TODAY

CLG orientation

Sanford's department of engineering, planning and zoning will hold its Certified Local Government program orientation today at 4:30 p.m. at the city manager's conference room, City Hall, 300 N. Park Ave., Sanford. Michael Zimny from the Florida Department of State, Division of Historical Resources will make the presentation. For information, call 330-5673.

Oviedo sock hop

The old Downtown Development Group and the Oviedo Optimist Club will present a cruise in of classic cars and a sock hop Saturday starting at 6 p.m. at the Oviedo Shopping Center at Broadway and Geneva Drive, Oviedo. For information, call 365-1030, 359-7411, or 365-7997.

Man searches for treasure

Mike Maguire of Lake Mary is leading a salvage operation in search of a treasure off the coast of Central America. Crew members have reported that they will be investigating shipwrecks dating back to the 1600s. One in particular involved a galleon reported to contain more than $100 million worth of silver and other treasures.

Eatonville to try for register

The designated Eatonville Historical District has been proposed for nomination for listing in the National Register of Historic Places.

Inclusion would put Eatonville, "The Oldest Black Incorporated Municipality in America," in a prime position to establish a niche market for itself in the tourism industry. Last year, African Americans spent $40 billion traveling. With our neighbor Orlando having the distinction as the number one tourist destination in the world, hosting 20 million visitors last year, being listed in the historic register offers travelers a unique opportunity to learn more about African American history," said Jackie Brockington, public relations manager for the town.

The Florida National Register Review Board will discuss Eatonville's placement in a public meeting scheduled for Friday, Aug. 22, in Tallahassee.

Commodities available

Seminole volunteer Enterprises, Inc. announces that the U.S. Department of Agriculture surplus commodities, including butter, green beans, macaroni, rice, salmon and canned tomatoes, will be distributed to eligible area residents on Tuesday, Aug. 26 and Thursday, Aug. 28.

The foods will be distributed at Seminole volunteer Enterprises' office at the old Zayre Plaza, 2970 Orlando Dr., from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. both days.

Any household who can prove its eligibility for food stamps, Aid to Families with Dependent Children, Supplemental Security Income, or Medicaid is eligible to receive the USDA commodities. Accepted proof of eligibility includes: letter of decisions regarding AFDC, food stamps, Medicaid, SSI, or copy of Social Security check, etc.

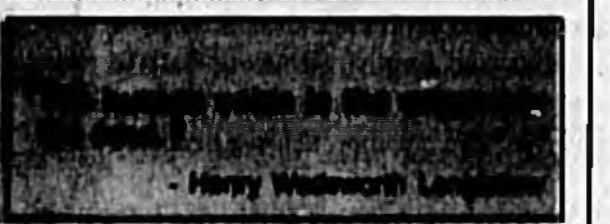

As an alternative to providing such documents, a household may simply complete an application giving total household income. Eligibility is based on household size and amount of income.

Rules for acceptance and participation in the program are the same for everyone without regard to race, color, national origin, sex or handicap. For more information contact 322-1520.

Downtown hotel concept embraced

By MARIA OREM
Herald Staff Writer

The Waterfront Steering Committee has approved a downtown waterfront hotel concept presented by a hotel developer. The committee will forward its recommendation to the Sanford City Commission for consideration at its work session Monday.

At its meeting Wednesday, the committee considered several preliminary site plans offered by PRA Development and Management Company of Philadelphia. PRA had approached the city last month about building a waterfront hotel complex. Commissioners were receptive to the idea, however, before giving the go ahead for a preliminary study Mayor Larry Dale requested input from the waterfront committee.

Jim Costello of Interplan Practice of Orlando, representing PRA, said the developer wanted to carry the city's idea for a boardwalk area. The proposed site would be adjacent to Lake Carolina at Fort Mellon Park. The complex would include a convention/civic center built on top of a 3,000-car parking garage, a hotel, condominiums, a free standing 50,000 square-foot parking garage, a restaurant and recreational facilities.

The first plan keeps the complex on the land side and includes a 400-room hotel with half the rooms facing the water. A convention center and a restaurant would be built in conjunction with the hotel. In addition, a four-story building featuring luxury type condominiums

Fire destroyed a home at 1251 Dunbar near Sanford Wednesday morning. None of the 19 residents was injured. Firefighters from the county, Sanford and Lake Mary were involved in lighting the blaze.

Fire destroys Sanford home

By NICK PFEIFER
Herald Staff Writer

A house fire early Wednesday morning gutted the structure at 1251 Dunbar in Sanford, leaving homeless five adults and 14 children said to be living there.

The local unit of the American Red Cross dispatched two disaster volunteers to the scene to assist. A Red Cross spokesman said none of the 19 people were injured, and all have been placed in a local motel for three days. Red Cross officials say the cost is $3,000, and anyone wishing to lend assistance in the housing of the residents can phone 332-8200. The residents reportedly lost all of their clothing and personal possessions as the result of the fire.

Seminole County Chief Fire Inspector Bob Christian said the occupants were members of two families, who were living in the three-bedroom single-family dwelling. He said that while there may have been structural insurance through the mortgage company, none of the residents had personal property insurance. "The structure was totaled," he said, "and the people lost everything."

Christian said the fire has been classed as accidental at the present time. "It appears as though the fire was ignited by a blown electrical socket in a bedroom, which cause a nearby mattress to catch fire," he said.

"Just two shifts earlier, our firefighters were called to the house regarding an electrical problem, and we had urged that it be repaired," he continued. "Also, one of our lieutenants had suggested that a fire alarm be installed, but he called us on the morning of the fire and said it was too late."

In addition to firefighting units from Seminole County, Sanford and Lake Mary fire units also responded to the scene of the blaze.

Signing up to help the community

By MARIA OREM
Herald Staff Writer

Community service will be the focus for Cincinnati Bell Information System employees on Oct. 4.

CBSI volunteers are signing up for 16 projects in Seminole, Orange and Volusia counties. For the second year, the company has identified community projects and has started recruiting volunteers for its community service day. Community action team leaders met at the company's headquarters at Heathrow International Business Center Tuesday, offering progress reports on their assigned projects.

