American Silk

Japan may be driven out of the world silk markets by low-priced silk made in America, according to David Markstein, writing in Forbes' Magazine. For several years mulberry trees have grown near Mineral Wells, lexas, and silkworm cultivation has been carried on.

The problem of cheap enough labor to unwind the cocoons has always been a stumbling block to that industry in this country, but a solution has been found in an electronic reeling machine invented by Gustav Beck man. This contrivance makes it possible to spin more and cheaper-silk off cocoons in a few hours than several Japanese workers can spin in a number of days. It is estimated that the infant industry will turn out 100,000 pounds of raw silk this year.

No yarn has ever been produced which equals silk in beauty of texture and finish, though rayon and nylon are serious rivals in the field. Many women will welcome the return of stockings and fabrics of the material which has been impossible to obtain for several years.

New York Plans To Complete Highway In Five Years

By TONI ADAMS AP Newsfeatures
ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 10—Five years from new, New York State expects to have completed "the greatest highway in the world" stretching 486 miles from the state's southeastern tip, through the Hudson and Mohawk valleys, to the Pennsylvania border at Lake Erie. The $202,000,000 high-speed tollfase Thruway, now under construc-tion, is designed to serve 90 per-cent of the Empire State's 13,500, 000 residents.

Six lanes, three on each side of a mall, will span the state, with no traffic lights, no grade intersections and no urban hindrances, Speedup Lanes Planned with speed-up and slow-down lanes-merging with the Thruway, which will be open to both commercial and passenger vehicles. The exits and entrances will be spaced an average of four miles apart, to accommodate local, short-haul traffic

You will be able to see at least 1,000 feet ahead at all times. A minimum curve radius of 2,800 feet and a maximum grade of three per-cent, are planned.

Compared With Others State Public Works Department officials supporting Goyernor Thomas E. Dewey's claim that it will be "the greatest highway in the world," say these combined features can not be found elsewhere. Pennsylvania, for instance, has a similar transportation asset in its seventy million dollar turnpike, opened in October, 1940. But the turnpike is much shorter (160 miles), has only four lanes and charges tolls:
