Watergate Committee Member Says
Memos Show Improper, Perhaps Illegal Use of Individual and Organization Tax Return Information

WASHINGTON (AP) — Detective Anthony T. Ulasewicz probed the private lives of more than a dozen senators and other political figures in 50 separate investigations during President Nixon's first term, Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr. says.

Weicker, a member of the Senate Watergate committee, said he has obtained White House files showing the full scope of the activities of the former New York City detective, who told the panel last summer his primary mission at the White House was to probe allegations of "political dirt."

The Connecticut Republican said he also has uncovered White House memos showing the "improper and perhaps illegal use of actual tax return information, both of individuals and of organizations."

He was to testify on his findings today at a hearing convened by three Senate subcommittees investigating the extent of political spying by the federal government.

Weicker said that among the records he has obtained are memos showing the White House obtained from the Internal Revenue Service "sensitive case files" on a large number of individuals, including several prominent entertainers.

The list includes the names of Frank Sinatra and Sammy Davis Jr., both of whom endorsed the President's 1972 reelection campaign. It also includes the name of California Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Others on the list provided by Weicker are comedian Jerry Lewis, actors Peter Lawford, Richard Boone and Fred MacMurray and comedienne Lucille Ball and her husband, Gary Morton.

Weicker said he also has documents to confirm that the White House used IRS tax data "to protect friends of the White House, such as evangelist Billy Graham and actor John Wayne."

Get Rich Quick Camps Find 'Mickey' No Help

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Like their cousins in the motel business, Central Florida campground developers have glutted the market trying to cash in on the Walt Disney World bonanza. A combination of overdevelopment and the gasoline shortage has set off a round of price wars in the industry and forced some closings.

"We came here three years ago to join the Mickey Mouse bandwagon, to see if our ears could grow too," says Don Perry, owner of Lakewood Campgrounds. "We figured we'd come here and build a bigger and better campground than anybody else in the area. 'Only everybody else figured the same thing, I guess.'"

There are more than 20,000 campsites in a 30-mile radius of the Disney complex according to a recent report of the Florida Association of Camping and Trailer Parks, Inc.

The association estimates it will take ten years for business to absorb the over-supply.

"We have a terrible overbuilding of campgrounds in Central Florida so that we probably have seven campsites for every one camper — at our peak season," says Jon C. Peterson, president of the association and owner of two Yogi Berra's Jelleystone parks. Most of the campgrounds have not even half full and can't break even, Peterson says.

"We have the terrible overbuilding problem, and on top of that this gas situation hit, so that now we're running anywhere from 30 to 50 per cent behind last year," he says. "You can't take your camper along on the plane very well."

The average campground in the Disney World area is valued at $1.5 to $3 million. Some offer saunas, riding stables, go-cart tracks, miniature golf courses, steak houses, and air-conditioned game rooms.

"It was one of those get-rich-quick ideas, but economic reality has tempered that a bit," says John Phelps, owner of 334 Sun Inns KOA campsites.

To counter the dropoff in campers, one park has posted a prominent $1.49 price for the first night's stay while another advertises the first night free with a three-night stay. Spokesmen for the parks say lower prices have improved business.

Motorists Balance Budget?

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD—Traffic citations, or rather the lack of them and orders to increase their numbers, may become a focal issue in tonight's 7 p.m. city council meeting after hearing startling revelations that budget income has not reached expectations and the city faces financial woe.

The city's poor financial condition is expected to be reported to councilmen at today's 7 p.m. meeting by councilman B.H. Ferrell, chairman of the finance committee.

Sources say Mayor Eugene Jaques last week told police department officials to step up issuance of traffic citations to increase police revenues and nearly 200 traffic citations were issued to motorists during the past week.

Jaques was in conference and not available for comment today.

Police Chief Thomas Hennigan said Jaques told him last week he was receiving numerous complaints of traffic violations in the city.

Hennigan said he changed his men to different shifts last Monday and 103 traffic citations were issued in the seven day period until 8 a.m. Monday.

"I have never advocated a ticket quota system," Hennigan said. "I do not believe any police department should operate in that way."

The financial statement prepared by city accountant, Harold Hartssock, for the first five months of the fiscal year ending Feb. 28, that was releaced to councilmen show the city revenues are coming in far under the budget is anticipated levels.

While general fund receipts for the first five months total $207,783.79, including most of the property tax revenues for the year expenditures have totaled $209,760.98.

At the same time water system revenues have totaled $61,379 and expenditures total $74,326.19.

In the general fund account $55,000 was budgeted in carry-over funds from last year and $50,000 was expected in carry-over funds in the water department, but no money was actually received.

A long overdue step in the right direction . . . the Florida Board of Regents today placed 113 university programs on probation in what could be the first step toward phasing out such unpopular degree courses as Greek and Latin.

Regents Endorse College Fee Rate To Hour Basis

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — A Florida Board of Regents committee has endorsed a change in student fees which a board official says would discourage universities from inflating enrollment figures.

The change from a flat quarterly charge to a rate based on credit hours was okayed Sunday by the Regents finance committee and was scheduled for vote by the full board today.

"The committee did not take a vote on it but indicated unanimously that they agreed to the changes in the fee schedule," said Hendrix Chandler, board corporate secretary.

Also before the board meeting was a resolution to deny university facilities and support to groups which discriminate in membership as to race, color, creed, sex or national origin. Chandler said the resolution would open membership in traditionally male societies but would probably not apply to sports activities.

The change in university fees was proposed last month as a means of helping part-time students but Chandler said the new fee schedule also would make it difficult for universities to pad graduate enrollments to obtain additional state funds, a charge leveled by state lawmakers last month.

"The change would discourage efforts to pad enrollments because students would have to pay for any hours they signed up for, although we don't know that the padding is going on to the extent legislators have said," Chandler said.

Chancellor Robert Mautz said a report on enrollments would be ready by May 6.

