

Pop Warner Rival Football League Formed

By JIM HAYNES

Ruedinger is considered a prime candidate to head the new Seminole Youth Sports Association, which plans football and basketball activities as a feeder system to the high school programs.

A major change in the structure of youth football and basketball programs in Seminole County is anticipated following the granting of a charter for the Seminole Youth Sports Association, a rival league to the Pop Warner League, which last fall under auspices of the Central Florida YMCA, involved 1,200 youngsters in Seminole County.

Don Ruedinger, an Orlando insurance executive who lives in Forest City, recently resigned his position as football director for the YMCA.

Ken Patrick, a member of the board for the Seminole Youth Sports Association, described the other board members as "people interested in the youth of Seminole County." He noted they were active in some aspect last year with the Pop Warner program. Among them, Bob Timlin, Dave May, Irv Meyers and Gary Snyder are former Pop Warner League board members.

"Simply, we are interested in improving certain aspects of league operations over the way it was last fall," explained Patrick. One of the problems in our opinion was that too much of the money for overhead was going out of Seminole County.

Another change in format the new association will institute is to eliminate out-of-county travel, those involved said.

The Central Florida YMCA program stretches from St. Cloud to Deland and involves 800 boys in football and 400 girls as cheerleaders, pop squad and team girls.

The YMCA keep centers to ages eight through 14. The new association will concentrate on middle school age youngsters.

Fantasy To Reality For 'International' Peddler

By JANE CANNON

Tired of the risk and frustration of modern life—hampered in by government red tape and restrictions, many dreams of setting into the world visiting exotic ports not having to answer to anyone. To most of us the fantasy remains just that, but to the "International Peddler," Corky Huffman, it has become a reality.

Huffman left behind his life as a bricklayer, block mason and developer of Stone Island on Lake Monroe for an adventurous life aboard the Agape Afloat, a 70 foot, three-masted schooner affectionately referred to by her captain as "Blair".

U.S. Steel Backs Off Price Hike

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—United States Steel Corp., the nation's largest steelmaker, today announced it was modifying its recent price increase criticized by the Carter administration as inflationary and U.S. Steel said the $6.50 price hike, or 1.3 percent, "would be modified to be competitive in the market on a week-by-week basis."

The retreat on steel mill products apparently came as a result of White House pressure and competitor's smaller price increases.

After U.S. Steel's announcement last week, No. 3 National Steel Corp. said it would raise prices only $2.50 a ton, or 1.5 percent, to cover the costs of the mill and industry's own settlement with the United States Government and that competitors.

"I'm in line with the rest of the industry," said U.S. Steel spokesman James O. Longley.

Washington-Pittsburgh Steel, which initially went along with U.S. Steel's $6.50 a ton hike, said it was re-examining its situation but had no further comment.

The White House Council on Wage and Price Stability first issued an order requiring steel work when hearing of U.S. Steel's price hike, then began behind-the-scenes maneuvering to lower the increases.

U.S. Steel was also criticized by President Carter and Vice President Walter Mondale. Carter said the public was worried of the inflationary consequences of the $6.50-a-ton increase and urged the Com-

Longwood Rule Change Would Make Election Unique

By DENISE WISSE
 Herald Staff Writer

If the position held by two Longwood city commissioners as a proposal to change the way the city is run is approved, it would be different than any other Florida municipality.

Commissioner Larry Goldberg and Ray Lattinberger filed during the three-hour meeting for commissioners to be elected only from the districts they represent with some elected

In every case, said Mrs. Curran, one or more city officials, including the mayor, is elected at large.

"The way it is done in district elections," Mrs. Curran said, "is that the mayor and the commissioners are elected at large."

"I like it the way it is now and I think that is the way it should be."

The current 1980 city charter, according to an amendment adopted in the late 1970s requires the council to divide the city into geographical districts as nearly equal in population as possible, and requires commissioners to reside in designated districts—two to be elected at large.

The resolution was the first in what may be a series of actions to be held on the new charter proposed by a citizens' advisory committee. "We are going to have to get on the ball if the city is to have a special election in June on a proposed new city charter," Mrs. Lattinberger said today.

Mrs. Curran said that, of the date's 200 citizens, about half have a city manager-government form of government.

The proposed charter calls for a city manager-commissioner form of government. The five elected commissioners are to choose one of their number as mayor.

The provision of choosing a mayor was abandoned by Sanford in the late 1970s when citizens voted to the Seminole Legislative Delegation and requested a charter amendment to provide for the people to elect a mayor.

Five of six of the cities in Florida elect a mayor in that fashion, said Mrs. Curran.

Mrs. Lattinberger said the council also discussed changes to be made in the proposed charter including:

- The requirement that commissioners take office on the second Monday of the January was changed to the first Monday of January as it is currently.
- The action requiring that a city administrator would continue to receive his salary while suspended from office for cause.
- Tightening up the recall provision to make it more nearly uniform with state law.

Cancer War Chief: No Smoking Ban ...

BOSTON (UPI)—The head of the nation's war on cancer, Dr. Arthur Upton, said today that he does not think legislation should be enacted.

"The issue is not whether banning cigarettes," Dr. Upton said in a report released today. "The issue is whether the federal government should regulate cigarette use as it has done with other products."

"I don't think it is a good idea to regulate cigarette use as it has done with other products," Dr. Upton said.

True Fishy Story: Bass Jumps Into His Boat

By JIM MAYNIE

Stacy Smith has a fish story his dad doesn't know whether to laugh or cry about.

The 10-year-old Sanford youngster landed a six-pound bass which jumped into his boat Sunday in Lake Bay.

The father in this odd fishing tale is that Stacy's dad, B.S. Smith, has been trying to teach that bass for the last three years. He has often been in his house, and looking out the window, see him jump. It frustrated him to fish morning and night in his spare moments. Stacy, a fourth grader at Myrtlewood Elementary, said the fish "nearly scared me to death. I don't know what was happening. But once I saw what it was, I tried to hold it, but it slipped away. So I sat out it and moved back to shore."

He noted he was only about 10 feet off shore when the bass jumped into his boat. The handling part of the story for Stacy's dad is that he has been fishing daily — sometimes twice a day — for three years and hasn't had a catch. "I've tried everything from lures to worms to minnows, but I haven't gotten a bite," said the emotional father for the Seminole County Sheriff's Department. Stacy likes fishing and sports as his hobbies, and he is a pretty good fisherman with proof being that last summer a similar incident occurred, however the fish weighed back out of the boat. "It wasn't as large as this one," he added. And what's Stacy going to do with his prize catch? "Either stuff him or eat him," he said.
