Who'll Be Next Now That Rice Is Leaving?

By Paul Schaefer
Herald Staff Writer

A poll of Lake Mary officials has revealed that nobody within the city's government wants to move into city manager Kathy Rice's office — not even the man who has been tapped by Mayor Dick Fess to act as interim city manager while the city goes through the process of hiring a replacement.

Mrs. Rice announced her resignation Tuesday. There is also a difference of opinion between Fess and several commissioners on how the process for reviewing applicants for Rice's job be conducted.

Mrs. Rice will become the city manager of Gulfport, Florida, a community near St. Petersburg with a population of 12,000. Her decision to leave was announced in a city hall press conference. She will leave Lake Mary city government Aug. 15.

"Lake Mary is a volatile environment with all the growth. Half the people are for growth, and half are against it. No matter what happens, half the people are mad at you. The administrator always takes the blame," Jim Orioles said.

Orioles, 37, the city's public works superintendent, was asked Tuesday morning by Fess to become the acting city manager while the commission finds a replacement for her.

The commission is expected to act on Fess' recommendations to accept Mrs. Rice's resignation "with regrets," and appoint Orioles as interim manager during Thursday night's regular city commission meeting at Lake Mary city hall, 158 North Country Club Road, at 7:30 p.m.

Orioles said, if offered, he would accept the job, but only on a temporary basis.

"I'll have to wear two hats," Orioles said. "I'll have to be out of city hall a couple of hours a day," to tend to public works department business.

Orioles is a six-year veteran city employee. He is a former Lake Mary fire chief and a member of the Development Review Committee. He is a member of the volunteer fire department, and was initially hired to be a city grader operator six years ago.

"It still hasn't sunk in," Orioles said of the suggestion he serve in Rice's capacity on an interim basis. "I'll have a great staff to work with, and I'll have to rely on them," he continued.

Why doesn't Orioles want the city manager's job on a full-time basis?

"It's just not the career I have in mind. What I'm doing now is more enjoyable to me. I guess I'm one of the lucky ones in that I am totally satisfied with my job right now," Orioles said.

His public works job involves turning the nuts and bolts of the city. Orioles oversees the city's field operations, including the water plant, parks, sewer department, the central garage, public works including roads, drainage and street maintenance, and the administrative duties involved with those departments.

"That's enough for me," Orioles said. "I have no desires to take on the city manager's job permanently."

Shoppes Purchase Opposed

Lake Mary Mayor Dick Fess' proposed city purchase of a shopping center to be used as a municipal complex, including city hall, would be poor use of taxpayers money, expensive and inefficient, according to a Lake Mary city commissioner, who is a member of the committee.

And the city's Capital Facilities Committee, now looking for a city hall site, hasn't been consulted, he added.

Commissioner Russ Megonegal said the closest he wants Lake Mary city government to get to the Shoppes of Lake Mary, at the intersection of Lake Mary Blvd. and Country Club Road, is the exploration of renting some office space for the city.

"If you bought that for a city hall, you would have to bulldoze it to build a facility that's efficient," Megonegal said.

Lightning Strikes Man As Storms Hit Seminole

A Geneva man was reported in good condition today at Florida Hospital, Orlando, after being struck by lightning. He was hit about 5 p.m. near his boat on Lake Harney during a thunderstorm Wednesday afternoon. Earlier there was wind damage at a mobile home park and a dog track in the Casselberry area during a severe thunderstorm which dumped two inches of rain and marble-sized hail. Lightning caused a power outage.

Robert Granger, 49, of Geneva was taken to the Seminole County Fire Station in Geneva by his wife, Betty, who was in the boat with him, after he appeared to be having muscle spasms. After he was checked over by the fire department

Saudis Keep Adding To World Oil Glut

From Staff and Wire Reports

Saudi Arabia apparently intends to add to the world's glut of oil by placing 6 million barrels of crude a day on the market through this month and perhaps beyond an OPEC meeting July 28, according to international news reports.

Oil industry officials in Mahd Dhabab were reported by Reuters news service today as saying the Saudis will continue to glut the market with the oil and that the signs of production in the field indicate the stepped-up production is long term.

While the announcement is expected to cause a drop in oil prices, there was no such move on world markets at mid-morning. North Sea oil was strong through the night on the London market and U.S. prices were up at mid-morning. Saudi oil is not traded on world markets so how its production affects its prices is not immediately available. Saudi oil has been selling for about $8 a barrel.

The expected drop would follow rallies on world markets Tuesday and Wednesday as some refiners decided to purchase crude and petroleum products before OPEC meets.

An unsourced news report, which quoted several unidentified analysts as saying U.S. oil prices have bottomed out, also spurred heavy and speculative buying.

But most energy specialists still contend oil could drop to the $8-a-barrel range later this summer because OPEC is producing at a 4½-year high of 19.5 million barrels a day and appears unlikely to muster the discipline needed to adopt output curbs to shrink the global oil surplus.

On the European spot market Wednesday, where oil is sold to the highest bidder, Britain's benchmark North Sea Brent crude rose by 10 cents to $9.40 a barrel. Some buyers offered as much as $10 a barrel, but deals were not done at that price. On Monday Brent plunged through the $9 mark to an all-time low of $8.65 a barrel.

On the New York Mercantile Exchange, West Texas Intermediate — the key domestic crude for immediate delivery — climbed 50 cents to $12.61 a barrel. The crude jumped by $1.07 a barrel Tuesday. It climbed 34 cents early today.

Unleaded gasoline for immediate delivery on the Merc shot up by 1.35 cents to 35.46 cents a gallon, leaded gasoline by 1.59 cents to 36.06 cents, and home-heating oil by 2.20 cents to 35.12 cents.

OPEC is scheduled to reopen talks in Geneva at the end of the month on proposed national output quotas for each member.

OPEC's bitterly divided oil ministers adjourned their six-day summit in Brioni, Yugoslavia, June 30 after failing to reach a concrete agreement on a new production ceiling and individual quotas to raise prices to between $17 and $19 a barrel. The ministers have taken the one-month recess to consult their governments on suggested quotas.

$2 Million Query Needed 'To Be Done Right'

Planned renovation at two Seminole County high schools should be expanded, school officials say, but the county school board delayed answering the "two million dollar" question" Wednesday as to how the added work will be financed.

The board will consider funding options in a budget work session Monday.

In addition, the board was made no promises that additional work wouldn't be needed at a third high school, Seminole High, in the next construction phase.

The consensus of board members is that construction plans at Lake Brantley and Lake Howell high schools should be redrawn to create science classroom wings at each of the schools. Members reached the tentative agreement during a Wednesday afternoon work session.

Costs for both school projects were expected to be about $5.5 million, but each needs about another million "to be done right," school officials said.

"I can't say this won't happen again," said Benny Arnold, assistant superintendent for facilities and transportation. "Costs and needs change between the time we make our initial plans and construction start."

Superintendent of Schools Robert Hughes said, "I'm not going to say it's not going to happen at Seminole High School, too." Seminole's project is now projected to cost $8.5 million, and is the oldest high school in the county, Hughes said.

He added the only problem schools under construction are the high schools because of their size. He said the middle schools and elementary schools projects were expected to stay within projected costs.

There are 13 schools in phase one construction projects.

Hughes charged the board

Gordon Hearing Today

Judge Refuses To Bar Reporters' Testimony

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

A Seminole Circuit judge refused to bar testimony from reporters in the pending trial of a former Lake Mary School teacher charged with selling cocaine to a sheriff's informant.

Circuit Judge Kenneth M. Lefler was also to hear a motion in the case at noon today to dismiss the charges against Wilson Gordon Jr. based on constitutional grounds.

Gordon was arrested in April and charged with sale and delivery of cocaine, possession of cocaine with intent to sell and delivery and possession of cocaine. The arrest stemmed from a Dec. 1, 1984 incident. He is set for trial Tuesday, as are seven other cases. Whether the trial will begin Tuesday is not known.

Wilson has admitted to reporters that he sold the drug to an informant, and detailed stories about the incident and his confession have been published in the Evening Herald and the Orlando Sentinel.

At Wednesday's hearing, the Sentinel asked that its reporters not be forced to testify. Lefler denied the request after

Sanford Extends Options

On Possible Effluent Sites

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

The Sanford City Commission extended its purchase option on a 2,200-acre potential effluent disposal site and approved $94,737.34 in payments to the city's engineering firm, Conklin, Porter and Holmes, as part of efforts to revise the city's wastewater management program.

The actions were taken at the commission's regular meeting Monday.

Project revisions in final form will be presented to the state for review on Aug. 20. Prior to the hearing will be a public session for citizen input regarding the wastewater program, which now concentrates on effluent disposal at city owned properties.

Three days after the hearing, city representatives hope to travel to New York to secure an approximately $16 million bond issue to provide wastewater project funding.

Sanford's actions are being taken to comply with a state mandate to cease disposing an estimated 6.5 million gallons of effluent in Lake Monroe daily.

Terms for purchase option extension on the 2,200 acre parcel are $5,000 for 90 days, the same as those agreed to when Sanford acquired the original option in May. The $10,000 expenditure is applicable to the site's $5,317,314 purchase price. The site is located east of Sanford, along Lake Jessup, in unincorporated Seminole County.

The parcel is one of seven optioned as potential effluent disposal locations during the interim between Sanford's inability to acquire the Yankee Lake parcel for disposal and turning its concentration toward city-owned sites for this purpose.

Two of the optioned sites are being eyed as possible well fields and commissioners on Monday authorized purchase option extensions for these sites as well.

The parcels are located near the city's Oregon Avenue well field and option extensions are

Lavigne Joins Race

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

The cost of winning an up-for-grabs judge's position in Seminole Circuit Court went up Wednesday with the announcement of a third candidate for Circuit Judge Dominick J. Salfi's position.

The entrance of James R. Lavigne, 35, of Casselberry into the race forces a primary Sept. 2 with the top two voter getters going one-on-one until the voters drop the gavel Nov. 4.

Lavigne, William Eaton of Altamonte Springs, and Ned Julian of Sanford have entered the non-partisan race to complete four years left of Salfi's term which began in 1984.

U.S. Soldiers, Drug Agents Aid Bolivian Cocaine Busts

LA PAZ, Bolivia (UPI) — Some 160 U.S. soldiers joined members of a Bolivian narcotics strike force for raids on cocaine-processing laboratories in the remote jungles of eastern Bolivia, radio reports and witnesses said.

Six U.S. Black Hawk helicopters were sent Wednesday to a region north of the city of Trinidad, capital of Beni province, where drug traffickers are known to have drug-producing facilities, witnesses said.

U.S. and Bolivian officials in La Paz, the capital, refused to comment on the joint operation, say precisely where the joint forces were operating or indicate if any arrests had been made.

In Washington, White House spokesman Edward Djerejian said the soldiers and supplies were sent to fight what he called "narco-terrorism."

Nuns Freed In Good Condition

MARAWI, Philippines (UPI) — Moslem rebels released 10 nuns from captivity today in exchange for $10,000, two automatic rifles and two walkie-talkies, and a prominent Moslem leader said she would work to arrange an amnesty for the rebels.

Military and civilian officials said they also expected the release soon of American missionary Brian Lawrence, 30, of Madison, Wis., who was kidnapped from his apartment Saturday night about 24 hours after the abduction of the nuns.

Looking tired but in good spirits, the nuns were turned over to Moslem leaders at dawn in the town of Lumba Yanagi, outside Marawi, the predominantly Moslem capital of Lanao del Sur province, 500 miles south of Manila.

Lucman said the emissaries turned over to the kidnappers 200,000 pesos, worth $10,000, which had been raised by local officials led by Lanao del Sur Gov. Saidamen Pangarungan.

Army Detains Religious Workers

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (UPI) — The army forcibly removed 23 foreign religious workers, including 19 Americans, from a battle zone and detained them "for security reasons," and a spokeswoman for the group said they may be deported today.

Two truckloads of soldiers went Wednesday to the town of Aguacayo, 21 miles northeast of the capital, and removed the foreigners, who had accompanied some 600 Salvadorans trying to retake the land they were forced to abandon because of civil war fighting.

