Sanford Holds Off On Blocking Fees

By Karen Talley Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County representatives Monday persuaded four of Sanford's five commissioners that it would be wise to hold off passing an ordinance to block the county's planned transportation impact fees. An ordinance to declare a moratorium on the fees, which was expected to pass, was de-

A Taste Of Reading

A light spoon, a big cup of ice cream, and an elbow that works — an equation Jessie Horn, 3, of Sanford, finds efficient Monday while visiting Idyliwilde Elementary School in Sanford. Her mother, Susan Horn, was at the school to help dispense hundreds of dishes of ice cream to the school's students participating in a reading program sponsored by Friendly Restaurants. The program, "Treat Yourself To A Book," rewards reading children with ice cream cone certificates and adds books to the school's media center at no cost to the school. Also helping to dish out the goodles and talk about reading was Trixle, left, also known as Barbara Clark, of the Idyilwilde Parent Teachers Association.

'He Couldn't Live Without Her'

Pastor Joins Beloved Wife In Death

By Kathy Tyrity Herald Staff Writer

He just couldn't live without her, his family said. And so the pastor died quietly, with friends at his side, and joined his wife of 60 years, a few days after her passing.

It's the story of Elder Duke Rainey Green, 87, of 1814 Jerry Ave., Sanford, who died early this morning, and his wife Lizzie May Green, 86, who died Friday of a stroke.

Green had been the first pastor of Full Gospel Church of God in Christ, Sanford, for 28 years. Just last Sunday he preached to a small group in his home, saying how thankful he was for his many years with his beloved wife, according to cousin Delia McKnight of Gaineaville, who was in town to take

e of Green after the loss of his wife. 'He said, 'Oh, I'm so happy; my burden is lifted because this time comes to all of us. If you've never had anything good you can't lose it'," Mrs.

McKnight said. The two of them were as close as any married couple can be, Mrs. McKnight said, "because they lost their two babies in infancy, and decided to devote themselves to each other and "I guess what happened was neither of them could live without the other, and I guess the master knew this," she said in a quiet, controlled voice.

"Elder Green was just a regular minister, interested in people. He loved people and was loved by all that knew him because he just had that wonderful personality of reaching out to people... He served the old age groups once a week in addition to his regular preaching duties. I heard him preach in church two months ago and his voice was as strong and clear as ever, even though he'd been on kidney dialysis for some time."

The Greens were godparents to many children, and Mrs. Green always had snacks for the church youngsters after Sunday school. "She would have some of the kids over to her home, and if they didn't have anything she would give taught to keep themselves clean, and she gave them love," Mrs. McKnight

She said her cousin liked the seashore but didn't get there very often. "She was just a very good housewife, a good cook and devoted wife." In fact, when her husband married her he was a laborer in a sawmill and she agreed to save every dime she could so they would one day have a home.

Mize To Rule On Shared Liability Of Those Who Shun Seatbelts

Do people who did not buckle up Zeman, a friend of Jones' and visiting, their seat belts prior to their deaths in a traffic accidents share some responsibility for their death, particularly if they might have survived the accidenta?

That issue will be the subject of a ruling by Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr. in the case of two men killed in an Altamonte Springs accident in 1983.

Mize will weigh state law and whether a jury might have found the men in some way responsible, changing the amount of money awarded to their estates. The law allows juries to adjust awards if the victim is partially negligent by not buckling up. He said he will rule this week on the matter.

The issue arose during motions in a wrongful death suit against CSX Transportation, the railroad, the state Department of Transportation and Richard Jones III, 20, of Apopka.

Jones' car struck another vehicle at 1:52 p.m. July 30, 1983, on State Road 436 just east of the railroad tracks. In that accident, Joseph J. Zeman, 17, of New Port Richey and Charles D. Rosenheimer, 51, of Longwood, died.

was a passenger in Jones' car. Jones was treated at Florida Hospital for back injuries and released.

Officer said Jones' car was eastbound in a light rain when he lost control of the 1973 Mustang after crossing the railroad tracks. The car crossed the median and entered the westbouind lanes where it was struck by Rosenheimer's 1976 Honda. Jones' car was struck broadside. Firefighters had to cut the roof off the Honda to remove Rosenheimer, who was pinned in the vehicle. Both cars were demolished, records show.

Representatives of Rosenheimer and Zeman argued that the law on victim negligence does not apply to wrongful death suits and any contemplations on what a jury might or might not do regarding awards speculative.

An attorney for the railroad said the victims' responsibility should be weighed by a jury. The case is scheduled to go to trial next month.

Smith To Help Identify Presidential Candidates' Stands On Urban Issues

among the National League of Cities members who'll be promoting a project this year to identify the presidential candidates' positions on major urban issues.

The league's recent conference in Washington, D.C., produced a consensus among members that presidential candidates have tended to ignore urban problems in the past few elections, and the league wants to avoid this in 1988.

"We'll be asking the candidates to comment on issues that have bearing on municipalities' operations and their citizens," Mrs. Smith said. "This will help the cities and their residents know which candidate would be more understanding and helpful towards them.

"The general feeling is that the National League of Cities has a lot of political clout if used properly," she said. Consequently, the 15,000 member group will use its annual convention in Las Vegas to conduct a straw poll for determining which candidates give the best responses to queries about urban Mayor Smith attended the Washington conference and said she plans to be at the group's December gathering in Las Vegas.

The league, which claims that 70 percent of the nation's voters live within the boundaries of the municipalities it represents, says its poll should carry significant political clout, according to Executive Director Alan Beals.

Mrs. Smith said she was "a bit suprised" to find the national league had not traditionally been active in soliciting presidential candidates' positions, in light of the Florida and Seminole Tri-County leagues' longstanding practice of sponsoring gubernatorial forums.

National league efforts that began last

Sanford Mayor Bettye Smith will be year drew potential presidential candidates - Democrats Jesse Jackson, Bruce Babbitt and Sen. Joseph Biden, and Republican Howard Baker — to the group's 1986 convention in San Antonio. Baker has since dropped out of the race to become the new White House chief of staff.

The league represents not only the major cities in the nation, but thousands of smaller municipalities and has a membership with a large representation from both major parties.

"The candidates tend to overlook the problems of the cities," Beals said, and instead look at problems that effect cities and rural areas as well, such as crime, drugs and education. He wants a more specific agenda that addresses particular urban problems like housing and the declining infrastructure - bridges, roads and other public facilities that are crumbling faster than can be rebuilt.

"Candidates have turned away from the problems of the cities because there have not been any riots like there were in the '60s," according to Beals. "There is also a perception the cities are doing fairly well, a perception that masks underlying problems which are often hidden by the rebuilding of the downtown sections of some cities across the nation."

This perception, and the advent of the requirement of the Gramm-Rudman law to move toward a balanced budget, has resulted in congressional action cuting many programs to the city, particularly federal revenue sharing.

Mayor Smith said cities "can pretty well forget about federal revenue sharing." according to statements she said governmental representatives made to league members during the Washington confer--Karen Talley they do not foresee matters markably changing during the March 18 session with county officials.

"I don't see something of this magnitude changing from a one day meeting with the county commission when (city) staff wasn't given a chance for involvement all along," Thomas said. "I would be inclined to go along with staffs' recommendation (for the moratorium's adoption Monday.)" City Manager Frank Falson "cautioned" commissioners to adopt the ordinance Monday, but indicated he was satisfied the matter was not defeated, only tabled until commissioners March 23 session.

Mayor Bettye Smith said the delay request Monday "is a good faith proposal being made of us and I think we would be remiss if we didn't give them a chance."

