

LINDY ACCEPTS POSITION WITH NEW COMPANY

Becomes Head Of Technical Department Of Recently Formed Air Transport Inc. Decision To Give Boost To Flying His Salary Hasn't Been Announced But Is Reported To Be Large

NEW YORK, May 23.—(INS)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh gave new and practical impetus to the development of aviation in the United States by accepting a position as technical head of the newly-formed Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., a $5,000,000 corporation which will establish a coast-to-coast train and plane service, cutting the traveling time from New York to Los Angeles to forty-eight hours, or exactly in half.

Lindbergh's title is "chairman of the technical committee." His salary has not been announced, although it is said to be extremely liberal. It is believed, too, that he has been given a generous block of stock. He will devote all his time to the new job.

All matters concerning choice of equipment, fields, general service routes and safety appliances will come under the authority of the committee of which Lindbergh is the head. The president of the company is C. M. Keys, who is also president of the Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor Corporation.

The railroads identified with "Lindy's" new company are the Pennsylvania and the Atchafalaya, Toledo and Santa Fe. The two airplane companies involved are the Curtiss Aeroplane and the Wright Aeronautical Corporation.

Aviation stocks in Wall Street were high this morning on the news that Lindbergh had entered the business field. Curtiss Aero jumped 10 points in early trading on the exchange to 130 and Wright Aero also made a 10 point advance to 128.

Transcontinental Air Transport opened on the Curb Market with a sale of 17,000 shares at 33 3/8, up 7 points.

Lindbergh's acceptance of the position with the Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., definitely disposed of rumors to the effect that he was making arrangements for a trip in June by air to Europe with intermediate stops in Labrador, Greenland and Iceland.

Even though Lindbergh would give no countenance to such rumors they were several times reiterated, even at a time when it was known that Lindbergh was in consultation with business men with a view of entering upon a business career. Lindbergh has several times expressed extreme annoyance over the publication of his alleged "plans" which substance.

Explosion In Coal Mine Of Kentucky Is Fatal To Seven

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., May 23.—(INS)—Seven men were killed and one miner is missing in a dust explosion that wrecked the No. 30 mine of the Black Mountain Coal Corporation at Kenvir, Ky., according to a telephone report received here from the company offices today. Mine rescue crews from the U. S. Coal & Coke Co. at Lynch, Ky., were sent to have recovered the bodies, and another crew from Norton, Va., is assisting.

Special prayer meeting services will be held tonight at the Methodist Church. The meeting hour has been changed to 7:45 o'clock, according to an announcement by W. P. Buhman, pastor.

American Women To Meet Royalty

LONDON, May 23.—(INS)—A number of Americans will be presented when the third royal court of the season is held tonight in the Throne Room of Buckingham Palace. The Americans who will make their bow to King George and Queen Mary are: Mrs. Alton B. Parker, of New York; Miss Lois Davidson of Houston, Texas; Miss Ruth Draper, of New York; Miss Neville Gherardi, of Chevy Chase, Maryland; Miss Frances Howard, of Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Helen Mary Hurley, of Chicago; Miss Clementine Miller, of Columbus, Indiana, and Mrs. Charles Deere Wiman, of Melrose, Ill. Two more courts will be held before the season for presentations close.

STATE ATTORNEY ASKS ACQUITTAL OF GLEN A. TYLER

Sudden Climax Comes In Trial Of Accused Volusia County Commissioner For Malpractice While In Public Office

DELAND, Fla., May 23.—(INS)—Unable to get into evidence a warrant through which county commissioner Glen A. Tyler received reimbursement for expenses to Tallahassee, alleged to have been an illegal withdrawal of county funds, state attorney J. A. Searlett late Tuesday requested Judge Ira A. Hutchison to instruct the jury to render a verdict of not guilty in the trial of commissioner Tyler, charged with malpractice in office.

The sudden climax to the trial of the accused commissioner came after state attorney J. C. Atkins of Gainesville, assisting in the prosecution, offered in evidence a county warrant identified by Samuel D. Jordan, clerk of the court, as being the original warrant issued to commissioner Tyler in payment for a bill rendered over a signature he believed to be that of the commissioner.

Attorney C. D. Landis, defense counsel, objected on the ground that no warrant had been mentioned in the indictment.

The state argued that this document was probably described in the indictment, contending that after payment the warrant became a receipt or voucher for the money drawn. He requested the instructed verdict, and gave indication that the matter will again be presented to the grand jury.

Hotel Forrest Lake Will Remain Open During The Summer

With the statement that the Hotel Forrest Lake will remain open during the summer months, officials of the company owning the hostelry today announced the appointment of A. J. Richardson, formerly of this city, as hotel operator of many years' experience and is well known in Sanford, where for several years he managed the Valdez. After leaving this city he became connected with several large hotels in resort cities on the west coast of Florida.

Parents To Visit Boys' Camp At Lake Winona

Preparations for entertaining a large number of parents at Camp Winona, where 35 Sanford junior boys are enjoying a week's outing under the supervision of C. D. Wolfe, Y. M. C. A. director for Seminole County. This word was received here this morning from Mr. Wolfe, who said an interesting program has been arranged for the occasion.

Following the afternoon's entertainment the visitors will be guests at supper. Despite heavy rains for the past two days, curtailing the boys' program, the youthful campers are having an enjoyable time. Mr. Wolfe's communication said.