The soldiers also threatened to force the Salvadorans to return to church-run refugee camps, said the Rev. Michael Campbell, a Roman Catholic priest from Scotland who witnessed the detentions.

Airport Authority Moves To Evict Concessionaire Citing Fraud

The Greater Orlando Aviation Authority made a move Wednesday to evict the airport concessionaire Champ Williams' family corporation McCoy Restaurants, Inc. because of allegations it skimmed profits.

The unanimous vote by the board came after the authority's attorney, Egerton van den Berg, alleged the firm misrepresented sales at the airport and did not keep good financial records.

The vote means the authority could break its lease with Williams by the end of April but that vote will not probably come for two weeks. Before then, airport staff will find out if a replacement food service can be located.

Williams, who has run food service for the airport for 25 years, said the report alleging the skimming was one-sided and connected with Williams' estranged son. Williams denied defrauding the airport authority.

Van den Berg estimated the amount of money allegedly skimmed from the airport concessions from 1970 to 1981 to be at least $3 million.

Big Mack Attack Kills Bear

MILTON (UPI) — A 200-pound bear that preferred civilization and fast foods over life in the wild met a grisly death along a northwest Florida interstate when he stepped in the path of an oncoming truck.

The black bear, called a "rogue" because he frequently left the wild to mingle with humans, was killed some three miles south of Milton when he crossed the path of a tractor-trailer on Interstate 10, officials said Wednesday.

The bear's carcass was found around 9:30 p.m. Tuesday at the foot of a bridge nearly 30 miles west of the woods at Eglin Air Force Base where wildlife officials had released him last week after another trek to civilization.

Florida Fugitive Captured

CHANTILLY, Va. (UPI) — Police arrested Florida fugitive Robert Lee "Rah Rah" Sawyer, described by Miami police as "a one-man crime wave," as he was waiting for a friend at Washington-Dulles International Airport, officials said Wednesday.

Police believe Sawyer, 20, a suspected drug dealer from Miami apparently living in the Washington area, coerced the friend to head north from Florida and sell cocaine in the nation's capital.

Sawyer, also wanted for a robbery and at least six shootings and described by Miami investigators as a "one-man crime wave," was arrested Tuesday night by airport police officers.

"The best middle school in the state of Florida."

That's how Greenwood Lakes Middle School principal Ted Barker described the new $7.6 million facility to Seminole County school board members, who toured the ten building complex Wednesday morning.

The purpose of the walk-through was to get a first hand look at the school, which will open for the first time August 25, and find any flaws in construction, much like a new home-owner checking a newly constructed house before closing.

Board members gave the construction "clerk of the works" Ross Ponder 11 minor items, such as paint touch up that they wanted corrected.

Ponder, who has been the county school's on-site inspector throughout construction, said while the main construction period is nearly complete, a lot of detail work still needs to be done.

School board members were delighted with the color-coordinated classroom and office cabinets and blinds, and the 164 ceiling paddle fans in most classroom and office areas.

Architect Joel Baugh, of the firm Leonard & Baugh, who designed the complex was "ecstatic" board members were pleased.

"The walk through is always the real acid test," Baugh said. "We know we have provided a fine facility, and it's nice to know everyone is in agreement."

The blinds and fans were ideas that came from the school board. County schools superintendent for facilities and transportation Benny Arnold said the fans lower room temperature by an average of six-degrees, which will help reduce energy consumption for air conditioning.

He also said high windows and wide exterior overhangs will help keep the energy use to cool the building low.

"Without a doubt, this is the best designed middle school in Florida," Hughes proclaimed. "We would offer this as a comparison against any middle school in the state, and we're going to show it off."

"The tax payers got the best deal ever on this school," Hughes continued, noting the complex cost about $47 a square foot. "We're satisfied that the school board's ideas materialized in concrete and brick."

School board chairman Nancy Warren said, "I think it is beautiful. It's a first class school. It's colorful, attractive, and seems to be functional."

Board member Jean Bryant called the school "fantastic."

"It's the school of the future," Mrs. Bryant continued. "It's built in an area that's growing, so it will probably fill up fast," she added.

Board member Pat Telson said the new school is "wonderful."

"This is top of the line. I haven't seen a middle school better anywhere," she added.

Barker said the school will open with a student population of 910, but expected it to quickly grow in coming years to capacity of 1,348, and joked that there is still room on the 25 acre site for portable classrooms if they are ever needed.

The school includes 36 regular classrooms, 10 exceptional education rooms, a gym, art, music, administration and guidance suites, and a media center.

Classrooms are being furnished and supplies are arriving by the truckload.

WEATHER

LOCAL REPORT: An afternoon thunderstorm accompanied by lightning, wind and hail dumped 2 inches of rain on Casselberry Wednesday. The University of Florida Agricultural Research and Educational Center in Sanford reported only .09 inch of rain and a high temperature of 93 degrees. Today's 8 a.m. reading was 73 degrees.

NATIONAL REPORT: Illinois farmers were urged to send hay today to drought-stricken Southern farmers struggling against a heat wave that has killed 14 people and worsened a dry spell that has threatened shipping and forced water rationing. Thunderstorms in the Southeast brought little relief from a heat wave that pushed temperatures toward 100 degrees for the 12th straight day today. Temperatures in the mid to upper 90s were expected in Georgia, South Carolina, Alabama and Florida, the National Weather Service said.

"(The rain) hasn't punched a hole in that heat very much," NWS meteorologist Pete Reynolds said. The temperature hit 100 degrees at Athens, Ga., Wednesday, and it was 99 degrees at Columbia, S.C., Atlanta and Macon, Ga. The heat wave that has been blamed for at least 14 deaths in the South, including nine in Georgia, and worsened a drought that began when spring rains failed to arrive. Illinois Gov. James Thompson asked farmers Wednesday to send excess hay to the drought-stricken Southeast to help feed herds. Farmers in Georgia and North Carolina have been forced to sell their livestock because of a hay shortage. "Hay is selling for about $200 a ton in those states. But here in Illinois we have plenty of high-quality hay, far in excess of potential demand, and it is selling for only $50 a ton," Thompson said. Several Southeast cities considered plans to conserve water. In Atlanta, an outdoor water ban goes into effect Monday for the first time in the city's history. Officials in Chapel Hill and Caryboro, N.C., said they have only 80 days worth of water left. Members of the Army Corps of Engineers met Wednesday in Mobile, Ala., to discuss the effect of the drought on the Chattahoochee, Flint and Apalachicola rivers. The rivers flow together to form a common basin just west of Bainbridge, Ga., and the water depth in the basin has dropped from 9 feet to 6 feet, posing a threat to shipping. Corps spokesman Sam Green said, "You go much below 6 feet, and the barges just can't hack it," he said. "It's a pretty grim picture. Things are really getting bad. You do tend to pray a whole lot for rain." The heat spread northwest Wednesday, pushing temperatures close to 100 degrees in St. Louis and to the mid 90s in Illinois and Wisconsin. At Platteville, Wis., where the Chicago Bears were starting summer workouts, the players went through 600 pounds of ice and 100 gallons of water during their first practice, assistant trainer Brian McCaskey said.

"In the past six years, I have been asked to take on additional responsibilities on a short term basis, and I have, just to help out. That's exactly how I look at this."

Meanwhile, other city officials say they don't want Mrs. Rice's old job.

New Lake Mary Chief of Police Charles Lauderdale said, "I was hoping she would be here for at least a year after I got here," said Lauderdale, who retired from the U.S. Army in Texas and moved to Lake Mary to become police chief in June.

"Kathy and the city staff has helped me get coordinated with the city, and civilian government," Lauderdale said, adding that he is interested only with building the city public safety department, under which the police and fire departments are combined in one effort.

City treasurer Madeleine Minna isn't interested in the city manager's job either.

"I'm very happy with the job I presently hold, and have no desire to be the city manager and that's it," Ms. Minna said. "It is not a position that I have any high aspiration of attaining. I'm happy where I'm at."

The city manager's job is more work than city clerk Carol Edwards feels she can do while raising a family.

"I need time with my family," Mrs. Edwards said. "I don't think I have the experience or the qualifications to be city manager, and I don't think I could handle all the meetings with the developers, the Planning and Zoning Board, and Board of Adjustments." As city clerk, Mrs. Edwards now attends all city commission meetings.

Administrative secretary and deputy city clerk Mid Thompson said, "It takes a lot of qualifications to do that job, and I don't think I or anyone here is interested in it. I'll do more than my share at helping who comes in next, but I wouldn't want to be city manager."

At least three city commissioners support Feas suggestion that Orioles fill the spot on a temporary basis, but another may not.

"I think it will be a fine temporary solution for our situation," commissioner Charlie Webster said.

Commissioner Paul Tremel said, "It's an excellent idea. If we don't have somebody there, it's going to be disastrous. He can handle the day-to-day operation of the city, and he is very knowledgeable of the city."

Commissioner Russ Megonegal favored Orioles' temporary assignment as well.

"He's got knowledge of the city, and probably knows it better than anyone else," Megonegal said. "He's a good selection."

But commissioner Buzz Petaos stopped short of agreeing with the mayor's recommendation.

Orioles appointment "would be a consideration, but we'll have to have more discussion at the city commission meeting," Petaos said.

Feas said Tuesday he would recommend the city commission ask area city managers to act as a screening committee to review applicants for the city manager's job, and recommend a list of final candidates. The commission used that method earlier this year when the Central Florida Police Chief's Association screen applicants for the police chief's post and recommended six for commission interview.

To fill Rice's office, three commissioners say they would like to handle the entire process themselves.

"I think the commission should act as its own screening committee," Tremel said.

Webster said, "I strongly support the commission acting as their own screening committee. The commission should go over the applications."

Megonegal added, "I would prefer the commission advertising the position, reviewing the applicants and proceed with narrowing the field and conducting interviews."

Gulfport's mayor, Yvonne Johnson said she and the city council there acted as their own screening committee, reviewing 179 applications from across the nation before deciding on hiring Mrs. Rice.

Until Aug. 15, Mrs. Rice said she will be in Gulfport every Friday, starting this week, to familiarize herself with her new city administrator's post. She said she will use vacation days she has accumulated during her employment at Lake Mary, so she won't be working in Gulfport while being paid for working in Lake Mary. She said she also used a vacation day for her July 11 job interview with Gulfport's city council, and that she paid for her own gasoline for the trip.

Mrs. Rice came to central Florida from Georgia in 1982 when she was hired by the East Central Florida Regional Planning Council as a planner and research coordinator for its agency on aging.

From 1980 until 1982, she was the personnel director for Clarke County, Ga., based in Athens. From 1972 until 1980, she was a grants writer for a community service organization, Action, Inc.

She received a bachelor's degree in agriculture from the University of Georgia in 1970, and a master's in Public Administration from the same school in 1982.

Her husband, Matthew, 46, is a Seminole Community College instructor. He teaches high school graduate equivalency degree program students at the Seminole County Jail. The Rices and their 12-year-old son, Timothy, live on Washington Avenue in Lake Mary. The Rice's have two other sons, Michael, 24, and Adam, 22. Both are in the Navy.

State Road 419 Slated To Reopen

State Road 419 will re-open to through traffic July 18, according to a spokesman for the Florida Department of Transportation.

Tony Brownell, DOT project engineer, said the highway has been closed from US 17/92 to SR 434 since September, 1985.

Hubbard Construction Co. of Orlando is the contractor on the 2.4-mile project. The work includes widening the lanes to 12 feet, constructing four-foot paved shoulders on each side and making drainage improvements. The contract amount is $1,655,962.

During construction, traffic was detoured onto SR 434 and local access was provided through Winter Springs.

"We want to thank local residents and others who use this road for their patience during construction," said Brownell.

Lake Mary May Change Election

The annual election day in Lake Mary may be changed from September to November.

Lake Mary's city commission approved on first reading an ordinance amending the city charter to change the date of city elections during Thursday night's budget review meeting.

The ordinance proposes changing the date of elections from September to the first Tuesday following the first Monday in November. The document also provides for newly elected officials to take office at the first commission meeting following the election.

The commission is attempting to align the city's election day with the state-wide general election day.