Citrus Firm Cited For Fish Kill

A Forest City orange juice processing plant has become "the first of many this year" to be hit with a state Department of Pollution Control citation which could result in a possible $5,600 fine and costs exceeding $13,000.

More than 93,000 fish were destroyed in Pearl Lake, off 436, the weekend of March 15-17 when the Hi-Acres Concentrate Inc. waste treatment spray field discharged untreated wastes into the lake, Seminole County pollution control chief Adair charged.

Adair said the waste material lowered the oxygen content of the water so drastically that fish tried to swim into the spray field runoff itself in a desperate attempt to escape death.

Adair said today Hi-Acres has been given until April 22 to request a variety of appeal hearings, or to voluntarily comply with an April 2 state order in the case.

LANGLEY ADAIR
...Not the first

In Orlando today, department of pollution control regional officials said they received the order this morning and have not contacted Hi-Acres.

The state's order gives the company until April 22 to either abandon or repair the faulty spray field, and puts it on notice it faces a $5,000 fine for one day of violating the clean water act, plus all costs of replenishing the lake and investigating the incident.

Adair said a fish count after the spray field stopped leaking found at least 93,000 dead fish valued at more than $13,900. Unless the company contests the order, Adair said, it will have to pay for restocking the lake with fish.

While most cases in the past have been handled informally, Adair said, the seriousness of the Hi-Acres case, plus the publicity the pollution laws have received, means "there will be less requests for voluntary compliance and more enforcement."

Union Heads To Court In Arson Case

An Altamonte Springs plumber's union official charged with aiding in the Air Flow arson case is scheduled to begin trial Tuesday morning before Seminole Circuit Court Judge Robert McGregor.

David Evans, 26, 511 Hillcrest St., will be the first of two union officials to go one trial for the Sept. 19 blaze which destroyed Air Flow's 27-truck fleet.

May 22 trial date, after several postponements, has been set for union official William Beck, 55, Orlando. Beck and Evans are charged with hiring three men who subsequently pleaded no contest to arson charges and were last week sentenced to state prison terms.

Also on trial docket this week is the case of an Altamonte Springs black man who gained a mistrial March 19 because no black men or women were available for the jury.

Rotarians Host Touring Japanese Team

Members of the Rotary clubs of Lake Mary, Sanford, Oviedo, South Seminole and Deltona-DeBary gathered at The Forest Friday night to meet six members of a Japanese group study exchange team currently on a six-week tour of Florida.

The foreign visitors are from the central region of Japan's largest island, Honshu, an area visited by a Florida exchange team last year. The group study exchange program was introduced by the Rotary International Foundation to promote better understanding and friendly relations among the world's people.

Team members said the tour is successfully opening up communications and friendly personal relations between Japanese and Americans.

Following a banquet and regular club business, the team presented a slide show with recorded commentary depicting the way of life and business and industrial activities in Central Japan. Team leader Kentaro Funatani commented on Japan's economy, stressing its deep involvement with the American economy.

Other team members remarked on the vast amount of wide open spaces they had seen during the first part of their Florida tour, ranging from Tallahassee to Miami. Compared with rugged, overcrowded Japan, they said they found Florida amazingly flat, open and green.

While commenting on the hospitality and variety of interesting sights they had enjoyed, all team members concurred the highlights of their tour so far had been a visit to Walt Disney World and the few days spent in a cow camp near Tampa, where they learned horseback riding, turkey shooting, and even joined in a greased pig chase.

Foreign Policy Elevated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has elevated foreign policy into a major part of its Watergate defense, maintaining that Nixon's continuation in office is considered essential by most world leaders. This outlook was described by high White House officials following the President's return from Paris, where he attended memorial rites for late French President Georges Pompidou. Nixon's chief of staff, Alexander M. Haig Jr., said: "It was very evident that European leaders and world leaders with whom the President met continued to look to the United States and President Nixon as an essential factor in efforts to develop a structure for a stable international environment."

Senators' Lives Probed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Detective Anthony J. Ulasiewicz probed the private lives of more than a dozen senators and other political figures in 39 separate investigations during President Nixon's first term. Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr. says. Israel Seeking Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israel has asked for more U.S. strike air-to-ground missiles for use against Syrian air defenses, Pentagon sources report. This request is viewed by some military analysts as underlining the seriousness of the situation developing along the Golan Heights front. Civilian officials indicate, however, they doubt Israel will escalate the present relatively low level of shooting unless the Syrians launch a major attack.

Hypertension Traced

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — New studies on rats suggest a possible lead toward prevention and cure of "essential" hypertension, the common form of high blood pressure. "Essential" hypertension means high blood pressure of unknown cause, although prevailing theories point to changes in the autonomic nervous system and certain glandular systems. But researchers M. Sarmir Amer and Gordon R. McKinney of Mead-Johnson in Evansville, Ind., say studies on hypertensive rats show the cause may instead be traced to metabolic defects of the smooth muscle of blood vessel walls. They say their discovery may lead to a new way of treatment for high blood pressure. Currently the mainstay is treatment with a drug that simply lowers the blood pressure. In future, patients may be treated with a drug that acts on the blood vessel muscle defect to prevent high blood pressure before it occurs, the researchers said. Their remarks were prepared for delivery today at the 58th annual meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

$8 More A Week To Eat

WASHINGTON (AP) — New government figures today show that a family of four at least $43.10 per week to eat in February even if it ate rice, macaroni and served plenty of beans and potatoes. The figure was $4.10 higher than a year ago. The increase was for a scaled low-cost food budget compiled by the Agriculture Department. Although its cost went up 23 cent from February 1973, other plans for more affluent families rose proportionately less. A moderate-cost budget would have cost $59.80 per week in February, up $9.60 or 21 cent from a year earlier. And a liberal plan used by USDA was $68.60 per week, a gain of $1.20 or 20 cent from February 1973. The rationing meal plans were compiled on the basis of food quantities consumed by two parents and two school-age children. Generally, officials said, the low-cost plan relates to families with yearly incomes of $4,000 to $6,000; the moderate-cost plan to $6,000 to $10,000; and the liberal plan to $10,000 and over.

