Alleged murderers confined

SANFORD — Three Seminole County women are jailed here on Columbia County, Ga., warrants, accusing them of conspiracy to commit murder in Georgia in February.

These women and four other persons are accused of conspiring to murder the ex-husband of Nadine Ellsworth, 35, of Orlando, and the husband's present wife, Ellsworth was arrested earlier this month and is in the Orange County jail.

Arrested here Wednesday by agents of the Florida Department of Law Enforcement were: Ella Wilbanks Mahr, 54, 8330 U.S. Highway 17-92, Fern Park; her daughters Patricia Denise Mahr, 30, 3733 Goldenrod Road Apt. 1115, Winter Park; and Sandra Mahr Lillenthal, 28, 125 Garden Drive, Winter Springs. All are charged with conspiracy to commit murder. The plan, agents said, fell through when the victims weren't at home when three men assigned to kill them arrived. One of those men has been arrested in Georgia.

Race officials, drivers give preview of upcoming Superchallenge event

SANFORD — If you heard what you thought was the roar of airplane engines echoing off Lake Monroe late yesterday morning and early yesterday afternoon, you weren't far off.

The crafts making all the noise were planes of a sort. They were the hydroplanes capable of speeds up to 140 mph that will be used in the boat races on Lake Monroe May 12 and 13.

Boat racers say that the hydroplanes are wings that want to fly, but that they don't fly very well. The racers were at the marina Holiday Inn yesterday to show off the boats to a crowd of about 80 merchants and spectators and to promote the three-day race weekend that begins on May 11.

Organizers of the boat races to be held on the lake the weekend of May 11 through 13 predicted that the three-day event would bring more than 25,000 spectators, $500,000 to the area. "We are going to set this water on fire," said Tom Sayward, inboard race chairman for the May 12 and 13 event.

"The idea is to put Sanford on the map," said Michael Hyama, one of the principals for Sunset Sports Associates, an organization that materialized in February to promote the races and other waterfront activities.

"People will come here and they will like what they see and one of them will say 'Hey what this place really needs is a deli or a muffler shop,' and they'll come back and they'll stay," he said.

County manager candidate drops out of the race

By J. MARK SANFORD

SANFORD — Seminole County is still looking for a new county manager.

Oreg Fehrenbach, the commissioner's unanimous top choice for the job, decided Wednesday not to accept the position. He made the decision after making a tentative salary demand of about $60,000 per year. He is currently city administrator of New Brunswick, N.J., a town of 40,000. Fehrenbach said Wednesday salary was not an issue in his decision.

"I can tell you I have not slept well during the last five or six nights," Fehrenbach said from his New Brunswick office Wednesday. "I'm very pleased they selected me. It is a wonderful position for anyone in my field."

Police 'blockade' Lake Mary roads

Two people arrested; 91 others receive citations

By BOB FERRAUF
Herald staff writer

LAKE MARY — Ninety-one vehicle citations and two arrests were made here yesterday in a cooperative effort involving about 18 police officers from Lake Mary, Sanford, Longwood, Altamonte Springs and Seminole County.

Police blocked three main entrances to Lake Mary from 9 a.m. to 11:15 a.m. The purpose of the blockade was primarily a motor vehicle check, although two people were arrested on other charges.

One man was charged with resisting arrest and battery on a police officer when he reportedly refused to cooperate in the check, and a woman was arrested on charges of issuing worthless checks and driving with a suspended license.

Of the 91 citations, more than half were for faulty equipment. 18 were written for unlawful speed and 14 for not using seatbelts. Other citations included failure to have proof of insurance or vehicle registration. Officers involved in one of the three checkpoints later continued the vehicle check in the afternoon setting up a combined air/land operation on Interstate 4 near Lake Mary.

Lake Mary Police Sergeant Linda Bellmore, who normally serves as crime prevention youth officer in Lake Mary, commented on checking for expired driving permits, saying, "One misconception is that motorists often believe their driver's license expires at the end of their birth month, when, in reality, it expires on the

Sheriff's communications supervisor quits

By SARA LUDEN
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — Seminole County Sheriff's Communications Supervisor Deborah Caruthers resigned Tuesday. The resignation is effective May 1.

Sheriff John Polk said the resignation was for personal, family-related reasons and Caruthers plans to join her husband in a family business. He said her resignation is not related to recent complaints about delays in dispatch of calls through the sheriff's 911 emergency dispatch center, which she has managed for more than three years.

Caruthers, 33, a former dispatcher, joined the sheriff's staff in 1975 as a complaint taker.

Her resignation comes amid concerns about at least two calls where lives were endangered.

In one of those cases the caller was killed by her husband who broke into her bedroom and fatally wounded her. The rural Longwood woman had been shot twice in the face, and ran past the front door of her house to phone for help. The sheriff's department transferred the call to the fire department and didn't dispatch deputies until 83 seconds after the call came in, after the phone connection was broken, as the killer attacked the woman again and committed suicide, rec-

Commissioner proposes new plan to finance mall road development

By J. MARK SANFORD
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — In an effort to save an Indianapolis developer's plan to build a $100 million mall here, Sanford Commissioner Herbert "Whitey" Eckstein proposes the city share the costs of building roads needed for the mall with the developers, Melvin Simon and Associates Inc.

The proposal, Eckstein said today, won't cost the city any more than Simon's original proposal to use a portion of city and county property taxes generated by the mall to pay for $6.2 million in roadway and other improvements needed for the 1.2 million-square-foot mall.

Most Seminole County commissioners object to Simon's proposal because they believe taxes should not be used to pay for improvements required of Simon.

"I'm trying to save the mall," Eckstein says. "I'm trying to show Sanford's commitment to having the mall come here. Simon has many mall plans in the works throughout the country. It would be easy for them to pull up and go somewhere else."

Eckstein's proposal will allow a "tax increment finance" (TIF) district to be created on the vacant 217-acre mall site southeast of the Interstate 4-State Road 46 interchange as Simon sought. TIF allows the taxes created by new development to be diverted for a specific purpose for up to 30 years and not mingled with other taxes for

UCF one step ahead of the game in limiting admissions numbers

By WEND BOGGS

ORLANDO — The University of Central Florida is "ahead of the game" in choosing the applicants it will accept for the freshman class. Rob Sheinkopf, director of admissions at the University of Central Florida, said today.

"The state's instructions are nothing we are not already doing," he said. State University System Chancellor Charles Reed has instructed the presidents of the nine state universities to keep a tight lid on admissions to their schools until the Legislature comes up with more money.

Reed also warned college administrators Tuesday that many lawmakers are backing a measure that would guarantee university admission for community college graduates.

University officials are struggling to keep the quality of education

Shuttle launch moved up one day

By WILLIAM HANFORD
UPI Science Writer

CAPE CANAVERAL — Engineers successfully "hot fired" a new hydraulic power unit aboard the shuttle Discovery Wednesday, prompting NASA to move up the delayed launch of the Hubble Space Telescope from next Wednesday to Tuesday.

"Everyone believes we're now ready to fly and all of us are looking forward to the data the Hubble Space Telescope will produce as it begins its exploration of the universe," shuttle program chief Robert Crippen said in a statement.

Under the new plan, Discovery's second countdown in two weeks is scheduled to begin at 3 p.m. Saturday with the shuttle's five-member crew flying in Sunday for a launch try at 8:31 a.m. Tuesday, 14 days after the ship was grounded by a malfunction in its power steering system.

Launch had been planned for next Wednesday but with work at pad 39-B running on or ahead of schedule, NASA managers advanced the flight one day after the successful test firing of a new auxiliary power unit, or APU, in Discovery's cramped engine compartment.

"The decision to move the launch date comes after testing and inspection of the replacement auxiliary power unit, which verified it is performing properly," said a NASA spokesman.

Discovery and its $1.5 billion payload, the most expensive satellite ever built, were grounded April 10 just four minutes before liftoff when one of the shuttle's three APUs malfunctioned. The APUs provide hydraulic power to the shuttle's engines and wing flaps for steering during the climb to space.

A replacement APU was installed in Discovery's cramped engine room over the weekend, and engineers tested a critical five-minute "hot firing" that began at 3:45 a.m. Wednesday.

With Discovery declared shipshape for launch, engineers pressed on with a 5 1/2-day procedure to recharge the Hubble Space Telescope's batteries for a second launch attempt. The batteries, removed from the telescope Sunday, will be back at full power Friday.

Completing the APU replacement ahead of schedule was a major achievement for NASA because the work had never before been attempted at the launch pad with a shuttle in the vertical position. But the work proceeded smoothly, the test firing was a success and the flight was moved up a day.

The goal of the 26th shuttle flight is the deployment of the 24,330-pound Hubble Space Telescope into a record 380-mile-high orbit on the second day of the mission.

Operating high above Earth's obscuring atmosphere, the giant telescope's near-perfect 94.5-inch mirror and a battery of sensitive instruments are expected to help astronomers answer fundamental questions about the birth and fate of the universe.

Governor makes judicial changes

TALLAHASSEE — Gov. Bob Martinez appointed Dade County Judge Juan Ramirez Jr. Wednesday to the 11th Judicial Circuit and named Miami attorney Jonathan Colby to the Dade County bench.

Ramirez, 44, has been a Dade County Circuit Court judge since 1988.

Colby, 32, began his law practice in 1983. Following his appointment to the bench, Colby withdrew from the race for the Dade Circuit Court seat held by Mary Ann MacKenzie.

Martinez signs two death warrants

TALLAHASSEE — Gov. Bob Martinez signed two death warrants Wednesday, one of them for a man found guilty of killing two law enforcement officers in Broward County in 1976.

The warrant for Jessie Joseph Tafero schedules his execution for noon on May 3. He was sentenced to death in May 1976 for the murders of Florida Highway Patrolman Phillip Black and Canadian police officer Donald Robert Irwin near Pompano Beach.

The shootings took place as the officers tried to arrest Tafero for having a concealed weapon. Tafero fled in Black's patrol car, but was later caught at a roadblock.

This is the third death warrant in Tafero's case.

Martinez also signed a third death warrant for condemned inmate Bennie Demps. He is sentenced to die for the September 1975 slaying of fellow Florida State Prison inmate Alfred Sturgis.

