

Annulment Of Marriage Of Duke To Vanderbilt Heiress Subject Of Much Comment

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Annulment of the marriage of the Duke of Marlborough to Consuelo Vanderbilt by the Roman Catholic diocesan court at Southwark, England, and confirmation of this decree by the Holy Rota Tribunal in Rome caused considerable comment in church circles in New York today.

The Duke of Marlborough and Miss Vanderbilt were married in St. Thomas' Episcopal church in New York in November 1895. They had been confirmed and baptized in the Episcopal faith. The Duchess divorced Marlborough in an English civil court in 1920.

Both were married again, the Duchess to Jacques Balsan, of Paris, and the latter to Miss Gladys Deacon of Boston. When the Duke and Miss Deacon were married in Paris in 1921 a Presbyterian officiated. He read the Church of England service but left out the word "obey."

The Duke in making his plea for annulment said he desired to embrace the Catholic faith. Bishop Manning, of the Episcopal diocese, in New York, said:

"It seems incredible to me that the Roman Catholic Church, which takes so strong a position against divorce, should show such declaration in favor of the Duke of Marlborough, who, because of the circumstances of his divorce and remarriage, was barred by the present Episcopal bishop of Oxford, England, from attending the Oxford diocesan conference in 1922."

"It would be a serious thing indeed, and most dangerous in its implications, if the Roman Catholic Church should claim the right to annul the marriage such as this, which was entered into in entire good faith, which resulted in the birth of two children and which was accepted as binding by both parties to it for many years."

On the other hand, Monsignor Lavelle, rector of St. Patrick's Cathedral, referred to the statement of an unidentified Roman Catholic authority in England that "nothing more can be done for a Duke than for a tramp so far as the Catholic Church is concerned."

Monsignor Lavelle said the church did not do the sort of thing the Duke desired unless there was really just cause.

"There is no favoring," the Monsignor added, "What the reasons were for granting the decree I do not know, but we can be perfectly satisfied they were reasons found to be within the law."

The Duke has been attending the Roman Catholic Church in Oxford. If the Duke were receiving instruction preparatory to being received into the church, the Monsignor said, the church would have authority to pass on the validity of the marriage.

JOE CANNON IS EULOGIZED FOR PUBLIC CAREER

Scores of Tributes Pour Into Little Brown Mansion at Danville Where Body Lies Until Burial Next Monday

Career Goes Back to 'The Time of Lincoln'

Illinois Statesman Entered Congress in 1873, Serving Until Retirement in 1923

DANVILLE, Ill., Nov. 13.—(AP)—"Uncle Joe" Cannon, the nation's oldest statesman who first ran for public office the year Lincoln was elected to the presidency, has found the rest he sought when he retired from public life three years ago and "come home to die."

Funeral services for the patriot, who entered the long sleep at noon yesterday in the brown brick mansion from which he went to Congress 53 years ago, probably will be held next Tuesday, with burial in Springfield cemetery, in the "National Hill" beneath a modern monument which he chose and had erected on his family lot. Details of the services will be made today with the arrival of relatives.

Tributes to the dead, statements poured in from old friends and former ones who recalled the vivid days when Cannon was in the national House of Representatives with an iron hand.

President Coolidge's message of condolence said in a message of sympathy to Miss Helen Cannon, daughter of the former speaker, "He will always rank as a great American. His great influence gave his country a better government."

While his political career dated back to the days of the great emancipator, "Uncle Joe" had other traits in common with Lincoln. His features often were said to be of the Lincoln type. From our youth he wore a fringe of close-cropped hair, the upper lip clean shaven.

Also there had been no man in public life, Lincoln excepted, around whose life grew up such a "lore of tales." Certainly there has never been a man so lionized in caricature and cartoon.

But while Cannon's term of service in Congress stretched over nearly half a century and was the longest on record, there was one man who called him "Kid." He is Gen. J. Warren Keifer, 90, of Springfield, Ohio, a former speaker of the House for years in Congress.

Called Joe Cannon "Kid" "I always called Joe the 'Kid,'" explained Gen. Keifer. "You see, he was 90 years old last May and I will be 91 years old last 20. He always enjoyed that little joke and in his letter he would sign name that way."

Mr. Cannon first entered the House in 1873, serving until his retirement in 1923, except for four years which covered his two de-facto terms, the statesman's first bid for public office was 1869 when at the age of 24, he ran unsuccessfully for state's attorney.

The three last years in Danville had been ones of quiet and ever decreasing activities among the scenes he knew and loved. At first he walked daily to the Second National Bank, the institution he helped found, but as the weight of years wore on, those trips by foot were abandoned for automobile rides until a few weeks ago, when he was confined indoors.

Several days ago his physicians saw the end approaching, but before going—and when he was 90—

Heavy Withdrawals Close Kansas Bank

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The state finance commissioner today was in charge of the Federal Trust Company of Kansas City which suspended business yesterday following recent heavy withdrawals.

