Judge: No Bundy Samples; Lawyer Raps 'Expedition'

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A circuit judge today refused to order supervised man murderer Theodore Bundy to give blood and handwriting samples and a public defender accused the state of conducting an illegal "fishing expedition."

Judge John Rudd denied the motion by Assistant State Attorney Howard Holzendorf to force Bundy to furnish hair, blood, saliva and handwriting specimens, but said Holzendorf could try again later.

Rudd agreed with Assistant Public Defender Joe Nursey that the state must be more specific in showing how the samples would be related to the charges Bundy now faces — car theft, forgery and burglary.

The van was spotted near a land fill at Live Oak and the search for the 15-year-old girl was concentrated in that area.

The handwriting sample is needed, Holzendorf said, to connect Bundy with the use of three stolen credit cards in Jacksonville and Lake City.

"The motion by the state is defective at this time and the court is going to grant the motion to quash," Rudd said. "However, I will be available to hear an amended motion."

"This is merely a fishing expedition on the part of the state, trying to get body materials from Mr. Bundy they hope will tie up with something," Nursey said.

Bundy has been identified by authorities as the prime suspect in the Feb. 9 disappearance of Kimberly Diane Leach of Lake City and the Jan. 13 deaths of two Florida State University students.

But the attorney hasn't yet produce any concrete evidence linking him to either crime.

Holzendorf said hair, hair and saliva samples are needed to compare with specimens taken from a white Dodge van Bundy is believed to have stolen from FSU and driven to Lake City about the time Kimberly disappeared.

Court Hearing Set For Judge Leffler

By MARIE SPERBER
Herald Staff Writer

A March 24 court hearing for 20th Circuit Judge Kenneth A. Leffler was scheduled this morning by County Judge Harriet F. Johnson.

Judge Leffler was arrested Feb. 21 by Longwood police for driving his car, an older model, in a circle on a city street, he was charged with having been under the influence of alcohol by his lawyer, his attorney.

Taken to Seminole County jail, Sanford, he was released on his own recognizance by County Judge Harriet F. Johnson, who is scheduled to preside at the March 24 court hearing for the judge.

Judge Leffler has filed a written plea of innocent in the case.

VERDICT SOUGHT

A six-member jury has been selected to hear testimony from Mrs. Barbara Johnson, 25, of Seminole Gardens Apartments, 2000 West Park Drive, accused of causing a second-degree murder but guilty of manslaughter in the shooting death last Oct. 16 of William Allen, 25.

The 20th circuit court denied the man outside, he said. He then called witness the night of Dec. 16. He could be sentenced to 20 years in prison, according to the state's attorney's office, and could be eligible for parole within six months of beginning his prison term.

Johnson and Allen were at Johnson's Tavern on 22nd Street at about 10 p.m. the night of Dec. 16, according to the owner of the tavern, who did not want his name mentioned because the two were still there. Allen had given Johnson a drink from a bottle of beer.

An additional witness would be Allen's mother, Mrs. Ethel M. Allen, 52, of 1002 Brookwood Blvd., who said the tavern property is worth $25,000.

The tavern owner ordered the man outside, he said. He then

Until You're 70?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Most of Americans expect to work until age 65, and those who would have two years or more to live would do so, according to a recent survey.

Senate and House negotiators reached agreement Thursday on a bill to affect Social Security.

Rep. Claude Pepper, D-Fla., 77, the chief author, and Sen. George Mitchell, D-Maine, 75, agreed to expand the mandatory retirement age to 67 for persons born after 1917.

The legislation, privately held since it was introduced, probably will sign it into law "within a week," Pepper said.

Estimates are that one third to one half of working Americans are covered by some form of mandatory retirement. And the Labor Department's projected 1980 budget of $20,000 will need to take advantage of the new bill. The trend in America is toward earlier retirement, rather than earlier death.

The bill would in most cases forbid private employers, states, local governments and other non-federal employers to require an employee to retire at age 70.

Existing law prohibits mandatory retirement up to 65, and many employers now require workers to retire at that age.

The bill would take effect Jan. 1, 1981, but where mandatory retirement under 70 is part of a collective bargaining agreement or high-priority problem, and those who would draw pensions of $25,000 or more would be entitled to defer until age 65.

— Congress and universities could continue to make pensioners retire at 65 until July 1, 1981.

Different versions of the bill were passed by the House 204-164 in October and by the Senate 87-86 in October, and the Senate must act first.

— Business could postpone mandatory retirement at 65 for employees in a "team," like Pepper said.

Legislative Panel Errs

The recommended merger of Seminole County's two industry-oriented agencies is dead for the year. We are sorry.

It was only a month ago that the ad-hoc committee created by the Seminole County Commission to study the feasibility of merging SCIDA (Seminole County Industrial Authority) and SCOPA (Seminole County Port Authority) reported its findings.

Conclusion: a single, unified agency is needed if county government is to be pursued effectively.

We appreciated that commissioners had indeed tried to come to terms to translate the paper work ready.

But now, because the Seminole County Legislative Delegation refused to approve legislation giving the county commission tighter control of SCOPA, no such unified agency will be seen at least another year.

That's another year of lost-time-100 percent effort in enticing industry to make Seminole County its home.

The commissioners wanted that legislation, according to Chairman Dick Williams, "because you can't really have any effective control without it."

