

AL REFUSES TO RUN FOR POST OF MAYORSHIP

Ex-Governor Of New York Is Adantant In His Declination To Re-Enter Politics

NEW YORK, May 15.—(A.P.)—Alfred E. Smith, four times governor of New York and once a presidential candidate, last night definitely declared his refusal to run for mayor of New York in the November election.

In a "snappy" statement he ended all doubt about his position by saying he would not under any circumstances accept any nomination for that office.

"In fact I have refused," he said, "because there is no compulsion or persuasion that can affect my decision; this is final."

The announcement came at a time when daily momentum was being added to a movement to "draft Al Smith" to head America's largest city.

Groups of Democrats, Republicans and Independents already had joined in various separate drives intended to sweep the "happy warrior" of the 1928 national campaign into the city hall.

Thousands of stickers calling for his selection had appeared on trucks, taxicabs and private automobiles within the last week.

One club alone had obtained about 300,000 signatures on a (Continued On Page Two)

Big Crowd Attends Regatta Staged In Lake Mary Sunday

Thousands of persons who arrived in more than 400 automobiles yesterday afternoon gathered at Versanda Park in Lake Mary in witness of the running of boats and canoe races comprising the program of the first annual Lake Mary Regatta Day.

Features of the afternoon were the stunts performed on aquaplanes by a group of young men, and the general excellence of all races that were staged. A total of 22 outdoor or powered boats were competing about the lake during the two-hour program, and at most of all they appeared to be more of the several races that were staged.

Winners of the races were as follows: Class "A" outboards, Tip Parlin, of Orlando; Class "B" outboards, Ellis Lloyd, of Sanford; canoe races, Florence McKay, of Sanford and Jewell Lewis, of Orlando; first, Verna Maxson, Tampa, and Ruth Cole, St. Petersburg; first in a second race, Aldis LaVigne, Longwood, winner of the girl's aquaplane race; Alice Hunt, Orlando, winner of boys' aquaplane race.

Orders Awaile As To Local Forestry Body

Mrs. Helen T. Morse, Seminole County welfare director in this morning was unable to say just when this county's quota of new President Roosevelt's reforestation army will be called to service.

Early last week Mrs. Morse sent Tallahassee officials in charge of the Florida reforestation bureau the names of 38 Seminole County men who are among those seeking a place in the Army.

The 38 names comprise the present quota, she said, and all are of persons who come from families that are really indigent.

Mrs. Morse declared that she is awaiting orders as to the men whose names she sent in, and that she does not know whether they will be used in a Florida camp or when they will be called.

SAM VAUCLAIN CONFIDENT OF BUSINESS TURN

Ardent G.O.P. Backer Says Roosevelt's Efforts Have Begun Real Upward Climb

PHILADELPHIA, May 15.—(A.P.)—Samuel M. Vauclain, ardent Republican, says he did all he could to defeat Franklin D. Roosevelt for president, but now is "thoroughly loyal to him" because his efforts "have begun the upswing."

"This is a real beginning," the chairman of the board of the Baldwin Locomotive works said in an interview. "It is not one of those abortive flurries we had in 1930 and 1931. And it is going to swing more rapidly than the average person would expect."

"I've been through every depression since the one of 1873. They're all the same. Business always comes up quicker than it goes down."

"Just look at the increase in values of securities in the last three weeks. They have more than doubled. They haven't reached their real value yet."

"We reached our deadline on Mar. 1. If you want to know my idea of it."

"Business has learned a lot from the depression. It has got down to brass tacks. Maybe I'd better say that, instead of learning a lot, business has recalled a lot of things it used to know and had forgotten during boom times."

NOMINATION APPROVED

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(A.P.)—The Senate judiciary committee today approved the nomination of George Hoffman as United States attorney for the northern district of Florida.

League Of Municipalities Will Seek Enactment Of New Bond Refunding Bill

TALLAHASSEE, May 15.—City officials from every section of Florida will fill the corridors of the capitol this week to assist the Florida league of municipalities in its efforts toward the enactment of the bond debt refunding bill, drawn by Col. W. E. Kay of Jacksonville, and introduced in the Senate last week by Beacham, of West Palm Beach.

The league is bitterly opposed to the administration bond measure that has been redrafted for a Senate committee by Holland, of Bartow, but favors Beacham's bill that would permit debtor cities to ask court receiverships and arbitration of their bond debt burdens by committees consisting of representatives of five units of bondholders and a third appointed by the judge.

