Women's Clubs Close Purse Until Audit Of Zoo Books

A regularly scheduled contribution to the zoo at Sanford will continue to be withheld, voted the Seminole County Federation of Women's Clubs, until an audit is received from the zoo board and an explanation is given about a "missing" bank security deposit. Meanwhile, zoo president Newman Brock said he plans to sue the federation and its chairman to secure release of the promised funds.

Some 50 women attending a federation meeting Monday at the Sanford Garden Club voted to stand by their earlier decision to withhold contributions totaling $1,185 every three months, plus the interest on the missing certificate. The original decision came in the wake of talk that the zoo might move to Orlando.

"We didn't mean for our money to go out of the county ever," said Grace Bradford, chairman of the federation's board of trustees.

Mrs. Bradford said she hasn't seen the certificate valued at $11,597.70 since a trust was instituted at a south end bank on Sept. 30, 1980.

She said she and the Central Florida Zoological Society president at that time, Casselberry attorney Gerald Rutberg, were listed as the trustees of the account, and a new trustee was to be named each time a new zoo president was named.

Brock, president of the Society, denied today that the certificate of deposit is missing.

"It is safe and secure in the Sun Bank where it has always been," Brock said. "I have told her where the account is. This is ludicrous."

Nancy Doyle, assistant vice president of the bank, said today "we wouldn't have the certificate. It is usually given to the customer, whoever came in and purchased it."

Brock said he as a co-trustee of the trust account plans to sue both Mrs. Bradford and the federation to force the organization to release the funds to the zoo, as called for in the 1980 trust agreement.

"Nowhere in that agreement does it say that the federation can cut off funds because they may believe that we are moving the zoo to Orlando. That just isn't true," he said.

The funds came to the women's organization from the sale of a parcel of property which the federation had owned since 1924. Under the trust agreement, Mrs. Bradford said the zoo society was to receive the interest from the certificate through an automatic bank transfer directly into their account.

The certificate represented the down payment the federation had received from the sale of the property. At the same time, payments from the purchaser of the property were also invested with the zoo to receive the principal amount quarterly and the federation was to receive the interest.

Mrs. Bradford said she has talked with bank officials and clerks and they are trying to find the actual certificate.

"I spent an hour at the bank and they can't find it,"

Mrs. Bradford said.

Under the original agreement, the entire principals in the two accounts are to revert to the zoo society in 1990, she said.

The interest from the certificate of deposit is supposed to be used to buy food for animals, Mrs. Bradford said, while the quarterly payments are to be used for other zoo needs.

The federation has donated $9,000 to the zoo over the years through the two funds.

Kenneth McIntosh, the federation's attorney for the past 20 years, received a letter from Brock in June demanding release of the quarterly payments and warning that if the payments were not made the zoo would take the women's group.

At a special meeting of members of the federation in July, the women voted to stand pat on their refusal to release further money until their meeting held Monday.

Goblins And Ghouls Cooled It

If you were looking for excitement Halloween night, Seminole County was not the place to be. Most local goblins and ghouls apparently decided to cool it.

"Halloween night was quieter than a normal day of the week," said Herb Shea, assistant chief of the Sanford police department.

The only reported incident in Sanford occurred when vandals painted over some street signs on Ridgewood Avenue near Seminole High School.

"I imagine some high school kids did it," said Shea. "We give out a lot of traffic tickets to school kids in that area, and they might have seen this as their chance to get even."

Not much was brewing in the unincorporated precincts of Seminole County either. "It was very quiet," said Capt. Jay Leaman of the sheriff's department.

There were reports of some kids throwing rocks and oranges at passing cars on a desolate stretch of County Road 427 near Altamonte Springs, but the culprits had vanished like breath in the wind when deputies arrived.

Shea thinks all the publicity in the news media about potential dangers to youngsters who go trick or treating helped make for a sedate Halloween. "I think parents took a low key approach," he said.

Rush-Hampton Lays Off 35

"We're still alive and strong in downtown Sanford," said Rush-Hampton Industries personnel director Chris Carducci today after lay-offs Monday at the Sanford plant put 35 employees out of work. He said the firm still has 325 employees.

Carducci said the move was to consolidate and streamline the operation after completing a move into the Sanford facility from Longwood about 3½ months ago.

"It was something we don't like doing, but it was something we had to do," he said. "We felt we were over staffed in some areas. We moved into the new facility and now we are making the facility work for us."

The cut-back involved support staff including some office workers as well as assembly line personnel and those in the injection molding department. — Jane Casselberry

Fingerprinting Begins At Area Elementaries

Students at Seminole County elementary schools are being fingerprinted on a voluntary basis to provide identification in the event of kidnapping or other crimes.

Volunteers from the National Council of Jewish Women are scheduled to visit the district's 28 elementary schools to fingerprint pupils whose parents want the prints on file. The volunteers have been trained by the Seminole County Sheriff's Department to take accurate fingerprints.

Fingerprinting of children has been advocated by law enforcement officials around the country since the kidnap-murder of Adam Walsh in Hollywood, Fla., two years ago. Through fingerprinting positive identification of children is possible. The fingerprinting, which began Monday, will continue through Nov. 22 with one stop at each school.

Schools to be visited include: Wednesday, Sanford Grammar and Hopper; Thursday, Lawton and Southside; Monday, Lake Mary and Geneva; Tuesday, Pinecrest and Midway; Nov. 9, Lake Orienta and Goldsboro; Nov. 10, Sabal Point and Rosenwald; Nov. 11, Longwood and Forest City.

Nov. 14, English Estates and Wekiva; Nov. 15, Sterling Park and Red Bug; Nov. 16, Spring Lake; Nov. 17, Woodlands and Eastbrook; Nov. 18, Keith and Winter Springs; Nov. 21, Casselberry; Nov. 22, Altamonte and Bear Lake.

Stenstrom said, adding nothing can be done concerning the river without the approval of the Army Corps of Engineers.

The committee agreed to the approach, deciding the meeting with Owens and Vergara is the first step.

J.T. Turnipseed of the 4,500 member Friends of the St. Johns said his organization is concerned that the St. Johns District is not moving as rapidly as it should on acquiring marshlands.

The idea behind the acquisition is that water can be stored on the marshlands during heavy rainy periods and released into the St. Johns during drought periods.

The group agreed that increasing the flow of the river cures to a large extent pollution in the St. Johns. The task force when it was founded 2½ years ago decided that the major problems in what was thought to be the dying St. Johns River was decreased flow and increased pollution. They said today the river is greatly improved.

The members agreed today that increasing the flow will help solve the pollution by flushing it away and that the best method of increasing the flow is to buy the marshlands.

"We've got to get a definitive report on what property needs to be acquired," Stenstrom said.

Meanwhile, County Commission Chairman Sandra Glenn said there is a possibility the St. Johns River Water Management District will be opening up a district office in Sanford by mid-1984.

Arson Arrest Expected In Paint Plant Blaze

The fire that leveled a Sanford paint products plant was set by an arsonist, Sanford Assistant Fire Chief Tom Hickson said today. An arrest is said to be imminent.

Investigators know how the fire was set, Hickson said, and what part of the plant it was set in, but are withholding the information.

Bob Christian, state Fire Marshal's investigator, said:

"We have a list of suspects and we expect to make an arrest shortly."

Investigators said no motive was known for setting the fire.

"It was a flabbergasting experience for us," said Matthew Blake, vice president of United Solvents of America Corp.

"We did not suspect arson at all. I feel sad that people are like this. We've always had good rapport with the community. I can't think of any reason why anyone would do something like this."

Blake said his plant employed about 40 people.

"Most of them are out of work now," he said. "We are only keeping a skeleton crew on duty now."

Blake said the firm does plan to rebuild the facility and he hopes all the employees will be rehired eventually.

Just a few days before the fire plant manager Doug Gondera announced a 44,000-square-foot expansion of the plant at its Airport Boulevard site.

Hickson said that there is no danger of contamination from the chemicals at the plant. "The EPA has investigated it and cleared it. There is no hazard," he said.

Hickson said the Florida Advisory Committee on Arson Prevention is offering a $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who started the fire.

The fire started at about 5 a.m. Saturday, destroying fuel tanks and barrels of petroleum products, sending fireballs a hundred feet in the sky and spewing thick black smoke for miles.

The fire raged for more than two hours before it was brought under control and firefighters worked for more than a day to extinguish all the burning material in the building.

Several firemen kept a constant flow of water on a pair of railroad tank cars containing naphtha and mineral spirits which were parked at the site.

About 20 homes on Academy Avenue, less than a block away from the blaze were evacuated twice, for a total of nearly four hours.

The first evacuation took place at 7 a.m. when the tank car of naphtha showed indications that it might explode. When the tank cooled, at about 8:40 a.m. the residents were allowed to return to their homes. But they had to leave again at 10:40 a.m. when the wind shifted sending smoke and the danger of toxic fumes into the neighborhood. The second evacuation lasted about two hours.

No injuries were reported in the blaze but eight firemen later reported minor skin irritations from exposure to chemicals.

Officials from the state Department of Environmental Regulation and U.S. Environmental Protection Agency arrived on the scene late Saturday to probe the possible leaching of toxic chemicals into the ground.

McCracken Road and a portion of Airport Boulevard have been closed to through traffic since the fire. County officials said the roads will be closed until Friday.