A basic difference is that lower income meals use under the USDA food plans contain less expensive meat cuts and more cereals, bread, potatoes, dry beans, poultry and fish.

Expanded Flights Sought

MIAMI (AP) — National Airlines today asked the Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to operate nonstop flights from Miami to Paris and Madrid, with service beyond Paris to Rome. NAL also proposed extending its Miami-London route to Amsterdam and Frankfurt. National said it would provide daily round-trip nonstop to Paris, continuing to Rome four days a week, and would offer three weekly nonstop between Miami and Madrid during the summer peak travel period. Amsterdam would be served three times weekly and Frankfurt four times each week. The Miami-based airline also requested permission to operate nonstop service to Europe from Houston, Atlanta, Dallas and Tampa.

Off-Shore Oil Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's top government counselor is expected to tell senators in a closed session about the impact of allowing oil and gas drilling off the East Coast.

In the private briefing today for the Senate Commerce Committee, Russell W. Peterson, chairman of the Council of Environmental Quality, was expected to report that offshore development would bring tens of thousands of new jobs into the oil areas, but would also bring serious pollution and environmental damage.

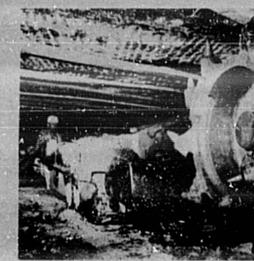

Peterson's council has described the probable effects in a year-long study due for publication April 18. A copy has been obtained by The Associated Press.

The study concluded that offshore petroleum operations could be permitted along the East Coast and the Gulf of Alaska, provided the environment is protected. But it warned that operations off the Southeastern Coast, Long Island Sound, the Jersey and Alaska would pose "high environmental risk."

The study also warned that company operations off New England and the Maryland-Delaware-New York Jersey coast: the study said.

Randolph Hearst Slips into Mexico Saying He Wants 'To Get It Together'

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif. (AP) — Saying he wants "to get it together," Randolph A. Hearst has slipped quietly away to Mexico where he will consider what to do next to win freedom for his kidnapped daughter.

A churning monster chews through a mountainside burrowing north miles below the earth's surface. Even with such sophisticated mechanical aides, mining still depends heavily on an age-old source of power — muscles (below).

Deep underground at the end of the line, a miner shovels coal for relay to mechanized carts on the surface.

Movement leader Dennis Banks said he has agreed to try contacting the terrorist Symbionese Liberation Army to arrange a reunion for the Hearsts with their daughter Patricia. "Randolph Hearst" asked me if I would begin a national appeal to the SLA with hopes of arranging a meeting between AIM, Patty and the Hearsts," Banks said in a telephone interview from St. Paul, Minn.

"The idea was to see if she could be given a three-day pass, a 24-hour pass or a week pass so she could spend some time with the family. After that she would be free to return to the SLA," he said.

Hearst, his wife, Catherine, and two of their five daughters, Virginia Bosworth, 24, and Anne Hearst, 18, departed before dawn Sunday and flew from San Francisco to La Paz, a fishing resort on the tip of Baja California, said the pilot of the jet chartered by the Hearsts.

The Hearst nephew said they would be gone four days but would return immediately pending any new developments in the case.

"Randy said to me he's gone to regroup and kind of get it together and try to find out where he can go from here," the nephew said.

A family friend insisted the Hearsts were not headed for a rendezvous with the terrorist Symbionese Liberation Army, which claimed responsibility for dragging 20-year-old Patricia Hearst screaming from her apartment 63 days ago.

In a taped message broadcast last Wednesday, Miss Hearst renounced her family and said she was joining her SLA captors as an armed comrade. The previous day, the SLA had said it would be announcing the time and place of her release within 72 hours.

In an interview Saturday, Hearst said he believed his daughter was brainwashed by her kidnappers, whom he labeled "crude people."

Sad Pilgrimage

CHEDDAR, England (AP) — A sad pilgrimage to a Swiss mountain side set out today from Cheddar, Axbridge and five other villages in the northern part of Somerset County.

The group includes many of the 40 survivors of the air crash last April 19 that left gaping holes in many Somerset families. The other 18 pilgrims lost mothers, wives or close friends when the chartered prop-jet overtook Basel airport in a blizzard and plowed into the mountain.

A total of 108 people died in the crash of the charter flight organized for a day of shopping in Basel.

Some of the pilgrims are going out to pray, others to see the mountain in spring so they can forget it in flames. Some plan to take the tea tray around Lake Lucerne that they didn't get to take the last time.

Nonwhite Blood Not Used

LONDON (AP) — A row has broken out over the refusal of the director of one of Britain's biggest blood collection centers to supply the blood of nonwhite donors for transfusions.

Dr. Dhani Preen, president of the Standing Committee of Asian Organizations in the United Kingdom, called for a government inquiry into the ban, imposed by Dr. Thomas Clegburn, medical director of the center in North London.

Clegburn, whose center is the only one of its kind in the country with the ban, denied that it was racist. He said his tests have shown that nonwhite donors are more likely to be carriers of hepatitis, a disease with a high mortality rate if transmitted through blood transfusion.

"I have figures on which it would be medically improper not to act," he said.

Khadafy Still Strongman

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP) — Khadafy's power as the country's leader.

"Khadafy is still our president, he's still our leader," a spokesman for the government news agency said.

A Western diplomat in Tripoli said: "It doesn't look like Khadafy's lost any power except heading over some functions, such as meeting and greeting dignitaries, to Jaloud."