A companion bill to Beacham's will be introduced in the House this week, officials of the league announced here yesterday, with the names of more than 20 representatives, who are city officials, signed on its cover.

The league is standing four square behind the Beacham bill and its House companion because Florida municipalities prefer entrusting the adjudication and compromise of their bond debts to a circuit court receivership rather than to a board consisting of the governor, comptroller and treasurer. Under the latter plan, the three state officials would be vested with dictatorial powers in passing the budgets of defaulting municipalities and districts.

Beacham believes the Beacham bill, that offers the benefits of receivership in bankruptcy (Continued On Page Two)

BATTLE IS WAGED BY FARMERS IN MILK STRIKE WAR

ELKHORN, Wis., May 15.—(A.P.)—Enraged farmers, waging their milk strike, yesterday battled through dense clouds of tear gas south of Mukwonago to dump six loads of milk destined for the Chicago market.

Fists and clubs flew at strikers not strikers to fight, and from a few rods distant deputy sheriffs threw the gas bombs which made 400 farmer and truck drivers gasp for air and cover their eyes.

Thirty-five deputy sheriffs were kept from the thick of the fight by a county line. The battle took place a few yards inside of Waukesha county. The officers were deputies of Waukesha county. They would not charge across the line with their riot sticks and pistols, but they did hurl many gas bombs. Clouds of gas, borne by a gentle south wind, wafted back into the faces of the deputies. Some managed to get on their gas masks, but others were as much affected as the farmers who were the targets.

The truck drivers used a few private guns armed with clubs were no match for the armed farmers. Clubs were wrested from the trucks. Some farmers rushed into the fray with milk can covers in their hands. While some battled (Continued On Page Two)

CODED DIARY IS HOPED TO AID IN SOLVING MURDER

NEW YORK, May 15.—(A.P.)—A ton and a half of records, correspondence and picture postcards taken from the ghony office of Edward Albert Riddle, murdered mortgage magnate, YIPPIED yesterday a coded diary which police hope may furnish a clue to the slayer of the eccentric octogenarian and his secretary, Lee Weinstein.

The diary appeared to be in the handwriting of Herman Moech, another secretary who was slain two years ago with the same plot, ballistics experts think, that took Weinstein's life. The diary seems to be a record of Riddle's debts, amounts ranging from a few hundred dollars to many thousands being written opposite initials with cipher notations.

At the same time police learned that Riddle had deposited of $1,000,000 in cash and securities in the bank which he named executor of his will. Estimates of the value of his real estate varied widely. He made cash bequests of $842,500 in his will, and his relatives placed the value of the residue at slightly more than $1,000,000.

SENATE TAKES UP SUBJECT OF REVENUE BILL

Legislators Are Back At Jobs With Three Major Proposals To Be Acted Upon.

TALLAHASSEE, May 15.—(A.P.)—Legislators returned today from their week-end recess with three major proposals facing them for consideration.

The financial appropriations bill was up for discussion in the Senate, and the House had up for consideration the tax bill, which is twenty dollar motor vehicle license tag bill.

The Senate also had before it the House Appropriation plan to establish a system of 10 to 20 acres for homesteads on state lands. Members of the Senate said they probably would pass the financial appropriations bill but representatives declared the House probably would not accept the revenue appropriations measure.

The Senate appropriations committee last week reported favorably a bill calling for the annual expenditure of $1,000,000 which is $100,000 higher than the recommendations of the state budget commission.

The threat of a special session of the Legislature, hanging over the capitol for the last two weeks, apparently had disappeared today, in the expressed opinion of legislators who remained in the capitol over the week-end.

Many members of the Legislature differed apprehensions, that a special session would be necessary due to the delay in action which the bill to legalize 3-2 percent of colic for beer and wine were pending.

The Senate and House, however, have given individual action to many of the measures requested by Governor Sholtz. So far, only a few of the major measures have given final legislative approval and sent to the governor for his signature.

It was expected by legislators that the school contribution bill giving the State Board of Education more power than it has previously had, would be passed by the Legislature this week. Governor Sholtz, had said he would sign the measure.

Immediate Action On Shoals Bill Blocked

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(A.P.)—Immediate consideration of the Muscle Shoals-Tennessee Valley development bill conference report was blocked in the Senate today by Senator McNary, Republican leader, who said many senators wanted the opportunity to study the agreement. Secretary Hull said in the forthcoming economic conference he would be glad to re-examine any practice policy, or method of this government which other countries might think unfair or restrictive.