Sanford Commissioner John Mercer said his colleagues should "show good faith" by delaying the ordinance, then attend the joint-governments March 18 session and "see if the appropriate changes are made."

Neiswender's proposal was for commissioners "to postpone (adoption of the six month moratorium ordinance), and if you fail to see the progress you want done, then take action.

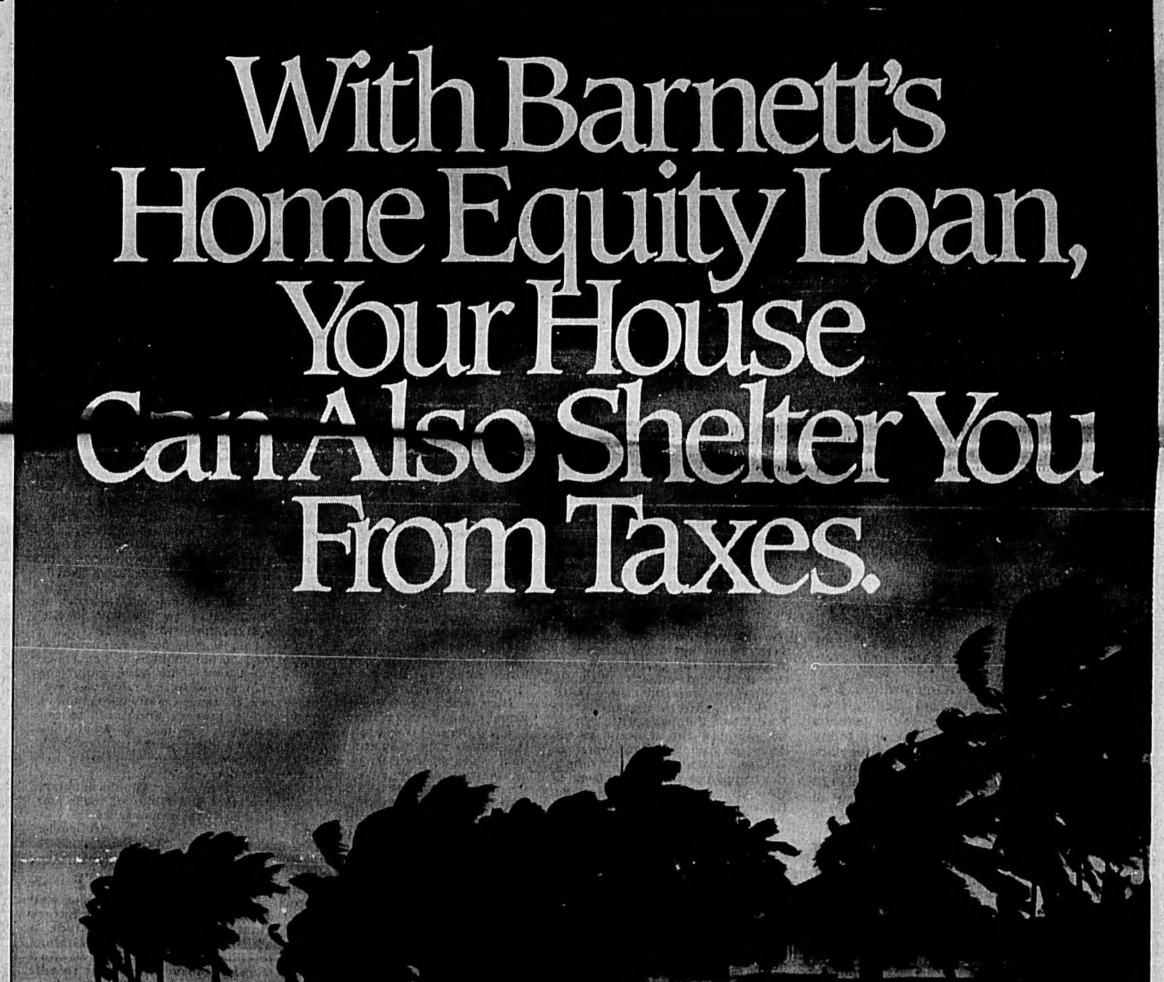

An alleged lack of input and questions about the fee systems' direct benefits are combined with city officials' questioning the fees' legality, and demo-graphic and population data used to develop the charges. County staff have rebutted the cities charges and criticisms.

And, although Sanford may ultimately refuse to acknowledge the fees, the county can still collect them from developers within the city.

Direct billing by the county, instead of cities making the collections as the county has requested, "leaves developers in the middle," while the govern-ments' fee system disagreement would continue, said Sanford Planning and Engineering Director Bill Simmons.

The county's proposal is for its seven cities to sign inter-local agreements, saying they'll collect the fees during the cities' permitting process for new construction. A moratorium ordinance would mean Sanford "is taking the position the county doesn't have the right to charge the fees.

City Attorney William Colbert said it would then be up to the courts to decide which government would prevail.

Big Brother's Snooping Again

With a personal computer, a modem and a telephone, a researcher can now have the libraries of the world at his fingertips, thanks to commercial computerized data bases that contain millions of scientific, financial and journalistic reports. That pleases scholars and scientists, whose work has become easier and more productive. But it worries the Reagan administration, which, to the dismay of researchers and data-base companies, is looking at the information not as a tool but as a weapon of international conflict.

In an effort to put up new barriers to technology transfers, officials from the Pentagon, CIA and FBI have been trying to get private vendors of data bases to disclose the identity of their subscribers and to block certain subscribers from using their services. The object of the administration's concern is not data classified for national security reasons; such information is not available on data bases. Instead, it is trying to block the data-base availability of "sensitive" information - "a wide range of government or government-derived economic, human, flnancial, industrial, agricultural (and) technological information," as former National Security Advisor John Poindexter broadly defined it in a memorandum imposing new government data controls.

The government's worry is that the speed of computerized data bases makes it easier for enemies and foreign competitors to review. accumulate and make effective use of public data developed by U.S. researchers. Formerly, that public information had to be laboriously dug out of libraries and technical journals; now it's available in a matter of minutes through computers.

It's true that data bases have speeded up technical research, but what's true for foreign competitors is also true for U.S. researchers. To censor data bases would deny U.S. engineers and scientists easy access to materials they need to do their work. And with such broad definition of "sensitive" information, there would be almost no limit to what imaginative government bureaucrata could designate for secrecy.

The Pentagon has already cowed Mead Data Central, a leading data base, into dropping ports from its service. If such Big Brotherish pressures are not relaxed, the open exchange of information that has made the United States such an effective scientific and technological leader will be in danger, and so will one of the United States' most basic in a poll by The Roper Organization, U.S. News and World Report and Cable News Network, 54 percent of the 1,006 persons interviewed said people are less honest today than in 1977. In fact, 71 percent said they are dissatisfied with the honesty and standards of behavior in the United States, and only 23 percent are satisfied. The percentage of doubters is the highest since the height of the Watergate scandal in 1973.

People believe clergymen, doctors and their spouses. But they distrust nearly everyone else. Only 17 percent say they believe national television news anchors, a mere 8 percent believe the president or daily newspapers and only 3 percent say they believe Congress.

There's one nagging question the poll didn't answer. How can we be sure whether the respondents — or the pollsters — are telling the truth?

Economic Interests

WASHINGTON — One of the most shocking statements in recent years was made on Feb. 9 by Dr. Paul W. McCracken of The Wall Street Journal's Board of Contributors: "Those in Japan who say that the U.S. must accept a reduction in its standard of living if a better balance in the world economy is to be achieved are correct."

