

FROM SMALLEST VILLAGE SANFORD GROWS TO BE "CITY SUBSTANTIAL" DESPITE FLOOD, FIRE AND FREEZE

The city of Sanford has had a varied history since its founding some 50 or 60 years ago. Despite adversity the city has grown from a straggling village to a modern, progressive city of over 10,000 inhabitants.

Two years ago the Chamber of Commerce conducted a contest among the pupils of the local high school to encourage local historical interest. Some 30 biographical sketches of the history were written and entered in this contest.

Through the Chamber of Commerce The Herald is enabled to give briefly the history of Sanford beginning with the year 1870 when J. Wofford Tucker purchased from Gen. Finney a tract of land south of Lake Monroe. The purchaser built the first house on the site that was later to become the city of Sanford.

In 1871 Gen. Henry S. Sanford, ex-minister to Belgium, became interested in Florida and in this portion of the state particularly. He became acquainted with Mr. Tucker and the two formed a partnership. They decided to lay out a town and a grant of land was secured from Spain.

After some discussion, it was decided to name the place Sanford. The town was laid out under the supervision of John A. McDonald and P. H. Marks. Sanford was incorporated in 1877. Mr. Purson was elected as the first mayor. The first postmaster was Dr. Harris, grandfather of F. E. Roumillat of this city.

At that time the late J. E. Ingraham handled all of the affairs of Gen. Sanford. Under his supervision the first hotel, The Sanford House, was erected in 1875. The first brick building was the Lyman block, which later became the First National Bank. The first church building was Holy Cross Episcopal Church. The first newspaper was called the Sanford Journal.

In 1880 the first railroad into the city was completed. It extended to Orlando. Later it was extended to Tampa. It was a narrow gauge road only three feet wide. In 1886 the Jacksonville, Tampa and Key West Railroad was built into Sanford, this city being the southern terminus.

Sanford at this time was a thriving town of 2,500 inhabitants. It had a waterworks, gas plant and ice factory. Mayor Forrest Lake and Mr. Doudney built the ice plant.

In 1887 Sanford was visited by a disastrous fire. Out of about 125 frame buildings, only 16 remained after the conflagration. Out of this disaster, however, a new city began to grow almost immediately. Wooden buildings gave way to brick structures. The year following was the yellow fever epidemic but Sanford escaped the terrors of the epidemic.

In 1893 Sanford was the most enterprising and prosperous city in south and central Florida. A large number of orange groves were bringing in big profits. Just about the time that the city appeared well on the road to general prosperity, the great freeze of 1894-95, swept the state. Sanford like the rest of Florida was hard hit by this blow.

Business blocks and houses became empty while citizens deserted the town. The outlook was far from encouraging. Yet a few people remained determined to rebuild once more.

In 1898 it was found that by much experimentation that the finest vegetables could be grown provided the land was properly irrigated and cultivated. Lettuce was raised first and then celery was tried. By 1900 celery and lettuce both were being raised in large quantities.

In 1902 the new school building was completed. Many new business houses were erected. Sanford at this time lay claim to a population of 3,500 people.

The first telephone company was installed in 1902. In 1908 a street car line was constructed. Those interested in this venture were: S. O. Chase, J. M. Whitner, F. P. Foster, A. T. Rosseter, and A. P. Connelly.

In 1910 the new high school building was completed. First Street was also paved in that year. From 1910 to the present year Sanford has been growing by leaps and bounds. Many brick buildings have been erected. The city at present has over 37 miles of paved streets, which is a greater mileage of paved streets in proportion to its size than any other city in the state.

In the past year the city has purchased the waterworks and gas plants and is now planning to purchase or erect an electric plant. A municipal library has been erected, a municipal golf course has been laid out, an athletic field owned by the city has been opened.

In addition the city is building a new $65,000 city hall and is also having constructed a new yacht basin at a cost of $67,000. The city now proposes to bulkhead Lake Monroe and build a lakefront boulevard.

Sanford because of the absence of inflated values in real estate and because of the solidity of its back country has gained the name of the "City Substantial."

It hasn't happened yet, but eventually there will be a Society of Fellow Passengers of Wales. Jersey Journal.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has even been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation. Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles' Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

SMALL FIRE

The fire department was called out to the residence of J. T. Brown, West First Street, near the Ice Plant, at noon today, to a small blaze on the roof. The damage was slight.