Jones Expected SCA Appeal Denial Sets Sights On 'Impartial' Hearing

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

The recommendation of a state hearing officer upholding the cut off of state money to Seminole Community Action came as no surprise to Rev. Amos Jones, SCA's executive director.

Jones said last week that he expected this to happen.

He said since a hearing held on SCA's appeal for return of some $100,000 in state money cut-off by the state Department of Community Affairs was conducted by an employee of DCA, he expected a ratification of the action.

The hearing held in Sanford, Jones said, was only a preliminary, as far as SCA is concerned, in requesting an impartial administrative review by the state.

Jones noted at the time that it could be expected that John Burke, hearing officer and director of administration for the state Department of Community Affairs, would recommend ratification of his colleague's decision concerning the state money. Burke's recommendation is being given to John DeGrove, secretary of DCA.

Before DeGrove signs the recommended order SCA's attorney and DCA attorneys may comment on the recommendation by Nov. 7.

"Now we can ask for an impartial hearing by someone outside that agency," Jones said, adding he will be requesting that hearing.

The DCA notified SCA in mid-July that the nearly $100,000 in state funds which had earlier been approved for the county's anti-poverty agency were discontinued more than two weeks before on June 30.

Among the reasons given were that the SCA board of directors is not constituted as required by its by-laws—six county elected or appointed officials; six representatives of local businesses and community groups and six members elected by the poor. Burke also noted in his recommendation that SCA has not resolved audit criticisms from the federal government that could require the local agency to repay some $45,000 in federal funds.

Jones, at the hearing in Sanford in October, said the problems with membership of the SCA board have been corrected. He also said at that time that the state has no authority concerning the federal problem and that SCA is negotiating with the federal government on that matter.

U.S. Invasion Widens; Cubans Pursued

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two companies of U.S. Marines today invaded the tiny island of Carriacou north of Grenada and encountered no resistance, the Pentagon said.

A terse statement that responded to a report about the operation from Barbados said the Marines were dispatched to Carriacou "to follow up on reports that a force of Cubans was present."

"The Marines searched the island and encountered no resistance. The Marines are preparing to re-embark to their ships." There were no casualties reported.

The statement did not make clear whether any Cuban or Grenadians may have been on the island since it said only that the Marines did not encounter resistance.

Crooms' Grandson Fatally Wounded

Marine Pfc. Nathaniel Walter Jenkins, 19, of Daytona Beach died Saturday night in Germany from wounds received in the terrorist bombing Oct. 23 in Beirut, Lebanon.

The grandson of the late Wealthy Mabel Richardson Crooms of Sanford, who died last year, and the late Professor Joseph Nathaniel Crooms, for whom Sanford's Crooms Academy was named, Jenkins was operated on aboard ship, then flown to Germany.

He went to Lebanon in May and was scheduled to come home this month.

He was a 1981 graduate of Mainland High School, Daytona Beach, where he was a member of the marching band. He was a Methodist. He joined the Marines on Oct. 11, 1982.

He was the son of Nathalie C. Jenkins, Daytona Beach, and the late Cornelius Jenkins. He is also survived by a brother, Stephen M. C. Jenkins, Daytona Beach.

St. John's Task Force Set To Battle 'Log-Jam' In Washington

A trip to Washington, D.C. to seek help from U.S. Sens. Lawton Chiles and Paula Hawkins and U.S. Reps. Bill Chappell and Bill McCollum will be made by representatives of the St. Johns River Task Force of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce if satisfactory answers to questions about the river can not be obtained locally.

The group at a special meeting held this morning, decided to invite Idwal Owens, the new chairman of the St. Johns River Water Management District, and its executive director, Sonny Vergara, to a meeting.

The committee wants to know why the district's efforts to acquire marshlands to protect the river and help solve its pollution problems have virtually come to a halt.

Douglas Stenstrom, chairman of the task force, said that although a study by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers on the marshlands along the river was to have been released during the first quarter of the year, this didn't happen. A trip to Washington might resolve the log-jam in that federal agency, if the log-jam stems from there, Stenstrom said.

"We may have to beg," Stenstrom said, adding a trip to Washington for face-to-face meetings is much more effective than either corresponding by letter or talking on the telephone.

"It's a shame to have to beg, but sometimes that is the only way of getting something done."

"The St. Johns is a navigable body of water under the jurisdiction of the United States government."

IN BRIEF

Nuke Freeze Killed; Build-Down Supported

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Republican-led Senate killed a proposal calling for a nuclear weapons freeze with the Soviet Union, but is signaling its support instead for the nuclear "build-down" concept backed by President Reagan.

In its first vote on the highly controversial issue, the Senate voted 58-40 Monday night to kill a proposal by Sens. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., calling for an immediate, mutual and verifiable nuclear weapons freeze with the Soviet Union.

Forty-six Republicans and 12 Democrats voted to kill the resolution.

The Senate then rejected 84-13, on a preliminary vote, a proposal to kill a "build-down" plan by Sen. William Cohen, R-Maine. It would call on the two superpowers to eliminate two existing nuclear weapons systems for every new one created.

Reagan has endorsed the build-down concept, which Hatfield charged was comparable to "trading two Volkswagens for a Rolls-Royce."

Clark Hearings Start

WASHINGTON (UPI) — William Clark is ready for Senate confirmation hearings on his nomination to succeed Interior Secretary James Watt — the third administration job that critics say he is not qualified to fill.

Despite intensified opposition in recent days from national environmental leaders, he is expected to win confirmation by the Republican-controlled Senate.

Most major environmental groups are actively opposing Clark. Monday, two of them stepped up their campaign. One group, the Sierra Club released an analysis of Clark's votes on 17 environmental cases at the California high court.

"In all of them, Clark sided with development interests over environmental protection," said the group. They involved issues such as offshore oil development, zoning and population density and restrictions on coastal zone buildings. In 15 of the 17 cases, Clark sided with a minority of the court.

At a separate news conference, Wilderness Society Executive Director William Turnage called Clark "a wolf in sheep's clothing."

Senate Refuses To Increase Debt Limit To $1.45 Trillion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ignoring the administration's call for a bigger line of credit to enable it to pay its bills, the Senate refused to raise the national debt ceiling to $1.45 trillion.

Led by conservatives who argued it would be better to cut spending than increase the country's debt, the Republican-dominated Senate voted 56-39 against raising the government's borrowing authority by a quarter of a trillion dollars from the current level of $1.389 trillion.

"It's a historic time for the Senate to reject the increase in the debt limit 20 minutes before it expires" at midnight, Senate Republican leader Howard Baker of Tennessee said late Monday night in exasperation.

Baker said he would try again today to reconsider the vote or to negotiate a compromise with the bill's opponents, led by Sen. William Armstrong, R-Colo.

"There's a growing feeling in this chamber, I'm afraid, that it's safe not to pass the debt limit. I'm saying it's not ... I have a feeling we're playing a game of chicken and I don't know who will blink," Baker said.

Monday's defeat culminated four days of debate often bogged down in unrelated amendments, including a resolution to pull American troops out of Grenada and a vote to kill a nuclear freeze resolution.

Earlier in the day, the Treasury Department canceled its auction of three-year bonds scheduled for today because of the inaction on the debt limit. The delay was expected to raise interest rates slightly on Treasury securities and ultimately cost the government an additional $250 million in higher interest payments paid to investors over the life of the debt.

Treasury Secretary Donald Regan, in a letter to Baker, said it is "imperative that Congress conclude action on the debt limit by the close of business" Monday.

The House approved a $1.6

trillion ceiling earlier this year. In addition to disrupting market conditions and raising interest rates, Senate Finance Committee Chairman Robert Dole, R-Kan., noted that failure to raise the debt limit would prevent the Treasury from transferring $13 billion to the Social Security trust fund. But, Dole said, Social Security checks will go out on time in any case.

But Armstrong adamantly opposed the bill, preferring moves to cut the deficit instead of raising the government's borrowing authority.

But Dole said, "The clear signal coming from the White House is 'forget about (reducing the deficit) until after the election.'"

Dole's Finance Committee earlier approved a $15 billion deficit-reducing package over a three-year period, including nearly $3 billion in Medicare and welfare cuts and about $12 billion in tax reforms. He still hopes to approve additional savings that would total about $120 billion over the three-year period.

Jackson Welcomed Into The Fold

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Jesse Jackson's decision to seek the Democratic presidential nomination could hurt front-runner Walter Mondale, but will serve to increase the black vote, according to the other Democratic contenders.

The other seven declared candidates and Democratic National Chairman Charles Manatt all welcomed Jackson into the race and predicted his candidacy would result in a stronger party.

"On today's facts, most of Jackson's support comes from the black community and if they weren't voting for him, they would vote for Mondale," Manatt said.

The civil rights activist will formally announce his candidacy at Washington's new Convention Center Thursday, but has already said he will run. The prospect of a Jackson candidacy has split the black leadership, with Los Angeles Mayor Tom Bradley and Detroit Mayor Coleman Young committed to Mondale.

"Anyone who wants to run for president can and should," Mondale said of Jackson's decision. The former vice president said he will continue to make civil rights and social justice a critical part of his program and will compete with all the candidates for black and minority votes.