Here we have the Japan First policy out in the open, advanced by the theorists who have lost sight of specific American interests and who will now allow foreign powers to dictate a new economic globalism. Americans have been sold on this notion of a global economy throughout the decade as our trade deficit has steadily worsened. But in the rhetoric about a global economy. Americans have not been told that it involves accepting a global standard of living - a markedly-reduced standard of liv-

Theorists of the new economic globalism, or transnationalism. have no objection to American companies going offshore to build plants in Mexico, Indonesia, Taiwan or Singapore to make a profit. The cost of moving offshore, however, is the shutdown of plants in the United States, the devastation of American communities, the loss of contracts by American suppliers, and the disappearance of jobs held by Americans. The globalists don't ask who profits under a regime of transnationalism; the American people are left holding the bag.

In the past, American companies were first and foremost interested in producing in the United States for the American market. Famous companies were identified with particular cities or regions - the Ford Motor Company with Detroit, for example. Did it occur to the American people or to American business leaders that major American companies would shed some of their national identity and become transnational in character?

The need is to now restore the national character to our business enterprises, and to realize anew that the American domestic market is the most important market. The Reagan administration urges increased focus on exports, but that is mistaken counsel. It would take a 75 percent increase in exports to match the vast increase in imports in recent years. In view of foreign industrial policies, this is an impossible goal.

The Time Is Now

As we approach the 1987 Legislative Session, I am reminded of the many needs of Central Florida. One particular need, that of transportation; is on everyone's mind everyday around 8 a.in. and again at 5 p.m. The Florida Legislature has given the counties and cities the opportunity to build roads through the local option gas taxes as passed in 1983 and 1985. This enabldes the counties to pay for the much needed roads to alleviate the traffic problems we

However, Orange County may have some different ideas about their potential fund of $180 million. The county commission has opted not to bond the six cents of local option gas taxes. The commission would rather use the gas tax fund on a 'pay-as-you-go' basis,

They further argue that bonding would mean the taxpayers would be charged the cost of interest to carry the bonds. This is an empty argument since all the interest, as well as the principle, would come from the present gas tax and would require no new taxing source whatsoever to retire the bonds.

One very bad argument proposed to me by a member of Project 2000 is that it would be easier to raise taxes on gasoline today while prices are relatively low than it will be in a few years when they expect higher gasoline prices.

The people of Orange County should not be asked to pay more taxes on their gasoline purchases until the county commission exhausts its resources for building

Maybe Orange County can follow the example set by Seminole County. Seminole has already begun pledging their local option gas taxes for a bank loan on a 4 or 5 year basis. The county has been able to borrow money for roads at a 6.1 percent interest rate.

Further, it is not necessary to bond all of the six cents but, as many other counties have done, bond only what is necessary to correct our problem. Road 'right-of-way' can be purchased for much less in today's market than in five or ten years and certainly inflation will run up the cost of construction considerably in the next decade or two.

The time is now. We need the roads in our counties as well as our cities now - no more waiting or stalling looking for more tax revenue. If Orange County does not have the engineers and staff to accomplish the task at hand they should immediately contract with the private sector to achieve our objective. Bond the six cents of local option gas taxes and build our roads and do it now with no new taxes.

Apology Changes Situation

By Arnold Bawislak UPI Senior Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Reagan took his medicine last Wednesday night and probably saved himself from the fate of Richard Nixon.

Absent the discovery of any "smoking gun" in the Iran arms-Contra aid affair, the speech admitting that the policy, as put into effect, was a mistake for which he took full responsibility, seems to chop off at the knees any further speculation that the Reagan presidency will end in personal disgrace, impeachment or resignation.

Not since John Kennedy publicly took the blame for the disastrous Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba in 1961, has a president owned up to error as completely as Reagan did in his 13-minute television address.

It has been noted that Reagan did not apologize for the Iran arms anair: it is perhai os worth inention. ing that Kennedy didn't assume the blame for the Cuban episode in person, but had his press secretary issue a statement assuming respon-

What Kennedy got out of that was a boost in public approval and virtual immunity from the blame for the many goofs turned up in subsequent investigations of the Bay of Pigs operation, some of which were committed during his White House tenure. It should be no surprise if Reagan gets the same effect from his admission of error.

There still are villians to identify and perhaps lawbreakers to punish in the continuing inquiries by Congress and the special prosecutor. but short of disclosure that the president's role in the affair was bigger than the Tower. Commission found, he probably is off the hook personally.

That does not mean the Reagan magic of 1981 will be restored in Washington. The very fact that he was caught violating his own policy against paying ransom for hostages is bound to have a lasting effect on his straight-shooter image.

Furthermore, the speech did not reverse the verdict of the 1986 elections. He still must deal with a Democratic Congress that now has the votes and will fight any effort to put the conservative agenda back on the track in the last two years of his term. And he still is a lame duck president who has comparatively little to offer his own party in either political rewards or punishments.

Heroin, Opium Pour In From Pakistan

By Jack Anderson

And Joseph Spear WASHINGTON — Congress and the Reagan administration were delighted when Pakistan's dictator, Gen. Mohammed Zia ul-Haq, lifted martial law in late 1985. But no one foresaw the malignant side of this apparent progress toward democra-cy: a staggering increase in the production of opium in Pakistan and the export of heroin to the

The unexpected development is attributed to the rule of civilian politiciana, who are apparently even more corrupt and incompetent than the military officers they replaced. This, at any rate, is the inescapable conclusion to be drawn from an unpublished report on global dope traffic prepared by the House Foreign Affairs Committee staff after months of on-the-spot in-

The study, seen by our associate Lucette Lagnado, was done for Rep. Larry Smith, D-Pla., chairman of a task force on narcotics, it notes that more than half the heroin reaching this country comes from Southwest Asia - and Pakistan's share of this deadly traffic has grown like a weed since Zia ended martial law. "In 1986," the study points out,

"opium production exploded to 140 tons, making Pakistan again one of the largest opium producers in the world." The figure represents a 350 percent increase in Pakistan's opium production from the previous level of about 40 tons.

The increase "may be attributed largely to the transition from military to civilian rule and the resulting uncertainty as to the power of the new civilian government during the crucial harvesting period in March 1986," the report concludes.

The committee report could deal a body blow to Pakistan's hopes for congressional approval of $4 billion in aid over the next six years. As we've reported, there is already a major hurdle that must be overcome: the recent claim by Pakistan's top nuclear scientist that his country has the capability to build a bomb. This would seem to make it difficult, if not impossible, for President Reagan to certify that Pakistan is not making a nuclear bomb, which he must do before Congress can approve further aid. While concluding that the drug situation in Pakistan is much worse under civilian rule, the House study makes clear that corruption was pervasive under martial law as well. Here are some highlights of the committee staff's investigations in Pakistan:

Most of the opium/heroin now produced in Southwest Asia is "either refined or transiting through Pakistan." But corruption at all levels of government is so widespread that officials in islamabad can do nothing to curb the dope traffic.

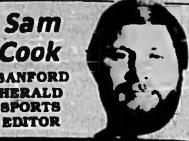

- As an "egregious example" of corruption, the investigators cited the case of two military officers who "were arrested with over 200 kilos of heroin, yet managed to 'escape' subsequently from heavy guard protection."

