The mayor added to Lommier, "You got caught up in politics," again referring to the complaints from citizens and the fact Council "must respond and south of SR 434. Developer Lester Mandell

Lommler was praised for his long service to the community and it was made clear the $900 cut was not an indication the board believes him to be any less an excellent

Although Lommler's budget request included allocations for three additional full-time paid firemen, Council insisted while it would like to be able to hire the men, this expenditure cannot as yet be afforded by the city. At Brown's recommendation some $6,300 was tentatively approved for one man, in addition to the chief. Other items approved tentatively were: volunteer firemen reimbursement, $3,200; supplies, $500; office expenses, $500; gas and oil, $400; telephone, $375; truck repairs, $500; radio repairs, $200; schooling, $400; seminars, $200; uniforms, $250; new equipment, $4,000; payment on fire truck, $4,180 and miscellaneous, $250.

Raise Denied

Following Crenshaw's recommended pay scale, Council declined to approve the $6,000 salary for the new year requested by utilities clerk, Sallye Haislip, but tentatively approved $5,500 annual pay. Her current salary is $4,800 annually. Other items given the okay in Mrs. Haislip's budget request was printing, $500; cards, $275; office expense, $500; postage-box rent, $960; billing machine payments, $1,080 and miscellaneous $250. Praise for department heads was the word at the Council workshop session, with the city's building inspector, Kenneth Eynon receiving his share, as well. Declared to be doing a tremendous job by Council Chairman Eugene Jaques, Eynon's request for a $9,000 annual salary, nevertheless was turned down and one of $8,000, in accordance with the pay plan, approved instead. The cut, however, is not as much as it appears to be.

Evnon had included within the $9,000 sum, the city's payroll The allocations asked by the inspector of $6,500 for an assistant was also turned down, but the Council indicated the post will probably be approved in 1973-74. Also approved for the building inspector was office expense, $200, and maintenance, $200.

Court Budget Approved

Municipal court budget was tentatively approved as presented by Judge Gene R. Stephenson. Information to justify an expenditure of $744 for a cadet court and clerical assistant is to be obtained and presented to Council by Mayor

Breakdown of the budget is: salaries, Judge, $3,600; office supplies, $1,500. Of the remaining budgets to be gone over by Council

Friday, that of the police department at $167,794.74 is by far the largest. About $98,000 was in the original budget for the police department this year. Largest item in the budget request of the police department is salaries totaling $119,000 for 23 officers including the Society, American Legion, and KULPA, MRS. JADWIGA

Requested salary of the chief is $10,000 annually. At the same time street department request totals $48,691.50; parks, buildings and cemetery $10,480.40; trash detail $10,800 and water department $66,672. The water department request does not include any sum for water line extensions.

Bombers Saturate Commies

By GEORGE ESPER Associated Press Writer SAIGON (AP) - Nearly 50 U.S. B52 bombers struck on both sides of the demilitarized zone today in support of South Vietnamese marines locked in hard fighting at Quang Tri. The eight-jet Stratofortress hit at North Vietnamese suppl dumps and troop positions at points ranging from near the port of Dong Hoi to within one mile of Quang Tri City. Dong Hoi is 45 miles north of the DMZ and is being used as a rear base to support the North Vietnamese forces at Quang Tri, 19 miles below the DMZ. The bombers dropped more than 1,100 tons of explosives in the raids. The Saigon command said its forces killed 103 North Vietnamese and found the bodies of 45 others slain by air strikes Wednesday. Preliminary reports said eight South Vietnamese troops were killed and 28

Who Lost In Primary? The Non-Voters!

Post-election day comments are sitting ducks for "the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune" as a usual thing.

But there are certain conclusions which derive their validity from common sense deductions from the voting in the primaries held on Tuesday.

They are useful as guidelines. They are, in an instance or so, alarming. But with the showdown season which is now truly underway with Nov. 7th as the finals, they should not be ignored. Among the losers, the ones who suffered most were the registered voters who did not even cast a ballot. In Seminole county the indications are that less than one-third did their duty. A survey of the mass media efforts, electronic and by the written word, to give the people the "right to know" can be assessed by the most impartial judgment as of being a very high or-

Among the politicians who geared for and did do battle for the nominations or the elections in the case of the judges, the election night reaction was one of almost stunned disbelief. What do you have to do to get the voters out?

Who is listening? Doesn't anybody care? Of course some did listen and some did care and there were some results which gave answers to these gueries which were more than the victory of a candidate or the victory of a single

The pocketbook has always been accepted as the most sensitive nerve that the citizen possesses. Any politician who can send a lance into his opponent with the barbs of increased costs to sharpen the attack, has an advantage.