NEW METHODS HANDLING ARE USE OF DECAY

Says Heavy Citrus Loss Results From Washing, Picking and Packing Methods Employed

SEVILLE, Fla., Nov. 24. (AP)—Faulty methods in washing and packing citrus is the means of remedying the rotting of this particularly early in the season. Tests have been made as 93 per cent of were found to be green fruit caused by rough handling. As high as 34.8 per cent pickings have been lost by reason of this handling by pickers, and packers.

The result of investigations conducted by the extension citrus agent in some of Florida's counties. It was explained the grove and packing included in the investigation representative ones, taking these figures as the loss to the state's citrus through causes wholly their power to correct, is to be an enormous one.

According to Mr. DeBark, extension citrus agent, one of the most serious causes may cause a loss of 40 per cent. It is difficult to realize how serious, since the $4 box must be sold by $1.60 (at 40 per cent care of the loss).

Investigations indicate that it is to harvest fruit immediately rains, especially early of decay follows harvest.

The growers' problems after harvest require a thorough clean-up and prune out all dead trees.

ELECTRIFIED HISTORY (No. 6)—Columbus Quells a Mutiny

Railroad Men To Support The Esch-Cummins Measure

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 25.—Anticipating that members of congress at the forthcoming session may be disposed to tinker with the railroad legislation, Georgia railroad men are coming to the defense of the Esch-Cummins transportation act, declaring that it is "not unjust to the public nor a guarantee to the railroads."

The act could not save the scrapping of a number of Georgia short lines that have been compelled to cease operations, at tremendous losses to the territory they served. It is pointed out here, but the fact is, unmistakable, it is asserted, that had it not been for the act, Georgia probably would have been so crippled that post-war industrial and agricultural recovery would have been well-nigh impossible.

The Esch-Cummins act, railroad men assert, should be preserved for the full fair trial which it is entitled to and thereby also help to save the short line railroads. The country people and farmers in particular, it is shown, are more interested in the operation of the short line railroads than anybody else, and where these short line railroads are junked it is particularly the farmers who are the great sufferers from the loss.

Government Ownership Experience America's experiences with the railroads during and since the war, with its present merchant marine and its own railroad in Alaska at the present time, railroad men assert, are evidences sufficient for any reasonable mind to back away from the government ownership plan as a burnt child would back away from a blazing fire. And yet that is the plan, and it is the intention for the present assault upon the Esch-Cummins act, it is claimed here.

The short line railroads, it is shown, serve as essentially and as indispensably as do the longline roads. The one feeds the other, and as the great arteries are fed by the lateral veins, the one is dependent upon the other.

The LaFollette scheme, Atlanta railroad men assert, has as its objective the federal ownership of all railroads. As stated here, it is an old socialistic doctrine that has been claimed by every radical whom the west has produced for the last thirty years.

Leading to that objective LaFollette would junk the 1920 transportation act in its entirety and substitute a series of transportation laws, it is claimed here, that would put every railroad in private ownership in this country out of business.

There are doubtful States; and for that matter, of course, there are doubtful candidates.—Detroit News.

Can you imagine the time when every other street in Sanford will be a one way street and parking in the business district will be restricted to fifteen minutes, when the buildings are so high that the sun never reaches the street except for a few minutes when directly overhead, and when merchants take a quarter of a page for a want ad?

Schelle Maines
Out of the strain of the Doing,
Into the peace of the Done;
Out of the thir of pursuing,
Into the rapture of Won.
Out of the grey mist into brightness,
Out of the pale dusk into Dawn—
Out of all wrong into rightness,
We from these fields shall be gone.
"Nay", say the saints, "Not gone, but come,
Into eternity's Harvest Home."

And so passing from a life of vigorous achievement, marked by the same earnest solicitude for his fellowman as for his personal success, and resplendent in the altruism of his unselfish ambition, a man has left behind him a multitude of friends steeped in sorrow and has "come" into the peaceful repose of God's own "Harvest Home" which he so rightfully deserves.

Schelle Maines was a supreme example of the "Lincolnian" ideal. A son of parents who had found life's way a difficult road, he had to struggle for his own and endure many hard knocks from early boyhood. He earned his own living while going through high school and he earned the money which paid his expenses at a pharmacist's school at Macon. Later he decided upon law as a profession and worked his way through Stetson University.