- Economic reality makes corruption inevitable. An ordinary police officer earns about $100 a month - but can make $2,000 a shot simply by ignoring a drug-

- Even with the best will in the world, Pakistani police are hampered by the legal system. "They cannot testify in a trial," the study notes, "there are no conspiracy or asset-seizure laws, (the police) have no guns, prosecutors are un-sophisticated, they receive low pay, bail is easy." Furthermore, a "clearly defined caste system (puts) influential drug traffickers at the top and policemen at the bottom." The drug lords are widely regarded as immune from the law

Extradition of dope dealers to the United States for prosecution has been hampered by incredible ignorance - in Washington. Last May. State Department officials told the Foreign Affairs Committee that no U.S.-Pakistan extradition treaty exists. In fact, the study points out, such a treaty has been on the books for nearly 40 years, and was updated in the 1970s.

3 Broncos Are Still Riding High

Six summers ago, the Seminole Pony Broncos finished second to Richmond, Calif. in the Bronco World Series at Lafayette, La. The team was managed by Richard Coffey and coached by Greg Ebbert Sr. and Dick Waring.

Those 11- and 12-year-olds have gone their separate ways since then, but three in particular, have resurfaced as top-notch pitchers in Seminole County this spring.

The most effective thus far has been Lake Mary senior Sean "Flake" Flaherty. Ebbert Sr. tagged Flaherty with his nickname during those all-star days and it has stuck.

There is nothing flakey about Flaherty's pitching, however. The hard-throwing right-hander has been nearly untouchable while compiling a 3-0 record for the No. 2-ranked 4A Rams. Until Orlando Colonial nicked him for an uncarned run Saturday, Flaherty had been perfect. Still, his earned run average computes to 0.00, tops in the county in his 17.3 innings.

"Flaherty has just been awesome," Lake Mary coach Allen Tuttle said about his No. 3 pitcher. Two shutouts accompany and 15 strikeouts accompany that perfect ERA and three wins.

Another Bronco knocking down the opposition is righthander Scott Bowers. The Oviedo senior has been as stingy with hits as Flaherty has been with runs. Bowers also has a 3-0 record and has allowed just four hits for the No. 2-ranked 3A Lions. He tossed one-hitters at Lyman and DeLand and a twohit shutout at Lake Howell. Bowers has an excellent ERA, too. His 0.74 ranks third behind Flaherty and sophomore teammate Jody Spelman (0.70).

"I'll put Bowers up against any pitcher in the county," Oviedo coach Howard Mable said. "He has done a fantastic job for us. Of those four hits, only one has been for an extra

The third Bronco is the youngest — Lake Brantley's Greg Ebbert Jr. The junior left-hander has a 2-0 record for his 24 innings with a 1.46 earned run average. He turned in six quality innings last week as Brantley pushed the Rams to the limit before falling, 7-8, in nine innings.

"Ebbert shows you that you don't have to overpower people to be an effective pitcher," Brantley coach Mike Smith said. "He has an excellent curve ball and pitches intelligently."

While the three Broncos have dominated the opposition, Lake Howell's Greg Hill and Lake Mary's Steve Shakar have been nothing short of spectacular either. Senior Hill, a finesse hurler, has posted a 4-0 record for the Hawks. Shakar, a lefthanded strikeout ace, is 3-0 with a county-leading 38 whiffs. Shakar turned in a brilliant 18-K effort against DeLand earlier this year.

The hitters have not fared too poorly either. Oviedo senior Glenn Reichle and Lyman junior Chris Brock are both off to quicks starts. Reichle, a first baseman, lead the county with 10 hits in 16 at-bats for a sizzling .625 average. Reichle is second with 10 ribbies. Brock, a center fielder, leads the county with 11 runs batted in and is tied with teammates John Burton with two homers. Lake Mary's Anthony Laszaic. Lake Howell's Ernest Martinez along with Brantley's Jimmy Morse and Randy Green each lead the way with four doubles. Oviedo superstar Mark Merchant and teammate Tony Belflower have two triples apiece.

Merchant, Lyman's Johnny Luce and Greyhound Gib Lundquist pace the stolen base leaders with seven thefts in as many attempts. Lake Mary allstate Shane Letterio had 12 runs to pace that category. The county also has some excellent young hitters on which to keep an eye. Lyman sophomores Chris Radcliff (third, .476) and Kenny Jackson (10th, .400) are having stellar seasons. Brantley freshman Greg Thomas is sixth in the league with a .421

Ten years ago and 40 miles to the south at Brigham Young, UNLV and Idaho State met in the West Regional final, after the Bengals had upset Long Beach State and UCLA. The Rebels trailed at halftime but pulled away for a 107-90 triumph.

Idaho State is given little chance to beat UNLV, but Coach Jim Boutin is thrilled to be playing the Rebels anyway.

"It's an honor to play the No. 1 team." he added. "How many times does Idaho State have a chance to play the No. 1 team in the country? We know we don't have the personnel of a UNLV, but we have character. We won't be tentative. We'll try to control the tempo and we'll help each other out."

Bucknell is another club expected to exit in the first round - the East Coast Conference champion Bison will meet No. 4 Georgetown Friday night in the Southeast Regional. Coach Charlie Woollum has respect for the Hoyas, saying they have as many good athletes as any squad in the country. But he doesn't plan to change his team's game plan, despite Georgetown's quickness and swarming

"We want to play an up-tempo style," he said. "That's our style and it's been our style since I've been here, so we're not going to change it now. Bucknell, 22-8 and the 16th seed in the Southeast, is certainly one of the least-known teams in the field. Located in Lewisburg in northeast Pennsylvania, Bucknell has averaged more than 20 victories the last four seasons.

"Obviously, when you're talking about playing Georgetown, you're taking a step up from about 90 percent of the teams in the country," Woollum said. "We don't play Georgetowns every day. But then, Georgetown doesn't play Georgetown's

Louisville won't play anyone until next season. The defending national champions were not invited to the NCAAs this year, and Coach Denny Crum Monday decided his squad would not accept a bid to the National Invitation Tournament.

Although the players voted 7-6 to accept. Crum said the coaches decided to stay home. "If their hearts weren't into it, it would be a waste of time," Crum said. "We've got some kids who need the time for academics."

Crum, whose team played in the NIT in 1985, wants to meet with NCAA selection committee members to talk about changing the selection process.

Reliable Skippers Chart Their 'Courses'

Can you read the charts of the waters you intend to navigate?

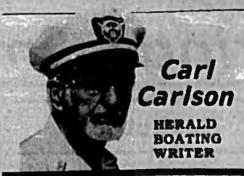

If you cannot you are not a safe and reliable skipper. You need to take a course such as one taught by the United States Power Squadron or one by the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary.

The "Boating Skills and Seamanship" course teaches the fundamentals. It is followed up by a "Coastal Piloting Cousre" that prepares you to understand and eliminate much of the mystery of reading the charts.

One of the stalwarts for home study would be "Chapman Piloting Seamanship and Small Boat Handling." Most book stores have copies.

A chart is much like a road map and like it is uses hundreds of symbols and abbreviations. To successfully read either one you must know what each symbol or abbreviation means. Most road maps have a mileage chart to tell you the distances between points. A chart does likewise by virtue of a scale of nautical miles so that the distance between two points can be measured. A road map tells you what road to take to get you to some place or town you want to visit. A chart uses a buoy system to map out a highway on the inland and coastal waters.

Charts have an enormous amount of detail ranging from indications of depth, shoals and sometimes sunken wrecks. A sunken wreck symbol looks like the backbone of a cat-eaten

Every symbol has an important significance. There are hundreds of symbols depicted on charts. There are too many to show what they mean on the charts themselves so a master reference has been published.

