BRISLIN, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Britain can not defeat Germany either by military or economic weapons, Field Marshal Hermann Goering declared today.

He declared "we can hope" the conquest of Poland will be completed "fourteen days after the outbreak of war" by Sept. 14. "That is what you can expect," he said.

Goering said that the British blockade was "worthless" and that the United States would be "absorbed" by Germany.

Nazi Soldiers In

Saarland Thrust

Operations Of Allies
Are Viewed As Preliminary Cleanups

Adolf Hitler moved Germany's eastern borders up to the old 1914 frontier today behind advancing German troops that reported new gains in Poland while France said her forces had penetrated farther into western Germany.

The German high command reported its announcement that German soldiers entered France from the southwest yesterday but said nothing more of any occupation or capture of the Polish capital.

A Polish broadcaster on a Warsaw radio broadcast yesterday said the city had fallen. A later radio broadcast said air raid warnings indicating the Poles are still in control of the city.

Germany said her advance in France had penetrated the French front in the Saarland. They were understood to be seven or eight miles inside the German frontier and military observers in Paris estimated 200 square miles of German territory had been occupied.

Hitler's re-establishment of the 1914 frontier brought not only Danzig and Passau (the Polish Corridor) back into the Reich but also Upper Silesia and parts of west and east Prussia.

He did not hint, however, what plans he has for other territory taken from Poland or that was ready to fall into his grasp.

Though reporting wide advances on the eastern front, Germany remained officially quiet on all happenings along the vital western line fortifications. Western operations were still viewed as France or preliminary, despite reports without developing that the Allies are making a major thrust designed to relieve the German pressure on Poland.

French observers reported German reinforcements were being moved up, thus accomplishing a part of the French aim.

Many plans over northern Germany caused Berlin's first air raid alarm of the war but the official German news agency said the planes were driven off without dropping any bombs.

A radio message from the Dutch steamer Breidelt told of the torpedoing of another Dutch steamer, the London. Kronprins with a crew of 22 reported rescued. The location of the shiping was not given.

Soviet Russia strengthened her eastern frontier and at the same time put her foreign trade on a wartime basis, including the export of grain and other foodstuffs.

The French high command, in a statement, said it had captured the city of Saarbrücken and that the German army was still in the city.

Hitler's advance into Poland was reported to have been completed by September 14.

THE HAPPY MAN

The happiest man in the world is the common, everyday chap who makes his own living, pays his bills, has a little money as he goes along...

The Price Of Food

The price of food stuffs is already going up as a result of the war in Europe. Sugar, wheat, bacon and other meats, particularly, have been affected...

And well she might, for there is no excuse whatever for so precipitate a hike in the cost of living. Prices are going up solely because speculators and some consumers recall that they went up during the last war...

It would be a good joke on them if this time instead of rising, prices actually fell because of the war. Speculators who have bought up huge quantities of wheat at $1.00 hoping to unload later for $2.00 or $3.00 would get just what they deserve if instead the price drops to 50 cents.

And such a contingency is not beyond the realm of possibility. Because food prices went up before, it does not necessarily follow at all that they will go up this time. Whether they go up or down depends not on their trend during the last war but upon economic conditions, governmental policies, and Old Man Weather during this war.

We may know something about the economic conditions which we have to deal at present. But we are still considerably in the dark as to what governmental policies will be pursued, and we know nothing at all about the weather. In spite of the alarm and the Weather Bureau's present forecast the country is fairly staggering under surpluses of wheat, cotton, sugar, meats of all kinds, and practically every other kind of food.

Furthermore, there are similar surpluses stored up in most of the warring nations. Hitler says that he has sufficient supplies on hand to fight a ten year war if necessary. That can be taken with a grain of salt, but it is probably true that even in Germany there are considerable reserves of food and other materials.

Not until these reserves, and similar reserves in France and England are exhausted, not until this country has actually begun to replenish these reserves from our own warehouses, not until the surpluses which for years have glutted our own markets have been reduced, not until American farmers are unable to supply the demand for food at home and abroad, will there be any excuse for material price increases.

Such increases as may develop in the meantime will be due to hoarding by speculators or consumers who may be going out on a limb in their hope to profiteer.

"The Wizard Of Oz"

Coming to the Ritz this weekend is one of the best motion pictures of the year, if not of all time. "The Wizard of Oz" is good entertainment for adults; but it is a whole world of delightful enchantment for children. Don't miss it yourself, but surely don't let your children miss it.

In urging its readers to see "The Wizard of Oz" in Ocala, the Star of that city says: "No matter if you long ago ceased to believe in good fairies and cruel witches let Dorothy, the Straw Man, the Tin Man, the Lion, and the Munchkins take you along the yellow brick road to the castle of the Wizard (Frank Morgan) to you."