Khadafy, who has ruled Libya since seizing power in a coup four years ago, is known to be disdainful of the protocol niceties normally required of heads of state.

He was reported in Tripoli and the capital was calm over the weekend, with no signs of unusual activity.

Doubts about Khadafy's status were raised after Egypt's official Middle East News Agency on Saturday made public a decree issued by the ruling Revolutionary Command Council.

It said Khadafy "is to devote himself to ideological and intellectual work and to the popular authorization without the commander-in-chief of the armed forces."

"According to the decree, the prime minister, Maj. Jaloud, shall be in charge of the political, administrative and routine affairs and all protocol activities, including receiving heads of state at airports and escorts and receiving ambassadors."

"Meanwhile the decree shall not affect the authorities and duties of the Revolutionary Command Council."

Usually well informed newspapers in the Middle East said Khadafy, who has threatened to resign a number of times when displeased, had been pushed aside.

Japanese Adopt 'Woids' Like 'Koolah' And 'Mudo'

EDITOR'S NOTE — Advertising men may have started it, but the Japanese have adopted the language as their own. It borrows words from English, French and German, adds an occasional "yo" or "no." To keep "up-to-date" newspapers print a daily index of new foreign words from Japanese readers.

By LEONARD PRATT TOKYO (AP) — A night baseball game is a "nitchi," an air conditioner is a "koolah," a dirty movie is a "porno" and if a girl is in the "mudo" she can go to a beauty shop and get a "perma."

The country where this language is spoken is Japan, and some people say that unless you speak English, you'll never understand modern Japanese. Slaying "up-to-date" in Japan is complicated by the firm conviction that foreign language — French, German, Spanish and above all English — are classy.

Old people complain they're unable to understand television ads, and those out of the country a few months say they have a lot of catching up to do when they get home.

One of Tokyo's major newspapers reserves space in each day's edition to explain new foreign words used in that paper. These are combined into a dictionary published at year's end. Last year it was 335 pages.

"That can get technical, with words like capital gain, 'kypylaris gen' — and syndicated loan — 'shinjikito ron.'"

"There are some people critical of the introduction of foreign words, but they are in the minority," says a Japanese linguist. "I put them roughly in two main groups: conservative elderly professors and college-educated housewives."

"Why housewives? I don't really know. Perhaps they want to show others that English words are anything but special to them, having been to a university."

"And then there are the emotional complaints in newspaper letters to the editor's columns. A middle-aged person will write in saying he ordered a hot coffee in good Japanese at a

A Little Gas Pump Au' Go-Go; Change Never Hurt Anybody

By RON WELLS Copyie News Service The rock music was blasting out of two large speakers while a shapely young girl in a form-fitting sweater and hot pants weaved her way through the line of cars.

"Sure, but it'll cost you an extra 25 cents," she said, whipping out her order form. "That'll be 74 cents."

Does Your Car Get 15 Miles Or 10 A Gallon

DETROIT (AP) — The Federal Environmental Protection Agency is planning to circulate a simplified gasoline mileage data on an easy-to-use guide for buyers of 1975-model cars.

The agency currently is the only federal office performing fuel economy tests. It has been releasing figures for the past two years on about 500 cars, often including more than one variant for the same model with varying engine and gear ratios.

Eric Stork, deputy director of the agency, says the current method of releasing the figures is too difficult for the average consumer to use.

"It's just not descriptive to the public," he says. "If I were your personnel director and handed you a phone book and told you the person you wanted to hire is listed inside, I'd probably be right, but I wouldn't be very helpful," he said.

Under a new plan still on the drawing board, Stork said similar car models with the same weight and engine size would be grouped together for convenience.

The agency's mileage tests, a byproduct of emission testing performed in its Ann Arbor laboratory, has come under constant criticism from auto executives.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Members of the Warlocks motorcycle gang, all self-styled outlaws, are trying to improve their image.

Gang members are cruising the highways hoping to help motorists in trouble. Any time they do a good deed, they hand out a card reading: "You have just been helped by an outlaw motorcyclist. When we do right no one remembers. When we do wrong no one forgets."

Frank J. Marconi, an attorney who helps Warlocks in trouble, estimated there are some 300 Warlocks between 18 and 45 years old cruising the streets in the Philadelphia area.

Deadlock Expected On Election Vote

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD—A stand-off 2-2 vote is expected for a referendum on a charter amendment to be presented today at 10 p.m. meeting today on petitions requesting a special election on a charter amendment and three advisory questions.

Council Chairman E.E. Williamson is expected to be released today from Florida Hospital South where he has been hospitalized for several weeks but is not expected to be at tonight's meeting to break the tie vote.

Councilmen B.H. Ferrell and B.L. Helms are expected to vote "no" on special elections at this time, opting instead for a December referendum at the regular city election.

Both have insisted the sewer bond question has to be decided immediately and that the city does not have time to wait for an election on the matter.

Councilmen Donald Schreiner and June Lormann are expected to attempt to call the special election immediately. It is also anticipated the city clerk will be instructed to certify the petitions.

Petitions said to contain the signatures of more than 200 persons are to be presented by Mrs. Evelyn Hart, 397 E. Main St., asking for a referendum on a charter amendment to provide a method of recalling elected officials.

Petitions will also be presented asking that citizens be permitted to vote on whether the city should spend any money on the historic district or to purchase the Bradlee-McIntyre house, on Sunday sales of alcoholic beverages and the proposed 40-year $3.27 million sewer bond issue.

The charter amendment election is requested in accordance with the state municipal home rule law which gives citizens the right to vote on amending the city charter.

It is expected the move will be on at tonight's meeting to push through acceptance of the $1,889,200 bid for the sewer collection system submitted in late February by Associated Contractors and Builders.

City Engineer William Palm at a workshop council session last week said if the bid is not accepted right away a rebid could cost the city upwards of $200,000 more.