And this seems to be the reason for the success of State Senator Gerald Lewis in winning the Democratic nomination for the Public Service Commission from incumbent Jess Yarborough.

While Yarborough had the edge in the Seminole County totals it was Lewis who carried the large vote counties on the crest of an attack on the Yarborough record of public utility cost regulation. Higher utility rates doomed the in-

Senator Lewis, however, will have a real test ahead when the actual election is held and he comes into fullscale battle with the GOP nominee, Republican National Committeewoman, Mrs. Paula Hawkins of Maitland, a competitor of no mean abilities and spirit.

Another result which is not surprising, however, but is indicative of the public attitude towards another veteran state official is that of State Senator Bill Gunter in his bid for nomination as the Democratic standard-bearer for the newly aligned 5th Congressional district manner that it takes a very broad campaign geographically for the candidate to get his message across.

In the case of Senator Gunter, his bold and wise conduct in the state legislature, evidently has caught the interest of those voters who went out and cast ballots.

If this is an indication of the regard which informed voters are ready to bestow, then the indication is encouraging. If it is an indication that not enough voters were willing or able to inform themselves about each candidate, then it

There will be a run-off primary in two weeks. This is a political event which works both ways. The registered voters will once more have to provide the answer.

In the meanwhile we would remind every eligible citizen who has not yet registered or who has become eligible that the cut-off for such registrations takes place on Oct. 7th for the Nov. 7th election.

Creation of government is a complex affair. But the start is simple, indeed. It is the citizen who registers and what's more gets out and votes. Let the next showing in Seminole County be good enough to erase the failure of Sept. 11th.

Union Vs. Non Union

Hard-Hats In Middle Of Squabble

WASHINGTON - The nation's hard-hat construction workers are squarely in the middle of a worsening rift that has already seen several outbreaks of violence. At the root of the squabbling is every argument you've ever heard about union vs. nonunion jogs. Construction unions claim they are fighting for "survival." They say nonunionists are undermining hard-fought payment scales. Nonunion workers and organizations throw up traditional "right-to-work" arguments and claim the unions are "gouging" the public. Their most serious contention seemingly with justification - is that unionists are using strong-arm tactics to intimidate nonunion workers. All the elements of the nationwide argument are present in a recent classic case in the Philadelphia area. Philadelphia area hard-hat unions - threatened by a fiveyear low in new construction in the city and a movement of large-scale projects into the suburbs, where unions have little control - want to take over the manpower market in the entire metropolitan area. Alternose Construction Co. — with business in excess of $20 million per year and work under way on a $10 million Sheraton Hotel complex it vows to build without using a single union construction worker - is the Philadelphia Backed by the Associated Builders and Contractors, Inc. (ABC), company president J. Leon Altemose insists on running a "merit shop" in which he can hire union or nonunion workers. "I'm going to fight them to the end," Alternose said. "I've laid everything on the line -

The combatants agree on only one thing: the stakes are high because the bitter struggle developing between Alternose and the hard-hat unions is just a skirmish in a larger war across the country as "merit shop" contractors band together in the ABC.

Nonunion contractors and subcontractors who pay an average of $1.50 per hour less than union scale "threaten to destroy construction wage rates," according to union spokesmen. Alternose contends that the union has launched a campaign of terror and violence against his company and his

He said the main issue in the fight is "whether the organized workers have a right by the use of threats, violence and force to stop me from building the Sheraton." Union members, according to Altemose, have repeatedly threatened him and his family with physical violence. Union leaders said they deplore such violence, and denied any sponsorship of it.

One Man's Opinion

U.N. Is No Peace

Path These Days

It becomes increasingly difficult to subscribe to the proposition, once voiced with the solemnity of a politician invoking the deity at a 4th of July rally, that "the United Nations is the world's only hope for peace." Perhaps out of native idealism, mixed with guilt about this country's failure to support the old League of Nations, Americans have been more susceptible than most to this cliche. Certainly no people has given the U.N. more support, spiritually as well as financially. Recent events, however, would seem to convince even the most naive that the United Nations is not only not the world's only hope but is not even a good hope-not in the world as it is, as it always has been and as it promises to be for the indefinite future.

