Brooklyn Museum

Reports Robbery Of 8 Statuettes NEW YORK (AP)—Police searched today for clues leading to the nimble-finger thief or thieves who took eight tiny but priceless statuettes from the Brooklyn Museum.

The case was a museum director's nightmare. The little silver figures had been loaned from eight other collections for a special exhibit called "Sculpture in Silver From Islands of Time."

Although police were not notified of the theft until yesterday, Museum Director Edgar C. Schenck said it had been discovered nearly 24 hours earlier. The delay was to give museum officials time to tell the lending institutions, he explained.

The theft occurred while the museum was open. A guard was stationed in the hall outside the second-floor exhibit room. He did not have the exhibit of statuettes in view all the time, but checked them periodically.

The missing figures were among 30 on display and were enclosed in four separate cases. The cases were not damaged. Police figured a thief could have gotten into them, however, by removing two screws from a glass panel in each case.

10 Deadly Hurricane Sisters Make Debut To Rear Their Ugly Heads Toward Land

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Ten deadly hurricane sisters, ranging from shy Alice to vicious Janet, have whirled up out of their Caribbean spawning grounds so far this year—and more may come. Officially, the season of the big winds lasts until Nov. 15. Experts disagree on whether it will ever be possible to throw a halt to these dangerous ladies from the tropics. But each time the grim red-and-black warning flags begin to fly, the U.S. Weather Bureau braces for an inevitable barrage of complaints: "Why don't you do something to stop it?" "Do we have to wait helplessly until the hurricane strikes?" "Why are we hoarding our atomic bombs? Drop an A-bomb into the hurricane and destroy it before it destroys us!" Some scientists believe atomic intervention could turn the trick. Dr. Edward Teller, so-called "father" of the hydrogen bomb, said recently that atomic research developments may enable mankind to control weather and "prevent or alleviate" hurricanes within the next 10 years. How? By dropping A-bombs into the storm? Dr. Teller didn't say. But Dr. Francis W. Reichelderfer, breezy, fast-talking chief of the U.S. Weather Bureau, has strong doubts about atomic bombs as hurricane killers.

"It would take 1,000 atomic bomb explosions a minute to match the kinetic energy of a single modern-day-size hurricane," Reichelderfer said in an interview. "Even if you dropped a whole curtain of A-bombs along one side of a hurricane, it might slow it down for a while, but the terrific force of oncoming winds from the revolving storm would start it spinning again. In the field of nuclear fission versus hurricanes, I'd guess there would be no revolutionary development for many years." Theodore Gleiter, head of the bureau's hurricane warning system, added this comment: "Radioactive fallout from an atomic explosion in a hurricane would be so tremendous it might kill 10 to 1,000 times as many people as the storm itself." Critics are quick to rise and take lusty swipes at the Weather Bureau when the agency commits a blunder, as in the case of September's hurricane Ione. The bureau's forecasts, picturing Ione as potentially the worst storm of the year, set alarms ringing up the Atlantic Coast from North Carolina to New York. In Washington thousands of government workers were dismissed, schools closed down, and downtown stores taped their windows against the expected wallop. In New York, the Rocky Marciano Archie Moore heavyweight boxing championship fight was postponed 24 hours. "90-mile wind to hit city tonight," the Washington Evening Star warned in an 8 column banner flung across the front page. Then Ione took it into her head to disappear. Nobody seemed to know just where the storm had gone mysteriously. Ione's "eye" had winked out. "Ione at sea; forecaster, too," said the next day's headline in the Washington News. Gordon Dunn, chief of the Weather Bureau's storm warning center at Miami, Fla., says it may be away from a threatened city by treating the storm with artificial rain-making methods—i.e., seeding the clouds with dry ice pellets or silver iodide. "It is possible that seeding in a particular quadrant at the right time would chase the storm to concentrate there temporarily," Dunn said. "The effect wouldn't last more than three or four hours, and then the natural and more potent steering mechanism would resume control." "But it might be enough to steer the storm around some locality and prevent its heaviest winds from striking a city." While not challenging Dunn's theory, Reichelderfer reflected considerable skepticism in a separate interview.