LEHMANN SEES UPWARD TREND AT MIAMI BEACH

Declares Real Estate
And Building Activities
Unbelievable

"No one can realize the real estate and building activities at Miami Beach until he has been there recently," said Karl Lehmann, trade body secretary who returned from Miami Beach where he addressed the Florida State Commercial Secretaries Association meeting on Saturday.

Commenting on the fact that 1933 building permits for Miami Beach are $30,000 while the permits for the month of April were $10,000, Mr. Lehmann said that "one half million dollars in building in the first four months of the year puts Miami Beach among the leaders of all Southern cities. The most interesting phase of this building program is the fact that practically all of these buildings permit represent homes that will be constructed."

Mr. Lehmann attributes this building "boom" to a development of some months ago "when real estate operators got together and established what they called rock bottom prices on their buildings, and spread the word that this was the lowest figures that would be taken. Within a few days sale began to take place, indicating that prospective purchasers only need to be assured that the price asked is the rock bottom price."

Speakers at the convention, the largest held in the past three years, included eminent economists, college professors and state business leaders. Mr. Lehmann said, "And all of them assured the convention that there had been a very marked trend upward in recent weeks, and that the immediate future is bright for Florida."

"During one of the talks," Mr. Lehmann said, a report was made that one of the leading chain stores operating in Florida had been checking up on business results, and had announced that the Sanford store has made the greatest increase in sales of any store in the state during the past six months.

U. S. CITIZENS WARNED AS TO JAP ADVANCE

Are Advised To Evacuate Tungchow As Rumors Spread Of Approaching Attack

PEIPING, May 15.—(A.P.)—The United States legation advised Americans today to evacuate Tungchow 13 miles east of here because of rumors that the Japanese will attempt to occupy the town.

Meanwhile, many U.S. weather citizens began a hasty departure for safety.

Tientsin yesterday was alive with unverified reports of impending developments in the Sino-Japanese conflict in this part of Northeast China.

One of the chief reports which is causing anxiety is that the Japanese have handed the Chinese an ultimatum demanding the Chinese forces evacuate the Tientsin area and also Tangku, on the sea coast 35 miles east of Tientsin.

The tensions here increased when unidentified persons hurled two bombs against the main gateway between the native city and the Japanese concession.

The explosion rocked the neighborhood out here recently. As a result, however, both the Chinese and the Japanese in their respective areas increased their armed guard.

Foreign interests are especially alarmed as the evening well-founded reports that the Chinese have blown up the Peiping-Hankow railway bridge over the Luan river, in an effort to hamper the Japanese army advance.

It is reported that this action means a protracted severance of the through railway trunk. It is hoped that the damage is not serious, in view of the great extent a suppage of rail transportation would have upon the Tungshan coal exports.

The tension here as a result of Sino-Japanese hostilities along the Luan river has markedly increased.

The dense population in the native quarter is restless and fearful of untoward events, while the Japanese military authorities within the Japanese concession adjusted to the native city have established heavy patrole both mounted and afoot.

The Japanese have crossed the Luan River north of Luanchow and are advancing westward over two routes.

One of these Japanese columns has as its objective, it is believed here, Miyun, only 1 mile north of Peiping. The second column is reported to be directed toward Ping-tai on the southern outskirts of Peiping, and simultaneously outflanking Sangshan, northwest of Tientsin, and enabling Manchukuo troops to advance along the railway and occupy the mining center without trouble.

Various reports received here indicate that heavy fighting has been going on west of the Luan (Continued on Page Two)

FEDS - ISLANDERS BATTLE HERE IS LEAGUE FEATURE

Teams To Fight For First Place With Curry To Oppose Early Joiner

Probably the outstanding baseball game scheduled in the Central Florida Baseball League tomorrow will be played here at 3:30 o'clock between the Sanford Celerys and the Daytona Beach Islanders.

Tied for first place with four wins and one defeat each, the two teams are expected to put up a performance that will combine the league's best in batting, hurling, and fielding.

The Islanders will come to Sanford as the league's leading batters as a team, their combined efforts being good for a five game mark of .330. The Fed's are in second place as team batters with a mark of .306 in five games. The two teams are also one-two as batting combinations.

