikeouts with Bill Richard behind the plate as catcher.

The score in Friday night's championship game was 5-6 until the sixth inning when the W. Atlee Burpee team scored four runs off five hits. The seedmen's Ed Lockett got three hits for four times at bat and James Davis had a double and a triple in his three out of four.

Both teams committed two errors.

Hunt-McRoberts came back in the seventh inning with two hits and two runs including a triple by Eugene Pennington. The rally was too late however to build up the score.

Mental Health Unit To Form Wednesday

On Wednesday at 2 p. m. local persons interested in the formation of a Seminole County Mental Health Unit will meet at the First Federal Savings and Loan Assn. Everyone wishing to take part in this public service is urged to attend.

Coming to Sanford for the meeting will be Miss Margaret Mays, Field Representative of the National Association for Mental Health, who is coming from Washington to assist in this and other Florida activities related to mental health.

In the initial effort of the local group over $300 was raised and sent to state headquarters in Jacksonville. If the Seminole County association is formed, much of that money can be changed by the state and national organization. It was said. This underscores the importance of the meeting Wednesday.

Among those who have spearheaded the drive here are Mrs. Charles Park, Mrs. Gustaf Bamberger, Mrs. Sidney Ives III, and Mrs. B. E. Chapman, representing the Pilot Club which has undertaken the work as one of its public service projects. George Touhy has served as chairman.

Building Date May Be Soon

The need for and the inevitable construction of a primary treatment plant for sewage was voiced by Sanford's City Manager Warren E. Knowles last Friday in an interview to bring out for Sanford citizens the present status of the City relative to its agreement with the State Board of Health of March 23, 1953.

Going back to the beginning of the city's water and sewer program, City Manager Knowles pointed out that the City of Sanford now has invested in that project a total of $1,450,000 derived from the maximum amount of money that could be derived from a bond issue and an additional sum from the issuance of pari passu bonds.

The City of Sanford operates with two separate budgets, Knowles said. A budget for the operation of the City and a separate budget for the operation of its utilities.

The Utilities Department budget is entirely separate and monies are from revenues received by that particular department. Other funds cannot be used for utilities, he explained.

The original bond issue for the sewer and water project were authorized under a bond ordinance based on the revenues of that department.

All expenses, salaries and operation, as well as equipment and maintenance, together with any capital improvements and debt retirement are paid by the users of the utilities—water and sewer, Knowles outlined.

All other revenues of the city support the general operating expense, capital improvements and debt retirement of the city.

"The proposed sewage treatment plant would have to come from Utility Department revenues," the city manager explained. "Present revenues," he said, "have been built up to the expected margin whereby we can make capital improvements at the present time due to the late start in putting the utility charges on," he said.

"The utility charges were delayed almost a year due to the added and unexpected emergency and construction work on the sewage collection system," Knowles said.

Explaining the status of the treatment plant, City Manager Knowles said, "Should a treatment plant be built now it would necessitate an increase in the rates of the sewer service charge in order to finance the construction costs."

The original plans for the treatment plant called for the construction from funds derived from a pari passu bond issue which had to be used for the added construction costs. And now a time element must elapse to build up our present revenue reserve, Knowles explained.

The Board of Sanford City Commissioners sincerely believes, as it has expressed itself on various occasions when considering capital improvements in the Utility Department, that the citizens of Sanford do not wish their service charges increased in order to make immediate capital improvements to the magnitude of $200,000 for a sewage treatment plant when it can be built within a few years on the present revenue structure.

When asked if a definite date to be named for the construction of the proposed plant, City Manager Knowles said "It is my opinion that every one of the commissioners is in favor of building the sewage treatment plant as soon as economically possible—and the sooner the better."

Negro Man Drowns In Welfare Lake While Swimming

A 21-year-old Negro youth was drowned in Welfare Lake in the Markham community Saturday morning shortly before 8 o'clock.

Welfare Lake has been the scene of several similar mishaps during the past several years.

Archie Campbell, a Lake Monroe Negro, while swimming across the lake with two of his brothers and three companions, apparently tired out, went under the water in approximately the center of the lake.

The body of the swimmer was not recovered until shortly after 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, according to Coroner W. Hugh Duncan. He was pulled from approximately 12 feet of water by Deputy Sheriff Denton Prevatt.

Coroner W. Hugh Duncan said that no inquest will be held due to the fact that there were witnesses to the accidental drowning.

Investigating the drowning were Sheriff J. L. Hobby, and Deputy Sheriffs Morgan McClelland and Denton Prevatt.

P. Toney Awarded $500 Scholarship By Radiation, Inc.

Six Central Florida young people including one from Sanford, were named today as recipients of the annual Radiation, Inc., scholarship awards. These awards of $500 are made to employees of the company or their children on the basis of outstanding scholastic work records.

Named in the announcement by Homer E. Denius, president of Radiation, were Robert Baker, Marvin Moss, and Marilyn Murray, all of whom are graduates of Melbourne High School; David Daniel, a graduate of Cocoa High School; Phillip Toney, of Seminole High School; and George Yarbrough, of Orlando High. The latter two are employed in the Orlando division of the company while the others are employed in Melbourne.

The scholarships are awarded from a fund set up and administered by the company education committee.