It is listed as: "Chart No. 1 United States Of America Nautical Chart Symbols and Abbreviations." This publication is available from the Department of Commerce, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, Washington, D.C. 20230. A few of the marinas and marine supply dealers carry stocks as

The course is open to everyone. Registration will be on Friday, April 3. The course will begin on Monday, April 6. The course will be held on Mondays and Thursdays from 7-9 p.m. Call 323-9416 for additional information.

Bo Doesn't Go For AAA Plan FORT MYERS (UPI) -

Jackson has served notice that he disagrees with the Kansas City Royals' plans to season him in Triple-A ball. Now, he's drawing notice with his hitting prowess.

"If I play hard and do the things I'm supposed to, it will turn heads," Jackson said.

Jackson, who the Royals plan to send to their American Association affiliate in Omaha, Sunday smashed a home run and a double that landed at the base of the center-field wall in an 8-6 loss to the Texas Rangers.

The Royals plan on a crowded outfield with Danny Tartabull, a slugger acquired in the offseason, in right, Willie Wilson in center and rookle Kevin Seitzer or Rudy Law in left.

Jackson, the 1985 Heisman Trophy winner as the best college football player, is trying to make a case for his inclusion on the major-league roster.

'I set my goals high," Jackson said. "I stop at nothing and let no one get in my way trying to prevent me from reaching those goals. I'm shooting for the top. Both of Jackson's hits Sunday were off Ranger left-hander Mike Jeffcoat, who has two years of major-league duty with Cleve-land and San Francisco.

"Jeffcoat made some good pitches, but not to Bo," Rangers Manager Bobby Valentine said. "The home run was a terrible pitch — a hit-me breaking ball.

Baseball

He killed that ball."

The home run was an opposite-field line drive that was rising as it cleared the rightcenter fence and traveled at least 500 feet. "Bo really impresses me,"

Royals Manager Billy Gardner sald. "With his makeup and with his tools, he could come overnight." "With his talent anything is liable to happen," Royals scout Buck Elliott said. "With talent

Ron Wotus' bunt single. "It was an exciting game and that last guy who came the plate made it exciting." Valentine said. "He an exciting athlete." Jackson said, "He (Kligus) did a good job of keeping the ball

"This spring I've worked harder at baseball than I've worked in my life," Jackson said. "I hope it pays off for me. It will pay off one day or another."

Host St. Cloud dominated its own invitational Monday night but the Bulldogs had to share the spotlight with a versatile girl from Oviedo who is headed in the right direction toward a banner senior season.

Kelly Price came away from the St. Cloud Invitational with four first place finishes including a school record leap of 18-0 in the long jump as she scored 28 points for the Lady Lions who finished third in the meet.

'Kelly (Price) has been working mostly on conditioning so far this season," Oviedo coach Ken Kroog. "She hasn't worked on form much at all so we've been really happy with her performances this season."

In the long jump, Price broke her own school record of 17-10 set last year. She also won the discus with a personal record 96 10, took first in the 110 hurdles at 16.3 and the 330 hurdles at 49.0. Price placed in the state meet in both hurdles last season.

"She's really got a lot to shoot for this season." Kroog said of Price. "She was second in the 330 hurdles last year and would like to improve one place this season. And she was eighth in the heptathlon and we think she can get a lot higher with more preparation this year."

Another incentive for Price this season is to improve toward a career in college track. She has already been accepted to and offered a partial scholarship to Appalachian State University in Boone, N.C.

"She doesn't have great speed, but she's got good strength and is the kind of kid you want to have on your team." Kroog said. "I think she'll be a fine addition to Appalachian State's team."

In Monday's meet, St. Cloud compiled 123 points for first place, followed by Kissimmee Osceola at 85, Oviedo at 69, Okeechobee at 34 and Lake Walkes at 26.

Also taking a first place for the Lady Lions was sophomore Suzanne Hughes who cleared 5-0 in the high jump.

Track & Field

Price Takes 4 Firsts; Eyes Banner Season

Shannon Wilcoxson had an outstanding meet for Oviedo as she took third in the high jump at 4-9 and third in 440 at 65.6, earning a spot in both events on the Seminole County Honor Roll. Also taking third was Cathy Champ-in the two mile at

The Lady Lions also took third in both relays as the 440 relay team of LaSandra Smith, Shella Brown, Irene Brown and Jill Bass ran a 57.0 and the mile relay foursome of Bass. Wilcoxson, Lynley Yost and Michelle Wynn ran a 4:45.9.

Four places went to Bass in the shot put (25-61/2) and Wynn in the 100 meters (14.1), Yout was fifth in the 880 (2:54.1), Smith was sixth in the 100 (14.7) and Champ sixth in the mile (6:40).

"I was really happy with the girls team," Kroog said. "That's the most points they've scored in maybe three or four years." In the boys meet Monday, St. Cloud amassed 119 points compared to 104 for Lake Wales, 68 for Osceola, 28 for Oviedo and 23 for Okeechobee.

Oviedo senior Robb Hughes won the discus and added almost five feet to his personal record with a throw of 144-24. "It was only Robb's second meet and he's coming right along," Kroog said. "I expect he'll break the school record in the discus pretty soon." Brian Wilson took the only second place for the Lions by clearing 6-1 in the high jump and the mile relay team of Pete Lingard, Hughes, Sandy Potts and Dana Hill took third at 3:41.

Other places for the Lions included Brad Bolton in the high jump (fourth at 5-9), Frank Diaz in the long jump (fifth at 21-21/2), Ted Spor in the two mile (fifth at 11:43.6) and Potts in the 880 (sixth at 2:11.4).

"We're building right now without Karl Wright (academically ineligible) there," Kroog said. "He's our big point man and I expect we'll be competitive in the district with him. But we still had some good things happen tonight, especially from the guys coming off basketball."

Academic-Minded Louisville Snubs NIT

NEW YORK (UPI) — Defending national champion Louisville, anubbed by the NCAA Tournament, Monday turned down an invitation to participate in the National Invitation Tournament.

Aithough Louisville team members voted 7-6 to accept the NIT bid, the coaches voted against going, Louisville Coach Denny Crum said.

"If their hearts weren't into it, it would be a waste of time," Crum said at a news conference. "We've got some kids who need the time for academics."

Meanwhile, the NIT completed the 32-team field with the selection of Washington and Stephen F. Austin. Washington, 18-14, will visit Montana State, 21-7, in a first-round game Wednesday. James Madison, 20-9, heads to Stephen F. Austin on Thursday for a first-round clash.

Among teams accepting NIT bids Sunday were: Rhode Island, Arkansas-Little Rock, Tennessee-Chattanooga, St. Louis, Akron, New Mexico, Cleveland State, Villanova, Nebraska, Utah and Jacksonville.

Graf Has Momentum, But Martina Holds No. 1

KEY BUCAYNE (UPI) - Steff Grafs orrid early season pace gives her the nomentum in what should be a four-way battle for the No. 1 ranking in women's tennis throughout 1987.

Graf, 17, easily defeated both Martina Navratilova and Chris Evert Lloyd during the two-week Lipton International Players Championships to win her second tournament in as many 1967 events. She won the Virginia Slims of Florida last month, has yet to lose a set this year, and rarely takes longer than 40 minutes to win a match. Her ictory over Navratilova took 57 minutes, while she required 59 minutes to top Evert

Tennis

Lloyd. Navratilova is still far ahead of the No. 2 Graf in the computer rankings, but she has yet to win in 1987, losing the Australian Open final to Hana Mandlikova, the fourth-ranked player. Evert Lloyd, No. 3 after sitting out five months with a knee injury, said the days when she and Navratilova could be counted on to meet in the final of any tournament are over.