Carrots And Sticks

Several months ago, the media were abuzz with speculation about an impending thaw between the United States and Poland. Pundits predicted that Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski's government would be less repressive, given the right kind of economic incentives from Washington.

Whereupon the Reagan administration dispatched former Ambassador Walter Stoessel to Warsaw. Soon thereafter, Poland was welcomed back into the International Monetary Fund, which clears the way for the communist country to borrow money at below-market interest rates.

Since then, however, the so-called thaw has failed to materialize. If anything, the Polish government has become even more belligerent toward Washington. Consider, for example, the events of the last two months.

When the United States offered powdered milk for Polish children after the Chernobyl nuclear accident, Warsaw accepted and then offered to send 5,000 sleeping bags to the homeless in New York City. This cynical response was followed by the Polish government's charge that U.S. diplomats had known the whereabouts of Zbigniew Bujak, a Solidarity underground leader, who was captured May 31. Warsaw then proceeded to say that the United States knew about Gen. Jaruzelski's plan to impose martial law in 1981, but withheld the information in the mistaken belief that Polish soldiers would not repress Polish workers and that the Soviet Union would be placed in a strategic bind. And late last month, Warsaw accused the United States of training Polish emigres as terrorists in New Jersey.

These propaganda plays set the stage for the recent Polish Communist Party Congress. Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev came to Warsaw to praise Gen. Jaruzelski for suppressing the independent Solidarity trade union and, thus, providing a "vital lesson" for other Eastern European countries.

So much for the fiction that economic carrots from Washington will prompt the general to become more benevolent.

Indeed, on June 29, Polish riot police pummeled thousands of demonstrators, who had gathered in the city of Poznan. They were there to observe the 30th anniversary of a workers' revolt that culminated in the nationwide strikes that gave rise to Solidarity. The general's thugs also tried to disrupt the monthly pro-Solidarity mass at St. Stanislaw Koska. Nevertheless, an estimated 8,000 persons came to worship at the grave of the Rev. Jerzy Popielusko, who was kidnaped and murdered by three secret police officers in 1984. The crowd also prayed for the release of more than 350 political prisoners who are confined in Polish jails.

Most of the prisoners are Solidarity activists, who are expressly excluded from the government's purported amnesty plans. These persons are to be kept behind bars as an object lesson to those who continue to support the outlawed, albeit popular, trade union. Such is the present situation in Poland, where repression remains the grim rule.

The Reagan administration has removed most of its economic sanctions against Poland since martial law was lifted there in 1984. Fortunately, the President has stopped short of restoring Poland's most-favored-nation trading status, which includes an exemption from export tariffs. Washington insists that such a move depends on a return to normal U.S.-Polish relations and an end to the government's repressive policies.

To Gen. Jaruzelski, unfortunately, normalization means crushing Solidarity, persecuting the Roman Catholic Church, and insulting the United States. The Reagan administration has extended the carrot of economic incentives to Poland without success. Now it should resort once again to the stick of economic sanctions.

WILLIAM RUSHER

Computers: 'If My Thumb Didn't Hurt ...'

True conservative that I am, I have always taken a secret pride in the fact that I wrote my columns (and, for that matter, five books as well) the old-fashioned way: by hand, on legal-length yellow paper. To be sure, this luxury required the services of a typist to decipher my scrawl and transcribe it; but I have been blessed with wonderfully competent secretaries for nearly 40 years, so that was never a pressing problem. In a pinch, for that matter, I am a fast hunt-and-peck typist myself.

But I hadn't typed in many years, and I was looking forward to pushing a pen across a yellow pad until I toppled over. And then, as regular readers of these dispatches know, about two years ago I developed arthritis in my right thumb, which makes writing marginally painful. I tried every known pill and ointment, as well as a copper bracelet and a Chinese herbal lotion. All of them helped a little, but none enough. At this writing, acupuncture and hand surgery are the only things that remain untried.

Meanwhile my friends were all urging me to switch to writing on a word processor — which is simply a typewriter keyboard with some fancy extra capabilities, connected to machines that enable you to view and correct on a video screen, "remember" electronically, print, or transmit over telephone wires whatever you type. For some reason that is devilishly hard to recall in retrospect, I resisted the idea bitterly. At bottom, I think, I just didn't want to be pushed around: i.e., forced to revise one of my oldest habits simply because the computer age was here and demanded my fealty.

There came a day, however, when my resistance crumpled. But which word processor should I buy? Luckily my friends were unanimous about this too: It must be the good old Dingbat 3, a dependable machine on which they themselves all had teed. Unfortunately it soon transpired that the man whose job it would be to train me to use a word processor simply wouldn't hear of my buying a Dingbat 3. It was, he said, a feeble-minded lemon that was being quietly phased out by its manufacturer. No, I must have the new and infinitely superior Interprong 15, which has the additional advantage of being compatible with IBM's long line of products.

So I succumbed and bought an Interprong 15, which turned out to consist of three pieces of machinery: a computer, a keyboard, and a monitor screen. But wait! I also obviously would have to have a printer, to print out the columns I composed on the monitor screen. And naturally I would need some sort of stand to house the entire array in. And when I sat in front of my monitor it slowly dawned on me that I would also need a new pair of bifocals, with inner lenses for viewing the keyboard and outer lenses of intermediate range for looking at the monitor.

Anyway, today, several thousand dollars later, I am the proud possessor of what looks like a huge brown refrigerator, which upon being opened can do the most miraculous things. I have written this column on the word processor. Punch a key or two and within three seconds it will give me the word count; almost as quickly, it will detect spelling or typographical errors. Then, on command, it will phone a number at my syndicate's office and transmit this entire column to it at the rate of about 10 words a second. Finally, it will print the blasted thing on paper in about two minutes more.

Am I a convert? Yes. Alexander Pope was right: "Be not the first by whom the new is tried, / Nor yet the last to lay the old aside." But if my thumb didn't hurt....

On The Silicon Slump

BEAVERTON, Ore. (NEA) — When Tektronix Inc. recently revealed plans to slash its work force by 2,000 positions, shock waves reverberated throughout the state.

Oregon's largest private employer, Tektronix has special status here because it launched the state's high-technology industry when it was founded 40 years ago. Today it remains the dominant firm in the "Silicon Forest" that has developed around Beaverton and Hillsboro just west of Portland.

But the phenomenal growth enjoyed by the industry during the 1970s has been replaced by a severe slump here and elsewhere in the country.

Virtually all of the initial easy sales to business users of computers were made long ago, while the industry's dream of placing a computer in every home has never materialized.

The industry's dominant firm, International Business Machines, is engaged in an unprecedented public dialogue about how to cope with sluggish growth.

For the first time in more than a decade, IBM's domestic work force will shrink this year. Industry observers say the company is unlikely to maintain its historic growth rates of 16 percent to 18 percent annually.

The computer and electronics business is neither dead nor dying, but the euphoria of earlier years has faded in the cities and states that assumed the industry would be a source of unceasing economic growth.

That shift is apparent even in the two areas of the country with the highest concentration of high-tech firms — California's Santa Clara Valley south of San Francisco and Massachusetts' Route 128 surrounding Boston.

The question of whether the industry is merely at the bottom of a business cycle or is undergoing a structural change is being debated not only in California's "Silicon Valley" but also in Arizona's "Silicon Desert," Colorado's "Silicon Mountain" and Louisiana's "Silicon Bayou."

The situation in Oregon's Silicon Forest is typical. The number of high-tech companies increased tenfold in a decade — from 15 in 1975 to 150 in 1985 — ranking the Portland metropolitan area 10th among the industry's favorite locations in the United States.

JACK ANDERSON

The Fed Knows How To Party

By Jack Anderson
And Joseph Spear

WASHINGTON — The old cartoon stereotype of bankers — top-hatted fat men in striped pants, chomping cigars and riding around in long limousines — is being given credibility by the Lucullan tastes of the Federal Reserve System.

Internal Fed documents obtained by our associate Michael Binstein suggest that the central bank could use a few financial watchdogs prowling through its marbled halls. Some august members of the Fed are evidently trying to make Nero look like a skinflint.

Consider the imperial expenditures made by some of the 12 Federal Reserve Banks across the country during a recent 18-month period. And keep in mind that these extravaganzas were compiled by the Fed's board of governors in Washington — hardly a hostile junkyard dog. Here are the most odoriferous examples of waste:

— San Francisco. The regional reserve bank spent an astonishing $45,131 in travel expenses and other costs for various functions honoring the retirement of the bank president. An additional $6,772 was spent for a function jointly honoring the outgoing president and his successor.

— For meetings in Hawaii and Alaska, the San Francisco regional Fed laid out $60,466 for travel and other expenses involved in two meetings of the nine-member board of directors.

— The bill for a single San Francisco directors' meeting and dinner in Laguna Niguel, Calif., was $5,959. (That's for nine board directors, remember.) There was a more modest directors' meeting and dinner in Las Vegas ($1,700) and a mere $375 for boat rental in connection with an "official off-site planning meeting" in Los Angeles, according to the Board of Governors' investigation.

— The Chicago regional board of directors spent $6,618 for a meeting at Calloway Gardens in Pine Mountain, Ga. — far outside the board's territory.

— The Dallas board of directors went even farther afield, spending $16,311 on its nine-member junket to New York City. The tab included a $3,293.88 payment to one of the directors, without a statement of expenses, for the cost of a dinner for 40 people at a club of which his brother is a member.

— The Cleveland regional board of directors spent $6,609 on a dinner for bank employees and guests.

The Fed's board of governors in Washington is responsible for oversight of the regional banks, and has laid down an official policy of budgetary restraint. But a recent internal Fed memo outlining the profligate spending by several of the 12 regional banks, acknowledged resistance to economizing out in the boondocks.

"Some reserve banks ... have commented that the policy is too restrictive for today's ... environment," the memo states. It adds that reviews of reserve bank expenditures by headquarters examiners over the past two years "have resulted in concerns that some reserve banks may either not fully understand or have at times disregarded the policy."

This charitable view of the satraps' extravagance was coupled with a warning that might conceivably give pause to some of the free spenders out in the field. "Inquiries on expenditures continue to demonstrate congressional interest in the efficiency of reserve bank operations."

CHUCK STONE

Ripe For Revolution

July's summer torpor seems an ironic breeding ground for freedom's rambunctious behavior.

But France's celebration of its Bastille Day, only 10 days after this year's historic Fourth of July festivities, is another reminder of July's unique status as "the month of freedom."

Or it just may mean that summertime is revolution time.

England's Magna Charta was signed in June. South Africa's Soweto rebellion also was in June.

Odd, isn't it, how we Americans exalt freedom and proclaim our readiness to die for it, yet deny that same privilege to black South Africans. President Reagan conducts his symphony of hypocrisy, adorning his sunshine patriotism "with the most splendid eloquence."

During our heart-throbbing tribute to the Statue of Liberty's 100th anniversary, the president tied America's destiny to France's with a lovely phrase when he called that nation "the midwife of our liberty." He then recalled that "in two world wars, America stood with France as she fought for her life — and civilization."

We were repaying a debt. In America's Revolutionary War, many Frenchmen distinguished themselves on our battlefields. Democracy has thrived on this selfless exchange of life for liberty.

Once having acquired freedom, however, both nations systematically prohibited it for others in Asia and Africa.

Today, most elementary school students can recognize the justification for America's existence: "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal. ... Whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or abolish it and institute a new government."

Yet these students' mothers and fathers would quickly reject this as 1776 heretical nonsense when applied to South Africa in 1986.

The French found a similar rationale for Bastille Day in Rousseau's statement that "the general will... of the whole body" actually "force" a person to be free.

So far, 24 million black South Africans, held in bondage by 4.8 million whites, have been unable to translate the wisdom of Jefferson or Rousseau into the right to vote.

At this point I almost sound as if I'm teaching Political Science 101. If so, my pedagogy is a flaw. Theories too easily become a cosmetic for action.

In just this way, the average American is seduced into arguing the merits of economic sanctions vs. divestment or the Sullivan principles' apologetics for apartheid. The right of black South Africans to overthrow Der Fuhrer Botha — as the American colonists did King George III or the French, King Louis XVI — doesn't even figure as a viable alternative.

