For Capt. Swanson
---A Bon Voyage

By LARRY VERSHEL

Say, how come those temporary buildings at the new Seminole Junior College look like "sweet boxes"? Gosh—it looks awful. That was a lot of money the school board poured into the facility—thousands and thousands of dollars and they look like the "okie" shacks of the '30s.

County Chairman John Alexander showed me around the new County Commission room. First thing I noticed—no lock on the door. Maybe things have changed.

I hope the county commission has enough funds to finish that long-awaited Longwood-Markham Road project.

Around that clock at Park Avenue and First Street the folks trying to read it find that it comes up with some strange figures. The other day it said something like "28 o'clock." The temperature was "32." Of course, replacement of the burned out bulbs would remedy most of the trouble.

That frame structure that has been put on the lots at West First Street and North Elm Avenue has been moved there, the building permit says, by Bob McKee Used Cars. But in keeping with the prevalent program of beautification, it will be a Used Car PARK, not a Used Car LOT. Now, there's an idea!

Maybe the site—and sight—will improve but looking at what's been built on that much discussed property on Lake Kathryn on Seminoles Boulevard, it's no wonder that the property owners whose attractive homes ring the lake objected to the rezoning that made this "apartment building complex" possible.

The well-lighted tennis courts at Emma Spencer's are giving the racket-wielders many an hour of exercise—and will be even more appreciated as the early darkness of winter months shortens the daylight play period. . . . And the neighbors' "round-about spot" reveal in the illumination as they ready their "cook-out dinners."

Now that Precisioning has vacated the old ACL freight house at Myrtle and West First why doesn't Tom Rice's ACL real estate folks and John Krieger's CoC Industrial commission get a live-wire tenant for it and thus add to the local economy?

And while we're in that vicinity, we can't help noticing that the "tile yard" near Chase and Company still hasn't changed any. In fact, several cars of tile have been unloaded there since the word was given that it was to be turned into landscaped beauty spot. The big question: WHEN?

Modernizing and "prepping up" the downtown shopping center has long been a "joia talk, no action" topic, with those "in the know" saying that new fronts would be a BIG help. If you want a fine example of what a face-lifting will do for a building, have a look-see at Hill Implement's store at South Oak and West Third. Something of which owner Bob Newman can justly be proud.

And isn't Chase and Company planning to brighten up their front, too? The marquee over the front door makes quite a difference. And you should see what's happened inside! Streamlined, up-dated, efficient layout! That's why we're confident that soon the workmen will get around to the outside of the building.

... You Shall Return' Honors For Swanson

"Che-He-Nee Un-tis-choy Ya-lee." These were the Seminole Indian words chanted by Indian maidens (Twirling Seminoles) to Capt. Chandler Swanson and Mrs. Swanson of Sanford Naval Air Station at the ceremonial farewell luncheon held at the Sanford Civic Center today.

"You shall return," is the meaning of the words and just to make sure, one of the maidens sprinkled sand in the shoes of the Captain and his lady.

For the ceremony, the barefoot N.A.S. Skipper and his squaw were crowned with Seminole Indian headresses, while the copper-toned maidens danced and chanted to the beat of tom-toms.

Climax of the ceremony was the presentation of a large oil painting of the Sanford lakefront, the creation of Artist E. B. Stowe.

More than 300 members of civic clubs, the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, city and county officials and Navy dignitaries witnessed the exciting ceremonies as they gathered to pay tribute to the departing station commander and greet Capt. Herbert Houck and Mrs. Houck.

Capt. Houck will become the new commanding officer of the Sanford Naval Air Station, Wednesday at 10 a.m. when he relieves Capt. Swanson in change-of-command ceremonies.

Master of ceremonies at the city-wide fete was C. Vernon Mize, president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

An engraved key to the city was given to the Navy captain by Mayor A. L. Wilson, in behalf of the City of Sanford; an engraved plaque was presented by Dr. W. Vincent Roberts, chairman, in behalf of the Armed Forces Committee and a silver mast platter was the gift of the Kiwanis Club, with Troy Ray, Jr., making the presentation.