Last year, volunteers worked on two Habitat for Humanity Homes in Sanford, participated in an environmental cleanup at the Geneva Wilderness area, a teacher's workshop at Goldsboro Elementary School, and a baby shower at Crown's Academy.

Nationwide, more than 700 volunteers and their families worked on 50 projects in six cities, ranging from painting and making school repairs to holding food and blood drives.

Proposed projects for this year include environmental cleanups at the Geneva Wilderness Area and Wekiva Springs State Park. Volunteers will use about 10 canoes for trash pickup on the Wekiva River.

There will be a dog wash at the Seminole County Humane Society and volunteers will also perform duties at the Central Florida Zoological Park in Sanford.

Local skate center eyes expansion

By MARIA OREM
Herald Staff Writer

The owners of Central Florida Skate and Sport Center in Sanford will seek rezoning for a possible expansion.

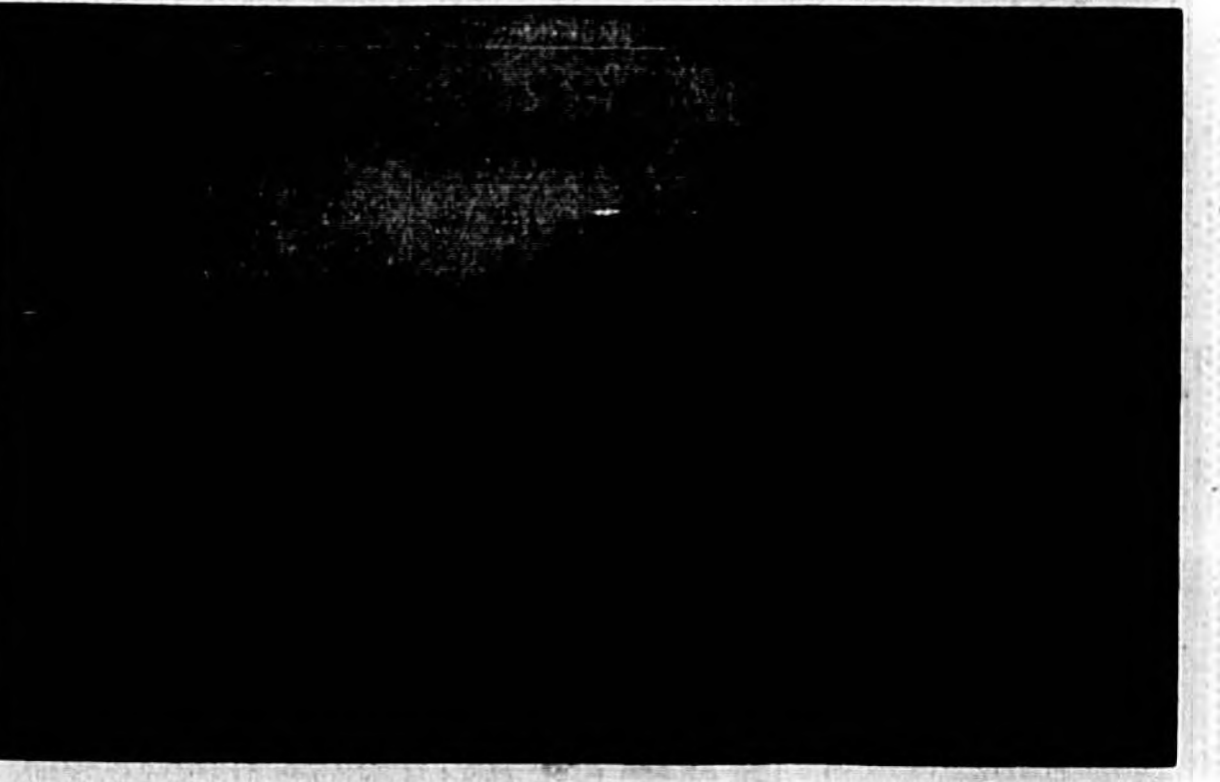

The application, submitted by owner Joe Rogers, will be addressed at the Sanford Planning and Zoning Commission meeting today at 7 p.m. at City Hall. Rogers is requesting that his property, located at 2720 W. 25th Street, be rezoned from agricultural to commercial.

Through his efforts, Rogers said the property was annexed into Sanford last fall. He is currently working with the fire department for installation of sprinklers and fire alarms.

"I feel Sanford is a great place to be," he said. Rogers said he would like to see other sporting events at the center including indoor soccer, lacrosse and jazzercise. However, he added, he did not yet have any concrete plans, and would have to wait until a zoning decision is made. In addition, he said, the county is planning to extend County Road 46A which will take up part of his parking lot.

The facility has served as a skating center since the mid 1970s. When Rogers bought the property from Chuck Best in June 1996, he installed a sport court surface, catering the skating center to roller hockey.

Vintage view

I have rarely published a personal family picture as a "Vintage View," but when I came across this recently I couldn't resist. When I tell some people that we used to raise goats on our property at 2404 Park Avenue, they look at me in disbelief. Well, here's proof! When I was a child, I had severe intestinal problems and Dr. Knox prescribed goat milk. My parents first bought it from Randall Priest, I believe, and since it helped, my dad decided to have his own goats. This picture would have been taken circa 1940, soon after we acquired the goats. These two were named 'Monkey' and 'Nannie.' I also remember another one later named 'Snooky.' It looks like the pen was just being built in the right of the picture. It was located behind our garage and bordered on the alley where my dad and I are standing (Martin and Grace Marie Stinescoper). When my parents later bought the six lots behind our property facing Oak Avenue, the goat pen was across the alley. We had goats for about six or seven years, with my dad having to milk them twice a day. We learned to like the milk and when my problems cleared up, I had a hard time adjusting to cow's milk. I remember that my favorite April Fool's joke each year was to tell my dad that the goats were out and he'd run out to catch them every time!

It's a fair bet it's a festive day

Today is...
and other events

Looking at the list of events going on today, it appears that any city which doesn't have a festival, isn't worth considering. In Brooklyn, N.Y., the oldest continuously active fair is underway, celebrating its 146th anniversary.