"There's beauty in the land of Oz, beauty and song and fun. It's a diverting, yes a wholly captivating land. Your eyes will be opened by the wonderment of it all. You will be thrilled. You will chuckle and laugh. That is, all these things will happen if you haven't become too blasé, too fed-up with the seamy realities of this life. Maybe they will happen to you whether you are blasé or not, if you forget the grouches and find an excuse to go to the Ritz. Use that old adlib if you haven't another. Go because you have to take the kiddies."

"With the exception of 'Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs' there has been no better fantasy on the screen. And we are not so sure that Walt Disney's masterpiece is more delightful fantasy than this 'Wizard of Oz.' We would have to see both of them again to make up our mind about it. And then we probably wouldn't bother about making it up. We'd just enjoy ourselves and let it go at that."

"THE HAPPY MAN in the world is the common, everyday chap who makes his own living, pays his bills, has a little money as he goes along, but doesn't strive to get a corner on the local output, and is a slave neither to ambition nor society. He loves his God and his fellow men, thinks 'there is no place like home,' the haven of rest, prefers the company of his family to that of anyone else, never has to sit up nights to poutle his conscience, believes in the doctrine of live and let live, and when he encounters one of the needy, he doesn't stammer with his pocketbook. The plain man is happy to be satisfied and does not spend the best of his life yearning for things four sizes too large for him."—Rotary, Zephyr, Sioux Falls, S. D.

PUBLIC DOPE NO. 1

Too Late To Classify

BY RUSSELL EAY

NEW YORK. It was my privilege to stand in Times Square last Saturday night as part of a surging, jostling mob that had gathered to get last minute war news. Running ribbons of light on three sides of the Times building told the tragic story.

Individual letters, formed at one corner of the building, took their places on the fast moving animated sign to form each word. Every nationality, I believe, was represented in the throng that lined the sidewalks: Poles, Jews, Irish, Germans, Lithuanians, Italians, Englishmen, Americans from the middle-west, Yankees from New England, Southerners, and perhaps a genuine New Yorker (although the average resident of the great city is seldom found in the crowds that mill around Times Square, this pastime being left largely to the yokels, made up of a floating population of a million or more from anywhere and everywhere).

It was rather a gay crowd, a curious rather than alarmed group. Now and then arguments would break out, usually in broken English, Polish, Italian or German, as passions of the individuals were stirred by the news flashed from the bulletin board. But the controversies were not heated and the crowd was generally well behaved and keenly interested.

Everywhere was color and gaiety, night spots brilliantly illuminated beckoned from a dozen directions. These conversations, with the news occupying the outer edge of the sidewalk while a constant stream of people moved in a lane closer to the buildings. Streets were jammed with honking taxis, buses and delivery trucks.

Newsboys worked their way through the crowd with "Extras" reading "Hitler Says War or My Peace." From the bits of general conversation I could gather it was evident that sympathy was decidedly with Poland and against Germany, and over and over again I heard the expression "I hope we stay out of it."

BRYAN HANKS WILL PRESTON

FORMATION OF the new law firm of Hanks & Preston to become chief counsel for the Florida Power & Light Company has been announced by Bryan Hanks, who is resigning as president of the company. He will be joined by Will Preston, head of the company's legal department, and by other members of the department. The legal department of the company will be abolished, in conformity with new procedure found satisfactory in many utility companies. Following the resignation of Hanks as president, it appeared that the board of directors will name McGregor Smith to the presidency. Smith is now vice president and general manager. Prior to coming with the Florida Power & Light Company, he was president of the Louisiana Power & Light Company.

that the friendship, harmony and good will so in evidence here, with nations standing shoulder to shoulder, presenting all that is good and worthwhile, abound on the other side of the water be massed at each others' borders, bayonet in hand and hatred in their hearts.

And the pitiful thing is that these folks we term "foreigners" because they live in a different land, speak a different language, and practice different customs are still very much like us and very much like each other. They are all human beings: friendly, courteous, peaceful and industrious.

Yet, under the leadership of a little group of selfish, willful men, the great masses of these nations can be poisoned with hate, and driven into mass murder and ultimate national ruin just through lack of plain tolerance and ordinary human understanding.

God grant that this time America will keep her head and, in the words of our President, see to it that "There is no black-out of Peace."

FLORIDA AT THE FAIR

By NINA OLIVER DEAN

The stars over Flushing Meadows have taken on a soft tropical glow the past few days because it's Florida Week at the World's Fair. Monday was "Press Day" when the Florida press met the New York Press with John Perry, president of the Western Newspaper Union and American Press Association, speaking for the Florida Press and Leo Casey replying for the World's Fair and me being very proud of both of them. Tuesday, we dedicated our Exhibit with a ray of real Florida sunshine! It was the old story of the theft of fire from heaven with Westinghouse scientist Samuel Hillen playing the part of Prometheus and capturing the sun.