That a better than usual contest is in the offing may be taken for granted for Otis Curry, ace of the 1935 Fed staff, will assume the mound for the first time this year in Central Florida League play. He will face a group of players that with two exceptions, Coach and Joiner he toyed with during the play-off series last year, a team that he may be considered to be master of.

Opposed to Curry will be Joiner, the blonde former Cocoa ace whose right arm is believed ready for a gruelling battle such as tomorrow's may be. Joiner has not finished one of the three games he has appeared in so far owing to that pesky right arm. Lefty Burkheart will be ready for relief work if Joiner falters.

Curry must hurl no-hit ball against six 300 or better batters tomorrow if he is to win, however. None of all he must pitch past this young Cracker Graham, the Islanders' catcher who has garnered 11 hits in 20 tries for the remarkable average of .500 in five games. The hard-hitting Wally Shannon is another stumbling block for Curry, as is Raleigh Pert, while the potency of the bats of Bill O'Brien, Babe Weaver, Elmer Spake, and Joe Bolch are well known to all loop fans.

However, Joiner must face such sluggers as Bert Maxwell, Charlie Abbott and Tete Newcomb, not to mention Bonner, Harrison, Ariol, and Barnes. Maxwell, the most colorful player on the club, still terrifies local fans not forgetting remains the sensation as a bat-thrower two long home runs, he turned out at Leesburg, nor those two doubles he punched away here on Thursday.

While the Fed's and Islanders will be battling for first place, the up and coming Leesburg Bruins, which will be the club to beat for the pennant, will be entertaining the Orlando Tigers in a battle for third place. The New Smyrna Cracker will move down to Cocoa for a last place battle with the Indians.

Emil Yde will assume duties at Leesburg tomorrow against the Tigers, and the ball park is expected to be jammed with fans. As a Pittsburgh Pirate and Detroit Tiger Yde established himself as one of the finest left-handers in the big leagues, and there is no doubt but that some of that brilliant work still is on tap.

Official batting averages released today show that Graham is far and away the leading batter in the league. Five Sanford men are in the list of 300 or better batters, while six of the 16 favored batters are Daytonans. The averages:

Club batting: G A R H Ave. Daytona 158 48 85 340 21.51; Sanford 171 56 85 340 20.47; Leesburg 121 31 48 240 18.26; Cocoa 108 30 48 240 17.30; New Smyrna 8 18 11 31 14.25

Other Sanford averages: G A R H Ave. Daytona 158 48 85 340 21.51; Sanford 171 56 85 340 20.47; Leesburg 121 31 48 240 18.26; Cocoa 108 30 48 240 17.30; New Smyrna 8 18 11 31 14.25

TOOTH SHIPPED: MIAMI—Perhaps the smallest of express shipment ever made arrived here yesterday from Nassau. It was one false tooth.

The shipment was consigned to John Mass, of Coconut Creek, who notified in Nassau that it be shipped to him as quickly as possible.

BLUE AND GRAY SMART

The two colors that every woman apparently wants to get into this season are navy blue and grey. They are worn alone or together, more often alone, but more smartly together. The all-navy ensemble—one color from the tip of the navy kid oxford to the crown of the navy fabric fit—is frequently worn without a touch of color save the dashing white, red or scarlet scarf at the neckline. The same thing is true of the grey costume, from shoes to hat.