It's the Edson Sidewalk Jamboree in Edson, Alberta, Canada, a Cherokee Bluegrass Festival, in North Carolina, the Crim Festival road races in Flint, Mich., Surfing Championships in Virginia Beach, Va., Glass

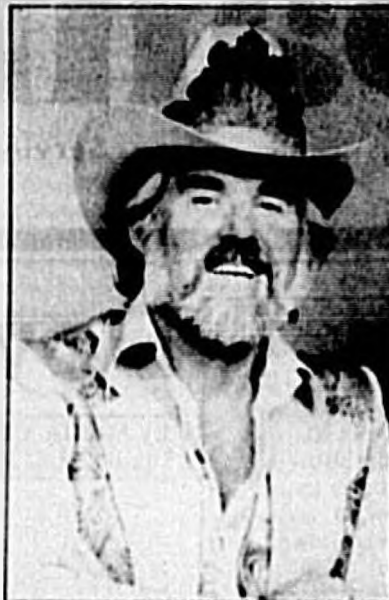

Festival in Elwood, Ind., Fall Bluegrass Festival in Gettysburg, Tobacco Festival in Ripley, Ohio, Soldier's Reunion in Newton, N.C., Mushroom Festival in Telluride, Colo., and a Walkinghorse National Celebration in Shelbyville, Tenn.

For state fairs, they are now underway in Minnesota, Missouri and New York. And overseas, the big events include the Beatles Festival in Liverpool, England, and the Sour Herring show in Sweden.

For what may be considered unusual events, there is the Cockroach Derby at Rutgers University in New Jersey.

In the Philippines, they are celebrating, celebrating, mind you, the assassination anniversary of former opposition leader Benigno S. Aquino. He was shot at the airport on Aug. 21, 1983.

The killing resulted in the

collapse of the government led by Ferdinand Marcos, after which, Corazon Aquino, wife of the murdered man, was sworn in as president.

Then there's the story of Confederate raider William Quantrill. He became angry when he was denied a commission in the southern army. As a result, he gave himself a promotion, and, followed by a bunch of cutthroats, staged a pre-dawn raid on the city of Lawrence, Kan. on this date in 1863, killing 180 civilians, and ruining most of the city.

As for today's birthdays, basketball hall of famer Wilt Chamberlain turns 61 today, singer Jackie DeShannon turns 53, singer Kenny Rogers is 59 and Princess Margaret (sister of Queen Elizabeth II) turns 67.

As for tomorrow, it's the anniversary of the start of a war, that began less than a week after a previous war ended. Can you guess what wars these were?

'I-4 corridor' new route for drug traffic

Special to the Herald

WASHINGTON - After years of concentrating their illegalities in Dade, Broward, and Monroe Counties, drug traffickers are rapidly expanding operations to include other areas of the Sunshine State. U. S. Senator Bob Graham is determined to curtail drug activities and shut lawbreakers down before they can make all of Florida their place of business.

Federal, state, and local officials took an important step toward that goal in Orlando. General Barry McCaffrey, Director of the U. S. Office of National Drug Control Policy, met with Florida Attorney General Bob Butterworth, local law enforcement leaders, and officials from the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) to discuss possible responses to the increasing drug problem in Central Florida.

Graham, a member of the Senate Caucus on International Narcotics Control, introduced legislation in mid-July that would expand South Florida's High-Intensity Drug Trafficking Area (HIDTA) to include communities along the so-called "I-4 corridor," an area that stretches from Daytona Beach on the Atlantic Coast to the Tampa/St. Petersburg area on the Gulf of Mexico.

"Drug trafficking is no longer just a South Florida problem," said Graham.

Families throughout our entire state, but especially in Central Florida, are being increasingly victimized by the scourge of illegal drugs. It is time to fight back with a massive, coordinated drug interdiction effort by the federal government, state of Florida, and local communities.

Many of the drug use and trafficking statistics from Central Florida are startling. In 1985, Orlando ranked fifth in the nation for cocaine deaths per capita. The following year, Orange and Osceola Counties led the state in heroin deaths per capita. And in the first five months of this year, Polk County reported 701 police seizures of methamphetamines.

"Law enforcement personnel in Central Florida have repeatedly told me that they are being overwhelmed by the explosion of drug trafficking in the I-4 corridor," said Graham. "We should not underestimate this threat. Drug pushers have an extensive communications network, almost unlimited funds with which to pursue illegal activities, and use high-tech equipment to avoid detection. Only by combining our efforts do we have any hope of stopping them in their tracks."

Nearly ten HIDTAs have been designated nationwide to enhance the effectiveness of anti-drug efforts by bringing federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies together as partners. Only those regions with the most critical drug trafficking problems are eligible. Graham's legislation would provide an additional $5 million for the inclusion of Central Florida in the South Florida HIDTA.

"It is extremely important for both our state and the nation that the I-4 corridor be included in Florida's HIDTA," said Graham. "Central Florida is rapidly becoming a hub from which international syndicates distribute their harmful products throughout the United States."

"Our children and grandchildren deserve the opportunity to grow up in neighborhoods free from drug pushers and the threat of violent, drug-related crime," Graham added. "The expansion of HIDTA won't eliminate the drug trade, but it will enhance our efforts to find and punish those criminals who are responsible for bringing drugs into our communities."

In addition to his efforts to curtail the intra-Florida drug trade, Graham has been active in efforts to reduce demand among young people and to stop the flow of illegal drugs before it reaches our borders. He was an original co-sponsor of the Drug Free Communities Act, recently passed legislation that provides federal grants to local communities for anti-drug education efforts.

Gas prices will be up Labor Day week-end

Special to the Herald

HEATHROW - Motorists in Florida and throughout the nation are feeling the effects of price hikes at the gasoline pumps as the Labor Day weekend approaches, the AAA Clubs of Florida reported today.

AAA's August Fuel Gauge Report for Florida shows that the average price for Self-Serve Regular Unleaded is $1.248 per gallon, up 3.7 cents from the July average of $1.211. Nationwide, the average is $1.264 per gallon, which is up 3.1 cents from last month.