A joint resolution of commendation and appreciation from all official bodies of the county was read to Capt. Swanson by John Alexander, chairman of the Seminole County Commission.

Distinguished guests were introduced by Roger Harris, president of the Kiwanis Club and Jack F. Bolt was director of the Indian ceremonies.

'Faith' Flounders After Bahama Brush

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Faith, thrashing slowly northward in the Atlantic, brushed the Bahama Islands today and floundered in an area chosen for a storm-taming effort by seeding planes.

But, when the 120-mile winds entered the region where she could be safely bombarded with silver iodide crystals, the forces which had been poised for the attack had partly dissipated.

Dr. Cecil Gentry, alternate director of the U.S. government's Project Stormfury, said there was some doubt that the mission could now be carried out.

For several days, scientists had stood by in Florida and Puerto Rico, ready with a fleet of planes for the first sustained try at breaking up the destructive power of a hurricane.

But after Faith had skirted the chosen area for several days, some of the key men in the project returned to their home bases.

If Faith continues her slow movement, however, Gentry said the possibility remained that the effort could still be made.

At 8 a.m., Faith was 575 miles due east of Miami and 230 miles east-northeast of San Salvador in the Bahamas.

Truman Warns Of Depression

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman has warned that spiraling interest rates could result in a serious depression.

With a rare public statement issued from his Independence, Mo., home, Truman joined many members of Congress in expressing concern at the upward movement in the cost of borrowing.

River Pollution

The third in a series of joint meetings of the St. Johns Valley Advisory Committee, the St. Johns River Pollution Council of the State Association of County Commissioners and other state-wide conservation groups will take place at the Courthouse at 10 a.m. Wednesday to firm up plans on continuing a water cleanup program.

Oops! Wrong Plane

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Dr. Esther Weir of Columbia University was an accidental weekend visitor to Mexico City.

Dr. Weir went to New York's Kennedy Airport to catch a plane for Miami, where she planned to attend a medical congress.

She took the wrong plane and ended up in Mexico City. Her baggage went to Miami.

Dr. Weir showed little concern. She smiled as she went through immigration formalities. The airline paid for her lodging, food and transportation in Mexico City and she was to leave today for Miami.

The Medicare Crisis--Hospital Holds Meet

"I wonder if they haven't got us mixed up with some other hospital," was the comment of Robert Beeser, Seminole Memorial Hospital administrator who returned to his office today to cope with federal demands for Medicare certification.

Board of trustees of the hospital were scheduled to meet at 12:30 p.m. today in the board room.

Beeser said the items which the U. S. Office of Health, Education and Welfare listed last week for the local hospital to meet before federal certification for Medicare, "have all been done — all they have to do it look."

On the matter of "integration of training facilities" Beeser said the practical nurse school comes under the administration of the school board, not the hospital.

E. S. Douglas, adult vocational director said the practical nursing school is under a federal grant and "if we had not been in compliance with Civil Rights regulations we would never have received the money to establish the school which opens Monday."

Douglas said he had sent more papers to Reid Brodie, director of personnel to certify the school's compliance.

Beeser said in the matter of the request of physicians on the staff being integrated with one regard to race, creed, color or national origin, "we have had Negro and Cuban doctors on our staff for many years."

Public Feeling Credit Squeeze

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — If you're looking for a new car, it may cost you a bit more. But if you're looking for someone to finance your purchase of a new home, it may be a bit easier this fall.

In both cases the key is tight money — rising interest rates in one segment of auto financing, but government loans for the tightly spaced mortgage market.

Tight money also is blamed for the rising interest rates in the stock market. And the rising interest rates are being felt by business men having more trouble to get a bank loan to finance their business inventories and pay for more for the loan when they find it.

The auto industry still is caught up in the credit squeeze.

WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO LIMIT QUANTITIES

Our College Opens Its Doors

Hundreds of men and women started classes today at the new Seminole County Junior College.

The new facility, located southwest of Sanford—a major asset to our county now, will mean even more to Seminole County in the years to come when these same people going there today will look for a place to settle down and work.