"If you dropped millions and millions of tons of dry ice into a hurricane, it would probably cool the air masses enough to cause local showers and reduce some of the storm's energy," he said. "But there are probably not enough planes in the world to drop enough ice to stop a hurricane." Reichelderfer, Dunn and other experts said that even the awesome fury of an atomic or hydrogen bomb explosion is puny compared to the violence of nature on the rampage. "The average mature hurricane pulls 3,800,000,000 tons of air into itself every hour," Dunn said. "Each ton of air contains 40 pounds of water. That means the storm sucks up 152 billion pounds or 76 million tons of water per hour—equivalent to the tonnage of nearly 1,000 Queen Elizabeth transatlantic liners. "If a hurricane could be harnessed to a huge generator, it would supply enough power in 24 hours to meet all our needs for 720 years." Congress raised the Weather Bureau's funds from 23 million to 40 million dollars this year to help evolve a better storm warning system in the wake of last year's hurricane disasters. The bureau, understandably sensitive to gibes about its accuracy, says its forecasts ring the bell 85 times out of 100. Meteorologists concede, however, that sometimes they go off the beam in dealing with the trickeries of a hurricane. On Aug. 17, as hurricane Diane's fierce winds began to ebb, Weather Bureau headquarters here issued a mild warning against "moderate to heavy rains and some local flooding." Then came the deluge. Instead of "some local flooding," the hurricane clobbered six New England and Middle Atlantic states with a billion-dollar disaster that claimed at least 563 lives and left whole cities wallowing in muddy desolation. Weather bureau experts admit they were caught off guard by Diane, which swept inland with a king-size wet smack. Usually the great winds not only lose their Sunday punch but also dry out as they leave the sea. "Past records show that 99 times out of 100 we don't get floods like Diane produced," said Chief Gleiter of the Hurricane Warning Service. "We'd be liable to cry 'wail' about floods every time a storm blows up." As it happened, Diane stayed close enough to the Atlantic so that part of her pumping systems extended over the ocean and sucked up huge amounts of water to spill over the land. Groggy from repeated poundings, many Easterners believe there has been a drastic change in hurricanes. Ever since the great New England hurricane of 1938, they say, devastating tropical storms that chiefly afflicted Florida and the Gulf states have apparently shifted course and now pick on the long coastal stretch from the Carolinas to Maine as their favorite hunting ground. "The paths of hurricanes have been different—more to the north and inland—in the last few years, but shifts in weather are common," said Bureau Chief Reichelderfer. "It is safe to assume that conditions will change again, and once more the big storms will blow out to sea." Jerome Namias, chief of the bureau's long-range forecast division, told a reporter: "It's highly improbable that hurricanes will continue to hit New England and the Middle Atlantic states every year as they have recently. Why? Because the upper level steering winds are now set up in precisely the same pattern in successive years." Namias did say, however, that a vast high-pressure "mountain of air" known as the Bermuda high, rising to a height of some 30,000 feet off the Atlantic coast near Bermuda, tends to deflect storms inland.

the Weather Bureau says, hurricanes have been pretty steady customers for many years. Tropical storms have averaged eight a year over the past 70 years—with a whopping record of 21 in 1933. Twice, in 1883 and again in 1950, no less than four hurricanes were in progress at the same time in the Gul of Mexico, the Caribbean Sea or the Atlantic Ocean. On the average, only two full-fledged hurricanes (with winds of at least 75 m.p.h.) hit U.S. coastal regions annually, and the "normal expectancy" is that only five to 10 hurricanes will strike New England in a century. But nature sometimes plays hob with normal expectancy. As for the future in mankind's efforts to control the weather, Ivan R. Tannehill, veteran Weather Bureau official says with a shrug: "When nature gets riled, about all man can do is take it on the chin—and hope it turns clear and fair tomorrow."

Genial Man New Island Governor

BERKELEY, Calif., (AP)—A big, genial, work loving man whose grandparents were slaves for John B. Gordon, Confederate general and governor of Georgia, is the new governor for the Virgin Islands. Waller B. Gordon's family took its name from the old time Georgia governor. But the new administrator for the islands rose to his present eminence through sheer hard work. Gordon, who now tips the scales at 240, was heavyweight boxer and football guard at the University of California nearly 40 years ago. After his graduation in 1918, he was named line coach at California, a post he held until 1943. But he managed to carry on many other activities simultaneously. Take a typical 240 hours when he was just out of college: Starting at midnight, he worked a shift on the Berkeley police force. Then, without even taking time to remove his revolver from his hip, he went to law classes until around 11 a. m. After a quick lunch and nap, he hustled out to his duties as assistant football coach. At last, around 7 p. m., he arrived home in time for another nap before returning to police duty. Both the law and police enforcement experience were useful to Gordon when he was appointed chief of California's Adult Authority in 1945 to deal with prisoner paroles and the fixing of indeterminate sentences for convicted felons. He is perhaps best known for his work with the authority and he was serving in that capacity when appointed to the Virgin Islands post.