DELEGATES OF SOUTH DAKOTA, TEXAS CHOSEN

Most States Have Voted Their Delegations Which Will Represent them At Republican, Democratic Meetings

West Virginia And Florida Yet To Act

Lone Star State Delegates Of Democratic Party Will Go To Convention Uninstructed

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(INS)—The delegates that will comprise the republican national convention have to a large extent been selected.

Two states, Texas and South Dakota, acted yesterday. South Dakota will send a Smith delegation to Houston, and a Lowden delegation to Kansas City. The Texas situation is somewhat muddled by controversy and interlocking strifes. Two republican delegations will go to Kansas City and engage a contest, one instructed for Hoover, the other uninstructed. The party Democratic delegations from Texas are listed in the doubtful column.

This leaves but two states, Florida and West Virginia, yet to choose their republican delegations. Florida is best with republican factional strife, and West Virginia holds her primary on May 29. Slower to act, the Democrats of six states, Florida, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia, are still to select their delegations. With the exception of West Virginia, this Democratic territory is largely unfavorable to Gov. Al Smith.

Results in the states that are yet to act will not materially affect the existing line-up in either the Republican or Democratic races. The West Virginia primary on May 29 will be important more from the national effect than from the mathematical Smith or Reed will get the 10 Democratic delegates, and either Hoover or Senator Guff, the favorite son, the 19 Republican delegates. In any event, the result is not expected to make or break any candidacy.

Gov. Al Smith's delegate total as of today is figured in the most reliable tables in Washington at approximately 612, or 122 short of the necessary two-thirds. His supporters claim enough reserve strength among the favorite son delegates to nominate him on the second or third ballot, and even the "last ditchers" against the New York Governor are disposed to admit the correctness of the claim.

On the Republican side, the tables compiled here give Hoover a total of today a delegate total of approximately 608, included in which is the full Pennsylvania delegation of 79, but these figures can be made to stand up, they mean that the cabinet candidate will go to Kansas City with but two seats standing between him and the nomination.

Germany Discusses Great Possibilities Of Gas In Next War

Will Rogers Chooses To Run And Will Make Race As "Bunkless" Candidate

NEW YORK, May 23.—(INS)—Will Rogers, the cowboy humorist, has chosen to run for the presidency. He will make the race as the candidate of a "Bunkless" party, it was announced today.

He elected to be the first president in sixty-two years who was funny intentionally, his backers assert. They admit he is qualified for the high office and will himself do not deny it.

Rogers' friends point with pride to the fact that he is a veteran of thirteen campaigns with the Ziegfeld Follies, which is something that can't be said for other candidates. They view with alarm the rising cost of government and assert that if elected, the genial Rogers will save the country for one thing he declines to have a running mate on the theory that the office of vice president is an expensive superfluity, whatever that is.

"If elected," said Rogers, clearing his throat, "I'll do the work of both president and vice president for one salary, thereby saving the government the vice presidential salary of $15,000 a year.

"Fifteen thousand berries is not to be scoffed at, even by the United States Government." Postum, well-known Americans, including Henry Ford, Nicholas Murray Butler, General William Mitchell, Judge Ben B. Lindsey and William Allen White, are acting as backers and endorsers of Rogers' candidacy, according to life, the humor weekly which today announced the teasing of Will's sombrero into the political arena. Will himself, it was stated, will make a formal speech of acceptance next week.

While the candidacy of Rogers is presented as a satire on orthodox national politics, the sponsors hope his "campaign" will reveal some of the unnecessary, ridiculous, extravagant and deceptive practices which they believe to be characteristic of presidential years.

"Will Rogers is the man for the office," the men who drafted him said in a neatly-typed statement given to the press. "He is an American. Equipped as he is with a generous supply of genuine Indian blood, he's a lot closer to 100 per cent American than most people who brag about it.

"He's had political experience, too, having served as Mayor of Beverly Hills, Cal. 'And besides he's a good scout—and it's just about time that the people of the United States of America elected a president for no other reason than that.'"

Rogers expressed a willingness to go before the senatorial committee investigating campaign expenditures to deny the base canard that he is "spending a lot of dough for losses to rope in voters."

HOOPER'S AIDES MADE EFFORT TO STOP CRITICISMS

Steiner Senate Committee Is Given First Hand Information About Attempts To Defend Candidate From Jibes

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(INS)—A first hand account of the activities of Herbert Hoover's campaign aides in their efforts to stop critical attacks on the Secretary of Commerce was narrated to the Steiner Senate Committee today by Frank J. Hale, the "angel" of the weekly magazine "Pitties" now published here.

The magazine, edited by a former newspaper correspondent, has been losing $500 weekly, Hale admitted. It has been increasing in its criticism of Hoover's presidential ambitions.

SENATE SETS ANOTHER DATE FOR QUITTING

In Face Of Filibuster Against Muscle Shoals And Boulder Dam Bills, Administration Leaders Ask Postponement

Hope For Session In Summer Is Lost

Opponents Of Two Great Government Projects Have United To Kill Both Measures

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(INS)—In the face of Senate filibusters against Boulder Dam and Muscle Shoals Bills and a top-heavy legislative calendar, administration leaders today tentatively postponed the date for adjourning Congress from next Saturday night to Tuesday, May 29.

A resolution, fixing this date, was expected to be adopted by the House and sent to the Senate. Administration leaders said the House was certain to agree upon this date while they predicted opposition of friends of the Boulder Dam and Muscle Shoals Bills.