With this new state school, WE in Seminole County have a stake in the educational future of many youngsters, who were it not for this school, would have the door of higher education slammed in their faces.

And we must not forget the many servicemen, families, college drop-outs who now can continue their education thanks to our new college.

Regarding our children—we have all felt concern when finances have forced us to say "no" to them to higher learning. Goodness knows how many of our young had to go out and get jobs at 18 because we could not afford the $1,500 per year that most colleges charge.

Now, not only can our youngsters attend school at home—but also all geographical and economic barriers have been overcome.

And also, so very important—the college is going to provide additional supplies of personnel for industrial and business community resources and enhance our cultural development.

Great News For Spenders

One of the glaring deficiencies in the Great Society is that there are still a few things—not many, of course, but a few—that you have to pay cash for. It is a pleasure to report that this economic oversight is now being corrected.

In the near future it will be possible to walk up to your friendly vending machine and buy such necessities as candy, sandwiches, coffee, desserts and other delicacies without spending a cent of real money.

You will merely present a permanent credit card which the vending machine registers by means of an electronic device.

The company which plans to introduce this further step toward total on-the-cuff living commodities that use of the wonder machines may be limited at first to institutions and industrial plants, for the very practical reason that it will cost a lot of—forgive the expression—cash to install them.

An elaborate electronic memory unit and a computer will be needed to enable the vending machine to sell stuff on tick.

This paraphernalia will cost about $2,000 in addition to the price of the vending machines, which itself isn't peanuts.

With this break-through in the currency curtain, it will undoubtedly be only a matter of time until such other irritating cash items as public phone calls, toll fares, parking meters and similar hangers-on from medieval living will be eliminated and we can enjoy a glorious age in which we can charge everything now and pay later.

The ultimate will come, of course, when those supergenius figures out a way to charge now and NEVER pay later.

Then society will really be great!

Hal Boyle Says

Double Plenty

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — We live today in a two-of-everything world.

It is getting so a man can't find his head up proudly any more unless he has a two-car garage, and dwells in a house that has at least two telephones, two television sets and two or more bathrooms. Many of the automobiles even have two wash basins for Mr. and Mrs. and Mr. and Mrs.

But this philosophy of double plenty breaks down completely when a man goes to work—there he gets only one of everything except perhaps in the matter of paper clips.

What profited a man to dwell in a house with two telephones, two cars and two television sets if he has to work in an office where he is allowed only one desk and one oval chair?

Why I Had To Quit

Editor, Herald:

In attempting to have a determination made by the of legality of the implied, non-specific annexation of approximately 1700 feet of U.S. Highway 17-92, I had no alternative except to quit, because of the following facts:

This County Attorney has not requested an opinion by the Attorney General as to the legality of this implied, non-specific annexation. His inquiry related only to the annexation of non-contiguous property, who are the proper parties in court and what, if any, are the duties of the Board of County Commissioners where no county owned property are concerned?

The Attorney General's reply and his letter to me of Aug. 2, relate only to non-contiguous annexation, but not to State Road right-of-way. He did, however, refer to three previous litigated cases in which the Town of Casselberry was enjoined from annexing property in Casselberry, Florida.

What else could I do but quit?

REACH!

Lyle C. Wilson Says:

Satisfactory Substitute

Federal bureaucrats believe they have found a satisfactory substitute for federal law which with which to compel a racial mix in Northern suburban elementary schools where neighborhood patterns tend to establish all-white schools.

The substitute is money.

These Washington bureaucrats are unable to find in the Constitution, in any act of Congress or in rules of the Supreme Court any authority to compel these nearly all-white communities to accept a racial mix in their public school systems. To the contrary, the Congress at least, appears to be against it. Lacking any law, the bureaucrats reach for money which they use to buy a party to the segregation, a responsible party, that is.

But when racial segregation is beyond reach of any law now on the books or likely soon to be, Federal bureaucrats are reaching with money toward that kind of segregation.