Prison officials found Sturgis bleeding heavily in his cell from stab wounds. Before he died, he was able to implicate Demps and two other inmates in the case.

Demps, who was serving a life sentence for first-degree murder at the time, is set for execution on May 8.

Jail cleared in inmate's death

PENSACOLA — The Escambia County Jail was not to blame in the suicide of a teenage prisoner three months ago, according to a report by the Florida Department of Corrections.

Brandon Shay Hall, 16, died in January after he hanged himself in the jail with a bedsheet. A DOC report said the jail violated some rules, but none contributed to the death.

Hall was transferred to the jail in December after he tried to escape from the juvenile detention facility. During various confinements he had cut himself five times, but mental health workers decided he was not a serious suicide risk and did not tell jail officials.

The DOC report said Hall signed a statement saying he was not suicidal when he arrived at the jail. He also told a jail nurse he had been suicidal in the past but was no longer suicidal.

More funeral escort limits imposed

PENSACOLA — For the second time in less than a year, the Escambia County Sheriff's Department has cut back on a traditional service that is a hallmark of the South.

Sheriff Charlie Johnson told 16 area funeral directors his seven motorcycle officers would no longer escort funeral processions after 3 p.m. because of the heavy rush-hour traffic between 3 and 5 p.m.

"This is to ensure the safety of our motoring public and the safety of those in the procession," said Sgt. Bob Clark, a spokesman for the department.

The decision means that for funerals after 3 p.m., directors will have to notify mourners to disband at the chapel or the church and meet again at the cemetery at a certain time.

"They will not be able to lead processions because they can not use flashing lights or sirens and do not have the training to ensure traffic safety," said Clark.

Robert Lavender, funeral director for McNeil Keyes Funeral Home, said he did not believe it would be much of a problem since there are few funerals after 3 p.m. Most, he said, are at 10 a.m. or 2 p.m.

This is the second time the department has cut back on the escort service. In June the department decided to stop escorting Sunday funerals, saying deputies were needed for traffic control at Pensacola Beach.

Lozano in good spirits

MIAMI — William Lozano, the police officer convicted of manslaughter in the deaths of two black men that triggered three days of race riots, was in "good spirits" Wednesday, one day after an apparent suicide attempt, a hospital official said.

The former Miami police officer was rushed to Coral Reef Hospital in south Dade County late Tuesday after he swallowed some unidentified medication.

A Dade Jury convicted William Lozano, a native of Colombia, of two counts of manslaughter in December in connection with the deaths of Lloyd and Blanchard. He is out of jail on bond pending an appeal of his conviction.

Robert Friciac, assistant administrator at the hospital, said Lozano was admitted to the intensive care unit where he will remain to insure his privacy, even though Lozano does not require intensive care treatment.

"I spoke with him just a few minutes ago ... he said he was doing real good," Friciac said.

LEGISLATURE ROUNDUP

Bill would expand drug-free zones

United Press International

TALLAHASSEE — A bill expanding Florida's drug-free zones to cover college campuses, public housing and parks cleared the Senate Judiciary-Criminal Committee unanimously Wednesday.

But its sponsor warned the measure might run into trouble in the Appropriations Committee because of its price tag, estimated at around $124 million.

Lawmakers are struggling this year with a budget shortfall estimated at about $1 billion that could grow even larger after Thursday's revenue estimating conference.

The bill provides for sentence enhancements that would add up to three years for people caught trafficking in drugs within 200 feet of a public or private college or university, public housing complex or public park — on top of the penalty for the offense itself.

Similar tougher penalties were adopted last year for elementary, middle and high school campuses.

"We're trying to protect our children in the areas that they are most likely to be, where they live and where they play," Jennings said.

She conceded an adult college student would not need as much protection as an elementary school student, but said state higher education officials asked to be included in the bill.

The Judiciary-Criminal committee also voted unanimously for a bill (SB 673) establishing a statewide policy governing the use of deadly force by police officers. It is modeled on a 1985 Supreme Court ruling permitting such force only to prevent escape and if there is a significant threat to the life or safety of the officer or another person.

Lobbyists for state police chiefs and sheriffs opposed the bill as an imposition on local prerogatives to enact stricter deadly-use guidelines. But the Florida Police Benevolent Association is lobbying for the measure.

Sponsor Bob Johnson, R-Sarasota, said some areas permit deadly force only when an officer has already been fired upon. "That means they give the fleeing felon or the criminal the first shot," he said.

Committee kills amendment to limit terms of lawmakers

United Press International

TALLAHASSEE — Despite warnings that Florida has a "career legislature" much like Congress, a House committee rejected a constitutional amendment Wednesday which would have limited state lawmakers to 12 years in office.

Three Republicans unsuccessfully sought four-year terms for House members and six-year terms for state Senators, in exchange for the 12-year limit on legislative careers. Proponents of the plan said longer terms would prevent lawmakers from having to run almost constantly, while a limit on tenure would keep them from getting too comfortable in office.

But the House Ethics and Elections Committee first rejected the expansion of legislative terms, which remain two years in the House and four in the Senate, then killed the remaining portion of the proposal calling for a 12-year cap on career service.

Opponents argued that if voters like a member, there is no reason for the state to tell them they cannot keep re-electing.

Another bill (SB 780) by Sen. Lincoln Diaz-Balart, R-Miami, granting federal agents the authority to arrest suspected violators of state law, died on a tie vote.

In other actions Wednesday during the third week of the regular session of the Legislature:

• A House committee approved legislation that would essentially treat risqué recordings like many cities treat sexually-oriented magazines.

The bill would require record store owners to label or otherwise separate all records, tapes, compact discs deemed harmful to minors.

• A House subcommittee on health-care financing voted unanimously to approve a bill (HB 1115) calling for mandatory HIV testing of accused rapists. Rape victims would be notified of the test results.

Judge finds suspect innocent because of prosecutor's typo

United Press International

MIAMI — A Dade County judge has dropped a resisting arrest charge against a suspect because the prosecutor's office made a typographical error naming the wrong defendant on the paperwork.

Anthony Martinez, 35, was found innocent of resisting arrest, a charge punishable by one year in jail, Wednesday by Dade County Judge Morton Perry.

Police arrested Martinez Jan. 8 during an argument with his girlfriend. Authorities said the man threatened to stick a gun to the woman's head and kill her.

Prosecutors took the case to court, but listed the wrong defendant on the paperwork. Two defendants, neither of them

Martinez, were listed. Assistant state attorneys Lisa Kroeger, who signed the document, and Tamara J. Ferrari, did not notice the error.

After Ferrari called witnesses at trial and rested her case, defense lawyer Peter Collins pointed out the error and asked the judge to find his client innocent.

When prosecutors could not come up with a convincing reason to prevent the judge from throwing out the case, Perry found Martinez innocent.

Chief Assistant State Attorney John Hogan said the state may refile the case. "We don't feel a case should be decided on a typographical error," he said.

But Collins said it cannot be refilled. "They can't appeal a not-guilty verdict. The case is history," he said.

Murder conspiracy alleged

SANFORD — Three Seminole County women are jailed here on Columbia County, Ga., warrants accusing them of conspiracy to commit murder in Georgia in February.

These women and four other persons are accused of conspiring to murder the ex-husband on Nadine Ellsworth, 35, of Orlando, and the husband's present wife, Ellsworth was arrested earlier this month and is in the Orange County jail.

Arrested here Wednesday by agents of the Florida Department of Law Enforcement were: Ella Wilbanks Mahr, 54, 8330 U.S. Highway 17-92, Fern Park; her daughters Patricia Denise Mahr, 30, 3733 Goldenrod Road Apt. 1115, Winter Park; and Sandra Mahr Lillenthal, 28, 125 Garden Drive, Winter Springs. All are charged with conspiracy to commit murder. The plan, agents said fell through when the victims weren't at home when three men assigned to kill them arrived. One of those men has been arrested in Georgia.

Five arrested in Sanford drug case

SANFORD — The Sanford police Special Investigations Unit report arresting five suspects during a warrants search of a house at 500 W. Airport Blvd., Apt. 1502, Wednesday night. Some of the suspects are accused of being involved in two earlier sales of cocaine to an informant at that location on April 11 and 12.

Residents at that address arrested include: Michael Darrius Kondracki, 21, charged with conspiracy to sell cocaine and possession of cocaine and drug paraphernalia; and Alicia Dawn Howell, 18, faces those charges plus sale and delivery of cocaine.

Matthew Scott Johnson, 24, 604 Cass Park Villa, Winter Springs, was charged with conspiracy to sell cocaine and possession of cocaine and drug paraphernalia. ### Man arrested after returning drug

LONGWOOD — A man who allegedly had a forged prescription filled at Eckerd's, U.S. Highway 17-92, Longwood, Wednesday afternoon, returned the Percocet 5 to the store about three hours later and was arrested.

Longwood police charged Daniel Eldridge O'Neil, 31, 251 Queensberry Court, Longwood, with possession of a controlled substance and obtaining a controlled substance by forgery. He reportedly said he felt guilty and brought the narcotic back, police reported.

Two accused in cocaine sale

Group approves CDBG projects

By J. MARK GARFIELD

SANFORD — Nearly $1.3 million in projects has been recommended for the Seminole County community development program by a citizen's advisory committee.

Members of the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Committee met Wednesday night to review 18 requests for neighborhood improvement and other community development projects throughout the county. The committee is comprised of residents of the seven cities and seven low-income areas of the county.

CAC members branched out from their typical roadway paving and drainage projects to recommend an increase in spending for housing improvements, including $200,000 for Sanford's housing rehabilitation. They recommended spending $100,000 for a county emergency housing repair program, which will be managed by Sanford's Community Development Department.

CAC members also recommended $40,000 be spent for an economic development study of the unincorporated Winwood Park area near Altamonte Springs City Hall. The area is known for drug sales and prostitution. Altamonte Springs officials requested the study to determine how vacant parcels in the area can be developed into job-producing businesses. Among the topics that will be studied is how significant a barrier the neighborhood's crime would be to redevelopment.