"What we're seeing is the result of stronger-than-anticipated demand coupled with low gasoline inventories," said Rena Callahan, manager of Public and Government Relations at AAA Florida. "This jump in prices is expected to be a short-term situation because demand for gasoline is likely to decrease significantly after Labor Day, which signifies the end of the summer driving season."

Gasoline inventories declined rapidly this month because of unexpected maintenance shutdowns at key United States refineries. Some of those refineries are already up and running again, which should help stabilize the situation.

The lowest reported price is in Port Richey, where the average for Self-Serve Regular Unleaded is $1.170 per gallon. The highest price is $1.348 per gallon in Delray Beach.

Here are the results of the Fuel Gauge Survey: Self-Serve Regular Unleaded prices increased 3.7 cents to an average of $1.248 per gallon. Mid-Grade Unleaded prices jumped 3.2 cents to an average $1.350 per gallon, and Premium Unleaded prices increased 3.4 cents to an average $1.441 per gallon.

Full-Serve Regular Unleaded prices increased .6 cent to an average $1.583 per gallon. Mid-Grade Unleaded prices jumped 1.4 cents to an average $1.683 per gallon and Premium Unleaded prices increased 1.5 cents to an average $1.760 per gallon.

Heroin seminar targets Central Florida

From staff reports

The use of heroin by heavy drug users has been known for decades throughout the world. Now however, local officials are becoming more concerned as the Orlando area and Central Florida have been identified as two of the leading trafficking centers.

A two-day seminar on the problem is being held today and Friday at Orlando's Omni Hotel on International Drive. The event is sponsored by the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) in partnership with the U.S. Drug Enforcement Association.

FDLE's regional operations Director Manny Poudakos said, "Orlando has become a startling example of how deadly this drug is. Heroin has become a tempting drug to our young people and it's killing them."

Leading off speeches at this morning's session was Congressman Bill McCollum, who reported on how Congress is responding to the drug trafficking problem. He is to be followed throughout Friday with other speakers including a number of Central Florida law enforcement officials.

With the belief that most of the imported heroin is coming to Central Florida from Puerto Rico and Columbia, officials from those nations are also scheduled to speak.

Other subjects being discussed include methods of locating heroin importation, prosecution of traffickers, the seriousness of heroin abuse, emergency treatment as the result of overdoses, the damage heroin can cause to the human body, heroin as found being used in rave clubs, and heroin being used by school students.

Local radio broadcast goes international

By BOB PAPPAS
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — Sanford radio station WTRR has served the local area for over 50 years. Back in the 40s and 50s, with the original power output of 250 watts, the signal was not heard far beyond the city limits. How times have changed.

Now, thanks to satellites and other modern equipment, one of the station's programs is scheduled to be broadcast overseas as well as locally.

The program is called "Sound of Europe," and will be broadcast locally from 2 until 3 p.m. beginning this Friday.

Hosted by Ole Glausen, the program is designed with a double purpose. Being broadcast in Europe, Glausen plans to explain the benefits of visiting Central Florida, along with giving travel tips and suggestions.

The other aim of the program will be to tell local listeners about the benefits of visiting various areas in Europe.

This Friday's program will focus on Comair Aviation Academy, at the Orlando-Sanford Airport. While the broadcast will originate at the WTRR studios on Celery Avenue, interviews and other sound-bites regarding Comair and a flight over Sanford will be included. Glausen said Comair is a focal point of international flight activities. "At the present time," he said, "possibly 30 percent of the flight students are from European nations."

The Orlando-Sanford Airport has become one of the major arrival/departure ports for European visitors, with officials expecting possibly one million visitors from various parts of Europe per year.

Glausen predicted the program, which will be presented in English as well as other languages, will be heard locally by possibly 16,000 Swiss speaking people plus an additional 36,000 people who speak German and Austrian.

Overseas, he said the program will be broadcast as heard locally in several languages.

Although the first "Sound of Europe" program begins this Friday, expansion has already been revealed. Glausen said the station is now on the Internet, at www.wtrr.com and his program will be telecast on the Profile show each week. "It will be a one hour program at 3 a.m. each week beginning Sept. 23 on Channel 65," he explained.

For additional information regarding the program, phone WTRR in Sanford at 322-1400.

Splitting up the Ninth Circuit

Congress is rushing headlong toward a mid-September decision on an important bill involving the federal judiciary. All signs point to an agreement that will quite unnecessarily cost American taxpayers many millions of dollars and result in two Circuit Courts of Appeals dominated by liberal judges for the foreseeable future.

There are currently 11 Circuit Courts of Appeals hearing cases appealed from the federal district courts around the country. (There are also Courts of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit and the Federal Circuit, which need not concern us.) The problem is the Ninth Circuit, whose territory includes nine states (Alaska, Arizona, California, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon and Washington) plus Guam and the Northern Mariana Islands.

California alone has nearly two-thirds of the Ninth Circuit's population, as well (of course) as the lion's share of its judges and cases. The circuit is by far the largest in the country, and there is a case to be made for splitting it in two. But the Senate, brushing aside California senator Dianne Feinstein's proposal for an 18-month study commission, has endorsed a split that simply affronts common sense. The House will probably disagree early in September, but a conference will then be held, probably by mid-month, to reach a compromise. And there lies the danger.

Under the Senate bill, the Ninth Circuit would be reduced to just two states (California and Nevada), and all the others, plus the Pacific islands, would be placed in a new 12th Circuit, which would carry about a third of the current Ninth's workload. The present headquarters of the Ninth Circuit is San Francisco, so no new courthouse would be needed. But with Arizona assigned to the 12th (though it is far to the south and hence would not be contiguous with any other state in the circuit), the bill calls for two new "co-equal" headquarters -- and that means courthouses -- for the new circuit: one in Phoenix and one in Seattle. That's where the taxpayers come in, bigtime.

A far more sensible division was proposed by the Huska Commission in 1974. Under it, California's four federal judicial districts would be split: the central and southern districts remaining in the Ninth Circuit, along with Nevada and Arizona, and the northern and eastern districts going to a new circuit, along with the rest of the current Ninth. No new courthouses would be needed, since the Ninth Circuit already has one in Pasadena and the new circuit could continue to use the one in San Francisco. Perhaps best of all, the two circuits would be roughly equal in size, sharing the workload almost equally. But sentiment seems to be running against splitting California in this way.

