

Metts, Fleischer Give Feds 3-2 Win Over Seabreeze

Junior Swats Homer And Mel Whiffs 11

By KENT CHELAIN
Lake Monroe's "Locomotive"

Junior Metts bashed out a two-run homer and one-run binggo while "Mel" Whiffed 11 times in the playing of clutch pitching and fanning 11 batters to forge Seminole High School's 3-2 triumph over Seabreeze of Daytona Beach in the season's home opener at the Memorial Stadium last night.

Playing in the Memorial "colosseum" for the first time, the Seminole baseball team set an all-time attendance record for a baseball game when 350 fans poured through the gates last night to get a glimpse of almost the same team that set the state on its ears last summer in the grueling Junior Legion diamond tourney.

Fleischer turned in a superb job on the rubber getting into only two jams and holding the steam to weather both threats. After fanning Artie Richards, star Sand Crab cager, to start the game, Benner sliced a single over Halton Blaise's head down the right field line.

Lager dumped a Texas leaguer into short center advancing Richards to third. Clean on hitter Odum drew a base on balls and it was through with the base all jammed up with "Crabs."

Third baseman Lucy, however, bounced to Fleischer's left and the P.C. hurler nailed Benner coming home in a close force play at the plate. Fleischer demonstrated why he is a pitcher by fanning his hurling opponent, Don Vinelli, to end the menace and lining up in the Seminole half of the first, DJ Sheffield fanned, Blaise grounded to short and Ed McCall drew a pass. Then the SRS athletic immortal rose to the occasion again as he has done in every sport in his brief career.

The supposedly near-sighted Metts blasted a lower homer over the left centerfield fence some 300 feet away and was barely able to cross the plate as his mates literally mobbed him coming down the third baseline.

The game settled down to an old-fashioned fifth when Sanford picked up his third and winning run. It started after Blaise forced Fleischer, who had walked earlier. The speedy first baseman stole second and McCall then drew a pass. Metts hit a slow rolled to second, but beat it out and Blaise crossed the plate.

With Sanford holding a 3-0 edge going into the top half of the seventh, Lenholt walked, went to second on Graber's ground out to Russell Mann.

Red Sox Massacre Sanford Giants To Seminoles, 30-4, Battle Sunday In Lions League Memorial Stadium

Charlie English, designer of the season's first no-hitter, batted and hurled his way to a lopsided 30-4 victory over the cellar-dwelling Seminoles in the Lions League Memorial Stadium yesterday afternoon.

The Red Sox were need at the plate by the hard hitting Sidney Vihlen. All the crimson socker did was blast out four singles and a homer. English also honored the Seminoles together. The Tribe collapsed in the fourth inning when the Red Sox exploded for 19 runs.

Bill Robertson Is Sold By Jax Beach
Bill Robertson, popular limited service catcher for the Jacksonville Beach Sox last year, was sold to the Class A Williamsport club of the Eastern League, it was announced by Red Bird officials here yesterday.

Robertson, who batted an even .300 last year and drove in 83 runs in 135 games, caught the eye of Jax Beach manager Red Trend. Robertson was forced to sell Robertson since the hard hitting Harmon Young were being hit out for the other veteran post.

Turned a veteran this year, only one other veteran besides Trendway can play in the Class D Florida State this year under the new two-veteran limit. Before Robertson was sold, he and third baseman Harmon Young were being hit out for the other veteran post.

Robert "Bub" Folkert, slugging left-handed outfielder now working out with the Sanford Cardinals in the St. Louis Cardinal farm training base at Albany, Ga., is the spring hitting sensation so far. That is the latest word from Albany, Walter Shannon, St. Louis farm official, phoned Sanford's General Manager Jim Fields, yesterday, to relay the news.

The news of Folkert's prodigious slugging came as a complete surprise to Fields and club officials, since it was reported earlier that Folkert had been drafted into the Army and would not report.

The 19-year-old Flycatcher, who stands 5-foot-11 and weighs 168 pounds, is currently listed as 1-A in the draft. The chunky slugger is a rookie, although he played 58 games last year, splitting the season with a minor league club in Paducah, Ky., of the Class D Kitty League and the Ardmore in the Class D Sooner State League.

Card Ticket Booth Will Open Downtown

A ticket booth for the sale of advance season tickets to the Sanford Cardinal baseball games here this summer will be erected Saturday and placed near the corner of First Street and Magnolia Avenue, it was announced today by Jim Fields, Cardinal general manager. Besides season tickets, fans may purchase books of 10, opening night duets and obtain information about the club, he added.

According to Shannon, Folkert's long ball hitting has been the high point of the successful eight-day spring training session. Murray Byrd, Sanford's only holdover from last year's Seminole Blues, has been rounding into shape and seems sure of striking with the local Cards again this year.

The Sanford Cardinals will break camp in Albany a week from today and take the Sanford club bus here. A week from Sunday the newly assembled Cardinals will stage an afternoon practice session at the Memorial Stadium for local fans' first glimpse of the 1953 baseball edition.