Not the least of these events were President Nixon's trips to Peking and to Moscow and the understandings and agreements reached there. These have probably done more for the cause of world peace than anything that has occurred in or out of the United Nations since its founding in 1945. But in the U.N. itself, in the current session, we have seen Taiwan not only stripped of its representation as the official government of China-which is one thingbut stripped even of recognition as an entity-which is Communist regimes have the well-known habit of declaring those no longer in favor to be nonpersons. This is the first time that a whole nation has been declared Speaking of China and of Communists, it is interesting to note that the first veto ever cast by Peking was to prevent the entry of the new nation of Bangladesh. The self-styled champion of small, "third world" countries gave as classic an example of "great-power chauvinism" as did ever the Soviet Union, against whom the veto was really addressed. This is all right, of course. The United States has been known to put its own self-interest ahead of a too-tender regard for the interests of small nations

China's "Realpolitik" veto does, though, chip a rather sizable hole in the argument that the U.N. could never be truly representative or effective until it included the Foldberg has withstood some strong hits in practice sessions thus far and has encountered no problems. And he's been a standout performer in every scrimmage session to date. In the first game scrimmage of the fall practices Foldberg hauled in six passes including two touchdown passes and his blocking was superior. Coach Dickey called Foldberg "one of the most important men we have, a key to our offensive plans and hopes this year.' Dickey expressed confidence that Foldberg could move from the good category to the great category. And if he does this will mean a big boost to the Gator offense. After last Saturday's Scheduling as far as high school football is concerned is often done matter-of-factly rather than with a deep rooted purpose in mind. Since the strength and weakness of teams vary considerably from year to year it often means little to the real powerful team. Often but not always.

We may see in 1972 in this country a 2.7 litre Porche. The car will be called the 911 Carrera and cost several hundred dollars more than the 911S. The horsepower rating in the little beast will be 240. I would predict 160 miles per hour in

This weekend the Can-Am series continues from Brihniard, Minnesota. The question remains whether the McLaren Team can make up the difference in this race. The Penske prepared Porche driven by George Follmer still seems to be the favorite for the series.

300 Grand National

Sept 17, marks the running of the 300 Mile Grand National at Dover Downs International Speedway in Delaware. This one mile track is as difficult to negotitate as the Rockingham, North Carolina mile oval. It's obvious the Grand National mechanics have overcome the various carburator restrictors that are in force in the NASCAR rules and regulations. Top qualifiers in NASCAR competition will be setting track records for the rest of the year.

Canadian-American Challenge Cup competition will move to Edmonton Alberta, Canada on Oct.1. We might see some TV coverage of this race.

Oct. 8 is drawing near with the annual running of the U.S. Grand Prix from Watkins Glen, New York. Formula 1 competitors from around the would will be there for this, the final event of the world championshop of driving. Formula 1 this year has been dominated by Braxilian Emerson Fittipaldi who is looking more and more like a young Jimmy Clark. Competition in Formula 1 this year between Fittipaldi, Denis Hulme, Jackie Stewart, Jackie Ecks and others was very intense this year.

Mutual Funds Look To Future By JOHN CUNNIFF AP Business Analyst

built of $57 billion in assets divided among 11 million shareholder accounts in about 400 funds, the mutual fund industry now is reassessing its role, trying to chart its future. Looking back down the hill is easier. There were only 312,000 accounts 30 years ago. Assets back then totaled less than $500 million. The industry had nowhere to go but up, and up it rose, lifted by the new affluence. But now the growth has stalled. Purchases still are running at a rate of more than $5 billion a year, but redemptions have jumped from a long-term average of 7 per cent of assets to more than 10 per cent.

wrong, and this may indeed be the case. But other fund managers feel the future won't be like the past. They are using the plateau as a base camp to re-equip for the next climb.

Few fund executives are more realistic about the present problems or more enthusiastic about the future than Jack Rogers, the new vice president for product development at Anchor Corp., which manages $2 billion in seven funds. Rogers has very few doubts that Americans of middle income are waiting for new investment vehicles to be pre-

Mutual funds must recognize that the small investor is becoming more sophisticated, Rogers states. People of ordinary means are seeking advice and counseling. They are searching for ways to develop and preserve small estates. As he sees it, they aren't giving up on mutual funds, but quite clearly they are seeking additional vehicles for their investments and are seeking coordination of tax planning, insurance, investments, savings, pensions and so on. Viewed in the context of the past, the product of a mutual fund management company would be only one small element in this total plan. But Rogers and a few others see the management company of the future as providing all these The new view, as expressed by Rogers is that the fund management company is the connective tissue that binds together all the elements of estate planning. The small investor is "avaricious" for investments advice and outlets. Rogers feels, adding that people of average means recognize the value of shrewd investments, especially

THE SANFORD HERALD

DULUTH, Minn .- Record sales, representing a 15 per cent increase in sales volume, for the fiscal third quarter of 1972 ending July 31 were reported today for Jeno's, Inc., hot snacks company, by President Danald G. Wirtanen.

