

Olivier Irked At Your Reviews Of "Romeo And Juliet"

NEW YORK, May 23.—(AP)—
You think we were a couple of telegrams from Hollywood trying to tempt the critics into a fray?

It was a black Friday indeed for Laurence Olivier. About 10 o'clock he matched the New York critics to the music press. He expressed his play "Romeo and Juliet" which had opened in broadway the night before. He read pages of criticism with a calm which critics threatened to invade.

Mr. Olivier is an Englishman who is engaged to marry Miss Lilian Lash, the actress who played the role of "Scarlet" with the "Pals." Miss Leigh had opened in broadway in the role of Juliet. The critics had hoped that she would have been more than worthy. They should have called it "Laurence and Vivien instead of "Romeo and Juliet."
an critic wrote.

"All this left Mr. Olivier slightly annoyed."

"Did any actor ever get worse reviews, I wonder?"

He was assured many actors had drawn worse reviews. Ray appointment to a great number of people who aren't even connected with the theater. Miss Leigh made such a hit in "Wind" and when her engagement to Olivier was announced, the "Romeo and Juliet" was sold out for weeks.

But the reviewers, almost without exception, condemned the production. One critic suggested that the only reason they decided to play Shakespeare's tragedy of the star-crossed lovers was because they were in love themselves and were trying to cash in on the public's well-known sympathy for Romeo and Juliet.

At least, it's certainly more fun than throwing away a dollar bill by paying one hundred cents for something you're buying. It's also true that the new coin is usually made of the same metal as the old one.

TALLAHASSEE, May 28. —A small percentage of those who will vote for or against Jerry

W. Carter for the United States Senate remember that back in 1926, when he was a candidate for the same position, that part of his platform then have either been put into effect or are still a major issue, Carter said here yesterday.

In his race against the late Senator Fletcher, Carter was a "survivor" because of a highly effective trail for Florida vegetables and fruits. Since then Florida's concentration on food and fruits have endeared him to voters.

It was noted.

Tomorrow's Election

Competent predictions indicate that there will be approximately 100,000 fewer votes cast in tomorrow's election than in the first primary. Estimates from Tallahassee reveal that something like 550,000 persons are expected to go to the polls tomorrow. The smaller number of contests involved is expected to account in large part for the lighter voting.

However, in event of bad weather even this figure may be further reduced. And if the same trouble is encountered in the larger cities which kept many persons from voting in the first primary when congestion at the voting machines kept long lines standing for hours, the final outcome may be no fair indication of the people's choice at all.

In view of what is happening in Europe, with whole cities being destroyed over night, with hundreds of thousands of human beings being bombed and machine-gunned to death, with the very future not only of our former Allies and ourselves, but of all civilization at stake, it is difficult to think of tomorrow's election in the light of its real importance.

All the more for this reason should everyone take it upon himself to cast his own ballot and to help get out the heaviest possible vote. At a time when so many people throughout the world have been deprived of the right to vote, and perhaps as a consequence now find themselves in a frightful struggle for existence, we should be particularly appreciative of this privilege which we still have, and zealous of its preservation. Let everyone who can vote, be sure to vote.

Momentous events will occur in this country during the next four years. That will prove inevitable regardless of whatever course we choose to follow. It is important not only that we have the best possible public officials to represent us during these troublous times, but also that these public officials have the backing and support of a clear majority of the people. To be elected by a narrow majority in an election in which a relatively small number of citizens vote is a tremendous handicap for any official.

So tomorrow we hope that every citizen in Seminole County will make it his business to go to the polls and vote as his own conscience may determine for him and do everything in his power to make sure the various members of his family also vote.

Concentration

The so-called "genius" has no more mental equipment than the average normal person. He merely knows the secret of applied concentration, says Psychologist William Moniston Marston, who discusses the "secret" in a current Rotarian Magazine article. In this age of distractions, with interruptions by telephone, friends, wars, noise, "scars," and our own flightiness, concentration "is essential to the full enjoyment of pleasures or to effective work," and upon concentration depends "a man's success in this specialized world," Marston declares.