Mondale's press secretary, Maxine Isaacs, was not sure the front-runner would be hurt by Jackson. She said some polls show Jackson would cut heavily into Mondale's black vote, but a Harris poll two weeks ago showed Mondale leading Jackson by 20 points among blacks.

Sen. John Glenn's campaign manager Bill White said: "We welcome Rev. Jackson in the race and he will be a tough competitor."

"It is really difficult to speculate on what the effect would be on the other candidates," White said. "You know it might or it might not be an advantage. It could also be a disadvantage."

Former Sen. George McGovern, also seeking the nomination, said Jackson "will reach some voters that are now immobile, watching the whole thing from the sidelines."

"I don't see Rev. Jackson taking votes away from other Democratic candidates — I see him mobilizing people now on the sidelines," McGovern said.

Jim Bacchus, spokesman for the campaign of former Florida Gov. Reubin Askew, joked that "at least we'll no longer be called the seven dwarfs" — now that there will be an eighth major candidate.

Nerve Gas Weapons Ban May Continue

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan's three-year effort to lift the United States' 14-year ban on production of a new generation of nerve gas weapons may die in Congress once again this year.

The Senate Appropriations Committee dealt the administration a setback Monday by voting 14-12 to cut out $124 million in production funds for two controversial new nerve gas weapons.

The vote was a significant defeat for program backers, who were depending on the Senate committee to act because the House Appropriations Committee has deleted the nerve gas money and there will probably be no effort to restore it in the full House.

The amendment was offered to a $252 billion 1984 military spending bill by committee chairman Mark Hatfield, R-Ore.

Citing a recent General Accounting Office report that recommended removal of all procurement funds because the Army's programs are not fully developed, Hatfield said, "I do not think there's been a case made for urgency of production at this time."

The committee did not vote on another major issue, whether to appropriate funds for producing the first 21 MX missiles.

Chemical weapons have not been made since President Nixon ordered a halt in production in 1969. But in every budget he has presented to Congress since his inauguration, President Reagan has been seeking to resume their production. The Pentagon wants the money to produce 155mm binary artillery shells and the "Buce" atomic bomb.

Binary weapons are made up of two non-lethal chemicals that are kept separate until they are mixed in the shell or bomb, producing a lethal gas. They are considered safer than older single-cannister weapons, which may leak.

Congress refused to break the ban in 1981 and 1982, and last June the House again refused to authorize the program. But the Senate approved it in July, with Vice President George Bush breaking a 49-49 tie, and House negotiators deferred to their Senate counterparts when the two military authorization bills were reconciled in a conference committee.

Hillside Strangler Guilty In 1 Death

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Angelo Buono Jr. has been convicted of murder in the longest criminal trial in U.S. history, but the jury must still decide if he is also guilty of the other nine Hillside Strangler sex slayings.

The jury in the trial that began almost two years ago and has cost an estimated $2 million returned a partial verdict Monday, finding the former auto upholsterer guilty of first-degree murder in the sex-torture slaying of Lauren Wagner, 18, in November 1977.

Superior Court Judge Ronald George told the jury to return today to continue the deliberations that will decide if Buono is also guilty of killing nine other young women and girls in a 5-month orgy of death that terrified the Los Angeles area.

Another conviction and Buono will be eligible for the death penalty for committing multiple murders.

Buono, 49, whose adoptive cousin, Kenneth Bianchi, pleaded guilty to five of the slayings and testified at length against Buono, stared at the floor of the heavily guarded courtroom while the verdict was read.

Fibers found on the body matched fibers found at Buono's upholstery shop in suburban Glendale, where authorities say the cousins raped, tortured and killed their victims.

A witness testified Miss Wagner was snatched from the street near her home and driven away by two men who looked like police officers. Bianchi, who confessed to several of the slayings to escape the death penalty, told investigators he and Buono first tried to electrocute her with live wires, and when she didn't die they strangled her. Her bound, nude body was found the following day.

Miss Wagner's father, Joseph, said the verdict "made her death significant."

The seven-woman, five-man jury, which began its deliberations Oct. 20, announced the verdict six years after the first Hillside Strangler victim, Yolanda Washington, was found dead.

3 Men Rob Sanford Liquor Store

Police were searching today for three men who robbed a Sanford liquor store at knifepoint Monday night.

The clerk at the package store at George's Number One Tavern, 1011 U.S. Highway 17-92, located less than two blocks from the Sanford police station, told police the men entered the store at 9:51 p.m. One of the bandits jumped over the counter and held a knife on her as he forced her against the wall, according to a police report.

Another man opened the cash register, grabbed an undetermined amount of cash, and the trio ran west across French Avenue, the report said.

The 52-year-old clerk was not harmed.

Girl Held Pending Charges In Infant's Death

A judge has ordered a 15-year-old Oviedo girl be placed in the Seminole County Detention Facility, pending possible charges against her in the death of a newborn baby boy.

Seminole Circuit Judge Kenneth M. Leffler ruled there is probable cause to hold the girl. Under Leffler's order, the girl can be held in juvenile detention for 21 days. Then she must be tried in juvenile court or be charged as an adult.

The case began Oct. 16 when the girl began complaining of pain. Her mother took her to Central Florida Regional Hospital in Sanford the next day, according to Seminole County sheriff's reports.

A hospital doctor examined the girl and became suspicious that she had given birth, but the girl, already the mother of a 14-month-old child, denied having a baby, reports said. The doctor notified deputies who questioned the girl, but she continued to deny that she had delivered a baby, reports said.

On Oct. 18, her parents gave deputies permission to search the family home and the body of a full-term baby was found inside a plastic bag behind the girl's bed, reports said.

Feuding Lebanese Ignore Each Other

GENEVA, Switzerland (UPI) — Leaders of Lebanon's warring factions gathered in Geneva today for more peace talks after refusing to shake hands or look at each other during President Amin Gemayel's appeal for peace in the opening session.

After the 50-minute opening session, delegates recessed until today to resume national reconciliation talks aimed at ending eight years of bloody civil war.

It was the first meeting of all leaders of the country's feuding political and religious factions since civil war erupted in 1975.

Missing Ship Found

United Press International

A missing American oil ship carrying 81 people sank last week at its drill site in the turbulent South China Sea, the ship's owners said today.

The sunken wreckage of the Glomar Java Sea, last heard of when it sent a distress signal during a tropical storm Oct. 25, was identified by a "side-scan sonar on a Chinese workboat," Dick Vermeer of Global Marine Inc. said.

U.S. and Chinese ships and planes have found none of the 81 crew aboard the Java Sea, leased by Global Marine to the Atlantic Richfield Co.

Convict Recants Walsh Confession

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — A convict who confessed to kidnapping 6-year-old Adam Walsh and then dumping his severed head in a south Florida canal has changed his story, authorities said today.

Elton Schwarz, chief public defender for the 19th Judicial District, said Otis Elwood Toole, 36, a drifter from Jacksonville, has retracted his confession.

Toole, serving a 20-year arson sentence at the Union Correctional Institution in Raiford, signed a confession on Oct. 21 saying he snatched Adam off the sidewalk outside a Hollywood department store July 27, 1981. His mother had left him in the toy department while she shopped the store.

Two weeks later, the boy's severed head was found in an isolated canal near the Florida turnpike about 100 miles from Hollywood.

Schwarz could not explain why the convicted arsonist recanted the beheading.

U.S. Bombed Mental Hospital In Grenada

ST. GEORGE'S, Grenada (UPI) — U.S. forces bombed a hospital adjoining Grenada's main military complex in the initial assault on the Caribbean island, killing at least 17 mental patients and wounding 30 others, a mortician and a hospital administrator said.

The Pentagon said it did not know a hospital was located near the Fort Frederick army headquarters and ordered a Navy jet to bomb the building. Another 10 patients were feared dead in the rubble.

The occupation force, which began its second week on the island today, met fierce resistance from Cubans during the first days of the invasion. President Reagan had sent the invading forces to restore order following a bloody coup and install a democracy on the Marxist-ruled eastern Caribbean island.

The Pentagon said the U.S. military death toll in the invasion of Grenada rose to 18 — with 86 wounded and one listed as missing.

Vice Adm. Joseph Metcalf, commander of the invasion force of about 5,200 American servicemen and 300 others from six Caribbean nations, estimated Monday that 69 Cubans had died during the invasion and 56 others were wounded.

No major fighting was reported on Grenada Monday.

The hospital was used as a rallying point for soldiers of Grenada's Peoples Revolutionary Army, the Pentagon statement said. "When the air strike took place, our personnel were unaware that a hospital was located at Fort Frederick."

Hospital custodian Washington Gellineau said Grenadian troops had flown a flag over the hospital to divert fire from the attacking forces.

New Dispatch System May Cost More Than Expected

By Michael Beha
Herald Staff Writer

If Seminole County commissioners plan on buying the computer-aided dispatch (CAD) system for police and fire calls demonstrated for them Monday afternoon, they may have to come up with about $42,500 more than they thought.

The Charleston, S.C. computer software firm that made the pitch said the total price tag for the CAD system is $69,500. But the county has allocated only $27,000 in its 1983-84 budget for CAD.

Assistant County Administrator Jim Easton said commissioners have not decided to purchase a system, but may instead develop their own.

"This was orientation mostly," he said. "We've been talking about computer-aided dispatch but we wanted commissioners to see what it really is."

