

Greek Fight

mission agrees that the rebellion is being fostered by these countries.

In short, we have a situation which in any man's language amounts to war between Greece and her equally fiery neighbors. Yet the quarrel hasn't been labeled "war"—and we hope it won't be, because that would almost inevitably accentuate the difficulties already existing between Russia and the Western democracies. For are not Red Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria the minions of Moscow, and have not the Western powers vowed to halt the expansion of Communism by aggression?

Some of the little fellows are getting outspoken. For example, Albania has spat against the wind and had its say. General James Hoxha, Albania's Communist premier, declared that the Greco-Albanian border incidents "are part of a general anti-democratic plan of Anglo-American reactionaries whose aim is to bring about a new war, recommended by Truman's Doctrine." The general arrived in Moscow for a visit yesterday.

Well, of course, that's only Albania sounding off, but one can't overlook that Tirana's wagon is hitched to the Russian star. It would be interesting to know who thinks up such speeches for the hardy Albanian mountaineers.

In an event, one wonders whether for once Russia and the Western Allies might not agree to let the Security Council of the United Nations put the clamps on this whole Balkan show a wee bit.

Apropos of this though, London official sources yesterday said Britain was concerned over the wholesale arrests of Communists, trade unionists and leftwing liberals in Greece. Those sources also said the cabinet has received over signs that the Greek offensive against the guerrillas was failing, and that high-level Anglo-American talks might be initiated to consider possible future steps in Greece if the situation doesn't improve. Another source, asked whether intervention by British or American troops in Greece was possible, gave this reply (our Uncle Sam please note):

"Britain has only 5,000 troops left in Greece. We certainly will not send more, x x x Greece is more a United States than a British responsibility, anyway." America recognizes the responsibilities she has undertaken. Dwight Griswold, chief of the American Economic Aid Mission to Greece, announced last Friday in Washington that the United States was speeding an initial shipment of artillery, ammunition and other military equipment to Greek armed forces.

Bill Signed

Ross, in discussing plans for the veto message, told reporters that the bill is expected to reach the White House some time during the day.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a compromise bill giving the Navy $3,443,046,100 in cash appropriations for the current fiscal year. In addition, the bill carries $248,000,000 in contract authority for the purchase of aircraft. It provides for a projected program supporting an average Navy strength of 395,000 enlisted and 42,000 officer personnel.

The total in the bill, as worked out by a Senate-House conference committee, is $133,285,000 more than the amount originally voted by the House and approximately $44,000,000 below the original Senate recommendations. It falls approximately $234,000,000 short of the President's budget requests for cash appropriations.

Later, the House also accepted and sent to the Senate a joint conference committee's compromise of the $55,000,000 legislative appropriations measure, the one which pays Congress' bill.

The House Armed Services Committee approved legislation overhauling the Army's court martial system.

The bill, drafted by a subcommittee headed by Rep. Elsdon (R-Ohio), provides:

1. For an independent judge advocate general's corp. he judge advocate general is given clemency and review authority not now vested in him.
2. Gives enlisted men the right to demand appointment of enlisted personnel to courts.
3. Prohibits commanders from exerting influence on members of military courts.
4. Makes it mandatory for the judge advocate general to review all court sentences whether or not they are suspended.

Papy Trial

for their motion to quash the count.

Defense lawyers said the indictment count, charging Papy of $500 and a case of Scotch whiskey if he would not vote on the bookie bill actually did not allege a crime under the Florida law.

They contended the Florida bribery law relates only to "bribery for acts of commission and not acts of omission."

There was no motion attacking two other counts in the indictment which charged Papy had first offered Odham $100 to vote against the bill and had offered Rep. Clarence M. Camp of Ocala $100 to vote to send the measure to a committee which had previously rejected a similar bill.

Rep. Smith, one of the defense witnesses for whom subpoenas were issued today, is Rep. Odham's colleague from Seminole county and sits next to him in the House chamber.

In accusing Papy from the House floor, Odham said he had voted to send the bookie bill to the hostile committee on the advice of "my colleague" when he entered the chamber just as the roll call was being taken after Papy had made his first alleged bribery offer.

He said Papy approached him with his second offer the next day "as Mr. Cobb of Volusia and I were standing near the door discussing the cattle bill." Cobb also was on the list of defense witness subpoenas.

German Policy

tion authorities should continue to promote self government in Germany and shift responsibility to German government agencies as far as military security will permit.

Government officials familiar with the document told reporters it is the product of many months of intensive study and review by the State, War and Navy departments.

The new directive, they said, takes cognizance of the new developments of the past 26 months and incorporates the views expressed by former Secretary of State Byrnes in his speech at Stuttgart last year and Secretary Marshall's statements toward Germany during the Moscow conference this Spring.

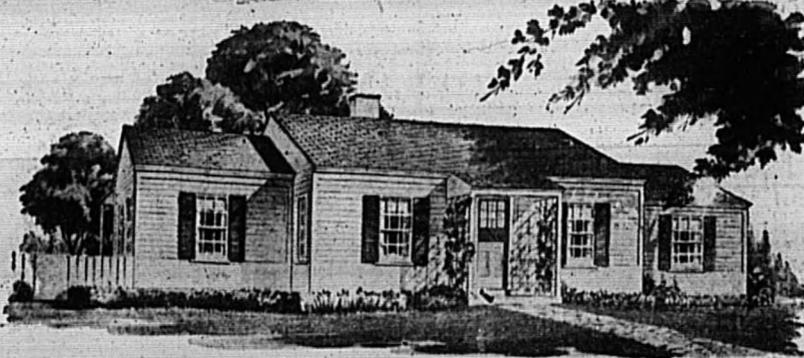

These officials said the directive represents a codification of policy developed since April, 1941. The new order reflects United States acceptance of the necessity of dealing with Germany in at least two parts, Western Germany and the Soviet Zone, but reiterates American desire for unification of the whole country.

The directive told Clay that the United States, while not wishing to impose its own "historically developed forms of democracy and social organization on Germany," nevertheless believes "equally that no other external forms should be imposed." This is presumed to be an order to Clay to oppose establishment of a Communistic or Socialistic form of government if forced on the Germans from the outside.

The directive continued: "Your government believes the ultimate constitutional form of German political life should be left to the decision of the German people made freely in accordance with democratic processes."

The United States reiterates its acceptance of the Potsdam formula for reparations but adds that the present low level of German industry "should not permanently limit Germany's industrial capacity."

U. S. To Sell Turkey 10 Merchant Vessels

Marshall Urges Ruhr Coal Increase; Seeks Entry For Displaced Persons

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall announced today the United States is taking steps to turn over 10 merchant ships to Turkey. As a first move in the new program of strengthening the Turkish armed forces.

Marshall told a press conference that, with the Navy's concurrence, he had asked the Maritime Commission to sell Turkey six U. S. government-owned cargo-passenger vessels. The Maritime Commission also is being asked to lease other vessels to Turkey.

Marshall was asked whether this represented the first transfer under the $100,000,000 undertaking to strengthen Turkey, and he replied affirmatively. Marshall noted that the sale of the six cargo-passenger vessels did not involve expenditure of any U. S. funds. They will be paid for in cash.

The six cargo-passenger vessels were described as pre-war and of medium size. The four surplus craft were built during the war and were not otherwise described.

Secretary Marshall also urged the United States government urgently to increase its Ruhr coal production in Germany as a fundamental requirement for the recovery of Europe.

Committees Get Busy In Paris As Ministers Leave

By HENDRIK KERSTING
PARIS, July 16 (AP)—France proposed today to the committee of European Economic Cooperation that its 16 member nations include overseas production of essential materials in compiling their needs and assets under the Marshall program for aid to the continent.

The step, proposed by French delegate Henri Lamm, to the opening session of the new economic organization's steering committee, would bring into recovery plans the far-flung British Empire, the vast colonial territories of France and the colonial possessions of other members in all parts of the world.

The committee was assigned the job of drafting Europe's balance sheet by the full economic conference, which closed here yesterday. Committee members settled down to work immediately at the French Foreign Ministry. They will lay down a working program for subcommittees on fuel and power, transport, food and agriculture and iron and steel. The subcommittees will be under a five-nation executive committee.