After 210 comfortable years of independence, Americans have forgotten that freedom is non-negotiable. The Boston Tea Party was not an exercise in collective bargaining.

Bishop Tutu seems to understand and appreciate that part of our heritage more than many of us.

DON GRAFF

Cubans' Liberty Denied

It is a rare issue indeed on which I find myself marching to the same drummer as the Heritage Foundation.

There is one, however, on which we are all but in lockstep.

The vehemently conservative Washington-based think tank, which owes its existence to a profitable Rocky Mountain brewery, is exercised about the barring of the U.S. door to "thousands of deserving Cubans." And rightly so.

Here's the background. In 1984, Cuba agreed to take back from the United States some 2,700 undesirables — criminals and mental patients — who had been among the 129,000 Cubans in the 1980 Mariel exodus. For its part, the United States agreed to the resumption of normal immigration. We were to accept up to 20,000 Cubans annually, plus 3,000 in a one-shot special category. These were political prisoners and their families.

But in May 1985, Fidel Castro, enraged when Radio Marti began broadcasting to Cuba, announced he would accept no more Mariel rejects. Radio Marti is the U.S.-financed station that is supposed to be for Cuba what Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty are for Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union.

But, as the Heritage Foundation notes, Castro reneged on only the Mariel part of the deal. He took no action to prevent departure of the political prisoners and other Cubans.

The U.S. government did that. In retaliation, it halted visa processing at the U.S. Interests Section of the Swiss Embassy in Havana (in effect, the American embassy in Cuba, staffed by Americans).

Only a few Cubans have since been legally admitted to this country, most of those thanks to the political sponsorship of people such as Sen. Edward Kennedy. (It took real guts on the part of someone at Heritage to include that acknowledgment. The typewriters and photocopiers at 214 Massachusetts Ave., N.E., must have been smoking.)

But to continue — the foundation finds the U.S. response "totally inconsistent" with American ideals of freedom and justice:

"By refusing to grant asylum to the victims of Cuba's communist dictatorship, the U.S. is punishing not Fidel Castro but the thousands of brave men and women who already have endured years of suffering in the dictator's jails."

Battery On Police Officer Charged

Sanford police, stopped by a neighbor who said a woman was screaming at #94 Exter Court, Sanford, heard the screams too at about 9:20 p.m. Tuesday.

As police approached, a woman and child came out of that home and closed the door. Police knocked on the door and identified themselves. The suspect allegedly shoved the door open and hit a policeman on the arm with the door knocking him from the steps.

Police entered the home and the suspect reportedly threatened police and swung a box fan at them.

Don McAllister, no age or address listed, was arrested at 9:26 p.m. Tuesday. He was charged with battery on a police officer and was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

WOMAN DRAGGED

A man, who allegedly beat his wife and dragged her down the road in a dispute, which he reportedly said developed because, "she keeps bringing the neighbors' kids over and he can't feed them," has been charged with battery.

Sanford police reported that Vanya Perkins had cuts and scrapes on her palms and elbows.

Andrew Perkins, 28, of 413 N. Orange Ave., Sanford, was arrested at his home at 12:29 a.m. Wednesday. He was being held in lieu of $500 bond.

RAKE BATTERY

Sanford police reported charging a 39-year-old Sanford man with aggravated battery after he allegedly battered his girlfriend with a rake at about 11:50 p.m. Tuesday.

Wanda Jackson had bruises on her arm and a cut leg, police said.

Charles Edward, of 15511 Southwest Road, was arrested at his home at 12:51 a.m. Wednesday. He was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

CB RADIO TRADE

A 43-year-old Orlando man, who allegedly took the citizens band radio of a Seminole County man and traded it for other radios, has been charged with theft.

Seminole County sheriff's deputies who charged the man said he had allegedly traded the $300 radio for other radios valued at a total of $100. Thomas Bandy of 1805 Baumley Road, Chuluota, told deputies he loaned his radio to the suspect Feb. 10 and when he asked for it the man said it was being repaired. The suspect's wife later told Bandy the name of the man to whom her husband had allegedly traded his radio, a sheriff's report said.

Larry Gene Brewster, who was already a Seminole County jail inmate, had the theft charge added at about 9 a.m. Tuesday. He was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond on that charge.

DUI ARRESTS

The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—Margaret Smith Cornwell, 36, of Orlando, was arrested by a Seminole County sheriff's deputy after Oviedo police stopped her car on State Road 434, Oviedo, at 9:49 p.m. Tuesday.

—James Clinton Stewart, 33, of 920 Orienta Ave., Altamonte Springs, at 2:13 a.m. Wednesday after a Casselberry policeman stopped his car on State Road 436, because the vehicle had a faulty tail light.

Fall.

That's What Your Electric Bill May Do. And When.

This fall, your Florida Power bill may go down... and not just because mild autumn weather means less air conditioning or heating. We have asked the Public Service Commission to approve a lower fuel charge (the amount we pay for the fuel that provides your power.) Recently, we've managed some real fuel cost savings. Because we charge you exactly what it costs us, you save money when we do. If we get approval, this October you'll see one of the largest fuel charge decreases in our history—more than $9.00 a month for a typical residential customer who uses 1,000 kilowatt-hours. Then you can enjoy watching your power bills take a cue from the season... and fall.

Fugitive Captured

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

A Winter Park man wanted in Orange County on charges of attempted murder, kidnapping, rape and robbery was arrested in Sanford early today along with four Sanford residents who have been charged with harboring a fugitive and being accessories after the fact.

The Winter Park man, James Vincent Lorefice, 21, of 7250 Grove Ave., was being sought by Orange County lawmen in connection with the abduction and rape of a 30-year-old woman on June 28.

Orange County sheriff's spokesman Jim Solomons said today the woman was taken from the parking lot of a South Orange Blossom Trail night spot in the early morning of June 28. The abductor took her to a house under construction in Southwest Orange county where she was raped, brutally beaten and left for dead.

On July 2, lawmen traced the suspect to a Caselberry home, where he fled from police and was the object of a manhunt involving Orange and Seminole county sheriff's deputies and Caselberry and Longwood police, Solomons said. He added that the same man may be a suspect in a Caselberry rape.

Lorefice was arrested at 12:55 a.m. today on Eighth Avenue in Sanford, near the home at 811 Elm Avenue where three of the others arrested live.

City/County Investigation Bureau agents reported that they were watching that home at 6:45 p.m. Wednesday when Lorefice and the others arrested got in a car and left. The suspects returned at about 11:20 p.m. and dropped Lorefice off in an alley behind Elm Avenue, before they continued on to the home at 811 Elm Avenue, a CCIB report said.

In a few minutes Lorefice joined the other suspects outside the home and one of the men left in the car. He was followed by lawmen to Domino's Pizza on U.S. Highway 17-92, Sanford.

At Domino's Michael Jay Muscato, 19, of Pineridge Apartments, Airport Blvd., Sanford, was arrested as an accessory after the fact. He has been released on bond.

In the meantime, the other suspects entered the Elm Avenue home, which was surrounded and entered by CCIB agents and Sanford police, the report said.

Lorefice fled on foot. He crawled under neighboring homes, but was captured on Elm Street.

The occupants of the home were read their rights and one of the women, Sandra Marie Miller Stutta, 22, of that address, who was also charged with possession of cocaine and carrying a concealed .25-caliber handgun, reportedly told police that all of the other suspects knew that Lorefice was a wanted man.

That brought charges of harboring a fugitive and accessory after the fact against her and Yvonne Marie Rice, 22, and Michael Robert Rice, 21, who also live at 811 Elm St., the report said.

Ms. Stutta and the Rices were being held in lieu of $1,000 bond each and Lorefice was being held without bond in the Seminole County Jail for Orange County.

Ms. Stutta reportedly told lawmen that the group had let Lorefice out of their car in the alley just in case their home was being watched by police, the report said.

arguments by Assistant State Attorney Bill Cato that their testimony is relevant to the case.

Gordon maintains that after the 1984 sale of cocaine, he was approached by undercover agents who struck a deal with him. For his cooperation as an informant, they would not press charges and would keep the situation secret so his teaching certificate would not be in jeopardy.

He says he did cooperate and that a few weeks later he fulfilled his agreement and has continued to do so.

The sheriff's department, however, apparently has reason to believe otherwise and arrested Gordon on the cocaine charges in April.

Gordon has lost his teaching job over the incident.

RESOLUTION #79
A RESOLUTION OF THE CITY OF ALTAMONTE SPRINGS, FLORIDA, PROVIDING FOR PAVING AND DRAINAGE IMPROVEMENTS TO JASMINE ROAD BETWEEN BOSTON AVENUE AND STATE ROAD 436, A DISTANCE OF APPROXIMATELY 1200 FEET, IN THE CITY OF ALTAMONTE SPRINGS, FLORIDA, AND PROVIDING FOR THE ASSESSMENT OF THE COST THEREOF AGAINST THE ABUTTING PROPERTY OWNERS SPECIALLY BENEFITING BY SUCH IMPROVEMENTS.

WHEREAS, the City Commission of the City of Altamonte Springs, deems it advisable to construct paving and drainage improvements to Jasmine Road between Boston Avenue and State Road 436, a distance of approximately 1200 feet;

WHEREAS, all improvements shall be done in compliance with the plans, specifications and estimates on file with the City of Altamonte Springs, Florida, which said plans, specifications and estimates constitute the plans, specifications and estimates for all said improvements;

NOW, THEREFORE, be it enacted by the City Commission of the City of Altamonte Springs, Florida, as follows:

That the City Commission of the City of Altamonte Springs, Florida, deems it advisable as a necessary public improvement to construct paving and drainage improvements to Jasmine Road between Boston Avenue and State Road 436, a distance of approximately 1200 feet.

That all said improvements shall be done in strict compliance with the plans, specifications and estimates of the cost of said improvements now on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Altamonte Springs, Florida, which said plans, specifications and estimates are hereby approved by the City Commission of the City of Altamonte Springs, Florida, does hereby declare the necessity for the construction of Jasmine Road as described aforesaid as a necessary public improvement.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED:
That the total cost of said improvements including cost of all labor and materials is estimated to be $164,000.00 and the sum of One Hundred Sixty-four Thousand Dollars ($164,000.00) to be assessed against all the lots and lands adjoining and contiguous or bounding and abutting upon such improvements or specially benefited thereby and further designated by the assessment plat now on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Altamonte Springs, Florida, which said assessment plat is hereby approved by the City Commission of the City of Altamonte Springs, Florida.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED:
That the determination of the City Commission that all lots and lands adjoining and contiguous or bounding and abutting upon the said improvements will be especially benefited by said improvements provided for in this Resolution; and that the special assessments to be made against all lots and lands located on Jasmine Road between Boston Avenue and State Road 436, a distance of approximately 1200 feet, aforesaid adjoining and contiguous or bounding and abutting upon such contemplated improvements shall be made upon an equal basis, that is to say, that in the preparation of the special assessment roll covering the contemplated improvements such special benefits shall be determined and prorated according to an equal basis of the respective properties adjoining and contiguous or bounding and abutting upon such improvements especially benefited by said improvements.

That the City Clerk of the City of Altamonte Springs, Florida, in accordance with the provisions of law, shall proceed to make and prepare a special assessment roll, assessing the special benefits to be received as the results of said improvements against the lots and lands adjoining and contiguous or bounding and abutting said improvements, being said special assessment against the respective properties to be especially assessed upon the cost of such improvements as determined by this Resolution and the amount determined by this Resolution to be assessed against the said property.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED:
That the special assessments provided by this Resolution shall be payable at the option of the property owners as follows:

In cash, within thirty (30) days of the confirmation of the special assessment roll or in an annual installment, said deferred payment to bear interest at the rate of eight percent (8%) per annum, the deferred payment, plus interest to be due and payable on (1) year from the date of confirmation of said assessment roll.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED:
That this Resolution shall be published once a week for a period of two (2) weeks in the Evening Herald, a newspaper of general circulation in Seminole County, Florida.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED:
That this Resolution shall be and become effective immediately from and after its passage and adoption.

PASSED AND ADOPTED THIS --- DAY OF ---, A.D. 1986.