Causes Of Bad Breath

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D. FEW things make a person so self-conscious when among friends as bad breath. Sometimes, however, the offender is unaware that the condition exists. But if you know you've got foul breath, it's inexcusable for you not to do something about it. There are numerous causes for this condition, but usually the cause can be traced directly or indirectly to your teeth. Proper cleaning of your teeth is essential. Cavities should be filled promptly and tartar deposits should be removed regularly by your dentist. If your teeth sockets have a tendency to become inflamed, I advise antiseptic mouth washes, followed by alkaline rinses. Weak hydrogen peroxide solutions are helpful, especially if followed quickly by an alkaline solution. A good local astringent and antiseptic is a mixture of one part alcohol to five parts water.

If your mouth is dry, your trouble may be laid to breathing through your mouth. If the mucous surfaces become too dry, you see, they may cause an unpleasant odor.

Often persons, certain types of food cause bad breath. Most often guilty are cauliflower, cabbage, highly spiced foods and rich, greasy meat preparations.

Some Causes Incurable Be especially careful to clean any cavity or other sweets from your teeth in addition to a toothbrush and mouthwash, you might have to use dental floss to clean between the teeth.

Unfortunately, some cases of bad breath are virtually incurable. But if you can't stop the cause, you can at least clear up your breath with one of the numerous pleasantly scented confections or tablets which are available for this purpose.

QUESTION AND ANSWER John B. What causes dizziness in a person in whom apparently nothing seems to be wrong?

Answer: Dizziness is caused by various conditions, among which are constipation, high blood pressure, heart disease and kidney ailments. It may be due to defects of the eyes or semicircular canals in the ears. You are in need of a careful study by your physician to find the cause before treatment can be suggested.

RADIO MAKER ADVISES: WASH IT WITH SOAP

A famous manufacturer of radio sets gives this advice for washing plastic radio cases: "Use a lukewarm solution of soap and water to clean the plastic cabinet. After cleaning, remove all traces of soap and then wipe with a dry cloth. Never use any abrasive, furniture polish, or cleaning solvents." It would be wise to remember one additional caution: wash it often!

"Is It Hot Enough For You?"

Ever feel like throwing something at the guy who says "It's hot enough for you?" on one of those scorching days? Well, it's natural to be a little irritable when Old Sol is outdoing himself. When you're overheated you're uncomfortable and edgy. And on top of that you're probably also out of your feed.

There's nothing you can do about the heat, but there is something you can do about being off your feed. It's all right to eat lightly during a heat wave but you shouldn't starve yourself. The body still needs its minimum daily requirements of food including those high in protein, vitamins and minerals.

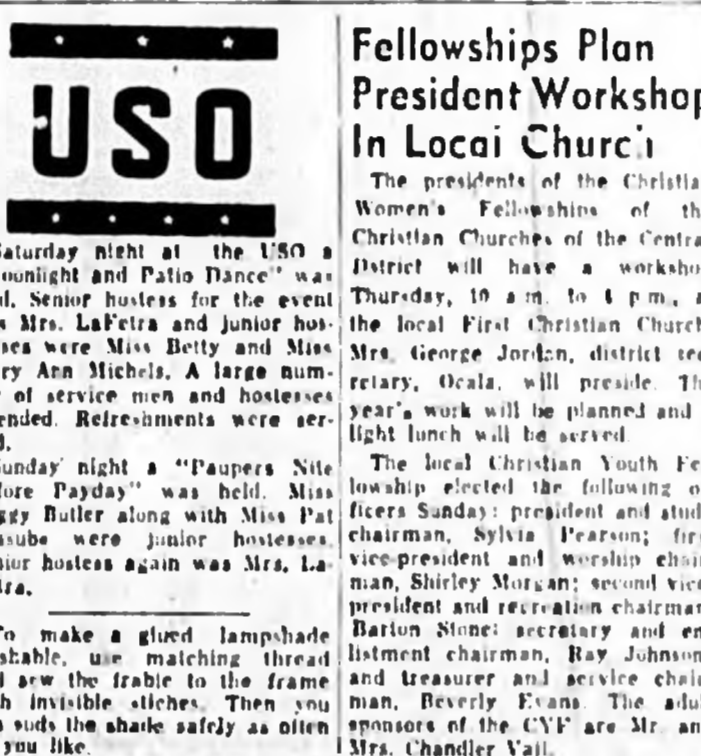

The most sensible way to maintain these nutritional requirements during a spell of hot weather is to make sandwiches the main course of your meal.