Computer-aided dispatch ties in to telephone company address files to determine from where emergency calls are made. It also keeps track of where available emergency units are located and tells dispatchers which units are closest and should be sent to the call.

The South Carolina firm, Diversified Computer Solutions, has prepared CAD systems for use with the IBM System 38, a computer used by Seminole County. DCS representative Mary Rooney said Monday the software could be programmed into the computer in one day.

Mrs. Rooney said the price for the law enforcement CAD system is $36,000. The fire and emergency CAD system costs $17,000 and a tracking system through the courts costs an additional $16,500. Total cost: $69,500.

But that's more than twice the $27,000 commissioners budgeted to spend on the system.

"We think we can talk the price of the system down considerably," Easton said.

He said the systems offered by DCS have just recently been developed. Amarillo, Texas is testing one of its systems and others have been sold in Longmont, Colo. and Santa Fe, N.M.

Easton said Jack Harward, the county's computer services director, is still working to develop Seminole's own CAD system based upon a system currently in use in Manatee County.

Harward's staff has a Jan. 1 deadline for developing a system for the county's Public Safety Department. A comparable system for the Sheriff's Department is scheduled to be completed by the end of June, 1984. If the deadlines aren't met, commissioners have agreed to discuss purchasing an independent CAD computer system for the two departments.

Sheriff John Polk and Public Safety Director Gary Kaiser have consistently opposed the idea of putting a CAD system on the same computer being used by all other county departments.

They fear the computer could be overloaded and would be susceptible to breakdowns.

Polk has advertised for independent bid proposals so he will be prepared if Harward fails to meet the deadline.

He said having proposals already on hand would save time if Harward is unsuccessful.

"I really don't think they can do it," Polk said.

'Chemical People' Airing Will Be Followed By Discussions In Schools

State Rep. Bobby Brantley, R-Longwood, will be moderator and panel member at the viewing and discussion of The Chemical People program at Lake Mary High School Wednesday.

The local program is being coordinated with the nationally televised production of The Chemical People by experienced community citizens who will detail programs of information, prevention, intervention and treatment for drug alcohol abuse victims.

A portion of the two-part program to be aired on Channel 24 at 8 p.m. and again on Nov. 9 at 7:30 p.m. will be hosted by First Lady Nancy Reagan and will focus on acknowledging the scope of chemical abuse in today's society and confronting the "wall of denial" which often prevents any meaningful assault on the problem.

The public television production will also feature actors Michael Landon and Bill Bixby and Pittsburgh Steelers running back Franco Harris.

Locally, Brantley will discuss information he has gained as a member of the Florida House of Representatives' Corrections Committee and his experience of filming a television documentary dealing with teenage drug and alcohol abuse.

Parents, students and community resource people will gather at five other Seminole County schools Wednesday night to view and discuss The Chemical People.

In addition to Lake Mary, meetings are scheduled at Seminole, Lake Howell, Lake Brantley and Lyman High schools and Winter Springs Elementary School.

Each school will have a panel to discuss the drug problems in that particular community and ways to combat those problems.

At Seminole High School, Shirley Booker will moderate the panel discussion with Dr. Vann Parker, attorney Kurt Erlenbach, psychologist John Marcum, parent Sandy Hysell, school representative JoElla Singleton, student representative La Fonya Sialworth, youth adviser Alexander Winn, Sanford police Sgt. William Bernosky, and a representative of Alcoholics Anonymous.

intervention and treatment will be formed as a result of the town meetings.

According to Chemical People's producers, the program is the biggest effort ever undertaken to fight drugs at the grass roots level.

Christine Craft To Appeal Ruling

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Former anchorwoman Christine Craft says she is "appalled" and will appeal a federal judge's ruling overturning a $500,000 jury award in her sex discrimination case and ordering a new trial for her ex-employer.

U.S. District Judge Joseph Stevens, in an unusual ruling Monday, overturned the jury's decision made earlier in his courtroom and said Ms. Craft's former employer was justified in trying to modify her looks on the air because of her "individual shortcomings." He also cited her "below-average aptitude in the matter of clothing and makeup."

He said the jury was either prejudiced or confused by extensive publicity when it found Metromedia Inc., former owner of KMBC-TV, guilty of fraud and awarded Ms. Craft $500,000.

"In summary, the plaintiff was not discriminated against because of her sex," Stevens said.

Ms. Craft had contended she was demoted from her anchor position at KMBC because she was "too old, too unattractive and not deferential enough to men."

The jury agreed on Aug. 8 and awarded Ms. Craft $375,000 in actual damages and $125,000 in punitive damages for fraud and issued an advisory in favor of Ms. Craft on the sex discrimination issue. The jury found Metromedia innocent of unequal pay practices.

Lebanon: We Need Time Limit

It's been a long time since Americans have felt such grief and outrage. The death of more than 200 U.S. Marines in Beirut and the wounding of almost 100 others constitute a national tragedy, which is shared directly by the French who lost more than 40 paratroopers. There was, for example, no single shocker in the drawn-out wars in Korea and Vietnam to compare with this single horror.

That one or two Moslem terrorists could simultaneously blow up and destroy separate headquarters buildings housing U.S. and French peacekeeping forces in and around the Beirut airport raises questions about adequate security precautions and lends an element of frustration to the near-universal indignation. The destruction of the U.S. Embassy in Beirut last April by a similar vehicle bomb blast should have been a clear warning that Marine Corps commanders must contend with what must now become an agonizing investigation.

During his press conference about the bombings, President Reagan confirmed indirectly what other U.S. spokesmen have been saying, namely that the terrorists behind the Marine massacre were linked to those who blew up the embassy; that there is an Iranian connection supported by Syria.

Israel's prime minister, Yitzhak Shamir, all but calling the Syrians by name, directly blamed "those who want to prevent a peaceful solution in Lebanon and to increase bloodshed."

Undoubtedly, Mr. Reagan's pledge of punishment was not so much an eye-for-an-eye philosophy as the need to discourage future such atrocities. The lack of penalty against the embassy bombers, we may assume, encouraged the audacious attack on the American and French peacekeeping forces. The United States is not without powerful means to make life uncomfortable for the Syrians and especially the Iraqis, who are mired in a desperate war with Iraq.

There is widespread agreement, which we share, in support of the president's swift, firm resolve to send in reinforcements to make up for the losses and to stand firm. It would never do for the United States to pull out in response to an act of terrorism, no matter how grievous the loss. There is no immediate choice but to tighten security for Americans in Beirut and hang on, giving the Lebanese a final chance to stop their civil war and unite in what is left of their ravaged country.

A French pledge to stick it out in Beirut lent welcomed support for Mr. Reagan from abroad. And House Speaker Thomas O'Neill gave him domestic strength by vowing to keep the tragedy from becoming a partisan political issue. To pull out now "would be a victory for the Russians," he said.

But in the long term it is untenable and unacceptable for American, British, French, and Italian contingents in and around Beirut to continue indefinitely as passive, sitting ducks, caught in the cross fire of warring religious fanatics.

On the other hand, it would be the most dangerous folly for 1,600 Marines to undertake an active combat role in search and destroy missions against Moslem guerrillas armed and supported by the Soviet Union and Syria, which has 40,000 troops in Lebanon and strong forces within a few miles of Beirut. Moreover, the Soviet Union now has an estimated 7,000 troops stationed in Syria and, according to reliable reports, 200 or more Soviet military personnel are actively engaged with Syrian forces inside Lebanon. With increasing Soviet support, there is scarcely a chance that Syria, which lays claim to Lebanese territory, will get out of Lebanon in the foreseeable future, if ever.

The only hope of getting out of this unbearable morass for Western peacekeeping forces is through a political settlement between Lebanon's President Amin Gemayel and his Druse opponents. Accordingly, President Reagan should quietly give the Lebanese a time limit to compose their differences after which the United States and its allies will withdraw and leave the Lebanese to their own fate. That fate, they must know, will mean a return to vassalage under the Syrians, the PLO and, now, the Soviets. Such a terrifying alternative should be incentive enough for the Lebanese to cease fighting each other and form a free government for themselves.

If the Lebanese are unable or unwilling to make peace among themselves within a reasonable time, the United States and its friends are hardly in a position to impose tranquility in a land where military force has failed to settle anything since civil violence broke out in 1975.

IN TALLAHASSEE Hearings Slated On Unitary Tax

By Sam Miller

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Big business fighting for repeal of the unitary corporate profits tax gets a foot in the door this week with the first legislative hearings on the controversial measure since it became law.

The Senate Finance and Tax Committee meets Wednesday to give big business and other groups opposed to the tax a chance to argue that it has destroyed Florida's reputation as the number one state in the country for business and industry investment.

The House finance and tax and tourism and economic development committees also were to hold hearings on the unitary tax this week, but those have been moved back, at least until December.

House Speaker Lee Moffitt and Senate President Curtis Peterson remain opposed to repeal of the tax, enacted by the Legislature in a July special session and only in effect since Sept. 1, but they have authorized hearings on the possible adverse impact on the state's economic development programs.

Associated Industries of Florida president Jon Shebel, leading the big business fight, welcomes the legislative hearings as the first step toward repeal or major modification.

Shebel hopes opponents of the tax continue to have momentum despite the rejection by Gov. Bob Graham and the Cabinet a couple of weeks ago of an anti-unitary tax resolution by Secretary of State George Firestone and the muzzling of Lt. Gov. Wayne Mixson, who had called for repeal, by Graham.