"The capacity for concentration is in no sense the exclusive property of genius. Indeed it is common to all of us until we lose it or let it atrophy. Concentration is interest in action. Interest in a task, when you attain it, creates attention as a free bears fruit, and as you find yourself concentrating upon it without effort. Even though you dislike a task, some way can often be found to acquire this essential interest in it. Men who naturally dislike selling often learn to enjoy work by regarding it as a contest for kudos, a type of ambition game which naturally appeals to them. Many a lady and excitement-crazed girl has acquired interest in cooking, sewing, and housework, not directly, but indirectly, because of what it means to her husband, home and children.

"Even after we begin manfully to concentrate," there are a multiplicity of thoughts, half-thoughts, sounds, impressions that crowd into our minds and steal our best efforts." One must learn to "select ruthlessly from among many interests," and disturbances must be reduced to a minimum. "You cannot push a thought out of your mind," the famed psychologist asserts. "You must replace it with another. If you doubt this, try Walter Pitkin's little joke: spend the next 30 seconds not thinking about the word 'hippopotamus'."

"A one-track mind has its advantages, because all of us must cultivate a one-track-at-a-time mind to win success. Aids to concentration outlined by Marston include memorizing, reading aloud, personalized dramatization of the thing at hand, and taking a seat directly in front of the speaker. The rewards of concentration are the ability to do more things, and a greater pleasure in doing them, he declares.

The Ocala Star points out a serious menace to Florida, at which we have previously hinted, with regard to Mr. Whitehead's long campaign for the governorship. He would have to serve.

In his own statement of his intentions, Mr. Whitehead has made it clear that he would serve the people of Florida, and not the interests of the Ocala Star.

It is a pity that the Ocala Star should be so concerned with the interests of the people of Florida, and not the interests of the Ocala Star.

DISPELLING THE FOG

BY CHARLES MICHOLSON

middle of a major battle that the western civilization isn't worth as much to him as he can make it by selling us out to the enemy.

Can we forget that he promised if Von Hindenburg would support him he would free the country of Communism? Now he sings the praises of Stalin, long and loud, and his throat is hoarse from helping Finland, and made it possible for the Russian Ogre to win.

I remember as many beautiful things about the President. He is a man of great courage and strength. He is a man of great vision and leadership. He is a man of great faith and hope. Fate Of Million Allies Rests On Flanders Battle Communications feeding the German columns along the channel would be broken and the Nazi spearhead columns isolated.

In the second phase, Hitler's armored troops are flailing hard to punch off the Allied salient in the north between Lille, France and Courtrai, Belgium at a similarly narrow bottleneck.

If successful, the Germans in turn would isolate Allied forces which are seeking to isolate the Nazis.

Amid this complicated action, the terrific German attacks, described by the French as launched "without regard to losses" threw back the Allied troops to the new defense positions of the Belgian Lys River Valley and spiked through almost to the World War battlefield of Ypres.

Berlin, however, sources said, a warning had been given to the United States embassy charging the Allies with plotting a "criminal attempt" on the American liner President Roosevelt enroute to Ireland to bring home American refugees. The embassy said no warning had been received. The British called the claim absurd.

The British said that Royal Air Force bombers battered the enemy communications in Belgium and Holland.

Great Britain ordered the evacuation of the Isle of Man of all German and Austrian women who previously had been under police restrictions.

Britons were advised by their embassy to leave Rome.

PARIS, May 27 (UP)—The ancient port city of Boulogne on the English channel fell to the German invaders yesterday after a bitter siege and fighting in the streets, but a military spokesman declared stubborn Allied resistance had stalled at least temporarily.

The French high command's night communiqué acknowledged that Boulogne was captured after the garrison there held out for days against overpowering German forces massed around the stronghold.

German armored columns led the assault. They rushed through their narrow corridor to the assembled on the fine sand beaches and charged into the streets of the city.

French troops still held out yesterday morning in the old Citadel dominating the city, which was fortified in the seventeenth century by Marshal Vauban, builder of Verdun and other celebrated forts. The small band of French soldiers prevented the Germans from completing occupation of the port.

The fate of the garrison was not announced.

British forces in the Boulogne region withdrew to a new line farther north but the French resisted to the end, fighting in the ancient stone-roofed houses and on the narrow, winding streets.