County commissioners will review the list May 8 and will schedule a public hearing for May 23. Final adoption is scheduled for June 12.

The projects will be financed by federal CDBG dollars, expected to top $1.6 million this year, said Buddy Balagia, county community development analyst. To be eligible, projects must be in neighborhoods where the average annual income is at least 50 percent of the households be no more than $30,000 for a family of four.

The 11 projects recommended by the CAC are:

- $210,000 for engineering and some right of way purchases for the multi-year Midway drainage project. County officials had requested more than $1 million to see the project through construction, but CAC members decided that amount would use nearly all the CDBG money.
- $70,000 to pave and install drainage along Tipton Road and a portion of Carlisle Drive in Cascahberry.
- $172,500 to extend Sanford water lines into Roseland Park northwest of Midway. The area is currently served by wells with poor-quality water.

- $8,000 for the Sanford Christian Sharing Center to purchase a $6,000 walk-in freezer for food storage and $2,000 for a no-interest small loan program for the needy seeking to better themselves.

- $115,000 for designing a paving and drainage project on Lake Mobile Drive in Winwood Park. The county had requested an additional $360,000 for construction.

- $200,000 for Sanford's housing rehabilitation program. Sanford had requested $300,000.

- $170,000 for design, paving and installation of a drainage system on Queen Avenue in Johnson Hill east of Oviedo.

- $100,000 for a county emergency repair program for low- and moderate-income homeowners. The program will be administered by Sanford for unincorporated residents.

- $20,000 for a new van for the Retired Senior Volunteer Program.

- $185,000 for design and paving of West 23rd Street in Lockhart's Subdivision west of Sanford.

- $40,000 for the Winwood Park economic development study.

Civic group to vote on CIA building sale

By NICK PFEIFER
Herald staff writer

LAKE MARY — Members of the Lake Mary Community Improvement Association are expected to vote Monday on the possible sale of their building to the City of Lake Mary.

According to Lake Mary City Manager John Litton, the city already owns the three-acre 280 N. Country Club Road lot on which the building is located, but not the actual structure. The 4,800-square-foot multi-purpose building was built with private donations collected by CIA.

Some CIA members have opposed the sale, saying city residents would be paying for the building a second time by allowing the city to pay for it with tax dollars. Others support the idea of selling the building because it would allow the group to turn its attention to other civic projects.

During its March 12 meeting, CIA's board of directors voted to take the question of selling the building to the full membership. Randy Morris, CIA president, said the organization simply "cannot afford to maintain the facility." Morris said he saw no problem with the City accepting the building, "if the membership votes overwhelmingly to sell."

If the vote by CIA members is close, he said, the city may still buy it.

City Manager Litton said he expected the membership to agree to sell, and that the city commissioners would agree to purchase it for a community center to serve various groups and organizations in the area. He said some income could be derived through renting the facility for weddings or other private gatherings.

If the decision to sell is approved, Litton said, "the Lake Mary City Commissioners will probably begin their discussion on the project at the May 5 meeting."

Correction

Due to a reporting error, it was incorrectly reported in a story last week that the Sanford City Commission had adopted an 11 p.m. curfew for all unlighted city parks. The commission will consider the curfew at a meeting April 23.

Spring Break drives up local gas prices

By NICK PFEIFER
Herald staff writer

LAKE MARY — Prices of gasoline at service stations in the Orlando area, which includes Seminole County, were up only slightly for the past month according to Kathleen Wilkins, public affairs manager at the American Automobile Association's national headquarters in Lake Mary.

In this area, full service regular unleaded gasoline averaged $1.42 9/10 per gallon; mid-grade unleaded was $1.52, up one-tenth of a cent; and premium was $1.56 7/10, up a half cent.

Self service prices were listed at $1.06 for regular unleaded, up just over a cent; mid-grade, $1.17 2/10, up a half cent per gallon, and premium at $1.26 8/10, up 1 2/10 cents.

Compared to the state average, prices at full service stations were almost the same except for mid grade which was almost three cents per gallon higher in the Orlando area. At self-service stations in this area, prices ran three cents higher per gallon for all grades.

Wilkins attributed the local increase over last month to the influx of Spring Breakers, which, she said, normally brings about a slightly higher price. She also said prices were significantly higher over last month in the Daytona Beach area.

Legal firm to ask SHA board to lift gag order

SANFORD — When the Sanford Housing Authority commission meets tonight, one of the issues to be addressed is what appears to be a deteriorating relationship between the authority and a legal firm that has represented tenants of the housing projects for 13 years.

Central Florida Legal Services Monday complained about an order to guard public access of SHA files. Troena Kaye, managing attorney for Legal Services, said she will ask authority commissioners to lift a moratorium on access to files authority attorney James Sweeting III issued April 13.

"This is the first time, really, in years that we have ever had a serious problem with them," Kaye said.

The SHA commission will meet tonight at 7 p.m., in the Redding Gardens community center, 400 Locust Ave., Sanford.

Diaper dilemma

The campaign some environmentalists have been waging against disposable diapers has generated plenty of heat but not much light. What began as an effort to demonstrate how consumers can help reduce America's solid waste problems has wound up providing an object lesson on how complicated those problems can be.

Disposable diapers may at first look like a convenience we could all do better without, a symbol of the throwaway society. They currently swaddle 80 percent of the 9 million Americans under 30 months of age. And since each kid on average goes through 4,000 changes on the way to toilet training, that puts roughly 15.8 billion used diapers into the nation's landfills and garbage dumps every year.

As impressive as those figures are, however, disposable diapers only produce 2 percent of the solid waste generated in the United States, much less than lawn and garden clippings and paper products. And while wood chips and cardboard in theory should be less of a problem because they break down faster than plastic diaper liners, most landfills have been sealed so effectively to prevent air or water pollution that nothing decays in them very rapidly.

In response to the environmentalists, the plastics industry offered to make diaper liners that would break down into little pieces very quickly after use. But that just made the environmentalists more angry. The availability of degradable plastic, they complained, would undercut their efforts to promote plastic recycling. And besides, plastics that really dissolve might release all sorts of toxic chemicals as they decay.

What they want is for parents to go back to cloth nappies. A dozen states are considering bills aimed at banning disposables outright or taxing them out of existence, although so far only Nebraska has actually adopted one of these ill-conceived proposals.

The problem is that cloth diapers are not such a great idea for parents who don't have ready access to washing machines or an affordable diaper delivery service. Even from an ecological perspective, the Environmental Protection Agency points out, chewing disposables may make sense only in an area that's running out of landfill space. In a community that's short of water or has only a limited sewage treatment capacity, washing cloth diapers could make things worse.

If there's a moral to the story, it is that deciding what to use on baby's bottom may not be a problem that lends itself to an easy legislative solution. More likely, it's a matter that families should work out for themselves — just as they always have.

Baker's U.S. suffers moral myopia

SAN FRANCISCO — Well over a year has gone by since James Baker achieved his long-standing ambition to become secretary of state, and it is possible to make out, now, the general outlines of his notion of how the job ought to be discharged. Unfortunately, the prognosis isn't promising.

Uniquely among the world's major nations, the United States has, from its inception, stood for freedom. Other nations — Britain and France, for example — have themselves been free as long, or even longer. But they have been compromised by their involvement in the power politics of Europe and the blight of colonialism in a way, and to an extent, that the United States was fortunately able to avoid. As a result, this country's identification with principles, and especially with the principle of freedom, is recognized throughout the world.

As the late President Chiang Ching-kuo of the Republic of China (Taiwan) once said to me, "If the United States doesn't stand for freedom, what does it stand for?" It was the inability of such brilliant Machiavellians as Richard Nixon and Henry Kissinger to grasp the profound importance of this identification that led them into such blunders as their repellent detente with the elderly thugs who run Red China. To obtain a "China card" to play in the Cold War with the Soviet Union, they gravely sullied this country's reputation for devotion to the cause of freedom.

Today, as the Cold War fades, we find ourselves still saddled with an embarrassing "friendship" with Deng & Co., who have just renewed their credentials as murderers by their performance in Tiananmen Square. Unfortunately, there is considerable evidence that our current secretary of state suffers from a similar moral myopia. In the particular case of China, Baker (unless we prefer to put the case entirely on President Bush) twice secretly dispatched his own highest deputy and the National Security Council director to Peking soon after Tiananmen Square, to obtain promises of better behavior that remain glaringly unfulfilled to this day.

And still more recently, in the case of Lithuania, the Baker policy seems far more concerned with keeping Mikhail Gorbachev in power in the Soviet Union than with recognizing and encouraging the independence of a small nation whose absorption by the Soviet Union FDR refused to recognize even in the midst of World War II.

Where, in fact, since Baker took the helm, has U.S. foreign policy stood unambiguously for freedom anywhere in the world? Not in Cambodia, where our strongest current allies are the Khmer Rouge. Not in Angola, where Jonas Savimbi is being subjected to the military salami tactics of Gorbachev's well-supplied puppets as we stand by and watch. Not in Nicaragua, where the administration was clearly ready to accept a Sandinista victory and compel the contras to do likewise. Not even in Panama, where a powerful internal coup was allowed to sputter out, and only the resulting criticism and Noriega's growing insolence finally provoked a U.S. response.

Washington eludes tax revolt

WASHINGTON — As Americans filed their tax returns, a huge tax revolt was taking place — but not here. Thousands of British voters, angered by a shift in the financing of local governments from the property tax to a per-capita "poll tax," were filling the streets and burning Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher in effigy.

Thatcher's popularity has sunk to the point that several of the most astute British politicians I know now consider her chances of winning a fourth term decidedly bleak. Because American politics followed the British pattern all through the Eighties, a defeat for the Tories in the next general election would inevitably raise some question about the certainty of the Republicans winning a fourth consecutive White House victory in 1992.

Still, the striking fact is the absence of a national tax revolt here. True, in a number of states, governors who raised taxes either are in political trouble or have decided not to try for reelection. The tax issue is emerging as a key in many state contests.

But little of that fire focuses on Washington. Maybe President Bush's often-repeated promise of "no new taxes" has insulated this city against a tax revolt. If so, it's an irony, for the latest Bush budget plainly says that with federal taxes pegged at 19.8 percent of the gross national product, Americans are paying more for the support of the national government than in all but three of the 45 years since World War II ended.