Opponents of the two great government projects were reported to have united their forces in an effort to kill both bills. The Muscle Shoals measure, on which House and Senate conferees have agreed after it passed the two branches in slightly different form, had the better chance of final enactment.

The Boulder Dam Bill appeared doomed to defeat in this session, because of the longer legislative journey facing it. After passing the House and Senate, it will have to go through the same legislative mill a second time after differences have been adjusted in conference. This process probably would require two to three weeks in the face of the present opposition.

As a result, administration leaders were ready to give supporters of the two measures a week in which to fight the filibustering tactics of the opposition. It was the opinion of administration leaders that, if filibusters blocked both bills for a week, neither could be enacted this session even if Congress remained here another ten days or until June 9, the Saturday preceding the Kansas City Republican convention. Any hope of an all-summer session was abandoned following enactment of the Flood Control Bill, the only measure which commanded fighting majorities in both House and Senate.

The first move to iron out differences between the House and Senate on the new tax reduction bill was taken today. The House enacted a $280,000,000 reduction while the Senate limited the slash to $200,000,000. House leaders have announced there would be little trouble in reaching an agreement, indicating that most of the Senate ratios will be accepted.

Attendance Is Small At Political Meeting Because Of Weather

Because of a steady downpour, the political rally staged at Oceanola last night for the benefit of county candidates, did not attract as large a crowd as had been expected. Most of the office seekers were present to present their claims.

The meeting was presided over by R. J. Holly, secretary of the county Democratic executive committee. Aspirants for constable and justice of peace did not speak.

E. E. Brady, for the House, J. G. Sharon and S. A. B. Wilkinson presented their claims in behalf of the office of county judge. Candidates for tax assessor, J. D. Chittenden, E. H. Kibbe and Alexander Vaughan, gave brief talks.

Vance Douglass, R. R. Deas and D. L. Thrasher spoke for the office of clerk of circuit court, and R. W. Penman Jr., J. R. Lyles and L. P. Hagan presented their candidacies for the legislature. John G. Leonard and Judge W. E. White appeared for the office of county prosecuting attorney. Senator J. J. Parrish made a brief address. Candidates for county commissioner who spoke were: J. T. McLane, S. F. Long and W. B. Ballard.

President Ignores Threat And Vetoes Farm Relief Bill

For 2nd Time Coolidge Sends Famed Measure Back To Capitol Without Signature

Denounces Bill In Harsh Terms

Rejection Message Is One Of Longest Ever Sent Congress

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(INS)—President Coolidge vetoed the McNary-Haugen Farm Relief Bill today for the second time. Ignoring the advice of the farm bloc in Congress, and disregarding the threats of a grain belt revolt against the administration in the forthcoming election, Mr. Coolidge sent the famous measure back to the Capitol without his signature, and accompanied it with a message explaining his reasons for disapproving it.

Although the bill had been modified considerably to meet presidential objections of a year ago it still contained the equalization fee—which agrarian leaders characterize as the heart of the plan—and to which Mr. Coolidge has been unyielding in his opposition.

In view of the short time remaining of the present session of Congress it is not anticipated that the bill can be passed over the veto. It is not even certain that an effort will be made to do so, for some of the rebellious backers of the bill have declared their intention to let the party stand the onus of its defeat.

The presidential message of rejection was one of the longest he has ever sent to Congress, covering some 24 printed pages, which also included an opinion by the attorney general. As the outcome, Mr. Coolidge declared that the bill "is unconstitutional" and then he proceeded at length to outline and explain his reasons for again disapproving it.

"The bill," he said, "contains not only the so-called equalization fee and other features of the old measure prejudicial, in my opinion, to sound public policy and to agriculture, but also new and highly objectionable provisions. 'In its entirety, it is little less undesirable than the earlier measure. The bill still is unconstitutional. This position is supported by the opinion of the attorney general.'"

The veto message which President Coolidge sent to Congress a year ago on the first McNary-Haugen Bill denounced the measure in the strongest terms Mr. Coolidge ever used in a public paper, and the message today repeated most of those arguments and added new ones.

Sanford Kiwanians Celebrate Seventh Birthday Of Club

Sanford Kiwanians today celebrated the seventh anniversary of the organization of the local club. A. P. Connelly, first president of the club, gave a short address reviewing the work of the organization and praising the efforts of its members in behalf of Sanford.

The principal address was delivered by Judge Wallace W. Wright, whose remarks were accorded a hearty applause. Other features of the program included vocal selections by Mrs. Arthur Branch and piano numbers by George Brookhain. The entertainment was in charge of Joe Marenzette and Hay Fox. Fifteen complimentary tickets to the Milano Theater were given away.

Clyde Byrd introduced Rev. Max Cook of Ovidelo as a new member. Several committees gave reports. The attendance was one of the largest in several months.

Two Civil Cases On Circuit Court Bill Are Decided Today

Two civil cases occupied the circuit court's session this morning. George W. Crin was awarded damages of $1,500 in a suit against F. A. Howard. By agreement between counsel a jury trial was dispensed with and Judge W. W. Wright rendered a decision in favor of the plaintiff, who sought damages on the basis of a note for $1,000. Interest and attorney fees were added.

Ralph Smith received damages of $1,202.13 in a suit against the Sanford Credit Association. Wilson and Boyle represented the plaintiff and J. M. Johnson appeared in behalf of the defendant.