The bank was organized under the state banking laws with a capital of $200,000 and a surplus of $40,000. Deposits totaled approximately $2,000,000 and resources were listed at nearly $3,000,000. The institution was accorded privileges of the Federal Reserve system but had withdrawn its membership in the local clearing house association a year ago and had cleared its city checks through the Federal Reserve Bank.

Group Chief From Reprisals With Ship if He Gets

MARION, Ill., Nov. 13.—(AP)—The airplane and bomb today were added to the arsenal of the southern Illinois warfare between the Shelton and Birger factions.

Flying low over the roadhouse operated by Birger, gang leader, 10 bombs of Marion, an unidentified tor dropped a bomb which exploded in the roadhouse from the road below.

Seven or eight grenades ran out of the plane and firing at the plane with machine guns as it circled again and dropped more bombs. One was a dud, or exploded in the woods from the road below.

The gunfire mark but the aviator to the north. The plane bore no marks and the pilot was clearly from the north, as was said by the pilot. No damage was done to the roadhouse but Birger's home in Harrisburg was wrought up over the method of waging war.

"Something must be done off here now," Birger said, "I can't see any sense in this plane if I can't see the air raid apparatus reply to an early morning alleged Birger gangster in City, near Benton, 20 miles from here who was carrying a machine gun and rifle and two houses in a neighborhood owned by the Shelton faction."

One of the houses is owned by Gus Adams, brother of the pound mayor of Benton, Adams, and the other is owned by Mrs. Rose Longenecker, widow. Both houses have been described by Birger as "hot spots" and he has admitted that he has enlisted the Shelton faction to protect himself from who, he declared had taken his life.

Shortly after the shooting and the Birger faction were arrested on the Benton by six police officers, assisted by the Sheriff, Franklin county, a deputy U. S. marshal, Shelton did not resist.

Indicted by Birger and another man who was withheld, had been indicted by a federal grand jury at Marion, last Tuesday for conspiracy in the $10,000 robbery at Collinsville, Mo., and East St. Louis, Mo., on Nov. 10.

The Shelton faction largely to Birger, who charged they committed the robbery. They have been set as $10,000 and $10,000, respectively, where an order was issued for their arrest.

In accordance with the provisions of the law, the grand jury at Marion, Mo., today returned indictments against Birger and another man who was withheld, had been indicted by a federal grand jury at Marion, last Tuesday for conspiracy in the $10,000 robbery at Collinsville, Mo., and East St. Louis, Mo., on Nov. 10.

TRADE BODY FOR COUNTY SELECTS LEROY NEW HEAD

Board of Governors Asked By Mayor of Altamonte to Confer With Dairymen on City's Milk Distribution

Leon Leroy of Sanford was unanimously elected president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce last night at the board of governors meeting in the San Lando Springs Golf and Country Club. Mr. Leroy has been acting as president of the county body since its organization last month.

Other officers elected are: R. S. Entzinger, of Longwood, first vice president; George F. F. Cock of Altamonte, second vice president. The tenure of office will end at the first annual meeting on the first Thursday in February.

Altamonte today is in need of improved milk distribution, according to Mayor Malbitt of that city and he asked the trade body to confer with local dairymen that the situation might be relieved.

Brief talks were made by several of the board members and guests. Mr. Black, founder of the Sanlando club gave the reasons why he located his club in the Altamonte country. The board adopted a resolution commending the owner for giving "Seminole county the 'best country club in the county.'"

Mr. Leroy urged the establishment of a central poultry hatchery in the county. W. J. Hopkins of Lake Mary stressed the need for a greater production of eggs in Seminole county.

Secretary L. C. Bohout was instructed to communicate with the United States Chamber of Commerce in regard to affiliating the county body with the national chamber. The county chamber subscribed for a membership in the Florida Chamber of Commerce.

The board will meet in Sanford Nov. 19.

QUEEN MARIE ON WAY TO CHICAGO FOR 4-DAY VISIT

Royal Party Plans to Stop at Springfield for Marie To Place Wreath Upon the Tomb of Abraham Lincoln

QUEEN MARIE'S TRAIN ENROUTE TO CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Queen Marie traveled today to Chicago and its four day stopover today, with only a two-hour halt at Springfield, Ill., to break the journey.

She is expected to stop at Springfield long enough to place a wreath on the tomb of Abraham Lincoln, whose birthplace, near Louisville, Ky., she will visit next week.

The Queen's itinerary after the present tour is completed at Washington on Nov. 24, is in doubt. Although it is understood that the Southern Railway over which the royal party planned to travel to North Carolina and possibly Florida, has refused to accept a nominal fare for the entourage, negotiations are said to be continuing.

Still further complications are presented in the request of several railroads that their special cars making up the Queen's train be made available for regular duty as soon as possible. Colonel John H. Carroll, in charge of the train, is carrying on negotiations which he believes will keep the train virtually intact or provide substitute equipment.

Queen Marie has a namesake now, Marie Weber, aged two, who was christened in St. Louis yesterday while the Queen stood by as Godmother. The child is the daughter of Mrs. Marie Weber, of Smuckover, Ark., who met the Queen when she was in war relief work in Rumania.