The Cards will open the Florida State League season in 10 days at the Memorial Stadium with the Orlando Senators. The opener on Monday evening, Apr. 13, will be the first time local fans will have seen their new team in competition.

Reds Present Plan Of Returning More Men Than Expected

Quick Exchange Suggested By UN Body

By ROBERT H. TUCKMAN
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—United Nations liaison officers Monday proposed a quick exchange of sick and wounded seven days after agreement is reached on procedure and the Communists offered a plan which might return far more Allied prisoners than expected.

The U. N. Command at the first meeting of liaison officers at Panama City announced they were ready to return prisoners at the rate of 500 a day.

The number of prisoners on both sides who would be returned was not known. But U. N. Command officers wondered if the Communists were offering to exchange those prisoners who are so slightly disabled that they would be ineligible for repatriation now under the Geneva Convention.

The Communist liaison group said it was prepared to repatriate all sick and injured prisoners of war entitled to be directly repatriated or accommodated in a neutral country under the Geneva rules.

These rules provide that sick or wounded prisoners who might be able to return to the fighting within a year would be "accommodated" in a neutral country.

What the Communists seemed to be saying was that they also were willing to surrender the slightly injured or ill. Or they might be in a position to offer a neutral nation as a sanctuary for some of the sick and wounded, which might form a stumbling block to any quick action.

The Allied plan for speedy exchange of prisoners was part of a nine-point program handed the Communists at Monday's session at Panmunjom. Allied officers said "distinct progress" was made and the Communists were "very objective."

Big Meeting Is Scheduled Tonite At The City Hall

Two of the best-attended Commission meetings in recent months appear to be in the offing when the City Commission meets in a one-day session tonight at the City Hall and the County Commission convenes in a regular session tomorrow morning at the Court House.

City Commissioners have invited representatives from four groups to sit with them in an effort to straighten out responsibilities in the Sanford industrial movement.

The Sanford Industrial Board, Sanford Industries, Inc., and the Sanford Senior Chamber of Commerce Industrial Committee will all have representatives at the special meeting called a week ago by Mayor Randall Chiles.

Meanwhile, the County Commissioners also seem to have a problem on their hands.

When that group convenes at the last meeting in March, they at first approved purchase of a Gallon Model road grader and then a few hours later rescinded that order following information submitted by rival bidders. Representatives of all three companies concerned are expected to be on hand to submit additional information to the Commissioners.

DALE CARRIGIE

Cancer Facts

The number of cancer patients saved last year could have been doubled if every cancer case had been treated early and by the most effective methods.

In probing all angles of the cancer problem, the American Cancer Society is studying the eating habits of 300,000 men over 50 years old to determine if there is any connection between lung cancer and smoking.

Surveys indicate that about two adult Americans in five have been told that cancer is curable, and that only a little more than half of all adult Americans know even one of cancer's seven danger signals.

Chances In Mouth Cancer Better When Growth Is Smaller In Size

Editor's note: This is one of a series of articles prepared by medical experts for the Sanford American Cancer Society as an educational service during April, cancer control month. Today's writer is an attending surgeon at the Chief Head and Neck Service, Memorial Center, New York.

By HAYES MARTIN, M. D.

If a mouth cancer is no larger than a man's thumb the chances for permanent cure are twice as good, in the average of all cases, as they are when the growth has reached the size of a man's fist. This is the sum of new statistics based on experience at the Memorial Cancer Center in New York City.

Although it has long been known both by the profession and the public that early cures for treatment have the best chance against the ravages of cancer, this has been a vague general statement of limited value because it did not answer the question: "What is early?"

Based on the "thumbprint" test, the following striking comparisons can be made: The chances for permanent cure of those who have gone to the doctor, who, in turn, has determined the nature of the growth and begun treatment before the lesion has exceeded approximately 4.5ths of an inch in diameter, and the mixed group of early and late recipients of medical care:

Blues In The News

By BOB ANTHONY

Many men from around the station were among the people who attended the Easter Sunrise Service at the Municipal Stadium yesterday and Navy men also joined with civilians in all the Churches of Sanford throughout the day. It is an impressive thought to realize that the true meaning for our Easter celebration was remembered by such a tremendous amount of people who put God first and the commercial "Easter Bunny" second.

The weather which prevailed yesterday was ideal for a picnic, the beach, or both. My wife Dolie, my daughter Linda and I decided to enjoy an afternoon picnic at Rock Springs, or Kelley Park as it is known by some people. Among the NAAS men we saw there during the afternoon were Bill Brennan, YNS, Ken Jones, YNS, "Red" Galbocher, PMSN, and John Manning, SN.

Summer working hours began today for the naval personnel aboard the Sanford USO. The normal working hours for military personnel are 7:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Charles Tarker, ADJ, of FASHION 61 was able to enjoy Easter with his brother and sister-in-law who have come to Florida for a vacation. Charles is spending a short leave with them in Daytona Beach and is also showing them around Central Florida. He is scheduled to report back for duty Wednesday.