Other cases on the civil docket for this session are: D. L. Thrasher versus R. L. Betts; D. A. Caldwell versus W. G. Aldridge; W. C. Corker versus Lizzie and Ed Davis; Mitchell D. Lewis versus L. E. White and F. M. Davison versus the Lake Worth Construction Company.

The grand jury was still in session today but it was reported that the body had almost completed its investigations. The grand jury is expected to return its report sometime tomorrow morning.

Attorney General Interprets Rule of Absent Voters Law

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 23.—(INS)—A person does not have to expect to leave the state for the June 5 primary, in order to take advantage of the 1927 absent voters law, Attorney General Fred Davi declared today. His statement is the result of numerous inquiries.

"I notice by reports to the press and also by the numerous inquiries which come to my office that there is a widespread misunderstanding as to the effect of the 1927 absent voter's law.

"The general impression is that persons must be out of the state on election day in order to vote this ballot. As a matter of fact, this impression is erroneous and any person who is going to be out of the county when he has his voting place has just as much right to vote this ballot as if he were going to be out of the state.

"Under section 2, of chapter 11824 (The Act in Question), a person who expects to be absent from his or her home county on election day may apply in person to the County Judge of that county not more than fifteen days (May 21) and not less than three days (June 1) before the day of the election, obtain an absentee's ballot and vote his ballot at that time.

"A person does not have to expect to leave the state in order to take advantage of the 1927 absent voter's law."

U. S. Land And Air Forces Will Strive To Stop Attack Of Imaginary Enemy

HAMPTON ROADS, Va., May 23.—(INS)—Prepared to hurl 2,100 pound projectiles over a ten-mile sweep of the Atlantic, from the deep black maws of 16 inch howitzers, the United States army coast defense today inaugurated at the vital entrance to Chesapeake Bay the most elaborate war games ever undertaken on the American continent.

Under the new basic strategy of the coast defense system, this vulnerable spot—the naval gateway to the National Capital and all the vital war plants in Maryland and Virginia—is to be prepared against any emergency.

Four sixteen-inch mortars of the fixed battery at Fort Story were supplemented in the defensive fire today by a twelve-inch howitzer and 4 eight-inch guns from the Mobile artillery unit at Fort Eustace.

The strategy of the operations assumes that a hostile Navy has damaged the Panama Canal, battling the United States battle fleet in the Pacific for six weeks, Chesapeake Bay and all its coast line as well as the vital Atlantic Coast near Norfolk, must be defended by the army, assisted by naval aircraft.

Preliminary maneuver plans have been in operation since midnight Sunday, and sunrise today found the rival commands poised to hurl their fire across the narrow estuary which separates Cape Henry from Cape Charles.

Aircraft from Langley Field scout the harbor for enemy craft. Infantry men are stationed along the shore line above and below Norfolk to guard against raiding parties. Enemy scouting planes drone over the harbor, safely beyond the reach of Anti-aircraft guns splitting savagely from the protection of Fort Story.

The mouth of Chesapeake Bay is thickly strewn with submerged mines to challenge the enemy should his cruisers prevail against the fire of the land batteries.

Enemy aircraft are active near the approaching fleet, to prevent aerial observation and fire control. The approach of the red enemy fleet was reported by the land commands at 6 A. M. today.

SANFORD WINS SERIES OPENER FROM DAYTONA

BARRON HURLS STEADY GAME TO WIN, 7 TO 4

Visitors Counter Three Tallies In Opening Stanza And Add One More In Sixth Frame

Locals Get 2 In Fourth, 4 In 5th

Frisbie In Good Form; Wade And Salva Are Added To The Lineup

On a rain soaked field, which slowed the game considerably, Sanford won the first game of the series from Daytona Beach yesterday afternoon at the Municipal Park. The score was 7 to 4, the locals bunching their hits to score two runs in the fourth, four in the fifth and another in the seventh.

Barron hurling for the Sanford team kept his hits well scattered. In the opening stanza the visitors pushed three runs across the platter, on two walks, a hit and an error. The Sanford ace allowed seven bingles while his mates were getting six off Stokes.

The Feds chalked up errors while the visitors made three. Cecil Frisbie, playing in the short field, accepted several difficult chances although he made an error in the final frame. Salva, a former Smoker, played third base and performed creditably. Another familiar face that has been added to the lineup is Eddie Wade, who is playing in the center garden.

In the first inning, Barron drew a pass and went to third on Scholl's double. Wyeall's walk to fill the bags. Miller lifted a long fly to left field and Messner tallied. Scholl and Wyeall's advance to third and second on a passed ball and tallied a minute later when Barron's fly was muffed by Warren.

In the fourth Frisbie singled and went to second when Barron was walked. The Sanford shortstop scored when Hrysworth overthrew first on Salva's bunt. Barron also counted when Warren hit a grounder and a peg to first was too high.

Four more tallies were made by Sanford in the next inning. Two errors, two walks and two hits did the work. For good measure the locals made another in the seventh after the visitors had scored a single marker in the preceding stanza.

SOX HALT YANKS, THEN CHAMPIONS TURN THE TABLES

Thirteen Circuit Blows Are Delivered In Both Loops. Hack Wilson And Jim Bottomley Getting Two Each

NEW YORK, May 22—(INS)—As the result of the defeat of the double header yesterday, the other American League clubs perked up a bit today. The Yanks had taken 12 of their last 13 starts including eight successive victories and their rivals were beginning to fear that the winning streak of the champions was due to go on forever—just like Tennyson's brook and the senate committee investigating campaign expenditures.