The loss of Boulogne was a heavy blow. The city, a British base in the World War, was an important port for traffic between France and England. Its 60,000 inhabitants thrive on the fishing industry.

Calais, the next German objective to the north, was reported here to be still in Allied hands.

(In Berlin, the German high command announced yesterday that Calais had been occupied by the Nazis.)

In the fighting between the Alps and Meuse rivers, the French reported entire sections of German infantry were moved down by the French fire.

The Allied forces are attempting to close the 20-mile bottleneck, bounded by the Bapaume and Peronne sectors, through which the Germans rushed to the sea. The military picture drawn here by authorities indicated that the general position of the lines running from Belgium to northern France had not changed materially in the last day.

The French, pressing their campaign to cut off the Germans on the coast, reported they had advanced along the Somme and were increasing their pressure on the south side of the German corridor.

On the north side, the Allied armies met and repelled mounting German assaults, it was said.

The Germans have failed to gain new ground for 48 hours in the fighting in the interior, the war ministry spokesman told his press conference.

The Nazis launched two strong

War Unnecessary

If you don't want your sons and husbands carried off to war to return crippled, or not at all, vote for Jerry Carter. Six of Jerry's seven sons are of military age and definite reasons why Jerry will strive to keep us out of war. Jerry will develop National Defense and resources, removing sugar quotas, securing protection for the farmer, citrus grower, live stock industry, commercial fishermen and insurance reserves of policy holders. He will provide "Opportunity for Youth and Security for the Aged"—assuring immediate employment for relief workers with investigation and certification afterwards—guaranteeing fair treatment to labor. Jerry will make loans to small business a reality and relieve merchants of Federal nuisance taxes. Jerry Carter saved millions of dollars for Florida through lowering freight, passenger and telephone rates. He will show greater accomplishments with greater opportunities. Vote for Jerry Carter for United States Senator. (Paid Political Ad.)

Need For Careful Yard Planning Is Great, Says Housing Administration

The need for careful plot planning is almost as great as the need for careful house planning, Federal Housing Administration officials emphasize.

The matter how attractive the yard may be, it is pointed out, is a factor in the development of the lot, as much to offset the appeal of the home.

The much emphasis cannot be placed upon the usefulness of the yard as an adjunct to the house, it is pointed out. Trees and shrubbery may be used to enhance the architectural character and are frequently more effective than the decorative use of material in providing the yard essential to a satisfactory home. Planting may furthermore add directly to the living quality of a property.

The Federal Housing Administration has offered the following suggestions to home owners as a guide to practical plot development:

1. Shade trees should be placed to provide shade from the afternoon sun and to frame the house. Such trees need room to grow and should never be planted too close to the house. Shrubby growing, heavy feeding trees, such as poplars and sycamores, should be avoided.

2. Trees are liable to clog sewer and water lines, and they very quickly exhaust all the nutrients from the soil, making it difficult to grow a lawn or other planting material near them. A few fruit trees are always desirable for their fruit and flower.

3. In selecting material to be planted close to the house, slow-growing compact varieties should be chosen, of a type that is easily controlled and will not crowd quickly into a miniature forest behind which the small house is hidden. It is equally desirable to place the higher-growing specimens at the corners of the house, facing them down the appropriate shrubs or low-growing plants. A ruffe of planting material surrounding the dwelling is most unpleasant, causing the building to appear to be sitting on a green pillow and not coming down to earth at any point. Enough of the foundation should be exposed to show that the house is placed solidly on firm ground.

4. The most pleasing effects are produced by simple treatment and the use of a minimum of materials. Overplanting should be avoided. Hedgerows that can be controlled and easily trimmed are frequently desirable along the lot lines, particularly across the street front, to increase privacy and keep paths from being worn in the lawn.

5. Where a garage is included in the home plan, there is an increasing tendency to place it at the front of the lot and attached to the house. This allows a maximum open area to be developed in the rear and permits the back yard to become a livable garden spot, as well as having the added advantage of decreasing the cost of the driveway.