If Gene Collier seems slightly nervous these days, it is because he is soon planning to take the "big step". Gene is going to leave April 10 for a long cross-country trip to Sacramento, Calif. where he will exchange wedding vows with a hometown girl. Gene is an airman attached to FASHION 61. My favorite expression used to be "another sucker bites the dust" but since I've been married, the saying no longer seems appropriate. Good Luck Gene!

The picnic which the Security Department held at San Land Springs recently will be remembered longer than most picnics. Colored slides have been made from the photo, apts taken at the picnic and the men of the Security Department have been enjoying watching them. Saturday night, the slides were enjoyed in the barracks recreation room by Lawrence Tabach, William Martuzzo, and Edwin L. Pennington.

Something new will be tried tonight at the Sanford USO. It is called a Cootie Party and, although I don't believe it's ever been played in Sanford, it is a new rave of the Jacksonville USO. The fun will get underway at 8:00 p.m. and all the men aboard the station are invited so for something new and different to be at the Sanford USO tonight. Free refreshments will be served. Tomorrow night will be the big Easter Dance at the USO with an orchestra for your dancing.

Drive For Stetson Begins On Monday

STETSON (Special)—Three hundred volunteer alumni workers Monday will begin enrolling other students and former students in United Stetson Alumni, an organization of those making annual contributions to Stetson University. President Doyle E. Carlton led yesterday.

The 1953 goal is twice the results of 1952 when 12 alumni provided $25,000 to help meet the University's operating expense.

Each of the 300 workers have a goal to ask ten alumni to provide "endowment" for Stetson. By this plan, each member of the group will contribute $100 (any amount he chooses) and the University 5 per cent annual interest on the amount he standing proxy for the endowment sends his $100. He does not pledge to have this up for any number of years.

Leaflets On Cancer To Be Distributed By Cancer Society

"A basic aim of the American Cancer Society is to bring to every person in the country sufficient knowledge about cancer so that he will not lose his life needlessly," said Mrs. James Horton, chairman of education of the Seminole County American Cancer Society Unit, as the 1953 cancer crusade began.

Thousands of copies of the crusade leaflet of the American Cancer Society will be distributed free in Florida during the month of April. On the cover of the leaflet is a striking drawing of a young mother, aged from cancer, and her daughter. The drawing was contributed to the drive by Amos Sewell, well known Westport, Conn. artist.

The leaflet explains that the mother was saved through her knowledge of cancer's seven danger signals, but points out that each year more than 60,000 youngsters under 18 lose a parent to cancer.

The seven danger signals, which Mrs. Horton urges everyone to memorize are:

1. Any sore that does not heal.
2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
3. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
4. Any change in a wart or mole.
5. Persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
6. Persistent hoarseness or cough.
7. Any change in normal bowel habits.

"To accomplish the goal of education through every possible means of reaching the public, we must have money," Mrs. Horton stated. The Seminole County Unit under the sponsorship of Beta Sigma Phi is seeking to raise $2,000 during April. Part of these funds will be designated to finance the educational program which is an important factor in the fight against cancer.

Identity Of Slain Bandits Is Sought

HOT SULPHUR SPRINGS, Colo.—Oklahoma and Texas authorities joined today in efforts to identify two gunmen slain by a kidnaped sheriff as they tried to run a roadblock in his commandeered car.

Sheriff Van Pelt, drawing a hidden weapon at first chance, shot the two late Saturday to end a running gun battle. It was waged in a blinding snowstorm near Hot Sulphur Springs, 95 miles northwest of Denver.

Both boasted they were wanted for murder in Oklahoma, the veteran 44-year-old peace officer related.

Van Pelt said the youthful pair seized his car and forced him into a ditch. He then investigated a report their automobile had slid into a ditch five miles east of here. He said the auto was stolen the night before at Medicine Bow, Wyo.

Both were shot in the head as the sheriff, diverting their attention with a shouted warning about the roadblock ahead, snatched his .32 special automatic pistol and fired.

Then he seized the wheel,

B-29 Is Crash-Landed Without Casualties

HONOLULU (AP)—Hundreds of witnesses held their breath Sunday as Air Force Capt. Robert B. Mancib crash-landed a U. S. B-29 Superfort at Hickam Air Force Base after circling the field for four hours with a locked landing gear.

None of the 11 crewmen was injured.

The Superfort, attached to the 97th Bomb Wing of the Strategic Air Command, was en route to the Far East from Travis Air Force Base, northeast of San Francisco.

Strong Winds Seen For Coastal Areas

MIAMI (AP)—Small craft warnings were hoisted along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts today for strong winds which in some areas will produce heavy thundersqualls.

The Miami Weather Bureau ordered the triangular red warnings up from Cape Hatteras, N. C., southward to Key West, Fla., on the Atlantic and northward from Key West to St. Marks, just south of Tallahassee on the Gulf Coast.