After being felled by the Bostonians by an 8 to 4 count, the Yanks retaliated by nipping the Sox 3 to 2 and snapping Boston's winning streak of seven straight. Meusel's home run, following two walks, ruined Charley Ruffing's four-hit game.

Home run hitters on all fronts found the range, delivering 13 circuit smacks. Hack Wilson and Sam J. Bottomley got two apiece. Wilson now leads the National League home run race with eight circuit clouts, one more than Del Bissonette's total. Bottomley has six.

Harper and Roettger of the Cardinals also hit homers, enabling the red birds to nose out the Cubs 8 to 7. The St. Louis club has hit 24 homers, a better record than any big league outfit except the Yankees, who have 28, and the Athletics, who have 25.

The Reds sniped the Pirates 4 to 3 but lost a chance to go into first place when they dropped a 6 to 4 decision to the Blues in the nightcap.

The Athletics advanced to within 3 1/2 games of the Yankees by taking two close ones from Washington, 1 to 3 and 2 to 1. Jack Quinn won his own game in the opener with a bit in the third-inning inning. This victory was costly for the Mackmen however, as Tom Spaker and Hug Miller suffered injuries which will keep them out of the game for an indefinite period.

A homer by Dykes and French's double gave the A's the nightcap even though they made only one other hit off Haley. The Nats dropped into seventh place. Other clubs were not scheduled.

NEW YORK, May 22—(INS)—The harp that once through tara's halls played lullaby music to willing and unwilling chins had a slightly sour twang this morning.

Jimmie McLarin wore the harp on his back as he stepped out of the ring last night after 16 rounds with Sammy Mandell but that was only what he had planned to do, meanwhile taking a bow to the left, right and centre as the multitude blatted in unison. What he hadn't expected to see was the "amuse" upon his tightly closed eye or the vin rouge upon his upturned Irish nose, for this wasn't part of the act at all.

M'LARNIN BOWS TO MANDELL IN COLORFUL BOUT

Champion Takes Every Round Except Two Which Are Even; 20,000 See Titular Scrap

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, May 22—(INS)—The harp that once through tara's halls played lullaby music to willing and unwilling chins had a slightly sour twang this morning.

Jimmie McLarin wore the harp on his back as he stepped out of the ring last night after 16 rounds with Sammy Mandell but that was only what he had planned to do, meanwhile taking a bow to the left, right and centre as the multitude blatted in unison. What he hadn't expected to see was the "amuse" upon his tightly closed eye or the vin rouge upon his upturned Irish nose, for this wasn't part of the act at all.

Neither was the fact that he saw occasion to take no bows as he went. In truth, he took nothing all evening. Unless one wishes to include Mandell's inevitable left to the countenance and his occasional though authoritative right to the lobby or foyer.

As for taking the lightweight title away from Mandell, that prospect became an absurdity from the moment they exchanged their first punches—for the benefit of the clock and suit men 20,000 in round numbers when they started. They were also round at the finish, only this time they were round shouldered with remorse. As a fight, it wasn't such a much.

It would also be achieving absurdity to state this point or any other, that Mandell still is the lightweight champion of the world. Everybody knew before the first round was over that if McLarin really was the outstanding challenger, Mandell would be champion until they started giving away cigar coupons to the two-nickels-for-a-dime telephone customers.

Of course, it is always safe to stand gallantly over the man who is down and kick him directly beneath the clavicle. I would like to avoid this onerous task, but after McLarin's performance, I have no alternative but to deliver my kick with vindictive joy and go my way.

McLarin's probably couldn't have beaten Mandell with a horse whip last night but he didn't have to lose so far off that he failed to carry a single round of fifteen. James was as game as the Irish

STAMPS GUARDED

Elaborate preparations were made to guard the rare stamps on exhibition in London with the Philatelic Congress of Great Britain this year. The total value of the exhibits is estimated at more than $500,000. The Insurance companies were instructed to be on constant watch. One display stamp, owned by Arthur Hind, valued at $30,750. It is of the famous Ferrari collection, which took more than three years to sell, brought more than $2,000,000. Another pair, of the Mauritius 1861 issue, are valued at $55,000. Some of the members of the association have stamp collections worth $24,000, and their joint collection would bring more than $1,000,000. One man gave $450,000 for a collection just to get five stamps he had been wanting for years.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

THE DIFFERENCE IN MEN—Who loveth instruction loveth knowledge; but he that hateth reproof is brutish.—Prov. 12:1. PRAYER—Give us, Lord, the teachable spirit.

NEWS OF THE TIME

Where are you wandering, lady dear, When your loved one's coming to you? For I've got a song to help us along Through the grey days and the blue. You must take your love when you find it, Don't trust to the future alone. It's today's glad mirth that's filling the earth. And tomorrow is all unknown. You will never get rich by waiting And it's irksome to delay. So when we meet, come kiss me, sweet, Youth only lasts a day. —By Evelyn M. Bowers. —In the Saturday Review

Sidney Catts addresses large crowd—headline. Yes, people go to hear Catts in exactly the same spirit they go to a circus.

The Optimist Club held a convention the other day in Bradenton whence we hope their optimism will spread over all Florida.

It has gotten to the point where it takes a bookkeeper or a certified public accountant to understand this gubernatorial campaign.