Ocala Ousts Sanford

By Chris Piater
Herald Sports Writer

LEESBURG — Down, 4-3, going into the bottom of the fifth inning, the Sanford Americans were in a familiar position. However, the Americans were unable to summon up the last-inning magic that carried them to four straight victories in the sub-district.

A pair of baserunning mistakes and four sixth-inning errors enabled Ocala Highlands to claim a 6-3 victory over the Americans Wednesday night in the losers' bracket final of the Florida Little Major League District 4 Tournament at the Leesburg complex.

The loss eliminates Sanford American while Ocala advances to the tournament finals against unbeaten Ormond Beach. Ocala must win two games to take the title while Ormond needs just one win. The tournament champion advances to the State Tournament later this month at Jacksonville.

"We didn't hit the ball and didn't play as well as we can," Sanford American manager Otis Raines said. "We really haven't hit well since the next to last game in the sub-district."

Ocala played its usual nothing-overwhelming but fundamentally sound ballgame. Highlands made just one error and pitcher Mike Lingle kept Sanford off balance all night with his curveball.

"We figured second place would be a good showing for us in this tournament," Ocala coach Mike Lingle Sr. said. "Ormond Beach is really a tough team and for us to beat them we have to be at our best and catch them a little off."

Ocala jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the top of the first off Sanford starter Britt Henderson. Shane Dorrity drew a walk to lead off and, with one out, Ricky Henry singled to left. Dorrity moved to third on a passed ball and scored when Jason Fondren grounded out to second baseman Anthony "Redman" Roberts.

Sanford came back with two runs in the bottom of the first. With one out, Roberts launched a 2-2 curve over the fence in left center for his second homer in tournament play. Mike Maples then stepped up and unloaded a 2-0 fastball well over the fence in straight away center for a 2-1 Sanford lead. It was Maples' sixth homer in seven games.

After a scoreless second inning, Ocala knocked out Henderson with four straight hits in the top of the third. Henry ripped Henderson's first pitch of the frame to left for a single and Fondren drilled the next pitch to the fence in left center for a double. Larry Mills then beat out a bunt for a single that loaded the bases with no outs.

Jason Pelham then stepped up and lined a shot down the left field line for a double that scored Henry and Fondren for a 3-2 Ocala lead. Henderson was then lifted with Roberts coming on in relief.

Roberts, who tossed a two-hitter against the same Ocala team on Monday, got Chad Monroe for the first out but Mark Ehman hit a long fly to center to score Mills for a 4-2 lead.

Sanford pulled within 4-3 in the bottom of the fourth. With two outs, Leroy Keltt worked Lingle for a walk. Bill Kerns followed with a single to center and Matt Wilk drew a walk to load the bases. Keltt then scored on Roberts' infield single.

Roberts held Ocala scoreless on no hits in the fourth and fifth frames. In the bottom of the fifth, the Americans had an excellent opportunity to at least tie the game but came away empty.

Corey Williams singled to left to start off the inning and Ric Perez then went in as a pinch runner. With one out, Al Holt's grounder to short was booted and Perez tried to go to third base but was thrown out by about five steps by center fielder Mills. Holt, who took second on the play, advanced to third on a wild pitch but Lingle got out of the jam by slipping a curve past Tyrone Williams for strike three.

Ocala picked up a pair of unearned runs in the top of the sixth for a 6-3 lead. Ehman singled to center and dashed to second when the ball got by the center fielder to start off the inning. Lingle then dropped a bunt down the third base line

Controlled Reid Dominates NSB

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Sanford's Anton "Mr. K" Reid doesn't have any trouble collecting strikeouts. He throws the baseball with good velocity and confuses the batters with a nifty curveball.

There are days, however, when Reid's fastball wrinkles the backstop and his curveball causes his catcher's toes discomfort. Lack of control was about the only thing which hung losses on the Knight of Columbus hurler during the Sanford Junior League regular season.

Wednesday against New Smyrna Beach/Edgewater, nevertheless, was not a day of wildness. It was a day on control — almost perfect control. Reid walked just one and struck out 11 as Sanford bopped NSB/Edgewater, 9-1, in Florida Junior Major League District 4 Baseball Tournament before 139 fans at Chase Park.

The victory moves Sanford into another losers' bracket game tonight at 8 against Holly Hill. Holly Hill was credited with a 7-0 forfeit win in Wednesday's second game when Daytona Beach conceded. Daytona trailed, 29-4, in the bottom of the fourth inning. Sanford Recreation Department official Dean Smith said since the game did not go the required 4 1/2 innings, it was not a complete game and reverted to the 7-0 forfeit score.

Sanford righthander George Frison will pitch against Holly Hill, which slipped past New Smyrna Monday, 9-8. Tonight's winners' bracket final pits Ormond Beach against Port Orange at 8. NSB/Edgewater and Daytona Beach were eliminated.

Unlike in Monday's 9-2 opening loss to Ormond, Sanford was more at ease Wednesday. "We looked more relaxed tonight," Sanford Manager Duane

Baseball

LaFollette said. "The kids put the bat on the ball, the bench got some key hits and Anton pitched real well."

Reid was touched for a first-inning tally and blanked the visitors thereafter. He allowed just five hits and only two after the second inning. He retired 10 of 11 hitters through the middle innings.

"Anton's fastball was his best pitch tonight," catcher Julius Bennett said. "It was real effective on the outside corner. We just threw his curve when we got ahead of the hitters."

Reid said he was mentally prepared to take care of NSB. "I was really ready for this game," he said. "When we got those (five) runs in the first, it gave me that much more confidence."

After NSB picked up a 1-0 first-inning edge on Kelly Case's single, stolen base and a base hit by Trey Peterson, Sanford jumped on the Case brothers — Tracey and Kelly — for five big ones in the bottom of the frame.

Leadoff man James Jackson walked, stole second and moved to third when the throw sailed into center field. Oscar Edwards also walked and stole second. New Smyrna switched Cases at that juncture as Kelly came on to pitch and Tracey went to first base.

Raines' Timing Exact For Free-Agent Bundle

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Tim Raines may not think he's nationwide — but it's just a matter of time. The way the Expos left fielder is putting numbers on the board even baseball-drab Montreal is bound to wake up and realize what it has before long.

Raines, a 1977 Seminole High graduate, is in the midst of his best season and it couldn't have come at a better time. The six-year veteran will become a free agent at the end of the season. If he continues to play at his present level, even the alleged owners' collusion to keep down free-agent spending wouldn't keep teams from lining Raines' pockets with green.

Tom Reich, Raines' agent, said if anybody can get the owners to resume the bidding wars, it's Raines. "Tim is an ideal client. If owners don't twitch when he goes on the market, you'll have a helluva story," Reich said last week in USA Today.

Even though Raines finished fourth and didn't earn a starting slot in the fans' vote for the All-Star Game, the 26-year-old outfielder was named for the sixth consecutive year.

Cincinnati manager Pete Rose and San Diego skipper Steve Boros have gone on record, calling him the best player in the N.L. St. Louis mentor Whitey Herzog rates him the best leadoff man in either league.

N.L. Baseball

The computer likes him, too. The Seagram Sports Award annually honors the best player in the game as determined by a totally objective computer system that analyzes data provided the Elias Sports Bureau. Among the N.L. outfielders, Raines ranks the highest with a 66.88 percentage. Tony Gwynn (65.76) was second and Dave Parker (64.61) third. Only teammate Hubie Brooks (68.36), Mike Schmidt (69.05) and Fernando Valenzuela (73.15) ranked higher than Raines.

The computer has great statistics on which to feed. The adjacent chart gauges Raines among the leaders. Here's look at how he stands:

On-Base Percentage: First — .408. Probably Raines' greatest strength. He has a trained eye at the plate and seldom swings at bad pitches. Being consistent at both sides of the plate — left-handed (.302) and righthanded (.288) — makes him less susceptible to slumps.

Stolen Bases: Third — 41. This figure could be higher, but Raines missed five games with injury. Also, he's only been caught four times. His career total, 432 steals in 496 attempts is a success ratio of 87 percent, tops in major-league history.

Beman Tees Up For Open

TURNBERRY, Scotland (UPI) — POA Tour Commissioner Deane Beman gets an insider's look at the British Open when the tournament begins today.

Beman, 48, was once a successful amateur golfer. Later he was a pro for six years, winning four tournaments. Now he has picked the 115th British Open to come out of retirement.

"My ambition would be no different than anybody who entered in the tournament," he said.

Beman will be close by should any players complain over the cramped fairways and heavy rough that skirts the par-70 Ailsa Course.

"What would happen if someone buried (the ball) in the rough and broke their wrist or tore tendons or something like that?" joked Greg Norman of Australia, one of the tournament favorites. "Do they have any recourse against tournament organizers?"

In any case, the 6,957-yard course will be tough if the wind blows because the fairways are narrow and the rough is deep and heavy.

Severiano Ballesteros of Spain, winner of his past four European Tour events, is one possibility.

"At the Open, you're lucky to be able to predict you'll be able to play on four days," Jack Nicklaus said. "The British Open, always played on a links course, is never a tournament for the faint-hearted or the rash player."

Proper Depth Is Key For Deep-Water Bass Trolling

Many bass anglers feel comfortable tossing their lures at visible structures such as weed beds or fallen timber. This type of fishing keeps the angler alert and it is very effective in the spring and in the fall.

In the heat of the summer and the cold of the winter, however, bass often retreat into the sanctuary of deeper water. They spend several months each year in this deep water, and are ignored by most anglers.

Trolling is an extremely effective method of harvesting these forgotten deep water bass. Trolling is not for anglers who are too lazy to work the shoreline. It takes know-how, experience, and persistence. Anglers who take the time to master the art of trolling can be rewarded with large stringers of huge bass.

Getting your lure to the right depth is the single most important aspect of successful trolling. The depth reached by a trolled lure depends on several variables, the first being lure design. In general, lures with large diving lips will go deeper than those with small lips. High density lures, such as metal or solid plastic models, will go deeper than buoyant plugs made of wood or hollow plastic.

A second factor determining plug depth is line length. The farther back your lure is from the boat, the deeper it will run.

Jim Shupe
GOING FISHING?

Line diameter is also a factor in lure control. Thinner lines provide less water resistance and will allow the lure to reach greater depths. Ten- to 15-pound test monofilament is more than adequate for open-water bass fishing. Adding weight to the line is an obvious way of controlling depth. Simple twist-on sinkers or split shot can add several feet to the running depth of a lure.

Boat speed affects both lure depth and action. Go too slowly and your lure never attains maximum action or depth. If you go too fast, the lure will lose its "grip" on the water and plane to the surface.

Once you have selected the proper lure, the right line, and the correct boat speed, you are almost ready to catch deep water bass. You must next determine where to fish. You can locate likely trolling areas by checking contour maps of the chosen lake. Look for submerged ridges, old river channels and creek beds and other bassy-looking spots. Remember that you are looking for some different feature that will attract and hold bass.

The trick in locating bass by trolling is to probe the structure at various depths and with different combinations of tackle until you begin to catch fish.

You might start working the selected area with two lures of different shape and color, but with similar depth capabilities. Let our your first lure until it scrapes the bottom. Once it hits the bottom, reel it in a few feet. Put your rod in a rod holder angled to the side of the boat about 45 degrees. Watch your

Lamb Hurls 1-Hitter, Juniors Romp

By Mark Blythe
Special to the Herald

EUSTIS — Pitching.
Chuck "Lambo" Lamb gave the Altamonte Juniors all they needed Wednesday night, hurling a one-hitter with five strikeouts and three walks as Altamonte concluded its waltz through the District 14, Division 2 Junior League All-Star Baseball Tournament with a 26-0 victory over hapless Deltona before 101 fans at the Eustis Little League Complex.
Altamonte has outscored its four opponents, 103-9. Manager Duke Pleicones' powerhouse will play Pine Hills or Windermere Friday night at 7 at Rolling Hills for the District 14 final. Pine Hills defeated Windermere, 13-8, Wednesday which forces a winner-take-all game tonight. A victory advances Altamonte to the sectional at Rollings Hills Monday.
"The only question we had when we started the tournament was if the pitchers could get the ball over the plate," Pleicones said. "So far they've come through and we're winning."