Leonard Paolucci, meteorologist, said winds up to 35 miles an hour will be felt north of Melbourne and Fort Myers, and 30-mile winds south of those areas. Stronger blows will be felt in thundersqualls.

A deepening low pressure trough extended from over Pennsylvania to western Mississippi, then westward to Texas and on into Mexico.

Ammo Explosion On Formosa Claims 43

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—An ammunition dump five miles south of here exploded with an earthquake-like jolt today, killing 43 persons and injuring an estimated 300.

The blast occurred when a 12-man detail attempted to remove TNT from an old Japanese aerial bomb. The workers were blown to bits.

The blast knocked down an adjacent explosives factory, damaged nearby farm houses and shattered window panes in a mile-wide radius. Taipei, the Chinese Nationalist capital, shook as though jolted by a sharp quake.

Damage was estimated at more than $400,000.

Easter Pilgrims Are Received By Pous XII

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Plus XII received 10,000 Easter season pilgrims today, most of them from Germany and Scandinavia and some from America.

Cheers greeted the pontiff as he was borne on his portable throne through several chambers of the apostolic palace.

From his throne in the Benediction Hall, the pope spoke briefly in six languages—English, French, Spanish, German, Portuguese and Italian. Later, he added a few words in Dutch and Danish.

In his annual Easter message yesterday, the pope warned the Christian world against discouragement from the cold war's continuance and urged it to draw fresh inspiration from the Resurrection.

Officers Elected

CASSELLBERRY (Special) Officers were elected Wednesday night by the Woman's Club, with Mrs. Jack Hilliard being the president-elect. She will take office May 6, the next business session of the club.

Others who will take office then are Mrs. Joseph Laird, vice-president; Mrs. Burnham Storrs, treasurer; Mrs. James Overlin, recording secretary, and Mrs. Frank Peterson, corresponding secretary.

The club voted to negotiate a loan of $1,000 from Casselberry Citizens Credit Union, to be used for materials for the new building now under construction.

There's an old saying that a thing is worth what someone is willing to pay for it. Well, if you could tour the wholesale and retail used car auctions around the country, if you could survey hundreds of used car lots you would discover that used Fords bring higher prices than any competitive make—and by substantial amounts.

THAT'S WHY we feel our '53 cars should not be compared with cars in the same price range. Not because our competitors don't do a good job—obviously they do—but because we feel Ford Cars have more in common with the highest priced automobiles. The similarities are far greater than the differences.

For example, Today, the most expensive cars in this country have V-type, 8-cylinder engines. Ford Cars have had this exact same type of engine for over 20 years.

What's more astounding, the current Strato-Star V-8 sells for hundreds of dollars less than several other makers charge for a six-cylinder car. Now there's nothing wrong with a Six but they do cost less to make. Ford makes a Six—the most modern overhead valve Six in the industry. And if it's a six-cylinder car you want, Ford has it and for less money than the V-8, which is as it should be.

What about ride? Here's another Ford similarity with high-priced cars... Riding Comfort. One of the misconceptions for many years has been that weight—sheer weight—is what it takes to make a car ride well. Ford has found that you can make a 3000-pound car ride softer and hold the road better by far than many cars that weigh a full 1000 pounds more. In the '53 Ford, for example, front end road shock has been reduced up to 80%. We say it compares most favorably with the heaviest cars sold today.

What about automatic transmissions? It would take the fingers of both hands to count the various kinds of automatic and semi-automatic transmissions on the market today. The one we offer is called Fordomatic. It is the most versatile on the market, it represents the most profound consideration of engine-to-wheel power transfer—and that it does the best job for our engines isn't even open to question. It "shifts" better than you could shift by hand.

What you can see is also important. Here again Ford Cars lead not only in their price field but in the medium and upper brackets as well. Ford visibility is Full-Circle Visibility. This means huge, curved unobstructed glass area, front and rear, plus side windows that allow all passengers what the hotels call "room with a view."

Appearance? A higher price, of course, does not make a car more beautiful. Conversely, beauty in a Ford comes "for free." Ford has found that it costs no more to develop a beautiful car than one that is less pleasing in appearance. You can drive up to the most exclusive doorways in the world and feel perfectly at home in your Ford. Fords "belong" . . . In exactly the same social category as the finest, one-of-a-kind creations. After all, a Ford is a custom creation multiplied.

What about running costs? Here's one place that Ford's advantages are obvious. For oil and gas economy Ford has the big cars whipped. Ford parts cost less. Ford service charges are less. Ford tire mileage is thousands of miles greater. And, Ford depreciation is the lowest of any car on the market—bar none.

What are Fords made of? Some people have the idea that the costliest cars are made of "better stuff." It's true that some high-priced cars have costlier upholstery and fittings. What Ford has is so good, both in durability and appearance, that you probably could not tell the difference. You might even prefer it, because of its better design and more pleasing appearance.

Then there's the question of sheet metal. If you were to measure and analyze the sheet metal structure in the most expensive car, you most likely would find it identical in thickness to the corresponding panels in Ford.

After all, then, what is the difference between a Ford and the costliest cars?