"I think among the top four players, it's in women's tennis.

going to be an open year," Evert Lloyd said. "I think on any given day, whoever plays the best will win. It's not predictable any more. Any of the four could be No. 1 at the end of the year.

Graf has positioned herself to succeed Navratilova, 30, as the No. 1 player. Evert Lloyd is 32, and Mandlikova, 25, has yet to overcome the inconsistency that causes her to fluctuate between playing great one match and awful in the next. Graf, of West Germany, still is improving her game and has a solid serve and backhand to complement the best forehand

SPORTS

IN BRIEF

St. Louis Jumps From Fourth To Second With 3-2 OT Victory

United Press International

Only in the Norris Division, where first place is sometimes easier to attain than a .500 record, can a team move from fourth place to division-title contention with a single victory.

The St. Louis Blues jumped two spots to second place in the Norris - and four points behind division-leading Detroit - Monday night with a 3-2 overtime triumph over the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Greg Paslawski drilled a shot from the slot past goaltender Ken Wregget with 59 seconds left in the extra period to extend the Blues' unbeaten streak to six games (3-0-3). The Blues improved to 26-28-13.

Five points separate the first four teams in the Norris. where Detroit's 30-28-9 record is the only one above .500. Blues center Bernie Federko says first place may be decided in St. Louis' last game, April 5 against the Red

'We're not going to get cocky, but it could come down to the last game in Detroit," Federko said. "This was a big win because Wregget was playing so well, we started shaking our heads. Fortunately, we were able to get it past him when it counted."

In the only other game, Montreal edged Minnesota 5-4.

Campbell Runs Personal Best

Sanford's Clifton Campbell, a 1985 Seminole High graduate, finished second in the 400 meters and ran the fastest leg on the second-place 1,600 meter relay last weekend as he helped Auburn University to third place in the Southeastern Conference Indoor Championships at Gainesville.

Campbell ran his personal record and the third fastest 400-meter time ever at Auburn with a 47.12. He also ran a 46.7 split on the 1,600 meter relay which finished with a time of 3:10.39. Joining Campbell on the team were Daron Council (48.5 split). Kevin Henderson (47.2) and Alex Huntley (47.9).

Neither Campbell's time in the open 400 or the 1,600 relay qualified for the NCAA Indoor Championships but he will have one more qualifying meet to try to make the NCAAs.

Also for Auburn, Winter Park High graduate Brian Jaeger qualified for the NCAA meet in the 3,000 meters with a first-place and SEC indoor record time of 7:58.27.

Fortune Strikes For Raiders

Jeff Fortune's two-run homer led a 12-run first-inning barrage as Seminole Community College thrashed Western New England College, 17-2, Monday in the first of a series of games against northern schools on spring break at SCC. The Raiders improved to 7-14 overall and continues the series today at 3 p.m. against Villanova "B". While Fortune's blast brough home two runs in the first, Chris Gage had two hits and drove in two runs in the inning while Charles Brookes, Kevin Hill and Danny Moore also had RBIs in the inning.

Tony Ferrebee started on the mound for the Raiders and gave way to Harry Timmons in the fourth. Timmons went four frames and got the sets with deff Road Reighing up the last two innings.

SCC had 13 hits in the game with Hill, Troy Blevins and Brian Spann getting two apiece. Hill and Blevins also socked doubles.

11 Hits Not Enough For Lyman

Lyman's Lady Greyhounds came up with their best offensive production of the season Monday afternoon with 11 hits and seven runs but it wasn't enough as Lyman fell to the Lady Tigers of Orlando Jones, 14-7, at Orlando.

The Lady Greyhounds, 0-7, return to Seminole Athletic Conference (0-1) play today at home against Lake Brantley. Jones scored 12 runs over the first three frames and Lyman could not come back despite its solid offensive showing. Dana Garrett led the Lady Greyhounds with three hits while Tammy Wright was 2 for 4 and Rhonna Carter 1 for 2 with an RBI triple.

"We got our offense going today." Lyman assistant Tina McFerren said. "But we made four errors and gave up nine walks. If we keep hitting and get our defense and pitching down, we'll be all right."

Attorney: Yeoman Gave Money

HOUSTON (UPI) - Former Houston Coach Bill Yeoman gave players as much as $500 and promised to pay athletes if they performed well on the field, a Cougars booster told attorneys investigating the school's football program.

In documents released Monday, Frank Terry contradicted Yeoman's claims that the payments were small. Yeoman admitted in documents released last week he occasionally gave players money, but never more than about $35, and the money given was for "humanitarian" reasons Several former players claimed starters received $500 each season and some received more. Terry, in his interview with attorneys last April, confirmed players received more than $35.

Burger King To Honor Cagers

Burger King Restaurants will hold its annual Seminole County Basketball Player of the Week Awards Presentation Wednesday at the George Perkins Building of the Eastmonte Recreation Complex in Altamonte Springs.

Bob Santulli, Seminole County director of community relations, said the barbecue dinner begins at 6:30 p.m and the award presentations will follow at 7:30 p.m.

Awards will be presented for boys' and girls' players of the year, boys' and girls' coach of the year and the weekly award winners. First- and second-team all-star selections will also be announced.

Foreman Returns, Scores TKO

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) - Former heavyweight champion George Foreman, returning to the ring after a decade, scored a fourth-round technical knockout over journeyman Steve Zouski of Milwaukee Monday night in a lackluster bout.

The 39-year-old Foreman fought at 267 pounds, about 50 more than his prime weight in the early 70s. He appeared slow and plodding, but showed occasional flashes of the punching power that has given him 43 knockouts and 44 victories in his 46 professional fights.

Brantley To Hold 'Youth Night'

Lake Brantley's baseball team will hold its "Youth Baseball Appreciation Night" Saturday when the Patriots host Jacksonville Sandalwood. Game time is 7 p.m.

All Seminole County youth baseball players wearing a team hat and shirt who are age 14 and under will be admitted free of charge.

SIZEUP: LOS ANGELES DODGERS

VERO BEACH (UPI) - The Los Angeles Dodgers must keep the health clinics from becoming overcrowded — with their players. In finishing fifth last year, Los Angeles had virtually every regular except second baseman Steve Sax on the disabled list. Manager Tom Lasorda used 123 different lineup combinations to compensate for 14

"It's a question of being healthy for us this year," Lasorda said. "We didn't finish where we did because of a lack of talent. It was

"All I ask this season is that we be able to put the same players on the field every day. We've got to get guys to play every day. If we do that, I feel we'll be competitive with anybody."

Pedro Guererro, who showed up for spring training early and impressed many people with his physical condition, made an abortive midseason try to come back from spring knee surgery. Lasorda will start him in left field this spring — but will not let him silde. It was a silde that ripped up Guerrero's patellar tendon. Shortstop Mariano Duncan was out from Aug. 19 to Sept. 17 with a fractured left foe; third baseman Bill Madlock was hampered by a bad hip for three months and catcher Mike Scioscia was out a month The trade of Greg Brock to Milwaukee for RHP Tim Leary, who will try for the No. 5 starter's spot, means Lasorda can shift Franklin Stubbs (.226-23-56) to first "although that could change."

STRENGTHS — Big three of Fernando Valenzuela, Orel Hershiser and Bob Welch form nucleus of standout pitching staff; Guerrero, Stubbs and Mike Marshall give club plenty of power in middle of

WEAKNESSES - First, third and center field are unsettled positions; bullpen is below average, unless newly-acquired left-hander Matt Young produces; defense was worst in big leagues last

NEW FACES - Young (8-4, 13 saves) is a relief candidate; Leary could crack rotation; RHPs Shawn Hillegas and Brian Hotton could OUTLOOK - A division title is possible if Los Angeles gets as many good breaks this season as if did bad breaks last year.