And the pistols' red glare Bombs bursting in air Give proof through the night That Chicago's still there. —Brooklyn Eagle.

We understand Dr. Hathaway is coming back to Sanford to make another speech. The last one the Clown Prince made here was pretty much of a joke.

Candidate Carson is tuning in on the road department because he says he is satisfied that Florida is neither going to the Catts or dogs on June 5. Orlando Report-Cross-Star.

Dr. Hathaway is conducting the most intensive campaign of any man who ever ran for governor but of course none of the rest of them ever had a road department to carry them along.

We are glad to learn that R. M. M., formerly of the staff of the now defunct Miami Tribune, with the Miami Riviera, we shall look forward with pleasure to reading his column again.

Senator Bruce says he thinks Senator Hefflin is mentally deranged, which is perhaps the most charitable way to put it.—Lake City Reporter. We are surprised that no one has yet been similarly kind to Sidney Catts.

Hathaway supporters were laughing all over their faces when Carson was training his heavy guns on Catts. Now that the Miami candidate is talking about graft and corruption in the road department, they are not so happy.—Ocala Star.

We remember in the 1916 campaign, Mr. Catts used to say, "You can't teach an old dog new tricks and you can't teach an old Catt new tricks either." But with the advent of the local option doctrine and the increase in the gamblers' vote, Mr. Catts seems to have learned one new trick at least.

It is rumored that Joe Sears will be here Thursday night in the interest of his candidacy for reelection to Congress. All Sanford people who have had the pleasure of visiting Washington and being guided on a personally conducted tour through the intricate mazes of the capital's many public buildings, will of course, be on hand to greet him, and we hope other Sanford people who do not know of Mr. Sears' capacity in Washington, will also be among those present.

Poppy Day

Eleven years ago last month the United States entered the World war on the side of the Allies. Eighteen months later that war ended for most of us, but for those who had felt the sickening suffocation of gas, the splitting cuts of machine gun bullets, or the crash of shrapnel, the real war had just begun. They found themselves beginning the battle of life handicapped perhaps by the loss of a leg, an arm or with ruined lungs.

To aid those who have been unable, either through the seriousness of their wounds or through lack of funds, to cope with the situation, and have for years been languishing in hospitals, the annual poppy sale has been adopted. These poppies have been made by disabled veterans, are sold at whatever price the purchaser thinks he can afford, and the profits go to make the lives of those who suffered in the war a little happier and a little more comfortable.

The poppy is the memorial flower of the American Legion; it is also the memorial flower of the French, British and Canadian World War veterans. It was adopted as such probably because in Flanders Fields, where the fighting was severest and where the red blood of many soldiers flowed in greatest quantities, crimson poppies grew, and bloomed in great abundance during the Spring following the Armistice and a superstition spread that the poppies came from the wounds of lost comrades.

"Each one of us," says the St. Augustine Record, "gives what he can and will, with a thrill of patriotism meantime that is a faint shadow of the feeling of ten years ago that agitated us during the war period. It is well we have the poppy with us, 'Lest we forget,' for memory is short at best, and we are all too prone to let our feelings of gratitude and patriotic fervor die down, when the need for those is past."

Palatka Gets A New Bank

Newspapers reaching Sanford this morning announced the granting of a charter for the Palatka Atlantic National Bank. According to a statement from Edward W. Lane, of the Atlantic National Bank of Jacksonville, the new bank will open in June with a paid in capital stock of one hundred thousand dollars and a surplus of twenty thousand dollars.

According to the Jacksonville Journal, the request that Mr. Lane and associates organize a bank at Palatka was made by some of the outstanding citizens of Putnam county who are said to have realized the necessity of another well managed bank there to facilitate the future growth of that section. It is further said that the controlling interest of the new bank will be owned by the stockholders of the Atlantic National Bank of Jacksonville.

The Herald is inclined to look upon Mr. Lane's announcement as a decided compliment to Palatka and as a fine testimonial of the fundamental wealth and substantial character of Putnam county. Mr. Lane is not a man who misjudges financial conditions, or makes mistakes, and the fact that he chose Palatka for another of his banks is adequate proof that Palatka is a well established city with prospects for a glowing future.

Spring Rains

The heavy downpours which have occurred in this vicinity during the last few days will undoubtedly be looked upon with varying degrees of approval and disapproval. We do not doubt that many will see in these rains a refreshing effect upon the tender flowers and shrubs which had begun to show the want of sufficient moisture. Lawns which grow on sandy soil and will seem to smile upon the presences of us as if in thanks for the kindness of Jupiter. Farmers, whose crops may require a considerable amount of dampness, will be elated, while others, where the nature of their produce needs an arid soil, will not be so happy.

We have a suspicion, however, that many business men who have forgotten that the sun has had little competition, and that it may have opened little seams in the roofs of buildings and has widened crevices in window panes will not view the streams of water trickling down their store walls with any degree of elation. We suspect that the call for carpenters will be unusually heavy during the next few days.

DAUGHTER'S REVOLUTION

When the Daughters of the Haven Daughters off to join, and American Revolution in 1927 and 1928, Mr. Baile in put-tered before and during their annual "congress" in Washington last fortnight, over a subject called "blacklisting" observers concluded that the trouble was a political one. Mrs. Henry Baile, chosen by their legislative body without the usual majority, and the membership knowing or caring much about it, Mrs. Helen Taft Baile of Cambridge, the Daughter who raised her voice against "blacklists," made little headway at the congress. She and her friends and their resolutions were soon silenced. The victory of President-General Mrs. Alfred J. Broseau and her sister officers, was complete. Mrs. Baile, however, had a last word and said: "Like the victory of Bunker Hill, it will prove to be too costly. The revolution is well under way and cannot be stayed."