Another exciting time for us was when Mary Margaret McEldrie (Martha Deane), Little Joe Hendricks, and I did a broadcast from the balcony of the Florida Exhibit with about five hundred Mary-Margaret-fans for a visible audience and I don't know how many unseen ones. The time of the broadcast coincided with Governor Whelan's luncheon for Governor Chas. at Petylow Hall and I'll always be grateful to Congressman Hendricks because he left dessert at a very grand luncheon to come and present a scroll of honor to Mary Margaret, a scroll given her by the Florida State Exhibit for the many friends she has made for our state with her word magic. Any time Mr. Hendricks want to give up his promising political career for a radio one, I believe he could do it, because Mary Margaret said she received fan letters about him from her listeners in...

I think that I believe Florida sky we have overhead in the Exhibit hall must have affected that broadcast because Mary Margaret said that they were going to plant an apple tree in her honor in the Mead Botanical Garden in Winter Park. Little Joe replied debaringly, "Why, it should be a peach tree, Miss McBride."

Mr. Hendricks dedicated our Florida Exhibit Garden, and said it made him homesick, it was so like Florida, and so did Byron Stephens' dedication of a colored boy fishing on the banks of the Sawnee river, and our Florida Exhibit toy mockingbird that sings with a credible song of the South that you can't see, moonlight and small orange blossoms. I've had so many funny adventures promoting Florida citrus. I heard about a family of Eskimos here brought to the Fair by Dave Taylor, the Arctic explorer. George Pietrot of the Fort Exposition telephoned me and said, "I have four Eskimo babies over here and do they go for orange juice?" I invited them all over to our Orange Grove, and it was odd to see the sled rubber tired drawn by six huskies with Mayuk, the papa, and Selook, the Mama and all the babies in the fur parka (Eskimo for coats) coming along under our palm trees. The babies did go for orange juice in such a big way, that the smallest, Onkoona, one year old, fell in the fountain and what do you suppose, a reporter on the Times accused me of pushing the baby in the fountain just to get the Florida Orange Grove in the paper! One day I went to the Museum of Natural History Exhibit, to see the giant panda, and there she was simply guzzling orange juice. I scurried in to see Dr. MacDonald says she plays in the fountain just to get the Florida Orange Grove in the paper! and he agreed to make photographs of Pandora drinking Florida orange juice presented by the Florida Exhibit. Pandora is a very rare animal. She's as large as a bear and has a white face like teddy bear with black exclamation points for eyes. She came from China and has oriental charm. Norman Belle Geddes, who was the artist for General Motors thrilling futurama, says Pandora is the best show at the Fair. Everybody likes to watch her play. She climbs trees backwards and does all sorts of funny things. Dr. MacDonald says she plays with "controlled abandon," whatever that is. I suppose it's Scotch for abandon.

DeLand Smashes Sanford Lookouts With 19 To 3 Score

Locals Use Five Pitchers As Haefner Displays Mastery

Final Game Of Series To Be Played Here Tomorrow At 3:00 O'clock; Frank Hudson To Toss

DeLand's Mickey Haefner proved his greatness last night by luming Sanford for the second time in the Shaughnessy playoff series to the tune of a 19 to 3 score that looked more like the result of a football than a baseball game.

The victory sent the Reds into a tie with the Lookouts for the series, each club having won two games. The final game of the series will be played here tomorrow afternoon at 3:00 o'clock with Frank Hudson on the mound for the Lookouts. The winner will play Daytona Beach in a four out of seven games series for the right to engage the victors in the Georgia Florida league.

Dizzy Dean started on the mound for the Lookouts but before he got warmed up good three runs had been scored on three hits and a walk. Joe Pinder relieved but fared little better. Then Sid Hudson went in and lasted till the seventh when Bill Robinson, rookie hurler took over. Finally in the ninth Alexander went in while Robinson took his place at first.

The Lookouts were routed from the first inning when DeLand scored six runs. However for the next four innings the Reds could do little with Hudson's pitching and it seemed as though Alexander's boys might have a chance inasmuch as they had shown evidence of an offensive themselves although the best they had done was to get one run in the second. But in the sixth, the Reds again got hot at the plate and pushed two runs across.

They continued the onslaught with increased intensity in the seventh when they scored five runs off two hits and five consecutive walks. The offensive didn't stop there as the McShane-men raved a field day of it and scored six more runs in the eighth. Meanwhile, Sanford had put forth futile efforts to match the Red offensive. But all they could do was get one run in the seventh and one in the ninth to make the total score 19 to 3.

DeLand collected 17 hits while Sanford got 14. The full story isn't told in the score. Sanford was outplayed from start to finish in almost every department of play and members of the team seemed unable to coordinate their efforts. On top of all that, DeLand secured several hits of the scorching or freak variety that seemed to take the heart of the Lookout players.