Coming to Sanford in 1915 he began a law practice which has steadily grown and brought money and enviable reputation to its possessor. For eight years he has been attorney for the county school board, and during that time has rendered services far in excess of the compensation received. For eight years he held the position of county prosecutor and at one time was municipal judge. And this month in fact, only a few days before he left for the hospital in Jacksonville—he was elected to the office of county judge.

Although he had gained marked success for a man of thirty-three years, his efforts had been expended only in small part upon his personal success. He had worked assiduously for the schools and churches, giving both his time and money, generously and of his own free will, for the uplift and betterment of his community. During the World War, he did notable work in behalf of the Red Cross, and was prominent in home guard activities. At the time of his death he was secretary of the Fernald-Laughton Hospital.

To what heights this man might have risen, had death been more unsparring of his scythe, everyone can easily visualize. A man whose ability was so readily recognized by all who knew him, a man whose personality was a delight to his associates, a man whose heart was as big as his body and brought gladness and sunshine in whatever neighborhood it beat: such a man could not have been stopped on the ladder to success. He is gone, and we, the losers by it.

Raw-Silk From Seminole County?
In an advertisement of the Florida Silk Producing Company we read that this country is sending four hundred million dollars to foreign countries every year for the importation of raw silks. Then we read this:

Reasons why Florida should produce silk: Climatic and soil conditions are such that four crops can be produced annually in contrast to the one first quality crop in foreign countries. Certain special mulberry trees grow so rapidly here that the leaves can be picked in eight to ten weeks after planting. American processes and methods of production are far superior, eliminating most of the hand labor incident to the industry abroad.

Does that mean anything to anybody in Seminole county? Have the growing of mulberry trees and the keeping of silkworms ever been considered as a potential industry for this section of Florida?
The Herald confesses its ignorance of the industry and its needs. We have no information as to the obstacles in the way of successful production of raw-silk in this country. The idea strikes our fancy; and the vision of acres of mulberry trees, and in time far-spreading factories for the making of raw silk, even its development into cloth all ready for milady's gown, looms up alluringly.

Out of Politics? Amen.

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright 1924)

THE RAILROADS, with their stocks still climbing on the Stock Exchange say they want "the railroads taken out of politics."
To that, if the railroads meant it, the public would say amen. The roads have been in politics so long that a change would be welcome.

WHAT THE railroads mean is that they would like the outsiders in politics to let them alone, to take everything in sight, asking for and getting anything they don't see.
This is harvest time for the railroads, and until some party comes along to disturb the happy dream all will be well.

IN TIME, however, the voters, when less prosperous times make thinking necessary, will decide to have a government running the railroads, instead of railroads running the government.
This is not said unkindly, or by an agent of bolshevism. The writer has a few thousand shares of railroad stocks, a few hundred thousands in railroad bonds. But it is desirable for railroad men to realize that it is not going to be mid-summer for ever.

There is cold weather coming.
A FRIEND of John W. Davis says that he will not run for the Presidency again next time. That is probably true.
Mr. Davis and Mr. Cox, each beaten by a plurality of about seven millions, might form a "We Ain't Goin' to Run No More" club.

RABINDRANATH TAGORE, Indian poet and patriot, dangerously ill in Buenos Aires, wrote one thing that will last. This is the story shortened:
A man knew that somewhere along the pebbly ocean shore there was one pebble, a touch from which would change iron to gold.

Hour after hour he walked, touching pebbles to the iron bracelet on his wrist. But it did not change to gold.
On he went, picking up pebbles, dropping them. As the sun was sinking, he looked down and saw that he wore a golden bracelet. He had picked up the magic pebble, and it had done its work. But for a long time he had worked vainly, chasing for a pebble which he had not seen.

Which of the millions of pebbles behind him possessed the magic power? He could not tell. He had held it, had thrown it away. The night was falling. It was too late to go back along the dark shore. His chance was gone. And he had held it in his hands.
For workers that treat their jobs mechanically, content to "get by" sooner or later the chance comes. He that fails to pay attention passes the chance and loses it.