Baseball

"Chuck (Lamb) pitched super and came through for us big tonight. All the pitchers have. The team is confident right now, but we'll have to keep them down a little because we know the competition will get much tougher."
Taking control from the outset, Lamb was never seriously threatened by any kind of rally, allowing only one base runner throughout the first three innings.
Altamonte started off the barrage of scoring in the first, scoring 10 times and sending 16 batters to the plate. Terry "Downtown" Brown and Neill James stroked back-to-back doubles to highlight the frame.
Brown's two-bagger went by the shortstop and rolled to the fence as he cleared the bases for three RBIs. James followed with a towering shot that bounced off the fence and chased Brown home for 4-0 lead.
In the second, Altamonte picked up five more as Jeff Jackson led the inning off with a single before Charlie Curley reached on a walk. T.J. Guiffreda then reached on a fielder's choice and back-to-back singles by James and Jared Soto ignited the rout.
Picking up six more runs in the third and five in the fourth Altamonte breezed as it rapped out 13 hits and stole seven bases to aid in the scoring column.
Only in the fourth did Deltona start to get to Lamb as it was able to load the bases. Tony Niemesh walked but was called out when a grounder by Ed Newhouser hit him between first and second. That grounder accounted for the only hit for Deltona. John Monette then reached on an error, another walk then put Lamb in the only jam of the night. The inning ended when he was able to get Shane Taylor to ground out to first.
"My curveball was really working tonight, but I threw my fastball just as many times," the crafty righthander said. "I didn't know I was pitching until tonight, but I was confident because we had played them before and knew their hitters."

Offensively, Chris Pleicones drew six walks and scored four times while Brown who had two hits and two walks also circled the bases four times.
"We need to make sure we don't get too high and mighty," Pleicones added. "The team is playing great and sticking to playing team ball, and that's what will need when we face the tougher teams."

Rolling Hills Uses American Errors For Win

By Scott Sander
Herald Sports Writer

ORANGE CITY — Manager Rudy Callahan's Altamonte Americans have romped over nearly all of the teams they have encountered in the District 14 Little Major All-Star Baseball Tournament field.
Then came Wednesday and Rolling Hills in the District 14 final.
Rolling Hills outplayed Altamonte in every aspect of the game, handing the Americans a 10-3 setback before 185 fans at Wally Hancock Field.
Both teams came into the contest undefeated, thus a best-of-three series to decide the district championship is needed. The two squads will square off again tonight at 7 in Orange City.
"We are very thankful that we could beat a team with a reputation like Altamonte's," Rolling Hills manager Bob McDonald said. "We have been playing super ball lately and hopefully we will keep it up."
Callahan said Altamonte actually beat itself as the Americans committed five costly errors and just played an all-around poor game.
"Everyone has a bad game," Callahan said. "We'll gonna win the next one for sure."
Callahan said that Billy Moore will take the mound tonight. McDonald said that he will make a pitching decision at game time.
Both teams posted six hits, but it was the defensive miscues of Altamonte that proved to be the difference in the game.
Rolling Hills pitcher Doug Beard whiffed 11 and posted his third victory of the tournament. "I felt pretty good out there tonight," Beard said after the game. "I got in a few jams but luckily I got out of most of them."
Altamonte ace pitcher Kevin "The Goose" Morro took the loss while fanning eight and walking seven.
After a scoreless first inning, Rolling Hills tallied first with a run in the top of the second frame. After two out, Bobby Belleveau and James Batson walked. Catcher Corey Booth followed with a bloop single to right that scored Belleveau.
Altamonte tied the game in the bottom of the inning. Marty Horwitz led off with a single to left. He took second on a wild pitch. Morro was hit by a pitch. Horwitz and Morro took second and third on a wild pitch. Horwitz scored on Beard's third wild pitch.
In the top of the fourth, Rolling Hills added another run. Batson led off with a grounder to second baseman Pablo Abreu. Abreu booted the ball for an error and it rolled into right field. Right fielder Scott Johnston picked up the ball and tried to throw Batson out at second but instead threw the ball wide of the bag. Batson took third on a passed ball. Booth then hit a grounder to Abreu who bobbled the ball, allowing Batson to score for a 2-1 edge.
Altamonte took the lead in the bottom of the fourth inning with a pair of runs. Morro led off the inning by getting beamed for the second time. Andrew Thompson then singled to right. He was tagged out when he tried to go to second, though, as Morro went to third. Brian Dangel reached on an infield hit that scored Morro. Dangel took second on a passed ball and third on a sacrifice bunt. Abreu nubbled a ball down the first base line to score Dangel for a 3-2 lead.
Rolling Hills blew the game open with two runs in the fifth and four in the sixth.
In the sixth, three walks set the table for Chad Hoyt who boomed a three-run triple into the right field corner to lee the game. Hoyt scored on a groundout to assure the win.
"We played just about as bad as possible," Callahan said. "We're just going to have to forget this game and win the next two."

Stufflet, Altamonte Shackle Ocoee, 5-0

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Shane "Right Stuff" Stufflet tossed a three-hitter and received excellent defensive support Wednesday night as the Altamonte Senior All-Stars blanked Ocoee, 5-0, in the first game of the best of three District 14 All-Star Tournament finals at the Deltona Little League complex.
Altamonte needs one more win to wrap up the District 14 title while Ocoee must come back with two straight victories. The two teams meet again tonight at 7 at Deltona with a third game, if necessary Friday night.
If Altamonte wins, it advances to the Section 1 Tournament beginning Monday at Deltona. Altamonte would open Monday night at 7 against the District 11 winner.
While Stufflet threw goose eggs at Ocoee all night, Altamonte backed him with two runs early and sewed up the win with three in the top of the seventh. Stufflet allowed three hits, struck out one and walked three and the defense committed just one error. Ocoee had just one base runner reach third.
Hector Allvalo went the distance for Ocoee, allowing nine hits, striking out six and walking three.
Altamonte took a 1-0 lead in the top of the first when Stufflet walked, stole second and scored what turned out to be the only run Altamonte needed on Wes Weger's base hit.
The Senior All-Stars upped the lead to 2-0 in the third when Aaron "The Sheik" Iatarola walked, advanced to second on a fly out and scored on Trevor Moore's single.
Altamonte pushed the lead to 5-0 with three runs in the top of the seventh. Stufflet reached on a two-base error and scored on Iatarola's single to make it 3-0. Iatarola then scored on Weger's base hit and Jason Vartek followed with a double to chase home Weger.
Weger had two RBI singles to lead the Altamonte offense while Moore and Pat DeLuca added two hits each. Vartek had an RBI double and Carlos Abreu and Iatarola each had a single.

Red Sox Suspend Boyd After Charges Of Attack

Baseball

BOSTON (UPI) — Boston Red Sox pitcher Dennis "Old Can" Boyd will be staying home while his team begins a lengthy road trip today, awaiting a July 29 court hearing on charges he attacked two Chelsea police officers.
Boyd was suspended indefinitely Wednesday when Chelsea police sought charges of disorderly conduct and assault and battery against him after an altercation outside his home Tuesday night.
Police said Boyd's teammate, shortstop Rey Quinones, and Boyd's wife Karen were also involved in the scuffle, but would not be charged.

In a prepared statement, Red Sox general manager Lou Gorman said Boyd was suspended "until such time as certain issues are clarified to the satisfaction of the Red Sox organization."
Gorman said the decision to suspend Boyd had been made Tuesday.
"(Red Sox co-owner) Haywood (Sullivan) and I thought there were certain issues that needed to be resolved," Gorman said. "We were concerned about his overall welfare. We talked about maybe he needed some more days off. We felt the only action to take was to keep the suspension."

HOWE PASSES TEST
SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI) — Pitcher Steve Howe passed his latest drug test but says he may quit baseball anyway.
The former star reliever for the Los Angeles Dodgers was asked to retire by his minor-league club — the San Jose Bees of the California League — because he tested positively for drugs.

However, another test by the club late Monday night showed no traces of drugs.
But by the time the latest urinalysis result was announced, Howe had returned to his Montana home and had been suspended by California League president Joe Gagliardi.
Asked if he denied using cocaine, Howe said: "For the record, I don't know what's going on. I don't know why this keeps happening at the wrong time."

anything not hit sharply in the infield is a potential base hit.
•Triples: Third — 6. Raines had 13 triples last year and stands a good chance to go past that figure. His excellent speed turns doubles into triples in the bigger ballparks.
•Runs: Third — 51. This total could be higher, but Andre Dawson missed three weeks and Brooks has been mainly responsible. Raines led the league in runs in '83 and could do it again.
•Doubles: Fifth — 21. Raines' career high is 38 in '84 and he should go over that. Von Hayes lead with 25. Raines has 30 or more doubles a year for the past four years.
•Slugging Percentage: Sixth — .497. Easily Raines' most improved category. A compact 5-6, 180-pounder, Raines has matured physically and picks his spots when to hit with power. He has six homers and 33 ribbles. Twice he has hit 11 home runs and should go by that total this year.

If Raines can continue the pace — and there's no reason to think he can't since he has improved every year — he will have his choice of teams.
Montreal President John McHale said the club plans to stand firm on its rule not to issue more than a three-year contract. "The sooner we get back to one-year deals, the better for everyone," he said.

Raines is a perfect example of McHale's theory. Raines has signed a series of one-year deals and boosted the pot each year. He is making $1.5 million for 1986.
Raines, though, said he wants a five-year deal. "I've been the most consistent player in baseball the past three years," he said. "I've proven I'm worth a long-term contract."
He has also confided, though, that he wouldn't mind finishing his career in Montreal. The organization has been good to him, helping him through his cocaine ordeal of four years ago.
Money, it seems, is not the bottom line. Raines will probably get close to or right at $2 million per year. Maybe a little less, if it's a five-year deal. He wants the long-term deal and figures the Expos owe it to him.
If they balk, Raines said Los Angeles, San Diego and Atlanta are his favorite places to go.
LA because of the exposure and sound organization. San Diego's stock went up when it hired Boros. Raines and Boros formulated Raines' base running techniques at Montreal. Atlanta because its closer to home (Heathrow near Lake Mary). Superstation WTBS-17 would give Raines the exposure he craves.
Regardless, 78 games from now Raines will be sitting pretty when the major-league teams come calling with offers. Or, if Montreal backs off and gives him a security pact.

Kuhlman Sweeps Bowes In Final

Games

MOSCOW (UPI) — Caroline Kuhlman defeated fellow American Beverley Bowes 6-4, 7-5 Wednesday in the women's tennis final at the Goodwill Games.
In the third-place match, Svetlana Parkhomenko of the Soviet Union outlasted countrywoman Larisa Savchenko 6-3, 3-6, 7-6. Parkhomenko and Savchenko earlier teamed to capture the doubles gold medal, beating the Czechoslovakian pair of Iveta Budarova and Marcela Skuharska 6-3, 6-3. Kuhlman and Ronni Reis won the bronze by topping Lella Meskhi and Natalya Zvereva of the Soviet Union 7-5, 6-4.
In the men's singles final, Andrei Chesnokov of the Soviet Union defeated Marian Fajda of Czechoslovakia 6-3, 6-2, 6-4. American Brad Pirs earned the bronze with a 4-6, 6-2, 6-3, 6-1 triumph over Alexander Zverev of the Soviet Union.
Sergei Leonyuk and Alexander Zverev of the Soviet Union advanced to the men's double final with a 4-6, 6-3, 6-2 decision over Americans' Luke Jensen and Pirs. The Soviet team will face Vajda and Karel Novacek of Czechoslovakia, who reached the final by stopping the U.S. duo of Joe Berger and Kelly Johns 6-2, 5-7, 7-6.
Steven Cohen of the United States received a silver medal in the 215-pound and over class in the judo competition. The event was held in the Friendship Hall of Lenin Stadium. The gold went to Soviet Grigory Verichev, who defeated Cohen in 3 minutes, 3 seconds. Poland's Andrzej Bask shared the bronze with Hvan Che Gil of North Korea. Cohen had outpointed Bask 5-0 in the semifinals.
In men's volleyball, the United States, Japan, France and Soviet Union qualified for the semifinals. The U.S. team ripped Czechoslovakia 15-10, 15-7, 15-10.
"It was by no means a walkover," American coach Marvin Dunphy said.
Japan crushed Bulgaria 15-1, 15-3, 15-9.