Sanity Of Manley To Be Decided By Jury Next Monday

ATLANTA, Nov. 13.—(AP)—With all evidence in the question of the sanity of W. D. Manley, former head of the defunct Bankers Trust Company of Atlanta, will go to the jury Monday.

Judge S. H. Howard, in superior court, yesterday adjourned court until Monday after the state rested its case.

Several witnesses for the state yesterday told the jury they had known Manley before and after the bank failures and said they believed him sane.

Interest yesterday centered about testimony of Paul Baker, former treasurer of the bankrupt banking house. In reply to questioning, Baker said his salary of $5,000 per year was his only source of income.

He admitted later, however, that he was interested in the Decatur Bank and Company of Decatur, Ala., and said he had used $100,000 of the company with the Bankers Trust Company money without Manley's knowledge.

Baker was unable to explain deposits to his personal account at the Farmers and Merchants Bank in Decatur, Ala., which he said he had used for his own purposes.

G. O. P. Committee Fail To Take Kindly To Tax Relief Suggestion

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The plan of making a reduction in the tax payments of next year, either on the personal income tax or that of corporations, is workable, but if adopted there would be much conflict as to how much a reduction is to be applied," he said. "I have always considered that the time to pay off the public debts was when we were prosperous, and that some opportunity should be given for the reduction of taxes when business is depressed."

He do not believe that a reduction of personal income taxes by a uniform percentage for all taxpayers can be made sufficiently. While it has been done before, and the original proposal was my own, the circumstances now are very different from those of the small tax cuts of 1925 and 1926.

Leading Republicans of the House Ways and Means committee which voted against any tax legislation, urged speakers today the administration suggested for a rebate to be paid next year on individual and corporation income earned in 1926.

Formal statements from Chairman Green, Iowa, and Representative Raab, Republican New Jersey, gave only qualified approval and indicated their personal preference for using the $250,000,000 treasury surplus to reduce the public debt and thus indirectly decrease the tax burden total.

Chairman Green also reiterated that the committee would give its attention first to legislation regarding the return of alien property.

APPEAL FOR PART OF ESTATE LOST BY CROKER HEIRS

Federal Court of Appeals Affirms Decision of the Lower Court in Dismissing Suit Filed at Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The last local chapter in the efforts of the three children of Richard Croker, late Tammany Hall chieftain, to collect from his estate money which they claim their mother bequeathed to them, probably was written here Friday with the filing of a United States circuit court of appeals order, affirming the decision of the local district federal court which dismissed the suit.

The suit, filed here following a judgment obtained in New York against the temporary receivers of the estate, was reviewed by the United States supreme court on Oct. 25. Its purpose was to enforce the New York judgment, by preventing Mr. Croker's second wife, Mrs. Beulah Croker, from disposing of Florida lands belonging to Mr. Croker at the time of his death. The dismissal was upheld in June by the court of appeals at New Orleans. Richard Croker Jr., Howard Croker and Mrs. Ethel Croker White were the plaintiffs in the action. They contended that Mrs. Elizabeth Croker, first wife of the former Tammany chief, who died in Europe in 1914, left an estate of $304,744.82 to be equally divided among her husband and children. The children claimed they signed over their part of the state to Mr. Croker with the agreement that they were to receive a similar amount at his death.

Before Mr. Croker repaid them he re-married, the New York suit claimed, and Mrs. Beulah Croker, the second wife, then influenced him not to give the children their portion of the estate.

The suit filed here asserted that the second Mrs. Croker changed the title of valuable Florida lands owned by her husband, with the alleged purpose of concealing the title so they could not be paid.

Under Mr. Croker's will his second wife was made sole beneficiary.

Sir William Lane Says Many Are Bowlegged and Lays Blame to Poor Feeding in The Days of Their Youth

LONDON, Nov. 11.—(AP)—English girls with a good pair of legs are quite unusual according to Sir William Arbuthnot Lane, noted British physician, but the answer of several persons well qualified to speak decided "English girls' legs are not ugly."

"So many English girls nowadays are bowlegged or knock kneed," Sir William says, attributing these physical defects to bad feeding in youth.

"But," says Miss Heather Thatcher, musical comedy actress, whose legs are the rage of London, "English girls' legs have improved vastly in the past ten years. "Awful skirts, ugly stockings and ill-fitted shoes were hardly conducive to shapely legs ten years ago but all these have changed now," she said. "besides short skirts have made nice legs imperative."

Other opinions are: M. Perin, dress designer: "English girls' legs are certainly not uglier than those of other nations." Miss Italia Conain, dance instructor: "One has simply to walk along any street to see some simply beautiful legs."

Longer life for man is prophesied by Professor Julian Huxley in an essay just published, in which he says: "By eugenic measures we could unquestionably raise the average span of human life even without further progress in hygiene. If as we may confidently predict, the present trend of affairs continues more and more men will attain an advanced age, naturally or by rejuvenation."

The death rate of infants and young people will continue to fall, Professor Huxley predicts and the birth rate will do likewise.

"As a result of this we shall in a few decades have a population in which the relative numbers of young and old will be quite different from the present", he believes.