Delegates of Western and Southern European countries approved the committee setup yesterday in the third plenary session of a four-day conference. They will meet again until the committee is ready to report, probably in late August or early September.

U. S. Directive On Germany Seen As Significant

Policy Is Important In View Of Nearing Ruhr Discussions

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
The United States government has just issued its first official statement of policy governing Germany since the war, and takes the stand that a stable and productive Germany is necessary to make Europe orderly and prosperous.

This historic statement is in the form of a directive to the American occupation force in Germany. It instructs Lieut. General Clay, American zone commander, to exert every effort to achieve economic unity with other zones, and says highest priority should be given to increased production of coal, food and export goods.

The greatest importance must be attached to this declaration in view of the increasing gravity of the European economic crisis. It is a situation which is going to worsen before it can start to get better. To use the graphic wording of French Premier Bidault: "The hour has come for Europe to organize itself."

The United States directive takes on particular significance in view of the approaching Anglo-American conference in Washington to discuss methods for increasing the "important" coal production of the Ruhr upon which economic recovery now rests.

Of course it is easy to understand why a socialist government, which ranks nationalism as one of its cardinal tenets, should want to see it carried out in Germany and elsewhere. It will be surprising.

Britain To Ask U. S. To Feed Fused Zones

LONDON, July 16 (AP)—Authoritative Whitehall sources, expressing support for latest Washington proposals for a self-supporting Germany, said today Britain would ask the United States to take over a greater share of the cost of feeding and running the economically fused British and American occupation zones.

The British request is expected to be placed before the U. S. government late this week or early next week when the two countries' topmost experts on Germany meet in Washington to discuss aspects of the economic and political future of Germany, the informants said.

10 Year Program Of Flood Control Urged By Truman

Special Message To Congress Asks For $250,000,000 Extra

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—President Truman recommended to Congress today in an immediate start upon a 10-year program for controlling floods and developing water resources of the Mississippi River basin. He asked $250,000,000 to get the work underway.

In a special message, Mr. Truman outlined a program that embraced also navigation, irrigation, hydroelectric power development and other utilization of water resources.

But he said flood control must come first in the light of flood losses on the Missouri and Mississippi this year that may exceed $500,000,000.

Specifically, the President asked at this session of Congress, in addition to funds already made available, $237,000,000 for the Army Engineers who handle flood control work, $10,000,000 for the Reclamation Bureau and $3,000,000 for the soil conservation service.

Formal estimates for the use of this money, he said, will be forwarded later.

"Let us through the next few years accelerate our program and put this money to work, to gather with such additional money as may be required and as our economy from year to year shall permit," Truman declared. "In that way we shall save ourselves untold billions and pave the way for the wealth production that surely will flow from the integrated development of our valleys."

Installation Plan To Be Used By Railroads

CHICAGO, July 16 (AP)—Most of the nation's major railroads are planning to offer tickets and other travel expenses for sale on the installation plan.

A "liberal" credit plan will be inaugurated by more than 50 carriers on Sept. 1, the Railroad Passenger Interterritorial Committee announced. Payments for the tickets and other expenses, including cash required for proposed trips, will be made on a monthly basis up to one year.

All Western carriers and most of the Eastern railroads are to participate in the plan, said H. W. Biddal, chairman of the committee. The railroads, he said, would work in cooperation with local banks in most cities offering installment buying of railroad transportation.

Showdown In Greek Battle Is Seen Near

Increase In Army's Share Of Loan Seen If Situation Gets Worse

By I. S. CHAKALES
ATHENS, July 16 (AP)—Greek army planes hammered 2,500 leftist guerrillas trapped on the slopes of Mount Gamila north of Ioannina (Janina) today as three government brigades closed in for a showdown battle, military sources reported.

Army authorities said that precautions also had been taken against any new invasion on Greek soil. The authorities added that Greek intelligence reports disclosed there were six guerrilla concentration centers, three in Albania and three in Yugoslavia, from which new offensives could be launched. These reports said the largest of the three in Albania was at Lascovic, and that a hospital for the guerrillas was located there.

A source close to the general staff indicated last night that the field of the present battle in northwestern Greece probably would be near the villages of Yeroplatanos and Vasilikon where, he said, the army had guerrillas surrounded. Vasilikon is only four miles from the Albanian frontier.

Top military authorities said they feared a new large-scale guerrilla operation in the Florida area facing the Yugoslav border.

Price Collapse Is Predicted By Former OPA Chief

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—Former Price Administration Leon Henderson said today he sees "little immediate danger of a major depression" but that prices may collapse disastrously as they did after World War I.

"While that, collapse of 1920-21 cannot be compared with the grinding depression of 1929-33, it was no picnic," Henderson said in a statement prepared for the joint committee on the economic report.

He presented his dissent as chairman of the executive committee of Americans for Democratic Action, an organization of self-styled "liberals" committed to the principles of liberty and justice and the democratic process.

Pineapple Strike In Hawaii Is Called Off

HONOLULU, July 16 (AP)—The strike in Hawaii's $55,000,000 pineapple industry ended today as abruptly as it began six days ago.

Federal Labor Conciliator Nathaniel P. Feinberger announced that the 610 longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union had called off the strike and that the industry had agreed to reopen contract negotiations immediately.

Chief Harry Bridges said workers would return to their jobs at noon.

The accord between the union and industry leaders after five turbulent days brought peace once again to the territory and ended the steady stream of other major strikes throughout other major industries to cripple seriously the entire economy of the islands.

Atom Bomb Plant Report Made To To Be Placed On Kiwanis Club On Permanent Basis National Meeting

New Mexico Factory Will Be Modernized In New Plan

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—The United States is putting an atom bomb factory on a permanent basis.

This new footnote to the bomb and thus far fruitless effort to set up world controls over nuclear energy came to light today in an Atomic Energy Commission announcement of plans to modernize and effectively modernize the war-built town of Los Alamos, N. M.

The first A-bomb was made there and tested at Alamogordo, N. M., two years ago today.

The Commission announcement said that Carroll E. Taylor, retired Navy captain and military expert, will be in charge of the Los Alamos Laboratory, where a multi-million dollar improvement program is under way.

Word of the Los Alamos "modernizing" coincided with another disclosure relating to military matters. That was the Army's identification of the secret Smith-Hughes unit of the British "armed forces special weapons project."

Senate Asked To Probe Disposal Of Election Case

Loyalty Check Bill Seen Hurdled For Senate Election Case

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—Senator Tom Connally asked the Senate today to investigate the Justice Department's handling of a 1946 Kansas City election probe.

He called on the majority to discharge the majority committee which voted Monday to postpone action indefinitely on Connally's resolution which would call for such an inquiry by the Senate.

"No federal official government or law play will want any part in investigating a white-collar case," he declared.

His demands were met at the Justice Department's installation into alleged irregularities in the Kansas City Democratic Primary in which former Rep. Frank Slaughter was defeated by Louis Axtell, who was endorsed by President Truman. Axtell lost the general election to Rep. James H. Aronson.

A House-passed bill providing for a check on the loyalty of government employees appeared headed today for a Senate procedural vote.

Identity Established Of 21 Crash Victims

MELBOURNE, Fla., July 16 (AP)—While identification of the 21 persons killed in the crash of a chartered airliner here Sunday is complete, names were unknown today to identify the bodies to their families.

The bodies of 15 of the Boeing B-747 probably will be sent by plane to Puerto Rico today, the plane's pilot, H. Brownlee, said. The other six will be sent to New York.

The 14 persons injured in the accident, two still remain on the critical list. They are: Rodriguez, 29, who suffered a fractured skull, and Carlos Rodriguez, whose back was broken and skull fractured.

Proposal Based On Abandoning Big Power Dictation. Control By Veto

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—The United States has proposed in a United Nations conference to begin in a Japanese peace treaty that Aug. 19, 1947, move toward a complete abandonment of the big power treaty dictation which has been used for Germany and Austria.

American officials, disclosing the treaty, said they are uncertain whether Russia will accept the proposal, which would have the effect of eliminating a Big Four or Big Five veto control over every provision going into the treaty.