Moreover, there is a decent — if not irrefutable — case to be made that the tax burden falls more heavily on working-class and middle-class Americans than it does on the really rich. Chairman Dan Rostenkowski (D-Ill.) of the House Ways and Means Committee has released a study which he said shows that in the last ten years, "the richest five percent of the population enjoyed a real increase in their income of 48 percent. At the same time, we reduced their federal tax rates by almost 10 percent. As a result, their after-tax share of income increased dramatically. Their increase is more than the total income of the poorest 50 million Americans....Where is the economic justice in that?"

The Citizens for Tax Justice, a liberal group, put out a report comparing 1977 and 1990 taxes. It said that "the super-rich have received an average tax cut of $62,196 each," while "nine out of ten American families actually are paying a higher share of their incomes in overall federal taxes than they did" in 1977.

Rostenkowski and the liberal lobbyists sat back and waited for the public outcry. They're still waiting.

Why? In part because they had tilted the figures to make a political point. The years they used for comparison, 1977 and 1980, preceded the Republican takeover of the White House. They came well before any impact could be felt from the first major tax bills Ronald Reagan signed. Those bills were passed in 1981 and 1982 and became fully effective only in the middle of the decade. The 1986 tax reform, which Reagan sponsored and signed, is fully effective only now.

Even the Rostenkowski study conceded that if you look just at the last five years, when the Reagan changes were clearly in effect, federal tax rates for the top 5 percent of families have increased 9 percent, while the bottom 20 percent received an 8 percent cut. So some of the liberal complaint goes back to decisions made almost a decade ago — a policy which the tax changes of more recent years has begun to mitigate.

Still, liberal economists like Brookings' Henry Aaron and conservatives like Heritage's Daniel J. Mitchell agree that the basic distribution of income has become more unequal. While all categories of families have seen some increase in earnings since the recession ended in 1982, the wealthy are getting a substantially bigger share of the pie.

Second, the experts agree that because income-tax rates have been reduced steadily during this period, while payroll taxes to support Social Security have gone up, "it can be argued pretty persuasively," as conservative Mitchell said, "that the middle class has a higher tax burden than before Ronald Reagan took office. And the rich have escaped because not all their income is subject to the payroll tax."

That being so, why no tax revolt? First, because most Americans do not respond to evidence of income inequality with indignation. That "the rich get richer," through government policy, does not offend middle-class and poor Americans nearly as much as the liberals would like.

Second, because most of the increase in the federal tax burden comes from rising payroll taxes to support Social Security, the potential anger is deflected by the widespread belief that Social Security is the most precious federal program. These taxes plainly are buying something people want.

The wealthy are getting a substantially bigger share of the pie.

Attack on Stark was no accident

WASHINGTON — The CIA has collected evidence that Iraqi President Saddam Hussein may have paid a $35,000 cash reward and allowed the use of a late model Mercedes Benz to the Iraqi pilot responsible for the "accidental" missile attack in 1987 on the U.S.S. Stark.

Thirty-seven U.S. sailors died in the attack on the Stark, and the Iraqis quickly apologized and offered $27.35 million in compensation. The Stark was protecting shipping lanes in the Persian Gulf during the height of the Iran-Iraq war when it took two anti-ship missiles from an Iraqi warplane. One was a dud; the other exploded causing a fire that nearly sank the ship.

Based on CIA documents, Iraqi sources and Arab leaders close to Hussein, we have pieced together these details:

Hussein had been furious with the United States for several years about the American policy of neutrality in the long Iran-Iraq war. The volatile Hussein was further incited by White House admissions in November 1986 that the United States had sold several anti-tank and anti-aircraft weapons to Iran.

Hussein ordered the deliberate attack on a U.S. ship, which had to appear accidental, according to our sources. To be certain of success two planes were actually sent.

U.S. officials accepted the official explanation of the accident from the Iraqis, but harbored enough suspicions to ask Hussein to allow American investigators to conduct their own probe. Only minimal aid and information was provided the investigators by Iraq.

Within days of the attack, Hussein sent then-President Ronald Reagan a letter laced with references to "heartfelt condolences" and stating that "sorrow and regret are not enough."

Hussein's track record over the years — his use of poison gas on his own population, his obsession to acquire nuclear weapons — has fostered a Middle East madman image.

We have reported that after trips to Baghdad, Hussein allegedly executed a Cabinet minister who irritated him; he stole a second wife from her husband who feared he'd be executed if he resisted; and almost had his oldest son executed in a fit of rage over a shooting incident in which his son killed a favorite bodyguard.

Other chapters in his volatile history support the theory that Hussein could have ordered the Stark bombing out of pique.

The story most repeated in Iraq to support the notion that Hussein is a man who gets what he wants concerns a Cabinet minister who several years ago suggested that Hussein resign to bring about peace with Iran. The unfortunate fellow was asked to step outside the Cabinet meeting, Hussein allegedly shot the disident and returned to resume the meeting.

Another Hussein tale involves a top health official who was reportedly executed when Hussein found that medical supplies he had ordered arrived with old expiration dates. In another story, Hussein suspected that some military officers had burned down a building to disguise the fact that they were stealing supplies. Hussein responded by ordering execution for every suspect.

Hussein's chief weapon has always been terror, both in domestic and foreign relations. By banning typewriters, Hussein has also pre-empted dissent. On our recent visit, our modern hotel with many amenities for the business traveler, would not allow guests to use typewriters unless they made carbon copies for Hussein.

Hussein had been furious with the United States about the American policy of neutrality.

Immediately following the Arbor Day ceremony, city officials will return to city hall for an 11 a.m. kickoff of the city's recycling program.

Klan challenges law

United Press International

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga. — A legal test of Georgia's "mask law," enacted largely to keep Ku Klux Klan members from hiding their identities behind masks in public, is being monitored by southern prosecutors worried that Klan membership may grow if the law is struck down, a prosecutor said.

Klanman Shude Miller, 48, was scheduled to go on trial Thursday for wearing a mask Feb. 28 in the town square in Lawrenceville. His lawyer, Michael Hauptman, said he believes Miller sought to be arrested as a publicity stunt for the Klan.

Hauptman said he will argue that the mask law violates the First Amendment guarantee of free speech.

Assistant Gwinnett County Solicitor David Fuller said the mask is "not a symbol of constitutionally protected free speech."

Fuller said the case is being watched throughout the South by prosecutors and others.

responsibilities I have here," Fehrenbach said. "I thought about the responsibilities I have here and my obligations to the organization. I guess I hadn't really had the reason to consider those factors until now."

Fehrenbach said his city is currently going through a severe budget crunch which has forced a reduction in the operations of the city. An author of the reductions, which he said were caused by a poor revenue collection rate, Fehrenbach said he could leave mid-level city officials "in the lurch" of having to carry on city functions on a reduced level. "I have to stay here and help my husband," he said.

County Attorney Bob McMillan said he will ask commissioners next Tuesday how to proceed. Commissioners had listed Dora Harrison, the chief assistant Pinellas County administrator, as their second choice and Phyllis L. Allison, coordinator of the University of Central Florida Institute of Government, as their third choice.

McMillan said he will seek commission direction on whether to begin negotiations with Harrison or to readvertise the position. Commissioners had hoped to fill the position vacated by Ken Hooper last October by June. Hooper resigned Oct. 23 after falling from favor with the majority of the commissioners.

Folk said he is satisfied with the management of his communications division, although he acknowledges there were problems with the two calls examined by the Herald. "We made mistakes. I've admitted we were wrong. I put out new directives," Folk said.

In the first case, Folk said, the dispatcher "did an excellent job. She remained calm." In the second case, he said, the same operator made several mistakes. He said that dispatcher has received her last letter of reprimand from him. Folk promised stronger action if she doesn't improve.

In both these cases, Folk said, the same complaint taker-dispatcher took the call and failed to dispatch deputies to the scene "immediately," with the caller's address and nature of the situation relayed first to deputies, with other information to follow. That is the long-standing rule in emergency situations, he said. On April 3, Caruthers issued a memo of a directive from Folk reiterating his order for immediate dispatch to such calls. This came after a Sanford Herald report on the 82-second delayed dispatch to the scene of the murder-suicide in rural Longwood.

The same call taker received a night call April 11 from a Sanford woman who said, "My husband is pouring gasoline all through my mobile home." The victim said she and her 3-year-old daughter were inside the house. That 85-second call continued until the dispatcher broke the connection, but failed to dispatch deputies to the scene. The woman called back and said her husband was leaving and the dispatcher questioned her more, with the second call totaling about 45 seconds, before the dispatcher once again broke the connection. For such calls, written procedure directs the call taker to keep the phone connection with the caller if possible. The call was dispatched five minutes after the first call came in, sheriff's department logs show.

On April 18, Folk approved another new "immediate" dispatch procedure, drafted by Caruthers. That directive orders that "All emergency calls should be processed and dispatched within 45 seconds."

Other police and the Public Safety Department operators said 45 seconds to dispatch an emergency call is too long for them.

Other police, including Sanford, Lake Mary and Casselberry, said they dispatch such calls within the first few seconds, with the dispatcher and the call-taker working side by side, or with one performing both functions. The sheriff's department dispatches Longwood's police calls.

In the case of the rural Longwood homicide-suicide on March 3, Public Safety records show fire department dispatchers sent rescue workers to the scene within eight seconds of the call transfer and the phone being answered.

Other police said they operate under a similar standard. Sanford Police Chief Steven Harriett said an officer is on the scene

"I have to tell how much we appreciate the business and commerce and how much you are going to do for downtown. Thank you very much," Farr said.

Racing officials and merchants are hoping the event will help make Sanford a big dot on the big map of world power boat and hydroplane racing.

Sponsors include Coca-Cola, Coca-Cola and Sunshine Network, which will be telecasting the event on May 34.

Racers who put their craft in the water yesterday said they counted on breaking records the weekend of the race.

"If we don't break records I am going to be really disappointed," said Bob Ward, who at the age of 13 was the first national championship boat racer in 1947.