6. While careful thought should be given at the outset to all aspects of the relationship between the house and its land, the entire plot development need not be undertaken at the outset. A garage, a terrace, or a porch may be added later, as the circumstances of the owner permit. The planting year.

7. Through these means the Federal Housing Administration feels that the value of a home may be gradually increased, and especially in the case of well-selected planting, in a measure surpassing the actual expenditure.

Model Relaxes By Assuming Peculiar Position On Chair

By BETTY CLARK
NEW YORK, May 27.—(AP)—When a man leans back in his chair and props his feet on his desk, he's found a pretty good way to relax. Better still is the method used by pretty Cynthia Hope, New York photographer.

She turns a straight-backed chair upside down on her head. Then she lies down with the end of her spine on the bed against the top of the chairback, and stretches along the tilted chairback. That minimizes circulation to her feet, benefiting both. She adds another trick, placing cotton pads soaked in witch hazel on her eyes. After 15 minutes of this eye-soaked rest, she feels like a new person.

Her feet and legs are often her modeling fortune, as Cynthia Hope favors low heels. She rubs foot cream into the heels of her tired feet or soaks them in hot water. She shaves surplus hair from her legs every three days.

1. Always use a file.
2. Tap the nails—up in center.

3. Use cuticle oil on special occasions.

4. Put cotton between toes while applying polish so that one toe doesn't smear polish on another.

And Cynthia uses make-up on her legs, too—as much as she uses on her face, for modeling. At home, though, she uses little make-up.

She lives in a New York penthouse with her mother and her pretty sister, Eleanor, both of whom write for magazines. Both sisters tell this story to explain their good looks:

A little over 20 years ago a young Texas woman said, "When I have children, they are going to be beautiful."

The neighbors laughed.

Started Early

But Cynthia's mother, Mrs. Frances Sherman, had sound health ideas and an artistic eye. She didn't wait until her children were born to start their beauty diet. She thinks the prenatal care is responsible for their white teeth, good bone structure, lovely hair and skin.

As the girls grew, they always had olive oil rubs, a rigidly wholesome diet, outdoor play and exercise.

Cynthia says, "I want to be like I am now. I want to be healthy and beautiful."

How? Under the eyes! Smooth foundation make-up close under the eyes. Put powder on most children and old men" who have fled the battle zones of Belgium and northern France. This he said, he said, "in the name of our common humanity."

FDR Asserts Nation Must Be On Guard

As for the nation's present dangers, he disputed all contentions that millions spent for that year's budget had been "wasted."

As a matter of fact, he said, the navy is stronger now than at any other time in history, the army had been vastly strengthened and the air corps was grown and developed.

"To help the Administration direct the big industrial program involved in arming the nation against any emergency," Mr. Roosevelt said, "patriotic Americans of proven merit and unquestioned ability in their special fields are coming to Washington to help the government with their training, experience and capability."

Much will be heard of that in the next few days, he added.

"Today's threat to our national security is not a matter of military weapons alone," he said. "We know of new methods of attack. The Trojan horse. The fifth column that betrays a nation unprepared for treachery. Spies, saboteurs and traitors are the actors in this new strategy. With all these we must deal vigorously."

He spoke of "a new technique" for weakening a nation, the spreading of discord and dissension by exploiting national racial or political prejudices, through false organs and emotional appeals. By such tactics, he said, "foreign agents" cause some national policies to be regarded with an unbecoming suspicion.

Sweet Young Girls Go Back To Indians For Jewelry Ideas

NEW YORK, May 27.—(AP)—The 1940 sweet girl graduate is borrowing jewelry ideas from the South American Indians. And, like the Indians, she makes some of the jewelry herself.

She's copying the Indians in unusual color combinations, in odd designs and in getting exotic ornamentation out of ordinary things like peanuts, beads, safety pins. She even fashions a gay necklace of cardboard plus beads she molds out of wax.

She has several ways of preserving a nut or bean. (They need a coating or they're likely to sprout!) She shells each nut or covers it with sealing wax. She can run a lot of dried peas up on a string, then dip the whole string into clear nail polish. But she'll have to wipe edges the same way she smooths polish on her nails.