The proposal which went out only a few days ago and to which replies have been received, would not only take treaty-making out of the hands of four nations and turn it over to 11, but it also would establish a two-thirds voting system among the 11 so that no one would be a veto would be permitted.

U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith, in a confidential instruction from Secretary of State Marshall, has discussed the new treaty-making plan with Foreign Minister Molotov and noted he is understood to have indicated dislike of those provisions.

Oil Rights Given Private Owners In Glades Park Area

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—Rep. Peterson (D-Fla.) told a House Public Lands Subcommittee today that acquisition of the Everglades National Park would not deprive private owners the same oil rights as those retained by the State in park lands.

Peterson's statement came as the subcommittee reported legislation to authorize acquisition of the 151,000-acre park around the southern tip of Florida to 1,100,000 acres. More than a dozen private owners object to inclusion of their lands, particularly if they lose rights to oil which may be found in the area.

The pending legislation would provide for state royalties of 1-8 of production if the government ever decides to permit drilling and oil is found.

Rep. Smith (D-Fla.) told a committee in a telegram of opposition to acquisition of the Everglades, and said their oil rights should be protected.

Rep. Barrett (R-Wyo.) read a letter of opposition telegrams sent to them from the Miami area.

August Klipstein, president of the Palgrove Co., testified that the proposed expansion of the park would entail "the wholly unnecessary taking of private land."

Attorney General Tom Wagon will not endorse himself to the people of Florida by his persistent opposition to the Everglades National Park.

President Truman is having television set installed in the White House, but that won't enable him to see how next year's election will turn out.

Since early in the war years Sen. Pepper has been leading a helping hand to make postwar life easier for the men who fought Orlando, Sentinel. He could help them a lot more by voting to reduce taxes.

Northern politicians agitating for the passage of federal law against discrimination in employment should read the revolting news from Charleston where three white boys "shot up" a negro Boy Scout camp leaving three terrified campers wounded with buck shot.
There are much worse things going on in this world than discrimination in employment.

Both Senators Holland and Pepper, who don't often see eye to eye, voted against the tax reduction bill Monday for the second time in recent weeks. There is no question but that the government needs the money, after the greatest spending orgy in its history and the exorbitant costs of a second World War, but too many little taxpayers need the money too. What about them?

Republican governors meeting in Salt Lake City overwhelmingly select Tom Dewey as the most likely nominee of the Republican party for President next year. He received 12 of their votes to 8 for Stassen, the next high man.
They also voted on the Democratic vice presidential prospects, but there was no outstanding choice.
Byrnes, Harriman, Lucas and Byrd, all received 2 each. But there were 14 others who received 1 each.

The paths of glory lead but to the grave. Herbert Spletter, who married J. P. Morgan's daughter in 1900, served as a lieutenant in the Navy during the Spanish-American war, was assistant secretary of the Navy under Teddy Roosevelt, and was one of the richest men in America, was found dead in his New York apartment the other day. He had committed suicide at the age of 83. His wife had died less than a year ago.
Those who had been jealous of him throughout his long life, could be jealous no more.

We believe Senator Bricker has something when he says it is too easy for some scoundrel with a fancied grievance to "drop a grenade from a balcony right into the middle of the Senate chamber and wipe out in one fell swoop most of this country's senior law makers. When a crazy man can hide in the Capitol corridors and take two shots at a Senator before he is caught, almost anything can happen. What is so prevent a foreign spy from slipping entrance to the Senate balcony and dropping an atomic bomb which he has picked up as a souvenir in the Oak Ridge plant? He might blow up the whole city of Washington.

New Friends For Oleo

Margarine has entered politics in a big way. In wartime margarine picked up many friends. These are battling in state capitols and in Washington to have restrictions and taxes that hedge its sale taken off. Naturally the nation's 2,500,000 dairymen and 4,000 commercial creameries are back of such anti-margarine legislation as that in Montana and Wisconsin where the fee for margarine manufacture is $1,000, a federal tax is $600 for manufacture, $400 for wholesalers selling colored and $200 for those selling white margarine. Retailers pay the government $48 for selling colored and $6 for selling white.

The National Co-operative Milk Producers Association doubts that margarine has the same food value as butter.
Department of Agriculture researchers are quoted as saying that they have about the same calory and vitamin A content.

These are the old pros and cons. A new element has entered the fight since cotton seed oil and soybeans have taken the place of coconut oil in the manufacture of oleo.
Congressmen from states raising cotton and soybeans want the federal taxes lifted. They are backed by manufacturers and wholesalers, by grocers who resent the retail tax, and by housewives trying to cut food costs.

The housewife wants to know why there should be penalties put on the making and selling of any good food?
If she can buy two pounds of margarine at a low price, for cooking and general use, she can then buy one pound of butter also. If there is nothing on the market but costly butter, too often she can buy neither.

This is not an "or" country, but an "and" country.
Let us have all good foods at as low prices as consistent with reasonable profit for growers and sellers.

Growing Tax Exemptions

The exemption of real estate from taxation may become an issue in several states. Such real estate is increasing in amount, according to figures of the National Association of Assessing Officers. In 1922 only 13 per cent of all real estate was exempt from taxation because of ownership by churches, schools and hospitals, or for other reasons.

By 1942 the figure had grown to 18 per cent. This was partly because all classes of owners entitled to exemption have been increasing their holdings. Some hospitals whose property was taxable have changed their charters to make them non-profit organizations, and therefore tax-exempt.
And the government has been buying property extensively.

In some localities the figures are really startling. Milwaukee reports that one-third of its real estate is tax-exempt. New York City has one-fourth. And in Washington, D. C., 51 per cent of the land is exempt from taxation.

As the total amount of tax-exempt real estate is estimated at 26 billion, no wonder that local communities are becoming interested. The argument for exempting certain property owners from taxation is strong, but many people will think, "There can be too much of a good thing."

How much real estate in Seminole County is tax exempt?

Shyness Can Be An Asset

No greater handicap exists than shyness, and pronounced types of self-consciousness can be torturing in the extreme," observes Dr. Louis E. Blach in an article in Your Life magazine. "On the other hand," he goes on,
"a certain degree of shyness may be an asset - provided,
of course, that you know how to turn it to your advantage."

As a brief guide the author lists these ten rules for effective shyness:

1. Never believe that the other person—man or woman is a ninny.
2. If you are convinced that he is, don't let him know it.
3. Assume that the other fellow is shy. This will stop you from taking advantage of him.
4. Let others discover how great you are. Don't tell them.
5. When discovered, always admit your superiority reluctantly.
6. Don't force yourself into any company or situation.
Wait to be invited.
7. Always give the impression that you realize you have a lot to learn.
8. Beware of the false props of expensive clothes, jewels, etc., used to attract attention.
9. Never be ashamed of being shy. It's no weakness.
10. Try always to appear as natural as possible.

"CHICKEN-HEARTED"

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By RUSSELL KAY

My good friend Bob Fantman, director of public relations for Marine Studios at Marieland, recently sent me copy of a talk headlined recently by Don Thomas, managing director of the All-Year Club of Southern California, in which he urges the broadening of the travel season.

It is a subject that should be keenly interesting to Floridians, since our state like California depends on tourist travel for a substantial portion of its revenue.

Thomas points out that "a tremendous amount of excellent vacation time is going to waste in America today." He terms our travel viewpoint outmoded in that it establishes the thought that certain months are "vacation months or travel months" and others are considered "off seasons." Continuing, he says, "Not all of these months are off season for the reason that they are not good vacation months. Many of them are good. It appears that they are shunned and wasted largely because they fall outside the timehallowed, few mid-summer months when the American public has always rushed to crowd in its annual vacation."

"This waste of potential vacation time is doubly unfortunate.
People who follow the same old vacation groove are missing new sights and experiences. From the profit standpoint, no industry—least of all in the travel field—can afford to overlook so much of its potential and not suffer. With the great bulk of America's vacations bunched into mid-summer, the travel business is forced to meet the entire year's expenses in a relatively few months of rush operation. A condition that has proved inefficient and costly indicates the need of a change.

"Naturally, I am not suggesting that every resort or region can entertain a full house of pleasure travelers the year around. But, regardless of the climate, there are resort owners who (in normal times) open their doors for the season a bit later than they would like. By the same token, they regretfully shut up shop at a time of the year when they know there is plenty of good season left.