USA BANKS ON DEFENSE
MADRID, Spain (UPI) — The United States must depend on defense Thursday night to beat Brazil at the 10th World Basketball Championships and advance to the championship game.
A victory would give the Americans a date with the winner of the game between undefeated defending champion Soviet Union and Yugoslavia.
In the United States' 69-60 victory Tuesday night over Yugoslavia, the Americans shot only 38 percent from the floor and 56 percent from the line. In Sunday's loss to Argentina, the U.S. team hit 41 percent from the field and 46 percent from the line.
But the Americans, 7-1, have played superior defense. They limited Canada to 34 percent shooting and Yugoslavia, 7-1, to 38.
"This is the worst game I ever played," said Yugoslavian star Drazen Petrovic. The 6-foot-6 forward scored only 12 points and was harassed by 5-3 Tyrone Bogues.
NEHEMIAH GAINS REINSTATEMENT
ATHENS (UPI) — Renaldo Nehemiah, who quit track and field in 1981 for a career as a wide receiver with the San Francisco 49ers, Wednesday was reinstated as an amateur athlete.
The International Amateur Athletic Federation Council agreed to reverse an earlier decision and allow Nehemiah back into the sport.
In other decisions, the council clarified that Britain's Daley Thompson is the undisputed Decathlon world record holder. The council also approved Aruba, American Samoa, the Dominican Republic, Equatorial Guinea and Guam as IAAF members. The IAAF Congress will rule on the admissions next month in Stuttgart, West Germany.

After Hampton moved to second on a

Sanford picked up two more runs in the second and fifth innings.
In the second, Edwards drew a one-out walk and scored when Merthie powered a double to right center. Reid promptly plated Merthie with a groundout to second base.

In the fifth, Harvey Clinger singled and stole second. Pinch-hitter Ruben Blake followed with a scorching triple into the right field corner to score Clinger. Chavers came up with his second infield hit to chase home Blake for a 9-1 bulge.

Merthie and Reid each drove in two runs. Jackson and Edwards stole two bases apiece. Merthie and Hampton stroked doubles.
Jackson, who also turned in a strong game at shortstop, said a difference in attitude helped the Juniors. "We weren't ready Monday," he said. "We made up our minds to play tonight. That's the way it will be the rest of the tournament."

Former NASA Rocket Boss Takes Early Retirement

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (UPI) — Lawrence B. Mulloy, the former NASA rocket boss who had a critical role in deciding to launch the ill-fated Challenger, has rejected a new job at space agency headquarters and will retire Friday.

Mulloy, 52, who moved into another position at the Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville after the Challenger disaster Jan. 28, rejected an offer of a job at NASA headquarters in Washington and announced his "early retirement," a Marshall spokesman said Wednesday.

Mulloy was the third Marshall manager involved in the decision to launch the Challenger to announce his retirement.

Marshall spokesman Robert Ruhl said NASA Administrator James Fletcher offered Mulloy the vacant position of deputy director of propulsion in the power and energy division office at NASA headquarters.

Tax Reform Conference Opens

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House and Senate forces, meeting today in the opening session of the tax reform conference, were committed to straightening twisted codes while defending provisions that each side has championed.

The 22-member conference panel will try to write a compromise tax reform bill in what is expected to be a month of wrangling over how to best reconcile the differences between the reform versions passed by each chamber.

Heading into the bargaining, the divergent leaders — Senate Finance Committee Chairman Bob Packwood, R-Ore., and House Ways and Means Committee Chairman Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill. — assembled 11-member teams that seemed to give each man a strong hand.

A majority of Packwood's delegation included senators who helped him write the Senate's radical tax plan and salvage the issue when it seemed dead this spring. In making his choices Wednesday, Rostenkowski skipped over a number of senior Democrats on Ways and Means to form a team that would support him.

Reagan Praises, Warns Pakistan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan, praising Pakistan's support of Afghan rebels despite "increasing Soviet pressures," told Prime Minister Mohammad Khan Junejo that the United States will defend his nation's sovereignty.

Reagan made the pledge in a toast at a state dinner Wednesday night following private talks with Junejo earlier in the day that the president described as "upbeat, cordial and productive."

Reagan said, "Of course," when asked at the dinner if the discussion included nuclear issues. An administration official said the president warned Junejo that U.S. aid would be cut off if Pakistan develops a nuclear bomb.

unopposed in the last election.

The judgeship pays $67,276 a year. Qualifying for the position ends today.

Lavigne is a trial lawyer with offices in Maitland, and has been in practice 11 years.

He is a graduate of the University of Florida College of Law and practices civil and criminal law.

"I believe I am the best qualified candidate for the position. I believe my eleven years of trial practice gives me the experience and understanding of the law to fulfill the responsibilities and duties of circuit court judge," Lavigne said.

"I am dedicated to upholding the integrity of the office and performing the duties of the office impartially and diligently. I am also committed to working to improve the law, the legal system and the administration of justice...." he said.

The race is not Lavigne's first bid for an elected office. He ran unsuccessfully in 1982 in the Republican state representative primary against Carl Selph of Casselberry, who went on to win the general election.

Lavigne is married and has two children.

with first determining if they agreed to expand the "scope of the projects" at Lake Brantley and Lake Howell, before discussing the source of additional funding for the projects, expected to be about $1 million each. Sources of funding will be considered Monday.

The construction projects at each of the two schools are similar in design and cost, Arnold told the board.

The project problems being faced by the board are the result of a school plant survey done by the Office of Education Facilities in 1984, Arnold said.

"They came in and spent one day looking at the schools, and made their recommendations," Arnold said. He said the state officials said the schools needed 11 additional classrooms, eight skill labs, and five additional science classrooms.

Assistant facilities superintendent David Speer said the state survey "didn't take into consideration existing problems" at the schools.

Recently, the architectural firm of Reynolds, Smith, and Hills did an eight-week, in-depth study of the schools and recommended changes to what the state had recommended that would mean a better design, but cost about a million dollars more for each.

Arnold said the firm recommended turning six science rooms on one side of the school complexes into regular classrooms, and building 11 new science rooms in one new wing.

Full service cafeterias and offices are also planned in the two projects. Twenty-four thousand square feet of new construction is planned for each school.

"The existing science classrooms don't meet the standards for size and space we need, and they are remote from the area of the new construction," Arnold said.

He said Reynolds, Smith and Hills suggested making one building for science and science labs, and turning the old science rooms into regular classrooms.

"That would enable us to use all areas to the maximum, and localize the science areas in one space," Arnold said.

"It's not that the (1985 $105 million) bond issue is not enough money," Hughes said, indicating the funding needs for the projects were based on the 1984 state survey.

"The architects (now) say we need to do it right."

Board member Jean Bryant said, "We don't like surprises."

Board Chairman Nancy Warren said, "It's like deciding whether we're going to buy a Honda or a BMW."

She added that the funding problems were forecast by board member Bill Kroll in recent months, "but we didn't want to deal with it." Kroll was absent from Wednesday's work session.

Two funding options will be considered by the board Monday.

Arnold has suggested taking $1.6 million from the $5 million bond reserve account. That money was set aside by the board in the event of such project changes. To that money, Arnold suggested applying $446,000 in state science facilities grant money.

Some board members may be reluctant to dip into the reserve account, since there are a total of 42 projects to be done during county-wide bond issue construction.

Superintendent for business and finance Carey Ferrell has agreed with using the state grant money, but suggested the $1.6 million come from a discretionary Capital Improvements tax millage of about 31 cents per $1,000 of assessed property value.

Ferrell has said the school property tax rate is projected to drop this coming year to $1.18 per $1,000 in property value, since projected costs to finance the bond issue were lower, due to the late bond sale and resulting lower interest payment.

The school tax has been $1.50 per $1,000. Ferrell's proposed 31 cent tax added to the $1.18 would keep the rate at the same $1.50 per $1,000 rate. He said even if the rate dipped to $1.18 this year, it would go back to $1.50 the following year as scheduled.

"Our credibility with the tax payers is important," Hughes said. "We gave them a list of what we were going to do, and this will be a test of accountability to stand by our word."

The board will officially vote on increasing or decreasing the scope of the Lake Brantley and Lake Howell project scopes during their July 28 meeting, after discussing funding sources Monday. —Paul Schaefer

...Shoppes

Megonegal was on vacation when Fess first proposed the exploration of buying the 38,000-square-foot complex. Since then, Fess and a representative of the Shoppes Connecticut-based ownership have agreed to a purchase price of $3.55 million, should the commission agree to buy. The deal would be closed on or before Sept. 1.

Fess said he will report to the commission tonight that the mortgage payments will probably be lower than the $30,000 he first estimated, based on conversations with bond company representatives from M.G. Lewis, Winter Park, and Southeast Municipal Bonds, Maitland. The Maitland firm financed the city's $1.5 million water plant.

In previous meetings, commissioners have agreed that they are interested in continuing conversations about the proposed purchase.

It is expected that a full commission will discuss the proposed purchase for the first time at today's 7:30 p.m. meeting at city hall, 158 North Country Club Rd.

"I'm interested in meeting the city's needs," Megonegal said. If the Shoppes were purchased, "we would still end up with a city hall that is inefficient and of no value."

"I have no understanding of how they could even buy into something like that," Megonegal said of his fellow commissioners.

"It doesn't make sense to invest taxpayers' money in something we don't need. It doesn't make sense for the city to get into the land development business," Megonegal said.

Some commissioners have said the Shoppes could be purchased as an investment, and resold in five years, using the profit to buy another city hall site.

Megonegal said city staffers could be placed in modular temporary units, at the Rinehart Road water plant, or in rented office space in the Shoppes.

"There are several routes to go without purchasing a shopping center," Megonegal said. "That is the last thing I would consider. We need to evaluate what space we have now and determine the needs for the immediate future. If we're in that situation, it would only be right to ask the Capital Facilities Committee for their recommendations."

Fess said he did not talk to Capital Facilities Committee members because he "was afraid he would be violating the sunshine law."

"I don't think the Capital Facilities Committee can dictate to the commission," Fess added. "Everybody seems to think I'm pushing for the shopping center. I'm not, I'm pushing for a

"Commissioner Megonegal's is a valued opinion, as are those of the Capital Facilities Committee, but we could have people scattered around the city, and what form of control do you have over employees then?" Fess asked.

"We've been doing things in Lake Mary piecemeal for too long," the mayor continued. "I'm not hung up on the Shoppes. It's a proposal, and if the commission doesn't want to do it, it's fine with me."

"I don't think we would be developing anything. It's already developed," Fess said in response to Megonegal's remarks.

In the meantime, though, Fess says at the present city hall location, "people are going to be sitting on top of each other."

Commissioner Ken King said this morning he is unsure if the Shoppes design lends itself to a good municipal complex. Any decision on his part "would be premature until we get all of the facts."

"It appears to me that at best, the Shoppes would be a temporary solution, and I'm not sure that's a logical way to go," King said.

Other commissioners could not be reached for comment.

"There's no question we need space, but maybe not that much space," King said. —Paul Schaefer 90 days for $500, and 60 days for $1,000. Options on the other four sites have not been renewed.

The three option extensions were recommended to commissioners by Bill Simmons, city engineering and planning director.

Simmons said purchase of the 2,200-acre site may be necessary if state regulations eventually prohibit Sanford from retaining a conditional permit to discharge a portion of its effluent in Lake Monroe.

The state has indicated a willingness to work with Sanford on wastewater management program revisions and formal consideration of the program's specifics will be undertaken at the Aug. 20 hearing.

In addition to project revisions, the hearing will address whether transfer can be made to Sanford's new program of the $8.5 million in state grants the city was to receive for implementation of the "Yankee Lake based project. The city estimated a $32 million implementation cost for the Yankee Lake project and anticipates an approximately $37 million expenditure for the revised program.

Program revisions call for a lion's share of Sanford effluent to be disposed on city properties, through spray irrigation systems, while 1 million gallons dally would be allowed into Lake Monroe during the June to November wet weather season.