They will succeed more often than they fail in their efforts to buy off opponents of integration or racial mixing in those schools which are outside the scope of existing civil rights statutes. When these local officials balk, federal officials can withhold federal subsidies. The bureaucrats intend the locals cannot withstand that kind of pressure, and they probably are right about that. However wrong and unwise their methods may be.

The principal spokesman of this plan to substitute available federal money for lack of federal law is Harold Howe II, U. S. commissioner of education. He is determined to impose racial and social integration on the plush suburban public schools. He suspects that the concept of the neighborhood school, which is basic to American elementary education, must be scrapped. Howe is impatient.

Northern suburbanites who would know what their government plans for their elementary schools should ask their congressman for a copy of Howe's recent speech in Washington, D. C., entitled "A New Benchmark for Education." The text is on pages 1579-1578, July 21, 1966, Congressional Record. Howe has plenty of money, and he is on the move.

The Supreme Court ruled 20 years ago that use of federal funds to buy submission to federal regulation was unconstitutional. In holding the New Deal's Agricultural Adjustment Act to be an unwarranted invasion of state rights to regulate local activities, the court said that AAA was at least a scheme for purchasing with federal funds submission to federal regulation in a subject reserved to states.

That is how the program—to purchase with federal funds submission by local authorities to the bureaucrats' racial mix plan for Northern suburbs. It must be assumed that regulation of elementary schools is a state responsibility or, anyway, that is once was.

Of course we have a new Supreme Court now so what was unconstitutional in 1958 when the court ruled on AAA may no longer be unconstitutional at all. On the contrary, in its wisdom, our new court may find, again, that preceding justices were all wrong.

Letters To Editor

These ordinances apparently use as authorization, a combination of Sec. 171.04 F. S. (ruled unconstitutional by Florida Supreme Court on Jan. 20, 1966), Sections 1 and 2 of Sec. 5 of the Casselberry Charter.

The "KEY" to the entire problem of maintenance of the traffic light at $100 per month and to the sale of alcoholic beverage on Sunday south of S.R. 496, is a simple "YES or NO" as to the legality of the annexation of the subject portion of U.S. 17-92, which, by the past three months, has been carefully avoided by officials concerned.

Finally, after four months, I was informed by Mr. Willard Peoples, District Road Board Member, that the State Board of Education did not require, request or object to annexations only when requested by the municipalities and were not concerned as to the legality.

What else could I do but quit?

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Fred's case should be a warning to all of you wives whose husbands are post 40. Although he seems a puzzle to you, his case is clear as crystal to a psychiatrist or Marriage Counselor. So stop such a danger before it arises in your home. Send for the booklet below. Discuss it at your women's club!

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M. D.

CASE A-SIS: Fred Z., aged 39, should awaken all you complacent women.

"Dr. Crane," his worried wife protested, "I don't know what has come over my husband. He used to be devoted to me, so ardent in his love-making. Then he got active in the Boy Scouts and used to go on long hikes with them."

"That was while our two sons were still in high school. But this past year he has begun to drink heavily, although he never touched alcohol before."

"And now he stays out till late at night, often staggering home at 2 a.m."

"When sober, he scolds me terribly and seems to have no use for me at all, so I am at my wit's end. What's wrong with him, Dr. Crane?"

SMOKE SCREENS

To be very blunt, I shall warn you that alcohol is a very common "smoke screen" to buy off opponents of integration or racial mixing in those schools which are outside the scope of existing civil rights statutes. When these local officials balk, federal officials can withhold federal subsidies. The bureaucrats intend the locals cannot withstand that kind of pressure, and they probably are right about that. However wrong and unwise their methods may be.

For they excuse his lack of ardor when he reaches home and faces his devoted wife.

"He's just too tired for romancing," she then will think. But sooner or later this "public service" will wear out, as Fred's two boys headed for college.

Then such a terrified male may resort to any of the other a classical symptoms of the climacteric in males.

Alcohol may become the next smoke screen.

For if he stays out till late at night and then staggers home half drunk at 2 a.m., his wife will figure his lack of affection is just due to his intoxicated condition.