"The extended season clientele is available, if the travel industry goes after it.
"Our summer vacation habit is largely an outgrowth of the habits of schools and business. Many school authorities, such as Dr. John W. Studebaker, U. S. Commissioner of Education, favor staggering school vacations throughout the year, in place of the present num-mer shut down. But accepting school vacations as they are now, the Census Bureau statistics reveal that there are 33,194,549 Americans who have no school age children and who are not teachers.

This travel group is not bound to the fixed school summer vacation period.
"Here is a very rich potential market of people who, with employers' cooperation, could take their vacations at periods other than mid-summer. The trend in industry is toward employers' cooperation in this situation. I happen to know that several large concerns are even considering an extra week bonus for vacations taken in a non-summer season."

"The old vacation pattern is beginning to change. We are in an era that holds a new conception of leisure. Existence of leisure time is a fundamental of recreational travel. According to the Department of Commerce, more than four-fifths of all persons employed in private industry and 97 per cent of all office workers are eligible for paid vacations.
Over 85 per cent of union workers have vacation clauses in their contracts. The eligibility for recreational travel has increased to the point where it is becoming a staple for the many.

"The situation calls for a new formula by our travel industry to meet it. I suggest that we encourage travel to grow into the stable, year-around business that it can be."
There is much sound common

Vitamin A In Sweet Potatoes Found High

By PHYLLIS JONES

AP Newfeatures. KANSAS. — There's nothing cod liver oil can do in furnishing Vitamin A for babies that sweet potatoes can't, says Dr. O. H. Elmer, Kansas State college plant pathologist.

He predicts it won't be long before sweet potatoes have taken over part of the job and are doing it more cheaply.

Dr. Elmer has watched the sweet potato grow into a nutritional important, and he said this gain in food value can change the health standard of the very poor, whose diet long has been deficient in vitamin A, particularly during the winter.

The stored roots lose little of their carotene (Vitamin A food matter) content, he points out, and say—especially in the impoverished rural regions of the south—supplement the dietary deficiencies of "fatback" and "cawpone."

One average serving of the high Vitamin A content sweet potatoes, Dr. Elmer said, would provide the normal daily requirement of the important growth vitamin.

When a sweet potato "sport" makes its debut, Dr. Elmer is as anxious as a producer at a first night performance. A fickle public may turn down the sweetest, most succulent "sport" simply because it has a dull complexion.
Farmers who have been producing plant variations for centuries are the new types "sports." Biologists refer to them as mutations.

In Kansas the Nancy Gold, a "sport" developed by Elmer, has replaced her parent, Nancy Hall, in the field and on the table. The young Nancy Gold is a softly blushing beauty with five times as much Vitamin A as her parent.

BROADWAY

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK—When, as had been indicated for some time, Leon Enken and Eddie Davis put end to their 20-year partnership in their extremely lucrative night club, Leon and Eddie's Broadway last one of its colorful hostesses, the former Leon Enken.

While Eddie Davis' tawdry balldry certainly was the main attraction for Leon and Eddie's in an entertainment way, the effusive Leon at the door greeting his thousands of habitués was equally as much a profitable part of their amiable 52nd St. uppor house.

There are few hosts of Leon's superior style left on Broadway. The trend seems to have shifted to aloof and accented continentalists of the extremely efficient headwaiters who act more like frigid diplomats accepting an unfriendly government's protest than the friendly souls of old New York night club tradition.

Leon has a reputation of knowing as many folks in every walk of life as Jim Farley, whose memory for faces and names is supposed to be of all-time champion caliber. Not only does Leon remember a name and the home town of thousands of his hinged visitors, but he would remember the names of other residents of a customer's home burg, an attractive little host's trick which endeared him to all his clientele. Nothing is so acceptable in New York as the mention of your home town.

Bartenders with this habit of remembering faces and names never have a worry about finding a Broadway job, for they attract regular customers from out of town who, however busy they may be attending theaters and the sightseeing points during the day, or carrying on occasional New York business, seek out a friendly face in the evening.

This, then, was Leon's purported genius as a host. He not only has a reputation for being one of the smartest restaurateurs in the "back of the house," managing operation of the kitchen and attendant business, but is one of the best liked veterans of this frequently un-friendly community of Broadway. The day he announced that he was through with the place, after considerable urging from his partners who wanted to go it alone on the reputation as a night club entertainer, Leon had five urgeant offers to open a restaurant—not a night club.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Dave Brice, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kettles, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stanton and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Satterfield. Also Don Murray, John McManus, B. D. Lake, Don Ford, Martin Zuba, Walter Harrington, Charles Bissell, Ray Hill, John Tomat, Edwin Davis, Jerry Silverman and Al McMillan.

Circle 4 Met With Mrs. J. C. Hutchison

The chairman, Mrs. Hutchison, presided over the business session and the Bible lesson was taught by Mrs. F. S. Vernay. Announcement was made that the monthly visit to the County Home will be made by Circle No. 4 this month. The committee is under the direction of Mrs. Carrie Smith.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess to the members present.

"They shot one scene 11 times this morning," Glenn reported, but he didn't seem greatly worried about the approaching deadline.

We retired to his large and comfortable dressing room, where, I told him, I had just interviewed Carole Landis. "Me and Carole, you know," the chunky halfback smiled.

Glenn said the picture would be a simple story of their lives, how they met and how they got into Nevada. He said he had no real interest, except for a bit involving Doc at the Army prom.

As for their acting, he explained, "We're just going to act as naturally as possible. Isn't that the way acting should be in pictures?" He said neither of them had done any serious emoting before, although Glenn sang in high school operettas. Glenn will not be subjected to makeup, but Doc, who has been absorbing too much California sun, will have to don greasepaint to lighten his face.

There is little doubt that the boys will make it to their stations on time. Their film, from which they will receive a pre-centage of the profits, will probably cost less than $200,000.

"I only hope," said Glenn, "that we come off better than Tom Harmon."

He was referring to the late siph of the gridiron, "Harmon Of Michigan." It can be said of that film that it did neither football nor pictures permanent damage.

Zounds! Here comes another Barrymore!

The latest family addition to Hollywood is John Drew Colt, 30-year-old son of Ethel Barrymore. He has started his movie career in "Imagination," in which he plays a stage manager. He does not possess the traditional profile, he's dark and Valentino-like.

Needless to say, acting is nothing new for John. He played stock in his teens, was graduated to Broadway and then gave up acting for insurance when the theater slumped. After three years in the Army, he decided to return to acting. The family was overjoyed. Said uncle Lionel, who he hadn't seen in years: "Well, Jack, you old actor, that's fine."

"But they aren't pulling any strings," Colt told me. The Barrymores have traditionally made their own fortunes. The actor has no specific plans about his future in the movies.

"What's the use of worrying yourself sick about those things?" he asked. "Worrying won't get you anywhere."

Yep, he's a Barrymore.

Greek Battle

(Continued from Page One) Informed sources said such a move might come in an effort to increase the number of Mount Grammos which has been taking a severe pummeling for weeks.

A United States embassy spokesman said that both the British and U. S. Governments were "exchanging information here, in Washington and in London" on developments in the Greek border strife.

Sources in official government circles said if the Greek situation grew much worse it might be necessary to request the American mission to sanction an increase in the Greek army from 150,000 to 300,000 men. Such a sharp increase would be substantially into the United States aid program funds previously earmarked for civilian use.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—The capital's big game eaters already are picking their chops in contemplation of menus of moose being lined up for them this fall.

Members of the Anteaters Association, which gathers twice a week during the crisp season at the National Zoo Restaurant, have been promised steaks from the antlered beasts from the wilds of Canada.

The Anteaters' Association, so named by its organizer, Dr. William Mann, Zoo director, because he admires the sticky-tongued, long-snouted mammal that does on ants, has 883 members. They include business and professional men of the District of Columbia and some members of Congress.

Host to the association, Gordon Leech, manager of the restaurant, is busier than a bird dog placing orders for the moose, and for bear, buffalo and terrapin as well.