In our opinion, the difference is largely a matter of dimensions, weight (and the power required to move it) plus the distinction of owning a car that not so many other people own. The desire for these things is understandable . . . and probably justified for people who are willing to pay the price to satisfy it.

As to comparing Ford with other cars in its price range, by all means do so if you wish. But, as we said before, you'll get a better picture of Ford value by comparing with cars that are most like Fords—those that are priced up to twice as much. In fact, we think you'll quickly begin comparing the other cars with Ford—because the 1953 Ford has really established the New Standard of the American Road.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

No wonder time is reckoned from the coming of Jesus to this world. He upset all human conceptions of dignity and glorified service. Then he poured water into the basin and began to wash his disciples' feet.—John 13:5.

Lake Mary got some sweet news last week. It is going to have a new candy industry.

Total sales on the Sanford State Farmers Market last week amounted to $4,986 units valued at $151,166 with prices on celery showing a slight improvement.

Another new industry for Sanford just getting into production is Smitty's Kan-stand, a rack for holding garbage cans so that dogs can't turn them over. They will soon be placed on the market in Sanford and will be sold all over the southeast.

President Eisenhower says the government's butter buying program is "a crime against civilization" and points out that the taxpayers are now paying about $136,000,000 a day to buy 2,000,000 pounds of butter to keep in storage just so the taxpayers can't have it. This just doesn't make sense.

Real estate sales in Orlando were $5,605,000 for the month of February, as compared with $4,125,000 the same month a year ago, up 36 percent, according to the Orlando Business Barometer. That does not mean there is a boom on but it does indicate a healthy growth. Other significant facts are bank deposits increased from $70,235,600 to $77,284,000, and building permits from $503,425 to $806,347.

The United States produces more steel than all the rest of the world put together. One steel corporation alone, according to B. C. Forbes magazine, has produced enough steel to build a bridge 22 feet wide, clear around the world 7 1/2 times, or to erect an iron curtain—a solid steel wall—10 feet high 4 1/2 feet thick and some 18,000 miles long, around the entire perimeter of the United States. Russia would have a hard time doing that.

The State of Florida has found an easy way of making money that should relieve the taxpayer somewhat. It has discovered idle money lying around in various funds to the amount of about $200,000,000 all represented by demand deposits and not drawing interest. If the State put this money into 90-day time deposits drawing one percent interest, it would make $200,000 a year. Some U. S. Treasury bills pay up to 2 percent. Come to think of it, one wonders why this has never been done before.

General Ridgway warns against taking too seriously Russia's latest protestations of peace. "Russian military strength has not diminished one iota," he says. "To alter our policy just because some kites are being flown would be madness," says the British Secretary General. "We may be facing a period now that will make the hardships and sacrifices of the last two years look easy," says General Grenther. Meanwhile, President Eisenhower adopts a wait and see attitude.

Secretary Anderson cracked down on the "coffee hour" that this intermission in the middle of the morning and in the middle of the afternoon when everyone gets away from his job and goes out for a drink. Anderson says the time lost by thousands of federal employees and state of the taxpayers' money is a government employees' union that saves the taxpayers money by increasing efficiency, necessitating less time off for lunch. A "coffee hour" might be worked out by having the coffee brought to the desks.

Gentle Land Reform

Acharya Vinoba Bhave, 57 year-old Hindu ascetic, a devout disciple of the late Mahatma Gandhi, is demonstrating to the world what one good man can do to improve the lot of his fellow men. One of the most distressing problems in India is the fact that vast numbers of people are without any land of their own. Wealthy land-owners are the constant target of Communist attack and the appeal of such attacks must be great to people who know real want for the lack of which they might make their own food.

To meet this problem Bhave has appealed to the better nature of his fellow Indians. He began his experiment two years ago, walking from village to village and asking the rich landowners to give up part of their land to the needy. The landowners were impressed by his plan and by his personal dedication. He has collected over 400,000 acres of land to date and has redistributed this land to the deserving poor. His ultimate goal is 50,000,000 acres.

Bhave's one-man movement has met with the approval of all the Indian political factions except the Communists who wish to see the redistribution of land remain an irritating issue of India's poor.

In this day and age when human problems are often treated as abstract riddles to be worked out with complex formulas it is inspiring and refreshing to see a simple man come forward with a simple solution. The world can learn much from this Hindu holy man who follows so well in the footsteps of his gentle master, Gandhi.

Cosmic Laws

Albert Einstein has published a book which contains what he calls a new set of laws for the cosmos. Einstein has spent his life seeking to explain the universe in which we live. It is his conviction that there are certain immutable laws which can be understood and applied and that on the strength of these laws individual events can be predicted.

Like his past writings the new Einstein discoveries are all but incomprehensible to the average layman. Most of his findings are expressed in terms of mathematics and even trained scientists have difficulty in being absolutely certain they understand what the professor is trying to say.

At 71 Einstein has lived to see many of his early contentions, which at first faced ridicule, vindicated. His new ideas will no doubt be disputed and in time they will either be accepted or proved wrong.