So he now can hide behind the whiskey flask. It camouflages his real feelings.

While sober, however, he feels so low in his own ego that he deviously shifts his accusations to his wife.

For human beings often blame their mates for their own errors.

This "displaced criticism" is a standard human procedure and is a first cousin to passing the buck.

Men who can employ drugs to nauseate a drinker so he can't stand the taste or smell of whiskey.

But unless the basic illness is remedied, he may then rush into deep addiction or even suicide.

So you wives can solve this problem quickly by sending for the booklet "How to Prevent Platonic Husbands," enclosing a long, stamped, return envelope, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 26 cents for cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.

By HELEN HENNESSY Women's Editor Newspaper Enterprise Assn. NEW YORK (NEA) — Along with three Rs, the basic part of the school curriculum. For the sweater, skirt and slacks look has emerged as the reading, writing and arithmetic of fashion this fall. And it won't take a hickory stick to convince dapper damsels that co-ordinated sweaters, shirts and skirts are part of the "top" look on campus. Ribbed sweaters will be important, particularly in turtleneck pullovers. You'll see a lot of patterned sweaters with matching motifs at the neck, hip and cuffs. The primary colors are the heather—loden, rust and champagne. One manufacturer (Lady Van Heusen) is using button-front motifs in sweater designs. Cable, tight knits and novelties are tied as fashion cardigans or knit jackets. There's plenty to view in the new shirts too. A tailored look that's at once classic and sub-

By KATHRYN HUNTER Newspaper Enterprise Assn. NEW YORK (NEA) — If you've decided that paid employment is one of your goals, then you're fortunate if you have time on your side. If you do not have an immediate economic need and can take a year or two (or five) to take new training or brush up your skills, it will be time and money well-spent. The most interesting and lucrative jobs demand the most education.

First Lady Of Longwood Is Talented Artist

By DONNA ESTES
The majority of citizens of Seminole County know at least something about their elected officials, but few have had the opportunity of meeting the wives of the officials.
The current first lady of Longwood is the very talented Mrs. Marian White, wife of Mayor pro tem Percy White. Mr. and Mrs. White, both native Vermonters, met and wed nearly 41 years ago and have one daughter, Mrs. Charles (Joyce) Sammet, and two grandchildren, Ellen and Chuckie. The Whites make their home at 179 1/2 Street.
Marian, unlike her husband, has no interest in politics. All her interests center in her home and family and her particular joy is caring for her grandson while his mother works.

Americas Ag Confab Sept. 11-14

By DOYLE CONNER
TALLAHASSEE — (Special to The Herald) — Hopefully, things in contrast when national agricultural leaders from the Latin America and from the United States and Florida meet soon to discuss mutual problems and opportunities for economic partnerships.
The first Florida-Latin American agricultural conference will be held Sept. 11-14 at the Carlton Hotel, with ministers and secretaries of agriculture from at least a dozen nations in attendance.
U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman and Gov. Haydon Burns have joined me as hosts in this new cause for economic harmony in the Western Hemisphere.
We are convinced this conference could be a pivotal factor in which direction we move. It is particularly encouraging to me to note that, at this writing, only one nation has indicated it won't be able to be represented by an agricultural chief.
At the same time, those who have confirmed their intention to participate have been extremely enthusiastic. I find a letter from U. S. Ambassador Joseph John Jovis to be representative of the sentiment, and I quote from it:
"I am pleased to inform you that Ing. Julio Piedra, the Honduran Minister of Natural Resources, has indicated that he is accepting the invitation."
"Minister Piedra said that President Lopez had personally expressed his interest in the Conference and that Honduras should be represented by its Minister of Natural Resources."
"As you know Honduras is very much Florida-oriented. Numerous Honduran enterprises deal with Florida firms, especially those trading in beef, shrimp and tobacco."
"It is also a fact that Florida is conveniently located to attract Honduran visitors. With so many areas of mutual interest, I am confident that Minister Piedra's attendance at the Conference will be especially pleasant and mutually beneficial."
"My warm congratulations to those who have taken the initiative in organizing the Conference and my best wishes for its success."
The fact that Honduran President Lopez is personally interested in the Miami Beach conference is a good indicator, I believe, of the weight it could carry in the formulation of international policy among these nations in the years to come.