Other big names at yesterday's gathering include:

- Duke Waldrop, who holds the O-Z class outboard motor boat speed record at 178 mph.
- Tom Sayward, "Rookie of the Year" was ranked second nationally in powerboat racing in 1987. He will compete in the Jersey Skiff class.

In an interview April 7, Sayward said Lake Monroe was the best racing lake he had seen since Lake Maggory in St. Petersburg.

"We are looking for this to be the premier race course to break records at," Sayward had said. "Every time they had a race at Lake Maggory, records were broken. We are expecting this to happen at Lake Monroe."

"And you better not confuse the two. These drivers take it seriously. They practically get into fights about it," Hyams said, laughing.

There will be 13 races each day.

Sponsors include: Coca-Cola, Regatta Shores on Lake Monroe, Ship's Shoes and Boots, Alrship Advertising Inc., Go Vacations and Holiday Inn.

Race officials met with local people during a get-together on Wednesday.

high while dealing with a system that is bursting at the seams — 11,000 more students than the state is funding — and short of funds. Already this week, a Florida Senate subcommittee cut $22 million from the university system's budget for the coming fiscal year, and more cuts are possible.

"We're going to hold the line on quality," Reid said. "We've worked too hard — and we've made real gains in quality the last five years — to turn back now."

UCF freshmen are required to have had a 3.0 grade-point average in high school and to have scored at least 1,000 points on the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or 24 points on the American College Test (ACT).

"Students that don't meet those criteria are deferred to a waiting list," Sheinkopf said. "We just don't have room for all those students who do not meet our standards."

He said however, the university does have to accept community college graduates who transfer to UCF as juniors.

Seminole Community College

officials had no statistics available as to the number of students who planned to enter a four year institution upon completion of their studies at SCC.

The community colleges have nearly 88,000 more students than they get state money for, many of whom will be expecting admission to state universities, said Reid.

"I don't want to get where the community colleges are," he said.

Ten years ago, some 26,000 people applied for admission as freshmen to the state universities, and 17,000 were turned away. Last year, about 49,000 applied and some 38,000 were denied admission.

Meanwhile, average entrance test scores have been going up for entering college freshmen, creating an even larger surge of applications.

"We are not alone in raising our test scores," Sheinkopf said. "Florida and Florida State are playing the same game as we."

Sheinkopf added the public is still "getting used to the fact" UCF has high standards.

"We're having to reeducate the public," he said. "They are not yet accustomed to the fact that we will not accept anything but the best."

He added that UCF has placed a high priority on the recruitment of minority students. The 1980-81 freshman class includes three National Achievement Scholars and three National Hispanic Scholars.

"Those students could go anywhere they wanted, but they chose to come to UCF, because our reputation as a good school is growing."

Sheinkopf noted many of the students placed on the UCF waiting list will enter community colleges and then transfer to the state system as juniors. Nearly three-quarters of the system's current enrollment are transfers.

general government operations.

Simon wants to use up to 80 percent of the city and county taxes — school and water management district taxes are exempt under state law — to widen SR 46, Rhinchart Road and other roadways needed to allow the estimated 40,000 cars per day to travel to the mall. Simon officials propose to sell $8.2 million in bonds to pay for the road construction, using the TIF revenues to pay them off in 14 years. The TIF will then be dissolved and the full taxes would flow to the city and county.

In light of county opposition to the plan, Eckstein says he will recommend the city allow the TIF plan to go ahead, but using only city taxes and no more than the city would pay under the Simon city-county tax proposal. The balance, about $3.1 million, will be paid by Simon, Eckstein says. Simon will be required to pay the county about $4 million in road impact fees which could be used to pay for their share, Eckstein says.

Simon officials could not be reached this morning.

Although some state officials and a TIF expert says Simon's proposal is illegal, Eckstein says courts can decide the issue if it is challenged.

The three morning checkpoints set up by the officers, mostly motorcycle patrolmen from Seminole County and the four cities, were at the intersection of Country Club Road and Frederick Road on the north side, on Old Lake Mary Road in the east, and near Country Downs on Country Club Road in the south.

The joint cooperative police effort for vehicle checks has been in operation three months, Bellare said.

Quakes rattle wide area of California

WATSONVILLE, Calif. — A swarm of earthquakes jarred California's central coast on the 84th anniversary of the Great San Francisco quake, shaking buildings and jangling nerves of residents still recovering from a major quake six months ago.

Sleeping pill label change demanded

WASHINGTON — The Food and Drug Administration should strengthen the warning label on the world's most-prescribed sleeping pill to alert consumers to "serious psychological and behavioral side effects," a health advocacy group said.

In a paper filed with the FDA, Public Citizen Health Research Group claimed the agency received an unusually high number of reports of "nervous system side effects" related to Halcion since the sleeping pill was put on the domestic market in December 1982.

Upjohn discontinued production of its strongest dosage of Halcion pills in late 1988. Company officials said they think much of the amnesia problem stems from people taking Halcion in excessive doses.

Shotgun-toting student disarmed

BRICK TOWNSHIP, N.J. — A vice principal disarmed a shotgun-wielding 15-year-old who took 23 history classmates hostage, apparently because he "doesn't want to go to school anymore," authorities said.

The youth, who was not identified because of his age, was being held at the Ocean County Juvenile Detention Center on charges of kidnapping, aggravated assault, making terroristic threats and two counts of weapons violations, said Sgt. Gary Wood, a Brick Township police officer.

WASHINGTON — The White House climate change conference concluded with a stormy final session in which U.S. officials grudgingly accepted European assertions that immediate action — not just more research — was needed on global warming.

Under strong pressure from European delegates, U.S. officials were forced Wednesday to back off earlier efforts to focus the conference on greater international cooperation on studies to resolve "uncertainties" about the science of global warming and the costs of pollution control.

Instead, the conference ended with U.S. officials, from President Bush on down, defensively denying the administration was interested only in more research.

"The climate change debate is not about research versus action," Bush told delegates in his speech closing the conference. "We've never considered research a substitute for action."

"We are committed to domestic and international policies that are environmentally aggressive, effective and efficient," Bush said. "Let us neither grieve nor quarrel but act on what we know will help."

Mitterrand, Bush head for Florida to discuss issues

By NORMAN S. SANDLER
United Press International

WASHINGTON — President Bush and French President Francois Mitterrand were bound for coral-rich waters of the Florida Keys today to focus their views on the events in Europe and the post-Cold War role of NATO.

Hanging over those long-term concerns, which Bush has taken pains to review with U.S. allies before meeting next month with Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev, was the immediacy of the conflict over Lithuania.

Responding to reports Wednesday that Moscow cut the flow of oil from the Soviet Union to the main refinery in the Baltic republic, White House spokesman Martin Fitzwater said, "We don't have any independent information. We want to see if it's true, then decide the proper course of action."

Needed for four days of diplomacy, politics and fishing in Florida, Bush held in reserve a set of threatened "appropriate responses," including a slowdown in economic relations, to any Soviet escalation of the crisis.

"Some of our bilateral commercial contacts with the Soviet Union may be more directly in their interest than in ours," Secretary of State James Baker said Wednesday on Capitol Hill. "And those contacts are being put at risk by Soviet actions — even short of force — in Lithuania."

In the absence of overt provocation by Moscow, Bush has withheld critical words and punitive actions, except a protest in the year of nerves triggered by Lithuania's March 11 declaration of independence.

Anti-price-fixing legislation wins U.S. House approval

United Press International

WASHINGTON — A bill to toughen current laws against retail price fixing won House approval despite warnings the measure faces a likely veto by President Bush.

Supporters of the bill said it was needed to prevent manufacturers from pressuring discount stores to raise prices, while opponents said it would interfere with legitimate business decisions and cause a flood of lawsuits against manufacturers.

The bill passed Wednesday on a 235-157 vote and was sent to the Senate, where a similar bill recently was approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The measure aims at so-called vertical price fixing in which manufacturers or distributors establish a minimum price for certain goods.

Congress starts budget debate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new House Democratic budget blueprint that puts Democrats on a collision course with President Bush over the size of defense spending cuts will get an immediate test of party support.

The House Budget Committee prepared to open debate today on the new, five-year spending plan introduced Wednesday by committee Chairman Leon Panetta, D-Calif., Speaker Thomas Foley, D-Wash., and other top House Democrats.

Solidarity opens crucial Congress

GDANSK, Poland — Solidarity leader Lech Walesa today called to order the union's first congress since before martial law more than eight years ago, with the future direction of the weakening Solidarity movement at stake.

The only previous congress of the independent trade union, whose rise in 1980 shook the communist world, took place three months before martial law was declared to subdue it on Dec. 13, 1981.

"With this congress, we end the underground and provisional activity" of Solidarity, which was banned for eight years, he said. "This congress, first of all, will produce a program of action. Our road was a very difficult one," he said.

A decade after its remarkable birth, Solidarity is in trouble. Its membership has slumped from 10 million in its heyday to no more than 2 million now, and many Poles say they don't really know what Solidarity represents anymore — a mass movement, a union, or a political party.

Contras, Sandinistas near cease-fire

MANAGUA, Nicaragua — Contra rebels and the Nicaraguan government were near agreement on a cease-fire and rebel disarming, which President Daniel Ortega said would affect next week's transition of power.

"This (transition) is independent of whether the civil war continues in the country or whether civil war is eradicated in the country," Ortega said Wednesday regarding his scheduled handing of power April 25 to President-elect Violeta Chamorro of the National Opposition Union, or UNO.

Germany drops border controls

BONN — East and West Germany will eliminate border controls between the two countries in time for the summer holidays, said officials discussing German unification.

20 feared dead in Panama crash

PANAMA CITY, Panama — A Panamanian airliner ran into a flock of birds and crashed into the Pacific Ocean minutes after takeoff Wednesday and 20 of the 22 people on board were missing and feared dead, authorities and the airline said.

Four of those aboard Aeroperlas Flight 451 from Contadora Island to Panama City were U.S. citizens. Aeroperlas issued a statement identifying the Americans as Anita Heck, Carl Heck, Lisa Largow and Richard Poux. Their home towns were not immediately available.