TEX HOUK WINS COLLEGE HONORS IN ROPED, ARENA

Sanford Boy Reaches Finals In Amateur Boxing Tournament

How a young Sanford boy who not so long ago wore a Seminole High School football uniform with considerable credit entered the amateur fight game to score a decided success within a short time is interestingly told in a letter received here recently by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Houk, from their son, Tex. T. Houk, now a student at the A & M College of Texas. Within less than six weeks after he had fought his first fight, he had advanced to the finals in the college's annual intra-mural matches only to lose the decision in the 125-pound class after a grueling fight that went an extra round. Young Houk's story reads as follows: "I decided to try my hand in the amateur boxing ring, and I can say that I can't remember when I've ever enjoyed myself as much as I have in these last few days. "On the evening of my first bout I was shaking like a leaf I drew as my first opponent a Senior in the Field Artillery and he looked good! I knocked him down in the second round and the referee stopped the fight in the third. My next fight was with a freshman, which I took also. Then, a strange coincidence occurred, one which had a comical aspect despite the grave-ness which I couldn't help but feel towards every fight. "My third opponent was a Senior in my own troop and not only that but the very man whose room I scrub and whose back I make every morning of the world. In the six all barriers were down, the standards of class respect were wiped off the slate, and it was man against man. I knocked him out. "Then began weeks of grueling training in preparation for the championship bout for which I had won the right to compete. The climax came last night. Before a thousand roaring cadets, and the whole ex-students convention, the ex-champ of two years ago, a Junior from Mexico City, and myself fought three "sizzling" rounds to a draw. "In the first round he hit me with all he had. I was groggy and almost out; in the second round I came back and took him, but the third was hammer and tongs all the way. At the bell we went to our corners to await the judge's decision. They were in a quandary. Finally, they decided there was only one thing to do—let it go an extra round. "How I ever lasted out that last round as tired as I was will always be a mystery to me, but I still had plenty of steam in the old right arm and hit him with everything but the water bucket. When the gong sounded I felt confident of victory as I had him clinching at every opportunity. But lo and behold, when the referee came out to raise the victor's arm, it was not Houk's glove that faced the ceiling—it was Brinsmade's! He had won! "Looking back from this great distance of a few hours, I can not feel bad about it. He's been fighting for years and is notorious in

PASTEL EVENING SLIPPERS

For that new summer evening gown—whether you've got it yet that respect, and listen to this, I am a terrible boxer, but I could fight that guy right now, tomorrow morning, or next week, and win every time. But that's between us strictly."

Newspaper clippings of the finals state that "The feature of the fight was the every-ought match between H. S. (Bloody) Brinsmade, Mexico City, and J. T. Houk, Sanford, Fla. A fourth round was required for the decision in this bout, Brinsmade winning the extra round to give him his second intramural boxing championship. In his freshman year he won the 115 pound class, losing in the 125 pound class his sophomore year did not daunt him, and he returned this year to make good in that class."

or are you thinking about it—the newest fashion in the world of suede kid, none in lovely gem colors. It's apt to be in several shades of blue, or in a combination of delicate shades of pastel colors, such as two of light pink, and course there is always the neutral kid piping to give the formal evening finish to it.

If you're faking for the grand evening gown—and remember organza can be tailored into the most slinky and subtle frocks as well as the ruffly delicate type this year—these are the things for your dancing feet. If you like them to contrast, try pale blue sandals with wicker back organza frock, the brown should have a flower or a sash of the same blue shade somewhere about it.

Municipal Debts

A special bulletin recently received from the Florida News and Economic Service sets forth some of the problems which are confronting, and which are evidently about to confront, the City of Tampa in the matter of financing its interest and sinking fund requirements.

The total bonded debt of the city is $13,799,000 which seems like a relatively trivial sum to Sanford people. Furthermore, self-liquidating utility bonds, sinking fund accumulations, and other offsets, reduce this gross debt to only $9,930,000 which is of any immediate concern.

The difference in population in these two cities is ten to one. Assessed valuations in Tampa, with an estimated real value of $240,000,000, amount to $120,000,000. Assessed valuations in Sanford are about nine and one-half millions, with real values estimated at something lower than that.

It seems that the close of the present fiscal year on May 31 will disclose a deficit of between 200 and 300 thousand dollars. Furthermore current interest amounting to 800 thousand dollars in as yet unprovided for.

How it is going to raise the $600,000 apparently is not known. The city attorney is quoted as lamenting the fact that the city cannot borrow $4,000,000 which would see them through the next five years without further difficulties.

If the City of Sanford could borrow $1,000,000, that sum would be sufficient to see us through not only the next five years, but the following thirty years as well.

All of which goes to show the increasing need for additional legislation dealing with the debt problems of Florida cities and counties.

The Leviathan Retires

Announcement that the Leviathan will be withdrawn from the trans-Atlantic trade after ten years in continuous service, strikes a sentimental chord which will be felt in the hearts of many people, the American soldiers who "went across" on her, the officers and sailors who have taken her through many a North Atlantic storm, the Germans who built her, and the American public which has taken a great pride in the flagship of America's merchant marine.

The Leviathan's history has been one of unusually interesting events. Built in Hamburg, Germany with great skill and craftsmanship, she was christened the Vaterland, the biggest and finest ship afloat. It happened to be her fate to be in New York harbor when war was declared in 1914.

As an American transport this colossal and speedy ship carried more troops across the Atlantic than any other boat, and she did it alone, too. No escort had to go with her. She was so swift that no submarine could catch her, and on her decks were powerful guns which could stand off almost any surface ship that might attack.