Sandwich eating is cooler, more convenient, and less time-consuming and it is also satisfying to the appetite. Sandwiches provide in a tasteful way a wide variety of nutrients. When they contain cheese, meat, food, peanut butter, or one of the other protein foods, the filling is the substance of the meal.

The bread, either enriched white or whole grain, provides high quality protein, important amounts of B vitamins and iron.

A leverage is essential to the enjoyment and value of the sandwich with milk and other dairy drinks contribute minerals, vitamins and carbohydrates. Fruit drinks provide vitamin C. Fruit coffee or tea may be sweetened artificially to limit calorie intake.

Whether the sandwich is carried in a lunch box, served at a restaurant, or eaten at home, the factory worker, office worker, farmer, and homemaker alike can rest assured that the sandwich does more than satisfy hunger in hot weather — it provides valuable nutrients necessary for good health.

Rouviere, Hefli Physical Status U of M Concern

MIAMI (AP)—Physical status of co-capt. Whitley Rouviere and Paul Hefli was the big concern of the University of Miami footballHurricanes today as they prepared to meet Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl Friday night.

Rouviere, senior halfback from Buckner, Ill., bruised a muscle while Hefli, junior fullback from Scarsdale, N. Y., got a charley horse.

Trainer Dave Wike said he wouldn't know until today whether they would be able to go against the Irish.

If Rouviere is out, Ed Oliver, junior from East Liverpool, Ohio, and John Varone, sophomore from East Boston, Mass., will share the right halfback spot.

If Hefli misses action, John Siegel, junior from East St. Louis, Ill., will move into his place.

"We need the work but we cannot afford to chance more injuries," said Coach Andy Gustafson in calling off a full scale scrimmage. He indicated there might be some partial scrimmage, especially on defense.

Nashua, Championship Bidder, To Run Mile, Five Furlongs

NEW YORK (AP)—Nashua, the Belair Stud's big candidate for the 3-year-old championship, will be asked to run the longest distance of his spectacular career Thursday. The bay son of Nasrullah is expected to meet only two rivals in the $25,000-added Lawrence Realization, a mile and five furlongs toughie at Belmont Park.

This will be the next to last race of the season for the colt, who has been in training since last December, and needs a real Belair trainer. He and Nashua Club for the $70,000-added Jockey Club Gold Cup at Belmont Oct. 25. The Gold Cup is a weight-for-age race for 3-year-olds and upward, and Nashua is expected to meet older horses for the second time.

On Sept. 24, Nashua stepped out of his division for the first time in the $100,000 Ryerly Makes, and wound up third behind High of the series without the effective bat of Mickey Mantle.

Mantle pulled a thigh muscle late in the regular season and has seen only limited service in the series. He'll probably get into action today as a pinch hitter if needed but the injury has NOT responded enough to permit him to patrol either his regular position in center field or even right field as he did during part of the second and third games.

The Yanks got one of their cruplers back yesterday in Hank Bauer, who promptly connected with three hits to raise his series batting average to a lofty .600. Bauer also had pulled a thigh muscle in the second game.

Meantime, the Dodgers also face the loss of Jackie Robinson, whose .182 batting average belies his importance to the Dodgers. The veteran outfielder turned up with an aching achilles tendon in his left heel and expressed doubt whether he would be able to play today.

"I don't know how I got it," said the 36-year-old Robinson, to whom aches and pains are nothing new this year. "It pained me all during the game. But I want to play if I can help the club. It is up to Walt (Manager Walter Alston)."

FSU Plays Host To Virginia Tech Saturday Night

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Florida State is concentrating on building more scoring power for its Virginia Tech football game here Saturday night.

Head Coach Tom Nugent, apparently concerned over the weak offensive showing his team made against Miami last week, said much hard work is to be put on the Seminoles' scoring game.

Florida State was shut out by Miami's Hurricanes 34-0 Friday night.

The Seminoles mentor said FSU should be in better physical condition for the Virginia Tech game than at any time this season.