Hostage release possible

United Press International

BEIRUT, Lebanon — The White House and State Department met with caution a pro-Iranian group's statement that it would free by Friday one of three Americans it has held hostage for more than three years.

Sources told Arabic radio Wednesday that the Islamic Jihad For the Liberation of Palestine would release hostage Jesse Jonathon Turner, 42, a former mathematics teacher at Beirut University College who was kidnapped along with two other U.S. professors and a native of India on Jan. 24, 1987.

The group made the declaration in a one-page statement delivered to a Western news agency in the Moslem sector of the Lebanese capital.

"In response to an urgent appeal by the Islamic Republic of Iran to make a goodwill initiative to close this (hostage) file and in respect to Syrian efforts, we have decided to move this issue by releasing an American captive within 48 hours," the group said.

Attached to the statement was a Polaroid photograph showing a bony and haggard Turner. He had a thick, dark beard and was wearing a white T-shirt.

The Damascus-based correspondent of the Arabic-speaking Monte Carlo radio station quoted key diplomatic sources in the Syrian capital as saying late Wednesday that Turner would be freed.

"Jesse Turner will be released by his captors on Friday," the correspondent quoted a ranking diplomatic source in Damascus as saying.

The sources said the U.S. citizen would regain freedom as a result of joint Iranian-Syrian efforts aimed at freeing all foreign hostages.

Syrian Foreign Minister Farouk Al Sharaa visited Iran last month to convey a message from Syrian President Hafez Assad to his Iranian counterpart, Hashem Akbarzadeh, stressing "the necessity of closing the hostage file," the radio said in a broadcast monitored in Beirut.

Soviets cut oil supply to Lithuania

United Press International

MOSCOW — Parliament's decision to stop pumping crude oil to Lithuania was not a surprise for the Kremlin, its threat and cutting of crude oil at the country's only refinery.

"The flow of crude oil from the Masiskial oil refinery in northwest Lithuania stopped tonight at approximately 10 p.m.," a Lithuanian spokeswoman said today by telephone.

Soviet Foreign Minister Gorbachev said today that if it did not change its independence legislation, Soviet television confirmed Thursday the cutoff had occurred.

"The U.S.S.R. ministry of the oil industry reported that last night the pipelines by which oil was delivered to Lithuania from Russia was cut off," official television said in a one-line report on the midday news, the first Soviet confirmation of the cutoff.

The Lithuanian spokeswoman said Bronius Valnera, director of the refinery, was warned by telephone just moments before the cutoff that the flow of oil through a pipeline from Pabrade in the western Soviet Union would stop.

"In accordance with the resolution of the (Soviet) Council of Ministers, we are halting the pumping the crude oil to your refinery," the spokeswoman quoted the message as saying.

IN BRIEF

BASKETBALL

Sixers don't want showdown

The Philadelphia 76ers want nothing to do with the Boston Celtics come Sunday. By then, they want the Atlantic Division title sealed.

"We're definitely going in there to win and hope we clinch it," guard Hersey Hawkins said. "Hopefully, the game Sunday will mean nothing. That's what we want."

Hawkins scored a season-high 31 points Wednesday night, sending the 76ers to a 124-113 home victory over the Indiana Pacers.

One more victory by the 76ers, or one loss by Boston, would give Philadelphia its first division title since 1983.

In other games, Boston beat Orlando 133-112, Cleveland stopped New Jersey 100-93, Charlotte topped Miami 98-91, San Antonio stopped Utah 102-93, Portland nipped Phoenix 128-120 in overtime and Golden State grounded the LA Clippers 133-120.

New officers to be elected

SANFORD — The Florida Citrus Sports Association, organizers and sponsors of the Citrus Bowl, will elect its new board of directors' officers during its annual meeting tonight aboard the river ship Grand Romance.

Also, president-elect Butch Von Weller will take over as president while past president Bob Matheson will assume the duties of chairman of the board and install the 10 new directors.

Barnett Bank will present the Past Chairman Trophy to Paul Roddy, who served as chairman of the board for 1989-90 while the FCSA's Chairman, Volunteer and Rookie of the Year will be honored.

On the new board of directors are incumbents Chris Kay, Harold Livendahl, Jeff O'Hara, Chuck Ogilvie, Bill Brown, Lee Chira, Charlie Emerson, Rich Fildea and David Sutphin. Joanne Grant will also join the board, replacing John Christison.

FOOTBALL

Bucs to take McCants?

TAMPA — Once again, the Tampa Bay Buccaneers enter the NFL draft with a premium pick and no premium player to match a glaring need.

The Buccaneers are coming off their second consecutive 5-11 season and enter the fourth year of the Ray Perkins regime desperately seeking a pass rusher deluxe. No defensive lineman had more than four sacks in 1989 as Tampa Bay registered 33 sacks and yielded an average of 26 points per game.

With the fourth pick in Sunday's draft and unable to land an impact defensive lineman, Perkins may be tempted to take Alabama junior Keith McCants — if he's still on the board. McCants, recruited by Perkins to the University of Alabama, could be shifted from linebacker to defensive end in the NFL and play in front of Tampa Bay's top '89 pick, outside linebacker Broderick Thomas.

HOCKEY

Oilers blow out Kings

EDMONTON, Alberta — Flawless goaltending by Bill Ranford and a solid checking effort sparked the Edmonton Oilers Wednesday night to a 7-0 rout over the Los Angeles Kings in the first game of their Smythe Division final.

Ranford had a relatively easy night as his teammates smothered the King's top scorers with forechecking. He made 25 saves for the shutout.

Ranford came up with big saves on shots from the slot by Todd Elik and Steve Duchesne but otherwise was not severely tested.

Esa Tikkanen lead the Oiler snipers with two goals — both coming in the third period. He also shadowed Wayne Gretzky and didn't allow the Kings superstar a good scoring chance.

Blues hold off Blackhawks

CHICAGO — Rod Brind'Amour scored a pair of goals, Brett Hull notched his sixth of the playoffs and the St. Louis Blues and goaltender Vince Riendeau staved off a furious Chicago comeback Wednesday night to defeat the Blackhawks 4-3 in the opening game of the Norris Division final.

Game 2 is scheduled for Friday night at Chicago Stadium, and the best-of-seven series then shifts to St. Louis Arena for Games 3 and 4.

Riendeau, making his first start of the playoffs due to a shoulder injury to Curtis Joseph, was brilliant in the last 29 minutes, when the Blackhawks outshot the Blues 26-13. The second-year goaltender stopped a point-blank slapshot by Wayne Presley with one second left to preserve the win.

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Before the 4A-District 5 tennis tournament began, the talk was that the boys' competition would be a dogfight among four schools.

But the Lake Brantley Patriots made a shambles of that idea Wednesday, winning five of the seven championship matches to post a 28-25 team victory over Winter Park at Sanlando Park.

In the girls' half of the tournament, the Oviedo Lions finished second in their first excursion into Class 4A, losing the team title by one point to defending state titlist Winter Park 27-26. Boone finished third with 25 points.

The Lake Brantley boys won the Nos. 1, 3, 4 and 5 singles as well as the No. 1 doubles to secure a spot in next week's state championship at Hillsborough Community College in Tampa.

Jason Appel was the winner at No. 1 singles with a 6-0, 6-0 rout of Jason White of Lake Mary. Scott Ryan picked up the No. 3 singles championship with a 6-1, 6-4 victory over Reston Groesch of Dr. Phillips.

At No. 4, it was Jonathan Johnson taking the measure of Daniel Gast of Lyman 6-4, 6-3. At

No. 5, Paul Farquharson fell behind 3-0 in the first set before rolling to a 6-3, 6-1 triumph over Brian Signer of Winter Park.

The No. 1 doubles team of Appel and Steve Sigourney posted a 6-2, 6-2 victory over White and Jake Garman of Lake Mary.

"All the kids played well today," said Lake Brantley coach Frank Gooch. "But it was our depth that won it. Everyone knew Appel was going to win. But Farquharson is 22-0 and Johnson is 19-1 this season. When you get that kind of play out of your Nos. 4 and 5 players, a team can make a coach look real good."

Lake Mary finished just a point out of second with 24 points. A win over Lake Brantley at the No. 1 doubles would have given the Rams a tie for second.

"I was surprised we beat Winter Park's No. 1 team to get a shot at Lake Brantley, so we are pleased with our finish," said Lake Mary coach Mike Morton. "I'm very proud of finishing third with this team."

The other two championship matches saw Regan Poston of Winter Park win the No. 2 singles with a victory over Ryan Rogers of Lyman and the No. 2 doubles team of Wood and Barley of Winter Park defeating the duo from Boone.

Rams take advantage of snakebit Seminoles

By TONY BOSSNER
Herald Sports Editor

SANFORD — Join us now as we join Seminole High School baseball coach Mike Powers in his search for the elusive "Big Hit."

While the Seminoles are elsewhere around the county, the "Big Hit" has been conspicuously absent around Sanford, contributing to the fact that the Seminoles have lost 11 one-run games this year.

On Wednesday night at Sanford Stadium, Seminole got a glimpse of the "Big Hit" as Lake Mary used it liberally in handing the Tribe an 8-5 loss in a Seminole Athletic Conference contest.

While it seemed like the visiting Rams were able to exploit every mistake made by Seminole, the Tribe was unable to do the same. In four innings, the first two Seminoles batters reached base while in a fifth, two of the first three hitters reached base. Seminole converted on just

In comparison, Lake Mary coach Allen Tuttle and the Rams, 17-8 overall and 10-1 in the conference, now turn their attention to Friday night's conference championship game with Lake Brantley. The game is scheduled for 7 p.m. at Lake Mary.

Cardinals, Royals take Junior lead

From staff reports

SANFORD — The Knights of Columbus Cardinals and the Rotary Club Royals grabbed a share of the lead in the Sanford Recreation Department Junior Major League with wins Wednesday night at Chase Park.

Craig Merkersen threw a four-hitter as the Cardinals stopped the Moose Lodge Pirates 14-1 before the Royals shamed the Kiwanis Orioles 21-20 in a game that was called after three innings because of the two-hour time limit.