While Graham fought the Firestone resolution and ordered Mixson to keep his misgivings about the tax to himself, he did indicate he may be willing to consider some major changes, if not outright repeal.

He said he may appoint a citizen's commission to investigate the big business warnings of doom for Florida's economic development efforts.

The controversial new tax is an extension of Florida's 5 percent corporate profits tax to out-of-state and out-of-country profits. In addition, it expands the financial activities subject to the tax to include foreign subsidiaries and affiliates.

This provision, the so-called unitary tax approach, is the most controversial, giving Florida the ability to tax to some extent all activities of the multinational corporations.

California enacted the tax about 10 years ago. That tax was upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court this summer, then copied by the Florida Legislature a few days later as part of a way out of a deadlock over tax increases for educational improvements.

Grenada: Prelude To Attack Cuba?

WASHINGTON — Was the U.S. invasion of Grenada just a warm-up for an attack on Cuba? This startling possibility cannot be lightly dismissed. Here's why:

As far as Ronald Reagan is concerned, the 1962 U.S.-Soviet agreement — no Soviet missiles in Cuba, no U.S. invasion of the island — does not exist.

And he's right — though for the wrong reasons. Reagan's view is that the Kremlin has abrogated the agreement by repeated violation of its provisions. Therefore, the United States is no longer bound by its pledge not to invade Cuba.

But the truth is this: The supposedly ironclad agreement between President Kennedy and Nikita Khrushchev never actually existed.

The Soviets did not agree never to deploy offensive weapons in Cuba, for the simple reason that the two sides disagreed over the definition of offensive vs. defensive weapons. So the Soviets can "legally" put medium-range

After three years out of the public eye concentrating on commercial ventures, Vince Fechtel, the former legislator, is back in the news with his nomination by President Reagan to the Federal Parole Commission.

For the past three years, Fechtel friends who were aware of his early support of Reagan for the presidency expected Vince to get some kind of federal appointment.

A very effective legislator on behalf of Seminole County during his six years in the state House of Representatives, Fechtel didn't forget Seminole when he became a state senator even though his senatorial district didn't include this county.

His car remained available to his former constituents and he attended various functions in the county on a steady basis. Only a few weeks ago many of his local friends renewed their relationship with him at a party given in his honor in Maitland.

Considered a shoo-in for re-election to the Senate in 1980, Fechtel changed political direction and took a shot at the U.S. House seat held by then-U.S. Rep. Richard Kelly instead. Fechtel had considered running against Kelly in 1978, but was advised to wait and not split the GOP with a challenge to an incumbent Republican congressman at that time.

By mid-1980, Kelly, who had been the darling of the conservatives, was in disgrace, accused by the FBI of falling prey to the federal agency in a bribe set-up in the Abscam operation. Kelly has since been convicted and his conviction has been upheld.

But Fechtel waited too long in announcing his intent to run for Congress. By the time he announced, Bill McCollum had already gotten pledges of support from most of Fechtel's former Seminole County supporters as well as others in the fifth congressional district which then was the largest population-wise in the nation.

In the first primary, Fechtel and McCollum squeezed Kelly out of the running. And in the second primary, McCollum knocked off Fechtel and went on to win the general election.

Fechtel, who was and still is Republican state committeeman from Lake County, submerged his own hopes rapidly, announcing his immediate support for McCollum.

Commenting about his nomination to the federal office — his appointment must yet be ratified by the U.S. Senate — Fechtel said McCollum and U.S. Sen. Paula Hawkins have been very supportive in his quest for the federal post.

And he said that he will miss Leesburg, Seminole County and Central Florida and his involvement in commercial enterprises, but the new job will be a challenge.

The appointment is for a six-year term and the annual salary of the office is $65,000.

In accepting the job, his long-time Seminole County friends wish him success.

WILLIAM RUSHER

The Conservative Critics

NEW YORK (NEA) — As President Reagan moves ever closer to declaring his candidacy for re-election, it is time for those of us who approve, by and large, of the job he has been doing to stand up and say so. Since this will involve public disagreement with a few good friends of mine on the New Right, I have been reluctant to open the quarrel.

But I notice that they have shown no hesitation about proclaiming their differences with Mr. Reagan; why then should I, or any other conservative, be any more reluctant about frankly disagreeing with them?

For well over a year now, our liberal media have been employing a new and delightful method of having it both ways. First, they will give lavish coverage to Tip O'Neill, or better yet some alleged "expert" whose Democratic bias is less obvious, while he flays Mr. Reagan for various alleged crimes of commission and omission. Then, just to show how even-handed they are, the media will ostentatiously cross the political dividing line and announce that Mr. Reagan is also in trouble with his "core constituency," the hard-shelled conservatives. There follows an interview with one of a piercingly small group of New Rightists who are unfailingly available to condemn on TV or in print just about anything Ronald Reagan is doing.

The impression is thereby created that left and right in America, however much they may disagree on everything else, are united in their outrage over the behavior of President Reagan. It plainly isn't just a matter of partisan criticism; disension has broken out in the most intimate recesses of the Reagan seraglio.

Now, let's see what's really going on here. Lord knows I am no knee-jerk loyalist where Republican presidents or presidential candidates are concerned. I refused even to vote for Richard Nixon in 1960 (writing in Barry Goldwater's name instead). I am sorry, in retrospect, that I voted for him in 1968, and proud that by 1972 I had recovered my senses enough not to make that mistake again.

I also ignored the call of Jerry Ford's uncertain trumpet in 1976. I mention these things, not because I am unaware that many conservatives could and did reasonably disagree with me, but to dispel any notion that I think Republican presidents are automatically entitled to conservative support. Far from it.

But I do object to a handful of dissenting conservatives making a cottage industry out of criticizing Ronald Reagan and then peddling their entire work-product to avid buyers in the liberal media.

Since when have Richard Viguerie, John Lofton (who works for him), and Howie Phillips (whose mailing list Viguerie controls) been Ronald Reagan's "core constituency"? In 1968, when Reagan first sought the GOP nomination, Phillips was busy managing the senatorial campaign of Richard Schweiker, then a passionately liberal Republican congressman; in the early 1970s he was a contented member of Richard Nixon's administration, in charge of the OEO. As late as 1976 and even again in 1980, Viguerie backed John Connally's nomination bid against Reagan and the rest of the Republican field.

I don't doubt for a moment the severely conservative sentiments these able men proclaim today, or the sincerity of their annoyance at Reagan's failure to measure up to them. But I most certainly challenge their right to speak for me, let alone for conservatives in general, or indeed for anybody but themselves, each other, and a relative handful of their fellow malcontents.

ANTHONY HARRIGAN On The Politics Of Hatred

If the average reader were familiar with the work of radical commentators in the United States, he would be shocked to discover that there are so many people who regard their country as an evil or criminal force in the world. Sad to say, there is a sizable contingent of Americans who, while benefiting from the liberties afforded by the United States, are determined to condemn it.

It would be helpful if more Americans understood the depth of radical hostility of America, its institutions and values.

Dr. Noam Chomsky, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is a professor of linguistics who also is a full-time participant in the politics of hatred. In a new book, Prof. Chomsky said the United States will "oppose any foe, pay any price, sanction any repression, support any fascist in order to assure the widest possible freedom for American business to acquire its necessary raw materials — in short, to make the world safe for capitalism." This is an ugly absurdity, of course. How does Prof. Chomsky square this statement with U.S. support of Solidarity in captive Poland?

Then there's the case of the radical journal Democracy. Sheldon S. Wolin, editor of the magazine, says of the United States: "Nuclear supremacy is its telos (ultimate end or objective), and a line from Livy awaits its epitaph: 'In love with death, both individual and collective.'" He says this of his country, which has sought agreement on arms control since the Baruch Plan after World War II.

The Progressive, another radical magazine, commenting on the Soviet destruction of Korean Airlines Flight 007, says that the airliner "fell victim to the rampant paranoia that is indispensable to the devotees of 'military preparedness' in our country, no less than in the Soviet Union." The killing of the innocent passengers was as much our fault as the Soviets, in the view of The Progressive.

This sort of twisted thinking filters down to students. A student columnist for a campus paper at a Southern liberal arts university writes that "the Soviet Union might be the biggest criminal in the world." But he goes on to say that the United States is "the second biggest criminal in the world" and that "we are in no business to hysterically denounce them." Only the politics of hatred explains the notion that the United States, which millions of people around the world want to become citizens of, is "the second biggest criminal in the world."

A free society has to allow such comments, though universities ought to examine the worth of their educational processes if their students "think" that way. A free society, however, may not be able to survive the politics of hatred. It's all very sick.

To make sure he was on solid ground for that accusation, Reagan sent William Clark, who was then national security adviser, to examine the 1962 documents to see exactly what they said. Incredibly, the State Department stalled.

But my associate Dale Van Atta has gained access to the top secret documents that the State Department denied to Clark and the president. He also obtained three different secret State Department reviews of the supposed agreement.

One of these, a 1981 memorandum, lets the cat out of the bag. It says: "We have in the past taken the position, at least internally, that the 1962 U.S.-Soviet exchanges were not legally binding agreements... (But) it would be ill-advised to continue to foster the view that these exchanges are less than legally binding understandings."