The

"Introduction and marketing of unique new products people really want, determined through consumer research, combined with aggressive advertising and effective promotion campaigns have brought Jeno's Inc. to national leadership already this year with still another recognition," Wirtanen said. Jeno's , Inc. is now the national leader in share-of-market for frozen pizza products, according to independent survey results.

Wirtanen attributed the company's growth to "development of a professional management team with a record of accomplishment on a major scale, applying their talents an capabilities to major expansion in all areas of

THE THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE is the most popular, all over the country. Wide overhang and extension of brick wall give this design, HA740Y, the low, long lines of a ranch exterior. The bedrooms were designed for maximum privacy and quiet. Two have cross-ventilation. The hub of daytime activity is planned to be the dining and family room, which also has doors to the rear terrace and to the garage. There also is a lavatory near another rear door. This will be a handy place for the gardener or worker in the basement to clean up without tracking dirt through the house. There are 1,201 square feet. Architect is Herman H. went to RCA from Columbia, he recording.

That there is a "Bob Dylan's Greatest Hits" we take for granted. But "Mahler's Greatest Hits"? Sounds kind of strange at first, but Mahler's "Greatest Hits" and Chopin's and Brahms's are selling lots of copies, in fact contributing mightily to a big increase in sales of classical records. - And Peter Munves, 45, is contributing mightily to the increase in those classical "greatest hits." He started it at columbia, then moved himself and the idea to RCA. Pierre Bourdain, who is director of merchandising for classical records at Columbia, the job Munves used to have, says that in the first six months of 1972 Columbia's classical sales were 35 per cent over the first six months of 1971 and the month of June, compared with last June, is 71 per cent higher. Munves, whose title at RCA is director of classical music says that classical sales in 1971 were 33 per cent over 1970 and 1972, so far, 35 per cent ahead of Munves's idea is to sell classical records to people who don't even own Beethoven's 5th. And he is aiming mostly at young people, because they buy most of the records.

The first thing, he thinks, is that people have to be a little bit familiar with classical music to buy a record of it. These days that familiarity usually comes either from a movie soundtrack or a rock group's rocking a classic, like Emerson. Lake and Palmer did with "Pictures at an Exhibition." Movie soundtracks have changed. Once, the ones that used classical music were the biographies of a classical music figure, like Liszt, Chopin or Now. Beethoven is used for "Clockwork Orange," Mozart for "Elvira Madigan" and "Sunday Bloody Sunday," Bach for "Slaughterhouse 5," Mahler for "Death in Venice" and Strauss for "2001. "Kids are discovering classical music like crazy today, says Munves. "They realize its warmth and its connection with the world around them. 'Elvira Madigan' is a love story that is anti-establishment. It's relevant to the youth generation. In the early '70s kids are involved in their own personal problems. how they're going to solve their lives. They're off politics. They they bought it. Nobody likes to try anything they don't know." This fall. Munves has added another idea for records to sell to the buyer new to classical music. This is a 30-album "bas-liked the music in that film, and ic library." "They're basic symphonies and show pieces and concertos that belong in everybody's collection. "The area of the new buyer has been neglected enormously. A new buyer walks in and he is faced with confusion about what to buy. With this he has a built-in guide. "Another good thing is that these records are being sold in untraditional outlets. There's been a merchandising revolu-DISNEY WORLD BUS TOURS AVAILABLE DAILY tion over the last decade and a half. The racks have become more and more important - in

grown man to bathe?

By Abigail Van Buren 10 1972 b. Chicago Tribone-N. Y. Nows Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I have read your column for years, and still can't believe I am actually writing a "Dear Abby" letter, but here goes: This is the second time around for my husband and myself. We are both middle-aged and lost our mates in death.

My question: How do you tell a full grown adult about personal hygiene? He bathes once a week, at which time he changes his socks and underwear. This came as a terrific shock to me as he always appeared to be so well-groomed and immaculate when we were dating. I just don't know how to tell him that I find his personal habits extremely offensive. He douses himself with sweet smelling cologne between baths. Believe me, Abby, he is a fine man otherwise. He is a faithful reader of your column and is always quoting you to me, so if you print this letter he will see it. I don't have the nerve to tell him.

DEAR DIS: Here's your letter, and I hope it helps. IP.S. Marriages in which both partners do not bathe and change underwear daily risk being all washed up.]