Quarterback Len Swain, sidelined during the Miami game with an injured ankle, was back in uniform yesterday.

DeMarco Looking For Another Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—Former lightweight champion Paddy DeMarco dictated over his victory over Kenny Lane, today sought a shot with the other top-ranking contenders in the 135-pound rank.

Currently ranked, the 22-year-old Brooklyn toughie climbed a step up the comeback ladder last night by gaining a split 10-round decision over Lane at St. Nicholas Arena.

Lane, 23, of Muskegon, Mich., is the No. 6 contender. He had a winning streak of 10.

Lane weighed 160½, DeMarco 161.

Beaten in July by Ralph Dupas, the No. 2 contender, DeMarco was no ball of fire even in victory.

"Left-handers are hard to look good against," he said, "but I won and that's the main thing. I needed a fight under my belt. Now I'd like Frankie Ryff (of New York) or a return with Dupas or any other in the top 10."

Paddy, as usual, was guilty of violating most of the rules. Referee Ray Miller warned him repeatedly but did not penalize him.

TWO IN A ROW? . . . By Alan Mayer

WOODY HAYES, OHIO STATE FOOTBALL COACH, ISN'T THE PESSIMISTIC SORT, BUT HE KNOWS THAT WINNING THE BIG 10 CHAMPIONSHIP TWICE IN A ROW IS ONE OF SPORTS TOUGHEST TASKS.

IT'S BEEN 30 YEARS SINCE THE BUCKEYES TURNED THE TRICK, AND IN THAT TIME ONLY 5 OTHER SCHOOLS COULD DO IT—ILLINOIS, MICHIGAN AND MINNESOTA, EACH HAVING DONE IT TWICE—DESPITE PLAYER LOSSES, OHIO SHOULD MAKE A GOOD RUN FOR IT, AND SPEAKING OF RUNNING, HOPEFULLY CASSADY'S BACK TO DO PLENTY.

Southeastern Teams Ready For Grid Clashes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Light grid sessions were the procedure Monday as Southeastern Conference teams started preparing for this weekend's grid clashes—only Mississippi, led by Coach Johnny Vaught, had a rougher than usual Monday outing.

The Rebels meet Vanderbilt Saturday in a night game at Memphis and Vaught apparently disappointed with his team's performance against North Texas State last week, confined the rough work to blocking and tackling.

Louisiana State University's Tigers were put through a short workout, then journeyed to the picture room to review mistakes made in last Saturday night's tilt with Rice from the neighboring Southwestern Conference.

Coach Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech led his Yellow Jackets through the usual light workout but plans to buckle down to serious preparation Tuesday for the Engineers' encounter with Louisiana State Saturday night at Baton Rouge.

Dodd said halfback Paul Rotenberry and fullback Dickie Mattison, cut of action against Southern Methodist, would be able to return to duty this week.

Alabama Coach J. B. Whitworth said that regular left guard Jim Cunningham may be lost for three or four weeks due to a knee injury in the Vanderbilt game. The bad news came as the Tide began preparing for what the coach termed "the toughest game on our schedule so far"—Texas Christian, at Tuscaloosa. Other left guard prospects are Don Conner, a fullback until this year, and center Glenn Graham.

Florida reported no injuries as a result of its loss to the Plainsmen from Auburn. The Gators report, however, that sophomore halfback Jim Rountree is in the infirmary recovering from a mild virus infection.

Coach Andy Pilney of Tulane praised his team for its showing against its recent visitor from the Big Ten. Northwestern, but warned that Mississippi State has improved considerably over last year's squad that downed the Greens 14-0.

End Levine Hollingshead of Mississippi State returned to today's practice. He suffered from a knee injury in the Maroons' opener against Florida.

The Kentucky Wildcats picked up no new injuries in their match with Villanova. Tennessee came out of its clash with Duke in good shape, except for sophomore guard Bill Johnson who suffered a rib separation and is on the doubtful list for the Chattanooga game.

Auburn's Tigers checked films of their game with Florida. Coach was so satisfied with Trando that on Aug. 6 he signed him to a 1956 contract.

Kramer Confident Stars To Turn Pro

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jack Kramer is confident today that his victory will repeat and the Australian Davis Cup tennis stars will turn professional and tour with him.

Two years ago Kramer signed up Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor who had led the Aussies to the Davis Cup win in 1953. Now he says he "firmly believes" Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall will sign contracts. He expects the same of U.S. champion Tony Trabert.