The secret documents make clear that while the Russians removed their nuclear missiles from Cuba they did not agree that the weapons were "offensive in nature." When presented with a list of weapons the United States considered offensive, the Soviets balked.

After a Nov. 5, 1962, meeting with Soviet diplomat Anatoly Dobrynin, Attorney General Robert Kennedy wrote a memo to his brother, the president, saying: "I explained to Dobrynin that from the first it had been made clear by the Soviet Union that they would get rid of any weapons which we considered offensive." But Dobrynin did not agree.

Two days later, a top-secret cable from Secretary of State Dean Rusk referred to "a confidential indication that the Soviet Government takes strong exception to the list of weapons we consider offensive."

And Khrushchev himself wrote to President Kennedy in a top-secret letter: "You yourself refer not to direct obligations of the sides but to the understanding implied by the American side in the expression 'offensive weapons'."

Lady Raiders Bank On Recruits For Super Year

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

After a tremendous recruiting year, the Lady Raiders of Seminole Community College have one of the most talented teams in the Mid-Florida Conference and, perhaps in the state.

Former coach Solomon Batton left the team in the hands of Ileana Gallagher for the 1983-84 season and Gallagher, former SCC head coach and an assistant last fall, will be guiding what should be the best women's team in SCC history.

With an excellent blend of freshmen and sophomores, the Lady Raiders open the season tonight at 7:30 at Manatee Junior College. SCC's home opener is Thursday at 7:30 against Brevard CC. The Lady Raiders will host a tournament on Nov. 11-12.

The top returns to the team include Val Roesler out of Pittsburgh, Pa., who broke just about every SCC individual record a year ago, Sanford sharpshooter Cathy Jones, Apopka's Evelyn Smith and Orlando's Mary Jo Miller and Sue Winterheimer. Top newcomers include Clearwater's Juana Coletti and Patricia Williams, Pam Lee and Carolyn Brinkley, all out of the St. Petersburg area.

Val Roesler, 5-11 sophomore forward

Roesler averaged 17 points and 10.2 rebounds per game a year ago and she should break the SCC career records for both points and rebounds this season. Roesler scored 36 points in a game last year and when she's hot, she can dominate. Look for Roesler to emerge as one of the top Junior College players in the conference and the state this season.

"Because of her constant hustle every day and strong determination, she will give the team a stable balance," Gallagher said of Roesler.

Mary Jo Miller, 5-3 sophomore guard

Miller did an outstanding job as the back up point guard to Mindy Patrick a year ago. She set the assist record at Orlando Boone High in her senior year and won the Hustle award as a SCC freshman last year.

Basketball Preview

"Mary Jo is outstanding on defense with the ability to force mistakes by an offensive player," Gallagher said. "She will give the leadership and experience needed at point guard."

Evelyn Smith, 5-11 sophomore forward

A three-year All-Conference selection at Apopka High, Smith averaged 8.5 points and had a single-game high of 32 points as a freshman at SCC. An outstanding shooter, Smith will also be counted on to provide rebounding strength this season.

"She has a strong rebounding ability and, with a little physical and mental effort, will become an outstanding player at the shooting forward position," Gallagher said.

Cathy Jones, 5-11 sophomore forward

Considered one of the top players in Central Florida her senior year at Seminole, Jones was chosen first team All-Conference, All-County player of the year, and Honorable Mention All-State for the 1981-82 season. Jones played guard for the Lady Raiders last season and she will play forward or guard this season.

"Cathy's first experience in college ball was moving from forward to guard," Gallagher said. "But, she did well and will play with experience and leadership this year."

Susie Winterheimer, 6-3 sophomore center

Winterheimer missed half of the season last year because of the eligibility rule for transfer students. She improved tremendously in the time she did play though, and will be a key force inside for the Lady Raiders this year.

"Susie's ability to rebound will give the team a strong center position that should dominate the boards,"

Gallagher said. "She should develop into a fine four-year prospect."

Juana Coletti, 6-0 freshman forward

Coletti was the first new recruit to sign at SCC after she led the Clearwater Central Catholic team to second place in the 2A state playoffs a year ago. Coletti averaged 18 points and 12 rebounds per game in her senior year.

"Juana will bring balance on the boards," Gallagher said. "She is a left-handed player, which gives her a good advantage."

Kimberly Ross, 6-0 freshman center

One of the top defensive players in the state last year, Ross will contribute a lot to the Lady Raiders this season. Ross had 239 rebounds and blocked 39 shots in her senior year at Clearwater.

"Kim's defensive ability will give the team the support needed in the middle," Gallagher said.

Tonya Alexander, 5-10 freshman guard

Alexander was a four-year starter in high school and received such honors as All-Regional team for four years and Honorable Mention All-State for three years. She also won the Margaret Wade Award for scoring over 1,000 points in her career at Murray High in Murray, Ky.

"Tonya is an outstanding person both on and off the court," Gallagher said. "She is a great shooter from the outside, and has the ability to make the inside move."

Monica Greene, 5-11 freshman forward

Greene comes from an outstanding basketball family. Her father, Ron Greene, is the coach of Murray State University in Kentucky which won the O.U.C. Conference last year. Greene scored 1,002 points in her high school career at Murray (Ky.) High including 448 in her senior year. She set a school record for field goal percentage in 1980-81 with 56 percent accuracy. Greene made the All-Purchase team in 1982 and '83 and made the All-District and All-State Honorable Mention teams in '83.

"Monica is an outstanding individual with a positive attitude," Gallagher said.

Patricia Williams, 5-10 freshman guard

Williams led her Seminole High (Largo) team to a 20-3 record and the state playoffs last season as she sizzled the nets with a 58 percent field goal percentage. Williams made the Pinellas County All-Conference First Team and All Sun First Team a year ago.

"Patricia will play the shooting guard position and wing," Gallagher said. "She will give quickness and shooting power at those positions."

Pam Lee, 5-9 freshman guard

Lee ended an outstanding high school career at St. Petersburg Gibbs High by being named to the All-County first team and All-State Honorable Mention a year ago. "She will give the team depth at the guard position," Gallagher said.

Carolyn Brinkley, 5-8 freshman guard

Brinkley will be sharing responsibilities with Miller at the point guard position. She was Second Team All-County and most valuable player for the Dixie Hollins team a year ago. "Carolyn has the ability to make things happen," Gallagher said. "With a little work defensively, she will be a great player."

Veronica Withered, 5-2 sophomore guard

Withered was a transfer from St. Petersburg Junior College but could not play last year because of the eligibility rule. However, she will play this year and provide leadership on and off the court.

Brenda Walker, 5-5 freshman guard

Walker, out of Osceola Kissimmee High is a walk-on who will provide depth at the guard position. "Brenda is a smart player and one of the better defensive players," Gallagher said.

The 1983 Seminole Community College women's basketball team has the potential to be a great one. The Lady Raiders have a lot of talent, experience and depth and Gallagher should have a successful return to the helm during the 1983-84 cage season.

McKay Blames Blown Assignments, Media For Bucs' 9th Setback

TAMPA (UPI) — Tampa Bay Coach John McKay blames blown assignments on offense, defense and special teams, plus distractions he said were caused by the media, for the Buccaneers ninth straight loss Sunday.

The Bucs managed only four field goals in the 17-12 loss to the Pittsburgh Steelers despite outstanding defensive play which resulted in seven turnovers and five quarterback sacks.

McKay said the special teams unit was guilty of offside twice on kickoffs and once fumble the ball in the end zone before getting it out to the 10, leaving the Bucs in poor field position.

He said the holding McKay said the player's attitude along the sideline was good throughout the game until "We decided to let those special teams start messing up."

"I have never figured out yet what is so hard about special teams play," he said.

McKay said the Bucs also were bothered by stories during the week that linebacker Andy Hawkins, who is on injured reserve, was rumored to have signed with a United States Football League team for next season and said every week the Bucs have to contend with some distracting story in the local newspapers.

"You people are working for the other teams, you aren't working for the Bucs," he said. "You ought to cover them, forget us. We'd be better off and so would you be."

"Every (expletive) week when we get started to play there's always one of these things that comes up," he said.

When told that United Press International reporters don't work for any teams, McKay replied: "I appreciate that. I appreciate that."

One positive thing McKay saw in the Steelers game was the running of James Wilder, who set an NFL record of 42 carries good for 126 yards operating both as tailback and fullback, but said that was too many carries for him.

"In all honesty, I didn't realize he carried that much and I asked him after the game and he didn't realize it," McKay said.

Lyman, Apopka Open District 9 Tournament Today At Lake Mary

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Unlike last year, there really isn't one dominant team in the District 9A-9 Volleyball Tournament which gets underway today at Lake Mary High. A year ago, Lyman's Lady Greyhounds swept to the district title with an all-senior starting lineup. Lyman was unbeaten in district play last year, but no team went without a loss in the district this season.

The top four teams were seeded for this year's tournament and the remaining teams drew for their spots in the bracket. DeLand's Lady Bulldogs, 7-1 in district play, are the number one seed followed by number two seed Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks, 7-1, number three Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots, 5-3, and fourth is the Lady Tribe of Seminole High, 4-4.