Right after Labor Day Leech expects to travel west to make his pheasant and buffalo country. He said he had no real interest, except for a bit involving Doc at the Army prom.

As for their acting, he explained, "We're just going to act as naturally as possible. Isn't that the way acting should be in pictures?" It Takes Planning To Pack Cosmetics

AP Newfeatures. LONDON—Beauty is booming in Britain. The cosmetics bill of British women has soared to $64 million, a rise of 2 1/2 percent above the previous volume.

British girls, who once eschewed lipstick and powder at least until they were of age, now are becoming cosmetics-conscious in their early teens. Many older women also have started recently to use cosmetics for the first time.

Beauty experts estimate that the average British working girl spends $32 a year on cosmetics, while society women invest up to $8 a week. The average well-to-do woman, they say, spends $400 on lipstick alone during her lifetime, sometimes splurges $800 on a single "face-lift."

Fifty years ago, the experts say, the average British girl spent less than $2 a year on beautifying her face.

are only about 500 in the whole country that would make good eating. The Adirondack brown bear, as far as Leech is concerned, is superior to any others for eating purposes.

The best bears are the ones that come from a territory where there are plenty of berries to satisfy their appetite. Experts say that a wild animal's flavor is determined by its diet: If a bear eats fish, for example, the bear is apt to taste like fish instead of bear.

The association had some good bear last season. It came from New England, was tender and juicy. About five years ago, and Leech can't forget it, they got a bear that was old and tough and pretty strong. It came from Dismal Swamp, Va.

Bears are expensive. They average around $2.75 a pound. A 150-pound bear last year had to be trimmed down to 72 pounds to get the steak and roast part.

Leech said that of course bear hamburgers and stew could have been cooked up from the trimmings, but you just couldn't offer such pickings to an Anteater.

The 1947 bear had an inch and a half of fat all over him. The cook rendered it and used the lard to cook the bear steaks and other wild meat in.

Bear meat was the most popular item on the Anteaters' program last year, so Leech hopes to double the amount this year.

Jap Treaty

However, Molotov agreed to take the matter under consideration and no Russian objection or counterproposal has been received.

The countries invited to the Aug. 19 parley are the members of the Far Eastern Commission set up about two years ago to make allied policy for the Japanese occupation: Australia, Canada, China, France, India, the Netherlands, New Zealand, the Philippines, the United Kingdom, the Soviet Union and the United States.

These 11 were invited, a high State Department official said, because the American government is determined that the Japanese peace treaty work from the outset will be carried on by the largest possible number of qualified nations.

The list includes the so-called Big Four of the Pacific war, the U. S., Britain, China and Russia. It also includes nations such as Australia which, as American officials frequently point out, contributed much more to the war effort against Japan than Russia, which came in only at the last moment.

The meeting called here is supposed to tackle only questions of peace treaty procedure, that is, creation of working committees, when and where peace conferences should be held and the like.

The date, Aug. 19, follows by only 10 days the opening of a British Commonwealth conference on Japanese peace problems at Canberra, Australia. Some officials believe that because of this the Australians might favor a delay in the Washington conference.

Informants here said Gen. Douglas MacArthur had been kept fully advised of plans for the Washington conference and the implication was that the proposals have his approval.

Also the party declares that it will fight "for the people's peace" which is the peace desired by the Soviet dictatorship.

Also quoted in the report was the talk at the convention by the Rev. Norman Rawson, of Ontario who was with the British general staff in Russia after World War I and who warned that if World War III comes there will be no rules, no mercy and no warnings, but surprise achieved by treachery and merciless experimentation by atomic power and germ warfare.

Saints Play Here Tonight; Feds Drop Tilt To Solons

Senators Score Run In Ninth To Win 3 To 2 Game; Biscuits To Face Ancients

ORLANDO, July 16, (Special)—The Orlando Senators jammed a single tally across the platter here last night in the ninth frame to chalk up a 3 to 2 victory over the Sanford Celery Feds in a nip and tuck battle.

Tonight the Feds entertain the second place St. Augustine Saints at the Municipal Park. Only one contest is scheduled and the tilt will get under way at 8:15 o'clock with Charlie Bissan handling the mound assignment.

Two four ply pukes were featured by Orlando and proved to be the needed margin for victory. Rex Throppe marked one of Hill Stanton's right handed plants over the right field wall in the initial frame, and John Garrison opened the bottom of the second stanza with a long blow into the bushes in left centerfield.

The Feds tallied a single across in the fourth on consecutive doubles by Buddy Lake and Ralph Satterfield.

In the sixth the Sanfords chalked up their final run of the contest when Johnny McCluskey tripled down the left field foul line and was driven home by Lake. Lake had a perfect night at the plate, hitting four times in four trips.

Orlando's winning marker came in the ninth when Manager Lou Bavelle worked Stanton for a free ticket after Ty Brasler singled and Garrison singled Brasler across the platter with one away.

Dream Fight Between Zale And Graziano To Be Held Tonight

CHICAGO, July 16, (AP)—In fistfight circles a fight fan's dream fight is in the offing in the Chicago Stadium, a clash between Middleweight Champion Tony Zale and the outstanding challenger, Rocky Graziano.

It is relatively certain that either the Champ or the Challenger will hear the songbirds before the end of the bout, according to boxing experts.

During their last meeting, Tony came back from the brink of being flattened to soundly thrash "The Rock".

Some 260 sportswriters from all over the country are assembled in Chicago to cover the bout, which has all the proportions of a heavyweight championship.

It is noted that Zale is in better condition for the scrap, since he has had six fights since meeting Graziano, while Rocky has engaged in but two.

German Policy Cited In Slave Trial

SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 15, (AP)—Alfred Wesley Ingalls, former Massachusetts legislator and lawyer, told a federal court jury that a "missionary complex" caused his wife to feel he had a "responsibility" towards Dora Jones, the negro maid the Ingalls are charged with enslaving.

Ingalls, who continues his testimony today, said his feeling was based in part on an affair of nearly 40 years ago between Dora, now 68, and Mrs. Ingalls' first husband, Walter Harman of Washington, D. C.

He denied the government contention that he and his wife returned Dora to slavery by thwarting her with jail because of alleged intimacies with Harman and subsequent abortion when she became pregnant.

Mrs. Ingalls, 62, who first met Dora as a missionary school teacher in Athens, Ala., in 1908, completed three days of testimony just before her husband took the stand yesterday. She told the jury she considered that Communism, Nazism, the FBI and her two daughters were aligned against her.

The daughters, Ruth Castendyk of Chicago and Mrs. Helen Halsted of Berkeley, Calif., had both denied they were Communists or Nazis.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Ingalls testified that America and Britain to reach a quick agreement.

If these two major powers can't agree over Germany, what's the use of asking the countries of Western Europe to reach an accord over economic reconstruction of the continent.

The Army made A-bombs, it is associated with it.

The identification of the Sanjia base about which the Army previously had refused to talk at all, was contained in a routine announcement of command changes for various general officers.

The Atomic Commission statement on plans for improving Sanjia said that more than 1,000 new homes will be constructed along with new schools, community service, and commercial facilities, streets and utilities.

The atomic energy commission has declined to discuss government statements by scientists and public officials that the United States either has or is developing atomic bombs of tremendously greater power than the five exploded to date.

One of the most recent of such statements came from Dr. Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago, where the first atomic energy pile was built. Hutchins asserted last month that "American science and technology have produced a stockpile of new and improved bombs large enough, according to usually conservative sources, to destroy every large city on the earth."

said these will begin here the latter part of next week.

Earlier Marshall, urging the admission of 400,000 European war refugees, was interrupted in his testimony today by the suggestion that the United States already has absorbed its share of aliens.

Marshall retorted: "That's the significance of the Status of Liberty."

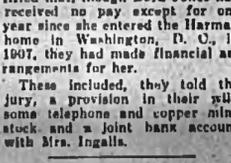

Rep. Gossett (D-Tex) made the observation that brought the reply Marshall, Secretary of War Patterson and Secretary of Commerce Harman asked a House judiciary subcommittee to approve legislation permitting the entry of displaced persons.

Marshall testified he would be willing to see Congress pass this year a measure to admit only 100,000 refugees—the proposed legislation would provide for entry of 100,000 a year for four years.