Manager Dale Alexander promised a different story tomorrow afternoon. He plans to use Frank Hudson and hold the interlopers

Tommy West Sets New Batting Mark With .382 Average

Whitey Campbell Ties Hudson's 1938 Record Of 35 Sacrifices

Rookie Tater Marion Ends Season With Fine .334 Average And Is Second In Stolen Bases With 43

ORLANDO, Sept. 9. — Staggering all previous records in the four-year history of the Class D Florida State League, Daytona Beach's popular catcher-manager, Tommy West, won the top's 1939 batting crown with a brilliant .382, it was revealed in final and official averages released here today by League Secretary Peter Schol of Winter Haven.

The burly Daytonian was 236 points ahead of his nearest rival, Al Smithers of DeLand, winning honors that label him with Andrew, the 1935 champion who had a .350 for top honors, as among the league's greatest sluggers.

West not only won the batting crown but was second in runs scored with 119, three short of Ellis Clary's 1937 record of 112 with Sanford. West also was tied with Smithers with 125 hits, seven short of the 1937 record of 193 secured by Dick Adair, batting champion of that day.

Finally, West and his sensational veteran outfielder, Smathers, jointly established a brand new record of 255 total bases, 12 better than Whitey McMullen's 1938 mark of 243 with Gainesville.

Two other players, Bill Babe and Joe Nielsen of Daytona, also smashed McMullen's total base record, each coming up with 245 for the season.

And, in one of the most brilliant performances in the league's history, Babe, just 18 years of age, put on a magnificent one-man show that earned him a handful of honors.

In 123 games, Babe scored 123 runs to lead in that department, broke the old record of 119 triples in a season by getting 23, and broke the old record for total bases, including in the 134 hits he secured in 193, ten to the play were 18 doubles, 23 triples and ten home runs, the counter also tying the old record for home runs in a season.

Nielson's part in Daytona's great season was highlighted by a new record for two base hits—45, and a brand new home run record of 19. He got 119 hits, 45 of them doubles, nine triples, and 11 homers, for a total of 215 bases. In addition, Nielson broke

Just One More Chalk

Sanford looked Thursday night more like the early season club that wilted the all-stars July 11 than at any other time since that date; this in spite of the fact that Alexander's boys scored only one run. But the point is that the team was playing poorly and every man was on his toes. Many of the blows that bounced off the Lookout war club's armor would have gone for hits but it didn't look like for the DeLand team that they were also playing heads up ball. What happened to the Lookouts last night is one of those inexplicable things in the world of sports that make baseball the game it is.

Sanford always won when it was supposed to; if Sanford always won by a large margin, if Sanford's pitchers never gave up more than a specified number of runs, if the other teams never had a chance to reverse the situation, then nobody would want to see a game of baseball.

From the remarkably excellent ball the Lookouts played Thursday night to the pitiful exhibition last night, the far cry looks like the records of almost any great major league club. Draw an analogy between the two last games and champion DeLand's first fight with Maxie Schenkel, in which Dave Patterson, the Boston Bomber hitler and you for 12 rounds and then knocked him kicking on the canvas for the knees we realize that any team may get whipped at times and badly. But in the make of the champion to come back after a stunning defeat and within the opponent. Tomorrow afternoon's game should find Sanford fanned so tightly in the park that a radio would feel at home. If local fans don't support the team tomorrow, both with their presence and vocal encouragement, they don't deserve to win. Now is the time to slack, now is the time to show the boys your real feelings.

Sanford Theater News for the Coming Week

"Wizard Of Oz" Will Be At Ritz Sunday, Monday

Presenting what is heralded as the most ideal combination of color, music, dancing, spectacle, pageantry, laughs and thrills, "The Wizard of Oz," filmization of the celebrated fantasy by L. Frank Baum, comes Sunday and Monday to the Ritz Theatre as the most sensational musical treat to come out of the annals of Hollywood screen entertainment.

While natural color has long been held to be useful in many types of pictures, "The Wizard of Oz" is declared the first to make use of Technicolor on a sound psychological basis.

The story of Dorothy opens on a Kansas farm. This part of the picture is done in black and white photography with a new form of tint on the film. But when Dorothy goes to the imaginary Land of Oz, carried there by a cyclone, the picture becomes all color and remains in Technicolor until she returns home.

The story is the same as written by L. Frank Baum. In Oz, Dorothy meets a Scarecrow, the Woodman and Cowardly Lion and they go to see the Wizard to get brains for the Scarecrow, a heart for the Woodman and courage for the Lion. After many thrilling adventures they all find they had what they wanted all the time.

In the cast are Judy Garland, Frank Morgan, Ray Bolger, Bert Lahr, Jack Haley, Billie Burke, Margaret Hamilton, Charley Grapewin, Pat Walsh, Cliff Blandick, a little dog named Toto and ten thousand of the amazing people of Oz.

