WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 .- Presideat Coolidge made another rearrangement Tuesday in the cabinet-diplomatic organization he will take with him Mar. 4 into his elected term of office by selecting Alancon B. Houghton, of New York, new ambassador to Germany, to rucceed Ambassador Kellogg at

The transfer of Mr. Houghton to the London post, the ranking assignment in the diplomatic ser-vice, formally was announced at the White House after the ambasrador had advised the president he would accept the appointment and after the British government had informed the state department that Mr. Houghton would be persona grate in London.

war: a further development in the rapid succession of official changes that began Saturday with the anncuncement that Secretary Hughes had decided to retire Mar. 4 and that he would be succeeded by Ambassador Kellogg. Who will take Mr. Houghton's place at Berlin ha, not been decided, but because of the importance of the post the vacancy there probably will be filled before Mar. 4.

The changes in the state department involved in the resignation of Mr. Hughes and in the agiculture department due to the retirement of Howard M. Gore to beechie governor of West Virginia on Mar. 4, however, are the only ones that Mr. Coolidge now expects in his official family. The president i willing to acknowledge, though, that the rapidity with which changes have come in the past week has shown that no prediction Davis Reconsiders.

The possibility of a change in the labor department was removed Tuesday when Secretary Davis advised the president that he had reconsidered his intention to re-tire Mar. 4, as expressed to the executive shortly after the November election, and remain in the office to which he was named four years ago by President Harding. Mr. Davis gave up his work as director general of the Loyal Order of Moose to enter Mr. Harding's cabinet and last November informed President Coolidge that the order was ealling on him to return these duties. The president expressed to Mr. Davis a desire that he remain at the head of the labor department and Tuesday he in-formed the president he had de-cided to accede to his desire. The decision was hailed with satisfactoon in a statement later issued by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.