Medicare Bogs In Paperwork

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's medicare program, now nearly two months old, has generated a blizzard of paperwork but is operating with far fewer bugs than had been expected.
A nationwide Associated Press survey showed that predictions hospitals would be jammed to the point of chaos have proved groundless. Administrators under medicare have totaled about 700,000.
The chief complaints turned up in the survey centered on the forms required. In New York, Mt. Sinai Hospital hired 42 extra clerks to handle the paperwork.
The Social Security Administration replied that careful accounting is necessary where expenditure of tax money is involved.

Election To Fill Dead Man's Post

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — A vacancy on the Alachua County School Board created by the death of G. Hugh Williams will be filled at a special primary election Oct. 4.
Williams died shortly before the polls opened in the last May primary election but he defeated his opponent, W. T. Bryant, by 561 votes.
A school bond election is also set for Oct. 4.

Comedian Ill

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jerry Colonna, the comedian with the big moustache and bulging eyes, is recovering in a Los Angeles hospital from a stroke he suffered last Saturday. Hospital officials would not say when Colonna, 61, would be released.
The Institute of Living in Connecticut says that 20 per cent of highway accidents involve a small number of accident-prone drivers.

"LET'S TALK DRY CLEANING"

BY WOODROW CASH
In a recent article published by the National Institute of Drycleaning, was a story about a man who woke up scratching. His brand new pajamas had caused a skin irritation. In the morning he took them to a friend, his drycleaner, who sent them to the labs of the Institute.
The lab report said the pajamas contained a "durable press" finish. In these finishes an acid catalyst is used to cure the resin. This acid can be a skin irritant. Or the catalyst decomposes the resin and form formaldehyde, which is a skin irritant. In the case of the pajamas in our story, the formaldehyde was responsible for its strong odor.
These finishes are found in many types of garments from pajamas to coats and suits. There is a remedy for this condition, consult the Downtown Cleaners for this and other problems about drycleaning.

First Combine Comes To Seminole County

A bit of the Middle West was brought to Seminole County when Harold Fauver, of Eureka, Harwood, purchased a self-propelled four-row corn shelling combine.
He has been operating it on Celery Avenue and has 1,000 more acres to harvest there.
The Fauver family has had many "firsts."
Harold's grandfather purchased and operated the first binder in Augusta County, Va., shortly after the Civil War. His father, David, operated the first pull type combine in Augusta County in 1938.
The family moved to Florida from Virginia in 1937 and have been doing custom harvesting since that time, making hay, combining grass seed, soy beans, and field peas. A year ago they combined oats in Lake County, the first seed ever saved from a cover crop in this part of the county. They also have harvested many acres of grain in the Jacksonville area.
Harold feels his $10,000 investment will open the eyes of many farmers to the possibilities of raising grain, which could utilize the land in the off season for vegetables. He predicts the time will come when Seminole County will form a co-op to build a grain elevator and dryer, the answer to the problem of high humidity, and bring in cheaper grain to the settlement of Central Florida.

Grouper Is 'Protogynous Hermaphrodite'

ST. PETERSBURG (AP) — Why does the red grouper change sex in midstream? The young are born female, but at 10 or 12 years of age, they become totally male. They remain so for the rest of their lives, which may last 25 years. Red groupers are never born male.
The sex of the fish has been the subject of a scientific study by the Florida Conservation Service's marine laboratory at St. Petersburg since 1963.
Most fish are born either male or female, and stay that way for the rest of their lives. Only a few species, of which the red grouper is one—are protogynous hermaphrodites. This is the condition that enables individual fish, upon reaching maturity, to function as females, then become functional males for the rest of their lives.
Martin Moe of the marine laboratory said that the discovery that some fish were hermaphrodite was made in 1949.
What causes the puzzling sex change? Scientists don't know. Moe theorized that ecological changes may cause the change; if the fish have insufficient food, or if they become overcrowded.

