BIG BUSINESS SUCCEEDS OVER THE LABOR UNIONS SAYS MEEKER IN SPEECH

Before City Club Today Outlining Prevailing Conditions in U. S.

ASKS CO-OPERATION

ONLY SALVATION OF THE CONDITION IN WHICH FACTIONS FIND THEMSELVES.

Cincinnati Ohio April 10 (By Associated Press) In the preliminary skirmishes of the threatened industrial war, Big Business has beaten its rival the Trades Unions, Royal Meeker, Federal Commissioner of Labor Statistics declared in an address before the City Club today in which he urged co-operation as the most promising weapon of the people in the struggle against high prices. Congress instead of formulating a progressive and constructive program to restore industries and especially agriculture to stabilize peace conditions he said, is pursuing a policy of scuttling the ship of state with most unhappy results.

Maybe We'll Find Out Why "Gas" Has Gone Up

Washington, April 9.—The Federal Trade commission was directed today by the house to make immediate investigation into the causes of the recent advance in the prices of gasoline, fuel oil and kerosene. A report not later than June was called for under a resolution adopted without a record vote, and which also asked that the commission determine without any combinations in restraint of trade exist between those engaged in the oil business.

Representative Howard Democrat, Oklahoma, the only member to speak against the resolution, characterized it as "political legislation" that would only "harass" business.

GOOD SCHOOL TO TRAIN PRINTERS

SUCH AN INSTITUTION WILL BE STARTED AT MONTVERDE IN THIS STATE.

Publishers and printers of the south eastern section of the county and many others who desire to assist in furthering deserving movements for vocational training are contributing to a fund of $50,000 with which to establish at the Montverde Industrial School at Montverde, Lake County, Florida, a department in which young men and women will be educated and trained for the various positions in newspaper offices and printing establishments.

This movement was started by the Business Printer, a magazine published at Jacksonville, Florida, and devoted to the interests of the printing and allied trades. It has gained a good start and part of the fund has been pledged by members of the South Florida Press Association and the South Georgia Editorial Association. Other pledges have been made by wealthy philanthropists and by some people not in that class but desirous of assisting to provide a means of vocational training that will insure the graduate of permanent and well paid employment.

The Montverde Industrial School is an ideal institution with which to cooperate in this line because of its established reputation for the thoroughness in developing all sides of the student's character at the same time a trade is taught. It is in no sense a "correction" institution but is on the other hand one to which admission can be gained only by those who are mentally and physically sound and can establish moral fitness. The founder of the institution, Prof. H. P. Carpenter, and his wife keep strict supervision over all pupils and unless the pupil shows willingness to submit to this guidance throughout his course of term the school is closed to him. The unique idea which enters into the conduct of this school is this: No matter how wealthy the parents of a pupil may be, the pupil must agree to render services to the extent of half his expenses, tuition, board and room. The pupil is paid at a reasonable rate and when he earns more than half his expenses in a term he is paid in cash at the same rate for the service he or she renders. The rates, too, are just as low as it is possible to make them. For instance, it is planned that the full year's term of eight months, taking high school studies and the printing course, including room and board in dormitories having modern conveniences, will cost for the coming term $200 in cash and $200 in services.

The Herald is very much interested in this movement and will be pleased to have any friends who desire to know more of the plan come in and learn the details. It is certain that every business using printed matter has a direct interest in keeping a supply of members of the craft because unless this is done the price of printing will continue to increase indefinitely.

Florida League News

There isn't anything problematical about our little Florida State, the papa of all these Class D circuits. Of course, we admit it looks like Tampa for the rag but you've got to hand it to some of these other burbs about here and all of them are lining up some rip-snorting clubs. Down in Bradentown Larisey and Beall have gathered together what looks like a real ball club. Jimmy Manes is getting a strong outfit together for Lakeland and at Orlando "Boss" Black is already promising the fans a team that will be fighting at the last curtain. Ruddy Hulswit, former National leaguer, is already on the job at Daytona signing up some good ones. Tom Paige is keeping mum at Bartow but he'll probably wind up with Art Phelan and the pick of the crackerjack state university team bolstered by some cast-offs from the Southern who will make things hum. Sanford is another one laying low but folks who know those fans up there can expect a battle any time they get out from cover and Burley is certain to see the Saints through to a whirlwind finish.—Tampa Tribune.