In February Palm recommended the city hold up awarding the contract because grant funds had not been released from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency for the Altamonte Springs sewer plant and the Longwood and Altamonte Springs interceptor systems.

Longwood is to connect with the Altamonte system interceptors at SR 434 and Montgomery Road, some four miles outside Longwood's city limits. Longwood sewage is to be treated at the Altamonte plant.

The grants for both cities of more than $5 million still have not been approved by EPA. Associated Builders and Contractors in exchange for extending its bid stipulated that any increase in materials cost would be passed on to the city.

No report has been given on what the bid will be. City fiscal agent, Loomis Leedy, told the councilmen he expects to sell the $3.27 million in bonds at 6.5 per cent interest.

STUDENTS ADOPT BALD EAGLE

IVYLLWILDE SCHOOL pupils collected $235 to present Central Florida Zoological Society for sponsorship of the bald eagle. They also submitted names for the bird to be chosen by Mayor Lee Moore (right), James Cohen, student council representative from second grade, and Lenford Sutton, fourth grader, make presentation to Zoo Director Jack Hanna.

Nixon Tax Help May Be Charged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the Internal Revenue Service has indicated that the IRS still may be investigating whether the preparation of President Nixon's tax returns for recent years involved fraud.

IRS Commissioner Donald C. Alexander confirmed Sunday a White House statement that no basis had been found for bringing such a charge against Nixon personally.

But when asked if charges might be leveled against those who helped prepare the tax returns, Alexander responded during a televised interview: "I can't comment on what action the IRS and others may or may not be taking with respect to others." The White House announced last week that President Nixon would pay the full IRS-stipulated total of $432,787.13 in unpaid taxes, plus interest, for the years 1969-72.

Alexander was questioned about reports the White House had been sent information on particular tax returns. He confirmed that "certain sensitive case reports" were apparently forwarded to the White House.

But he said "there was no continuing pattern" and added that he has not sent out any such reports since becoming IRS chief.

Concerning a deduction in Nixon's 1974 income tax, Blech noted that the gift to the government of money owed for 1963 would be deductible up to 50 per cent of Nixon's adjusted gross income.

18 Men At Raiford Are Awaiting Execution Decision

RAIFORD, Fla. (AP) — At night when he can't sleep, Clifford Hallman, 23, sits in his cell on death row haunted by memories of the past. "I try to sleep until lunch because I stay up way over half the night," says Hallman, sentenced to death for killing a barmaid.

Alford, convicted in Palm Beach County of murdering a woman he denied knowing, says conversation on death row is often humorous but sometimes "directly serious because we are talking about ways to keep living."

Hallman says he likes to spend most of the day reading, preferring western novels and mysteries "but it's gotten where it really doesn't matter."

The 18 inmates on the old death row had their sentences commuted to life imprisonment after the U.S. Supreme Court ruled in June 1972 that the death penalty as then applied was unconstitutional.

In the old days, prisoners underwent sentence of death after pleading guilty to killing a man with whom he and his girlfriend lived in a mobile home at Crestview in the state's panhandle.

Few believe they will die in the electric chair, last used in Florida in 1964. But still they spend their days in 6-by-10-foot cells waiting for the courts to decide whether they will one day walk some 200 feet to an adjacent wing and down one flight of stairs where the solid oak chair known as Ole Sparky stands.

Time hangs heavy on their hands. The death row 18 can have radio but no television. Reading and reaching through the bars to play cards or games like checkers and monopoly are favorite pastimes.

The men leave their cells twice weekly for showers and occasional walks down the hall to see visitors or the dentist. The only view is of the green-barred door to the next wing and a glimpse of the sandy pinehills which surround the North Florida prison.

Eleven of the men, whose ages range from 18 to 41, have appealed to the Florida Supreme Court. An appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court is certain before any execution.

"If it (overturning his sentence) doesn't happen, I won't be upset," said Michael LaMadine. "I can't be too upset," he added, almost to himself.

LaMadine, 18, a runaway from Dallas, Tex., has been on Florida's new death row longest — since last July 25. He was allowed to use a special exercise yard each day. But the new death row inmates share a prison wing with 78 men considered escape risks and behavior problems. So they get no daily exercise.

"They bring you here, put you in a cell and forget you except for three meals a day," says Learie Alford, 28.

A prison official agrees that Alford was "just about right."

Alford, son of a Baptist minister, says he likes to write eight or 10 letters a day, occupying from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., to his wife and friends about religious organizations and their activities.

"I try to keep my mind busy instead of just sitting and thinking," Alford said, adding that he also does pushups and jumping jacks in his cell so he will get physically tired and can sleep.

Hallman says he likes to read western novels and mysteries "but it's gotten where it really doesn't matter."

The prisoners swap books that the library sends them but "one might get the books next time that I got this time and that messes the swap up," Hallman said. He and LaMadine both complained about not having enough to read.

He says he is not opposed to capital punishment in all cases but thinks it should be kept for row after being convicted Sept. 27 of fatally cutting a barmaid with broken glass in a Tampa bar.

Admitting he had problems with alcohol, Hallman says, "I hate to be locked up but I'm glad to be locked up for a while to get off it. Long enough so I won't have to have it so much."

Capital punishment is no deterrent to killing, Alford says. "Even though the Florida death penalty is back, you read every day about the same crimes going on," he adds. "You can look at the facts and you can keep the death penalty and say 'I hate this man so I'm going to kill him.'"

Milwaukee's Now Power Trounces 'No Longer' LA

By BERT ROSENTHAL, AP Sports Writer

"I felt they knew the game was over early," said Milwaukee's Jon McGlothin after the Bucks walloped Los Angeles 114-92 and eliminated the Lakers from the National Basketball Association playoffs.

It was a sad and somber observation about the once-powerful Lakers, who only last season had reached the final series before losing to the New York Knicks in five games.