Here is a look at the draw for the opening rounds of the district tourney:

TUESDAY

4 p.m., Lyman (2-6) vs. Apopka (0-8)

The winner of tonight's opening-round game goes up against third seeded Lake Brantley in Wednesday's first-round opener. Lyman is an overwhelming underdog to repeat as district champions but the Lady Greyhounds shouldn't have any trouble beating Apopka. Kim Forsyth and Regan Stump are the big hitters for Lyman while Dawn Boyeson, Sheila Mandy and Lori Helms are the most consistent servers. Apopka's main goal is to get the ball over the net in three tries, needless to say, the Lady Blue Darters don't have much of an attack.

WEDNESDAY

3:30 p.m., Lake Brantley (5-3) vs. Tuesday winner

When they are on, the Lady Patriots are as good as anyone. Lake Brantley proved that by being the only district team to beat DeLand during the regular season. However, when they aren't on, the Patriots are just like any average team. Lake Brantley's three district losses came at the hands of Seminole County foes Seminole, Lake Mary and Lake Howell. Dana Gebhart is the big hitter for the Lady Patriots and Kim Longhouser is one of the most consistent servers.

5 p.m., DeLand (7-1) vs. Mainland (1-7)

DeLand's opening game should be a breeze, but it will be the only cakewalk for the Lady Bulldog in the tourney. Volatile DeLand coach Clifford Cox should be able to keep his cool in this game, but look for him to get more than a little unraveled as the tournament progresses. Bridgette Gordon, a 6-1 junior, can be devastating at times, but once you get her off the front line, the Lady Bulldogs aren't even close to invincible.

Prep Volleyball

When Gordon is off the front line, though, DeLand brings in 6-0 Stephanie Edwards who can be effective, but is also erratic. Leslie Voll and Robin Swartz are also key players for the Lady Bulldogs.

6:30 p.m., Lake Howell (7-1) vs. Spruce Creek (3-5)

Lake Howell is loaded with talent and the Lady Hawks have only lost two matches in the entire season, one to DeLand and one to 3A power Ocala Vanguard. The Lady Hawks would like to avenge the DeLand loss, but getting to the finals will be no easy task for Lake Howell. Senior Christy Scott has had an exceptional season and is adept at all aspects of the game. Caryn Krumweide is the Hawks' top server. Beth Saunders, Cathy Saunders, Kathy Barma and Eileen Thiebauth, all very talented performers, complete the starting lineup with Kim Montegny providing strength off the bench. Spruce Creek is a very unpredictable team and could give the Lake Howell problems or go down to defeat easily.

8 p.m., Seminole (4-4) vs. Lake Mary (4-4)

Whether they meet in the first round or the finals, the Seminole-Lake Mary matchup will be one of the most exciting of the tourney. Unfortunately, the two inter-county rivals go up against each other in the first round and one of the two will be eliminated early. Seminole has beaten the Lady Rams twice this season, but both matches were close. Big hitters for the Lady Tribe include Genevieve Stallworth, Katy Barbour and Janet Hauck. Beth Nelson is Seminole's top server and she is coming off one of the most impressive serving performances of the season in which she served 10 straight points against DeLand. Dee Goblebecker is the Tribe's setter while either Keri Lake or Toni Washington fill in the sixth spot in the starting lineup. Lake Mary's big hitters are 6-1½ twins Laura and Peggy Glass. The talented duo can dominate if when at their best. Michelle Swartz and Robyn Pinnock are also key performers for the Lady Rams while Lisa Simpkins is the setter and Robyn Christensen completes the starting six with bench strength coming from Michelle Loudermilk and Libbi McGarvey.

The winners of Wednesday's first two games will meet in the semi-finals Thursday night at 6:30 while the winners of the second two games Wednesday meet Thursday night at 8. The district championship is slated for Friday night at 7.

Prep Polls

Lake Howell's girls topped Lake Brantley in the Five Star Conference Cross Country Meet at Lake Mary Friday to retake the distinction as the county's best team.

Lake Mary's boys turned away Lyman to hold on to their top spot. Ken Christianson is still the best boys runner although he has been hobbled by a pulled muscle lately, and had to pull out of Friday's meet after trying to run. Trinity Prep's Adrienne Palliowicz has the best girls' time by over 30 seconds.

The next big meet on tap is the district Saturday at Trinity Prep. The Athletic Athletic Seminole County Track Officials Runners of the Week were Lake Howell's Amy Eriel and Seminole's Kent Troutman.

Man Can Get Married Without Getting Stuck

DEAR ABBY: This letter is regarding "No Mrs. in Manhattan," who complained that her live-in lover, "Bobby," wouldn't marry her because he was terrified of needles, and he couldn't get married in New York without a blood test. To add to her problems, she was pregnant.

Dear Abby

You suggested that Bobby see a "shrink" or consider hypnosis. You missed a painless solution, Abby. They could come to Nevada, obtain a marriage license without a blood test and get married the same day.

And by the way, divorce in Nevada is almost as quick and painless as marriage.

JACK IN NEVADA

DEAR JACK: Thanks for the good news from the most popular hitching and unhitching post in the United States. Read on for some sunny news from California:

DEAR ABBY: Please advise "No Mrs. in Manhattan" to take Bobby to California, because the law there states that when an unmarried man and an unmarried woman, not minors, have been living together as husband and wife, they may, without a license and without obtaining health certificates, be married by any person authorized to solemnize a marriage.

MRS. IN LOS ANGELES

DEAR MRS. California may not be the only state in which this law prevails. And because state laws change from day to day, I repeat my advice: If you have a legal problem, hire a lawyer and pay him (or her) for what he knows. The person who tries to be his own lawyer has a fool for a client. Even lawyers hire lawyers to represent them.

DEAR ABBY: Tell "No Mrs. in Manhattan," whose boyfriend was afraid to get married because of the blood test, to come to Arkansas. As of July of this year, the state of Arkansas no longer requires blood tests for marriage license applications. All we require is that the couple apply together, provide proof of age and $20 in cash.

I realize Arkansas is a long way from Manhattan, but the trip probably wouldn't be as painful to Bobby as the needle.

PHYLLIS MALLARD
DEPUTY COUNTY CLERK
CRAWFORD COUNTY, ARK.

DEAR ABBY: I am the holder of a mortgage on property sold to a relative. Payments are due the first day of each month. This relative dutifully writes the checks and dates them on the first day of the month, but the checks are not mailed until later, and some have arrived as late as the 11th! This infuriates me.

Apart from the interest that might be earned on the payments, and the concern that the check may be lost in the mail, the late arrival necessitates multiple trips to the bank and other inconveniences.

The law provides a 30-day grace period before a late payment penalty can be invoked. Can you suggest a solution?

DEAR STEAMED: If the relative lives in your city, pick up the check on the first day of every month — or have someone pick it up for you. It may get your relative's back up, but it will keep your blood pressure down.

DEAR ABBY: When "Happy Atheist" took you to task for your many references to "God," you might have responded with this quotation from Christian Scientist Dr. Robert Milliken, winner of the Nobel Prize in physics: "We have come from somewhere and are going somewhere. The Great Architect of the universe never built a stairway that leads to nowhere."

Getting married? Whether you want a formal church wedding or a simple, "do-your-own-thing" ceremony, get Abby's booklet. Send $1 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped (37 cents) envelope to: Abby's Wedding Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.

Publicity Procedure

The Herald welcomes organization and personal news. The following suggestions are recommended to expedite publication:

1. Releases should be typed (lower and upper case), double spaced, and written narrative style (third person).
2. Do not abbreviate.
3. A contact person's name and phone number is necessary.
4. Keep releases simple.
5. Organization releases (the program should lead the meeting account) must be submitted no later than two days after the event.
6. Advance notices should be submitted one week prior to publication date.
7. Photographic coverage requests should be made one week in advance.

BEDWETTER

LET THEM HAVE A DRY BED

The greatest gift you can give a bedwetter and the rest of the family, too, is an end to this serious problem, and make no mistake, bedwetting is serious. It can cause complicated psychological problems that last a lifetime. It's so needless because bedwetting, when not caused by organic defect or disease, can be ended. Send for our free brochure, "Bedwetting — What It's All About and How To End It," a report by two medical doctors. No obligation.

In A Hurry? Come To Page's 1-Hour Photo

There is no need to wait several days before seeing how your photographs turn out. When you need your color photos fast, for quick, quality service, bring your film to Page's 1-Hour Photo at Zayre Plaza at 2698 Orlando Drive (Highway 17-92 and Airport Boulevard), Sanford.

At Page's, your film gets individual attention. Developing and printing are done on the premises and you do not run the risk of losing those priceless rolls of film of your wedding or once-in-a-lifetime vacation by sending them out of town to be developed away by some mass operation.

Veteran Navy photographer Steve Page, who opened the photo finishing service one and a half months ago, with his knowledge of photography, cameras and film processing he can give you advice that will make picture taking a snap.

Should you goof up once in awhile, it is comforting to know that there is no charge for your bad shots at Page's and if you have ruined the whole roll for some reason, there isn't even a developing charge.

Page's uses the KIS photo processing machine for quality work. Page's processes color film in disc. 110, 126, and 135 types (no 120, please.)

Before moving to Sanford, Steve ran a photo finishing business in Citrus County for seven years. A Navy photographer for 20 years before retiring in 1977, he was stationed in Sanford for part of that time. "I always liked the area," he said. Working with him in the business is his son, Scott, who plans to attend the University of Central Florida.