Lakers Throttle Clippers

United Press International The best and the worst of the

NBA convened in Los Angeles Monday night. The Los Angeles Lakers and Los Angeles Clippers — who play home games only 15 miles apart in the Fourm and Los Angeles Arena respectively met on the Clippers' court with predictable results. The Lakers. with the best record in the NBA at 48-14, scored a 136-114 victory to drop the Clippers to 10-49, worst in the league.

The Lakers' fourth consecutive victory was important in one respect. They improved to 2 1/2 games their lead over the Boston Celtics for the best record in the NBA, improving their chances of gaining the home-court advantage throughout the playoffs.

"I don't care who we're playing; we have an opportunity to put some distance between us and Boston," Lakers Coach Pat Riley said. "Plus. we play our next six games at home so we have a good chance to improve our record."

Byron Scott hit 11 of 12 shots from the floor en route to a 30-point outburst for the Lakers. The Lakers had the edge in rebounds (47-36), assists (37-27) and converted 55 of 87 shots from the field, compared to 40 of 93 for the Clippers.

James Worthy added 20 points, A.C. Green and Michael Cooper had 18 apiece and Magic Johnson 15 for the Lakers. Mike Woodson led the Clippers with 23 points but was ejected with 4:20 remaining for arguing an offensive foul call. He went to the bench to join Benoit Benjamin. who was ejected with 7:19 left in the third quarter.

"If we get behind against the good teams it's very hard for us to get back in the game." ers Coach Don Chaney said. "We just don't have those super players to carry us through the hard times."

Elsewhere, Indianapolis beat Utah 107-102, Milwaukee topped Phoenix 115-110, and Atlanta edged Chicago 108-103.

Pacers 107, Jazz 102

At Indianapolis, John Long scored 42 points, including 12 straight in the final period, to lead Indiana. Long hit a pair of 3-pointers in his 12-point surge. Darrell Griffith scored 27 points and Karl Malone collected 24 points and 17 rebounds for the Jazz.

Bucks 116, Suns 110

At Milwaukee, Terry Cummings scored 28 points and Paul Pressey added 19 to lift Milwaukee. Walter Davis led the Suns with 28 points and Alvan Adams added 24, including 11 in the fourth quarter.

Hawks 108, Bulls 103

Atlanta, Kevin Willis scored 30 points and Dominique Wilkins added 27 to lead Atlanta to its seventh straight triumph. Willis and Wilkins each scored 10 points in a 30-point fourth period for Atlanta. Michael Jordan scored 31 points for Chicago.

Bull Market Remains

in active trading of New York Stock Exchange

The Dow Jones industrial average, which fell 20.11 Monday, was down 2.25 to 2257.87 shortly after the market opened.

Advances led declines 513-486 among the 1,468 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape. Early turnover amounted to about 15,745,000 shares.

The stock market closed sharply lower Monday in active trading, failing to rebound from futures-related sell programs that sent the Dow down more than 30 points in the session's first 15

"We had a big hit at the beginning which was magnified by the sell programs," said Alfred

Goldman of A.G. Edwards & Sons in St. Louis, adding that a soft bond market contributed to the decline in "a market vulnerable to a correction."

Goldman said he has seen some charts indicating the market has reached some "minor tops" and a correction - as measured by the Dow - could be within the range of 10 percent to 12

"Our advice is to raise some cash and batten down the hatches for the first meaningful correction in 1987," Goldman said. "The longterm bull market, however, remains intact."

"The unexpectedly broad spread between the index futures and equities provided the recently quiet programs with a sell opportunity," said Trude Latimer of Josephthal & Co. "Foreign buyers stepped to the sidelines after several weeks of heavy buying."

terviewing them apparently had suspicions they were not using their true names and pressured them to disclose their real iden-

"The first time we arrested them, they gave us aliases," said Sanford Police Chief Steve Harriett. When they were arrested a second time, he said, "police intuition" played a role in suspecting their identities were other than those offered. Apparently, that "intuition" wasn't present at their first arrest.

"We pushed them, and determined that they gave us false information the first time. The first time we knew something was skewed. But that was all we had to go on (what information they had) and we went with it."

Seminole County sheriff's Capt. Roy Hughey said that it would be possible for a suspect who was jailed, who had no valid driver's license and no criminal record showing fingerprints to be booked into jail and released without ever having been positively identified. Unless there was some proof of identification provided by the suspect, it would be possible, especially on a misdemeanor charge, for some one to be jailed and released without their identity having been established.

That was apparently the case with the juvenile who identified herself as a 22-year-old Alabama woman when she was arrested along with an 24-year-old woman the first time.

After those misdemeanor arrests the woman and girl were released from the Seminole County jail without posting bond and without having been positively identified.

One-Man Woman Who Strayed Is Sick With Worry Over AIDS

DEAR ABBY: A year and a half ago I broke up with my steady boyfriend - the only man I had ever had sex with. I met another man and had sex with him a couple of times. (I was on the pill, so he didn't use a condom.) A month later I wen back to my boyfriend and shortly after that, we were married. I'm 25 now, and we are considering having a baby. Now my problem. I'm scared to death of AIDS. This man I had sex with a few times seemed heterosexual, but now that I think about it, he could have been gay or bisexual. He was very inexperienced, and a very poor lover. He said he had had sex only once before with a girl — two years ago! He seemed very masculine, only shy. He's moved away from here, so I can't even talk to him. Could I have AIDS? Should I be worried? I don't want to give it to my husband or have a baby if I could possibly have AIDS. Should I be tested? (I wouldn't even know where to go.) I have no symptoms, and I'm very healthy, but I've heard that the incubation period for AIDS is from five to 10 years. My husband doesn't know I had sex with this other guy, and I just can't bring myself to tell him the

Please put my mind at ease. Abby. All the stuff I read and hear about AIDS has me freaked out! Please help me. WORRIED SICK

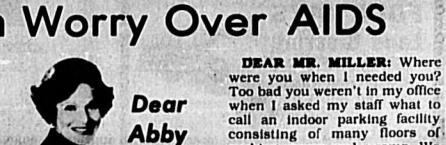

DEAR WORRIED: You are wise to be concerned. Having sex without a condom wih someone you don't know very well puts you at risk for AIDS because not only did you have sex with him, but you have, in essence, had sex with everyone he has had sex with for the last five to 10 years.

To quote Dr. Mervyn Silverman, president of the American Foundation for AIDS Research: "You should get a blood test to determine whether you have been infected by the AIDS virus. Unfortunately, people can carry the virus and spread it without knowing they are infected."

Call your local operator and ask if there is an AIDS hotline. If there is, call and discuss your concerns, and ask where you can be tested. Your local Department of Public Health can also tell you where to go for confidential testing.

DEAR ABBY: I quote: "Experienced thieves can get into locked cars easily - even in a parking lot or an indoor multilevel parking facility." That's from a recent column of

This is true, but what in the world is an "indoor multilevel parking facility"? Maybe I'm just a Hoosier hick (and no, that's not redundant), but arund here we call 'em "parking garages."

"Indoor multilevel parking facilities" sounds more like Uncle Sam than Dear Abby - were you quoting a government publication, by chance? In any case, it belongs in the same wastebasket as "irregardless," 'true facts' and "priorities." STANLEY MILLER.