Kramer said all three have contracts and are having their attorneys study the terms.

Stetson Players Work On Offense

DELAND (AP)—Stetson University's lone football victim of 1954 is better this year, Coach Herb McQuillan told his squad yesterday.

Although Troy State lost to Tampa 26-0 Saturday, McQuillan said the Alabama team ran 53 plays and should have had at least two touchdowns. Troy is sharper than last year and well coached, he said.

End LeVaine Hollingshead of Mississippi State returned to today's practice. He suffered from a knee injury in the Maroons' opener against Florida.

The Kentucky Wildcats picked up no new injuries in their match with Villanova. Tennessee came out of its clash with Duke in good shape, except for sophomore guard Bill Johnson who suffered a rib separation and is on the doubtful list for the Chattanooga game.

Auburn's Tigers checked films of their game with Florida. Coach was so satisfied with Trando that on Aug. 6 he signed him to a 1956 contract.

BALTIMORE TURNOVER

BALTIMORE (AP)—Forty two players were on Baltimore's roster last Nov. 29. The team finished 1955 with only six of them. Those retained by Manager Paul Richards are Hal Gresh, Gus Triandos, Cal Abrams, Chuck Diering, Willie M. Randa and Ray Moore. Richards was so satisfied with Trando that on Aug. 6 he signed him to a 1956 contract.

SHORTSTOP STUDYING

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Bob Stengemeier, Rice's star shortstop of last spring who signed last summer with the Charleston, W. Va., Senators, is back in school. He will report back to the American Legion team after graduating next June. At Charleston he batted .260 as a utility player.

Ocala Defeats Crooms

OCALA, The Ocala Wild Bulls, before a crowd of 2,300, defeated the Crooms Panther by score of 20-7.

Crooms Academy's Don Burke made the first touchdown of the game. Coming back after scoring the touchdown, Don Burke made the extra point, to put the Panthers ahead by a seven point margin.

The Wild Bulls, first attempting to score by the ground attack, began to use their best proven weapon, the pass. The Steers invaded the Panthers with a series of passes, three of them, resulting as touchdowns. The three passes along with two extra points, enabled the Steers to win by a 20-7 margin.

Zeke Washington, Joe King, Bobby Lamb, Gee Knight, and Paul Knight were the outstanding defenders in the Panthers' defensive platoon. Ed Lanier and Tom Wright did the Panthers' kicking-off and punting. During the last part of the third quarter Sam Nesbitt received the ball and a 55 yard run, one of the longest of the game.

The highly-spirited Crooms Panthers who have lost two games this season, can graciously boast of a fact that they have never lost a moral game.

Crooms has an open date this week, but will journey to play Northwestern High School (formerly Dorsey Hi), Miami.

Maryland Holding Lead In Associated Poll

Willie Pastrano May Quit Class; Fight Heavyweight

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Willie Pastrano, who takes off weight slower than a Japanese wrestler, may have fought his last fight as a light-heavyweight last night when he flashed out a 10-round unanimous decision over rugged Paddy Young of New York.

The 19-year-old New Orleans fighter, the No. 3 challenger, went to the sweat box twice a few hours before the fight in New Orleans' Municipal Auditorium to melt off a reluctant 2½ pounds. At that, he hit light heavyweight poundage only a glancing blow at 175½. Young, rated No. 5, weighed 171½.

"He's a heavyweight right now," moaned Johnny Dundee, his principal handler for the night. "It's a crime to make him make weight. He's weak, I tell you."

Pastrano said after the fight: "I really felt weak from taking off the two and a half pounds. I don't know. Maybe I'll fight heavyweight from now on. I'll see."

The weakness didn't really show, Pastrano didn't dance around in his usual style the first half of the fight, but that's because he was trying to learn to be a slugger.

Judge Eddie Wolfe and Referee Pete Glarusco scored the fight 7 rounds for Pastrano, 2 rounds even, 1 for Young. Judge Francis Kercheval saw it 7 for Pastrano, 3 for Young. The Associated Press card showed 8 for Pastrano, 1 even and 1 for Young.

Gators Set Down To Serious Drill

GAINESVILLE (AP)—Thoroughly warned that this week's football opponent George Washington will offer tough competition, Florida's varsity was set to don full pads and get down to serious business today.

The Gators have been told by their scouts that the Colonials from Washington, D. C., undefeated in two outings, are big in the line, 215-pound average; and fast in the backfield—two halves run the 100 yard dash in 10 seconds flat or less.