Steve and his wife, Nancy, also have a daughter, Jennifer, who will be helping out in the business while attending Seminole High School.

Now is the time to order your personalized photo Christmas cards featuring a favorite snapshot of your family, home, or pets. Order now for seven-day delivery. The cut off date for ordering to be assured of delivery in time for Christmas mailing is Dec. 1. There are several styles and designs from which to choose.

Another important service offered by Page's 1-hour Photo is instant passport photos. Slide processing and enlargements are available.

Page's carries both Kodak and Fuji film. Store hours are 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday; 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Tuesday and Friday; and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday.

Carson's Court Hearing Delayed

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The courtroom battle over a $220,000-a-month support payment demanded by Johnny Carson's estranged wife has been postponed for 10 weeks, but the talk show host must pay all her bills in the meantime.

Superior Court Judge Frances Rothschild granted the motion for postponement requested Monday by Carson's newly appointed attorney, Norman Oberstein, who asked for additional time to prepare his client's case.

But the judge attached several conditions to the delay. One requires that Carson to pay all of Joanna Carson's bills as they are received and another placing $25,000 in an account for accounting fees pending the Jan. 18 hearing.

The judge also said any interim support coming out of the Jan. 18 hearing would be retroactive to Monday's date.

Carson also was ordered to resume payments to security guards at the Bel-Air property Mrs. Carson occupies, including $24,000 in delinquent bills, to pay any insurance premiums as they come due and not to cancel any existing credit cards or charge accounts in Mrs. Carson's name.

Mrs. Carson is seeking the interim $220,000 monthly support pending outcome of the divorce. She said in court documents she needs the more than $2.6 million a year to continue to enjoy the lifestyle to which she became accustomed as Carson's wife.

Carson offered to pay $40,000 monthly and has told the court he gets along on only $30,000 a month, with a third of that going to the care of his elderly mother. He earns an estimated $15 million a year from various sources.

Laxalt Casino Skimmed Profits

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — A Nevada casino may have lost $2 million in profits from a skimming operation when it was owned by Sen. Paul Laxalt, it was reported today.

The Sacramento Bee said in today's edition that the Internal Revenue Service learned about the skimming in 1973 during "an internal tax agency inquiry and a criminal tax evasion investigation, both unrelated to Laxalt or his casino."

The Bee report, written by Denny Walsh, said the evidence relating to the Ormsby House hotel and casino in Carson City "was never pursued" because the IRS investigator was told not to pursue it.

Laxalt, a conservative Nevada Republican, was at the time a political ally of then President Richard Nixon. He is now a key supporter of President Reagan and heads Reagan's re-election campaign.

The newspaper said it was unable to obtain a comment from Laxalt about the alleged skimming, but a top aide to the senator dismissed it as "asinine."

The newspaper said it had obtained evidence that "an internal inquiry into the activities of an IRS agent led in 1973 to the information regarding systematic removal of a certain percentage of house winnings before they were recorded on the books of the Ormsby House, opened by Laxalt in 1972."

The newspaper said its sources "did not know whether Laxalt himself knew of the scheme" to skim the casino proceeds.

Skimming "is often used to pay persons who have an undisclosed stake in a casino because their backgrounds do not meet Nevada's ownership licensing standards," the newspaper said.

Social Security Taxes Going Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Social Security taxes will take a bigger bite from Americans' paychecks next year with workers turning over as much as $2,532.60 each to help support the program, the government says.

Under guidelines outlined by the Social Security Administration, workers will be required to pay as much as $140.70 more in Social Security taxes in 1984 than they are paying this year.

The new requirements call for Social Security taxes to be levied on the first $37,800 in 1984 earnings, up $2,100 from this year's cutoff point of $35,700.

The tax rate will be set at 7 percent of earnings beginning Jan. 1 — up from 6.7 percent this year. But a one-time tax credit equivalent to 0.3 percent of each employee's covered wages will hold the effective tax rate at 6.7 percent, the agency said.

Under the 1984 formula, the maximum tax for each employee will be $2,532.60. In comparison, the top payment this year is $2,391.90.

Employers' share of Social Security taxes also will rise above this year's levels to a maximum of $2,646 on each worker's 1984 earnings, up $254.10 from this year's level because of increases in the wage base and the tax rate, the agency said.

For the self-employed, the maximum Social Security tax will climb by $933.46 from this year's level to $4,271.40 in 1984. The increase will reflect both the higher wage base and tax rate.

Several other changes in Social Security laws also take effect Jan. 1, including:

—An increase in the maximum amount a Social Security recipient below age 65 may earn without losing benefits. The new limit will be $5,160, up from $4,920 this year.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Heart Exercises: Which Is Best?

DEAR DR. LAMB — I would like to know which exercise is best for the heart. Is jogging better than swimming? Is bicycling as good as jogging? Or should I be doing more callisthenics?

Currently I jog about a mile a day and I try to do a lot of general exercises such as sit-ups and push-ups. I also do some knee-bends but I have heard those are hard on your knee joint.

I want to build up my heart while I am still young and keep it strong as I go through life. I'm 22 years old now and in good health. I don't smoke or drink coffee.

DEAR READER: — Your exercise program sounds good on the whole. It is true if you do deep knee-bends you can overbend the knee joint and in time may cause damage. You can avoid that by kneeling on one knee. One knee is on the floor the other knee is bent for your knee-bend. That way the bent knee is never overbent. And you can use the leg with the knee on the floor to help push yourself up. This way you don't overload your knees.

Swimming and jogging or running are good exercises for your heart. So is bicycling. The exercises we recommend for the heart are those that involve lots of energy expenditure. That means exercises that use large muscle groups such as those in your legs.

You can benefit from callisthenics if you use a lot of energy. Push-ups may be hard for some and may load your shoulder muscles, but the total energy expended will be less than by running.

Many people think you must exercise 15 minutes for benefits. That is not entirely true. If you are inactive — let's take the extreme of a patient in bed — just walking down the hall is a training effort and each day of increased activity, even if it isn't 15 minutes, is training to be able to do more than before.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I would like to know some things about the medicine, Sinemet, which I am taking for Parkinson's disease.

Are there any serious side effects in using Sinemet? I take one blue pill at night (I tried the yellow pill but it seemed rather strong). It helps me sleep and change positions in bed. This has been good because the nights are sometimes bad. Could that be harmful?

Is shaking the only effect of Parkinson's disease?

DEAR READER — Parkinson's disease is caused by changes in cells in the brain. As these cells degenerate the brain chemistry is affected. In turn this causes tremors, which you note and the most troublesome symptom of stiffness or rigidity, along with other symptoms.

In the early 1960s it was discovered that L-dopa could be absorbed into the brain's circulation and then converted to dopamine in the brain. Since Parkinson's disease is associated with a deficiency of dopamine this relieved the symptoms.

Sinemet is levodopa combined with an inhibitor of enzymes that destroy L-dopa. So it provides dopamine for the brain and relieves symptoms. It can cause sleepiness and some other side effects but it is a great aid to many with Parkinson's disease.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY NOVEMBER 2, 1983

Your financial prospects look encouraging for the coming year. However, you must not be extravagant or wasteful with your earnings. Establish a sensible savings program.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Your instincts for adding to your resources will be on target today, so don't ignore them. They could substantially increase your present holdings. Order now: The NEW Matchmaker wheel and booklet which reveals romantic compatibilities for all signs, tells how to get along with others, finds rising signs, hidden qualities, plus more.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You're in a good cycle for launching ventures which you personally originate. If you feel you have something worthwhile to offer, start looking for a market.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Something unusual may develop today, giving you an opportunity to fulfill a repressed ambition. Don't dawdle if a door swings open.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Try to associate with progressive thinkers today. Valuable information can be gained through an exchange of ideas.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You are now in an advantageous position careerwise. Some sudden and unusual shifts could develop which will prove beneficial.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Mingling and exchanging ideas with a lot of people could turn out to be quite lucky for you today. They'll stimulate your imagination and ingenuity.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Keep your schedule flexible today because, strangely, it'll be the things you do on the spur of the moment that will turn out to be the luckiest.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) This could turn into an exciting social day for you when you receive an invitation from a very special person.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) This may be one of those unusual days when you accomplish far more than you imagined you could, because everything falls into place so easily.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) The more flexible your thinking is today, the better your chances are for everything going your way. Those quick moves you make will turn out to be lucky.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) A loved one may want to surprise you with a treat today, to show how much he or she cares. It may not be expensive, but it'll be meaningful.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Others can be swayed to your way of thinking today because of your compelling presentation of matters about which you're enthusiastic.

WIN AT BRIDGE

two-heart jump overall with a mere five-card suit. We use pre-emptive jump overcalls but want some distribution values. However, when 28-year-old Oswald Jacoby invented the bid back in 1931, we must admit that he bid them with the same recklessness and on that 28-year-old Howard Parker does in 1983.

Anyway, his bid put considerable pressure on West, who finally bid three clubs. North raised to three hearts and after East and South had passed, West decided to try a light, bounding double and led his three of trumps.

Howard let it ride to his seven and promptly led a spade. If West had ducked, Howard would have risen with his king, struggled along and probably made his contract, but West rose with the ace. East dropped the jack. West led a low spade and after a mental review of the bidding, Howard decided that West didn't hold four spades to the A-Q. He rose with dummy's king, dropped the queen and made an overtrick and a top score.