DEAR ABBY: Please help me, and please put the answer in the paper. It may help somebody else. How does one discourage persistent invitations from somebody they do not want to have more than a business relationship with? I have been going to the same beauty shop for five years. The operator I have is a very nice, tho somewhat aggressive person. The hairdresser I go to does my hair exactly the way I like it, but she keeps suggesting that we go here and there and the next place together. I don't care to socialize with her and have said I was busy, hoping she would get the hint, but she evidently hasn't. I don't know where she ever got the idea that would want to become a "buddy" of hers. She is a married woman with grown children. I am a widow, with grown children and grandchildren, too. . . I have a career, plenty of friends, and I am not lonely. Please tell me what to do. NAMELESS, NATURALLY

DEAR NAMELESS: Unless you want to get this woman "out of your hair" professionally, as well as socially, continue to be "busy" when she suggests you go out together.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L. A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening when most everyone is apt to be depressed and to hang on to those things that have not proved helpful or satisfactory in the past and to be too articulate about stating unpleasant attitudes and prejudices. The evening however becomes fine for adopting new, cheerful and more modern views and principles

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You feel like setting aside present setup for something new and untried, which would be most unwise now. There can be deep disappointments if you do not maintain present poise, calm Avoid one who does not appreciate you.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Instead of trying to get out of paying your obligations, this is a good day to plan just how to do so wisely. One you love may be in a nervous mood. Make sure you maintain poise and all is fine GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Do not blame your associates for whatever is not satisfying to you, but raise your own level of efficiency instead. Act in such a way that others may not criticize you. Show that you really like others. MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You are not in the mood to get all that work ahead of you done, but if you change your attitude to one of enthusiasm, you accomplish much now. Use spare time to take the health treatments you need. Think constructively.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A day when you can lift others out of the slough of despondency with a smile and kindly word. Do it. Make sure you are not forceful with others. Maintain own equilibrium

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Whatever could start arguments at home should be carefully avoided now, and old scores should definitely not be brought up again. A smile can do much to lift the spirits of others. A more understanding attitude is good also. LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Be particularly careful not to involve yourself in anything of a risky nature and don't criticize anyone. Do not take too much money with you when you are shopping. Avoid buying what you don't need and take care money is not stolen from you. SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Take no risks where present security is concerned and cut down on expenses instead of adding to them. Go to see that expert recommended to you for the advice you need. Then put it to good use for big SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have to exercise self-control if you are to avoid trouble that could come from the planets today. Avoid the social or you could criticize others unfairly. Do some reading that could be most helpful CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan 20) You think you have too many responsibilities now, but if you plow into all that work, you get it done easily and well Don't gripe. A good friend may be in need and requires your good help. Give it. AOUARIUS (Jan 21 to Feb. 19) Others are not in a good mood today, so forget all that Aquarian gadding about you planned and concentrate on work that has to be done.

Personal aims should be approached calmly and wisely Forcefulness will gain you nothing. PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Don't think that bigwigs are not favorable to you or you do not get the support you want from them now Be sure of yourself and you won't make any mistakes. Sit quietly back and judge what is going on around

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be one of those interesting young people who will have a nose for trouble, so teach early to handle little problems around the home to become an expert in troubleshooting, and then slant the education along such lines. A connection with the government is fine here, if possible, or in big business, corporations, etc. A certain amount of discipline is necessary, plus religious training. So much has been said and written on the subject already that perhaps this one additional paragraph would serve to summarize my personnal Board exceeded its jurisdiction when it turned down the request cause Seminole isn't ready for

I believe their responsibility only rests in determining the validity of each individual request whether it be for a change in zoning, variance, etc. If Seminole isn't ready for something like this. . .it is NOT the fault of the developer. The fault lies with each of us living in Seminole County.

More than five years ago. . .in this column. . .I opined that we'd not ever fully appreciate the impact which Disney would ultimately have on this county. We can't say we weren't warned, not that that we didn't have enough time.

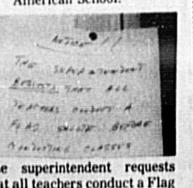

When the appeal is made to the county commission. . . which I'm certain that it shall be done. it behooves those five leaders to act in the sense that this is GROWTH. . . properly-planned and controlled growth the kind of which we were all desiring. To refuse its inception would precipitate subsequent actions which could and would only ead to the demise of the county

Knowing the members of the County Commission, I feel confident that this is also their attitude and a better example of cooperation will ensue.

Having personally visited Crooms School this morning, believe with the printing of the two "pledge" photos on today's front page, plus the following "memo" from one of the school's students. . . the photo on the bottom of today's column should be self-explanatory.

Dear Mr. Spolski, I have been reading your colomn a long time now but I go to Crooms with your son and his class may not salute the flag, but that no reason to blame the whole school, because I know for a fact that all the people I've asked say they do and I know that my first period does and I know if you print this that all the other classes will start to so print this and ask your son again and I think you will find good results.