Their loss to the Bucks Sunday night at Milwaukee made them the first team to be ousted from the playoffs this season, losing the scheduled best-of-seven Western Conference series 4-1. The victory moved the Bucks into the West final against the winner of the Chicago-Detroit series, tied at 2-2 following the Pistons' 102-87 triumph Sunday night.

In the other NBA playoff game Sunday, the New York Knicks edged the Capital Bul-

Knicks edged the Capital Bullets 106-106 for a 3-2 lead in their Eastern Conference semifinal series.

The other East series, between the Boston Celtics and Buffalo Braves, tied at 2-2, resumes Tuesday night at 11:30.

In the only ABA playoff game Sunday, the New York Nets trounced the Virginia Squires 116-88 for a 3-1 lead in their East Division semifinal.

The Kentucky Colonels, leading Carolina 3-0 in the other ABA East pairing, can clinch the series tonight with a victory over the beleaguered Cougars at Lexington, Ky. In the West, the Utah Stars, leading the Conquistadors 3-2, can advance to the final with a triumph at San Diego tonight, and the Indiana Pacers, with a 3-2 advantage over the Spurs, can end their series in San Antonio Wednesday night.

Milwaukee, with Kareem Abdul-Jabbar the dominant performer with 21 points and 13 rebounds, and Ron Williams contributing 23 points, overwhelmed the Lakers for the second straight game with a devastating fast break and relentless team defense.

The Bucks took charge quickly, reeling off 17 consecutive points in the first quarter for a commanding 23-6 lead.

Gal Goodrich led the Lakers with 22 points, but had only four in the first half when Milwaukee raced to a 51-27 lead.

Pistons 102, Bulls 87

Detroit got a total of 33 points from Bob Lanier and reserves Stu Lantz and George Trapp in the third period in breaking open its game against Chicago.

The Pistons, leading only 47-43 at halftime, were in front 82-63 after the third quarter during which Lanier and Trapp each hit 12 points and Lantz collected

'Bad' Henry Aaron Foiled, But He'll Be Back Tonight

By BRUCE LOWITT, AP Sports Writer

Al Downing of Los Angeles must have only one thought tumbling around in his brain: Getting past Bad Henry.

Tonight, in front of thousands of frenzied fans in Atlanta and millions more stationed in front of television sets across the nation, Downing and the Dodgers will have that goal in mind.

Henry Aaron was bad, indeed, on Sunday, striking out twice like any mortal baseball player and grounding out meekly in his only other at-bat.

Perhaps Clay Kirby's pitches were that good—or perhaps Aaron was just succumbing to the pressure of being forced to play for Atlanta Sunday against the Cincinnati Reds, a game won 3-1 by the Braves on Darrell Evans' three-run homer.

Brady called Orlando to find out if Perez could be brought in for the eighth rounder. The connection on the line must have been poor, for Davis' record came through loud and clear, but his first name got mixed-up.

Perez was more than aware of the ability of Eddie Davis, as it was "Fast" Eddie that welcomed him to the pro ranks with a three round K.O. several years ago.

When the Tampa area fighters heard of the "Fast" shuffle Perez had gotten they had only one comment: "Joe Brady strikes again."

The really sad thing is when I told Perez I thought it was Eddie, not Al that he was going to fight, he replied, "they are my friends over in Tampa, they wouldn't lie to me."

Nathaniel Gates win over improving Mike McKinney came as no surprise. I have seen Gates work in the gym and he could have a bright future before him, that is, of course, if he is allowed to fight. He is another one who has tried to get booked at the Sports Stadium with no success. His bout with "Irish" Mike was one Orlando could have had and would have loved.

On several occasions "Fast" Eddie Davis has come to the Sports Stadium looking for fights, but has gone home empty handed.

Now both Gates and Davis get the chance and knock off two of our most popular fighters. Something is wrong, somewhere. Is it possible that our matchmaker does not know who these fighters are?

The card at the Sports Stadium Wednesday figures to be twice as good as recent promotions. And it should be. The prices for tickets are almost doubled what they are normally. But they still have room left for the little man, as they have one section priced at $3.

Quarry figures to have little trouble in taking Summerhayes. The Canadian champ has yet to fight anyone with Quarry's ability and has a "Walk-In" style that young Mike should eat up. Summerhayes does not hit hard enough to take Quarry out, but Mike might stop his man on cuts around the ninth.

The semi-final will find the last two men to score wins in heavyweight main events in Orlando, Oliver Wright and Leroy Caldwell. Wright took the measure of Levi Fore last year while Caldwell was upsetting the highly touted James Helwig.

Both men have been accused of being faint of heart, but this bout could be better than the main go. They are similar in style and size, with the edge going to Wright. Caldwell could upset the apparent one again, but Wright should come home with a narrow points win.

Vic Perez was scheduled to see action but his loss to Davis might have taken care of that.

Mike Quarry is set to fight "Indian Yaku" Lopez May 16 in California. Lopez is the young prospect who retired Andy Kendall earlier this year, and if Quarry isn't careful he might get the same treatment.

A stunning upset was recorded when semi-retired Billy Douglas stashed top rated welter Zovek Barajas in two rounds. Jorge Ahumada fresh from a dismal win over Terry Lee, takes on Bossman Jones on April 22. This could be the beginning of the end for the flashy Ahumada. Vinny Curlo has signed to meet Billy Wagner in the main event in Miami on the April 16, while Dennis Riggs is in Paris, bound for an April 30 date with title contender Nessim Cohen.

'Orders' To Play Unnecessary

ATLANTA (AP) — Henry Aaron, taking in stride the controversy surrounding his quest for baseball immortality, returns to his home park tonight where playing orders from Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn won't be needed.

"Yeah, that's definite I'm going to play tomorrow," the year-old Atlanta Braves slugger said Sunday at the end of a stormy five-day stay in Cincinnati.