The picture was directed by Victor Fleming, who directed "Captains Courageous" and "Tad Tilt." It was produced by Mervyn LeRoy who filmed "Tugboat Annie," "Ashes and Diamonds" and "Little Caesar," among other hits.

DUKE WON'T GO LONDON, Sept. 5.—(AP)—The Duke of Kent and his wife, the former Princess Marina, will not go to Australia when the Duke is Governor-General. It was announced last night. The Duke has joined the Navy.

JANE WITHERS and that carefree Carillo follow appear as partners in the famed story of open road, "Chicken Wagon Family" coming to the Ritz next Friday and Saturday.

A NEW chaotic star in the person of Gordon Elliott streaks out of the west to take his place with other popular action stars. Here he is with Dorothy Collier as they appear next Friday and Saturday at the Ritz Theatre in "IN EARLY ARIZONA."

PROGRAM FOR WEEK OF SEPT. 10 AT THE RITZ

Sunday and Monday, September 10 and 11—"WIZARD OF OZ" with a special cast. Also "MARINE CIRCUS" made at Marineland, St. Augustine and Donald Duck cartoon and news.

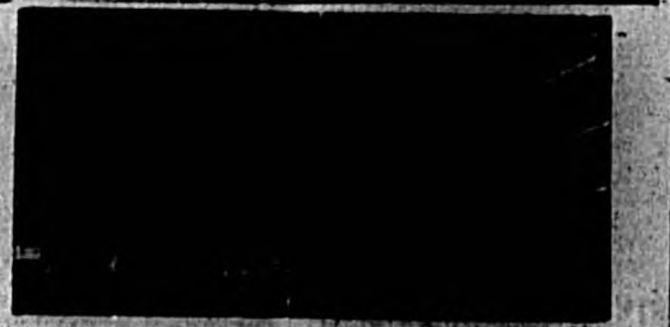

Tuesday, September 12—"SAINT IN LONDON" with George Sanders and "NEWS IS MADE AT NIGHT" with Preston Foster.

Wednesday and Thursday, September 13 and 14—Elsa Maxwell's "HOTEL FOR WOMEN" with Ann Sothern and Linda Darnay. Also selected shorts.

Friday and Saturday, September 15 and 16—"IN EARLY ARIZONA" with Gordon Elliott and "CHICKEN WAGON FAMILY" with Jane Withers and Leo Carrillo.

"I'M ELSA MAXWELL I GIVE PARTIES!"—But no party Elsa ever threw was half as much fun as her first movie, Elsa Maxwell's "Hotel For Women," Cosmopolitan production for 20th Century-Fox which will be shown Wednesday & Thursday at the Ritz Theatre.

Elsa Maxwell Appears At Ritz In First Movie

"Take the light things seriously and the serious things lightly."

There, in a nutshell, is the philosophy of Elsa Maxwell, one of the most successful and most amusing women the world has ever known.

It is also, perhaps, the secret, if there is any secret, of her truly sensational rise from a plump, plain (she herself is the first to discount all claims to physical pulchritude) and penniless Keokuk, Iowa, maiden to an international figure who enjoys the confidence of kings.

Her press clipping would make a Hollywood glamor girl turn green with envy. Her hair is done by the smartest French coiffeur. Her clothes are designed by a leading Paris modiste.

She is famous as the most original, most popular and most extravagant—hostess in the world.

A list of her friends would make a combined copy of the Social Register and Burke's Peerage look like the year book of a jerkwater college.

The unique and highly enviable international position enjoyed by the Elsa Maxwell is, in a degree, the result of a legacy.

In her first motion picture, Elsa Maxwell's "Hotel For Women," which will play here next Wednesday and Thursday at the Ritz Theatre, Elsa reveals this unusual bequest.

This Cosmopolitan production casts her as the big-hearted, carefree and friend of a world of girls on their own in the big city, on the make for fame—and love.

To one of these, on the brink of life and full of fear, Elsa confides: "Let me tell you what my father told me, when I was your age. I was called to his bedside when he died, shortly after the San Francisco earthquake. He said: 'Elsa, I haven't anything to leave you except a philosophy of living—but if you stick to it, nothing is going to keep you back.'"

Shown here is a scene from "News Is Made At Night," stirring melodrama—featuring Preston Foster, Lyn Bari, Russell Gleason, George Barbier and Betty Cooper, to be shown Tuesday at the Ritz Theatre.

Over 100,000 numbers of tanks were used in the encirclement, the army was followed by new tanks and large fleets of bombing planes played an active role in blasting the Germans out of their positions.

The tanks smashed into German positions on the western shore of Mount Saint Armand and threw up barbed wire entanglements.

No protests were voiced and the French army, which had been ordered to move into Germany and near Luxembourg to the east and Sarrelouis to the west.