Politically, although the current proposal was adopted by the Senate Republican majority on practically a party-line vote, its effect would be to guarantee liberal control of both the Ninth and 12th Circuits as far ahead as the eye can see. Leaving Arizona in the Ninth, as the Huska Commission would have done, would greatly mitigate this result -- though, of course, coming liberal appointments by President Clinton make an increased liberal presence inevitable in the short term.

There are other alternatives. One would be to create a 12th Circuit consisting only of the northwestern states (Idaho, Montana, Oregon, and Washington) plus Alaska, Hawaii and the Pacific islands. That would at least make geographic sense, and a better political balance, though it would create a workload imbalance even worse than the Senate's bill.

But what's the hurry? Why this lemming-like rush to create a zany new circuit with only a third of the workload, one state (Arizona) far away to the south, and "co-equal" headquarters and expensive courthouses in two cities that currently have neither? Congress should take an aspirin and lie down.

Stepping lightly as a childless woman

Nancy and I were walking down the streets of her Connecticut suburb. She was pushing her 1-year-old's stroller; I was guiding her 3-year-old's scooter. We had been with the kids all day, building sand castles at the beach and toting them to garage sales, and now we were gossiping about our friends and wondering who among them would have children. That was when I dropped my bomb, or rather what I thought was my bomb. I told Nancy I didn't want kids.

"I could see that," said Nancy, without missing a beat. "Actually, I'm surprised that so many people want to have kids. I mean, Mark and I knew we've always wanted them, but you really have to give up a lot. It's definitely not for everyone."

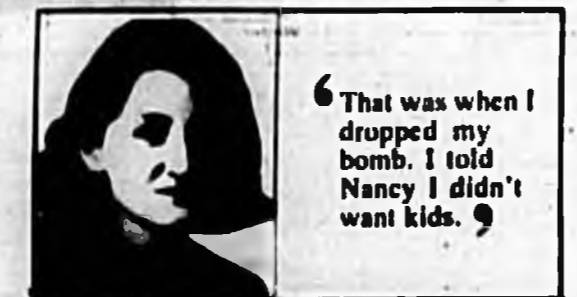

I felt immediately ashamed that I had worried about Nancy's reaction to my feelings about having children. Of course, she wouldn't be offended. Why should she be? Nancy knows that I genuinely like and enjoy her kids, so why did I think I had to shelter her from my feelings about having children of my own?

I'm not sure, exactly, but I know a lot of other childless women who have the same compulsion. My friend Sarah, for example, is always careful to conceal her mixed feelings about motherhood. "People who are really laid back in general can get very defensive about their kids," says Sarah. "It's a really delicate issue, so I just try to stay away from it."

Another friend, Sandi, says she is always being assured that she should not despair her chance at motherhood. "People are always telling me 'You still have time,' and I sort of meekly say 'Oh thanks.' I never tell them what I'm really thinking -- that I don't really want kids."

Part of the reason my friends and I hide our ambivalence about procreation comes from the fact that none of us feels our decision is set in stone -- I, for one, fully reserve the right to change my mind. But I also think there's something else at work. Ever since women started fighting to expand our options beyond marriage and motherhood there has been the idea in this culture that the women who decide to focus on their careers are the natural enemies of those who opt to concentrate on their families -- and that the two groups offend each other by our very existence.

But far from being opponents, we should be allies. After all, we need each other. One of the reasons that my friend Sandi is assumed to want children is because she spends so much time with them. As a writer, Sunday school teacher and power aunt, her words and deeds are filled with children. "I still feel guilty," she says. "Because there are so many who need attention." Then, in almost the same breath, she said she felt guilty for not wanting her own.

"But Sandi," I said, "if you had your own kids, you wouldn't have the time to spend with other people's."

"That's true," said Sandi. "I hadn't thought of that."

The fact that someone as thoughtful as Sandi could be blind to her very significant contributions to children says a lot about the sharp lines we draw between parents and nonparents. I think about the time I was admiring the 2-year-old daughter of a co-worker. "See," said my boss. "You like kids."

Yes, I do like kids. I love kids. And I feel lucky to have so many of my friends' children in my life. But to me, the very difficult task of rearing kids is not one I feel up to. And far from being insulting to parents, I think that my decision to forego motherhood should be seen as exactly the opposite. After all, when I tell my friends who are accountants and lawyers that I could never do what they do, they don't take it as a put down. They take it the way I mean it to be: an acknowledgment that their job is very hard, that it requires skills and qualities that not everyone has, that not just anyone can do it.

resulted in enough evidence to convince an Orange County grand jury to file charges against John Huggins, 35, formerly of Sanford.

Larson disappeared from a Publix parking lot on U.S. Hwy. 192 in June of this year. Her nude body was located two days later on property near Walt Disney World. Her burned car was discovered in Brevard County several days later.

Huggins is to be charged with first degree murder, kidnapping, carjacking and robbery in connection with the death of Larson.

Lamar, who will be prosecuting Huggins, indicated he intends to seek the death penalty in connection with the case.

Huggins has denied the charges, claiming he was vacationing in Central Florida with his family.

Officials say Huggins has an extensive criminal record in the past, including numerous charges in Seminole County.

There was no immediate indication regarding when the case against Huggins would be brought to trial.

Hotel

with an 1,800 square-foot minimum is proposed.

The second, and more elaborate plan calls for building out into the lake and requires a landfill into the water. The circular complex would be built around a fountain and surrounded by a hotel with 400 waterfront rooms and balconies and condominiums. A proposed boardwalk comes around the radius in the water and ends up in a pier.

Costello noted that the acreage is tight and "we're trying to keep things open." He said PRA is seeking to develop a beach area in both proposed plans.

He said the permitting process for the water landfill would take at least 18 months.

When asked about the condominiums, which were not part of the original proposal, Costello said the condos were not a prerequisite for the deal to go through.