Now the Cardinals and Royals are both 3-2 while the Pirates and Orioles drop to 2-3.

In the first game, the Cardinals gave Merkersen a 5-0 lead to work with in the top of the first inning. He made it stand up, not allowing a run until Wayne Branton walked, stole two bases and came home on Bernard Embry's single in the bottom of the fifth inning.

Offensively, the Cardinals were led by Eric Ingram, who tripled, singled and scored two runs. Merkersen doubled and scored three runs, Quentin Hunt singled and scored two runs and George Beasley singled and scored one run.

Troy Brown also scored two runs while Charlie Farmer, Marty Neal, Anton Grooms and Danny Allen each scored once.

For the Pirates, Eric Roberts hit two singles while Willie Williams had one single.

In the nightcap, the Royals spotted the Orioles a 2-0 lead in the first inning, then scored 17 runs in the second inning. The Royals sent 23 batters to the plate during the rally that was highlighted by triples from John Baser, Chris Wright and Curtis Peterson.

The Orioles got five runs back in the home half of the second inning, but the Royals scored four more times in the top of the third inning to take a seemingly comfortable 21-7 lead. But the Orioles came storming back, scoring 13 times before falling just short of tying the game.

LONGWOOD — Chalk one up for good karma. Wednesday night high school baseball action at Lyman featured commanding pitching performances and just enough good fortune for the visiting Silver Hawks from Lake Howell to take home a 2-0 win.

United Press International

BOSTON — Kevin McHale scored 33 points, including 14 in the third quarter, to lead six players in double figures as the Boston Celtics defeated the Orlando Magic 133-112 Wednesday night.

The victory kept the second-place Celtics two games behind the Atlantic Division-leading Philadelphia 76ers, who won their game against the Indiana Pacers. Boston plays the Chicago Bulls Friday at home while the 76ers travel to Detroit to play the Pistons, also on Friday.

The two teams conclude the regular season Sunday against each other in Philadelphia. Should Boston come into Philadelphia a game behind the 76ers, and win Sunday, the Celtics would win the division by virtue of a better record against Philadelphia. The Celtics currently hold a 2-1 edge over the 76ers.

The Celtics were without forward Larry Bird, who had an abrasion on his buttocks lanced earlier in the day, and Dennis Johnson, who had a bruised shin. The Magic were missing Terry Catledge, Dave Corzine and Sam Vincent.

Morlon Wiley, playing in place of Vincent, led Orlando with 24 points. Reggie Theus chipped in with 22 and rookie Michael Ansley had 14.

Reggie Lewis had 20 for Boston, while Jim Paxson and Michael Smith each had 18. John Bagley and Robert Parish, who was playing with a bad back, had 11 each.

The Celtics led 36-29 after one period and 64-57 at the half.

Trailing 18-16 in the opening period, Boston scored the next 15 points to go up 31-18. Lewis had 7 points during the drive, while McHale and Parish chipped in with 3 each. Orlando, after falling behind 36-20, closed the first quarter with 9 straight points, 4 by rookie forward Michael Ansley.

The Celtics, on Bagley's bank shot off the backboard, went up 51-41 early in the second quarter. Orlando cut the margin to 3 points, 58-55, late in the quarter, but a 6-2 period-closing run by Boston, capped by a Lewis jumper with one second left, gave the Celtics a 64-57 lead at the half.

McHale's 14 third-quarter points helped the Celtics extend their lead to 10, 94-84, going into the final period.

Killer Bees finally put Wednesday title away

From staff reports

SANFORD - After being on the verge of clinching the championship in the Sanford Recreation Department Wednesday Slowpitch Softball League for four weeks, the Killer Bees finally claimed the title last night by winning the last game of the regular season.

In the earlier contest Wednesday, Harcar Aluminum Products beat the Sanford Police Benevolent Assoc. 10-9, forcing the Killer Bees into a must-win situation. And that they did, knocking off Whiskey River 9-7.

The final standings have the Killer Bees at 9-3 followed by Harcar (8-4), SPBA (8-6), Whiskey River (5-7) and RMC Corporation (2-10).

Harcar built a 10-2 lead through five innings before SPBA rallied in the last two innings, scoring five runs in the sixth frame and two more in the seventh before Harcar finally escaped with the win.

Leading the Harcar attack were Jim Arnold (home run, double, single, run scored), Brian Burke (double, two singles, two runs scored), Dee Delaney (double, single, two runs scored), Mark Steffen and Terry Roscoe (each with a double and a run scored) and Tom Nye (two singles, one run scored).

Also chipping in were Allen DeHaai and Jim Feudner (each with a single and a run scored) and John Adams and Bill Roscoe (one single each).

For SPBA, providing the offense were Tom Hastings (home run, single, two runs scored), Aaron John (home run), Kevin Reyer (two doubles, run scored), David DeRosso (single, two runs scored), Bob Fisher and Mark Nichols (each with a single and a run scored), Mitch Tindel (two singles), Robbie Skull (single) and Bill Denning (run scored).

In the nightcap, the first four Killer Bee hitters reached base and scored. The lead would reach 8-1 before Whiskey River would start chipping away with a couple runs here and there. But the closest they got was the final margin of 9-6.

Tim Weaver homered and doubled while Driscow homered, singled and scored two runs to spark the Killer Bees' attack. Ric Holt added two doubles, a single and two runs scored while Mark Reggentin doubled and scored a run.

Also chipping in were Tom George (two singles, one run scored), Tom Gillian and Frank Van Pelt (each with a single and a run scored), Keith Roark (double) and Erik Erickson and Neal Miller (one single each).

Whiskey River was paced by Johnny Haddock (two singles, two runs scored), Spencer Baggett (triple), Mike Rotundo, Jack Jenkins and Frank Staggs (each with a single and a run scored), James Gordon (two singles), Trey Braaser (one single) and Tony Haddock (one run scored).

St. John's River beats SCC in 1990 home final

By DEAN SMITH
Herald sports writer

SANFORD - Seminole Community College's home baseball season ended on a sour note Wednesday as St. John's River Community College came away with an 8-1 Mid-Florida Conference decision at Raider Field.

The loss dropped the Raiders to 10-28 overall and 5-14 in the conference. SCC plays a return match with the Vikings today when they travel to Palatka for a 3 p.m. start.

St. John's goes over .500 with the victory at 25-24 (and raises its conference record to 10-12).

The game was closer than the score indicated. In fact, if you throw out the fourth, it was a 3-1 game. But the five-run fourth was the at bat that gave the Vikings the cushion they needed to cruise to the victory.

With the score 1-0 in favor of St. John's, Charles Perdomo led off with a single to right. John Paris and Sam Browning both reached on infield hits to load the bases before back-to-back wild pitches scored Perdomo and Paris.

After Micah Kinnard walked, John Simmons singled to score Browning and Richard Rauch moved the runners up with a bunt. John Hause and Anthony Perrone both singled to score Kinnard and Simmons, respectively.

SCC's lone run came in the bottom of the fourth when Rich

Freshman right-hander Jeff Finch used a good breaking ball to keep the Raiders off balance all afternoon and ended with an eight-hitter. He struck out the side in the fifth inning and wound up with six strike outs in picking up the complete game victory.

Providing the offense for the Vikings were Paris (home run, single, two runs scored, RBI), Perrone (two singles, two RBIs), Simmons (two singles, two runs scored, RBI), Hause (two singles, run scored, RBI), Rauch (double, RBI), Browning (single, run scored) and Kinnard (run scored).

Doing the damage for SCC were Daks Rodriguez (triple, single), Parrish (double, single), Corey Coljeaki (two singles), Knizner (single, run scored) and Scott Cursi (single).

Patriots

Barnette against state-ranked teams while Oviedo ventured to DeLand and won the Volusia County Tournament. "I think it's the difference (between Oviedo and us) right now."

Both teams started out with fireworks, combining for all 15 runs in the first two innings.

Mike Verne walked, Greg Hughes singled and Brian MacInnes walked to load the bases in the first for Oviedo. Ryan Alkire knocked a Jason Varitek curveball to the warning track in left field to sacrifice in Verne and Jason Hulsh singled to drive in another run.

But Lake Brantley countered with three runs of their own.

Greg Thomas got on base on an error. After Jerrey Thurston walked, Jason Varitek singled home Thomas. Sean Burke then tripled home two runs for a 3-3 lead.

Todd Tocco slammed a towering home run to right field to regain the lead for Oviedo. B.J. Calapa scored earlier on two errors.

But the Patriots again took over the lead, exploding for seven runs in the second inning. Kevin Sims started the rally with a single against Danny Mello while Thomas finished it off with a double against Greg Twigg. In between, Lake Brantley sandwiched three hits, two walks, an error, and a sacrifice fly to ruin Oviedo's bid for an upset.

After the second inning, the relievers took over and shut down the hitters. For the Patriots, Donnie Neator shut the door on the Lions, picking up the win with three innings of relief, striking out six.

But Oviedo's John Knutson was every bit as impressive, shutting down the Patriots for three innings. He fanned the side in each of the fourth and sixth innings.

Both teams had their share of offense. For Lake Brantley, Thomas pounded out three hits while Burke had a triple and a single. Thurston hit the ball hard three times but was robbed twice by great defensive plays. For Oviedo, Calapa smacked two hits and walked while Greg Hughes singled three times in four at-bats.

"They hit the ball," said Oviedo head coach Mike Ferrall, who watched his team's record fall to 19-6 (8-3 in SAC). "We could not shut them down in the first two innings. They crushed the ball."

Oviedo travels to Lake Howell for a day game on Friday while Lake Brantley will send Brad Rigby (7-0) against Lake Mary on Friday to challenge Curt From (6-2) in a matchup of the best two pitchers in the county.

Tennis

The girls championship came down to the No. 1 doubles final, where Lausa Kimel and Dominique Behrens came back from 0-7 opening set loss to defeat Oviedo twins Jennie and Jill Wise 6-1, 6-2.

"It was really a heart-breaking loss," said Lion coach Don Gustafson. "We figured a win at No. 1 would give us at least a tie for the championship. Then Kristina Kotacov and Mimi Tran won the No. 2 doubles, which would have given us the title."