"It would be better than nothing," Marshall said, adding that admission of a "substantial number" would partly remove a source of "conflict and frictions" with Russia.

Marshall also discussed the Greek situation in response to questions. He said that the function of American representatives reported with the Greek army is to determine what is needed to strengthen the army.

In carrying out the military phase of the $300,000,000 Greek aid program, he explained it is necessary to determine what should be done. The Greek Army is engaged in guerrilla warfare, he said, adding this is quite different from normal warfare.

Some of these were the wampus bird which protected the campers from those two fatal diseases to good campers—homesickness and grumpiness.

Also portrayed was a horse, a good luck sign of the Indians, an arrow, a sign of peace and unbroken friendship and a halfmoon with stars carefully turned up to catch any ill luck that might otherwise befall the campers. Many Indian words which explain activities to the campers, holding Indian legends long connected with Winona.

The council fire was lighted by the supposedly everlasting burning ember of friendship.

Each boy and councilor was introduced. Tapa was sounded which echoed back from across the lake and the boys returned to their cabins tired from a busy day's activities. Tapa brought to a close a perfect first day at camp.

Visitors are only welcome on Sunday. Visiting hours from 8:00 P. M. to 5:00 P. M. The camping period is short and with a full program. Visitors cause interruption. Sunday afternoon only is set aside for visitors.

Cabin 1 was victorious over Cabin 10 in a challenged game of diamond ball.

Marshall indicated that he is pleased with the manner in which European recovery plan as a basis for expected further American help.

He was asked whether the United States will send officials to the Paris meetings, which have now become working committee sessions, to cooperate in fitting Germany into the European program.

Marshall said the United States is not participating in the Paris talks now and does not even have an observer there, except for the American ambassador at Paris who observes only informally.

WE'VE BEEN WITH YOU TWELVE YEARS

We are twelve years old this July. Yes, way back under in the year 1935, a capitalist moved to Florida from another State. He purchased property in Sanford and in other cities in Florida, and one day he decided to see that fire insurance rates in Florida were considerably higher than in his home state, and he thought perhaps the reason for this was that the mutual fire insurance companies were not active in Florida. He had carried most of his insurance in Mutual Companies and decided to take on the responsibility of mutual fire insurance companies, giving us the names of the mutual companies he had had satisfactory dealings with in his home state. This is why we started a Mutual Insurance Agency in Sanford—way back yonder in July, 1935. Our ambition has been to build up an agency devoted to the task of providing good insurance protection for the people in Seminole County at a saving. That we have to some extent at least succeeded in doing this is indicated by the fact that today we have the pleasure of serving over five hundred customers, most of whom bought insurance from us because our agency was recommended by a loyal customer. To our customers we believe the credit for the growth of this Agency—for without their loyalty and support throughout these twelve years—it just wouldn't have happened. To them, we are truly appreciative and we want them to know that we fully recognize the fact that it is only their insurance—because for they have made it so—they have saved more money on their insurance than we have written the insurance. We have been MUTUALLY benefited knowing each other. We take this occasion of thanking our customers publicly for their loyalty and support during these twelve years.

THE PUZZLER

A PUZZLING PLANE THAT FOLDS UP

PUZZLING is only a hobby to C. B. Colby. Aviation is his profession, so the silhouette of the plane that is the solution of his latest "Foldie" puzzle is technically correct in detail.

To solve a "Foldie," which is a new version of an old puzzle that was once very popular, you cut out the entire boxed area above. Then, by folding and refolding it, you cause the silhouettes of black within it to meld into one design—the silhouette of the plane at left.

ODD FIGURING

1. One thousand, two hundred, nothing and one is bound to give you plenty of fun.
2. From five take five and leave contempt.
3. To a half dozen add six and five hundred showing a result that is clear, lucid and glowing.
4. One thousand, fifty and one arrange to be a fruit on mart or change.

MARBLE PUZZLES

CHARADES

The Encyclopedia of Puzzles and Pastimes says that after the invention of movable types and printing presses introduced literature to the European masses, but before censorship of the dictators of that time were torn down, the charade was a common form of political propaganda. It was difficult for censors to cope with it; for them to place the worst construction upon a charade was to admit the validity of the gossip or sly allegations that it concealed.

The acted charade was popular in older times, with guests dividing themselves into teams to endeavor to "stump" each other with words dramatized.

Thousands of the versified variety of charade have been authored by members of the National Puzzlers' League for their unique organ, The Enigma. An eight-letter example:

*I looked in the LAST for a FIRST today,
Or to put it another way
I spent a FIRST before the LAST,
Holding my attention fast.
Was it a useful thing to do,
Or idleness I should rue?
My WHOLE will never, never tell,
Tho' it reckoned my FIRST well.
(FIRST and LAST refer to syllables, naturally.)*

TRANSPOSAL

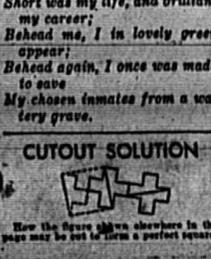

The puzzler with the nom-de-plume of "Hector," who wrote the foregoing charade, also authored this poser:

A man has a son twenty-seven years younger than himself. Transpose the numbers in the son's age and they will give you the father's age. What is it?

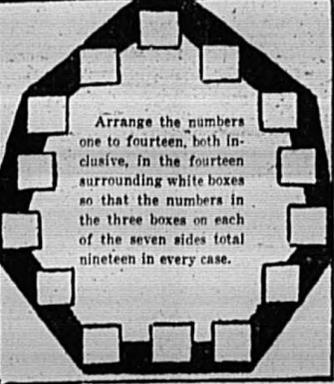

DECAPITATION

*Short was my life, and brilliant my career;
Behold me, I in lovely green appear;
Behold again, I once was made to ease
My chosen inmates from a wotery grave.*

THE JEALOUS HUSBANDS

MRS. Appleby, Mrs. Beedone and Mrs. Ceema were good friends and so it came about that the three women and their husbands went off on a hiking trip together. It turned out that their husbands all were jealous men, and this presented a problem when the six hikers reached a wide river. For there was only one boat at hand in which they could get across, only two persons could get in the boat at a time, and no woman could be with a man unless her husband was present.

In what manner, then, did they cross the river in the boat and avoid trouble among the men?

If you've never tackled a poser like this before, we suggest that you use three pennies to represent the husbands and three nickels or dimes for the wives, in working it out.

STAMP TAX

HERE is a stamp poser to tax your wits:

Mr. Phil A. Teltat has three rare stamps in his collection. One is red, one is blue, one is green. The denominations are 25 dilaars, 10 dilaars and 2 dilaars, not necessarily in that order. Can you determine the color of each denomination from the following statements, only one of which is correct?

1. The 25 dilaar stamp is red.
2. The 10 dilaar stamp is not red.
3. The 2 dilaar stamp is not blue.

MARBLE MYSTERY

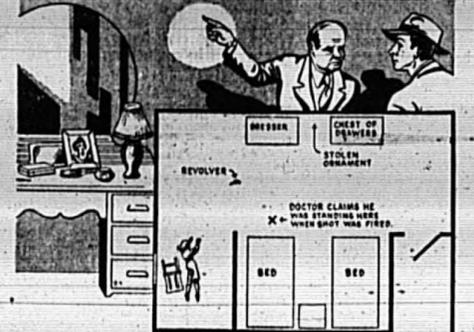

JUAN and Jose got out all of their marbles to arrange some trades. They found that together they had a total of 174 marbles. For the trading, Juan arranged all his marbles into piles of seven each, while Jose divided his into piles of nine each. Between them they had 22 piles. How many marbles had each boy?

The Gorgon's Head Mystery

It was one of Inspector Ferret's oddest cases. There was no apparent reason why any one except Doctor K should have killed Mrs. K.