Yesterday, the Gators' top two units work for a short time without pads but Red and Green units held a heavy scrimmage.

Vince Gibson Is 'Lineman Of Week'

MIAMI (AP)—Although his team was shut out 34-0, Florida State guard Vince Gibson was chosen as "lineman of the week" by the Florida Sports Writers for his work against Miami Friday night.

Gibson, 185-pound senior, blocked an extra point kick after Miami's first touchdown; recovered a fumble to stymie another Hurricane scoring threat; made five tackles and two assists.

UCLA QUARTER FOLLOWS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—UCLA backfield coaches have high hopes that Bob Bergdahl of Los Angeles can fill the role once occupied by his father, Lenny Bergdahl. Bob played in eight of nine games as a sophomore in 1954 and went 31 minutes against Washington. His dad played for Bill Spaulding in 1950, 1951 and 1952.

Fight Results

MONDAY NIGHTS FIGHTS

NEW YORK (AP)—Paddy De Marco, 141 New York, outpointed Kenny Lane, 160½ Muskegon, Mich., 10-9.

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Willie Pastrano, 175½ New Orleans, outpointed Paddy Young, 171½ New York, 10-9.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Bob Stengemeier, 202½ Paoli, Pa., stepped Johnny Howe, 203½ Taunton, Providence, R. I., 10-9.

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Tom Jones, 165½ Newark, N. J., outpointed Bob Bolton, 164 Providence, 10-9.

NOTTINGHAM, England (AP)—Young Martin, 118½, Spain, stepped Dai Dower, 119½, Wales, 12-0.

Yogi Should Get Most Valuable Player Award

NEW YORK (AP)—Yogi Berra must be wondering what a fellow has to do to get his name in the papers. Whitey Ford, Tommy Byrne and Duke Snider steal the headlines while Yogi jugs along at a .450 pace.

When Ford pitches or Byrne pitches, the reporters come nosing around Berra's locker, asking "What was his best pitch?" They don't pay too much attention to his nine base hits.

It just so happens that Yogi has caught more World Series games than anybody in the long history of baseball. When he squats behind home plate to receive Byrne's first pitch this afternoon, it will be his 40th game in seven series.

Berra is the only player on either side to hit safely in every game. Snider was right up there with him until he had to retire yesterday's game with a knee injury after striking out once.

World Series play isn't supposed to count in the voting for Most Valuable Player. The ballots are supposed to have been made out before the end of the season. But most of the Yanks will tell you privately that Yogi should get the big prize for the second straight year.

With Mickey Mantle on the sidelines, Berra has shouldered the burden of batting cleanup in the Yanks order, whether the opposition pitches a righthander or lefthander.

Berra caught 107 of the Yanks' 134 games during the regular season. Although he wound up with a .372 average, it is difficult to see how Casey Stengel could have won a pennant without him.

Ewell Blackwell Is Released

SEATTLE (AP)—Ewell Blackwell, the veteran righthander, was given his unconditional release by the Seattle Rainiers of the Pacific Coast Baseball League yesterday.

Blackwell, who was acquired by Seattle from San Francisco in mid-June, won five and lost five for the season.

Dewey Soriano, general manager of the Rainiers, said Blackwell, who saw service in the majors with the Kansas City Athletics, the New York Giants and the Cincinnati Reds, will try to land a managing job.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER'S illness in Denver has not stopped the flow of activity at the White House in Washington as a business-as-usual pace is maintained. Samuel Mitchell (top) arranges Vice President Nixon's place in the Cabinet room in preparation for National Security Council and Cabinet sessions over which Nixon will preside. Opposite his place is the President's chair, an unoccupied reminder that this is still the Eisenhower Administration. In center, Assistant to the President Sherman Adams confers with Deputy Assistant Fred Beaton (left), and Murray Snyder (right), assistant press secretary, meets with a staff secretary to resume the flow of information which had been routed through Denver. At bottom is the White House switchboard and a parley of three Presidential aides. They are (l. to r.) Gerald Morgan, I. Jack Martin and Gen. Wilton Persons.