THE STRANGE murder of Mrs. Sheatsley is alleged to have occurred on the furnace in the cellar of her house and after carefully closing the furnace door behind her, she is supposed to have burned herself to death.
And the door of that furnace is only fourteen inches wide, and a woman with nothing to hold on to, pull herself in, then turn around on the blazing fire, pull the door shut, and settle down to burn up? It seems improbable.

HER HUSBAND, the Rev. Mr. Sheatsley, suggests that the Hindu women sometimes burn themselves. So they do. But they do not crawl through a narrow furnace door, shut it behind them, and then indulge in "Suttee", all alone. They usually have a crowd of relatives admiring them, as they burn with their husband's dead bodies. The relatives shouting to drown the poor widow's cries.

UNTY OF EMPIRE
LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL
England's rejection of the League of Nations protocol of disarmament is not unexpected. It was known that this would be the attitude of the Government several days before the formal notification was given to Sir Eric Drummond, secretary general of the Geneva body. It might have been foreseen when the election showed the Unionist party had succeeded in getting power, for the protocol opposed the fundamental principle of unity among the dominions on which the present Government hoped to work out the destiny of the Empire.

A DANGEROUS DISTINCTION
NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE
On February 8, 1921 William H. Anderson, aged 41, and the state Attorney General was convicted by a jury of felony in the third degree and sentenced by Justice Tompkins to not more than three years nor less than one year in the Sing Sing penitentiary. Justice Tompkins, in his charge, said that the crime of Anderson was committed, and that the defendant had given testimony on the witness stand which was manifestly untrue. Anderson's offense was aggravated by the fact that he is a man of unusual intelligence, and of high pretension to respectability, and in which he had been a trustee of many earnest and sincere believers in the cause of prohibition. Being a lawyer, he had not plead ignorance of the law. As a man of education he could not set up the claim that he could not distinguish right from wrong.

D.A.R. Entertained by Mrs. Watson Saturday

(By Mrs. John G. Leonard)

The Sallie Harrison Chapter D. A. R., held a called meeting Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. E. Watson, the regent. Mrs. A. M. DeForest presiding.

After the usual routine business the subject of most importance was a report from the chairman of the Armistice Day Celebration, Mrs. B. J. Starling. Mrs. Starling reported that through the courtesy of the Legion, the officers of the D. A. R. were given the privilege of having one car decorated at the Legion's expense and that as chairman, she had taken advantage of this gracious offer and had two cars decorated.

In these two cars rode the officers of the chapter and one of the oldest members, Mrs. Mary Starling who is also a charter member of the Sallie Harrison Chapter. Mrs. Starling reported that the treasurer had been authorized to send a check to the Legion for the one car that the Chapter was to pay for. Mrs. Watson reported that this had been done and a cordial letter of thanks also sent the Legion for their courtesy.

Mrs. Rosster and Mrs. Whitner brought to the chapter a most beautiful ritual for the chapter services and it was enthusiastically voted to be adopted. A vote of thanks was given them for their hard work in securing this ritual and of appreciation for its beauty and appropriateness.

Mrs. Palestine moved that the board prepare a resume of its minutes for each meeting and that this report be read to the chapter and the motion was adopted.

The lovely living room of Mrs. Watson's apartment was decorated with roses and flaming poinsettias. During the social hour the hostess assisted by Mr. John Leonard, served delicious refreshments.

County Teachers' Club Holds Regular Meet

The regular meeting of The Seminole Teachers' Club was held Saturday afternoon in the auditorium of the Oviedo high school. There was a large number of the members at this meeting and the program was greatly enjoyed. The program was rendered by Prof. M. F. Okerlund of the Oviedo High School. He deserves credit for securing such prominent speakers for the occasion.

Dr. Weir, president of Rollins College, was the first speaker on the program and he chose as his topic "The Relation of the Home to School." The next speaker was Prof. Harris, head of the English department of Rollins College. He spoke on "The Possibilities of Teaching English in High School." Dr. Vincent was the next enthusiastic speaker. Dr. Vincent is the pastor of the Congregational Church of Winter Park. In his talk he brought out some "Prominent Elements of an American Character."

Mrs. Stella Arrington, of Sanford, president of the club took charge of the meeting after the program and the business of the club was discussed. It was decided to hold the meeting for the month of December and so the club will hold its next session in January. The time and place will be announced later. Supt. T. W. Lawton made the school announcements for December.