But before drawing conclusions, let us have the doctor's story:

"My wife couldn't sleep and as the night was warm she seated herself by the screened window in our bedroom. The light was off and I dozed off, then suddenly awoke with the startling feeling that something awful had happened. I called out to her to find if she was all right. She replied reassuringly. I guessed I had had a nightmare and decided I needed a cigarette. The instant I struck the match there was a loud report, as if I had set off an explosion. I heard my wife cry out and fall to the floor. I jumped up, and turned on the light. My wife was lying by the window. I ran to her and saw she was badly hurt. As I tried to stop the bleeding and felt her pulse, she died. Terrified, I rushed to the dining-room and called the police. Then I locked myself in the dining-room and barricaded the door, for I feared an assassin would fire another shot."

It was in the dining-room that the police found the doctor. They also found that the screen in the bedroom was intact—it had no bullet holes. The woman had been killed by a bullet from the gun that lay beside her. The nature of the wound indicated the bullet had been fired from short-range. The doctor said he had not seen or heard an intruder.

To the police, it appeared the doctor had killed his wife. The belief was strengthened when they asked him to look around and see if anything had been stolen. There had been no burglary, for a pearl necklace and several diamond necklaces lay upon the dead woman's dresser, and the doctor said the only thing missing was an iron ornament, shaped like a gorgon's head, which he claimed had been taken from the wall.

And so matters stood when Inspector Ferret arrived. "I can't understand why anyone would want that gorgon's head," the doctor repeated. "It was just a trinket I picked up in Europe."

"On the contrary," remarked the inspector, "it is worth a man's life. Yours."

What did Inspector Ferret mean by this remark? Study the diagram and picture carefully and see if you can tell how Dr. K's innocence was shown.

There's no doubt about it, Susan Hayward is the personification of IT, according to the Hollywood idea of it. But she'd hardly bring to mind some of the other "its" for which the Greeks and others have words. You have to think up them, in this Quiz. Give your memory a tossing around, and toss out these "its":

SQUARE IT

A variation of a kind of poser popularized by Sam Loyd, who brought fame to Brooklyn before the Dodgers did, is provided by another Brooklynite, Harry Langman. In this problem, the figure is to be cut into four pieces that can be put together without hollows or overlapping to form a perfect square.

Rebels Escape From Net Of Greek Troops

Guerrillas Insist On Communist State; Reportedly Willing To Come To Terms

By L. S. CHAKALES
ATHENS, July 17 (AP)—Military circles expressed belief today that survivors of the 2,500 guerrillas, who, the government said, invaded Greece from Albania Sunday, had withdrawn successfully eastward toward the towering Mt. Grammos range near the frontier.

Only scattered minor clashes were reported in the Mt. Grammos area.

The rebels' retreat was noted yesterday when Greek army units attacked north of Ioannina, but failed to contact the main force. Military informants said they believed the insurgents were trying to reach their comrades on Mt. Grammos, where national forces were harrying another group of 2,000. The larger party failed in an attempt to capture Ioannina, capital of Epirus.

Greek troops watched closely for developments along the Yugoslav and Albanian borders from Florina to Konitsa, an area pregnant with possibilities of new eruptions of border battle.

Despite their apparent reversal, the guerrilla chief, Markos Vafiades was reported in the Communist press today.

Pilot Of Crashed Plane Testifies At CAB Hearing

NEW YORK, July 17 (AP)—A Civil Aeronautics Board hearing was held today that the Eastern Air Line plane which crashed May 30 at Port Deposit, Md., with a loss of 58 lives, previously had landed at Newark, N. J., with one of its four engines turned off because of a defective throttle.

The crash occurred as the plane was enroute back to Miami, Fla., after repairs had been made to the throttle control at Newark.

Capt. W. T. Habbitt, who piloted the plane from Miami to Newark, testified at the hearing, which was presided over by Robert W. Crisp, chief of the hearing and reports section of CAB, that shortly before landing he encountered difficulty with the throttle of the No. 4 engine. He said he cut the engine and feathered the propeller to make a three-engine landing. He described the flight as of a routine nature, despite the throttle failure.

Ralph J. Moscatelli, a chief mechanic for Eastern Air Lines at Newark, said today that the throttle control consisted of a broken link rod, which he said was replaced before the plane took off for Miami. He also testified that his crew made an inspection of outside surfaces and controls of the plane and that if any other defects had been noted he would have been told promptly. He said he was satisfied the crew found the plane in satisfactory condition.

George Roerig, assistant to the vice president in charge of the line's operations in Miami, testified that the plane had been subjected to a routine 3,000-mile inspection and overhaul at Miami before it took off for Newark.

Baptists Converge For World Congress

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—Baptist clergy and laymen from all over the world are converging on Copenhagen for the seventh Congress of the Baptist World Alliance, opening July 29.

It will be one of the largest religious meetings since before the war, with between 4,000 and 5,000 delegates attending.

From the United States alone 360 Baptists are going to the meeting. Many already are enroute. The largest group, headed by the Queen Elizabeth, July 17. Many will go by plane later.

AUTO ACCIDENT

PERRY, July 17 (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Jeff Nix said today that James James, 13, of Cairo, Ga., was killed last night when he was struck by a car here and that the car's owner, William J. Crosby, 32, was being held in connection with the death.

James, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett James of Cairo, was visiting the home of J. A. Crosby here. The accident occurred near the Crosby home and Nix said the driver of the car did not stop. The boy was dead when he was found.

Poland Demands Removal of Alien Troops In Greece

Formation Of Coalition Government Urged At UN Meet

LAKE SUCCESS, July 17 (AP)—Poland joined Russia today in blaming Greece for the current Balkan disorders and demanded formation of a new coalition government in Greece, new elections and the immediate withdrawal of foreign military personnel.

Poland's views were stated by Dr. Oscar Lange, United Nations Security Council president, as the council met in the extraordinary session in an atmosphere intensified by the fighting in northern Greece.

"It is necessary that Greece be extricated from the network of international power politics," Lange said in demanding the withdrawal of foreign troops.

Lange said the primary trouble in the Balkans must be attributed to the internal situation in Greece, aggravated by the presence of foreign troops. The present government in Greece is a coalition of the major parties, with the Communists and other Leftist groups excluded.

Lange vigorously opposed the American proposal for a semi-permanent UN Commission in the Balkans on the ground that this seemed to be based upon the assumption that the three Soviet satellites, Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia, were to blame for the situation.

Local Pilots To Make "Breakfast Flight"

Sunday morning at 8:00 o'clock will initiate the "First Breakfast Flight" from the Sanford Municipal Airport. Students and officials of the Sanford School of Aviation, Roy Browning, manager, announced today and private owners of aircraft located at Sanford will participate in this flight.

They will be guests of the "New Smyrna Airport," where the flight will land and be taken to the beach for a morning swim. On their return to the Sanford Airport, a man size breakfast will be served to the visiting pilots.

The social activities of the Private Flyers of Sanford now consist of a monthly barbecue and swim party given each full moon and a breakfast flight each month to some point of interest within the state, Mr. Browning said. Banquets and dances are planned at a later date.

There have been quite a number of requests for a "Flyers" organization of Central Florida pilots to sponsor all types of airport activities and help to promote a closer relationship between private plane owners in this area, Mr. Browning added. All pilots having student ratings upward are eligible.

RED CROSS TAXED

LITTLE ROCK, July 17 (AP)—Attorney Guy E. Williams has ruled that the American Red Cross must pay Arkansas sales tax on food, clothing and farm equipment purchased for victims of the tornado near Pine Bluff June 1. Williams said the Arkansas sales tax law excluded only purchases made by governmental agencies.

DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

That was a stern warning regarding the dangers of the European crisis which Secretary of State Marshall gave us in his address before the conference of governors at Salt Lake City.

"There is no blinking the fact that this country now stands at a turning point in its relations to its traditional friends among the nations of the old world," said Marshall. "Either it must finish the task of assisting those countries to adjust themselves to the changed demands of a new age, or it must recede itself to seeing them move in directions which are neither with their own traditions nor with those of this country."

"In the latter case, the United States would be faced with a radical alteration of its own position in the world. I ask you to consider most carefully the implications of such a development for the future prosperity and security of our country."

The General has left us to dot the 'i's and cross the 't's, but that's not difficult. If we don't help the still free European democracies to regain their feet, they will be brought under Russia's Communist domination. Thus America will be cut off from her old friends. Her security, both economically and militarily, will be weakened.