You Don't Need To Use Newspaper Advertising
If You Think So Then . . .
PREACHERS - Should preach only one sermon or so a year. We are all against sin anyway, so why harp on it.
TRAFFIC LIGHTS - Should be turned off at dangerous intersections to save electricity. Everybody knows its a dangerous spot and that is sufficient.
TEACHERS - No need to review lessons. Tell the children just once and they'll never forget.
HIGHWAY POLICE - stop driving up and down the highways. No need to caution drivers by patrolling highways. Drivers know the law and will obey.
MAIL ORDER FIRMS - that send catalogues are wasting their money. Everyone knows what is sold at stores in town and of course they'll shop at home.
IF YOU ARE ONE of the foolish kind like the Notre Dame Cathedral that has stood for six hundred years but still rings the bell every day to let people know it is there, and if you believe in consistent, profitable advertising, then you will . . .

Young Chinese 'Red Guards' Harass Soviet Embassy

TOKYO (AP) — Thousands of young Red Guards demonstrated in front of the Soviet Embassy in Peking today but headed off by police and other demonstrators who had been ordered to maintain discipline.

Japanese newspaper reporters from the Chinese capital that thousands of young Chinese marched on the embassy shouting "antirevisionist slogans, Chinese leaders accuse the Russians of revising Communist ideology."

However, the demonstrators in contrast to the rowdiness of recent days — were orderly. The official Peking People's Daily said the Red Guards and other demonstrators have been ordered to maintain discipline.

Red Guards planned two days of demonstrations in front of the embassy at the current purge sweep across China and into the Chinese Embassy in Moscow over the weekend charging nationalism outside the Soviet Empire.

Large portraits of Marx, Lenin, Stalin and Mao Tse-tung faced the Soviet Embassy building as the Red Guards prepared to rename the street leading to the embassy. Known as the Street of the Prince's Well, it is being renamed "Prevent Revisionism Street."

The Soviet government lodged an "emphatic" protest with the Chinese Embassy in Moscow over the weekend charging nationalism outside the Soviet Empire.

old patriarch of the Chinese Communist party, said Sunday "a great, unprecedented proletarian cultural revolution is surging through our country."

The New China News Agency reported.

The agency said the Red Guards have changed names of streets, shops and schools across China, giving them new names with "a revolutionary meaning" to propagate Mao's thought and "reflect the spirit of the socialist era."

The purge is designed to wash away old ideas, old culture, old customs and old habits, the agency said.

Tobacco, cigarettes, wine and liquor are among items banned since the revolutionary movement began nine days ago. Japanese newspapermen speculated whether the ban would be observed by party Chairman Mao, known as a chain smoker.

Reappraisal Over, 5,000 To Feel Pinch

Five thousand city residents have received notice of increases in the assessed valuations of their property.

Howard Whelchel, city finance director said today re-assessments of land values within the City of Sanford have been completed with an increase in assessed valuations from $36 million to $45 million, boosting city land values by $9 million.

Whelchel emphasized the new billing figures received by property owners include the "old" value of the building and the new value of the property. Building assessments were not raised.

He noted that the city commission is scheduled to sit as a board of equalization on Sept. 12 at 8 p.m. when taxpayers who have protests or complaints about their tax bills must be heard by the tax assessor will bring the matter to a public hearing.

City Board Whittles Down '66-'67 Budget

Sanford city commissioners pocketed their knives Monday and handed a whittled-down tentative budget to City Manager W. E. Knowles to be redrawn.

Although the 1966-'67 budget will be kept balanced within the 18 mill tax rate the city has maintained for the past six years, taxpayers will feel a tug on their purses.

Assessments on vacant land in the city have been raised to bring in an additional $60,000 in ad valorem taxes for next year. This is equivalent to approximately two mills.

In addition, refuse rates (trash and garbage pick-up) will be increased from $1 to $1.50 for residents and from $3 to $4 for commercial accounts, monthly.

This revision will add approximately $27,000 to the city coffers.