After the meeting adjourned the teachers were entertained with a reception at the Oviedo Woman's Club.

Mrs. Speer Hostess At A Dinner Party

Mrs. C. W. Speer was the gracious hostess at a dinner party and a motor trip Sunday afternoon to a select number of her friends.

A delicious venison dinner was served at a daintily appointed table where covers were laid for 12 guests.

After the dinner the party motored to Wekiva River later returning to the home of Miss Spour for supper.

PENNSYLVANIA TEAM TO PLAY ITHACA ELEVEN

Undefeated Football Team Will Meet Old Time Rival On Gridiron Turkey Day

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Pennsylvania's impressive football team led by Penn. State but undefeated has one more bridge to cross.

Pennsylvania will entertain Cornell on Thursday. Victory for the Quakers will not, however, prove them the strongest team in the east, but will permit them to lead the list in games won and lost, due to a longer schedule than that attempted by Dartmouth.

The Hanover eleven, with seven games won and one tied, played its last contest a week ago against Cornell, leaving Penn. to lead the array this week with eight won and one tied. Yale held Dartmouth to a deadlock and Yale stands third in the list with six won and two tied. Penn. State, which marred Pennsylvania's record, has lost two games this season. Yale, having defeated Princeton and Harvard, is content without claiming a mythical championship.

Bucknell, by defeating Rutgers, finished the schedule a notch higher than the Jersey men, for while each won seven victories and lost only one, Rutgers was held to a 13 to 13 score by Lehigh.

Lafayette, twice conquered, dragged Lehigh to the middle of the list last Saturday. Near the bottom of a list of 24 leading colleges of the east are five teams which have always been powerful contenders in the gridiron warfare, Cornell, Pittsburgh, Harvard, Brown and Navy.

Most surprising is the presence near the top of little Williams, which defeated Cornell and lost one contest, that to Columbia.

Army and Navy, last of the football squads to settle long standing feuds for this year, will meet next Saturday at Baltimore, producing one of the most colorful spectacles known to the gridiron game and ending the eastern gridiron season.

On the holiday, Cornell meets Penn. Brown and Colgate will meet Providence; West Virginia and Washington and Jefferson at Morgantown, W. Va.; Syracuse at Columbia at New York, and Pittsburgh and Penn. State at Pittsburgh. University of Vermont will journey to Milwaukee to face the sensational Marquette eleven.

Besides the army-navy duel Saturday, Notre Dame will meet Carnegie at Pittsburgh; Georgetown will oppose Fordham at New York and Boston College and Holy Cross will fight it out at Boston.

DRAKE TEAM IS PREPARED FOR 'GATOR' ELEVEN

Iowa Team Has Had Good Season Thus Far; South Will See Versatile Team

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 25.—Head Coach "Osie" Solem, Athletic Director K. L. Wilson, Dr. M. D. Drake University gridder will make the trip to Gainesville, Fla., where the Bulldogs clash with the University of Florida eleven in an important intercollegiate battle on Thanksgiving Day.

Coach Solem today announced that the following men will make the trip: Varsity team: Sloan and Lingenfelter, ends; Stocking and Henry, tackles; Ambelang and Ewart, guards; Don Carlos, center; Captain Sam Orebough, quarterback; Everett and Spears, halfbacks; McLuen, fullback.

Reserves: Lair and Dalby, ends; Jorgenson and Armstrong, guards; Amend, center; Sparks, quarterback; Frye, Sutherland and Enright, halfbacks; Dustin, fullback.

The Bulldogs expect one of the toughest games of their strenuous season when they tackle the Gators, and they will be prepared to play every bit of football they know in order to register a victory.

The Drake team plays versatile, colorful football, excelling in their forward pass attack, wide end runs and off tackle smashes. This being their final game of the season, there will be no necessity to keep any three "under cover" from opposing scouts, and some thrilling football should result.

On their return from Gainesville, the Drake squad will stop off at Washington to see the sights of the national capital, and also take in the annual Army-Navy gridiron classic, Nov. 29.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 25.—Drake University fans claim that

BUILD STRENGTH

The body depends entirely on the blood for strength. If the blood is thin, impure and undernourished, your strength is impaired, your vitality is lowered and your power of resistance against disease lessened.