How far the "revolution" would go remained to be seen, but last week's developments proved Mrs. Baile right in one respect. The "revolution" of the Daughters was not over. In New Haven, Conn., awakening to what Mrs. Baile meant and what happened to her, a dozen more Daughters—distinguished ones, too—not only rose in revolt, but marched right out of the D. A. R., resigned.

The D. A. R. "blacklist"—pre-ferred by Mrs. Baile and upheld by the Daughters' congress, had included a lengthy assortment of persons and organizations, bracketed as socialists, pacifists, "radicals," enemies of national defense. The list was for the "guidance" of local D. A. R. chapters in Massachusetts, to know who could safely be invited to make speeches. The persons proscribed ranged from Ben G. Dew, communist, to that eminent, peace-loving scientist, President-emeritus David Starr Jordan of Stanford University. The organizations included even such innocencies as the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. Perhaps what started the New

SCHOOL BOY HOWLERS

ST. AUGUSTINE RECORD

Someone with a sense of humor, probably a long suffering school teacher, has given to a current magazine the following choice collection of "school boy howlers," gleaned from a set of examination papers: "My favorite character in English history is Henry VIII, he had six wives and killed them all." "Henry VIII was very fat, besides being married!" "Henry VII was a very good king, he had plenty of money, he had plenty of wives, and a dip of ulcers of the legs."

"Elizabeth ascended the throne in 1558, and died in 1569, she did not have a very long reign." "As the result of colonization in Elizabeth's reign, Raleigh brought smoking into England and had a bucket of cold water thrown on him; and Drake discovered potatoes round the world."

"James I claimed the throne of England through his grandmother the two points: "The D. A. R. should not try to suppress free speech when such is within the bounds set by the law of our country. "The D. A. R. should encourage its membership to study the social problems of the day, especially the efforts of our Government to aid in establishing justice and goodwill among nations, and the relation of arms as means of national defense. In the progress made in arbitration and the legal methods of settling disputes."

I believe Champion is the better spark plug because of the way Champions stand up in hard truck service.

Champion is the better spark plug because it has an exclusive silt-manite insulator specially treated to withstand the much higher temperatures of the modern high-compression engine. Also a new patented solid copper gasket-seal that remains absolutely gas tight under high compression. Special analysis electrodes which assure a fixed spark-gap under all driving conditions.

St. Agnes Guild Gives Party For Member

A pretty compliment to Miss Mildred Huston, a bride elect of this week, was the bridge party given Monday afternoon at the Parish House, by the members of the St. Agnes Guild, of which Miss Huston was social secretary for the past two years.

The Guild room was effectively adorned with quantities of Spring flowers, including, roses, blue salvia, stock, larkspur, gailardia, gladioli, scabiosa, petunias and carnations. At one end of the arranged and overlaid with a lovely embroidered cover, and graced room the tea table had been with a tall silver basket filled with pink Radiance roses, blue salvia and daisies. At either side were silver candlesticks holding cream tapers. Silver compotes filled with salted nuts were placed at intervals about the table.

Scores for the games of progressive bridge were kept on tables done in attractive spring-time scenes. These were distributed by Mrs. Braxton L. Perkins. When the usual number of rounds had been played, scores were collected by Mrs. S. M. Lloyd and Mrs. R. W. Penman Jr. For having scored the most points, Mrs. A. B. Peterson was given a daintily embroidered guest towel. The second prize, a bouquet of gladioli, went to Mrs. William A. Leffler. The cut prize, an embroidered guest towel was won by Mrs. Alexander Vaughan Jr.

At the tea hour, the bridge accessories were removed and spread with hand made covers by Mrs. Roland L. Dean and Mrs. Grover C. Cochran, and refreshments of pink and white brick ice cream, cakes, nut bars and salted nuts were served by Mrs. M. Minarik, Mrs. Clarke Leonardy, Mrs. R. W. Penman Jr., Mrs. S. M. ### Mrs. S. O. Chase Gives Party For Daughter

One of the loveliest social affairs of the season, and one in which the cordial hospitality of the hostess was reflected in every detail, was that of Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. S. O. Chase entertained at bridge at her home on Oak Avenue, honoring Mrs. Sidney O. Chase Jr.

The living room, library and sun porch, where the card tables had been spread for play, were ablaze with numerous baskets and bowls of ragged robins, gladioli, asters and other gorgeous Spring blossoms. On the porches were wall brackets holding pink and lavender geraniums.

Tallies done in tulips and other spring flowers were used in keeping scores for the enjoyable games of bridge and when the games had been concluded, scores were collected and prizes awarded. Mrs. C.T. Pund Jr., of Augusta, Ga., won the first prize, while Mrs. Elton Moughton was awarded second prize. The consolation prize fell to the lot of Mrs. John W. Meisch Jr.

work. After all business had been transacted, a social hour was enjoyed during which time the hostess served refreshments.