To make beads out of wax, you need the following tools: knitting needle, candle (or alcohol burner), glass of cold water, heavy sewing needle, linen thread, wire and 20 inches of ribbon elastic.

Here's how to make round beads of wax: Heat the knitting needle two inches from one end, press it into a small piece of wax, pulling a second piece of wax on top while the needle is hot. Revolve this slowly over the flame. The wax is cooled, then molded with the fingers. Then to cut it off at the mark, one finger leave on the bead, just pass it quickly through the flame, then dunk it into cold water.

Your head is still on the needle. Now, wipe off the water, then heat the needle in front of and behind the bead, but don't heat the head. Now, while the needle is hot, wig the head off and drop it into cold water.

Re-Elect C. M. (Charlie) Hand Sheriff

Again I want to thank the people of Seminole County, for the majority vote given me in the first primary and I respectfully solicit your continued support at the polls tomorrow the 28th.

I will continue with a clean, honest and fair administration in the future as I have in the past.

How THEY DO SATISFY

As a result of these new techniques, armament programs may be "completely delayed," he continued. "Displacement of national purposes may be undermined. Men can lose confidence in each other and therefore in the efficacy of their own united action. Youth and courage yield to doubt and fear. The unity of the State is so sapped that its strength is destroyed."

"All this is to be done. It has happened these after times, in nations after nations during the last two years."

Money To Go For National Defense
Committee Will Ask Congress To Change Limit Of Treasury

WASHINGTON, May 28.—(AP)—Administration and Congressional leaders agreed today to raise three billions of new taxes in the next five years to pay national defense costs.
A plan, ratified by Roosevelt, was drafted in a three-hour conference by Secretary of the Treasury, Morgenthau, Chairman of the War Relocation Authority, and other officials.
It calls for an immediate raising of $1,000,000,000 of new taxes in the next five years.

The Orange State Oil Company received a permit for the erection of a 20,000 gallon storage tank on north Myrtle Avenue between Fulton Street and the Seminole Boulevard. The estimated cost of this work is $850.
L. A. Phillips was issued a permit last week for repairs to a home on Elm Avenue estimated to cost $600 while Frank Evans received a permit for the reconstruction of the sidewalk at the Twenty Wiggly Store on the corner of First Street and Myrtle Avenue. Martin Temple was issued a permit for the remodeling of the interior of the Purcell Company Store on East First Street at an estimated cost of $200.

Seminole County Schools Close For 5,000 Students On Friday Afternoon
Hollywood Shops To Give Profit For Day To Fund

Election Day was also Collection Day for the local chapter of the American Red Cross which received $149.03 in contributions at the tables in the business district this morning, the largest amount to be contributed in the period of time, according to Mrs. James G. Sharon, Jr., chairman of the chapter.
Mrs. Sharon reported that the total raised to date to apply on Seminole County's quota of $1,200 for refugee relief in war-stricken lands was $340.25, still considerably short of the goal.
Thursday, May 30, is Memorial Day and Harry Behr, operator of the Hollywood Shops, said today that "as a contribution toward this great humanitarian appeal, we will give to the local Red Cross chapter the net receipts of that day's business, deducting only the actual wholesale cost of the merchandise sold."
In addition, he said, "all employees of the shops have agreed to contribute one-half of one day's salary for this great cause."
Expressing appreciation on behalf of the chapter to Mr. Behr, Mrs. Sharon declared that she expected other substantial contributions, this week which she said she hoped would carry the county "over the top" in its quota for refugee relief.
Mrs. Sharon also stated that there had been some who had asked why the tables were being continually operated in the business district and she pointed out that they were being maintained in order that every person in the county might have an opportunity to give something whether it be much or small.
She added that the chapter also hoped to be able to raise the entire $1,200 quota without resorting to a house-to-house canvass for the funds.
Again pointing to the great need of the homeless in Europe, Mrs. Sharon called upon every resident of Seminole County to give "all one possibly can" for the alleviation of human suffering and misery.