"But we got a second place trophy in our first year in Class 4A, which isn't too bad. We beat 15 other schools and we don't lose anyone off this team. We'll be ready next year."

The score in the victory by Tran and Kotacov was 6-1, 6-3 over the duo of Heather Smith and Brooke Egerton of Boone.

Kimel, the No. 9-ranked player in the nation and the defending state champion, won the No. 1 singles title with a 6-0, 6-4 triumph over Jennie Wise.

"Jennie was very nervous in that first set," said Gustafson. "She played very well in the second set to win four games against a player of Kimel's ability."

Oviedo sophomore's Kotacov and Tran won the No. 3 and No. 4 singles, respectively. Kotacov topped Traci Mutchnik of Lake Mary 6-0, 6-3 and Tran whipped Smith 6-4, 6-4. Tran's victory avenged a regular season 8-0 loss to Smith.

Egerton won the No.5 singles with a 6-1, 6-2 victory over Krista Grism of Lake Brantley.

Hawks

The Silver Hawks' second hit was just as unexpected. With two out in the fifth and a runner on second, shortstop Malcolm Cepeda lofted what should have been an inning-ending fly to center. Somehow, the ball got lost in the lights before dropping for an RBI double.

Clark, meanwhile, became stronger as the game grew longer. Although he struggled early with his control, the Lake Howell senior righted himself enough to strike out the side in the fourth inning. His dominance of the Lyman batters was so complete that the only two players to reach base by hits moved no farther than first base.

"In the first inning, I had trouble getting my curve over the plate, so I stayed with the fastball and couldn't get as many strikeouts," explained Clark. "In the later innings, my curve started working for me, and I was able to get the hitters out by keeping them off balance."

Lyman will be back in action this evening, hosting Seminole at 7 p.m. Lake Howell is off until Friday.

season. But we can't win it all if we don't win this one (against Seminole). We play them one at a time."

As trite as that may sound, the Rams did pay attention to the business at hand on Wednesday night, exploiting the wildness of Seminole starting pitcher Willie McCloud and the sore throwing arm of Tribe starting catcher Jeff Derr to score a run in the first inning.

Lake Mary stretched the lead to 4-0 in the third inning as Danny Hendricks, Neil James and Warren Woody each hit doubles. Seminole got an unearned run in the home half of the third, but Lake Mary got it back in the top of the fourth. Neil James singled in Chris Haney.

After the Rams got two more runs on a Seminole throwing error in the top of the fifth inning to go up 7-2, Mike Taylor singled in one run and Ricky Kilstein drove in two for Seminole in the sixth inning to pull the Tribe to within two runs.

After Eckstein hit his single, Tuttle brought in Scott Davidson to relieve starter Chris Jackson. Davidson retired four of the five batters he faced to record his first save of the season.

"We played good ball tonight," said Tuttle. "The pitchers did a good job."

Both Lake Mary and Seminole will be back in action tonight. Lake Mary hosts 4A-District 9 foe Lake Weir tonight while Seminole and Lyman will play in a non-conference game at Lyman. Both games are scheduled to begin at 7 p.m.

Lineage traced to Revolutionary times

Local librarian gathers information on soldiers

SANFORD — Genealogist of the Orlando Daughters of the American Revolution, (DAR) Toni Prevost, spoke about lineage and the American Revolution to the Sallie Harrison Chapter National Society DAR at the Sanford Chamber of Commerce during the April meeting last week.

Prevost said people are showing greater interest in searching for family roots.

The vast number of records kept by the DAR, especially pre-1900 information, has been invaluable, she said. The information has been coordinated from old Bibles, books, letters and deeds; birth, marriage, and death certificates; and church, cemetery, courthouse and military records. It is then put on microfilm and microfiche and made available to the public at these nearby libraries: Orlando Public Library, genealogical room; Deland Public Library, Daytona Beach Library, and the Lake Mary Mormon Church Library on Lake Emma Road. Although this is not a public library, information is made available to everyone. Prevost is the librarian at the church library. She and her volunteers will assist people with locating information about the 250,000 men who fought in the American Revolution. Prevost said 1,300 Mormon libraries exist in the United States. Inter-library loans are available. Prevost said problems exist in tracing lineage. Names are often misspelled or change. People move and traces of them vanish. Old ink and paper fades and disintegrates. Sometimes handwriting is illegible.

After Prevost spoke, Grace Parks, regent, reported on the State Conference, from which she returned with seven awards and recognitions for the Sallie Harrison Chapter.

Frances Lyon read the ritual for new member, Dolly Snyder.

Helen Rowe and Midge Lassiter were hostesses for the social hour following the meeting.

Officer blows whistle on parents

DEAR ABBY: As a police officer, my story concerns parents who use the police to threaten their children into behaving.

Recently I met my family at a restaurant for a dinner break (I was in uniform.) Seated near us was a family with two small children. The boy didn't want to eat something on his plate, so his mother said, "If you don't eat that, I'm going to have that policeman over there take you to jail, and you'll never see us again!" Abby, that child looked at me with fearful eyes, and I felt like a bystander.

Another time, my partner and I were doing fast patrol through a shopping mall. We saw a mother with a whining child. As we approached, she said the child, "See I told you that they would come for you!" This caused the child to cry harder and louder.

Teen-agers hate us as it is—we don't need the younger ones distrustful of us, also.

NO BOOBYMAN
DEAR NO BOOBYMAN: I've commented before on the importance of letting children know that the police are their friends. Parents: When a child is lost or has been harmed, that child should be able to put his trust in a policeman or policewoman.

DEAR ABBY: No one would go up to an overweight woman and say: "Gee, you're fat! You look terrible; why don't you go on a diet?"

ADVISE

Yet, people feel free to give me similarly insensitive treatment all the time. It happened again today.

You see, Abby, I am 10 pounds underweight. Since I'm short, I appear to be very thin. I am not anorexic, I am not bulimic, I am just skinny. It is no easier for me to gain weight than it is for people to lose weight. Believe me, I've tried.

I get very tired of being told I look like a skeleton and need to put on a few pounds. One person even came up to me and asked, "Why are you starving yourself? Men don't like skinny women."

People keep asking me, "Do you exercise?" (I don't.) "What do you eat?" (Everything.)

Abby, why do people comment to thin people about their weight—but wouldn't dream of making a personal comment to our overweight counterparts?

SLIM AND SATISFIED
DEAR SLIM: Overweight people have always been discriminated against. Fat people are ridiculed, while thin people are envied. A comment on a person's thinness is considered a compliment. A comment on a person's obesity is considered an insult.

DEAR ABBY: Keeping women out of combat duty has nothing to do with their ability to perform in battle. The real reason, simply put: Women are able to reproduce; men are not. As you know, in any war, the worst contingency is to have your army wiped out. If that occurs, the only chance for survival is to repopulate. Abby, it is a fact that women can reproduce only once every nine months, but men can father children virtually every day. Thus, in order to protect our ability to repopulate, we need women in far greater number than men. Remember that old "sinking ship" motto: "Women and children first"? It was a wise one. Not as a matter of chivalry, but in order to preserve the species.

DAVID BARRERE, ENGLEWOOD, COLO.

DEAR ABBY: A while back I read about the woman who will be 57 years old when she graduates from college. I know someone who can top that.

In my class at law school in Tacoma is a wonderful man, Dixon McDonald, who works as a hospital administrator during the day and attends Puget Sound Law School from 6 to 10 p.m. four nights a week. Dixon will be past 70 when he becomes a practicing lawyer. His daughter, Kimberley, is a lawyer in Seattle, and his goal is to practice law with her. Their shingle will read: "McDonald and Father." My hat is off to him!

Teaching clinic may be patient's best bet

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have abdominal pain that hasn't been diagnosed. I've been to 15 different doctors in 22 years, and two weeks ago had a gastroenterologist perform tests to no avail. One interesting thing is that after a good night's sleep, I don't have pain until two or three hours after I get up. I don't drink coffee, carbonated beverages or alcohol and don't eat fried or spicy foods.

DEAR READER: Recurring abdominal pain can be a real challenge to diagnose because so many things can go wrong in the abdomen, which contains many of the body's most complex organs. It would be only natural for you and your doctors to be frustrated that modern science has yet to identify the cause of your elusive symptom.

Without trying to second-guess your corps of doctors, I suggest you request referral to the gastroenterology clinic at a teaching hospital. You may have an unusual disease, related to disorders in intestinal movement, causing cyclic attacks of gas pockets, that can be diagnosed only by special testing. In a teaching center, the doctors can put their heads and their skills together to solve your problem.

As a last resort, depending on your age and general health, you may require an exploratory laparotomy, an operation during which surgeons open the abdominal cavity and meticulously examine the abdominal organs to arrive at a diagnosis. Of course, such an option is extreme and is performed less frequently today than in the past; new diagnostic methods, such as computed tomography (CT) scans and magnetic resonance imaging (MRI), often permit specialists to make diagnoses without resorting to surgery. In your case, I believe a university hospital is your best bet.

To give you additional information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Medical Specialists." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the

By James Jacoby
Imagine that you are a defender and are left with the five of clubs, the trump suit. The dummy is left with only one trump -- the three. Declarer is in his hand and ruffs a heart in dummy. Since you are out of hearts, it certainly seems sensible to take your trick by overruffing, or does it? Carefully examine today's deal, which the English writer Terence Reese recently wrote up for a periodical. After the artificial strong two-club opening from South, the bidding carried on until South stopped in five clubs. West played two high spades, and declarer ruffed an East threw a heart. South played ace of hearts, ruffed a heart with the club 10, came to his hand with a club, and ruffed another heart high. He then played a diamond back to his ace and ruffed one more heart, this time with the club three. If East overruffs with the club five, he will have nothing left to play but diamonds. Declarer will win the diamond king and play his two remaining high clubs to pick up West's trumps, and his last two hearts will be good. But if East simply discards on this key trick, declarer will have to play a spade from the dummy and ruff. That will fatally shorten his trumps and he will fail to make the contract. Please don't use me as an excuse for failing to win a small trump by overruffing. Just remember that there may exist a rare defense in which that is the winning play.