These two additions, to come from the taxpayers' pockets, will just about cover the $83,000 deficit for the city.

The $497,000 utility budget presented Monday was approved with no changes. This budget is down $100,000 from last year.

Major item in question in the utility budget is the laying of water and sewer lines to the site of Seminole Junior College. This will include planning, design and installation.

"The cost of this project cannot be determined until an acceptable plan is established," Knowles explained.

Unofficial estimates place this project at the neighborhood of $100,000.

Knowles Denies 'Deteriorating' City Streets

City Manager W. E. Knowles today took sharp issue with the Florida League of Municipalities report that city streets over the state are in bad shape—and getting worse.

Knowles said that Sanford is the "exception to the rule" despite the fact the commission has decided not to pay anything during the next fiscal year.

In its report the Florida league said streets in cities throughout the state were showing signs of "progressive deterioration."

Weathermen were confident the hurricane would stay on a near-steady course, ending a threat to the U. S. mainland and at the same time putting it in position to carry out experiment "Stormfury."

Sanford Says 'No' To Police

Sanford police and fire departments will not receive increases in manpower this year.

City commissioners, whittling down an unbalanced tentative budget, cut out the requested four new firemen and two of the three new policemen.

Retained in the budget is one new police patrolman who is listed for the "graveyard," midnight to 8 a.m. shift in order to put more patrol cars on the streets.

Oops, time is 6 p.m. at Sportsmen's park. If I forgot that Jim Crow would have my scalp.

How about that Crill Haden of Sanford. She helped lead the Orlando Rebels to the world championship softball title.

Say, wouldn't it be a good idea if the Mackie Brothers of Deltona developed the Georgetown area—I mean build it up into a little community of its own.

I took in the Deltona complex last week and all I thought about — I wonder what those guys could do with Georgetown.

Hospital Hits Federal 'Nit-Picking'

"Nit-picking." That was the combined opinion of the board of trustees of the Memorial Hospital Monday afternoon to the latest demands of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) for compliance with the 1964 Civil Rights Act in order to participate in Medicare.

The trustees authorized the board attorney, Gordon V. Frederick, to again inform HEW that the hospital always has been integrated and especially so since it agreed to the Civil Rights Act in April 1965.

The special meeting Monday afternoon was called by Chairman A. B. Peterson Sr. to authorize answer to the latest letter from HEW, which reads: "We are currently reviewing your file in an attempt to make a determination relative to your compliance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. Before we can complete our evaluation we will need copies of the hospital's policies as enumerated below:

"1. Policy statement clearly providing and communicating to the public by publication or announcement the hospital's policy to admit all patients and assign all patients to accommodations and services without regard to race, color or national origin.

"2. Policy advising medical staff that they are to refer patients to the hospital without regard to race, color or national origin, and that disciplinary action will be taken if the medical staff does not comply with the policy. This is especially applicable to physicians with bilateral practices.

Negroes On Prowl

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The search for a way to put 133,000 unemployed Negro youths into education, recreation, labor force, utilities, highways, etc., to be distributed at industrial sites to attract industry to the area; agreed to expenditure of $750 for fencing material for the Lake Monroe Park and accepted 200 feet of Grand Staircase Drive off Lake Mary Boulevard for emergency maintenance.

The Sand Lake Road problem consumed one full hour of the commission meeting with the commission attempting to please property owners on both sides of the road and County Engineer William Bush appearing somewhat confused as to what the commission wanted him to do about the situation.

The road over the years has deviated from its legal right-of-way over onto private property on the north side with the result being that property owners there have been losing some of their land while the situation is corrected owners on the south side may find their homes uncomfortably close to the right-of-way.

Bush, after studying the road, submitted plans to the commission to relocate it north of centerline.

Bush stated the new plans, according to the commission's instructions, were drawn to put the road where it never would have to be moved again and where it would do the least damage to the south side property owners.

Commissioner W. Lawrence Swofford objected to the road being built in any other way than the center of the right of way.

The board agreed to study the plan and make a determination at the next meeting.