Aaron renews his bid to become the game's all-time home run king in Atlanta Stadium tonight in the Braves' home opener of 1974—against the Los Angeles Dodgers and left-handed pitcher Al Downing.

The soft-spoken star, playing under a direct order from Kuhn, went hitless in three trips Sunday in Atlanta's 5-3 victory over Cincinnati, leaving him tied with the legendary Babe Ruth at 71st lifetime home runs.

A sparkling scratch round from Seminoles Junior golf team ace Robert Ashby, who carded a 71-73-144, took low gross honors, while teammate Vic Richburg, a three handicapper, matched his playing partner's, 144 and earned his fifth place low net in the top flight competition.

William Cerrato, another Titusville golfer, picked up second place in the championship flight with a 147, followed by Sanford's George Phillips, Joe Smith and Richburg, coming in at 141, 143, and 144 respectively.

Joe Pavelchak's 153 scratch two-day total earned him first prize in the first flight, while Roy Whitaker carded a one-stroke win over John Day, 190-191.

Roy Murray's 89-90-179 took top position in the fourth flight's A division over Ed Uthegrove, with a 91-90-181.

Sheriff John Polk, carrying a hefty 32 handicap, enforced his position on the course in fifth flight competition, putting together a 95-61-122 score on the boards after adjustment. Tim Buckley's 128 was no match for that in the A division.

Sanford Mayor Lee Moore used all his handicap to take home the win in B division play over Warren Patrick. Moore's 34 handicap produced a 75-68-143 to Patrick's 148.

McCotter Wins Ballet Golf Tournament At Mayfair

By J RICHARDS, Sports Editor

Douglas McCotter of Titusville put together a pair of sparkling sub-par rounds of 70-68-138 to win the championship flight of the 1974 Ballet Open Golf Tournament Sunday at Sanford's Mayfair Country Club, a very successful first effort to support area dance enthusiasts.

With 165 contestants who struck in his first two appearances Sunday and then grounded out to third before leaving the game in the middle of the seventh inning.

Spurred by the prolonged controversy over his playing status, Aaron was asked if he had tried to hit a home run.

"I played the game and did the best I could," he said. "It's not easy to walk up there and hit one out. I felt good but I wasn't guessing right. I was looking for a fast ball and he (pitcher Clay Kirby) threw me all sliders."

The turmoil, which began before spring training when the Braves announced Aaron would not play in Cincinnati, built to its boiling point Saturday after Manager Eddie Mathews announced Aaron would sit out the final two games of the series.

Aaron watched Saturday's nationally televised game from the dugout. The Reds beat the Braves 7-5. Afterward came word that Kuhn wished to talk with Mathews.

"We received a message from the commissioner," said an obviously weary Mathews said in a prepared statement, that there would be serious consequences if Aaron didn't start on Sunday.

So, Mathews said he would start Aaron on Sunday.

Aaron steadfastly has refused to be drawn into the controversy personally.

At his own request, he was present at the Saturday night news conference attended by Mathews, Board Chairman Bill Bartholomew and General Manager Eddie Robinson.

A division, followed just one stroke behind by the Rev. Bill Aaron. In B division action, Andy Carraway edged Jim Harris, 176-171 to take home the top prize.

John Spolski, put together two of his best rounds ever in second flight A division competition to walk away with the honors with an 89-79-158. Nine strokes back was Seminoles Junior College golfer Larry McAdam at 168.

In B division, Gene Miller carded a 175 to top John "Whites" Ewing by three strokes.

Jim Robinson's 87-85-172 total nipped Mitch Mooney's 81-83-174 to take top honors in the third flight's A division, while Roy Whitaker carded a one-stroke win over John Day, 190-191.

Roy Murray's 89-90-179 took top position in the fourth flight's A division over Ed Uthegrove, with a 91-90-181.

Sheriff John Polk, carrying a hefty 32 handicap, enforced his position on the course in fifth flight competition, putting together a 95-61-122 score on the boards after adjustment. Tim Buckley's 128 was no match for that in the A division.

Sanford Mayor Lee Moore used all his handicap to take home the win in B division play over Warren Patrick. Moore's 34 handicap produced a 75-68-143 to Patrick's 148.

Bob Charles Will Stay And Play

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Bob Charles, once again a winner on the American tour, is busily rearranging his schedule.

"I'll have to change things around a bit," the slender, graying veteran from New Zealand said Sunday after his victory in his first since 1967 in the United States—the Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

"I'll now make two more trips to the United States this year," he said. "I'll definitely play in 15 tournaments. I'll definitely play enough to keep my card."

He hadn't planned on that.

Charles, a 38-year-old former British Open champion who abandoned the American tour a year ago, finished with a 270 total, 14 under par on the 7,021-yard Sedgefield Country Club course.

He finished one stroke ahead of Ray Floyd and Lee Trevino, tied at 271. Floyd, who lost a share of the lead with a bogey on the final hole, had a closing 67 and Trevino, gunning for a second consecutive triumph, once took a share of the lead with three straight birdies and finished with a 66.

Charles opened the final round with a one-stroke lead, but a bogey on the second hole opened the gates. Five other players shared the lead at the same time or another on the Sunday in the run down the stretch before a massive gallery of 47,253.

The left-hander birdied the 17th after a beautiful iron shot left him a five-foot putt. He holed it to go 11 under and move past Trevino, who had finished at 13 under.

"I planned on playing six tournaments on this trip, then coming back for three more," he said. Now he will play seven—he just became eligible for the Tournament of Champions—and will make two return trips.

The rules of the Tournament Players Division, the governing body for tour events, require players to compete in a minimum of 15 tournaments to retain their playing rights.

Charles had planned to surrender his after this year.

"Now I'll definitely play the 15," he said and smiled. "I want to try my American playing rights for a couple of more years."