Cincinnati "Reds" Coming to Orlando

ORLANDO, Nov. 25.—The owner of the Cincinnati "Reds," August Herrmann, has already made reservations at a local hotel for players he will bring to Orlando next year for spring training. In a telegram, he asked the hotel to reserve quarters for a party of 100 beginning March 1. He will bring fifty players and an equal number of coaches, trainers and newspaper men, who are expected to spend the usual six week here while the "Reds" practice at the Orlando baseball park.

Duty will cause a man to go a long way, but it takes persistence to make him go the limit. Milwaukee Journal.

Toledo Ball Club May Winter at Ocala

OCALA, Nov. 25.—It is not unlikely that either a major or class AA baseball team will train here next spring. J. D. O'Brien, business manager of the Toledo Mud-hens of the American Association has been here looking over the field, and expressions that followed his departure were to the effect that it is no longer a question as to whether or not Ocala can secure a team for spring training, but whether or not the town wants to pay the prompt with the usual expenses, and actually open a contract while here. Mr. O'Brien had a conference with Robert Mackay, J. R. Bracken, N. P. Davis and Fred Baker.

Know what's underneath the paint before you buy

YOU wouldn't think of buying a house without first knowing how it is built and the quality of materials used. In selecting a piece of furniture you are sure to find out whether it is solid wood or veneer.

Yet many people who exercise care in most purchases buy automobiles without even lifting the hood or knowing about the hidden qualities of body and chassis construction that really determine one's satisfaction with a closed car.

We want you to know about the unseen qualities of the new Studebaker Standard Six Sedan.

Down underneath its superb body finish is a sturdy framework of carefully selected ash, glued together and fastened in place by screws—not nailed. Ash is scarce and expensive, but Studebaker uses it because it best combines proper weight and strength.

Upholstery is genuine mohair of high quality. Various grades of mohair look much alike—the big difference is in the quality.

Beneath this mohair covering are many nests of cushion springs, padded with heavy burlap, upholstery cotton and curled hair. Almost any car seems comfortable on the showroom floor, but it's quality such as this that makes the Studebaker Standard Six remain comfortable after years of service.

The same standards of excellence are maintained throughout the body and chassis. In the engine, for example, the crankshaft is completely machined on all surfaces, a practice that results in the smooth, quiet, vibrationless performance that characterizes all Studebaker cars.

Judged solely on what your eye can see—in beauty of line and finish and exterior refinements—the Studebaker Standard Six Sedan will command your instant approval.

But go deeper than that. Compare its hidden, vital qualities—its design, materials and workmanship—with cars selling for hundreds of dollars more.

Studebaker never compromises—never uses a substitute for genuine quality. Studebaker has been building quality vehicles for 73 years.

Come in and let us tell you the "inside story" of the Studebaker Standard Six Sedan.

Walter Johnson May Purchase Interest In The Saint Paul Club

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 25.—Local baseball fandom was buzzing Monday over reports that the St. Paul Baseball club was to be sold and that one of its owners might be Walter Johnson, veteran of the Washington Americans pitching staff.

Of gossip concerning the local American Association, one thing appeared certain—the Saints would be under new management next season. While the baseball world was speculating Monday on the future of Walter Johnson, the twirler was out of reach, on a hunting expedition with friends, near Reno, Nev.

Johnson's reported withdrawal from a deal to purchase the Oakland Pacific Coast League Club, because of the lack of financial support, will necessitate a re-arrangement in his plans.

$3,000,000 Hotel Fund At Sarasota

SARASOTA, Nov. 25.—Local business men and others are subscribing to a three million dollar fund to be used in the erection of a hotel here. One citizen alone matched the amount subscribed at a meeting which was attended by Sarasotans in general and visitors from Chicago and New York, all of whom entered their names for stock.

Make Your Walls and Ceilings Fireproof!

It isn't safe to make walls and ceilings highly inflammable material.

Use Sheetrock, the fireproof wallboard. Sheetrock is rock—pure gypsum cast in——not wood, pulp or paper. It can not ignite or transmit fire.

Won't warp, either. Easily put up—and nails like lumber—you just nail the rock to the joists or studding. Takes any ration—wallpaper, paint, panels, or The Sheetrock Decorator.

Made only by the United States Gypsum Company.

Ask your lumber or building material for a sample and prices.