DECISION OF CIRCUIT COURT IN "CODY" HILL VS. H. BEACHAM AFFIRMED.

Supreme Court Ends Long Standing Case in Local Courts for Many Years—Beacham Given Decision.

A decision in the Supreme Court of Florida affirming the decision reached in the circuit court here more than a year ago, in the case of "Cody" Hill vs. H. Beacham, relative to lands in the Forrest City section in which the court decided in favor of Mr. Beacham, will be of interest to many residents of Seminole county.

The case has been in the courts for the past eight or nine years and because of its long legal battle has attracted much attention. The litigation involves a large tract of land in the vicinity of Forrest City, upon which now are three or four valuable orange groves. The property today is worth in the neighborhood of $150,000, though when it was taken up was of little value. By the evidence submitted it would appear the land were located by Mr. Hill, who entered into an agreement with Mr. Beacham to work portions thereof and to care for them under certain conditions. For this service he was to receive a half interest in the property. This Mr. Beacham claims was not the case and the lawsuit was the result. The courts giving Mr. Beacham the decision.

Mr. Beacham was represented in the circuit court by Attorney Carl Robinson and in the supreme court by Mr. Robinson, Davies and Giles and C. P. Dickinson. Mr. Hill was represented throughout the case by Jones & Jones.

NO CHANGE IN HUMAN BONES

Construction of Shoulder Blades Today the Same as Those of Sixty Centuries Ago.

There has been no discernible change in the shoulder blade of man in the last 6,000 years, according to Dr. William W. Graves of St. Louis, who spoke before the meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Shoulder blades of Egyptian mummies, 6,000 years old, and those of Illinois river Indians, believed to be about the same age, are the same as those of the present-day men, according to Doctor Graves.

In July and August of last year Doctor Graves measured 1,500 shoulder blades of men and animals, endeavoring to classify the differences in them. The vertebral borders, with which he was particularly concerned, are the same in humans as in gorillas, chimpanzees and also in lower monkeys.

Concerning the skeletons of Illinois river Indians, which he said appear to be between 4,000 and 6,000 years old, he was asked if he considered that proof that this continent was inhabited then by humans whose physical type was as high as that of the Egyptians of that day. He said that he could not draw such a conclusion, although the shoulder blades are of the same type.

Fairy Baskets.

Fairy baskets are made of large hazel nuts, alberts or peach pits. Filberts must be soaked in hot water for several hours; hazel nuts and peach pits may be used green. With a sharp, fine pointed penknife bore through the filbert or hazel nut on each side in the light colored upper third, cut away the shell carefully around the hole so as to leave a handle between the incisions, dig out the meat that is inside, then cut very tiny notches in the lower edge. If you use peach pits trim off the sharp point, then bore and cut out the shell and trim the stalk end smooth.

Those baskets are a never failing pleasure to both children and grown-ups. One use to which you can put the fairy baskets is to loop a dozen or more upon a strand of silk floss, fill each one with earth and supply it with a single fine grass seed, then hang them in a sunny window and keep moist.

A Creed

Breathes there a man with soul to dead who never to himself said: "I'll till more land to make more bread to save the cost of overhead. I'll plough my fields for early corn; the squash shall ramble o'er my lawn I'll fill my driveways full of corn and plenty shall my board adorn. We'll raise things that we love so well; the onion with its vigorous smell; the currant with lovely jelly; the bean that loveth so to swell; the cuke whose eager pains we quell; the quash which spread like umbrerell; potatoes that perhaps we'll sell—and while about it, we may's well raise everything excepting h—ll." To the Democratic Voters of the 7th Judicial Circuit of Florida:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination of State Attorney for the 7th Judicial Circuit of Florida subject to the action of the White Democratic primary to be held June 8, 1920. In June 1919, I was appointed for a four year term, which appointment your State Senate confirmed. In order that there may be no question as to the term of this appointment, and as I do not want to hold any office without the approval of the voters, I am entering the primary and feel fully confident of your approval of my record. I have served you faithfully since June 1919 and will appreciate the opportunity of continuing to serve you. Your active support of my candidacy will be greatly appreciated.