"I planned on playing six

Professional Basketball Players' Pay 'Ridiculous'

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — "Professional basketball players are the highest paid athletes in the world," says Darrall Imhoff, who retired from the sport two years ago. "But I'll just say it wasn't that way when he joined the NBA and received a starting salary of about $12,000 a year."

Imhoff spent 12 years in the National Basketball Association and now is a businessman in Portland, where he finished his NBA career. He spoke Sunday at a special conference on the role of sports in society.

"We're so overpaid it's ridiculous," Imhoff said, adding it wasn't that way when he joined the NBA and received a starting salary of about $12,000 a year.

Competitive bidding between professional leagues drives the price up, which is why some players now get $2 million or $3 million to sign a contract, he said.

"But people who make a lot of money aren't satisfied with life," he said. "I don't buy happiness. I know. I've been in the locker rooms with these men. You haven't."

Althea Gibson, former Wimbledon and U.S. Tennis champion, called for equality of opportunity for women in sports.

A's Reggie Rapping Erny: The Ball And Pennant Talk

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer

Reggie Jackson will be able to hit in Texas again on August 6.

But if the Oakland A's could play there all the time and add one Ranger's player to their lineup, Jackson says the American League West title would nearly be wrapped up by them.

The outspoken A's outfielder said a fond farewell to Arlington Stadium with his second and third home runs of the Oakland and Texas batters in the season's 84 triumph over the Rangers.

He finished the American League baseball season's opening series with seven hits in 13 at bats, eight runs batted in, two doubles and a .538 batting average.

Jackson could well have added to those impressive statistics had Ferguson Jenkins not one-hit the A's Saturday night.

"If we had him on our staff," said Jackson, "we could all go home by Aug. 15."

In other American League games Sunday, the California Angels and Chicago White Sox were tied 4-4 after 10 innings when snow postponed their contest; the New York Yankees bombed the Cleveland Indians 7-1; the Baltimore Orioles and Detroit Tigers split a doubleheader—the Orioles won the opener 5-1 and the Tigers took the second 8-4 in 10 innings.

The Boston Red Sox at Milwaukee Brewers game was rained out, as was the Minnesota Twins-Kansas City Royals contest.

"I've never had a start like this before—ever," said Jackson, the Most Valuable Player during the 1973 regular season and World Series. "Normally, I get off slow."

Angels 4, White Sox 4

Snow began falling during the eighth inning and led to the postponement of the California-Chicago game over 10 innings of play. The entire game will be replayed at a date to be determined, but all records of Sunday's contest will be counted toward the final statistics.

The Angels had a 4-1 lead after seven innings, but Chicago scored twice in the eighth and tied it in the ninth on Ken Henderson's double and Carlos May's single.

The White Sox might have won the game in the ninth, but a perfect throw from Joe Lohoud cut down Bill Melton at the plate.

Yankees 7, Indians 1

Pat Dobson pitched a five-hitter and Thurman Munson homered to split the Yankees' triumph over the Indians.

Dobson surrendered the Cleveland run before he got anyone out in the first inning, but allowed just three hits the rest of the way.

Roy White tripled and scored on an infield out, then Munson homered to put New York in front for good.

The Yanks added a run in the fifth, made it 4-1 in the fifth, and added three runs in the eighth—two on Jim Mason's single and one on a sacrifice.

Orlones 5, Tigers 1-8

Ron Cash struck the 10th inning, which broke a 4-4 tie and Ed Brinkman added a two-run single later in the inning to help Detroit defeat the Orioles in the second game of the doubleheader.

Ross Grimsley, struck to a five-run lead in the first inning, but the Tigers scoreless until the ninth on the way to victory in the first game.

Sunday results in the National League: The New York Mets crushed the Philadelphia Phillies 9-2; the Atlanta Braves downed the Cincinnati Reds 3-0; the Los Angeles Dodgers dropped the San Diego Padres 9-2; and the San Francisco Giants clubbed the Houston Astros 8-4.

The scheduled doubleheader between the Chicago Cubs and Montreal Expos was postponed, as was the Pittsburgh Pirates-St. Louis Cardinals game.

Napping Lyman Loses To Edgewater Nine, 3-1

LONGWOOD — A three-run seventh inning caused mostly by walks, sparked a first up Edgewater team to a 3-1 victory over the Lyman Greyhounds.

Saturday giving the Longwood team its first setback in conference play.

Hits got the men on base and walks brought them home in the deadly seventh inning which saw the Greyhounds fall from the unbeaten ranks and drop one-half game out of the lead.

Winter Park moved into first place with a 9-1 mark while the Greyhounds are 8-1.

Marshall Ross was the top hitter for the Eagles as he went two for three at the plate. No Hound got more than one hit.

The game was scoreless for the next five innings until the top of the seventh when the Eagles picked up all three of their runs.

Jarvis Carder led off with a double and went to third on Robert Morales' single. Don Wash then walked to load the bases. Marshall Ross then singled, scoring Carder. On the hit Morke also tried to score but was thrown out at the plate by Clay Phillips.

Rodney Newman grounded into a fielders choice but the next two batters, Tim Sams and Don Busby wanted to score a run.

Bob Catledge was brought into the game from the bullpen, and the final run scored on a passed ball.

He sat down the first eleven Raiders in order before walking left fielder Jimmy Joiner. In the fifth, Intisio walked right fielder Terry Jones and gave Meadows a lesson in pick-off plays, nailing Jones two pitches later.

Seminole managed two runs in the sixth on Gray's lead-off hit, a groundball hit through the infield by Joiner, two walks, a sacrifice fly and a squeeze bunt. Other than that, Intisio had the Raiders in his hip pocket.

Valencia is now 6-3 in the division and Seminole 4-3.

The Matadors play a pair with division opponent Central Florida Junior College Tuesday, and round out the four games series with Seminole Thursday at Five Points Field in Sanford. Seminole is idle until Thursday.