However, state regulations may ultimately change and prohibit Sanford from any lake disposal, Simmons said.

Simmons also said preliminary indications are the 2,200-acre optioned parcel could handle an estimated 3.5 million gallons of effluent a day, which would more than compensate if the lake dumping is eventually prohibited. The purchase option extension will lock up the parcel for the city for at least the time being, and enable disposal capability studies to continue, Simmons said.

He described the parcel as "probably one of the best remaining (effluent disposal) sites presently available in Seminole County."

Preparations for the Aug. 20 session involve analyses of project viability, including soil and water studies at city owned properties to determine their effluent disposal capabilities.

Simmons said of the monies paid to the engineering firm Monday night, $71,487 will go for these site analyses and efforts related to grant transfer to the revised program.

Under the new program, Sanford's Airport and Mayfair Golf Course and several city parks have been targeted for effluent disposal through the spray irrigation systems.

Jessie Chambers Jr.,

2nd Anniversary in Heaven. God saw you getting tired and a cure was not to be. So he put his arms around you, and whispered come to me. With tearful eyes we watched you and saw you pass away, and though we loved you dearly we could not make you stay. A Golden heart stopped beating, our shining star had left us. God broke our hearts to prove to us, he only takes the best. We love you and miss you. Your loving wife Bessie and Daughter Georgia.

Brother's Keeper Could Find He's Lost His Wife

DEAR ABBY: "Rob" and I have been married for two years. He's 26 and I am 27. Eight months ago his brother, "Russ," (he's 24) got into financial trouble, and asked if he could stay with us for a while. Well, he's still here, and that's why I'm writing. I wouldn't mind, but Russ makes no effort to find a job. Instead he keeps borrowing money from Rob and spends it on drugs. I've told Rob I didn't want him doing drugs and smoking pot in our house, but I've come home from work to find him getting high with a bunch of strangers. He's even brought home women from the streets to sleep with him.

When I tell Rob I am tired of his brother freeloading on us and I want him out of our house so we can have our privacy, all I get is a lecture on "brotherly love," and we end up in a fight.

Abby, my brother-in-law is destroying our marriage. I'm considering leaving my husband, but I don't want to give his brother this triumph. Please help me.

MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE: First, you and your husband must realize that his brother has a drug problem, and the kindest expression of brotherly love would be to stop feeding his habit and get him into a treatment facility. Your husband is doing Russ no favors; in fact, he's compounding the problem by providing him food, lodging and money for drugs.

Russ needs professional help, and you need counseling in order to be firm enough to help him.

Write to: NAR-ANON Family Group Headquarters Inc., P.O. Box 2562, Palos Verdes Peninsula, Calif. 90274. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for a reply.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing about "Arf Arf," who rented nude tapes while his wife was out of town and it got around to his wife, which put him in the doghouse. He said clerks in video stores should be just as discreet as doctors and lawyers, so he complained to the store manager and the clerk who blabbed was fired.

Your comment stated he was justified in reporting the clerk, and adults are free to choose their own entertainment.

My comment: In deciding to purchase nude magazines or tapes, attending a "girlie" show or patronizing a prostitute, one runs the risk of being found out. I think this gentleman was seeking to find someone to blame. Instead of accepting the consequences of his own actions.

If I rented a nude tape, the consequences are that people may find out, including my spouse. The issue here really isn't renting a nude tape; it's being honest and aboveboard with your spouse and accepting responsibility for your own behavior.

MARINELSON, ST. PAUL, MINN.

DEAR ABBY: In response to the letter signed "Arf Arf" in Arkansas: He shouldn't have watched, let alone rented the nude tape in the first place.

In computer language it's called "garbage in, garbage out." In spiritual law what is digested and stored in one's heart is what will come out through the mouth (Matthew 12:33-37). We speak what we think, and we think what has been filed in our minds through what we see, hear and do.

For a truly happy and rewarding marriage, social and business life, man should be careful of what he allows his mind to dwell on — even for a fraction of a second.

CONCERNED IN ALASKA

DEAR ABBY: There is a co-worker of mine who is having an affair with an old flame. He comes to me often to confide the details of this sneaky romance, then says he feels guilty because his wife is such a nice person and she just had a child (their third). I do not want to listen anymore, but we are good friends and he trusts me because he knows I would never tell.

Is there some way I can tell him that I do not want to be his confidant? He asks for advice, but if it's not what he wants to hear, he doesn't take it. (I told him from the beginning he should quit seeing this woman.)

I don't want to lose his friendship, but I do not like the role I am playing. I'm afraid he is going to hurt a lot of people. How can I get out of this without hurting his feelings?

GOOD EAR

DEAR EAR: You may not be able to, but risk it anyway. Tell him you don't want to hear anymore about his affair, period.

If he's a good friend, give him some good advice and tell him to confide in a professional counselor before he breaks a lot of hearts — including his own.

Goldenrod Craft Fair Accepting Applications

Applications are now being accepted for the fall Goldenrod Craft Fair to be held on Saturday, Oct. 4, on the civic center grounds at 4763 Palmetto Ave., in Goldenrod. The annual outdoor event marks the seventh year the craft fair has been sponsored by the Goldenrod Civic Club to raise funds for improvements at the civic center.

Reservations are open to individual craftspeople who wish to sell or display their original crafts in any media: wood, metal, glass, clay, collage, needlework, quilting, etc. Proceeds from sales go to the individual artists, with space rental fees going for improvements at the center.

According to Lavetgne Ryan, the annual fall craft fair has gained wide recognition throughout the state as one of the best selling fairs for artists in Central Florida, and many of the craftspeople return each year. Original and unique Christmas, holiday items and gifts are especially featured at the fair.

A limited number of spaces are available and reservations will be accepted on the first come basis. Cost of the 10 by 10 foot space is $25., and artists are to provide their own tables or display racks. Free parking is available, food and refreshments will be sold at nominal cost. Hours for the craft fair are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 4, with a raindate set for the following Saturday, Oct. 11.

To reserve space a check or money order should be mailed to Goldenrod Craft Fair, P.O. Box 492, Goldenrod, FL. 32733. Please include a self-addressed, stamped envelope, your name, address and telephone number, as well as the type of craft you will display. Confirmations will be mailed 10 days prior to the event.

For further information call craft fair chairman, Lavetgne Ryan, (305) 678-8080.

CITY OF LAKE MARY, FLORIDA
NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN by the Planning and Zoning Board of the City of Lake Mary, Florida, that said Board will hold a Public Hearing at 7:00 P.M. on Tuesday, July 22, 1986, to consider a request for a Variance to the Lake Mary and Development Code (variance on file at Lake Mary City Hall), for the purpose of constructing a shopping center, in an area zoned C-1 Commercial and described as follows:

The South 317.30 feet of the West 1/2 of the SW 1/4 of the SE 1/4 of Section 7, Township 28 South, Range 36 East, Seminole County, Florida. LESS the South 348 feet of the West 388 feet thereof and also LESS that part lying South of the North right-of-way line of Sun Drive (recorded as Sanford Avenue in Plat Book 9, Page 16, of the Public Records of Seminole County, Florida). Together with the South 317.30 feet of the West 1/2 of the SE 1/4 of the SW 1/4 of the SE 1/4 of said Section 7, less that part lying South of the North right-of-way line of Sun Drive (recorded as Sanford Avenue in Plat Book 9, Page 16, of the Public Records of Seminole County, Florida). More commonly known as being located in the general vicinity of Lake Mary Boulevard and Sun Drive.

The Public Hearing will be held at the City Hall, 138 North Country Club Road, Lake Mary, Florida, at 7:00 P.M. on July 22, 1986, or as soon thereafter as possible. Said hearing may be continued from time to time until a final recommendation is made by the Planning and Zoning Board.

A taped record of this meeting is made by the City for its convenience. This record may not constitute an adequate record for the purposes of appeal from a decision made by the City with respect to the foregoing matter. Any person wishing to insure that an adequate record of the proceedings is maintained for appellate purposes is advised to make the necessary arrangements at his or her own expense.

Drugs Replace Carotid Surgery

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — There is no one who knows precisely why some people tend to develop an intolerance to sugar as they age. This type of diabetes is usually seen in overweight persons. Perhaps the pancreas just gets worn out after decades of trying to produce enough insulin in people who eat too much.

DEAR DR. GOTT — There is an operation called a bilateral carotid body resection that apparently does wonders for asthma and emphysema patients. Could you describe this procedure and explain how it works?

DEAR READER — The carotid bodies, one on each side of the neck, act as mini-respiratory sensors in the body. When stimulated by low blood oxygen, the carotid body reflex stimulates the brain's breathing center to increase the respiratory rate. Because the carotid bodies also seem to stimulate the nerves that open and close the bronchial tubes, surgeons discovered that when they removed the carotid bodies, some patients with asthma could breathe easier. Now that there are so many effective drugs and treatments for asthma and emphysema, the operation is seldom performed anymore.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am 34 and have been trying to get pregnant for the past six years. What kind of tests would have to be done to find out what the problem is?

DEAR READER — There are many tests. The basic tests determine if you are ovulating. If your husband's sperm count and motility are normal and whether your cervical secretions are inhibiting the movement of sperm. In addition, specialists have to make sure that the ova you produce can find their way into the Fallopian tubes and thereby travel down to the uterus. The two most common tests are the hysterosalpingogram (an X-ray study to evaluate your reproductive tract) and a postcoital semen analysis.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am 60 and have developed diabetes in the last two years. No one else in my family has this problem. My weight is high, but my blood sugar isn't (130). Can you explain why I developed diabetes?

DEAR READER — Actually, your blood sugar — if it's a fasting specimen — is high. It may go sky-high a couple of hours after you eat.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

The splinter bid, popular among tournament players, is usually a double jump in an unbid suit, showing a singleton or void in that suit and a hand strong enough to play at least a game in partner's natural suit. North's bid of four clubs showed his strong hand with four-card spade support and only one club.

When my friend Morris Chang held the South cards, he reasoned that North's high cards would have a good chance of covering enough of his losers in the red suits to provide a good play for slam. He asked for aces and bid six. Declarer would have an easy time without a heart lead, playing A-K of spades and then running diamonds, pitching first a heart from his hand.

But West was not so obliging. He led the 10 of hearts, and East tried to take the first two tricks. Chang ruffed and now had to determine how to play the trump suit.

Although the law of symmetry has no real mathematical basis, bridge players frequently tend to play the defenders for a singleton in their own hand as well as in dummy. Morris first played the king of spades and then led the jack. I would not be using his name if he had not decided to play low and make the contract.

Is there a rule to follow? Not really. The best percentage is to play for the queen to drop when you are missing only four cards, but you are always allowed to follow your instincts.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY

JULY 18, 1986

In the year ahead you will be given jurisdiction over the affairs of others. Treat those in your charge as you would like to be treated yourself.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You're likely to be disappointed today if you hope someone else is going to take care of a nasty task you've been avoiding. Manage your own assignments. Career advantages and problems are discussed in your Cancer Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead. Get yours by mailing $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, Box 1846, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) In most instances you will be treated rather favorably by Lady Luck today. The one exception, however, could be where financial risks are concerned.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) This is one of those days when the good deeds you do for others aren't apt to be appreciated. Don't let this stop you from being a nice person.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Make a concerted effort to regulate your expenses today. If possible, don't buy any big-ticket items on credit. If you do, you'll be sorry later.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You're a generous and giving person, and these are admirable qualities that should be continued. However, today you must guard against someone who is too greedy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Do not discard the bright ideas you get today, but by the same token, don't implement them prematurely, because they could have some wrinkles that must be ironed out.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Normally you're rather good at keeping secrets, but today you could be a trifle too candid and talk to the wrong people about things you shouldn't.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Something you are hoping for can become a reality, but you must go about achieving your goal in a practical manner, one step at a time.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Stick to your guns in an important career matter today. Don't give your opponents more concessions than they truly deserve.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't let your pride stand in your way today if you have to request assistance from one of your least-favorite people. Bite the bullet.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be extremely careful what you say today or else you might lead a friend to believe he or she is going to share in something that's solely yours.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21) A poor approach or a weak presentation could put you out of the running in a competitive career situation today. Think through your every move.