After the Armistice the Leviathan went into temporary retirement at a Hoboken pier, and was reported to be rotting away and a haven for rats, until the United States Shipping Board, under pressure of public agitation, spent $3,000,000 to recondition the rather sadly appearing ship, scarred and marred from its war-time alterations.

From the re-conditioning yards the Leviathan sailed away, truly a new queen of the sea, with its interior completely refurbished and redecored in a manner lending much credit to the work of American artistry.

But like everything else that has suffered from the depression the Leviathan has been a "white elephant" during the last few years, and a steady drain on the company which operates it. The only sensible course was to take it out of service. So the ship which has weathered roaring hurricanes and run the gauntlet of submarines unscathed has fallen victim to the economic storm.

"Al Smith" petition. Fiorello LaGuardia, stormy Republican independent, who was retired from Washington's Capitol Hill by the last election, had announced he would run for mayor unless fusionists named a municipal slate headed by the man Democracy selected for its stand-aid bearer five years ago.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University and tower of Republican strength, had started a party gathering by urging the unanimous selection of Smith.

Smith, who since his defeat for president has been devoting his time to business and magazine-editing, took cognizance of this growing sentiment in his statement.

The purpose of his announcement, he said, was to "assure those who are including me in their political plans that they must eliminate my name."

"If I do not kill the idea of my acceptance of the nomination now and forever, then everything I did or anything I said from now on would be open to misinterpretation."

the truck drivers others tossed milk cans to the pavement and milk settled several inches deep in a depression in the pasture of Mac Nees. Some of the tear gas drifted over to his farm yard and to the farm of Hugo Wedell. The two farmers complained that their cows and pigs were made ill by it.

Farmers stopped the trucks, headed for the United Dairy Company plant at Mukwonago, by throwing logs and up-turned harrows to the pavement. Then they swarmed around the machines. Drivers leaped from cabs swinging clubs, but they were soon subdued.

One truck driver managed to turn about and he sped into a farm yard. But the farmers followed and that load also was doped.

No Walworth county deputies were on the scene, but a call to the county seat at Elkhorn brought them out in force. An hour after the battle 75 officers were patrolling the highways, but there were no more disorders. Several milk trucks passed through later under police escort.

Tallahassee Affair Honors Mrs. R. J. Holly

Of interest here is the following story taken from the Tallahassee Democrat of Wednesday, May 10. "The stately old McDougal home was never more beautiful than on Tuesday morning when Mrs. Peres McDougal entertained at a most delightful bridge luncheon honoring Mrs. R. J. Holly of Sanford.

"The spacious rooms of the old southern home lent a charm of the Old South. The living room and dining room were opened en suite, both being elaborately and charmingly decorated with hand-some vases and baskets of larkspur, phlox, stalks, daisies and other spring flowers.

"Mr. and Mrs. Holly while in the city are stopping at the home of Miss Sally Blake. Mrs. Holly has visited here many times and has a host of friends in Tallahassee. She has been the recipient of many lovely social events during the short stay while she has been in the city."

Miss Katherine Wilkey will arrive Wednesday from Greensburg, Va. to spend about 10 days here as the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Thiapen.

Henry Ford
Dearborn, Mich.

May 9, 1933

A great thing has occurred amongst us. We have made a complete turn-around, and at last America's face is toward the future.

Three years—1929 to 1932—we Americans looked backward. All our old financial and political machinery was geared to pull us out of the depression by the same door through which we entered. We thought it simply a case of going back the way we came. It failed. We now realize that the way out is forward—through it.

Thanks for that belongs to President Roosevelt. Inauguration Day he turned the Ship of State around. Having observed the failure of sincere efforts to haul us back the way we came, he designed a new method—new political and financial machinery—to pull us out the way we are going—forward. He is clearing international obstacles out of the way; he does not stand in awe of tariffs. The people begin to feel that he does not take advice from the "interests"; that he has courage and loyalty to work for one supreme interest only—the welfare of the American people. That is a big achievement for two months in office.

And now we all look to what is coming; we grow less and less concerned with what is behind. We are looking for a hand-hold on the haul rope. Every man wants to do what he can, and all he can.

The best thing I can do for the Country is to create industry by building good motor cars. If I knew anything better to do, I would do it. Industry must be my contribution. Motor cars must face ahead to the future, like everything else. They are so much a part of the Nation's daily life that if they lag behind they hold the Country back.