As Mr. Williams told the delegation at its Wednesday meeting, "the main reason the board wishes to do this is the same reason the ad-hoc committee did. We feel we can do a more effective job of attracting industry if we have a concentrated effort."

Again, we agree. It is an approach we have urged for a long time. For, only with one major, aggressive, unified agency can the county reach its potential in winning industry.

The inaction by the legislative delegation is a step backward.

We also wonder just how familiar are the members of that delegation with the needs of our county and the steps that have been taken to meet those needs.

Rep. Robert Hattaway, for example, in conducting his committee's investigation of SCIDA, SCOPA, and SCIDA-SCOPA, went on to urge the ad-hoc committee studying the SCIDA-SCOPA merger to "continue its efforts."

Well-meaning, perhaps, but gratuitous and most since that committee went out of business in January.

Then there was the observation of Sen. John Vogt in joining opposition to the proposal for legislation which would lead to probable merger. Said Vogt: "...I see no compelling need."

We strongly disagree. We suspect there is, indeed, a "compelling need" in Seminole County applying the kind of fervent efforts and initiative in securing more industry.

And it is principally through a unified effort, such as the proposed merger, that this can be achieved.

Indian Ocean Talks

British forces in the Horn of Africa made it important that the U.S. Navy retain its position of strength in the Indian Ocean.

That is why the Carter administration should make an exception at this time in its talks with the Soviet Union on a proposed naval base, even in the Indian Ocean.

"President Carter" claims that "it is our intent to continue our policy of non-intervention in the Horn of Africa." That is nonsense, and we have urged such a policy from the U.S. Navy's plan to develop a new base on the island of Diego Garcia.

But, as a practical matter, the balance of naval power in that area is underwritten at the present time. Last November, Britain maintained its treaty of friendship with Moscow and ended the Soviet base there.

The USSR is engaged in further "wars" of military aid to Ethiopia, and we believe that Britain is becoming less popular on the world's political stage.

Small Soviet bases are there. It would be easier for the country to make any commitment to end its naval forces in the area.

ANGLE-WALTERS Now It's Time For Reform

WASHINGTON — Rep. Bill DeWittson was raised on a farm and represents a predominantly rural congressional district. His constituents are not like him, however. They are urban and they want to know, demands are changing.

DeWittson, a member of the House Committee on Agriculture, has been asked to change his ways.

The committee and others were concerned by a committee report that DeWittson, the more rural — and conservative — members of the community, could be sympathetic to congressional abuse of the farming privilege.

The "conservative" freak is a printed reproduction of the signatures of a member of the House or Senate. When placed on the upper right hand corner of an envelope, it substitutes for the postage stamp the rest of us are required to use.

In a recent, much-publicized Congress overwintered, DeWittson was asked to change his ways.

He's not really free because the Post Office wants and expects congressional mail, then submits a bill for its services. Congress pays the bill with public funds.

Among DeWittson's favorite legislative causes is a committee to conserve the Community Environment and Resources (CER). A CER spokesman, Rep. George E. Miller, D-Calif., has asked DeWittson to write a letter to his constituents to let them know that the group is working everywhere in the country to register their concerns on the issue.

In a crude effort to influence the outcome of a vote on a bill to extend the CER, DeWittson has written to his constituents to let them know that the group is working everywhere in the country to register their concerns on the issue.

The CER has received these suggestions for several years, but last year DeWittson and Rep. Henry L. Strod, D-Calif., presented the committee to a House Select Committee on Small Business to study the issue.

DOES THE EVENING HERALD COVER LITTLE LEAGUE???

YES!

In the past the Evening Herald was a pacesetter in Little League coverage, utilizing boxscores along with photo and editorial coverage of Seminole County teams.

This season, we are attempting to surpass that coverage by reporting the results of every game—Little League, major league or tee ball—complete with schedule and standings.

Seminole County is a hotbed for Little League, with five leagues operating. Sanford, Seminole Pony, Altamonte Springs, Oviedo and Paola are the leagues, with the first four being broken down into three or four age groups.

Particularly appealing to Evening Herald readers is the box-score format, which lists each player, his position, as well as his at bat, runs scored and base hits. It doesn't matter if he was a star or not...his statistics are there in black and white.

Altamonte Springs: Exhibition games mark Saturday's opening day ceremonies, starting at 10 a.m. at the field adjacent to the Altamonte Springs Civic Center. The regular season begins Monday, and we will be bringing the reports from senior, major, minor and T-ball leagues.

Seminole Pony League has the same age group divisions, and with about 600 kids participating, is the largest league in the county. Games are at Five Points Field, located just off State Road 419, east of I-75. Herald sports editor Jim Haynes will throw out the first ball in Saturday's opening day ceremonies, with exhibition games following. The league officially opens Monday.

Oviedo: In its 11th year of operation, the league has grown from two teams in 1967 to 23 this season, including four teams for girls softball. The regular season begins March 11 at the major league's lighted field on King Street, near Oviedo High.

Paola: In its second year of operation, this league has four teams and plays its games at Wilson Elementary field.

Sanford: Operated under the auspices of the Sanford Recreation Department, the league's four age groups participate in the Florida Little Major League program, which sends all-star teams into statewide competition at the end of the season.

(The others are National LL members, and play for the right to go to Williamsport, Pa., for LL World Series.)