The effects of the German submarine campaign will, however, decline rapidly as soon as a full convoy system is introduced and the German submarines at present on the high seas run out of supplies.

Another communiqué said that contraband bases had been established at Kirkwall, Weymouth, the Downs, Gibraltar, and Haifa and urged all vessels bound for Germany to call voluntarily at one of these bases for examination.

"If they do so and it is established that they carry no contraband they may be given a pass to facilitate their onward journey," the communiqué said.

Vessels which do not call voluntarily will be liable to be diverted to a base in cases where adequate search at sea is not practicable.

The communiqué said that although the name "blockade" is often used as a convenient way of describing economic warfare based on belligerent rights at sea, the blockade of Germany in the present sense of that term has been declared.

The ministry of information also gave an explanation of the admiralty's announcement that "it will not always be desirable to publish news of the destruction of enemy submarines."

"This is partly because, as was discovered during the last war, the moral effect of crew disappearance from the most recent losses is counterproductive. It is counterproductive because the crew is not known by the enemy and the loss of the crew is not known by the enemy."

BITTER STRUGGLE RAGES FOR WARSAW

Germans Wait For Poles To Raise Surrender Flag

"That Will Assure Sensible and Decent Peace," Informant in Berlin States

Warsaw Attack Is Continued Nazi Imply Poles Can Get Better Terms If War Is Stopped

BERLIN, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Germany is waiting for Poland to "raise the white flag of surrender," an authoritative Berlin source said today. "That will ensure a sensible and decent peace," the informant asserted but added that meanwhile Germany had but one task in the east: "Let arms speak and break the resistance of the Polish army. When asked what kind of peace Germany might offer Poland, the informant said that depended "on many inponderables." The German spokesman pointed out that by terms of a treaty of mutual aid with Britain, Poland cannot make peace alone. She must consult London and Paris. "When such consultation was that Poland could not expect terms of western powers were willing to call off the war on all fronts."

William Shelley Dies Following 3 Month's Illness

Engineer Had Served Atlantic Coast Line Railway 55 Years

William Francis Shelley, 73, died at his home at 319 Elliot Avenue at 12:45 today after a serious illness of three months. Born Feb. 24, 1867 at Palatka, Mr. Shelley was a pioneer resident of Sanford and was one of the early employees of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad in years of service, having completed his 55th year. From waterboy to road foreman, he has a record of the penetration of the railroad through the Florida swamps, connecting it with the Florida Southern Railroad. He entered railroad employment at Palatka on Oct. 1, 1881 as waterboy during the construction of the shops (there by the out that by terms of a treaty of mutual aid with Britain, Poland cannot make peace alone. She must consult London and Paris. "When such consultation was that Poland could not expect terms of western powers were willing to call off the war on all fronts."

French Attack Three German Border Towns

Offensive Points 8 Miles Into Saar; Drive-Led By Tanks, Machine Gun Units

PARIS, Sept. 11.—(AP)—A French offensive is in progress against three German towns lying directly along Germany's Siegfried Line of fortifications on the right flank of the Allied drive into the Saar Basin, it was reported early today. The offensive, pointing eight miles deep into German territory east of Saarbrücken in the center of the northern 90-mile front, was said to have forced all German civilians to evacuate the towns of Döhrbrücken, Hieskastel and Temmes. The French drive was led by tanks, followed by mobile machine gun units, in a mopping up of the territory lying in front of the German fortifications. Highly trained shock troops of Germany's Siegfried Line operating under a heavy curtain of fire from their own forts, launched a series of night raids for the second time on newly captured Döhrbrücken in the German Saarland last night and early today.

READY FOR THE BELL

The above scene was no doubt re-enacted in many Seminole County homes as mothers got their children ready for the opening day of school. The vacations of an estimated 5,000 students were abruptly brought to a close as the bells rang marking the beginning of another school year.