"This is a very preliminary planning stage," he said. "We wanted to get something on paper at this point. Anything is negotiable and things can get moved around." Committee member Jerry Mills said he thought it was a fantastic idea but he doubted the timing for the water landfill, saying that it would probably take more than seven years.

Several committee members asked about the possibility of developing the existing marina area.

City Manager Bill Simmons noted that existing tenants at the marina, which is almost fully leased, had long term leases and "chances are slim to none" that they would vacate.

Simmons suggested investigating a state program which leases out lake bottoms.

Committee member Kay Bartholemew said she supported the concept and the city would benefit from the tax revenue generated by the hotel project.

The committee agreed to recommend Plan 1 saying that it would get things rolling from the land side without further delay. Members said they were open to the second plan and future suggestions regarding the proposed hotel complex.

Skate

Rogers said the surface is tile based and requires less maintenance. The 18,000 square-foot rink area includes about 9,600 square feet of skating surface. Locker space is about 5,000 square feet.

"I would like to make the skating surface larger, but I need the city's permission first," he said Wednesday.

The skating rink had previously served primarily as a general skating arena. Rogers, who has coached roller hockey, said that the usage for the sport has increased from 80 participants to more than 300. The 28-team league is sanctioned nationally by U.S.A. Hockey In-Line. Ages range from 4 to 55.

"We're the only sport court with indoor air conditioning in Central Florida," he said. The skate center also offers a pro-shop with Orlando Jackals merchandise. The team has used the facility since may for practice and training sessions.

Rogers said he is also considering an outdoor court but everything depends on reasoning and what will be happening when C.R. 46A widens.

"Our goal is to offer cost effective entertainment for the entire family."

The Sanford Herald is 89 and feeling fine

"The Sanford Herald will not be of a bilious hue or rabid nature, but will treat all subjects with a straightforward manner, giving the high and the low, the rich and the poor the same equal justice."

"We want to go into the home like the sunshine of a Florida morning, spreading faith and belief in God and man, full of comfort and encouragement."
—Herald Managing Editor, R. J. Holly.

RUSS WHITE
Staff Writer

Eighty-nine years after Managing Editor R.J. Holly fired up the presses, the Sanford Herald is alive and kicking.

The newspaper celebrates its 89th birthday on Friday. Golly, Mr. Holly, we're grateful.

The first Herald was issued on Saturday, Aug. 22, 1908. A subscription cost $1 for a year in advance.

Advertisers in the early editions of the Herald included Coca-Cola, which had a bottling plant in Sanford. Coke's slogan in those days was that if you drank a bottle or two it would help prevent illness, aid digestion and give one good health.

L.R. Phillips Drug Store advertised that it had ElCaptain de Tampa Cigars on sale for 5 cents.

A five-room cottage and two lots of land at the corner of Oak and Fourth St. was on sale for $5,000.

The C.W. Park Dramatic Company was putting on a show that cost 25 cents for children, 35 cents for adults and 15 additional cents for a reservation.

Sanford Pressing Club had an ad for cleaning gentleman's clothes and ladies skirts for a monthly rate of $1.25 - "giving you 12 pieces a month."

An excursion company offered a trip from Sanford to the westside metropolis of Tampa for $1.25.

The Sanford Library invited everyone, including "strangers" to Room 20, which was open from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. on Tuesdays, and from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Saturdays.

The news was mostly sunnyside up. Osborn Herndon, 14, swam across Lake Monroe, and the Herald awarded him with a medal.

Herndon began the swim at the city dock and swam to Enterprise. The youngster said he was strong enough to swim the five miles back but was coaxed to call it a day.

O.P. Herndon grew up to become Clerk of the Circuit Court for Seminole County.

The Herald gave the Orlando Sentinel credit for a scoop that a winter baseball league was planned that would include teams from Sanford and Orlando, Palatka, Lakeland, Bartow, Ocala, Arcadia, Lake City, Lake Oka and Gainesville. It would be the Sentinel's last serious sports scoop in the 20th Century.

The Herald drew some high praise from rival papers in 1908.

"The Herald is a bright, clean sheet and is filled to the brim with bright scintillations from the pen of its editor," said the Daytona Gazette News.

The Jacksonville Times-Union said, "The Sanford Herald is one of the brightest and most attractive papers in the state... a town that sustains a real live newspaper will keep on growing."

At the time, Sanford heralded itself as "The Metropolis of the Great Celery Belt and the Gateway to the vast St. John's Delta."

So what else is new?

Virus causing genital warts can lie dormant for years

DEAR ABBY: After reading the letter from "Keeping My Pants On in Florida," I believe further information regarding genital warts should be presented to the public.

Genital warts are caused by human papilloma virus (HPV) and may have an incubation period of many years. Conservative estimates state that at least 50 percent of sexually active persons have been exposed to the virus. Therefore, if someone or his/her sex partner has had two or more sexual partners, it is not unlikely that they have been exposed.

Certain types of HPV have been implicated as the cause of both cervical and penile cancer, which is why annual Pap smears and male genital exams are so important.

Since the virus is so prevalent and the incubation period can be so long, it seems more likely that this young man's condition came from his previous unprotected sexually active lifestyle. When this condition is diagnosed in my patients, I strongly encourage them not to place the blame on their current sexual partner, as they may have been exposed many years earlier.

I felt sorry for the young lady the man blamed in his letter. She seemed to be a woman of high moral values, and now she's being blamed for something that may not have been her fault.

She should contact her doctor

immediately and schedule a Pap smear if she has not already done so.

DANIEL E. KONOLD, D.O., CANAL WINCHESTER FAMILY HEALTH, CANAL WINCHESTER, OHIO

DEAR DR. KONOLD: I was not aware that genital warts can have such a long incubation period. I'm sure it will also be news to many of my readers. Thank you for pointing this out.

DEAR ABBY: A young lady we work with had a baby. She was hoping it would be a girl. In fact, we all hoped she would have a daughter, so when we held a shower for her, many of us gave her gifts for a girl.

Well, the baby turned out to be a boy. And guess what? She sent the gifts back to us and asked us to exchange them for boy things.