Einstein's belief that there are universal laws which are immutable is not very different in its concept from that held by many of the world's great religions. One of his most bold statements of the motivation for his constant inquiry into the nature of the universe was the simple sentence, "I believe that God plays dice with the cosmos."

Power Of The Press

Writers of newspaper editorials, says a report from a professional meeting of the clan in Denver, are making progress. After a round-table critique, a spokesman summed up the situation with the statement that editorial writers are "beginning to recognize that they are not God and that there are other points of view besides their own." Humility is a virtue, we confess, in which the journalistic "we" are sometimes lacking. It is encouraging to learn that some of us are acquiring a reasonable facsimile of it.

The "power of the press" has been exaggerated by persons both in and out of the newspaper business. News columns report happenings and views expressed by other people. Editorials express opinions held by the editor or by the publisher who employs him. Not even the best of us can be right all the time; if we manage to hit a fairly good average we are doing well.

Sensible readers accept editorials as stimulants to their own thinking rather than as gospel handed down from the mountain. Sensible editors attempt to do no more. If they had both the right answers and the power to make them stick they would rule the world. We can think of many more desirable arrangements than a world run by editors. We would have little to write about except ourselves and the weather. Fascinating as both subjects are they eventually wear thin.—Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier.

Congressman Herlong Reports
By S. D. HERLONG

The House has just passed the Tideland Bill by an overwhelming vote. There has been a lot of misinformation given out about the bill and its effect. Regardless of the stories that have gone out, the basic fact remains that every right and power the Federal Government has come to its specifically from the States. The States have never specifically given the tidelands to the Federal Government—therefore, regardless of Supreme Court decisions (which incidentally have been on both sides of the question), I think these rights still belong to the States and I voted to give it to them. An amendment to give certain benefits to the schools was put in an effort to beat the real issue and to encourage school people to help defeat the bill. The facts are that if the State of Florida gets the revenue (if any) from the Florida tidelands, our schools will in the overall fare much better than if the Federal government continued the tidelands.

The House is now recessing for Easter and I am heading for Florida, along with 46 other Congressmen, for our "Spring Training" trip. The Democrats and Republicans are to play a preview of our annual charity baseball game in Daytona Beach on Friday night. It has been rumored here that at this practice game, a movie camera crew would amper at third base. After this news got out, I again looked over my roster of players, and of 27 on the list, I found I had one pitcher, one catcher, and 25 third basemen.

Join The Fraternity

The buddy system is the Army's affirmative answer to that age-old question, "Am I my brother's keeper?"
How about our own answer?
April, when the cancer crusade is under way, is a good time to think about that question. If ever a brother needs our help, it is when cancer strikes.
For many years the American Cancer Society has been teaching the public cancer's seven danger signals and persuading men and women to have regular physical examinations.
How many of the danger signals can you name? One would be about average and two would make you unusual.
How about a physical examination? Have you had one lately? Periodic check-ups are more admired and less practiced, more honored as lip and less furnished with use, than almost any sensible rule you can name.
Would it be possible to put the buddy system to work in the family? To memorize the cancer danger signals, not for our own protection, but to be sure we know when mother or father or brother ought to have medical help? Why not make certain that everyone else in the family has a physical examination this year?
The buddy system in cancer control is a family affair. Let's make a generous contribution to our unit of the American Cancer Society. Perhaps the threat of cancer can make us all act like brothers.
Now, for those who couldn't remember cancer's seven danger signals, here they are:
1. Any sore that does not heal.
2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
3. Unusual bleeding or discharge.

4. Any change in a wart or mole.
5. Persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
6. Persistent hoarseness or cough.
7. Any change in normal bowel habits.
They don't always mean cancer, but if one of them develops, we should once to your doctor.

More Proteins For Better Health

By W. V. Hitting Touchton Drug Co.
Doctors find that many older adults and children, too, would improve in health by a diet containing more proteins.
In children a lack of proteins in the diet causes poor appetite, irritability, frequent stomach aches, and susceptibility to infectious diseases.
Older adults with low protein diets are apt to be subject to constant fatigue.
You should not change your diet at will, however, the advice of a physician is most important in determining a well balanced diet for you.
Depend upon a reliable drug store to supply any medication your doctor recommends.

Shirley Masey Wed To Roy Lester Chase

Miss Shirley Masey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Masey of Sanford, became the bride of Roy Lester Chase of Jacksonville, Fla., yesterday afternoon at 3:00 p.m. at the Central Baptist Church. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Chase of Kansas City, Mo. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. B. McCremonie in a beautiful setting of palms, white gladioli, Easter lilies, and other Spring flowers.

Mrs. H. B. McCremonie, pianist, played a program of nuptial music and solos were sung by Charles S. Morrison which included "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly".