Former Sanford Man Marries In New York

Woman's Club Gives Its Last Bridge Party

The last bridge party for members of the Social Department of the Woman's Club for this season, was held Tuesday afternoon. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Fred T. Williams, Mrs. J. C. Giddis, Mrs. E. D. Ball and Mrs. P. Hagan.

All of the bright colors of Spring, were used in the decorations and other details. Numerous baskets and bowls filled with gladioli, roses, stokasia, gailardia, daisies and other blossoms were arranged in the windows, on mantels and in tall pedestals. Placed at intervals about the room were tall white trellises entwined with asparagus ferns and studded with myriads of flowers. The card tables were arranged in a semicircle about the room. Centering the numerous auditorium was a pretty table on which stood a large French basket filled with roses, gladioli and stock.

A most interesting game of progressive bridge was played during the afternoon and when the usual number of rounds had been played, scores were collected by Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Gibbs. The first prize, a lovely silver bon bon basket, was won by Mrs. Earle E. Jones, while Mrs. George Paxton, who held lowest score, was given a novelty vase.

Owing to the resignation of Mrs. James E. Hawkins, department vice-chairman, a short business session was held to fill that vacancy. Mrs. S. D. Highleyman was elected to this office.

Late in the afternoon when the tables had been cleared, refreshments of individual angel food cakes, salted nuts, iced tea and ice cream topped with crushed strawberries were served by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. S. D. Highleyman, Mrs. Bender and Mrs. Frank Evans. There were 16 tables in play during the afternoon.

Hopkins Replies to Sibley

Mr. Sibley, how about this "Taxpayers Committee" of District No. 3, headed by yourself? Is this taxpayers' organization limited to just your friends? I have searched the records and find that you are not on the tax roll of 1927, other than for your poll tax.
Do you think that the payment of $1.00 poll tax warrants you being head of a "Taxpayers' Committee"?

Heavy Rain Falls To "Drown" Buick Motor

A demonstration, which attracted considerable attention here yesterday afternoon, was staged by Volie Williams, Buick district manager, who used a late model Buick to establish one of the selling points, that is, the manufacturer's guarantee.
Mr. Williams drove the car, through heavy rain. The performance was carried on throughout the afternoon. The motor never missed a beat, according to those who observed the experiment. The reason the motor was not "drowned" out, Mr. Williams said, is because all spark plugs and wiring are enclosed for protection against water.

Heavy Rain Falls To "Drown" Buick Motor

A demonstration, which attracted considerable attention here yesterday afternoon, was staged by Volie Williams, Buick district manager, who used a late model Buick to establish one of the selling points, that is, the manufacturer's guarantee.
Mr. Williams drove the car, through heavy rain. The performance was carried on throughout the afternoon. The motor never missed a beat, according to those who observed the experiment. The reason the motor was not "drowned" out, Mr. Williams said, is because all spark plugs and wiring are enclosed for protection against water.

GERMANY BUILDS SMALLER, SAFER BUSINESS PLANES

Treaty Regulations Prevent Construction Of Big Types Of Planes. Designers Conclude Dependability By Dr. BASWELL T. PETTY.

FRANKFORT, Germany, May 23.—(INS)—The German commercial airplane industry is not as large as those of Belgium or England, probably because of treaty regulations in not permitting them to be as large for military reasons. But the German machines are exceptionally trustworthy.

The pilot who brought our plane from Brussels to Cologne explained that the British Imperial Airways have to take a German plane to Frankfurt, Airplane Lines in Germany are operated by the Deutsche Luft Hansa. This company operates more air miles than any other European company with single engines.

There were only two other passengers on the Frankfurt train, myself and a priest. The plane carried only six passengers. The cabin was very comfortable. The English planes, the roof has no "rip panel" above. These safety devices are provided only on the larger planes which cross large bodies of water.

Two years ago in the very serious accident the Imperial Airways of England had large, plane came down on the ground in a rough area. German manufacturers are not experimenting with the development of large passenger aircraft, but they are working on the smaller planes with little damage to the engine. The engine in the plane is forward of the wing and is so high under the wing that the propeller cannot be damaged should the plane fall into a dip while landing. The cabin on the plane is forward of the wing and is so high under the wing that the propeller cannot be damaged should the plane fall into a dip while landing.

Among other things in the cabin of the airplane was a first aid kit. "Smoking Prohibited." Under no conditions is anyone permitted to strike a match in an airplane cabin. The gas tanks are directly overhead and the engines are too close. Other signs suggest that passengers stuff cotton in their ears to deaden the noise.

The control tower "gave us the flag" and the plane taxied slowly to face the wind. We zoomed into the air without apparent effort and the city of Cologne was far beneath us. We were furnished with a magnificent view of the famous cathedral, the winding Rhine and the busy harbor.

Over The Rhine We headed east over a thickly populated plain that was soon crossed by vineyards. The grapes were planted in terraces. Off to the south of us was Bonn with its seven great hills. We passed within a few hundred feet of an ancient Rhinish castle.

The country changed from plain to hill land, the hinterland. A hill sailed close to us and could be seen from the low level of the air. We passed over a great river.

We passed over Monteban and Linburg and Cologne. Then the plane climbed to the 2000 foot elevation as we sailed over Pöschel. The country changed from plain to hill land, the hinterland. A hill sailed close to us and could be seen from the low level of the air. We passed over a great river.

The Toronto is a fault, according to a recent decision of the Australian Ministry of Trade and Customs.

Greater London's population has grown from 5,584,402 in 1921 to more than 8,000,000 today.