WEALTH FLOWING INTO CUBA

Crops of Cotton and Sugar Will Net People of Island Some $2,000,000,000.

Cuba's coming sugar crop is expected to yield about 4,000,000 tons—a record output. At prices which the planters are counting upon receiving for their sugar this will mean a payment to them of from about $750,000,000 to $800,000,000. Bear in mind that this is for one crop raised on an island of only 45,800 square miles and with a population of about 2,500,000.

In the cotton-growing sections of the South there are approximately about 25,000,000 people. The center of interest in Cuba is sugar, in about the same degree that cotton concentrates the interest of the South. When the cotton crop first reached the value of $2,000,000,000 a year, the world held up its hands in amazement, and yet this $2,000,000,000 is distributed directly or indirectly among 25,000,000 people. In Cuba more than a third of that amount will be distributed directly or indirectly among 2,500,000 people. Every dollar of this vast sum is paid into Cuba from other countries. It is as though the entire world production of gold for two years and more were dumped into Cuba, as measured by the world's production of gold and the Cuban sugar crop value.—Manufacturers' Record.

Touch Iron Instead of Wood.

Investigation discloses the fact that in many districts of England the custom of touching wood still prevails just as it did among past generations. In Scotland the superstition of the touch is not unknown, although in their case it is iron that is believed to possess the charm of averting evil. For instance, the Asher people of Scotland, who regard the sight or mention of a pig as a bad omen, are accustomed to touch iron.

All tickets that were sold for the show last night which were not used will be as good as gold tonight. If you haven't seen this comedy, see it!

Yes, there are bright lights in the city by which you may guide your steps. And there are bright minds in the country which need no lights to guide them.

Have you a desire to live to a ripe old age? It is possible to prolong your life by eating a chunk of garlic every day. That is, provided your friends do not take the law of life into their own hands and bury you without waiting for the slight formality of death.

Four or five years ago the linen towel on which you wipe your hands would have cost you about 25 cents. In the old days you could wash yourself or brush your shoes with that towel without counting the cost. But now every time you use a towel you run up against the cost of living, for experts estimate that the old 25 cent towel of a few years ago is the $1.25 towel of today. Fortunately however, the price of water has not advanced.

New York barbers are about to increase the price of haircuts to 75c, and the leaders in the movement declare that within six months the price in all first-class barber shops of that city will be one dollar per head each. The bald man will then have the edge on the long-haired yop by something considerable—at the same time it should be remembered that it doesn't cost a cent to allow the hairs to continue growing. Let's make it "A man's crowning glory is his hair and see how jealous the dear women will become. Let's.—Thorn in Palm Beach Post.

When you see the wind blowing a dirty piece of paper along the street, do a little thinking. Many people are careless every day, or the rubbish of various kinds would not be littering our streets and our alleys and our byways from day to day. Carelessness breeds filth—filth breeds disease—disease leads to sickness and death. If every person would use more precaution in the matter of community sanitation we would have less sickness, longer life, and greater happiness. None of us may ever hope to be perfect, but we are all open to improvement in one way or another.

When the automobiles came into general use it was freely predicted that the horse would in time become practically extinct. This prediction will hardly come true, as there will always be urgent need of horses on the farm. But it may be different with the street car. In Rockford, Ill., the citizens have tired of their poor street car service and decline to renew the franchise. Instead they are petitioning the state utilities commission for permission to operate motor bus lines in lieu of street cars. The commission has been vacillating, and bus lines have sprung into existence and use without state sanction. They are said to be very satisfactory. In time it is possible the motor bus may drive the old street car out of business entirely. Busses are an excellent means of transportation especially in the smaller communities.

FEED 'EM

Some time ago at a meeting of the Board of Trade the question was asked, "what is the best method of getting the people together for the good of Sanford?" and it was decided that the dinners that were formerly pulled by the board of governors was one of the best ways in which the men could get together and talk while they ate or eat while they talk or eat first and talk afterward. Certainly it is a good idea and one that the Board of Trade should take up at once. The noon luncheons of the big cities in which the business men participate are the clearing houses for the big things that these cities put over. If we are all too busy to meet at the noon hour then have the luncheon at six in the evening or even later but have it. Feed them.