Abby, I ask you, is that proper etiquette? Or should she have exchanged the gifts herself?

PEEVED IN PITTSBURGH

DEAR PEEVED: Was it proper etiquette? Absolutely not! BBB should have quietly exchanged the gifts herself.

Questions remain for football coaches

SANFORD — As the summer sun beats down on football practice all over Seminole County, there are dreams stretched from Longwood to Winter Springs, from Sanford to Lake Mary.

The dreams are different at each of the six campuses that are hosting summer football practice right now. The dreams include walking off the field with a state title at places like Lake Howell and Oviedo, a 500 record at Lyman and a new beginning at Seminole.

One thing in common at every campus are question marks. As the temperature hits three digits, just before a driving rain storm cancels practice, football coaches all over the county realize they have about two more weeks to figure out how to win and please the alumni at the same time.

Among the questions:

Who in the world is going to play quarterback this fall?

At Seminole, Shawn Eason is gone and untested Garret Goldsmith is set to take over. Goldsmith ran the freshman team last year but that's a different story on the varsity level. New coach Jim Worthington had his quarterback in the spring when Tim Raines, Jr. suited up for the Seminoles but the chance of injury forced Raines to reconsider his baseball future and left Worthington with Goldsmith.

Down the road at Lake Mary, coach Doug Peters is wondering about life after Shaun St. Dennis, who left the Rams after his senior year to suit up at the University of Connecticut. Now, Peters is scrambling to prepare Cory Collins for the starting role, despite the fact that he has never taken a varsity snap.

The question marks are just as pronounced at Lake Brantley, Lyman, Oviedo and Lake Howell.

Andy Neufeld led the Lions to a berth in the Rotary Bowl last season but he is off to pursue a baseball career and new coach Greg Register will rely on Josh Cullen who last season tried to terrorize quarterbacks as a free safety.

Brian Criswell will be responsible at Lake Brantley, handing off to Ryan Pagan about 30 times each game.

The situations are the same at Lyman and Lake Howell. New quarterbacks are in place at both places and the situations couldn't be more different.

Mike Busceglia, with only two losing seasons in 17 years with the Silver Hawks is just trying to keep the winning tradition alive after the loss of Matt Mara, and Larry Baker at Lyman is trying to get the Greyhounds back on the winning track after six straight losing seasons. He is going to be without Ryan Arling for the first time in several years and has to wonder who will take leadership of the Lyman offense.

They are only some of the question marks. Look at some of the players that have left the county. At Lake Howell, the Silver Hawks are without Tam Hopkins, possibly the best lineman ever to graduate from Seminole County. Busceglia's loss is Ohio State's gain but now his biggest concern is the Rose Bowl, not the Rotary Bowl. Lucious Cooper won't be suiting up for anyone this season but look for him down the road.

From Lake Mary, Danny Johnson will join Lake Brantley's Jimmy Herndon on the offensive line at Central Florida and Oviedo's Neufeld will look to improve his draft position in the major league baseball draft after the San Francisco Giants picked him this season.

Lake Mary kicker Kris Kesler will be scoring at LSU, instead of Lake Mary and Oviedo's Chris Sanders will be trying to pick off passes for Maryland.

It's been a summer of readjusting but, by next Friday, when most Seminole County schools play their formal pre-season games and put on their uniforms for the first time, it will look the same as ever before.

The faces change, but the game remains the same.

Last Second Shot: Heckuva job, Altamonte Springs, on hosting the Bambino World Series last week. Despite some weather problems, everything was a class act and you did Seminole County proud.

Perseverance pays

Beer:30 clinches LM title after a month of rain

From Staff Reports

LAKE MARY — Beer:30 clinched the championship as the City of Lake Mary Department of Parks and Recreation Men's Spring Friday Night Slowpitch Softball League finally got in a set of games after four straight weeks of rain outs at the Lake Mary Sports Complex.

Sanford Paint and Body failed to appear for its doubleheader, handing Seagate Software and Beer:30 7-0 forfeit victories and all but giving Beer:30 the title.

Beer:30 then took care of its own business, edging Seagate Software 6-5, but it wasn't easy.

After battling to a 4-4 tie after seven innings, Dave Coss' sacrifice fly drove in Kyle Hrubaker with the go-ahead run and Mike Miller scored what turned out to be the winning run when Vic Diliberto reached on an error in the top of the eighth inning.

Seagate Software came back with a run on an error and a sacrifice fly in the bottom of the eight inning, but it was too little, too late as Beer:30 held on for the win.

Beer:30 is now 8-0 on the season, while Seagate Software is 4-4 and Sanford Paint and Body is 0-4.

The teams have one more set of games to make up this week and the schedule is exactly the same with Seagate Software scheduled to play Sanford Paint and Body at 6:30 p.m. and Beer:30 at 7:30 p.m. and Beer:30 set to play Sanford Paint and Body at 8:30 p.m.

The teams are trying hard to get done as the Fall Leagues are set to begin the week of September 7th.

Beer:30 took the lead in the top of the first inning as Mike Miller tripled with one out and scored on a single by Brett Molle.

The champs stretched the lead to 2-0 in the third inning as Joe Ferris singled, Kyle Hrubaker doubled and Mike Miller lifted a sacrifice fly to right field. Seagate Software avoided further damage when they turned a second to first to home double play.

Seagate Software finally got into the game in the bottom of the fourth inning and looked like it might pull off an upset as it scored four runs.

David Gallucci reached on an error and Walt Luna singled. After a pair of outs, Drew Coulter and John Alvarez ripped back-to-back singles to tie the game and Chris Formont put his club ahead with a two-run triple.

Beer:30 closed the deficit to one run in the sixth inning as Brett Molle doubled with one out and scored on a single by Dave Coss.

Beer:30 then forced extra innings as Dave Bennett singled, moved to third on a double by Kenny McKeever and scored on a single by Blake Murray.