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of white imported French lace over satin. The gown was fashioned with a high collar, long scalloped neckline and short lace sleeves. The extremely full ballerina length skirt was old-fashioned in design and caught at intervals at the hemline with elasticated ribbons of the valley. She wore elbow length lace mitts and a Dutch cap of lace from which fell a fingertip veil. Her bouquet was of white gardenias and she carried a small white covered Bible. At the neckline she wore a rhinestone necklace.

Serving as her attendants were her sister, Mrs. Lorraine Galtart as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Misses Mable, Mrs. Tiny Martin, and her cousin, Miss Pauline Cason, Mrs. Galtart was escorted in yellow pointed organdy over taffeta. On her head was a half cap of white nylon net trimmed with clusters of lilies of the valley. She wore elbow length mitts of yellow net and carried a bouquet of pastel colored carnations. Mrs. Martin wore orchid and Miss Cason, pink, both of printed organdy over matching taffeta. Each wore the lilies of white net and lilies of the valley; elbow length mitts matching their dresses, and carried pastel carnations.

Little Elaine Totten was the flower girl and wore pink net over taffeta complimented with pink slippers and bonnet to match. She carried a small basket filled with rose petals. Young Glenn Walker Galtart was the ring bearer, and carried the ring on a white satin and lace covered pillow.

The best man was Walter E. Bennett, and ushers were Jimmy Whitley and Gerald Davis.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents which was beautifully decorated with white and pastel gladioli. Assisting were Mrs. T. J. Davis, Mrs. Abernethy, Mrs. John Thompson and Mrs. Joe Koke. Miss Cason presided at the bride's table.

Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Chase left for a wedding trip which they will spend in Kansas City with her parents and at other points en route after which they plan to make their home in Key West where Mr. Chase is stationed with the United States Navy. Mr. Chase is attending the Spring session of the Legislature.

Childhood Hints

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE AP Newsfeatures Writer

You can lead a child to nursery school but you can't make his baby.

Nursery school is a big step for a youngster. It marks the evolution from the shelter of his home to life in a community of his peers. He and his parents can help in the step.

How to make this important transition a meaningful and joyous one for the child, his family and the school has been the subject of a new book by Dr. Joseph Deschamps and Dr. Frank C. Wood, which concentrates on the problems of the pre-school child. The book was published recently under the title "The Child Enters Nursery School" by Dr. Joseph Deschamps, Mrs. Edith Kirkland and Mrs. Theresa Jackson. It is aimed at parents as well as nursery school teachers and people in the nursery school field.

The booklet, which is a factor as when a child is ready to go to nursery school and how his family feels about his going. Even the child who is not accepted by the nursery school is considered in the study, for rejection has its effect, too, upon all concerned.

"The parent may regard the acceptance or rejection of the child as an acceptance or rejection of himself," the study points out. If his child is rejected without careful explanation, the parent may wonder if he has failed somewhere.

The booklet points out that entering nursery school for the first time is a big step for the child. West Palm Beach is with her son and daughter in law, Mr. and Mrs. David Dyal. Mr. Dyal recently underwent an emergency appendectomy. Mrs. David Dyal's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Wells, returned last week from West Palm Beach.

Vegetables Are Ahead Of Citrus In State Income

GAINESVILLE (Special)—Vegetables, not citrus or cattle as some may think, were the largest source of Florida's agricultural income last season.

According to Donald L. Brooke, associate agricultural economist, writing in the latest issue of "Economic Leaflets," monthly publication of the Bureau of Economic and Business Research at the University of Florida, vegetable production was valued at $168,097,000 last year.

Citrus was worth $123,547,000 and livestock products marketed were worth $115,492,000.

In his article, "Some Economic Factors in Florida Vegetable Production," which like all Economic Leaflets are sent free to residents of Florida on request, Brooke also brought to light other revealing facts about such crops as snap beans, celery, tomatoes, cabbage, corn, cucumbers, and green peppers.

Florida now produces some 365,000 acres of vegetables for fresh consumption during the fall, winter, and spring months, in large and small areas located principally in the central and southern portions of the state," he states.

"Vegetable production in Florida was valued at $23,000,000 in 1930, $19,050,000 in 1939, and slightly in excess of $20,000,000 in 1949."

Large farms of more than 250 acres in size produce most of Florida's vegetables, Brooke said, adding that the bulk of the vegetables produced in Florida come from only 12 per cent of the vegetable farms.

Brooke also points out crop variations related to the three principal types of soil used in Florida vegetable production, namely the Leon-Portsmouth and Blanton-Norfolk sands and sandy loams of the coastal and flatwoods areas; the muck soils of the Everglades, Sarasota, and Zell wood areas; and the Perrine Marl of the Dade County area.

Other aspects of vegetable production considered by the agricultural economist include labor, capital, decision on which crop to grow, growing cost, marketing cost, risk and trends in costs and returns.

Major risks, Brooke says are weather (frost, rain, wind and drought) and adequate selling prices. Many Florida farmers have suffered losses in recent years.

"Do It Yourself" Fad Has Spread Among Nations

NEW YORK—The do-it-yourself fad sweeping the nation has its international counterpart. Do-it-yourself nations are mulling up the old global trade patterns.