Jim Lash Blue Book Cars For Handpicked Vehicles

Who knows better about used cars than someone who has been specializing in them all of his life? That's right, not a hobby, a sideline or a get rich scheme, but a career in selling clean, quality late model cars and trucks. Jim Lash has been serving the car needs of Central Florida for over 30 years in the same location and in Sanford since 1966. You won't see . Grand Opening today and gone tomorrow from this dealership. However, you will see many of the same helpful people who have served your car needs over the past years.

At Jim Lash's Blue Book Cars, he and son, Steve use their knowledge and experience to hand pick each vehicle. This helps the customer take the guesswork out of purchasing a used car or truck. Other comforting notes are that each unit is inspected through Blue Book Service Center. Jim Durs, service manager, and his staff use their skills and latest equipment to bring each vehicle to optimum mechanical condition.

This is why Blue Book Cars can offer a 30, 60 or 90-day free service agreement while most companies either do not offer a warranty today or

Also important is a large inventory selection from which to choose, giving you a price range or payment to fit your budget's needs.

They also offer direct Barnett Bank financing with preferred customer rates and on-the-spot delivery. Another important point is the clean fresh appearance of the vehicles. This is achieved by total reconditioning of the car's interior and exterior. Nelson Montalvo, detail manager, gets the job done with his staff by having the proper equipment and receiving the years of experienced knowledge from Jim Lash.

Credibility is also an important factor when purchasing a used car or truck. Blue Book Cars and Blue Book Service Center are members of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce, Greater Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and the Better Business

The sales staff consisting of C. Ray Lash. Roger Scharlau and Les Karl has many years of experience selling used cars. They can answer your questions and give advice where others may simply guess or say they don't know!

To finalize, all your automotive needs can be taken care of in our new clean facility at the same location, 4114 S. Orlando Drive (Highway 17-92). You can stop and shop under the open showroom, deal in the spacious offices or if waiting, relax in the lounge at Jim Lash's Blue Book Cars, 4114 S. Orlando Drive, Sanford.

The staff of Hair Now would like to take this time to welcome new customers to their salon and to give their thanks and appreciation to their regular

Located at 607 W. 25th St., Sanford, Hair Now was established 16 years ago. Owner Merle Reese of Sanford purchased the salon four years ago upon graduating from Woody's Hairstyling In-

Her salon services include top quality perms and hair color, nail sculpting, eyebrow waxing, ear piercing, make-up and of course hair cuts and styles to suit the individual.

At Hair Now they don't sacrifice quality for low prices, they offer both.

Hair Now introduces Christy Casto to the Sanford area. Christy is a native of Jacksonville and a fourth generation hair stylist. She has 16 years experience in the beauty business and 12 years as a solon owner.

With summer right around the corner, your hair heeds a little more attention. Chlorinated pools, salt water and the sun, all of these are very damaging to your hair. Hair Now has a great line of hair care products at very reasonable prices. including a full line of Redkin. Nexxus and Paul Mitchell by order.

Let them give you a hair cut that you can manage with or without the blow dryer.

A family oriented salon, Hair Now is now taking applications for additions to the staff. If you are willing to work hard. Hair Now offers top pay.

"Hair Now is our name, satisfied customers are our aim." said Merle.

USAir Proposes Piedmont Takeover

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (UPI) — USAir Group Inc. would become the No. 7 airline if the government approves its $1.6 billion takeover of Pledmont Aviation Inc. in the largest deal in aviation history.

Approved by Piedmont Monday, the proposed cash deal also could thwart Trans World Airlines Inc.'s hostile attempt to take over USAir.

Piedmont will operate temporarily as a wholly-owned subsidiary before being merged into USAir, said Nancy Vaughan, a spokeswoman for USAir, based in Arlington, Va.

Pending the government's final approval. USAir filed an application with the Transportation Department for permission to purchase 100 percent of Piedmont's stock to be put in a voting

The deal calls for USAir to pay $69 for each share of Piedmont's 23.1 million outstanding shares in what airline industry officials called the largest transaction on record.

Vaughan would not commment on possible flight service or personnel changes because "it's

The combined Piedmont-USAir carrier will have 34,000 employees and a fleet of more than 309 aircraft, officials said.

Piedmont's largest hub is in Charlotte, N.C., with over 200 daily flights. USAir's major hub in Pittsburgh has 265 daily flights.

Analysts said 39-year-old Piedmont Aviation. which had net 1986 profits of $72.4 million, was ripe for a merger. USAir's 1986 net income was $98.4 million.

Fact And Opinion About Eye Care

DEAR READERS - A recent than you describe." column on optometry drew comments - both pro and con - from a number of eye-care specialists. Following are two typical letters — and my response.

First, from an ophthalmologist (M.D.):

"DEAR DR. GOTT - You recently described the difference between an ophthalmologist (M.D.) and an optometrist (O.D.) and stated that eye disease should be managed by an ophthalmologist. I agree: We ophthalmologists frequently see patients with far-advanced glaucoma who have been misdiagnosed by optometrists. Your answer was to the point and provided excellent advice. However, you probably have had letters from many optometrists who disagree with this.'

Next, from an optometrist: "DEAR DR. GOTT - I'm an optometrist, and I'd like to clarify (and correct) information you gave recently regarding optometrists' training and skills.

"First, optometrists are required to spend four years in optometry school - not two years, as you stated. In addition, most optometry school students have more than two years of college before they enter optometry school (although two years is the minimum requirement). "An optometrist's role isn't as limited as you describe. Optometrists provide primary eye care - testing eyes and prescribing corrective vision lenses and therapy (eye exercises). However, we also are thoroughly trained in diagnosing eye disease and health problems that can cause eye symptoms (such as diabetes and high blood pressure). Some states permit optometrists to treat eye diseases by means of prescription drugs. We also refer patients to ophthalmologists and other specialists when necessary and in some cases, we work closely with the ophthalmologist in managing a patient's eye care.

"In short: Optometrists receive six to eight years of training (not four, as you stated). and their role is more extensive

DEAR DOCTORS - It's true that optometrists spend four years in optometry school; the two-year program was phased out several years ago. According to the American Optometric Association, only 7 percent of optometry-school students have just two years of college; in 1985-86, 93 percent had three or more years of college behind them before they entered optometry school.

Optometrists are trained to diagnose and treat vision problems. Ophthalmologists are trained to diagnose and treat eye disease.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby Choosing the right opening lead is a fascinating exercise. West knew that if his partner had a minor suit ace and another ace, then the singleton club lead would beat the five-diamond contract. But West also knew that when you have some length in déclarer's trump suit, it is usually best to lead your own suit and start forcing declarer to ruff. Since West was looking at four trumps, he led a heart.

Declarer took the ace, trumped his remaining heart and drew trumps. Then he led a club. If East wins the ace, declarer will take 12 tricks, shedding his spade losers on dummy's clubs. But East ducked. When declarer continued the suit, East ducked again. Eventually South had to lose the club ace and two spade tricks for down one.

What if declarer plays clubs at trick two? Now East may not know to hold up his ace twice. It is still the right play, however, and any East shrewd enough to figure it out deserves to set the contract. Alert readers will also notice that the contract will fail if West opens a low spade. (After taking the club ace, East will return a spade through declarer's J-6.)

of the singleton club? If East takes the ace and gives partner a ruff, the rest is easy. Declarer simply wins the return, draws trumps ending in dummy and discards three losers on the good clubs. But again East can defend brilliantly, simply by not winning the club ace until the third round of the suit. And once again, the contract goes down.

What about that opening lead