But that's only a snap-shot of the threat. Europe's economic crisis is by no means due solely to the ravages of war. A fundamental fact which a lot of folk fail to realize is that Europe in part (Continued on Page Two)

Dutch Forecast War With Indonesia As Negotiations Fail

BATAVIA, July 17 (AP)—War between the Netherlands and the Indonesian Republic was forecast by Dutch sources today following a new disagreement in negotiations for a joint national government for the United States of Indonesia.

One high-level Netherlands informant said the Dutch were expected to decide before nightfall whether to undertake military action against the Republic. He indicated that such action was extremely likely.

This informant declared that a new crisis of "extraordinary gravity" had grown out of Republican Premier Amir Sjarifoeddin's refusal to issue a cease-fire order to Indonesian troops last night. He said this broke a pledge the premier made yesterday.

In a radio speech earlier from his capital of Jogjakarta, the premier told Indonesian troops the situation was critical. He said the Dutch attitude showed "they want to avoid the ways of peace."

Fireman Killed In Warehouse Blaze

OAKLAND, Calif., July 17 (AP)—One fireman was killed and three others injured early today in a blaze that swept a half-block in West Oakland's warehouse area before being brought under control.

Assistant Fire Chief Manning Basch said damage would amount to $100,000 at least. Owners of property consumed by the flames said the loss would run much higher.

Fireman Louis Cetraro, 27, was killed. Spectators said they saw him fall into a burning building when the roof collapsed. His body was recovered.

The flames destroyed the warehouse of Coastwide Movers Company, containing 30,000 pounds of blood plasma and antique furniture valued at $50,000, another warehouse containing privately owned war surplus goods, a Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company garage and two homes and damaged three other houses.

Cause of the fire was not determined.

330,000 Troops Were Evacuated, According To Admiralty Release Of Event

LONDON, July 17 (AP)—The British Admiralty released today, seven years after the event, the full epic story of the British and French evacuation from the bombed, bloody beaches of Dunkerque between May 26 and June 4, 1940.

Even the matter-of-fact language of the dispatch from Admiral Sir Bertram Ramsay, who directed the operation, failed to hide the magnificence of the achievement.

Ramsay disclosed in his dispatch, written on June 18, 1940, that of the 176 British ships used in the operation 35 were sunk and 42 others damaged. Those ships, ranging from destroyers and hospital ships to trawlers and drifters, were supplemented by approximately 700 little boats which put out from British fishing points to rescue the battered troops.

Three hundred and thirty thousand of the British troops who had been driven out of Europe by the victorious Germans were brought back to Britain. The Admiralty, Ramsay wrote, had expected at the utmost to rescue 45,000.

The French Navy, too, suffered heavy losses among the 190 ships which it flung into the task of evacuating French troops from the beaches. Nineteen of them were sunk and two others damaged, but they brought 20,525 French troops to Britain. In all, 123,095 French troops were transported across the channel in British and French ships.

Though "intensive" air attacks, mine-laying by planes, motor torpedo boats, coast artillery gunfire and submarine operations the Germans tried to block the evacuation, Ramsay reported. All their operations succeeded in part, but the air attacks were the worst.

"Heavy air attacks started on May 29," Ramsay wrote. "From then onwards the scale and vigor of the air attack increased and during June 1 all ships in Dunkerque, off the beaches or in the approach channels were subjected every two hours to an unrelenting bombardment."

"Please visit these camps," Shertok pleaded in a personal appearance before the commission. "They form an integral part of your inquiry for the life led by Jews there, the substance of the whole issue."

Shertok said there was urgent need to permit large scale migration of homeless European Jews to start at once.

The Jewish underground organization, Irgun, Zvai Leumi, took to the streets laying mines on highways near Jerusalem and Petah Tikvah which last night took the life of one British soldier and wounded 15 or other 16 others—some seriously.

Irgun, in a statement delivered to Jerusalem newspapers, said the mines had been planted to "relieve Natanya from siege"—a reference to the military rule imposed on Natanya to facilitate a search for two British soldiers kidnapped by the underground and held as hostages for three condemned Jewish extremists.

Political Challenge Facing State Outlined At Luncheon

There are two challenges which today face the people of Florida. On one hand there is the challenge given by the spirit of such men as Brailey Odham and Clarence Camp who sought honest government in the last session of the Legislature; and on the other hand there are those forces represented by long time politicians whose only boast is that they have stopped the spirit of progress and honesty," declared Dick Cooper, Stetson law student, at the noon meeting of the Seminole County Jaycees.

More Meat At Lower Prices Is Seen By Institute

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—The American Meat Institute declared today, with reservations, that the nation faces the cheerful prospect of more meat at "moderately lower" prices this fall.

J. R. Eggett, the institute's associate director of marketing, said in a statement prepared for the joint congressional committee on the economic report that his organization expects a 15 percent increase in meat supplies by Autumn.

"It follows," Eggett said, "that moderately lower prices may be looked for at that time unless there are more wage increases and other developments which would further increase the public demand for meat."

He added that current meat prices, generally high, are "simply the result of more people having more money and wanting more meat than ever before, at a time when supplies are seasonally low." (Continued on Page Eight)

Bank Robber Fails To Remember Holdup

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., July 17 (AP)—Police said today a former Army lieutenant held for investigation in the daylight robbery of the First National Bank told them he found himself behind the bank with a suitcase of money in his possession but insisted he could remember no holdup.

Colorado Springs Chief of Police I. B. Bruce said the statement was made orally last night by William Boethin, 25, a former Army Air Force lieutenant.

District Attorney Irl Foard, who participated in the quizzing with Bruce, Sheriff Cecil Markley, FBI agents and state patrolmen, said Boethin told them he dumped the money down an abandoned mine shaft.

P. H. House, 48, the cashier and vice-president who was alone in the bank at the time of the holdup and was seriously wounded, was reported resting comfortably in a Cripple Creek hospital.

Markley said bank officials estimated that after an initial check that slightly less than $3,000 was taken in the holdup.

Military Pact Approved By House Group

5 Year Program For Western Hemisphere Calls For Standardized Arms

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—The House Foreign Affairs Committee today approved a $50,000,000 five-year program for arms standardization and military cooperation between the countries of the Western Hemisphere.

The legislation, however, probably will have to await consideration by the House and Senate early in 1948, since it is not listed in important measures to be considered by Congress before its expected adjournment at the end of the next week.

The program has been described as essential to the security of the Western Hemisphere by Secretary of State Marshall, Secretary of War Patterson, Secretary of the Navy Forrestal, Army Chief of Staff Dwight D. Eisenhower and Chief of Naval Operations Chester Nimitz.

Under the measure the United States would supply Latin American nations with modern weapons, ships, planes and training missions. In return, the military chiefs said this nation hopes to develop a series of air bases from the Arctic to the tip of South America.

Sanford's invitation and bid to the American Legion to establish a permanent State department headquarters building on the lakefront site now occupied by the softball diamond, will be officially presented by Joel Field and John Sauls at the midsummer conference of the Department of Florida in Jacksonville next Saturday, Mr. Field announced this morning.

Mr. Field and Mr. Sauls will represent Campbell-Leasing Post 63 in presenting the matter to the Legion committee headed by Tom Cooley of Mt. Dora and named by State Commander Frank Cator for the purpose of selecting a site for permanent state headquarters.

All local civic organizations," said Mr. Field, "are showing their interest in the project by sending letters of approval and endorsement to the State Legion Committee requesting favorable consideration of Sanford's bid for establishment of a headquarters building here."

Reds Seek Prompt Steel Reparations

BERLIN, July 17 (AP)—The Russians asked in the Allied control authority today that steel plants capable of producing 13,000,000 tons annually allocated immediately for reparations.

The demand could be met only by stripping the Ruhr, United States and British representatives refused to entertain the Soviet proposal for discussion.

The Russians demanded that the steel capacity was "excess." The Americans and Britons replied that any new estimate on excess steel capacity could be calculated only on a basis of an economically unified Germany, which the Russians have opposed.

Informed Americans said privately the Russian demand appeared to be an attempt to forestall the current American and British efforts to build Western Germany's economy to a self-sustaining level and tie it in with cooperative plans for rehabilitation of Western Europe.