Poles Report Invaders Forced To Retreat Following Bloody Fighting

French Make New Saarland Gains

Allies Hold Attacking Germans At Bay By Use Of Bayonets

The Poles today broadcast an assertion that after four days of bloody fighting they had forced the German invaders to retreat from some Warsaw suburbs. On Friday a swift German motorized column reached Warsaw from the southwest. Since then the Poles have battled desperately against an enemy at the gates of their capital. While the battle for Warsaw went on, German and French armies saw-sawed inconclusively on the Western Front. For the first time the German army high command admitted a "great battle" was in progress. A communique said this was nearing its climax, the destruction of Polish army west of the Vistula River, and reported other German gains against the "doggedly defending" Poles. Budapest dispatches said planes, tanks and artillery were being massed for a quick drive on Lwow, in southeast Poland, to cut communications to Rumania, Poland's only possible lifeline for help from the outside. On the Western Front, steadily-strengthened French and German forces struck at opposite ends of a 100-mile sector between the Rhine and Moselle Rivers. The French reported that the front was generally quiet but that they had scored one "local advance." This was on the eastern end of the Saar Basin line where the first French advances were made. The French were said to be holding off the German counter-attacks with bayonets. Germany said French artillery was firing on the Saar Basin airfields which the Germans had abandoned previously and declared three French planes had been downed. She reported that the German aircraft had been perfectly protected against attacks with high explosive shells. French aerial units reported German movements were being followed by French and communication lines. Many observers believed that the French had been deluged with the heaviest German assault packed terrific force. Military experts said the moment was critical and that much depended on how the army had withstood the shock of the Polish air force was believed to have saved the bulk of its mechanical equipment. The Polish general staff said the Germans were continuing relentless attacks around Warsaw. "If our tanks were reported destroyed yesterday, a similar attack seemed in store for Lwow, the capital of the Polish Ukraine and Poles redoubled their defense measures already started. Britain intensified her naval and economic warfare against Germany after having lost 12 merchantmen during the first eight days of the war. "Aerial toll in the Baltic Sea operations, Germany reported her land and sea forces cooperating in a campaign to take Gdynia, Poland's only seaport. Gdynia already is cut off from the rest of Poland but its capture would wipe out the last resistance in the north. The German army's announcement of fighting on the Western Front was a blow to popular hopes in Germany that peace might yet be negotiated with France. It appeared in Berlin that German propaganda efforts still were being directed toward telling the French not to take the war too seriously and in trying to weaken the British-French alliance in the same way London and Paris hope to persuade Italy from helping Germany.

Submarine Menace Is Felt By U. S. Shipping Circles

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The menace of submarine attacks was felt on American shores with double force yesterday. For the first time since the European war began, a week ago yesterday, not a single transatlantic liner arrived or departed—due mainly to the U-boat scourge. Simultaneously, restrictions were clamped down even on American ships. With ocean traffic lanes becoming less and less frequented, the liner vessels to venture forth today will be the American Seacraft liner, bound for Copenhagen. Line officials said they had received assurances of a British warship convoy through the British minefields in the North Sea. It became apparent, meanwhile, in the British ministry of information, that German U-boats were roving "at will" that they were heretofore would around the sailings and arrivals of ships. Shipping men here have been informed that schedules for British and French ships no longer would be made known. Even the United States lines imposed war-time restrictions. Visitors and newspapermen, ordinarily given the run of pier and ship, hereafter may visit piers and vessels only on arrival and for a short period before sailing.

Seminole Drivers Commended For Their Patience

Appreciation for the courtesy shown by Seminole County motorists in obtaining their driver's licenses was expressed today by County Judge R. W. Ware who reported that, to date, approximately 1,500 of the licenses have been issued. Pointing out that it requires considerable time to obtain the necessary information for filling out the application, the County Judge stated that those who have had to stand in line to await their turn have shown the utmost patience. Drivers in this county have until June 1 to obtain the required license. It has been estimated that there are approximately 6,000 motorists who must buy licenses.

FSA Reports Help Rendered To 52 Florida Farmers In 2 Years

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The Farm Security Administration reported today it helped 52 Florida tenants buy farms during the first two years under the blanket-Jones act. The two-year period ended June 30. At the same time the farm credit administration reported it had helped finance 97 Florida farm purchases in the first six months of this year. The Farm Security Administration's program, financed by congressional appropriation, applies only to tenants, sharecroppers and farm laborers wishing to become farm owners. The farm credit administration engages in general financing of farm purchases. It derives its funds from public sale of bonds. FSA tenant loans in Florida during the two-year period aggregated $216,844 and average $4,181. The average size of the farm purchased was 144 acres. During the year ended June 30 the FSA farm tenant loans in Florida totaled $155,449 and aggregated $216,844 and average size of the farm purchased was 144 acres. In its nation-wide operations during the two-year period, the FSA made 6,181 loans aggregating $33,339,564, an average of $5,394, for farm purchases. Average farm sizes ranged from 43 acres in California to 820 acres in South Dakota. The general average was 134 acres. First-year borrowers spent $1,824,125, or about 18 percent of their loans, for improvements to the farms they bought. Second-year borrowers spent $8,778,368, or about 24 percent of their loans, for improvements.

More British Ships Are Sunk By Nazi Subs Over Weekend

LONDON, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The Ministry of Information announced early today that four more British ships have been sunk by German submarines in the three days reported Sunday. They were Regent Tiger, whose crew previously had been reported picked up by a Belgian ship, the Goodwin, the Rio Claro, and the Magdagar. The Regent Tiger, a 6,611-ton steamer, was sunk "with some casualties." No further details were given. Of the sinking of the Goodwin, a 1,570-ton steamer owned by the Clyde Shipping Company, it said only that the crew of 21 was "saved." The Admiralty confirmed previous reports from Horta that the Rio Claro, a 4,040-ton ship, had been torpedoed off the Azores. The Dutch ship Stadius, a 10,000-ton steamer, was reported sunk off the coast of the British Isles. The Ministry said that it was sunk last Friday. Eight passengers were saved by a Belgian ship, he announced said. The Admiralty said that the British Navy had engaged in "operations" against submarines, "probably some of which were successful." It announced that the Dutch, to protect their neutrality, had mined the area between the North Sea Islands and the Dutch Coast.