Subway Motormen Report 'Sick'

NEW YORK (AP)—Ninety thousand Queens commuters, delayed yesterday when 143 subway motormen reported "sick," found service normal today. The New York Transit Authority suspended the 143 men. Their places were taken during the morning rush hour by transfer of 20 men from other lines and by other motormen working overtime. The reported sickness coincided with objections by some employees to a recent contract agreement between the Authority and the CIO Transport Workers Union. Absence of the men reduced service by about 50 per cent yesterday on the Queens division of the Independent Subway Line. Commuters heading for their jobs in Manhattan crowded into the subway stations in vain waits for trains. Fears were held for a time that the press of people would push some of them off the platform and onto the tracks.

KISSABLE LENGTH
BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Hair should be "kissable" length, says Mrs. Tressie Arnold of Shreveport, first vice president of the Interstate Council of Beauty Boards. She said present styles are good because "the neck is left so it can be kissed."

Disastrous Floods Hit East Mexico In Hurricane Wake

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Floods in the wake of three disastrous hurricanes besieged much of eastern Mexico yesterday. Pleas for relief taxed the capacity of the government. Damage to the Mexico City-Laredo highway apparently was more serious than first reported. The main tourist route may be closed for some time. Tamaunchale, a favorite tourist stopover usually pronounced Thomas-and-Charlie, was reported completely inundated by the raging Mucleuma River. The big steel bridge there was said to have been washed out. A messenger walked the 70 miles to Ciudad Valles with a note from the mayor saying the city of 25,000 was under water and running short of food. Ciudad Valles and nearby Tamuain, a tourist resort, also were under water and officials asked for helicopter aid. Thousands were homeless. Four more persons were drowned near Martinez de la Torre, bringing Mexico's death toll from Hurricane Janet to 250. More than 1,000 were injured and some 100,000 homeless. Relief and rescue work continued at top speed in the two hardest hit areas—around the Gulf port of Tampico and on the Yucatan Peninsula. U.S. helicopters from the aircraft carrier Saipan, anchored off side Tampico, were in almost constant operation to transfer food, medicine and doctors from the carrier. Ten U.S. Air Force transports shuttled from Texas bases with food and clothing. Other U.S. aid ships were expected. The flooded Panuco River went up another foot and a half at Tampico, pouring still more water into the city of 110,000 now caring for an estimated 50,000 refugees. Word was received that Sacxon, on the Yucatan Peninsula in the territory of Quintana Roo, was destroyed by Janet. Chetumal, Bacalar and Xcalak were also wiped off the map with a death toll estimated at near 200. The area's chicle crop, from which chewing gum is made, was reported destroyed. Flooding also continued throughout mid-Mexico, with no immediate relief in sight.

Commission

A member of the audience, standing to be recognized said, "There's so much investment up and down 17-92 we can't afford to pass it up. We might just as well do the job and do it now. I've seen cars up and down 17-92, bumper to bumper, unable to move, because the highway is two lanes instead of the proposed four-lanes."

Wilton Alexander told the commissioners and the audience that what the people wanted now was action. "Outline the steps," he said, "and then go on record that the steps be taken."

It is a little difficult for the layman to understand the legal technicalities necessary to accomplish all that is necessary in building a road and acquiring the right-of-ways. "Unless," he said, "there is some positive, affirmative action."

A word battle between Chairman Meisch, Odham, and W. Pitt Varas led up to Wilton Alexander stating positively to the crowd, that "What's going to get the right-of-ways this year is motions and actions in this book," as he pointed to the minutes book of the Seminole County Commission, and he added, "I think it's time to turn the meeting back to the Board of Commissioners for action."

Commissioner B. C. Dodd placed a motion before the commissioners that "the county go ahead and spend the money for right-of-ways from Five Points to the Orange County line and that a 5-mill ad valorem tax be added." The motion was seconded by Commissioner Brown Miller and was carried by the Board.

County Attorney Mack N. Cleveland Jr., then told the commission and the audience that all that was necessary now is that a resolution be made allowing the county attorney in proceed with condemnation proceedings and declaration of taking.

Attorney Cleveland remarked then, "this is really a hornets nest."

And from the audience someone remarked, "and full of hornets too."

Odham asked the commissioners "how long are we going to allow for the Declaration of Taking?" And then explained that, according to information from Road Board member William A. Dial, the bids could be let as soon as the declaration of taking.

However, Chairman Meisch took exception to the statement and told Odham, "I hate to contradict Mr. Dial but it can't be done."

Attorney Mack N. Cleveland Jr., recommended to the Board of County Commissioners that a resolution authorizing the condemnation proceedings and declaration of taking be made.

The motion, presenting the resolution to the Board of Commissioners, was carried.