WHERE SHALL WE GO?

This is the cry that goes up each summer as the weather gets warmer and the population gets ready for the trip to the beach, to the mountains or to any of the resorts. Then there are many of us who remain at home and take in the ball games for our amusement. And yet the stay-at-homes should have a place where they can go without the friendly offices of a car owner. A place on the lake for instance that could be reached by a launch or ferry boat that would be a most pleasant trip going and coming and a pleasant little park for amusement after it is reached. This city is getting big enough to have its own amusements and these places would serve to keep the people at home and would mean more recreation, more harmless amusement, a better community, a bigger community.

THE LONG ARM OF CRIME

Many people imagine that the present reign of crime in our great cities has no effect upon our rural population. But they are in error. Crime extends its paralyzing blight even to the remotest crossroads of the backwoods country. The press of the cities is filled with the exploits of criminals. These papers are read broadcast. To the young fellow just approaching manhood there is a certain glamour attached to these lurid newspaper stories which gives to the criminal much the aspect of a hero.

This atmosphere can not be other than degenerating to the young mind just approaching maturity, especially if the youth be weak minded and inclined to be wild.

There is yet another side to the story—a pitiable side to any man who is blessed with a sense of righteousness and a desire to see justice prevail.

Many of the courts in the large cities are anything but what they should.

Judges frequently owe their elections to politicians. The politicians owe their power to the gang. The gang demands that lenience be shown certain criminals with a pull. The politicians O. K. their demands, and we have a strong suspicion that judicial necks are bowed to the yoke in fear of disaster at coming elections. An endless chain, with powerful links pulling for the criminal at the expense of law and order.

These sordid facts are played up by the city press, are read with avidity by the young men of the country, and either inflame the juvenile imagination, or destroy respect for the courts.

The long arm of crime extends even to greater lengths than that of the law.

WHAT ABOUT OUR CENSUS

Now that the official figures of every town and city in the United States is "coming to its census" the people of Sanford are wondering just what our figures will show. Lakeland was the first city to go up in the air about the official census figures and the Chamber of Commerce ask for a recount because the figures did not seem right on the face of the returns. In other word the 1920 census was behind the 1910 census and everyone knows that every city in Florida and especially in south Florida has made good and substantial gains in the past ten years. Of course the time to look into census affairs is when the census enumerator is getting ready to take the census. The Herald assisted in every way to get the best enumerators and the Herald believes that Sanford had good enumerators and that the figures will show gains in our official census. No matter how through the canvass is made some people are missed but if there were any missed they should have spoken about it to the census enumerators and had their names enrolled.

Here's hoping that when our census comes out for 1920 that we will have something real and tangible in the way of population figures. And while speaking about our population it would be well to remind you that if more houses, more apartments and more hotels could be built there would have been at least 500 more new people living here now who would have swelled the census figures somewhat.

A WEEK OF FARMING

The federal department of agriculture's "Weekly crop and market review" shows that Florida is not at all disheartened in the matter of growing truck and early vegetables and melons.

The celery and lettuce season is practically over, still we find these things going out at the rate yet of celery, 211 cars; and lettuce, 25 cars; for the week ending April 5.

We learn that "while the greater part of the cabbage crop in the state has moved, the percentage left is unusually large for the time of the year, and the movement instead of being over, as is generally true by April 15, will go well to the first of May," the Gainesville district alone still sending out twenty cars per week.

Florida tomatoes are going out at the rate of 300 cars per week movement and crop is heavier than last season. The east coast is now shipping, the west coast and the Moore Haven districts are yet to get in.

We learn that the potato crop at Hastings will be "much larger than was thought possible three weeks ago that diggings of early potatoes will begin in south Florida the last of this week, and that the general movement will start early in May and continue to June.

The cantaloupe acreage is about the same as last year, and the crop is coming on fine. Shipping will begin the last of May and continue to the latter part of June.

Watermelons have been planted heavily this spring, and the total acreage in Florida this year is said to be in excess of 26,670 acres, in addition to the more than 3,500 acres raised around Monticello, Jefferson county, for the exclusive purpose of furnishing seed to the seed houses of the country, 80 per cent. of whose watermelons seed is annually furnished by the Monticello growers.—Tampa Tribune.