Circus Man Talks To Rotarians At Weekly Luncheon

Bradshaw Commended In Resolution For Lookout's Success

Rodney Harris, a resident of Longwood who for more than 20 years has been connected with the circus business, described the operation of circuses and explained some of their present-day problems to the Rotarians at their regular weekly luncheon today. A resolution commending Bradshaw's show for the fine work of the Sanford Lookouts, of which he is the owner, and thanking him for the splendid publicity which their successes have brought this city, was formally adopted. Calling attention to a recent article in the Sporting News at St. Louis, Mo., relating the sale of St. Hubson and Derry Dean to the Washington Senators, the resolution declared that the lookouts in numerous instances have been the occasion of advertising given work. "Declaring that the circus has come upon evil days of late, Mr. Harris declared that not a single circus which was on the road all of last summer made any money. The general depression, competing forms of entertainment, and a 65 percent increase in costs were declared as responsible for this condition. "Most of the former practices of circus managers and agents which did not conform to good principles, have been abandoned, Mr. Harris stated, declaring that short-changing of the public, once more or less common with ticket agents, has been almost completely done away with. "Elephants, Mr. Harris said, are by far the most intelligent of all the animals found around circuses, but they are also the most dangerous, he added. More circus people are injured every year by elephants than by any other animals, he said. Mr. Harris went on to explain the work of the general manager, the press agents, the "24-hour man," the box canvasser, the train master, the general office force, the menagerie superintendent, the usters, hand messengers, property men, the boss booker, the legal agent or "fixer" as he is sometimes called. Visitors at today's luncheon included: Al McConkey, Nixon Butt, Jack Bradshaw, James Baskin, M. H. Lane, and H. H. Cloud of Orlando.

Hospital Plans Are Returned To County Officials

Study Of Local Projects Is Officially Suspended

The public Works Administration officially suspended further consideration of Seminole County's $127,000 hospital project with the return today of the project proposal to the Board of County Commissioners, which postponed the project. Officials of the PWA had previously notified on August 24 that no further consideration would be given projects which were submitted but for which no funds were available under the provisions of the 1938 act setting aside the fund for public works projects. The hospital project was never given official approval by the PWA but was reserved for study during the last session of Congress when the question of a new appropriation by continuing public works projects was discussed. The City also submitted a PWA project for the construction of a pipeline from the city walls to the pumping station. The project was given PWA approval but not before the funds in the 1938 appropriation had been expended and further consideration of this project has also been suspended. Meanwhile the City is making an attempt to finance this work by borrowing sufficient funds from local banks.

Deadline Passes For Filing 1940 AAA Work Sheets

With the passing of the deadline Saturday for filing work sheets under the 1940 Soil Conservation program of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, County Agent T. H. Dawson said today that the Seminole County Soil Conservation Committee would begin work immediately on the establishment of farm goals. Pointing out that nearly all who participated in the program last year, had again filled work sheets for participation in the 1940 program, Mr. Dawson also reported that there were a number of growers who filed work sheets for the first time this year. Celery growers who filed work sheets under the soil conservation program are also eligible to receive payments for compliance with the goal set on the celery farms. The County Agent reported that a large percentage of these growers have filled their work sheets in order to take advantage of the payments offered under the provision of the program. These payments total approximately $50 per acre for the celery left out.

President To Summon Congress To Revise Neutrality Statute

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 11.—(AP)—President Roosevelt was described as high authority yesterday as having decided to summon Congress this week to a special session. The date when the legislators will be called back to the capital, particularly to revise the neutrality law, has not yet been picked. Some observers, though, the session might be called later this week and that Mr. Roosevelt would give the legislators another week in which to reach the statute. That would make the date early in October. The President left no doubt of his own confidence in Washington Friday that it was not a question of whether the statute would be amended but whether one of whom Congress would be brought back to work. The administration hopes to limit legislation for the session to revamping for Neutrality Act and, primarily, to the deletion of its arms embargo provision. The President has indicated that he feels the law as it now stands with its ban on exports of arms, ammunition and implements of war to belligerent nations, is unworkable. The sources which disclosed that Mr. Roosevelt had made up his mind about a special session estimated that the call had been delayed because of fears that "seditionists" in the Senate would filibuster to block repeal of the embargo statute. There had been some talk of attempting to persuade the Senate to pass a bill.