Belgian Cabinet Declares King Leopold Is No Longer Ruler Of Nation

King Leopold was "deposed" as ruler by the Belgian Government in Paris today after the 38-year-old monarch's sensational order for surrender heightened the crisis of the British and French troops trapped in Belgium.
Churchill told the House of Commons that Allied generals were ordered to continue their campaign.
The action of the Belgian Government in Paris today, which declared that the king has been deposed, was a "great blow" to the German army, which had been ordered to continue their campaign.
Premier Poincaré announced, contrary to the monarch's order, that the Belgian forces, which could be reorganized, would continue their fight on the Allied side.
All indications were, however, that the main Belgian army, which had been ordered to continue their fight on the Allied side, would be reorganized and continue their fight on the Allied side.

Lindbergh No Longer Member Of Escadrille
PARIS, May 28.—(AP)—Honorary membership in the Lafayette Escadrille conferred on Lindbergh after his 1927 Atlantic crossing was withdrawn by order of the French and Air Association of American Volunteer Combatants in the French Army 1914-18, representing former pilots of the Escadrille.
The Association announced that the action was the result of Lindbergh's speech May 19, which it classified as "definitely opposed to the spirit of the American Volunteers" who rushed to the defense of France in 1914. It said the title was conferred "in a moment of enthusiasm—mistaken but understandable." It said his words are an insult to the memory of fallen volunteers.
Lindbergh said he wasn't a foreigner, but an American, and that he was proud of his American citizenship. He said he was proud of his American citizenship and that he was proud of his American citizenship.

Capitulation Of Belgians Announced By Premier Of France; Allies Are Shocked
Nazis Hurl More Forces Into War
Refugee Government Of Belgians Plans To Continue Fight

The capitulation of the Belgian army to Germany's invading legions, announced today by French premier Reynaud, imperilled the Allied armies of the north, battling in Flanders against the Nazi encirclement.
The move increased the gravity of their situation as the German hurled more men and machines into a massive effort to crush Allied resistance. Reynaud, in a radio speech after a midnight cabinet session, said King Leopold III, of Belgium, had directed his soldiers to lay down their arms, against the advice of his ministers, and without previously informing the British and French Allies. He said the surrender left the road to the strategic port of Dunkerque, "open to German division." Dunkerque, it was made clear, was the avenue for supplies to the fighters in the north.
London regarded the capitulation as the gravest blow of the war. The Germans described the capitulation as "one of the most reasonable acts" ever committed by Leopold.

Colee Represents State In Effort To Secure Bases
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 28.—Florida's interest in securing a portion of the benefits under President Roosevelt's billion dollar preparedness program will be represented by Harold Colee, executive vice president of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, and the Florida delegation in Washington, it was announced here today.
Florida's climatic conditions and excellent transportation facilities, including railroads, air, bus and ship lines, and many deep harbors, it is believed, will make it possible for Florida to secure a large share of the military development program. The program includes air, factories, air, train, schools, and arsenal, ammunition and arms plants, all a part of the billion dollar preparedness program.

Driver Says Germans Strafing Refugees
NEW YORK, May 28.—(AP)—Sanctuary, Dallas, Texas, ambulance driver with the American volunteer ambulance corps, told a CBS broadcast from Paris last night he had witnessed German airplanes attacking roads filled with refugees.
"A formation of five Messerschmitts came down out of the sky and when they were about 500 feet above us they turned back and fired at the refugees," he said. "They then turned after that work and shot the cattle in the field. At the time there was not a military vehicle on the road anywhere. Within a radius of 500 yards there were about 20 killed and wounded," he said.

Communists And Bund Members Are Barred From Jobs
WASHINGTON, May 28.—(AP)—Sweeping legislation barring Communists and Nazi Bund members from jobs in interstate industry, and forbidding employers to use strikebreakers or resort to other "oppressive" labor practices, was passed by the Senate yesterday on a vote of 47 to 20 and sent to the House.
Introduced by Senator La Follette, Progressive, Wisconsin, as a result of a long investigation by the Senate committee on civil liberties, the measure was originally aimed solely at abuses by employers, such as the use of strikebreakers, industrial spies and industrial munitions.
However, the current wave of apprehension over fifth column activity prompted the Senate to embrace a bill by Senator McNamara, Democrat, North Carolina, prohibiting employers in interstate commerce from harboring or employing Communists or Bund members.