In the top of the eighth inning for Beer:30, Kyle Hrubaker and Mike Miller opened the inning with

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT

World Photos by Josh Smith

With an excellent turnout and the start of the season quickly approaching, the Lake Mary Pop Warner Football League has been working very hard since practice began on August 1st. Assistant coach Bill Bowmar (top) leads the Pee Wees, including Corey Rerucha (waiting to run) and Kenny Lester

Football camp ends at UCF as classes begin

From Staff Reports

ORLANDO — Despite a short rain delay in the afternoon session the University of Central Florida was able to wrap up two-a-days Wednesday, signalling the end of camp for the 1997 season.

UCF will cut back to one practice session starting today as classes for the fall semester begin.

"I think we accomplished what we needed to in our camp," UCF coach Gene McDowell said. "It's still way too soon for me to evaluate what this team is going to be like this year. We're certainly not ready to play a game today and we won't be for a few more days, but hopefully by game time we will be."

The team came out of camp relatively healthy, with only two serious injuries occurring.

Starting center Bill Dayton of Vero Beach ruptured the muscle-tendon attachment in his left quadriceps, just above his knee, on the first day in full pads a week ago. He had surgery to repair the damage and will miss the season. Starting linebacker Deaubrey Devine of Lakeland dislocated his left shoulder in Saturday's scrimmage and is questionable for UCF's game at Mississippi.

UCF will conduct a scrimmage, closed to the public, Thursday as a dress rehearsal for its August 30 opener in Oxford, Mississippi against the University of Mississippi Rebels.

National GymFest comes to Disney

Special to the Herald

LAKE BUENA VISTA — Top recreational gymnasts of all ages will take part in a four-day exhibition when the USA Gymnastics National GymFest comes to the fieldhouse at Disney's Wide World of Sports complex, August 24-27.

More of a performance showcase than a competition, the GymFest includes a series of rehearsals and performances highlighted by a gala finale on Wednesday, August 27 from 10 a.m. to noon.

The GymFest is a celebration of the sport of gymnastics through dance, acrobatics, props, costumes and music. Several hundred athletes, ranging in age from four to 60, will participate in the festivities. Choreography within the routines will be based on the creativity and personality of each participating group.

Five nations — Great Britain, Norway, Mexico, Brazil and the United States — are expected to participate in the event.

Representatives from 18 of the more than 30 International Gymnastics Federation (FIG) member countries will also take part in a group performance course at the GymFest. The purpose of this debut event is to provide a training environment for gymnasts preparing for the World Gymnaestrada in Goteborg, Sweden in 1999.

Held the year prior to the Summer Olympics every four years, the upcoming Gymnaestrada is expected to include more than 27,000 athletes participating in large choreographed performances of all sizes.

The FIG course should be both exciting and diverse, as participants from established and developing national programs alike will take part in the festivities. This includes highly-acclaimed gymnasts from Norway, Great Britain and France, as well as exciting newcomers from Ecuador, Egypt, Honduras and Mexico.

"The GymFest provides a wonderful opportunity for everyone to participate and have fun through general gymnastics," said USA Gymnastics Coaching Education Manager Jennifer Gallahue Lee. "We are very excited to bring this unique event to Disney's Wide World of Sports complex."

The schedule for the GymFest will have rehearsals on Sunday (August 24) until the Opening Cermonies take place from 4:30 p.m. to 6 p.m.

On Monday (August 25) there will be a USA Group Performance Session from 2 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. and an International Group Performance Session from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

On Tuesday (August 26) Round 1 of the Group Performance Session will be held from 2 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Round 2 of the Group Performance Session will take place from 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

On Wednesday (August 27) the 1997 GymFest "Gala" Showcase will be held from 10 a.m. to noon.

Tickets for the USA Gymnastics GymFest are $8 for adults and $6.75 for youth ages 3-9 and may be purchased through TicketMaster by calling (407) 839-3900.

Patient care must come first.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I work for a group of cardiologists... DEAR READER: I hope not.

proving that alpha-hydroxy acids are really effective. Although these products (such as POND'S Age-Defying Complex and others) have been used for years to treat acne and similar skin disorders...

Let's face the facts. Medical care and testing have become unconscionably expensive. It's no longer appropriate for doctors to disregard this reality.

For example, do I order a blood test solely to increase the income of the lab in which I have an interest? Do I order the less expensive CT scan when the more expensive MRI would give more valid information?

The first example is obviously unethical. In the second instance, the point is arguable.

Believe me, physicians battle with such inconsistencies day after day. I think that your cardiologist's view is shallow and improper, in my opinion, he is not providing sensible, fair and appropriate medical care.

Still, we have to maintain that delicate balance between over-testing and under-testing - a daunting task. You can see that I'm struggling with this issue. In my own practice, I've adopted a very simple code: Do what's right for the patient. You know what? It works.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Can you provide the address of the Food Allergy Network in Virginia?

DEAR READER: Food allergies are an important medical subspecialty, because they can sometimes lead to life-threatening consequences such as respiratory arrest. The address you seek is 10400 Eaton Place, Suite 107, Fairfax, VA 22030; the telephone number is (800) 929-6400.

To give you more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Allergies."

DEAR DR. GOTT: Do products containing alpha-hydroxy acids actually help sun-damaged skin?

DEAR READER: Interest in making aging skin look younger has resulted in a $300 million industry, with surprisingly few medical studies

However, last autumn, scientists published a study in the medical journal Archives of Dermatology that gives hope to those who yearn for younger-looking skin.

The researchers tested 67 women, some of whom applied (twice daily) a lotion containing alpha-hydroxy acids, another group used a placebo (regular moisturizing cream). More than 70 percent of the test group showed improvement in wrinkles and pigmentation on the face by week 22, compared with only 40 percent of the control group. The differences between treated and untreated forearm skin were less noticeable.

The authors concluded that alpha-hydroxy acids are well-tolerated and do have a modest potential for reducing the effects of sun damage on skin. While far from being a "magic bullet," alpha-hydroxy acids appear to benefit some women.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Pulling their teeth

By Phillip Alder What is dentopedology? Could you remember that word? In bridge, there are plays that have names with no direct relevance to the game, but are aide-memoires. For example, the crocodile coup and scissors coup. The technique used by declarer in this deal is a third example. How would you plan the play in four hearts? West leads the club six: seven, 10, king.