Just as the homemaker turns handyman over the week end to become independent of costly services or to make things he cannot afford to buy, so are many nations—including our own in some fields—striving to do things for themselves.

The urge to be self-sufficient has increased sharply since the last war. Nations seek to be free of the danger of having goods and services cut off by war or by whims of other countries. By doing it themselves they give the jobs and the profits to their own people, and supposedly they can give their own people cheaper goods.

Time was when British textile mills worked five days a week to help clothe the other peoples of the globe, and the sixth day to clothe Englishmen.

Now many of Britain's former customers are self-sufficient. India need to be a big market for British textiles. Now India is an exporter of textiles herself. U. S. textile mills have seen their exports decline, too, but not as badly as the British.

Europe has been building oil refineries at a great rate since the war. It still has to import crude oil, but is much less dependent upon others for her gasoline and other oil products.

In fact, the loss of the Abadan Refinery in the Iranian oil dispute has been practically made up by the opening of refineries in England and on the continent since Iran seized Abadan.

The United States before the war (on whom records were kept) showed losses averaging $41 an acre, while the 19th century averaged $84 an acre. Two of 61 celery growers lost $150 an acre, and 39 of 112 tomato growers averaged losses of $199 an acre.

Brooke states that net world-wide unit of output were lower in 1949-51 than in 1946-48 for all crops listed except celery in the Everglades and Sarasota areas and Irish potatoes in the Highlands area.

"The margin of profit on which the average vegetable grower operates is lower now than it has been for several years," Brooke says, adding, "it is lower, too, than consumer prices would lead the general public to believe."

Hope Abandoned For All Men Aboard Sub

ISTANBUL, Turkey—The defense ministry abandoned all hope last night of recovering further survivors from the rammed submarine Dumplupinar 224 feet below the surface of the Bosphorus Straits. For 24 hours it had put at 81 American trained Turkish seamen.

Rescue teams labored until late last night on the slim chance of rescuing some of the men, but finally gave up.

Five men, including the sub's skipper, were saved. All had been on the conning tower early Saturday when the 1,600-ton Swedish freighter Naboland rammed the Dumplupinar in pre-dawn darkness as the sub cruised on the surface three miles north of Constantinople, a fortress town near the southern end of the Bosphorus.

A communiqué said the dead included seven officers, 31 petty officers and 29 enlisted men.

The 1,526-ton submarine formerly was the USS Bumper and was transferred to Turkey in 1950 under the mutual aid program. All her crew had been trained in the United States.

War forced it to build synthetic rubber plants and to experiment with raising rubber yielding plants. Reactivated after the Korean war break, the synthetic plants are now so productive they hold down the price of Far East natural rubber—and cause loud squawks from the British and Dutch rubber planters.

The do-it-yourself drive operates at the national resource level as well as in manufacturing goods. British Commonwealth nations have a drive underway to develop their resources so that they won't have to buy commodities for American dollars. That may be had news some day for American farmers, miners, and oil companies.

Latin American and Far Eastern nations have clamored since the war for industrial build-ups to make themselves independent of importations from the United States and Europe.

The United States' post-war program of giving technical aid and encouraging American investments in build-up other lands has led in some that urge on self-sufficiency. The urge is being many of the countries and subject to restrictions imposed by nations, trying to foster baby industries.

These outcroppings of national spirit also mess up world trade in other ways. Often anti-foreign sentiment has been allied with the self-sufficiency drive. American exporters say they've lost markets to this, as well as because their goods aren't safe in transit in some lands where patriotism is weak and banditry high.

Yankees, Dodgers Are Picked To Win Pennants Again

Feds To Play Edgewater

Battle, In Stadium Tomorrow Evening

After last Thursday night's thrilling 3-2 win over Seabreeze of Daytona Beach in the Memorial Stadium, the Sanford High School baseball team will be seeking its second consecutive victory in the Memorial Park tomorrow night at 8:00 o'clock against the mighty Edgewater Eagles.

Catch Bill Fleming will probably start his No. 2 hurler Jimmy "Jack" Krider, who appeared briefly in a relief role against New Smyrna. Mel Fleischer might get the nod on the back of his stellar five-hit, 3-2 win over Seabreeze.

Principal Herman E. Morris of Seminole High, predicted an even larger crowd than last Thursday night's record breaking 550 who turned out to see the Feds win.

Just as in football, the Memorial Park has proved a boon to high school attendance, he concluded.

The concession stand will again be operated by the Sanford Cardinal Baseball Club, for the convenience of fans. Jim Fields, card general manager announced today.

Meanwhile, Coach Fleming is working out today in an effort to try and find a solution to the hitting weakness of the Feds.

Fleming may let the boys revert to their natural "right-handed" way. The Fed coach changed their hitting style when he seemed to detect that both had more success from the left side of the plate.

Slugging Flyhawk Is Signed Up By Sanford Cardinals

The chairman of the committee would like to thank the following: James worked on this committee and made the map possible.
